

how many ribs in a pork loin rib portion?

We think there should be seven. Not five or six. With A&P's seven-rib portion, you get more of the select meat.

How can you tell how many ribs you're getting? With your fingers, you can feel and count the rib bones in the package.

Next time you're buying a Pork Loin Rib Portion, check it. If you can't count one, two, three, four, five, six, seven ribs, you're missing select meat. You're not getting the best value for your meat dollar.

Seven-Rib Pork Loin Portions are just one example of the full value A&P meat offers.

We think that caring like this about fair portions has helped make A&P America's largest meat retailer.

Private Schools To Get Aid In NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says his administration will draft a new plan to aid parochial and other non-public schools to replace a law ruled unconstitutional by a panel of three federal judges. The special constitutional court barred the state from providing $33 million in aid under a 1971 law that allocated the money for "secular educational services for pupils in non-public schools."

After the decision Tuesday, Rockefeller said he was convinced "of the need for financial assistance within constitutional limits" and that an appropriate method could be found. He told newsmen in Albany Tuesday night the new plan would be presented to the legislature in "about a month."

Schools Walking Fiscal Tightrope

What does a guy have to do? How many times have you heard me "preaching" about those who insist on driving their cars... on morning like today... without their headlights on? Even though it's against the law to do so... for that matter, to drive with the parking lights on... even though it might cost you your life, we've been saying "and yet?"

And yet, there are those... ah, what's the use? Look at the pictures on the front page and draw your own conclusions. See if it's worth it to try and save... and that's what really bugs me — you don't have one red cent in the operation of your car when you try to skimp by not turning your lights on!

There's an excellent letter to the Editor on page 5 today. Among the same line, we've attacked the usage of marijuana... but there are those who try to rationalize on the subject. O. K. smart guy... just read this fellow's letter and see if you still want to "try it."

Congratulations to Head Coach Dick Copeland of Lyman High School, and to all of the others who helped with that benefit the other night. All of the money goes for the operation of that 2nd grade who is a student at Altamonte Elementary School. Makes you feel real good to hear of projects like this...

Purely Personal... I don't believe a word about that Howard Hughes episode... other than think it's an awfully effective way of getting lots of publicity on a book... soon to appear on the book stands. If Mr. Hughes wants another 14 years of voluntary "exile," it's O. K. with me.

The mothers will be out marching on the 16th, 17th and 18th of this month. According to Mrs. Bonnie Schumacher, they'll be out in full force trying to raise money for the March of Dimes. Give 'em a hand, and a sizeable donation, huh folks?

Plans for making improvements and again opening the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs five-acre way-side park on SR 46 at Wekiva River to the public are being made by the newly named board of trustees. The property was deeded to the federation in 1924 by the Cameron Estate for public use. For the past several years Seminole County Sportsmen's Association has had use of the park gratis. It fenced and locked the park, barring the public. The federation board consists of (left to right, seated) Mrs. C. L. Swinney, chairman; Mrs. Robert Michael, secretary; (standing) Mrs. Robert Bradford, president; Mrs. Carl G. Tullis and Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhn, treasurer.

Widow Takes Witness Stand Spectators Jam Murder Trial

School Board OKs Teacher Protection

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County school students who strike or assault teachers in any way will be automatically expelled from the school system, according to a new policy directive outlined at Tuesday's three-hour School Board meeting.

SCHOOL BUS collision this morning near Casselberry caused the drivers of both involved vehicles and two students to be removed to Winter Park Memorial Hospital with injuries, not believed serious. The mishap at SR 436 at Casa Loma entrance between county bus 37, operated by Eula Scott, Longwood, and an auto driven by Anthony DiNardo, of Altamonte Springs, resulted in cuts and abrasions to Becky Haynes and Jennifer Stokes, Eastbrook Elementary School fourth graders. A trooper interviewed one of the 25 students on the bus as part of the investigation.

Board attorney Douglas Stenstrom and the school administrator were instructed to draft a policy making expulsion mandatory for students who assault teachers. On a motion by Dr. Stuart Culpepper, the Board approved drawing a policy covering expulsions of students and a review by the Board of incidents of assault.

The board action came after a Seminole High School woman teacher was struck by a 15-year-old girl in an altercation before the Christmas vacation. Charges were brought against the girl in juvenile court by Principal Jack Redding. The case is still to be adjudicated.

In making the motion, Dr. Culpepper said, "I want parents to know this kind of behavior will not be tolerated." He said pupils will either accept the school's code or "they're out." A. P. Bule Jr. asked if the same rule should exist for teachers who strike students. A. P. Keeth, chairman, replied, "Teachers' ethics cover that."

Bule commented, "What is right for one is right for the other." Jean Bryant disagreed, stating, "Teachers are in authority." In another action, involving unruly students at Seminole High School, the board declined to accept Requests for waiver of the board's policy making mandatory expulsion for students who have received three suspensions.

Supt. John Angel said Redding had requested waiving the policy for the benefit of two students since in the opinion of Redding it would not be in the best interest of the students of the school to remove them from school. Board indicated insufficient found, "We might want to hire him this year." The superintendent said the coordinator is needed whether the school system goes to extended year, double sessions or any other plan to handle the student overflow. Dr. Stuart Culpepper moved to table the recommendation until the next board session and this was approved. Board declined to approve an electronic repair operation cost-

'Scenic Rivers' Approved

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
The State Cabinet approved the concept of preserving Florida's wild and scenic rivers Tuesday giving the "go ahead" to the Department of Natural Resources to begin a study of the nine rivers previously considered for this designation.

According to Harold Rowland, member of the Citizens Advisory Committee, who was part of the Seminole delegation which went to Tallahassee, the group is optimistic that the Wekiva River, one of the nine under study, will be high on the list when priorities are set. Rowland cautioned, however, that the study will take some time and then the report will have to go back to the Cabinet for placing of priorities and having funding approved.

The group had the opportunity to talk with Gov. Reubin Askew, who is enthusiastic about the project; several members of the Cabinet and with Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who addressed the Cabinet. In addition to Rowland, the delegation was composed of Rodney Laver, representing the County Commission; John Kredinger, representing the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and Chief Deputy Duane Harrell, representing Sheriff John Polk.

Uphold Ban Policy Politics, School Bands Don't Mix

School Board Tuesday declined requests that high school bands be allowed to take part in the political activities here by Democratic presidential aspirants U. S. Sens. Herbert H. Humphrey and Edmund Muskie.

School Supt. John Angel told the board, "I have a request from area citizens that the board waive its policy prohibiting school groups participating in political functions." Later, Angel disclosed that requests had been made to allow the high school bands to play during the Seminole visits of Humphrey and Muskie. Ray Slater, quipped, "How about George Wallace?" Angel replied, "That may come." A. P. Keeth, chairman, pointed out that bands had been allowed to play at inaugurations and added, "As far as I'm concerned, that's political."

With that, the board took no action to the political requests, preferring to let the policy stand. Austerity has finally arrived for the School Board, as that group either tabled or declined to approve Angel's recommendations to hire a data processing coordinator at $14,440 salary and the spending of $18,000 for setting up an electronic repair operation with two men and a panel truck.

An additional request by Angel to spend $4,800 to allow a part-time data processing helper to work full-time also was turned down by the Board. Angel said a coordinator of data processing position could be included in the next budget year but if the right person is found, "We might want to hire him this year."

Reds Aiming At 'Big Push'?

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Big North Vietnamese gains in Laos and Cambodia, two major enemy outposts along South Vietnam's western borders and new challenges to U.S. air power signal a crucial year ahead for Washington and Saigon.

U.S. officials in Saigon term the situation in Laos critical. But informed sources say there are strong indications that the North Vietnamese are building up to something in South Vietnam, with 12,500 fresh troops in or en route to the central highlands and three divisions re-emerging in the region of the demilitarized zone.

The concern among American military and diplomatic officials is that the Communist campaign in Laos is designed to force Premier Souvanna Phouma to step the United States to ask the massive bombing in his country and give North Vietnam free rein to use the country as a staging area for its military operations.

"All these things they do in Laos and Cambodia are undoubtedly pointed to their long-range objective of making it easier to gain control of South Vietnam," says one American expert.

Some senior U.S. officials say the buildup in the central highlands is far bigger than any previous one in that area. But despite the buildup and the deteriorating situation in Laos, President Nixon appears to have committed himself to the withdrawal of U.S. troops in February at the rate of at least 21,500 a month.

With Korean, Thai and Australian troops also pulling out, the South Vietnamese army's regulars are spread thin. The much-heralded militia force of half a million men, which is supposed to defend the interior of South Vietnam, is often no match for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

Concerned over the buildup in the central highlands and further withdrawals by its allies, the South Vietnamese government has abandoned most of its major bases in eastern Cambodia so the troops who have been there can operate closer to home with more mobility and flexibility.

However, there are no signs that the South Vietnamese will try to get the jump on the North Vietnamese with a repetition of last year's invasion into Laos. For one thing, they are not enough U.S. combat forces left in Vietnam to give them the massive support that even last year wasn't enough to make the operation successful.

"There is great concern that the Communist command will attempt offensives on several fronts during the Tet celebration of the lunar new year, which begins Feb. 15."

In addition to the buildup in the central highlands and at the western end of the DMZ, small-scale fighting has increased in the Saigon region, and there are reports that two North Vietnamese regiments have crossed from Cambodia into the area surrounding South Vietnam's capital.

Senior U.S. diplomats believe the Communists will attempt an offensive in the central highlands to coincide with President Nixon's trip to Peking during the last week of February, their purpose being to embarrass him by a show of strength. These sources predict another offensive along the DMZ in the summer or fall to hurt Nixon's chances for re-election.

LOOKING TOWARD THE FUTURE, new United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, seen mostly problems. The Austrian diplomat, selected to succeed U Thant of Burma, inherits a near-bankrupt organization and a host of problems.

NY Air Pollution Stymies Experts

By DAVID SHAFER
Associated Press Writer
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state Environmental Conservation Department says it cannot meet in some parts of the heavily industrialized Buffalo area of western New York, even with the best antipollution technology now known.

In an air quality implementation plan prepared for submission to the federal Environmental Protection Agency, the department reports Tuesday that standards for particulate matter in the air — dirt and soot, for example — cannot be met in south Buffalo, Lackawanna, Tonawanda, North Tonawanda or Niagara Falls.

The first, or primary, level sets standards which are considered necessary for the maintenance of health. The stricter secondary standards are those considered necessary for "social well-being."

States must meet the primary standards by 1975, although they can get a two-year extension if technology is not available. The secondary standards must be met within a "reasonable time" thereafter.

The state plan says that federal primary standards for sulfur dioxide in the air can be met by 1975 in all areas of 73-state New York but that the secondary standards will not be met in south Buffalo, Lackawanna, Tonawanda, North Tonawanda or Albany.

The other federal air-quality standards — for carbon monoxide, photochemical oxidants, hydrocarbons and nitrogen dioxide — will generally be met after the 1975 automobile-emission controls take effect, the state plans said.

Available technology is not the problem, however, in meeting the federal standards for reducing sulfur-dioxide pollution. Industries reducing sulfur-dioxide pollution — such as steel mills — can switch from high-sulfur coal and oil to natural gas or low-sulfur coal or oil. But the Environmental Conservation Department contends that costs and other factors are prohibitive.

A reservation-by-reservation plan, says Bruce Drace, is the beginning of the solution to the Indian problem," the aide said. "It's double-jointed: Jobs and economic and social mobility plan, saving their Indian culture by allowing them to stay on the reservation. It's revolutionary."

