Every Week Bridge

Mrs. T. A. Neal delightfully entertained the Every Week Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Park avenue. There were two tables of players, Mrs. D. D. Holden making top score and winning the prize, a pretty Japanese luncheon set. After the game the guests repaired to the dining room where refreshments were served. A color scheme of pink was effectively used in the decorations, while the table was lovely with its dainty appointments. Oyster pate, sandwiches, dinner biscuits, Neuchâtel cheese, coffee and mints were served. Enjoying the charming hospitality of Mrs. Neal were Mesdames Margaret Barnes, Forrest Lake, G. F. Smith, S. E. Barret, W. D. Holden, C. M. Vorce, C. O. McLaughlin and A. P. Connelly.

Social Department Dance

Delightfully informal and one of the most successful dances given by the Social Department of the Woman's Club was the cabaret dance. There was a large gathering of the members of the department and their friends, who enjoyed the pleasures of the evening, among them being the special exhibition of the new dances being taught by Miss Belle Smith, the teacher of the Social Department dancing classes. The new dances are particularly pretty and as danced by the several couples delighted all present. The "Hesitation," with Miss Adelaide Higgins and Mr. Roy Chittenden in the role of leaders, giving the entire figures, was a charming interpretation of a beautiful dance, while Miss Saldie Williams with Mr. Clarence Mahoney and Miss Anna McLaughlin with Mr. William Hill, on the floor at the same time, shared the honors with the leading couple, the three couples giving an exhibition of grace and skill reflecting much credit upon their instructor. Miss Belle Smith and Mr. Clarence Mahoney were a graceful couple in their exhibition of the "Maxie," one of the most popular of the new dances, and gave an interpretation that was one of the best numbers of the evening. Dancing with them were Miss Adelaide Higgins with Mr. Roy Chittenden and several figures of the "one step" and Miss Anna McLaughlin with Mr. Hill in the Fox Trot, another of the dances now in vogue, the latter couple making quite a hit. Judging by the enthusiasm of all the dancers, the new dances will be very popular in Sanford. Mrs. Cecil Butt played for the special dance. General dancing was indulged until a late hour. Mrs. B. A. Howard, hostess, served a delicious refreshment course, assisting were Mrs. J. C. Bennet, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin and Misses Saldie Williams and Anna McLaughlin. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Betts, Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Butt, Mesdames C. O. McLaughlin, J. C. Bennet, R. E. Tolar, S. Puleston, Norman Toole and Wm. Leffler; Misses Belle Smith, Saldie Williams, Anna, Lillian and Adelaide Higgins, Anna McLaughlin, Laura Fish, Olga Schultz, Florence Frank; Messrs. Ed. Galloway, Clarence Mahoney, Roy and Ned Chittenden, Billie Hill, Pope Wicker, Hume Rumph, Jarrett, Jackson, Ernest Housholder, Geo. Grovenstein, Ralph Wight, Bowen and Buchanan.

Thimble Party

Mrs. S. O. Shinholser was the gracious hostess at a delightful sewing party Tuesday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. A. E.

Phillips and Miss Salome Hampton. The ladies brought their fancy work and enjoyed a happy, informal social time together. Mrs. J. W. Barnes gave several delightful readings to the great pleasure of all present. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns and tempting refreshments daintily served consisting of salad, cheese sandwiches, saltines and chocolate. Enjoying Mrs. Shinholser's hospitality were Mesdames A. E. Phillips, L. R. Phillips, Mettinger, Moses, Barnes, Henry Wight, F. P. Strong, Wm. Leffler, A. E. Housholder, W. E. Housholder, T. A. Newton, W. L. Morgan, Howard, Steinmeyer and Misses Salome Hampton, Lillie Farnsworth, Effie May and Annie Howard and Miss Martha King.

Announcements

Hereafter the program monthly meetings of the Music Department of the Woman's Club will be open to the public for the nominal admission fee of ten cents. This includes club members as well as the general public, only members of the Music Department having free admission. The program is so delightful and interesting and there is no doubt but that many will avail themselves of the privilege of enjoying good music at such a small cost.

The regular meeting of the Literature Department will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 at the club rooms. A full attendance desired.

Tonight at the Congregational church a fine musical program will be rendered by artists of splendid ability from out of town, assisted by some of Sanford's best talent.

Missionary Playlet

At the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the children of the Sunday school will have charge of the services, in celebration of Home Mission Sunday, under the auspices of the Missionary Union "America, Sweet Land of Liberty," a Home Mission exercise will be presented by the children, bright songs, and recitations by the immigrant children in costume compose a pleasing and attractive program. A cordial welcome is extended to the public.

Tickets for City Beautiful Ball

Tickets for the City Beautiful Ball can be bought of members of the club or at either of the following places: N. P. Yowell's, D. A. Caldwell's & Sons, L. R. Phillips and R. C. Bowers. Tickets are one dollar, which includes supper.

The various committees for the City Beautiful Ball on the 27th report splendid progress, which promises one of the most brilliant dancing affairs in the history of Sanford.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Henry Wight has returned from Lakeland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barret have returned to Sanford for the winter.

Mr. J. Howard Jarrott of Savannah was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Terheun last evening.

Messrs. P. P. Beard and Ray LeBuch are registered at the Sanford House. They motored down from Detroit, Mich., and report a fine trip and good roads almost all the way down.

Mrs. B. F. Renee of New York is a guest of the Sanford House.

Miss Bonnie Bell Carter, who has been the attractive guest of Mrs. W. P. Carter for several weeks returned to her home in Valdosta, Tuesday. Mr. Carter accompanied his niece to Jacksonville, returning home on Thursday.

Miss Fannie Lowery, who has been the popular guest of Miss Belle Smith and Mrs. Braxton Perkins has returned to her home in Plant City.

Mr. and Miss Wilkinson of Daytona motored over to Sanford the early part of the week, bringing with them Miss Mitchell of Miami. They were the guests of Mrs. Stringfellow.

Mrs. Belle Smith and Mrs. J. D. Conrad, who have been the guests of Mrs. Alice Robbins have returned to their home in DeLand.

A noted visitor of the week in Sanford was Dr. Wm. J. Martin.

Eastern Star
At the meeting of the Eastern Star Tuesday night was an unusually large gathering of members, the largest in fact since the meeting of the Grand Chapter in the spring. The officers of the local chapter are very much pleased and encouraged by the growth of the order and the interest exhibited by the members. There were two initiations and a delightful social hour followed the business session. Mrs. J. D. Parker and Mrs. Bryan, hostesses of the evening served punch and wafers. Visitors from out of town were Mrs. J. O. Conrad and Mrs. Belle Smith of DeLand; Mrs. McGagin of Ocala and Mrs. Crosby. Three initiations were announced for the next meeting.

To Withstand Earthquakes.
Earthquake construction has now reached a very practical stage in the seismic districts of Italy, where all new buildings are being erected under strict supervision with respect to their ability to resist earthquake shocks. Professor Omori, the Japanese authority, has estimated that 99.8 per cent of the deaths in the great Messina earthquake of 1908 would have been prevented if the buildings had been properly constructed.

Women and the Koran.
The primrose path was no blithe and gladome way for the Mohammedan woman. Originally the penalty for female unchastity, was imprisonment for life. This was changed later to stoning for married women and 100 lashes and exile for one year for unmarried free women. For slave women one-half of the penalty was imposed.

Ecuador a Fertile Country.
Ecuador is rich in agricultural lands, but in very few cases are they worked to their full capacity. In fact, much of the most fertile land is not under cultivation at all. As is the case in other South American countries, the land is held in such large tracts that proper supervision and cultivation is not practicable.

MANUFACTURERS LIKE SANFORD

SEVERAL OF THEM DESIROUS OF LOCATING HERE

The Herald has often made the statement that Sanford is the manufacturing center.

Even now manufacturers are turning their attention to this section of Florida as the coming manufacturing place of the state.

One of the best propositions handed our way is the manufacturer of cotton goods, especially overalls and the manager wants Sanford to slight him to our advantages.

His offer to come here will be placed before the Commercial Club at the next meeting and there is no doubt that he can be induced to locate here.

GREAT EVENT IN CHURCH CIRCLES

OPENING OF BAPTIST TEMPLE SUNDAY, NOV. 22ND

In spite of the inclement weather large audiences attended the six opening services in the New Baptist Temple last Sunday.

At 9:30 the Sunday school assembled under the leadership of Hon. Jno. D. Jenkins, Gen. Supt.

At 11 a. m. a thanksgiving service was held. A sermon by the pastor on "What the Lord Has Done for Us" gave the workings of the church and building committee in construction of the Temple.

At 6 p. m. the lights were turned on by the children of the members of the building committee.

At 7 p. m. the service was in charge of the choir, of which Prof. J. Rowland Wildman is director.

The day was considered to be one of the greatest in the history of the First Baptist Church.

