

6 Sanford Families Play It Cool In FP&L Experiment

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

By late September, more than 500 homeowners across the state will be getting free air conditioning systems as part of a Florida Power and Light (FP&L) Co. experiment designed to provide the utility with hard data on the efficiency of new or upgraded air conditioning systems.

As part of the two-year, $1.6 million project that will begin Sept. 30, new air conditioning units or more and better ceiling insulation will be installed free by FP&L in 504 homes around the state. A total of 230 homes will be located in south Florida, the remaining ones will be scattered from the Volusia County line north to the Florida-Georgia line.

Bruce Burger, district manager for FP&L, said approximately six of the test homes will be located in the Sanford area.

The project, according to its developer Nelson Hawk, should help FP&L customers learn how to cut their electricity costs. "We think this experiment is the best way to get high efficiency cooling and heating information to all of our customers," said Hawk.

Some 216 of the 504 homes will serve as the experiment's control group with no changes being made with the exception of outside monitoring equipment being installed to measure monthly kilowatt usage.

The remaining homes will be equipped with higher efficiency air conditioning units, increased ceiling insulation and a combination of standard and special heat pumps.

"The heat pumps will function in two ways," said FP&L spokesperson Stacy Shaw.

"In the summer, the heat pumps will pull hot air from the house to keep it cooler and in the winter the pumps will pull outside air in to keep the house warmer.

Ms. Shaw said that for three-quarters of the homes participating in the project, present air conditioning modifications will be very slight.

She added that the vast majority of customer homes used in the experiment are five years old or older, which has prompted some opposition to the experiment from a Miami contractor who says the idea is a waste of time.

Frank Palen, a Miami-based contractor who happens to be the former Energy Chairman for the Miami Builders Association, says the FP&L program is poorly conceived and that FP&L could get more for its money by including in the test group homes under construction instead of relying solely on older homes.

But Shaw points out that the vast majority of FP&L customer-homeowners live in homes more than five years old.

Shaw said the experiment coincides with regulations passed down in 1978 by the Florida Public Service Commission which stated that utility companies are required to do field testing to monitor the effects of energy efficiency and conservation measures.

"The experiment will help us plan for the future," said Ms. Shaw. "With Florida growing as fast as it is that means utilities have to grow too.

"To give you an example, last year FP&L grew by 3 percent. The national average for utility growth is a little less than 1.5 percent annually," she said.

"We're looking at ways to show people how to save electricity. It helps us, too. The fewer plants we have to build to keep up with the demand for utilities, the lower the cost of the utilities will be reflected in what customers pay."

Shaw added that the identity of most of the homeowners involved is not being released because in order for the experiment to be effective, families involved in the program should retain a normal lifestyle and not be overly conscious of the energy monitoring steps.

Sanford Reviews Dual Tax Report

The Sanford City Commission is scheduled tonight to discuss a new report which documents the existence of double taxation in Seminole County and claims it cost municipal taxpayers $2.4 million in fiscal 1981-82.

In addition, the report, delivered to Seminole's seven cities last week, claims that because of the way the county "juggles" its transportation accounts cost city governments another $500,000 last year.

The commission will take up the issue at its 7 p.m. meeting at City Hall, 300 N. Park Ave.

State law requires the county to split with the cities the resulting revenues from property taxation it receives for transportation.

The report, prepared by Kelton & Associates of DeLand, says that the county has reduced its tax rate for transportation so that it wouldn't have to refund large amounts to the cities. And that the county uses other revenues, revenues not gained from property taxes, to fund its transportation needs.

Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles is recommending that the Sanford City Commission accept the report, forward a copy to the County Commission and request a meeting of city and county personnel to jointly review the report.

Knowles has volunteered to meet with the county staff to review areas in which municipal residents pay county taxes but receive little or no services for their money.

Seminole's seven cities have threatened a lawsuit over the issue.

Miss Florida Deanna Pitman crowns Miss Sanford Catherine Stewart.

Deanna Crowns Successor

By DORIS DIETRICH
PEOPLE Editor

Miss Florida, Deanna Pitman Sunday made her first public appearance since she was arrested last month on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Miss Pitman crowned her successor to the Miss Sanford title — Catherine Jean Stewart — Sunday at the Woman's Club of Sanford. Miss Pitman, the former Miss Sanford, became Miss Florida on June 25 at Orlando's Bob Carr Auditorium.

A talented concert pianist, Miss Stewart is the manager of the men's furnishings department of Burdines, Altamonte Springs. She is a 1980 graduate of the University of Florida and hopes to earn a master's of education degree at the University of Central Florida.

A confident Miss Pitman has stated flatly that she plans on going to Atlantic City in September to become Miss America.

Before she does, however, she must appear in court Sept. 13.

She was arrested following a single-car accident in Altamonte Springs. See MISS, Page 3A

Voters

Record Numbers Sign Up; Turnout Is Called 'Pitiful'

Seminole County, with 74,653 registered voters, has the largest number of voters eligible to cast ballots in history.

All that number will be able to vote in the Sept. 7 first primary, but the total is still "pitiful" in the opinion of county Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce.

About this time last year, Seminole County had a larger number of voters — 76,160 — but there was no countywide election in 1981. The number was quickly diminished to 70,000 when the voter rolls were purged of those who had not voted in any recent election or had moved out of the county.

During the six days the books registration books have been open this month, 1,044 persons had their names added to the voters rolls. A total of 746 persons registered at Mrs. Bruce's courthouse office and branch office in the Interstate Mall, Altamonte Springs.

Another 298 registered at the City Halls in Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Lake Mary, Longwood, Winter Springs, and Oviedo.

Mrs. Bruce said, however, many more should have registered. "We usually have to add two extra workers at the branch office the last three weeks before the books close," she said, adding additional workers were needed there only last week.

Mrs. Bruce said that while the registration books are closed for those who wanted to vote in the Sept. 7 and Oct. 5 primaries, they are open for those wishing to register for the Nov. 2 general election.

Again, voters for that election may register at both of Mrs. Bruce's offices and at the city halls in the six cities. The books for the general election will close Oct. 2.

The Democratic primary election ballot Sept. 7 will contain the following races: for Governor and Lt. Governor — Bob Graham and Wayne Mixson; Fred Kuhn and Jeffrey Latham; Robert "Bob" Kunast and Gary Bryant.

For state Attorney General: Jim Smith and Fred Goldstein.

For State Comptroller: Gerald Lewis and Ralph Haben.

State Senator, District II — Cary Barnhart and Florence M. Hunter.

Only registered Democrats may vote in these contests.

The Republican ballot will include the following races: For U.S. Senator — David H. Bloodworth, Van B. Poole and George Snyder; For Governor and Lt. Governor: I. A. "Skip" Bafalis and Leo Callahan; Vernon David and Wendell David.

For Florida House of Representatives, District 34: Jim Lavigne and Carl Selph.

Only Republicans may vote in this primary. In addition, there are three non-partisan contests on the ballot. All voters regardless of party designation may cast ballots in these contests.

The candidates are: Circuit Judge Group I — Kenneth M. Leffler and Irvin Gussow.

Group 3 — Edward M. Jackson, Eugene Collier, Jere Lober and Franklin Kelley.

School Board, District 5 — Allan Keeth, Jean Bryant, and Kenneth Patrick.

Grindle's Campaign Fund Far Exceeds Opponent's

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

For eight years, State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, represented much of Seminole County in the Florida House of Representatives. But he has set his sights on the state Senate this year, leaving the field open for a pair of political neophytes.

Seeking the seat in District 35, which includes portions of Altamonte Springs, Longwood, Lake Mary, and most of Sanford as well as a portion of Brevard County are Bettye Smith, D-Sanford, and Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs.

Grindle, a businessman, has been active in the Republican Party for years, and once ran unsuccessfully for the state Senate.

Mrs. Smith, a wife, mother and part-time instructor at Seminole Community College and the University of Central Florida, is making her maiden try for public office.

Mrs. Smith's total campaign fund is $4,255 including a $3,000 loan she has made to her campaign and $1,000 contributed by her husband, Dr. Robert Smith. Other contributors included: Thomas S. McDonald, Sanford, $100; Robert E. Daehn, Sanford, $30; Anne Wallace, Sanford, $100; and Dr. Ervin Wahnish, Orlando, $25. Her only expenditure has been the $600 qualifying fee.

Grindle has collected $18,103.50 including in-kind services and materials valued at $933.50. He has spent $4,057.67.

