Pact Puts Super Agency For Roads Step Closer

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Legislators from Seminole and Orange counties will introduce a bill in both Houses of the Florida Legislature, calling for the creation of a roads super agency with the power to levy a 4-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax and a $1 per $1,000 assessed valuation property tax for 40 years to build state roads and expressways.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, announced Tuesday that the legislators in the two-county area agreed on the compromise and assured under the plan the taxing powers are subject to a referendum of the people in each of the three involved counties. Under earlier suggested compromise legislation, taxing powers were to be granted by voters, but the agency could bypass that requirement by a two-thirds vote.

Tuesday's agreement was the first show of unity on a super agency proposal among area legislators.

The agreement was reached despite strong opposition voiced in Tallahassee by Orange County Commissioner Lou Treadway, who insisted the super agency is not necessary and that the individual counties could build the roads if they were granted the same taxing power as this legislation will give to an appointed group.

Seminole County Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Fred Streetman held lengthy telephone conversations with Brantley and state Sen. Richard Langley, R-Clermont, in Tallahassee on the proposed legislation Tuesday afternoon.

Streetman said the state Department of Transportation will be allocating funds to help with the state road improvements decided on by the super agency.

Under the legislation the makrup of the new transportation agency would be one county commissioner from Seminole and Orange and another from Osceola if that county wishes to be included, and the mayor of Orlando. In addition there would be two persons from each of the three counties (again if Osceola wants to be included) who would be appointed by the governor from a list of nominees submitted by the county commissions of each county.

A two-thirds majority vote of the agency members would be required to approve all designated road improvements by the transportation agency.

A resolution adopted by the Seminole County Commission last week unanimously asking the legislators to permit the counties individually to levy a 4-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax for county roads and a 1 cent sales tax for expressways was ignored by the legislators.

30 More Seek Police Chief's Job In Sanford

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Thirty applications have been received at city hall for the Sanford police chief's job since May 1, bringing the total number of candidates to 39.

About half of the applicants live in Florida. The rest are from the Southeast, Midwest, Northeast and as far west as Nebraska.

Among the applicants is Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett, who has been serving as acting police chief since chief Ben Butler retired April 30.

Mel Colman, former sheriff of the Orange County sheriff's office and past chief of the Winter Park Police Department, has not yet filed for the position. He announced earlier this month he would apply.

The Sanford chief's position pays $27,872 to $39,991. Qualifications for the job are a bachelor's degree in criminology or administration with five years of "progressively responsible" experience that includes supervisory and administrative work.

The city Civil Service Board will continue its national search for applicants until May 24. The board will then compile a list of candidates and present it to the city commission, expected to pick a new chief sometime in June.

The new applicants and their stated qualifications are:

- William Able, 42, of Van Wert, Ohio.

Since 1973 Able has been chief probation officer for the juvenile court in Van Wert. He has also been a part-time patrol officer with the Van Wert Police Department for eight years. From 1973 to 1976 he was a deputy in the Van Wert County sheriff's office. He has a bachelor's degree in criminal justice and business and is working on a master's degree in public administration and criminal justice.

- Randall Aleno, 36, of DeLand.

Aleno is an officer with the Orange City Police Department. His 13 years of experience as a law enforcement officer includes being an investigator with the Lake County Sheriff's Department and a department supervisor with the Volusia County sheriff's office. He does not have a college degree.

- Earl Baugh, 46, of Orlando.

The mayor of Edgewater, Baugh's law enforcement career dates back to 1958. He was a patrolman and assistant chief in the Palatka Police Department and served as Edgewater's police chief from 1976 to 1984. He has an associate in arts degree in criminal justice.

- Gus Beckstrom, no age listed, of Oviedo.

Beckstrom has been with the Winter Park Police Department since 1967 in the department's vice, intelligence and lakes patrol divisions. He has a bachelor's and master's degree in criminal justice.

- Larry Blalock, no age listed, of Orlando.

From 1958 until March of this year, Blalock was an officer in the Metro Dade County Police Department. He left the department as a sergeant. Since 1978, he has also been a U.S. Customs Investigator supervising all officers. He has a bachelor's degree in criminology and a master's degree in business administration.

- John Capizzi, no age listed, of Miami Lakes.

Capizzi was an assistant security chief for a department store in West Palm Beach from 1979 to 1982. Before that he headed security at a Jacksonville hospital for two years. From 1981 to 1984 he was an

Prince And Princess Of Wails

It's hard to be a prince of a guy when as prom king you don't want to court the prom queen, or so it appeared Tuesday at a Midway Elementary School prom when the royal couple were asked to dance with — gasp — each other. The error appeared was noticed early on when King Eric Walker and Queen Tracie Carter donned the purple but decreed dancing was something they would not do in common. The jousting fifth graders were elected by their peers. Before either abdicated or duked it out they decided to grin and baron it and were coaxed on the dance floor before the knight was over.

Young Artists To Compete At Zoo

Young artists from at least five counties will compete Saturday at the Central Florida Zoo's annual Young Artists' Day for kindergarten through 12th grade.

The participants, who will be drawing and painting zoo inhabitants in the medium of their choice, will be admitted free to the zoo and artist registration will be from 10 a.m. until noon. Artists must bring their own supplies.

There will be a cash prize for first place and trophies for first, second, and third place winners in each age category. Age categories include pre-school, kindergarten through second grade, grades three through five, grades six through eight, and ninth through 12th.

Entries will be limited to one per artist. Artwork must be of animals currently on exhibit and created Saturday during the prescribed time period at the zoo.

Ribbons and certificates will be awarded all registered participants. The annual event is co-sponsored by the zoo, Burger King and the Council of Arts & Sciences of Central Florida. Burger King will host an awards banquet for winners and their families.

For more information, call 323-4450.

Other upcoming events at the zoo include the annual Docent Awards Banquet scheduled for May 28. Between 40 and 50 active volunteer docents, who are part of the zoo's teacher corps, conducted tours for 9,772 persons plus another 300 Girl Scouts during 1984. They manned the weekday and weekend encounter stations at the zoo reaching a total of 20,404 persons.

In June the zoo will be celebrating National Zoo and Aquarium Month proclaimed by President Reagan. And on July 4 there will be a Zoocelebration 10th anniversary party at the zoo.

Vocational School Eyed

Crooms' Fate Gets Hearing

By Richard Truett
Herald Staff Writer

The fate of the Crooms High School facility, formerly an all-black high school but for the past two years unused as a school, was to be discussed at a work session of the Seminole County School board this afternoon.

A committee was expected to recommend the facility be used as an adult education and vocational training center.

No date for the final decision has been set, schools spokesman Karen Coleman said today.

A year ago the Crooms Task Force, organized by Superintendent Robert Hughes in response to concern by blacks that the school, of historic and sentimental value to the black community, would be closed, recommended Crooms be made into a middle school. However, Hughes said he wanted to move Goldsboro Elementary School pupils to Crooms. The school board decided to appoint a committee to study alternatives.

According to Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent of facilities and transportation, the committee was likely to disregard the year-old recommendation of the Crooms Task Force and suggest an adult-vocational plan instead. But he said he could not speak for the committee.

The task force said in its report that 900 middle school students would be able to attend Crooms if Lakeview and Sanford Middle schools were rezoned to create "natural and contiguous boundaries."

E.L. Blacksheare, the former principal of Crooms High School, said he wants to see Crooms opened again. "Everybody wants to see it open again, it doesn't matter in what capacity," Blacksheare said.

The school is being used for an in-service teacher training center and gymnastic meets are held in the school's gym.

Until 1983, Crooms was used as a school for 9th grade only. Even though there have been no classes held at Crooms for two years, Blacksheare has stayed on as principal and said he "maintains the facility."

Blacksheare, whose salary is $42,990, did not specify what he does to maintain the facility. A full time secretary and a maintenance man also work at the facility.

Blacksheare said he's not asking to be made principal if Crooms is reopened as a school.

"Anybody can be principal. It doesn't matter to me. If they (the school board) want me to stay, I'll stay. I don't want to imply in any way that I want to be principal."

Blacksheare attended what was then Crooms Academy in the late 1940s and came back to be its principal in 1965. He pointed out that most of his experience is with high schools and that if Crooms is used as anything else he might not be the man for the job.

Dr. Velma Williams, director of special services at Seminole Community College, said she supports the position of the task force that Crooms become a middle school.

J.C. Ringling, a member of the task force, said he stands with the group's recommendation and is opposed to Crooms being used as an adult education or vocational training facility.

Arnold said Crooms needs some reroofing, carpeting and air conditioning work.

"Crooms could last 30 or 40 more years," Arnold said.

Dr. Calvin Collins, also a member of the task force, said, "I want to see Crooms used as an academic school."

"Time evokes change," Blacksheare said. "However, that does not negate my feeling that Crooms should be maintained as an educational facility."

Governor Limits Withdrawals To Stem Growing Run On S&Ls

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes, trying to stem a $630-million run on Maryland savings and loan associations that created "a state of emergency," issued an executive order limiting savings withdrawals to $1,000 a month.

Hughes took the unprecedented action Tuesday after two thrifths were put in the hands of conservators and runs began on four other associations, threatening the privately-owned Maryland Savings-Share Insurance Corp.

"The continued run on deposits has not tapered off," Hughes said. "If we hadn't done this, depositors would have

Salvation Army Cites Continuing Need

Caterer Vivian Buck presents a cake honoring the 50th anniversary of the Salvation Army in Sanford to Captain Michael Waters, corps commander; SA Advisory Board Chairman Steve Harriett; Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, past chairman; speaker Col. James Osborne, and Captain Beverly Waters.

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

"Some people think the Salvation Army is out of date, but there is a greater need for the Salvation Army in tomorrow than there was yesterday," Col. James Osborne, National Chief Secretary and second-in-command, said at the Friends of the Army banquet Tuesday night.

Held at the Sanford Civic Center, the annual event was attended by more than 200 persons in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Salvation Army in Sanford.

A third-generation Salvation Army officer and a former divisional commander for Florida, Osborne continued, "With all the progress in this land, we've saved for tomorrow our biggest problem — loss of spiritual and moral fiber of our people." He said we must face "four-square" resulting problems such as divorce, illegitimate births and abortions, alcohol and drugs and be willing to make sacrifices to do something about them.

"If we are going to protect and pass on our way of life it will require more sacrifice than we've ever known. I pray we are up to it," Osborne said. "We need to restore God to first place in American life and the reason he's toppled from first place in American life is that he no longer has top place in many of our lives."

Reprieves For 250 Burros

REDMOND, Ore. (UPI) — About 250 burros once destined to wind up on French dining tables have won stays of execution.

Author-columnist Cleveland Amory, founder of the Fund for Animals Inc., purchased all of the burros for $5,500 to save them from slaughter, said Molly Cunningham of Portland, a representative of People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals.

Cunningham said Tuesday the burros would be kept at a nearby ranch and sold for adoption at $75 each or two for $100 to people who agree to keep the animals as pets.

Reagan Fine Tuning Tax Plan That's Bound To Meet Resistance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is putting the finishing touches on a tax reform plan — a centerpiece of his re-election bid — and will launch a campaign for its passage to meet stiff resistance from interest groups.

Reagan met Tuesday with his Cabinet and then separately with chief of staff Donald Regan and Treasury Secretary James Baker to go over the revision of Regan's original plan from December that would create three tax brackets for individuals and raise more money from corporations by closing loopholes.

Administration officials said the president will launch the plan in a nationally televised speech Monday and continue the campaign for its passage for more than a week.

Among the central points the president is expected to announce Monday are the three individual tax rates — 15 percent, 25 percent and 35 percent.

The officials also said the plan would include doubling the personal exemption to $2,000 and would impose a minimum tax on corporations.

Other details to be worked out are whether oil and gas producers will keep lucrative loopholes and whether other tax preferences — including the three-martini lunch and the deductions for state and local taxes — will be retained.

First Hispanic Executed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (UPI) — The first Hispanic executed in the United States since the Supreme Court reinstated capital punishment died early today for killing a store clerk in a robbery that netted only a six-pack of beer.

Asking God in Spanish for forgiveness, Jesus De La Rosa, 24, also the youngest person executed since death sentences were resumed in 1976, was pronounced dead at 12:17 a.m. of a dose of drugs as his father and stepmother watched.

De La Rosa — whose lawyer said had an intelligence level only slightly above mental retardation — gasped and his stepmother screamed, "Oh Lord! Oh my God!" and buried her head in her husband's shoulder.

De La Rosa received the death penalty for the August 1979 murder of San Antonio convenience store clerk Masoud Ghazali, 27, shot in the head and face during a robbery.

De La Rosa and an accomplice escaped from the store with only a six-pack of beer after they failed to open the cash register.

The Supreme Court voted 7-2 Tuesday to deny a stay. Five hours before De La Rosa's execution, Gov. Mark White refused to grant a 30-day reprieve.

De La Rosa was 17, married and the father of a baby boy at the time of the slaying. Several hours before Ghazali was shot, De La Rosa and another man also robbed another store in which a female clerk was shot.

Foreign Aid Bill Challenged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The drive of the Senate Republican leadership for swift passage of a $12.8 billion foreign aid bill was challenged today by amendments on aid to Nicaraguan rebels and assistance to the Philippines.

The Senate Tuesday quickly agreed to amendments granting $1.5 billion in emergency economic aid to Israel and $500 million for Egypt. But Central America and U.S. strategic interests in the Philippines lay ahead in the Senate and the House.

Richard Lugar, R-Ind., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, supported a move to strike an amendment by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., that bans foreign aid for the Contra rebels fighting to overthrow Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista regime.

