This phase used first by President Richard Nixon in his 1968 quest for the nation's highest elective office was evident this morning at a joint meeting of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce and the City Commission.

Kirkland's defense attorneys have claimed that they have not had sufficient time to prepare a defense. The Orlando attorney was charged following an alleged incident at a South Seminole apartment complex. Kirkland was charged with lascivious conduct and a crime against nature as was Marian Blackburn.

Kirkland's attorneys were to have filed an appeal at the Fourth District Appellate Court yesterday afternoon to continue the trial to a later date. But as of this morning, no appeal had been filed.

Principal Honored

"Everybody's angel and nobody's fool," School Supt. John Angel aptly said of English Estates Elementary School principal Margaret Reynolds as he dedicated the new library wing of the school in her honor.

Mrs. Reynolds has served as principal of the school for the past five years and, on her doctor's advice, she is transferring to a smaller school next year, Sanford Grammar. Since she has been an English Estates, enrollment has grown each year and even though the new wing was added this year, it was still necessary to move all second graders to a Maitland church to avoid double sessions.

Sewage Treatment Plant Near Ready

By MARION BETHEA
ALAMONTE SPRINGS—The city's new sewage treatment plant will soon be in operation, according to consulting engineer, William Palm. Palm told a meeting of City Council yesterday that on Contract I the treatment plant is complete with the exception of checking it out, and that Contract II is substantially complete with the only "hold up" the completion of a pumping station. Palm said that the master station is complete and the force main, and that it is in readiness to pump sewage to the south, Palm explained. A change order was approved by the council relative to the $100 permit for soliciting and allowing persons representing the 20 lineal feet of 24-inch pipe at a cost of $100 which will be utilized for a culvert at the plant site, and an automatic pumping control system for turbina pumps in the irrigation field at a cost of $1,100. Also authorized was expenditure of $1,385 to relocate pumping station, located on Palm Springs Road 200 feet to the south. Palm explained that this is necessary because a 200-foot easement is needed along Palm Springs Road, and that owners will not grant it because of the frontage aspect of the property which was subse-

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker John W. McCormack has decided to retire from Congress at the end of this session, close associates said today.

Price-Wage Controls Emerge As One Way Out

Don't look now but that step-child of our economy, the suggestion of wage-price control is out of the shadows.

Not that it hasn't been discussed. Indeed, it has! But not by such extremes of the economy as the AFL-CIO and the American Bankers Association. Even now it is approached very gingerly and almost surreptitiously.

Yet the very hard and disagreeable facts of an inflation that just will not lay down and play dead, a stock market that has given moored and investment interests the jitters, and the logical drive by organized labor for higher wages to cope with inflation costs must be faced.

Probably the one fact that has been disregarded or unmentioned or embarrassing in the extreme is that wage and price controls are historically linked with a condition of declared war.

This we have not had. Yet, as John Adams said in 1770: "Facts are stubborn things; and whatever may be our wishes, our inclinations, or the dictates of our passions, they cannot alter the state of facts and evidence."

It was at the national meeting of the AFL-CIO that the unwanted policy of governmental wage-price controls gained open recognition as something which might have to be used if other means of controlling inflation failed.

But it was Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, who gave this proposition some very guarded recognition.

"We should not close our minds to the possibility that an income policy, provided it stopped well short of direct price and wage controls and was used merely as a supplement to overall fiscal and monetary measures, might speed us through this transitionary period of cost push inflation."

Mr. Burns told a monetary conference of the American Bankers Association.

Of course neither of these instances opens the door for effective price-wage controls which are anathema to the Nixon administration. Yet we believe that Mr. Adams spoke sense and that events will supply facts.

It is also important to keep the plans of major labor unions in mind. Now that the 109-day shutdown of National Airlines is ended and the Teamsters Union and the Labor Department have announced approval of a new contract which will boost wages over 33 months for 425,000 men the stage is set for further negotiations.

Just as in the NAL and the Teamsters cases the end result is higher wages and it would be naive to expect that anyone but the public will be the increased cost in subsequent and similar cases.

The automobile industry, already beset by poorer business in these early months of 1970, is headed for a show-down with the United Auto Workers in September.

Absence of the late Walter Reuther from this bargaining table is not expected to mean any lessening of his drive for higher rates of pay and costly fringe benefits.

All of these situations have an immediate impact on the pocketbooks of everyone in Sanford-Seminole as the combination of inflation to support higher wage demands by vigorous and headstrong labor makes every dollar in the consumers' pocketbooks worth less each month.

This is a fact, even an alarming political fact, which may give greater substance to the argument for the use of price-wage controls now, at least until we end the Indo-China undeclared war.

Realtor Week

All real estate agents and salesmen are not "Realtors" but it would be a good thing for all concerned if they were.

We say this after being reminded by a vigorous and growing Seminole County Board of Realtors that this is, indeed, Realtor Week.

We also say this with a slight departure from the role of editorial comment with an unbiased point of view. For we were, during the depression-ridden 1930s a member of the Cape Cod Board of Realtors and learned the hard way what this designation means through personal experience.

Cape Cod in those years was getting ready for the kind of population growth that breeds unhealthy land speculation and might be properly compared to Seminole County in this exciting year of 1970.

As our cities and county grow, as new home-owners put down roots, as speculators buy acreage and risk-capital is invested in developments with single homes and the new popular condominium, the need for Realtors, trained and responsible increases.

Investment in a home is usually the largest single investment that any family makes. Lack of proper guidance by a competent and reliable Realtor could be the most costly mistake such a home-seeker makes.

It is the awareness of this fact that also makes the responsibility which the many men and women who have chosen the real estate field for their endeavors to be of a very high order.

Vigilance on the part of the 76 boards of Realtors in Florida that are celebrating this annual week is therefore a sacred duty which must not be shirked.

Seminole County is in the full-tide of growth with the present emphasis more on home than on industry. This, in a very real way the future of the county in terms of the people who are coming here and the communities which they will create rests in the hands of Realtors.

You have the confidence. Accomplishments will make this even stronger as the 1970s unfold a record of which every home-owner can be proud!

East-West Negotiations Now!

By WELLINGTON LONG
BONN (UPI)—The shock waves touched off when President Nixon dispatched American troops into Cambodia apparently has not reached the East-West negotiating tables in Europe.

American-Russian negotiations in Vienna on Strategic Arms Limitation (SALT) seem unaffected by the Cambodian offensive—at least so far.