Notice, Royal Arch Masons. Regular convocation of Nov. 26th has been declared off because of Thanksgiving Day.

Had a Fine Fair C. M. Hand has returned from the Alachua County Fair held at Gainesville last week and reports one of the most pleasant trips of his life.

Friday to attend the Marion County Fair at Ocala and expects to interest several of the owners of horses to bring them to Orlando via Sanford and give us a few days racing at the Seminole County Fair.

FLORIDA OFFICIALS ARE INNOCENT

TOLD THE INVESTORS THE TRUTH ABOUT EVERGLADES

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23 Florida state officials understood and endeavored to make purchasers understand that lands in the Everglades had to be drained before it was habitable, according to the testimony today of Governor Park Trammell of Florida, in the trial of E. C. Chambers, president, and four alleged agents of the Chambers Land Company.

Governor Trammell explained that the state sold certain tracts of Everglades land to obtain money to build canals and drain the remainder. He asserted that for a time it was impossible to sell any of the land because of the agitation about Florida land, but that at the end of the last year the state had been selling Everglades much land at prices ranging from $20 to $100 an acre.

Replied to a question of the court as to why the state did not drain the land before selling it, Governor Trammell said it was not possible to do so at that time. He said the Everglades is not a swamp, but "muck land" covered with low grass.

R. H. Ellis, Supreme Court Justice, asked Trammell if he had any other explanation for the sale of the land.

"Yes, sir," replied Judge Ellis. "I am interested in it because I don't want to see the honor of the State of Florida impugned."

Judge Ellis said Mr. Chambers and others helped persuade the buyers with which the Everglades was being drained. He said his examination it developed that the purchasers of the land would be obliged to pay a tax in addition to the state and county taxes for the drainage work done by the state.

SEMINOLE COUNTY HUNTER'S PARADISE

LOCAL SPORTS HAVE GREAT LUCK DURING THE WEEK

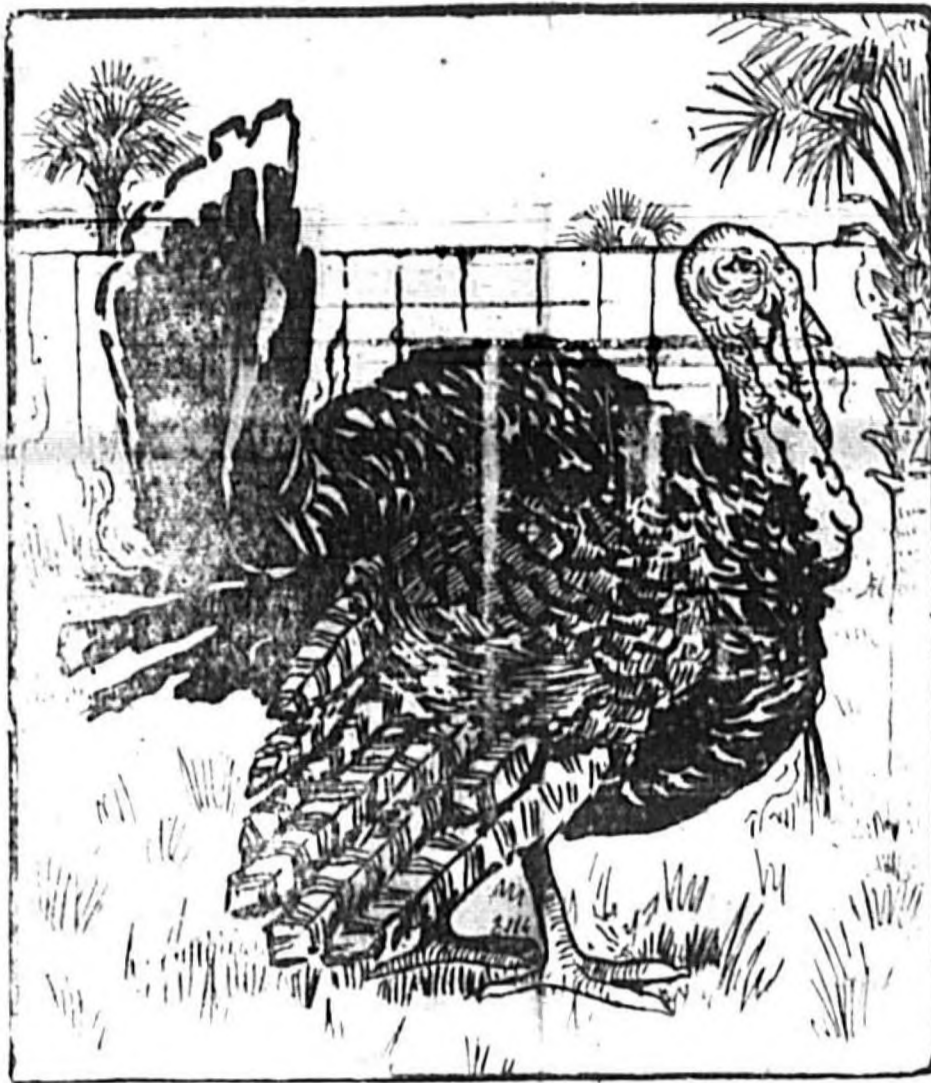

The reports from the various parties who have gone forth from this city to hunt in the past few days would indicate that in Seminole county there exists all the different varieties of game that make the pastime of hunting very pleasant.

No detailed statement is forthcoming from the many who went forth on the first day as the wind blew a gale and the cold was severe enough to make the most intrepid hunter wish he was near a campfire but regardless of the cool weather many of the Sanford sports were lucky enough to bring in some fine bags of quail, turkey and several were fortunate enough to get a deer.

Out in the Black Hammock country around Oviedo the turkey and deer are reported as being very plentiful before the first day. Since that time there have been many of them bagged but there are plenty left for those who wish to seek them in the wild masses of that great country.

From this time until the 20th of February there will be many hunting parties go from this city as Sanford.

HIS MAJESTY, KING TURK

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

There are times in the affair of men when it becomes our duty to boost our city and county, and this duty is paramount to every other duty, but there are also times when we should consider the many blessings conferred upon us by the Lord and our Creator of all things.

Whereas, The American people by their suffrage have elected a Chief Executive under whose wise policy a period of prosperity and safety has been inaugurated and

Whereas, It is believed that even those who may differ with him can still hold fast to the principles of justice and will promote the general welfare of the country and will cooperate with the federal government and will cooperate with the local government in the promotion of the public good thereof and

Whereas, Sanford is the metropolis of Seminole county recently formed by the grace of God and several others whose names we cannot now recall and in the Great Little County of Seminole there are other cities that are flourishing and making great progress and the entire county is prospering to such a remarkable degree as to be beyond comprehension and

Whereas, The recent cold snap seems to have no special grudge against the Sanford growers and our lettuce will continue to be shipped to northern markets to gladden the hearts of the people who are existing in snow and ice and the price will fatten the pocketbooks of the local growers, thus making stronger the boast that Seminole County is the only real Garden Spot in the World; therefore,

Be it Resolved, That we the people of this most favored county hereby urge the necessity of setting aside all rivalry and aspiration for office and for a few hours forget about politics and by combined effort seek to encourage industrial, mercantile and financial pursuit by awakening our people to a restored sense of their responsibility, if such a miracle is possible.

Let us all in this season of beautiful crops and restored confidence in general financial conditions unite in their efforts to promote a broad reciprocal spirit which does not mean patronizing the mail order houses by a jocular and to bring back that degree of business activity which in years past has characterized the county in general and Sanford in particular.

While every cultivated acre is laden with plenty every heart responds to the inspired hope of good times; every ripple on the broad bosoms of Lakes Monroe and Jessup and Harney breathes an invitation to our people to engage in the commerce of the world. As the happiness of one is the concern of all we ask the cooperation of our neighbors here and all over this neck of the woods in all pursuits and as this season marks the advent of a new era industrially and otherwise we desire it to be known that Sanford throws open her gates and we invite the world to enter, barter, trade, sell and buy and aid in inaugurating a prosperity that may extend throughout the land like a tidal wave and to meet us in a spirit of broad patriotic good fellowship intent only upon the common good of our great county.

THE PEOPLE OF SEMINOLE.

By The Herald.

Sanford, Florida, Nov. 26, 1914.

THANKSGIVING 1914

Thanksgiving Service

On next Thursday at 11 o'clock at the Congregational church will be held the annual union Thanksgiving service. All the people of the city are urged to give this hour to Thanksgiving. The following program has been arranged by the Minister's conference:

Presiding—Rev. F. P. Strong. Scripture—Rev. F. E. Steinmeyer. Prayer—Rev. D. E. Brownline. Sermon—Rev. F. H. Watkins. Sermon—Rev. George Hyman. Music—Mr. E. T. Woolcraft.

The great event Friday night at the Sanford House.