The five points of the program are:

- 1. A reservation-by-reservation development, perhaps patterned after one still being negotiated by the Standing Rock Sioux tribe of South Dakota. Their plan extends to the year 2000 and includes provision for a bank, shopping center, cattle industry, rest home and new housing.
- 2. Restoration of the BIA Employment Assistance Program so Indians will no longer have to go to the big cities for job training, but may train on or near reservations.
- 3. Protection of natural resources, especially water rights. One main objective will be preserving Pyramid Lake for the Paiutes in Nevada.
- 4. Increasing the number and improving the quality of roads connecting reservations with the goal of having skilled Indians take over contracting operations.
- 5. Increased tribal control over education.

Third Attack In Two Weeks Communists Hit U.S. Air Base

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces today made the third attack in less than two weeks on a U.S. air base in the Vietnam, shot down an American helicopter, killing all four crew members, and intensified attacks across South Vietnam to their highest level in three months.

The U.S. Command also announced that an Air Force F4 jet bombed and apparently destroyed an anti-aircraft missile battery in the Laotian panhandle near Sepone shortly after it fired two missiles at another American plane Tuesday.

The Army UH1 helicopter was shot down Tuesday while supporting South Vietnamese operations south of the U Minh forest in the Mekong Delta, about 165 miles southeast of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese military command reported 24 enemy attacks on its military units during the 24 hours ending at 4 a.m. Wednesday. It was the highest number since the first week of October.

The most serious attack was a Viet Cong ambush of a platoon of 30 government militia men in the Mekong Delta about 90 miles south of Saigon. Field reports said three government soldiers were killed. It was missing and six were wounded.

There was speculation that the attacks on the U.S. air bases were in retaliation for the massive American air attacks on North Vietnam late last month. The target today was the big Bien Hoa base 25 miles northeast of Saigon, and two Viet Cong sappers slipped past South Vietnamese and American guards to blow up a stockpile of small arms ammunition.

One of the sappers was killed when he triggered a claymore mine on his way out, the 7th Air Force reported. The other escaped.

No other casualties were reported.

In Saigon, a coalition of four obscure Vietnamese religious groups urged President Nixon to order a permanent cease-fire throughout Indochina and suspend all U.S. aid to South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

It also said that if Nixon would set the cease-fire for the Tet celebration Feb. 15 and set an early deadline for withdrawal of all U.S. troops, it would "guarantee" the return of Americans held by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

In northern Laos, North Vietnamese forces captured two more government positions near the Long Cheng base, informed sources in Vietnam said.

Laotian brigades were forced to abandon a 100-mile stretch of Long Cheng when two North Vietnamese battalions followed up a heavy artillery barrage with a ground attack. Three Laotians were killed and 16 wounded, the sources said.

Another Laotian company was declared "combat ineffective" after suffering 37 casualties trying to defend its position on a ridge overlooking Long Cheng. The position was abandoned Tuesday night, government sources said. The company was held on the high ground around Long Cheng.

for near reservations. Additionally, the BIA says, it is asking all reservations to draw up long-term development plans.

By May 11, reservations will be chosen for funding of "reservation acceleration programs."

BIA Commissioner Louis R. Bruce calls the new program "the most comprehensive ever devised in the BIA to assist American Indians toward self-determination."

The state is requiring industries in those areas to use the best available means to cut down on pollution, the report said, but unless technical breakthroughs occur within the next few years that will not be enough.

The only alternative — shutting down those industries which cannot be sufficiently controlled — was rejected because of its impact on already high unemployment in the Buffalo area, the plan said.

The 1970 Federal Clean Air Act requires the states to submit a plan for meeting two levels of air-quality control for six kinds of air pollution.

Federal Court Hits Fraternal Groups

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting on the complaint of a man who says he was denied membership in a Portland, Ore., Elks lodge because he is black, a federal court has ruled that fraternal organizations are not entitled to tax breaks if they exclude nonwhites.

The ruling said such organizations "are exempt from federal income taxes and receive the right of individuals to deduct charitable contributions to such clubs from their income."

The order Tuesday by three U. S. District Court judges was an opinion of law which often comes before a final judgment in a particular case. The court has not yet ruled on the validity of the complaint against the Elks lodge.

But the language of the ruling indicates the intent of the court is to rule out all federal tax breaks for fraternal organizations that exclude nonwhites and for members of such organizations.

Citing the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the judges said: "There is a clearly indicated congressional policy that the beneficiaries of federal largesse should not discriminate on the basis of race."

Paleface Plans Indian Ways For Indians

By PEGGY SIMPSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Reversing a 15-year program of training Indians how to work in the nation's cities, the government says it will start teaching them how to be productive on the reservation.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs planned to announce today its $40 million-year training program to teach skills useful on the reservation.

Student 'Cons' 6 Brokers

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham H. Trefl, a smooth talking college sophomore, says he persuaded six potential brokers to agree to buy $200,000 worth of stock in his name without ever putting up a penny in cash.

Trefl said his purpose was not to get rich but to show that the rules of the New York Stock Exchange are not always enforced and that some brokerage firms will ignore sound business practices to obtain commission revenues.

Trefl, who lives in Philadelphia where he attends St. Joseph's College, said the idea for the project grew out of a discussion with classmates about consumer protection.

He telephoned brokerage firms listed in the Yellow Pages of the Philadelphia telephone directory. At least a dozen turned him down when he asked to enter stock orders without first appearing in person.

But six firms did make purchases for him, although he never appeared in person at their offices and never signed any papers to open an account, he said.

There Was Confusion In Salfi's Courtroom

By MARION BETHEA
Mass confusion resulted in arraignment held Tuesday before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi. Defendants were present who were recently arrested in a county-wide theft ring and who faced several charges in divergent informations.

The problem was compounded by the fact that two sets of defendants are related.

Further complicating the problem was the fact that Edward Kirkland and Peter DeManio, representing Peter and John Beaulieu and Donald and Richard Goodall, respectively. However, John Beaulieu is charged in seven informations and Richard Goodall in seven.

Judge Salfi was in a quandary as to the procedure to follow, and the erudite Kirkland, noted criminal attorney said that since he had been retained in one case, this would expend all of the defendant's funds, thus making him insolvent.

Kirkland said the law set forth that even though a defendant had sufficient funds to retain counsel, if these are expended it does not matter where the money goes, the defendant still cannot afford counsel and thus a public defender must be appointed in the other cases.

Kirkland said he was willing to represent the defendants, to which the court replied that "everyone would like to have you and Mr. DeManio, you have a high reputation as a criminal lawyer."

Judge Salfi said that since this is the first time the matter has come before his court he would need a week's time to consider the issue, and withheld trial date. The defendants entered not guilty pleas.

Both DeManio and Kirkland requested they be appointed in all of John Beaulieu's cases and in all of Richard Goodall's cases. DeManio quipped, "We're like Maxine and Lawrence (The Andrews sisters)."

Oak Harbour Project Gets Altamonte OK

By DONNA ESTES
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Approval was given by City Council Tuesday night to a right-of-way easement for the 50-acre tract bounding Oakland Estates, Manland Avenue at Lake Oriole to permit construction of the planned unit development, Oak Harbour.

Developer Wilson Knott, two months ago, when announcement was first made of the development, estimated its value at $5 million. The city attorney was hired to prepare an ordinance changing the zoning of the land from high-type residential to PD (planned development).

Knott said new plans for Oak Harbour are for 227 cluster-type homes to be built and sold while 160 apartment units will be rented. Units in the cluster homes will sell in the $25,000 to $33,000 price range and the apartments will rent from $200 to $250 monthly. Knott, when he first presented the plans for the property in November, said four one-story professional buildings would also be built at the site, but apparently the plans have changed.

Knott, Tuesday, said consideration is being given to fencing the entire tract with entry gaiting only via an electronic gate. Two centers of property bounded Lake Oriole complained that with a portion of the development in two-story units, privacy of single-family homes in the area will be violated. "You'll be looking from the second story into our bedrooms, right down our throats," he said.

Pensions, Remap Lure Some Solons

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The lure of hefty pensions and the political uncertainties of re-electing may produce a bumper crop of voluntary retirements from the House this year.

Some older statesmen are losing their zest for a tough reelection fight. They are considering retiring to front porch rocking chairs and waiting for the postman to deliver fat monthly annuity checks.

The checks could total as much as $24,000 a year in some cases. That's the maximum for members who retire after March 1 of this year. It is based on the average of a member's three highest salary years and length of service.

The current congressional pay of $42,500 a year went into effect on March 1, 1969.

No member who retires may receive more than 80 per cent of the $42,500, or $34,000. To qualify for that he must have served at least 22 years, of which 5 years could have been in military service and the remaining 17 in Congress.

Service in other federal agencies also may be counted under some conditions.

Members pay 8 per cent of their salary into the retirement fund, with the federal taxpayers matching that.

The amount of pension is determined by multiplying the number of years of eligibility by 2 1/2 per cent.

Members who retire or are defeated for re-election without acquiring the maximum years of service and reaching age 62 may receive reduced benefits starting generally at age 50.

Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., who has announced his retirement at the end of this year after 28 years of service will be eligible for a $21,250 pension if he has participated in the retirement plan. Names of participants are not made public, but most members have signed up.

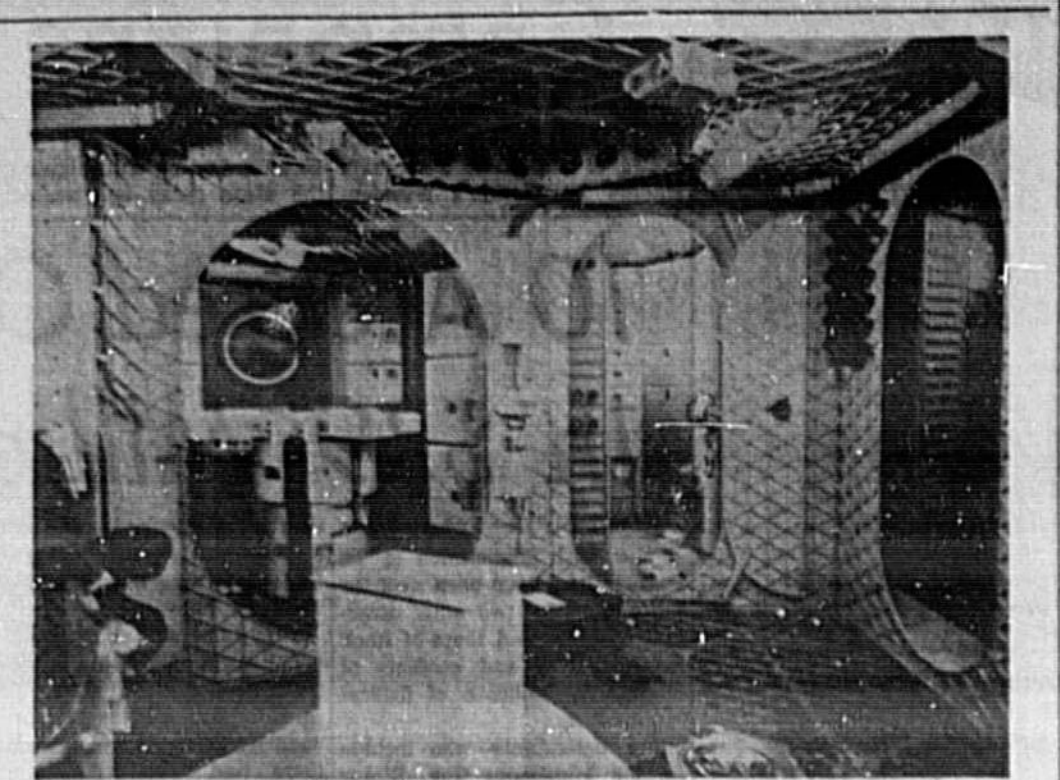

Poff, who will be 59 next year, would have faced a reelection contest against incumbent William C. Wampler, also a Republican, because of redistricting in Virginia.