West Germany's attempt to get Russian agreement to an agenda for a formal negotiation on a nonaggression pact also is going forward despite Cambodia.

Poland has continued bargaining with West Germany about a treaty to normalize their relations.

East German Prime Minister Willi Stoph remains committed to meet West German Chancellor Willy Brandt in the West German city of Kassel this Wednesday.

The Soviets agreed last week to continue their talks with the Americans and British and French about improving the situation in and around West Berlin.

Many of Brandt's advisers feared Nixon's decision to go into Cambodia would have a negative political fallout in Europe. They feared that the Russians would start stalling in the SALT and Berlin talks with the Americans and recall their exchanges with Bonn in relation to Moscow, Warsaw or East Berlin.

At the most, the diplomat went on, Cambodia could have an effect on the SALT talks in Vienna, but not yet.

The remark is being interpreted to mean the Russian leadership is treating President Nixon's move into Cambodia as tactical rather than strategic.

Ecology - New, Broad Game

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—In response to widespread public apathy, here's another new board game: It's called "Ecology."

The game begins with just a few players, but more and more players join the game as play proceeds until finally there is no more room on the board for any more players.

However, the game does not stop at this point. More players continue to join the game, pushing other players off the board. This phase of the game is called "Population Control."

As each player enters the game he selects a marker which looks like a small white pill. The markers are placed on the square labeled "Go." The goal of the game is to reach the square labeled "Clean Environment."

If, however, a player lands on a square labeled "Air Pollution," "Water Pollution" or "Garbage Dump," or if he gets pushed off the board by another player, he is out of the game.

When it becomes his move, a player determines his progress by drawing a card from one of three stacks. The stacks are labeled "Congressional Action," "Political Promises" and "Volunteer Industrial Action." Here are the keys:

—Large industrial plant in your city volunteers to stop burning waste materials in open incinerator. Advance 5 spaces.

—Ralph Nader reveals that waste materials formerly burned in incinerator are now being dumped into river. Go back 5 spaces.

—Big 3 automakers introduce new electric cars that operate without exhaust fumes. Advance 16 spaces.

—Federal Power Commission reports that 5,000 new generating plants must be built to supply power for new electric cars. Go back 15 spaces.

—Major soap company announces discovery of the "miracle" ingredient that gets clothes so clean they can never get dirty again, yet leaves no detergent suds in the city's water supply. Advance 2 spaces.

—Ralph Nader reveals that new "miracle" ingredient in laundry detergent is DDT. Go back 20 spaces.

—President announces that entire resources of federal government will be thrown into battle against environmental pollution. Remain in place.

—House Appropriations Committee reports that President's antipollution program can never get into budget. Lose next turn.

—Ralph Nader proposes tax increase to finance antipollution program. Return to "Go."

Hanoi Discounts Cambodia

By STEWART HENSLEY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's top advisers hope that after assessing its losses in Cambodia, Hanoi will signal the United States that the Communists are ready for a compromise settlement of the Vietnam War at the peace table.

In 1955, North Vietnam seized power and converted South Vietnam into a republic which President Dwight Eisenhower and his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, hastened to build up with economic aid, a military advisory group and some war equipment.

The U.S. action in Hanoi's view, constituted an effort to deny the late Ho Chi Minh and his followers the rightful fruits of the revolution which they had been waging since 1942 against the Japanese and the French.

Against this background, and with the prospect of even greater material support from Moscow and Peking in the future, it is unlikely that Hanoi will abandon the revolution because of temporary reverses in Cambodia.

BERRY'S WORLD

Even if those reports are discounted on the basis of ideological bias, there is open evidence of a stiffening of the Communists' attitude — in Hanoi and Peking and also in Moscow.

The Nixon administration is considered by many critics of current U.S. policy to be guilty of the same erroneous assumptions which they contend plagued the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations in their efforts to deal with the Southern Asia problem.

The erroneous assumption is that the Asian Communists, in any given situation, can be expected to react along lines logical to the West. Compounding this error, in the view of critics inside and outside the government, is the failure of this and previous administrations to understand what the Vietnam War is all about.

The Geneva Agreements, which the United States opposed, were considered by all other participating countries to be a face-saving method of giving Hanoi the whole country.

They treated the "Republic of Vietnam" with the capital at Saigon, and provided that South

Letters To The Editor

Community Action Projects Questioned; Answers Given

Editor Herald:

An Orlando newspaper article dated May 14th states that Amos Jones, recently traveled to Washington to present to federal authorities his planned program to create jobs for the unemployed and the unemployed poor in Seminole County. This is titled a Seminole County Action Project.

The article further stated that the announced purpose would be to create and provide money for two businesses, a lawn service and a janitorial service, and would include 10 trainees each at $75.00 per week and six community workers for a total of $4,950.00.

Additional statistical information listed a president of the corporation at $10,000, a training manager $12,000, a program manager $12,000, an executive secretary $6,000, secretary $6,000, fringe benefits $12,000, and for consultant services and contracts, $42,000.

A cursory inspection of these figures inevitably leads one to consider the fable of the blind men and the elephant. I would think it would tend to boggle the minds of tax payers who recently received their annual financial purge on April 15th. It is an obvious charade concerning persons having no interest, did not specify the services to be janitorial or lawn firm as such.

What we are talking about is landscaping company and a service that includes painting, maintenance, steam cleaning and other services of which janitorial is but one of the many functions of the company.

The landscaping service includes more than just planting grass; it involves laying of rocks, grave filling and a patio," Jones informed.

The Community Action executive said there has long been a need for training people for county employment, which includes job placement.

"We will start off with about 70 persons in all and attempt to train them for jobs."

Jones said there has been past efforts by General Electric, AVCO Corporation and Krebs and Company to open training facilities here, but none had been implemented and something has to be done. It would be Mr. Julian's letter to the businessman backing this proposal and I would welcome the opportunity to explain to him either at my office or I would be happy to come to his office to show him all the information, which was not given in the newspaper article because of the lack of sufficient space.

Jones said Sam Ackerman of General Dynamics was one of the local businessmen helping in setting up the program.

On the subject of tax money being spent for the program, Jones pointed out that if the program didn't come to Seminole County, it will go somewhere else, since the federal government has already allocated money for the program.

"Question is should the total taxpayers money be spent in Seminole County or allowed to be spent elsewhere," Jones asked?

He said this way the county is getting back some of its taxes to be spent locally there by flag the community.

