AS LOYALISTS AND REBELS GIRD FOR BATTLE

These two pictures radioed to America show mobilized loyal citizens and rebel troops in action as the revolution neared a show-down in Spain. Below are Spanish revolutionaries and their women supporters forming a defense line-up in a battle with government troops at Burgos. War front photographers rushed these photographs to Bordeaux, France, where they were telephoned to London and then radioed to New York. (Associated Press Photos)

LOYAL TROOPS CLAIM DEFEAT OF SPANISH REBELS

Although the government's loyal forces announced themselves triumphant over a rightist rebellion in Spain, the insurgents continued to hold Spanish Morocco and several provinces in the southern part of Spain. This map indicates the points where the most serious disorders in Spain's rightist revolt have broken out. The leftist government has rushed five columns of defense army toward Valladolid, Burgos, Zaragoza and Toledo. In the north San Sebastian is the center of the uprising. This city was reported raked with aerial fire as the rebels poured in. The revolt started in Spanish Morocco. (Associated Press Map)

SPANISH WARSHIP BOMBED BY REBEL AIRPLANES

U. S. Refugees Flee Madrid; War Continues

Government Asserts Progress Is Being Made Against Revolting Faction

Bowers May Be Asked To Vacate

Leftist Contingent Assists Americans To Port Of Refuge

(By The Associated Press)
American and British refugees fled Madrid for the seacoast as Spain's civil war continued to flare with full force.

A fierce battle was reported in progress at Toledo. Fresh and successful assaults on rebel strongholds on widely scattered fronts were announced by the government.

The American state department received, according to press reports of the rebellion's progress. British authorities at Gibraltar heard that government planes had bombed nearby San Roque.

Loyalists marched on three regions dominated by rebels. Both sides put out claims of victories in Guadarrama mountain battles.

The rebels at Pamplona waited for Madrid to run short of food and for Generalissimo Francisco Franco to reopen operations in southern Spain.

American diplomatic officials sailed from St. Jean De Luz, France, for Puentarrabia, indicating their intention to ask Ambassador Bowers to leave the country.

The American battle-ship Oklahoma arrived in Bayona, France, with 38 refugees from Santander and Bilbao.

The leftist government of Spain sided American and British refugees, beleaguered in Madrid embassies for a week, to flee the revolution torn town.

A train was provided to take refugees to Alicante on the seacoast where a British destroyer waited to take them aboard.

In addition to the four major battles there were scores of lesser fights between rebels and loyalists. Elsewhere, such as at Huevia, Malaga, Pulgorda, Alp Caizans, Villa Louen (El Beni) and Olot, mobs of war crazed Communists indulged in an orgy of slaughter, church burning and pillage.

Funds From Beauty Contest To Help Under - Privileged

Box office receipts from the payment of beauty scheduled for the Rita Theater Aug. 4 will help swell the Kewanee fund for under-privileged children.

Miss Helen Wellman, one of the contest's organizers, said today.

About 50 girls will be invited to participate in the event which is to be a formal beauty contest, according to Miss Wellman.

Local merchants are being asked to sponsor an entrant. The business's only obligation is the payment of a small entry fee.

The winner of the event here will be afforded an opportunity of competing against winners of beauty titles in about 100 other cities when a "carnival of beauty" is staged in Daytona Beach early in September.

Out-of-town judges will be asked to referee on both occasions, Miss Wellman said.

BLANTON TRAILS

DALLAS, Tex., July 27.—(AP)—Representative Tom Blanton, Tex. Democrat, today was trailing Judge Clyde Garrison in the race for re-election to Congress.

Both, however, will be in the runoff primary. Jimmie Alfred clinched the re-nomination for governor.

The U. S. Department of War has exhibited every intention of allocating funds for maintaining the channel in the St. Johns River between Lake Harney and Jacksonville, Sen. Scott M. Loftin informed the Seminole Chamber of Commerce today.

Sen. Loftin's statement was made in a telegram dispatched after he had conferred with Army engineers.

Last week the Associated Press announced from Washington that the $4,000 allocation provided for the St. Johns River work in 1937. The Chamber immediately took steps toward securing funds for maintenance.

Telegrams were sent to both senators and to all the Florida representatives in the national capital.

Sen. Loftin did not indicate just when an allocation will be made for this district, although it was said last week that a complete waterways budget had not been established by the War Department.

It is customary each year for Congress to allot a lump sum to the waterways of the nation; later Army engineers divide that amount among various sections of the country as it is needed.

The allocation for work in the St. Johns River between Jacksonville and the Atlantic Ocean was placed at slightly less than one million dollars.

In order for one's name to appear on the Chamber of Commerce ballot for election of board members in September, membership must have been paid on or before Aug. 15, President T. E. Simpson said today.

"Good News," a publication by the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, was being distributed here today. It contains chiefly comments made by various newspapers on the progress shown in the county during the past two years.

City Commission To Hold Session Tonight

The City Commission is scheduled to meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in City Hall and is expected to study a proposal by which revenue-producing property, which is tax delinquent, may be assigned to a receivership.

Another problem which may occupy the Commission's attention is one dealing with the agreement under which the city has levied a 20-cent tax, half of which is collected by the bondholders' committee.

A recent Florida Supreme Court decision makes the levy attachable by any creditor.

County Makes 2 Hurricanes $86,540 Cut In Bond Debt

Commissioners Gain Point, Secure Cancellation Of Paper Held As Collateral

Seminole County today had reduced its outstanding debt by $86,540, according to an announcement made by O. P. Herndon, clerk of the Board of County Commissioners.

