Sid Hudson To Pitch Tonight; Trader Horn To Toss For Cards

Hank Polly Permits Sanford Only 5 Hits; Layne Leads Local Attack With Two Hits In Four Tries

Albany won the first game of the inter-League series for the Championship of the South last night by defeating Sanford 5 to 0 in a listless game broken only by sparkling infield play of the Cardinals.

Victory will go to the club winning the first four out of seven games. The two teams will meet again tonight with Sid Hudson taking the mound for Sanford and Trader Horn, crack Albany hurler, for the Cards.

A telegram was read to the crowd of 1577 persons from Ellis Crary, Lookout player two years ago. Crary urged the boys to put on the steam and wished them good luck.

Hank Polly permitted the Sanford sluggers but five hits while Joe Pinder permitted eight. Frank Hudson who relieved Pinder in the eighth, gave up one hit to make a total of nine for the Cards.

Polly was very effective, scattering his five hits through the nine innings, giving up one in the second, two in the fourth, one in the sixth and one in the eighth.

The Cards got off to a swift lead by scoring two runs in the first inning, adding two more in the third, and putting the finishing touches on the fray with one final marker in the ninth.

Sanford came closest to scoring in the fourth inning when two hits were coupled with a walk to hit a man on third and one on second and one on first with two outs. However Whitley Campbell grounded out pitcher to first base to retire the side.

First man up for Albany in the first frame, Russ Leach, first baseman singled past shortstop, and advanced to third on Rocky Rhawn's single to center. Lucas grounded on a grounder to first base. Meanwhile Rhawn had taken second on the fielder's choice. Pat Riley cracked out a single to rightfield to drive Leach and Rhawn home.

In the third inning Rhawn started the offensive again by working Pinder for a pass to first. Lucas leaned into one of Pinder's tosses to park it in deep right field for a triple to score Rhawn. Pat Riley's sacrifice fly to left field enabled Lucas to score from third.

The Cards tallied for the fifth time in the ninth inning. Leach was hit by a pitched ball and took first base. On Rhawn's double to left field, he scored.

Rhawn paced the Cardinals at the plate with two hits out of four times up. Illinois Layne led the Sanford Club with two hits out of four times up.

Miami University Coach Emphasizes Tackling Practice

Gridders shown weak point in defense at Mountain Camp

The Orange, Green and White should have a formidable defense this fall, if the one fatal defect previously mentioned, can be eliminated.

The Hurricanes will remain in Hendersonville until the end of next week, returning to Coral Gables in time to start practice here Monday, Sept. 25, less than two weeks before the opening game against the Wake Forest Deacons in Hurricane Orange Bowl Oct. 6.

The Hurricanes must rebuild their attack this season since Eddie Dunn, Johnny Douglas, and Andy Gaiky, three of the four starting backs in the opener last year, are missing from the roster.

N. J. fullback is the only regular holding over. Johnny Kurucz of Rahway, N. J., reserve quarterback last year, is expected to replace Gaiky, but the two halfbacks post are a wide open proposition, with John Corcoran of Savannah, Ga., and

Giant Gator Tackle Mainstay Of Squad

Largest man on the University of Florida football squad, physically, is also the only player on the squad who has earned two football letters. Actually, Clark Goff also is the lone real veteran of the grid squad.

As a sophomore, Goff played the biggest part of every game at tackle. He reported last fall as a junior, and comes into his senior year, only 21 years old, aiming to play at about 218 pounds, and hoping this will be his best season.

Few football men work harder and strive more earnestly than Goff. He is quiet and modest, and exuding his play with his teammates. He played at Scott High, Pittsburgh, during a 3-year period when Scott High was unbeaten.

Bob Pastor Is Confident Of Win Over Joe Louis

By SID FEDER

BRIGHTON, Mich., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Forty miles out of Detroit in a Duesenberg sedan, Bob Pastor is putting the finishing touches on the biggest gamble since they put dots on little ivory cubes and called them dice.

He has been in training eight long weeks and he has boxed 100 rounds with sparring partners. "The work was worth it," he says, "in the biggest fight of my life. All the training has put me in the greatest shape. The 28-round route won't bother me one bit. I can go 30 rounds now. But I won't fight it. It's my job and I'm confident I can knock him out in seven or eight rounds."

For two years he has been scrambling for his return match with Joe Louis, which comes off Wednesday night in Detroit's Briggs Stadium with the heavyweight championship of the world at stake. For two years he has loudly proclaimed that in his first "biggie battle" against the Brown Bomber, the ten-round decision against him won't be any one-sided verdict.