Grindle's Orlando contributors include: Martha Walton, $25; Schenck Co., $300; Drummond Lumber and Hardware, $170 in-kind; Akerman Senterfitt, & Eidson, $250; Mills & Nebraska, $100 in-kind; Motor Home Sales, $500; Riestler & Associates, Political action committees have become a major force in American politics. In Florida, their power is also being felt in this election year. In legislative races in particular, political action committees sponsored by interests ranging from homebuilders to bankers to organized labor are contributing sums ranging from $200 to $1,000, the maximum anyone can donate to a campaign for an individual election.

Hattaway Falling Behind Jennings In Fund Raising

State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, and State Sen. Toni Jennings, R-Orlando, will vie in the Nov. 2 general election for the District 15 seat in the Florida Senate.

The district comprises the section of Seminole County west of U.S. 17-92 and south of State Road 436 and portions of Orange County.

Hattaway, 45, is a native of Seminole County and has served four consecutive two-year terms in the state House of Representatives. Miss Jennings, 33, a native of Orlando, has served in the state House two terms and in the Florida Senate for two years.

Hattaway has received $1,050 in campaign contributions and spent $750, including his qualifying fee of $600.

Contributors include: Georgia-Pacific Corp., Portland, Ore., $200; Car and Truck Rental and Leasing Committee for Good Government, Tallahassee, $150; Beer Distributors Committee for Good Government, Tallahassee, $500; and Frank M. Ford, Orlando, $200.

Miss Jennings has received $21,240 in contributions and spent $3,730.31.

NATION IN BRIEF

Poor Economics Costs Reagan Support: Poll

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A lack of confidence in President Reagan's economic program has resulted in the defection of more than a third of the voters who backed him in 1980, a poll shows.

A Los Angeles Times poll published Sunday indicated that those who voted for Reagan in 1980, only 49 percent said they wanted him renominated by the Republican Party in 1984. A total of 35 percent said they wanted the GOP to dump him.

The findings, according to the poll, suggest a new political alignment may be developing, with many members of the Democratic coalition who drifted to the Republicans in 1980 now drifting again. Disillusioned by difficult economic conditions, their votes are up for grabs and a mass defection could cost the Republicans the presidency in 1984.

Grandma Mafia Indicted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Nearly a dozen middle-aged women who "sort of slid" into drug trafficking for the excitement have been indicted in a $25 million money laundering ring dubbed the "Grandma Mafia," federal officials say.

At least four of those indicted are still fugitives. The rest are awaiting trial.

The drug ring operated up and down California as well as outside the state, with most of an estimated $25 million in laundered cocaine profits — from at least two major drug operations — coming from San Francisco, officials said.

Hinckley Hearing Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government prosecutors who unsuccessfully tried to prove John W. Hinckley Jr. was sane when he shot President Reagan had to show today that Hinckley was and still is insane enough to stay hospitalized.

A federal jury acquitted Hinckley by reason of insanity and he was sent to St. Elizabeths mental hospital 50 days ago. Under law, Hinckley is entitled to ask to be released 50 days after his commitment.

Since Hinckley is not contesting the government position that he should be committed to St. Elizabeths indefinitely, the hearing was expected to be brief.

Reagan Lobbies For Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, warned that his economic program is jeopardized by a split among fellow Republicans, faced a new round of lobbying today in a stepped-up drive for passage of a $98.9 billion tax hike.

The president views the tax increase as a necessary evil. Its failure to pass, he warns, would add $100 billion to deficits through 1983 and cripple efforts to bring down high interest rates standing in the way of economic recovery.

However, Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., has led charges by conservatives who argue the increase — far from being essential to recovery — is inconsistent with last year's tax cut and the theory of "supply-side economics" Reagan embraces.

Rate Hike Longwood Eyes Water And Sewer Increases

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

The Longwood City Commission is expected to vote on a proposed hike in water and sewer rates at its regular 7:30 meeting tonight at City Hall, 301 W. Warren Ave.

The proposed rate hike will come following a public hearing on the issues. If approved, the increase in utilities would be effective Oct. 1.

With an eye on expanding the city water plant and making itself sufficient, the city is proposing to increase current $9 a month sewer rates to $12 and current $3.64 water rates to $4.

The current minimum fees are based on the first 5,000 gallons of sewage and the first 4,000 gallons of water.

The water-sewer rates would be computed on a graduated scale — meaning the more a customer used, the greater the bill.

The proposed increase was approved last month by the commission pending language changes in the ordinances to reflect the graduated increase. At that meeting the commission agreed the proposed rate hike should be placed before city residents in a public hearing.

In other business dealing with utilities, the commission will consider adoption of a resolution to deny a request by Florida Power Corporation to eliminate municipal service rate schedules.

If adopted, the resolution would be sent to the Public Service Commission.

Florida Power Corporation's municipal rate means about a 15 percent savings for municipal governments for utility bills on items including street lights and traffic lights. The 15 percent savings is realized because city utility bills are computed on a single bill, making the municipal rate structure more cost effective for Florida Power to administer.

The city commission also is expected to hear a report from City Manager David Chacey about solving problems surrounding Mud Lake.

Residents in the Devonshire Estates subdivision have been battling rats, snakes and breeding mosquitoes for the past two months because of heavy spring and summer rains.

Once nearly dried out, Mud Lake has become the home of a large number of rats and snakes. And with the increased amount of rainfall, the pests are being flushed from their homes and have plagued the surrounding neighborhood.

Residents living near Mud Lake have expressed a desire to clean out the infested area, but must obtain a permit from the Department of Environmental Regulations to do so.

The city applied for the permit two weeks ago. According to the DER, the permit request must include a detailed description of what residents plan to do to the lake, what equipment will be used, how long the project will take and is supposed to include a drawing of what the lake looks like before the project is started and what it will look like after the cleanup operation.

The DER recently inspected the lake is expected to provide the city with suggestions on how to handle the rat and snake problem.

Longwood May Join Cable TV Bill Fight

Longwood City Commissioners tonight are expected to discuss the possibility of taking action to oppose a U.S. Senate Bill to deregulate the cable television franchise fee system at the local level.

City Administrator David Chacey said although the subject is not an agenda item, the cablevision deregulation matter will be brought up at the 7:30 p.m. meeting at City Hall, 301 W. Warren Ave., to see if the commission wants to take any official action on the bill.

The Lake Mary City Council last week also unanimously adopted a resolution to oppose the bill and will forward the resolution to the Florida League of Cities.

Under the present cable television franchise structure, the three cable TV companies that serve Seminole County and its various municipalities pay a certain percentage of the annual revenues for franchise rights.

Orange-Seminole Cablevision paid Longwood $5,000 in franchise fees last year for exclusive franchise rights within city limits. The cable company is expected to pay the city at least that much this year in franchise fees.

Orange-Seminole pays a total of about $71,000 annually in franchise fees for rights in Longwood, Casselberry, Sanford and Winter Springs.

Altamonte Springs' franchise agreement with Storer Cable Communications means about $27,000 a year towards the city budget in franchise fees.

Winter Springs also has struck a recent agreement with the Evans Cable system for 3 percent of the company's annual revenues as a franchise fee.

The three cable TV companies also pay Seminole County about $25,000 a year for franchise service rights in the county's unincorporated areas.

While Casselberry is the only city to take official action on the proposed U.S. Senate Bill, other local cities are expected to follow.

Altamonte Springs City Manager Jeff Etchberger said the city commission is interested in seeing what effect the bill would have locally and will probably address cable deregulation when regular commission meetings resume in September.

Winter Springs City Manager Richard Rozansky said the cable TV bill probably will be discussed at the next city commission meeting scheduled for Tuesday while the city of Sanford is expected to oppose the bill also.

Masked Gunmen Rob Sanford Station

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Police are continuing their search today for two masked gunmen who held up a Sanford service station Saturday night.

According to Tenneco Oil Co. clerk Kevin Lavigne, 21, two men walked into the service station at 1800 S. French Ave., at about 11 p.m., pointed a short-barreled shotgun at Lavigne and ordered him to hand over his cash and the store's money, police said.

Police said the two men, both wearing wool camps pulled over their faces, stole about $500 from Lavigne and the store then fled on foot westbound along 19th Street.

FOUR KILLED, ONE HOSPITALIZED

Four people were killed and another man seriously injured in a Sunday morning crash along Interstate 4 east of DeLand, according to Florida Highway Patrol officials.

