Annex Three Schools, Casselberry Asks

Wait-And-See Policy Adopted By Board

The County School Board today agreed to a "wait and see policy" regarding a proposal by Developer Hilbert Casselberry to allow three South Seminole Schools to tie into his sewer system free of charge if the board agrees to annex the three schools in the Casselberry City limits.

School Board members James Birkenmeyer told board members that he held a conference with Casselberry and his "only way he'll do business," Birkenmeyer added.

Birkenmeyer said the only other recourse would be to pay Casselberry $10,000 for tie-in purposes. Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said "we just don't have that kind of money."

The three schools Casselberry wants annexed into the city limits are South Seminole Elementary School, Lyman school and the new junior high school in the area now being built.

Birkenmeyer explained that he saw no big disadvantages to the proposal but suggested some sort of meeting between Casselberry and the school board.

He said that by tying in it would solve our sewer disposal problems. However, Casselberry wants a "package deal" . . . there's no other way out.

T. Lamar Caudle Among 7 Cited In Con Game Case

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven men, including a former Truman administration tax official and three ex-convicts, were named today as parties in a "suave" confidence game to raise $500,000 to produce a motion picture about the life of St. Patrick.

New York State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, in announcing he had obtained a court order requiring the seven to appear in court Friday with their books and records, said the plan unwittingly involved prominent government and religious officials.

Lefkowitz's affidavit said an unregistered corporation was formed to promote the filming. Among those named in the affidavit was T. Lamar Caudle, who served a jail term in connection with a tax case in which he was involved while serving as head of the Justice Department's Tax Division under former President Truman.

Others were brothers Edward and Charles Lesser of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Norman Rankow of New York, all described as ex-convicts; Sam Avnet of New York; Joseph Hertweck of 4023 Shelmire St., Philadelphia, Pa.; George Futterman and Robert S. Newman, whose addresses were not known.

$700 Million CD Program For Nation Unveiled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration today unveiled a $700 million civil defense program that includes funds for subsidizing construction of community fallout shelters in schools and hospitals.

Deputy Defense Secretary Russell L. Gilpatrick told a news conference the key feature of the new program was a plan to subsidize building of shelters aimed at protecting 20 million persons.

Federal funds would be available to public or private, non-profit institutions engaged in health, education and welfare activities — primarily schools and hospitals.

Gilpatrick said President Kennedy will ask Congress in January for the funds to underwrite the program.

He said Kennedy's appropriations request will be in the neighborhood of $700 million, more than twice the civil defense budget for this year.

It was understood that substantially more than half of the $700 million would be earmarked for the shelter subsidy program.

Gilpatrick said the federal grant would be something less than the actual cost of construction. Local agencies presumably would pay the rest.

The Defense Department already is engaged in surveying and marking improvised fallout shelters for 50 million persons—over one-fourth of the population. These shelters will be stocked with food.

Katangese Dig In For UN Attack

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI) — Katangese forces dug in today for an expected all-out offensive by United Nations troops.

Katanga President Moïse Tshombe, in what he called an "ultimate appeal to the free world," claimed Wednesday night that UN preparations prove they are getting ready for a massive attack. He vowed that his people are ready to die to "defend our freedom."

Well-informed UN sources said such an attack was "unlikely in the immediate future." The sources said the Katanga government's belief that an attack was imminent "appeared to be based on the misconception that new United Nations reinforcements would be thrown into the battle immediately."

Have the police nabbed the elusive cat burglar?

U. S. Grand Jury Indicts Tape Firm For Price Fixing

DANVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of price fixing and conspiracy to monopolize trade.

The St. Paul, Minn., firm was charged here Wednesday with violating the Sherman anti-trust law in a conspiracy dating to 1931. It was accused of conspiring to monopolize trade in a number of products, including Scotch Tape.

The nine-count indictment alleged that Minnesota Mining fixed prices, conspired to restrain and monopolize the manufacture and sale of three categories of products — pressure-sensitive tape, magnetic recording tape and aluminum presensitized lithographic plates.

H. P. Bluetow, president of the company, said at Minneapolis it would not be possible to comment directly on the government's action until the company could study the charges. The statement was made to employees of the firm.

"Even then it may not be possible to discuss specific details of the case for this is a highly technical and complicated subject involving patents and patent licenses," Bluetow said.

Bryant Reassures Two On Turnpike

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant sent word to two Lake County legislators late Wednesday that his administration is not sacrificing any free highways to build an extension of the Sunshine State Parkway.

Telegrams came from state Sen. J. A. Boyd of Leesburg and Lake County Rep. Webster Daniel Wednesday protesting alleged administration agreements not to build free highways that would compete with the proposed extension of the toll turnpike from Fort Pierce to Willwood.

Boyd suggested that Bryant call a special session of the Legislature to discuss the conflict. Daniel said a special legislative committee should be set up to investigate unless the governor could give personal assurance that four-laning of U. S. Highway 27 from Leesburg to Sebring was planned soon.

Bryant said flatly that there is no administration agreement to stop improving public highways that could compete with the turnpike. He added specifically there was absolutely no truth to reports that plans had been dropped to four-lane U. S. 27 in order to pacify prospective turnpike bond buyers.

Monkey To Ride Atlas Piggyback

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Air Force, fresh from a successful wrap-up on the research and development of its Titan I missile, went ahead with plans today to shoot a monkey 8,000 miles aboard another intercontinental rocket.

The animal, a rhesus monkey weighing about six pounds, will be hurled more than 600 miles into space inside a "piggyback pod" attached to the side of a silver Atlas ICBM.

The monkey shot is expected shortly from Cape Canaveral. An Air Force crew fired a bullet-shaped Titan Wednesday night about 5,000 miles across the Atlantic in the final "R-and-D" flight for America's second ICBM system.

U. S. Prods Allies On Arms Buildup

PARIS (UPI) — The United States prepared to challenge its Allies today to match its own military buildup in the face of the current East-West crisis over Berlin.

The Berlin problem already has been deepened by differences among North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) members on whether to seek negotiations with the Russians now.

The NATO council, in the middle of a three-day session here, went into a top-secret review of its own military strength and that of the Communist bloc.

The military conference, in which only foreign affairs, defense and finance ministers of the 15 NATO countries and one or two experts from each were participating, interrupted a still incon-

DOLAND — The St. Johns River Valley Advisory Committee will meet at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 19, in the Mayflower Hotel at Jacksonville. Items on the agenda include discussion of a preliminary report to Gov. Farris Bryant on recommendations for developing the recreational facilities of the river.

