Eligibles May Register For Hospital Vote

Books Will Be Open For Registration In Precincts Monday, Thigpen Says

Moughton Gives Outline Of Plans

Three-Story, Brick Building Will Measure 150 x 41 Feet

Only little more than 20 days remain before Seminole County freeholders decide for or against a bond issue of $70,000 and a tax levy not to exceed two mills for the payment of the bonds and maintenance of a county-owned hospital.

At present, Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen announced there are 2,095 freeholders registered in this county. He declared, however, that this figure would be changed somewhat before the referendum on Sept. 26.

On Monday, Sept. 5, the registration books go to the various precincts for registration for the general election on Nov. 5, and Mr. Thigpen pointed out that those who are eligible to vote in the hospital election and who are not registered as freeholders may do so while the books are in the precincts. He stated that the books would be in the same places as they were during the registration period for the primary election in May.

The $127,000 project which has been submitted to the Public Works Administration provides for the construction of a three-story, 47-bed hospital building and a six-room nurse's home. The hospital building, the exterior of which will be brick finish with stone trim, will be 151 feet in length and 41 feet in width, according to the specifications of Architect Elton J. Moughton.

The building will be absolutely fireproof. The outer walls will be constructed of concrete and brick. The floor and columns on the interior will be made of concrete while the partitions will be made of gypsum. A tile roof will cover the building.

According to the plans which were drawn from specifications for modern hospitals, the first floor will contain a waiting room and lobby, business office, private office, isolation ward for contagious diseases, covered ambulance entrance, accident room, x-ray room, laboratory, boiler room, main kitchen, sever, nurses' dining room, help's dining room, welfare dental room, two six-bed wards and one private room for colored patients, accidental storage rooms and other utility rooms.

The second floor will contain men and women's wards, ten private rooms, linen supply rooms, sever, nurses' station, chart room and solarium.

The third floor will contain additional men and women's wards, two private rooms, maternity ward, nursery, babies bath, delivery room, linen storage room, utility room, nurses station and chart room.

The main operating suite will also be located on the third floor and will consist of a main hall with a doctor's scrub-up, major operating room, minor operating room, sterilizing room, nurses work room, doctors' dressing room, nurses' dressing room.

California, Sanford, New Jersey The Story Of A Classified Ad And Its Sequel

Last week The Herald told about a little classified ad published in this paper by a person living in California and answered by a person living in New Jersey. From California, to Sanford, to New Jersey, via The Sanford Herald, and from New Jersey, to Sanford, to California by airplane, was the story. Today we received the following letter from Portland, N. 5 Are Drowned, 12 Missing In Colorado Flood DENVER, Sept. 3. (AP)—Cloudburst-fed streams roaring out of the Rockies in northern Colorado drowned five persons and 12 others were missing as they swept through three communities and continued to flood.

The resort town of Mountain View, 15 miles southwest of Denver, was left a muddy morass of crushed buildings by the flood that rolled down Bear creek and Mount Vernon Canyon. Mrs. Walter Boyd, 30, wife of a physician at Lovellville, Colo., was drowned when her couple's automobile plunged into Coal Creek.

The bodies of four persons, including a woman and boy about eight years old, were recovered from Coal Creek near Morrison. Residents of Morrison estimated the damage would run into millions.

Three Are Injured As Army Airplane Crashes Into Home

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 3. (AP)—An army pursuit plane from Langley Field, Va., crashed into a three-room house near here and injured three of its eight occupants in fog and rain that forced down other aircraft.

The three occupants of the plane bailed out before it crashed and were unhurt. Fred Lee Ganna, 6, was the most seriously injured when the plane plummeted through the roof of sharecropper Harry E. Ganna's house. His brother, Donald, 9, and the father suffered minor cuts.

Some of the members of the household were in bed at the time. Names on the wrecked plane's plate were Commander L. F. Beverly, Asst. Group C. S. Downer and C. L. Gayer. They had left the scene when newsman arrived.

Violators of City ordinances will be tried before Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court at the Police Station Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Fliers Set Fast Pace In Bendix Race

Corrigan's Brother Nearly Cracks-Up In Take-Off For Cleveland Air Show

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3. (AP)—Frank Corbin, 1937 champion, and Douglas Corrigan, only woman entrant, set a swiftest pace in the Bendix classic, heading toward Cleveland at 200 to 250 miles an hour.

Several other planes of the race after one was forced out were flying at such a height they were unrecognizable on the 2012 mile leg from Burbank, Calif., to Cleveland.