Charles W. Johnson, Jr., 24, of 5551 Hansel Ave., Orlando, is being treated at the Orlando Regional Medical Center, where he is listed in serious condition after his van, which reportedly was traveling east in the westbound lane of the interstate, collided with a 1977 Toyota, killing all four occupants of the car, troopers said.

Among those killed were driver Jeanne Marguerite Roger, 20, of 2510 Malboro St., Orlando, and passengers Jerry L. Johnson, 21, of 723 Engel Drive, Orlando; Bryan R. Johnson, 21, of Sedan, Kan.; and Robert Roy Dillard, 21, of Ashburn, Ga., troopers said.

Troopers said the head-on collision, which happened three miles northeast of State Road 44, occurred at about 3 a.m. Accident investigators say they have not determined why the 1977 Dodge van was traveling on the wrong side of the highway and added that no charges have been filed pending the outcome of further investigation.

WINTER SPRINGS MEN PLEAD GUILTY

Two Winter Springs men, who pleaded guilty last week to burglary and grand theft charges, are being held in Custer, S.D., awaiting sentencing on the charges.

David Madeline, 38, and Patrick Dennis Dunn, 31, entered pleas of guilty in Custer Circuit Court Thursday and are scheduled to be sentenced there Wednesday, officials said. Madeline pleaded guilty to third-degree burglary and Dunn pleaded guilty to grand theft.

The two reportedly were arrested after police traced a trail of stolen traveler's checks in major tourist areas throughout the country to them.

FOOD STAMPS STOLEN

About $212 worth of food stamps were stolen from a Sanford woman's home at about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

Police said someone broke into the home of Patricia Ann Campbell, 23, of 2431 Jitway Ave., and stole the food stamps which were lying on Ms. Campbell's bed.

SANFORD HOME HIT

Thieves broke into the home of Dan Smith, 48, of 2408 Willow Ave., Sanford, between 5 p.m. July 12 and 5 p.m. Wednesday stealing about $700 worth of property.

Police said the thieves entered Smith's home through a side door.

SANFORD FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following fire alarms Friday:

- 7:02 a.m., 1401 Seminole Blvd., false alarm.
- 10:34 a.m., alleyway between 8th and 9th Streets and Locust and Willow avenues, trash fire, extinguished by residents.
- 12:34 p.m., Castle Brewer Court, Apt. 117, woman down.
- 2:01 p.m., Seminole Gardens Apt. 85, false alarm.
- 2:12 p.m., Lake Monroe Terrace Apt. 49, kitchen fire, pot left on stove, no injuries reported.
- 3:35 p.m., 2534 Palmetto Ave., man down.
- 3:53 p.m., U.S. Highway 17-92 and Lake Mary Blvd., auto accident, no injuries reported.
- 4:22 p.m., 815 Orange Ave., woman down.
- 5:13 p.m., 25th Street and Sanford Ave., auto accident.
- 7:07 p.m., 705 W. 24th St., man down.

MAN CHARGED WITH GRAND THEFT

A 19-year-old Eatonville, Fla., man was being held in the county jail under $5,000 following his arrest at 3:17 p.m. Friday on charges of grand theft.

Altamonte Springs police said security personnel observed a man enter the Jordan Marsh department store, at 451 E. State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, place five pairs of jeans in a shopping bag and leave the store without paying.

Police arrived at the scene and arrested Timothy Wayne Clark, of 100 Green Inn, and charged him with grand theft.

STORE CLERK CHARGED

A Casselberry convenience store clerk is free from the county jail after posting $100 bond following his arrest Friday on charges of selling alcoholic beverages to minors.

Patrick Arnold Stephen, 23, of 2408 Cedar Ave., was arrested at about 5:38 p.m. Friday after deputies said Stephen sold a 17-year-old and an 18-year-old beer without checking their identification to determine if they were of legal age to purchase alcoholic beverages.

Stephen is employed as a clerk at the Phillips 66 food store, County Road 427, Casselberry, deputies said.

ARSON SUSPECTED IN BLAZE

County fire investigators, probing through the charred remains of a wood-framed, tin-roofed vacant house in the Midway section of Sanford, say they have determined the Friday afternoon blaze "is definitely arson."

According to investigators, the fire at 2371 Dollar Way, began at about 3 p.m. and caused about $4,000 to $5,000 worth of damage, totally destroying the structure. Investigators said the fire started in a front bedroom and spread through the vacant house but that the exact method used by the arsonists to set the fire is undetermined.

The house is owned by Darlene Young, 33, of 2030 Dollar Way, and has been unoccupied for about a year to two years, officials said. No one was injured in the blaze.

Varney Drops Dismissal Appeal

Ex-Seminole County Facility and Parks Coordinator John Varney has dropped an appeal of his July 19 dismissal from that job, County Personnel Director Lois Martin said.

Varney was scheduled to appear before the county personnel board today but sent a letter to Ms. Martin Friday "voluntarily dismissing his appeal."

Varney's letter went on to say he would not file an appeal at a later date.

The action, in effect, rules out any possible appeal he might have, including civil action, Ms. Martin said today.

Varney was fired by County Administrator Roger Neiswander following Varney's arrest by the sheriff's department on four counts of misusing county property, purchase orders and labor.

An employee in the county clerk's office said today that three docket dates have been set for the circuit court hearing on the charges against Varney. Those dates are Sept. 7, Sept. 17 and Sept. 24. She said those dates are docket days, when Varney will appear, motions will be heard and a trial date set. Varney is charged with:

- Unlawfully authorizing the purchase of more than $200 worth of electrical equipment and the installation of the material in a fellow employee's trailer by a county worker.
- Authorizing the purchase of automobile parts using county purchase orders and authorizing work by a county employee on Varney's personal truck.
- Authorizing the purchase of $35 worth of materials with county funds and directing a county employee to build a doll house for Johnnie Butler, a secretary in the Parks and Recreation Division. The project took three days and cost the county more than $100 in lost work time.
- Authorizing two employees to procure scrap material for a motorcycle trailer which took five working days to complete.

Airport Restaurant Bid Received

A decision is expected this week by the Sanford Airport Authority on a lease of the airport restaurant to Frank Bollen's Catering Service, Inc.

Bollen and others have expressed an interest to operate the restaurant facility. Authority members at a special meeting Friday received Bollen's proposal and agreed to have Airport Director J. S. "Red" Cleveland receive other proposals this week. Commissioners will make a final decision this week via a telephone conference.

Authority members Friday delayed a decision on Bollen's proposal for the restaurant, which now is operated by Jerry's Restaurant. Jerry's has said it is not interested in renewing its lease.

Levan's Catering Service of Maitland is expected to submit a proposal today or Tuesday. The decision on granting the lease is based on financial standing and qualifications for operating the restaurant, airport officials said.

The authority did grant the Sanford Church of God a lease

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Few Haitians Expected To Be Granted Asylum

United Press International

Thousands of Haitians who have fled to the United States in search of a better life, will likely lose their requests for political asylum.

It will come as a grim shock for many of the more than 1,800 Haitians who are being freed from detention camps under court order. They think they have already won the battle.

Attorneys fear that gaining political asylum in America will be tougher than the 600-mile trek from Haiti and the long court battle to get out of the detention camps.

Of 93 cases decided since 1980, only nine have been approved. For the 84 Haitians denied, rejection meant a one-way plane ride back to Haiti.

Lightning Deaths Drop

United Press International

Weather forecasters say a below-average rainfall over the past three years has spared at least a few Florida lives from the mysterious, silent killer — lightning.

Over the last three years, Florida's lightning deaths have dropped to the lowest totals ever. The average, which had been 11 deaths a year before 1979 — dropped to four that year and in 1980. In 1981, it dropped to two, climate records show.

And only three people have been killed by lightning in Florida so far this year, according to Gil Clark, a veteran severe-weather climatologist and hurricane forecaster at the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables.

Cambodian Children Drown

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Relatives are still in shock today over four Cambodian children who drowned together when they accidentally waded into the deep water and swift currents of a restricted area of Tampa Bay.

Police said it is still unclear whether the victims Sunday could read the red "no swimming" signs written in English at the city's Lassing Park.

Steven Adams, 26, managed to rescue a Cambodian boy, Nith Keo, 8, who was wading and swimming with the other four. The boy was in stable condition early today at Bayfront Medical Center.