In this connection one subject will be a suggestion that additional public access and boat launching facilities be acquired in some areas because of overcrowding already experienced and expected to increase. Also up for discussion is a suggestion that an independent study be made of the river's fish resources.

The Committee will also discuss with the U. S. Engineer's representative the possibility of getting the Engineers to do spot spraying and leave some of the hyacinths. Several groups maintain a limited number of hyacinths improve the fishing and also help reduce erosion of the river banks.

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — George Meany emerged from the AFL-CIO convention today with increased powers to solve inter-union disputes and deal with race discrimination in labor's ranks.

Casselberry Approves New Ruling On Day Nurseries, Kindergartens

Casselberry's ordinance pertaining especially to day nurseries and kindergartens amending the original on small home-operated businesses was passed Monday night.

Under discussion since July, the amendment was termed by the Board of Aldermen at its first reading in September as "practically air-tight and one to fill all requirements." Action on its passing, however, was tabled at this time and again in October and in November pending further study and inspection by City Building Inspector Cliff Overman of a day nursery already operating in the town.

The ordinance follows specifications set up by the Dept. of Public Safety which calls for at least 300 square feet of floor space per child and for the requirement to be enforced by the mayor and the marshal. It requires that applications for business permits be made to the town after Jan. 1, 1962, and that they thereafter be renewed annually by Sept. 1.

Bending A Little

The County Commission is to be commended for listening to the wishes of the citizens of Seminole County and killing the controversial Franchise Directive.

As Jim Avery, who proposed the measure said Tuesday, "There is no doubt that the people of this county don't want it."

Avery said he believed in the Democratic principal and he then offered a motion to cancel the directive.

There is no doubt that we in Seminole County need controls as far as franchises are concerned.

However, we feel as we have expressed in the past the recent franchise was a little too stringent and we hope the new directive will be more liberal in dealing with our citizens.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Beware of the psychology of the dote. Children who take everything for granted, without even a "Thank you," have been trained this way. Over-indulgent parents have usually spoiled them by making things too easy for them.

CASE K-478: Alfred K., aged 41, is a prominent Florida business man.

"Dr. Crane, it seems to me that modern young people are much more selfish than in my youth," he remarked. "They take everything for granted and even forget to thank you for a special favor."

"For example, my son is in college. Each month I send him a liberal allowance. But just before the last Christmas holidays I sent him a gold watch and some extra money so that he might buy presents if he wished. "But he failed even to acknowledge my gift of the gold watch. And of course, he didn't comment about my thoughtfulness in sending him extra cash two weeks before Christmas so that he'd have it for his own shopping."

"Now I didn't need a gift from him, but just the same I'd have enjoyed a little indication of his appreciation. His mother says maybe he was just very busy, but I am probably far more busy. So, Dr. Crane, what's wrong with this modern generation?"

Alfred's son, like many people who are on a government dole, has become so accustomed to receiving a regular monthly check from his father that he now takes it for granted.

Indeed, he has even formed the habit of expecting it as his due! And if it were to cease coming, he'd probably feel very indignant, and even upbraid his dad.

For it is a rule of psychology that people who begin receiving generosity, either from parents or the state, soon learn to expect such generosity as their due. Then they grow irate if their benefactor finds it impossible to continue with his former munificence.

Alfred is a self-made man. He earned his education. In so doing, he developed much common sense and executive ability before the age of 21, which his son lacks at present.

But, like most fathers, he wants to shield his boy from some of the rigors which he underwent.

This is a laudable aim, up to a certain degree, but it now tends to make a mollycoddle of his boy.

For it is the tree which stands out and buffets the wind or storm, that develops the deep-rooted stability which enables it later to withstand future storms. The protected tree doesn't grow as deep roots. So it topples over more easily.

And that analogy holds true of human personality. So don't shield your sons and daughters too much, else you will develop weaklings.

They will learn to lean upon you instead of upon their own resources.

But be sure to use good sense and reasonable attitude. If you can well afford to send your child to college, don't force him to earn his entire way through school. Make him a fair proposition.

Tell him that you will match his earnings, dollar for dollar, if he cares to go to college to take special training. Maybe you might even double his earnings, and lay down two dollars for every one that he can earn.

But I wouldn't advise a parent to push a son or daughter into college unless the latter showed enough ambition and incentive to earn at least 25% of his way along.

For parents don't owe their children a college education, regardless of papa's financial rating. We have too many indolent and disinterested college men and women already who are simply cluttering up our classrooms. They also occupy precious seats or laboratory space which more ambitious and worthy students should have.

Some wealthy parents send their children to college because it is fashionable. Don't be gullible of such a thing! Even if you are a millionaire, don't send your child to college unless he will help earn his college expenses.

Because people place very little value on that which doesn't cost them anything.

GENTLEMAN FROM TEXAS

Henry McLemore

As a movie customer of long standing I would like to express my views on the question of whether the production of U. S. films abroad is suicide or salvation for Hollywood.

Mina is a voice of experience, no doubt about that. I lived just across the street from a picture show when I was a little boy, and was a regular patron (if not always a paying one) from the age of four until twelve.

A few of my early heroes and heroines will date me fairly close. Pearl White, Eddie Polo, Neil Hamilton, Annette Kellerman, Andy Clyde, Raymond Griffith, Wallace Reid, Theda Bara, Fatty Arbuckle, Sessue What's-His-Name, Antonio Moreno.

I didn't see the Great Train Robbery, but I didn't miss it by much. My favorite picture of all time still remains that superb serial, "The Man in the Laughing Mask," closely followed by "Trey of Hearts," "Neal of the Navy," and "The Man with the Iron Claw."

And on nights I didn't slip in through a side door, I absorbed the movies for my bedroom was on the movie side of the house, and many is the night I went to sleep to the wonderful melodies of the player piano. I still remember his name. Bridger Thompson, and could he play!

But back to Hollywood and its problems. I am glad, for my own sake, that Hollywood is now making Westerns in places like Spain, Italy, and Uruguay, and plantation pictures in France, Germany, Yugoslavia, and Norway.

What a relief, when one goes to a Western, not to see the same old boulders, the same overhanging branches, the identical gullies, buttes, and, yes, the same herds of cattle being driven from Texas to Fort Dodge. Some of the steers became old friends through the years, and I had named them.

The same for gullies. I could tell which one Randy Scot was certain to take, because it was shorter, and I often yelled out to U. S. cavalry troops not to select a certain route—that they'd be sure to be ambushed.

The Italian, Spanish, and French gullies offer a welcome change of scenery.

And that old prop Western street at 20th Century—I knew how every door opened, and what to expect when the doors were opened. The same for that old locomotive. It is as familiar as a favorite toy is to a child.

