

Agnew Calls Youth Talks

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew yesterday summoned the President's Council on Youth Opportunity to a rare meeting amid signs that a summer unemployment problem of massive proportions is building in the nation's cities.

Government figures show the unemployment rate among Cabinet departments and the Office of Economic Opportunity, has met in general session only once in the past eight months.

But an administration spokesman denied the meeting, set for Thursday, was an emergency session. He said it was scheduled to bring the various domestic departments together for an estimate of employment commitments and to discuss summer recreational plans and needs.

Government figures show the unemployment rate among black teenagers has hit 45 per cent in Los Angeles and 40 per cent in Detroit. Nationwide, urban specialists are forecasting a 30 per cent unemployment rate among black youths this summer.

Agnew's call for Thursday's council meeting, the spokesman said, "is that we are approaching the summer and want to see before the end of the fiscal year what's being spent and where and what the targets and objectives are of the several agencies involved."

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said it was coincidental that the council was meeting on the same day that Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., plans to introduce a bill that would create 100,000 summer jobs. The Nixon administration has announced a $146 million program that would provide 328,000 summer jobs. A Labor Department spokesman said this would be augmented later with special contingency funds for the nation's 30 largest cities.

Schoolboy Held On Dope Charge

By BILL SCOTT
A 15-year-old South Seminole Junior High School student has been arrested by county authorities after several plastic bags of marijuana were found in his possession at the Casselberry school.

The youth, whose name cannot be divulged according to state juvenile law, is a resident of the plush Casa Loma subdivision off SR 436 in South Seminole.

He was apprehended by Deputy Ronnie Miller after county authorities received a "tip" from a school informant, that the youth had received a supply of narcotics for sale to other students.

Fred Kelley, county juvenile officer, said the student would be charged with possession of marijuana only, since he had failed to make a sale, having just received the supply in $5 and $10 bags from an unknown supplier.

In another report involving an attempted molestation of a Longwood Elementary School student by a man reportedly driving a brown station wagon, Longwood police report a third patrol car has been added to the areas near the school to protect school children from rape attempts by adults.

An 11-year-old girl was approached yesterday by a male adult while she waited at a bus stop at SR 427 and Wildmore Boulevard. The girl alerted the bus driver and authorities were called.

Joseph Kenneth Dean, 34-year-old Casselberry handyman, was indicted yesterday on a charge that he raped an 18-year-old Orlando girl March 3.

The man who was apprehended in Seminole County by authorities here has been released to Orange County prosecutors for trial.

Dean also has been identified by a 12-year-old girl from Longwood as the man who forced her into a car while she walked to school and raped her in a wooded area near Lake Mary.

In Blackburn Morals Trial 12-Year-Old Bares Sex Life

By MARION BETHEA
Testimony from the state's first witness in the morals case of Harlan Blackburn ran the scorching cross examination the witness admitted that the only reason for telling the truth was that "lies might get you in trouble." The defense used the credibility of the witness as the main line of questioning. Harlan asked the witness how many times she had sexual relations with Blackburn, to which the answer was twice on Jan. 12 between 10 p.m. and midnight. Reading from depositions given detectives, Harlan asked if oral copulation or "love play" took place and received a negative answer.

The witness has given a total of six depositions and admitted that she lied in the initial one and that it was incorrect (she used a four-letter exclamation). She said that the second deposition was partially correct but that she had lied in some parts of it.

... It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from this earth.

SCA Groups Report Activities $100,000 Boost Seen In Area Economy

The work of three of the county's six neighborhood improvement associations connected with Seminole County Action (SCA) highlighted last night's meeting of the organization at the Sanford Civic Center.

Assembly of several hundred persons heard reports from West Side Improvement, Midway-Canaan and South Seminole Committee for Progress, all three association groups involved with uplifting the poor areas of their communities.

Fred Mobley, spoke for the Midway-Canaan group, and told of the activities of his group, which included a cleanup drive, Head Start school and emergency food-medical service program, which is being readied for a funding grant.

Mobley told of his association's activities in getting the food stamp program approved for the county's poor. He said a county building was being repaired to use in conjunction with the program, and estimated the stamps would bring in an extra $100,000 to the county's economy. A children's playground is now being sought by the group, Mobley said.

Ruth Riggin, of the West Side Association, received a tumultuous reception after advising it was her intent to go back again and again to city and county agencies until something is done about the clay roads, polishing ponds, snakes and other problems that beset the Lincoln Heights area, where she lives.

She said her children had to jump into snake-filled ditches to keep from being hit by cars that speed 60 miles an hour along Grapeville Avenue. "They either have a choice of getting in the ditches with the snakes or getting hit by speeding cars," she said.

Mrs. Riggin said her group is planning a monthly garden club whereby the area residents would become more interested in cleaning up their yards. "We also plan to talk to the School Board over the Crooms High situation whereby, both Lyman and Seminole High Schools are undertaking double sessions rather than send some of their students to Crooms," she advised.

Phanie Franklin, secretary of the South Seminole group, reported on her efforts to open a community playground which is ready except for an insurance policy required by the County Commission before the center can open.

Mrs. Franklin said there is not enough police working the South Seminole area and for the reason it was nearly impossible to secure justice for everyone.

The woman thanked Nancy Bowers, of the League of Women Voters, for help in conducting a voter registration drive in the south county area.

Trial Is Delayed

The Florida Supreme Court has accepted a petition which will stay the trial of Orlando attorney Edward Kirkland for 15 days. The trial was scheduled to begin today in Seminole County courthouse.

Kirkland, charged with violations of morals laws, was granted the stay as a matter of law as a result of a denial of a petition by the Fourth District Court of Appeal May 21.

Upon the denial of a petition to the Court of Appeal the law grants this time for the party to take his appeal to the state's highest tribunal.

In the appeal the defense argued that Circuit Court Judge Thom Rumberger exceeded his jurisdiction when he gave witnesses from West Virginia only seven days in which to appear in the Seminole County Court to testify.

Lamp That Burneth

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

Ever since this nation was founded her men have been called upon to fight a common enemy and to sacrifice their lives for a common cause.

One does not ask a man to put his life on the line for some small thing. This common cause for which so many have shed their blood runs through the history of our nation like a bright ribbon through the fabric of its life. Simply expressed, the cause is freedom.

Our forefathers brought forth a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. They were willing to offer their lives to establish that freedom on this continent. They sought to live their lives independently of some European monarchy, to take their advantage of the glorious gifts God had given America, and to develop these gifts to the best advantage of all men.

In the same generation another war was fought to guarantee that this country's commerce could be carried on across the sea without the intervention of another nation with our ships or men. Again, the cause was freedom.

In the middle of the last century our country was divided on a matter of conscience. Men of good will on both sides of the issue sought to bring about a peaceful settlement. They understood it. The country was sundered by the strength of the convictions held by both sides. But in the end, we were brought back together again. One side had lost the war. Both sides had lost their young men. However, the nation was not once and for all times, cemented by the blood of their heroes.

In this century we have fought two major wars. One was supposed to be the "war to end all wars." The next was to make the world free for democracy. Since the second World War we have engaged in two further conflicts, both entered in to the world to guarantee to the people of other countries the sort of freedom which we are inclined to take for granted.

When we look back over the history of our wars this way, we see that Americans have always felt strongly that freedom was so valuable to ourselves and to the world that it had to be cherished very closely. If freedom for ourselves or any other people was threatened, we found it necessary to take up arms in the defense of that freedom. In the American mind, freedom and peace go hand in hand, and if freedom is threatened, then we are willing to take up arms to defend it.

On Memorial Day we honor those men of our past and present who have not seen today's world when their nation has called upon them to give of themselves totally. We honor the fact that freedom of all mankind is more than a phrase in a speech. We honor the brave men who gave the last full measure of devotion to consecrate this land of ours.

We should take Memorial Day as a time to honor those who have laid down their lives. But as they find their honor in the presence of God. So we need to not just remember a list of names, a loved one, a friend, but the cause for which they sacrificed themselves. We need to recite again the words of the Declaration of Independence: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness."