He has had 25 fights since that time, each one a gamble, for in each case he landed with a good, tough opponent right in that opponent's home town. He dropped only one verdict, a close one to Gus Doersick in Philadelphia.

And now Bob has come down to the hat week, still losing the dice. He hasn't boxed a lick since last Thursday, an exact weekend

FORWARD GLANCE

(From The Kaleidograph) Now, in the middle of summer, with leafy branches, and the sun's rays, and the shadowy black against white laked earth, and the shimmering blue of the sky, and the still green meadows; Now, in the middle of summer, my heart looks back to an autumn gone, when the trees were clouds of gold, the harvest done, and the sun gone and the black earth fertile and rich with the smell of new seed and soil. There is a sharp home-coming, for that reason.

THELMA KRENE

Practically all boat service has been discontinued. The Herald Tribune goes on to say that all Americans now on the island have been advised to evacuate, just as they have on every other British possession, and that, furthermore, with Bermuda's tourist season just beginning practically all boat service has been discontinued.

Flourishians will know how to sympathize with Bermuda hotel owners and business men in their present predicament. We can well imagine what it would mean to Florida if all means of transportation to this state were suddenly terminated just as the winter season began.

But "the economic chain that stems from war" goes much further than to Bermuda. Because thousands of Easterners who normally go there for their winter vacations are unable to do so, they will probably come to Florida. Probably also those who normally go to the south of France, to Italy, and to many similar watering places in foreign countries, will be looking around for safer resorts.

Hotel accommodations will be in big demand in Florida this winter. There is an opportunity for Sanford here that should not be neglected. Good business is coming to Florida. We should get our share.

Russia Reports Occupation Of Wilno And Lwow

Authorities opened negotiations for reopening the frontier over which thousands of panic-stricken Poles have fled. News of the negotiations came from the Polish frontier town of Wilno, which was captured by the Russians.

Some Poles appeared at the bridge-head hospital of returning to their homes with most of their possessions carried on their backs. Many others, however, moved on into Russian territory, hoping to rebuild their fortunes and lives elsewhere than in conquered Poland.

Pictorially clad peasants peacefully harvested corn, pumpkins and hay in nearby fields. The frontier was almost back to normal after the wild confusion that reigned as late as last night.

One of the incidents most startling to the residents occurred Sunday morning when two Soviet tanks crossed the bridge into Russian territory, remained for 15 minutes while the crew looked around and then departed into Poland.

A Mean Choice

Though he threatened the British and French empires with complete destruction, Hitler again offered them peace for all time if they would accept it on his terms. One might almost characterize his speech in Danzig yesterday as a demand for an unconditional surrender before a single battle has been won or lost.

Hitler said now that Poland has been eliminated as an issue, there is no longer anything to fight about and that the world could have peace if it wants it. He said that he had no territorial aims or ambitions against France or England and that there was no sense in sacrificing millions of lives in a needless war. However, he added, if Britain and France want war, they can have it, and Germany will drop five bombs to Britain's one.

Hitler spoke not as a sheep-herder who cries wolf once too often, but as the wolf himself who has promised to eat no more sheep so many times that no one will any longer believe him. Hitler has a poor respect for British mentality when he thinks because he has successfully deceived them once, he can keep on deceiving them.

If the world could only believe Hitler's words! If Britain and France could only believe that his conquests of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Memel and Poland would satisfy him? If they were only sure that he had no desires against their own empires? Even then, in spite of all his sins, they could make peace with him and let well enough alone.

But no one is so naive as to believe that another Munich would settle anything. For Britain and France to surrender now would mean that they have lost the war almost without a fight. There might be no way for Germany to penetrate the Maginot Line or to cross the English channel, but what about French African possessions, French Indo-China, what about Egypt, Palestine, British African colonies, India and Australia?

Britain and France are fighting now for their lives. They are now in the position that Czechoslovakia was one year ago, that Poland was in one month ago. They can give up without a fight like the Czechs, or they can fight like the Poles. There is little doubt in our mind what they will choose to do. We can only hope that the outcome for them will be more favorable.

Bad On Bermuda

Boat service between the tiny British island of Bermuda and the United States has been practically discontinued. Submarine warfare in the Atlantic as well as the need elsewhere for boats owned by British steamship companies, has left this popular mecca for Eastern vacationers almost hopelessly stranded and without visible means of support.

"In Bermuda, there is a situation developing so desperate as to threaten the very life of the island," says the New York Herald Tribune. "Inasmuch as almost half of Bermuda's income is derived from tourist trade and a great deal more of it indirectly connected with the flow of American money in Hamilton and St. George's, the war is a brink of disaster."