It will be a relief when World War II airplane pictures are shot abroad, if only to get new Japanese faces in the cockpit of the Japanese planes. Every time you see a war picture, there are the same Jap extras at the controls of the Jap Zeke and Bettys. Like the steers in the Westerns, I got to know them by sight, and started to hate to see them shot down, as they always were.

Q—Some time ago I bought a small insurance policy on our son's life. My husband was named as owner, I as beneficiary. We were separated shortly thereafter. I've been paying the premiums on the policy which is in my possession. Can my husband cash it in?—J. B.

A—Dear J. B.: You're in a risky spot. Your husband could repossess the policy, surrender the beneficiary, cash-surrender it. Even evidence that you've paid the premiums from your earnings gives you no rights.

When a marriage breaks up, such matters as policy ownership are important. Lose no time. Negotiate for ownership of this policy or resign yourself to the consequences.

Q—Wouldn't it be wise to invest in mutual funds in conjunction with life insurance rather than all life insurance for a young person?—C. L.

A—Dear C. L.: Every young person should divide his savings between protective and growth devices. You must have the protection offered by cash value life insurance in an amount sufficient to care for any emergencies.

Often group insurance will be enough, especially if your company offers you a profit-sharing or retirement plan. Beyond this, you should invest in common stock or a mutual fund.

However, separate insurance holdings from mutual fund investments. Don't sell paid-up insurance to buy term and invest the difference. You'll be sorry if you do.

Q—Could you give me a little information as to where a person might find out about long-term loans and what places a person might get them, what per cent interest they charge, etc.—D. K.

A—D. K.: Long-term loans are not made to individuals, but to companies.

However, you can borrow from a credit union, bank, or finance company for a 12-month period and possibly keep extending the loan although, of course, the longer you keep using someone else's money the more expensive it is.

I do not recommend borrowing on an insurance policy unless you've no heirs that might need the cash. However, when you borrow on your own insurance there is no pressure to repay since you really borrow your own money.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The mystery of "Mister Z" who planted a think piece proposing complete unification of 16 U. S. government agencies of four departments into a new cabinet-level "Department of Natural Resources" is puzzling Washington.

Appearance of this article in the relatively small circulation "Natural Resources Journal" published by University of New Mexico Law School in Albuquerque caused some people to downgrade the idea as being old stuff to file and forget.

But New Mexico is a big state in water, conservation, power, mining, reclamation, public lands and Indian affairs. And the Journal is a respected intellectual-type publication throughout the Southwest.

Its editor, Jack L. Krober, while not endorsing the merger idea, says only that, "Mister Z desires to remain anonymous to stimulate discussion."

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, who comes from neighboring Arizona and whose department would have most to gain from any merger with natural resource agencies of Agriculture, Army Corps of Engineers and Department of Health, professed to know nothing of it.

When shown proofs of the article, Udall did not repudiate the idea. He gave this comment:

"How to more effectively coordinate the various conservation activities of government has been a subject that has long attracted the attention of thoughtful men both in and out of government. Certainly the author of the journal article could so qualify."

"Under this administration we feel we have made significant gains by obtaining a unity of purpose between various departments—a unity that should produce in this century the greatest gains in the conservation field. We will continue lending our efforts in that direction."

The fact that Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico is chairman of the Senate's committee on Interior and a former secretary of agriculture made him a natural for questioning on the "Mister Z" natural resources unification idea. Reached in Albuquerque he made this comment:

"I did not have anything to do with publication of the article in the New Mexico State University Resources Journal and I am not Mister Z."

"My hope would be that planning for natural resources would be far more unified and harmonious among agencies than now is the case. But I have never proposed and do not favor transferring the Forest Service, (Rural Electrification Administration), Soil Conservation and Corps of Engineers to the Department of Interior. This, in my opinion, is completely unnecessary no matter how sincerely we want a co-ordinated and unified program.

"I cannot answer whether there is or is not a plan to present such a proposal to the coming session of Congress. But I have no such plan, know of no such plan, and would not favor such plan."

The idea of merger has, of course, been kicked around Washington from time to time. The late Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes stubbed his toe trying to take over the Forest Service from Agriculture.

Minority reports from task forces on natural resources for ex-President Hoover's commission on reorganization recommended merger in 1949 and 1954, to no avail.

President Eisenhower appointed a cabinet committee on water resources to co-ordinate conflicting interests. It adopted some broad policy principles which left every agency just where it was, with nothing taken away.

The classic rivalries in this field are Forest Service vs. National Park Service over recreation facilities, Soil Conservation Service vs. Fish and Wildlife Service, Agriculture vs. Interior vs. Army engineers over upstream watershed development.

The biggest feud of all is Army Engineers vs. Bureau of Reclamation.

It was supposedly settled by the Pick-Sloan plan, which left downstream development to Army and upstream to Reclamation. But last October, Maj. Gen. William F. Cassidy, director of civil works for Army Engineers, made a hot speech before National Reclamation Ass. in Buildings, Mont.

He boasted that the Army (fathered the Reclamation Service and discovered Central Valley of California nearly 100 years ago. Also, Cassidy cited 160 authorized Corps of Engineers reservoirs in 17 Western states, with a $100-million appropriation for this year in what is Reclamation territory.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As the holiday season approaches and Christmas programs will be given at schools, I would like your opinion on "saving seats" for people who are not present. In the past, I have come to school auditoriums and have sat down only to have someone chase me out of the seat saying, "Sorry, but this seat is saved."

I have seen people save a whole row. I've stood for an entire two-hour performance while some of the "saved" seats remained unoccupied. I am referring to free programs. Thank you.

TIRED OF STANDING

DEAR TIRED: Haven't you ever heard of "squatter's rights"? Just squat and tell the "seat saver" that he is entitled only to the seat on which he himself has squatted. You might get a dirty look, but it's better than standing for two hours.

DEAR ABBY: I've been trying to get a date with a swell kid for two months. He finally asked me for a date, but things didn't turn out very well. He took me parking and, to let him know I didn't appreciate it very much, I acted very cold toward him and we fought and argued the whole time.

I don't call this much of a date. I suppose I sound silly, but I would like to go out with him again. I mean on a real date.

I think he would be a swell boy friend. How can I get another date with him?
PARKED

DEAR PARKED: This "swell kid" is obviously interested in a girl for parking purposes only. You apparently "angled" for the first date with him. Don't angle for another unless you want history to repeat itself.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has a system. Every time I leave something where it shouldn't be, she puts it in a box. Before I can get anything back I have to keep my room in apple pie order for a week. I left a library book under my bed and she put it in the box. It is overdue. How can I get it back?
IN TROUBLE

DEAR IN: By keeping your room in apple pie order for a week!