SEMINOLE FAIR PROMISES SUCCESS

COMMITTEE HARD AT WORK MAKING THEIR ARRANGEMENTS

The Seminole County Fair will be one of the greatest events of the winter season in Florida.

The fact that it will be strictly a street fair will enhance its value with the business men of the city giving, as it will, the main attractions on the street and keeping the immense crowds in the main part of the city during the four days of the fair.

It has been definitely decided now to hold the Seminole County Fair for four days, in February, beginning February 3rd and lasting four days, making it Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The committee having been named to include every part of the county will now get busy and from this date until the first of February the greatest success in Florida will be busy as bees arranging the various exhibits. Seminole being one of the greatest vegetable and fruit and stock growing sections of the state will naturally have some of the finest exhibits in the south along all of these lines.

Supper will be served in the week making arrangements for the big cattle display and this feature alone will be worth the price of a ticket to Sanford to demonstrate what can be done here in the way of raising real cattle.

The greatest feature about the show will be the fact that every exhibitor will be guaranteed to be the real article, especially "The Fall of Artwork" to be put on here at Sanford for the first time in the south.

Save your money for the Seminole County Fair.

HUNTING SEASON HAS OPENED

GAME LAWS PRINTED AGAIN FOR BENEFIT OF VISITORS

Last Friday, November 20, the open season for hunting begins. We have printed the game law several times, but for the information of those who may not be familiar with it, we print it again:

From November 20 to February 20 sportsmen may hunt for game under restriction imposed by the state laws, which limit the quantity of game that can be killed and require that every person hunting in the state have a hunter's license. County licenses costing $1, give the right to hunt in the county in which they are issued; state licenses, costing $3 give the right to hunt in as many counties in the state as one desires. For non-resident hunters a license of $15 is required.

Game Birds

The game birds designated by the act of 1913 are swans, geese, brant, and river and sea ducks; rails, coots, mud hens, and gallinules, shore birds, plovers, surf birds, snipe, woodcock, sandpipers, tattlers, curlews, wild turkey, grouse, pheasant, quail and turkey doves.

WEATHER MAN GOOD TO SANFORD

VEGETABLES DID NOT SUFFER AND GROWERS ARE HAPPY

Where other point in the state suffered damage by killing frosts and winds, the Sanford Celery and other vegetables were only slightly hurt and only the tenderest vegetation was killed.

There is a vast difference of opinion as to the damage done in this section. The cold winds sweeping across the lake were tempered to a remarkable degree and fields that were side by side exhibit the caprices of the wind. Some tomatoes were killed and in the next field were untouched. Some eggplant is reported touched and other fields are untouched.

The lettuce where it was headed suffered more by the winds and it will take several days to estimate how much the headed stuff will be delayed. Many of the lettuce growers report their stuff as being in fine shape and they will begin shipping this week. The celery of course was not touched, as it takes a regular freeze to hurt this great crop.

According to Weather Observer DuBois the thermometer here only went to the 30 mark at his station on Union avenue. Under the same conditions Jacksonville went to 23, Gainesville to 20 and some points farther south went lower than Sanford. The record here can easily be explained by the protection of the large lakes, a protection that is always guaranteed the growers of the Sanford section.

Our neighbors to the north of us will be obliged to stop shipping the tender vegetables now and our growers will continue to their own.

EVERY HUNTER MUST HAVE LICENSE

THE NEW GAME WARDEN WILL ENFORCE THE LAWS

Every hunter who enters Seminole county must have a license. This is in accordance with the law on the subject and the game warden will see to it that each and every man who hunts his license with him and the warden will examine the papers whenever he finds a man or party of men hunting in this county.

Regardless of what construction some of the land owners around Sanford have placed upon the law this will be enforced. Each hunter will be obliged to have a license regardless of prospect lines and a word to the wise should be sufficient.

The Sunday hunting has also been abolished since the new warden took his office and all who violate the Sabbath as they have heretofore done will come to grief. The law is strict on the Sunday hunting but had never been enforced before in this part of the state and ignorance of the law will not protect any that fall into the hands of the vigilant warden of Seminole.

Remember now that you must have a license to hunt even on your own land, that all infractions of the laws will be strictly enforced and that Sunday hunting especially will be watched by the warden and the offenders will suffer.

B. Y. P. U. Social

On last Friday evening the members of the Baptist Young Peoples Union were most delightfully entertained by their president, Miss Clara Millen, at her home on Palmetto avenue.

The entire lower floor was a bower of loveliness, being decorated with the colors of the union, orange and green, also beautiful pot plants and asparagus fern.

The program for the evening consisted of music and recitations, also a little B. Y. P. U. play, rendered by Misses Martha Fox and Clara Millen Messrs. Franklin, Joe Laing and Edward Millen. This little play was very unique and greatly enjoyed by all. Games and contests suitable for the occasion were most heartily entered into by all, after which dainty refreshments were served, the favors being tiny B. Y. P. U. pennants.

At the close of the evening the entire company joined in singing the rally song of the union, and departed with many good wishes for their hosts and deeper loyalty to their union.

Those present were: Misses Daisy Betts, Ruby Betts, Cora Lee Hamrick, Minnie Rivers, Ethel Roberts, Edith Stewart, Lorena Smith, Linda Connelly, Jimmie Laing, Mary Gatchel and Miss Cleveland; Messrs. R. L. Rowe, R. C. Rockby, Joe Laing, P. S. Fortson, C. V. Franklin, Edward Millen, Rev. Geo. Hyman, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gatchel, Mrs. E. E. Cox and Mrs. Loretta Brotherson.

Stereopticon Lecture

Tonight at the Congregational church at 7:15, Dr. H. J. Williams will deliver a lecture on Japan, Korea and China, illustrated by stereopticon slides, that will be a rare opportunity for the people of Sanford, not only to hear a fine lecture by an able speaker, who has been in the missionary fields of these countries but to see for themselves places, people and conditions that he talks about. The views that Dr. Williams will present are colored and were painted by a native artist in Japan. Dr. Williams is secretary of the Foreign Board of Missions of the Presbyterian church, a man highly intellectual and a lecturer of note. There will be no admission charged.

Dr. Williams comes to Sanford under the auspices of the combined Christian Endeavor Societies of Sanford.

America, Sweet Land of Liberty

The children of the Congregational Sunday school presented a delightful little playlet, entitled "America, Sweet Land of Liberty," Sunday morning at the church, a home mission exercise, which in its development portrayed the loneliness of the emigrant and the hope embodied within their hearts upon reaching the land of the free, and America's cordial welcome from the missionaries. The children rendered their various parts in a manner worthy of their elders, giving a pleasing exercise that was much enjoyed. The platform had been extended and upon this was erected an arch, decorated with green, and bearing upon it in white letters C. H. M. S., standing for Congregational Home Missionary Society. Gates hung from the lower end of the arch, draped in American flags. Fifteen children, carrying flags, representing America led by Miss Clarice Hand in costume and bearing a large flag, the representative of the C. H. M. S., marched into the church and as-ending the platform sang very sweetly "We've a story to tell of the of the Nations." At the conclusion of this song, ten children, impersonating emigrants from various nations led by Sarah Wight, in the character of a Polish girl marched into the church and took their places at the foot of the platform. An appealing little song sung by the emigrants, telling of the hope and joy they expected to find in America, which was responded to by the Americans with a song of welcome, after which each emigrant gave a short recitation, embodying their object in seeking a home in America. This was followed by the C. H. M. S. recitation of Clarice Hand, at the close of which Carrie Hardeman and Thomas Wight held the gates open for the emigrants to pass through into the "Land of Liberty" and all marched from the platform singing America, in which the congregation joined. Mr. Strong gave a short talk to the children on the splendid opportunities of American Christians for helping the friendless emigrants coming to our shores and told them of the work of the missionaries at Ellis Island. The choir rendered a beautiful anthem appropriate to the occasion and the service closed with the hymn "The whole wide world for Jesus." The children representing emigrants were Sarah Wight, Polish girl; Clifford Walker, Turkish boy; Florence Witte, Bohemian girl; Rosemary Smith, Swedish girl; Lawrence Randall, Greek boy; Isabel Strong, Italian girl; Vera Terheun, German girl; Dick Terheun, Slav boy; John Musson, Russian Jew boy; Bertha Macey, French girl.

Much credit is due Mrs. F. P. Strong, chairman of committee for the excellence of the exercise and creditable way in which the children acquitted themselves.

Coming Events

The City Beautiful Ball at the Sanford House Friday, Nov. 27th. The swellest affair of the season that all can attend for the price of one dollar.

Plant sale of the civics committee of the Welfare Department, Woman's Club, at J. D. Roberts' store Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 28th.

Friday, Dec. 4th, at the Imperial, "The Arrival of Kitty," a jolly three act comedy worthy of patronage. Presented by the Stetson organization, which in itself is a surety of fun, frolic and mirth.

