Burglars take cognac in liquor store heist

From Staff Reports

Burglars targeted the ABC Liquor Store at 165 Wekiva Springs Road between 2 and 4 a.m. Monday.

The burglars threw a cinder block through a window, entered the store and went directly to shelves where cognac is stocked, according to Steve Olson, a spokesman for the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

They took six 1-liter bottles of cognac as well as a pair of three-quarter liter bottles.

The store's total loss is reported at more than $310, according to Olson.

"They were in and out in seconds," Olson said.

Both suspects are described as white, medium built and both were wearing what appears to be a shirt around their heads, Olson said.

Study suggests European style hotel

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford's distance from the Interstate-4 corridor may turn out to be an advantage, according to a consultant.

Donald Hunter, President of Hunter Interests of Annapolis, Md., said although Sanford's distance from the Interstate-4 corridor will initially be seen by developers as a deterrent, the site also provides a "retreat atmosphere with a waterfront environment" that sets itself

Change in style would set apart from other hotels along the I-4 corridor.

"The 300-room full service hotel is financially feasible at this site," Hunter said. "It does require a no-cost site provided to the developer, and significant site improvements. But, the waterfront here is great."

However, Hunter also suggested that a 200-room European style boutique hotel is more feasible than a 300-room full service hotel because it would require less public assistance, and it may yield higher levels of ground rent revenue to the city.

The boutique hotel would enable Sanford to take advantage of the waterfront site on Fort Mellon Park, building a hotel that differs from the type of facilities along the I-4 corridor, Hunter said.

"Right now there's an opening in the market for niche hotels to serve the business community," Hunter said. "Our recommendation is for Sanford to open the door to that as well as to the full-service hotel market."

The feasibility study said that to succeed, the project would need public financial support for construction, site improvements, and additional waterfront

Museum exhibit outlines city's sports heritage

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford boasts a rich sports heritage, highlighted today by the exploits of native sons Tim Raines in baseball and Jeff Blake in football.

Drew "Bundini" Brown, an assistant trainer for Muhammad Ali who coined the phrase "floats like a butterfly, stings like a bee" is also a Sanford native. Hall of Fame baseball players Babe Ruth, Willie Mays and Early Wynn have all played games in the city.

More than 100 people attended the grand opening ceremonies Saturday for Sanford Museum's new sports exhibit.

Raines, who recently signed with the New York Yankees, was on hand for the grand opening. So were local baseball legends Ellis Clary and Bernard "Buddy" Lake, whose heydays were in the 1930s and '40s.

The collection boasts rare uniforms and mementos from the careers of Raines, Clary, Lake, and other sports figures with connections to Sanford. Gary Taylor, who was the driving force behind creating the exhibit, said it took more than 10 years to assemble the collection.

"There are things here that I didn't even know about," Raines said. "We've been working on this for years."

"These are the types of things you don't even think about — growing up in a small town and not knowing what I'd do with my life. I try to contribute whenever I can to Sanford."

On Saturday, Raines loaned the museum a display of one of his two World Series trophies, both rings, a silver bat from his 1986 batting championship and mementos from his 1987 All-Star game MVP and from seasons in which he led the National League in stolen bases. Although this particular display was taken down after Saturday, the museum still displays a rare Raines rookie uniform and mementos from throughout his 20-year career with the Montreal Expos, Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees and Oakland A's.

Also on display is a personal photo album of Drew "Bundini" Brown, who lived in Sanford until he was 13 years old. He worked with boxer Sugar Ray Robinson; and, in 1963, was the assistant trainer of Muhammad Ali.

There are tennis rackets belonging to tennis star Jim Courier, who was born in Sanford.

A uniform worn by Blake for the University of East Carolina is also on display. A Seminole High School graduate, Blake recently signed with the New Orleans Saints.

The centerpiece to the exhibit commemorates hall of famers who have connections to Sanford, such as announcer Red Barber, who grew up in the city and attended Seminole High School.

A picture marks Babe Ruth's visits to Sanford in 1934 with the Boston Braves and again in 1948. Mementos also note the games when Willie Mays played in Sanford with the Minneapolis Millers before becoming a superstar with the San Francisco Giants.

Before Early Wynn became a Hall of Fame pitcher, he was part of the rotation for the Sanford Lookouts in 1937 in the Florida State League. A team photo also includes short stop Ellis Clary, who set the league record that year with 74 stolen bases.

Clary would eventually spend 59 years in baseball as a player, coach and scout.

Buddy Lake became a Sanford baseball legend on July 19, 1947, when he pitched 19 shutout innings in a game played at DeLand's Conrad Park then won the game with a homerun. Mementos com-

Commission unanimously approves 3502

SANFORD — The Sanford City Commission on Monday unanimously passed a zoning ordinance which continues to cause raucous debate.

The ordinance requires certain types of community resource facilities and businesses to get permission from City Commission to operate within zoning districts throughout the city.

However, opponents continue to charge the ordinance will be discriminatory against the poor. They say it would have the effect of limiting the number of social service programs that would be permitted within the city, even though the ordinance does not prohibit the programs. Members of a Sanford Housing Authority tenants' association called STORM (Sanford Tenants Organized for Reform of Management) have asked the U.S. Justice Department to investigate "racially discriminatory" actions by the city.

A letter to the review section of the Justice Department tendered for STORM by Central Florida Legal Services of Sanford charges that the ordinance is discriminatory by creating a separate land-use classification for agencies that serve food or provide temporary housing and to require them to get special permits in order to open.

"We think it is wrong," said Trumella James, a member of STORM. "We think it hurts the people who live in the Sanford Housing Authority. It hurts the poor, black people of Sanford."

The ordinance bans pawnshops, bail-bond businesses and certain community resource facilities from being within 1,500 feet of each other. It also keeps pawnshops and bail-bond businesses at least 300 feet from residential areas.

Commissioners A.A. "Mac" McClanahan and Velma Williams said they were passing the ordinance with the understanding the Commission waive the requirement of a 1,500 foot separation within the ordinance.

"I support this ordinance based on the understanding that it does not prohibit any social service agency from opening," said Williams.

However, Sanford resident Millard Hunt said the ordinance will discourage social service groups from moving into the city.

"There doesn't appear to be room in the city for more social service agencies with that separation," he said.

Sanford's baseball legends recall their glory days

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Baseball stars Tim Raines, Ellis Clary and Bernard "Buddy" Lake share a common bond in their ties to Sanford.

The three men were among about 100 sports fans Saturday who gathered for grand opening ceremonies of Sanford Museum's new sports exhibit.

Raines is a 20-year major league veteran left fielder who ranks fourth all-time with 807 stolen bases. He is one of only four players with 2,000 career hits, 500 stolen bases, 100 home runs, 1,000 runs scored, and 100 triples.

Lou Brock, Ty Cobb and Honus Wagner, the only other three players to achieve the feat, are in the baseball Hall of Fame.

