Stray police bullet hits man

SANFORD — A funeral home worker working behind a police firing range, burying a body, was slightly wounded by a stray bullet from the range at Seminole Community College.

Chris D. Neal, 27, of Sanford, told Seminole County sheriff's deputies he was working in the indigent cemetery when a bullet struck his right leg at about 1 p.m. Thursday. Casselberry police practicing shooting at the range said they did not know anyone was in the graveyard.

Deputies reported that Neal's leg was bruised and he did not need medical treatment. Neal said he told someone at the range that he was going to be in the cemetery before he started work.

Two accused of fondling trooper

LONGWOOD — A Florida Highway Patrol trooper working undercover at the eastbound Interstate 4 rest area, rural Longwood, reported arresting two men he accused of touching his groin.

Arrested in separate incidents on a charge of committing a lewd and lascivious act were: Leland John Kook, 46, of St. Augustine; and Edmond Edward Blanton, 37, of 383 Clermont Drive, Lake Mary. The arrests were made around midnight Thursday and both suspects discussed sex with the trooper, the FHP reported.

Kook was also charged with battery, after allegedly touching the trooper and flicking his tongue at him.

Man arrested for selling stolen rings

SANFORD — A man accused of stealing two rings from a rural Casselberry jewelry shop and selling them in Seminole and Orange counties has been charged with dealing in stolen property.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies arrested Mario Joseph Capri, 34, of 1365 San Diego Court, Casselberry, at the Seminole County jail at about 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

He is accused of taking the rings from a counter at Jewelry Etc., Willa Springs Plaza, Red Bug Lake Road, in October, and then pawned them. The rings have a combined value of $2,200.

Sanford police who questioned Capri in an unrelated forgery case referred him to deputies as a suspect in the theft, a sheriff's report said. Bond is $1,000.

Man arrested for forgery

SANFORD — Sanford police report charging a man with forgery and say he is also a suspect in a similar Longwood police case, with more charges pending.

Travies Everett Boutwell, 18, of 1975 Blue Fish Place, Geneva, was arrested on two counts each of uttering a forged instrument and grand theft at 3:22 p.m. Thursday at the Sanford police station.

Police allege he cashed a $373 check and a $900 check illegally drawn on the account of George Harrison. The transactions occurred Oct. 13 and 14 at First Federal of Seminole, 312 W. First St., Sanford. Police said tellers at the bank recognized Boutwell. His bond is $1,000.

Man arrested for cocaine possession

SANFORD — A man who was confronted and searched by Sanford police in an area known for drug deals was charged with possession of cocaine after police said they found the narcotic in his possession.

Ferrnan James Williams, 18, of Lincoln Court, Sanford, was arrested at 9:56 p.m. Thursday on Fifth Street at Avacado Avenue. Bond is $2,000.

Several arrested on DUI charges

SANFORD — The following persons face a charge of driving under the influence in Seminole County.

● Oliver L. Lee, 60, of DeLand, was arrested at 9:22 p.m. Thursday after his car failed to stop at a stop sign on Persimmon Avenue at Eighth Street, Sanford. He was also charged with running a stop sign and driving with a suspended license.

● Robert Lee Johnson, 34, of 200 Mary Drive, Sanford, Thursday on State Road 434, Altamonte Springs, after his swerving car almost collided with several other vehicles.

● Edward Allen Sullivan, 36, 461 Spanish Trace Drive, Altamonte Springs, at 3:31 a.m. today after his car ran a red light at Douglas Avenue and State Road 436, Altamonte Springs. Police report his car stopped in the intersection and Sullivan fell asleep at the wheel at that location.

● Anthony David Edwards, 31, of Orlando, at 2:26 a.m. today after he was seen driving erratically on State Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

Little hope left for any survivors of tanker fire

United Press International

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia — Rescuers held out little hope today for 27 crew members missing from a British-owned oil tanker that broke in two, burned and sank in the frigid North Atlantic.

Capt. Mort MacDonnell of the Halifax rescue coordination center said a Canadian air force plane would continue the search today but there was little hope any of the crew members could have survived.