The slash was made possible through cancellation of $50,000 in bonds and $36,540 in coupons, which have been held by the State Board of Administration.

Clerk Herndon pointed out that the bonds were placed with the Board of Administration as collateral in 1931 for a loan which was needed to meet interest obligations.

A concerted effort had been under way for several years to secure the release of the bonds, but the State Board constantly reiterated it had no authority to release them.

In a recent meeting of the County Commission a resolution was passed to cancel both the bonds and their coupons.

John Meich, chairman of the County Board, Charles Dunn, County Commissioner, K. F. Housholder, attorney for the Board, and Mr. Herndon made the successful negotiation in Tallahassee Saturday.

With the new reduction, the County's bonded debt has been reduced to a point where it now stands at less than $2,250,000, according to figures available at the Court House.

The Commission is scheduled to meet tomorrow at 2 P. M. for a discussion of a refunding plan, Mr. Herndon announced.

Two tropical storms put in an appearance today, one in the Bahamas Islands southeast of Florida and one about 75 miles off the Louisiana coast near Grand Isle.

The Weather Bureau's around-the-clock hurricane warning service spotted both storms this morning. It issued warnings advising caution but saying neither storm has so far developed serious proportions a though both were increasing in intensity.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau said the Gulf storm was of small extent and of moderate but increasing intensity. Forecasters predicted it would cross the coast line this afternoon between Grand Isle and Morgan City, bringing gale winds and high tides.

The Jacksonville bureau located the second storm a short distance south of Cat Island in the Bahamas. This would put it about 200 miles southeast of Miami.

Forecasters said it was just beginning to take definite form and picking up force.

They warned shipping in the storm's path and northern and central Bahaman Islands to take caution.

The Bahaman storm was described as moving slowly west northward or northward in a general direction and south-east of the Florida coast. The weatherman said it is attended at present by only fresh to strong winds over a very small area near the center, but is increasing in intensity. A ship some distance from the Bahaman storm and two weather reporting stations on Cat and Great Exuma Island in the Bahamas notified the Weather Bureau the maximum wind speed was 25 miles an hour and the lowest barometer is 29.70 inches. Weather conditions along the southeast Florida coast are normal.

READY FOR RACE

MIAMI, July 27.—(AP)—Doyle E. Carlton, candidate for the Senate seat held by the late Park Trammell, laid plans Friday for a quick campaign swing over the state as the Supreme Court ruled the Aug. 11 primary may be held.

FLORIDA'S NEXT SENATOR

Claude Pepper, unopposed Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, will be a visitor in Sanford tomorrow with headquarters at the Valdez Hotel where he will welcome his many friends in this section between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00 o'clock. He will also be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a Rotary luncheon at the Mayfair Hotel to which the members of other civic organizations are invited.

Indications today pointed toward a record crowd attending the Rotary luncheon tomorrow noon at the Mayfair Hotel where Claude Pepper, candidate for the United States Senate, will speak.

Reservations for the affair were being accepted today by E. E. Bludworth at the Touchton Drug Company. All who plan to attend should make their notification in advance.

In a statement to The Herald today Walter Coleman, president of the Kiwanis Club, said that Mr. Pepper is himself a Kiwanian and urged all local Kiwanians to attend the luncheon in Mr. Pepper's honor. Reservations, it was pointed out, should be made in advance through Dr. Bludworth at Touchton's Drug Store.

Civic clubs here have been extended an invitation to hear the candidate who is the only figure in the senatorial race for the seat vacated by the late Duncan U. Fletcher.

Mr. Pepper will receive callers in the Valdez Hotel Tuesday morning between 10 o'clock and noon. He has issued a special invitation to all Sanford citizens to meet him at this time.

B. B. Pope, president of the Sanford Rotary Club, has pointed out that tomorrow probably will be the last occasion on which Mr. Pepper will visit Sanford for some time, since his campaign will carry him to all sections of the state and will require practically his entire time before the election.

Mrs. Kullie Peaks will sing a soprano solo accompanied by Miss Mildred Nix on the piano.

One of the cases developed through an accident involving damage of two automobiles amounting to nearly $150. John Bracy, colored, was one of the drivers.

Others arrested were, A. M. Packard, Ansell Curtis and G. S. Maury.

John I. Watkins was booked on a charge of operating an automobile while he was under the influence of intoxicants.

Chief Deputy O. S. Estridge, Deputy R. J. Hinkson and Deputy M. C. Gordon made the arrests.

Thermometer Hits
96 Here Recording
Hottest Day In '36

A withering blast of heat which sent the thermometer bounding up to 96 yesterday gave Sanford and vicinity a slight taste of the drought and heat wave which the upper half of the nation has experienced.

City Weatherman Paxton said Sunday was the hottest day of the current summer season.

Different, however, than the parched regions of the north and mid-west, the mercury took a rapid drop last night after sunset when it fell to 76, making the heat not unbearable during sleeping hours.

Yesterday's torridness and week-end holiday sent Sanfordites scurrying to watering places nearby. Both Daytona Beach and Coronado Beach drew their quota, while fishing trips were not unpopular.

Gentle variable winds are predicted for today with the heat unabated, according to a U. S. Weather Bureau bulletin.

Dawson Continues
To Take Work Sheets

County Agent C. R. Dawson today said he will continue to accept work sheets for participation in the federal soil conservation program until the sheets are prepared for forwarding to Washington.