CONFIDENTIAL TO LINDA AND CAROL: Your mothers DO trust you—they just don't trust the world.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Plea to America's First Lady: Couldn't you please, ma'am, get a new hairdo? Not that the one you are wearing now isn't becoming. On you it looks good. But on 99 out of every 100 girls and women in the country who are trying to wear it, too, just because you are setting the fashions these days, it looks simply awful. But that's just part of the story. The worst part is that with your hairdo you can only wear one type of hat—the high pillbox. On you, even that is becoming. But what it does to Miss and Mr.

America is a crying shame. It makes most of them look like Mrs. Happy Hooligan—and yet it's hard to find a hat these days that isn't shaped like Happy Hooligan's tin can. So even the women who have the good sense not to copy your hair style are wearing the kind of hat designed to go with it. What we need, please ma'am, is for you to adopt a hair style that is more universally becoming and one that lends itself to a wide variety of hat styles—not just one. It looks as though what you wear is going to be "what everyone is wearing." That's what comes of having a beauty in the White House. And since that seems to be so—can't you make it a bit easier on the American woman? Right now she looks pretty ridiculous with that bushy bob and that tall pillbox perched on the back of her head. Of course, it's quite a responsible—setting the styles for the country. But since you ARE setting them, couldn't you keep Mrs. America as well as Mrs. Kennedy in mind?

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Take a look at the North and South hands only and plan your play at four hearts. If all goes well you will lose one club, one heart and one spade. You assume that hearts will break 3-2. There is no good way to handle four trumps in one hand. You also note that it will be very nice if spades break 3-3, but they figure to break 4-2. Can you guard against a 4-2 spade break?

One way is to play spades before you play trumps. However, if the man who wins the third spade leads a fourth and his partner ruffs with one of two trumps you will lose two trump tricks. How about playing the ace and king of hearts and then going after spades. This play will lose if the man with the long spades holds the last trump. He will lead it and you will have to lose two spade tricks. That what is the right play? Nail and Hathorn point out that South should lead a low spade and play low from dummy. Then after he obtains the lead again he should play the ace and king of hearts and his high spades. There will be no way for the short trump hand to ruff—his trumps will have been pulled.

Cherokee Indians involved in the Muscle Shoals "massacre" migrated to Arkansas in 1794.

ROSE CIRCLE
Members of the Rose Garden Circle met at the Lucky Acres home of the president, Mrs. Henry Simpson, in Geneva.

Mrs. A. W. Epps was co-hostess at a coffee which preceded the meeting. Native materials were used in the decorations for the refreshment table and throughout the home, creating the theme, "A Florida Christmas."

Mrs. Simpson gave reports and announcements from the executive board meeting and welcomed two new members, Mrs. W. G. Kilbee and Mrs. Lester Brown. Three visitors were also welcomed, Mrs. Robert W. Jackson, Mrs. Paul Poor and Mrs. W. A. McDade. A jar for "pennies from heaven" was passed among the group, starting a fund to send children to a youth camp next summer.

Members reported unusual birds that they had noticed recently, including a bald eagle and her mate seen circling over Lake Minnie by Mrs. Epps.

Mrs. W. E. Gray, junior garden chairman, displayed litter bug posters made by pupils in the fourth grade of Mrs. Gary Hudgins room, at Pinecrest School. She stated that the first place winner, chosen by three judges, would

Mrs. J. V. Jones Hostess To Church Circle

Mrs. J. V. Jones was hostess at her home Monday evening for the meeting of the Elsie Knight Circle of The First Baptist Church. A Christmas theme predominated in the decorations of the living room where the members gathered.

The devotion was given by Mrs. F. L. Dampier who told the Christmas Story and the business portion was presided over by Mrs. D. K. McNab in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Herbert Morland. Reports of various committee chairmen were heard and names given to the members to call on in the interest of the church and circle.

Announcement was made that a Christmas gift was being sent to the boy at Florida Baptist Children's Home which the circle has adopted, also a report that the circle had contributed to the Lot-the Moon Christmas Offering. Mrs. R. F. Cooper, a visitor from the WMS gave an interesting and enlightening talk after which refreshments of fruit cake and punch were served by the hostess.

Lyman Opens Cage Season Friday

Lyman High's Basketball Squad is beginning to take shape this week as the Greyhounds prepare for their first basketball game of the season against the South Sumter Rebels at Bushnell on Friday.

The Greyhounds are the last team in Seminole County to begin its basketball season this year, with both the Oviedo Lions and Sanford Seminoles getting a head start on the Longwood team.

Lyman basketball coach Walt Daurus has good material to work with for what could be a successful cage season. On the 13 man team are a number of former football stars. Roy Lisk and the 225 lbs. that formed a solid wall at center for the Greyhounds in their (10-1) grid season, will have his first try on the basketball court Friday.

College football prospect Jim Williams will probably be one of the cagers to start for the Greyhounds in their opening game. Williams has been taking the change from football to basketball quite well in the practice sessions, and is a good prospect for scoring competition this season for the Greyhounds.

Another of the former football players to make the basketball squad is Jeff Leonard. Leonard has been making a good percentage of his inside shots on the court and is another of the probable for the opening lineup for Lyman in Friday's game.

Last year's basketball record for the Greyhounds saw Lyman winning only around 30 percent of the scheduled games. This year the prospects for a more successful cage season are brighter with several experienced players from last year. Friday's opener with South Sumter should give some indication of Lyman's skill on the court and might foreshadow the outcome of the coming season.

Three are greyhounds, who schooled brilliantly, are certain of spots in the Inaugural Handicap, the opening night speed classic at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club Saturday night, according to an announcement just made by Racing Secretary R. C. "Pittsy" Williamson.

They are Carl Tracy's Ruth Cruce, G. A. Alderson's I'll Take Him and Oville Mosses' Excelling. The five remaining inaugural runners will be announced tomorrow. They will be selected from 15 top performers surviving a cut from approximately 30 inaugural hopefuls.

Those still in the running include Tuffy O'Leary, Be Fawn,

BY JACK TRIM

Well, the predicted outbreak of shad fever has spread into adjoining counties and there was a steady stream of patients heading for the St. Johns in the Sanford area last weekend for treatment.

Several cases reported mild around the first of this month took turns for the worse after shad catches began including roe and the numbers landed began to increase.

Best catch reported was from Lemon Bluff where Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rea Jr. of New Smyrna Beach had 10 shad, with two roe weighing more than four pounds apiece. Cdr. Joe Leary and his wife, Dottie, of Loch Arbor brought in nine, with three roe.