"Both sections of the tanker have sunk," MacDonnell said early today. "Both lifeboats were found and no one was spotted."

The 65,000-ton Odyssey broke in two late Wednesday while being battered with 25-foot waves and more than 50 mph winds in the North Atlantic 700 miles northeast of St. John's, Newfoundland. The sinking tanker and its cargo of oil caught fire and burned for several hours Thursday.

"The heat was so intense that the Russian vessel (which assisted in rescue efforts) couldn't get closer than about a mile away," MacDonnell said. "It is highly unlikely that anyone would have gotten off the vessel. It's really doubtful."

After searching through the day Thursday for the 15 Greek and 12 Honduran crew members, two Canadian Forces aircraft returned to base Thursday night. One of the planes was returning today.

"Survival out there is not good," Paul Kendrick of the Canadian coast guard said Thursday. "The water is very frigid. In the water, with no survival suits on, you probably would perish in a matter of hours at most."

The Soviet vessel Passat, which had arrived near the scene of the mishap earlier, remained in the area to conduct visual and radar searches through the night. A second vessel, the bulk carrier Maritime Wisdom, was en route to the scene and expected today.

Searchers spotted the Odyssey's two lifeboats Thursday, but said they were empty.

Iacocca, Jackson tie in election write-ins

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Chrysler board chairman Lee Iacocca emerged in a neck and neck tie with Democratic presidential candidate Jesse Jackson as recipients of the most write-in presidential votes cast in Seminole County Tuesday.

Both men received 11 votes, more than five times the number of votes received by the only qualified write-in presidential candidate, David E. Duke and his running-mate, Floyd C. Parker. Duke and Parker received only two votes. All other write-in names were disqualified.

In all, 179 presidential preferences were written into the Seminole County ballots, said Supervisor of Elections Sandra Goard. Although the write-ins may reflect serious preferences, whimsy or even anger, Goard said the write-ins slow the ballot-counting process. She said the 291,178 Seminole County ballot cards were viewed on both sides at least once to find write-ins.

Many of the write-ins reflect disagreement with the two major party's match-ups of the Republicans' George Bush/Dan Quayle and the Democrats' Michael Dukakis/Lloyd Bentsen. Bush and Bentsen were paired on one write-in and Bentsen received a total of seven write-in votes for president. Bentsen was also paired as Jesse Jackson's running-mate in one ballot.

Several unsuccessful presidential primary candidates were also write-ins. Rep. Jack Kemp and Sen. Robert Dole each received nine votes. Gary Hart received six votes and Sen. Al

Gore received two.

Several non-announced candidates also received votes of presidential confidence. Sen. Bob Graham of Florida received four votes. Sen. Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts received one vote and former U.S. Ambassador Jean Kirkpatrick received two votes.

Former presidential candidate Barry Goldwater still has one supporter writing in his name in Seminole County as well as one supporter for Richard Nixon.

Ronald Reagan had two votes of people desiring to keep him on as president longer than the legally-allowed eight years, one person preferred the Reagan/Bush team over a Bush presidency.

Iran-contra centerpiece Oliver North received two votes. On the lighter side, six people wrote in either "None of the above," "No name," or "I'd like another choice."

In the battle of presidential comedians, funnyman Sam Kinison emerged over veteran presidential candidate Pat Paulson, 2-1. Mickey Mouse received no votes for president this year and received only one vote for secretary of state. Mickey did receive two votes for Altamonte Springs commission District 3, where another person wrote in "Anybody else."

In the battle of local broadcast media personalities, Larry D. of WCAT-FM (Y106) and Joe Nasty of WJMH-FM (102 JAMZ) were written in respectively as president and vice president choices. Steve Rondinaro and Andrea Coudriet, evening anchors of WESH-TV, Channel 2, also received a vote for presidential candidate and running-mate.

Boy Scouts to gather food for Thanksgiving

By SUSAN LOREN
Herald staff writer

That Boy Scout who may appear at your door on Saturday will be scouting for Thanksgiving food for the needy.

Local Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Varsity Scouts and Explorers going door to door will hand out plastic food bags, to be filled by the recipients. They will return for the full bags the following Saturday, Nov. 19.