Three of the flyers, including M. J. Conroy, hoped to make the flight in one day.

Mr. Conroy flew over 81 hours and 25 minutes after the take-off and fully landed at Wichita, Kan., at 12:31 P. M. and took off 19 minutes later after refueling.

Douglas was forced here yesterday at the Allegheny county airport and, trailing over the field, saw his engine narrowly escape disaster in another plane.

As Douglas took off in his famous 1901 trans-Atlantic craft, Harry followed, taking off "blown wind."

The ship roared the entire length of the runway and rose from the ground just at the end. Airport attendants thought surely it would crash. Both brothers left for Cleveland.

With temperatures of 90 or above for the entire month with the exception of Aug. 7, 8, when temperatures of 86 and 87 were recorded, August was one of the hottest months ever recorded by Sanford's official weatherman.

On two days, Aug. 19 and Aug. 20, the mercury soared to 98 degrees, equalling the city's highest temperature set last May. The average temperature for the entire month was 93 degrees.

Precipitation for the month was 2.18 inches which is about normal. The heaviest rain fell on Aug. 21 when 1.70 inches was recorded.

While the high temperatures have done very little damage to crops in this section, truck farmers report that the heavy down-pour of rain, while sometimes lasting only a short time, have

Monday To Be Observed As Holiday In Sanford

As Holiday In Sanford

It is now indicated that an official holiday will be observed in Sanford on Monday, Sept. 5.

The regular meeting of the City Council, which is held every Monday at the Y. M. C. A., will be dispensed with until the following Monday.

Following the annual election of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will take place Tuesday, Sept. 6. Secretary Ralph E. Bagwell announced today.

Mr. Bagwell said ballots would be accepted until 5:00 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The committee in charge of the election is as follows: C. E. Adams, chairman; F. E. Bode, Fred Lockwood, R. M. Nye, J. W. Lathrop, and Louis G. Shuman.

Sixty directors will be elected, 25 of which will be from Sanford, the rest from other parts of the county.

The directors will take office Oct. 1 and will participate in the election of officers for the coming year at the September meeting of the board of directors.

The outgoing and incoming directors will both take part in the election of officers.

Mr. Bagwell also announced that President J. E. Simpson will address members of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic leaders Tuesday at a luncheon in Orlando.

The program will be part of a plan of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce to entertain from time to time, members of various chambers of commerce through out Central Florida.

Attending from here will be officers and members of the local chamber, members of the City Commission and other City of Sanford officials were also invited but will be unable to attend.

Dr. Henry McLaulin, Jr., returning to his office this morning after attending a three-day eye clinic in Orlando, made preparations to attend a five-day clinic in Atlanta.

Dr. McLaulin reported that Dr. A. M. Skeffington conducted the Orlando Clinic, devoted to the care of children's eyes, in a masterful and thorough manner. Speed and comprehension in reading still offers a great problem to the optometrist and educators, Dr. Skeffington is reported to have said, and while much has been done by both groups there is much that can and must be done.

IN THE BENDIX AIR RACE

The backers of the late Wiley Post, in his round the world dash, took in the plane a passenger in the Bendix trophy race from Los Angeles, Calif., to Cleveland, Ohio, last night. The man left is the owner of the trim blue and white ship. With him are his pilot, Miss Burcham who flies the two-motored craft.

Mercury Soars To 90 Degrees For 24th Day

Scattered thundershowers in this vicinity yesterday and this week have afforded Sanford residents only temporary relief from the unusual heat, as the mercury officially rose to over 90 degrees for the 24th consecutive day yesterday, according to local Meteorologist T. P. Paxton.

With temperatures of 90 or above for the entire month with the exception of Aug. 7, 8, when temperatures of 86 and 87 were recorded, August was one of the hottest months ever recorded by Sanford's official weatherman.

Thousands Of French Workers Take Possession Of Plants

Great Britain and France struggled today with internal economic problems as they waited anxiously for an answer to the question to which the peace of Europe may be found. What does Chamberlain believe must be done about the Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia?

The European peace pact, which brought heavy on the London exchange when the necessary government relaxation of government control of foreign markets had the effect to the high level against the pound in this year.

Great Britain, however, trades especially with the United States, has been slumping. Britain now widespread that depreciation of the pound would be the simplest way to wipe out the adverse trade balance.

France's private internal concern in not only the European situation was labor opposition to Premier Daladier's decree suspending the 40-hour week to mobilize industry for national workers in northern mines took possession of the plant and raised the Red flag in the first of a series of strikes threatened by 400,000 workers.