I bought one of the flags back then and have flown it daily since and have flown it and his many successors every day.

As usual, last Saturday it was flying. After having been away from the house for a few hours, we returned to find it missing. A thorough search and report to the police have developed no leads and we can only assume it was stolen.

Happening on Armed Services Day, we can't help but relate the day and the theft to some youthful demonstrators of the type the newspapers are picturing desecrating our flag — happens all over the land.

We thought it could never happen in Sanford — now we're not so sure.

Clifford McKibbin Jr.

More On Ken

Editor, Herald.

First, I would like to state in reference to Mr. Jones' letter that I am with him all the way. First, you informed him that lots of people will be unhappy with his statements what ever your information, I work for myself and I am in many people's homes and I talk to many people on the street, and they had been savages. If they had been students they would have been in the classroom where they belonged. You also stated the four were not a part of the demonstration.

Think man — all those goons throwing rocks and bricks and trying to burn buildings and anyone would pick out four completely innocent persons and deliberately murder them. Shame on you! (When an officer is killed there is just a mention of it on the news and a short paragraph in the paper. But let a rioter get killed by an officer who is protecting his life and they play it up like he deserves a medal of honor.)

One more thing and I'll get off your back. If they were honor students what did they do with their homes when the riot was in action. Did they give their lives for their country? No. The ones who are in Vietnam and Cambodia are doing that.

I saw and heard a senate committee meeting on TV. They were interviewing two former members of either the black panthers or black power (you notice I didn't start those in capital letters). They were asked if the campus disturbances were Communist backed. They both said "Very definitely."

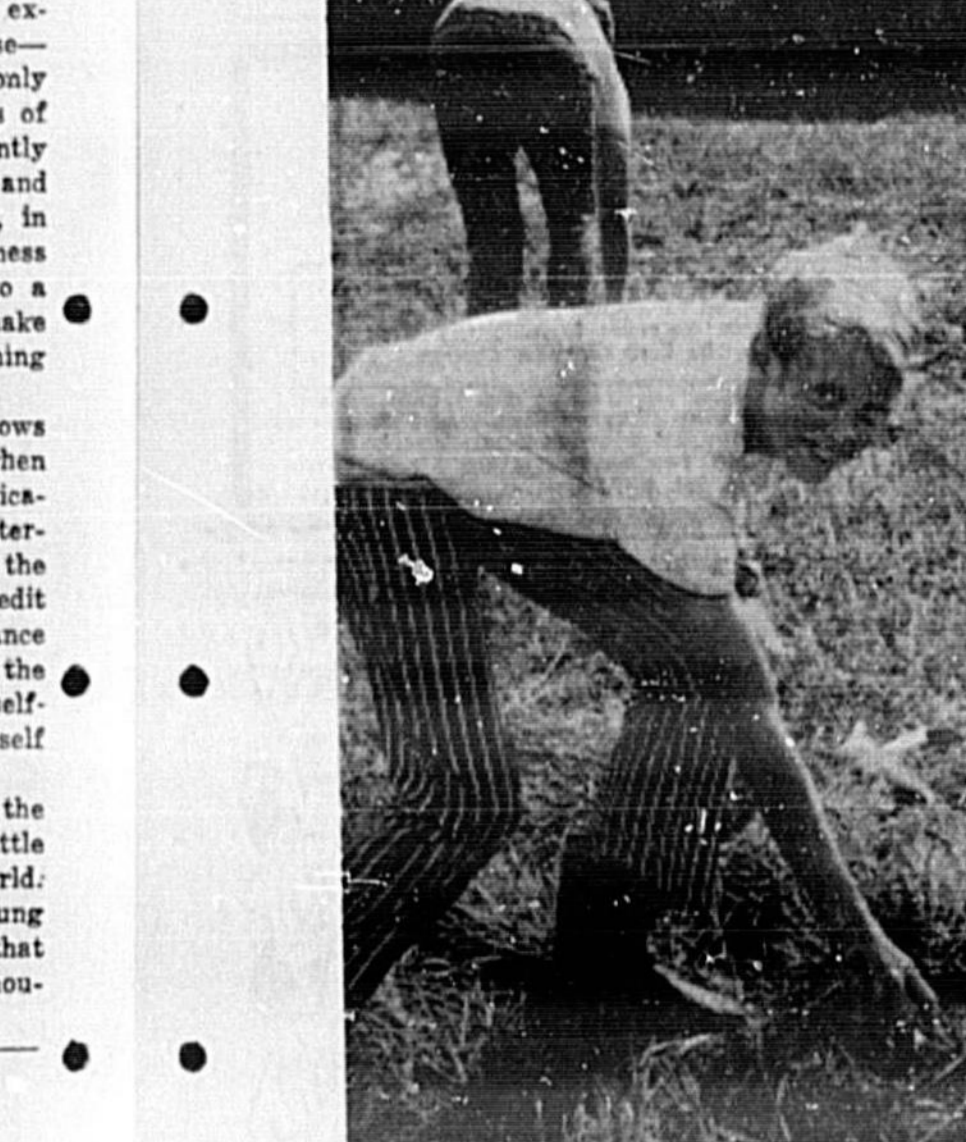

Now it stands up to me that those four didn't give their lives for their country. They gave it for Communism. Sorry, old boy, but it had to come out. Now let's see if you have the guts to publish it.

'Rosie' Given A Top Notch Funeral

By PETER J. SHAW
LONDON (UPI)—"Bye me old darlin'" sniffed a partly woman in a rose-bedecked hat as the three Rolls-Royces of Rosie's funeral cortege passed in tribute.

The two limousines following the hearse in the procession that crept through the neighborhood Monday were stacked with more than 50 floral tributes.

"Gor, look all them flowers," said one flower vendor. "All for old Rosie."

Strippers from the marine peel parlors of Warburton Street, cabaret managers, police officers and fruit merchants were among the hundreds who gathered at the Roman Catholic Church of Our Lady of the Assumption and St. Gregory for the funeral.

The Rev. John McDonald sustained Rosie as "a gay and lively character who has disappeared from the Soho scene. He brought joy to many hearts for their lives."

Soho was kept amused by Rosie's traffic-stopping song and dance routine. He was a short, stocky man with receding gray hair and almost always shaven. Sometimes he wore a long black overcoat, white slippers and a hat.

"He drank Scotch like water when he could get it," said one fruit vendor. "But he was a happy bloke — he mispronounced words. He would have loved his funeral."