Members of the Central Florida Council of Scouts will join millions of other scouts nationwide to carry out their "National Good Turn" program.

Locally the scouts hope this national program will net 50 tons of canned goods and non-perishable food.

Residents who fill the bags should place them outside their front doors for pickup Nov. 19. The items will go to the Olive Garden Italian Restaurants, and various Chambers of Commerce and United Way Service Centers where they will be sorted and given to food banks in Seminole, Orange, Osceola, Brevard, Lake, Volusia and Flagler Counties.

"Hunger is a problem we can do something about by working together," Boy Scout Council Director Ron Carroll said. "It is an example of Scouting's long-standing commitment to community service. That commitment dates back to the first national Good Turn, a 1912 program promoting a safe and sane Fourth of July."

The National Guard in all 50 states will assist the Boy Scouts of America in this largest appeal for food in U.S. History.

Poland marks 70th independence day

WARSAW, Poland — In another sign of glasnost, or openness, the government mounted an unprecedented publicity campaign in preparation for today's 70th anniversary of Polish independence, an event that has been all but ignored for the past 40 years.

But some opposition groups threatened to use the anniversary to demonstrate dissatisfaction with the government's economic and political policies.

The official communist-controlled media has been running stories all week about the architect of Polish freedom, Marshal Jozef Pilsudski, a commander whose name was once banned because of his victorious battles against the Soviet Union.

Poland emerged after World War I as a free country under Pilsudski's leadership after 123 years of partition among Russia, Prussia and Austria.

On Nov. 11, 1918, it proclaimed independence which lasted until the first shots of World War II, when Nazi Germany invaded its eastern neighbor.

Sri Lanka strike still effective

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka — Officials sought today to restore some services cut by walkouts ordered by Sinhalese extremists, but only minor progress was apparent as the radicals directed people to remain at home.

There were no new reports of political unrest. On Thursday, at least 16 people died when security forces in three towns in southern Sri Lanka fired on anti-government protesters by supporters of the Peoples Liberation Front, which is known by its Sinhalese acronym JVP.

The demonstrations, held in violation of a ban, coincided with a nationwide "curfew" called by the JVP in its drive to destabilize the government and force President Junius Jayewardene to dissolve Parliament, appoint an interim administration pending new elections and resign.

Two people were reportedly assassinated Thursday by the group, whose estimated 5,000 members operate in secret cells and belong to the island's ethnic Buddhist Sinhalese majority.

Latest round of Persian Gulf talks closes

GENEVA — Iran and Iraq held a final meeting in their third round of U.N.-mediated Persian Gulf peace talks Friday without any substantive progress reported during the 12-day session.

U.N. mediator Jan Eliasson of Sweden chaired a last plenary meeting between full delegations to discuss a date for the fourth round of talks.

Eliasson found even minor procedural points difficult to settle and U.N. officials said dates being discussed ranged from late December to the middle of January.

Iranian and Iraqi foreign ministers, in separate discussions with the International Committee of the Red Cross, did agree this week to exchange somewhat more than 1,500 sick and wounded prisoners of war starting on Nov. 20.

Survey: Most Filipinos favor U.S. bases

MANILA, Philippines — Economists say a survey showing 74 percent of Filipinos favor the retention of U.S. military bases reflects the country's need for substantial foreign assistance to overcome its economic problems.

The results of the opinion poll, which was conducted in August by the Jesuit-run Ateneo University, were released Thursday.

The survey of 1,200 Filipinos of voting age represented a cross section of Philippine society, the Rev. Joaquin Bernas, the university's president, said in releasing its results.

In the poll, 74 percent of those surveyed want to retain the American military bases in the Philippines beyond 1991, when a bilateral treaty governing the facilities expires.

Eighteen percent of the poll participants wanted the removal at the "earliest time possible" of Clark Air Base and Subic Bay Naval station — the largest U.S. overseas military facilities. Six percent were undecided.