Congregational Christmas Bazaar Saturday, Dec. 5th. Pretty and useful articles of fancy work, aprons and a good supper.

The Guild of the Episcopal church will hold their Christmas sale Saturday, Dec. 12. Also a delicious supper will be served.

Personal Mention

Dr. E. D. Brownlee returned Friday from Jacksonville, where he had been in attendance at the state Synod of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brock have returned from Jacksonville where Mr. Brock represented the Presbyterian church of this city at the state Synod assembly.

Dr. H. J. Williams, who delivers a stereopticon lecture at the Congregational church tonight under the auspices of the Endeavor societies of the Presbyterian and Congregational churches will be the guest of Dr. Brownlee and Mr. H. C. DuBose while in Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Bryan, accompanied by Misses Avis and Ada Stenstrom left Sunday morning for a week's visit to relatives and friends in Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner, Miss Martha Fox and Leslie Hill formed a congenial party motoring over to Daytona in the Turner car Sunday.

John H. Allen

The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press of Thursday of last week had the following to say regarding the death of John H. Allen of Hinesburg, Vt. father of John C. Allen, of this city.

"John H. Allen, 76 years old, died at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the effects of a shock, after a few days' illness. Mr. Allen was a resident of Hinesburg all his life, being born in the house in which he died. He is survived by his wife and five children, John C. of Monmouth, Ill., Mrs. H. C. Carsady of Springfield Mass., Mrs. A. L. Walker of Burlington, Mrs. C. L. Clifford of Brandon, and Florence, living at home. Judge Allen was educated in the public schools of Hinesburg, People's Academy of Morrisville and at Potsdam Academy, Potsdam, N. Y. He enlisted in Company G, 14th Virginia regiment, on September 8, 1862, and was appointed first lieutenant. He participated in the battle of Gettysburg. He was captain of Company H, Vermont National Guard, from 1872 to 1873; Judge Allen had been a life long Republican, representing Hinesburg in the legislature of 1880. He was elected assistant judge of Chittenden county in 1900 and re-elected in 1902 and 1904. He was a member of the Baptist church, superintendent of the Sunday school for 30 years, member of Patriot Lodge, No. 33, F. and A. M., was first commander of Cummings Post, No. 37, G. A. R., companion of Vermont commandery of the Loyal Legion. Judge Allen was a man who possessed a remarkable personality, having the gift of making and holding friends, genial and generous to a fault. He was public spirited, always standing for high ideals. The passing of Judge Allen removes a Christian gentleman, who has left an imprint on those who knew him. He will not only be missed in his immediate family, but by the entire community. The funeral will be held Thursday at the Baptist church at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Allen spent a winter in Sanford and was a guest at Comfort Cottage. He will be remembered by those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance at that time.

Ballard's Snow Liniment

It is a Powerful Preventive, as Well as a Speedy Cure

Rub it in on the parts affected whenever the conditions seem to indicate a spell of this painful ailment; it will warm the joints and ward off the trouble. If the disorder has already commenced, the treatment is the same, the rubbing helps the liniment to penetrate to the seat of pain. The relief is prompt and very satisfying; the aching joints are relieved, the muscles relaxed so that the sufferer feels again the strength and suppleness of youth. For flesh wounds of all kinds, it is a wonderful remedy. Try it for cuts, burns, bruises, sores, galls, chafed spots, barbed wire cuts, sprains, swellings, frost bites. It cures quickly and completely.

RED CROSS RECITAL WELL ATTENDED

WAS A VERY FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM WELL RENDERED

Notwithstanding the intense cold Friday night there was a large representative gathering of Sanford people to enjoy the fine program of music at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the Red Cross Fund Association. Much credit is due Mr. E. T. Woodruff, to whose judgment and management the audience are indebted for the rare privilege of hearing such a group of artists upon this occasion.

The audience was not disappointed in the great tenor, Badrig Vartan. His blending of registers, modulation and tone emission were all highly artistic and thoroughly pleasing. This was particularly true of his last group of songs.

It was a great delight to hear the beautiful and sweet toned pipe organ, displayed in all its possibilities under the skillful touch of Miss Eva Alma Baker, solo organist of Stetson University. She was paid the rare compliment of an encore on the last number of the program and responded graciously.

Miss Helen Bates possesses a fine presence and sweet contralto voice that gave much pleasure. Her group of songs were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Julia Ball, pianist, from Stetson University accompanied the singers from Stetson and also rendered two charming selections on the piano. It was due to Miss Ball's generosity in being the first to respond to the encore, that the pleasures of the evening were prolonged, for each number following received an applause that would only be satisfied with a response.

Through the courtesy and kindness of Miss Mary Green Deaderick, B. L. M. O. and Mr. Berkeley Blackman Rollins College was ably represented. Miss Deaderick's interpretation of child work was excellent and met with hearty appreciation.

Mr. Blackman's fine basso voice was very pleasing and his singing much enjoyed. Among the best numbers of the evening was Miss Lucille Aspinwall's group of songs. Sanford is very proud of this local singer who reflects so much credit upon the town and her voice was never sweeter than upon this occasion. Miss Aspinwall is herself an artist of splendid ability. In the duo "Hebe," from Don Quixote, Miss Aspinwall and Mr. Woodruff rendered a very delightful number. Mr. Woodruff is another of Sanford's best talent and favorite singers. Mrs. J. K. Mettinger, mezzo soprano and Miss Ruth Compton, contralto, completed a group of home talent, whose effective work in the quintette "Fancy Moonlight Dance" made it one of the most enjoyable of an altogether fine program.

Miss Frances Aspinwall accompanied the Sanford singers and acquitted herself most creditably. She is one of the youngest accompanists in the state, with a poise and presence rarely attained by one so young. She has the promise of a successful future ahead of her.

The audience was well pleased with the beautiful program rendered with so much ability by artists of such distinction. The applause was both generous and genuine. The program follows:

- Offertory E. Batiste
- Barcelona W. Walstenholme
- Gondoleleri Nevin
- Miss Baker
- Das Wirtshaus Schubert
- Lungi dal Caru bene, Italian, 18th Century Larti

ONSTEEN ITEMS

W. Z. Hayman's new store is about completed and he is looking for a large stock of dry goods soon, which has been much needed since the big store got burned the first of the year.

A surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. Gramling's birthday. Delicious refreshments were served. All spent a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. K. B. Osteen returned Monday from a visit with friends and relatives in DeLand and other points. Miss May Leonardy returned home Monday after a visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Kate Stafford is enjoying a week's visit with Mrs. Kenick of Monroe.

Mr. Clark Leonardy and wife of Daytona motored over Sunday and spent the day with his mother. Mrs. M. L. Leonardy.

Sunday school at the Methodist church every Sunday at 3 p. m.

Sunday school at the Baptist church every Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

Rev. Bartlett is out tonight to conduct cottage prayer meeting at Mr. Wells.

Brooke Bros' store was broken open a few nights ago, but they were discovered before much damage was done. The thieves made their escape.

The Osteen Board of Trade is making good progress. They are going ahead and getting out some nice pamphlets for advertising.

Mr. Purdy has three sweet potatoes that weigh 25 pounds. How is that for Osteen?

Orange picking has not opened here yet but will soon. Will have quite a large crop this year.

KNIGHTS INSTALLED IN SANFORD LODGE

MANY PROMINENT CATHOLICS OF FLORIDA IN ATTENDANCE

"Never was the likes of it seen in Sanford before" was what an old resident said Sunday night when it was all over. "I have never seen a finer lot of candidates was what a visiting knight of much experience said.

The ceremonies began at the Catholic church, where Father Barry of DeLand preached an eloquent and forceful sermon, to one of the largest congregations ever seen in All Souls Church.

A line of march was formed and one hundred men wended their way two by two to the hall of invitation. It was an all day job to get through the three degrees with such a crowd and all were ready for the banquet served at the Sanford House at 9 p. m.

The neighboring towns sent large delegations. DeLand was represented by such prominent men as Messrs. G. A. Dreka and three sons, Messrs. Bernard and Joseph Nordmann, Maurice Ziegler, Wm. A. Ldonette, and others whose names we failed to get. Orlando sent Mr. Jacob Mayer and five sons, Messrs. Hourihan, Lyons, Lawton and Bunbee. Palatka was well represented by Mr. John Riaghun; Eustis by C. G. Megawee, Enterprise by Messrs. Wm. Thayer and Harry Quackenbush. Tampa, Jacksonville and St. Augustine furnished the team members, mysterious individuals who would answer to any name.

At the banquet, which was certainly a credit to the Sanford House, Father Brosnahan, who called himself the proudest man in Sanford acted as toastmaster and the orators of the evening who distinguished themselves were the following:

Rev. Father Fox of Orlando, Mr. A. I. Rogers, State Deputy of K of C, who makes Jacksonville his home, Mr. John J. Abern, G. K. Jacksonville Council, Mr. Clarence

Rogers, G. K. St. Augustine Council, Messrs. F. W. Mahoney and Theo. Schaaf of Sanford, and Mr. W. T. Catter, now of Jacksonville, who remembers the Sanford of old pioneer days.