Prospects For Disarmament Appear Improved, Nitze Says

VIENNA (UPI) — U.S. arms envoy Paul Nitze told NATO foreign ministers today that the chances of an agreement with the Soviet Union on nuclear missile disarmament are better than before, U.S. officials said.

Briefing reporters on a breakfast meeting held by Secretary of State George Shultz, the officials said Nitze gave the ministers from France, Britain, West Germany and Italy "a very full briefing" on the state of play at the U.S.-Soviet arms talks on nuclear weapons in Geneva.

They said the ministers were told that prospects for progress in the new round of Geneva negotiations are better although they were given no specific areas in which that progress might be made.

Nitze is the former chief U.S. negotiator at the Geneva talks and is now serving as a special arms adviser to Shultz.

Today's breakfast session came 24 hours after Shultz met for six hours with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Arms and President Reagan's "Star Wars" scheme for a space-based defensive missile shield dominated that discussion.

Bombings Rock Chilean Cities

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — A series of bomb blasts rocked government buildings in the capital and two other cities, killing two people and injuring at least 30, police said.

Col. Carlos Krumm, Deputy Secretary of the government, blamed Tuesday's bombings on the Manuel Rodriguez Patriotic Front — a group which has claimed earlier bombings and attacks on police and soldiers. The military government charges the front is the armed wing of Chile's Communist Party.

The bombings occurred during a protest in support of 11 hunger strikers, who have been fasting for 12 days to demand explanations of several recent political deaths.

Police arrested 21 youths outside the church where the hunger strike protest was going on. The protesters were released after being cited for illegally demonstrating.

Commission To Take Up Issue May 22

After 8 Years, Does Longwood Need Public Safety Director?

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Administrator Don Terry has recommended to the City Commission that the position of public safety director, vacant since 1977, not be filled. Commissioners, however, may have other ideas.

On the recommendation of City Attorney Gerald Korman, Terry had been requested by the city on April 16 to determine the need for a public safety department and director. If there is no need, the job should be deleted from the city code, Korman said, but if it is determined there is a need, the duties should be defined and put in operation.

A work session has been scheduled for 5 p.m. May 22 to discuss organization of the city and how it can be run more effectively.

Terry told the commission Monday night that the police and fire departments are working efficiently and it would serve no purpose to hire a public safety director to coordinate them.

"I would like access to all my department heads and having a director of public safety would limit this," Terry said. "We don't need one until the city is larger."

But Commissioner Larry Goldberg had a different opinion.

"Many years ago I felt a need for a public safety director and I'm still in favor of the way the city is growing."

It was pointed out that the ordinance calling for a public safety director was written before the city had an administrator.

"It would take an ordinance to do away with the position," Mayor Harvey Smerilson said.

The city's only public safety director, Douglas

Keller, who also served as police chief, left in 1977 in the midst of controversy, according to Commissioner June Lormann, who was a city official at the time.

"The system didn't seem to be working right or maybe he just wasn't the right man for the job," she said.

Mrs. Lormann said she is undecided as to whether there should be a public safety director now, but she said if one is named she is sure it will be Police Chief Greg Manning, who served as acting city administrator from January until then-City Clerk Terry was named to the post last month.

In other business Monday night, the commission voted to:

- Table until next week ordinances requiring unroofed surfaces prepared for sports, such as skateboard ramps, to fall under zoning codes and an arbor ordinance to give the attorney a chance to clarify them.
- Ban motor-powered boats from West Lake.
- Approve an ordinance controlling unnecessary, excessive and annoying noise.
- Approve a site plan for Gulfside Central Supply Office/Warehouse Distribution Center at lot 11, Florida Central Commerce Park.
- Give preliminary approval to annexing a portion of lot 1, Irendale, lots 4 and 5, block A, Oak Grove Park. Public hearings were set for June 24.
- Give preliminary approval to rezoning the southwest corner of state Road 434 and Oxford Street from R-1A single-family residential to C-2 commercial-office on the request of Vitic Investments. The public hearing was set for June 10.

Trial Set For Man Accused In Break-In, Shooting Spree

A trial date has been set for a Casselberry man charged with armed burglary and cruelty to an animal following the March 20 break-in at a Chuluota home.

Set for trial May 28 in Seminole County Court on a charge of cruelty to an animal is Elton Newton Butner, 27, of 532 Eldorado Way. He is also scheduled for trial June 17 in circuit court on charges of armed burglary and improper display of a firearm. All the charges stem from the same incident. County court handles misdemeanor cases, circuit court felony charges.

According to Calvin Brown of 561 Third St., Chuluota, a man broke into his home while his 13-year-old son, Miller Calvin Brown, was at home with his Siberian husky, Nicki.

The man reportedly broke into the house, ransacked it, broke into a locked bedroom, grabbed a .357-Magnum revolver from the closet and then chased the dog through the house, firing the gun.

After the boy called his parents, the intruder threw the phone to the floor and broke it. The boy hid under a table as the man emptied the first gun and returned to the bedroom and got a 25-caliber automatic pistol, which he also emptied inside the house, a sheriff's report said.

The dog was wounded in the gunfire but recovered.

Brown said the man had been to his home before and was angry at the dog. He said the man's girlfriend's 6-year-old son was bitten when he entered Brown's home along with the suspect and his mother. The dog didn't know the boy and attacked him. The bite was treated and animal control investigated the incident and cleared the dog. Brown said.

In other county court action the following people were judged guilty:

—Michael Anthony Burlison, 24, of 58 Kent Court, arrested April 27, was sentenced to one year of probation for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana. He was arrested by Sanford police following a raid on his home. Burlison was also ordered to pay court costs totaling $45.

—Patricia May Fowler, 39, of 179 Lori Ann Lane, Winter Springs, was fined $25 and ordered to complete 6 months of probation for selling alcohol to a minor. Ms. Fowler, a convenience store clerk at the time, was arrested Feb. 27 after selling beer to an underage informant.

Police Pull 6 Bodies From MOVE Ruins

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Police pulled the bodies of two children and four adults from the charred ruins of a radical gang's fortified house that burned with 60 other homes in a fire authorities say may have been set by the cult.

Mayor Wilson Goode Tuesday night defended the police bombing of the house, headquarters of the back-to-nature group called MOVE, and said authorities had uncovered evidence six weeks ago that MOVE planned to blow up the neighborhood to "make international headlines."

Authorities resumed their search of the wreckage today and said they did not know if they would find more bodies.

Fire Commissioner William Richmond said Tuesday six bodies had been found — two men, a woman, another adult whose sex could not be determined because of burns, and two children, one of them a girl.

Some of the bodies were found in a back alley of the MOVE house where cult members fired shots at police while trying to flee the burning compound after a police helicopter bombed the filthy, heavily fortified dwelling.

Jailhouse Assault Nets Man 5-Year Prison Term

A mop-handle attack on a corrections officer at the Seminole County jail netted a Tampa man the maximum sentence of 5 years.

The sentence is to be served after the man finishes a 5-year prison term for burglary and 15 years for escape.

Jed Allen Chyle, 20, was sentenced by Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr in connection with a March 5 assault on a corrections officer at the county jail. At that time, Chyle and his brother, Michael, 22, were awaiting sentencing for escape and burglary.

According to a sheriff's report, Chyle refused to move to another cell when ordered to do so and armed himself with a mop and broom handle.

When correction officers converged on him, he assaulted three of them. After he was subdued, one of the officers was treated for an arm injury at Central Florida Regional Hospital and then released. Chyle was treated for a knee injury.

Chyle and his brother were being held on burglary charges when they escaped from the jail by climbing over a wall in an outdoor recreation area on Aug. 23.

They were recaptured in Roane County, Tenn., on Oct. 26. At the time of their escape they were being held in the Seminole County jail on charges stemming from a 1983 burglary in Altamonte Springs.

'Star Wars' Makes Shuttle Debut

Discovery To Carry Optical Experiment Aloft In June

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A "Star Wars" optical experiment will be carried aloft aboard the shuttle Discovery next month, officials say.

A spokesman for the Strategic Defense Initiative Organization at the Pentagon said Monday an "optical tracking device" will be on board, presumably in Discovery's payload bay, when the shuttle takes off around June 14.

More details of the experiment were expected to be released later this week.

Discovery's seven-member crew, which includes a Frenchman and a nephew of King Fahd of Saudi Arabia, plans to launch three communications satellites during the weeklong flight. The Strategic Defense Initiative — dubbed "Star Wars" by critics — is a massive research effort to come up with space-based or ground systems that could destroy enemy missiles before they could reach targets in the United States.

The estimated cost of research for the next five years comes to around $26 billion. The Pentagon has asked Congress for $3.7 billion for fiscal year 1986.

Air Force Lt. Gen. James Abrahamson, director of the "Star Wars" program, told the Cape Canaveral Press Club late last month that by 1987, he expects two shuttle flights a year will be needed for experiments to test aiming and tracking systems.

"It's important that we try to tell this story," Abrahamson said. "We'll conduct a larger percentage of the program out in the open."

But he did not mention the experiment assembly that NASA says will be aboard Discovery next month.

Abrahamson, former director of the shuttle program, said a ground-based laser system under development will be ready for atmospheric testing this summer, leading to speculation Discovery may be equipped with optical devices that could help calibrate that system.

Soviets Meddle With The Oxford

The Soviet Union, which has claimed responsibility for most of this century's major inventions and scientific breakthroughs, is in a process of revising part of the English language. Soviet editors of special editions of the Oxford English Dictionary have changed the definitions of key political words so they conform to Communist Party doctrine.

In the Soviet edition of the Oxford Student's Dictionary of Current English, "socialism" is defined as "a social and economic system which is replacing capitalism." The Soviet edition of the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary of Current English defines "capitalism" as the system replacing feudalism and preceding communism.

Both dictionaries define "communism" as "a theory revealing the historical necessity for the revolutionary replacement of capitalism by communism." On the other hand, "imperialism" is defined as "the highest and last stage of capitalism." And fascism is defined "as a form of reactionary, nationalistic, anti-democratic, anti-communist, bourgeois movement and regime, typical of the era of imperialism."

George Richardson, chief executive of the Oxford University Press, concedes that dictionaries are frequently adjusted to suit individual countries and that the publisher has a responsibility to make sure the definitions do not offend anyone. Still, he is stunned that the Soviets have distorted these definitions to suit their ideology.

Then again, we are not surprised. The Soviet Union, which has demonstrated such a penchant for distorting history, is certainly capable of a little lexicographical legerdemain as well.

Truth In Banking

When a customer applies for a loan, bankers want to know all about the customer's finances, especially if the applicant has been in difficulty. But when the bank gets into difficulty, the last thing it wants to let customers know is that it is being examined by the government.

That's wrong and we're glad to see that federal regulatory agencies are moving toward disclosure.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. has decided to provide the public with a list of all banks and bank employees it is investigating. And the comptroller of the currency is considering a more open disclosure policy. Bankers feel the new policy will result in runs on troubled banks. But frankness can help calm fear and show that bank regulators are doing their job. Bankers should expect to give customers the same frank answers they expect from customers.

Senate's Spending Cuts Ambitious

WASHINGTON — "If anyone's counting tombstones, UDAG is definitely dead," Steve Bell, staff director of the Senate Budget Committee, announced to reporters during a briefing following last week's razor-thin passage of a three-year, $295 billion budget-cutting package by the Senate.

Bell was confirming that the $440 million Urban Development Action Grant program, loved by big-city mayors and once considered politically untouchable, was among the programs that would be killed under the budget bill crafted by Senate Republican leader Robert Dole, Budget Committee Chairman Peter Domenici and Budget Director David Stockman.

Putting aside, for the moment, the Senate's irresponsible decision, in the midst of difficult arms-control negotiations with the Soviets, to raise defense spending only enough to keep it abreast of inflation, the Senate's non-defense spending cuts are truly awesome.

The list of programs whose tombstones would be added to UDAG's represents the most sweeping budget-cutting ever approved by either house of Congress.

— The Economic Development Administration a $200-million pork-barrel program that has failed to alleviate chronic unemployment in depressed areas.

— Revenue sharing: nearly $4.6-billion-a-year in no-strings-attached grants for every local government, regardless of need to do with as they wish — money that Uncle Sam must borrow in order to give away.

— Export-Import Bank direct loans that benefit America's richest corporations.

And the list goes on.
Meanwhile, other programs, which Ronald Reagan wanted to eliminate, will be cut, including Amtrak, Job Corps, the Small Business Administration and the Rural Electrification Administration, to name only a few.

Significantly, cost-of-living raises will be withheld from Social Security recipients as well as from all others who receive government pay and pension checks.

In all, the Senate package proposes to slash next year's deficit by $56 billion, cutting the $200 billion-plus deficit in half by 1988.

Unfortunately, Dole was unable to hold the support of four Republicans: Sens. Alfonse D'Amato of New York, Paula Hawkins of Florida, Charles Mathias of Maryland and Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania. But with the support of Democrat Edward Zorinsky of Nebraska and the tie-breaking assistance of Vice President George Bush, Dole pulled off a major coup for himself, President Reagan and the American taxpayer.

What the Senate action showed, first and foremost, is that contrary to the conventional wisdom in Washington, which has long been pushing for tax increases to avoid spending cuts, the deficit can be pounded into submission without raising taxes.

Secondly, it showed that voting to cut spending in pursuit of a balanced budget and a healthier economy is politically attractive enough to win a majority in the Senate. Dole believes that those senators who courageously voted to cut the deficit — without raising income taxes as the Democratic alternative would have done — will justifiably reap the political rewards at re-election time.