Witnesses said the four children were wading about 60 yards offshore and possibly fell into deep water in a section of Tampa Bay where swimming is prohibited because of sudden drops, said a St. Petersburg police spokeswoman. Two to three drownings occur in the area every year.

WORLD IN BRIEF

New Evacuation Proposal May End Fighting

United Press International

Increased artillery and mortar duels between Israeli forces and Palestinian guerrillas complicated U.S. mediation efforts in Beirut today for a peaceful solution to the Lebanese crisis.

Under a PLO-proposed three-stage evacuation plan, peace-keeping troops would begin entering Beirut within an hour of the departure of the first contingent of 1,000 guerrillas on board French troop ships, Lebanese negotiators said.

Begin said Israel was willing to let 2,000 to 2,500 guerrillas remain in Beirut until after deployment of the force — provided the United States, Italy and France give written assurances the remaining PLO men would leave.

British Hospital Strike

LONDON (UPI) — A five-day strike beginning today by 1.2 million hospital workers demanding pay hikes from the government forced the postponement of 60,000 medical operations, a minister said.

Social Services Secretary Norman Fowler, who also said Sunday that hospital appointments were canceled or postponed for 75,000 outpatients, again flatly rejected demands for a 12 percent pay increase.

crash near Altamonte Springs on July 16 in which troopers charged her with DUI, driving without a license, careless driving and having an improperly displayed license plate.

Prosecutor Angela Blakeley and Miss Pittman's lawyer, Jack Bridges, have been working to try the case this month "in order to pave Miss Pittman's way to Atlantic City in September", Bridges said. However, Ms. Blakeley says the evidence-gathering procedure "takes about three to four weeks" and that the state is not yet prepared to go to court.

Accompanied to the club Sunday by her parents, Hilda and Robert Pittman of Apopka, Miss Pittman said she is making plans for the September national pageant. She has had gowns fitted in South Carolina and during the next month will make official Miss Florida appearances in Miami and Houston before going to New York to have her pageant jazz dance choreographed. Miss Pittman said she is optimistic her arthritis will not flare up and that she will perform well.

Lee Phillips, vice president of the Miss Florida Pageant, commended the beauty queen Sunday for her poise and talent in serving the State.

Blood Donors To Get Free Ice Cream Treat

A free pint of ice cream from Baskin-Robbins 31 Flavors Ice Cream Stores will be given to each person who donates a pint of blood at the Central Florida Blood Bank until Sept. 8.

Each person donating will receive a validated coupon which is good for one pint of Baskin-Robbins ice cream at one of the following stores located in the Altamonte Mall, Casselberry Square, Fashion Square, International Drive and Maitland at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Horatio Avenue.

The Orlando-based Central Florida Blood Bank supplies blood to 22 hospitals and four dialysis centers in seven Central Florida counties and more than 300 units are needed on a daily basis. Blood donors provide a unique form of medical care because there is no substitute for human blood. Donors must be in good health and 17 years old. There is no upper age restrictions as long as the person fulfills the regular donor requirements.

Heading For True Court Reform

The Advisory Council for Appellate Justice, a prestigious legal panel, recommended eight years ago that a new National Court of Appeals be created and interposed between the 12 existing federal circuit courts of appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court. Initial, powerful support promised early implementation of the plan.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and some of his associate justices vigorously supported what they envisioned as a necessary new shield against the mounting backlog of cases piling in from the lower courts. They found influential fellow advocates in the Senate and the judicial system.

But the idea of a new National Court of Appeals, while still afloat, is dead in the water. From the first, too many persons who counted in Washington and in the legal profession shared the doubts of the late Associate Justice William O. Douglas, who denounced the new appellate layer at the time as a "court-packing" scheme that would hinder rather than help the federal court system.

U.S. Attorney General William French Smith fired a salvo recently which may have sunk the idea. In an important address here before a gathering of federal judges and lawyers from nine Western states, Smith said a new appellate court level would "increase the burden on the Supreme Court and create more litigation," and "diminish the prestige of the existing courts of appeals." The attorney general suggested the federal courts look to judicial restraint as their remedy for burgeoning case loads.

We agree. In fulfillment of Parkinson's First Law on bureaucracy, the case loads would expand proportionately to over-run the new appellate court calendar.

Major changes are needed in the federal court system. The Supreme Court is being swamped; cases brought before it have grown from 1,200 in 1951 to some 5,000 last year. The case load for the term just completed is up almost 20 percent from the previous year. And the Supreme Court now accepts only 3 percent of the petitions it receives, compared with 20 percent a half century ago.

There are multiple reasons for the escalating case load, beginning with a proliferation of regulatory agencies that spew out thousands of regulations—the raw stuff of lawsuits. Moreover, liberal activists on federal benches have promulgated a widespread public belief that the courts can solve all the social, racial, educational, and economic issues of the land.

Fortunately, a reform readily at hand would take care of a large portion of the case load problem, which arises mostly from the criminal appeals filed by persons convicted in state courts. Burger last year urged Congress simply to limit the power of federal judges to set aside state court criminal convictions except in instances of manifest miscarriages of justice. This relatively simple reduction of the case load, certainly, is preferable to an expensive expansion of the federal courts.

The attorney general's cogent arguments against a new National Court of Appeals is a timely contribution to the dialogue on this subject. For, even as he attacked the proposed court reorganization, he added momentum for overdue case load reform.

"To paraphrase Henry Youngman: Take the PLO army — PLEASE!"

The Law Co. of Wichita, Kansas has broken ground for its low and moderate-income apartment complex—Georgia Arms Apartments—off Georgia Avenue, north of Seminole High School.

The $1.7 million, 90 unit complex is slated to be completed by June 1, 1983. It is to have 26 one-bedroom apartments for the elderly, 40 one-bedroom units for families and 24 two-bedroom units.

The rental fees will vary depending on the family income. But they'll be reasonable and affordable, said Dudley Morris, project manager.

Florida Secretary of State George Firestone said that nearly 6 million voting age Floridians will surrender their right to vote this year. Nearly 3 million eligible Floridians won't even take the few minutes required to register to vote. Only one out of five potential voters will decide who shall govern the state during the years ahead.

The deadline to register to vote in the Sept. 7 and Oct. 5 primary elections passed Saturday. But those potential voters who missed out on registering for the primaries still have until Oct. 2 to get their names on the list of those who can vote in the Nov. 2 general election.

"Let your voice be heard. Register to vote," Firestone says.

The Sanford Women's Republican Club will hold its ninth annual Elephant Stampede on Saturday, Aug. 21, at the Central Florida Zoo from 2 to 5 p.m.

Republican candidates will be given an opportunity at the Stampede to give a speech, meet prospective voters and answer questions. The first stampede was held at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Al Keeth 16 years ago and has been a regular function of the club every election year since.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley of Longwood will be master of ceremonies. Candidates invited to the event include: L.A. "Skip" Bafalis, running for governor; U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, Van B. Poole, candidate for the U.S. Senate; Art Grindle, Tom Drage, Jim Lavigne and Carl Selph, candidate for the State House of Representatives; Jason Steele, candidate for the Florida Senate; County Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bob Sturm and the non-partisan school board candidates, Keeth, Jean Bryant and Ken Patrick.

A $5 donation which includes the price of a barbecue dinner and door prizes is required.

Voice For Freedom

"When the communists come in, the corn stops growing."

Dr. Karel Hujer, Guerry professor emeritus of physics and astronomy at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, told me this Czechoslovak proverb as he showed me mementoes of the homeland he left long ago.

Dr. Hujer, who is in his eighties, is an extraordinary scholar and human being. There's hardly a place in the world he hasn't visited. In 1934, for example, he spent time in the home of the Indian poet Tagore, after a 25-day voyage from England.

His journey in life began in a small city in Czechoslovakia, then part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. He speaks of the hardship experienced as a boy in World War I, walking at night through the forest with a sack of rye on his back, carrying it to a mill in the darkness so the grain wouldn't be confiscated. After World War I, he eked out a meager living in Paris. He recalls that he had a great treasure, a quarter of a pound of coffee which he put in hot water a grain at a time.

The year 1938 brought him to San Pedro, California, where he heard the news that Hitler had invaded his country. He decided to settle in the United States, where he has had a distinguished academic career. He continues to prepare papers for international conferences on astronomy.