The Stallings family at Osteen Bridge Camp said that several boats had brought in as many as eight shad during the past few days.

Crowe's Camp on SR 46 had catches of half a dozen and Crowe said that fishing for the shad has started in earnest now.

Crowe pointed out an interesting sidelight to the fishing in the St. Johns. He explained the recent stirring of bigger bass might be partially due to the arrival of small herring along with the first shad. The big bass find the herring very tasty and appear to be chasing them, he said, accounting for pretty good bass catches in some places in the river.

And as the shad season nears in full force, there are some official eyes on the Sanford area.

Paul Nichols, fishery research biologist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, has written that he and his co-workers will be here Jan. 10 to start arrangements for another creel census on shad fishing.

Nichols wrote that he will spend a week here on the river and will be followed by two other biologists during the peak two weeks and closing week of the season. He said that statistics will be gathered at Crowe's, Ocoola and Lindsay's Fish Camps and at public landings along the river.

The consultants will also outline the education and training necessary, and the personal qualifications which their particular occupations demand.

The rewards of the occupation, such as salary, service, prestige, self-expression, security, opportunity for advancement and related vocations will also be part of the discussion.

Mike Kennedy To Follow Family Trade

By CAROL JEPSON
Mike Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kennedy of Chuluota, left early this month for Richmond, Va., where he will work at the Mercury Record Co. as he follows in the footsteps of three generations of Kennedys to enter the art of lithography.

He instructed the first water safety program ever held in Oviedo and special training also qualified him to teach swimming to handicapped children.
He was an originator of the Chuluota Little League Baseball Club and was the first vice president and the second president of the Chuluota Youth Club.

Mrs. Garland Shaw Reported Improved At Hospital

By BETTIE SMITH
Mrs. Garland Shaw of Longwood, who has been confined to the Orange Memorial Hospital for the past several weeks in serious condition, is reported to be much improved.
An appeal for blood made at the last meeting of the Lyman Parent-Teacher Assn. resulted in a total of 14 pints being donated in her name. Mrs. Shaw, active in numerous civic and social organizations of the community, is immediate past president of the Civic League.
She says that she now hopes it will be possible for her to return home in time for Christmas and that she and her family wish to express their heartfelt appreciation for the prayers, blood donations, the many cards of encouragement and the lovely flowers she has received during her illness.

Christmas Fantasy Sponsored By Geneva To Benefit School

By DOTTIE HIGGINBOTHAM
An old-fashioned community get-together brought a crowd of local citizens and guests to the Geneva Community House Saturday night as the Christmas Fantasy unfolded for the benefit of the Geneva School.
Games time began at 8 p. m. with all participating and many prizes were won. After an intermission for delicious home-made cake, pie and coffee, game time was resumed with a Chinese auction, with W. G. Kilbee serving as auctioneer, which proved to be great fun and provided much entertainment for all.

The highlight of the evening came when the curtain, which had hidden one entire end of the hall, was drawn back revealing a spot-lighted array of beautiful Christmas treasures, hand-made by the ladies and some of the men of the community. Seated in the middle of it all was the figure of Santa Claus himself, a clever production of Mrs. Catherine Hughey.
While viewing the beautiful scene the audience was treated to special music sung by Carin Stowell and Judy Kinnard accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mary Nichols, principal of Geneva School.

Lake Mary Needs Volunteer Workers

By FRANCES WESTER
The urgent need for volunteer workers to assist at Lake Mary's Annual Community Christmas Party on Dec. 22 was stressed by members of the party committee at the December meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.
In charge of planning this year's party to be held in the auditorium of the Lake Mary Elementary School are Harry Smith, Cliff Nelson and Otis Sjoblom.
According to Nelson, the committee is striving to make this party "the biggest and best yet" with candy and gifts for youngsters of all areas assigned to the school including those of pre-school age.
Arrangements already have been made for Santa's visit and for an orchestra and other entertainment on the evening's program, he said.
Lake Mary merchants and business offices have on sale the bicycle tickets and the Christmas cards telling, in verse, the story of the Christmas Party. Profits from these sales will be used to finance the event and residents are urged to give their support through generous purchases. Al Case, C of C president, announced.

Women Set Sale In North Orlando

By MONA GRINSTEAD
Women of the North Orlando Civic Assn. will conduct a door-to-door sale Saturday morning to raise money for Santa's visit to the Village on the night of Dec. 22.
This week the women have been contacting every home in the community asking for donations of cakes, cookies, cupcakes, and candies for the Saturday sale when canvassing will be done from two station wagons and a truck. Representatives from the association also will sell in the Coronado Homes development and in the Ranch area.
According to officials of the civic group, if enough money is made it will be sent to Santa so he can add a toy to the bags of candy and oranges he will give each boy and girl when he comes to the party at Village Hall.

Mrs. Meagher has cleverly designed and made costumes for the entire cast as well as directing the students in their roles.
Miss R. N. Theiss, teacher at St. Mary-Magdalen, will narrate as the cast gives action to the story of the trip into Bethlehem. Principal roles will be played by Albert Bohmer as Joseph, Rae Stalpass as the Virgin Mary and Louise Huffman as the narrating angel.
Mrs. Meagher advises that the public is invited to the children's performance to be given in honor of the Holy Season. The Albright Electrical Co. of Maitland will provide the audio equipment.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Words Can't Express . . .

There's hardly any sufficient way to pay tribute to Mrs. Marion Jones, whose death took one of Oviedo's most beloved citizens.
Whatever might be said surely would leave out something of her monumental good works and long community service which always far exceeded the duties of being a devoted wife, mother, church member and civic worker.
As a public spirited citizen, Mrs. Jones was one of the keenest, best informed and busiest people in Seminole County, never lacking for energy and initiative to take part in community projects.
As a news correspondent for The Herald for many years, she kept the interest of all the Oviedo area at heart and heaped credit on the efforts of others in all instances.
Mrs. Jones will be missed mightily.

School Clinic Tests Find Eye, Ear Defects

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Mrs. Grace Fisher, Seminole County Health Nurse, reports that 45 children from the South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry were referred to doctors for correction of sight or hearing difficulties detected as a result of testing done by the Volunteer Clinic Mothers in the school. Of the 45 cases, 30 had problems with vision and 15 with hearing.
When a child is thought to have such a problem by the volunteer tester, he is screened by the school nurse before referral to a doctor.

still selling the one pound tins of candy.
The money they raise will go for the purchase of additional supplies and equipment for the clinic. So far this year, they have secured a clock, a scale and a step-on sanitary pail with trading stamps. They also provide the linens and first aid supplies for the clinic.