The prophet Isaiah said, "For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."

We might well paraphrase Isaiah and say, "For America's sake, and all that she stands for, and for my land's sake I will not hold my peace nor rest until the righteousness of peace and freedom go forth into all the world in brightness, and the hope thereof as a lamp that burneth."

Our honored dead have made freedom more than a word. We do enjoy the fruits of their sacrifices, cannot rest until freedom is more than a word, and peace more than a hope in all the world.

Pros Cons On Abortion Discussed

By LOUIS CASSELL
UPI Religion Writer

Liberalized abortion laws, already adopted in 13 states and under consideration in many others, raise difficult moral questions.

Proponents of abortion say restrictive laws are offensive to conscience because: 1) They deny a woman the right to decide what happens to her own body, and 2) They discriminate against poor people who cannot afford an illegal abortion or a trip to a state where abortions may be performed legally.

The supporters of less restrictive laws offer as an ancillary argument the estimate that 1 million criminal abortions take place in this country annually.

Many of them are performed by incompetent persons operating under unsanitary conditions, they say, with a resulting loss of about 8,000 lives.

Opponents of legalized abortion say the estimate of 1 million criminal abortions a year does not come from official health reports, but is merely a statistical projection based on a study made in the 1920's. They regard the figure as grossly exaggerated.

The principal argument of abortion opponents is that termination of a pregnancy involves destruction of a fetus which has a right to life.

Moral theologians and medical scientists hold a wide range of opinions as to the exact point at which a fetus becomes a human being.

The Roman Catholic Church teaches that human life, "ensoulment" begins at the moment of conception. It therefore regards termination of a pregnancy, even at a very early stage, as the murder of a defenseless human person.

Many Protestant theologians, who condemn abortion in the early months of pregnancy if there are sound medical reasons for it, take the view that true human life does not begin until the fetus "quickens"—about 12 weeks after conception.

Most Jewish scholars hold that a fetus is "mere fluid" until 40 days after conception, and does not become a "full person" until birth. However, rabbinic opinion leans heavily toward the view that the unborn fetus is at least "a Memorial Day: Time For Reappraisal!

Observance of Memorial Day tomorrow has in-built significance that far transcends the original purpose of the day's honoring of the fighting men of the United States.

Make no mistake about it: The basic values which have supported the deeds of American valor on battlefields in every part of the world are being challenged.

Memorial Day should be honored with needed and obvious actions. The wounded GIs from all wars now subjected to inadequate treatment in Veterans Administration facilities should be cared for properly and immediately by whatever governmental processes such red tape unavailing requires.

It is also a day when the economy is undergoing the travail of rebirth from a policy based on affluence to one allowing a recession to "cool off" inflation.

Remember This?

Until only recently, the more progressive a company or industry was in expanding its services the more it was applauded as a community builder and taxpayer.

A leading critic of the electric industry now claims that "Electric utilities created a power shortage by overselling their product through advertising."

The critic failed to mention the long delays of various regulatory agencies in granting approval of construction of needed new generating plants, nor did he mention the one inescapable problem that overrides all others — population growth.

And he failed to reconcile his charge of "overselling" by the utilities with the insistent pressure for rehabilitation of inner cities and the bringing of higher living standards to depressed areas everywhere.

Energy, of course, is a key factor in higher living standards. How else is an electric company to extend its services to those who need it if it does not build new plants and encourage the use of electricity through advertising?

It is not necessary to look far to find why there can be no relaxation in the continuing plans of power companies to expand their facilities. A major investor-owned electric company that serves Long Island, New York, has released some figures on population growth in its area that show what an electric utility is up against.

The total population of this company's service area is greater than the individual population of 24 states and is more than one per cent of the total U. S. population. As of January 1, 1970, it served an estimated population of 2,645,726.

Since 1960, portions of its service area have registered population growths in excess of 60 per cent. Apparently, some critics of the electric industry have forgotten that the first duty of a public utility is to provide service wherever and whenever needed.

Youth's Crises Button Pushed

Young people are slipping away from the church in alarming numbers and I think it is not because they have tried the faith and found it wanting; they have tried the churchmen and found them trying and the result is a dullness that hangs on the Sunday School walls."

Orange Pulls Upset In Seminole Spring Game

With A Come-Back Victory

By GREY BOYLES
Herald Sports Staff

The Orange defeated the Black last night in a game in which Seminole High was the winner. It was a misty night and both teams really went out and the crowd really enjoyed the game. There were many pleasant surprises in the game. Kevin Spolski called an excellent game for the Orange team as his ball handling and passing was on the mark. Chris Matby helped the Orange team control the ball by his fine running. Ricky McSmith was very effective as the wide end. The Orange line was the difference as Dallas Brown, Richard Settle, Joe Steffens and Mike Hardin were consistently pressing Tommy Barks of the Black team. Chris Dunn was very effective as a corner back for the Orange squad.

For the Black squad, Tommy Barks did a fine job as he was under pressure all night and the center had trouble getting him the wet ball. Mike Stephens made some fine runs for the Black team, but the Black offense had too many fumbles. Tommy Grace, Stephens and Mike Leary were effective in the secondary.

The game started off with a bang as Black quarterback Barks hit halfback Aaron Johnson on a 65-yard pass for a touchdown on the first play of the game. The extra point try was no good and the Black team led 6-0.

The Orange team came back with a long drive, climaxed by Spolski giving the ball to Matby for a four-yard run off right guard for a touchdown. The extra point failed and the score was 6-6 at half time.

In the third quarter, the Barks to Tommy Whigham combination started clicking and was climaxed by a ten yard pass between this duo. The extra-point was no good and the Black led 12-6.

A little later, Spolski hit wide end Ricky McSmith with a perfectly thrown pass behind the Black secondary for a 25-yard touchdown. Matby ran the extra-point and the Orange led 12-12.

Late in the game the Orange scored again as quarterback Mark Carl handed off to tight end Dallas Brown on the end and he scored a 10-yard touchdown run. This narrowed it to a 12-12 tie.

The final score read Orange 22-Black 12, quite an upset.

The tournament will be a single-elimination event with two Sanford teams in the tournament. Two Ormond Beach teams, two Kissimmee teams, St. Cloud, Clermont and Tavara will participate in the Sanford tournament.

Six Ocala teams, two Leesburg teams and Groveland will participate in the Leesburg competition.

Second night action will pit the Kissimmee Americans against the Sanford Nationals and the Ormond Beach Nationals at 8 p. m. against Clermont. On July 15, the Kissimmee Americans, which drew a first round bye, will meet the winner of the St. Cloud vs. Ormond Beach Nationals game.

The two teams from Sanford will be announced on or before July 1, and will be selected by the coaches of the two leagues. Both of the Sanford teams are in the same bracket and could possibly meet each other on July 16 at 8 p. m. If they each win their first game, Sanford and Ormond Beach are the only two teams in the district with Junior or Senior League teams. They will meet each other in best two out of three series in each league. The Junior League series will begin in Ormond Beach with the second game in Sanford. A third game, if necessary, will be played in Sanford. The dates of these two tournaments have not yet been announced.

Maroon Panthers Win

After many hot days on the practice field, the Croons High Panthers displayed their talents in their annual spring intra-squad tilt, pitting the Orange against the Maroon. The Orange team ascended to a 24-0 win over the Maroon.

Both teams consisted of a sprinkling of returning lettermen, along with several up and coming junior varsity prospects. Both teams were balanced by the coaching staff to assure equal competition.

Johnny Williams, a freshman end, made himself known to the coaches after he grabbed a pair of passes and carried them in for touchdowns. The passes, which went for 47 and 28 yards, were thrown by Johnny Hill. Hill is a former half-back which has been converted to a quarterback. Other Orange scorers came on a fumble by the Maroon team and a pass interception.

The lone score by the Maroon team came on a beautiful pass from quarterback Bernard Eady to Arlington Mills, an end. The Panthers show the nucleus of a winning team.