The tribute to the ladies present, and ladies in general for all that, given by Mr. Erin Fitzgerald of Tampa will not soon be forgotten. The tempting menu was as follows:

- Oyster Cocktail
- Beef Consomme with Rice
- Radishes Olives Pickles
- Fresh broiled Lake Trout
- Colbert Sauce
- Saratoga Chips
- Roast Young Chicken, southern W
- Roast young Chicken, southern style
- Fresh String Beans
- Mariachina Punch
- Roast Tenderloin of Beef
- Sherry Wine Sauce
- French Peas Mashed Potatoes
- Shrim Salad, Mayonnaise
- Sarah Bernhardt Ice Cream
- Chocolate Layer Cake
- Macaroones Lady Fingers
- American Cheese
- Unecda Biscuits
- Cafe Noir
- Hon Bons
- Sanford Made Cigars

Vital Statistics Vital Mr. R. J. Holly, Editor, Sanford Herald:

In the Tampa Tribune of last Wednesday's issue, you will find the following article:

Life Depends on Proving Birthplace
"American in London in danger of being shot as a spy if he cannot satisfy authorities"

New York, Nov. 17th. In an effort to save the life of Joseph Ullman, a wealthy furrier under sentence of death in London as a German spy, attempts were made to find his birth certificate by means of which his American citizenship might be established. Records show no entry, however. Steps were then taken to find the death of his mother who died at Ullman's birth, and two citizens who knew Ullman's parents.

It is feared, however, that Ullman's citizenship cannot be proved and that he must die. British authorities have given Ullman two weeks to prove his American citizenship, it was said. If it cannot be established that he was a native of the city, the State Department, it is said, will take steps in his behalf.

Joseph Ullman, his friends say, is head of the firm of that name with offices in New York, London, Paris and other cities. The firm has been in business of the firm in London, but took the car from the city in the city, to get to the president.

This only goes to show the extreme importance of each man's duty to keep an accurate report of vital statistics. This man might just as well have been born at Sanford as any other city in the United States, and should this have been the case, the State Department would have been able to prove his citizenship.

Reports of the press in the city, and the fact that the report from Lake and given by the club president, Mrs. George Wright, held high rank. So many clubs reported that preparations are being made to build club houses that Mrs. Hocker asked for a count of same to be made so that she might amend her report of the first session.

Eustis reported that a fine of $10 in cash was the penalty for throwing a piece of paper on the streets of the town, and that the same was rigidly enforced and that results are apparent.

FLA. FEDERATION WOMAN'S CLUBS

GREAT MEETING COMES TO CLOSE AT LAKELAND

With the selection of DeLand as the next place of meeting and the election of the following officers, the business session of the Florida Federation of the Woman's Clubs came to an end Friday afternoon at Lakeland.

- President—Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville.
- Vice President at Large—Mrs. T. V. Moore, Miami.
- Vice President—First section, Dr. Mary B. Jewett, Winter Haven; Second section, Mrs. J. D. Randall, Lawley; Third section, Mrs. Ghas. Cay, Tallahassee; Fourth section, Mrs. Geo. Cay, Palatka; Fifth section, Mrs. Edgar Lewis, Fort Pierce.
- Recording secretary—Mrs. J. W. Dickins, Sanford.
- Corresponding secretary—Mrs. H. B. Minium, Jacksonville.
- Treasurer—Miss Kate Jackson, Tampa.
- Auditor—Miss Beale Williams, Crescent City.

State Secretary to General Federation—Mrs. Wm. Hocker, Ocala. Give Small Towns a Chance

Probably the most important business to come before the Federation was brought up just before adjournment was taken by Miss Kate Jackson of Tampa. This matter was the entertainment of delegates by the Hostess Club. Heretofore it has been the custom for the city in which the federation convenes to entertain free of cost the federation president, officers, chairmen of the various departments and the presidents of each club, this having been done by Lakeland and all other towns which have entertained the federation.

Miss Jackson made a stirring speech urging that the matter be placed to a vote that only the president and the official board and chairmen of the departments hereafter be entertained and that the president of each club and delegates pay their own way or arrange that matter between themselves and the club they represented. This was unanimously passed and hereafter the small city will be eligible to entertain the federation, where before it was a financial responsibility.

This morning the federation had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Von Bloughman, representative of the national campaign against tuberculosis, who urged the responsibility of all women in this matter, and the plan of a visiting nurse was especially recommended to Women's Clubs. The American Red Cross seal, as a means of financing tubercular work was also presented.

Reports of the press in the city, and the fact that the report from Lake and given by the club president, Mrs. George Wright, held high rank. So many clubs reported that preparations are being made to build club houses that Mrs. Hocker asked for a count of same to be made so that she might amend her report of the first session.

The Apperson New Light

Four is a Wonderful Car

The Apperson Brothers Automobile Co. is now building cars with the 60-inch tread. The Apperson Automobiles are a very high grade of cars

They have over twenty years of the best kind of record. They are a perfect combination of power, lightness, durability, luxury and economy.

These high-priced builders (the very oldest builders of the best American gasoline cars) now waiver from their life-long policy of building nothing but high-priced cars for a select few, who did not consider from five to ten thousand dollars too much for a fine motor car.

The new light four is the ideal five passenger, four cylinder car. It is a very powerful car, 40 horsepower, and weighs only 2580 pounds. It has the Famous APPERSON Motor, known on two continents to be the best and most powerful gasoline engine for its size ever built; is a marvel of engineering skill. Fitted to it is the smoothest operating clutch ever made for motor cars. This is the APPERSON Metal Clutch, patented by Elmer Apperson and used exclusively upon APPERSON Cars. It is practically indestructible.

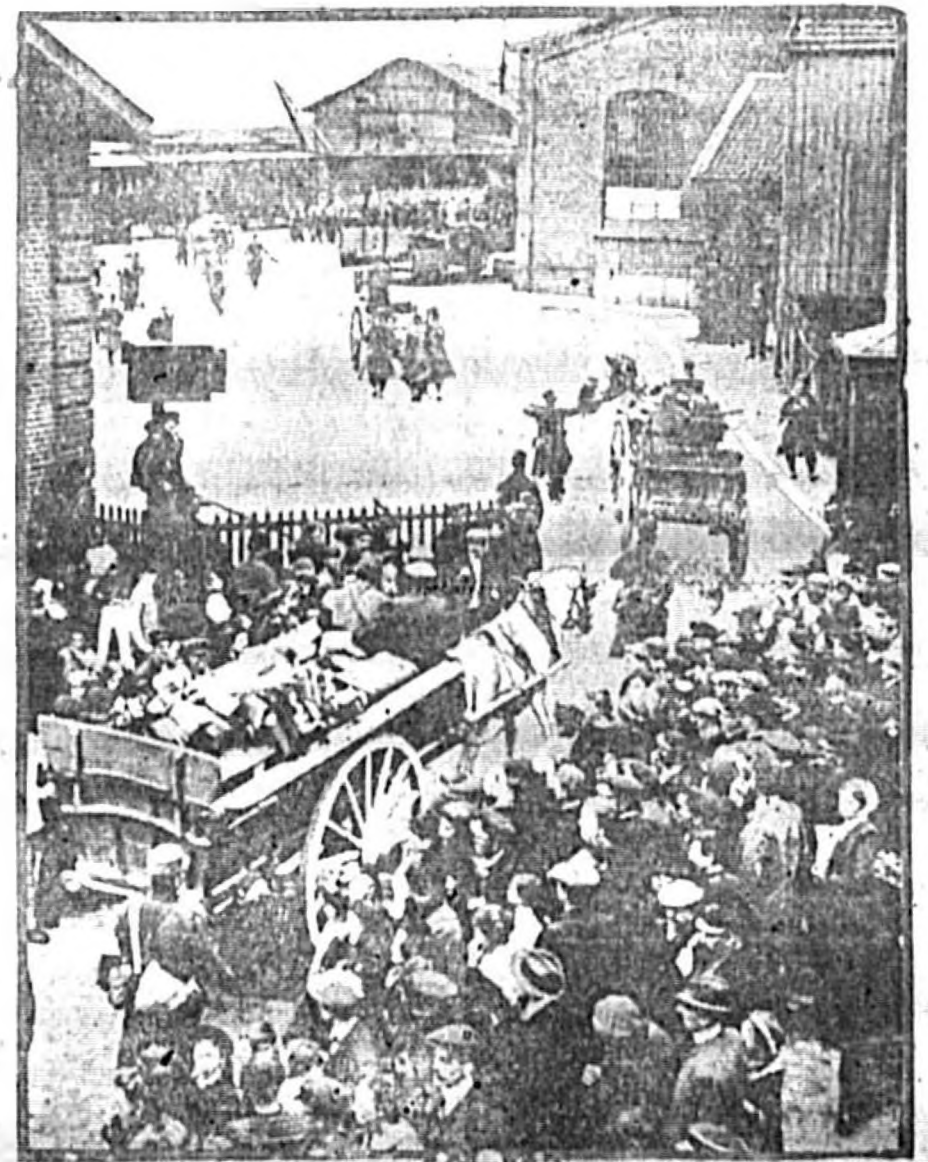

This car is electrically started and lighted by the best system in the world. It is a quality APPERSON Car. 95 per cent of it is made in the Apperson shops, the pioneer company, having over twenty years experience in motor car building.

