Tribunal Affirms Life Sentences For Two Farmers

TALLAHASSEE, July 23.—(AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed yesterday the life sentences of two Hamilton county farmers for killing a farm worker on July 28, 1935.

Wilson Stalnaker and J. T. Stalnaker, 47, were sentenced to life in prison after a trial jury convicted them of the first degree murder of W. Harris. The jury recommended a life term for each.

Attorneys showed Harris was in an argument with Stalnaker and Hammock over dividend products.

Hammock Praytor, a third defendant, was convicted of manslaughter but the Supreme Court reversed this verdict on the ground there was no evidence connecting him with Harris' death.

In another case, the court reversed the verdict obtained by H. Stalnaker against Robert Kloepf, Tallahassee hotel operator.

The circuit court jury returned a verdict for $25,000, damages, which was unlawfully awarded Kloepf's hotel, and that damages effects, which he received $1250, were held by Kloepf.

Stalnaker appealed here when the court was in the lower court.

The Supreme Court said there was no evidence that Kloepf or the hotel employees acted in a lawful manner.

Stalnaker and eighty-nine other defendants all were completed in the fall of 1935 with positions in the state.

Stalnaker had in the production of 1935 with 1,100,000 bushels of cotton, the highest yield in the state.

GENERAL DISTRIBUTION OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES BY MOTORTRUCKS FROM THE SANFORD STATE FARMERS' WHOLESALE MARKET, SANFORD, FLORIDA

THE STATE FARMERS' WHOLESALE MARKET at Sanford has been designated as a typical truckers' market, according to a map prepared for nationwide use by the United States Department of Agriculture, which shows that produce gathered at the Sanford Market during the past season was carried over highways for hundreds of miles to tropical sales in twenty-one states and Canadian provinces. Over fifty varieties of fruits and vegetables, equivalent to 1200 carloads, were handled from the one market during the 1935-36 shipping season, and an expansion program now underway will result in much larger facilities. The map is reproduced by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

TRACTOR-SPEEDER FINED

REGINA, Ark.—(AP)—Earl Robinson had to step hard on the gas but he finally got his tractor up to 28 miles an hour. Then he was arrested for speeding and fined $4.

Banks have the highest percentage of women machine operators, advertising the lowest.

The inhabitants of Argentina are mostly of European blood. Only about two per cent of them have traces of African blood.

Suck In Water And It Come Out Pop

BURBANK, Calif.—(AP)—Beverage straws that carry their own color and flavor have been invented by Sigmund Schorek. You just dip one into a glass of sweetened plain or carbonated water and suck—and you're drinking soda pop.

The secret lies in a small strip of cotton lintners impregnated with coloring and a dash of coloring matter.

Oil Spot May Be Clue To Missing Hawaii Clipper

Army Transport Ship Sights Slick On Regular Route Of Huge Flying Boat

No Wreckage Of Plane Is Found

Coating On Ocean Is Located 500 Miles From Destination

SAN FRANCISCO July 30.—(AP)—The Pan American Airways officials said they considered the finding of the oil patch on the Guam to Manila course of missing Hawaii clipper "significant but not conclusive."

MANILA, July 30.—(AP)—The Army transport Meigs today found a large patch of oil on the surface of the Pacific Ocean, indicating the missing Hawaii clipper may have plunged into sea 500 miles from Manila.

The Meigs made no mention of sighting any wreckage from the luxurious flying boat which disappeared with 16 men on a flight from Guam to Manila Friday (Thursday night Pacific time).

Two lifeboats were put out by the transport to search for tell-tale oil slick but were recalled at nightfall.

Her searchlights played on the surrounding sea but her captain said he did not expect much could be accomplished before daylight.

The Meigs said the coating of heavy oil was about 1500 feet in circumference, which experts said was "quite large" for a plane the size of the clipper. But marine men were unable to suggest any other source for the slick, an oil coating such as a plane leaves on the surface when sinking.

Moonshiners Tell Judge R.W. Ware Of Finding Still

"Tessie, Judge, we ain't moonshiners; we just happened to come across that old still and we was thirsty for a drink and decided to make a little."