Longwood Okays Two-Floor Homes

Longwood councilmen, meeting last Thursday night, approved an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance for a change in height requirements for buildings in the R-2 residential districts.
Requirements in this classification are the same as in R-1 residential, except that each living unit must have a minimum floor space of not less than 750 square feet and that in the Longdale Subdivision, first addition, residences of not more than two stories in height will be permitted.

A public hearing was set for 8:30 p. m. on Jan. 11 at the City Hall on the amendment which will become effective immediately upon its final passage and adoption.

In other business the Council heard Rev. James Powell and six members of the Longwood First Baptist Church who said they wished to go on record as being opposed to the sale of alcoholic beverages on New Year's Eve since it falls on the Sabbath.
Planned a meeting with Florida Power Co. officials to determine what will be needed to install street lights at the west end of Lynn Dr. and two lights on Marvin Ave.
Announced that City Attorney Webber Haines is drawing an ordinance for control of dogs in the town which will be introduced for action by the new council.

Mothers assisting with these tests were Mrs. Lewis Cote, Mrs. Charles Engle, Mrs. Francis Culbreath, Mrs. Margo Becker, Mrs. Eunice Akens, Mrs. T. J. Durante, Mrs. Jane Ford, Mrs. Dorothy Bets, Mrs. Mae Scott, Mrs. Harvey Heuring, Mrs. Jane Sessions and Mrs. Lane.
One of the volunteer clinic mothers is on duty in the school clinic each day to supply tender and loving care to all victims of skinned knees, bloody noses, pink eye, etc., who find their way there.
Mrs. Huerring, fund raising chairman, says that $50 was raised by the mothers through the sale of Christmas gift items at their recent bazaar and that they are

Casselberry Map On Public Display

The completed draft of Casselberry's new map will go on public display by Friday in the Municipal Building according to a proclamation issued by Mayor Joseph I. Laird.
Residents will be given 60 days from the proclamation date to study the map prepared by County Cartographer Max Coberly in an effort to definitely establish boundaries of the incorporated areas which have been in question for some time. Objections or protests must be submitted in writing to the Casselberry Board within the 60 day period.
A date will be set for the Board of Aldermen to meet in special session to consider all statements submitted.

Profits Reported On Lake Mary Winter Festival

Profits in excess of $1,000 were reported this week on the second annual Winter Festival staged last Saturday night by the Lake Mary Elementary School.
Richard Webster, general chairman, reported that the dinner committee served more than 300 chicken or pizza plates and that plans already are being formulated for next year's festival.
Webster expressed his gratitude to all who worked on the project with a special word of praise for the Sunday morning clean up committee from the Navy's VAIL-7 and to Mrs. Bud Gear, Mrs. E. J. Kingsbury and Mrs. W. T. Blakemore who cooked and served breakfast to the men.

Controversy Over Boat Settled By Chairman

Controversy over what the Fire Dept.'s new boat should be called split the Board of Aldermen's vote to a tie at its meeting Monday night before the minutes of the November meeting were approved.
The tie vote, with John Lady and Mrs. Hope Bennett voting against and Paul Bates and Ben Evans voting for, was broken by Chairman Lytle Swope's vote for leaving the "Water Safety" title on the boat.

Lady, who at last month's meeting objected to the "water safety" title suggesting instead that it be called "rescue boat" asked for board action on the matter. He pointed out that the boat had been purchased for rescue equipment and that by labelling it for "water safety" the way could be opened for its use as a pleasure craft under guise of patrolling the lakes. He also brought up the fact that a life could be lost on one lake while the boat was patrolling another.

Bates, chief of the volunteer firemen, stated that in having the equipment termed for water safety he had no intention of misusing it adding that he strongly felt prevention is nine-tenths of the cure when it comes to boating accidents.

Before casting his deciding vote, Swope cited the fire department's past record under Bates' leadership and expressed his confidence in the volunteers and their actions.

Wekiwa Firemen Plan Turkey Shoot

By Shirley Wentworth
The recently organized Wekiwa Volunteer Fire Dept. will sponsor a Turkey Shoot beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Seminole-Orange County line on SR 436.
Proceeds from the shoot will be used towards the purchase of a water tank truck to add to the efficiency of this group in times of emergency.

The department was organized in August and, although its address is in Orange County, its charter allows coverage in a five-mile area of Seminole County. It offers protection to areas of Forest City, Lake Brantley and Lake Harriet Estates at a $5 fee for homes and a $10 fee for business establishments.

Fire Chief Everett Worden and Fire Marshal Glen Pelfer have contacted as many residents in these areas as possible and advise that others wishing to subscribe for the service or desiring more information may call Lt. Joe Young at TE 8-4342.

C Of C Party Set

Directors of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce will honor all members of the organization at a Christmas Party scheduled for 8 p. m. today in the Civic League Hall on Church St. in Longwood.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

MRS. H. L. JOHNSON
Hello. Guess you have really enjoyed this past week. It has certainly been like Spring hasn't it? It's a shame that all good things have to end sometime. But we know that it does have to turn cold sometime. . . . Frank and Eva Brown of Rosnoke, Va., are here to stay for the holidays with their son, Don and daughter-in-law Virginia. Also Frank's mother, Rose Poff. They spent Monday down at St. Petersburg seeing the sights. They plan to do some fishing while here too. . . . There are two happy gals in Monroe. One of them has a brand new red car and the other one a blue station wagon. They are Christmas presents from their better-halves. Mary Little has the red one and Rena Hawkins the station wagon. Speaking of Rena she has been on the sick list for quite a while and now Grannie Hawkins is in the local hospital where she was rushed Tuesday morning because of a heart attack. She was immediately placed under an oxygen tent. Son Claude said the doctors hope to let her come home in time for Christmas. We certainly hope so, Grannie, and we will all be pulling for you. . . . Monroe was saddened again this week by the tragic death of the son of Wesley and Thelma Giles. We extend our sympathy to them in their time of sorrow. . . . Terry and Larry Watson are calling each other Uncle these days. Sister Helen and brother-in-law Frank Williams are the proud parents of little Frank Jr., born last week. Congratulations to the new parents. . . . There's a happy bunch of kids in Monroe this week. Tomorrow is the last day of school for two weeks. The small fry are being good (at least that is what they told me), because they know Christmas is near. Pat Bethea said he hadn't decided what he wanted for Christmas. Johnny Mero wants some coins to add to his collection. Most of the little girls want new dolls to go with the ones they already have. Have you noticed that there are quite a few outside decorations already up? Also Christmas trees. The one the William Cookes have on their front porch is pretty. Have noticed several decorations on the Upsala road. The Dutch Mill Nursery was working on their Tuesday evening. . . . The Monroe Home Demonstration Club held their Christmas party last week. We had such a good time. Lenora Andrews had charge of the entertainment. Our special guests were Miss Myrtle Wilson and Miss Hattie Kirk. . . . Glna and Mack Hudson from the "show me state" wrote to say they are coming down here to reside and hope to be here for Christmas. In her letter she said it was very cold in Missouri. They are the parents of our son-in-law, so we will welcome them very much. . . . I see they are back working on the first street road again. Wonder when it will be done. Also the Paola road and the Vihlen road. It is very hard to get through them right now. . . . Hope the cold and flu bug doesn't get any body else now. . . . It is certainly going around. . . . Wonder how many of you are doing like me waiting until the very last minute to complete your Christmas shopping. That's the way that I seem to do it every year. I don't guess there is really any excuse for it either, but it seems that it is easy to do. You do take the chance of not getting what you want though. . . . Well happy vacation to all the kiddies. . . . Here is our thought for the week. Rockefeller Denies He May Withdraw