Meanwhile, Clary and Lake had their heydays as baseball players in the 1930s and '40s.

Raines grew up in Sanford and graduated from Seminole High School. He resides in Heathrow with his wife and children. When he retires, Raines said he plans to open a baseball school in Sanford, with clinics for underprivileged youth and others in the area.

At the age of 40, Raines recently signed with the New York Yankees. He contributed to winning two world championships while playing with the Yankees from 1996 through 1998.

He spends much of his time each off-season working with youth in the community, including Seminole High School baseball teams.

"I try to tell them to follow your dream, set a goal and let the sky be the limit," Raines said. "Growing up in a small town, not knowing what to do with my life, I never thought anything like this would happen. Not just the exhibit, but the entire career."

Raines said that his favorite sport when he played at Seminole High School was football, where he was a standout running back.

"When I didn't grow past 5'8" and 175 pounds I figured football wasn't going to work so I made baseball my goal," Raines said. "I gained a lot of friends in high school. I wish a lot of them could have experienced what I have. We still keep in touch."

He was drafted out of Seminole High School by the Montreal Expos. Raines had his most productive years with the Expos from 1981 through 1990, when he was a seven time All-Star selection, led the National League in stolen bases four times, and won a batting title.

"In the minors my goal was to be a Major League player, but I don't think I ever imagined this," Raines said.

While the Yankees won their third World Series in four years in 1999, Raines signed a one-year contract with the Oakland A's.

He was placed on the disabled list during the second half of the season by the A's after being diagnosed with lupus, a disease of the skin characterized by rashes and exacerbation's of a scaling, red, muscular rash.

During this year's off season, doctors told Raines the disease is in remission.

Four decades before Raines set his sights on becoming a baseball star, Clary was leading the Florida State League in stolen bases while playing for Sanford.

In 1937, Clary was a Sanford Lookouts teammate of future Hall of Fame pitcher Early Wynn. A speed-burning shortstop, Clary set the Florida State League record with 74 stolen bases in the same year.

Clary spent 59 years in major league baseball organizations as a player, coach and scout.

"You've got to go like heck to fool them for 59 years," Clary said.

Meanwhile, Clary's memories of playing baseball in Sanford include wrestling with 1937 roommate Early Wynn for the largest bed. The matches inspired Clary to nickname Wynn "Gus," after wrestling champion Gus Gonnenberg. Clary was 19 years old at the time, while Wynn was 17.

"He was built like a wrestler," Clary said. "He was strong as heck. I was much smaller than he was. He was a fierce competitor, who was always determined to win. In other words, he was mean as heck."

Lake never made a major league baseball roster, but he is a local Florida State League baseball legend. On July 19, 1947, the Sanford utility player pitched 19 shutout innings at DeLand's Conrad Park and won the game with a homerun.

"It started out as just an ordinary game," Lake said. "I had started the first game of the double-header at third base. The second game just kept going, with no one scoring any runs."

Lake hit the 19th inning homerun over the right field fence off of Yigi Alfonso.

"I can still see that ball coming over the fat part of the plate," Lake said. "He threw me a fat one and it just disappeared. I didn't make any special effort, I just took a good swing."

Lake said that his fondest memory in Sanford is stealing home to score the game-winning run in 1946 Florida State League playoff game at Sanford Municipal Stadium against St. Augustine.

"It was the bottom of the 9th inning with a 1-1 tie," Lake said. "I started off with a single. When I got on second, I made up my mind that if I made it to third I would end the game by stealing home, because we had some weak hitters coming up and their pitcher had a long wind up."

memorate the game, as well as Lake's Florida State League batting championship in 1940 and league RBI record in 1946.

"It's amazing," Lake said of the exhibit. "It's just wonderful. This brings back so many good memories."

The next phase planned for the sports exhibit will be Sanford Sports Heroes, noting stars such as Raines as well as high school standouts and youth sports coaches.

"It broadens our audience," said museum curator Alicia Clarke. "This provides a whole new aspect of our local history."

Located at 502 E. First St., the museum's hours of operation are Tuesday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Saturday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free. For more information, call (407) 302-1000.

Police arrest Altamonte Springs man in drug sting

From Staff Reports

A 21-year-old Altamonte Springs man was arrested this weekend for attempting to sell drugs to a Seminole County deputy sheriff.

Ervin Triplett of 327 Salina St., was arrested after trying to sell drugs to a deputy driving an unmarked car. However, the Seminole County officer was wearing a uniform.

The deputy was performing surveillance early Sunday morning at a business, which had been the target of thieves in the area of Jackson and Oak streets in Altamonte Springs. When the deputy drove past Triplett, he yelled at the officer. When the deputy stopped his car, Triplett attempted to sell him drugs, according to the arrest report.

Triplett dropped a long, slender cigar tube containing an estimated five to seven pieces of crack cocaine on the ground when he was approached by deputies, the report stated.

He was arrested and transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility.

During a search at the jail, cocaine was found inside Triplett's jacket, authorities said.

St. Augustine needs proper care to grow

St. Augustine grass is one of the most popular turfgrasses in Central Florida. Its tolerance to shade makes it very attractive for use in heavy landscaped gardens.

Cultivars differ in their tolerance to plant pests, cold damage, and shade; you must know the differences in order to select the best cultivar for your particular needs.

Al Ferrer

ounces of ferrous sulfate in 3 to 5 gallons of water per 1,000 square feet or use a chelated form of iron as indicated in the label.

Irrigation
Watering your lawn may be a tricky business, if you water too much you can promote diseases or if you do not water enough you can encourage insect build up or poor growth of your lawn. You should irrigate only when needed, generally, when the grass blades begin to wilt. Apply 3/4 inches of water and do not water again until wilting starts to occur.

Fertilization
A good all-purpose lawn fertilizer for the spring is a 16-4-8 with a slow release form of nitrogen, preferable with micronutrients. Always follow the rule that nitrogen should be applied at a rate of 1 pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet. Therefore, if you use a 16-4-8 fertilizer, you need to apply 6.25 pounds per 1,000 square feet or, if you use a 10-10-10 fertilizer, you will need 10 pounds.

Weed Control
A general rule to follow in weed control is to apply a pre-emergence herbicide around Feb. 15 and post-emergence herbicides in May as needed. Do not apply herbicides if the turf is under stress of water or if air temperatures exceed 85 degrees.

A high maintenance fertilizer program will require 4 fertilizer applications per year. For Central Florida, it means one in March, May, July, and September. Iron may be applied in the summer (June) to give the grass a better color, especially, if some yellowing appears in your lawn. Apply 2

Mowing
Mowing is a very important practice and many problems arise because of improper mowing practices. Mow the lawn at 3 inches on regular varieties and 2 inches on semi-dwarf varieties. Do not remove more than 1/3 of the leaf blade in each mowing. Make sure that the blades are sharp during the mowing operation, otherwise the leaf blades will be injured more than necessary and the recovery may be slow and predispose the plant to other problems.