John Burk and James Brown, negroes, stood before County Judge R. W. Ware.

"How did you happen to find the still?" Judge Ware asked.

"Well, we's just foolin' around the woods and just happened to see it, and it looked like nobody owned it, so we just naturally took it over."

"So you're not moonshiners?" the Judge continued.

"No suth" was the emphatic answer in unison.

"Well, where did you learn to make moonshine?"

"Oh, we learned up in Georgia."

"By the way, where are you from?" the Judge asked.

"West Florida," was the answer.

"How long have you lived there?" the Judge was relentless.

"Oh, about 40 years."

"And you learned to make moonshine in Georgia?"

"Tessie, we was passing through there once and a friend of ours showed us how to make it."

"Sixty dollars and costs or six months in the County Jail," declared Judge Ware as he sentenced the two negroes who were moonshiners.

Refusal To Respect NLRB Orders Hinted

AFOL Denounces Decision In Favor Of CIO Affiliate

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—A spokesman for the American Federation of Labor hinted at open warfare with the National Labor Relations Board and possible refusal to respect board orders.

In a statement denouncing a board order issued yesterday invalidating an A. F. of L. closed shop contract for a small group of skilled craft unionists in an Indiana auto parts plant, Joseph Padway, A. F. of L. general counsel, declared:

"One should not be amazed to find that in such a situation the order of the board will not be respected by employees whose guaranteed rights are trampled upon through biased decrees, thus encouraging war between the board and free American workers."

"There are some rights which workers legally possess," he added, "and these rights are paramount to the edicts of the National Labor Relations Board."

"The American worker is not yet prepared to submit to enslavement by bureaucratic decree."

The order which drew the rebuke from Padway was based on a board finding that the Serrick Corporation of Muncie, Ind., had helped the A. F. of L. obtain membership among the skilled tool room employees and had refused to bargain with the rival United Auto Workers Union, a CIO affiliate.

The board held that the CIO union represented a majority of the 670 workers in the whole plant, directed the company to bargain with it, and declared void the A. F. of L. contract negotiated by the Machinists' union.

Willie Lambkin, Cherokee Indian Is Claimant To Title As Oldest

DELAND, July 30.—(AP)—Florida has in William Lambkin a claimant to the title, oldest living man.

Lambkin, a Cherokee Indian, is listed on the records of the state board of social welfare as 131 years old.

But the aged Cherokee, who lives in the negro section here under the care of a 62-year-old negro woman attendant, has no birth certificate or other records to substantiate his claim.

He was born in Oklahoma Indian Territory in the early 19th century and they didn't bother with birth certificates out there in those days, which leaves his memory as the only record.

"I was born June 1, 1807 as Richard Allen Thomas, Jr.," said Lambkin, "in Oklahoma Indian Territory. My father and mother both were Cherokees except that I think my father was a little bit Italian. I don't know anything about him. He was killed in the Revolutionary War."

"He wasn't sure about what war his father was killed in however, for 'I got the names of all those wars mixed. My memory isn't clear."

"When I was 10," he continued, "we moved to Georgia. I learned to cook and got to be pretty famous. Cooks in those days were paid $150 to $200 a month and that was a lot of money. When I became most famous they nicknamed me Willie Lambkin because the man I worked for was named that."

"I've been called Willie Lambkin ever since."

Lambkin said he reached New York the day the war between the states broke out and enlisted on the Union side. He said his mother told him he was 62 when he enlisted, but if he were born in 1807 he would have been 64 when he enlisted.

"My mother was 15 years older than me," he said. "She still was alive when I reached my 100's; then we separated and I haven't heard anything about her since."

He said he married twice, the first time to a Cherokee squaw who bore him six children and the second time to a Jacksonville negro woman by whom he had no children, he remembers none of the dates.

"So many people want to dispute my age," he said. "If I'd had an education I would prove it but I've been a lot happier all my life for not bothering with book-learning. Why have I lived so long? It's just with the Lord. I'm a praying man to this day."

Lambkin's attendant, Hannah Thomas, can't help him a great deal in establishing his age but recalls that when she came to Deland 53 years ago he was even then "a very old man."

