

BIG BUSINESS ORDERED TO BARE SECRETS

Actual filing of the new statements is not expected before February. All must be filed by June 30, 1935, although exception will be made.

Since the requirements do not touch corporations which do not list their securities on exchanges, thousands of companies are not affected.

The information also will be required on annual basis, Kennedy said, and therefore will cause considerable revision of methods of publishing periodical information for investors.

The rules do not require uniform accounting since it is methods of presenting the information—but, Kennedy said, they do require uniform information, and explanation of the accounting methods used.

"Corporations may not shift their methods in the middle of the deal," the chairman explained. "In the past, it has been something like changing bridge systems during the game."

Kennedy said he did not believe the rules would impinge heavily on corporations, and predicted that few would decidedly criticize.

"I don't anticipate any trouble," he declared, "but then you always check your own children are the best."

Three years ago the concern that made much of the powder that sent bullet wings across an army's head on the western front had gross sales of more than a billion dollars.

An even larger amount of powder is made by the DuPont Company when it was known that in the last three years its total sales had totalled $250,000,000, or less than $15,000,000. The company paid $72 million for land and spent $600,000 for a new plant.

France Ready To Denounce Naval Treaty

Official Denies That Nation Has Any Intention Of Joining Japan In Statement

By The Associated Press
France last night was ready to announce that, as far as she is concerned, the Washington naval treaty expires at the end of 1936.

An official announcement, however, denied that the government has any intention of joining Japan in formally denouncing the past.

As Francois Peltier, minister of the navy, termed the pact "intolerable for France," high French quarters pointed out that the government, under the parliamentary ratification of the treaty in 1923, stands pledged to denounce it if necessary to insure France's freedom of action at its expiration.

A secret joint session of the chamber of deputies foreign affairs and naval committee decided denunciation was unnecessary in view of Japan's intended action. It was understood, but should Japan fail to abrogate the pact, the Paris government would be virtually forced to do so to assure its expiration in 1936.

In any event it was understood the government formally would notify the other four signatories that she considers the treaty void after 1936.

Jacksonville Man Begins 25th Day Of Hunger Strike

WHITEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 21.—(AP)—From his cell in the county jail here E. E. Cox, 42, insurance man, yesterday entered the 25th day of a "hunger strike."

Cox, president of the Home Protective Association of Jacksonville, Fla., began refusing food as a protest of his conviction in recorder's court of violating the state insurance laws.

He was fined $200 and costs after he was found guilty of selling insurance for an unlicensed company. After he defaulted his bond, he was sentenced to 12 months on the road.

He appealed and is awaiting trial at the next session of superior court, which is scheduled to begin Jan. 28. He has said repeatedly he would continue to go without food until he gets "justice in the courts."

Near Riot Occurs As Poor Seek Hand-Outs

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 22.—(AP)—A near riot occurred yesterday as a crowd of several thousand men, women and children gathered at the Market where Emergency Relief Administration workers had started the distribution of 25,000 large bags of Christmas foodstuffs to the needy.

All available police reserves, a detachment of mounted police, and a squad of radio cars were rushed to the scene and had a difficult time restoring order.

'Bama Mob Wants To Lynch 3 Men

ANDALUSIA, Ala., Dec. 22.—(AP)—South Alabama officers today kept close guard over two white men and a negro who were brought here after mobs threatened to lynch the three when they were taken into custody in connection with the slaying of a filling station operator at Laurel Hill, Fla. The three were captured after a chase across swamplands in this section, and as word of their arrest spread feeling ran high in Florida and Laurel Hill. The mobs were formed yesterday, and they made threats to take the men from the jail at Flora Rica, so they quickly were spirited away.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor, speaking just as Secretary Perkins announced a November decrease in industrial payrolls, yesterday declared the unemployment problem was growing steadily more gloomy.

Putting the number of jobless at 10,671,000 in October, an increase of more than half a million over its figures for the same month last year, the federation drew an unoptimistic outline for the immediate future of business and industry.

Ogden Mills Asks For Prompt Return Of Gold Standard

ROOSEVELT REVOLUTION Held Leading U. S. To Inflation Orgy

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 22—Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury in the Hoover administration, last night demanded prompt return to the gold standard in the United States to check what he declared was the "Roosevelt revolution" and its mad rush toward the dangers of inflation.

"It is time the country woke up to the fact that the road we are travelling leads directly to progressive and uncontrolled inflation," Mills declared in an address before the Century club of Scranton. "I do not say the administration cannot turn back, but unless there is a very definite change in public sentiment, it has been forces that will drive us irresistibly forward along the road we are now traveling—and at the end there's a precipice."