Similar problems confront some other House members who are considering retirement rather than a hard and costly campaign against a colleague.

Of the House members who already have announced their intention to retire voluntarily, two are top Republicans on major committees.

One is John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking minority member on the Ways and Means Committee. Byrnes will be 59 years old and have 28 years of House service when he leaves.

The other is William L. Springer of Illinois, senior Republican on the Commerce Committee. He will be 63 and have 25 years of service including three in the Navy.

'Superman' Is Finding Home At Metropolis

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) — Superman, that fearless crusader for truth, justice and the American way, is being adopted by the citizens of Metropolis.

"This is not a sham or a joke," says Bob Westerfield, a Metropolis resident who first thought of using the Man of Steel to put Metropolis on the map. "We intend to treat Superman in the proper perspective."

Westerfield and the Metropolis Chamber of Commerce say they already have the backing of National Periodicals, Inc., which publishes Superman comic books.

"They've promised to send us the uniform George Reeves wore in the original television series," Westerfield, 43, said. "We also plan to set up a committee to read and answer letters mailed to Superman in care of Metropolis."

This is the only Metropolis listed in the U.S. postal guide. The Superman known to generations of Americans came to a fictional city called Metropolis in a rocket, sent by his parents who died when the planet of Krypton blew up. Raised at Clark Kent by a middle-class American couple, he went to work as a reporter on the Metropolis Daily Planet.

The Illinois Metropolis, on the Ohio River, is hardly the place for a big-time crime fighter. The town's 7,000 citizens, however, are working on the image. One of the proposals would change the name of the Metropolis Daily News, a weekly newspaper, to the Metropolis Daily Planet.

Other ideas are to use a Superman letterhead on the city's stationery and put a 26-foot illuminated Superman figure on the city's water tower.

"That tower is 200 feet high," Westerfield says. "You could see him from anywhere in Mason County."

Protect Your Home How To Avoid Burglars

By CAROLYN COIL
Copley News Service

Your home may be your castle, but it takes strategy to keep unwanted visitors out.

In the last 14 years daylight crimes against property have risen 330 per cent.

A large part of that rise is due directly to people's own carelessness, according to Marjia (Red) Rudensky, a former "locksmith" for the Al Capone gang.

Rudensky, who is now a consultant for the 3M Company's new products division, evaluates security systems.

He says to avoid being an easy mark for "furniture movers" and thieves on the prowl for your valuables, take serious precaution to protect your home.

If you are interested in maximum security, install a good alarm system, teach your family how to operate it, and use it all the time.

Many methods the home owner or apartment dweller can use to safeguard his valuables require little more than just being careful.

Since picture windows do a good job of advertising your possessions, install good locks on doors and windows.

Hardware stores, lock shops, department stores and lumber yards carry many varieties of window fasteners and locking devices at reasonable cost, which you can install.

More elaborate models, installed by a carpenter or locksmith, are key locks mortised into the bottom window bar.

Rudensky favors this type of lock because it can't be seen from the outside and, should the glass be broken, the lock will prevent the window from being raised.

When putting locks on the windows, don't forget the sliding glass door.

Inspect locks on your front door to see how effective they would be at keeping out a determined thief.

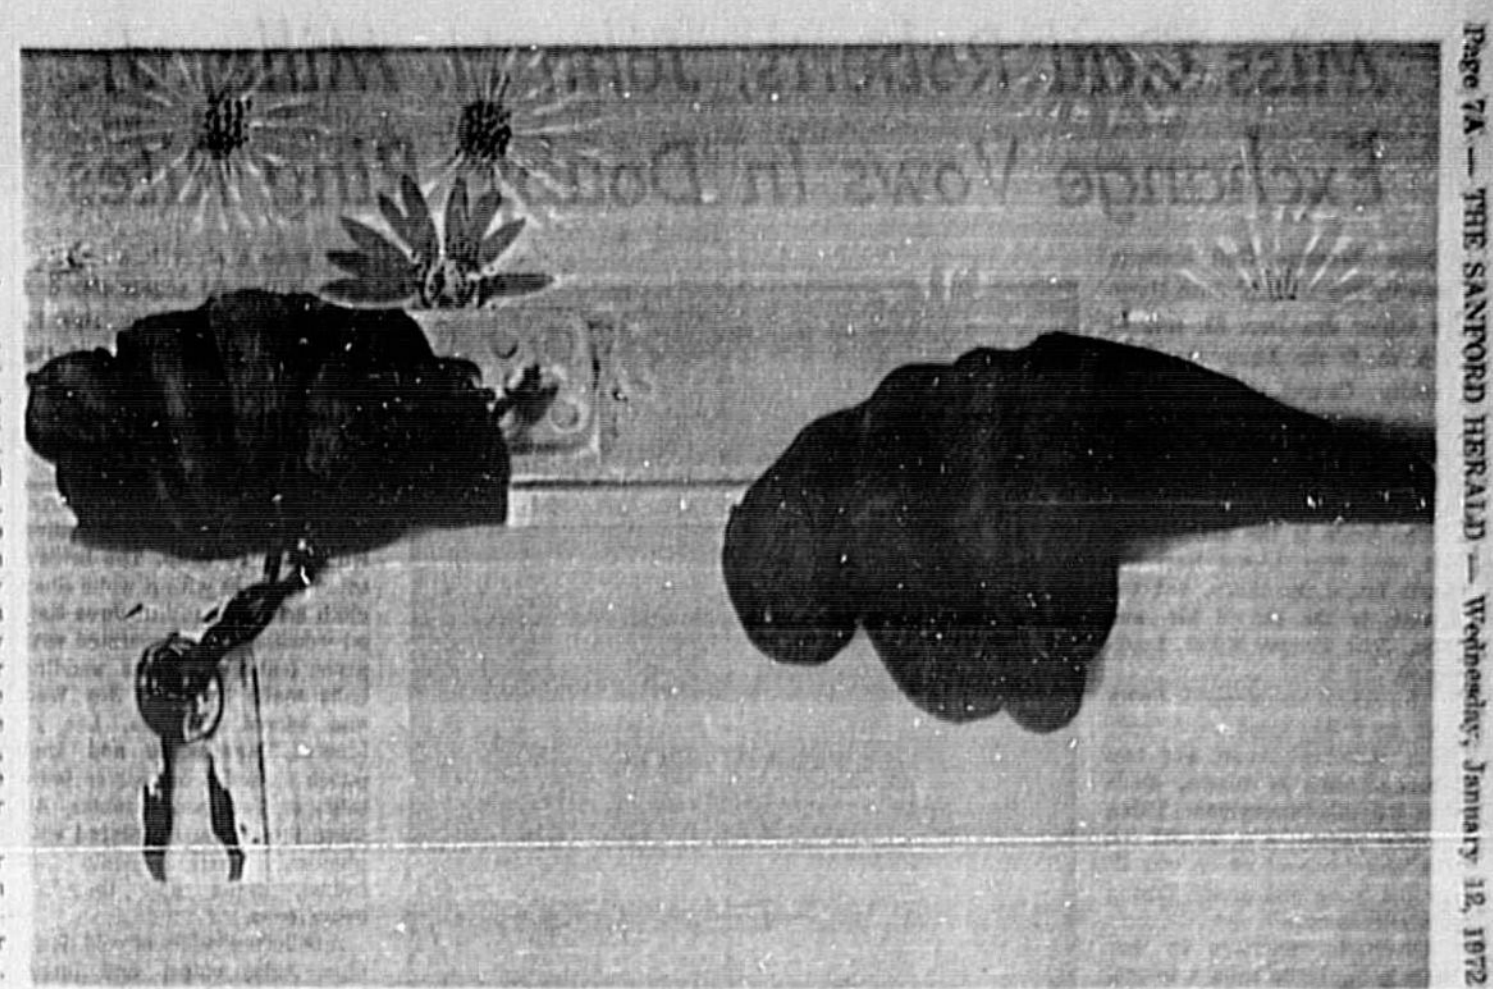

The traditional self-locking spring latch lock can be opened with a knife, credit card, and often a hairpin.

Install a dead-bolt type of lock, which is locked into place with a key. And make sure it is locked every time the family leaves.

One of the better, rugged, force-resistant locks, recommended by the former burglar, is a cylinder, key-operated lock that features two vertical dead lock bolts which slide into metal hasps attached to the door jamb.

Never open your door to strangers. Install peek holes in the door, so you can identify your visitors. If someone tells you he just wants to borrow your telephone because his car has broken down, ask for the number and say you will make the call. According to Rudensky, this may be a ruse to get inside the house. Then you and your valuables will be in danger.

When you plan to be gone for an evening, leave lights on in the various parts of the house. Also leave a radio playing, or better yet, do as Rudensky does, leave on a talking tape. Tape the next poker game or party at your home and leave this playing.

KNOCK, KNOCK — If you're not careful, this could be the picture of your front door. Most homes are incredibly simple to break into, in spite of what home owners consider "adequate" locks.

Miss Gail Roberts, John H. Miller Jr. Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Jeannette Gail Roberts became the bride of John Harper Miller Jr., Dec. 23, 1971 at 7 p. m. in the Altamonte Community Chapel, Rev. Wayne Smith was officiating clergyman at the candlelight double ring ceremony and organist was Miss Karen Nuehring.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Earl Roberts Sr., Lake Mary, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harper Miller, Longwood.

The chapel was decorated with two seven-branched candelabra with cathedral tapers and two arrangements of mums, glads and Canadian evergreen. Three candles were also placed on the altar, one of which was lit by the bride and groom during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white tulle with high neckline, empire bodice with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of white daisies, pink poppies and white baby's breath.

Miss Anita Corbo, Miami Beach, bridesmaid wore a long pink sleeveless crepe gown with high neckline, empire bodice with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of white daisies, pink poppies and white baby's breath.

John R. Hennessy, Chicago, Ill., was best man and serving as ushers were Martin A. Roberts and Lionel E. Roberts, Sanford, brothers of the bride.

MRS. JOHN HARPER MILLER JR.
and William Mathaffey Jr., Longwood.

Flower girl, Miss Jeté Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Moore, Sanford, scattered rose petals along the bride's path from a white basket. She wore a white dress with a white ribbon.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. E. P. Miller, Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Drew, New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Barbara Alvarez, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. James J. C. Davis and Mrs. L. E. White, Sanford, Fla. as bridesmaids.

As members arrived they were served cake and punch. Twenty-three were present.

Mrs. T. J. Taylor, class president, presided over the business session.

Mrs. D. M. Paul read an article "become Rich" from the book, "More about the art of Christian Living," by Wilfred Peterson.

Mrs. Taylor read an article "New Year" from the Florida Club Woman.

Mrs. R. F. Cole thanked the group for the lovely potted plant sent her at Christmas.

Mrs. L. L. Sullivan, Mrs. J. C. Davis and Mrs. J. E. Currier made donations to the birth-day fund.

Rev. Julius Byers came in during the business hour.

Jane Armstrong, Gary L. Davidson To Marry

MISS JANE VIRGINIA ARMSTRONG

Lede. (USS, Ret.) and Mrs. William L. Armstrong Jr., 901 Scott Ave., Sanford, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Virginia Armstrong, to Gary L. Davidson, son of Mrs. Odessa Davidson, 1511 Melonville Ave., Sanford, and the late Hubert J. Davidson.