Kristallnacht speech ignites furor

United Press International

BONN, West Germany — Parliamentarians called for the resignation of the Bundestag president for a speech in which he described the appeal of Hitler's anti-Jewish message and recounted how the Nazi dictator restored national pride.

The parliamentary Council of Elders held an inconclusive late-night crisis meeting Thursday on the speech by Bundestag President Philipp Jenninger, 56, the only speaker at the nationally televised special session.

The council was to meet again today to discuss the scandal that tarnished the carefully planned national atonement for the Kristallnacht of Nov. 9-10, 1938.

when synagogues were burned and Jews rounded up by Adolf Hitler's stormtroopers.

The council cannot force Jenninger, who ranks second to federal President Richard von Weizsacker, to resign. He has to decide himself.

In a 26-page address Thursday commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Kristallnacht pogrom, the prelude to the Nazi slaughter of 6 million Jews in the Holocaust, Jenninger described Hitler's reign as fascinating.

He used such Nazi terminology as "Jewish subhumans" and triggered the walkout by some 50 deputies of the 519-member chamber. The 50 deputies called for Hitler to resign.

"Looked at from a distance and in knowledge of what happened after, it still offers a fascination that until then in history there was no parallel to Hitler's political triumph," Jenninger said.

"For the Germans ... everything must have seemed a wonder. And not only that: Mass joblessness was turned into full employment, massive misery was turned into prosperity for the broad masses. Instead of despair and hopelessness, optimism and self-confidence ruled."

Referring to Hitler, he asked: "Was it really not the choice of a prophecy, a fuhrer who is proffered to a people only once in a thousand years?"

"Did the Jews not assume a role that was inappropriate for them?" Jenninger asked the audience. "Did they not perhaps deserve to be put in their place?"

Despite the uproar by parliamentarians, Michael Furst, a senior Jewish leader, said he did not believe Jenninger should be forced out. Furst told a television talk show he believed Jenninger had given a clear appraisal of historical events in Germany 50 years ago.

Furst said Jenninger used unfortunate phrases but that he believed the parliamentary president had honestly tried to understand the past.

Nazi circles dubbed it Kristallnacht — Crystal Night or Night of Broken Glass — for the shards of glass filling the streets.

Aftershocks hit devastated Chinese province

United Press International

BEIJING — Persistent aftershocks measuring up to 6.9 on the Richter scale caused more injuries and hampered relief efforts five days after a major earthquake left 1,000 people dead and 200,000 homeless in southwestern China, official reports said today.

A senior government official warned that the aftershocks could continue for at least two months as thousands of relief workers struggle to aid the hundreds of thousands of quake victims.

More than 1,000 people were reported killed in the mountainous area of southwest Yunnan Province, where the quake measuring 7.6 on the Richter scale, China's worst this decade, struck Sunday night.

The tremor rumbled through 15 counties near Lancang, a remote town near the Burmese border, and devastated three of them, cutting communications and roads and virtually wiping out one village at its center.

The Yunnan Province seismological bureau reported 190 aftershocks in the area since Sunday and said three registered over 6 on the Richter scale, including a strong tremor registering 6.9.

"The continuous aftershocks damaged more houses and injured more people in the already devastated areas, worsening the already chaotic situation for survivors and rescue workers," the official Xinhua news agency reported from Kunming.

In another indication of the disaster's scope, the Chinese Ministry of Civil Affairs informed the United Nations office in Beijing that 2,872 people were seriously injured and in need of medical treatment and that 200,000 people had been left homeless.

U.N. officials said the Chinese government, which does not formally request international aid, had informed them that appropriate assistance would include 250 tons of food, medical supplies and emergency shelter material.

Xinhua said relief efforts also were hampered by downed telephone lines and blocked highways.

More than 2,000 emergency workers, most of them Chinese soldiers, were struggling to reach victims cut off by roads made impassable by landslides. Chinese officials said more food and medicine were being dropped into the quake zone by airplane.

Hungary considering multi-party system

United Press International

BUDAPEST, Hungary — Parliament will consider legislation next month that could make Hungary the first nation in the East Bloc to have legal political parties and trade unions independent of the Communist Party.