"What was Rosie like? Well, he was a top notch character, a first class character, a first class character."

Angel Speaks

Spring Lake School PTA will meet Tuesday, May 26, at 7:30 p.m. with John Angel, county school superintendent as guest speaker.

A play will be presented by fifth grade students. Also on the agenda will be election of officers.

Even without the million or more foreign visitors expected for Expo '70, Osaka, Japan, and largest city has 3,500,000 inhabitants and space is so valuable that land in parts of the city sells for nearly $600 a square yard.

ment groups to be anywhere is to maintain law and order and protect lives and property. The tragic Kent incident, where armed guardsmen fired those involved in the confrontation and innocent bystanders — is to me completely unacceptable and certainly not in character with the purpose of the National Guard.

I am the mother of three college students, who I think represent the majority of the nation's students. They appreciate a chance to further their education, they work hard, are not addicted to drugs, and are not trying to overthrow the college administration.

They each have their own opinions on politics, Vietnam, and other issues and may not always completely agree with each other but all love their country and oppose violence.

However, if such a terrible incident happened on their campus it would be beyond their control. And God forbid, it could have been their bodies that were maimed and killed even if they had not been involved in the demonstration. (As your callous letter writer would know if they bothered to read the press and magazines, many of those victims at Kent were not even involved in the violence.)

Also for their information students do not spend all their time locked in their classrooms nor do they walk across campuses to change classes, go to their dorms, parking lots, libraries, cafeterias, etc. Thus expecting them to be on campus.

It is people like Mr. Krick and Mr. Crews, who are widening the gap that is destroying our country and pushing the loyal and law-abiding young people towards support of those with a more radical bent.

As my teenage daughter exclaimed after seeing the Kent slaughter in living color on TV, "Give in Vietnam they had orders not to fire unless fired upon!"

Thank God we still have a free press!

Postponing your home buying decision can be costly.

HERE IS WHY:

Interest rates which one year ago ranged from 6 1/2 to 7 1/4 per cent now range from 7 1/2 to almost 9 per cent. While this increase would seem to be a natural deterrent to the prospective home buyer, the cost of new home construction and the value of existing homes is increasing at an even faster pace. The demand for housing is intense and will reach new heights as the World War II generation continues to move into the home-buying market. While interest rates are high, mortgage money is available and a home of your own is still the best hedge against inflation. Postponing a home buying decision on the dim hope of a dip in interest rates is not likely to be a wise decision.

Whether you are considering buying a new home or an existing home, the time to buy is NOW. Ever increasing rates is just one of the many reasons why postponing your home buying decision can be costly.

You may not have remembered hearing too much about them during the course of their fall bowling schedule, but I can assure you that Friday nights at the lanes would have been complete without hosting our favorites from the Candy Strippers' League.

They had their end of the season banquet last night with the honors for the top spot going to the Swingers ... Peggy Waddle, Denise Clark and Rhonda Smith. Trophies to each of the couples will be presented by one of the area's greatest bowling boosters and a sponsor for this league, Carl Schlick of Hagar Aluminum.

Mike McKay was the highest average winner with a 132, and she was joined in the individual averages category by Peggy Waddle — high game with handicap 239; high series handicap Nancy Hoening 601; high game scratch — Wendy Schike 207 and high series scratch to Melodie Hanson 418.

Each of the bowlers is to receive participation trophies ... and no one is omitted.

Hay Fever Due To Tree Pollen

Hay fever in the Spring, April and May, is almost always due to tree pollen. Different, and many kinds of trees are responsible. Among the most common of these are the oak, elm, maple, and birch.

The hay fever victim recognizes that his seasonal attack has arrived when the signs he remembers only too well start to appear. These include itching of the eyes, a tickling sensation in nose and throat, followed soon afterwards by sneezing and other cold-like symptoms.

Treatment includes avoiding the offending allergen, whenever possible, and medication prescribed by a physician to relieve symptoms. Two sprays of nasal spray that contains an antihistamine and an effective decongestant, NTZ, is reported to quickly relieve itching and nasal congestion for many victims.

White roses in a silver container and white daisies in a white container were among the floral decorations in the party room.

Adorable bookmark favors, also in the class colors of yellow felt with decorative embroidery figures in multicolors, were made by the hostess and presented to each guest present.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a white lace cloth, over yellow and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white roses and greenery in a tall crystal vase.

Carrying the class colors, yellow napkins, cups and plates were used for serving refreshments of chips and dips, cheese balls, finger sandwiches of chicken, tuna and ham salad, fritos, pastel mints, nuts, cake and sparkling fruit punch from a crystal bowl with an ice ring of frozen cherries floating on top. The cake was beautifully decorated with roses and green leaves.

Wanda Rumney Honored At Party

The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth and decorated with a summer floral arrangement and a large cake in the center adorned with icing in the class colors of yellow and white. Cake, assorted cheese crackers, nuts and cold drinks were served.

The honoree was presented a gift of stationery, a diary and an autograph book to keep a collection of the wonderful sights and the interesting people she will meet in her new job.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem isn't an unusual one. I've been married for 10 years. I've never seen anything in your column about it. My husband and I have been married for 5 years. We have two small children, and another on the way. Abby, we've wanted these children—especially my mother.

Every time I get pregnant there is a noisy scene. We're well able to support these children, and we've never asked our parents to baby-sit or help on financially, but they make us go to guilty. They say we are "crazy" to be ourselves down to so much responsibility. I wish we were young—that we could be for ourselves and be "free" for the first 16 years. But, Abby, we want to be young with our children. How should I break the news that No. 1 will be here for Christmas?

NERVOUS DEAR NEUROUS: Save the news, appropriately enough, for Father's day—since you missed Mother's day. In any case, it sounds as though you're straining on a cord between you and your mother which should have been cut years ago. Live your own life and don't feel guilty.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has had a very unsatisfactory marriage for nearly 20 years, but I won't go into that because that's not my problem.

My problem is my gentleman friend, Walter. He is not married. (He's divorced.) We've been seeing each other (discreetly) for nearly 3 years, and it's so cheap love affair, Abby. It's the best thing that has ever happened to me.

Walter and I can't be seen together in public because my husband is a fairly prominent professional man, and I still put up a good front as a happily married wife and mother. Every once in a while Walter takes a lady out. He says he has to, because if he isn't seen in public once in a while with a woman, people will say "no" to something wrong with him.