Third, it proved that spending can be cut without slashing or eliminating essential social programs for the poor such as food stamps, free school lunches, disability payments, and other safety-net programs. Under the Senate's cuts, for example, no Social Security beneficiary will get one dollar less than they're getting now.

Fourth, all those naysayers who for years have said that lawmakers would never vote to actually eliminate popular spending programs were proved wrong.

Acid Rain Politics

By Robert W. Savage

Acid rain. The phrase strikes fear in the heart of many Americans, with the media image of blighted forests and dead fish. To the environmental extremist and the modern Luddites, acid rain is synonymous with imminent catastrophe — another conspiracy of technology and big business. But this view of acid rain and the reality are vastly different.

"Acid Rain" has always existed. Water in the atmosphere naturally combines with sulfur dioxide and other compounds to form various acids. Acid rain only becomes a potential problem when the acidity of the rain is higher than that of the lakes, streams and soil.

The causes of acid rain are clear: any form of combustion including cars, coal-burning plants, and wood fires. Other processes like plant and animal decay also affect water acidity. The effects of acid rain, however, are not clear. Countless studies have led to conflicting conclusions.

The importance of acid rain does not arise from its environmental impact, but rather its political play. In the early eighties acid rain became a hot political issue. Skewed media stories spread the outas-trophic image of acid rain. The environmental lobby, already outraged by former Interior Secretary James Watt, saw acid rain as a means of reviving the anti-business liberal coalition of the early seventies.

The success of the media blitz on acid rain is unquestionable. Before the 1984 elections, a Harris Poll showed that over 90 percent of Americans thought acid rain to be a serious threat to the nation.

Politics have tainted the research of acid rain to the detriment of science and research and the rash remedies for a complex global problem.

Acid rain will continue to fall, as it has for years, regardless of expensive government attempts to stop it. The solution to ending the blight of forests and lakes will come from study and diplomacy, unburdened and untainted by the fashionable politics of the day.

Congress May Close Pentagon's 'Door'

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — One of the hottest issues that will be debated this week when Congress takes up the defense budget is the Pentagon's notorious "revolving door." Pentagon officials have moved through this door into cushy jobs with the defense contractors they dealt with when they worked for the government.

The most glaring recent example is George Sawyer, a former assistant secretary of the Navy for shipbuilding and logistics, who is now executive vice president for land systems at General Dynamics, the nation's third largest defense contractor.

A grand jury in New Haven, Conn., is studying evidence that Sawyer was discussing his possible employment at General Dynamics between March and May 1983, while he was still at the Pentagon.

According to the Defense Department inspector general, Joseph H. Sherick, Sawyer "had the authority to and did make decisions affecting General Dynamics" during that period.

Abortion: No Regrets

Fifty odd years ago, when I was in my twenties, I had an abortion. It was not legalized then and was far from safe, but I have never regretted it nor felt any guilt about it.

I had a little three year old daughter, crippled then and confined to bed in a cast. I had full charge of her in between doctor's visits once a week. From the time that I discovered I was pregnant again in spite of all our careful attention to contraception, I thought of this embryo as a little parasite trying to attack me and my crippled child and to make our lives more difficult. Needless to say, I felt no tenderness for it and no regret when it was aborted.

My husband was able through co-workers to get information for me about two different persons who helped women to bring about abortion, a nurse who would perform D & C and a pharmacist who would furnish a drug for the purpose. The D & C would necessitate more time away from home so I chose the drug. It produced the results but only after I was so ill for a week that I thought I would surely die before I taken all the drugs as directed.

I feel that this abortion saved my life. I have no doubt that I would have tried anything I heard about: knitting needles, coathangers, poison, anything until I had produced the abortion or ended my life in the effort to do so. I was miserable and desperate.

Through his quest for information for me, my husband learned about the possibility of vasectomy for him and had one as soon as possible; that is, as soon as we could gather together the fifty dollars to pay for it. I never had to go through that ordeal again.

I think that the torture which I endured during those few weeks of unwanted pregnancy all returns to me now in the form of hatred for those presidents, popes and other politicians who have the gall to harangue women on the subject of duty and morality while they plan great war machines with which to kill the children they ask us to produce in agony. How dare they try to make laws that would in effect nationalize a woman's reproductive system and criminalize her most private personal decisions?

Support Mass Transit Bills

Public and rail transit have become major issues in this legislative session. On public transit, the Senate Transportation Committee has passed (80) SB 4-8 which would authorize the state for the first time ever to provide ongoing operating assistance to local transit systems.

As for rail transit, SB 530 (House Bill 982), as passed by the Senate Transportation Committee, would allow state-supported trains like the Silver Palm to run beyond 3 years if they meet certain criteria. We need the Silver Palm, the Gulf Wind, and a network of in-state trains beginning with service from Pensacola to Miami/St. Petersburg if we are ever to create a viable alternative to using the private automobile.

Please write your legislators in support of the above propositions and also to support the necessary funding to accomplish those objectives.

Are Stress Vitamins Needed?

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer

Life is more hectic than ever before. If you're burning the candle at both ends, working late, playing hard and exercising, you may not be getting all the nutrients you need.

If you're anxious or worried, harried by your boss, nipped by your spouse or delayed by your airline, your body may be using up too rapidly the vitamins necessary for health.

You need a special vitamin supplement as insurance.

Or so the advertising says. Vitamin sales in 1983, the latest year for which figures are available, were about $2.7 billion in the United States, with stress pills and B-complex vitamins often taken to combat stress comprising about 11 percent of that, according to the Council for Responsible Nutrition, a vitamin and mineral industry trade group.

"This is an incredibly under-regulated industry which is free to do just about anything it wishes to," said Dr. Irwin Rosenberg, professor of medicine and director of the Clinical Nutrition Research Center at the University of Chicago.

Rosenberg headed a panel that looked into vitamins for the Food and Drug Administration. Its report, issued in 1979, was squelched.

"We went through all the vitamins and vitamin combinations and wrote a thoughtful document whose thrust was to identify those things for which vitamin treatment or prevention was appropriate and recommended, and to evaluate those things, those claims, for which there didn't seem to be justification.

"We then talked about increasing the label information so consumers would be better informed."

When the news came out that the report was finished, Rosenberg said, letters flooded Congress and the FDA. The correspondence was from health food stores and their customers, health magazines and those involved with the vitamin industry.

"There was such a flood of letters to the FDA that the FDA buried the report and left the field free, which I think was a travesty of regulatory behavior," Rosenberg said.

Noting that Weinberger already has the authority to prescribe more stringent reporting, the memo concedes that the Defense Department has been "reluctant to take this step."

The memo notes that the media and congressional critics "presume that a government official will ignore shortcomings in contractor performance to curry favor and obtain post-departure employment." But it adds:

"This view flies in the face of common sense. A contractor is not likely to hire a disloyal person who is willing to cheat his government employer because such an individual is likely to cheat any employer."

But the memo points out that something probably has to be done. It notes that a staff member of the Senate Armed Forces Committee warned that "greater education or enforcement efforts" may be necessary to "forestall damaging legislation."

Defense Department sources said they are accepting this suggestion and modifying current disclosure forms to require more information.

Boy Not Admitted To Hospital; Administrator: 'We Didn't Know'

TAMPA (UPI) — The chief administrator at St. Joseph's Hospital says had personnel known the severity of the condition of a 6-year-old boy last weekend, it would have accepted him as a patient without insurance or advance payment arrangement.

John Roberts, 6, of Seminole, was airlifted to Wolfson Children's Hospital in Jacksonville after Dr. Kevin Chapin learned the pediatric intensive care units at Tampa General Hospital and All-Children's Hospital were full and after he said he was told St. Joseph's would not accept the boy without assurance of payment.

The comatose youth is suffering from Reye's syndrome. Sister Marie Celeste Sullivan, president of St. Joseph's, said in a prepared statement Tuesday, "St. Joseph's transfer policy is to request proof of insurance or arrangement for payment before accepting transfer. The caller was advised of the policy and we understood other arrangements were being made."

"The administrative person on call did not understand it was a life-threatening situation," the statement continued. "We regret the incident and if we had understood the severity of the case, we would have accepted this transfer."

No Bond For Canadian Mountie

MIAMI (UPI) — A federal judge has stayed bond for a Royal Canadian Mounted Police undercover agent charged with selling drug enforcement secrets pending a hearing Thursday on whether the officer poses a threat to the community.

U.S. Magistrate Peter Nimkoff ruled Tuesday that Michael Adrien Van Russell, 29, of Roberval, Quebec, could be released from jail under a $165,000 personal surety bond and tight restrictions that required him to stay in Dade County until his trial.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Mark Schnapp immediately filed an appeal before U.S. District Judge Eugene P. Spellman, who ordered a stay of Nimkoff's ruling.

Schnapp told Nimkoff and Spellman that Van Russell's release from jail would threaten U.S. drug enforcement agencies and their confidential informants because the Mountie had intelligence information that could be passed on to drug smugglers.

County Told: Stay In Garbage Disposal Business...For Now

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Despite proposals from private enterprise to take over the county's garbage disposal operation, Environmental Services Director Jim Bible has recommended that the county stay in the business at least for the next year or two.

A major reason, Bible said, is that none of the three firms which submitted proposals to take over the operation is willing to assume costs of closing out the 112 acres at the county's Osceola landfill near Geneva in the way required by the state Department of Environmental Regulation.

The state agency is requiring the county to completely seal that used acreage with impervious material, estimated to cost $5 million.

The materials are to be impervious to penetration from moisture from the outside and leaking of pollutants from the inside.

Bible also shared a few his thoughts with commissioners on cutting costs in the operations of two existing county transfer stations — at Sanlando and at Upsala — plus a proposed new transfer station in the Oviedo area which has been planned to replace the closed one there.

Bible is recommending that plans for a new Oviedo station (part of the old one caved in) be dropped and that future planned improvements at Sanlando and Upsala be discarded in favor of a new single, centrally located transfer station.

As the first step he recommends rejection by the board Tuesday of the proposals of Western Waste Industries Inc. of Florida, Industrial Waste Services Inc. and Browning-Ferris Industries to take over the operation of the system.

Bible said the offers to buy trucks and other department vehicles combined with lease payments for the facilities system are not sufficient to pay for the county's projected costs — $5 million — of correcting problems with the used up portion of the landfill.

Bible's department and DER are negotiating on the method to be used to stop storm waters from leaking into the mounds of buried garbage and contaminants from leaking out and polluting nearby water supplies and water ways.

"If the operation is sold to a private company, we (the county) will not be able to generate the system revenues to pay for the DER mandated program," he said, adding that all three companies said they would not accept the county's existing landfill liabilities.

He will recommend that turning the operation over to private enterprise be evaluated again after negotiations are concluded with DER and after the county commissioners consider again mandatory garbage collection by a franchised company.

Each of these issues will have a significant impact on the value of the refuse disposal operation, he said.

While the county had expected a ruling from DER calling for future refuse buried at the landfill to be "capped and covered" to seal in contaminants and seal out drainage water, the newest DER requirement that refuse buried there over the past 10 years also must be sealed came as a surprise to county officials.

County Administrator Ken Hooper said the county believed they had the word of a DER official that the capping and covering only applied to future refuse.

Hooper earlier estimated costs of capping and covering in the future at $500,000 a year without considering garbage from the past.

To raise the money to pay those $500,000 annual costs, the county commission doubled its rates — from $7.75 per ton to $15 at the landfill and from $9.75 per ton to $18 at the transfer stations — last December.

What happened instead is that business dropped off by 40 percent in the first three months of 1985 when garbage collectors took their refuse to Volusia and Orange counties where the charges were somewhat less. Both counties are now in the process of increasing their dump charges.

While Bible is proposing the county spend another $5 million for a centrally located transfer station, he says the county will save $3.4 million by closing down the existing transfer stations through avoiding capital improvements there and by reducing personnel.

He said his estimated savings do not include any value associated with the 53 acres of land at the old stations.

On the issue of a franchised garbage collection in the unincorporated areas of the county — roughly half the county territory — with mandatory garbage collection, Bible is suggesting staff and the commissioners do an evaluation from June through October.

Man Gets 60 Days In Jail, $1,000 Fine For Third DUI

An Orlando man has been found guilty of driving under the influence in Seminole County for the third time and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and fined $1,000.

Charles William Holzschuh, 30, also had his driver's license suspended for 10 years.

Holzschuh was arrested Nov. 29 after his pickup truck crossed the centerline of state Road 434, Altamonte Springs.

In other DUI court action, the following persons have either pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence, or having an unlawful blood alcohol level.

As first-time offenders, most have had their driver's license suspended for 7 months, ordered to pay a $250 fine and $27.50 in court costs, and complete 50 hours of community service.

When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits.

—Barbara Anne Berber, 30, of Ocala, arrested March 2 after her car was seen weaving and hitting the curb of U.S. Highway 17-92 in Seminole County.

—Steven Ronald Strickland, 23, of 445 Bay St., Longwood, arrested Jan. 6 after his car made an improper turn off state Road 434 in Winter Springs and hit a curb.

—Donald Marion Sales Jr., 24, of Orlando, arrested March 15 after his car was seen weaving on 17-92, Sanford.

Ulcers Cost $4 Billion Annually

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ulcers cost Americans $4 billion a year, about $1,000 for each of the 4 million who suffer from the painful malady.

About 80 percent of all peptic ulcers, created when acidic digestive juices eat away tissue, occur in the upper part of the intestine, while the rest are in the stomach, researchers at the Health Strategy Group concluded after reviewing published statistics and clinical studies on ulcers.

Although about the same number of people suffer from ulcers as did 25 years ago, fewer people die as a result.

About two out of 1,000 people are newly diagnosed each year with ulcers. Each patient costs about $1,000 in medical bills, insurance and lost productivity.