Like so many other refugees from totalitarianism, Prof. Hujer has an especially keen awareness of the liberties enjoyed by Americans. He is dismayed at the lack of understanding of the grim reality of life in the Soviet empire. He has seen it with his own eyes in recent times and in his travels across the USSR on the Trans-Siberian Express during Stalin's time. He has written of the great famine of 1933, "planned and deliberate, not due to any natural catastrophe like the failure of grain but an administrative famine brought on by forced collectivization and deportation of uncoupled thousands of peasants, owners of the land, carted in cattle cars to an oblivion in Siberia." He reminds us that "only recently did the world obtain some shadow of the indescribable barbarism and tragedy in exiled Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn's epic work, The Gulag Archipelago."

Prof. Hujer's knowledge of the contemporary Soviet empire is very up-to-date, for he is in close touch with scientists in Central and Eastern Europe. His writings also appear in a Czech language journal in Chicago which publishes current information on life in captive Czechoslovakia, a subject that receives skimpy coverage in the major metropolitan media.

If there is any tragedy in the life of Prof. Hujer and other refugees from totalitarianism, it is that the American people don't pay sufficient attention to the story the refugees have to tell.

The network news shows are awash with "foreign policy analysts" who have obtained their alleged expertise from books, not from bitter experience under totalitarian rule, analysts who know little or nothing of the human suffering and political and cultural deprivation that exists in the unfree world of Central and Eastern Europe.

After a lifetime of scholarly achievement, Karel Hujer's dedication to the cause of freedom and emancipation of the captive peoples of Europe burns as brightly as when he came to these shores.

More Campaign Notes

WASHINGTON (NEA) — David Garth, the New York-based political consultant, has begun publishing a monthly memorandum for candidates in this election year.

The just-released first issue of "The Garth Analysis" offers 29 pages of advice based on a polling by the New York firm of Penn and Schoen.

Garth notes that if the congressional elections were held today, the Democrats would run about 7 percentage points ahead of the Republicans on the average. "This is enough of a margin to produce some shift back to the Democrats in Congress," says Garth, "but not enough to produce the rejection of President Reagan and his policies that many Democrats have been predicting."

Garth notes that a majority of poll respondents expect that Reaganomics will eventually help them although they believe that the program has so far benefited mainly the rich.

Based on this finding, Garth warns Democratic candidates against relying too extensively on what is being called the "fairness issue" — that is, that Reaganomics is unfair to the majority of Americans.

Instead, Garth advises the Democrats to make high unemployment and high interest rates their main campaign issues. Above all, says Garth, Democratic candidates should avoid attacking the president personally. He notes that Reagan remains personally popular in his polls and that a direct attack upon the president could backfire.

Garth says that the key finding of this early polling is that "many Americans are cautiously optimistic about the future. The mood of most is one of uncertainty rather than of anger or frustration."

Those polls show that satisfaction with the administration's economic policies is "directly related to income levels," says Garth. The wealthier the voter, the happier he is likely to be with Reaganomics.

Geographically, Garth's polls show that the greatest dissatisfaction with the administration's economic policies exists in the industrial Midwest while the least dissatisfaction exists in the West.

As for Republican candidates, Garth advises them to make Americans' optimism about the future their campaign theme and to stress the potential long-term benefits of the administration's policies.

Finally, Garth looks to the 1984 presidential election. His polls mirror a number of others that show Sen. Edward Kennedy to be the clear favorite among Democrats for the 1984 nomination.

Kennedy has a 37 percent to 19 percent lead over former Vice President Walter Mondale in Garth's polls. Twelve percent favor Sen. John Glenn, and 21 percent are undecided.

Garth notes that Reagan's base of support has decreased to less than a majority of the electorate. If his support does not increase by 1984, he says, "a third-party initiative in 1984 could play a decisive role in the election." Garth, incidentally, was the principal adviser to John Anderson during his independent race for the presidency in 1980.

THE ADAGE THAT people who live in glass houses should not throw stones has been brought home forcefully in recent days to Roxanne Conlin, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in Iowa.

In accepting her party's nomination, Mrs. Conlin gave a rip-roaring speech blasting Republicans as the party of privilege and tax shelters.

Now it has been revealed that Mrs. Conlin and her husband, a real-estate developer, paid no state income taxes in 1981 despite their net worth of more than $2 million — thanks largely to real-estate tax shelters.

Mrs. Conlin defends herself by saying that 1981 was such a bad year in the real-estate market that she and her husband lost money and therefore had no state tax liability.

But her opponent, I. Gov. Terry Branstad, is not letting her get away with this explanation and is exploiting the issue for all it is worth. Meanwhile, the state Republican Party is attacking Mrs. Conlin as a "hypocrite."

Heating Plant, ICA Move Connected?

WASHINGTON—Most rational people would have a hard time making the connection between a $4 million heating plant in Minnesota and the International Communication Agency's desire to move its scattered offices into a single building in downtown Washington.

But there is a connection, and his name is Charles Z. Wick. He is not only the director of ICA, but a close friend of President Reagan. And he desperately wants congressional approval for the agency's consolidation into one building, instead of having the various offices housed all over the capital in rented space.

So Rep. Arlan Stangeland, R-Minn., is using Wick and the ICA as a lever to pry support for a heating plant in his district out of a reluctant administration. As the ranking minority member of the House buildings subcommittee, Stangeland has a lot to say about whether the president's buddy Wick gets his consolidation plan okayed by Congress.

When he brought up the Minnesota heating plant to the astonished ICA director, Stangeland said later, he was just trying to get the administration's attention—like the man with the two-by-four and the recalcitrant mule. Under a little pressure, the administration "takes not just a cursory look, they take a good look" at his cherished heating plant, he explained to my associate Peter Grant.

Stangeland wasn't the only one to hear opportunity knocking when Wick approached the subcommittee for help. Rep. Elliott Levitas, D-Ga., told the president's friend his consolidation proposal would be approved "in 24 hours" if the administration would do just one small favor: support legislation that would let the General Services Administration borrow from the Treasury to construct government buildings.

Levitas insists that this bill would save the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. It would also, of course, substantially increase the subcommittee's power—and Levitas would be in line for the chairmanship when Rep. John Fary, D-Ill., retires this year.

Levitas candidly acknowledged that he broached the GSA plan to the ICA director because Wick is "a very influential person in this administration." The congressman said he's "always looking for intermediaries to get messages back to people."

It seems Wick will never be lonely as long as he has the president's ear—and wants something from Congress. Even Fary, the outgoing chairman, twice mentioned to Wick his deep interest in having the government waive postal fees for packages to Poland.

Fary brought up the matter first in Washington, then again at a Fourth of July ceremony Wick attended in Fary's heavily Polish Chicago district.

The thing to remember is that none of the subcommittee members seems to have any serious reservations about the ICA consolidation plan, which government auditors have estimated would increase the agency's efficiency and save the taxpayers more than $10 million over 10 years.

But because Wick is regarded as an influential confidant of President Reagan, the proposal was "like manna from heaven," as one administration official put it.

Footnote: An ICA spokesman said the agency had made one phone call to the Commerce Department about Stangeland's heating plant, but beyond that had carried no water for the subcommittee members.

Reagan Economics Still Lives

Declarations that Reaganomics is not working and in fact is dead, as by Tom Wicker of the New York Times last week, are definitely premature.

Economics of course is far from an exact science, and Treasury Secretary Donald Regan admitted recently on "Face the Nation" that the recession had proved to be deeper and more stubborn than he had anticipated.

Not surprisingly, there is a good deal of nervousness in the White House about the forthcoming congressional elections. But as the summer of 1982 crosses the mid-point, all of the decisive indicators are turning positive.

Fortune magazine has just published an authoritative economic forecast, predicting a recovery with staying power over the next 18 months.

"Business activity," according to Fortune, "is already taking a turn for the better. Real GNP struggled into the plus column in the second quarter, reaching virtually the same level Fortune forecast six months ago. The growth rate will run near 3 percent in the second half of this year and 3.4 percent in 1983. That's something less than a vigorous recovery but a welcome prospect after three years of no growth at all....

"Businessmen, whose rush to slash inventory contributed so importantly to the recent recession, slowed the runoff by half in the second quarter... Gradually in 1983 business will build up inventories to keep pace with growing sales."

The core of Reagan's economic program consists of the three-year cut in the tax rates, and this is now beginning to show strongly positive results.

"Consumers," reports Fortune, "will be the main force leading the economy upward, and indeed their spending will expand enough to account for all the growth in final sales of goods and services — or even a little more. The two huge cuts in personal taxes will enable consumers to generate that much power by themselves. Consumer purchases will rise roughly 6 percent in real terms over the next 18 months."