He appealed for a return to the fixed budget policies, as he sees them, of Roosevelt days, declaring:

"Under the old order, we were warned in time. Under the new with the whole automatic safety device mechanism gone, we may be led over the precipice blindfolded."

The crushing weight of the disaster will be borne by the nation, but the cable will bear the heaviest burden. The first impact will be borne by the embodiment of great public welfare institutions, the saving depots of the poor, and the life insurance policies of the foresighted and their families.

"There was, there is nothing more devastating than inflation when it gets beyond control. Are we to permit it to get beyond control? If not, then the people must avert to the danger. For only through an aroused public opinion is there any hope of arresting the forces that will all safety barriers down, with sooner or later

Child Star Features Milane's Free Show

SHIRLEY TEMPLE'S latest movie, "Baby Take A Bow," is to be the feature attraction at the Milane Theater Monday morning when, starting at 10:00 o'clock, the management presents its annual free show for its child patrons.

Boys and girls planning to attend were reminded today that they may bring some article of food which can be used in Christmas baskets for the poor. It is not necessary that such a gift be made, it was stressed, but few girls and boys have attended these annual shows without bringing some kind of gift.

Fruit fruits are not wanted, the theater management explained today. Canned goods, particularly canned meats, are especially needed, as are baked foods.

Fruit Trucks Will Be Halted At State Line

ORLANDO, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Citrus Control Committee today adopted a plan of Nathan Mayo, agriculture commissioner, to prevent the movement of frozen fruit to market by stopping fruit trucks at the state line.

Mayo informed the committee that the agriculture department will press into service a corps of inspectors in addition to those already on duty to put an end to the shipment of fruit unfit for human consumption.

Labor Reports Employment Is Growing Daily

FEDERATION CLAIMS HALF MILLION MORE ARE IDLE NOW THAN SAME TIME IN 1933

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—American transport expanded its mastery over space and time in 1934, bringing increased speed, comfort and safety to the millions who ride the highways, railways and skylanes of the nation.

New streamlined railroads, trains, buses and private motor cars streaked across the continent, smashing records for fast time and setting higher standards for luxurious, noise muffled travel. In research laboratories scientists toiled on device after device to cater to a populace which travels more than any other in world history.

Air-conditioning, heralded as possibly "the great new American industry," was utilized on an expand-

Business Leaders Defend Program Against Critics In Report On TVA

Strawn Argues That General Agreement Was Not Expected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—American business leadership last night defended its much criticized program for business recovery and the lack of "fine" commentary.

One of the speakers for the White Sulphur Springs conference of industry stated, "Mr. Strawn of Chicago went further to add that the drafters of the program had not expected general agreement and that opposition makes no difference."

Clearly we cannot count on private industry to find productive work for the unemployed soon. The recovery program of 1933

Evans Will Direct Trade Body's 1935 Membership Drive

Frank Evans will head the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Sales Army for the annual membership campaign which begins Jan. 15, it was announced today.

Mr. Evans was chosen for the role at a meeting of the Member Committee whose members also selected W. H. Schmidt of Sanford as major general, and the following as colonels: Walter Coleman, J. L. Marentette and C. E. Adams of Sanford, Mrs. J. W. Gates of Orlando, and Miss Norma A. Wally of Lake Mary.

The drive will open with a breakfast on Tuesdays morning Jan. 15, to end with a supper on Wednesday night, Jan. 16. Both affairs will be held at the trade body office.

The colonels will select five captains in Sanford, and four lieutenants, while Col. Gates will select a captain and an assistant lieutenant for Geneva, Okaloosa, Walton, Okaloosa and Okaloosa and Col. Wally will select a captain and at least one lieutenant each in Lake Monroe, Lake Mary, Paulina, Altamonte Springs, Fern Park, and Forest City.

Condon Says Trip Was Successful

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Dr. John F. (Jafuse) Condon, interim master in the Lindbergh kidnapping, said here yesterday he had "accomplished much more" than he had expected on his Miami trip.

"The Lindbergh case," he said, "is more than life or death."

He was enroute back north from Miami where he interviewed some at a house on Biscayne Drive.

He said he received some valuable information there." He had stopped at Daytona Beach prior to his Miami trip.

"The Lindbergh case," he said, "is more than life or death."

Sanford All Stars To Play Orlando Eleven At Tinker Field On Christmas

A strong line and a fast backfield will start for the Sanford All-Stars when they meet the Orlando All-Stars in Orlando on Christmas night in a charity football game that is to start at 8 o'clock.

This announcement, coming from Leonard McLucas, High School mentor who is coaching his fine team in the charity tilt, indicates that he is satisfied with the prospect of victory in what is expected to be the first of a series of annual games in which former Sanford and Orlando stars will appear.

Arrival here today of Hobie Ware and Woodrow Biles from the University of Florida definitely established the fact that they will not be permitted to play in the game.

