FAMOUS METROPOLITAN SINGER IS ONE OF COLUMBIA'S LEADING STARS

By Mrs. WALTER COOPER
 A group of Sanford people gathered to St. Augustine last night to hear Helen Jepson, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., render a concert.

Her appearance in a town the size of St. Augustine was made possible through the cooperation of the people of that city with the Columbia Broadcasting Co., who have inaugurated a plan whereby it is possible to bring the greatest talents in America to many towns the size of St. Augustine and Sanford. Not only the people who prefer this type of entertainment, but also many others who might have the opportunity of seeing and hearing in person some of these celebrities are given the privilege of attending these concerts.

It is hard to express in words the value one receives from hearing a concert by a truly great artist. There is something in such a program as Miss Jepson gave last night that lifts

The head of the Association of American Railroads estimated yesterday that this country's railroads could put 150,000 men to work if railroad revenues climbed back to normal.

The railroad executive, J. J. Felley, president of the association, added a freight rate increase would bring an immediate increase in employment.

If the Interstate Commerce Commission grants requested rate increases the railroads can resume "tugging at once the sticky, Florida-factored executive testified before the Senate employment committee.

"It would put us in a position to open our purchasing agency doors again," Felley said. "No railroad is buying anything now."

He predicted an increase in railroad employment would bring a comparable gain in other industries.

Would Restore Level.
 Felley asserted that the rate increase asked by the railroads would restore their charges to about the 1930 level. He said other carriers, including the trucking and shipping industries, also wanted to increase their rates.

The committee he looked for no improvement in railroad employment in January, that it "may be a little worse."

The witness said the total number of railroad employees had declined from 1,600,000 in 1929 to about 900,000 in January 1 of this year.

Prospects of inducing new capital to invest in the railroad field are "not bright," Felley testified. He said, however, that some roads will be able to obtain needed financing.

"It's earnings that we need, however," Felley said. "The roads don't want more capital unless they can increase their earnings."

Felley said that an "emergency" increase in freight rates, approved by the Interstate Commerce Com-

"Twelfth Night" To Be Presented On Jan. 17

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 15.—"Drama students and all theatre lovers agree that there are more well-known stage characters and more famous quotable lines in Shakespeare's comedy Twelfth Night or What You Will, than in almost any other play by the Bard of Avon," according to Mrs. Doris Thomas Lynch, state director of the Federal Theatre project which will present this play under the sponsorship of the Seminole High School faculty at the High School Auditorium on Jan. 17, at 8:15 o'clock.

Two productions in the FTP's "Animated History of the Drama" have already been presented; Plautus' "Miles Gloriosus", representing the early Greco-Roman theatre, and a double-entertainment bill including the Chester Mystery Cycle and "Everyman", to represent the medieval period of the drama.

Advancing from a period 2,000 years ago in the first production to the 14th century in the second "Twelfth Night" will typify the 16th century drama and following that will be "She Stoops to Conquer", representing the 18th century. The final two plays will represent the 19th and 20th century American scene.

Turkey Will Drink Home-Grown Tea

ISTANBUL, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Turkey is taking steps to grow her own tea so as to keep at home the $1,000,000 a year she now spends importing it from India, China and Ceylon.

Successful experiments in the Black sea area preceded the present scheme of giving free land and tea seeds to planters who will grow it.

If all goes well, it is thought self sufficiency will be attained in three years when importation will be prohibited.

Wheat Section Of Nation Is Menaced By Clouds Of Dust

Terror Is Struck In Hearts Of Farmers Recovering From 5 Years Of Drought

Loose Top Soil Is Stirred By Winds

Darkened Clouds Blot Out Sun, Cut Visibility To Short Range

FORGAN, Okla., Jan. 14. (AP)—Ominous clouds of dust, spring's greatest menace to growing crops, settled over the Southwest today, striking terror in the hearts of farmers just recovering from five years of drought.

But in the nation's dust bowl, dormant many months, was stirred up in the teeth of a gale.

The loose top soil, the only protection for tender wheat stalks just protruding above ground, was shipped skyward.

Grazed wheat growers in the Oklahoma panhandle and on the dry plains of Western Kansas looked on with growing anxiety.

Black clouds blotted out the sun and cut visibility here to 300 yards.

The atmosphere thinned during the morning but a blanket of dirt was deposited over parts of five states.

The first dust storm of the year came much earlier than usual. Normally the first one comes in late February.