COURAGE

When man resolves to do his best
Sincere in every word and deed
Sometimes he's made the butt of jest.

And though he's anxious to succeed
He's often looked on as a pest.
He is indeed.

And life for him is none too
sweet,
No matter how he tries and

To do what's right and be discreet.

He lights the spark in jealous
eyes
And soon may have to own defeat
Because of lies.

But if he has the heart to stay
The journey, giving ground to none,
Upholding truth, keeping at bay
His mean tormentors one by one.

A little courage, day by day,
Will keep him on.

For The Good Of The Country

President Roosevelt is 100 percent right in saying that "The good of the country rises above party." The time has long since passed when a man should vote for a Democrat just because he is a Democrat, or for a Republican just because he is a Republican. The time has come when all true patriots will vote for the candidate who stands for real Americanism regardless of which party label he may wear.

In an interview yesterday with newspaper reporters
President Roosevelt authorized the following direct quotation: "If there is a good liberal running on the Republican ticket, I would not have the slightest objection to his selection. The good of the country rises above party."

When asked if he knew of any good liberals running on the Republican ticket, President Roosevelt replied that there were several, but declined to name any on the grounds that he was interested in principles rather than individuals. It stands to reason, however, that the President would regard as a "Republican liberal" any Republican who agrees with his particular political philosophy.

Taken conversely, what the President said was that any Democrat who does not believe in the New Deal should not have the slightest objection to the selection of an anti-New Deal Republican. If it is all right for the President to vote for a Republican who agrees with him, it should be all right for any Democrat to vote for some other Republican who does not agree with the President.

In other words, as we understand the President's inference, the old party labels of Democrat and the Republican no longer mean a thing in the world. The sole issue of any importance today is New Deal and anti-New Deal. The party of Jefferson and Jackson is as dead as a doornail. In its place has arisen a new party, the New Deal, composed as much of former Republicans as Democrats.

President Roosevelt made it perfectly clear yesterday
that Republicans like Senator Norris, Senator LaFollette Senator Nye, and Senator Borah, are much more to be hated than Democrats like Senator Smith, Senator George Senator Tydings, and Senator Harrison. In the general election he would vote for the former, if he could, while voting against the latter.

Be Careful On Labor Day

The National Safety Council issues a sound warning to the entire nation to clamp down on carelessness over the Labor Day week-end, and asks everyone to do his part in reducing the huge accident toll which is usually piled up at this time.

Last September, the Council pointed out, 8,580 Americans were killed in accidents. Many of these deaths came during the Labor Day holiday period. They were caused by traffic accidents, falls, drownings, burns and other miscellaneous.

"The Labor Day holiday," said W. H. Cameron, managing director of the Council, "offers peculiar hazards. For one thing, it always creates a long week-end vacation period.
Again, it marks the end of the summer vacation months and the start of school, and most of us seem to have the feeling that we must crowd into this holiday all the fun possible.

"The result is that we prolong the holiday until the last possible moment. Then, tired to start with, we rush madly home in a nerve-wracking stampede that is a natural breeding ground for accidents.

"In thousands of homes each year tragedy closes the summer vacation period because of this last-minute holiday rush. This year let's be extra careful, start home a little earlier and take it easy. It will save suffering and heartache.

"Don't let an accident spoil your good time!"
As a means of assisting the National Safety Council in its efforts to reduce accidents, the Automobile Club of New York City has issued the following "ten commandments" for Labor Day:

- 1. Don't race to your destination. Leave the speed records to Captain Eysion.
2. Don't overcrowd your car with people, luggage and camping equipment. The days of the covered wagon are over.
3. Don't be a "light jumper." Many small towns have a way of paying for their entire lighting system by fining careless motorists.
4. Don't drink just before or during your driving hours. Mint juleps and macadam don't mix.
5. Don't neglect to examine your brakes and steering gear well in advance of your trip. There are no bumpers on the grade-crossing gates.
6. Don't sit too long at the wheel. Maybe the other fellow can't drive as well as you can, but he'll never learn if you don't give him a chance, and he's not fatigued.
7. Don't get off your half of the road and ride the middle. The white line is for trick motorcycle riders.
8. Don't stay uncovered in the sun too long; it may attact you seriously on your return trip—dizziness or sunstroke.
9. Don't try to pass another car going up or down a hill. The cemeteries have too many mounds now for fellows that didn't get away with it.
10. Give proper signals for turning or passing. No one ever yet had his arm knocked off giving a safety signal.