The office force of Mr. Dawson lately has been employed almost exclusively in preparing the papers for submission to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

PHYSICAL LIVING RECOMMENDATION

Learn to do well; seek comfort, relieve the oppressed, and the fatherless, plead for the poor.—Isaiah 1:17.

THE OLD DEALER

That old Georges, cowed and shrinking from the new, exotic thinking that is oozing over the surface of our regimented land!

That all patriots must holler at a neighbor's extra dollar, must distinguish Sin and Virtue in the difference of a Grand;

That at least an indiscretion if not actually a vice;

That the most admired heroes are the ones that top off seros from their incomes so a coconut's as bigger than a peanut;

She Asked For It

The hue and cry which is being raised over the dismissal of Eleanor Holm Jarrett from the American Olympic swimming team has its basis in the belief which many people share that winning the game is more important than the manner or method of winning.

In fact many a sportswriter has seen the analogy between the dismissal of backstroke champion and the support which President Lincoln gave his victorious General Grant whenever complaints were brought to him that the General was a heavy drinker.

However, there is a shade of difference between war and sports which it seems to us ought not to be overlooked. In war the only thing that counts at all is winning it. If a general can win victories, it doesn't matter much how he does it or what his personal conduct is.

But that is not true of sports. While it is important to win, and everyone likes to see his team victorious, that is not by any means the most important consideration. The thing which counts most of all is the making of men, and nowadays, women. That is why we have such things as football, baseball, and swimming teams, and that is why huge stadia, athletic fields, and swimming pools are built, often at public expense.

And in order to help further this drive toward better manhood and better womanhood, various athletic associations and sports committees have drawn up numerous rules and regulations which include not only the way for playing the game, but also the proper manner of conduct among the athletes outside of competition as well as during it.

Grantland Rice, who was one of America's greatest sportswriters, and one of its foremost sportsmen, wrote the following verse:

"And when the one Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, It's not whether you won or lost But how you played the game." And he used to preach that philosophy to athletes wherever he went, and though he always urged them to win and to play the very best game that was in them, he always warned them not to forget the rules of the game. To win, he would say, in violation of the rules, is no victory at all.

Raising Values In Lake

It seems that Karl Lehmann is causing almost as much trouble over in Lake county as he used to in Sanford. Apparently everywhere Karl goes he has the unhappy faculty of putting everybody to work, of making things happen, of helping business and increasing values.

"We were rather surprised recently," said the Eustis Lake Region the other day, "to hear a Eustis resident complain of the work Karl Lehmann was doing in Lake county as secretary of the County Chamber of Commerce. We asked the person what in particular he didn't like about Karl's official actions since he has held his present position with Lake county."

"We asked how he figured rising prices on grove property could be anything to hold against the Chamber of Commerce secretary. We learned that the fellow was in the market for a grove and the owner of the property had raised the price on him while he was trying to make up his mind whether or not to purchase. All we can say is: 'More power to you Karl! Keep up the good work!'"

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

There has been more building in the east end than for some years. Several new barns are going up now. Hand and Neal are building a fine barn on their Boardall Avenue farm. A. Dorner and C. Flowers are building barns on Celery Avenue.

CANDLELIGHT

"For the darling team and the skillful stroke; The ever-quickening stride; The ring of the stirrup, and the clash of the stick; And the rush of the furious ride; And the cheer when the ball through the goal is driven; By the steady hand and eye; Have a wild delight in themselves alone That can never grow old or die."

"These were great old days, Deet, weren't they?" said Mr. Wynham Gwynne to Mr. M. J. Deetwyler as he sat at a table piled high with bottles and newspaper clippings of Orlando's early polo team.

"Remember this horse!" Mr. Deetwyler called. Mr. Gwynne's attention to a beautiful color picture with a dapple grey coming down the field close on the ball.

"Yes, that's your Orlando Blitz," the crowd used to cheer for him. The two men best eagerly over the pictures, their eyes shining, old teammates on Orlando's polo squad thirty years ago.

"I was interested in the fact that their clothes had a sort of outdoor atmosphere about them—riding breeches, field boots with a white patch behind the chain, inside him—Mr. Gwynne in blue trousers and black boots. Both had that air of men who live a great deal in the open and the lean trim build of the person who exercises consistently. Both had brown eyes that slipped over a bit to the nasal side and grey hair. I asked Mr. Gwynne if his hair didn't used to be red, and he laughed and said 'No,' that it was golden brown; but Mr. Deetwyler thought it was at least 'strawberry red!'"

"I looked with interest at the tall, thin, dark-haired man of the country back in 1885 lured by the advertisements in the English papers of the Florida sports and citrus growing."

"Mr. Gwynne, you are my first Welshman—except the famous 'Taffy' in the nursery rhyme," I said.

"But that one was a thief," he smilingly protested. "Will you tell me about the beginning of polo in Orange county?"

"It was started in 1889 by a lot of young British boys in the Copeland district who went away to get the rules, and arranged for a polo field out in this section."

"Mr. Deetwyler," I asked, "when did you and Orlando Blitz come into the picture?"

"A bit later, Gwynne, you ought to tell Mr. Dean about your pony, 'Florida Boy,' that you bought for sixty dollars and trained him so well he was sold up at Camden for four hundred."