Fierce Slaughter In Process In Orient As Chinese Retreat

NO ASSASSINATION BETWEEN RUSSIAN AND JAPANESE IN THE FAR EAST UNDERLINED THE ZONE OF INTEREST TODAY IN A WORLD HEADLINED BY TWO WARS.

The British government made a statement against Japanese aggression by Japanese and American military leaders in the Far East, this month, the completed Siberian front.

Japan recently rejected the peace settlement as was the case in the Pacific. She was said to have rejected the settlement when the Manchukuo troops were ordered to occupy a border hill and were "decisively" repulsed by the Chinese army, according to the official version.

Former Italian Minister of War, General Pietro Badoglio, who had been in Rome, said why Italy should not go out and fight Germany in adopting a policy of non-intervention. "To say that Italy has initiated something is simply absurd," he said.

British naval chiefs were said to have met and get together to study the situation and the navy took steps in a plan to meet the newly liberalized air and sea regulations to attract more tonnage to colors.

Ways were being studied both in China and Japan. The most important development of the week in Spain was the government's change of policy in Catalonia, but the front line was virtually unchanged the second successive day.

China and Japanese war deaths were said to be in the slaughter zone in progress in the Yangtze below Hankow.

China's defending forces launched a savage counter-attack by land and air, in an effort to stem the Japanese advance on Hankow, and their military headquarters reported they had bombed seven Japanese warships.

"Always Goodbye" Is Dramatic Story Of Mother-Love

Beauty is the immediate and all-inclusive definition for "Always Goodbye," one of the finest in the chain of excellent 20th Century-Fox productions. Seldom does a story come to the attention of the fans with as much understanding and fine sense of the value of dramatic minutiae.

In the capable hands of co-stars Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall and under the fine touch of Sidney Lanfield's direction, "Always Goodbye" acquires the beauty of sheer simplicity in a story that on several occasions—conductive to a lump in the throat.

Setting a beautiful tale of modern mother love before a kaleidoscope background of occasional grimness, sporadic sorrow and vivacious, resplendent gowns on Fifth Avenue and in Paris, the film scintillates with the many facets of love that comes to its characters.

Barbara Stanwyck, in love, waits for her eager young man who is speeding to City Hall to marry her. He is killed as his car crashes into a trolley. Stunned at the tragedy, she wanders toward the river where Herbert Marshall, a derelict physician, talks her out of a suicide attempt. She faints and the physician sees that she is taken to a hospital... where her son is born.

Marshall's sincere love for the brave girl; her love for her child (Johnnie Russell); the love of foster parents who adopt the youngster; the temperamental Parisian ardor of Cesar Romero and the ultimate love which brings the story to a suspenseful conclusion create a beautiful saga with a throbbing message for today's womanhood.

Jan Hunter heads the featured cast including Cesar Romero, Lynn Bari, Blinnie Barnes and John Russell. Darryl F. Zanuck, in charge of production, selected Sidney Lanfield to direct, with Raymond Griffith associate producer.

Edward G. Robinson Plays Dual Role Of Type of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

Hersholt Sees First Circus In His Life

Jean Hersholt is one of the few people in the world who never saw a circus in his life! It wasn't particularly that he couldn't have attended just as regularly as the spirit moved him, but something of a feud had existed between circuses and Hersholt for more than a generation.

Twenty years ago, Jean decided to take his then 4-year-old son to the big top. Before they reached the main gates he found that a gold watch and chain which his mother had given him years before, had been lifted.

Complaints unavailing, Jean marched home with the boy and never went near a circus again. But recently he was called upon to play the role of a clown in Warner Baxter's starring "I'll Give a Million." To gather atmosphere and realistic touches for his role,

Ginger Finds Love In Romantic Spot At Vacation Camp

Edward G. Robinson has the greatest role of his career in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," which shows at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Long famous for his portrayals of ruthless criminals, Robinson has the great good fortune in this picture of being able to demonstrate the high order of his acting skill by enacting an engrossingly complex character—Park Avenue doctor who spends his days in the practice of medicine, his nights in the practice of crime.

