retardation neverkills anyone.

But who can count the lives it's wasted?

It's not a killer like heart disease or cancer. Yet, no human affliction is more wasteful than mental Think of the babies doomed from birth to live out their years uselessly . . . the children who never have a chance to learn what they are capable of learning . . . the retarded adults, trained to work, but refused jobs. What a waste! What a loss!

We can change this. How? Start by finding out what your community or state is doing to salvage many of these lives. Are programs under way in education, recreation, vocational training? Are they directed by teachers and others who really understand the retarded and how they can best be helped? Remember, fully 85 percent of the retarded can become productive citizens-if given the special help they need and deserve. Don't wait for the other fellow to take the lead. Use your own influence, or that of a group to which you belong, to assure the retarded their rights as fellow human beings and fellow citizens. For more information, send for the free booklet. Address: The President's