WUEZ Saves Game, Can't Rescue Braves

It's not too many days when I have a discouraging word concerning Cablevision of Central Florida. Its service has been excellent in Winter Springs for the past six years. I can count the times on one hand when I've turned it on and found the snow instead of the go.

Before I nominate it for the All-America Cable Team, however, it would be nice if it would add Chicago's WGN and New York's WOR. There are some rumblings of that down the road so I'll just bide my time until Harry Caray and the Cubs are brought into my living room along with Dwight Gooden and the rest of the Mets.

Tuesday, nevertheless, was one of those days the snow replaced the go. I called the Cablevision of Central Florida office and knew I had the right place when it put me on hold. A few minutes passed before a polite lady named Sue came on the line.

"Cablevision of Central Florida, this is Sue, may I help you?" she asked.

"When is the cable coming back for Winter Springs?" I inquired.

"We thought we had it fixed a little while ago," said Sue. "Some contractor sliced through our cable. There was a lot of splicing to do, but we thought it was fixed but it wasn't."

"Well, Sue, did you tell those guys the Braves are coming on in five minutes?" I asked. "Maybe that will hurry them up."

"The Braves?" he said quizzically. "Do they play baseball?"

"Well, they haven't been for the past week, but I think they're starting to come around," I said.

"Well, it's your TV," she countered. "Watch what you want. Anyway, I don't think it will be much longer, although in your situation, you might be better off if it comes back on tomorrow."

Well, Sue was right. Not about it coming back shortly but my situation. The cable didn't return in time for the Braves' game. Most people in this situation would just take their lumps and switch on...well...whatever you watch on the networks which isn't on cable.

But I'm stubborn. I remembered Eustia used to carry the Braves and Winter Garden did too.

While sliding up and down the AM dial, guess what I find? The Braves. And it's loud and clear. I look over to see where the band is and I'm surprised to find it on 1400.

WUEZ...EZ 14...Sanford, Fla...a hook up straight from Atlanta's WSB...Wow!

Then it all came back to me. When Leigh Feldsteen took over as general manager, WUEZ basketball announcer Joe Johnson told me the station would emphasize more sports. Of course, this has been the plan of several GMs when the station changed hands.

This time, however, it seems for real. WUEZ and Johnson did a good job with several Seminole and Lake Mary basketball games last winter and Feldsteen said the station will cover all the Seminole football games this fall. In addition, WUEZ is broadcasting the Orlando Renegades, Florida Gator football and basketball games will be aired later this year.

WUEZ seems to have more zip to it these days, too. In the old days of WTRR, the signal sometimes reminded you of a beacon in the fog. Tuesday night, though, the reception was loud and clear on my radio in the house.

Just to check it further, I switched on a transistor and received the same strong signal. The final test was administered on the way to work when I tuned in EZ 14 in my car. All clear there, too.

One more thing about WUEZ. After the game, it carried the post-game show. It was an interesting interview by WSB's John Sterling with Gary Carter. (Carter, I might add, didn't bad mouth his ex-Montreal teammates like they did him upon his departure).

And after that, Atlanta's Ernie Johnson came on with the scores. There's more. Some other guy came on with a sports feature about minor leaguers who have duplicated or bettered feats of the major leaguers. An excellent piece.

All in all, it was a superb package. "We're committed to sports," said Feldsteen, who took over Nov. 13. "We've gotten a lot of good comment on the Braves. We figured the only way to do it was to cover all the bases...if you'll excuse the pun."

Keep up the good sports, WUEZ. And a pat on the back to all those sports-minded advertisers.

Just one thing is amiss, though, Leigh. Can you program the games so that the Braves win? The punchless Braves lost another one Tuesday, 3-1, to the Mets.

...It Was '42 Sanford Braves

A little-known fact: The Braves, who then hailed from Boston, used Sanford as a spring training site in 1942. The next year they went to Wallingford, Conn. and then Washington D.C. before returning to Florida in 1946.

They went to Bradenton two years later and stayed until 1961. During that time, they moved from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953. In 1962, the spring base moved to Palmetto for one year. They have been in West Palm Beach since 1963.

Derrick Taylor, a member of the Sanford American League All-Stars last year as an 11-year-old, turned in an All-Star performance Tuesday for powerhouse Sun Bank. Taylor, who twice before this year took no-hit gems into the late innings, finally hurled his masterpiece, a four-inning 20-0 no-hitter against Butch's Chevron.

Taylor Finally Gets No-Hitter

By Chris Flster
Herald Sports Writer

Derrick Taylor had flirted with a no-hitter two times before this season, but he always lost it in the late innings and settled for one-hitters. Monday afternoon, Taylor was untouchable as he hurled the first no-hitter of the Sanford Little Major Leagues as Sun Bank hammered Butch's Chevron, 20-0, in Little American League action at Fort Mellon Park.

Taylor's no-hitter was in four innings as Sun Bank won by the slaughter rule. Taylor, the top pitcher in the Little American League last year as an 11-year-old, struck out nine and walked four as Sun Bank ran its record to 9-0 for the season.

Sun Bank provided Taylor with all the runs he needed in the top of the first inning. Keith Armond led off with a walk and Jeffrey Ingram followed with a single. With one out, James Jackson unloaded a three-run homer. Taylor then doubled and went around to score on two wild pitches for a 4-0 lead.

Sun Bank added seven more runs in the second and tacked on eight in the fourth. In the second, Lorenzo Polk's three-run homer was the big blow while Taylor smacked a two-run double in the fourth.

Butch's Chevron, which scored 43 runs in its last outing, didn't hit a ball past the pitcher's mound off Taylor. In the first inning, the leadoff hitter bounced back to the mound. Jeff Bellford then drew a walk but Taylor struck out the next hitter. Another walk and a wild pitch put runners on second and third but Taylor got Brett Hansen to pop back to the mound for the third out.

In the second, Taylor struck out the first two hitters the walked Jay Bell but Bell was cut down trying to steal second by Sun Bank catcher Al Perkins.

MEDCO ROUTS ATLANTIC

In Little American League action at Bay Avenue Field, a pair of six-run innings lifted Medco Pharmacy over Atlantic Bank, 16-6.

Medco scored six times in the second on just one hit, an RBI double by Lakaisa Kennon. Medco wrapped up the win with six more runs in the fourth. A two-run double off the bat of Leroy Kitt, Floyd Henderson's triple and doubles by Britt Henderson and Albert Anderson led the way.

Britt Henderson was the winning pitcher for Medco, allowing five hits and striking out eight. Anthony Duval had three of the five hits for Atlantic Bank while Sedran Heiglar smacked an inside-the-park homer.

FORD TOPS PETROLEUM

Seminole Ford and Seminole Petroleum have not had too much success in the Sanford Little American League this season, so, when the two got together Tuesday afternoon, a close and high-scoring game wasn't surprising.

Both teams had nine hits in the game but Seminole Ford managed to squeeze out a 15-14.

The winning run came in the top of the sixth when Don Redding doubled and scored when Dick Inman reached on an error. Inman and Richard Ransom had three hits each to lead Seminole Ford while Redding added a pair of doubles.

Teco Livingston, Harvey Sutton, Damien Tillman and Kevin Black had two hits each for Seminole Petroleum.

Nuggets Get Even, 136-114

NBA Playoffs

Celtics Win Again, 8A

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — While the Los Angeles Lakers were getting mad, the Denver Nuggets were getting even in the second game of the Western Conference championship series.

Alex English poured in 40 points in Tuesday night's game to lead Denver to a 136-114 rout of the Lakers, tying the best-of-7 series at one game each.

The series moves to Denver for the third and fourth games Friday night and Sunday. The winner of the series advances to the NBA Championship series against the Boston-Philadelphia winner in a series now led by the Celtics 2-0.

Tuesday's physical game turned into a near-brawl with 6:18 remaining when Danny Schayes and the Lakers' Magic Johnson got into a shoving match. An angry Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who had exchanged words with Schayes two minutes earlier and gotten a technical foul the eye with an elbow and I decided to put a stop to it. Then the whole thing broke loose."

The loss was the Lakers' first at the Forum in their last 24 games and snapped the team's longest-ever home streak. Denver was the only team in the NBA to beat the Lakers twice at home during the past regular season, but Los Angeles won the first game of the playoff series by 17 points.

"They won easy in the first game and they thought they were going to win easy tonight," Moe said. "We didn't win 52 games for nothing. We're not chopped liver."

Dan Issel added 22 points for Denver while Calvin Natt and Elston Turner, starting for the injured Lafayette Lever, added 18 each.

The Lakers were led by Byron Scott's 22 points. James Worthy had 17, Michael Cooper had 16 and Mike McGee added 15. Johnson and Abdul-Jabbar finished with 13 points each.

Los Angeles trailed only 89-86 entering the final period, but the Nuggets, led by English, used a potent fastbreak to score several uncontested field goals and quickly built their lead to 102-91 with a 12-5 burst in the first four minutes of the quarter. They finished the quarter with 47 points.

The fourth-quarter fight between Schayes and Abdul-Jabbar seemed to deflate an already punchless Laker team and the Nuggets rolled up the score, building the lead to 128-101 with 2:24 remaining on a running right-hander by English.

Denver led by seven points at halftime, but the Lakers began a dogged rally in the third period and with two minutes remaining Michael Cooper crashed down the lane and scored a layup that evened the score at 81-81.

Clem Leonard Wallops Kokomo

Roundup

Clem Leonard Shell and Kokomo Tools each had four hits Monday in their Sanford Pee Wee League game, but Leonard's Neville Fuller had better control than his pitching counterpart as Leonard Shell claimed a 15-2 victory at Chase Park.

Neville had excellent control as he didn't walk any and struck out 11 in four innings of work. Eric Ingram's RBI triple and Fredriko McCloud's run-scoring singles provided the two runs for Kokomo Tools.

On the other hand, Leonard Shell took advantage of 16 walks and a number of wild pitches and errors. Edmond Daniels had two of the four hits for Leonard Shell including a solo home run. Singles by Terrell Jackson and Chris Boon were the other hits.

In one other Pee Wee League game, Rinker Materials came away with a 10-9 victory over Butch's Chevron.

KING'S HR, WALKS DOOM KIWANIS

Walks can be a pitcher's worst enemy. Kiwanis' Katrina Rogers walked the first three Rotary batters Tuesday and the fourth, Tamisha King, then tatted a grand slam homer and that was all she wrote as Rotary went on to claim a 15-3 victory in Sanford Junior League softball action at Fort Mellon Field.

Rotary managed just six hits in the game but took advantage of 12 walks. Algon with Rogers' homer, Maggie Buckner and Tiffany Jones added RBI doubles.

Barfield had two hits for Kiwanis and scored two of the three runs. Debra White added an RBI double.

of the Rangers are satisfied with the team's performance at this level."

Rader would not say if he had been informed of the decision.

"I knew that (possibility of being fired) when I got the job. I can't really say anything about it. I have been in this game a number of years — these things happen," Rader said Tuesday following the Rangers' 4-1 loss to Detroit.

Rangers president Mike Stone refused to comment on Rader's situation, the Morning News said.

7 Too Few? Yanks Stun Twins Again

United Press International
 The Minnesota Twins are beginning to wonder how many runs they have to score to beat New York at Yankee Stadium. Minnesota led 7-3 with one out in the seventh Tuesday night before relievers walked four straight batters and surrendered a grand slam by Ken Griffey as the Yankees rallied for their second straight comeback victory, 10-7, over the Twins.

New York won 9-8 Monday night on Don Mattingly's three-run game-winning home run with two out in the bottom of the ninth.

"Hold them to less than nine runs and you'll win," said Yankees manager Billy Martin, never one to pass up the opportunity to take a verbal jab in a war of words.

"It's about time somebody said, 'Give me the bleeping ball, I'm gonna shut down these guys,'" said an exasperated Twins manager Billy Gardner. "My guys came out swinging the bats. We lost a tough one last night (Monday) and put seven runs on the board."

"It's about time the pitchers started doin' their part."

Of the 10 batters walked by the Twins, six eventually scored. Roy Smalley and Tim Lincecum each had three hits. Kent Hrbek had a two-run single and Tom Brunansky added his ninth homer of the year — a solo shot in the second — to lead the Twins' attack.

Every Minnesota batter had at least one hit except Mickey Hatcher, who had a 10-game hitting string halted, and Gary Gaetti, who had an eight-game streak snapped.

"They come out swinging the bat," said Griffey. "They execute well in terms of hit and run, and they hit behind the runner real well. You know you're going to be in a high-scoring game when you play them."

Brian Fisher, 1-0, recorded his first major-league victory by hurling 3 2/3 innings in relief of John Montefusco. Dave Righetti got six outs for his ninth save. Dave Winfield hit his third homer of the year for New York.

'Very-Hittable' Hawkins Wins 7th

United Press International
 Andy Hawkins calls himself hittable. The stats say he's a hit. Using stuff that he calls ordinary, Hawkins nevertheless raised his record to 7-0 Tuesday night, hurling the San Diego Padres to a 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"It's unreal," said Hawkins. "There've been three or four games where I've been lucky to win. I haven't really been a 7-0 pitcher. I'm very hittable."

Kevin McReynolds backed Hawkins with a three-run homer in the first inning. He said he was looking for a sacrifice fly.

"I had to stay back and make contact and that's exactly what I did," McReynolds said. "I was just hoping for the ball to stay fair, get one run in, but as it turned out we got three."

Hawkins, off to the best start of his career, tied Atlanta's Rick

Mahler for the major-league lead in wins with seven. Asked if he ever had imagined getting that far without a loss, Hawkins replied, "Not even in my dreams."