Just as with the central character, the picture itself has an effectiveness far beyond that of the ordinary crime film, because there is added to all the thrilling, exciting action of such productions, the fascinating problem in criminal psychology presented by its unusual hero, and an underlying note of comedy.

He is, on the surface, a highly respected neurological surgeon who becomes so obsessed with a study of the physical and mental reactions of criminals at the times when they are committing their crimes that he determines to engage in criminal activities himself in order to observe his own reactions and those of the criminals he will be associated with.

Dr. Clitterhouse soon rises to the leadership of a band of robbers formerly led by Humphrey Bogart and for which Claire Trevor acts as "fence" and co-leader. Hardened criminals all, they don't know what to make of "the Professor," but they good-humoredly indulge his whims, and allow him to test their reactions during the commission of their many crimes.

Bogart, alone of the gang, is suspicious of him, and his threat of exposure leads the Doctor to commit the ultimate crime of murder. The murder leads to his unmasking, and he is arrested and put on trial for his life. Although his lawyer has presented a plea of insanity, Clitterhouse staunchly declares himself sane. This convinces the jury of his insanity, and he is acquitted.

Fifty Soviet Planes Bomb Railways In Changkufeng Area

Four Planes Brought Down By Japanese Anti-Aircraft Fire, Jap Army Reports Incident Follows Clash On Sunday Japs Claim To Have Driven Enemy Out In Terrible Fight

HSINKING. Manchoukuo, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Japanese army announced today that 50 Soviet warplanes inflicted slight damage on some railways in an afternoon raid today on Changkufeng and vicinity in the disputed border region. It said four Russian planes were brought down on Korean territory while one was believed down in Manchoukuo after the raiders dropped nearly 30 bombs. The zone reported bombarded is near the junction of the borders of Japanese Korea, Manchoukuo and Russian Siberia. The announcement said the Japanese used only anti-aircraft fire as they were too near the border to use defensive planes. A Tokyo announcement of the same incident said Japanese planes were used to repel the reported attack.

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A Japanese army communiqué said Russian troops were withdrawing northward from Changkufeng, on the Manchoukuo-Siberian border, where a clash described as a "terrible fight" took place yesterday. The report of the Russian withdrawal followed a Japanese assertion that Soviet forces had been driven from the disputed frontier territory. The communiqué said only about 800 Russian soldiers remained in the area. It is assumed they were outside the territory claimed by Japan.

Both the war office and the foreign office declared Japan had no intention of advancing farther. A Moscow communiqué dealing with the same area and assembly the same battle, asserted the Japanese invaded Soviet territory Sunday night and were "strongly rebuffed with a heavy loss of men and equipment."

Korean army headquarters estimated the Russians suffered 200 casualties and lost considerable equipment. Japanese were reported to have sustained some casualties. The war office said large forces were deployed on both sides of the ill-defined border with the Soviet troops bombarding one frontier point with heavy artillery concealed in the hills. The area is close to the junction of the boundaries of Manchoukuo, Russian Siberia and Japanese Korea, southwest of Vladivostok. Russians have held it for nearly three weeks and Moscow reported Japanese and Manchoukuoan protests that they were on Manchoukuoan territory.

Whitfield Davison. The men were accused of manufacturing more than 200,000 gallons of alcohol and large quantities of brandy and whiskey, a foreign beverage, and processing destitute alcohol. Losses in taxes to the government, approximately $1,200,000 which the New York state government lost about $1,000,000 according to Assistant District Attorney W. Robert Robinson, who said the men were the most prominent in the state in liquor law evasion.

Grand Jury Probe Of Earle Machine Okeyed By Judge

Inquiry Into Graft Charges Permitted By Bench Decision

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Judge Paul M. Schaeffer today held that the Pennsylvania legislature could not suspend a grand jury investigation of political graft and corruption charges against Gov. George H. Earle and 12 others high in state Democratic ranks. Legislation to permit the general assembly to take a projected inquiry away from the grand jury and place it in the hands of a legislative committee was passed Saturday and signed by the governor. The judge's opinion was on a petition by District Attorney Carl B. Shelly of Harrisburg. He is in charge of the grand jury inquiry. The judge also ordered Shelly's evidence locked up, and prohibited all persons subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury from testifying before the legislative committee.