The coaching staff was impressed by several new faces and especially by the quarterbacks and receivers. Head coach Dick Evans was quick to praise his coaching staff. Members of the coaching staff are Bob McAdams, Howard Marble, Arthur Knight, James DeWitt, and Lamar Richardson.

Commenting on the team, Evans stated, "We should be stronger all around next year. We are especially pleased with some positive changes that have worked out fine."

Infraction Discovered?

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — An investigation has been launched by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in the manner in which the University of Florida named Doug Dickey as its head football coach. Today newspaper reports in a copy-right story.

The newspaper, in today's editions, said the investigation was centered around former head coach Ray Graves, who denied he was being replaced by Dickey, and Florida President Stephen O'Connell, who hired Dickey for Tennessee.

Reached at his home in Gainesville, O'Connell told today he had no knowledge of an investigation.

And in Birmingham, Ala., SEC Commissioner A. M. "Tom" Coleman said he had not heard of an investigation and declined to discuss the report.

The Cocoa-based newspaper said the probe was begun after an allegation was filed with the NCAA charging that Graves and O'Connell had violated article 3, Section 6 of the organization's constitution dealing with "principles of ethical conduct."

Graves, and O'Connell, prior to formal announcement of a coaching change, denied publicity that Dickey would succeed Graves.

Today said it had learned Dickey, who was Tennessee's head football coach for six years, was not directly involved.

Both Graves, now Florida's athletic director, and Dickey were en route from a Southeastern Conference coaches meeting at Duke Clear, Ala., and could not be reached for comment.

Dickey's appointment was announced soon after Florida beat Tennessee in the Gator Bowl post-season game.

Dickey has a 45-14 record for six years, plus two Southeastern Conference titles. His SEC record is 21-10.

Runners linking Florida and Dickey had been floating around for weeks before the official announcement. But as late as November Graves stressed he had no intention of stepping aside as head football coach and serving only as athletic director.

He said at that time, "Certain by both jobs are big jobs, but right now I have two more years of my football contract and I plan to take the remainder of that time."

Area Keg Records Tumble At Jet Lanes

The bowling record books were rewritten again in Sanford's Jet Lanes this week as the fickle finger of fate played a part in the happenings.

There were two local bowlers with 600 series rolled during the current bowling season; City Leaguer Wes Scott and Junior Leaguer, Kevin Spolski — a 16-year-old student at Seminole High School. This past Wednesday had a special end-of-the-season roll to determine the league champion. Etienne was Jet Lanes, winners of the first half schedule and Wall Plumbing, second-half pennant winners.

Taking a clean sweep of all four points, Jet Lanes won the coveted title paced by lead-off bowler, John A. Spolski who bowled a 711 series.

Additionally, Spolski has been a constant member of the

Twins Sock Cleveland Behind Tiant's Effort

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins acquired Luis Tiant for his pitching ability but the hard-throwing Mexican has shown at bat too, and is making the trade with the Cleveland Indians look like the steal of the year.

The 29-year-old, substitute right-hander rolled to his sixth consecutive victory Thursday and contributed three hits and three runs batted in as the Twins socked Milwaukee 11-2.

In the only other American League contest, Oakland blanked California 2-0.

In National League play, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-4 in 11 innings. San Francisco ripped Los Angeles 4-3, St. Louis rocked the New York Mets 9-2 and Chicago beat Pittsburgh 8-7.

Tiant, who raised his average to .333, hit a home run and stroked a five-runners pitcher, striking a run-scoring single in Minnesota's four-run second and a two-run single in the fourth as the Twins reeled on a 11-0 edge.

Tiant, however, was forced to leave in the eighth inning with a slight shoulder muscle after giving the Brewers eight hits and both runs.

Last year was a nightmare for the Mexican City native, who pitched ineffectively and wound up losing 20 games while winning only nine. His earned run average ballooned to 2.84 from his 1968 league-leading mark of 1.60 when he had a 21-9 record.

During the winter, Tiant along with right-hander Stan Williams were sent to the Twins for Dean Chance, Bob Miller, Graig Nettles and Ted Uhlander.

The trade has been a great one for Minnesota to this point. Tiant has a 6-0 mark and 3.11 ERA while Williams, in 19 relief appearances, is also unbeaten at 4-0.

On the Cleveland side of the ledger, Chance, sidelined most of last year by injuries to his right arm, has pitched only 1 1/2 while Miller, a reliever, is 1-2.

Nettles, an infielder-outfielder, is hitting only .145 with centerfielder Uhlander at .207.

And those statistics help to back up the standings of each club.

The Twins, leaders in the West Division of the AL, have a 20-12 record and are 2 1/2 games in front of California, Cleveland, at 14-25 in the East, 15 1/2 in back of Baltimore's front runner.

Trial Recessed

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's $3 million antitrust suit against baseball started a week-end recess today with Club Fed-SEC Commissioner A. M. "Tom" Coleman said he had not heard of an investigation and declined to discuss the report.

The Cocoa-based newspaper said the probe was begun after an allegation was filed with the NCAA charging that Graves and O'Connell had violated article 3, Section 6 of the organization's constitution dealing with "principles of ethical conduct."

Graves, and O'Connell, prior to formal announcement of a coaching change, denied publicity that Dickey would succeed Graves.

Today said it had learned Dickey, who was Tennessee's head football coach for six years, was not directly involved.

Both Graves, now Florida's athletic director, and Dickey were en route from a Southeastern Conference coaches meeting at Duke Clear, Ala., and could not be reached for comment.

Dickey's appointment was announced soon after Florida beat Tennessee in the Gator Bowl post-season game.

Dickey has a 45-14 record for six years, plus two Southeastern Conference titles. His SEC record is 21-10.

Runners linking Florida and Dickey had been floating around for weeks before the official announcement. But as late as November Graves stressed he had no intention of stepping aside as head football coach and serving only as athletic director.

He said at that time, "Certain by both jobs are big jobs, but right now I have two more years of my football contract and I plan to take the remainder of that time."

Gars Are Good "Sports"

A fish specie gains distinction to be called "sports" because of its fighting qualities when taken by anglers and their looks, gars are a hard-fighting species of fish.

But often times, fish which deserve to be called sports are denied this special title because their sporting qualities are overshadowed by other factors.

One such family are the gars. Long disliked by anglers because of their predaaciousness and their looks, gars are a hard-fighting species of fish.

Although gars are an ancient family, information from the fishing department at Mercury outdoors shows their range is limited to the midwest, east to Ohio and south to Florida. Since they spend much of their time in the bottom, gars are found in moving streams and lakes, gars are easily seen by anglers. This habit makes them targets for both conventional and bow and arrow fishermen, who use small boats to quietly approach the fish.

Road and reel anglers favor lures made of long strands of orange, red or white nylon, doubled into a loop and tied to the shank portion of a hook. No barb is necessary as the fish's teeth will tangle in the nylon loop. Fish fishermen feel that dead minnows are the best lure. Either way, be sure to use a short wire leader as the gar's sharp teeth will sever lines.

Deltona Lions Mark Anniversary Event

The May 16 meeting of the Deltona Lions marked the 25th anniversary of the evening six years ago when the club received its charter from Lions International. Among the charter members present this evening were Lions Henry Pavlovski, Ellis Willis and John Loutchier. Arnold Vann, another charter member, was absent due to illness.

Program chairman Bert Loutchier introduced Mrs. Jan Kosowski, Polish journalist, who came to the U. S. 18 years ago as U. S. translator. She now resides in DeLand, writing for the Polish newspapers.

Her address, "Democracy versus Socialism" reminded her listeners that in 1937 there were campus disturbances at Polish universities very much like those going on right now in the U. S. With Hitler coming into power in Germany, disturbances began to occur in universities along the same pattern as are occurring in this country now, which compelled colleges to close a few weeks before semester examinations.