Pests and Diseases
St. Augustine grass is affected by many insect and disease problems. Learning to recognize their symptoms is important because if the damage is allowed to continue for a long period of time, the problem could be more difficult to control and could become very expensive.

Chinch bugs are probably one of the most important insects in St. Augustine grass. The best way to control them is to use resistant varieties such as Floratam or Floralan.

There are known cases of chinch bug damage to these cultivars. Therefore, you should be alert of the insect even if you have a resistant variety.

Other insect pests are webworms, army worms, grass loopers, and mole crickets.

The most recognized diseases in St. Augustine grass are brown patch and gray leaf spot. Brown patch occurs in warm, humid weather (spring and fall months) and is associated with excessive nitrogen levels.

Gray leaf spot occurs during the summer rainy season and it is also associated with high nitrogen levels.

The use of fertilizers containing slow release forms of nitrogen can be used to minimize the damage caused by these diseases. Fungicides can also be used to control these diseases.

Another disease, known as take-all disease, has been reported frequently in St. Augustine and other grasses. This particular disease is hard to diagnose and very difficult to control. It is usually necessary to replace damaged turf.

Only systemic fungicides have some effect in controlling this disease but in many cases, because of the difficulty in identifying it, the affected plants are not treated early enough to provide an adequate control of the disease.

Woman swept off feet has hard, painful fall

DEAR ABBY: Thank you so much for reprinting the "15 Reasons to Leave Your Lover, Warning Signs of an Abusive Personality."

I never thought I'd become involved in an abusive relationship. I'm in my mid-40s, female, with a graduate degree in education, a degree in psychology, and lots of professional experience with other people's problems.

I became involved with "Phil" at the age of 41 and was swept off my feet. We were engaged a month after we met, and he seemed to be everything I could have hoped for in a mate — attentive, kind, eager to please. Looking back, I see there were some early signs of the darker side of his personality, but at that time I dismissed them, thinking "nobody's perfect."

Real problems started about nine or 10 months into the relationship. He became verbally abusive and increasingly obnoxious, flying into a rage for no good reason, constantly talking about violence and guns, and making horrible racist remarks. Nothing I did or said was right, and he started degrading me. We broke up once and got back together. I was in a constant state of confusion, always thinking I was contributing to the problem. Well, I was — by staying in the relationship, enabling his abnormal behavior.

Looking at the "15 Reasons," in his situation a solid 10 of the 15 fit, with two or three others fitting more loosely.

I finally left when he obsessively fixed on the subject of guys who kill their girlfriends. He couldn't understand why I was scared because he was "just joking," and I was "crazy" to react.

It has been two months since our breakup, and I feel so lucky to be out of it, although my self-esteem needs a lot of healing. Thank you for printing the "15 Reasons" — they may help many women avoid a horrible experience.

OLDER AND WISER IN LAS VEGAS

DEAR O AND W: You are to be congratulated for having distanced yourself from your former fiancé. His problems were not the kind you could fix — and his sense of humor was a natural disaster.

In fairness, however, not all abusers are male. The "15 Reasons" can apply equally to both sexes. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I have a son who was formerly gentle, good-tempered and had many friends. He is now lacking all those traits. His live-in girlfriend beats him, isolates him and harasses him in front of her children. Her youngest son — age 12 — says his mom always starts a fight, and I have seen her do it. However, my son is crazy about her children.

Because the piece was not gender-neutral, I cannot send it to him. Women are also abusers these days. It's not just men anymore. And both are bad.

I'm writing to ask that when you reprint the article, you please use gender-neutral language instead of pinpointing one sex or the other. I'm sure I won't be the only reader who will appreciate it.

WORRIED MOTHER IN OREGON

DEAR WORRIED MOTHER: In the future I will, but please don't wait for the "15 Reasons" to be printed again. Clip this column and give it to him with the previous column. He needs to understand that his companion's behavior is an indication of deep-seated personality problems that cannot be fixed without professional help and a sincere desire on her part to put an end to her destructive behavior.

 ration of 1,500 feet," said Hunt.
 In addition, new churches seeking to locate within the historic district would also be required to receive permission from the Commission.
 Agencies, churches and businesses already in operation would not be affected by the proposed ordinance unless their functions significantly change.
 Leaders of the downtown business community and residents of the historic district have consistently supported the ordinance, saying it will enable City Commission to turn down agencies that would potentially damage business interests and property values in the area.
 In fact, Kerry Ferrell, president of Sanford Main Street, said the ordinance does not go far enough in regulating activity in the downtown area. In time, he said all new business activity in the downtown business district may need to receive conditional approval.
 "The action is a step in the right direction," Ferrell said. "But, it's only a means to an end. It is not an end in itself."
 Ferrell said the city needs to develop a Downtown Master Plan, with zoning to fit the plan. On Monday, the Commission also approved allocating $44,400 for a consultant to work on a property redevelopment plan for the area.

 amenities.
 The public assistance currently planned to support the project includes the creation of a special tax district and county tourism development funds.
 The study estimated that $12.8 million in public funds would be needed to support the development. In return, Hunter said the development would provide increased employment, tax revenue and commerce for the downtown area. The hotel and conference center would provide an estimated 300 employees, and $30 million in initial capital investments for construction.
 "People who look at a hotel investment on this site are going to look at downtown development very closely," Hunter said. "We feel that downtown development will be escalated by this project. The two go hand-in-hand."
 Hunter estimated that it may take six months to one year for the city to solicit for developers and gain a commitment. After that, site plans and financing for a hotel generally take one year to develop before construction can begin.

tion can begin. Construction tends to take 18 to 24 months.
 The proposed hotel would be placed on 7.9 acres of Fort Mellon Park.
 Sanford has the potential to capitalize on the under-served state association market, and on the small to medium sized conferences. The study included a list of more than 200 groups in Florida that meet up to 40 times per year.
 The rapid expansion of technology industries in the I-4 corridor, including Heathrow Business Park, is the most important market characteristic in support of the project, the study said.
 "We will have to explain our pluses to investors who may view our distance from the I-4 corridor as a negative," Hunter said.

 The analysis also said the market served by a conference center has been "largely ignored" in the north Orlando and Seminole County area.
 "Our demographics are tremendous," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale.
 The draft feasibility study was released during Monday's City Commission work session. The executive summary was released last week. Because Sanford is the preferred county conference center site, the study will also be presented to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners.

 Hunter said that the feasibility study envisioned a 42,700 square foot conference center site, including a 10,000 square foot ballroom and a tiered, high-tech presentation room.
 Such a facility would probably not be large enough to host high school graduations, Hunter said.
 Millard Hunt, chairman of the Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park, said that he finds it interesting that Hunter would suggest a 200-room boutique hotel.

 "Not only is the hotel and conference center that Mr. Hunter seems to prefer smaller, but it is not in fact a full-service hotel," Hunt said. "There will also be a good deal of public financing required."