The right-hander departed after giving up a lead-off single to Jack Clark in the sixth inning, and Mark Thurmond, making his first relief appearance of the year, came on to pick up the save.

Phillies 7, Reds 1
 At Cincinnati, Charles Hudson pitched eight innings of one-hit ball in his first start after 12 relief appearances, snapping Philadelphia's seven-game losing streak. Reds player-manager Pete Rose went 0-for-4 and needs 71 hits to surpass Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191 base hits.

Giants 3, Pirates 1
 At San Francisco, Mike

N.L. Baseball

Krukow hit two doubles, drove in two runs and pitched a five-hitter to lift the Giants. Krukow, 3-2, struck out six and walked one in pitching his third complete game of the season. The loss went to Larry McWilliams, 3-3, who worked four innings, yielding five hits and all three of the Giants' runs.

Mets 3, Braves 1
 At Atlanta, Calvin Schiraldi and Roger McDowell combined on a three-hitter to lead the Mets past the Braves. Schiraldi surrendered three hits over 4 1/3 innings. McDowell, 3-1, retired 14 batters faced to pick up the victory. The right-hander struck out three. Rick Mahler, 7-2, took the loss.

Astros 10, Expos 0

At Houston, rookies Ron Mathis and Mark Ross combined on a seven-hitter and Jerry Mumphrey led a season-high 17-hit Astros attack with three singles and three RBI. Mathis, 2-1, pitched seven innings, allowing five hits while walking one and striking out two.

Tim Raines, who has five straight hits for Montreal, missed the game with a sprained left wrist. Expo publicist Richard Griffin said he would be in the starting lineup tonight at home against Cincinnati.

Cubs 8, Dodgers 3
 At Los Angeles, Jody Davis triggered a four-run second inning with a single to lead the Cubs. Former Dodger Rick Sutcliffe, 5-3, scattered six hits and walked four. Fernando Valenzuela, 3-4, lasted four innings.

Charles Hudson turned in eight scoreless innings Tuesday as the Phillies snapped a seven-game winning streak by beating the Reds.

Lewis Hit Propels Rotary Past Commonwealth, 7-6

Casselberry Rotary Club took over sole possession of first place for the second half in the Eagles Division with three victories this past week in Seminole Softball Club action.

The big win was a 7-6, extra-inning triumph over previously unbeaten Fern Park I Commonwealth Insurance. Rotary also knocked off Fern Park II, 20-2, and Longwood J&V Enterprises, 6-3.

In the win over Commonwealth Insurance, Tamara Lewis broke a 6-6 tie as she unloaded a shot over the right fielder's head for the winning hit. Jaudon Jonas led the Rotary Club offense with three hits.

Casselberry moved into first place in the second half when Commonwealth Insurance dropped its second one-run game of the week, 8-7, to the Forest City Angels.

In that game, the Angels rode the hitting of Trina Shuler, Tonya Colvin and Tiffany Rinehart for a 8-4 lead going into the bottom of the seventh inning. Commonwealth Insurance came back with three runs, but couldn't tie it.

Sanford's Shuler rapped out a single, double and homer and drove in three runs while Rinehart contributed two RBIs and Colvin smacked a single and triple and drove in one run.

While the Angels knocked Commonwealth Insurance out of first place, they couldn't cool down the hot bats of Oviedo Wington Fire Sprinklers.

Oviedo pounded out 24 hits en route to a 20-6 victory over the Angels. Tammy Jenerette led the way with five hits and five RBIs. Corrie Lawson was 4 for 5 and drove in three runs while Madeline Bailey and Bridgette Jenerette contributed three hits each. Shuler had three of the seven hits for the Angels off winning pitcher Jodie Switzer.

Softball

Switzer tossed a four-hitter and was backed by a 14-hit offensive attack as Wington Fire Sprinklers drowned J&V Enterprises, 12-1.

Marlee Green led the way with a single, double and triple while Theresa Crosby, Lawson and Bridgette Jenerette had three singles apiece. Amy Adams had two of the four hits for Longwood.

Commonwealth Insurance did come away with one victory during the week and that was a 17-4 thrashing of Winter Springs Credit Card Software. Stormi Littrell pitched a six-hitter and drove in three runs to lead the way for Commonwealth. Brooke Burns and Lee-Ann Trimble drove in two runs each and Valerie Monico was 1 for 1 with an RBI single.

BURKE BLANKS FOREST CITY II
 In one other Eagles Division game, Niki Burke twirled a five-hit shutout as Forest City I George Frey Insurance upended Forest City II, 6-0. Forest City I broke a scoreless tie with one run in the fourth and sewed up the win with five in the sixth.

Burke outdueled Forest City II's Dawn Gebhart for the pitching victory. Burke struck out one and walked none. Gebhart struck out one and walked just two. Laurie Rivers was 2 for 3 with two RBIs and Jennifer Rivers 2 for 3 with one RBI to lead George Frey Insurance at the plate.

DALE CONSTRUCTION WINS 2
 In Starling Division play, Larry Dale Construction marched to a pair of wins, 8-7 over Trivision Chevron and 13-7 over Altamonte Springs.

Against Trivision, Amy Bourcier

Sanford's Trina Shuler rapped a single, double and homer while driving in three runs in a win for the Forest City Angels.

ripped a double and triple while Monica Dale and Tomia Gibbs also smacked doubles. Pitcher Sara Moore and first baseman Dale were the defensive standouts.

Against Altamonte Springs, Dale and Bourcier each rapped double and drove in two runs each. Moore was again the winning pitcher.

In another Starling Division contest, Barbara Bartels pitched a six-hitter and helped her own cause with four hits as Winter Springs Mary Salvaggio's Girls rolled past Longwood, 16-2.

Bartels struck out five in the game and walked just three while losing pitcher Jill Strada struck out six and walked nine.

Bartels clubbed three singles and a double and drove in three runs to pace the 18-hit offensive attack. Mindy Kracht also collected four hits. Jennifer Forston drove in two runs and scored four. Jaimie Linn unloaded a home run and drove in two runs and Kim Gaines added a pair of singles.

Stacy Burger was the defensive leader with three putouts while Forston turned in an unassisted double play

Tornadoes Whirl Away With 13 Title

Casselberry's F.C. United Tornadoes won the under 13 division State Championship this past Sunday in Tampa.

The Tornadoes took the title by defeating the K-Land Kicks of Miami, 3-2. The game was tied at the end of regulation and went to two overtime periods, then to penalty kicks to decide the game.

The last F.C. United player to take his kick was Ryan Thomas and he made it to lift the Tornadoes to victory.

F.C. had to survive a tough previous round in April to qualify for the final four in the state. The Tornadoes tied Brandon, 0-0, beat Miami Shores, 4-1, beat the St. Petersburg Junior Raiders, 2-0, and Boca Raton, 1-0, in the semifinals.

The offense for the Tornadoes was led by Thomas (six goals), Joey Johnson (two) and Travis Betsinger (one goal, four assists). The strong F.C. United defense was led by Marc Cohen who had three shutouts in goal and allowed just three goals in five games. David Waters, Betsinger and Lee Knudsen were outstanding at midfield.

Tough fullback play was provided by Marc Bines, Tim Waisanen and Colin Forde and at sweeper back was Brian "The Animal" Greenspoon. Also seeing a lot of action were Tom Kroll, Greg Dean, Chris Zuban and Ralph Rankin.

"It was a very strong tournament and the kids played real well," said F.C. United coach Larry Betsinger.

Parish Polishes Russell Imitation, Celtics Go Up, 2-0

BOSTON (UPI) — Robert Parish's playoff imitation of Bill Russell is getting better every game.

The Boston Celtics center grabbed 16 rebounds and scored 13 points Tuesday night as the defending champions defeated the Philadelphia 76ers 106-98 and took a 2-0 lead in the Eastern Conference finals.

In a confrontation similar to the Russell-Wilt Chamberlain meetings of the 1960s, Parish and Sixers center Moses Malone have battled for control of the boards with Parish winning the first two skirmishes.

Parish has outrebounded Malone 13-10 and 16-10 in the two games. In the tradition of Russell, famed for his playoff achievements, Parish also had 4 of Boston's 12 blocked shots Tuesday as the Celtics won their 19th of 20 home playoff games.

The Celtics center also has a point to prove. Unhappy about published criticism of his post-season play, the usually congenial Parish has stopped talking to the press, as Russell sometimes did — using his play argue his point.

NBA Playoffs

"He's a guy who doesn't get much attention but he gets things done," said Boston coach K.C. Jones. "Ever since Robert got here, he's been the critical person in the middle. He's a 7-footer who will run the court. He'll get a rebound and then be out on the break."

"The Chief is doing it," said teammate Scott Wedman. "He is staying out of foul trouble and getting it done on the boards."

The best-of-seven series shifts to Philadelphia for a pair of afternoon games this weekend.

Larry Bird scored a game-high 24 points, and Dennis Johnson and Kevin McHale added 22 apiece for the Celtics, who outscored the Sixers 32-18 in the pivotal third quarter.

"The 76ers didn't show up in the third quarter," said Julius Erving, whose team shot 7-of-20 during the period. "And you have to play all four quarters to win. We've had the third-quarter blues before, so I suspect we'll recover."

"We allowed them easy opportunities in the third quarter," said disappointed 76ers coach Billy Cunningham. "But you have to give them credit for their aggressiveness — they hit a few, the crowd got behind them and it was too much for us."

A 12-4 Celtics run provided a 74-67 advantage and the lead for good with 2:47 left in the third. McHale scoring 6 points during the run. A 9-3 surge late in the fourth quarter stymied any Philly hopes of a comeback. Danny Ainge scored 6 of Boston's points during the spurt, giving Boston a 99-89 advantage with 2:38 remaining. Bird then scored 5 of his team's final 7 points.

Erving led the Sixers' attack with 22 points. Malone added 20 and Clint Richardson hit for 15 points. Andrew Toney was especially off, hitting 3-of-17 shots for 7 points.

BERRA, MATTINGLY FINED

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dale Berra and Don Mattingly of the New York Yankees were fined $1,000 each by the club Tuesday because of their arrests for indecent exposure in Kansas City last week.

The Yankees, who said they were "disappointed" over the incident, announced the fines before Tuesday night's game with Minnesota. The team said the fines will go to charity.

Berra and Mattingly were arrested in separate incidents at an exclusive Kansas City shopping center. Both were accused of urinating in public at the Country Club Plaza, an outdoor shopping center that includes restaurants, bars and horse-and-buggy rides.

Berra, a third baseman, was arrested at 9:45 p.m. Saturday. He was also charged with trying to strike a Plaza security officer.

IN BRIEF

Hefty Aluminum, Strong Arms Lift Tigers To 2 Wins, 15-1 Mark

Hefty aluminum and strong arms lifted the Tigers to two more victories in the Altamonte Springs Little League Major American Division this past week and upped their record to 15-1 in the process.

John Jump and Kevin Morro combined to drive in 10 runs and Chris Jackson and Chuck Lamb combined on a four-hitter as the Tigers rolled past the Angels, 12-2. Chris Koepke's three-run homer and the pitching of Morro lifted the Tigers past the White Sox, 8-1.

In the win over the Angels, Jump was 2 for 3 and drove in six runs while Morro was 3 for 3 with a homer and four RBIs. Jackson helped his own cause with a pair of singles. Steve Shelman had two of the four hits off Jackson for the Angels.

Against the White Sox, Koepke broke open a close game by slamming a three-run homer in the bottom of the third. Terry Brown added a pair of singles and drove in one run and Lamb's single was the only other hit for the Tigers.

Morro pitched six innings in the win over the White Sox, allowing two hits and striking out four.

Andretti Hits Fastest Indy Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Mario Andretti gunned around the 2 1/2-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway at 208.865 mph Tuesday for the day's fastest practice time.

Andretti won the national driving title last year in a Lola-Cosworth and expects the updated version of the race car to exceed 1984's exciting six-victory season.

"I had engine problems on four consecutive days during the first week of practice, but we resolved the problem," the 1969 Indy 500 winner said of his Beatrice Lola. "Now we're looking to improve minor things that will make us more competitive on race day."

Bobby Rahal's March-Cosworth was the second fastest car in the practice with a clocking of 206.991, while Skoal Eagle teammates Tom Sneva and Ed Pimm recorded 205 among the qualified cars that practiced.

Michael Andretti was timed in 204.498 and Kraco March stablemate Kevin Cogan went around in 200.624.

Among the unqualified cars, Raul Boesel of Brazil again proved he could be in the field after this weekend's trial sessions as he put in a 204.081. Veteran Indy driver Johnny Parsons Jr., also seeking a starting berth, was impressive with a 203.942 in his first time on the track, while Dick Simon turned in one of the fastest times of his Indy career with a 206.097.

McLain Stays On Fame Ballot

DETROIT (UPI) — The board of directors of the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame Tuesday voted 6-2 to keep Denny McLain's name on its ballot for future induction.

But the board retains veto power and could refuse to certify McLain's election if that ever occurred. Voting is conducted by the 120 sports editors and sports directors of Michigan newspapers and radio and television stations.

McLain, major league baseball's last 31-game winner, was sentenced to 23 years in prison April 25 by a federal judge in Tampa, Fla., for racketeering, extortion and cocaine.

McLain's name has appeared on the ballot in each of the past two years. Two years ago, he lost induction by one vote to former U.S. Olympic speed skater Jeanne Omelechuk. He finished in a sixth-place tie with four other candidates this year.

"I was very proud of the board today," Michigan Hall of Fame commissioner W. Nick Kerbaw said. "They were very mature. There was no backbiting, no waving the flag. They were looking at the big picture."