Firm Follows Lines Of Least Resistance To End Dispute

Declaring that employees of his Company have felt for some time that the labor difficulties which existed at the Cannery had been ironed out, C. H. Eckerson, president of the Company, asserted today that he had followed the lines of least resistance when he signed an agreement yesterday amicably settling the allegations filed with the National Labor Relations Board by officials of the C. I. O. Union, the United Cannery, Agricultural and Allied Workers Union of America.

Following an investigation by Thomas F. Nebett, representative of the National Labor Relations Board in New Orleans, Mr. Eckerson signed the agreement, drawn up by the Labor Board which provided that the plant would be settled with "no ill will or malice" and that the company would re-employ 14 persons who, CIO officials charged, were refused reinstatement because of Union activities. The agreement was also signed by W. L. Boscclair, who was in charge of local CIO activities.

OFFENSIVE ART

Lament: It must be wiped out, shouted Puerto Rico's senate president, Dr. Rafael Martinez Nadal, when he learned of Rockwell Kent's mural in Washington's new postoffice department building. The painting and artist are shown above. In it he has depicted delivery of a letter to Puerto Ricans, inscribed on the sheet held by the woman is a cryptic message in an obscure Eskimo dialect, exhorting the islanders to "change chiefs." To this part the senator did not greatly object, but protested loudly over his people's being represented as "a bunch of African bushmen."

Vagrants Seized By Local Police In War On Crime

Three Men Arrested Upon Complaint Of Begging On Streets

Following the policy of the Sanford Police Department to arrest all vagrants and undesirable transients coming into the city, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams yesterday arrested three men who gave their names as John W. Miller of Toledo, Ohio, Harry Walker of Baymenette, Ala., and Fred L. Windhow of Orlando, near the intersection of Park Avenue and First Street yesterday and lodged them in the City jail on vagrancy charges.

The arrest followed a complaint that the men were creating a nuisance by begging on the streets. They were finger printed by Sgt. J. A. Howard and a copy of the prints will be sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington in an effort to learn whether or not they are wanted elsewhere.

Sending a copy of fingerprints of all persons arrested in Sanford to the Federal Bureau at the nation's capital is another of the local Department's modernizing steps initiated to increase "efficiency of operation" of the Department and which earlier in the week resulted in the apprehension of a man wanted by Federal authorities for violation of a parole from a federal prison.

The wanted ex-convict, Tommy Thomas, was arrested by the Police Department last week and after his fingerprints had been sent to Washington, the local Chief of Police promptly received information that Thomas had been paroled from the federal penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kan., to which he was sentenced for passing counterfeit coins.

Thomas was turned over to a United States Marshall who called for him.

Secretary Ickes Called "Renegade Republican"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senator Bailey, North Carolina Democrat, called Secretary Ickes a "renegade Republican" in the southern filibuster against the anti-lynching bill.

Bailey gained the floor to discuss Ferdinand Landberg's book "America's Co-Familiars" which he asserted had been the "inspiration" for Ickes' recent attacks on "big business."

Bailey criticized Ickes' speech. A subcommittee submitted to the House ways and means committee a tax revision program which it contended would provide a "very substantial stimulation to business." The major recommendations were for a broad revision of the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes, targets of many complaints from business interests.

Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, expressed concern yesterday less bitterness produced by the anti-lynching bill fight dim chances of enacting President Roosevelt's legislative program.

The veteran Nebraska independent said both sides in the fight feel very deeply about the issue, and that a continuance of the debate may open wounds difficult to heal.

Norris said proponents and opponents of the pending bill would be equally responsible if the fight endangers the administration program.

He said "psychological differences" which may result from the battle would have a more serious effect on Mr. Roosevelt's program than the loss of the time consumed in the filibuster itself.

Divine healing services, conducted at the Sanford Gospel Tabernacle by the Rev. John W. Sproul, are continuing nightly.

Many testify each night that they have, through faith, been healed of lingering ailments.

Mr. A. B. Roberts testified that "I was paralyzed two years ago in my left side, left arm and left leg, but after Dr. Sproul prayed for me I am much better. I can walk, and lift the arm that was paralyzed to the back of my head."

Those who are sick and suffering are cordially invited to attend the service regardless of church affiliations as these services are undenominational.

Chautemps Quits Franc Toboggans In French Crisis

Exchange Operations Suspended As President Seeks Cabinet

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Bank of France ordered all exchange transactions suspended "until further notice" as President Albert Lebrun began a conference seeking a new government to replace the shattered people's front cabinet of Camille Chautemps who resigned early today.

Chautemps received the president's invitation to form a new cabinet but declined it.

The crisis was precipitated by growing labor unrest and the fall of the franc.

Tourists were prohibited from changing money.

The stock exchange opened, however.