Although the ordinance addresses zoning concerns in a number of areas, the controversial portion of the ordinance relates to community resource facilities that serve the needy.
 Supporters of the ordinance say it represents planning that will prevent the clustering of agencies in areas such as Goldsboro and the downtown commercial district.
 Businesses affected by the ordinance include temporary labor services, day-care facilities for six or more people, residential-care facilities for 15 or more residents, outdoor non-commercial amusement facilities, retail sales and services, pawn shops and bail bond companies.
 Other businesses that would be required to seek special permitting include hospitals and medical clinics, hotels and motels, and funeral homes.
 "This does not prohibit any activity," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. "It makes it conditional use."
 The ordinance has undergone revisions since it was proposed in August. Under a significant revision, social service agencies such as the Center for Affordable Housing are not required to seek permits. Social service agencies may cluster to provide One-Stop services.
 Churches will not be included regarding the 1,500 foot separation.
 Churches are grandfathered in and may serve food or distribute commodities to the needy, whether they are doing so now or not, without the need for conditional approval. Churches are already established by conditional use in most zoning districts.

FWC announces additional public workshops on spotted seatrout

SANFORD - The Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) has scheduled an additional series of public workshops to receive comment on proposed rules for the recreational harvest of spotted seatrout that would establish a 15-inch minimum/20-inch maximum size limit and a five-fish daily bag limit statewide (the allowance for one fish larger than the maximum size limit to be retained would still apply).

In addition, these rules would establish a February closed season to the harvest of spotted seatrout in the Northwest and Southeast regions, a December through February closed season in the Southwest Region, and no closed season in the Northeast Region.

Certain changes to regional boundaries will also be included in these rules.

The Commission encourages the public to provide input on these proposals at the workshops, which will all take place from 6 p.m.-to-8 p.m. as follows:

• Tuesday, March 7 - Fort Myers Beach Town Hall, Council Chambers, 2523 Estero Blvd. (Nation's Bank Bldg.), Fort Myers Beach.

• Wednesday, March 8 - Sarasota County Terrace Building, 10th Floor, Room 1001, U.S. 301 and Ringling Blvd., Sarasota.

• Wednesday, March 15 - Broward County Cooperative Center, 3245 College Ave., Davie.

• Thursday, March 16 - Votran Building, 850 Big Tree Road, South Daytona Beach.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

Seatrout are very sensitive to passing cold fronts. Sustained cold weather will force these fish into deep holes, where they readily respond to a wide variety of artificials.

FISHING FORECAST

Bass action is great in the river. The combination of dropping water levels and cooler air temperatures has bass on the prowl. The Panola Lake area is particularly good. Large shiners fished light to heavy cover will produce many bass over eight pounds in the next several months.

Sebastian Inlet is still featuring good action with large winter flounder, blue fish, jack crevalle, seatrout and a few snook (catch-and-release). Live shrimp or finger mullet are the top baits.

Captain Jack at Fort Canaveral reports a few cobia on the wrecks and king mackerel on Pelican Flats. Pay careful attention to the marine forecast before planning a trip. Inside the Port, look for sheepshead and flounder. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Big sheepshead and bluefish are swarming at Ponce Inlet. Large sheepshead prefer live shrimp or fiddler crabs. Bluefish will hit just about anything. Also count on drum, redfish and a few jack crevalle. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in Mosquito Lagoon.

Greyhounds, Bears girls win

Lyman upsets Seminole; Winter Springs knocks off Lake Mary to claim district basketball titles

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

LONGWOOD - For three quarters of the game, an ice-cold shooting Seminole High School girls basketball team stayed within hailing distance of the host Lyman Greyhounds by making their free throws, but in the end it was the Greyhounds who used the charity line to their advantage as they survived, 62-51.

No. 2 seeded Lyman, which had lost to the top-seeded Fighting Seminoles twice in regular season, took a 12-7 lead after one period, but found itself up only 44-43 with just over five minutes remaining as the Tribe made 18-of-25 from the free throw line in the Class 5A-District 5 Champion game.

But with the Greyhounds up 54-51 with 2:08 left, Seminole had to start fouling and the hosts made 8-of-10 charity tosses to put the game out of reach.

Lyman improved to 21-6 with the win, while Seminole fell to 25-5. Both teams will advance to the Regionals this week.

At Lake Brantley High School, senior point guard Mary Lou Johnston stepped up big, scoring a game-high 19 points and handing out 11 assists as Winter Springs, the top seed and ranked No. 2 in the state, rallied from a six-point halftime deficit to win their first Class 6A-District 3 Championship, 58-52, over Lake Mary.

After battling to a 14-14 tie after one period, the No. 2 seeded Rams (20-9) outscored the Bears 18-12 in the second quarter to lead 32-26 at intermission.

But Winter Springs, the defending Class 3A State Champions, got back in the game with a 17-10 third period advantage and held Lake Mary to 20 total points in the second half to claim the title.

Both the Bears and Rams will also be in regional action this week.

On the schedule today, the boys basketball teams will begin their district tournaments at Spruce Creek (Seminole) and Oviedo (Lake Mary) against Lake Brantley, while the Oviedo and Lake Howell girls soccer teams will play in the regional semifinals.

Also on the agenda is the prestigious Big Blue Baseball Classic which will open at Lake Brantley and Seminole high schools today after suffering with rain problems on Monday.

Raiders complete season sweep of Central Florida

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Coming off back-to-back losses, including probably their worst performance of the year, and with national power Central Florida Community College next on the schedule, Seminole Community College head women's basketball coach Ken Patrick could feel the season slipping away.

But his Raiders bowed their backs Saturday night and hit some big free throws in the final two minutes to pull away from the Patriots and put themselves right back in the state title hunt with an 82-68 victory in Mid-Florida Conference action at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

"After we played so awful the other night (last Wednesday in Jacksonville), we challenged them at practice," said Patrick. "I told them if they ever played as hard against an opponent as they did against each other in practice, we would be all right. Tonight they did."

SCC appeared to be in good shape as Kaisa Tuure scored the first four points for the Raiders and Satu Raimesaalo hit three three-pointers on four trips down the court to give the hosts an eight-point lead.

But CFCC stayed close behind the play of Evelina Gounceva (10 first half points) and then battled back to tie the score at intermission at 40-40 as Electa Johnson (nine points), Evelina Nhasango and Rongi Bethea (eight points each) picked up the slack.

Gounceva and Nhasango kept up the pressure in the second half, but the SCC pressure defense started to take its toll and a balanced Raiders scoring attack wore the Patriots down.

The game was still tied at 58-58 with 7:30 left in the game when Raimesaalo hit a layup and a three-pointer to push SCC ahead to stay.

The Raiders then started to go inside to 6-foot-9 Suzy Gyarfas, 6-foot-1 Shernel Donovan and 5-foot-9 Shaketa "Kid" Kindred and the Patriots could not stop them.

Gyarfas scored six points and Kindred scored on a pair of super offensive rebounds. With time slipping away CFCC tried to foul to get back in the game, specifically Kindred, who had missed three of her first four tries, all badly.