The bride-elect is the paternal granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Armstrong Sr., Norfolk, Va.

Born in Portsmouth, Va., Miss Armstrong is a graduate of Forrest Sherman High School, Naples, Italy. She attended college in Naples and she also attended University of Maryland, and Old Dominion College, William and Mary, Norfolk. She is presently employed as legal secretary with the county prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Davidson, who was born in Charleston, W. Va., is a graduate of Seminole High School and Connors State College, Warner, Okla. He is presently associated with Flamingo Homes of America out of Atlanta, Ga.

The wedding will be an event of Feb. 18, at 7 p. m., at Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Junior, Senior Woman's Club Slate Luncheon, Fashion Show And Exhibit

The Senior and Junior Women's Clubs will combine on Jan. 30, at noon in the clubhouse for a covered dish luncheon, followed by a fashion show and exhibit of arts and crafts made by the members.

These enterprising women are putting joint efforts into finding blue-ribbon contestants to represent Sanford in area and state competitions.

Mrs. Kenneth Copeland, Fine Arts Department chairman for the Senior Club, explained that one winner in the fashion made by the models themselves and six winners in the handmade articles will be chosen for entry into the District Seven of The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs' contest. Following this, top entries will go to the State convention in April.

All members are urged, not only to attend the social and cultural event, but to enter some of their hand work into the contest. There are 22 categories including a miscellaneous, so any form of original work from ceramics through photography will be welcomed.

The articles may be brought to the clubhouse between 10 a. m. and noon on the day of the luncheon, fashion show, Sanford winners will surely provide some keen competition in the District and State events.

Mary Wagner Is Engaged

By LIZA BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin, 571 East Fifth Street, Chuluota, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary (Jackie) Wagner, to Frank Monaco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monaco of Newburgh, N.Y.

Jackie is a former student at Oviedo High School, her favorite hobby is working with ceramics. She left Chuluota last May to visit her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward, 4 Poughkeepsie, N.Y., where she met her future husband, who was employed by the New York 7 Up Company as a route salesman.

With the holidays nearing, Frank transferred to Orlando with the Pepsi and 7 Up Company so they could both join in the festivities with Jackie's family.

Their marriage vows will be repeated later this month with immediate plans to complete.

Greyhounds Top Hornets For First Metro Victory

By HERRY CUSH Herald Sports Writer

The ice has been broken. Where was the ice? It was at the Lyman High Gym last night when the Lyman Greyhound basketball team won its first Metro Conference game, defeating the Bishop Moore Hornets, 66-57.

It was not an easy chore and there were times as late as the final five minutes when it appeared the Hornets might not shake the jinx of the Metro Conference.

The fickle pendulum was swinging back and forth making it difficult to predict the outcome of the first two quarters. All of the Hornet scoring in the second period was done by the "stuck troops" inserted by the Hornets.

Third period action was really heated with the score changing hands no less than eight times. The biggest lead was only four points and that came in the first few seconds of the quarter. Bishop Moore took the lead for the first time in 25-34 with 6:04 left in the period. Later the Hornets had a 44-41 lead, their largest of the game. Six straight points by the Hornets put them on top by 48-45 with nine seconds to play.

Here a jump ball at Bishop Moore's end of the court found Chip Harkins getting a hoop and being fouled. He converted to tie the score with five seconds to play. Nelson untied the score when he sank a long bomb inside half court just

Seabreeze Upsets Seminole Quint

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Editor

DAYTONA BEACH — The Fighting Seminoles scored 73 points last night. Generally speaking, this is a fine performance for a high school basketball team. Unfortunately, while the Seminoles were scoring the 73 points, they gave up 82. Seabreeze chalked up the 82-73 win to even their record at 6-6, while the Seminoles fell to 10-4 on the season.

The game was a see-saw battle in the opening half with nine lead changes in the first quarter. Sanford owned a slim 11-10 lead at the end of the first quarter, but lost the lead early in the second frame and went into the dressing room trailing by four, 39-35.

The Seminoles trailed by as much as seven midway through the third period, but two points by Ricky Smith pulled them to within one point, 53-51, with 1:16 left in the third quarter. But in just a little over a minute the Seminoles scored eight straight points and took a 61-51 lead into the final period.

The Seminoles could never get anything going in the final stanza. The closest they got to the Seabreezes was six points, but the home squad quickly widened the margin.

Clifford Martin scored 20 points for the Seminoles, but had a poor night. All night long he missed the easy under the basket shots that he has been making so well recently. He also had an off night defensively, as the men he was covering, Mark Johnson, scored 23 points. Ricky Grant was second in the scoring column for the Seminoles with 15 points, followed by Frank Sloan with 12 and Pat Crimmins with 10. Sloan fouled out in the final period, but was able to reach double-figures before doing so.

While offensively it was one of their best games of the year, defensively it was the worst.

Going into the game the Tribe was averaging 68 points on offense, but giving up only 61 points per game. The game up 21 points more than their average to Seabreeze.

Friday night in the Seminoles' home gymnasium in what could be their toughest outing of the season, thus far. Earlier this season, Gainesville met Seabreeze and beat the Daytona Beach squad by 11 points, 74-63.

On Saturday the Seminoles take to the road for a tilt with Baitelle Beach. Action gets underway at 8 p. m. for both week-end games, with junior varsity tipoffs at 6:30 p. m.

Young Warriors Victorious

DAYTONA BEACH — The Baby Seminoles of Seminole High rolled to their seventh win in nine outings last night as they knocked off the tough Daytona Beach Sandcrabs 62-52 with a strong fourth period effort. It was only Seabreeze's second loss this season against seven wins.

Seabreeze led 15-8 at the end of the first period as it appeared they might run away with the contest early. Midway through the second period the Tribe was down by nine, 26-17. At this point one of the referees called a technical foul on coach Darwin Boothe. Evidently this sparked his team as they scored 10 straight points during the next four minutes to take the lead 27-26. Seabreeze got the last bucket of the half and owned a slim 25-27 lead as they went into the dressing rooms.

Fighting neck and neck, the two teams were knotted 29-29 at the end of the third period. But then the Baby Seminoles broke it open as they outscored the Sandcrabs 23-13 in the final period. The game was actually close until the final minute when the Seminoles were able to widen the margin considerably due to intentional fouls by Seabreeze players in an attempt to get the ball.

John Zeall led the Seminoles as he hit for 17 points, two off his season average. Two other players were in double-figures as Jim Steffen had 13 and Vernon Johnson 11. Most of Steffen's points came in the crucial second half. Dave Russi came off the bench to score nine points.

DAVID TOSSIE (15) continues as the county's leading scorer. Tossie's 20 points per game average paces Oviedo. The Lions fell last night 63-56 to the Haines City Hornets. Steve Nelson (22) paces the Lyman Greyhounds which won their first Metro Conference game contest in two years last night 66-57 over the Bishop Moore Hornets. But Go Down Fighting Lions Fall To Haines City

By LARRY NEELY Herald Sports Writer

Haines City may have had the Oviedo Lions their fourth game loss of the season last night but the Hornets knew they had been in a battle. The Lions took an early slim lead over the Haines City squad and held on to an 18-15 margin at the end of the first period.

James Howard pumped in four from the field and one of two from the charity stripe to pace the final quarter scoring of the Hornets from the outside. In turn the Lions also got heavy scoring from Rick Holloway who netted four field goals to pace the Lion scoring. Haines City added only one point to their lead in the final frame for the 63-56 final.

The game was a clean one and consequently a fast moving

one. The Lions recorded only two first half fouls and eight in the entire game while the Haines City quint were tagged with personal fouls four times in the first half and 10 times in the entire contest.

It was the most mistake free contest the Lions have played all season. Oviedo had only five turnovers in the entire game. Haines City recorded 14 field goals, the main difference was in the percentage of field goals made. Oviedo hit 26 of 72 shots from the floor for 36 percent while Haines City hit 38 of 52 shots for 73 percent.

The Oviedo high scoring Hornets went 12 points for the Lions for a 45-39 lead going into the final period of play.

Bowling 'em Over

By HERKY CUSH

Late Toyota

For the first time in over two months the Celicas do not stand alone at the top of the standings. After last week's action the Sedans moved into a tie for first place with the Celicas. Charlie Miller had a great deal to do with the change in the standings and he is not a member of either the Sedans or Celicas. Charlie bowls for the Hubcaps and it was his 311 and his wife Pat's 311 that helped the Hubcaps sweep the Celicas.

Dot Lee, the efficient secretary of the Late Toyota league proved her worth as a bowler also as she unloaded a boomang 223/516 and led the Sedan sweep of the Thinker Toys. Eddie Adams also helped the Sedan effort with his 201. John Bryant had a 199, 202/548 for the Thinker Toys in a losing effort.

Mising a chance to climb in the standings were the B's & J who lost three games to the B-Sers. Ed Mallon 202/538 and Chuck Baker 201 led the B-Sers. High for B's & J were Johnny 200 195, 204/526 and Bob Harbour 191.

The Heavy Boeps took a big jump up the ladder with four wins over the Bib Wheels behind the efforts of Kathy Arthur 196, 191, Les Bush 170, and Leon Arthur 189.

Marvin Wright 181, 202/530 led the Top PCW's to three wins over the Flat Tires. High for the Tires was Jack Rogers 190. Other high games in the league last week were turned in by Mm Burtische 175, Mm Fricker 180, Wiley Burrow 186, Richard More 176, 198/546, Erma Thomp 171, Jean Funkman 170, Marje Augusto 169, 178/534 and Robert Jones 169, 185.

Shooting Stars

State Farm and Bronson's Egg Farm continue to run neck and neck in the Shooting Stars league although neither was tearing up the lanes last week. State Farm held onto its slim half game lead despite splitting its match with Bowlers Pro Shop last week. June Gassman 335 and Elvise Isom 352 led State Farm.

Edna McCrory 349, Rose Patrick 370, 357 and Polly Snyder 370 led Bronson in their split with Carroll's Furniture. Nancy Rivers 370, 355 and Audrey Bolter 380 paced Carroll's.

Other high efforts last week came from Carolis Mare 363, Pearl Homman 366, Peg Minor 377, Bonnie Link 368, 357 and Wanda Hubbard 355.

Seminole Printers

Paul Varner fired a streak 368, 377, 377/122 to pace the Typewriters to four big wins last week and a four game edge over the second place Posters. Also aiding the leaders last week was a 357 by Frankie Kaiser.

The Posters won three games last week behind the effort of Eddie Rhybolt 352, 351, 351/444. High single game last week came from Rose Messersmith who fired a 359 in her third game of the night. She also had a 356 and finishes with a 478 series.

Other high games last week came from Lila Graham 359, Lila Herich 353, Jewel Kaufman 357, Lynette McWater 353, 354, 353/1047 and Shirley Barbour 351.

DAV Bentams

Moving into a two game lead is the Disabled American Veterans Bentam League were the Chicago Teddy Bears. Pacing the Teddy Bears with their efforts last week were Jim Walker who fired a 332/540, Tracey Towers 328/332 and Arvon Kaufman with a 339/383. The Teddy Bears own a 46-34 record compared to the 44-36 chart of the second place Kelly's Heroes.

For Kelly's Heroes last week it was Darrell Tate 335/335 and Jerry Kaiser 338/337 leading the way. Moving into contention and within seven games of the top are the Hot Shots. Mike Clark 327 and Norman Patten 325 sparked the play of the Hot Shots last week. The efforts of Matt was the high single and high series in the league last week.