The Herald Tribune goes on to say that all Americans now on the island have been advised to evacuate, just as they have on every other British possession, and that, furthermore, with Bermuda's tourist season just beginning practically all boat service has been discontinued.

"The tremendous Bermuda hotel and resort industry, millions of pounds of property and thousands of jobs, hundreds of private homes where the tourist is virtually the only source of income, shops where American money is spent, cabbies and their horses, bicycle shop owners, clock hands and politicians—they are all affected miserably in an economic chain that stems from war," the New York paper says.

Flourishians will know how to sympathize with Bermuda hotel owners and business men in their present predicament. We can well imagine what it would mean to Florida if all means of transportation to this state were suddenly terminated just as the winter season began.

But "the economic chain that stems from war" goes much further than to Bermuda. THE LEAVES ARE BEGINNING TO FALL

Independence Of Baltic States Is Threatened

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 20. (AP)—With Estonia's coast reported blockaded by Russia's navy, three tiny states lying along the Baltic sea formed a question mark last night in the revamping of eastern Europe's map by the German and Russian military machines.

Dependent for their existence on the mutual interest of Germany and Russia in their independence, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania looked helplessly, like corks on turbulent waters, in the surge of events which struck Poland and which may at any time be directed against them.

Despite Russia's assurance of neutrality, there loomed indications that she intended to dominate the north Baltic area where she was said to want an ice free port. In Copenhagen, the Berlinets tidens carried a report saying English sources believed it was only a question of time before Estonia and Latvia would be incorporated into Russia, advancing as the reason a reported German promise to give Russia a Baltic harbor.

A joint declaration of determination to remain neutral and uphold their right to trade with all countries, including the belligerents, ended a two-day neutrality conference of five northern countries.

The declaration by representatives of Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland and Iceland was announced by the Danish foreign office.

The neutral nations said they hoped to attain their aim through negotiations with the belligerents. Best with the problems of handling refugees and avoiding any antagonistic actions, many persons were wondering whether the Baltic independence, like that of Poland had passed its zenith.

CONSERVATION WARNING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Oscar L. Chapman, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, warned the country last night not to abandon conservation programs in order to obtain war profits through destruction of natural resources.

CHINA WANTS CASH

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—The American newspaper Japanese Times said yesterday that the Chinese Nationalist government in Chungking has asked the United States for additional credits of $500,000,000 to aid in industrialization of China's southwestern provinces.

M-Day Plans Are Prepared By U. S. Resources Board

Lawn mowers, factories would be turning out shrapnel. Pipe-fitting and valve plants, hand grenades. Cash registers would become bomb fuses, sprinkler and alarm systems, artillery shells, wheel barrows and road scrapers, artillery wagons. Tires would be gas masks. In place of elevators, there would be recoil mechanisms for three-inch anti-aircraft guns. Boat and lighters would be pontoons for army bridges. Adding machines would become automatic platoon.

Every last detail of the mobilization of the armed forces has been worked out, even to the hills to be submitted to Congress.

Likewise, and just as important, the same careful preparation has been made to bring productive capacity and public opinion smoothly into a war machine.

Says Louis Johnson, the assistant secretary of war: "We have surveyed 20,000 American manufacturing plants. More than 10,000 are ready to stand by for the manufacture of emergency materials. Special dies have been made to speed production of standard equipment for the armed forces.

"American industry is sold on the idea of industrial mobilization. Mind you, this is not warlike. We don't even expect war for our own country. We're just getting ready for an emergency. We're not making the mistake of 1914 all over again."

The War Resources Board is even now inspecting the details of the plan, offering suggestions here and there. The board is composed of civilians; primarily practical, hard-headed business men, who can spot the weakness of industrial mobilization.

"In case of war, war couldn't have industries converting themselves completely into wartime production. That would never do. It was a mistake we made in the World War. Part of the production would be reserved for civil needs, and would take care of the margin of accidents and errors.

"By the time the War Resources Board has checked and shaken out the defects in our system, we'll be able to say to the American public—order peace, or order war; we're ready, for either."

Threats Will Not Deter Aims, Says Prime Minister

Some Berlin observers took Hitler's speech as a warning that the German air fleet would be dispatched to England if the Nazis considered the British naval blockade was working a hardship on the German people.

Mayor Szaranski of Warsaw broadcast an appeal asking "when will Britain and France give such aid to Poland as will save us from the fury of German barbarism?"

He said "women, children and helpless civilians have been slaughtered" by German raids on the Polish capital.

Under cover of a heavy artillery bombardment by French forces, the French army yesterday repelled 1st night to have struck in the heart of the northern flank of the Western Front and beat the French town of Stargard.

The German army, with victory over Poland on the Eastern Front virtually complete, took the initiative against the French in the west.