They are members of the 1933 squad, and Coach Dutch Stanley has turned a deaf ear to their plea the cloud fields,And sowing the slow seed of the stars.Old men going homeward now, Hungry for the clank of trace chains,Hungry for the voice that brought the cattle home.Careful of traffic signals, the old men plod homeward,

Hoping for harvest hardly worth the reaping;Unhorsed, shoeless and empty banner at a continent's end.

The menace of subsidized gridiron athletes in our schools and colleges may disappear with the increasing popularity of professional football, so the wise sports-writers think who recall the days of collegiate baseball enthusiasm before the advent of Big League clubs. The suggestion is made that college football can't compete with the professional brand as an exciting amusement for the spectators.

Professional football is so much better than the amateur sport that it has been said that the Chicago Bears could take on Minnesota and Alabama and beat them both the same afternoon. Lines averaging 220 pounds, with biggish backfields of 190-pounds, all fast and hard as nails and all soundly trained in the intricacies of the game, put on shows that far out-shine anything the amateurs have to offer.

It is reasonable that the vast horde of football fans will some day, perhaps not far distant, turn their enthusiasm to the professional league teams. When that day comes there will be no need for rules governing tramp athletes, football scholarships, scholastic standings, proselytizing, and so forth, for football, if not entirely dead at the big college attraction, will at least be in the background.

This will be a regrettable condition, because no sport has caught and holds the fancy of youth as football, not alone for its own rugged manner of play but for all the glamour and flavor of the occasion when ancient rivals of the gridiron meet. It will be a bad day when only a few thousand persons turn out to see the Army and Navy battle because the Giants and the Bears are staging their championship game the same afternoon.

Old Age No Handicap To Greatness

The Townsend Old Age Pension Plan has many things which do not recommend it to serious consideration, and the fact that the following men achieved great distinction beyond the age of 70 is in no wise an argument either for or against the fantastic Townsend Plan, it is merely an interesting sidelight in the lives of some great personalities:

"Between the ages of 70 and 83 Commodore Vanderbilt added about 100 millions to his fortune."

Kant at 74 wrote his Anthropology, Metaphysics, of Ethics and Strife of the Faculties.

Tintoretto at 74 painted the vast Paradise, a canvas

74 feet by 30.

Verdi at 71 produced his masterpiece Otello; at 80, Falstaff, and at 85 the famous Ave Maria, Stabat Mater, and Te Deum.

Johann at 78 completed his great zoological work, The Natural History of the Invertebrates.

Oliver Wendell Holmes at 79 wrote Over the Teacups.

Cato at 80 began the study of Greek.

Goethe at 80 completed Faust.

Tennyson at 83 Crossing the Bar.

Titian at 58 painted his historic picture of the Battle of Lepanto.

In our own time one needs only to look around to see that many gray-haired men and women are occupying places of eminence and doing their best work. All of the Supreme Court justices are over sixty. Hindenburg, who died recently, was 80 before becoming supreme commander of the German army. Henry Ford, Charles Schwab, Andrew Mellon, Albert Einstein are all in advanced years of life.

Life, perhaps, does not begin at forty, but at least it may be very full and interesting after one has passed that milestone.

division for 1934 celebrated the fact with a banquet at the Montezuma Hotel Thursday night.

He is J. A. Turner, roadmaster whose offices are in Sanford, and his guests were local Coast Line officials as well as his foremen and their wives and friends.

The prize, coveted by every road master in the division, is in the form of a trophy as well as cash.

Attending the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Freeman, Mr. A. B. Lewis, Miss Jessie Maude Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dear Santa:

I am a good little girl. I am 9 years old. I have 3 sisters and 2 brothers. I want you to please remember us this year. I want a doll with long hair Alfred and Charles want a dump truck, Mary and Lily Mae want dolls. Now Santa don't think I will hurt a big doll as I help mother take care of baby sister. I also help mother clean house. So now Santa please don't get lost or break a leg. Ask Dr. Langley or Dr. Tolar and they can tell you.

From Doris Irene Sjolom.

Dec. 18, 1934.

Dear Santa Claus:

We are good little boys and girls in the First Grade at the East Side School. Will you please bring Kenneth Leffler, Leroy Gilbert Roy Partain, Walter Smith, Richard Singletary and Robert Sparkman a bicycle each. Bring Florine Trawick, Margaret Matthews, James Drummond, Dwight Peck, Elaine Carroll and Charles Robinson some skates. Sally Kate Williams wants a blackboard. Shirley Jacobson wants a doll carriage. Franklin McTeer wants an electric train. Please bring Henry and Woodrow Joiner a little red wagon. Bring Lorinda Cornell a pretty doll.

With lots of love, Dorothy Piatt.