Other high series last week came from Mike Link 343/328, Jimmy Miller 337/331, Al Mallon 312/290, Richard Lewis 315/315, Jack Spokalski 322/322 and Beth Burkhardt 316/302. Top single game efforts came from Larry Jones 325, Mike Towers 332 and Susan Lewis 316.

Seminole Memorial

Glenna Trutched fired a 174 and was backed by Emily Griffith 361/462 and Bill Griffith 362 as the first place Sutters won four games from the Outcasters. The four win kept the Sutters lead at eight full games over the Pa Pals.

The Pin Pals won four games from the Night Owls to keep within eight games. Buddy Lumpkin 146 and Bob Crowe 139 sparked the Hot Owls to four wins over the Early Birds. The efforts of Phyllis Howell 172 and Camie Meyers 384 led the Panhandlers to three wins over the Tallenders.

Other top games in the league came from Lee Franks 155, Jack DiMartino 162 and Pat Spino 150.

The Goodyear Blimp 'America' Prepares For Super Bowl Ride

HOUSTON (AP) — When the Dallas Cowboys meet the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl VI Sunday, Lee M. Cermak will be serenely above it all in his super seat, the Goodyear blimp America. The blimp is being piloted by the golden throne of the announcer's booth says, "Now for a great view of things, let's go up to the blimp." Take it away, Lee Cermak, and Orange bowls as well as four-score of lesser college and pro football games.

Millions of television viewers at home know about the blimp. It's the airborne TV camera platform that gives them those overhead shots of the field when the golden throne of the announcer's booth says, "Now for a great view of things, let's go up to the blimp."

But she can only cruise at 35 miles per hour with a top speed of 50 m.p.h. Getting there is not always half the fun.

Also, a blimp just can't land at your friendly neighborhood airport. She needs a tall mast to hook onto, or she'll go skittering across the fields with a bit of wind.

On the day of the Super Bowl, if the ceiling doesn't drop below a thousand feet and if there aren't any high winds, off the America will go with Cermak, a network cameraman and his crew of technicians.

And now they are at the mercy of the television director. "The director wants you to remain tight and a certain place and that isn't always easy if you have light and variable wind conditions," Cermak said.

Mt. Dora Bible Kills Sanford Naval Streak

Sanford Naval Academy's five game winning streak came to an end last night as expected when the Mt. Dora Bible team defeated the Seafarers 44-34 in a game that was a close battle for the first two periods. Mt. Dora, sparked by 6-4 senior Rusty McCain, took a 13-10 first period lead and increased it to 28-18 at the halftime intermission.

Third period scoring told the tale as the Bulldogs outscored the Middles 19-6 and took a comfortable 47-24 lead the final eight minutes of play.

The Middles made somewhat of a comeback in the final period despite losing Frank Left and Bob Garcia via the foul route. Led by Dave Left and Fred Crismond the Middles scored more points in the fourth period than they had in the three previous quarters. Nevertheless they were still 19 points shy when the final horn sounded.

McCain was just too much for the smaller Middles to cope with under the boards. The Bulldogs aze drilled in 14 shots from the floor and fou. of six from the charity line to walk away with high point honors. Pacing the Middles were Dave Left with 14 and Crismond with 12. The 14 by Dave Left was his best scoring effort of the season. The Middles fell to 1-2 in the Hills and Lakes Conference and 5-2 overall. Mt. Dora is 4-0 in the conference and 8-4 on the year.

Next action for the Middles comes Friday when they host Howey Academy in a conference game.

In the Junior Varsity game the Middles were 73-46 losers to Mt. Dora JV's.

Bucks Protesting Game After Loss To Phoenix

By The Associated Press The Milwaukee Bucks, who demonstrated their power by ending Los Angeles' record 33 game winning streak Sunday night, protested Tuesday's game that was decided when the Suns' Dick Van Arsdale sank two free throws after time had expired.

Van Arsdale was fouled by Ocar Robertson with three seconds apparently remaining. But the clock ran out in the confusion as officials Jerry Loeber and Paul Mihalic were signaling the foul.

Van Arsdale went to the foul line with no time showing on the clock—and hit the game-winning shot.

The Bucks' protest was an NBA rule which says, "whenever the game clock expires zero, and although the horn has not sounded, time has expired."

Meanwhile, Los Angeles started a new winning streak, beating Detroit 123-101. Cincinnati ended a 14-game losing streak, edging Buffalo 109-107 in overtime; Chicago trounced New York 116-91; Seattle won Golden State 141-128; Portland downed Baltimore 116-106, and Walden Houston took Cleveland 101-92.

Lost in the confusion of the controversial ending in the Phoenix-Milwaukee game was a career high 42 points by the Suns' Neal Walk and the fact that the Bucks' Kareem Jabbar fouled out for the first time this season.

Los Angeles, in resuming its winning ways, set a Cobo Arena record with 13 consecutive points in the third quarter to overcome Detroit despite 42 points by the Pistons' Bob Lanier. The Lakers' Will Chamberlain, the league's all-time leading scorer, collected his 12,000th career field goal and finished with 29 points.

Nate Archibald's 29 points, 21 after intermission, and Tom Van Arsdale's 21, helped Cincinnati nip Buffalo for its first victory since Dec. 11. Bob

Breather Seen For Raiders

The Seminoles Junior College Raiders plan to hold a practice session tonight in Pensacola, Fla. as they prepare to meet Lake City this Saturday night. It's down as a regular season game, but the Raiders aren't looking for too much trouble from Lake-Summer Junior College tonight as they meet at 8 p.m.

The two teams met earlier in the season when the Raiders downed them 118-85, putting 10 of 12 men in the scoring column. Ironically, the two that didn't score are no longer on the team, for various reasons.

Bob Hurst was the top man in that game as he scored 27 points, while Willie Paulk, who is currently the team's leading scorer at 23 points per game, was next with a 22 point performance. Three other Raiders were in double figures as they had no trouble at all with the Lake-Summer squad.

Rufus Couper did most of the scoring for the Raiders as he hit for 22 points. The other man in double-figures was Joe Roberts and he came off the bench to score a dozen points.

While you have to take each game as they come, Raider coach Joe Sterling will certainly be thinking ahead to Saturday night's renewal of a five-year rivalry. Only one team has the Raiders beaten Lake City on the Timbershovelers home court. The Raiders have never lost to them here. They'll have to put out a 100 per cent effort to keep that record intact Saturday night.

Sanford Naval Academy's five game winning streak came to an end last night as expected when the Mt. Dora Bible team defeated the Seafarers 44-34 in a game that was a close battle for the first two periods. Mt. Dora, sparked by 6-4 senior Rusty McCain, took a 13-10 first period lead and increased it to 28-18 at the halftime intermission.

Penn's Ivy Win Streak Ended By Princeton '5'

By ALEX SACHARE Associated Press Sports Writer When Chuck Daly took over as head basketball coach at Pennsylvania during the off season, he inherited nine letter-men from a team which had been third-ranked nationally after compiling a 28-1 record and its second straight 149 Ivy League mark in 1970-71.

What he didn't inherit was the two starting guards from that team, Steve Bilsky and Dave Wolf, both of whom graduated.

He could have used them Tuesday night. Princeton, which guard Brain Taylor showing the way on offense and reserve backcourtman Reggie Bird providing the defensive spark, broke Penn's 30-game Ivy League winning streak with a 69-56 upset of the sixth-ranked Quakers at Princeton's cavernous Jadwin Gym.

Princeton, which is undefeated in now 3-0 in Ivy play and 10-2 overall, Penn is 3-1 against league foes and 9-2 in all.

Bird, a 6-foot-1, senior who got to 147 because regular starter Guard Tom Manakus had the flu, scored 15 points and stole the ball four times in the first half, twice getting unceremonious Sophomore forward John Berger came off the bench to chip in another 15 points. Taylor, the Tigers' high scorer for the season, paced Princeton with 17.

"The key to the game was putting pressure on the ball with everything we had," declared Princeton Coach Pete Carril.

Which is where the departed Penn guards, Bilsky and Wolf, come in.

With those two quick guards in the lineup, opponents knew it would be futile to press the Quakers. But with a 6-7 Corky Calhoun, 6-6 Alan Colier and sophomore Whitey Vargas manning the back line, it's a different story.

Second-ranked Marquette, coming off its bruising one-point victory over South Carolina Sunday, traveled to Nevada and overpowered Nevada, 82-55.

Bob Lackey scored 23 points, Jim Jones netted 19 and Larry McNeill added 18 as Marquette routed its record to 11-0, while Charles Bush led Nevada, 2-11, the ball four times in the first half with 18 points.

Refus Couper did most of the scoring for the Raiders as he hit for 22 points. The other man in double-figures was Joe Roberts and he came off the bench to score a dozen points.

While you have to take each game as they come, Raider coach Joe Sterling will certainly be thinking ahead to Saturday night's renewal of a five-year rivalry. MEMPHIS AVOIDS CELLAR, RALLIES TO BEAT DALLAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Dallas Chaparrals were within a minute of salvation from last place in the West Division of the American Basketball Association last night as George Lahmann got away from them. Lahmann hit four points in the last minute as the Memphis Pros edged the Chaps 88-86 Tuesday night.

The Chaps needed a victory to drop the Pros into last place and had the lead for most of the game. Memphis staged a comeback, tied the game with 3:17 remaining and Lahmann hit a 15-foot jump shot and a layup for the Pros' final points and the victory.

In the other ABA games, New York defeated Utah 119-104 and Indiana topped Denver 114-99. The Memphis player, Dallas was watching was center Randy Denton who scored 16 points in the final quarter and whose foul shot tied the game at 84-84. Denton led the Pros' George Lahmann and Mel Daniels. Randy Simpson paced the Rockets' attack with 26 points.

Lahmann finished with 14. Rich Jones added the Chaps' last two points with 19 seconds remaining but Steve Jones missed a three-point attempt at the buzzer. Donnie Freeman led the Dallas' scoring with 19 points.

Lahmann came back from 10 points down at the half to score the New York Nets before Rick Barry and company pulled out a victory in the last four minutes. Barry scored 14 points in the final quarter and 33 for the game for New York.

Bill Melchioni had 24 points for the Nets and John Roche had 18. Zelmo Beaty led the Stars with 23 points. Jimmy Jones led 19 and Willie Wise 18.

Indiana scored 71 points in the second half as it rallied over Denver. Roger Brown scored 27 points and was joined in double figures by teammates Bob Netolicky with 18, George McGinnis 22, Freddie Lewis 19, Denton led the Pros' George Lahmann and Mel Daniels. Randy Simpson paced the Rockets' attack with 26 points.

Wilson Claims Credit For Dolphins

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Don Shula, alias Joe Dokes, isn't going to lose any sleep over the fact that he has lost his pro football season diminished by former Dolphin Coach George Wilson.

"I'm proud of our accomplishments over the past two years," said Shula. "And I'm very unhappy to hear these things coming from George. But, he's entitled to his opinion."

Wilson, commenting to the Miami News, claimed that Shula had little to do with the Dolphin rise to the Super Bowl. "It was a ready-made team," said George, "that any Joe Dokes could have coached."

Miami has a 12-3-1 mark this season and Sunday plays the Dallas Cowboys in the Super Bowl.

Wilson also claimed in the Tuesday story that Shula could have advised him he might come to Miami because "he knew it 21 days before" the public announcement.

"I didn't know for sure I was going to Miami until the day it was announced to the press," Shula said, although admitting he was contacted 23 days before.

The reason I did not contact George was I was asked to keep the negotiations confidential. Robbie appeared more disturbed at Wilson's comments than did Shula.