The French general staff's communique said the Germans' "partial attack" was met and turned back during the night east of the Sambre river. It was the first major attack by Germany on the Western Front since Soviet Russia invaded Poland Sunday, helping German frontal assaults to crush France's eastern ally.

The French general staff's evening communique described the place where another German attack had been turned back as "the front line."

The Rhine river is about 11 miles east of Strasbourg and flows northward from near the French town of Stargard some toward the German town of Ill-kastel. Paralleling it about four miles distant is the Bieck-Strasse river, running northward from the French town of Stargard to Adenauer toward the German town of Zwickhausen.

The communique also said German aviation was active in the west.

On the eve of the first session of the French cabinet since the government was formed Sept. 22, French officials today declared that the occupation of a part of Poland by the Russian army can not affect in any way the position of the two great belligerent nations, Britain and France.

This was considered the French government's method of making known its determination to carry on the struggle in spite of the withdrawal of the apparently important element of Polish resistance.

The suspension which has been hanging over the Western Front since the first night of the invasion, were crumbling under the double blow, was broken not four days ago by the German assault.

French soldiers said they charged the German infantry's fiercest attack on the morning band between German Siegfried Line and the Maginot Line at a point just within German territory. The action was at a point where the French have been filtering through the Nazi trench and pill box system, which Hitler's defenses had planned in connection with the important industrial town of Saarbrücken.

The attack was said to have been executed under cover of a heavy artillery barrage cast at German companies manning

Citrus Commission To Meet On Friday

LAKELAND, Sept. 20. — A special meeting of the Florida citrus commission will be held Friday, Sept. 22, at which approximately 75 applications for citrus dealer licenses will be considered, and those approved forwarded to the state inspection bureau for issuance of actual permits.

In announcing the special meeting, Charles F. Chastain, commission secretary, emphasized it would be the last gathering until the regular meeting Oct. 1 and persons who did not get their applications into the commission offices in time for Friday's meeting would be required to wait until after Oct. 1 for their licenses.

Less than half the expected number of applications have been received so far, with 200 already noted upon and 75 pending. Last season, 600 licenses were issued and an equal number is expected this season.

In a special letter sent to shippers and others, Mr. Chastain pointed out that the "law" requires that each application must be passed upon by a majority vote of the commission members and for that reason it is impossible to approve license applications in any way except at commission meetings.

Persons intending to operate as citrus fruit dealers before Oct. 1 should get their applications in for action on Friday, Mr. Chastain urged.

"It is our desire to handle all applications in a manner which will not inconvenience the applicant," the commission's letter stated, "but we are sure you understand it is important that you submit your application as soon as possible with your help we can doubtless handle all applications without delaying or inconveniencing any operator."

College And High School Students Get Air Training

WINTER PARK, Sept. 20. — With the approval of Rollins College as a participant in the Federal pilot training program, Orange county becomes the first in the State to offer complete aeronautical training for adults, college and high school students.

It was announced here today by G. Wayne Gray, president of the Florida Aviation Association, the Orange county pilot training program which will be extended to Rollins College and High School.

"Pilot training at Rollins College," said Gray, "completes the Orange county picture. Since 1928, Orange Municipal Airport has been offering flight training chiefly to adults. In 1935, aviation courses to train aircraft mechanics and factory workers were set up as part of the Orange county public school system at the Orlando Vocational School. This year the organization of federally sponsored pilot training program of the Civil Aeronautics Authority at Rollins College fills the need for aeronautical training of college age individuals."

Rollins college was among the first 150 colleges and universities in the country to be approved by the CAA for participation in the pilot training program which will extend to 200 institutions and will train 11,000 pilots within the next nine months.

At the Orlando airport, the first four pilots to be trained are already hold pilot ratings. Eight planes are used for student instruction work, Mueller reported.

The Orlando Vocational School covers $40,000 worth of

The Seaboard proposed to purchase 14 steamers, six condition passenger cars, and nine electric locomotives.

Palm Beach Police Nabbed For Thefts

WEST PALM BEACH, Sept. 20. — Mayor Ernest Mitchell and City Manager Francis H. McGarry ordered a complete investigation yesterday into police department affairs after County Sheriff W. E. Hookack reported five officers had been arrested in connection with two robberies.

The arrested men were discharged Friday. Hookack said, after Police Chief Robert W. Madburn and other officers caught (Patrolman Harry H. Hall in the act of robbing a man's store.

Milburn reported Hall stole a signed profession in which he implicated Sgt. Emory P. Wall, a veteran of 13 years on the force, and Patrolman Fred Goodwell, John Calpeppo and J. D. Turner. He said a friend had loaned him a $1500 watch.