Townsend Credited With Thomas' Win

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 1.—Although neither daily paper in Tulsa attributed any portion of Sen. Thomas' victory to Dr. Townsend and the Townsend organization, William K. Hutchinson, Washington correspondent for the International News Service, declares the President must "share the credit with Dr. Townsend," according to the Tulsa West Side Journal, which says: "Both President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dr. Francis E. Townsend called Oklahoma and said a 'few kind words' for the nomination and, of course, re-election of Sen. Elmer Thomas to the U. S. Senate. The President wanted him re-elected to the U. S. Senate because he is one of the outstanding statesmen in the Senate, a progressive who cooperates with the administration program. Dr. Francis E. Townsend, president of the Townsend National Recovery Plan wants Elmer Thomas re-elected because he gave his unqualified endorsement of the General Welfare Act (The Townsend Plan), H. R. 4199, and promises to do all he can to effect its enactment into law when he was the only candidate for the U. S. Senate who did endorse the Townsend Plan in its entirety, although both Homer Smith and E. W. Harland claimed they were for the General Welfare Act, but with amendments."

Marble Game Is Hit Again By High Court

Supreme Court Denies Petition For Rehearing In 3rd Attempt To Operate

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 1.—(AP) Operators of marble games lost their third attempt in the Supreme Court today to prevent the seizure of their boards as ordered by Gov. Clegg. Without comment, the Court denied an extraordinary petition for a hearing of its decision holding the games might be operated contrary to the State's anti-slot machine law and thus would become subject to seizure. The court last July 8 held that officials could seize the marble boards if the operator was arrested for violating the slot machine law. Three cases were involved in each of the decisions, one from Brevard and two from Volusia.

Daily Attendance At Zoo Estimated To Be About 1,200

Chamber of Commerce officials have estimated that the average summer week-day attendance at the Municipal Zoo is approximately 1,200. Saturday morning was designated as the average week-day and several Boy Scouts of Troop No. 5 counted visitors at the zoo between the hours of 8:30 o'clock in the morning and 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon and found that 810 persons stopped to look at the animals.

From 5:00 o'clock on Chamber of Commerce officials kept close watch and estimated that approximately 207 additional persons visited the zoo. Chamber Secretary Ralph F. Bagwell, said attendance seemed particularly low for Saturday, and other Chamber officials and zoo attendants reported attendance was unusually low. Under the circumstances it was decided that an additional 200 could reasonably be added to Saturday's count which would bring the total estimate to 1,200.

A count of Sunday visitors will be made later and this figure, together with the week-day average will be used as a comparison during the winter season. Members of Troop 5 who helped count the visitors Saturday are as follows: Joe Tenhet, Billie Herndon, Billy Hollyhood, Al Brock, Pete Brock, and Billie Fleming.

Ickes Advises Apply For PWA Works Now

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Administrator Ickes cautioned municipalities today against further delay in applying for public works projects. In a statement Ickes prepared before leaving for a vacation tour he said the PWA had passed the $1,000,000,000 mark (half way point) of the present program and that there might be very little money left for laggard applicants. Dwindling resources, he said, made it apparent the PWA would be unable to take care of all projects submitted for consideration.

Hoy Describes Events In Life Of J. C. Penney

Rollins Urges Joint Civic Meet To Hear Address By Chapman

F. I. Hoy was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Monday and outlined to Rollins the "Life of J. C. Penney," declaring that among all store managers and employers throughout the entire chain there was the sincerest respect and admiration for Mr. Penney. Mr. Hoy was introduced to the club as manager of the local J. C. Penney store by Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, chairman of the program committee. The meeting was presided over by President George Rollins who told Rollins one of the recent directors' meetings and suggested a joint meeting of local civic clubs for the purpose of hearing L. F. Chapman, Superintendent of the State Prison Farm.