"George Wilson had basically the same talent two years ago," he said, "and he had a 3-1 record." And, by the way, the first thing Don Shula wanted to know when we contacted him was if George was going to be fired if he (Shula) took the job or not. I told him he was. Actually, only 15 players on Miami's current 46-man roster were around when Wilson got here.

Wilson said, "I'm not in a position to lose a lot of money... boxing's a risky business, and I'm not in a position to gamble that big."

Dundas said he planned to rest for a while. "I've got a lot of thinking to do."

He speculated about "putting on boxing shows in hotels like they do in England," and said he had received letters from San Diego, Calif., Atlanta and Charlotte, N. C. to promote fights there.

Dundas's brother, Angelo Dundee is one of boxing's most active managers and Muhammad Ali's trainer.

"I'm not divorcing myself from boxing," said Chris Dundee. "It's been my life."

Dundee To 'Retire'

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Chris Dundee has ended 22 years of promoting boxing contests on Miami Beach and today was a man without a home.

The veteran promoter Tuesday refused to bid for an exclusive five-year boxing and wrestling promotion contract with the City of Miami Beach.

Dundas said he refused to pay the city a $30,000 performance bond recently added to specifications in the drawn out contest with Allied Sports Enterprises.

"I think it is too strong a demand for a man who knows the boxing business," said Dundee who has held the contract since 1950. "I've never had the pressure put on me like this before. And it's too much pressure."

Kaufmann tallied 25 points for the second apparently remaining. Buffalo and rookie Elmore Smith set a club record with 25 rebounds.

Bob Weiss' nine straight points in the third period and 24 over-all helped Chicago beat New York for the third straight time. It was the Knicks' fourth consecutive loss.

Spencer Haywood's 33 points and Lenny Wilkens' 24 helped Seattle register its fourth straight victory and overcome the 42-point effort by Houston's Elvin Hayes.

Golden State, behind Carzie Russell and Jeff Mullins, who scored 31 points each, increased its winning streak to seven games—one short of its all-time record.

Geoff Petrie and Gary Gregor divided 50 points in Portland as the Blazers edged Baltimore 116-106, and Walden Houston took Cleveland 101-92.

Lost in the confusion of the controversial ending in the Phoenix-Milwaukee game was a career high 42 points by the Suns' Neal Walk and the fact that the Bucks' Kareem Jabbar fouled out for the first time this season.

Los Angeles, in resuming its winning ways, set a Cobo Arena record with 13 consecutive points in the third quarter to overcome Detroit despite 42 points by the Pistons' Bob Lanier. The Lakers' Will Chamberlain, the league's all-time leading scorer, collected his 12,000th career field goal and finished with 29 points.

Nate Archibald's 29 points, 21 after intermission, and Tom Van Arsdale's 21, helped Cincinnati nip Buffalo for its first victory since Dec. 11. Bob

Logical Cooking Approach

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — There are at least 2,500 cookbooks published each year. Some are useful. Others are merely gimmicky. One of the largest in number of pages was considered a true primer for the beginning cook. It also has an author whose background is most unusual, even in the world of recipe writers. The book is "Cooking with Understanding," 864 pages with 750 illustrations. It includes few recipes but a lot of basic why's and wherefores of cooking. By Herbert L. Nichols Jr. His first bestseller was "Moving the Earth, the Workbook of Excavation." Both are by his publishing house because no one else wanted to invest in them.

A 1929 graduate of Columbia College, this native New Yorker at 63 speaks quietly of his use of an engineer's approach to the kitchen. To him it is logical and not unusual for a man who kept his head above ground during the Depression by moving top soil and operating all sizes of earth-moving equipment since the '30s to tackle pots and pans with no knowledge or guidance and write a lengthy volume for other mortals.

It all began, he explained recently, when his wife was ordered to bed after a bout with walking pneumonia. There were three children to feed and Nichols found housekeeper-cooks scarce and expensive. So he took over.

"I thought I could open any cookbook, as they say, and be O.K. This wasn't true. Cookbooks used words I didn't know, such as 'saute,' and didn't tell me the basic way to handle foods, such as how to crack an egg, how to whip and to fold."

He also was confused and bothered when he encountered three recipes with the same name done in different ways.

With the first days of frustration behind him, Nichols decided to apply engineering principles to cooking. For example, it was scientific to assume that if the heat was too high then he would cook the outside of a confection too fast. He also discovered that the angle of a spoon for scraping and stirring related to the vortex of the spoon bowl, etc. For five weeks this Connecticut-based former earthmover kept a daily card file of everything he did in the kitchen. To this initial experience he added research in food chemistry and cooking equipment.

Although he is especially proud of the book which soon will come out with a silver cover for a bridal gift, he boasts that he never used a TV dinner to feed his family and he never burned anything.

In talking with Nichols one would never suspect that he is almost-minded but he claims he is. To avoid disaster when following a recipe he said he would take out all ingredients, place them on one side and move each one to another place when used. Another experiment with dishwashing led to the most effective method but he got in the way of its use. Few persons like to wash dishes and he is no exception. "I found that keeping dishes and pots wet helped do a better cleaning job. The most effective method, though, was to let dishes accumulate for a week. But the kitchen looked messy and I couldn't stand for neighbors to see my kitchen that way."

He also believes the best way to freeze foods for future use is to cook up a batch of a recipe for a meal and freeze the surplus rather than cooking specifically for freezing. It is better and takes no extra work, he said. He also prefers to leave seasoning with salt and pepper for the time of serving.

Following his necessary research in the kitchen and the author's heart to walk through the room for months. However, he's back at work using either of his ranges — one's electric, the other gas and his electronic oven. He makes miniature each week for his mother who is in a nursing home.

Apple Bubble Loaf

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Looking for something different to serve for family breakfast? Here is a special Apple Bubble Loaf that will disappear as quickly as those around the table discover it.

APPLE BUBBLE LOAF

1 package dry granular yeast
1/4 cup warm apple juice or warm water
1/4 cup scalded milk
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Grated rind 1 small lemon
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups flour (about)

FILLING

2 cups canned apple sauce
1/4 cup chopped raisins
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Sliced oil or melted butter
Dissolve yeast in warm juice or water. Mix milk, sugar salt and lemon rind, cool to room temperature. Combine yeast with milk mixture. Beat in egg, butter or margarine and about 1/4 cups flour. Beat until very smooth. Add remaining flour and continue to mix until dough pulls from sides of bowl. Turn out on floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Roll dough into a ball, place in well-greased bowl and turn over several times to grease on all sides. Cover and place in a warm place. Let rise about 50 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Shape dough between the hands to form two rolls, then cut each roll into 12 pieces; shape pieces into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Mix apple sauce with raisins, sugar and cinnamon to make a thick filling. Dip or roll balls of dough in salad oil or melted butter just enough to moisten. Make a layer of 12 balls in a greased loaf pan, 10x3x3 inches; spread with about half the apple sauce filling. Use remaining dough balls and apple sauce filling to make a third and fourth layer. Let rise in warm place about 40 minutes. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes. When done, let stand in pan about 5 minutes, loosen sides and turn out on rack to cool. To serve: Just warm, use a fork to pull off 2 or 3 sections per serving. The loaf slices nicely when cold.

A meal on a stick for weekend lunches at home is a change of pace from cheese or tuna sandwiches. These are frankfurters dipped in a cornmeal batter, skewered with cooking fork or wooden skewer to cook. Touches of instant minced onion, dry mustard and garlic powder add a mild zip to the crust. Serve with ketchup, brownies and milk.

SPICY CORN DOGS

2/3 cup enriched cornmeal
1/3 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2-pound package wieners
Chili sauce

Combine cornmeal, flour, salt, garlic powder, mustard and onion. Add egg, oil and milk. Coat each wiener with flour and insert onto tines of cooking fork or wooden skewer. Dip into cornmeal mixture, coating all sides. Fry a few at a time in hot, deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown. Serve hot with chili sauce. Makes 8 to 10.

BAKED CUSTARD

4 eggs
1/3-cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 quart milk, scalded
1 teaspoon vanilla
In a large mixing bowl beat eggs slightly; add sugar and salt and beat to combine. Gradually and vigorously stir in scalded milk then vanilla. Strain into eight 6-ounce custard cups. Place cups in a shallow roasting pan (about 17 by 11 by 2 inches); pour boiling water (about 1 1/2 quarts) around the cups almost to height of custard. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean—about 20 minutes. Remove cups from water; cool on wire rack. Cover and chill. Serve in cups or loosen edges with a small spatula and turn out. Serve plain or with sliced fresh strawberries, fresh or frozen. Makes 8 servings.

Recipes From Detroit

By THE RASCALS
Copley News Service

DETROIT — It was here that the automobile and the great Sanders chain grew up together. The Sanders Company goes back over 95 years to a date in June of 1875 when the following notice appeared on the front page of the Detroit Free Press: "Mr. F. Sanders, late of Philadelphia, will this morning open a confectionery and ice cream establishment. . . . He is a practical confectioner, has a handsome place, and will devote his entire attention to customers. He will keep a large stock of fine candies and make a specialty of pure confections."

The firm is still adhering to this principle today and in the meantime has added the serving of fine food to its curriculum. Frederick Sanders was born in Germany and, after a lengthy visit to the United States, returned to his homeland to learn the confectionery trade from the finest masters of his day. In 1870 he started a business in Chicago that was swept away by the great Chicago fire. So, in 1872, he moved to Detroit to open his first store at Woodward and State streets.

Two of our favorite Sanders original recipes are given here. Their navy bean soup and their pecon loaf. In both cases we are listing the ingredients only as the procedures for preparation follow standard methods as shown in any cookbook.

NAVY BEAN SOUP
1 1/2 cups softened navy beans
1 tbs. chopped onion
1 cup ham scraps
2 tps. ham base stock
3/4 tbs. finely chopped celery
3/4 tbs. salt
1 tsp. Accent
3 tps. cornstarch
Pepper to taste
1/4 cup roux (see recipe below)

ROUX
(One pound or 3 cups)
3 cups corn oil
2 tps. beef drippings
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. Accent
1/2 cup warm water
The leftover roux may be stored in the refrigerator or freezer for future use.)

CHOCOLATE PECAN LOAF
1/4 cup all purpose flour
4 tps. shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. baking soda
1/4 cup water
1 large egg
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1 tbs. cocoa powder
1 2/3 tps. boiling water
1/2 cup chopped pecans

ICING
1/2 cup simple sugar syrup
2/3 tps. corn syrup
1 tps. chocolate syrup
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. shortening
1 tsp. butter
1 1/2 tps. bitter chocolate liquor

FAMILY SUPPER
Fried Scallops Tartar Sauce
French Fries Cold Slaw
Apple Pie Beverage
TARTAR SAUCE
You can rely on this version for excellent flavor.
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced capers
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
Mix together all the ingredients. Cover lightly and chill. Makes about 1 cup.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER
Baked Ham Cranberry Kumquat Relish
Macaroni and Cheese Salad
Meringue Torte Beverage
CRANBERRY KUMQUAT RELISH
This good accompaniment to the main course may be stored in the refrigerator for weeks.
3 cups fresh cranberries, washed and drained
22 good-size kumquats, quartered and seeded
2 small unpeeled apples, quartered and cored
2 cups sugar
Put the cranberries, kumquats and apples through the coarse blade of a food grinder. Thoroughly stir in the sugar. Refrigerate, covered, for 24 hours before serving. Makes about 3 1/2 cups.

Veal With Orange Stuffing

by ANTHONY COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — In case you've ever wondered what famous people like Dame Agatha Christie and the Archbishop of Canterbury like to eat, they've put their favorite recipes into a new book.