Also encouraging was the news last week that the sales of domestically produced automobiles rose to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 5.6 million in the second ten-day selling period during July.

In the emerging economic environment it is not surprising that short-term interest rates have begun to drop and that bond prices are rising.

The fight against inflation has been a resounding success. The consumer price rise of 1 percent during June definitely does not mean a return to double-digit inflation. It was the direct result of the April-May rise in the wholesale price of gasoline following the March meeting of OPEC. But there has been no rise in the money supply since January, the basic factor where inflation is concerned.

Given these strong indications of a soundly based recovery, the present congressional effort to raise billions in new taxes via the grab-bag of measures put together under the leadership of Sen. Robert Dole would seem to be pure folly.

With a rejuvenated private sector powering the recovery, do we really want to siphon almost $100 billion off into the federal treasury?

'Last Out Disease' Proves Terminal For Broncos, 9-2

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

HOLLYWOOD HILLS — The "Last Out Disease" seems to be catching in Seminole County.

Just last Thursday, the Altamonte 13-year-olds held a five-run lead with two outs in the seventh inning, but couldn't come up with that last out and eventually lost in eight innings.

Saturday, the Seminole Broncos held a narrow 2-1 edge with two outs in the seventh frame here, only to watch Melbourne rally for a 2-2 deadlock and eventually win 9-2 in eight innings.

"If there's anything such as luck, we didn't have it," said manager Mike Averill. "We couldn't keep it together in the last inning."

Seminole, a 15 and under girls group, dropped two straight in the Region Tournament after winning the Metro last week at Conway in Orlando. The Broncos were shut out, 5-0, on Friday.

Melbourne broke on top first in the fourth inning when the Sharks received a double from Ruth Gordon and an RBI-single from Sherry Jerry for a 1-0 lead.

The Broncos bucked back with two in their half of the inning. Leftfielder Laura Davis singled to start the inning. Shortstop Kim Averill followed with a base hit to right center on which the fielder misplayed the ball, allowing the runners

Softball

'If there's anything such as luck, we didn't have it. We couldn't keep it together in the last inning.' — Mike Averill, Bronco Manager to move to second and third.

Melbourne intentionally passed Denise Stevens to load the bases, but Jill Lewis foiled the strategy with a single to score Davis. Ava Gardner followed with a ground ball off the pitcher, who recovered in time to nip Averill at the plate.

Lori Helms popped to third base, but Kristie Kaiser, who had three hits

Friday, hit a ground ball in the hole between short and third on which Lewis beat the throw to third, allowing Stevens to score for a 2-1 lead.

The Broncos held that edge until two were out in the seventh. Tara Schwartz slammed a drive off the center field fence for a double and Patty Gillison responded with a single to left to score Schwartz on a close play at home.

In the bottom of the seventh, the rain came. Seminole didn't score and had trouble with its footing, according to Averill, when Melbourne exploded for seven runs in the top of the eighth on four walks, two errors and three hits to ice the game.

Jill Lewis had two hits including a double and an RBI to lead the Broncos.

Kim Waln also collected two singles while Kristie Kaiser rapped a single to end the tournament with a solid 4-out-of-6 performance.

Seminole finished the season with a 23-12-1 record.

Goosebumps For Mazzilli After Trade To Hometown

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lee Mazzilli extended one of his arms.

"Look," he said. "I got goosebumps."

They were there all right, and even had they not been, it wouldn't have mattered much because the excitement in his eyes and the flush in his face clearly conveyed all the joy in his heart.

Brooklyn-born Lee Mazzilli looked as if he had just hit the lottery. He hadn't.

All that had happened was that he had learned for the first time he was being traded to the New York Yankees.

He was coming "home" again after being away four months, leaving the Texas Rangers in a deal sending them Bucky Dent, the Yankees' golden boy of 1978.

"It's like a dream," bubbled the deeply suntanned, goodlooking designated hitter-outfielder who once was a golden boy himself with the Mets before they gave up on him and traded him to the Rangers for two of their minor-league pitchers last April.

Used primarily as a DH by the Rangers, Mazzilli didn't even get to bat 200 times officially with them. His batting average is only .241 and he shows but 4 home runs and 17 RBI.

"I never wanted to leave New York," he muttered. "I always thought I had a chance to come back here with the Yankees after I was traded by the Mets."

I was never sure, but somehow, somewhere, I thought I had a chance. I can hardly believe it. Wait'll my family hear about it. They'll probably all cry for joy."

This was in the Rangers' clubhouse Saturday following the original report an agreement had been reached for the Mazzilli-Dent swap.

There was a little smokescreen after that in the form of some explanation by George Steinbrenner before Sunday's double-header with the Rangers that such a trade "might be made" but hadn't been yet, and the deal ultimately was announced following the two games.

"It's great to come back," said Mazzilli. "Bucky was loved here. This is his ballpark. The fans hopefully will be glad I'm back in New York but I know Bucky had a lot of fans, too."

He had said quite a bit earlier, talking of how he felt about Bucky Dent and George Steinbrenner.

"I like them both," said the 27-year-old Mazzilli, who was believed to be the young Moses who was going to lead the Mets out of the wilderness after he hit .303 for them in 1979 and had 79 RBI and 15 homers.

"I know how Bucky feels," said Mazzilli. "I know because I've talked to him. He feels like I felt when the Mets traded me. I'll never forget that day."

I'll never forget it because George Steinbrenner went out of his way to do something for me that he never had to do if he didn't want."

The switch-hitting Mazzilli says the Rangers' fans will like a player like Dent, who undoubtedly will take over Texas' regular shortstop job with Mark Wagner on the disabled list. Wayne Tolleson, brought up from the minors, has been filling in for the Rangers.

"The people in Texas are gonna' appreciate Bucky," said Mazzilli.

The Yankees appreciated Dent, too. Especially for what he did for them in 1978 when he hit that three-run homer off Mike Torrez in Fenway Park to beat the Red Sox in the Eastern Division playoff game and then was the World Series MVP with his .417 figure against the Dodgers.

Lately, the 30-year-old Dent hadn't even been playing regularly for the Yankees. He didn't play in either of Sunday's two games. He was deeply unhappy over losing his regular job and had asked to be traded. When the time came, however, he wasn't at all eager to leave.

Some of the fans at Yankee Stadium set up a chant of "We want Bucky, we want Bucky," in the ninth inning of Sunday's nightcap. It didn't do much good. Bucky already was gone.

Floyd Beats 94 Degree Heat For PGA

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Ray Floyd may have finally succumbed to Southern Hills in the final round of the PGA Championship — but not to his peers.

Floyd, visiting parts of the Southern Hills course that he had not toured in his previous three rounds, shot his only poor round of the tournament Sunday — a 2-over-par 72 — but still managed to escape with his second PGA Championship and his first major title since 1976.

Floyd carried a five-stroke lead into the final round and the field could never get closer than two — and that came on a lark when Fred Couples eagled the par-5 16th to drop to 5-under. Floyd answered with a birdie on No. 12 and finished with a 272 to win by an arm's length over the 275 of Lanny Wadkins.

But Floyd's biggest challenge in the final round did not come from Wadkins. It did not come from the weather, which was finally bearable at 94 degrees. And it did not come from Southern Hills. It came from Ray Floyd.

Floyd, who had only carded four bogeys in the opening three rounds, bogeyed four of the first 10 holes Sunday. He found himself in the rough, in the mini-forests that line the fairways and in sand traps — the danger zones he had negotiated with relative ease en route to a PGA three-round record of 200.

But when Couples made his peek from the leader board, Floyd figured it was time for a little talk with himself at the 12th tee.

"I figured if I continued to play the way I was playing," Floyd said, "I wasn't going to win the tournament. I was playing defensive; not on purpose, but I could feel it."

Floyd knocked in a 6-foot putt on No. 12 for his birdie and also birdied Nos. 15 and 16, on putts of 8 and 15 feet, to calm down the anxious crowd of 24,100 and, in his own mind, a majority of the press corps.

Floyd lost his concentration once again on the 18th when he found the rough, sand and an uncooperative green, for a double-bogey 6. But all that did was deny him a share of the PGA record (271). The tournament was already over by that point — maybe as early as Thursday when he shot his PGA record 63.