USING A SECRET process of treating seeds, James F.
Craven of Glendale, California, has created an entirely new type of plant that has all the characteristics of the original species—except size. His tiny rosebushes reach a total height of two inches at maturity and bear fiery-red roses half the size of a dime. Fir and spruce trees, grown from treated seeds, are only a foot tall, though normal trees of the same age would tower 100 feet. Some of Craven's trees have yielded edible fruit. His tiny oranges, for example, have an excellent flavor. A full-grown pine tree, small enough to decorate a living-room table, has come smaller than caraway seeds. At first glance, you would think his midget oaks were simply young. But close inspection reveals gnarled, twisted trunks, thick bark on the branches.—Popular Science.

Australians Doomed For Not Taking Baby Operation And Child Came Close Together

JUNGLE CAPITAL
Strange as it seems, the capital of Brazil is not located at Rio de Janeiro, but in the midst of a jungle wilderness in the state of Goyaz.
According to the present Constitution of the United States of Brazil, adopted in 1891, the capital of the country is fixed at the exact geographical center of that country.
This definition places the capital in a secluded spot in the state of Goyaz. For obvious reasons the seat of government was never moved there, but remains in

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

WARNING—On numerous occasions since I have become a member of Congress I have received pitiful appeals from some individuals who were very much in need of relief and who through local politicians has either been denied work or is in danger of being removed. I am not at all opposed to the sponsor of a project recommending those for salaries in the white collar class, however, I am opposed to politics being considered before the needs of the poor people. On numerous occasions I have had to step in where it was unpleasant to do so and insist that a needy person be given work or that he be kept on the job.

HARRY HOPKINS INTER-ESTED—I have noted with interest since I have been here, Harry Hopkins concern for the under dog. It may at sometime be necessary for me to call on
Mr. Hopkins and even the President of the United States to see that there is a curb placed on these wholesale political "commodities" and removals. Somebody must represent the needy people in the Nations Capital and I am here to fight for them if necessary. I hope that no one is offended by this statement
but it is only a fair warning
to all my friends.

THE LITTLE GIANT RE-TURNS — Congressman Mark
Wilcox has returned to his office in Washington after a vacation of about six weeks. The dimina-tive congressman taking his first vacation since he took office in 1933, traveled about nine thousand miles through the West and Mid-West seeing "America first." He finally dipped into Canada on his way back to Washington and returned here looking "28 as a fiddle" and ready to fight. I am sure that everybody joins me in wishing Mark well in the future.

TO TOWNSENDSES—If you recall, the President recently stated that there must be change
made in the present Social Security Act. He was only talking about something that we already greatly improved. To my Town-sendses I wish to say that this is the opportunity that we have been waiting for since the Social Security Act was passed.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Leroy Kirtland of Chicago is the guest of her parents
M. and Mrs. Henry Wight. Mrs.

Old Soldiers Met—War Was resumed

DUTCH FLAT, Calif. (AP)—
Here's one that won't go down in the list of happy reunions of veterans.
Game Warden Earl Hiscox,
looking into Henry A. Schroeder's hunting credentials, got to talking about the World War. He discovered that they had been in machine gun companies pitted against each other—he with the
A. E. F. and Schroeder with the Germans.
He also found that Schroeder
had falsely represented himself as a citizen in getting a hunting license and had apparently been enjoyed into this country in 1926.
Now Schroeder is serving a 50-day jail sentence and on his release must face deportation proceedings.

Predicting practices of vacations with pay would soon become commonplace.

Labor Secretary Frances Perkins said two fifths of all workers in United States manufacturing plants now enjoy this concession.
Sound producing equipment
will be installed in the new British steamship Mauretania to provide entertainment in all parts of the ship from radio, gramophone, or microphone sources.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

DENNIS O'KEEFE and M-G-M's new romantic 'find,' Ann Morris, bring you laughs, excitement and heart-throbs in "The Chaser," fast-moving comedy-drama of the ambulance-chasing racket, which comes to the Ritz Theatre next Thursday and Friday. Lewis Stone, Nat Paulston and Henry O'Neill are others in the cast.