Turnbull was charged in a warrant with receiving stolen goods. The others were accused of breaking and entering in connection with robberies of the men's shop and a wholesale liquor store. All five were released on bond.

French troops, who have been digging in as fast as they gained ground during the first two weeks of the war, were reported to have captured the attack with machine gun fire from a well prepared position.

Yugoslavia To Send Envoy To Russia

Yugoslavia and the Moscow regime have not had diplomatic relations.

Mrs. R. J. Holly, president of the Woman's Club, who is spending a three month's vacation at Daytona Beach, entertained members of the board of managers of the Woman's Club yesterday at a delightful luncheon at the beach home.

The three course seafood luncheon was served from the dining room table which was set with a hand crocheted luncheon set and centered with a low strangeness of pink double hibiscus and Spanish love vine.

Chinese checkers were enjoyed during the afternoon due to ill weather which prohibited playing on the beach.

Members of the board which were able to attend this affair with Mrs. Holly were: Mrs. John McEach, Mrs. Olson E. McKay, Mrs. H. W. Ruckel, Mrs. H. D. Freeman, Mrs. I. M. Eschinger and Mrs. A. J. Peterson.

First citrus shipments of the new season left the packing house of John Snively, Winter Haven, Polk County, late week.

Sid Hudson's 3-Hit Masterpiece Gives Sanford 5-0 Win

Lookout Skipper Given Shotgun, Honored With "Alexander Night"

Red Lane Named Most Valuable Player; Given Watch By Charles F. Wert; Loving Cup Given Bradshaw

Sid Hudson completely muffled the big guns of the Albany offense last night before a "Dale Alexander Night" crowd of more than 1400 persons and the Lookouts defeated the Cardinals 5 to 0 to reverse the score of the night before.

The victory evened up the inter-league series at one-game all in the battle for the Class D championship of the Southeast.

It was Hudson all the way as the lanky hurler limited the ravenous slugging attack of the Albanyans to mere three safeties and struck out 11 men.

In pre game ceremonies Dale Alexander, popular manager of the Lookouts was presented with a shotgun on behalf of fans who contributed toward its purchase. The award was made by E. F. Hornsholder who lauded the former American League batting champion for his sportsmanship, his example as a leader, and his energetic drive that enabled the Lookouts to win the league pennant, the All-Star game, and the title of the State League playoffs.

Members of the team presented a hunting jacket to Alexander. Little Al McMullen was given a writtle watch by the team.

Walter "Red" Lane was revealed as the winner of the "most valuable man" contest and received the $57.50 Bulova writtle watch donated by Charles F. Wert, the jeweler. Lane was selected by the vote of fans recently. The presentation of award was made by G. W. Spencer.

Charles E. Bradshaw, president of the Lookouts, received a trophy from loyal fans in the form of a handsome silver loving cup. Mr. Hornsholder paid tribute to Mr. Bradshaw, pointing out how he had taken over the club last year when it was at the bottom of the league and had built it into the present championship outfit. Each member of the team was given a small gift as a token of appreciation from the people of Sanford for their part in making a wonderful team.

The presentation of gifts seemed to get life into the team and immediately play got underway. It was evident the Lookouts were their old-time selves.

Alexander Expresses Thanks For Shotgun

Dale Alexander today thanked all Sanford baseball fans for their gift last night of a shotgun in appreciation of his services as manager of the Lookouts.

The big fellow said "It certainly was a fine gesture to make and I appreciate it more than I can say. I just hope we can take the Albany series to show them by actions instead of words 'how much I mean that.'"

The Lookout manager also received a hunting jacket and cap from members of the team. "That was a pleasant surprise," he said.

Notes From The Press Box

Benny Kahn, John Strothard, and Babe Weaver certainly have a nice press box at the Daytona Ball park. The box is located on top of the stands and has room for about 15 persons...

Baseball fans, don't forget you can hear the games between Sanford and Albany Thursday and Friday afternoons at the Ritz Theatre through the courtesy of Charles Morrison, manager. Mr. Morrison will have a play-by-play scoreboard and a telegraph wire from Albany...

We understand Sid Hudson likes Sanford so much he may remain here this winter... And maybe not single either. Even Rome didn't see Juliet 10 DeLand series has been something to write home about... He topped all Sanford regulars in batting in the Islander series... Sally Morrison certainly did ride the Islander fans Sunday...

Doc Laney thinks that while the Albany Cards have about as good a club as the Lookouts that the main reason the Cards weren't blasted out of the park Monday night is because they were fresh from several days rest... Ruse Leach, hard hitting Albany first baseman has plenty of class around the first sack... He can snag 'em from any angle...