Chief's Crown Heads Preakness

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Chief's Crown, the early favorite who finished third in the May 4 Kentucky Derby, heads a list of 11 probable starters for the 109th running of the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico Race Course Saturday.

Six of the probable starters, including Chief's Crown, already were stabled at Pimlico Tuesday. At least one other was expected to arrive before the end of the day, said Charles "Chick" Lang, executive vice president and general manager of Pimlico.

Those six also included Eternal Prince, the speedy Wood Memorial winner who finished a disappointing 12th in the 13-horse Derby after getting a bad start out of the gate; California Derby winner Hajji's Treasure; I Am The Game, runnerup to eventual Kentucky Derby champion Spend a Buck in the Garden State Stakes; Roo Art, who was third in the Jim Beam Stakes; and Skip Trial, winner of the Preakness Prep.

Mike Fall To Instruct Soccer

The Seminole Soccer School will offer four weeks of summer camps for boys and girls who will receive both indoor and outdoor training.

The camps will bring the week of June 17-21 for players ages eight and under, June 24-28 in for 10 and unders, July 8-12 for eight and unders and 10 and unders and the final week, July 15-19, for under 10's, under 12's and under 16's.

Mike Fall, the only professional soccer player from Seminole County, will be one of the instructors this summer. Camp director Larry McCorkle said that Fall would have contact with every camper, every day.

The cost for the camp is $65. For brochures, call McCorkle at 323-2110 (ext. 221) or Patti Roy at 339-4075.

Freedom Bank Moves Into 2nd

Longwood Freedom Bank took over sole possession of second place in the Seminole Pony Baseball Pinto League with a 7-6 victory over Winter Springs Versatron.

Winter Springs had built a 5-1 lead after two innings but Longwood bounced back with four runs in the top of the third to tie it. Back-to-back homers by Bubba Lamb and Chris Kleibl were the big hits in the third.

Longwood then broke the tie with two runs in the top of the fifth and held Winter Springs to one run the next two innings.

Lamb and Chris Kapelka were both 3 for 3 to lead Freedom Bank at the plate while Kerry Kates and Randy Meadows had three hits apiece to lead Versatron.

Play Better Golf with JACK NICKLAUS

VERY OFTEN IN GOLF, ONE SHOT LEADS TO ANOTHER EQUALLY AS BAD IF NOT WORSE. THE REASON IS USUALLY ANGER, FRUSTRATION AND EMBARRASSMENT, NOT A SUDDEN LOSS OF GOLFING SKILLS.

MY APPROACH TO THIS PROBLEM IS TO "BLANK OUT" THE BAD SHOT. I CONSCIOUSLY FORCE MY MIND TO FOCUS ON THE RECOVERY SHOT. I'LL NOW HAVE TO PLAY IN OTHER WORDS "SWITCH OFF" THE FRUIT AND "SWITCH ON" THE REMEDY AS FAST AS I POSSIBLY CAN.

IT TAKES DISCIPLINE BUT IT PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS.

...Sprained Wrist Falls Raines

Tim Raines has five consecutive hits but it's tough to bat with a sprained wrist, so the Sanford flash has not played the past two days. He is scheduled to return to the lineup tonight at home against Cincinnati, according to Montreal publicist Richard Griffin.

Raines, as some of you may have witnessed, injured his left wrist while sliding into third base Sunday against the Braves. He didn't come out of the game, however, so the severity of the injury wasn't realized.

Griffin said the Expos are anxious to get him back, now that he has found his stroke. "He probably could have played tonight (Tuesday)," Griffin said from Houston. "But we have a 6 a.m. flight back to Montreal Wednesday and we play a 7:30 p.m. game Wednesday night."

"We need one guy fresh for that game." Yes sir, major-league baseball is a tough job, but somebody's got to do it.

Move Over Marvelous, Super Duper Is Coming

Football

MIAMI (UPI) — Move over Marvelous Marvin Hagler and World B. Free, Mark Super Duper will be the official name of the Miami Dolphins wide receiver next season.

Duper, whose real name is Dupas, wants to be officially hailed as Mark Super Duper. He has petitioned Dade Circuit Court to have his name changed from Mark Kirby Dupas — a name he never uses — to Mark Super Duper, the name everybody knows him by.

"I don't want anyone to think I'm trying to be Mr. Big or something like that," Duper said. "I felt it matches everything I do and everything I strive for."

Duper is big as far as the Dolphins are concerned. He caught 71 passes for 1,306 yards worth of passes and scored 8 touchdowns last season, while teaming with fellow wide receiver Mark Clayton and quarterback Dan Marino to break a gang of NFL passing records.

The swift wide receiver earned the Super Duper nickname back in Louisiana when he could dunk a basketball at 5-foot-9.

In Duper's case, the name change may simplify things. The name game began when Duper's father, Walter Dupas, joined the

3 Stooges Plus 1 Give New Meaning To Scramble Format

Anyone who's a fan of the Three Stooges was glued to the television Sunday afternoon to watch "The Stoooge Tube," on TV 35. But, for those who didn't want to wait until Sunday to see a little slapstick, all they had to do was go to the Caselberry Golf Course Saturday morning.

That was the site of the Lake Mary High Boosters Golf Tournament. There were 18 foursomes on hand for the 8 a.m. start and most of those foursomes consisted of an A (excellent), B (pretty darn good), C (mediocre) and D (thacker) player.

One foursome, however, which included this reporter, was made up of three D players and a G (awful) which was me.

My first setback was the 8 a.m. start (even a shotgun usually won't wake me up that early). I can't remember the last time I saw the early side of noon on a Saturday. It must have been sometime in cross country season.

The Fearless Foursome included Lake Mary boys track coach Mark McGee, girls track coach Mike Gibson and weightlifting coach Bill McDaniel. We played the "scramble" format which means you take the best shot of the four and hit from there. In our case, scramble meant first locating our ball among the shrubbery and then deciding which was the best shot.

Of the four players, McDaniel hit the most straight shots off the tee, McGee sandwiched a few between his slices and hooks, Gibson hit a couple good ones and I hit one straight but it only went about 10 yards.

Gibson was probably the most unorthodox player in the foursome. He only used two clubs, a 5 iron and a putter. He used the 5 iron on any shot over 50 yards from the green and the putter for the rest. Gibby wasn't too successful using a putter out of the sand trap.

Putting was about the only thing at which I had any success. On a few holes, there were houses just off the fairway. My solution for not hitting those houses was to hit the ball not more than two feet off the ground.

Tee shots were my undoing. On one hole, I unloaded a good one, unfortunately, it went the wrong way, into somebody's back yard. Needless to say, I didn't look for that ball. Once I even managed to hit the tee without hitting the ball. I don't even think a pro could do that if he tried.

On the ninth hole, there was a closest to the pin contest. My shot was put on the green, by Bill Eisele, who was the director of the tournament, but didn't get close enough to win. McDaniel hit his shot about 200 yards. Unfortunately, the hole was only about 145 yards. McGee hooked his into a gutter and Gibson is still looking for his.

On one par 5 hole we figured we'd pick up some ground as McDaniel drove a pretty long one. Our second shot was just short of the green. "We can't miss a birdie now," McGee said. After four chips over the green and some bad putting, we took a seven on the par 5.

When the 18 holes were over, the foursome had recorded a score of 79, or nine over par.

Parker Joins Immunity List

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Former Pirate outfielder Dave Parker was one of several major league baseball players who appeared before a federal grand jury investigating drug trafficking in western Pennsylvania, a published report said today.

Parker, who signed with the Cincinnati Reds as a free agent before the 1984 season, openly discussed his testimony with several of his former teammates during a visit in March to the Pirates' spring training camp in Bradenton, Fla., the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said in today's edition.

However, Parker would not comment and referred all calls about the matter to Sam Reich, a Pittsburgh attorney. Parker reportedly appeared before the grand jury this spring.

At least 10 players have been granted immunity and testified before the grand jury, which is said to be preparing to hand up indictments soon. The group includes Rod Scurry of the Pirates, Lonnie Smith of the St. Louis Cardinals, Tim Lincecum of the Montreal Expos and ex-Pirate Dale Berra now with the New York Yankees.

With three D's and a G, that would convert to around 15 over for a team of A, B, C and D. There was a prize for last place, which we tied for — free golf lessons.

There were quite a few excellent players on hand Saturday and the winning score was around 13 under par. The key was to get one person who could drive, one who could hit approach shots, one who could chip and one who could putt. We had four who could drive (golf carts) pretty well.

Cook Of The Week

Minister's 'Right Hand Lady' Loves To Bake

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Life in the ministry means dedication, sacrifice and many rewarding experiences. It also means many moves to new places and meeting new people.

And so it was with Nina Messer of Sanford, our Cook of the Week. "I can't tell you all the places we've lived," says Nina. "We have moved around a lot."

The youngest of nine children, Nina was raised on a farm in Craigville, Va. "It was a working farm," Nina says, "with cows, horses and pigs, and my father raised wheat and corn. All my older brothers and sisters had grown up and left the farm while I was still young, so I really didn't get a chance to enjoy a large family. Being the youngest child, I guess I was a little spoiled."

Nina's love for cooking and baking developed after her marriage to Harrison Messer in 1933. Although he was in the insurance business for several years during the early part of their marriage, his interest soon turned to the ministry in 1941. Now retired, Rev. Messer is an associate pastor of the Church of God of Prophecy in Sanford. "Being a Pastor's wife has been a very enjoyable time in my life," says Nina. "I really miss it since he is retired. It's a busy life, and I love to stay busy."

Pastoring in several different churches in the state of Virginia, then in various churches in Florida, a 41-year career of service in the ministry conjures up some memorable life experiences for Nina. "Some things can really test your faith," says Nina. "A church we were sent to in Virginia had a congregation but no building to preach in and no parsonage. With only $75.00 in the building fund, my husband took $50.00 of it and entered it into a contract with the deacon of a soon-to-be-vacated Baptist Church. Meanwhile, he held services in the building of a volunteer fire department which was donated for our use. When we finally moved into the new church, five of the nine Sunday School rooms were converted to living quarters for us. The church really started to grow and now they have one of the nicest churches on the state if Virginia. We've been blessed through our ministry and have made many friends."

After raising five children, two boys and three girls, the Messers are enjoying the blessings of five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Even though the families are scattered between Florida and Virginia, "We all try to get together at least once a year," says Nina. "We're always together at Thanksgiving and Christmas time."

Nina says, "We have one son who is an engineer for Martin Marietta Co., and another son has a business restoring classic cars. One of our daughters owns and operates a hair-styling salon, another is a legal secretary, and a third is a 'domestic engineer'."

Nina's busy life as a minister's wife allows very little time for many outside interests, but her gardening and hand quilting are special to her. "I love the outdoors," says Nina, "and love to grow flowers in the garden." The Messers' ovely home is located in one of the most beautiful sections of Sanford and Nina's carefully landscaped yard has earned a "Garden of the Month" award from the Garden Club of Sanford Inc.

Quilting is a hobby that Nina enjoys doing and she has made some unusual coverings with interesting designs such as the maple leaf, a Dresden plate pattern, one with owls, and a fan design. These are often given as gifts but also give a decorative touch to the Messer home.

Church activities fill many pleasant hours for Nina who is presently a Sunday school teacher and a missionary leader. When Rev. Messer was actively pastoring, she was his "right hand lady."

"We enjoy home-style cooking," says Nina, "good wholesome foods, like fried chicken and cornbread. We also like barbecue, but have had to cut back also since my husband's recent open heart surgery has put him on a strict diet. But I love to make salads and that I do quite often."

Two of the favorites at church dinners are Nina's Strawberry Cake and the Hummingbird Cake. "Of course it may be a little hard to find all the hummingbirds you need to go into the cake," Nina laughs.

Listed below are Nina's favorite cake and salad recipes:

Research Promising, But Don't Start Aspirin Diet

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've read that many doctors recommend two aspirin a day (even if you don't have a headache or other pain) for your heart. Is this true?

DEAR READER — Aspirin, even in small doses, conspicuously affects blood clotting. One or two tablets a day will not, in most normal people, cause hemorrhage or bleeding tendency, however. It can reduce the formation of tiny clots within the body's blood vessels.

Many laypersons are surprised to learn that small clots occur in our bloodstreams every day. These clots are almost always dissolved by the body's anticoagulation system. But in patients with arteriosclerosis, the lining of the arteries is roughened and narrowed, and tiny clots readily adhere to this surface. Once in place, small clots either enlarge to block an artery or break off and get carried away to lodge in another, smaller artery. Strokes and heart attacks can occur if vital blood vessels supplying brain or cardiac muscles become plugged.

Because aspirin retards clot formation in arteries, many experts have concluded that the daily use of the drug may help prevent heart attacks and strokes in patients with arteriosclerosis. They're probably right, but the evidence so far is not convincing enough to support the recommendation that all people over a certain age be maintained on low-dose aspirin. There is a consensus, however, about the usefulness of aspirin in patients who have had transient ischemic attacks, temporary strokes with complete neurological recovery. Some cardiologists urge patients to take daily aspirin after heart attacks, in hopes the medicine may prevent another coronary occlusion.

Recent evidence suggests that the human body is far more sensitive to aspirin than scientists previously believed. The biochemical effects of one five-grain aspirin tablet may last several days. A few doctors believe that one baby aspirin every two days is probably a large enough dose to reduce clotting. DEAR DR. GOTT — My pediatrician has just told us that our 6-month-old daughter has a slight heart murmur. He assures us that this is quite common in newborns and that we shouldn't worry about it. But can this lead to serious heart problems later in life? Are there certain things we should watch for in her development? DEAR READER — Heart

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Even though South has 15 high-card points, they are of the worst quality — too many queens and jacks, and not an ace in sight. Nevertheless, when North invited game by jumping to three hearts, South accepted. West led the club ace and exited with a club to South's hand. Declarer then played the heart jack. East won the ace and returned a club. West trumped with the 10 and declarer had to shuck from dummy. He didn't want to let go a spade (the fourth spade might be a way of disposing of a diamond loser), and he didn't like throwing a diamond (the third diamond in dummy might be an annoying threat to West later).