Dear Santa:

I am a little boy of eight and I would like for you to bring me a box of pencils, two or three boxes of matches and a victrola record that is known by the name of No.

And I also would like for you to bring me a little elf that would follow me around and do all that I ask him to do. I have been a pretty good boy this year and would like very much if you would grant me these things.

With lots of love, I remain your friend,

Secretary Perkins declared herself not displeased by an 80,000 decline in industrial employment from

October to November. She asserted the drop was smaller than usual, and that employment in non-manufacturing industries had increased.

While Miss Perkins and a cabinet committee wrestled with a projected social security plan, including unemployment insurance, and the White House gave thought to sizable funds to relieve distress, the federation declared "unemployment relief is America's most urgent problem today."

Saying that the number of those dependent on relief had increased by 5,000,000 since September last year, the federation stated relief costs had jumped from $50,206,000

in September 1933, to $185,000,000 in the same month this year when the pay of PWA and CCC employees was included.

The federation then questioned whether the slow speed of the in-ustrial machine was not due to a desire by employers to strike against the collective bargaining guarantees of the Recovery Act.

It cited several actions by business organizations as opposing the continuance of section 7A.

As to why it thought business might otherwise be moving at a slow pace, the federation cited several factors. It said:

"Whatever may be the needs of our population, whatever the number of persons who want work and are denied a chance to produce the needed goods, actually millions of business men will not increase production units, they are either

Miss Alice Elder Is Bride Of J. C. Green

Of interest to many friends in Florida and Georgia is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Alice Evans Elder, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Philip Malon Elder of that city, to John Clifton Green, Jr. of Anderson, S. C. The ceremony was performed this morning at 10:00 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Ocala by the Rev. Paul Eller. In the presence of the immediate members of the families the only persons invited because of the recent death of the bride's mother.

Mr. Green wore for the occasion a brown wool ensemble suit made with a tailored skirt and sweater coat. Her accessories were in brown and she wore a shoulder corsage of bridal roses.

Miss Elder is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elder and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodlow Evans, early pioneers of this section of the state. She was graduated from Seminole High School in 1928 and later attended the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville where she received an A. I. degree. Upon graduating she accepted a position as teacher in the Sanford Grammar School where she has taught until the present time. She has been active in social and church work here and has taken great interest in the Sunday School Department of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Green is the second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton Green of Anderson, S. C., one of Carolina's oldest and most prominent families. He is a graduate of Furman College and of the University of Georgia.

Constructive Service Of Majority Of Newspapers Praised By Noted Editor

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 22.—Maurice S. Sherman, editor of the Hartford, "Courant," asserted in giving the annual Isaac Bromley lecture at Yale University, that the local newspaper occupied a permanent, enduring and invaluable place in the state and nation, but he added:

"The New York Times," with its far-flung news-gathering organization and wide circulation, is as local in the Jingville, "Bungle, in that it is the first concern of each to present the news of its own particular community. The large and important newspaper may and does give an immense amount besides that, but is never born sevenfold. They constitute neglects to render unto its neighbor the backbone of its circulation; they are properly entitled to solicitous attention."

Mr. Sherman cited the standard laid down by President Angell of Yale, by which newspapers, as well as other agencies, might as well be judged by their effects on man and the social order. That small section of the press which violates the canons of decent journalism by deliberately pandering to depraved taste, President Angell said, should not obscure the public's vision of the constructive service the newspapers as a whole are rendering.

He added:

The golden age of journalism! Was it when the elder Bennett was carrying on his feuds with other editors and between times developing what was for those days a great system of news coverage? Was it when Greeley was carrying on his passion for politics into his editing and proving himself an unequalled supporter of causes?

"Was it when the first Bowles was giving his newspaper, the Springfield "Republican," a national reputation by the vigor, incisiveness and independence of its editorial utterances? Was it when Dana, confused and confounded politicians by his audacity and gave literary style and brilliance to even the most commonplace item? Was it when the junior Bennett commissioned Stanley to go and find Livingstone? Was it when Watterson, champion of reconciliation between North and South during the Reconstruction Period, directed his shafts of wit and satire against the great and near-great? These were all notable figures, they ornamented their profession, their names will endure.

"But can it not be said that a day of better journalism dawned when Orbs acquired in 1890 the controlling ownership of The New York "Times," which had then a circulation hard to find, and made it what it is today by adjuring all the temptations of yellow journalism and giving to intelligent readers complete, trustworthy and non-partisan news report?

His influence upon the place of the local newspaper in state and nation, if unconscious, has nevertheless been tremendous. He has proved that the type of journalism to which he has given exampification not only commands respect, but pays. There is reason to believe that its spirit will go marching on to the great advantage of man and the social order.