But the freshman from Douglasville, Georgia stepped to the line with confidence and hit four in a row to spoil the strategy and when Donovan hit a pair of charity tosses of her own, SCC had its 24th victory of the season against just five losses.

Lubrano, Lions maul Lake Mary

By Tony DeBormier
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LONGWOOD - Pitching around a pair of rain delays, Paul Lubrano tossed a two-hit shutout Monday as the Oviedo Lions ripped the Lake Mary Rams, 12-0, in the opening game of the Lyman Invitational at Lyman High School.

The game was stopped after 4 1/2 innings by the 10-run mercy rule. Lyman was scheduled to play Winter Park in Monday's late game.

"I'm really pleased with the way we stayed focused and played good fundamental baseball despite all the delays," said first-year Oviedo coach Harold Hitt. "Ten-run innings are nice, but fundamentals are what win games, day in and day out."

The Lions (1-0) chased Lake Mary starter Adam Sanabria (0-1) in the first inning, tagging him for eight runs on two hits and four walks in just a third of an inning. Three errors in the inning resulted in five of the runs being unearned.

Trevor Berryhill followed Sanabria to the mound and fared a little better, surrendering four unearned runs on five hits over 2-2/3 innings.

Meanwhile, Lubrano carried a no-hitter into the top of the fourth inning despite three lengthy periods sitting on the bench - once during the Lions' 10-run first inning and twice during rain delays.

Eric Schmook broke up the no-hitter with a 45-foot single that rolled just inside the third base line. Kyle Bond added a line-drive single in the fifth inning.

Justin Holmes led the Oviedo assault with a triple, double, single, two runs scored, and two RBI. Blaine Schulte added a double, single, a run, and two RBI. Lu-

SCC men throw a win away

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It's often been said in sports that the first punch is never caught, it's always the second one.

So was the case Saturday night at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center in a men's Mid-Florida Conference basketball game as the host Raiders dropped a 71-69 decision to visiting Central Florida Community College.

SCC was up eight points with 15:34 left in the game and had just gotten the ball back on an offensive foul. But the Raiders' Daryl Dingle took exception to getting hit by a CFCC player and retaliated. In the aftermath of the altercation, Dingle was slapped with a flagrant technical.

Not only didn't SCC get the ball, the Patriots went to the line and made both free throws and also scored on the ensuing in-bounds play, cutting the lead to four points and the race was on.

At the time the play didn't seem to big as the Raiders, who led 38-35 at halftime against the very tall and very athletic CFCC squad, built the lead back to eight points and held a four-point lead with less than a minute to play.

But the Patriots hit a basket to cut the lead to two, 68-66, and got the ball right back on an SCC turnover. Greg Brittain was fouled on the ensuing play to cut the lead to 68-67.

The Raiders tried to quickly inbounds the ball, but threw the ball off the foot of a defender and the ball rolled right to a Patriot standing under the basket for a layup which gave CFCC its first lead since early in the game.