Ambulance Chaser Portrayed In Film By Dennis O'Keefe

In a world which has legitimated the highly profitable racket of ambulance chasing out of existence, the antics of one of the most notorious members of this profession are perpetuated in "The Chaser," a gay comedy, which combines fact with fiction to present a historic record of some of the deeds ascribed to an agile and active attorney. The picture opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

Spanish Heir To Throne Is Crash Victim

Count Of Covadonga Bleeds To Death After Auto Accident In Miami Today

Accidents Kill 321 On Weekend

Hereditary Disease Of Haemophilia Is Cause Of Death

MIAMI, Sept. 6. (AP)—The Count of Covadonga, 41, eldest son of former King Alfonso of Spain, bled to death today from cuts about the head suffered in an automobile accident early this morning.

The Count was injured while riding in a car driven by Miss Mildred Gaydon, 25, when the vehicle swerved from Biscayne Boulevard and struck a pole.

The Count suffered severe lacerations of the forehead, a possible fracture of the skull, and the right leg was broken.

Hereditary haemophilia, which prevents the normal coagulation of the blood and causes profuse bleeding from slight wounds, complicated the Count's injuries.

His secretary, Jack Fleming, said former King Alfonso would be notified at once in Rome of his son's death.

The Count, Alfonso de Bourbon y Battenberg, renounced his title of Prince when he married his first wife, Edmunda Sampedro-Ocejo y Robaco, daughter of a Havana merchant.

They were divorced and he married Marta Roosevelt, daughter of a Havana dentist. They too were divorced last winter.

Death played its usual tragic role in the holiday of America's millions.

Reports from the 48 states and the District of Columbia last night showed 321 violent deaths and the list was still mounting for the extended Labor day week-end. Heavy downward bound traffic was expected to send many more to the undertaker or to hospitals.

America's chief life-taker, the auto, killed at least 225.

Drownings, stabbings, shootings, boat explosions, train mishaps, suicides, fires, lightning and freak mishaps also reaped their toll.

In New York a penniless woman plunged to death from the roof of a six-story hotel where she owed rent.

A parachute jumper in Pennsylvania, a mountain climber in the Adirondacks, a suffocation victim in a home-made diving suit in Missouri joined in the grim parade.

Five were killed and 23 injured when a light sedan collided with a bus near Charlotte, N. C., Sunday. A car-train crash near Merideth, N. H., claimed five lives and three motorists harmed to death in California.

The largest number of violent deaths was recorded in Ohio, where 23 died, 26 in auto smash-ups. California and Michigan with 25 each, and New York and Illinois with 21 each followed in the list.

The last long holiday week-end—Independence day—claimed more than 817 lives.

During the first six months of the present year the State Welfare Board paid out $71,848 Aid to the Blind.

Alfred Raulerson Drowned In Surf At Fort Pierce

Victim Was Nephew Of Tilden Jacobs And T. A. Aulin

Prof. and Mrs. Tilden Jacobs of Sanford and Judge and Mrs. T. A. Aulin and son, Theodore, Jr., of Oviedo, were called to Ft. Pierce today by the drowning of their nephew, Alfred Raulerson.

Young Raulerson was the son of Senator and Mrs. C. Frank Raulerson of Ft. Pierce.

It was reported that Alfred was swimming in the surf near the shore last night when he was suddenly caught in a strong undertow and swept to sea.

Lifeguards were unable to reach him before he disappeared beneath the water and at 10:00 o'clock this morning still had been unsuccessful in efforts to locate his body.

Mr. and Mrs. Raulerson were former residents of Seminole County having been born here but for a number of years had lived in Ft. Pierce.

"Work" Is Theme Of Brownlee's Sermon

Dr. E. D. Brownlee, using the occasion of Labor Day, emphasized the virtue of work in his Sunday evening sermon at the Presbyterian Church.

He told his listeners that God loves man, and wants man to have the best, and he said, "If we do our work well we shall receive greater responsibilities."

At another point, he declared: "No employee doing work well will ever be demoted by his employer," and he showed that students who made grades of 97 or 98 in their first year of high school will be advanced to something better ahead of those making average grades.

Root Returns To His Post After Vacation

Speaking on the dignity of labor, Rev. J. Bernard Root preached at the Congregational Church Sunday morning after a two weeks' vacation spent at Ormond Beach during which, he said, his health was benefited.

Using the Labor Day theme in his sermon, Mr. Root referred to Jesus becoming killed in the use of carpenter's tools and that he supported his widowed mother, younger brothers and himself by labor and thereby learned of the problems of his fellow men.

"When you go home, try to run like me and see how many things you can do to help," he said.