Unmanned wireless demonstrations against the cabinet last night clashed with police and slung the communist "Internationale" as Chautemps staked the life of his tottering government on the vote of confidence.

Before appearing before a stormy session of the chamber the premier appealed to the nation for calm heads to bridge a financial and labor crisis that drove the franc down to its lowest level in 11 years, caused an alarming flight of capital and threatened to deplete the national treasury.

Amazed Senators Hear Graft Story Involving Clerk

Setting Up Of Dummy CCC Camp Defrauds U. S. Of Large Sum

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Amazed senators yesterday heard that a clever interior department clerk who set up a "dummy" CCC camp defrauded the government out of about $34,000 through voucher forgeries and escaped detection almost four years.

Three department investigators told the committee how Heno Stitley, 29, former $2,300 a year voucher room chief in the National Park service, executed a three-year series of forgeries and used the money he obtained to pay off a $6,000 note on his residence, purchase an expensive automobile, gamble on sports events, speculate in the stock market and spend lavishly to entertain friends.

One of the investigators said Stitley, who pleaded guilty recently in district court here to nine counts of a forgery indictment, "might still be getting away with it" if he hadn't shifted the scene of his operations from one department to another.

Details of the case were unfolded to the committee while it was considering the president's nomination of E. K. Dure to succeed the late W. W. Walters as first assistant interior department secretary.

Chairman Adams, democrat, Colorado, called D. H. Roeder, Jr., Robert G. McCarty and Cecil G. Miles, the investigators, to testify after Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, interrupted his questioning of Dure with a demand that the department's files on the Stitley case be submitted to the committee. Dure previously had told the committee he had no connection with the disbursement of funds and in reply to Pittman's questions, had explained he did not know full details of the Stitley case.

Roeder, McCarty and Miles said Stitley began in August 1933, to forge vouchers for a "dummy" CCC camp he established in the Shenandoah national park in Virginia, collecting them through the war department.

Reveals Unalterable Opposition To Modification Of "Death Sentence" Provision

Makes Statement At Press Parley

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President Roosevelt declared today that he favored the elimination of all holding companies.

He made the statement at a press conference at which he expressed unalterable opposition to modification of the "death sentence" in the utility holding company act.

The President delivered his pronouncement while six leaders in industry, finance and labor were called to the White House for a conference on co-operation between business and government in a joint effort to halt the present slump.

They were Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Company; Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan; John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Charles W. Tamm, president and vice-president respectively of the American Magazine Company; and A. A. Rasmussen, formerly of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Political, financial and business leaders called upon the South today to make good use of the opportunity to insure its economic future through industrial development.

They spoke at "Florida Industries Day" exercises honoring Dr. Charles H. Herby, Savannah, Ga., research chemist and dedicating the first unit of the $1,000,000 pulp mill here.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel G. Roper urged co-operation "through the conference table method" and declared the "success of the future depends upon the sincere co-operation and constructive criticism between business, industry, labor and government."

Publisher James G. Stahlman of Nashville, Tenn., president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, pictured the "industrial, economic, social rehabilitation" of the South.

United States Senator Pepper of Florida and Governor Cone joined other speakers in paying tribute to Herby whose experiments resulted in the establishment of pulp and paper mills in the South.

Reed Has Borne Burden Of Arguments Before High Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated Solicitor General Stanley Reed to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court. Reed will succeed Associate Justice George Sutherland whose retirement from the high tribunal becomes effective Jan. 15.

Last Fall Roosevelt selected the then Alabama Democratic Senator Hugo Black to succeed Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter.

Reed has long been discussed as a possible appointee to the Supreme Court. As Solicitor General, Reed has carried the burden of arguing many of the New Deal's biggest cases before the Supreme Court during the Roosevelt administration.

He is known to have made a highly favorable impression among lawyers and even his opponents frequently congratulated him on his arguments before the tribunal.

The immediate reaction to his nomination by a few senators whose views could be judged by facial expressions apparently was favorable. It was indicated in informal Senate quarters that the Judiciary Committee would consider Reed's nomination promptly.

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) of the committee has asserted that any hearings on the nomination will be public. Demands for hearing on future nominations to high court were made after the Black controversy.

Socialists Block Bonnet's Effort To Form Cabinet

Leon Blum Declines To Co-Operate In Conservative Plan

PARIS, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Determined Socialist opposition today thwarted efforts of George Bonnet, radical-socialist premier-designate, to reform France's shattered People's Front into a government under his leadership.