LONGWOOD

A large attendance at the Anson Civic League Banquet and supper made the affair a success, morally and financially. On Thursday evening, during the evening's delightful community sing was enjoyed, led by Mr. Emma Lymack with the P. T. A. singers and also Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whittemore as leaders.

Services at the Episcopal church on Sunday were conducted by the Rev. Martin J. Braun of Sanford. Mr. Braun will administer the Holy Communion on Christmas Day at eleven o'clock in the morning.

At the Baptist Church on Sunday morning the Rev. J. N. Thompson of Oviedo with the pastor, Rev. J. L. Yostman conducted the Ordination of the new Deacons recently selected. B. R. Gray, W. J. Wells, Jr., and Clyde Whitehead, Deacon J. W. O'Brien was ordained several years ago.

The attendance at the tourist Club weekly luncheons increases at each gathering. Recent hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fernahl, Mrs. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. William Best and Carl Whittemore.

The last meeting of the Five-Hundred Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leighton.

A Christmas program was carried out at the Baptist Church Tuesday evening by organizations of the B. Y. P. U., the G. R. C., the R. A.'s and the Sunbeams.

Lyman School teachers are planning Christmas programs and Christmas tree celebrations on Friday, the closing day of the school term.

A large influx of tourists has been coming into town all the fall, only a few apartments are still available.

A hospitable Community Get-together with varied entertainment for New Year's Eve is being arranged for by the tourist Club, the Five-Hundred Club and the Civic League. The affair will be at Library Hall. A committee of two from each organization with other associates chosen will be in charge of arrangements.

Wilkinson Thanks Those Who Aided In Club Contest

Some Prizes Will Be Presented Tonight, Others Next Week

An expression of appreciation to the local merchants and individuals who assisted in making the recent Seminole Boys' Boxing Club competitive contest a success was issued this morning by Judge S. A. B. Wilkinson, Club sponsor.

"We owe a deep debt of gratitude to the many persons who helped make our little contest such a big success," he said. "After seven weeks of real work, we are glad to report that many of the boys in the contest are really started on the path we had hoped they would follow. We are trying to teach them sportsmanship, gentleness, and the art of self defense, and we feel that we have succeeded in a great measure. We owe much of our success to the persons who helped put across the contest."

Judge Wilkinson stressed the

"fine co-operation" extended by Joe Moss, Allen Summerlin, Carson Cook, George Detrich, Bobbie Cameron, Johnnie Peckham, Clarence Peckham, and others who acted as referees, judges, ticket sellers, and the like during the contest.

"Most of the prizes have already been distributed," Judge Wilkinson said that some of the wrist watches yet to be handed out. This will be done at 7:00 o'clock tonight in Judge Wilkinson's offices in the Meisch Building on First Street.

Merchants and individuals who donated prizes for the contest were:

The silver offering which will be taken during a special service at the First Baptist Church tomorrow night will go toward the upkeep of the Baptist Orphanage at Arcadia, it was stated today by S. J. Nix. The special service will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. J. Rhodes will give a lecture on the Birth and Life of Christ, and Herman Morris will handle the stereopticon machine which will be used to project slides on a special screen. Mrs. R. L. Glenn, Mrs. R. R. Pippin, B. C. Moore, and J. M. Stinecipher will offer special music.

Harry M. Papworth yesterday morning was indignantly bemoaning the vandalism which recently destroyed a lighting effect on trees in his front yard, and was warning other persons who have put up outdoor Christmas effects to be on the watch for the "hoodlums." While the Papworths were at the theater, unknown persons removed three strings of colored lights from trees in the front yard of the Papworth home. Mr. Papworth considers it "A sorry state of affairs that our town should be populated by hoodlums who would tear down decorations put up in commemoration of the birth of Christ. Why, I consider such vandalism as a downright outrage. In my opinion the hoodlums couldn't have done a more despicable trick had they robbed the poor box of a church."

Sanford Elks are making plans for a reception in honor of Bea Cantwell, one of their most distinguished members. Mr. Cantwell will be guest of honor at Cantwell will be guest of honor at ceremonies to be held probably on the night of Jan. 11, it was announced today by Secretary Howard Overlin. Elks are reminded to keep the date in mind. Mr. Overlin also indicated that major league ball players wintering in various cities also may be invited to attend this affair in tribute to their league mate.

George T. Rory, member of a Holy Cross Episcopal Church Men's Club committee which includes John Galloway, Joe Meisch, Joe Gonzales and Ralph A. Smith, stated today that plans are in the making for a "stag" bridge party to be held at the Parish House probably on the night of Jan. 12. No women will be allowed to participate, he said, and for once a man can enjoy a game of bridge without having his chin cracked for trumping his wife's ace.