Hitler was installing his posters in professional, industrial and educational branches of Poland. Her comments now is that very few Americans seem interested in what is going on. We talk about dangers of Communism but never fight it. "In a Democracy there is government of the people, by the people and for the people, while in Socialism the state owns everything," she said. "And the State is fiducious for there are no free elections."

Mrs. Kosowski suggests that we focus our attention on where the money is coming from to finance the student rebellions, furnish their offices, equip them with expensive typewriters, computers, mimeograph machines, leaflets, TV and radio advertisements and telephones.

If we start delving, we might learn the source of the money and be better able to deal with the problem.

"Who is responsible for nations getting into the hands of our young people, then using them as pawns to start revolts and riots on our campuses?" she asks. "The price of freedom is always high, when you consider that the student who throws stones gets 30 an hour and the students who carry the stones get $150 an hour. Few Americans are asking, 'Where does this money come from?'" she added.

Tired President Settles Down For Long Weekend

By HELEN THOMAS
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — Looking tired, President Nixon settled down today at his oceanside, Spanish-style villa, hoping to relax and work at a leisurely pace this holiday weekend.

The President brought along with him a covey of foreign policy and domestic advisers with whom he planned to confer with before returning to Washington Monday.

The 57-year-old Chief Executive has been riding out the storm on Cambodia, the stock market slump, the economic slowdown and student unrest.

Nixon planned a quiet Memorial Day weekend with his wife, Pat, and best friend, Charles "Bebe" Rebozo, who accompanied him. The Nixon's daughter, Tricia, 24, had other plans that kept her from making the trip and the First Lady hinted her daughter had a big date.

Provincial Capital Cut Off 5,000 Viets Aid Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — More than 5,000 South Vietnamese marines pushed toward the besieged Cambodian provincial capital of Prey Veng today to reinforce Cambodian troops battling North Vietnamese and Viet Cong for the second day.

A high-ranking Cambodian military source said Prey Veng, 30 miles east of Phnom Penh, was surrounded and apparently only the provincial headquarters and the center of the town was still firmly held by government forces.

A South Vietnamese military spokesman in Saigon reported the marines had entered Prey Veng, but Cambodian military sources said the marines were still pressing toward the town, supported by helicopters.

The marines pushed up the east bank of the Mekong River and ran into strong North Vietnamese forces near the town of Banam, about 10 miles southwest of Prey Veng.

The marines reported killing 19 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing eight prisoners and 11 weapons. South Vietnamese losses were put at four killed and 21 wounded.

Official sources in Saigon said the attack on Prey Veng, the second in two days, was an attempt by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to solidify their positions east of the Mekong River and to secure a new supply route replacing those disrupted by American and South Vietnamese forces. Prey Veng is one of the Cambodian government's last major strongholds east of the Mekong.

The Cambodian spokesman said street fighting was under way in Prey Veng but that Cambodian fighter-bombers could not go to the aid of the town's defenders for fear of hitting civilians.

Communist forces have surrounded Prey Veng for more than two weeks. They assaulted the town early Thursday but pulled back to the outskirts later in the day. After being reinforced, they resumed the assault today.

Unconfirmed reports in Phnom Penh said the town was defended mainly by militiamen, and it was feared they would be no match for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

War Ban Vote Slated

By CARL P. LUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper says next week's vote to bar enforcement of his proposal to restrict U.S. activities in Cambodia will provide the first clear test of strength in the three-week Senate debate.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., would make the proposed funding cuts imperative as long as Americans are held prisoner by the North Vietnamese in Cambodia.

"If the members in here aren't impressed by that," Cooper, R-Ky., said in an interview, "they won't be impressed by the other amendments either."

The Senate agreed before it adjourned Thursday to vote Memorial Day weekend to vote Wednesday on Dole's amendment.

But the key vote is likely to come on a bid by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to table—and thus kill—the Dole amendment. Fulbright said it was quite clearly designed to destroy any effect whatsoever of the Cooper-Church proposal barring funds after July 1 for "retaining" U.S. forces in Cambodia.

After Dole's amendment is acted on, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., says he will offer another amendment authorizing the President "to take such actions as may be necessary to protect the lives of United States forces in South Vietnam and to hasten their withdrawal."

Cooper said both amendments deal with the subject that he finds increasingly mentioned in his mail: the contention by administration forces that Cooper-Church proposals are refusing to permit protection of U.S. troops in the field.

"They know better," Cooper said, pointing out the proposal would permit "hot pursuit" of enemy across the South Vietnam-Cambodia border and "salles over the line to protect the troops."

Letter From A 'Crank'?

Roger Berry, attorney for Mabel Frances Thompson, Sanford woman convicted Feb. 3 in the shooting death of Bobby W. Thompson, her fireman-husband, said this morning a letter bearing the name of Thompson was received a month ago by Mrs. Thompson at Lowell Women's Prison.

The attorney, who has filed a appeal of the woman's life sentence given by Circuit Judge E. Thom Rumberger on Feb. 19, said the letter to Mrs. Thompson at Lowell came from out of state and he didn't want to comment too much about it because the case is being appealed.

Berry indicated the letter might have been written by a "crank" who had read about the case.

Florida Law Enforcement Bureau agents were at Sanford early this week checking into records in an attempt to find a sample of Thompson's handwriting and other information, which seems to indicate the letter was written with pen or pencil.

Gov. Claude Kirk is reported to have assigned the agents to the case after receiving information from Mrs. Thompson upon receipt of the letter.

Thompson disappeared seven months before a decaying body was found in the hall closet of the Thompson home.

Subsequent investigation by Sanford police and sheriff's department uncovered additional evidence and the man's attractive wife and mother of his four children was arrested and convicted a year later.

12-Year-Old Bares Sex Life

Hanson continued to press for veracity by asking if the witness believed in God.

"I don't know whether I do or not," Hanson then read from a statement in which one of the boys with whom she was involved said that the witness had a bad reputation for telling the truth and the witness answered, "I don't tell the truth to no one."

The girl said that the reason for being in the first statement was that "I didn't want to get anyone into trouble . . . I tried to get them out of every-thing . . . I lied when I said that nothing went on . . . just about everything was a lie." She went on to explain that she didn't know what she was talking about.

Hanson asked if she was high on "grass" or pills, to which she answered that all she had was "plain rum." Hanson then directed his questioning to reported thirds of articles in the "Colonist's" pad. The girl said that she had a keppie, knife and a bottle of rum in her jacket when arrested.

Hanson read a statement given by investigators in which the witness told him that "I'm 12 years old in your eyes . . . but the use of a mental detector, asked if in this statement could be attributed to the fact that the witness has stated that she has been reincarnated as a "rabbit."

In a training class next fall, nurses and doctors from eight hospitals will meet weekly for two months to study the latest in infant care.

Then the nurses will spend up to six weeks in the hospital's infant special care center, studying how best to treat sick and premature newborns.

The mortality rate of newborn Americans is "dismal," Gluck said in an interview Thursday.

"Of every 1,000 babies born in the United States today, 22 won't live to blow out the candles on their first birthday cake," he said.

The main problem, he said, is brain damage related directly to poor medical care during the critical first days of life.

The special care unit, he said, "will have rocking chairs where babies will be held, fondled, get-ting and patting during feeding periods."

Old Rocking Chair Making A Comeback

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Something old is going to be tried on newborn babies at the University of California School of Medicine—the rocking chair.

"The infant left alone for weeks in an incubator, can be socially retarded," says Dr. Louis Gluck, professor of pediatrics. The nurses will coddle and rock babies during time spent of the incubators.

2 Army Officers Held In Shooting

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Two officers face charges of attempted murder in connection with a shooting incident last year in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

The Army accused Capt. Vincent N. Hartmann, 31, of Stanton, Pa., and 1st Lt. Robert G. Lee Jr., 22, of Springfield, Mo., Thursday of "ordering members of their command in fire into buildings used for human habitation on or about June 15, 1969." They were then with the 9th Infantry Division.

The maximum penalty for attempted murder is 20 years.