Dame Agatha, 85-year-old author of best-selling whodunit novels, smokes her pipe and has a cat named Pudding.

The Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Michael Ramsey, spiritual head of the Church of England, gives his favorite recipe for Burgundy beef with baby onions, mushrooms and "thyme, parsley and a little celery seed tied in muslin."

Recipes from those and other notables such as Prime Minister Edward Heath, actress Hayley Mills, composer Benjamin Britten, singer Tommy Steele and the top chef at the Savoy are in "The Shelter Cookery Book."

Proceeds from sales of the 168-page paperback book are to go to Shelter, a British charity that tries to help the homeless.

Some of the recipes reflect highly personal tastes. Acme Eric Porter recommends eggs cooked with Gruyere cheese, and quips: "I love eggs in any form, except possibly thrown at me during a performance."

Johnny Morris, an entertainer and broadcaster known in Britain for his whimsy, recommends boeuf with a type of seaweed known as laver. "A meal for meditation," Morris says. "Eat in complete silence. You should have some essential thought material in your head when you are about half-way through."

Silvino Trompette, maitre chef des cuisines of the Savoy restaurant, offers a fancy dish known as l'omnes au crabe a l'anglaise—a chilled mixture of crab, pineapple, chives, pepper, paprika and anchovies.

Film director John Schlesinger, famed for his "Midnight Cowboy" and "Sunday Bloody Sunday," loves something called taramasalata from Greece. It's a mixture of white bread, cod's roe, onion, garlic, olive oil and lemon juice.

"I first discovered taramasalata when I went to Greece to make a documentary ... and my interpreter gave me the recipe," Schlesinger says.

Hayley Mills drops grunge bombs on her favorite recipe, Benjamin Britten's water resistant over dark treacle jelly, and Tommy Steele sings the praises of bread and butter pudding the way his mother makes it with raisins, vanilla extract, and lemon and orange rinds.

The Very Rev. Dr. Immanuel Jacobovitz, Britain's Chief Rabbi, recommends the Jewish dish of apple strudel. Violant "Coco" Menthis is fond of a Swiss treat called Birchermuesli, a concoction of oatflakes, bananas, yogurt, almonds and berries.

When not running the British government, yachting or playing the organ, Edward Heath likes to sit down and dig into veal and orange stuffing. The bachelor Prime Minister gives this recipe, to serve 4 to 5 persons:

VEAL WITH ORANGE STUFFING

1 1/2 pound veal steak prepared mustard flour salt and pepper fat for frying

For the stuffing:
4 tablespoons soft bread crumbs
1/4 level tablespoon herbs grated rind of an orange
1/4 beaten egg salt and pepper

Divide the veal into 8 or 10 even-sized oblong pieces. Mince any trimmings and add to stuffing. Lightly spread veal with made mustard and with stuffing. Roll up and fix with the string or wooden sticks.

Dip the rolls in seasoned flour and brown a little in hot fat. Place in casserole and add stock. Cook slowly in center of warm oven 300-225 degrees F. Mark 3.5 for about 45-60 minutes. Serve with rice and chopped peppers.

Dining Is An Art At LePavillon

by TOM BOGE, Associated Press Writer

Joan Crawford insists on freshly-grated horseradish with her meals, and Harry S. Truman has a weakness for chocolate ice cream.

Those are among the small but vital details that must be kept in mind when running a restaurant, such as New York's Le Pavillon.

Suare Levin, an elegantly turned out man of 41 with a seemingly endless supply of energy and charm, has spent nearly four years at the helm of this eating establishment.

Levin runs his "store," as he likes to call the restaurant, on the theory that eating is an art that is visual as well as gustatory. To savor the delicacies of the house, to see and to be seen in attractive surroundings—that is Levin's law for dining.

The idea must be good, since Levin says he has more than doubled Le Pavillon's volume in the past couple of years, which is not bad in times when other famous restaurants are closing.

A member of a restaurant family, Levin served in the quartermaster corps during the Korean War and ran an officers' club in Japan. After he returned to the United States in 1951, he went to work for his father, but set out on his own in 1956. He was part of the team that built up New York's famous Forum of the Twelve Caesars and the post Four Seasons.

Intrigued by the catering end, Levin joined Louis Sherry Co. in 1966, and masterminded such events as a luncheon for Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir and a party for the King and Queen of Thailand.

By 1968 Levin had taken a close look at Le Pavillon and fell in love with its stately beauty. In March of that year he became the owner. In June of 1971 at the suggestion of his wife, Carolyn, Levin redecorated the restaurant which leaned to the conservative side. Today it is known for its light, airy touch, set off by fresh flowers supplied daily.

One of the house specialties is lamb, young, tender and done to the right turn. But Levin insists even the finest lamb needs the proper sauce to make it successful. Here is his recipe for Mornay to go with Roast Lamb Petalite.

MORNAY SAUCE
 1/2 pound butter
 1/2 cup flour
 3 1/2 cups milk
 1/2 cup heavy cream
 1 teaspoon salt
 1-1/2 tsp. teaspoon ground white pepper
 1 egg yolk
 1/2 cup medium cream
 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Melt butter in 1 quart saucepan. Remove from heat, stir in flour, and cook over medium heat 1 minute, remove from heat, add milk.
 Stir over medium heat and bring to boil. Add 1/2 cup cream and seasonings. Cook 30 seconds.
 Blend egg yolk with medium cream, add to hot cream sauce. Add grated cheese and cook till cheese has melted. Do not boil. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

ALICE L. PEDERSEN'S MARZIPAN COOKIES
 Easy to make and the best of its kind.
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 1 can (1/2 pound) almond paste
 3 eggs

On was paper sift together flour, baking soda and salt. In a medium mixing bowl cream butter, sugars and almond paste; beat in egg. Stir in sifted flour mixture. Chill until firm. To shape cookies: each time dip tablespoon into cold water, fill with dough and drop. 2 inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheet with numbered holes. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until lightly browned—8 to 10 minutes. With a wide spatula remove to wire rack to cool. Store in a tightly covered tin box. Makes 36.

Apples With Variation
 Somebody, someplace must have done a most effective job of "wassailing" in the apple orchards, Christmas eve a year ago.
 You can reach that conclusion if you believe that old English custom, still popular in some parts of the British Isles.
 According to tradition, it works like this: The farmers parade to a chosen tree in each orchard where an incantation is chanted and a basket of cider is dashed against the trunk of the tree. The ceremony is said to discourage evil spirits that cause fallow of an apple crop. Just a quick glance at U.S. Department of Agriculture reports on the state of the 1971 apple crop is enough to convince anyone that the crop was not influenced by any real or imaginary evil spirits. The harvest was most abundant. In fact, it was so large that USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service has listed apples on its plentiful foods list for January.
 So take advantage of the good supply and serve apples in a variety of ways. Here's a recipe for homemade applesauce you may want to try:
APPLESAUCE
 (6 servings, about 1/2 cup each)
 6 cups apple pieces (cored only or pared and cored)
 1 cup water
 desired
 Cook apples in the water in a covered saucepan for 10 to 15 minutes or until tender. Add additional water, if needed to prevent sticking.
 Mash undrained, cooked, pared apples or put unpared ones through a food mill or sieve. Stir in sugar.
NOTE: Applesauce will vary in texture, juiciness, and tartness with the variety of apple used.
VARIATIONS
HONEY APPLESAUCE—Sweeten the applesauce with honey instead of granulated sugar.
SPICY APPLESAUCE—Cook 2 sticks of cinnamon with apples. Remove cinnamon before mashing or steaming cooked apples.
RAISIN APPLESAUCE—Add 1/2 cup raisins to the hot applesauce.
LEMON APPLESAUCE—Add a little lemon juice to applesauce if needed for tartness. Garnish with lemon slices and sprig of mint.
 Cream cheese first started being used as an ingredient in cake more than a dozen years ago, according to our recollection, when such a cake won a large money prize in a bake-off contest.
 Now an ingenious cook has invented another cream cheese cake that's absolutely delicious. It's baked in a bundt pan that has a pancake of butter, walnuts and sugar so the cake doesn't need frosting. Walnuts also give delectable flavor to the cake itself. When tried in our kitchen, we found this cake stayed beautifully moist.
WALNUT CREAM CHEESE CAKE
 1/2 cups walnuts
 2 tablespoons butter for pancake
 2 tablespoons sugar for pancake
 1 cup butter
 2 packages (each 3 ounces) cream cheese
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 1/2 cups sugar
 4 eggs
 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Chop 1-3/4 cup of the walnuts very fine for pancake and chop remainder medium fine for batter.
 Butter a 2-quart bundt pan heavily; using 2 tablespoons butter. Sprinkle with the 1-3/4 cup very finely chopped walnuts, then with 2 tablespoons sugar.
 Cream 1 cup butter with cream cheese and lemon rind; gradually beat in 1/2 cups sugar. Beat in eggs, 1 at a time, until thoroughly blended—batter may look slightly curdled.
 Beat in flour with baking powder and salt; gradually blend into creamed mixture. Stir in cream in a thin stream; medium fine chopped walnuts. Turn into prepared pan.
 Bake in a preheated 300-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—1 hour and 20 to 30 minutes. Let cake stand in pan placed on a wire rack for 10 minutes, then turn out on wire rack to cool.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been considering your statement, "All that is necessary for a marriage to succeed, is that the two people really need each other." I guess I don't know what you mean by "succeed."

My wife and I need each other. She is my cook, housekeeper, and laundress. She raises the children and makes most of the decisions in the family.

I provide her with a good income and am available for heavy jobs around the house, errands, and occasional child care.

We have no sex life, and I have not for the last 4 years of our 15-year marriage. That is the one decision I protested, but without result. Our anniversary comes and goes without comment. Divorce and remarriage is out of the question because we took the vow to stay together "till death do us part."

Furthermore, one look at our widowed acquaintances who live alone is hardly preferable.

So we plod along, yoked together in this polite, sterile, wretched alliance you call a "marriage."

I would amend your statement to say "All that is necessary for a marriage to endure is that the two people really need each other."

DEAR ENDURING: Your "amendment" is approved and appreciated.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are fairly new in town and we recently had some of our new friends over for a dinner party. I served a dessert that made a big hit with all the guests. One lady asked for the recipe.

I tried to get out of giving it to her, but she kept after me until I agreed to mail it to her.

My problem is that recipe is a specialty of mine that has been in my family for years and I don't want everyone in town making it, yet I don't know how to gracefully get out of giving it to her. Do you think I'm being selfish?

How can I handle this? I can't avoid this woman much longer.

NEW IN TOWN DEAR ABBY: Because you promised her the recipe, give it to her. If you didn't want to share it, you should have told her it was a family secret and you preferred to keep it that way.

Yes, I think you're being selfish. If everybody in town were to enjoy your favorite, it would be in no way to diminish your enjoyment of it. C'mon, share!

DEAR ABBY: I am a young wife. We've been married eight years, and my husband has yet to call me by my first name. He doesn't even call me "honey" or anything like that. He just doesn't call me anything.

If he wants to get my attention, he'll say, "Hey," or "Say, there." Or he'll just start right in talking to me, still not using any kind of name.

I really burn when he calls me "you" or "you there."

the office and says, "Sally, I've got to go. Golly, he's not so fat. He has no name for it."

When he telephones me at home, and isn't sure he has the right number, he asks, "Is this 386-0887? I'd like to talk to you."

At Christmas his card with his present reads, "I'm not much for words, but I love you, honey."

"Honey" won't be called me "honey" in a while if he doesn't want to use my name?

Every year about this time, I threaten to shoot my Dutch oven.

