City To Get Base

Jeno Paulucci, Sanford and Duluth industrialist, feels that Sanford will eventually receive the Sanford Naval Air Station property. Paulucci today said, "I've checked this thing out and I am satisfied that the city will get the deed to the property after an explanation has been made to the attorney general's office." Paulucci said he felt the base title would be forthcoming is several weeks provided work on the problem of clarifying the Federal Airport Act's section 15 is made by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to the attorney general.

The Justice Department is where the deed-giving the 1,650-acre site to the city-has lain ever since the FAA announced that under a never-before-used federal law, Sanford would get the entire property even though the General Services Administration (GSA) had first sought to sell the 150-acre cantonment area to the city for a reported $700,000 while giving the other property outright.

FAA, in an effort to provide a much needed Central Florida airport, had sought to give the 150 acres gratis to provide an income to the city from rented industrial buildings so the city could, in turn, operate the airport without having to use tax money from the city's general fund.

Casting for fish is like being a pitcher in the last game of a tied world series. Every throw has to be right. No matter what species you seek - bass, trout, pike walleve or crappic - every cast should be made as if it

Anglers who recognize this fact are often frustrated by the antics of those fishermen who don't appreciate the fine art of casting. But, according to the fishing authorities, bad casting habits are easy to overcome. Long casts are seldom necessary or desirable. For one thing, the longer the cast the less chance of accurately hitting Mathews wil be back for the Greyhounds this seayour intended mark. By motoring quietly to within easy cast- 80h. ing distance - and not dropping the tackle box in the boat you'll not scare any fish. In other words, be quiet and get up close. Your casts will have a better chance of landing where you intend them to go. Overcasting the mark is another common fault which can scare any fish around trying to get it loose. Depth perception is an individual matter, and each fisher man has his own formula for determining distance. A common method is to examine nearby objects and judge the distance by their relative size. This is then translated into the degree of arm power put into a cast. The result, hopefully, is a per-

Investigation by the office of Gov. Claude Kirk of "the situation in Altamonte Springs" will be requested by Mayor W. Lawrence Swofford at the meeting of the City Council scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today at City Hall, the chief executive of the South Seminole city advised The Herald. The mayor conferred with the governor's office this morning. Swofford stated the investigation could "involve other officials in Seminole County" as well. To be pinpointed by the mayor, he said, is the action of three of the Altamonte councilmen, William Nuckols, Albert Sabbarese and Donald Martin, in requesting a state audit and thus committing the city for expendiure of some $5,000 in municipal funds outside a public Council meeting. In an air mail special delivery letter to Sen. Bill Gunter's legislative auditing committee, the trio, describing themselves as "constituting the majority of the Council of the City of Altamonte Springs," requested that "all city books be sealed and examined to the extent necessary to get a true picture." The letter further stated, "We understand that the cost assessed will be based upon man hours actually