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, has vigorously denied a published report that he probably would not be a candidate for reelection and may even resign because of personal problems.

The report that the governor may abandon plans for reelection, considered a necessary in plans to boost him into the GOP presidential nomination, was published in today's editions of the New York Daily News.

The paper said the governor felt the announced breakup of his 31-year marriage would make it impossible for him to defeat President Kennedy in 1964.

The News said Rockefeller had advised state GOP leaders of his views. But Robert McManus, the governor's press secretary, issued an immediate denial.

"This is completely untrue," said McManus. "I have just spoken to the governor and he authorized me to say that. The governor has announced he will be a candidate for reelection next year, he is going to be a candidate, he will run and there are no changes in his plans to run."

Peace Prize Goes To First African

OSLO (UPI)—Albert John Lutuli, a former Zulu chieftain wearing the robes of his office and a lion-tooth necklace, Sunday became the first African to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Lutuli is a school teacher from South Africa who for years has led a non-violent battle against his country's apartheid laws. No South African government officials were invited to the impressive ceremonies here.

Lutuli, who is under severe travel restrictions back home, received a 10-day pass to pick up the $49,190 prize.

He said when he applied for a visa a government official told him he did not deserve the award. "This is in fact one of the few occasions where I agreed with the South African government," Lutuli said modestly.

Swedish Ambassador Rolf Edberg accepted on behalf of former UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold the first Nobel prize to be awarded posthumously. The money will go to a special fund.

Deas Elected Head Of Seminole C. of C.

C. W. McKibbin, Richard Deas And Francis Roumillat

Newly named directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, meeting at the Civic Center Thursday night, elected Richard Deas, Chase and Co. executive, president for the coming year and Francis Roumillat Jr. as vice president.

In the list of officers selected to assist these key men were T. E. Tucker, treasurer, Clifford McKibbin and Brack Perkins, executive committeemen.

In assuming the post, Deas thanked the board for its confidence and complimented the outgoing president, Sonny Powell, for the success of his administration. He pleaded for the active support, not only of the directors, but also of all the members. He closed, "With this help, I pledge you that I shall work hard to make Seminole County a better place in which to live, work and play."

The retiring president reported on the state Chamber of Commerce convention. He said that one of the most forceful speakers of the session pointed out the competition not only of other states but of foreign countries for the American dollar to be spent on leisure.

He said that if this state is to capture its share, each Chamber of Commerce would have to use its best selling efforts. The speaker added that the tourist of today wants full measure of value for his money — and he will get it somewhere. For any community to get its share, it must be alert and aggressive.

He hoped that Seminole County would take these words of wisdom to heart and do something to win its share of this vital element of our economy. Powell complimented Manager John Krider for his dedicated efforts in behalf of the business interests of the county, pointing out that "this is not a one man organization, but must have the efforts of every business man supporting Krider and the Chamber's program."

To emphasize his point, the retiring officer said that in 1950 there were 343 CofC members with dues of $8,500. In 1961 these comparable figures were 332 and $10,700. Although the population here has doubled in that period, the membership, the subscription nor the interest has doubled, he said. This should challenge all business men, he added. "All of us owe to Seminole County, one of the fastest growing counties in the state, our full effort for progress in keeping with the forecasted economic development of the area."

Branches or other avenues of distributorship here who do not subscribe to nor in any way support the trade body. This, he felt, should be well considered by "home town" people.

Douglas Stenstrom commented that it no longer is a question of whether people of this county want it to grow; it is going to do so, regardless. He said that our basic need is plans by which to make the most of this development.

Pres. Powell expressed appreciation to and complimented E. C. Harper Jr. for his leadership of the Merchants Division, especially the preceding Friday night promotion in arousing business houses in keeping shoppers at home, bringing out of town shoppers here, making all acquainted with the fine firms and their bargains here. The directors warmly applauded Harper's "thank you."

Pres.-elect Deas will immediately begin work in shaping up his committees and outlining his program for 1962.

John Ivey, past president of the trade organization, said that "because of the good for the county that is accomplished by the C of C, it deserves wholehearted support by these men who are presumed to be promoting the best interests of Seminole County."

Continuing, Ivey pointed out that he was told that Volusia county commissioners appropriated "something like $180,000" to the Daytona Beach trade body and believed that it was money well spent. "Here," he said, "we get opposition when we ask our commissioners for even $10,000 to help them develop our county's economic growth. Now somebody is wrong; there just aren't two rights in this matter. And from the advancement in Daytona Beach, we might reasonably feel that they are right."

Powell devoted some time to underscoring the accomplishments of the C of C in the county's interests and the specialized type of development work that must be done, adding "if the C of C doesn't do this work, who will get it done?"

City Hall Santa Gives Out Cash

The city today paid out $3,800 in Christmas bonuses to 161 employees, the Herald learned today.

At the same time, a Herald survey revealed that no Christmas bonuses were paid out in any of the county fee offices and by the county school board to administrative help or teachers.

City Manager W. E. Knowles said that the bonuses were paid to "workers as a compensation for emergency and overtime work done during the year." He added that the city does not pay for any overtime.

He also added that there was money appropriated out of this year's budget for bonuses.

The bonus checks range from $25 to $10 depending on length of service. In the courthouse, Clerk Arthur Beckwith said no bonuses were paid out of excess funds. Last year the County Commission vigorously objected to bonus payments after an investigation revealed that in the past high bonuses were paid to various county officials working in the fee offices. Beckwith said that $15,000 in excess funds would be turned over to the county this year.

Tax Collector John Galloway said no bonuses were paid and he also would turn in about $15,000. Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker and County Judge Vernon Mize said no bonuses were paid. Mize said he could not estimate how much excess fee would be turned over to the county this year only he expected it to be more than last year.