Justice Minister Kalmán Kulcsar told reporters at a briefing Thursday the government submitted to the National Assembly a bill guaranteeing the right of association and one on freedom of assembly, the official news agency MTI said.

"If approved by Parliament, the law will imply the recognition of the multi-party system," Kulcsar said. "However, the bill on the right of association reflects the current political situation."

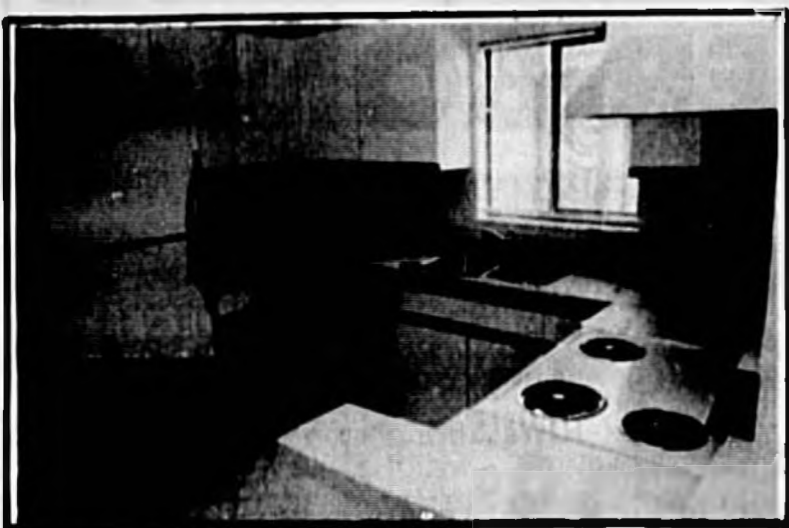

Hungary has one legal, communist party — the Hungarian Socialist Workers' Party. As in other communist systems, that party is deemed to have the "leading role" in the operation of the state, including all major matters of government and politics.

Anderson wins Governor's Cup

I've been trying to win this race since 1970, said Dick Anderson moments after driving into victory circle at the conclusion of the 24th Annual Florida Governor's Cup 200.

Cup rookie Lee Faulk of Crossville, Tennessee. Rounding out the top ten were Jeff Earnhardt, Wayne Anderson and Duke Southard.

Sanford driver Junior Simmons had his Ford Thunderbird flying around the half-mile super fast oval to finish a very creditable eleventh place among the forty late models to start the 200 lap event.

Adams, Nuggets bury Blazers

Portland found out the hard way that if you don't pick up Michael Adams up at midcourt, he can bury you under a mountain of three-point field goals.

Adams stretched his NBA record to 47 games with at least one three-point goal. The Nuggets never trailed and were pressed only late in the second quarter in dealing Portland its first loss of the season.

Portland, 2-1, got 32 points from Clyde Drexler and 19 from Terry Porter. Portland hit nine of its first 14 shots from the field in the second period and got as close as 49-48 with three minutes left in the period before Denver opened a 55-50 halftime lead.

Notre Dame turns down Gator Bowl

Athletic officials at Notre Dame have turned down the Gator Bowl's offer to stage a matchup between the No. 1 Fighting Irish and No. 4 West Virginia.

The scenario is that Notre Dame has indicated they are not coming to our bowl," said Charles Callaghan with the Mazda Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla.

West Virginia Athletic Director Fred Schaus was not available for comment Thursday.

The performances that earned Hershiser the Most Valuable Player of the NL playoffs and World Series, however, do not count toward Cy Young voting.

Finding a treatment for scleroderma

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have scleroderma. For about eight years the skin on my hands, wrists and forehead has lightened and become shiny. Now I'm having trouble digesting food. One doctor says the scleroderma has moved inside but no one offers any prognosis or treatment. Can you?

I am sending you a copy of my Health Report, "Medical Specialties." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure the mention the title.

DEAR READER: Scleroderma is marked by progressive degenerative changes in the skin, joints, intestinal tract, lungs, heart and kidneys. The disease is chronic, of unknown cause and untreatable. Therapy is directed toward relieving symptoms.