Well, every time Walter has a date with another woman, I get so nervous. I suppose it's wrong of me, but I can't help it. Do you think if he really loved me he'd date another woman? Even for appearance's sake?

TEARS IN MY WINE DEAR TEARS: I can't tell you if Walter "really" loves you or not. But the "huffing" he endures every time he dates another woman is part of the price you're paying for this affair. (The "best" things in life are very expensive.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who publicly refers to his secretary as his "office wife"?

HIS HOME WIFE DEAR HOME: He's either looking for trouble. Or has found it.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that man whose wife rejected him 97 times last year to send her to San Francisco and let her ride the cable cars. I understand a woman there claims that after she got stuck up in a cable car she couldn't say "no" to anybody.

RESPECTIVELY YOURS, D. W.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed return envelope.

We The Women:

Our local schools are incorporating into the regular sixth-grade curriculum a three-day experience. Students involved use portions of their mathematics class time to figure out the trip menu. Good nutrition values, first aid and safety as well as sanitation problems are discussed during health class; some local geography and history lessons are included in their daily class schedule before they make the trip.

At camp they have, along with hikes and nature study, some elementary lessons in astronomy. Although still in a pilot stage, the program offers good lessons for all children. For those who have never before had opportunity to see a forest, a running stream, a sky unframed by brick buildings, the three days are pure delight.

When my sixth-grade daughter breathlessly explained that the $11 cost for the trip had to be earned and not merely handed over by parents, I exclaimed, "Well done, teacher! You've thought of everything." A few days later, I was ready to reconsider my feelings on the earn-your-own-way plan. Not that my daughter had difficulty earning her $11. It's just that she was so imaginative in thinking up ways to earn it.

We applauded when she, along with two other friends, held a bake sale and earned $3.57 each. We were wringing our hands when we discovered a merchant downtown was holding a bake sale at a nickel a game.

The sigh of relief we heaved when she finally earned the last necessary penny must have rained on her. If it did, we didn't notice—because of other pulsating houses in the neighborhood. Other members

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

Whenever we consider experts at their worst we think about our friend "Hardluck Joe." Joe isn't really an expert, but he thinks that he is. He tries to play the way he thinks an expert would play.

We watched Joe operate recently. He four heart club was a mild overbid, but he always overbids when he is going to be declarer. He ruffed the club opening and played out his ace and king of trumps. This accounted for all four enemy trumps and left Joe in control.

"Watch me, I finesse all aces!" Joe boasted. Then he led the spade to dummy's 10 and East's Jack. Jack came another club. Joe ruffed and proceeded to lose another spade finesse. This time East returned a diamond. Joe played low and a third finesse led to West's queen. Since the ace of diamonds was still out another spade was missed by one trick.

"I ought to cut bridge," moaned Joe. "Three finesses out of three wrong."

"Yes, you should," said North. "When you are sure of your contract without finessing, why finesse?"

North was right. When trump broke 2-2 Joe was certain to make his contract if he didn't go after over tricks. His correct play was to lay down his king of diamonds. It just might pick a singleton queen for an over-trick. In this case West would win with his ace.

If he shifted to a spade, Joe would finesse the queen. East would win with his king.

Now he could anything he pleased, except defeat the contract. If East led the spade Jack dummy would win with the ace, making his 10 good.

Any other lead and Joe would have time to knock out the diamond queen and discard one of dummy's spades on the fourth diamond.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. Crane

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
CASE N-225
"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "that is why his duty and I need some outside advice."

"For Freddy's teacher says he should be allowed to skip a full grade and thus move up one year ahead of his present classmates."

"And I am inclined to go along with his teacher's recommendation."

"But my husband vetoes the idea."

"So what are some of the pros and cons to consider?"

Since Freddy is ahead of his age group in educational achievement, he might grow bored at the tedious routine required for the rest of his present classmates.

"That seems especially true of races from tropical and sub-tropical countries."

Since age is such an important factor in school sports, he might find it OK to sport a girl's size 6 shoe, even though it might be well to veto Freddy's extra promotion.

Emotionally, too, it can hamper her when she reaches the dating age and high school. It will be younger than the girls of his class and perhaps less mature in his social outlook.

A generation ago, for example, we admitted a group of 15-year-olds at Northwestern University.

Freddy had a high IQ so they could compete very well in the classroom with the other 16-year-old freshmen.

But they had no chance of making any athletic teams.

And their social life was warped, for it was ridiculous to think of their dating the other coeds in their classes.

So they led a lonely social and athletic life and were pointed to on the campus as "treasies," despite their brilliant brains.

If your ancestry shows that your sons will inherit more athletic and athletic ability than your own, you might let a boy skip a full grade.

If he does not skip, then feed him reading assignments and additional stimulating problems to challenge his superior IQ.

Smart boys can also occupy their minds with Boy Scout or Glee Club classes to keep them contented.

Some boys, provided the education is right, the activity is right. Teach ethics early.

keep him more interested.

That is a good idea in favor of his skipping a grade.

But please consider some of the opposing arguments!

Would Freddy be emotionally and athletically able to mingle on equal terms with boys who were a year older?

Freddy's daddy was a star college athlete and is obviously hoping that Freddy will excel in sports.

But in both high school and college, young boys often lack the muscular maturity to compete with older athletes.

One reason why Negro boys are so successful in American sports is the fact they often are two or three years older than their classmates.

Moreover, some racial maturity factor even when ages are equated.

That seems especially true of races from tropical and sub-tropical countries.

Since age is such an important factor in school sports, he might find it OK to sport a girl's size 6 shoe, even though it might be well to veto Freddy's extra promotion.

DEAR POLLY: I have a number of colored snapshots of my children that I would like to display in the den. For a number of reasons, picture frames are not the answer. DEAR POLLY—I received a wrought-iron candle holder and then dry them in the commercial dryer on a mild or low setting. I have a question when you say over a sharp, ball-like prong in the base. We bought a beautiful but expensive candle. In trying to put it on this holder, we broke it. We were chastened when our son-in-law carefully held the holder over the gas flame for a moment until it was hot and very easily slid the candle in place! ## Customs Is Getting Tougher

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign visitors and returning American tourists will have a tougher time clearing customs, especially on the East and Gulf coasts, when a new government crackdown on narcotics smuggling begins about June 1.

The Customs Bureau is beginning the new effort as part of its intensified campaign against "hard" drugs—mainly heroin and cocaine.