Leon Blum, leader of the Socialists and head of the original People's Front government, flatly told Bonnet his party could not support the cabinet formed to carry out Bonnet's conservative solution for the grave labor and economic troubles that forced Premier Camille Chautemps to resign yesterday.

Bonnet, nevertheless, continued his efforts to whip enough parliamentary support into line to tell President Albert Lebrun he had succeeded in forming a new government.

The still spreading wave of strikes and threat to France's prestige among her already wavering allies in Central Europe hastened Lebrun's efforts to obtain a new government.

In the "red region" of Northern France, 10,000 workers demonstrated their "vigilance" and support of the communist outside Valenciennes metal factories. The communist support of strikers and insistence on foreign exchange control was the immediate cause of Chautemps' downfall.

Mobile guardsmen, whose weapons on riot duty are carbines, unobtrusively patrolled the streets of Paris.

Diplomats of the United States and Great Britain—linked with France in the monetary accord that fought to bolster the falling franc—watched the situation closely.

French statesmen feared a protracted crisis might loosen British-French ties and discourage American sympathy, leaving France virtually isolated amid Western European rivalries.

So acute was the situation France asked the League of Nations for aid.

Jackson Calls For Death Of Big Companies

All Holding Companies Must Go To Get Rid Of Absent Ownership And Control

THUNDER IN THE CITY

Thunder in the city awakened New York's millions of residents to realization of what inhabitants of Nanking, Shanghai and Madrid must think when a fleet of bombing planes roars overhead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Robert H. Jackson, leader in President Roosevelt's anti-monopoly drive, called today for the elimination of holding companies as a means of ridding business of "parasitic absentee concentration of ownership and management."

Jackson's speech followed by just a day President Roosevelt's assertion at a press conference that he is opposed to holding companies.

Jackson, assistant U. S. attorney general who is head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, said that the "vast financial bureaucracies which try to get financial control of local industries are not creators. In the main they are parasites. They do not strive for industrial success based on efficiency. They strive for financial business even if they have to base it on wind and water."

Norris Suggests Abolition Of All Holding Companies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) suggested today that the government use its taxing powers to carry out President Roosevelt's proposed abolition of all holding companies.

Norris, expressing enthusiastic agreement with the President's views, asserted a taxing system could be set up which promptly would eliminate all holding companies.

It would be simple to impose such a heavy tax burden that it would be impossible for them to operate," he said. The Nebraskaan added it might be desirable to permit some types of holding companies, but that certainly the higher holding companies—holding companies controlling holding companies—should be eliminated.

The craft, the commanding officer stated, plied the eastern seaboard in quest of run-around during the prohibition period but since that time, its main use has been saving life and property, and enforcing navigation laws.

The cutter is powered by two 200 horsepower, specially constructed Coast Guard engines and is manned by a crew of seven. It is also equipped with a one pound gun.

Government Hit For Its Share In Business Slump

Aldrich Sees Government Competition As One Cause Of Drop

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A banker and an industrial leader told the Senate yesterday that government could not escape a share of the blame for the business recession.

Whitson W. Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National bank of New York, told the committee that government's most serious mistake was in offering direct competition to the utilities, thus destroying confidence of investors in the utility securities and cutting their purchases from the durable goods industries.

J. D. A. Murray, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pittsburgh Coal company, asserted bluntly that "this depression was made in Washington." He declared it could be cured by frank acknowledgment that some mistakes had been made, and by rectification of the mistakes.

If the threat of competition by the government is removed, the utilities are "simply bursting to go ahead," Aldrich said. Their activities would provide a needed impetus to all businesses because of attendant capital goods expenditures, he observed.

"Inflammatory statements against business by members of the government" have been one of the most unfortunate aspects of the slump, Aldrich declared. He agreed, with Senator Murray, democrat, Montana, that if there is a "constant flow of propaganda to discredit the administration," as Murray asserted, it ought to be stopped.

The banker declared that, in his opinion, some administration supporters had failed to distinguish between business men guilty of "improper practices" and "the great mass of business men" who do their best to correct abuses.

"I don't think that business should accuse government, or government should accuse business. We would be much better off, if both sides desisted," Aldrich said.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A reinforced Chinese army, fighting savagely to drive off Japanese conquest of the nation's bread basket, was reported today to have recaptured strategic Tsinghai by a corm.

The tide of battle in the great agricultural region of central China apparently still was in the balance as the Japanese claimed slow but steady advances toward the vital Luanhai railway despite determined resistance of a Chinese army estimated at 400,000.

Independent reports indicated Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, in personal command on the Luanhai front, was concentrating his utmost strength along the railroad. The great east-west trunk through the heart of central China long has been considered China's last line of defense.