Frank Thomas is counting on a pair of Florida boys to carry his gridders to the S. E. C. championship this year. They are Billy Simmons from Orlando and Jimmy Nelson from Live Oak...

What happened to that badminton tourney that was supposed to be staged sometime about the middle of September?... Seems as though Hills Layne will lodge here this winter... One of the best stories we've heard lately is about the two young things from Sanford who went to New York and could talk of nothing a month before but how much they wanted to see the Yankees play. On their return we learned they'd met practically every orchestra leader in New York but nary a Yankee...

Wonder if Judge Wilkinson is going to sponsor another pro-football team here this winter?... Much of the credit for Buddy Lake's showing this Madison Square Garden show indoors in New York, it has caught on here even beyond the most pleasant dreams of that eminent promoter, Michael Staus Jacobs. "Uncle Mike" had $300,000 advanced sale in the "bill" a couple of days ago, and is certain the fight will draw between $400,000 and $500,000, with some 40,000 to 50,000 of the faithful on deck.

The festivities start at 9 P. M. with clear, warm weather promised, and it is conceded by most everyone, even Pastor, that this first 20-round title fight in a quarter century won't go more than 10 on the outside. Louis, winner by quick knockouts over Max Schmeling, John Henry Lewis, Jack Roper, and Tony Galento in his recent outings, figures he's going to put Pastor to sleep "jes" as soon as I catch him. I hope he don't go on that bicycle again. Pastor poodpoods such talk and counters with a prediction that he'll win "most likely flatten Joe in several heats."

This corner, remembering that Louis can be tagged—Galento had him on his merry parties only three months ago—and that Pastor is a speedy shifty fighter, still likes the Brown Bomber to bomb again, probably in the first three rounds. The ex-New York University footballer has had 25 fights since he dropped the decision to Joe two years ago, and has lost only one of them, but the man

Joe Louis Will Meet Bob Pastor In Detroit Bout

Brown Bomber Makes Eighth Defense Of Heavyweight Title

By SID FEDER

DETROIT, Sept. 20.—Joe Louis makes the eighth defense of his world's heavyweight championship tonight against Bob Pastor in Briggs Stadium, and very few of the folks around last night thought the Brown Bomber would run into any more trouble than it takes to button his vest.

In fact, both Bob and Joe look woefully bad one evening in 1937, going the route in the famous "bottle of the bicycle," the motor city figured the champion would expiate his dusky dynamite this time long before the 10-round limit, and send every one home early.

Financially, the fight already is assured success. A tea party which would have been a good Madison Square Garden show indoors in New York, it has caught on here even beyond the most pleasant dreams of that eminent promoter, Michael Staus Jacobs. "Uncle Mike" had $300,000 advanced sale in the "bill" a couple of days ago, and is certain the fight will draw between $400,000 and $500,000, with some 40,000 to 50,000 of the faithful on deck.

Rumanian Premier Calinescu Is Assassinated

Murder Causes Crisis As Troops Called To Maintain Order; Balkans Are Shocked

Killers Believed Nazi Members Berlin Reports Say 4 Battle Centers Remain In East

Assassination of Premier Arman Calinescu today brought a crisis in Rumania where Germany, France and Britain—at war on Europe's battle fronts—are struggling for Balkan mastery.

Rumania called out troops to prevent a coup.

The slaying shocked the Balkans which apprehensively watch the war that in three weeks has wiped out Poland.

Britain published a white paper on the exchange of British-German notes preceding hostilities.

Calinescu had been in favor of a pro-Nazi iron guard and Rumanian legion sources in Budapest reported that the iron guardists had been agitating throughout Rumania since Germany invaded Poland.

The assassins were believed to be iron guardists.

"Throughout Rumania there is a terrible excitement," said a broadcast over the Rumanian government station.

Maybe the murder of Calinescu is only the beginning of something much bigger," one Rumanian official said.

French sources said they expected a blow from Germany, but Swiss reports indicated France might start important operations herself.

Warsaw remained in Polish hands and the only fighting reported elsewhere was in small sections near the Baltic and in the Southeast near Lwow.

He claims he paid architects $28,000 to draw up plans for ship, which Soviet rejected because it was "too big."

$29,925 Paid To Seminole Farmers By AAA In 1937

Seminole County farmers were paid $29,925.36 by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for compliance with the 1937 agricultural conservation program according to information received today from Washington.

Pointing out that the conservation program is designed to maintain a balance between farm production and demand, the announcement stated that the farmers of Florida have been paid payments totaling $1,645,070.40 for conformity with the administration's plan.