Details are still in the discussion stage, but Asst. Treasury Department Secretary Eugene T. Rosales confirmed Monday the plan will go into effect with an increase in enforcement intensity throughout the nation, with emphasis on the Northeast and Southeastern quadrants.

Coverage will extend as far west as New Orleans, he said, and presumably also will affect at least part of the Canadian border, although a Customs spokesman maintained it will be a uniform nationwide crackdown.

Treasury and Customs officials know the program as "Operation Able" in its initial discussion stages, but Rosales is against such a name because it might be associated with Operation Intercept, the six-month effort to curtail marijuana smuggling across the Mexico border last fall.

Intercept was changed to Operation Cooperation after the businessmen complained it was hurting their business and tourism. The Mexican agreed, however, to take tougher actions against marijuana growers and some officials in Treasury say that was its major goal.

The Ladies Association Club held its regular weekly meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Mattie Holt.

A recreational period was held following the business session with refreshments being served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the home of Mrs. Mable Barber on Hawkins Avenue, Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

A birthday dinner was held May 14 in honor of Miss Dorothy J. Waldon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Walden, 1208 West Eighth Street.

The dinner table was most attractive, overlaid with red linen and a white lace table cloth.

The menu consisting of fried chicken, creamed potatoes, garden peas, candied yams, tossed salad, hot rolls, cake, punch, and assorted chips, dips, candies and Spanish peanuts.

Croquettes Scare You?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

If you have a hankering to turn out a professional-looking dish, try your hand at croquettes. Formed into cones and deep-fried, croquettes make a fine main course for a company lunch or supper.

In the following recipe for croquettes, chicken, hominy grits and almonds combine in interesting fashion. A mushroom sauce to serve with the croquettes is a delicious accompaniment.

CHICKEN HOMOINY CROQUETTES

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup finely grated onion, pulp and juice
- 1/4 cup fat-free clear chicken broth
- 1/4 cup enriched white quick cooking hominy grits
- 2 cups knife-chopped (fine) cooked chicken
- 1-3d cup grated blanched almonds, use an electric blender or hand-operated rotary nut grater
- Salt and white pepper to taste
- 1 egg lightly beaten with 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- Deep fat for frying

Mushroom Sauce

- 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed dried tarragon
- 1/4 cups fat free clear chicken broth
- 1/2 cup milk
- Salt to taste

In a medium saucepan, gently cook mushrooms in butter for 1 minute. Stir in flour, pepper and tarragon. Remove from heat; gradually stir in chicken stock and milk, keeping smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Reduce heat; cook over low heat for 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add salt.

Paella Is A Party Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

If you are looking for a range-top main dish that will serve a party of eight to ten (second portions included), you may want to try this seafood paella. This paella is made a convenient way—with seafood and fish, onion and green pepper, peas and artichoke hearts all from the freezer. You can do your shopping ahead.

One of the new paella dishes, cast iron cooked with porcelain enamel, is perfect to use for this recipe. But if a paella dish isn't on hand, you may use a shallow range-top casserole. No cover for the cook-and-serve dish is necessary.

SEAFOOD PABELLA

- 1 package (8 oz) frozen lobster tails
- 1 package (1 lb) frozen fish fillets—ocean perch, cod, haddock or flounder
- 1 package (1 lb) frozen cleaned, peeled shrimp
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/2 cup frozen chopped onion
- 1/2 cup frozen chopped green pepper

Charcoal-Grill Steak Favorite At Cookout

By AILEEN CLAIRE, NEA Food Editor

Charcoal-grilled steak is still a favorite of those who like to cook out. A good-sized steak on Memorial Day weekend for family or for friends needn't send the budget up in smoke. Merely select a less expensive cut such as chuck steak and treat it with a meat tenderizer or, better yet, use a marinade to bring out the robust flavor in a tender way.

A refreshing and effective marinade for such a steak has a base of Florida grapefruit juice, powdered ginger and soy sauce. Round out the original or Teriyaki touch with garlic, honey and scallions (or onion). Cook the steak slowly, basting occasionally and turning steak only once. To serve, cut steak in very thin slices. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHUCK STEAK TERIYAKI

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger
- 1 cup soy sauce
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1/4 cup Florida grapefruit juice
- 1/4 cup chopped scallions
- 4 pounds chuck steak (1 1/2 inches thick)

Combine salt, ginger, soy sauce and garlic. Add honey, grapefruit juice and scallions. Place steak in glass or enamel container and add marinade. Marinate in refrigerator overnight, turning steak occasionally. Remove steak from marinade. Place on grill five inches from charcoal briquets. Brush generously with marinade. Grill steak 1 1/2 to 2 hours, basting occasionally and turning steak only once. To serve, cut steak in very thin slices. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CATCHY RYE

Thick pork chops bake juicy and plump when pockets in the chops are full of savory stuffing. Instead of white bread, use rye bread cubes for a hearty flavor. Sage is a seasoning leader for pork chops and tasty with rye. Beef flank and round steaks also make delicious with a nippy rye stuffing.

Money is everybody's problem.

Plymouth Steak Is Toothsome
 By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

Despite rising meat prices, beef continues to grow in favor for Americans of all ages. A less-expensive cut of steak, cooked slowly in a covered skillet with onions, green pepper, tomatoes, cranberry juice and vinegar, makes the most discriminating eater.

Serve this special and budget-oriented steak treat with another U.S. favorite, corn pudding.

PLYMOUTH STEAK
 2 pounds round steak
 Salt and pepper
 2 onions, sliced
 1 green pepper, cut into strips
 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, chopped
 1 cup cranberry juice
 1/4 cup whole berry cranberry sauce

Sprinkle round steak on both sides with salt and pepper. Coat steak with flour. Brown steak in butter in a large skillet on both sides. Add onions, green pepper, tomatoes, cranberry juice, cranberry sauce and vinegar. Cover tightly and simmer for 2 hours or until meat is very tender. Add a little cranberry juice from time to time to prevent sticking. Remove meat to a platter. If desired, thicken pan juices with flour mixed with water. Spoon pan juices over round steak. Garnish with parsley and serve with baby white carrots. Makes 6 servings.