"I really believe I took all the pressure away from the whole tournament," Floyd said. "Everybody knows I play well from the front. That five-shot lead after three rounds let the field relax and freewheel it. They felt, 'Ray Floyd is not going to blow it.' I felt the majority of the field relaxed. The pressure was off them and I think that's why there were so many low scores this week. Any pressure that was left all belonged to me."

Southern Hills, which had yielded only three sub-par scores in the three previous major tournaments it had hosted, was

Palmer's Patience Prevails

DANVERS, Mass. (UPI) — Sandra Palmer's 19 years on the LPGA tour have taught her patience, control and the timing to know what has to be done and how to do it.

"But whether I do it or not is something else," she says.

Palmer was challenged head-to-head Sunday by a hot-putting rookie who had played in only 10 tournaments as a pro. Another challenge came from a career non-winner who made a fast finish despite spending three hours the night before in the hospital.

In the end, Palmer, and her patience, prevailed.

"I can't remember too many times I've been as controlled as I was today. I was victimized for eight this time around.

Couples and Calvin Peete tied for third at a 4-under-par 276, Jim Simons, Greg Norman and Jay Haas shared fourth with 3-under-par 278's and Bob Gilder closed at a 2-under 278.

Tom Watson rallied with a final round 67 to head four golfers at an even-par 280.

Jack Nicklaus was among those at 283, 1981 Player of the Year Bill Rogers finished in a group at 285 and Billy Casper, who made his first cut on the PGA tour in three years, turned in a 293.

Floyd's $65,000 first-place purse pushed him over the $300,000 mark for the year. Wadkins took home $45,000 and Couples and Peete $27,500 apiece.

Moody, playing in her second event since a May auto accident cost her 180 stitches on her face. Moody had the lead for several holes but a bogey on the 16th when she misread a 5-foot putt ("the only putt she missed all day" — Palmer) gave Palmer the lead for good.

Palmer then cemented the lead with a birdie putt on 17 for a two shot lead and then watched in horror as Moody nearly holed a 91-yard wedge shot for an eagle on 18.

While Palmer was thinking of what she had to do to win, Moody was riding the emotion, and fun, of the moment. She has only played in two tournaments since the May accident.

Shula Learns 'A Lot,' Denver Signs Jackson

VERO BEACH, (UPI) — Even with bad weather, Miami Dolphins coach Don Shula and New Orleans Saints coach Bum Phillips said they learned a lot from the two teams' second scrimmage.

The Dolphins visited the Saints' training camp Friday for their annual veterans exercise.

Miami put the most points across with three touchdowns and 18 points. New Orleans scored twice for 12. No extra points were tried in the scrimmage.

Both coaches said it was not the final score but the play they were watching. Phillips said he would wait to see the film before making any decision but was pleased it was a hard-hitting scrimmage.

"I think we had a good workout — an excellent workout under the conditions we had," he said.

"The bad weather and the slick field made a little bit of difference. It didn't look like it made a whole lot of difference to them, but it made a whole lot of difference to us."

A heavy rainstorm soaked the field before the start of the scrimmage.

The exercise gave each team 48 plays in 12-play series. Veteran quarterback Archie Manning led the first New Orleans attack, hitting 5 for 6 for 51 yards and one touchdown.

Second-year quarterback Dave Wilson then took over, completing 2 of 6 for 109 yards, including a 54-yard pass to tight end Donnie Echols and a 55-yard pass to No. 1 draft choice Lindsay Scott.

Wilson was also intercepted in the end zone, but later used running back Jimmy Rogers to carry the ball for five yards and one yard for the Saints second TD.

Pro Football

Jim Jensen engineered two of the Miami scoring drives. The first touchdown came on a five-yard pass to Joe Rose. The final scoring drive was capped with a 14-yard pass to Frank Lockett.

Veteran Don Strock hit wide receiver Elmer Bailey with a 14-yard pass to complete the Miami scoring. Miami had 15 first downs. New Orleans had nine.

United Press International Tom Jackson has put his signature on the dotted line. Bob Swenson, Jackson's linebacking partner on the Denver Broncos, could be quick to follow.

The Broncos announced Sunday that Jackson signed a series of one-year contracts Sunday and will begin training-camp workouts at the University of Northern Colorado Monday.

That leaves Swenson as the sole holdout of Denver's potent linebacker corps. Swenson had said that he was close to signing, but would not sign until Jackson received a satisfactory agreement.

"We've had contact with his (Swenson's) lawyer," Jackson said. "I told Bob's lawyer if Bob wants to stay in the mountains for a few more days that's fine and I think he'll understand I want to come into camp, since I'm satisfied with everything."

Jackson, entering his 10th season, last year led all Denver linebackers in quarterback sacks with four and finished third on the team in tackles with 144.

He has been known as a big-play performer throughout his Bronco career, and his total seven interceptions in 1976 was a Denver record for a linebacker.

Marilyn's Back, Raring To Write

I feel as though I am participating in a flashback. Seven years ago, I worked for The Herald writing just such as column as this. Now, like the seven year itch, I am bringing the typewriter out of mothballs for a comeback.

Some of you (I hope) will remember me as Marilyn Gordon. Some may remember me as the Program Coordinator for Youth Programs Inc. for Seminole County.

Only the name has changed. My heart is still here and after five years of almost full time traveling, I am about to throw away the suitcases and reintegrate myself and hubby Jim into the life of Florida's busiest county.

Shelly Ferron (Mrs. Richard) has just completed her M.B.A. from the University of Central Florida. You may remember she left her post with the Seminole Community Action Agency to haunt the halls of higher education. Now hubby Dick has told her she must put it to work so as to keep him in the style to which he would like to become accustomed.

The Ferrones, to celebrate the occasion, have just returned from a trip which included Williamsburg, New York and Boston.

Good luck job hunting, Shelly.

If you see two people walking around Longwood with huge smiles on their faces, it's Al and Norma Firestone. Papa Al has had his beautiful daughter, Susan, and son-in-law, Donal Philipps, here visiting from Terryville, Ala. Conn.

Norma and Al really laid out the red carpet for them. Their visit included such sights as Daytona Speaking of volunteer recruitment, Kit Pepper, Bobby Hattaway's campaign manager is seeking people willing to get involved. She has all kinds of fresh ideas. Call her at 339-1982.

I dropped into the South Seminole Community Library last week and noticed the staff reminding everyone of the Library Referendum Oct. 5. It was good to see a staff so enthused.

Proud grandmother, Kay Wolfrum (she is a secretary at Milwee Middle School) has been spending her vacation babysitting with her one and only grandchild TerriKay Wolfrum. June Lormann wants to remind everyone to attend the Altamonte Springs City Hall meeting Aug. 16 at 7:30 p.m. when representatives from the Hospital Corporation of America in Memphis will be here to answer all questions on the proposed hospital.

This is your chance to learn first hand what it is all about.

Kerry Grenick has been selected as a cheerleader for the Mighty Mites, a football team from Lake Orienta and Altamonte Springs Elementary Schools.

The cheerleaders are having very professional outfits made and are looking forward to a season of super cheers.

Sally Dykes, the Director of Meals on Wheels is still begging for volunteers for the Sanford area. They are delivering much needed hot meals to the homebound.

This would be such rewarding work if you have a few hours one day a week to spare. Substitutes would even be welcome if you find yourself unable to make a time commitment but would still like to help.

Call Janice Trawich, the Volunteer Coordinator at 323-7090.

Janice is still bragging about the talents of Phyllis Conklin and her mother, Maud Franke, and Veronica Holdos. These three women have been volunteering in Sanford for eight years. Veronica Holdos works four days a week and is 86 years young. Not even Janice is able to keep up with her.

Another example Janice holds special is Lake Mary fireman Rodger Crocker. Although he is a shiftworker, he always has time for meal deliveries. If there are Boy or Girl Scout troops seeking projects, Meals on Wheels needs tray favors.

This introductory course is designed to familiarize today's students with the microcomputer and to demonstrate how it can be utilized in various subject areas. It will be beneficial to persons owning and operating home computers, as well as persons using the microcomputer in their place of employment.

Scheduling of the various sections of the course should accommodate both day and evening students.

Register at the Admissions Office in the administration building. For information, call 323-1450, ext. 271 or 277. From Orlando call 843-7001.

Firefighters Training

Seminole Community College is offering the "200 Hour Minimum Standards" training course for both paid and volunteer firemen. Classes will be held in the Fire Science facility on the main campus Aug. 31- Dec. 15.