With an increasingly large number of Seminole County growers participating in the soil conservation practices set forth by the AAA, and the comparatively high payments for compliance with the celery program last year, Seminole County farmers will receive a much larger share of AAA funds in the final total of 1938 certifications, County Agent C. E. Dawson reported today, adding that from all present indications, payments will continue at a high figure under the 1939 program which also embraces the celery control program.

Most of the payments under the 1939 act have already been paid to the farmers but there are some checks which still have not been certified it was pointed out. While work sheets all in for the 1939 soil conservation program, the County Agent reported that the Seminole County Soil Conservation committee is nearing completion in the setting of quotas for the 1939 celery acreage of those who will participate in the program. These quotas will be prepared in a few days, he said.

Nazis Said To Fear Arousing World Opinion

German Failure To Demolish Warsaw Said Due To Effect On Congress Of U. S.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Premier Daladier of France broadcast to the world tonight declaration of France's determination never to abandon her fight to "aid Poland until Adolf Hitler's efforts "to dominate the world" have been crushed by a "complete victory" over Nazi forces.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Well-informed Berlin sources today attributed Germany's failure to deliver Warsaw a knockout blow to a desire to refrain from offending world opinion while the United States Congress is considering neutrality problems.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels denied allegations that Germany intended to violate the neutrality of Belgium, the Netherlands or Luxembourg.

French observers had expressed the opinion that massing German troops at Aachen might indicate the Reich was considering a repetition of World War strategy.

Curtain pursuit planes purchased recently in the United States for the French Air Force yesterday won the Western Front's first big air battle in which two German planes were shot down, Allied military reports said.

The battle was fought when several squadrons of Curtiss fighters, escorted by observation planes taking photographs of German troop movements behind the Siegfried Line, encountered several German planes.