High Tribunal Meets To Hear Marble Case

Attorneys Say Game Is Based On Skill And Does Not Provide For Payoff

ALL 'EYES' WAS VOTE

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 6. (AP)—Attorneys for Byron J. Eccles, Volusia county operator, today asked the Supreme Court to prevent the seizure of his marble games as gambling devices under the 1937 law outlawing slot machines.

They argued the pin and marble board games permit the playing of the game purely by skill and do not provide a "pay-off" that would subject them to the destruction ordered two months ago by Gov. Clegg.

Attorney General George Cooper Gibbs said gambling was present in the machines' operation through a "payoff behind the counter." The count took the case under advisement.

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 6. (AP)—Disposition of more than $1,000,000 in cash piled up in the State Treasury and the outcome of more than a year's litigation depend upon a forthcoming decision by Florida's Supreme Court on contracting gasoline tax laws.

The decision is expected in a case from Miami involving a special gasoline tax law affecting only Duval county.

The question is whether the county may use its share of State gasoline tax money, as the special law provides, or the State Road Department shall use the money for building roads in the county.

Comptroller J. M. Lee insists the latter procedure is required by a 1931 general law which, he says, cannot be changed by special statute.

The litigation started in the summer of 1937, when Comptroller Lee halted payments of disputed tax money to 35 counties that claimed it under special laws. The Treasury has on hand $569,686 credited to Duval county. Eight other counties are interested in the outcome. They have to their credit $188,751 of impounded funds.

After Lee halted the payments, six of the counties asked the Supreme Court compel him to send them the money. The Court split 3 to 3, over which laws should take precedence and, as a result, the litigation continues to do so.

Congressman Hendricks was one of several speakers who included Congressman Lee Green and Major Paul Crank, president of the Orlando Club Number 2.

Earlier in the day Senator Charles O. Andrews and Mayor Sam Way of Orlando addressed the holiday crowds.

Representing the Sanford Townsend Club were Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Hughey, Mrs. Martha Moffitt, Arthur Kirchhoff, Mrs. Elsie M. Kirchhoff, Mrs. McKewen, Mrs. Jomette Goodhall, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Polk, Mrs. Nellie Hale, Harshel Dunn, Casper and William Goodale and Rev. James Logan.

Taking cognizance of the labor unions present as well as of the Townsend Clubs, Congressman Hendricks asserted that he and Congressmen Hendricks were qualified to speak to labor "for we both worked." He assured his audience that he also would do his very best for the Townsend Plan and "Unless I am detained at a hospital, I shall be at Washington, and make a speech for the Townsend cause and vote for it."

Major Crank told organized labor that its problems and that of the Townsend movement were the same and that by working together they would accomplish their objectives.

Speaking before noon to the labor groups Senator Andrews gave his promise to support labor in Congress as matters pertaining to wages and hours came to the fore in legislative proposals. He referred to William Green, AFOL president, as his "friend and confidant."

Lewis Given Pat On Back By Roosevelt

President Asserts In Maryland He Proposes To Keep His Party Liberal

As the leader of the party, he added, "I propose to keep it keep it liberal."

The President spoke to a crowd of Eastern Shore folk gathered with their friends and relatives in a country fair festival and holiday mood under the summer trees that surround Carolina county and back country.

He made no mention of the name of Senator Tydings, Lewis' opponent for the senatorial nomination, whom the President accused a fortnight ago of having betrayed the New Deal.

And in naming Lewis he departed in dramatic fashion from his prepared text, which had, however, made clear the purpose of his coming to the Eastern Shore, through paragraphic recounting Lewis' long career as a state and national legislator.

Years ago, he said, a young legislator engaged in pioneering efforts which led to workmen's compensation legislation in Maryland, the first such law in the United States, and to parcel post legislation by Congress. Later he led in the movement for social security legislation, the President added.

At this point, Roosevelt temporarily abandoned his main speech, looked out across the crowd and asserted there was no need telling the people of Maryland what the legislator was.

"I don't have to name that young man, now well along in mature middle age," he said, "but for my friends in the other 47 states—for their benefit if they don't know—the name of that man is Representative Lewis, of Maryland."

Cheers and applause greeted this assertion, and the President resumed his prepared speech.

"It is the privilege of some of us to dream dreams," he said, "and of some of us to carry out the dreams of others." But in Maryland you are fortunate in having a man who not only has seen visions but made them come true.

"He symbolized for the farm and city alike the inherent humanity of the man who rises from humble circumstances, and from the inherent ability to grow in fertile soil of American tradition of equality."

Although there was no mention of Tydings' name, those who recalled the President's previous characterization of the senator were quick to believe that secretary on page four.