He decided to do neither. He undertruffed in dummy. Defender West now had to lead something. A spade away from the king would give declarer the contract immediately. He tried the king of diamonds instead. Declarer won the ace, played a heart to his hand, and took the spade finesse. Now he returned to his hand with a diamond to the queen, and the parade of the remaining trumps began. On the last trump led by declarer, West had to either unguard the spade king or throw his last high diamond, making dummy's remaining nine a winner. None of this would have been possible if dummy had not undertruffed on the third club.

5 Fruit Soup For Summer

Fruit soups are fun. They are nourishing and healthful, filled with wonderful vitamins and fiber for the system, but they also look just great and taste even better. Children love them, invalids find them easy to digest and folks with picky appetites discover they're enjoyable. With a hot summer on the way and a lot of exciting things to do, make it a habit to whip up a batch to keep on hand, chilling it in the refrigerator. Add a simple sandwich for a superb lunch or let the soup dress up any dinner table.

Five Fruit Soup is a lalalalooza! Grapefruit and orange juice from Florida provide sparkling citrus flavor, while strawberries, banana and melon contribute variety and texture, and buttermilk adds its unique tartness. The melange blends into one delicious concoction that tastes and looks sensational.

Treasure Island Citrus Soup is festive and lively, combining pureed peaches with grapefruit juice. The mixture is thickened slightly with tapioca, heated briefly, and a touch of almond extract is stirred in for extra goodness. Once cooked, it is smoothed in a blender and chilled thoroughly.

With these examples to inspire you, try other fruit combinations using grapefruit juice to blend the flavors. Grapefruit juice enhances the quality of other fruits while adding its own tart-sweet sunshine taste to the dish. Have a supply available, already mixed in the refrigerator for creating something special for those times when fresh from a game of tennis or a stroll or gardening you need an immediate pick-up. Along with the refreshing coolness, its vitamin C will give you a lift.

TREASURE ISLAND CITRUS SOUP
 4 large, fresh peaches, peeled, pitted, chopped (about 2 cups)
 2 cups grapefruit juice from Florida
 1 cup water
 3 tablespoons sugar
 4 teaspoons quick-cooking tapioca
 1 cup bottled white grape juice
 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
 In medium saucepan combine peaches, grapefruit juice, water, sugar and tapioca; mix well. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, simmer, uncovered, 15 minutes, stir often. Stir in grape juice and almond extract. Chill.
 YIELD: 4 servings (about 6 cups).

Microwave Magic

Stir-Fry Beef And Veggies For Lite Meal

Have you noticed how our eating habits are changing? "Lite" is in more fruits and vegetables and less meats, more chicken and fish - less red meat and overall less sodium, fat and sugar. We are becoming more health conscious and more aware of our eating habits - our physical well being.

This time of the year is a good time to start eating "lite". Remember to eat in smaller quantities as well as eating foods that are lower in calories.

Micro-suggestions for "lite" food preparation:

1. Use skim milk, yogurt and margarine in place of sour cream and butter.
2. Use spices, herbs and wine in place of heavier sauces and salts.
3. Remove fat from poultry and meats.

Use a micro-cooking rack when cooking poultry and meats and do not use the drippings. Make "lite" healthy eating a part of your regular diet. Stir-fry techniques can be perfected in the microwave. A small amount of beef can be extended with vegetables. A "lite" meal.

Happy Foursome Undone By Thoughts Of Past

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago I found a wonderful man I'll call Joe. We are perfect for each other in every way. Joe introduced me to his best friend, "Jack," who is married to a girl I'll call Joyce. Well, Joe and I and Jack and Joyce became a regular foursome.

I sensed a definite closeness between Joyce and my Joe, so I half-kiddingly asked Joe if he had ever been to bed with Joyce. He said yes, but that was before he met me. Well, I just freaked out! I refused to socialize with Joyce, and I told her why.

Joe thinks I'm being childish and selfish, but I can't help it. Every time I look at Joyce I visualize her in bed with my Joe, and I can't handle it.

The foursome is broken up, and Jack doesn't know the real reason. Joyce told him that she and I had a falling-out. (He doesn't know what happened between Joe and Joyce before he married her.)

I realize that what went on between Joe and Joyce happened before he knew me, but I still resent the fact that she once shared the same kind of special relationship with my Joe that I now have.

Whose fault is this mess? It's not my fault that I can't look at a Joyce without wanting to cry. Is there a solution?

ANONYMOUS IN OHIO

DEAR ANONYMOUS: For openers, you shouldn't have asked Joe if he had ever been to bed with Joyce. (It's none of your business.) And Joe shouldn't have told you. You are childish and unfair to refuse to socialize with Joyce, thus breaking up the foursome.

The solution would be to take a more realistic and mature attitude about something that happened before you were even in the picture, then bury the hatchet. But not in Joyce's back.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for running the letter from "All Choked Up," complaining about people who practically bathe in cologne and perfume. I have a close friend who really needs to read that letter (I clipped it), but I don't know how to get the message to her without hurting her feelings. She may have read it, but most people never see themselves in your letters.

Dear Abby

I've been trying for a long time to think of a diplomatic way to tell her that her cologne is killing me! When we're in a restaurant, I try to sit on the other side of the table. When we talk, I try not to get too close, but when I'm riding in a car with her, I'm trapped. If I open the car window, she says, "The air conditioner is on." Then she rolls the window up!

I wish perfume counters sold bottles of "Fresh Air."

SUFFOCATED BY SCENTS

DEAR SUFFOCATED: What's wrong with the direct approach? No friend worth having would intentionally offend. It would be a kindness to tell her.

DEAR READERS: Have you been racking your brain about what to give your niece or nephew for graduation from high school — or college? Or maybe there's a Bar Mitzvah or confirmation coming up.

Do I have an idea for you! It's a brand-new book titled "The Great Thoughts" by George Seides (published by Ballantine Books).

This is a collection of thoughts, quotations and ideas that have determined the intellectual history of the world — short passages in the original words of the men and women who have conceived them. It covers more than 2,500 thinkers, from Abelard to Zola — from classical Greece to contemporary America — arranged alphabetically by author and indexed by subject matter.

"The Great Thoughts" is not only a great gift that will last a lifetime; it's a fine addition to your own library. It's only $12.95 in the United States and $17.50 in Canada, so be good to yourself, and buy two.

Award-Winning Teachers Won't Get Merit Bonuses

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Award-winning teachers who thought they had a good shot at being among the Florida teachers deemed good enough for bonuses weren't on the list, and that's caused some raised eyebrows.

Malcolm Thomas, the 1984 Teacher of the Year in Escambia County, and Sarah Armstrong, Escambia County Council of Teachers of English's 1985 English Teacher of the year, were among 434 teachers from the county turned down for state merit pay bonuses.

The list also did not include any teachers from Jacksonville's Terry Parker High — the only Florida school given a Presidential Award for academic excellence.

The list was based on tests and evaluations by high school principals. But Roger Mott, the Escambia district's assistant superintendent for personnel services, says there are "hidden weighing factors computed by the state that no one knows about."

He says that's causing the surprises.

Man Gets Prison Term For Obstructing Officer

A Casselberry man who pleaded guilty to obstructing an officer has been sentenced to 2½ years in prison but was given credit for 227 days already served.

Timothy A. Summerlin, 24, of 118 Northmoor Drive, was sentenced by Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. who also ordered Summerlin to pay $400 to the Public Defender's Office.

Summerlin was arrested after police responded to a domestic disturbance Feb. 4, 1984 at his home. He and a 17-year-old boy had been fighting and the boy was unconscious when rescue workers arrived. The boy apparently had been choked. He was revived but when officers tried to arrest Summerlin, he struggled and kicked at them, records show.

Summerlin pleaded guilty to the charge. In other circuit court action: —Willie Eddie Ports, 28, of #84

Seminole Gardens, Sanford, arrested July 6 in connection with a June 12 robbery, was sentenced to 9 months in the county jail to be followed by 5 years probation. Mize also ordered Ports to pay the Public Defender's Office $500.

—Wesley James Hotaling Jr., 20, of 4859 Publix Lane, Oviedo, was sentenced to 2 years probation for carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested Sept. 25 after he fought with an Orlando man and kicked in some drywall at a building site in Casselberry. He was also ordered by Mize to pay a $500 fine.

—Garrison Adrian Gould, 22, of Orlando, arrested Nov. 17 on a charge of possession of cocaine. He was sentenced by Mize to 3 years probation, fined $250 and ordered to complete 240 hours of community service.

—Richard Wemels Vaas, 44, of Cemetery Road, Geneva, was sentenced by Mize to 3 years

Bars, Employers Exempted From Anti-Smoking Measure

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House has tentatively agreed to a compromise version of the proposed Clean Indoor Air Act. The Senate Governmental Operations Committee voted 8-0 for its own compromise on the smoking bill (SB 204) after adopting amendments that made it similar to the House measure.

The key committee change was an amendment by Sen. Joe Gersten, D-Miami, excluding airport terminals from the prohibition.

Tuesday's House compromise retains a provision that would require the owners of restaurants seating more than 50 patrons to quarantine smokers, but exempts bar owners. Employers would no longer be required to ensure a smoke-free work environment. Instead, they would be required to set a "reasonable" policy regarding smoking and non-smoking areas.

The bill (CS-HB 281 in the House) elicits strong support from doctors and from others who fear the effects of "second-hand" tobacco smoke — which studies suggest is much more dangerous than the filtered fumes smokers inhale.

But opponents, including the tobacco lobby and some bar and restaurant owners, argued the bill would interfere with private property rights and tied up the measure in a floor fight Monday.

Rep. Sam Bell, D-Ormond Beach, retreated to confer with the bill's opponents — whom he said represented "the forces of evil." Their compromise will face a final vote this week.

Environmentalists: Growth Bill Gives Developers 'Everything'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A leading environmentalist has promised to ask Gov. Bob Graham for a veto if necessary to prevent a House comprehensive growth management bill from becoming law.

"It's a very weak bill from our point of view," said Charles Lee of the Audubon Society. "They have given the developers everything on their wish list without any commensurate environmental protection."

The bill's House sponsor said he was only "85 percent happy" with the version of the bill (CS-HB 287) that passed the House Tuesday on a 109-9 vote.

But Rep. Jon Mills, D-Gainesville, called the measure the strongest development control bill to pass the House in 15 years and predicted it would grow stronger during negotiations with the Senate.

Save for a few mostly technical amendments, the version passed Tuesday was identical to the one the Appropriations committee approved last week. The Senate is working on a similar growth management package — one that treats as three separate bills the main areas of the House version.

Both versions place primary responsibility for growth management at the local government level, but give state agencies more oversight power. A local government that fails to meet state planning guidelines would risk the loss of state revenue sharing money — so long as that money has not been pledged to back bonds.

Highlights of the bill pertain to: — Developments of Regional Impact — large scale developments that affect more than one county or city and which cannot proceed without the approval of state planners.

The bill seeks to streamline the DRI process to make it more palatable to developers — and to discourage them from evading the process by slightly down-scaling their projects.

— Coastal construction. The bill would sharply limit building permits on undeveloped shorelines and beaches, but would allow some exceptions.

— Local government planning. Critics have charged that local officials lack the will to resist high-rolling developers, yet local governments are the primary forum for growth management.

The bill would require local governments to submit comprehensive plans for state review or risk losing state money.

The bill would give citizens authority to challenge local plans in court — as long as they would be personally affected by a proposed development to a degree greater than the affect upon the community at large.

Al Fresco Dining

Italian Mood Reflected In Picnic Buffet

If you ask, "What is the Italian look?" chances are the reply will center around words like distinct, clean, with lush, vibrant colors.

You can say the same about the contemporary Italian approach to food. Always appetizing with lively flavors, there's definitely an aura of sophistication.

This antipasto buffet borrows heavily from the Italian in style and substance but it relies totally on the wonderfully wide selection of foods easily available in supermarkets and delis all across the nation.

As delis spring up in every town and sometimes it seems, every neighborhood, it's time to sample and become familiar with the wide selection of sausages and cured and smoked meats. The traditions of their names and recipes are as old as time but these meats are now the result of modern U.S. technology and processing. Have a chat with the staff of the local deli to select the meats or find alternatives. All these deli meats are ready-to-eat with great convenience for today's living on-the-go lifestyle.

A typical Antipasto Platter contains Genoa salami (a dry sausage usually made with coarsely chopped pork), Capicola (mildly cured, air-dried boneless pork shoulder butt or ham that can be mildly or potently seasoned with ground sweet or red hot pepper,) and prosciutto (specially dry-cured, pressed ham sliced paper thin.) These are all Italian by tradition but you can also substitute other hard salami, mortadella, pepperoni or thinly sliced ham.

From California come the tangy, sweet, plump grapes that lend fresh drama to any table setting — picnic al fresco or indoors. They're included in the condiment, Spiced Pickles Grapes, a tart and spicy contrast to the other marinated vegetables offered. California vineyards provide crisp fresh grapes from May into the new year.

Thirteen varieties of California grapes are marketed each in their season throughout the year. Green, red and blue/black, seeded and seedless grapes are marvelous as snacks for fresh out-of-hand eating or inclusion in recipes.