CUPID A BUSINESS WRECKER

Colorado Storekeeper Has Trouble In Keeping His Pretty Clerks From Making Engagements.

Boulder, Colo.—Cupid has worked such havoc in the clerking force of a department store here during the past month that I. T. Earl, the proprietor, is pestered. He proposes now to require every young woman who enters his employ in the future to sign an agreement not to get married for at least six months.

For several months Earl has been kept busy reorganizing his clerking force because of numerous desertions due to engagements.

This week two young women holding the most responsible positions in his store handed in "notices" that they would resign. They admitted "intrigues" with Cupid. Earl regarded this as the last straw and immediately set upon plans to break the matrimonial trust that seems to have thrown its mantle over his store.

BIG LION HUNT IN FRANCE

Bandage Shot in the Leg During the Chase of Escaped Circus Animal.

Paris.—A lioness hunt in the woods that lasted all night and ended in the shooting of the lioness took place at Bourges on Tuesday.

The lioness escaped from its cage during a circus performance. The tamer was in the cage performing with six lions, while a woman gymnast was swinging to and fro on a trapeze at the top of the cage, and the band was playing "The Blue Danube."

Suddenly, with a great leap, the lioness cleared the railings, fifteen feet high. The circus was in an uproar, and in the panic that followed the lioness trotted off.

LONDON DARK TO REPEL ZEPPELINS

At Night Resembles City of the Dead.

READY FOR AIR INVADERS.

Searchlights Scour Sky and Maxims Perched on Many High Buildings Await Foo—Visitors Shudder and Imagine Uncanny Things Until They Become Accustomed to Gloom.

The average Londoner has changed. He has cast off his cloak of indifference and now becomes an interested spectator of the activities around him. A battery of artillery rattles through the streets and he pauses to gaze in wonder at those business-looking steel tubes that will soon be hurling death and destruction at the enemy.

During the day his thoughts dwell with the allies, picturing them in a superhuman struggle as best he can from the scary reports of the newspapers. But at night he turns his attention to the skies and thinks of Zeppelins. "Will they attack us tonight?" is his constant question.

In any event London is fully prepared to meet such a formidable foe as the Zeppelin, for searchlights scour the sky for them at night, and Maxim guns are perched on many high buildings waiting, ever ready to spit forth their deadly missiles and bring the aircraft down into the busy streets.

To a stranger London would appear as a city of the dead, for the first thing that strikes one is the absence of light. During the day everything is normal, but at night—well, there is something awfully depressing about it—something that makes one shudder and imagine uncanny things.

London Dark and Dismal London has for years been known as a city of brightly illuminated streets and equally bright and inviting shops. But now the whole scene has changed. Everything is dark and dismal, and one has to squint across the streets like a rabbit for fear some dimly lit automobile should fly one down.

Nevertheless there is movement, there is life. The streets still resound with the rumble of heavy traffic and the continual honk honk of motor horns.

The darkness is accounted for by the fact that more than half the huge electric lamps are extinguished, and the few remaining lights are partly blacked-out, so that the light shines to the ground in a queer looking way.

Shop lights are dimmed and shaded and no longer blaze forth with a brilliant flame that is as attractive as it is astounding.

In the market districts one no longer finds the glare of gas and kerosene lamps on the counterpane's' stands, and these little portable "shops" are now illuminated with small oil lamps or candles placed in bottles.

The tram cars and motor omnibuses, which a few weeks ago moved through the main streets like gigantic glowworms, grow dimmer every night and they are gradually decreasing as the government is requisitioning them for the front.

At Night in Wartime. I muddled with the crowd, says a newspaper correspondent, cut perhaps on the same errand as myself—that of seeing London in wartime and at night.

"Suddenly some one shouted, 'Look! Look!' Swinging around, I saw a great arm of light flash right across the sky. It was one of the many searchlights manipulated by keen-eyed mariners.

I went to move on, when I ran across a soldier friend of mine. "Wonderful, isn't it?" he exclaimed, jerking a thumb in the direction of the light.

"They've got the right men on those jobs, and you can bet they wouldn't be long finding any foreign aircraft. As soon as they found 'er they'd just keep the limelight on 'er, so 'er speak, then the boys on the roofs would sight their Maxims, let fly at 'er, and then—well, it would be all up with the air ship." Then he continued seriously.

"Do you really think any of the Zeppelins will ever reach London? I don't, for one, for there are searchlights and guns at different intervals along the coast and on the route to London, and you can bet an invading airship would have a darned tough time of it if she tried to get to London."

Familiar Spots Unrecognized. As I passed down Northumberland avenue, which leads to the Thames embankment I heard some one say: "That street seems familiar, but I can't quite recall it. What street is it?"

Did You Know

That the first battle of the present great European War was fought just 100 miles from The Hague, the seat of the famous World Peace Conference? That the Kiel Canal which harbors the German Fleet is just twice as long as the Panama Canal? That the Straits of Dover, separating France and England, is only 26 miles across? That Nicholas II, Czar of Russia and George V, King of England, look enough alike to be brothers?

Busy Street
 I love a busy, hustling town
 One day they put the paving down,
 All nice and smooth and sweet;
 Next day they tear it up again.
 From one end of the street back to
 Its other end, that's what they do.
 And then they get it smooth and flat,
 And give it a last loving pat.
 And then there is a shriek of fear
 Comes from the city engineer—
 He has mislaid his monkey wrench!
 And instantly they start a trench
 And toss the pavement all around
 Until the monkey wrench is found!
 And then they tamp the dirt in tight,
 And get it leveled off all right,
 And surface it with hard concrete,
 And make a street as is a street
 By putting sand and brick on that,
 And the steam roller makes it flat.
 Then they pierce that pavement thro' and thro'
 To lay a line of pipe or two!
 Then they repair that, and it lies
 Smoothly beneath the summer skies
 For, it may be, a day or two;
 Then there's a sewer to run through!
 Now, when some one you chance to meet
 Talks of the "busy city street,"
 That's what he means, in this man's town—
 The street that's getting up and down
 And rolling over that way, till
 It just seems like it can't lie still.
 —Judd Mortimer Lewis.

city if one can find there what is desired, instead of buying the same thing in some other town.
 There is a good deal to be said for the doctrine of America for Americans and it turns into a practical policy when Americans stand by each other and trade with each other. It is the case already that United States exports more than ten per cent of its manufactured products while other countries have so narrow a market that they are obliged to sell 15 to 50 per cent abroad in order to dispose of their wares.
 That makes a very heavy competition in neutral markets. We are wise, therefore, in buying as far as we can of one another and thus helping to build up domestic industry, keeping wages at home, keeping money in circulation in our own country, instead of sending it abroad.

Those who have been bothered with new shoes can appreciate the following from Walt Mason on the joys of wearing new shoes:
 It's hard to seem quite dignified, when wearing shoes fresh from the store; your feet feel hot as though just fried, and all the cords and tendons sore. I'm wearing now new Number Twelves; the dealer said, when they were sold from off his overburdened shelves: "These shoes are worth their weight in gold. From lowest basement to the roof, I do not keep a shoe in stock that does not fit the human hoof, and makes you happy when you walk." The birds are singing on the bough, their songs, no doubt, are pure and sweet, and soulful as the law allows, but I can only think of feet. The trees are clothed in red and gold, they glimmer in the gentle heat, they whisper when the nights are cold, but I can only think of feet. The busy squirrels gather nuts, preparing for the time of sleek.

when snow shall hide the highway's rut, but I can think of naught but feet. The pastor preaches well and long, his sermon is a perfect treat, the choir sends up a throbbing song, but all my thoughts are still on feet. And when my guests I entertain, and when I sit me down to eat, I'm meditating on the pain that teeters through my swollen feet. And there are moments when I feel I'd like to be a charger fleet, and have a smith take shoes of steel, and nail the blamed things on my feet.

Of all the sins which the race is subject, write thoughtlessness first. The poet tells us of the evils of ambition—"by that sin fell the gods," he says. But thoughtlessness—through that sin is a human race held down, prevented from arising, and blighted in its own exertions.