Mrs. J. W. Mero is recuperating at her home near Elder Springs from injuries and shock sustained in an automobile accident on the Sanford-Orlando highway Wednesday afternoon. Her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Hodgkin, was at the wheel of their automobile when a tire blew out. The car skidded from the road as a result, struck soft sand, and turned over twice. Mrs. Mero was cut on the leg, and both women were shocked, fortunately escaping any serious injuries.

FERN GROWERS FOUGHT FREEZE WITH DEFIANCE

Fern Park Area Was Busy Scene During Weather's Change

By HENRY BALCH

ORLANDO, Dec. 22.—Defiantly, 20,000 rebel campfire-like smudge sent fiery torches into the rear of a truck parked on the highway without lights, Sheriff McClelland said today that he had given orders that strict enforcement will be the order if a sheriff's deputy catches any car or truck on the highway without lights. Mr. Crosby's car was badly damaged as was negro Harry Hall's truck. Mr. Crosby and her child were cut by flying glass, but not seriously injured.

Mrs. J. M. Stinecipher, sponsor of the Class of 1934, Seminole High School, today announced that 50 of its 79 members already have made reservations for the first annual Class Reunion, scheduled to be held at the school cafeteria at 6:30 o'clock next Sunday night. Class members wishing to make reservations should see Mrs. Stinecipher, Miss Dorothy Marshall, or Charles Palmer Class president who will act as toastmaster. The party will adjourn its banquet session to attend the Phi Alpha Kappa Dance at the Mayfair Hotel.

Citrus men took a more philosophic attitude. Chester Fosgate summed up the fruitmen's sentiment when he said over the phone: "I'm sitting by a big log fire. To heck with the citrus."

Nevertheless Chester, according to a night watchman at his Forest City packing house, checked conditions there continually during the night.

That it was the worst cold since 1917 was generally admitted. That the cold had killed either fern grower or citrus man was never admitted.

The farmers were fatalistic but optimistic. They felt that perhaps their smudges might do the trick and beat the cold. They always hoped that the snap wouldn't last long enough to affect the citrus tree, although conceding that part of the crop was gone. They allowed that young fern shoots were ruined.

Many a grower had long since banked his young trees. He felt that his efforts would at least save the roots.

Most fern men had been smudging since Saturday night, with a day off Sunday during a temporary warm spell. They all looked haggard and worn. Boards were long and faces dirty with the oil that smudges had been burning up at the rate of $1 a minute.

Wilbur Haines, former football star on the Brown University iron men eleven and also once a star for the University of Florida, was doing a long night's work at the Standard fernery, 10 miles from Orlando on the old Sanford road.

The Standard is the pride of the Haines' fernery. Smudge pots were blazing full blast. A crew of negroes kept the pots full while former athlete Haines stood up and down in a damp packing house, keeping his fingers crossed.

Just beyond the fernery, a gladiola bed was acquiring a carefully planned coat of icicles, designed to save the tender plants.

Young Haines explained that ice formed at 32 degrees, just freezing temperature, and that if his pipes could be kept functioning thus holding temperatures even, the tender plants might be saved. The icicles grew to two feet in length.

Then off to the Winter Park fernery.

Hibbard Casselberry was caught taking a moment's respite from his labors under his 30 acre sheds. He and Frank Russell, foreman, were sneaking in a cup of coffee.

That the weather was bad Hibbard and Russell agreed. They had 600 smudge pots going full blast and 32 negroes watching the proceedings. Unique was the method of filling burning pots with fresh fuel oil. Old timers called it extremely dangerous claiming the pots were likely to explode during the proceedings but Hibbard and gang seemed to have things under control.

Then over to the Florida Folage layout, owned and operated by Sanford Jaycees Chief Gordon Barnett. Ferman Barnett had a third day growth of what the Gillett boys tried to eliminate. His thermometer showed 23 degrees. He was down in the dumps.

"We had a swell market," said. "We were getting about a cent apiece for our ferns. The Christmas demand may send prices up to a cent and a half but whether we'll have the ferns to supply remains to be seen."

Barnett said that the day was the quietest he's ever experienced in Florida. He said that the thermometer around Fern Park had been steady at 48 until the sun

Tobacco Farmers Okey Control Plan

By The Associated Press
Tobacco Farmers—on the basis of partial return—yesterday voted 52% in favor of continuing compulsory control of their crop.

Returns from the referendum conducted in the large tobacco growing states were meager, but appeared to indicate the farm administration officials that continuance of the Keay Smith Act in 1935 had been approved.

* This was the second referendum conducted on crop control by farmers voted nine to one for that method of control.

for further questioning. The verdict finding the white guards guilty of terrorism, said the majority of them crossed the frontier from Poland or Roumania, carrying hand grenades and revolvers. They had orders to carry out terrorist acts in the Ukrainian republic."