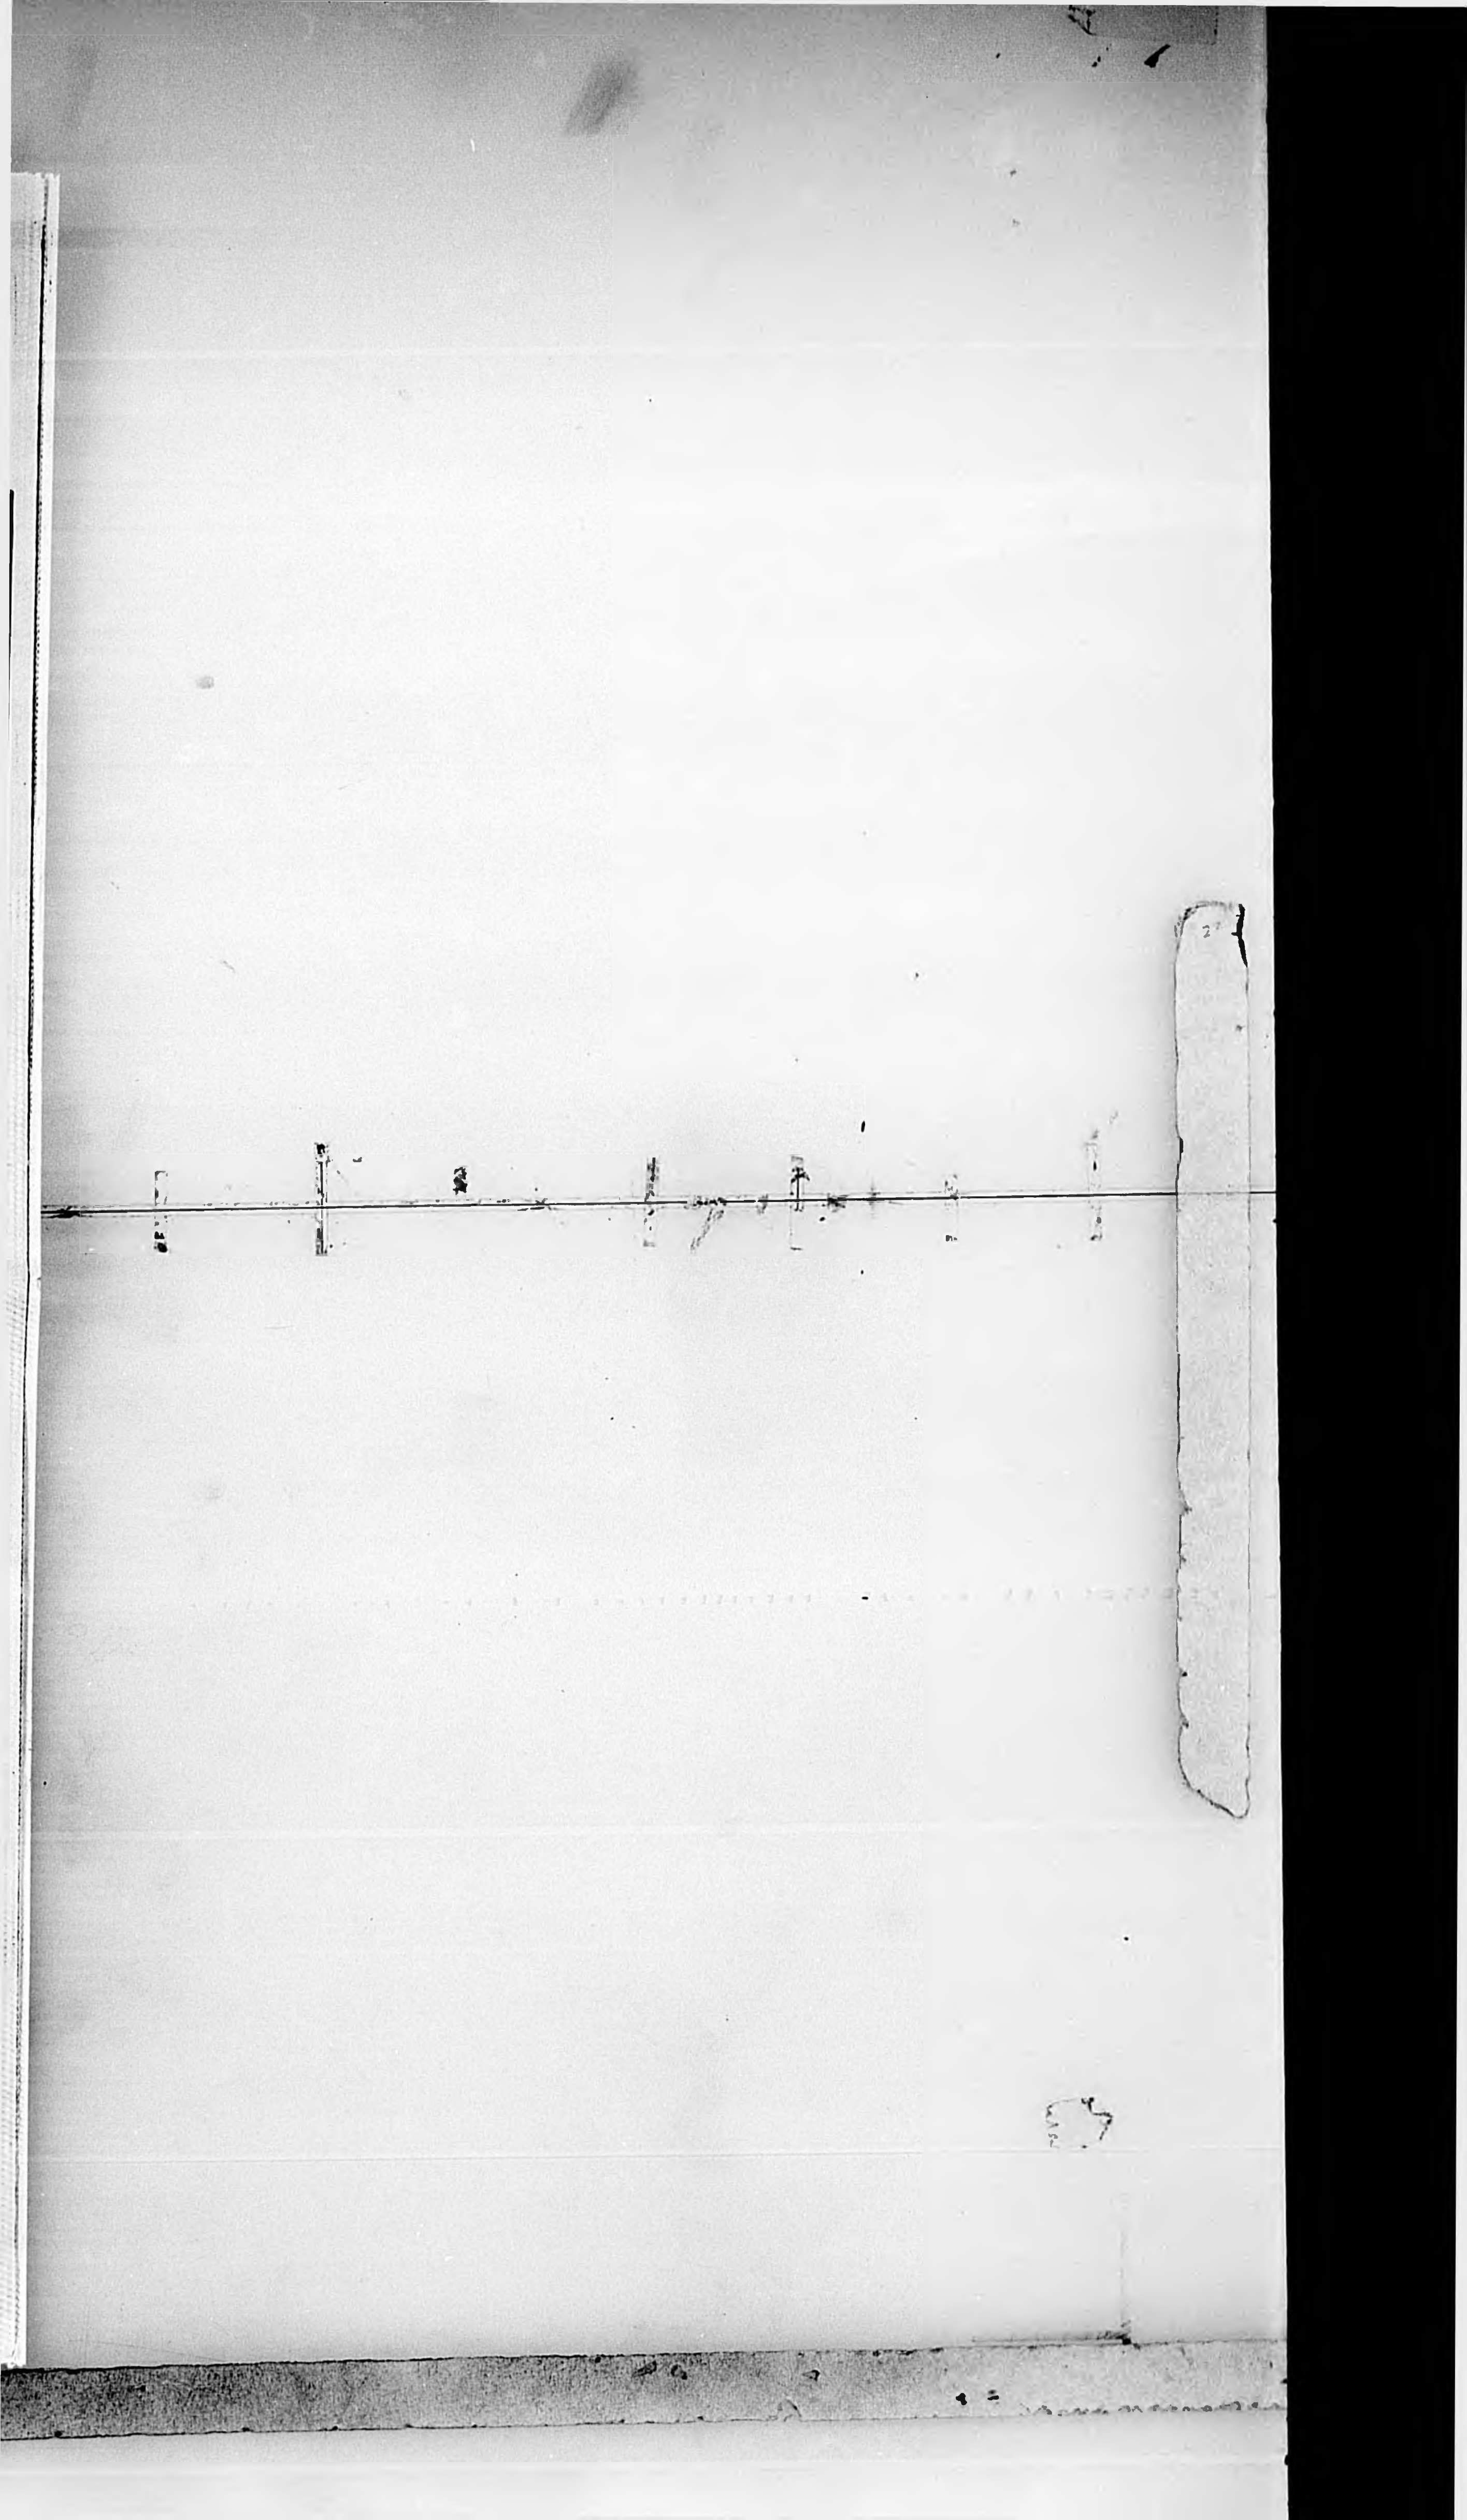

SCC brought the ball down court and Dingle was fouled trying to put back a rebound.

He hit the second of two to tie the game at 69-69, but CFCC brought the ball down court and Tony Aitchison hit a twisting jumper from just inside the free throw line with .9-second left on the clock.

The Raiders brought the ball inbounds, but could not get off a shot as the Patriots improved to 19-7 on the season. SCC fell to 15-14.

Kevin Williams led the Patriots.

The Raiders will conclude the regular season with a home game against Santa Fe Community College from Gainesville on Saturday at 8 p.m. following the women's game at 6 p.m.

Santa Fe is coached by former University of Florida assistant coach, and North Carolina State All-American, Monte Tower and former Seminole High School star Cornelius Blue is a member of the squad.

SCC softball team splits in St. Pete

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

CLEARWATER - The Seminole Community College softball team continues to play well in the early-going as it waits for the offense to kick in, splitting a quartet of games in the St. Petersburg Community College Classic at Clearwater on Saturday.

The Raiders got off to a rough start in the tournament, dropping their first game, 6-2, to Palm Beach Community College, but then rebounded to win their next two games impressively, 10-1 over Clearwater Christian College and 9-0 over North Florida Community College.

SCC could not keep the momentum going in the nightcap and dropped a 5-0 decision to Okaloosa-Walton Community College.

"Overall it was a good weekend," said SCC head coach Courtney Miller. "At times we looked great, but the two losses came when we lost our focus and allowed the teams to take advantage of our mistakes. I both of those games we had one bad inning and failed to capitalize on our scoring chances."

"Our offense is still silent, especially from our big hitters. I know it will all click soon, but I'm greedy and want to see it now we are so capable as a team to hit over .300 each game. The pitchers were strong again and except for the last game, when we were mentally fatigued, our defense played great."

"Amy Fazio continues to lead our offense. She was 6-for-12 on the day with four RBI. Miranda Schultz (Lyman) also was a leader on offense - she was 7-for-11 and had a home run."

In addition to her home run, Schultz also had a double during a 4-for-4 outing against Clearwater Christian, while Fazio and Ovidio Lisa Field were both 3-for-3 in the same game.

In the 9-0 victory over North Florida, Jodi Wood improved to 2-0 on the season by hurling a no-hitter at the Sentinels, striking out one and walking two.

The Raiders are now 4-2 on the season and return home on Thursday for a game with Polk Community College from Winter Haven.

"We take on Polk Community College on Thursday and in the past, we have always had a great offensive showing against them, so I expect us to come out hitting and scoring lots of runs," said Miller.

Thursday's doubleheader begins at 2 p.m. at Lady Raider Field behind the baseball field on the SCC campus across from the Continuing Education Building.

Rainy days and Mondays

Special to the Herald

DAYTONA BEACH - A rainy Monday afternoon at Daytona International Speedway brought an early end to scheduled on-track activity.