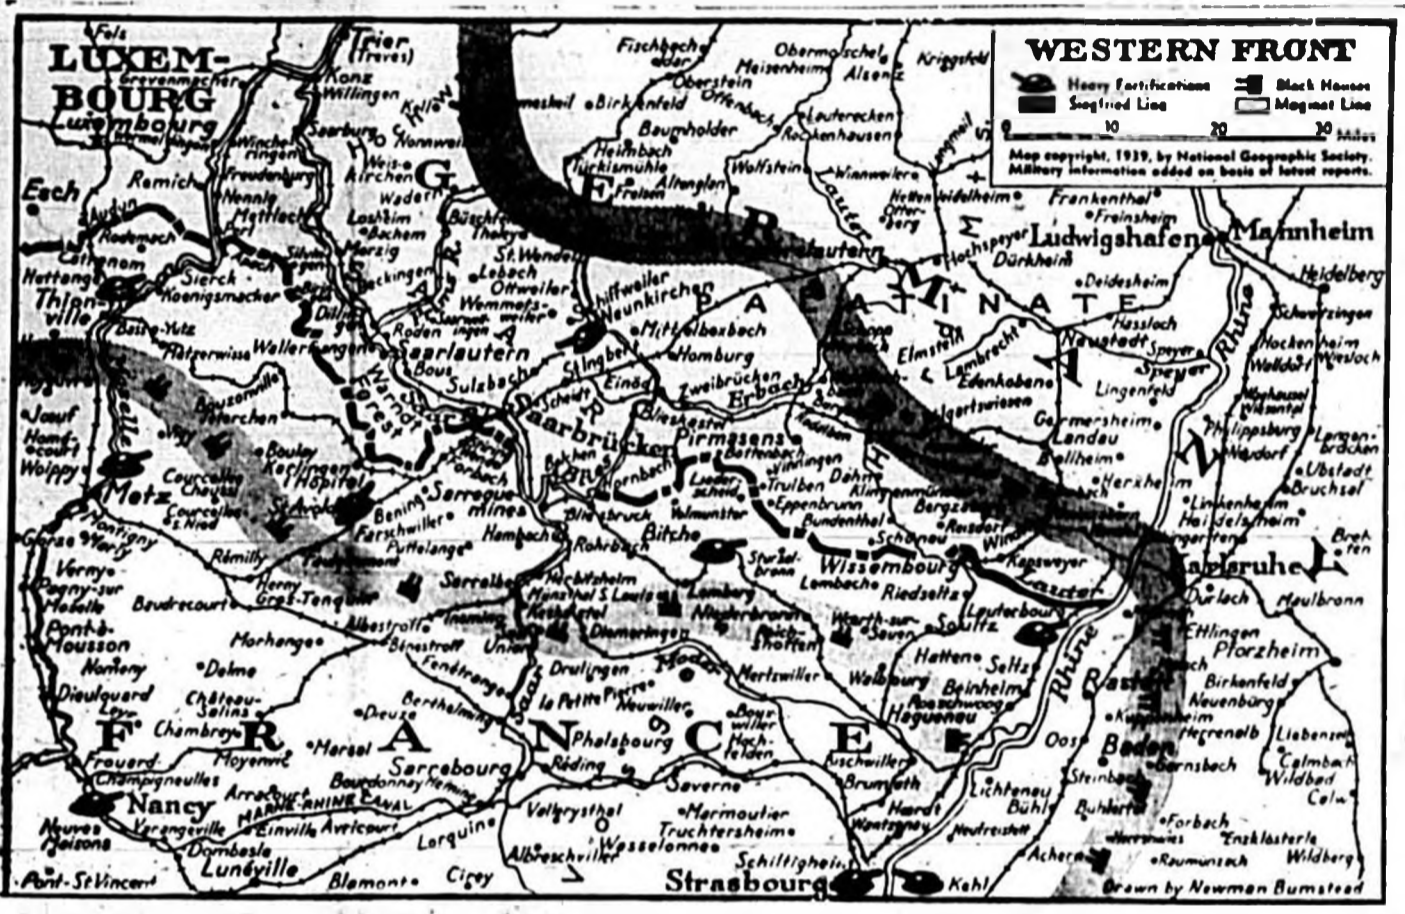

Part of the fighting was over the German lines and part of it over the French lines where, according to last night's War Office communiqué No. 34, one German plane was shot down on French territory.

The French airman later reported that a second German plane had been shot down behind the German lines around Saarbrueck.

From Berlin came word troops and materials from 70 German divisions in Poland were en route to the Western Front for what means called a "war to the bitter end" after announcement by the high command that the conquest of Poland was complete.

Col.-Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, was in front line positions of the German Westwall on the Saar battlefield, mapping a plan of operations against the British and French forces.

Halfway Mark Is Reached In Issuing Drivers' Licenses

About half of the motorists of Seminole County now have their drivers' licenses, Judge H. W. Ware said today, pointing out that his office has issued approximately 3,000 of the certificates to date.

The County Judge estimated that there are approximately 6,000 motorists in the county, half of whom must purchase their licenses within the next eight days.

All drivers will be required to have the certificates at all times after Oct. 1, he pointed out.

Judge Ware urged those who have not purchased their licenses to do so immediately in order to avoid the long waiting lines which will accompany the rush of the last few days.

Pointing out that the lack of certain information quite often slowed up the issuing of the licenses, the County Judge requested that those who plan to make application for licenses furnish the following information: The year, month and day of birth; color eyes, color hair, weight, height, and the approximate number of years the applicant has driven a motor vehicle prior to making application for the license.

British Report Revolts Spread In Czechoslovakia

Nazis Take Ruthless Measures In Effort To Stop Rebellion

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A spreading revolution against German rule in former Czechoslovakia, with reports of street fighting and the execution of hundreds, was reported by the British government last night on the basis of what it called "authoritative" information.

The revolution, said to have been underway two days, was reported still in progress in Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia despite "ruthless measures" taken by the German authorities to stamp it out.

The British ministry of information's statement said that Germans as well as Czechs were fighting German troops, including S. S. elite guards, and that fighting was occurring in Prague and a half dozen other important cities.

Railroad and factory buildings and fire stations were said to have been bombed, destroyed and salvaged.

President Declares Provisions 'Vitaly Dangerous To American Neutrality'

Holds No Hope Of Quick End To War Congress Told U. S. Can Remain Out Of European Conflict

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for repeal of the arms embargo provisions of the neutrality law because they are "most vitally dangerous to American security and American peace."

In a message delivered in person to an extraordinary session of the legislators, the Chief Executive said he would offer no hope that "the shadow over the world might swiftly pass." Standing on the rostrum of the crowded House chamber, Roosevelt told the Senators and Representatives he had assembled them to amend the legislation which in his best judgment, "so alters the historic foreign policy of the United States that it impairs the peaceful relations of the United States with foreign nations. The effect of the issue, he said, is a repeal of the embargo, which forbids shipment of munitions to combatant nations, and "a return to international law."

The President took occasion to renew his plea for non-partisan ship during the international crisis and to re-emphasize the nation's belief that America could keep from being embroiled in Europe's conflict.

"In any walk of life," the President said, "a man or a woman, a professional man, a student, a laborer, will have of America's history a conviction that regarding the policy of non-partisan ship, we are all for no group, no race, no individual, but for the peace of the world."

Mr. Roosevelt said that "in my candid opinion," the United States would succeed in these efforts to bring about a settlement of the European struggle, if the President's efforts are other than those on page thirty.