The class will meet two to three evenings per week, from 6 to 10 p.m. on a rotating basis and on some Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Cost of the course includes $40 for registration, approximately $40 for books and $6.50 for insurance. Apply to the Admissions Office in the administration building. For information call 323-1450, ext. 455, or from Orlando 843-7001.

CFAWL Sets Forum

The Central Florida Association for Women Lawyers (CFAWL) will sponsor a Judicial Candidates Forum on Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m. at Loch Haven Art Center Auditorium, 2418 N. Mills Ave., Orlando.

CRAWL is a non-profit professional organization open to all area attorneys, which regularly sponsors activities geared towards community awareness. There is no admission charge for this forum and coffee and refreshments will be served. For information, contact president Nancy S. Weber, 896-1598.

Getting Married?

Engagement and wedding forms are available at the Herald office to announce these events. The forms may be accompanied by professional black and white photographs if a picture is desired with the announcement. Wedding forms and pictures must be submitted within two weeks of the wedding.

Senator Campaigns For Gay Old Times

DEAR ABBY: I am an Illinois state senator. Regardless of how anyone else feels about homosexuality, it galls me that sexual deviates are called "gays."

The word "gay" means joyous, merry, happy and cheerful, as opposed to gloomy, melancholy, dejected or miserable. Therefore, to describe homosexuality as "gay" is a perversion in itself, and I respectfully request that you discontinue the use of the word in that context.

Instead of "gay," the word "queer" would be much more appropriate. "Queer" means to deviate from the normal or expected.

In my opinion, the truly "gay" people of the world are heterosexuals who have relations with persons of the opposite sex.

Won't you join me in an effort to retrieve the word "gay" from ignominy? And if "queer" is unacceptable to describe deviates, then confine their definition to "homosexuals."

NAME WITHHELD ON REQUEST

DEAR NAME WITHHELD: Few are aware of how homosexuals came to be known as "gays."

For hundreds of years, women were not allowed to work in the theater, consequently all the roles were performed by males. In France, the men who played women's roles were known as "les gal."

That word crossed the English Channel and homosexuals used it as a code word to identify themselves.

Most homosexuals find the label "queer" offensive, and only an ignorant, ill-mannered person would call another by a name that's insulting. (Blacks do not like to be called "niggers," Hispanics don't care for "spic," Jews dislike "kike," and Italians resent "wop.")

When you, sir, are willing to have yourself described in print and in introductions to your family, friends, strangers, etc., as "Homosexual (Name Withheld)," then you may insist that gays be identified by the clinical 19th-century term, "homosexual."

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago you had a letter in your column criticizing doctors who told their patients not to smoke while they themselves were puffing away. You also had some harsh words for fat doctors who could barely get their shirts buttoned while handing their patients the Mayo Clinic diet.

Well, according to Dr. Stephen Goldfinger, chairman of the Harvard Medical School Health Letter, doctors have changed.

His survey, which was mailed to 1,013 Harvard clinical faculty members and drew a 60 percent response, disclosed that only 8 percent of the respondents smoked cigarettes, and nearly 40 percent had quit smoking entirely! (about 33 percent of the general public smokes.)

When asked if they felt that they were overweight by 10 pounds, only 29 percent of the doctors said yes!

KAREN

DEAR KAREN: Thanks for the update; I feel better already. But I wonder what happened to the other 40 percent?

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Hurt," who "felt bad" when her husband didn't get her anything for Mother's Day from their 6-month-old beautiful baby girl:

Last Mother's Day came two months after my twin sons were born dead. However, this year the Lord saw fit to give us a son to keep.

My husband didn't buy me anything for Mother's Day this year, either, but I am happy to have a healthy baby. Tell "Hurt" to quit pouting over what she didn't get and start thanking God for what she got!

GRATEFUL IN CINCINNATI

If you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter-writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, August 10, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY August 10, 1982
Either through desire or circumstances, fresh ambitions will be awakened in you this coming year. You are likely to set some tough goals, but your chances of making them are good.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Challenging or competitive situations may not bring out your finer qualities today. Your possibilities for success are good, but your methods might not win endorsement. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Good suggestions could be offered to you today by someone of whom you are not too fond. Because of this, you might ignore the wisdom of their words.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Timing is more important than expediency today in your commercial dealings. Pushing something forward before it is ready could prove costly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
In your one-to-one relationships today, you might find it difficult to get others to go along with your desires. Be prepared to make compromises with which each can live.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Enjoy yourself today, but don't do so at the cost of your duties and responsibilities. Tasks unattended to will corner you later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Managing things for others today could bring complications into your life. Even if you are invited to do so, first be sure you can deliver what's expected.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You're a good producer today, but there's a possibility that just when you have everything running smoothly you may lose interest and leave the end results to chance.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
It's important today to report your doings with accuracy. Making excuses or exaggerating your accomplishments won't rest well with your listeners.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Situations important to your security must be handled with extreme care today. Take nothing for granted, even when you think you have everything locked-down tight.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
It's essential at this time that you take more personal control over matters which affect your interests. Don't depend on others to do what you should do.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Beware of tendencies today to make things more difficult than they need be. Look for ways to solve problems, not complicate them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Be forgiving and tolerant of friends today if they do things which displease you. All your actions might not find favor with them either.

109 Temperature Very Dangerous

DEAR DR. LAMB—A year ago I had a heat stroke. When I got to the hospital, they recorded my temperature as 109 F. I have checked a number of record books and can find only two people who had a temperature higher than mine. I ought to be in the record books. I can't find out if either of these people recovered completely and led normal lives or if they were left as vegetables.

I have recovered rather well and the only problem I have is a slight limp and a speech defect, which isn't too bad.

DEAR READER—A temperature of 109 F is certainly high enough to be dangerous. Such high temperatures can cause permanent brain damage. Just as in the common stroke the symptoms depend upon what part of the brain has been damaged.

You will be surprised to know that there are a number of cases reported with temperatures of 112 to 113 F, in which the patient has recovered. It is generally stated that 114.8 F (46.0 C) is the upper limit and above this level there is permanent damage of living tissues.

Of course, a lot depends upon how long the temperature was elevated and you can certainly have brain damage at much lower temperatures. In one report of 44 patients with heat stroke in a single period of hot weather the body temperatures ranged from 104 to 112 F, and 17 of the 44 patients died.

Heat is an important stress. It is particularly difficult for older people to cope with. During hot weather it is important to cool down overnight. Body heat accumulates and if you give your body a chance to eliminate the heat buildup overnight you will tolerate the heat a lot better. Hot humid nights without air-conditioning prevent this and that is why night temperatures are so important in a heat wave.

Outside work and play can be a hazard. That includes jogging and running as well as long hours of yard work. To avoid heat stroke be sure and drink plenty of fluids and stay out of the heat in the hottest portion of the day.

To give you more information on how heat affects the body I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-12, Heat Stress: Cramps, Exhaustion, Stroke. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 50-year-old woman. Six months ago I had an oophorectomy due to a benign tumor. Why do I have no desire for sex since my surgery? I am not on any medication. Is there a vitamin I can take to improve this situation? Will it improve with time or stay the same? My attitude about surgery was excellent. I have had no depression or crying spells. I have some hot flashes at night. My sex life was outstanding before surgery.

DEAR READER—When your ovaries were removed you had a sudden drop in female hormone production. At 50, this would have occurred soon anyway. The adrenal gland (cortex) does form both male and female hormones but the amount varies a great deal in different people. In your case you are probably not producing enough female hormones.

Sexual desire is influenced by the brain, but hormones certainly do make a difference. Estrogen stimulates a woman's desire for sex. In the animal world the brain is less important in this regard and the hormones are the major factor. Discuss your change in response with your doctor. He may want to give you some estrogen.

to apply to the play which forces an opponent to give up protection in one of two suits because he has to discard when another suit is led.

Alan: "In today's hand South is in a normal seven-trump contract. He has 12 top winners and would have 13 if he could take four spade or heart tricks. He also has an easy 13 if either minor suit is kind enough to break 3-3."

Oswald: "As you can see, neither minor suit is going to break, but he still makes his grand slam because East gets squeezed out of his protection in one of them."

Alan: "All South has to do is cash his hearts and spades and poor East will have to let a club or diamond go."

Oswald: "Then all South has to do is to watch the fall of the cards to see which minor suit five-spot has become a winner."

Alan: "Note that this squeeze only worked because one opponent held protection in both key suits."

Oswald: "Some 60 years ago the late Sidney Lenz invented the term 'Squeeze'."