Capital Dames 'Go Grande' At White House Ball

The first White House costume party in history brought out a variety of unique regalia as women of official Washington staged their counter attraction to the "stag" Gridiron club dinner. Mrs. Henry Wallace (center), wife of the agriculture secretary, is shown in her attractive and authentic Yugoslavian costume, newer than 100 years old. Representative Virginia C. Jenckes of Indiana (left) represented the "chariot race" standard in a gold and silver gown; Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross (right), director of the event, was an old fashioned belle, and (lower left) Mrs. Harold Ickes, wife of the secretary of the interior, was a Zoroastrian ceremonial costume. SENATE PROBERS DELVE INTO MUNITIONS SECRETS

The Senate committee, reopening its investigation of the munition business, heard evidence that arms manufacturers knew six years before the World War that "a tremendous conflict was brewing," but Irene Dupont, below center, munitions manufacturer, declared Japan was "almost dead" during that period. Committee members, left to right, are Senators Vandenberg of Michigan, Nye of North Dakota, Clark of Missouri, Pope of Idaho. In the rear are Senator Barbour of New Jersey, Alger Hiss, committee investigator, and Stephen Rauschenbach, chief investigator. Below are the Du Ponts, Irene and Pierre (left), with their counsel, William Donavan (right). (Associated Press Photos)

QUINTUPLE DOCTOR SEESES GOTHAM

Riding a ferry boat to see the skyline and traveling by submarine to hang on a strap, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, north woods doctor who brought the famous Dionne quintuplets into the world, came to New York to see the big city. The city also came to see him, for New Yorkers turned out on all sides to cheer him and learn about the quintuplets. Dr. Dafoe (left) is shown here on the deck of a ferry boat gazing at New York's famous skyline as George Gates, movie star magnet, acts as guide. The babies are well and happy, says the physician. The United States is improving its dominant position in the British tobacco market, British imports of unmanufactured tobacco from this country in the current year amounted to 74 percent of British receipts from House after conferring with the President on proposed legislation to make armed conflict profitable. IT'S THAT WAY IN GOLF

Age gave youth a few pointers—or maybe it was vice versa—when Eugene McCarthy (left) of Columbia, S. C., and Henry Russell of Miami met in the Miami Biltmore Open Golf Tournament. McCarthy, 58, was the oldest entrant and Russell, 17, was the youngest. But despite that difference, they were as chummy as college fraternity boys. Golf, it seems, has a way of doing things like that for its devotees. (Associated Press Photo)

FROZEN RIVER SEARCHED FOR FIRE VICTIMS

With 26 names on the list of persons known to have perished in the Kerns Hotel fire at Lansing, Mich., policemen in cowboy hats searched among the huge ice cakes in the Grand River for the bodies of others who were seen to leap into the stream from the burning building. Below are some of the victims who have been identified. Left to right: State Senator John Leidlein of Saginaw, and Representatives Charles D. Parker of Otsego, T. Henry Howlett of Gregory, John W. Goodwin of Marquette, Vern Vouther of Alpena, and Donald W. Sims of Midland. (Associated Press Photos)

FOUR HELD IN MIAMI KIDNAPING

Four men arrested in connection with the kidnapping of Dr. Santiago Claret, (top), Cuban editor, have been told they may face trial under the federal kidnapping law providing the death penalty in event of conviction. Two of the four, who were arrested at Miami for the kidnapping and extortion, are shown at right. Top is Claret's chauffeur who gave his name as Roy Gray, and at right below is his brother who gave his name as Fred H. Gray. Claret was forced to write a check for $10,000. WAR DECLARED ON WAR PROFITS

Bent on removing the profits from war as a step toward world peace, President Roosevelt has appointed Bernard M. Baruch, financier, and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA chief, to head a group of prominent New Dealers in drawing up a definite program. Johnson (left) and Baruch are shown leaving the White House after conferring with the President on proposed legislation to make armed conflict profitable. (Associated Press Photo)

Professional bombers from New York are blamed by Boston police for explosions that damaged four New England theaters in one day. Claiming evidence that the bombers were paid sums that ranged from $250 to $1,000 for each explosion, authorities sought to learn the cause by investigating disputes between rival theatrical unions. Theaters were damaged at Lynn, Mass., Pawtucket, R. I., and at Boston where two movie houses were shaken by the blasts. The above is a picture of the Tremont theater in Boston after the explosion. ## Death Stalks Through Land, Claiming Many

Christmas Happiness For Many Homes Is Marred By Varied Fatal Accidents

By The Associated Press
Death intruded on the holiday scene today as reports of airplane disasters added to a formidable list of accidents and tragedies.