Col. Charles C. Thebaud, commander of the Ft. Benning Army Infantry School Brigade, said the men are now assigned, has ordered a grand jury type investigation to determine whether the two officers should be tried by court-martial.

The alleged shooting incident has been under investigation since last fall. Army sources acknowledged it was brought to the Army's attention by Rep. Lionel Van Deerin, D-Calif.

Van Deerin informed the Army that a captain in the Medical Corps told him of an infantry company being ordered to use a Vietnamese village for target practice.

Pentagon sources said two Vietnamese civilians, a woman and a boy, were wounded. The woman reportedly died later.

The shots allegedly were fired at two huts out of five in a small village.

Van Deerin said in an interview in California Thursday "men, women and children came running from the huts as the firing continued."

He said he was told that an officer ordered the firing on the village with the comment that his men "hadn't had much action lately."

The time at which the Army says the actions took place was more than a year after the alleged My Lai massacre in which more than 300 South Vietnamese civilians were reported killed. My Lai is several hundred miles from the Mekong Delta.

New Hurricane Alarm Tried Out

MIAMI (AP) — New storm tracking techniques worked out in the wake of last year's terrifying rampage by Hurricane Camille may bring erratic warnings to endangered coastlines in the 1970 season of the tropical twisters opening Monday.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center, says the goal of the new technique is to give threatened areas 15 to 18 hours, including 12 hours of daylight, to take steps for protection of lives and property.

A radically altered flight plan for storm probing jets, more aircraft, better instruments, and a computer stuffed with knowledge of every hurricane that has roared in the Western Hemisphere in modern times will be used to achieve this aim.

In past years, Air Force and Navy reconnaissance planes flew into hurricanes at different levels from 1,000 to 10,000 feet, making random observations of clouds, rain, barometric pressure and other forces in the storm.

The posting of a "hurricane watch" which means that a storm may strike an area within 24 to 36 hours, has in the past been based on the judgment of the forecaster. This year, when a storm is that close to land, a computer's reckoning will be called upon.

With the push of a button, the machine will spit out the record of behavior and movement of the storm. It will also spit out a "hurricane watch" times of up to 36 hours.

But no matter how proficient the forecaster becomes, there are times when little if any warning is possible. One is when a hurricane blows up suddenly in somebody's back yard.

A case in point was Hurricane Alma, pentately born in the Caribbean last week. At the moment she was discovered, ships which were to drop eight packages and cause great property damage were falling on Cuba.

"When a thing like that happens," Simpson said, "we can't do a darned thing about it."

Director Enlightens Women's Club On Shelter

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
 Don Van Dalen, newly appointed director of Seminole All Youth Shelter and his petite wife, Missy, were introduced to members of the South Seminole Women's Club Thursday night by guest speaker Jack Lindsay.

Who has been serving as acting director of the project, at a meeting in Altamonte Springs Community House.

Van Dalen, now employed as guidance counselor and psychologist by Orange County Schools will assume his duties with SAYS in June. SAYS is now expanding the services of SAYS to open a shelter for wayward juveniles.

"It is hoped that someone may have property that they would donate for this worthwhile cause," Lindsay said. Although country acreage would be preferable it should be easily accessible from both ends of the county.

"While the child is being rehabilitated he would be attending public schools, and a coordinated effort would be made to reunite the parents with the child and God."

Both psychological and spiritual help will be given the youths. Eventually it is hoped to expand the services of SAYS to girls also to family counseling.

During the business session it was reported that $214.65 has been netted from the Las Vegas Night and $41 from the bazaar. This was the last regular meeting until September but a luncheon will be held June 11 at the Longwood Hotel. Reservations should be made with Fay Miles by June 8.

The next board meeting will be June 1 at the home of Jean Crouse.

By MARYANN MILES
 Mr. and Mrs. Horace Boardman of North Orlando, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a big party in their home town of Kenosha, Wis., where they were honored guests at the Trinity Lutheran Church and again at the May meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of South Seminole.

Marie and Horace were married May 3, 1920 in Seattle, Wash., and moved to Kenosha that same year. They resided there until 1961 when Mr. Boardman retired from the American Motors Corp. where he had been employed for 31 years.

In Kenosha they both kept very active with Marie a member of the Trinity Ladies Aid and Kenosha Garden Club. Her husband was a member of the Radio Club and to this day is a "ham" operator.

They have two sons, Bruce, still living in Kenosha, and Glenn, living in Miami. There are seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Boardman chose for the occasion a three-piece metallic blue jacket and skirt and white blouse. Her outfit was complemented with a gold orchid corsage.

Sanford Progress Revealed By Collector Of Artifacts

By CHARNER LEONE
 Included in the vast display of artifacts is a collection of over 300 photographs of early Sanford and its residents was exhibited recently by William Vincent, R.R., at the Sanford Woman's Club. Other Sanfordites, knowledgeable in Sanford's history, were on hand to lead their views of Sanford through the years.

Three pieces of furniture built by Albion Kendall with lumber salvaged by the Millwrights' Guild in 1832, as included circular coffee table and an antique lawn chair were shown.

Mrs. B. B. Crumley, a member of the BWC discussed briefly the key role the club has played in the development of Sanford. A. B. Peterson, Jr. and Sanford attorney, Albert Pitts, of the Seminole Historical Commission were also present to tell what progress has been made in the restoration and preservation of some of Sanford's historic landmarks.

A narration accompanying a showing of old Sanford postcards gave the audience of this unique display a real feeling for the times past. Charles greeted Vincent's description of many of the area "characters."

Vincent has painstakingly collected as a hobby over the years were many artifacts, including registers from The Sanford House, and Robert's Nest Hotel, early Sanford newspapers, a drive shaft like clock owned by Vincent's relatives.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You stated, "There is an international Brotherhood of Mountain Goats. I hereby offer my most humble apologies for saying they smell bad."

You were probably joking, but there is an "International Order of Rocky Mountain Goats," and no apologies are in order for your remarks concerning this order of goats. (Neither variety smells like Channel No. 2.)

Unfortunately women cannot join this organization or I would submit your name for honorary membership. I shall propose a least to STEVE FRAZEE, Salda, Colo.

DEAR STEVE: I don't know that "smell bad" would carry to butt into the "International Order of Rocky Mountain Goats," but those who do not deny membership because of their sex. Perhaps you'll be hearing from the Women's Liberation Movement about this.

DEAR ABBY: "KNOWS HIS GOATS" doesn't know his goats. It's not Billy Goat who is just as small as particular an animal as you can find anywhere. You hear a lot of stupid jokes about goats, but they are not true. They say goats eat tin cans, razor blades - a y thing. They won't go to the "International Order of Rocky Mountain Goats," but they are very particular about what they eat. How else could goats' milk be considered therapeutic? Goats are much maligned. They are intelligent and clean, and they have "kids" as humans do. So if you want to brag about your kids - try goats. They are something to brag about.

KNOWS MY GOATS DEAR ABBY: One of the best reasons for reading "advice columns" is that they whittle down our own problems to their proper dimensions. When we are in the throes of despair because of a serious illness, a marriage on the rocks, or a character relationship, a columnist forever - let us be reminded of what it means to really "suffer."

What's my reaction when I read the heartwarming story of that poor woman who watches TV from 7 in the morning until midnight, daily. Her problem? The increasing number of actors who are letting their hair grow longer and longer. I have watched some former-trick, a spade ruff and the ace of trumps unless Balfe could be persuaded to shift from spades at trick two. Sherman dropped the king of spades on Raymond's ace.

The play right to have worked, but it didn't. Raymond had ever dummy carefully. He noted that ace and 10 of clubs. His partner surely held at least five clubs for his overall. Therefore there was no chance of a club trick.

What would it cost him to set up the jack of spades for a dummy? South obviously held a heart diamond suit and one diamond discard on a spade wouldn't do him a bit of good.

Could Stearns have made a sensational spade false-card? Of course Balfe led off his spades and Stearns any that was down one.