Before the rain, Kyle Petty was one of four NASCAR Winston Cup Series drivers to post new speeds in qualifying for the Daytona 500. Petty failed to improve on his previous speed and will now drop near the back of the field for the first Gatorade 125 qualifying race. Petty's speed of 187.180 mph will put him in the 26th starting spot for Thursday's first 125-mile race.

Andy Hillenburg, Carl Long and Dan Pardus was the only other Winston Cup Series drivers who posted new times.

JARRETT, RUDD GIVE YATES DAYTONA 500 FRONT ROW

DAYTONA BEACH - Dale Jarrett filled his only void of last season Saturday at Daytona International Speedway.

Jarrett, who won the 1999 NASCAR Winston Cup Series championship, captured his first pole position since September of 1998 when he earned the No. 1 starting position for the Daytona 500.

The driver of Robert Yates' No. 88 Ford Taurus was the only driver to record a lap faster than 191 mph. Jarrett averaged 191.091 mph around the 2.5-mile track. It marks the second time in his career that the North Carolina driver has won the pole for the Winston Cup Series season opener. Jarrett started on the pole in 1995.

Ricky Rudd made it an all-Yates front row with a lap of 190.394 mph. Rudd, who owned his own team the last six seasons, replaced Kenny Irwin in Yates' legendary No. 28 Taurus during the off season.

"It's nice to get the pole out of the way, said Jarrett, a two-time Daytona 500 winner. "We didn't concern ourselves last year that we didn't have a pole, but every week we want out with winning the pole in mind. It's just much easier racing from the front."

"Winning the pole for the Daytona 500 is different from any other pole. You benefit more from this pole. It gives the guys on the team immediate results for working so hard during the off season."

"Ricky and I are just the fortunate ones to get to sit in these cars."

Only the front row positions were determined Saturday. The remainder of the field will be set after Thursday's Gatorade 125-mile qualifying race.

Bill Elliott was third fastest Saturday, and the only other driver to top the 190-mph barrier. Mike Skinner was fourth fastest, and the only Chevrolet driver to qualify in the top 15.

Mark Martin, Ward Burton, Rusty Wallace and John Andretti were fifth through eighth fastest, while rookies Scott Pruett and Dave Blaney rounded out the top 10.

AFTER NINE ATTEMPTS, HUFFMAN VISITS DAYTONA'S VICTORY LANE

DAYTONA BEACH - Robert Huffman added another accomplishment to his already impressive NASCAR Goody's Dash Series resume with a win Saturday in the Discount Auto Parts 200 at Daytona International Speedway.

It was the three-time series champion's first victory in nine attempts at the "World Center of Racing."

The 200-mile, 80-lap event was slowed three times for cautions and once by a red flag. The race was halted nearly 15 minutes after a 13-car accident on the event's second lap. None of the drivers in the multi-car crash was seriously injured, but Zach Brewer was transported to Halifax Medical Center for an injury to his right leg.

Among those involved in the wreck was Sanford's Nolan Wilson, who started 33rd but passed several cars on the opening lap before being collected in the mess. Wilson appeared to have a hole to sneak through on the top of the track, but just as his Pontiac got there, the hole closed and his car was totaled.