"That WAS a good horse!" Mr. Gwynne had that special look in his eyes that a horseman has when he recalls his favorite mount. The same look Mr. Deetwyler has for 'Orlando Blitz.'

"They were pretty strict about the size of the ponies then, weren't they? Wasn't fourteen two the limit?" I questioned, thinking of the amazing increase in size of the animals permitted in play today.

Mr. Deetwyler laughed. "I used to go around hunting for a big horse with low withers that would get in under the rails."

Mrs. Gwynne came in with two silver polo trophies and said, "I wonder if you would like a glimpse at these?"

One was a living cup won by Mr. Gwynne in a Camden match in 1904. The other was inscribed, "Deerol Challenge Cup, presented by David P. Mitchell—1927—to the Jacksonville Polo Club, 1927—presented by the Jacksonville Club to Orlando."

Mr. Gwynne said, "In 1904, the Orlando Club discovered a polo team in Jacksonville that was kept up by a wealthy player, the late David Mitchell, so the local club challenged them to come to Copeland and play the first matches. They came and beat the local team. After this, we were determined to have a large field. Mr. Isaac Hoppe had a one-half mile race track and entered the Orlando Club's large field on the East—where 'Polo Field' which was adopted. The first match with Camden was played there."

of Commerce now. Harry and Mary Beaman, Gene Deetworth, and Mrs. M. P. T. Smith, it should make a long list if I named them all.

On yes, in the later days of Orlando polo, it is pretty little derbyed girl, now to go to the game with her English nose and glasses. She was Julia and Mrs. Fitchon Warlow's daughter, Grace, who grew up to be Mrs. Laila Day.

It was a big event for Orlando when the local team journeyed to Camden for a match game and stopped at Mr. Krumboltz's Jersey Kirkwood Hotel, where the guests were hiding clothes for breakfast and lunch and evening clothes for dinner.

Mr. Gwynne and Mr. Deetwyler were both strong members of the regular squad—no substitutes these two, and from the old newspaper I read, they must have done some fast and furious riding and some accurate placing of the ball between the goal posts. The Orlando Reporter-Star of March, 1904, carried a story with a Camden date line telling of the Orlando club's showing against Camden. (Mr. Deetwyler didn't happen to be on this particular trip.)

"The scene was picturesque in the extreme, the Camden players in their blue shirts and the Floridians in scarlet, dashing about on their smart little ponies, which seemed to enter as much into the game as the players, Orlando received a hearty welcome and every good play made by one of the visitors was warmly applauded. Captain Gwynne's remarkable play was the subject of an evocation."

"The Orlando line-up—Seth Woodruff (1), D. C. Fell (2), E. Cotton (3), W. P. Gwynne, captain (4). . . . It looked like a score for Orlando when, as the ball was thrown in, Woodruff took it with three long drives half the field's length. . . . Highly spectacular playing by Fell and Woodruff and Cotton of the visiting team brought out cheers of applause, but Burstow (of Camden) rapped the ball away from his own goal. At this point, Gwynne, by daring riding and sensational playing carried the ball unaided for a goal."

The players on the early Orlando teams, both occasional and regular, in addition to those named above were: Walter Cary-Eaves, Harold Bourne, Allan Pirie, A. E. Adams, Charles Sibley, James Magruder, Jr., James Laughlin, and James Calder.

"What kind of uniforms did you wear?" I asked because "I Love A Parade," I wonder if you have just a piece of one left that I could see?"

Mrs. Gwynne very obligingly brought in the loveliest scarlet satin blouse and smilingly told me, "We used this one for a gypsy costume once for a Hosalid Club play."

"What kind of helmets?" I asked.

Mr. Deetwyler replied, "We had the traditional white pith helmet, but in the early days, we didn't have any. We just took the rap on the head!"

I glanced at some of Mr. Deetwyler's pictures of the games and asked him about a group of ladies on the side lines. "Why, that one is Miss Mary Howard, and that's Miss Maggie Hart. An this one is Miss Ella Slemmons."

As I leafed over the book to later Orlando days, I found a young lady in black riding toge that was Miss Roberta Beacham—now Mrs. Gerry Rabbo.

I somehow felt as if I had been there, too—back in the early days of Orlando when Mrs. Douglas Elberse (who used to be Miss Chesley) rode in her divided skirt on her calico pony, "High Ball," when Jim Loughlin's horse left him at the first stride and the horse finished second in the race, when debutante young Hughston used to gather at the English Club house at the northwest corner of Pine and Main Streets, and when the thing to do was to ride a bicycle built for two and to Con-way for the polo over a special bridge built for this purpose by Mr. Paul Clark.

The talk flowed on—and the quiet room was filled with the drumming of hoof beats and excited shouts of polo ponies long since dead. As I listened, I felt myself being carried down the road on "Orlando Blitz" or "Florida Boy," the dash of a galloping horse, the smell of a galloping horse, the blow of a can-hammer to another, the clatter of a mallet on the ball, the shouting of the crowd, the clatter of a mallet on the ball, the shouting of the crowd, the clatter of a mallet on the ball, the shouting of the crowd.

has distinct hallmarks which warrant its rating as sound business for your bank.

Commercial loans differ from "capital loans" which remain fixed in the borrower's business for long or indefinite periods. Obviously loans of this type are not the proper field for commercial banking operations. It is, however, the sound, normal function of commercial bank credit to aid the current and seasonal turnover of industrial, agricultural and merchandising activities in the community.

Jeanette MacDonald Renders Nine Songs

"San Francisco" brings Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald together as a co-starring team for the first time.