West opened to a spade and Stearns was going to lose a spade

Jacoby On Bridge

Here is a hand to show experts at their best. The scene was New York's Regency Club. The protagonists were the late Raymond Balfe sitting East and the late Sherman Stearns sitting South.

Balfe, one of the ten or twelve greatest contract players ever, had just finished a rubber bridge. He was noted for his fierce competitive bidding and he was not going to sell out to four hearts when not vulnerable. He bid four spades as a preliminary to running to five clubs if doubled at spades. Stearns, winner of several Vanderbilt and Springdale might have doubled at spades and the subsequent run out to five clubs but Stearns didn't know that most of his partner's heart suits was the ace of clubs. It looked to Sherman

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D., M.D.

CASE N-535: Cynthia H., aged 29, is married.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my husband seems to love me, for he will kiss me goodnight."

"But then he rolls over and goes to sleep!"

"Even though I wear diaphanous negligees (as you have urged vines in your column), and am slender, as well as perfume, I still find more than a dutiful goodnight kiss."

"What is wrong with him? He is athletic and quite interested in sports."

"And we have been married only three months!"

Cynthia was a beautiful young woman, with the proper "measurements" and some of the advertised flaws, such as hairline, eyes, and nose.

So I later had an interview with her husband, for I meant that some emotional mishap had imposed a serious blockage to his ardor.

Polly's Pointers

I just had to let off steam about this something's sore point. You are right, the hostess is the boss. Enclosed is a copy of a poem I have pasted inside my cupboard door. I have not shown it to anyone yet but it makes me feel good to know I am not alone in this feeling.

"Please stay away from the dishes for a hostess who prefers to do herself. I think Joy's idea that Mr. B. T. is rude in not appreciating her guests' insistence is entirely wrong. Rudeness works both ways and such guests are pain in the neck. I prefer to do my own housework and let them dry. However, I have had rude guests who literally pushed me out of their way because they preferred washing to drying. I know how I want my stove, counters, etc., and that is, of course, the washer's job. In another woman's house, I prefer to dry.

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1970

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You feel that you are being increased upon this morning but remain calm. Later, you are able to see things more clearly where future goals are concerned.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Be objective where problems are concerned and you are then better able to handle them. Worry doesn't solve anything. Be sure to give assistance to a good friend who is in trouble, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Get busy with home affairs during the morning since you cannot come to terms with associates until the afternoon. The late afternoon is best time to plan social events. Be accurate with figures.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): This is not a good morning for handling credit and career affairs, but tonight you are given your fine assistance. Advice. Show that you value their good will. Be practical in your planning.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Complete what has been started before you go out to new activities with newcomers. Get the data you need from a new contact. Evening is particularly fine for the social.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): May tasks need your attention today before you can spend time with a loved one. Don't try to avoid your responsibilities; handle them efficiently. Get busy making plans for later travel, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Don't try to force a valuable associate to do what you wish in the morning. Give later in the day if you feel his willing cooperation. You are able to handle difficult problems efficiently tonight. Be clever.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Don't follow those who have strange ideas about amusements, but do what you like to do. Be more willing to go along with the ideas of romantic life. Make the evening a very interesting one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You have to do more studying if you want to get that hobby working properly later in the day. Derive benefits from it, too. Complete your work early. Then take it easy in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): There is a problem at home that is best solved by leaving it alone. Do whatever will relieve tensions early in the evening can be a particularly happy one with persons you admire.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you think out how to help good friends today, you will be a great help to them. Be sure to correspond to clearly. Evening is fine for visiting with relatives or friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be careful you do not overstep in the morning. It is wiser to wait until afternoon before coming to a big decision. Listen carefully to what a business expert has to say. Follow advice.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You are restless this morning and could make a big error if you are not careful. The afternoon is best time to do any important work. Be enterprising at bed time and my wife thinks she is lacking in feminine charm, so she cries and upbraids herself.

"Dr. Crane, how can I get over this emotional blockage?"

If the crowd laughs and he blushes with shame, a single verbal mistake can then "set the habit of verbal stuttering for life, unless he resolutely undergoes the proper psychotherapy to break his stuttering. Same goes for "erotic stuttering," which is the form of sexual impotence that afflicts Cynthia's marriage.

The verbal stutterer, however, can force himself to hold his tongue impressed between his jaw teeth, as he launches into speech, for that involves man's control of his muscles.

But you can't control your emotions by will power!"

So Cynthia must realize the platonic behavior and actively assist him to see that function, which she did.

Send for the medical book "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," which is long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped address envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The following is a "Test Your Knowledge" quiz. Act as if you are a "We The Women" columnist. We recognize the need for testing your wits. It is not the office allows us only so much room here. Besides, be realistic. At this very moment, you are probably scuffing around ankle-deep in sand. Who says you're going to make it into winter? His rock collection in the center of your night polished dining room table. Do you:

(a) Get a magnifying glass on the two of you; can examine the scratches while conversing knowingly about wood?

(b) Say, "I'll show you where to find tons of rocks; then drive him to an abandoned quarry and abandon him?"

(c) In the kitchen you find your daughter's tennis shoes on a smelly towel. Do you:

(a) Give her yet another lecture on basic hygiene?

(b) Tell the shoes and see you them (with heretofore sauce) for dinner?

(c) You find you are now doing three times the laundry work this one really needs. Do you:

(a) Stly out down on clothing changes by refolding things and replacing them in drawers?

(b) Burn the clothes and hang out a mudlet camp sign?

(c) One day, after scrubbing the kitchen floor twice, you notice it is once again decorated with slimy swirls of peanut butter. Do you:

(a) Take up a dim that says, "Neatness Counts."

(b) Rent a spray painting outfit. Fill it with peanut butter and spray the floor. problem once and for all?

(c) After gathering wet towels and basting milk out of the living room sofa for the eighth straight day, do you:

(a) Scatter about the loose tile pamphlets describing various unwholesome floor-which floor-toe under damp conditions, hoping your children will take the hint?

(b) Have the furniture upholstered in moody terrycloth?

(c) If your neighbor's son has his hand (at full amp) practice every afternoon during your only available hour for a heavy nap. Do you:

(a) Explain patiently how the doctor says the noise has a singularly bad effect on your nerves?

(b) Join a motorcycle club and invite the pack to hold all their meetings at your house?

(c) You have just returned from chaperoning a Cub Scout picnic and are now busily engaged in cleaning up after your daughter's all-day patio party, when your husband announces, "I've invited the office gang over tonight for hamburgers and beer!" Do you:

(a) Warble, "Great, Sweetie! I'll be ready for them - may even have time to wash the porch walls and see up a new awning!"?

(b) Scream, "Over your dead body!" and shoot yourself?

MAKE A PINWHEEL

Start with a square piece of heavy paper. Draw straight lines from corner to corner, then number each corner like this.

With your scissors, cut along each line toward the center, but be sure not to cut all the way to where the lines cross.