The race's final caution set the stage for a five-lap dash between Huffman and runner-up finisher Johnny Chapman. It also removed leader Christian Elder from the event.

Elder, who led 21 laps, was attempting to hold off Huffman entering turn one when his Pontiac spun and was collected by several other cars.

Huffman held off Chapman to the checkered flag by .127-seconds. Chapman finished just ahead of Mark King, Edward Howell and Ned Combe rounded out the top five.

YATES MOTORS SWEEP SUNDAY'S RACES

DAYTONA BEACH - It was a good day to have Robert Yates Racing engines under the hood on Sunday as Dale Jarrett swept the Bud Shootout Qualifier and the Bud Shootout and David Keith claimed the checkered flag in the Pro2Call 200 for the ARCA Bonho/Mar-Hyde Series.

Jarrett, who won the pole for next Sunday's Daytona 500 on Saturday, dominated the qualifier, winning by over 4-seconds over Jeff Burton.

The defending NASCAR Winston Cup champion then started 15th before working his way up to third with a lap to go.

Jarrett then slipped by Jeff Gordon and Sterling Marlin in the third turn to win the big money as his new teammate, Ricky Rudd, ended up sliding to a stop on his roof after an accident with Marlin. Kenny Schrader and Bobby Labonte coming out of the fourth turn. No one was injured in the accident.

Keith, driving a Ford with a Yates engine, held off the charging Chevrolet of defending race champion Bobby Gerhart at the flag to win the ARCA season opener.

Speedweeks continues today with practice for the NASCAR Winston Cup Series, and the first scheduled practice for the Busch Series and Craftsman Truck Series during Speedweeks 2000.

Tickets are available by calling the Speedway ticket office at 904-253-RACE or visiting www.daytonaintl Speedway.com.

HOROSCOPES

Your Birthday

Wednesday, Feb. 16, 2000
In the year ahead a loyal ally might open some doors for you that would give you the opportunity to get something you believe you need. Utilize these sources to the fullest.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even if you don't make leaps and bounds, it looks like you can make some improvements today in your financial position. Lots of little things have a way of adding up to a large sum. Aquarius, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1754, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A social outlet may be just what you need today, so if nothing is on your calendar, drum something up with pals with whom you know can help refresh your being.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Information you'll be able to use to your advantage might come to you today through a source not readily available. What you learn might be of particular importance in directing your thinking.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something new about which you'll hear today could relate to an important interest in which you're involved. It will help you evaluate your hopes and expectations for the future.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Today the race goes to the brightest, not the brash. It'll be easier if you attempt to achieve your career objectives by using your mind, not your muscles or clout.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Because your ideas are especially good ones today, persons with whom you're closely associated are apt to be more appreciative and respectful of your innovative thoughts.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even though you may have to be patient a bit longer, a financial matter about which you've been concerned looks like it will be starting to take a turn for the better as of today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) At first, you might not interpret advice offered to you by a friend today as sage, but upon reflection and as you mull it over, you'll wisely appreciate its merits.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't rush into career situations today and trip over your own shoe strings. Progress can be made, but everything will have to be allowed to take its own time to develop.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) Form a discussion with one who shares an interest similar to yours and some mutual benefits can be derived today. Each will have valuable information to offer the other.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 31) Put to work today your remarkable abilities for being able to transform outdated ideas or things into something more functional and useful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Information you've been seeking might have been denied you simply because you haven't asked the right questions of the right people. Rethink your needs and start probing again.

Win at Bridge

A top player and journalist

Not many top players make good writers. One notable exception was Dick Cummings, who died in Sydney on October 27 at the age of 87.

Cummings represented Australia five times in both the Bermuda Bowl and World Team Olympiad. His partnership with Tim Seres was very highly regarded worldwide.

As a journalist, he wrote for The Sydney Morning Herald and The Sun-Herald from 1981 until his death. He had an excellent eye for a good column deal.

Cummings won the Bois Brilliance Prize for the best play at the 1980 World Team Olympiad. There isn't space for a full analysis of this complex deal, but declarer ruffed at trick one, cashed the heart ace, and carefully continued with the heart jack. After winning with the queen, East switched to the spade four: five, jack, ace.

Cummings had to arrange a trump coup, which required reducing his trump length (from four) to the same as East's (two). So declarer ruffed a diamond, cashed the king-queen of spades, and led a club to dummy's ace. (If declarer finessees and finds East with king-doubleton, that defender returns his second club and the contract must die. Try it and see.) Now came the spade 10. East couldn't ruff without giving up all chance of a third trump trick, so he pitched a club, as did declarer. Cummings ruffed dummy's last diamond, then, at trick 11, exited with his final club. It didn't matter which defender won this trick; Cummings had the nine-seven of hearts sitting over East's king-eight for his 10th trick. Brilliant!

Cummings will be missed by many people, even those who never met him — his readers.

Breast - cancer screening methods

DEAR DR. GOTT: What methods are routinely used to screen for breast cancer?

DEAR READER: There are basically three methods.

1. Self-examination. A woman is often the best judge of whether her breasts are normal. Thus, monthly self-examination is a good way to detect early, subtle changes that may be important. For example, most women's breasts become somewhat tender and lumpy at the time of menstruation. However, if these findings persist through the menstrual cycle, a woman may discover this and bring it to the doctor's attention. Self-examination is not 100 percent accurate, but it's free and easy to learn. (A similar technique is also advised for men in order to detect early testicular tumors.)

2. Medical examination. In my opinion, women should have their breasts checked by a medical professional at least once a year. A physician or other trained person may be able to feel breast lumps the woman herself missed. Breast examination should be an integral part of an annual exam, which should include blood pressure determination, heart and lung evaluation, abdominal exam, and — in premenopausal patients — pelvic exams and Pap tests. True, even skillful doctors occasionally miss malignant lumps during meticulous examination, so this procedure is not 100 percent accurate either. However, in conjunction with self-examination, the accuracy rate increases — and there are no risks. The added expense and inconvenience of seeing a physician should not deter women from this activity.

3. Mammography. X-rays of the breasts can detect small lumps (and, more important, abnormal breast calcifications) that may be missed by both the woman and her doctor. Many authorities urge that this testing be performed annually in all women between the ages of 45 and 65. Some experts recommend yearly mammography for younger (and older) women, but the validity of this recommendation has yet to be conclusively proved — with one important exception: a history of breast cancer in a close relative. Routine mammography substantially reduces the incidence of inoperable and untreatable breast malignancies.

There are no significant risks from the small amount of X-rays used in mammograms. However, the test is expensive and inconvenient. In addition, it is often uncomfortable because the breasts have to be mechanically compressed to improve accuracy. Mammography is the most reliable screening procedure, but for obvious reasons, its reliability depends on the skill of the radiologist who interprets the films.

In summary, the three most common methods of breast cancer screening are safe; each provides useful information; the best utilization depends on using all three.