HEARTY CORN PUDDING
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup milk
 1 (1-pound, 1-corn) can cream-style corn
 1/4 cup margarine, melted
 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
 2 egg whites
 Mix together cornstarch, sugar and salt. Mix in corn, margarine and egg yolks. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Fold into corn mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Set pan of hot water to depth of 1 1/2 inches. Bake in 350-degree oven 1 hour and 15 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

Fish Cobbler
 By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

If you're on the lookout for a new fish dish, you may be interested in this fish cobbler—a combination of fish fillets, biscuits and cheese sauce. It's a hearty dish that's just right for a family of six.

It was developed for use with Boston bluefish (pollock) but any other kind of fish fillets (fresh or frozen) may be used.

FISH COBBLER
 2 pounds fish fillets, fresh or frozen
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 1 teaspoon salt
 3/4 teaspoon basil
 1 cup prepared biscuit mix
 2 tablespoons chopped scallion (green onion)
 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt
 1/2 cup milk
 Cheddar Cheese Sauce. See recipe.

If frozen, thaw fish. Cut into 4 equal serving portions. Arrange in a single layer in well-greased baking pan (12 by 9 by 2 inches) or similar shallow utensil. Mix together butter, salt and basil; brush over fish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 15 minutes. While fish is baking, mix together biscuit mix, onion, lemon rind, seasoned salt and milk; stir with fork to make a soft dough.

Remove fish from oven; raise oven temperature to 425 degrees. Spoon an equal amount of dough onto each fish portion. Return to oven; bake until biscuits are brown and fish flakes easily when tested with a fork—12 to 15 minutes. Serve with Cheddar Cheese Sauce.

Makes 6 servings.

CHEDDAR CHEESE SAUCE
 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cheddar cheese soup
 3/4 cup milk
 1/2 cup Wesson Worcestershire sauce
 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
 Dash hot pepper sauce
 In a small saucepan, over low heat, mix together all ingredients. Heat and serve over fish and biscuits.

Market about 1 1/2 cups.

Brazilian Coconut Cake Tasty
 By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 AP Food Editor

When you feel like making an elaborate dessert you might consider this Brazilian Coconut Cake. It serves 12 to 16 people and all our tasters approved it.

BRAZILIAN COCONUT CAKE
 1 cup milk
 1 can (3 1/2 oz) flaked coconut or 1 1/2 cups grated fresh coconut
 3 cups sifted flour
 1/2 cup cornstarch
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 pound (3 sticks) butter or margarine
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 4 large eggs
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
 Coconut Custard
 Grease 3-layer cake pans (each 9 x 1 1/4 inches) line bottoms with wax paper.

In a small saucepan over low heat, heat milk for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, add coconut and let stand 15 minutes. Pour mixture into strainer over a small bowl. Drain well, pressing coconut against side of strainer with a spoon; reserve coconut milk.

On wax paper sift together flour, cornstarch, baking powder and salt; set aside.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time. (Put egg whites in a medium mixing bowl and set aside.) Stir four minutes into creamed mixture in 4 additions, alternating with coconut milk, beginning and ending with flour mixture and mixing until smooth after each addition.

With clean beater, beat egg whites and cream of tartar until very stiff straight peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. Gently fold egg whites into batter, blending well.

Turn batter into prepared pans. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until cake springs back when lightly touched—30 to 35 minutes. Place pans on wire racks to cool for 10 minutes; with a small spatula, loosen edges; turn out; cut wire racks; remove paper; with another wire rack, turn right side up. Cool completely.

Cut each layer into thin horizontal stacks (cake will have 4 of them), spreading 1/4 cup chilled Coconut Custard between each layer. Spread remaining Coconut Custard between each layer. Spread remaining Coconut Custard over sides and top of cake. Sprinkle top with 1/4 cup toasted coconut reserved from Coconut Custard recipe. Cover; store in refrigerator.

Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Celery Wedges
 By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

Celery is another food from common to most tables today with an ancient beginning. A native to the Near East and western Mediterranean areas, it was known to ancient Greeks and Romans. In its early form celery was used as an appetizer. Sweet and crunchy, celery is most commonly eaten raw but is a special treat when cooked.

Try celery wedges (broccoli) as a change of pace taste with the next cookout (children will like it) or as a gourmet touch to luncheon.

CELERY WEDGES—PARNESAN
 1 stalk Florida celery
 2 cups chicken broth
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves
 1/4 cup minced garlic
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 1/2 cup heavy cream or half and half
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Parsley garnish

Wash celery. Cut off two leaves. Cut stalk into wedges into 4 wedges. In a large skillet bring broth to boiling point. Mix parsley, oregano and garlic. Add celery wedges, cover and simmer 15 minutes or until almost tender. Drain and place in a buttered 9 x 3 x 2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese, cream, butter and salt; pour over celery. Bake uncovered in a preheated 325-degree oven 20 minutes or until celery is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Now You Know
 The term "Parnesan" derives from the name of a small stream near Düsseldorf, Germany where the first remains of the most distinct species of man were found in 1858.

Mystery Shots Aimed At Youths

A theft of drugs, syringes and needles from a Sanford veterinarian's office headed the list of three burglaries occurring last night in the city and county.

Seminole County Detective George Abbey reported an undetermined amount of money was taken in an entry at the Patis Club, located South of Sanford on Highway 17-92.

In a residential break-in, a $200 value stereo system was taken from a Lake Mary home located on Ridge Road. Deputy Edward Fagen reported two Fern Park children were shot at yesterday morning while waiting for a school bus.

The children, a son and daughter of the John Livings family, told English Estates School officials that a young man in a white van drove by and shot at them while they stood waiting for a bus.

Fagen investigated the report and found two men, an employee of an auto parts firm and a laborer, who remembered hearing the shot about the time the children reported the occurrence.

The investigation is continuing and no reason for the incident has been established.

Ed. Kirkland Trial Is Delayed

By TOM ALEXANDER
Trial of Edward Kirkland, Orlando attorney, on morals charges was postponed again this morning because of a recent State Supreme Court ruling.

Abbott Herring, state attorney, was to file an amended information under the high court ruling. Kirkland faced two charges, one a crime against nature and the second committing lewd and lascivious conduct. The court ruled such charges must be combined in one information.

The new information amends the earlier charges against Kirkland. With the filing of the amended information, it is expected that Kirkland will be arraigned on the new charges some time Friday.

Postponement of the Kirkland trial in all likelihood will bring about a delay in the morals trial of Harlan Blackburn, reputed bolita kingpin. Blackburn, slated to go on trial on Monday, was charged with the same crimes as Kirkland. The two men were arrested last February on charges of misconduct with 12- and 14-year-old girls in a State Road 416 apartment.