By now I have gone through my "winter's favorites" recipe collection three times and have picked every thing I might like to do for summer and fresh berries and home-grown vegetables. The family perseveres. They bear up under an onslaught of chili.

They eat chicken without complaint. Well, almost without complaint. My youngest son did complain yesterday that he had picked every thing I might like to do for summer and fresh berries and home-grown vegetables. The family perseveres. They bear up under an onslaught of chili.

Of course, I can't get away with just anything. I certainly don't dare put more fruit cake on the table! When faced with more fruit cake, this family divides all the cheer of a group of Russians rounded up by Communist tanks.

I long to see your groaning when I try to doze upon the remains of my famous fruit cake. I make this by buying fruit salad and freezing it. They have listlessly crumbled through the last of the Christmas cookies.

Our Antique Airports Are Not Keeping Face

By FRANK MACOMBER Copy News Service

The nation's big-city airports aren't cutting it today. Air travelers complain about the service and delays.

The politicians complain that government agencies aren't keeping pace with the need for a four-lane airport expansion program.

The agencies complain they aren't getting enough money or money that is too slow to keep up with the mounting demand for more passenger waiting space, more runways and taxiways, more air safety devices, more parking and more baggage claim.

Congress is trying to do something about the lagging airports. House and Senate have approved measures requesting the Federal Aviation Administration to spend a minimum of $200 million each year on airport development.

On the other side of the coin, however, there is a move afoot to slap nighttime curfews on air traffic at many large airports. Rep. Benjamin S. Rosen, D., N.Y., for example.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board and recognized globally as an expert on air commerce, says a curfew on airports is not a compromise with reality. You can't throw out today's airlines until the quieter ones come along.

ARE YOU GOING TO STAY IN THE CITY? I MIGHT! IT WOULD BE HARD FOR ME TO GO BACK TO THE SUBURBS. I'VE GOTTEN TO LIKE THE CITY.

LOL! WHAT'S THE WORST THING YOU'VE EVER HEARD HANDED DOWN? "I DO!"

WHY DO YOU HAVE TO STAY IN THE CITY? IT'S NOT FUN! SO THE ELECTRICITY WON'T GET WRINKLED.

IT'S AN EXCELLENT DISGUISE FOR CATCHING GREEDERS. BUT HOW WOULD YOU EVER CONVINCE THEM...

THAT YOU'RE REALLY A POLICE OFFICER? POLICE VEHICLES ONLY.

The Sanford Herald

 64th Year, No. 104 Price 10 Cents

AROUND THE CLOCK

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Set the scene, folks . . . the English Room at the Robert Meyer motel in Orlando. . . Must be at least 50 new media personnel on hand . . . the gentleman at the mike is opening his remarks by saying how pleased he is to be in Orlando. . . And before you could say, "How about that other area?" Senator Hubert Humphrey continues in the next breath with, "And to all of my friends in Seminole County, and especially the folks in Sanford, I've spent a certain amount of time there and enjoyed it . . . and look forward to always coming back here . . . it's like being a neighbor."

And all of that before the big "network boys," what with their TV cameras grinding away. . . Well, yeah, I'm glad I hopped into the buggy and make the trip down to the suburb of Seminole County . . . Lil Ole Orlando.

Did you ever have those occasions when you looked back and said, "Gee, I wish I would have said this and so?" . . . On greeting the Senator, his immediate reply was, "And how is my friend Jenio doing?" . . . If I had only been on my toes and said, "Jenio who?" (Just kidding, Jenio, just kidding. . .)

First hand I had the opportunity of asking the man, who just might be President of our United States, "Sir, you talk of ending the war. In your any different view from the present occupants of the White House in that they too say they'll end the war . . . BUT have a window which may last for another 25 years of our troops being stationed there?" . . . "No, sir . . . no 25 years. We convince the people and make them believe that we are ending our participation, and get out!" was his reply.

That's really what I like about my job, one which I wouldn't change for all the lure of any other profession. A chance to meet those people who guide your destiny and mine and talk with them . . . asking important questions (at least they are to me), and knowing that he was taking the time to listen and answer me. . . It could be you, just as easily, friends. And you really ought to take the time to meet these people, first hand. Not just depend on the impression which you might get from TV, nor as a matter of fact, be willing to accept the opinion of those like myself.

Whether it be a Humphrey or any one of the many who'll be coming into this area, do yourself a favor and go out to shake their hand.

This Friday, you'll have an equal occasion of meeting him at the Sanford Civic Center at 7 p.m. It's for free . . . and believe me, he wants to sincerely meet you, and hear your thoughts as a "man on the street."

Earlier in the day, the girls will be having coffee with the charming Mrs. Humphrey, from 10:30 to 12 . . . and a press luncheon to follow at 1 p.m.

Physical Exam Ordered

Ellman Hearing Is Delayed

By MARION BETHEA

Arrangements were continued yesterday until Jan. 18 by Circuit Judge Dominick Saffi in the case of Mark Ellman, charged with first degree murder, and David Mullis, charged with rape.

Both were indicted by a county grand jury on Monday, Ellman, 72, who is charged in the Jan. 2 slaying of his 65-year-old wife, Ruth, was barely able to walk to the bench for arraignment. The court noted there was some question as to whether the defendant would be able to assist in his own defense, and postponed the arraignment in order to have the defendant examined. Ellman allegedly shot his wife due to the fact that he is suffering from terminal cancer and was apprehensive as to her fate.

Mullis, charged with the Christmas Eve rape of a friend's fiancée, told the court he had not spoken with his attorney, Gordon Frederick, who was not present for the arraignment.

During the proceedings in court, Mullis appeared disoriented and examined his hand, on which was printed in ink on four of his fingers, "L.O.V.E."

Three defendants apprehended by county vice agents on Dec. 17, and charged on two counts of sale and possession of a hallucinogenic drug, heard trial set for March 4 for James Devlin and Charles Noble and arraignment continued until Jan. 18 for Heron Holdrich, whose attorney, Mack Cleveland Jr., was absent.

The three were charged by the vice agents after arrangements were made for the purchase of an ounce of hallucinogenic with a street value of $12,000. It was allegedly sold to the agents for $3,000 in an open field at Alhambra Springs.

Fleetwood To Employ 200

Modular Home Plant Slated

By BILL SCOTT

Contract will be let within two weeks for construction of a 100,000-square-foot modular home plant on 27 acres of property located off Grapeville Avenue near the Seaboard Coast Line railroad.

This was confirmed today by R. R. (Bob) Campbell, Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc. director of corporate real estate, who held a pre-bid conference this morning at the Greater Chamber of Commerce with several contractors expected to bid for the construction of the Fleetwood Sanford plant.

Campbell said it will require an estimated 100 days to complete the facility, which will employ 200 in the making of modular home units.

Sale of the property from Al Gartinberg to Fleetwood was completed Monday, with the filing of the deed at the county courthouse.

Fleetwood, a California-based firm, reportedly paid $100,000 cash for the property, which is being annexed to the city for water and sewer services.

Campbell said the Sanford operation will be known as "De-Luxe Homes," and stressed, "This is not a mobile home but modular housing that will be produced here."

He said the homes will be of the low-cost type. The number of units to be produced on a daily or weekly basis has not been determined, Campbell added.

Fleetwood Enterprises with corporate headquarters in Riverside, Calif., in its interim report dated Oct. 31, 1971, disclosed the operation of 40 plants in 19 states producing mobile homes, travel trailers, motor homes and modular housing units.

According to the report, Fleetwood has eight more plants under construction, in addition to the Sanford facility.

Some of the Fleetwood brands are Fleetwood, Festival, Broadmore, Barrington and Berkshire Mobile Homes; Terry, Fowler, Taurus and Wildcross travel trailers; Pace Arrow and Toaga motor homes.

Fleetwood has other Florida operations at Lakeland and Haines City.

Asked why Sanford was chosen for a Fleetwood facility, Campbell said, "Our marketing people determined this. They came here and made a survey of labor and other features."

Fleetwood is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and, according to the interim report, record sales and earnings were reported during the first half of 1971. Net income increased 52 per cent or 97 cents a share for stock and sales were up to $8 million.

'I'M ALMOST A NATIVE SON'

Hubert H. Humphrey last night vowed he will be seen so often in Florida prior to March 14 that "I will be accepted as a native Floridian."

He addressed a group of Central Florida Democrats and the national press last night at Orlando in his quest for the Democratic nomination for the president in the March 14 presidential primary.

Humphrey and his wife, Muriel (seated), will be in Sanford Friday and will address a meeting at 7 p.m. at the Civic Center. (Related photo on page 2A.) (John A. Spolski Photo)

2 Stolen Cars Are Recovered

Two more cars reported stolen by a state-wide auto theft ring have been recovered. Seminole charges placed against one of the men arrested Saturday on possession of stolen cars have been dropped.

Sheriff John Polk disclosed that a 1971 Vega taken in Orange County and a 1972 Cutlass from Daytona Beach were recovered by an investigative team headed by County Sgt. Tony Calange and Sanford Det. Sgt. William Lykens.

The sheriff said both vehicles were rental cars and brings to eight the number recovered since Saturday.

Stephen Tyler Toler, 27, Titusville, arrested by investigators at the Jai-Alai Fronton in Fern Park late Saturday for possession of stolen property after he was found with one of the cars reported stolen earlier by a auto-rental agency, will not be prosecuted in Seminole. Polk said, "Since Orange County has auto-theft charges filed against him for taking the car, he was found with, we felt it would be better to let them prosecute him," the sheriff elaborated.

Richard Carl Schultz, Lake Avenue, arrested Sunday on possession of stolen property charges was the second person jailed in connection with the car-theft ring. Schultz posted a $10,000 bond and was released late Sunday.

The alleged car-theft operation was broken by combined investigative efforts of Sanford, Seminole County, Orlando and Florida Law Enforcement Department officers.

"There are definite indications of error," said Drummond. "How do we educate motorists to turn on their bright headlights while driving in fog, smoke and rain? We want to determine turning priorities, signals, etc. for school bus drivers. We are not seeking to place the blame for this one accident," said Drummond, "we are endeavoring to determine what can be done to prevent future accidents."

Drummond said also a review will be made of the county ambulance service, as the result of a difference between attendants for two ambulance firms which arrived on the scene.

Ambulances from Herndon Ambulance, which holds a franchise with Seminole County, and Jess McCall, Estoville, responded to a call for service.

Drummond said he had been informed the bus driver, Eula Sena Longwood, had suffered a back injury. He said he had been informed the Herndon attendants offered to lend an orthopedic stretcher to the McCall attendants, who refused and had Mrs. Scott walk off the bus.

"We must determine," said Drummond, "whether we should grant a franchise to one ambulance service, or to include others, in the event of a major disaster. We have to find a solution to many questions."

Mrs. Scott was reported in "fairly good" condition this morning by Florida Hospital attendants.

Bus-Auto Probe Set

By FRED VAN PELT

Investigation into several aspects of the school bus-automobile accident Wednesday morning on SR 636 at Casa Aloma, endangering 66 students, was launched this afternoon by the Seminole County Commission.

"We want to find the answer to several questions, if we can," said Greg Drummond, Commission chairman. He said representatives of the State Department of Transportation, Highway Patrol and the School Board will sit in with the Commission members on the probe.

"There are definite indications of error," said Drummond. "How do we educate motorists to turn on their bright headlights while driving in fog, smoke and rain? We want to determine turning priorities, signals, etc. for school bus drivers. We are not seeking to place the blame for this one accident," said Drummond, "we are endeavoring to determine what can be done to prevent future accidents."