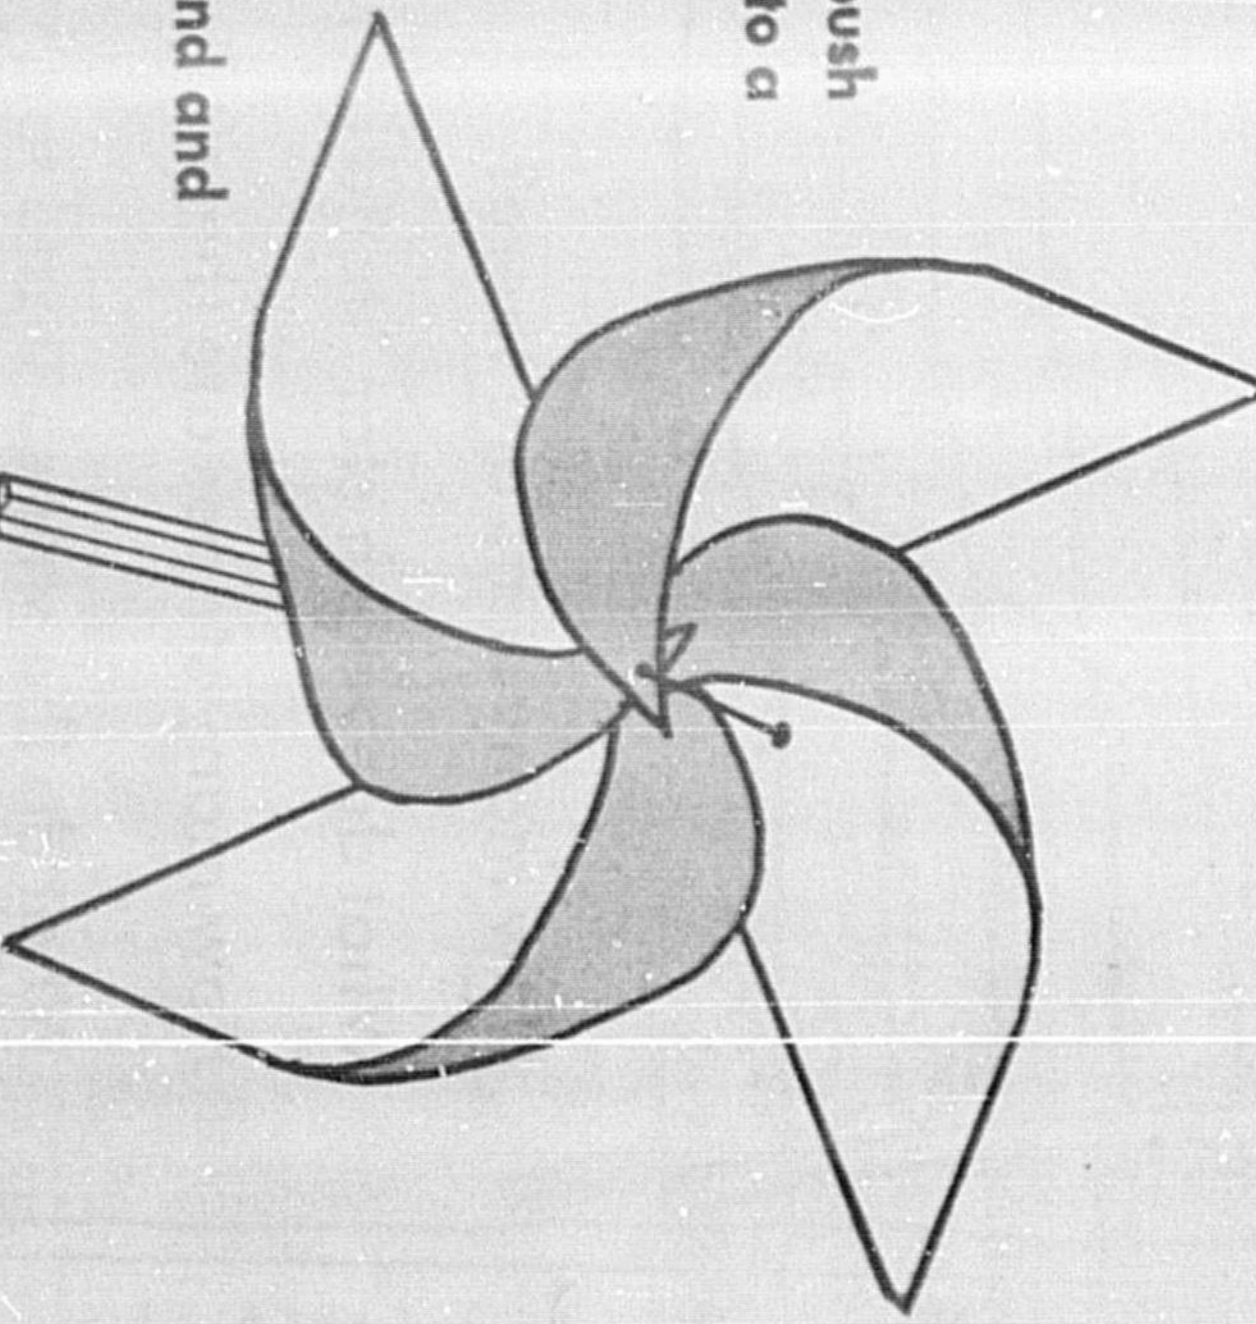

Bend corner number 1 toward the center. Do the same with corners 2, 3 and 4, holding each one in place as you do the next one.

When all 4 corners are folded over, push a pin through the center and then into a long stick, straw or pencil.

Now hold your pinwheel into the wind and watch it spin.

Utilities Bill Held Discriminatory

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Attorney W. C. Hutchison said today he doubts the proposed bill filed by Rep. E. Pope Bassett to regulate Sanford's utility rates will stand a court test, if it is passed later this week by the Legislature.

Hutchison said the proposal which passed out of the House commerce committee by an 8-7 vote probably would not stand a judicial attack, since it is discriminatory.

"From a personal standpoint, I would like to have the opportunity of testing the bill in court," Hutchison said.

"If the Public Utility Commission takes over only Seminole County's utilities, this would amount to discrimination and I doubt the bill would stand up unless it applies to all counties," Hutchison added.

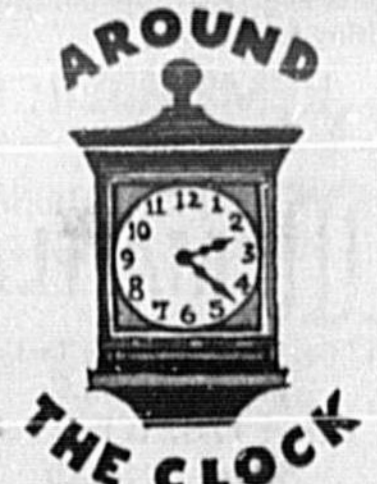

The legislation must still pass the House and Senate this week, the final legislative week of this present Tallahassee session.

Hutchison pointed out the local bill encountered problems in getting out of committee. Usually a local bill encounters no such problem in committee, the attorney advised.

Mack N. Cleveland Jr., attorney and former state senator, went to Tallahassee last week in place of Hutchison, who had a legal commitment, to help Rep. William Fulford in his efforts to stop action on the bill, that has received the backing of the Seminole Taxpayers Association.

This group acted on behalf of residents of Sunland Estates, suburban home owners, in their protests to city increases in water and sewer rates charged outside city customers.

The result was a bill passed by the two-county legislative delegation for introduction at Tallahassee.

Haven't you heard it said that the South Vietnamese Army had improved so greatly that they'd be able to take over after the Americans left?

This is the same group who just this past weekend had 75 of the enemy completely surrendered prior to nightfall, and lo, when the dawn broke the next day, there wasn't a prisoner to be found anywhere!

And they fight under the capable leadership of one who is called Marshal Ky, vice president of South Vietnam. Have you read his communique on the planned American withdrawal by June 30th?

"A silly argument of silly people" was the phrase our illustrious ally used.

Just call her Betty... called this a m. said that her family pet of 12 years had been struck by an automobile yesterday, and she tried in vain to get a vet finally burying the animal's breath.

Even tried calling the answering service, but to no avail.

We both agreed it's a deplorable situation... animals are human alike. More and more calls coming in about folks who can't get medical service in town and are going to Winter Park, etc.

Just for the records... why can't the local doctors set-up a system like the one in Orlando when the situation presents itself, the individual calls the number prescribed and medical help is forthcoming!

Thirty days hath September, April, June and the guy who goes 60 in a school zone.

Does the name Amanda Blake ring a bell? How about Miss Kitty on that ever popular TV series, Gunsmoke? They're one and the same and our own part Society Editor Doris Williams shared an airplane ride recently and made some strong bonds of friendship.

It'll be a most interesting column when local reports on her 'surprise' while getting on the plane at Phoenix, and the rounds of partying and all the 'stars'... ooops, I promised I wouldn't let it leak.