The musical romance gives Miss MacDonald her widest scope in vocal numbers in her screen career—a total of nine presentations ranging from a solemn to the most beautiful operatic arias.

Clark Gable returns to the vigorous type of role that first elevated him to stardom as a blustering Barbary Coast gambling baron who has no faith in anything but his own power and his charm over women.

Co-starring with Miss MacDonald and Gable is Spencer Tracy in his most unusual role, that of a priest; a distinguished supporting cast includes Jack Holt, Jessie Ralph, Ted Healy, Shirley Ross, Margaret Irvine, Harold Lloyd, and Kenneth Harlan.

"San Francisco" is laid in the colorful period of 1906-06, its life of gaiety and song, its Barbary Coast prior to and through the disaster that leveled the famous Golden Gate city thirty years ago.

Among Miss MacDonald's vocal numbers are:

The "Jewel Song" from "Faust"; musical excerpts throughout the "Faust" opera; the "Prison Trio" with Mephisto and Faust; an aria from "La Traviata"; Love Me and the World is Mine; "My Heart is Free"; Gounod's "Ave Maria"; "Nearer My God to Thee"; Battle Hymn of the Republic; and "San Francisco". Other promising musical features of the period are contributed by Shirley Ross and Ted Healy in the quaint setting of a Barbary Coast resort.

The picture follows closely in the wake of the tremendous success scored by "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," and comes to the screen as the third of Miss MacDonald's films directed by W. S. Van Dyke.

The story deals with a homeless girl who finds herself in the boisterous atmosphere of the Barbary Coast and who rises from an entertainer in Clark Gable's gambling resort and cafe to great heights as a famous opera star in San Francisco's historic grand opera house.

Elaborate settings are typical of the period and reproduce many of the famous structures destroyed in the 1906 disaster. The catastrophe scenes showing the destruction of the city by fire and earthquakes are said to be the most thrilling shots of their kind ever recorded in motion pictures.

Miss Claire Zachry Weds C. L. Raulerson

Miss Virginia Claire Zachary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown Zachary of this city, became the bride of Charles L. Raulerson, son of L. M. Raulerson and the late Mrs. Raulerson of Okechobee, in a simple ceremony performed today at noon by Dean Melville Edward Johnson in the chapel of the Episcopal St. Luke's Cathedral in Orlando. The ceremony was attended by relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple.

Mrs. Raulerson wore a grey embroidered marquisette dress fashioned along tailored lines with a short peplum marking the waistline. The bodice was made shirtwaist style and was adorned with a row of small crystal buttons. Her hat, shoes, and other accessories were in grey and she had a shoulder corsage of Tallahassee roses and ferns.

The bride was born in Portsmouth, Va., but came to Sanford in early childhood. She is a graduate of Sanford High School and has an A. B. degree from the Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee where she was a member of the Delta Delta Delta social sorority. For the past several years she has been employed in Jacksonville and New York City.

Mr. Raulerson was born and reared in Okechobee and was graduated from the Okechobee High School. He attended the University of Florida where he received a B. S. B. A. degree and was a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, Blue Key, national honorary leadership fraternity, Seaboard and Blade, and the Pirate Club. He is now manager of the Raulerson Department Store in Okechobee.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for a trip down the East Coast. After Aug. 15 they will be at home to their friends in Okechobee.

U. S. Refugees Flee Madrid; War Continues

Amador Fernandez, labor leader, surrounded and attacked Oviedo, important center, where the rebel garrison was strongly entrenched.

The farmers army, loyal to the government, attacked Oviedo upon expiration of a 72 hours' ultimatum to the rebels to surrender.

The battle in the northern mountain passes of the Guadarrama Range was so vital to the government's control of Madrid that War Minister General Castello departed for the Somosierra Pass to direct operations. The tide of battle there surged from one side to the other with the outcome in doubt but the govern-

Townsend Decides To Throw Support To William Lemke

BOSTON, July 27.—(AP)—Dr. Thomas E. Townsend told followers of his $200-a-month pension movements here and at Worcester Saturday that he would throw his support to Representative William Lemke, Union party candidate for president.

The Lemke endorsement, he said, embraced a merger of the Townsend and National Union for Social Justice groups and "dissatisfied Republicans and Democrats" into one-third party movement.

"I am going to vote for the man who agrees with our plans for ending the depression, for the man who favors monetary reform and a re-distribution of wealth. That man is William Lemke."

Townsend addressed 3,000 followers at the Worcester Memorial auditorium and more than 5,000 at the arena here.

He told them "this may be our last chance to get together and demonstrate the worth of the ballot as the Democratic form of government is fading from the face of the earth."

Other speakers at the gatherings were Dr. Clinton Wurster of New York and the Rev. Gerald L. S. Smith, successor to the late Senator Huey Long in the share-the-wealth movement.

Search Continues For Missing Craft

TAMPA, July 27.—(AP)—Although little hope remained, Coast Guard craft today ceaselessly combed the Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico for the motorship Numco, missing since it left Grand Cayman Island for Tampa July 4 with 22 persons aboard.

Finding of oil drums, charred wreckage and a life raft only heightened the mystery since none of these objects came up from the sea could be positively connected with the vanished ship.

The life raft was found on Largo in the Florida keys but Captain Sam Henning whose wife and child were on the Numco viewed it and said he could not identify it as belonging to the ship.