Scleroderma is four times more common in women than in men. It typically produces taut, shiny skin, but it commonly causes peptic disease, characterized by heartburn and disorders in the way the esophagus propels food to the stomach. In addition, lung scarring, heart irregularities and kidney failure frequently appear during the chronic stages of the disease.

When esophageal problems develop, patients are often helped by eating frequent small meals, using antacids and taking medicine that reduces the production of gastric acid.

The course of scleroderma is variable and unpredictable. Some patients experience only skin changes for many years. However, sooner or later, internal organs become affected; this requires special and individual treatment depending on which organs are involved.

Although most of the complications of scleroderma can be handled by physicians specializing in internal medicine, you and your doctor may feel more comfortable seeking advice from other specialists, such as rheumatologists, gastroenterologists and so forth, as the need arises. At the very least, you are entitled to a thorough description of your disease and treatment of your symptoms. Ask your doctor about this. For more informa-

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Here is a deal in which the traditional approach to playing this hand would seem to be in order. In four hearts, your only losers are the A-K of hearts and the club ace. So you draw trumps as quickly as possible. Unfortunately defender West is a step ahead of you. He grabs the first trump lead with his king and plays a second spade, the deuce, completing his high-low begun with the opening lead and confirming to his partner that he would like very much to ruff the third round of the suit. When you play a second heart, West takes the ace and leads a club to his partner's ace. A spade back lets West take the setting trick with the lowly deuce of hearts.

circumvent the well-laid plans of the defenders. After West had led the second spade, Root played A-K-Q of diamonds, throwing a club away. Then he played the last diamond from dummy. When East discarded a club, declarer threw his last club away. West won the trick, but now South was able to ruff when West tried to get East on lead with the club ace. There was no way for West to get his spade ruff, and declarer made his game.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. (C) 1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

HOROSCOPE

What the day will bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
November 12, 1988

Constructive changes will be made in the year ahead where your work or career is concerned. There is a possibility you may enter a new field that will offer exciting possibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't take it as a personal affront today if another isn't in complete accord with your ideas. It doesn't mean this individual dislikes you as a person. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker Instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try not to be impulsive in the management of your financial affairs today. If you get reckless, you might do something that will prove to be costly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan.

19) In order to operate at your best today, you will have to be free from interference by others. Avoid situations that have restrictions of this type.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You are not likely to work too well under pressure today, so don't leave important assignments until the last minute. Stay on schedule and avoid mental traffic jams.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Friends will find you an enjoyable companion today, but not necessarily a generous one. If you expect others to share with you, you must first share with them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There's a possibility today that you might prematurely tip your hand and derail something good which you should be keeping secret. Silence is golden.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't let an old grudge influence your thinking today if you have to deal with a person you've crossed swords with in the past. It's best to turn over a new leaf.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Sometimes we can get a better business deal from a stranger than we can from a friend. This could be true in your instance today, so shop around.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today if you seek advice from friends you might get conflicting opinions that will only confuse you. To be on the safe side, make your own judgments.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't make it uncomfortable for co-workers today by letting them know how greatly you are inconvenienced by doing what you have to do. Their jobs are not pushovers either.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Guard against tendencies towards being too possessive or demanding of those you love. Instead of getting your way, you will only arouse rebellious reactions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You must be very careful today to be certain you treat your companions equally. If you play favorites, you will be courting hurt feelings.

Expert Advice

If we need to get a job done, we must go to the right place. If we need assistance, we have to call the right person. If we seek information, we get to refer to the right source.

Mechanics provide us with car care. We go to the hardware store for the right nut, bolt or tool. We are benefited by the skills and knowledge of landscapers, bricklayers, contractors, carpenters and plumbers. We turn to the newspaper for direction. Dial 911 for help and obtain proper step by step instructions from manuals. You see, getting something accomplished often requires the expertise of a specialist to get the task done. So, what do we do when we need inspirational help, spiritual guidance, an answer to personal problems? Who can we turn to? Try your minister, pastor, priest or rabbi. Look 'em up. They're the best in the business. Been at it for some time. They are at your service. Make it a point to be at theirs.