It is thoughtlessness, for example, for employee that causes strikes, or thoughtlessness of employee for employer. When thoughtlessness is not, there peace prevails, and all vexed questions solved.
 It is thoughtlessness generally that accounts for the absence of the cook, that has made the domestic servant question a most momentous one. The housewife, kindly in her nature, well meaning and as just as she knows how to be, it thoughtless often, of the comfort of the "help." Her own cares and troubles are many; she has a million things to remember, a thousand vexations with which she has to wrestle every hour of the day. So she is naturally thoughtless of the girl back in the kitchen. She pays the servant what she believes an adequate wage. She furnishes a room—if four barren walls surrounded by a bleak and dreary ceiling can be called a room. She would not mistreat a tramp, this housewife, but she is thoughtless of the servant in that she does not appreciate what it means to toil all day in a gloomy kitchen and ascend a back stair to a cold cheerless room when mirth of childish laughter or of guests illumines all the rest of the house.

The world's work is accomplished, the days come and go, the seasons change, but few of us have ever thought of the ills of those who do the world's work. How many of us, indeed, have ever gotten up before daylight and watched these workers on the way to the factory or shop—travelling home while the gaslight still flickers, returning after dark has again fallen upon the world. How many of us have considered these little tin pails, and the plain food that within them lies? How very few of us who sit about a cheerful table and partake of a steaming meal, realize what it means to feed from the clammy sides of a tin pail?
 If, for twenty-four hours, thoughtfulness were enshrined, if all of us who would think of the other fellow's would think of the other fellow's comforts for a single day, if the world knew not thoughtlessness for a few brief minutes, the millennium would be upon us. There would be such cooperation upon the part of the weak and the strong, such a gentle consideration the one for another, such a Godliness of charity for the faults and shortcomings of others, that never again would we have to pray—"Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

Says a contributor whose character might easily be guessed: "If you let some boys know that they may be able to annoy you, you might as well go and jump into the river, for it is certainly true that there are innocent looking kids with more malicious mischief in their make-up than in half the scoundrels in some penitentiaries."
 The statement is true wherein it refers to "malicious mischief." A boy knows nothing about malice; very few, if any boys, are inherently malicious. That they are mischievous is too well known to require further argument, and it is out of that mischievousness that comes the desire to annoy those whom they have found can be annoyed.

In almost every neighborhood you will find some fellow at whom the boys seem to have a special "spite." When bells are to be rung, his is the first to receive attention; when front gates are to be removed, his is removed before any other gate is thought of; when anybody in the neighborhood is to be annoyed, why should not the boys begin upon the person whom they know is annoyed with the least effort?
 A boy knows his friends, and respects them and is loyal to them. He also knows his enemies, or supposed enemies. While he may, in the exuberance of his spirits also annoy to some extent his friends, he is going to rub it in on his enemies, and a boy always believes that those persons most easily annoyed are his greatest enemies.

If one really understood boy nature, he would need no further books. His education would be complete. If he could unravel the mental process by which a boy reasons, he could compute the weight of a ghost. But the trouble is, few people ever consider that there is such a thing as boy nature; consequently they go through life ignorant of the most dominant force of the universe. With many people there seems to be a sort of dividing line between boyhood and manhood and, once across the line into the realms of manhood they are unable to find so much as a knot hole in the fence through which they may look back and estimate boyhood. It is such people that are so easily annoyed.

But with others there is no line between the two. They never shed their boyish natures. The mischief of earlier days abides with them and acts as a shield against the pranks of other boys. Boys read into such eyes a friendship which does not have to be spoken. They understand each other—man and boy.

GOES FISHING; CATCHES GIRL
 Little Cincinnati Fisherman Was Very Much Surprised When the Fish Screamed.

Cincinnati.—Freddie Goshorn, aged three, found one of his father's fishing lines. Taking a piece of meat out of the icebox Freddie went fishing. He cast the line out the front window of his parents' third floor flat. For some time he failed to have any luck and Freddie began to doubt the fish stories told by his father. Suddenly he got a bite that an old-time fisherman would call a whale. Freddie pulled and the "fish" let out a scream. He pulled again and a second scream aroused the neighborhood. Freddie never heard of a fish screaming, so he leaned out of the window to have a look. On the end of his line he saw Mary Hall, aged four, residing on the first floor of the building. Freddie dropped his line. Neighbors cut the line and Mary Hall was taken to the City hospital in auto patrol 3, where the fishhook was cut out of her head.

SNAKES FIGHT DUEL TO DEATH
 Big Crowd of People Sees Moccasin Beaten and Eaten by Nonpoisonous Fox.

Fuquay, N. C.—A crowd here witnessed a snake fight recently. A king snake and a moccasin were discovered in deadly combat near a spring. The king snake had the moccasin's head in its mouth when discovered, and the moccasin had its tail tightly twisted around a root on the water's edge, the king snake being unable to loosen the hold so it could finish the job of swallowing its enemy. Onlookers broke the moccasin's hold from the root, and the two snakes were carried to a clear opening nearby, where the king snake made away with its rival by squeezing its life out. Then the king snake swallowed the moccasin and crawled leisurely back to the spring.

"Matrimony is the cause of the servant problem," opines an otherwise exchange. Entirely true, come to think of it! You remember, do you not, what very little use you had for them when you were single in bachelor quarters.

Just what is there that should anger a man and drive him to the seventh plane of cursedness and disagreeableness generally when some one at the other end of the wire asks that pertinent query: "Who is speaking please?" Men who under all other circumstances are entirely companionable and human bear this question through the transmitter and come back with a "Wotell does it matter to you who is speaking?" Since this is true of about 90 per cent of folks the only deduction can be that 90 per cent of folks are actually peevish about who they are and it assumes that the proportions are of a national trait. Seriously this little flash of childishness could be eliminated from the daily scheme of things and wouldn't be missed any more than a barber on an Indian reservation.

Even if it shall prove to be the case that many things are still bought in foreign countries that might be bought in our own it is also true that the sentiment in favor of buying things of domestic make shows great progress, and the idea meets approval in almost every direction.

There will always be enough of buying abroad in various countries because they have a surplus to sell in certain lines and that surplus is naturally seeking a foreign market. But such excess of domestic demand is lessened materially when citizens generally make it a point to buy of their fellow countrymen, just as it is a good thing to buy in one's own

ST. JOHNS RIVER PRACTICAL ROUTE

INLAND WATERWAYS WILL RECOGNIZE THIS ROUTE IN THE FUTURE

The meeting of the East Coast Inland Waterways organization was largely attended and Sanford was represented by Hon. C. R. Walker, who represented the Commercial Club.

Sanford and all the cities on the St. Johns river while favoring the East Coast canal think it advisable that the river should be used as far as possible, as this great artery of trade and travel is already assured and the government had already expended as far as practicable.

Government engineers have already approved the St. Johns river as part of the inland waterways, the idea being to make the river the upper part of the coastal canal as far as Lake Harney and from there cut a canal through Salt Creek into the Indian river and thus give the people of Florida the benefit of an entire, feasible canal and one that will remain open without the great expense that is now attached to the upper part of the coastal canal above Titusville.

Mr. Walker closed with many of the delegates to the meeting at St. Augustine and the majority of them in favor of the St. Johns river as the upper canal and for the purpose of strengthening the idea a meeting of the people of Jacksonville, Green Cove Springs, Palatka, DeLand, Seville, Titusville, Ft. Pierce, Ft. Myers, and Tampa was to be held at St. Augustine, December 10th for the purpose of forming an organization to push the Inland Canal along the lines that the government will recognize as being the most feasible.

Under present conditions and agitation, the government will not be able to grant much of an appropriation for improving the river and harbor of the route and this being the case the meeting at St. Augustine employed plans that will demonstrate beyond any shadow of doubt the economy and feasibility of the St. Johns river route in the great inland waterway from New York to Miami via the river and Lake Harney.

advantages of the St. Johns river above all other routes. Mr. Walker will make his report at the meeting of the Commercial Club next Friday night, December 4th and the club will outline plans for the future regarding this most important feature in the development not only of Sanford but of the state.

Stetson Wins Again Monday The Stetson second team journeyed to Sanford where they played the football team of the Sanford High School, who had promised to think they could make a showing against them. Sanford was defeated without trouble by the score of 11 to 0. At no time were the Stetson boys in difficulty, the ball usually staying in Sanford's territory. Only fumbles and the shortness of time kept the score from being much larger.

MIAMI LAWYER AND DAUGHTER KILLED

A HORRIBLE MURDER COMMITTED IN DADE COUNTY LAST WEDNESDAY

Miami, Fla., Nov. 27.—With skulls crushed by a steam engine and bones scattered in all directions, Adam A. Boggs, 45 years old, a leader of the Florida bar and his daughter, Mary, were murdered this morning in their country home at Coconut Grove and the bodies were discovered at 7 o'clock this morning.