The Coast Guard had not been able to locate the wrecked derelict sighted by Capt. H. C. Hogue of the fishing smack Barbara July 18 some 70 miles west of Tampa. However, persons familiar with the Numco said the description did not fit the motorship.

This summer's season of popular concerts in Symphony Hall, Boston, was the most successful in history.

Lookouts Drop Two Games To DeLand, 6-2

Locals Hang Up New Record For Twin Killings

DELAND, July 27.—Taking both games of a double-header, the DeLand Reds stretched their winning streak to four games here yesterday afternoon at the expense of the Sanford Lookouts, 6 to 2, and 5 to 2. In capping the first game, the Reds snapped Don Torres' winning streak at five games, rapping him for 13 hits, and then administered to him his first league loss in the abbreviated night cap.

A new league record for double plays was established by the two clubs with a total of nine being made, five by the Lookouts infield and four by the Red infielders. Sanford's feat of five in one loss than the National League record of six.

The second game was devoid of twin killings. With the exception of a few hits being given, played "fast, but not defensive" ball, robbing a number of batters of hits, and clearing the decks when hits would have meant scores.

Jim McEllis, working the first contest, kept the Sanford hits well scattered with exception of the fourth inning when three consecutive singles brought in the first Lookout score. Another was added in the ninth when home on a wild throw to first to catch Coppie.

An error, a double and a single ended the Red, two in the first of the opener, two more hits and another error accounted for a tally in the second. In the fifth and eighth frames, the Reds grouped five more hits, two of them doubles, for three more counts.

Tory Tension, new DeLand hurler, ran into trouble from the start of the night cap. Taking advantage to two bases on balls, a walk and wild pitch, the Lookouts walked one in the first frame without getting a hit.

After the first two batters to face Tension in the second frame singled, Babe Dunth went to the mound with none away, and stopped the Lookouts without a run.

The Lookouts bunched their two hits of Dunth in the fifth to get their second and final tally of the contest.

Islander's Lead Is Reduced To Three Contests

Gainesville Hands Daytona Beach A 7 To 3 Trouncing

DAYTONA BEACH, July 27.—Losing their seventh straight game, the Daytona Beach Islanders had their Florida State League lead cut to three games yesterday as they bowed to Gainesville's Q-men by 7-3.

Although the Q-men could get only eight hits off three Daytona Beach pitchers, they managed to hit safely when hits were needed and capitalized on three Islander errors for the victory.

The visitors scored six runs off Hank Gornick. In the third frame on a double, three singles, an error and three bases on balls. Another run came in the seventh off Brown on a double, a single and an error by Catcher Gene Ballek, who threw the ball into the outfield in an attempt to catch Bevell stealing second.

The Islanders could get only seven hits off Padgett.

Rally In Ninth Responsible For Saint's Victory

New Azalea Manager Makes Debut Losing 5-2 Mixup

PALATKA, July 27.—Pushing three runs across the plate in the ninth inning, the Saints posted a 5-2 win over the Azaleas here yesterday to mark Teen Gallegos' debut as local manager with a loss.

Joe Sparkman worked the route for the Azaleas while Weigel, Johnson and Butland each took a turn on the slab for the Saints.

A double, an infield out and an error gave the Saints the first run of the tilt in the second frame and they added another in the fifth on a miscue, a sacrifice and McGowan's single.

Palatka tallied both its runs and chased Weigel to the showers in the last of the fifth on five consecutive singles.

Eleanor's Target In Olympic Fight

BERLIN, July 27.—(AP)—Cablegrams and a box of handkerchiefs showered in on Eleanor Halm Jarrett, ousted Olympian, yesterday as the pretty backstroke champion grinned and said she would stay in Berlin awhile.

With echoes of her banishment on charges of shipboard training infractions and her counter-charges of "misconduct" on the part of Olympic officials still bouncing around Berlin, Mrs. Jarrett decided to remain for the games, pending definite acceptance of a writing offer from an American source.

Visiting the Olympic pool for the first time—as sightseer, not swimmer, she debated her future course. Among the offers she received was one for an American vaudeville tour.

Saratoga Is Ready To Spring From 11-Months' Sleep

Seventy-Second Season Scheduled To Begin Wednesday

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—The August butterfly that is Saratoga Springs was almost free of its 11-month's cocoon today as turf officials set the stage for the seventy-second renewal of the upstate racing season Wednesday.

All of its traditional color was evolving rapidly while a community of an ordinary 15,000 made ready to welcome the racing clan and become before race time the milling center for an estimated 40,000 or more.

With the Empire City meeting closing Tuesday afternoon and Arlington at Chicago next Saturday, both horse and human population will be augmented further by late arrivals.

The status of Saratoga's hotels, the Grand Union, the United States, and the Gibson Putnam on the spa reservation, as well as less pretentious houses were "on their toes" for their single month "year."

Signs of New York merchants opening "Saratoga branches" blossomed beneath hotel marquees, antique horse-drawn rigs made their seasonal appearances and taxis and newboys prepared for the rush with the arrival of the "Saratoga Special" Tuesday night.

Saratoga turf officials likewise were ready.

Irate Fans Down American Umpire In Bottle Battle

CHICAGO, July 26.—(AP)—In a riotous double-header that saw Umpire Bill Summers felled and injured by one of more than a hundred missiles hurled upon the field by enraged fans, the New York Yankees overpowered the Chicago White Sox twice yesterday, 12 to 3 and 11 to 8, to increase their league lead to nine and one-half games over the Cleveland Indians.