These were the stories of death:

Ventura, Cal.: An airplane was reported crashed in flames in a ravine near here. Elko, Nev.: A pilot and his passengers, two girls and a boy, were sought after their plane disappeared in fog and snow.

Pittsburgh: After playing Santa Claus to her brother's children, Mrs. Kathryn Schoch, crazed by the recent death of her own son, turned a revolver (Continued On Page Five)

Business Faces The New Year Carter Glass Eager To Cast Off 'Crutches'

Permanent Rules Of Health Will Govern Economic Doctors' Powerful Patient

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—

Eager to cast off its crutches,

American business enthusiasm faces the new year.

Recovery during 1934 was most striking in agricultural areas, despite a record-breaking drought. And for the country as a whole consumer buying swelled in the later months of the year. In the largest volume since perhaps 1929. While statistics on the volume of Christmas trade are not yet available, a number of business sources believe it has been the most prosperous Yuletide in four years.

Governor Sholtz Warless World Not Sends Greeting Impossible, Ford Tells U.S. Youth

Number One Citizen Manufacturer Thinks Present Generation To See Era Of Peace

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 24 (AP)—Governor Dave Sholtz today sent to "The People of the State of Florida" the following Christmas message:

"Through the press, I send to each of you sincere wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

"As we approach the end of a year and look with anticipation to the New Year, there should be in our hearts an appreciation for what has been accomplished in 1934.

"A government whose understanding heart is represented by our beloved President Roosevelt has let the way toward defeat of depression and the ascent of what we joyfully call better times. Those who have been roughed up by those oppressed by adversity, over whom they had no control, or even whom he has followed the proudest of business channels, to restore health to a sickened trade.

"In Florida, your government has sought to do its part. The creation of political jobs has not been our goal, but employment of persons who needed jobs has been our guiding rule. Likewise all the people who needed assignment could not get in with the fate that would befit us.

"Throughout the year, in his (Continued on Page Two)

Pope Pius Sees War Clamor As Spreading

ATLANTA, Dec. 24 (AP)—Pope Pius in his Christmas address to his Cardinals to day said: "The church is warily even farther, and is helping the world to pray and work for peace."

"We see a constant increasing warlike clamor," His Holiness asserted. "This is a distressing element," he continued, "in which the spirit seems to have no part. We are on the eve of a day when the heavens resound with the hymns of angels, calling for peace on earth. Never has a silent half hour given me more reason for being than to day."

The Pope's remarks were addressed, according to the news service, before 20 Cardinals of the Curia or that group of cardinals in Rome.

Estill Succeeds Gill As Power Firm Head

George C. Estill, 42, of the Power and Light Co., has succeeded to the presidency of the company, according to S. C. Gill, president of the Board of Directors, who died last Friday. The executive session in which the announcement was made followed.

Mr. Estill has been a general manager and general supervisor of the power plant for several years. He became associated with the firm in 1914 at Albany, N. Y., he came to the University of Florida, and finally to Gill's Power and Light Co., in Miami.

Hauptmann Defended Attacked By Stooge

ATLANTA, Dec. 24 (AP)—The defense of Hauptmann, the man charged with the murder of the 10-year-old German boy, was defended by his attorney, George C. Estill, before the state supreme court at Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. Estill told the court that Hauptmann had been attacked by a stooge of the defense.

Gator Dean Dies In Injuries In Week

GROSVENORVILLE, S. C., Dec. 24 (AP)—Howard Dyer, 30, a student of the business administration department of the University of Florida, died here early yesterday after injuries incurred Saturday night in an automobile accident.

Mr. Dyer, 30, a student of the university, was admitted Saturday night to the hospital with a fractured skull and struck his head on a rock.

"If any of these items fail to meet the requirements set up by the State Board," he said, "the school cannot be listed as standard."

County's Three High Schools Meet All Standard Requirements After Tests

Schools Sup't T. W. Lawton announced today that the three high schools in this county have met all requirements for accreditation as senior high school, and as a result, graduates of these high schools in Florida without examination other than placement tests.

The accredited high schools are: Seminole High at Sanford; Lyman High at Longwood-Almonte, and Oviedo High at Oviedo.

Mr. Lawton also announced that the 12 elementary schools from which the high schools come also have been accepted and rated as standard.

This is, he said, a pre-requisite to accreditation of the high schools in which these pupils may be enrolled.

St. Lucie High School

Southside, Westside and Eastside Primary, Loxahatchee, Lake Mary, Oviedo, and Seminole Lake Monona, and Webster schools at Palatka.

Mr. Lawton explained that schools listed for accreditation are standardization areas, school grounds, athletic equipment and program, lighting, heating, furniture, apparatus, vehicles, and library service, and administration.

"If any of these items fail to meet the requirements set up by the State Board," he said, "the school cannot be listed as standard."