What would a picnic be without olives? California's bounty also contributes the shiny black ripe olives that add flavor and interest in the Antipasto Platter in the recipe for Marinated Olives and Cheese and in the savory Olive Risotto Salad.

California ripe olives are lower in calories than most people think — just 6 calories in each large pitted olive — so you can enjoy them to the fullest. Use them freely in snacks and appetizers, salads, sandwiches and entrees.

The perfect liquid refreshment to accompany this picnic is iced tea or Vno Te for the Italian touch. Cooling and thirst-quenching, iced tea is a clear and light refreshment with almost no calories.

The beauty and style of the al fresco spread allows picnickers to nibble at their leisure, ensuring a relaxing and appetizing afternoon, a worthy accomplishment in a fast-paced world. Just remember if you're away from home, keep the cold foods cold.

BASIC ANTI PASTO MARINADE

¾ cup olive oil
½ cup fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons each white wine vinegar and water
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 clove garlic, crushed
¼ teaspoon each sugar and salt

Combine oil, lemon juice, vinegar, water, parsley, garlic, sugar, salt and pepper; mix well. Makes about 1½ cups.

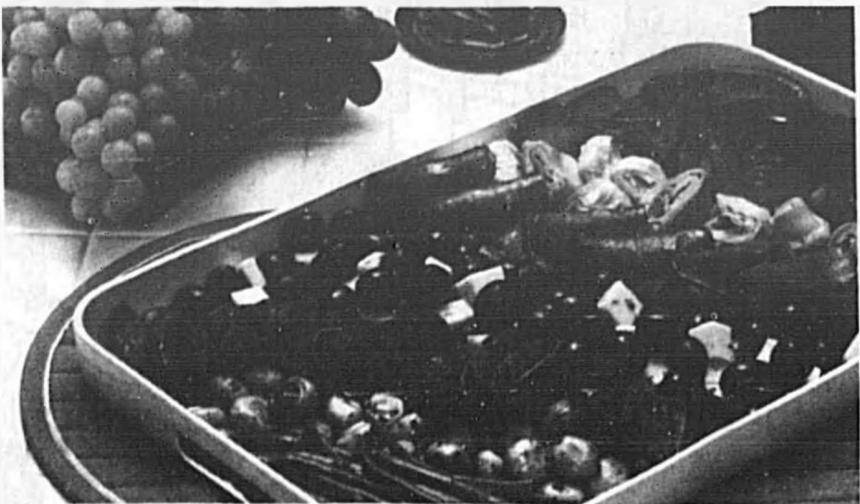

•Marinated Green Beans: To ¼ cup Basic Antipasto Marinade, add ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon dill weed; mix well. Pour over 1½ to 2 cups drained, cooked whole green beans. Marinate at least 1 hour; drain and arrange on Antipasto Platter. Makes 1½ to 2 cups.

•Marinated Sweet Peppers: To ¼ cup Basic Antipasto Marinade, add ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon crushed basil. Pour over 1 cup vertically sliced red, green or yellow peppers. Marinate at least 1 hour; drain and arrange on Antipasto Platter. Makes 1 cup.

•Marinated Mushrooms: Combine ¼ cup Basic Antipasto Marinade and ½ teaspoon crushed oregano; mix well. Pour over 1½ to 2 cups mushrooms. Marinate several hours or overnight; drain and arrange on

Barbecued Alaska Salmon Perfect Entree Choice For An Elegant Grilled Brunch

In the past few years, brunch has become one of the most popular — and enjoyable — times for entertaining friends. Now that the days are longer and the weather is warmer, why not move your next brunch or mid-day meal outdoors, near the barbecue grill?

Foods cooked over sizzling charcoal briquets have that smoky, rich flavor that everyone loves. Best of all, barbecuing a meal on the grill is easy, quick and fun. There's no fussing with the pots and pans and no hot kitchens from long hours of oven-baking. A barbecued brunch combines the fun of being outdoors with that unbeatable flavor of charcoal grilled foods.

Alaska salmon is the perfect entree choice for elegant grilled brunches — nutritious and wonderfully delicious. As the salmon cooks to juicy perfection, its naturally delicate flavors are enriched with the robust, smoky essence of the charcoal —

ORIENTAL SALMON KABOBS

- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup oil
- 2 tablespoons each minced green onion and sugar
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons sesame seeds
- 1 pound salmon, thawed if necessary and cut into chunks
- 1 small onion, quartered
- 1 1/2 to 2 cups broccoli flowerets
- 8 to 10 medium mushrooms
- Combine soy sauce, oil, green onion, sugar, garlic and sesame seeds, mix well. Marinate salmon 30 minutes. Separate onion layers. Alternate onion, salmon, broccoli, and mushrooms on each of 4 or 5 long-handled skewers. Brush with marinade. Place on cooking grid of covered cooker over medium-hot charcoal briquets 10 to 12 minutes; turn and baste every 2 or 3 minutes. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

TANGY MARINATED VEGETABLE KABOBS

- 2 1/2 cups diagonally sliced zucchini
- 1 1/2 cups diagonally slice yellow squash
- 1 red pepper, cut into 1 inch pieces
- 1 can (8 ounces) artichoke hearts, drained
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- Place vegetables in large shallow baking dish. Combine oil, lemon juice, garlic, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour over vegetables and marinate 1 hour, tossing frequently. Skewer vegetables on long wooden-handled skewers. Place on cooking grid of covered cooker over medium-hot charcoal briquets, grill 5 to 7 minutes, turning and basting with marinade. Makes 6 servings.

PEAR SALSA SALAD

- 1 can (29 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
- 1 medium avocado, sliced
- Lettuce
- Salsa Dressing
- Drain pears; reserve 1 tablespoon liquid for Salsa Dressing. Arrange pear halves and avocado on lettuce-lined platter. Spoon Salsa Dressing over pears and avocado.
- Salsa Dressing: Combine 1 cup chopped tomato, 1/4 cup thinly sliced mild green chilies*, 2 tablespoons minced green onion, 1 tablespoon each reserved pear liquid, oil and lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon crushed oregano and 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt; mix well. Let stand at least 1 hour to blend flavors. Makes about 1 cup.
- *One-fourth cup canned, diced green chilies can be substituted. Makes 6 servings.

BARBECUED ALASKA SALMON

- 1/4 cup each olive oil, butter or margarine and lemon or lime juice
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon each salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and thyme or tarragon, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 6 salmon steaks (6 to 8 ounces each), thawed if necessary
- Combine all ingredients except salmon steaks; mix well. Brush both sides of each steak. Place on cooking grid and grill over medium-hot charcoal briquets allowing 10 minutes per inch of thickness of salmon. Brush fish frequently with sauce, turning once halfway through cooking time. Brush steaks thoroughly before removing from cooking grid. Makes 6 servings.

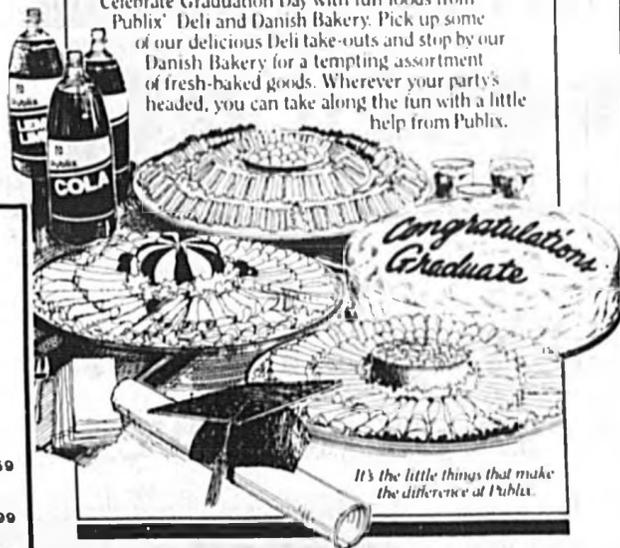

GRILLED POTATOES ROQUEFORT

- 6 baking potatoes
- 6 slices bacon
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1/2 cup crumbled Roquefort cheese
- Pierce potatoes with fork. Place potatoes on cooking grid of covered cooker over medium-hot charcoal briquets. Close grill cover and cook 60 minutes or until done. Move potatoes to outside edge of cooking grid or on to warming rack. Cook bacon in a skillet over charcoal briquets until crisp. Remove bacon from skillet and crumble. Add onion slices to bacon fat in skillet. Cook until golden brown. Split potatoes open. Spoon onions onto steaming potatoes. Sprinkle with crumbled bacon and top with cheese. Close grill cover and cook potatoes just until cheese melts. Makes 6 servings.

Pork roast goes to a picnic.

Picnic Season's Arrived

Memorial Day weekend beckons us out of doors. Whether you pack the family in the car to open a summer house or just invite everyone to an afternoon of fun and games on the patio, the weekend marks the start of the picnic season for most of the country.

Celebrate in grand style with a "Pack A Picnic" Pork Roast. Party fare for eight to ten health appetites, a pork butt is gently simmered in grapefruit juice till tender, then glazed and baked for thirty minutes. The meat — with glaze and pan juices — is easily transported to the picnic site to take stage center for a feast of flavor. Served as a conventional roast augmented with potato salad and coleslaw, it is guaranteed to please. Teen-agers may prefer it on hard rolls for a juicy, mouth-watering sandwich.

"PACK A PICNIC" PORK BUTT ROAST

1 smoked pork butt, 2 1/2 to 3 pounds
 1 large onion, sliced
 1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated grapefruit juice from Florida, thawed
 Water
 2 tablespoons catsup
 2 tablespoons prepared Dijon-style mustard
 2 tablespoons brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
 Dash hot pepper sauce
 Place pork butt and onion in large saucepot. Add grapefruit concentrate and enough water to cover. Bring to a boil. Simmer over medium heat 25 minutes per pound. Remove pork to a shallow baking pan. Add 3/4 cup of the cooking liquid. In small bowl combine 1/4 cup cooking liquid, catsup, mustard, brown sugar, allspice and pepper sauce. Brush over pork butt. Roast in a 350° F. oven 30 minutes. Turn meat and brush often with glaze. Remove meat to serving platter. Serve pan liquids with meat. If desired, garnish with grapefruit sections.

 YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

GRAPEFRUIT PICNIC COOLER

1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated grapefruit juice from Florida, reconstituted
 3 cups canned peach nectar
 1 tablespoon honey
 In large pitcher combine grapefruit juice, peach nectar and honey; mix well. Serve over ice.
 YIELD: About 7 cups.

Fresh picked... but not picked over.

We keep our produce under wraps, but not the reason why. We begin by selecting fruits and vegetables at their peak of freshness. Then, the best of these are carefully wrapped to protect them all the way to your table. So when you're picking produce, pick Publix-wrapped. It's fresh picked... but not picked over.

Broccoli Loaf Supreme is as delicious as it looks.

Broccoli Loaf Brings Bonus To The Table

Broccoli is a seasonal, low-calorie vegetable that can be served as a main dish when baked in a loaf. The loaf uses a custard base with seasonings and cheese. Its fresh green color is then complemented by a creamy golden cheese sauce and circles of hard-cooked egg.

Broccoli Loaf Supreme brings a bonus in good nutrition.

Broccoli, milk and cheese are all good sources of dietary calcium, a mineral often lacking in adult diets. Broccoli is an excellent source of vitamins A and C, too, and a good source of iron, phosphorus and some of the B vitamins. This entree includes eggs, milk and cheese for protein. The milk and cheese also provide riboflavin and some vitamin A and thiamin.

Plum Cobbler is a good desert to serve with this entree because of its contrast in color, flavor and texture. Its biscuit topping provides the grain component for this well-balanced meal. Bake the cobbler first; then lower the oven temperature to bake the loaf. At serving time, you can top the warm cobbler with vanilla ice cream.

BROCCOLI LOAF SUPREME

Loaf:
 3 tablespoons butter
 3/4 cup chopped onion
 4 eggs, slightly beaten
 2 cup milk
 2 teaspoons dry mustard
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen broccoli, thawed and well drained
 1/2 cup dry seasoned bread crumbs

1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced

Sauce:
 2 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 350° F. For loaf, saute onion in butter until tender, about 3 minutes; set aside. Combine eggs, milk, mustard, salt, garlic powder and pepper in large bowl. Stir in broccoli, bread crumbs, cheese and onion. Spoon mixture into well-buttered 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Place loaf pan in shallow baking pan on oven rack; pour 2 inches hot water into the larger pan. Bake until knife inserted near center comes out clean, about 1 hour. Remove loaf pan from hot water; let stand 10 minutes. Unmold onto serving platter. Meanwhile, prepare sauce by melting butter in small saucepan. Stir in flour and salt until smooth. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk and Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add cheese; stir until melted. To serve, garnish top of loaf with sliced egg. Spoon sauce over loaf.

PLUM COBBLER

Fruit Sauce:
 1 can (1 lb., 14 oz.) plums
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tablespoons quick tapioca
 1 tablespoon butter

Biscuit Topping:
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 cup butter
 1 cup milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 Vanilla ice cream, if desired

Preheat oven to 425° F. For fruit sauce, drain plums, reserve syrup. Remove pits from plums and cut plums into quarters. Combine fruit, syrup, sugar and tapioca in a medium-sized saucepan. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 5 minutes. Stir in 1 tablespoon butter; set aside. For biscuit topping, combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and cinnamon in mixing bowl. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in milk and vanilla just until all ingredients are combined. Place fruit sauce in bottom of an 8-inch square baking dish. Drop biscuit topping by tablespoonfuls onto fruit. Bake 30 minutes or until biscuits are done. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.