Summers was injured just as he was about to call a foul on a batter. He was taken to the hospital and is expected to make a full recovery.

U. S. Athletes Ban Salute Of Germany

OLYMPIC VILLAGE, BERLIN, July 27.—(AP)

There will be no more "Heil Hitler" or stiff-backed Nazi salutes around the American camp in the Olympic Village—at the express request of the Americans.

On the first day at the camp, the air was filled with both. Every time an athlete looked up, he received the salute and the "Heil."

Commissioner Keneaw M. Landis, who was in a rail box, authorized an announcement over the public address system an inning later that his office was offering $5000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the assailant.

High Winds Expected To Hit Miami Late In Afternoon; Relief Units Ready

Warnings Flying On South Coast Vessels Are Urged To Take Cover As Storm Advances

JACKSONVILLE, July 28. (AP) — South Florida, from Fort Pierce to Key West along Atlantic coast, today braced itself for a tropical storm advancing out of the Bahama Islands.

The Weather Bureau said the disturbance still is increasing in intensity but probably has not yet reached hurricane force with winds of more than 70 miles an hour.

Forecasters said the storm would cause high winds around 7 p.m. beginning about noon and would reach the extreme South-east Florida Coast near or South of Miami during the latter part of the afternoon. Northeast storm warnings were hoisted from Fort Pierce to Key West.

Vessels off the coast were urged to take to cover.

South Florida cities made ready for the approaching disturbance as radio stations and newspapers broadcast warnings to all communities.

The Coast Guard and permanent relief organizations went to isolated spots and small boats which might not be advised otherwise. Public and private preparations included the modification of relief workers, medical supplies, food and blankets.

Scattered showers fell during the morning.

Reports from Nassau, capital of the Bahama Islands, said no damage was known in the islands. The highest wind recorded at Nassau was 45 miles an hour. The colonial government sent a boat to investigate the condition of the sponge fleet off the islands.

Bimini reported moderate weather. Barometers south of Miami began a slow fall during the morning. Those north of Miami remained about steady.

Park Avenue Discussion Is Opened Again

Commissioners Will Canvass Residents For Reactions To Business Building

A movement to canvass residents on Park Avenue between 10th Street and 14th Street was voted by City Commissioners last night in an effort to determine whether the area should be opened to business enterprises.

The decision followed a formal denial of a request by G. W. Spencer for a permit to erect a filling station at 13th Street and the Avenue.

Last week the Commission passed on the request, saying that businesses would not be sanctioned in the section unless a decided majority of the residents were favorable to the proposal.

One of the lesser known facts of the City government system was brought in the discussions, namely that there are no existing regulations in the charter which prohibit the erection of filling stations or garages outside the fire limits without the approval of the City Planning Board.

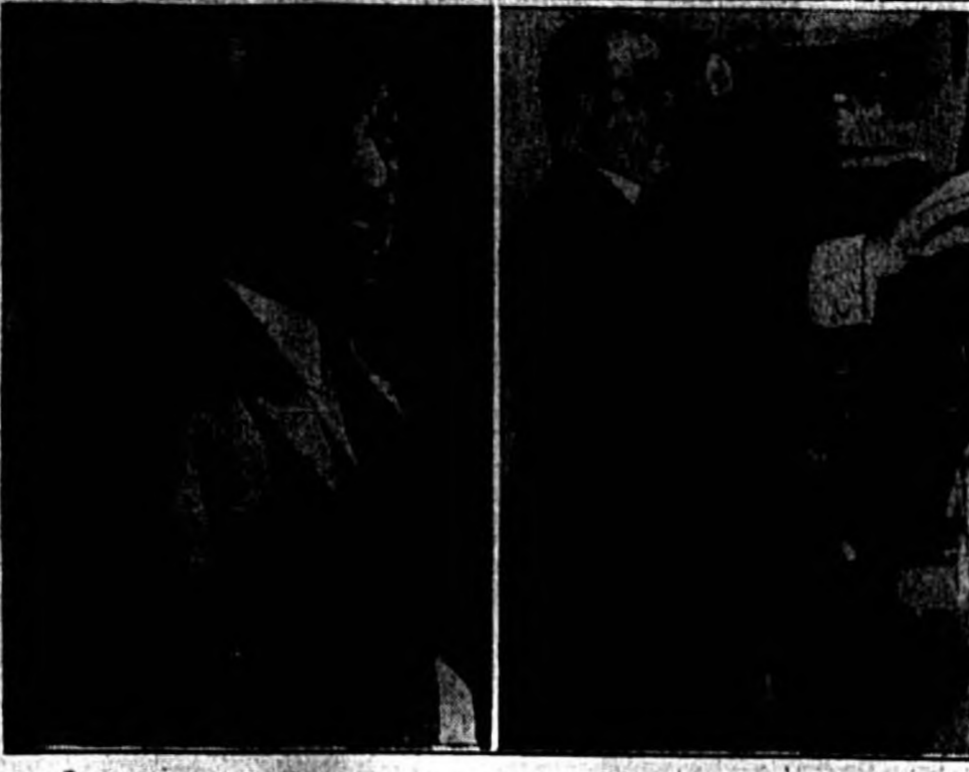

Commissioner Laffler proposed the canvass for public opinion, reiterating a desire not to act against the desires of the majority. The move was officially seconded by Commissioner Duplee.