Congratulations to the progressive thinking of the folks at Shell Oil Company. In order to protect the all night service station operators, under an experimental program now in effect, certain stations will not carry money and will not make change for sales between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Blackburn Morals Trial Continues Sister, 14, On Witness Stand

By MARION BETHA

Taking the stand today in the morals trial of Harlan Blackburn was the 14-year-old sister of the first witness for the state, both of whom were said to be involved in the alleged incident at the Regency Apartments.

The witness, strikingly attractive, except for extremely heavy eye make-up wore her Auburn hair in a bouffant style and was attired in a blue and white checked dress, mod brown leather shoes with cork heels and a ring on almost every finger. This prompted the query by defense attorney Edward Hamilton, during cross examination, if the rings had any particular significance. The witness answered negatively, that they were only gifts.

The young girl was as composed on the stand as her sister was flustered, and parried Hamilton's questions with self assurance.

Blackburn, wearing a bronze suit, pale yellow shirt, brown paisley tie and alligator shoes, listened to the testimony with a detached aloofness, as if he were only an interested observer to the proceedings, instead of the principal.

During direct examination by state attorney Abbott Herring, the voluptuous witness testified to the activities during the weekend the family arrived in Orlando which led to the alleged incident at the Regency Apartments.

She told of visiting a truck stop on Jan. 10, where she and her sister hoped to obtain a ride to the nation's capital to "join the hippies."

However, she continued, they met "three guys" in a Cadillac, two of whom were "Bill and Perry," who said that they were going north in the morning. The court was filed on the ninth day of that period. If that court decides to rule on Warren's petition, a hearing would be held.

night at the home of a Gary Benton, according to the witness. They left Monday afternoon and went to a restaurant, then to a party, they didn't know where, for business reasons.

"When we came back the Colonel was there (she identified Blackburn in the courtroom) he fixed us a drink, we talked, one man came and left, the Colonel went with Jeanne, Travis, and Perry to Perry's house and later to Jeanne's home. There they were told that they were going to a party, they didn't know where, for business reasons."

"They 'cleaned up,' ate and then went to Apartment 17-B at the Regency Apartments at about 6 p.m. on Monday of the weekend. The comely witness continued that "no one was at home when we arrived, so we went to a gas station to use the rest room."

"She further testified that Edward Kirkland was present and described him as "old, fat, and bald" — also, also, described her "Jeanne for drinks" (she Herring established that the first witness was drinking rum and Dr. Pepper, the two other girls vodka).

Kirkland Trial Date Indefinite

"I couldn't hazard a guess as to when the trial will start," said Daytona Beach Attorney Daniel Warren, defense attorney for Edward Kirkland, Kirkland was originally set to go on trial last week for lewd and lascivious conduct and assault upon a female under the age of 14. The trial has now been stayed indefinitely.

Warren has filed a petition with the Florida Supreme Court asking the Circuit Court E. Thom Rumberger be prohibited from placing a time restriction on the return of four witnesses to West Virginia. The four have been extradited to appear in Kirkland's behalf.

"We can't go to trial without these witnesses," said Warren. "There should be no limitation on the amount of time they can spend here." Originally Rumberger extradited the witnesses for seven days.

Warren had 15 days in which to file the petition with the state's highest tribunal from the time of the denial of the same petition by the Fourth District Court of Appeal. The stay is automatic in such cases.

The petition to the Supreme Court was filed on the ninth day of that period. If that court decides to rule on Warren's petition, a hearing would be held.

IT 'WAS' A SAFE

'Hippie Pad' Dope Raid Probe Is Held

Seminole County authorities are still probing the early Saturday arrest of 11 young people in a hippie-type commune apartment, in which 15 county sheriff's deputies confiscated quantities of marijuana, LSD, pep pills, obscene reading materials, wine and some small weapons.

Placed in Seminole County jail on possession of narcotics charges were Richard Dale Hersh, 20, and Tom A. Fisher, 22, both of 187 Ronnie Drive, Altamonte Springs.

The apartment located at 2032 North Orlando Avenue was given as the home address by eight of those arrested, including Vicki Dale Williams, 18, a beautician who reportedly rented it.

Miss Williams posted $2,000 bond Saturday night and was released from the county jail while her 19 friends remain incarcerated in lieu of $2,000 bonds.

These include Charles R. Cloud, 23; Thomas Richard Helms, 22; Joe Fuller, 22; Leonard Schilderhouse, 17; Charlotte Christine Thompson, 17; Deborah Lynn Capps, 15; Deborah French, 17; and Charles N. King Jr., 20.

According to sheriff's office reports, two of the group were thought to be on "LSD trips" when arrested; the group had been reportedly living what one described as a "state of love and freedom" in the hippie type arrangement.

Burglars Busy On Weekend Safe Yields $3,063

Three burglaries, including the peeling of a hamburger firm's safe, highlighted the weekend's breaking and entering violations.

The loss of $3,063.48 from a safe in the storage room at McDonald's, located on Highway 17-92 at Fern Park, was reported by the firm's manager as occurring at about the same time another safe-cracking was happening to a second McDonald's, located in Orange County.

Richard Armstrong, manager, reported the Fern Park store contained four days cash receipts. Assistant Manager Donald Burham told R. D. Miller and George Abby, county investigators, he closed the store at 12:45 a.m. Sunday and the entry apparently came before Danny Cox, a cleaning man, discovered the burglary after 7 a.m. A neighbor reported hearing someone running across the parking lot at 1:30 a.m.

Miller, in his report, stated the intruder entered by prying open the women's rest room and going through the ceiling in to the attic where he crawled and dropped near the safe.

The same procedure also was used in the Orange County entry but amount of money taken from that store's safe was not revealed.

Two firms were entered in Sanford and police caught one of the men who smashed a glass door, Spencer Green, Apartment 72.

William Clark Cook, a parolee on a car theft conviction, was charged with breaking and entering after he allegedly threw a granite block into the door of Mooney's Appliance Store, Third Street and Palmisto Avenue.

A nearby resident reportedly saw the man and chased him for a block where he was joined by Sanford police who caught him.

A number of knives and one gun was removed in a break in at Hill Hardware and Implement Company on Oak Avenue. Chief Ben Butler said the intrusion last night was made by a juvenile.

Woman Held For Murder

Veronica Washington, 28-year-old Altamonte Springs woman, is in Seminole County jail today charged with the murder of a 28-year-old man with whom she had been living.

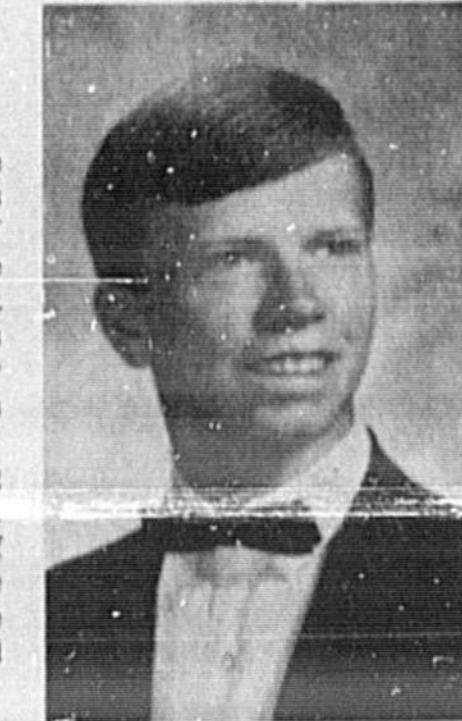

County Deputy G. W. Myers reported the woman was arrested last night on a warrant issued by Peace Justice Thomas Lovett after the body of Edsel Morris was discovered shot to death in his 600 Pine Street home.

The couple had been living together in the house along with three small children, who were found asleep in the adjoining bedroom.

Deputy Myers reported Morris' male body was discovered blood-spattered in the bed with a .38 caliber bullet hole in his head.

After it was determined that the woman might be involved in the incident a warrant was issued and served on her when she gave herself up to Deputy Judge Lovett.

The children are expected to be placed in foster homes by welfare authorities until the outcome of murder charges against the woman.