Mrs. Walker said no excess fees would be turned back. School Administrator Walter Teague said no bonuses were paid and never had.

UN Troops Advance; Fighting Is Heavy

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — United Nations forces, backed by jet planes and armor, smashed close to the heart of Elisabethville today in bitter fighting.

The advance appeared to have been halted by mid-afternoon, but observers expected it to be resumed.

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — United Nations troops supported by armored cars battled to within four blocks of the center of Elisabethville today in what appeared to be the start of an all-out offensive against Katanga.

The battle began Thursday night and by this morning the United Nations had occupied a golf course in the northwestern corner of the city and had moved its front lines up a quarter of a mile.

Heavy firing rocked the city throughout the night, Katanga President Moise Tshombe accused the United Nations of launching a "terror barrage" with mortars, killing civilians.

At least two Katangese aircraft, one believed to be a dornier, circled overhead.

Seminole Band To Greet VAH-1

A volunteer group of Seminole High School band members will play for the welcome home ceremonies at the Naval Air Station Monday, when men and planes of VAH-1 return from their five-months cruise with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

This will be the first time that the Seminole Band has been able to accept the invitation of the Navy to play at the ceremonies. Thirty-two members of the group will participate, many of them children of Navy personnel. The band will be guests of VAH-1 at luncheon on the station.

Planes from the USS Independence will begin arriving here shortly after 10 a.m. Gates at the station and compound will be open at 9:30 a.m. for families and friends of the crews. Remaining personnel will arrive in Sanford during the week, after the ship docks in Norfolk.

Sanford Man Badly Burned

Minor Monroe Vestal, 34, of Sanford was seriously burned Thursday when his clothing caught fire after he backed into an open flame to warm himself in Greensboro, N. C.

A fellow worker said Vestal had been using a chemical weed killer on a power line right-of-way. The residue of the spray in his clothing probably caused the fire. The flames were beaten out by other members of the crew cutting trees in the area. Vestal received second and third degree burns and was rushed to a local hospital where his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Eichmann To Hang For War Crimes

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Three Israeli judges told an icily calm Adolf Eichmann today that he must "hang by the neck until he is dead" for masterminding the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews during World War II.

It took only 12 minutes for the judges to condemn Eichmann but because of appeals it may be four months before it is finally decided whether he will die at the end of a hangman's rope.

The 55-year-old Eichmann, standing stiffly erect in his bullet-proof glass box, did not even blink as Judge Moche Landau pronounced the words he had fully expected to hear.

Servicemen's Pickup Station Is Dedicated

Dedication ceremonies were held this morning at the new Servicemen's Pickup Station on Park Ave., between Fourth and Fifth Streets, which has been built and donated by the Civitan Club.

The Pickup Station was begun as a project for the safety of men needing rides to the base as well as for the persons picking them up.

This station also will serve for another Civitan project, "clothes for the needy." On the south side of the station a box has been installed in the building so that people may leave usable clothing which will be distributed through charitable agencies.

"Our sincere thanks to the firms and individuals who contributed their time and materials to make this project a success," said John Brumley, president.

The plans were drawn by P. Wade Tye and materials were given by the following persons and firms: Concrete, Jimmy Terwilliger of Miracle Concrete Co.; Concrete blocks and sand, Chapman Concrete Products, Bert Chapman; Pipe columns, Bill Hillback; Wall Plumbing and Heating; Steel plates and reinforcing steel, Orville Touchton; Sine Machine Co.; Lumber and supplies, Jack West and Boyd Coleman of Gator Lumber Co.; Dick Silvers of Burt Revels, Inc. and W. W. Horner; Roofing materials, Martin Stimpfinger of Chasco and Co.; Paint materials, Elwood Smith of Factory Paint Outlet.

Labor was given by H. L. Yates, Bill Klinefelter, Shoemaker Construction Co., Edgar Osborne, Claude Gilmore, Grady Vaughn, John D. Sullivan, James W. Downer, Thurman Smith, Woodson Hall and Marion Lee.

The sign was made by Marcel Faillie and special thanks go to City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Farm Bureau Party Tuesday

The Seminole County Farm Bureau will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday at the Home Demonstration Center at 7 p.m. Members are to bring a covered dish of vegetables, salad or dessert. The meat will be supplied. Special entertainment is planned for the evening by W. W. Tyre and his committee.

County Officials' Stand Deployed

Chamber of Commerce directors Thursday night heard retiring president Sonny Powell say that "some members of the County Commission have seen fit to criticize this organization and to withhold their support of it. I know that these men are not fully informed on all that is being done for this county. Without full facts their attitude is unjustified and unfair."

John Ivey, past president of the trade organization, said that "because of the good for the county that is accomplished by the C of C, it deserves wholehearted support by these men who are presumed to be promoting the best interests of Seminole County."

Continuing, Ivey pointed out that he was told that Volusia county commissioners appropriated "something like $180,000" to the Daytona Beach trade body and believed that it was money well spent. "Here," he said, "we get opposition when we ask our commissioners for even $10,000 to help them develop our county's economic growth. Now somebody is wrong; there just aren't two rights in this matter. And from the advancement in Daytona Beach, we might reasonably feel that they are right."

Powell devoted some time to underscoring the accomplishments of the C of C in the county's interests and the specialized type of development work that must be done, adding "if the C of C doesn't do this work, who will get it done?"

"It might be well to point out," Clifford McKibbin, also a past president, said, "that this is a county, not a city, organization. In the past year there have been 10 new or expanded businesses in Seminole County. Eighty percent of these have been outside the city limits of the county seat."

John Fitzpatrick, director and a member of the Board of County Commissioners, took the floor to defend the commission. He pointed out that "a majority of the commissioners believe in this group and what it is doing. There are some who voice objection. But it should be borne in mind that many comments made for publication have political implications, and should be so considered. Most of us will support the Chamber of Commerce," he said.

Orleans Negroes Talk Reprisals

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Negro leaders promised legal, political and economic repercussions after being denied use of the municipal auditorium for a mass meeting Thursday because they added integrationist Martin Luther King Jr. to the program.

They charged city officials were "being dictated to" by a segregationist group "to the extent that they have canceled our contract for the auditorium."

The South Louisiana Citizens' Council had urged the cancellation as a means of preventing King from speaking.

A spokesman said sponsors of the meeting would sue the city for "at least a quarter of a million dollars." He also said the Negro community would stage marches, picketing, a boycott and a mass drive to get Negroes registered as voters.

King kept his engagement at the Union Bethel A.M.E. Church.