The Commission received for consideration estimates of bids for repairs on the Chamber of Commerce building but took no action toward assuming responsibility of financing the $350 program.

Arthur Branan and Walter M. Haynes appeared for the civic body.

City Clerk Frank Lamson reported that $1,300 is available for payment to the bondholders' committee, and he was authorized to dispose of the sum in accordance with an agreement between the committee and the City.

COUGHLIN FEARS REPUTATION OF FARM DEBTS

"If something will not be done forthwith to aid the farmer, he will be forced to repudiate his debts and those who engendered the debts," Father Charles E. Commissioners Select Favored City Projects

Magnolia Avenue Widening Placed At Head Of List

With the County Planning Board today scheduled to decide on most desirable projects for the County, City Commissioners last night proposed what is considered the most necessary endeavor for the municipality.

Widening Magnolia Avenue and Second Street was placed at the head of the list. The baseball clubhouse and grandstand came second. A sewer project was third and rehabilitation of the pier was fourth.

Another project remaining on the list is that of the golf course whose reconditioning is sought.

Otto Caldwell, Henry Watson and G. W. Spencer all spoke in favor of expending sufficient money on the course to whip it into shape.

Mr. Caldwell asked that the project be lifted to a prominent position on the City's list.

The board last night approved two more proposed progressive measures to be financed partly by governmental funds. One was the baseball project which would require an expenditure of $7,692 with the City providing about $50 cash.

Further, the Murray president wrote that Mr. McCracken was one of the outstanding students in his college, participating in virtually every phase of campus life.

He was quarterback on the football team and took an active part in all other sports. He was editor-in-chief of the institution's year book and the organizer of a student government.

County And City Plan Discussion Of Tax Problem

Attorneys Will Talk Over Proposal To Name Receivers

The County and the City were scheduled to have conferred this afternoon on a plan devised to insure the collection of delinquent taxes on property which produces revenue.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson reported to City Commissioners last night that County Attorney E. F. Housholder was ready to discuss the proposal.

The plan set forth some time ago would authorize the appointment of a receiver for holders which fell under certain stipulations. Rentals collected would be divided equally among the governmental units holding unpaid tax bills.

Attorney Wilson pointed out the desirability of working in collaboration with the County and vice versa—since either unit which would begin independent action for tax collections could suffer intervention from the other unit.

In previous discussions it has been set forth that revenue-producing property, on which taxes are delinquent, create unfair competition for landowners who attend promptly to their tax bills.

Mr. Wilson last night said he had given considerable study to the possibility of naming receivers, adding that he has yet to find anything in the proposal which might be contrary to law.

The City Attorney was to have discussed the plan at 2 P. M. today during a special meeting of the County Commission.

New Senator Expects To Get Reimbursements For Growers Hurt By Fruit Fly

Pepper Is Called 'Man Of Destiny'

Large Crowd Attends Rotary Luncheon In Honor Of Pepper

"I intend to do everything in my power to secure a Mediterranean fruit fly appropriation," said Claude Pepper, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, speaking to a dining room full of Rotarians and their guests at the Mayfair Hotel today.

Mr. Pepper was referring to the destruction of fruit fly agents during the fruit fly campaign of 1928 and 1929 and the efforts to secure reimbursements for farmers and growers which thus far have proved ineffectual.

"I am also wholeheartedly in favor of the canal project connecting the St. Johns River with the Indian River and I intend to do everything I can to secure an appropriation not only for the construction of this canal, but also for the further improvement of the St. Johns River.

Mr. Pepper said that he proposed to work in close harmony with Florida's other senator, and all her representatives, and said that he had already been in contact with some of them, promising them his support for all worthwhile projects and seeking their co-operation in doing so.

He said that when he reached the Senate he hopes to inaugurate a new custom which would have a counterpart in such fellowship gatherings as the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. He suggests that Florida's two senators, and its five representatives meet together at least once a week to discuss the problems of each one of them, and to co-ordinate a sound working program for all of Florida.

Mr. Pepper digressed here long enough to pay a little special tribute to Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Langley who were among the luncheon guests. Mr. Pepper said that they used to be close friends when he was a little boy in Camp Hill, Ala., and he urged his newer friends here in Sanford to find out about his past from Dr. and Mrs. Langley.

Reminding his audience that he had come from a humble family which could never contribute much to his support, Mr. Pepper stated that he had worked his way through college, the University of Alabama, and Harvard Law School, by working in coal mines, and waiting on tables.

These experiences, he said, he enjoyed, because waiting on tables, he always got the best of the food, and working in a coal mine made him feel so much better after he had had a shower.

Government Plans Bombing Raids To Rout Rebellionists

(By The Associated Press)

Spain set out today with determined bombing flights and mountain raiders to hasten the demise of the 11-day rebellion.

Artillery also was wheeled into action to crush the Fascist garrisons, particularly in the north. One report said rebel holdouts in the Loyola Barracks, near San Sebastian, surrendered unconditionally following a long siege.

Fascist insurgents at Oviedo apparently are hanging on to the garrison but the government prepared a new bombardment.

New outbreaks of civil war rocked mountain barriers to Madrid itself. Both sides claimed victory. Loyalists asserted a daring raid blasted the insurgent ammunition dumps out of existence. Rebel headquarters announced the capture of a mountain village in bloody fighting with hundreds dead and wounded.

General Emilio Mola, Fascist chief, predicted his men would reach Madrid Thursday or Friday and said a "strong military dictatorship" would follow.