The coroner's jury, which is now in session by unknown means, Boggs had a national reputation as attorney for the great Florida oil companies and had been a member of the Florida bar since 1880. He was a member of the St. Johns river and Lake Harney canal committee.

OFFICIAL GERMAN STATEMENT

Berlin, Germany (By wireless to London), Nov. 27. An official announcement given out in Berlin today is as follows: "In the western arena of the war the situation remains unchanged. The French opened an attack in the region of St. Hilaire with strong forces. The strength of this attack gradually dwindled and the movement was finally repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. We have made progress at Apremont and there is no change in the situation in east Prussia. Our troops under General von Mackensen at Lodz and Lowicz inflicted heavy losses on the first and second, and on a portion of the fifth Russian armies. In addition to many killed and wounded we have in our possession about 40,000 uninjured prisoners, twenty cannon, 150 ammunition wagons and 156 machine guns, while we destroyed 30 cannon. In these battles our young troops did brilliantly in spite of great sacrifices. We have not succeeded in bringing this fighting to a close in spite of the excellent results already gained. This is due to the enemy bringing up extra strong reinforcements from the east and the west. Yesterday we repulsed their attacks everywhere and the final result is still pending."

BROTHERHOOD ENJOYED EVENING

A LARGE CROWD GATHERED AT THE MANSE FOR SMOKER

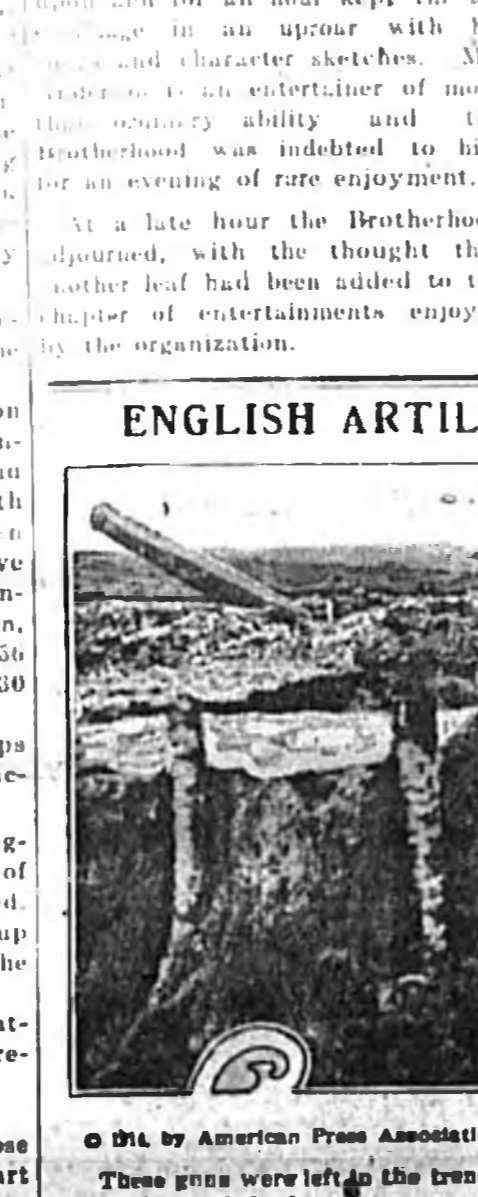

The lunch and smoker of the Presbyterian Brotherhood class and their guests last Thursday night was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the social season in this city. The Brotherhood class has a reputation for good deeds and the least of these is the habit of making the members and guests feel at home at the social gatherings.

About forty-five gathered at the Manse on Oak avenue pursuant to the call and after they had all been seated Hon. D. L. Thrasher called upon Dr. Williams for a few remarks and the Doctor who is a world traveler and well known missionary was most interesting in his sketches of his travels.

The new president of the Brotherhood, H. J. Minton was called out where the audience could view him and made to talk, as were the vice president, D. D. Caldwell, the secretary, Wideman Caldwell and the treasurer, Edward Lane.

About this time the lunch of young women, hot rolls, pickles and coffee was announced and the same abundance and justice to all was followed and as the boys had some good music was rendered by Dr. Batt on the violin and Mr. Logan on the piano.

ENGLISH ARTILLERY ABANDONED.

LAKE COUNTY SELLS ROAD BONDS

TWO HUNDRED MILES WILL BE PAVED IN OUR SISTER COUNTY

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 27.—At an important meeting of the board of county commissioners of Lake county, held all day Tuesday, bids were received on the $500,000 of bonds for good roads throughout Lake county, for which plans were drawn by the J. B. McCrary Company, Atlanta, and the following bids were received: John Naveen & Co., Chicago, bids on the whole issue, par, accrued interest and a premium of $5,680.

After long considering the matter and much discussion by the board as to the amount of bonds to be sold at this time, the advertisement having been on bonds on other $200,000 or $300,000, it was decided that the price offered by Field, Richards & Co., R. M. Grant & Co., and the McCrary Company was a very good one.

The plan for the road work, which will be for two miles of road to each section, and the improvement of the portions of the roads, will be to be made by the county through the McCrary Co. (Atlantic City, N. J.) and the Lake county commissioners should meet at 10 o'clock and then hold their regular meeting at 7 o'clock.

Nothing to say the road further. Many of the good road boosters were present at the meeting of the board and were much pleased at the audience shown by the probable road houses represented in the bids. The county commissioners will meet on the same date and probably will be the best but received at that time. Fearing that the price given to the McCrary Co. advised that they be readjusted and stated to the board that they felt sure that the bonds could be sold at par or better, that in fact, they would guarantee the county themselves to pay for them for all the bonds they desired to sell. The results yesterday was that the county received 102 1-5 which is an extremely good price for this time.

OFFICIAL FRENCH STATEMENT

Paris, France, Nov. 27. The official French announcement given out in Paris this afternoon reads as follows: "No important developments marked the day of November 25. In the north the cannonading diminished in intensity, and no infantry attack was directed against our lines, which made slight advances at certain points. In the region of Arns there was a continuation of the bombardment on the town and its environs. On the Aisne the enemy endeavored to deliver an attack on the village of Missy. This movement resulted in complete failure, with considerable losses to the Germans. We have made some progress in the region to the west of Souain. In the Argonne, in the Woevre district, in Lorraine, and in the Vosges, there is almost complete calm along the front. There has been a heavy fall of snow, particularly in the higher portions of the Vosges mountains. A. D. James of Orlando was in the city Tuesday evening. Mr. James was editor of the Orlando Reporter-Star two years ago and since that time has been living in Philadelphia, being of the staff of the Ledger. He will spend the winter in Orlando, where he has a winter home."

MERCHANT MARINE FAVORED BY WILSON

PRESIDENT THINKS AMERICAN SHIPS STIMULATE TRADE

Washington, Nov. 26.—An intimation comes from the White House that President Wilson will stress the proposal for a government merchant marine in his message to congress next month. It was announced that the President did not consider that enough ships to meet requirements had taken advantage of the emergency American registry act. Officials who have kept watch on foreign commerce declare the way for resumption of approximately normal business in export cotton and other non-contraband products was clear of diplomatic tangles provided ships of suitable character could be procured.

ENGLISH BATTLER GOES TO BOTTOM

THE CAUSE IS UNKNOWN AT PRESENT 800 MEN PERISHED IN DISASTER

London, England, Nov. 27.—It was officially announced here that the British battleship Bulwark had been blown up off the coast of the United States. The ship was on her way to the United States to join the fleet of the Atlantic. The cause of the disaster is unknown at present. It is estimated that 800 men perished in the disaster.

The explosion which destroyed the Bulwark occurred at 7:55 a. m. A witness at St. Augustine reported that they were caught in the disaster. The ship was on her way to the United States to join the fleet of the Atlantic. The cause of the disaster is unknown at present. It is estimated that 800 men perished in the disaster.

Will Have Own Fair

Kissimmee, Fla., Nov. 27.—It is understood that opposition will be made to an Osceola county exhibit at the Orlando mid-winter fair this February. A representative from Kissimmee appeared before the county commission at their last meeting and proposed to have an appropriation made for the result that the county appointed County Clerk J. L. Overstreet and County Attorney W. J. Jones as a committee to take up the matter with the city council, board of trade and the board of trade of St. Cloud. While the majority of the commissioners seemed to favor an exhibit, it has been stated that the matter might not be pushed. As yet the committee has not done anything. Kissimmee people were gratified over their exhibit last year which took the first prize, and some feel that Osceola county could retire on her laurels. A fair entertainment of some sort to be held here during the mid-winter has been agitated within the last ten months, and many arguments advanced that Kissimmee and Osceola county should have a fair of their own. At a meeting of several prominent citizens held Monday morning this was discussed and approved, and the exhibit for Orlando, on the other hand was not commended. No definite steps have yet been taken toward this matter, but the proposition will quite likely be put before the people in some way or other before many weeks.