Mr. Hoy said that Mr. Penney was born on a farm, the son of poor parents, and was forced to begin earning his own living at the age of eight. His first business venture was the pig business in which he started with one small pig, finally building it up into a thriving institution of 12 pigs, where he was forced to liquidate on account of objections from his neighbors.

Following his graduation from high school, Mr. Penney obtained employment in a dry goods store where he worked for a year for $2.27 per month. At the beginning of the second year he made a contract of $200 for the year's work. In his third year this was raised to $300. Then his health failed him, and he was told to go west for his health and never to go back into (Continued on Page Two)

National Guard Troops Entrain For Mississippi

Heavy Rains Presage Wet Ground During Annual Maneuvers

Leaving Sanford early Sunday afternoon were approximately 100 young men, members of the three companies of the National Guard here. The troops en-trained at the Atlantic Coast Line depot shortly after noon for Ocean Springs, Miss., to take part in the annual encampment. Troops will return from Mississippi on Saturday, Aug. 13, arriving in Sanford about 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning. Accompanying the troop train will be units from Gaines City and Orlando as well as those from Sanford. Press dispatches this morning indicated that the troops will have anything but a pleasant time of it for the first few days, inasmuch as heavy rains have drenched acres of low lands housing thousands of soldiers prepared for two weeks of war maneuvers. National Guard trucks lumbered through muddy roads all day Sunday carrying National Guardsmen from five Southern States for the theoretical attack and defense of the Gulf Coast. Long lines of special transport sped through the downpour and discharged troops at stations through southern Mississippi. The men were transferred to the thickly wooded H. S. National Forest where nearly 30,000 of the regular Army, Reserve and National Guard will engage in jungle warfare. While the men awaited the zero hour, set for Wednesday, Maj.-Gen. Albert H. Blanding of the Florida National Guard explained the purpose of the maneuvers. "This will be extremely valuable training for us and upon his arrival from Jacksonville, the concentration will coordinate the artillery, infantry, cavalry, engineers and other units and show actual conditions in the field." Blanding will command a "Brown" force of approximately 20,000 men theoretically landed by enemy ships along the Gulf Coast, several miles south of here. The area will be defended by the "Blues" army, about 10,000 strong, commanded by Col. Walter D. Smith, Columbia, S. C. The Blues and Browns already have set up cavalry forces but at nightfall the other units were not ready. Maj.-Gen. George Van Horn Moseley, commander of the Third Army, was expected to arrive today from Atlanta, Ga.

Oxygen Tent Is Reported Used Illness Described As Resulting From A Heart Ailment

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Continued improvement in Gov. Cone's condition was reported today by Dr. Stanley Egan who is attending the Chief Executive in a hospital here. "The Governor continues to improve and is in no immediate danger," the physician said. "His heart is doing its work remarkably well and if he can be kept quiet, free from annoyance and excitement, he should get over this attack. Gov. Cone is in good points and it is with difficulty that he is kept in bed as he wishes to keep close contact with the duties of his office."

The Governor was taken to the hospital Friday after he had spent a week in a hotel here under the doctor's care. Mr. Cone and the Governor's daughter, Mrs. Mark Byron of Miami, are at the hospital. The physician declined to comment on reports an oxygen tent was used in the Governor's treatment.

Chapman Talks To Church Union Meet On Prison Problem

Choosing as his subject "Return Ticket" Superintendent L. F. Chapman of the Florida State Penitentiary at Raiford spoke at the Union Church meeting Sunday night at the Baptist Church, Rev. Paul Redfern, president of the Sanford Ministerial Alliance said today. Mr. Chapman pointed out four reasons why prisoners are often returned to prison after once having been released. First, he said, there is lacking proper Christian charity on the part of the public; second, broken home ties take from the former prisoner a valuable aid in the return to society; third, the prisoner has forgotten how to work in a world where work must be voluntary and not compulsory; and last, there is nothing to hold the prisoner to any one place. Mr. Chapman suggested that the public could do much by changing its attitude toward prisoners and in helping them to readjust themselves to society once again. Inviting the public to Raiford to see how the penal institution is conducted, Mr. Chapman declared that visitors are always welcome.