As late as Wednesday Kirkland sought a delay in the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeal at Vero Beach but was denied.

Circuit Judge William Alexander granted Blackburn's attorney permission to take a sworn statement from the 12-year-old girl, star witness for the state.

Altrider, who will preside at Blackburn's trial, ruled the new statement must not interfere with Kirkland's trial. The girl already has given a deposition. A defense motion challenging the jury panel for the Blackburn trial and the selection method used by the Seminole County jury commission was denied by Altrider.

Blue Ribbon Unit Is Debated Again

By BILL SCOTT
The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Blue Ribbon committee was again the subject under discussion at this morning's Sanford Industrial Commission (SIC) meeting.

David F. Kelley, SIC director, told the SIC board that he hopes some agreement can be reached with the Blue Ribbon group in attracting industrial prospects for the city.

Kelley said he wishes he had been invited to the Wednesday meeting of Chamber executive committee and city commission ers when the two groups discussed having two industrial recruitment boards.

The SIC director indicated it is not good to have splinter groups going in separate directions, all trying to prospect for industry, and stressed the need for better communications between the Blue Ribbon industrial group and the SIC.

Altamonte Eyes County's Request

By MARION BETHEA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The controversy over pollution which has had considerable verbiage between the Board of Seminole County Commissioners and the Altamonte Springs City Council, saw a reverse in trend when County Engineer William Bush requested, on behalf of the commission, an easement for a drainage ditch on the city sewer plant property.

In a letter to the council, Bush indicated that the easement was needed to drain county clay roads in the area of McArthur Road, where the nearest outfall stream exists.

The easement, if granted, would run 300 feet into the sewer plant site, and would provide a ditch to the outfall stream.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford told the council that the area requested by the county consists of "hog pens and chicken houses" and the stream would run into Spring Lake. Swofford suggested that if the easement went to the north it would go into the Little Wekiva and miss Spring Lake. According to Swofford, "Altamonte wants no part of polluting Spring Lake."

Swofford, departing from his usual vendetta with the county, told the council, "I think we should cooperate with the county but from another direction." Councilman Alex Sabbarese felt that "maybe we should have a double the double bond like they did to us." This was an allusion to the county requesting additional bonding to the ones held by the contractor for the use of county right-of-way in the installation of sewer lines in the municipality. During the discussion Swofford facetiously added that "We should ask the county if they are going to have a pop-off valve or weir system in the easement." This, too, was in reference to a statement by Commissioner Greg Drummond that the city's new system would contain a pop-off valve which would drain into adjacent bodies of water during periods of heavy rain and cause pollution.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
As what a shame... Casius was denied the right to fight in Canada. Tsk, tsk!
You remember him, don't you? The fellow who was convicted three years ago on charges of violating the Selective Service Act...

Wonder how many of you who've been commenting about law and order have taken the time to express yourself on this little jewel.

I have... and it was entered into the Congressional Record... three years ago.

This one man has done more to flout the laws of the land and offer similar encouragement to others than any one other individual, as far as I'm concerned... but again, that's only one man's opinion.

CONGRATULATIONS... to B. Wheeler Jr., of Board of Directors of the Florida Mutual... and to FTU's Roy A. Werner who'll be working for the White House Commission on Youth this summer. This senior has been selected as one of 400 honor students from 600 U.S. colleges and universities.

SJC Star

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer
Charles Buck completed the long jump, triple jump and relay for Edgewater two years ago. Never did he dream that he would one day be a National Champion. Then he was discovered by Coach Roger Thomas of Seminole Junior College, signed him with the hopes of converting him to a javelin thrower.

The move paid off. Last year he achieved Honorable Mention All-American. This year he was named First Team All-American after he won the javelin throw at the Junior College meet.

Thomas marks the first time that Seminole Junior College has ever had a National Champion and is another achievement for this young school. Buck threw the javelin 257' 2" for a new school record as he won the event. He had a throw of 247', but it was disqualified when the judge ruled that it landed flat.

Perfection is attained by slow degrees; it requires the kind of time. VOLTAIRE

Commissioners Consider Central Sanitary 'Fill'

The arthropod control program in Seminole County came under discussion at a meeting of County Commissioners. This program relates to the county initiating a central sanitary landfill, conducting a transfer station on the County Road Department site, and installing container systems at the four present landfill sites.

The containers would be placed at the entrance to the present landfills for use by automobiles and utility trailers. They would be placed in an enclosed area and a ramp would be constructed for easy access to the containers. Based upon the volume of users, two containers would be placed at the Sandhills Springs landfill and one at the other three sites at Upsala, Cameron City and Oviedo. The equipment needed to implement this program would encompass two Dempster units, six closed packer containers, and two Dempster packers.

It was stated that $17,900 will be needed transferred to the arthropod program budget this year and $130,000 will be allocated to the central landfill. It is proposed to change the rate charged for cubic yards of rubbish to 35-40 cents as opposed to the current 25 cents. From (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 2)

Altamonte Eyes County's Request

By MARION BETHEA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The controversy over pollution which has had considerable verbiage between the Board of Seminole County Commissioners and the Altamonte Springs City Council, saw a reverse in trend when County Engineer William Bush requested, on behalf of the commission, an easement for a drainage ditch on the city sewer plant property.

In a letter to the council, Bush indicated that the easement was needed to drain county clay roads in the area of McArthur Road, where the nearest outfall stream exists.

The easement, if granted, would run 300 feet into the sewer plant site, and would provide a ditch to the outfall stream.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford told the council that the area requested by the county consists of "hog pens and chicken houses" and the stream would run into Spring Lake. Swofford suggested that if the easement went to the north it would go into the Little Wekiva and miss Spring Lake. According to Swofford, "Altamonte wants no part of polluting Spring Lake."

Swofford, departing from his usual vendetta with the county, told the council, "I think we should cooperate with the county but from another direction." Councilman Alex Sabbarese felt that "maybe we should have a double the double bond like they did to us." This was an allusion to the county requesting additional bonding to the ones held by the contractor for the use of county right-of-way in the installation of sewer lines in the municipality. During the discussion Swofford facetiously added that "We should ask the county if they are going to have a pop-off valve or weir system in the easement." This, too, was in reference to a statement by Commissioner Greg Drummond that the city's new system would contain a pop-off valve which would drain into adjacent bodies of water during periods of heavy rain and cause pollution.
