

AMERICAN LEGION GATHER THOUSANDS AT KANSAS CITY COMD'R SCORES HARDING

Legion Names New Orleans Next Meeting Place

OVATION TO GUESTS

TODAY CONVENTION WILL HEAR MARSHAL FOCH OF FRANCE AND GEN. PERSHING

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—The National convention of the American Legion last night brought the opening day's session to a close after receiving Admiral Earl Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet, and selecting New Orleans as the 1922 convention city.

Today the convention will hear Marshal Foch, of France, and General John J. Pershing, and later participate in a parade in which, officials estimate there will be 40,000 marchers.

The third week of October will be the time. New Orleans has raised $100,000 to bring the next convention here.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—Receipt of messages of felicitation from abroad and at home, a memorial service in honor of the late Frederick W. Galbraith of Cincinnati, former national commander and the usual organizational routine preliminary to getting down to work, consumed the opening session yesterday of the American Legion's national convention. Adjournment was taken late in the afternoon and the delegates marched to the station to meet Marshal Foch, of France, and General John J. Pershing.

From Italy and Belgium came word of faith in America and in the Legion. President Harding sent a message that nothing was closer to his heart than the welfare of the former service men. The American Federation of Labor announced in emphatic terms that it stands behind the Legion's campaign against radicals and that it will never tolerate the introduction into this country of socialism or bolshevism in any form. Many military organizations including the United Confederate Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic, sent greetings, while good wishes came from Marshal Foch and General John J. Pershing.

Italy sent its message through General Armando Diaz, hero of the Piave, Belgium's greetings and her thanks for American aid during the war were extended by General Baron Jacques, who was responsible for the delaying at Liege of the German drive westward during the first few days of the war.

President Harding's message to the service men came through Vice-President Calvin Coolidge. George L. Berry of Rogersville, Tenn., president of the International Printing Pressmen's Union, and a delegate to the convention from his state, spoke for the American Federation of Labor.

The convention was aroused to the greatest pitch of excitement during the afternoon session when General Diaz and General Jacques delivered their addresses.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—Marshal Foch, principal guest of honor of the day, entered the American Legion convention hall from the side entrance, and went to his box amid cheering just as the convention was called to order today. He was preceded by a guard of Americans, holders of congressional medals of honor.

BOMB EXPLODED ON STAIRCASE OF EMBASSY AT LISBON

(By The Associated Press) LISBON, Nov. 1.—A bomb exploded this morning on the staircase of the American consulate here. No damage. The police attribute the outrage to agitation in connection with the cases of Sacco and Zanzetti, Italians under conviction of murder in Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A dispatch from Consul General Hollis at Lisbon was received today at the State Department reported the bomb explosion in the consulate there. Hollis said the Portuguese government was investigating energetically. Only trifling damage reported. LOOKS LIKE WHITE MAY BE OUSTED FROM CHAIRMANSHIP.

(By The Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—The refusal of Goltre to resign to make way for Long as successor to White was announced at noon. This left Cordell Hull, committeeman from Tennessee, as only man acceptable to all factions for the chairmanship.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 1.—Indications this morning are that the successor to George White as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, might be agreed upon by the various party elements before the committee meets at noon. Breckenridge Long, of Missouri, former third assistant secretary of state, is said to be acceptable, but his selection is contingent upon the resignation of Edward F. Goltre, committeeman from Missouri.

ORLANDO BROKER IS INJURED WHEN AUTO CRASHES INTO TRAIN

LAKELAND, Oct. 31.—R. B. Keene an Orlando broker, sustained two broken ribs and numerous cuts and scratches when the automobile he was driving crashed into the express car of the Sanford "short" train on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad yesterday morning at Carter's crossing. Geo. W. Burden and the Misses Thomas and Gage were also in the car which Keene was driving. Mr. Burden received but slight bruises and the two young women were unhurt. Keene was taken to the hospital here, but the others were able to return to their homes.

According to officials on the train, Keene was apparently attempting to speed with them to the crossing. The only thing that saved the occupants of the car from more serious injury, they say is that the machine struck the truck of the express car, which kept it from passing under the wheels. The auto was almost a total wreck.

PROSECUTOR STATES THE CHICAGO POLICE IN WITH ORGANIZED VICE THERE

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Chicago's police department, the subject of many shapeups during the past few months and said recently by Chief of Police Fitzmorris to be "fifty per cent bootleggers" last night was in another turmoil as the result on an attack by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney. Mr. Crowe, after conducting a series of vice raids, announced that he "expected to investigate the police department."

A statement by the state's attorney charged the police with making Chicago the "rottenest city in the country," by giving protection to organized vice.

To these charges, Chief Fitzmorris replied that "the police could stand investigation better than the state's attorney's office," and that what vice there was in Chicago, existed primarily through "failure of the state's attorney to properly prosecute cases."

And Widely Conflicting Views Put Forth on the Bill

DYER BILL IS UP

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE BRINGS IN REPORTS ON ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Widely conflicting views on the anti-lynching bill, now before congress, were presented in the house yesterday in majority and minority reports from the Judiciary committee.

The bill, introduced by Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, would undertake to wipe out lynching by heavy penalties to be imposed on persons participating and officers charged with enforcing the peace. Counties in which persons are put to death by mobs also would be subject to heavy fines in the federal court.

Citing the demand in the platform adopted by the last Republican national convention to end lynching, the plea of President Harding in an address to congress "to wipe out this barbaric stain" and the appeal of President Wilson in 1918 to citizens to help stop mob law, the majority report, prepared by Mr. Dyer declared that these and similar appeals "have gone for naught and lynchings continue."

"Congress must provide the means for ending this cowardly crime," the report continued. "It is in punishing those who take part in it or who permit it."

"The prevalence in many states of the spirit which tolerates lynching, accompanied too often with inhuman cruelty, and the inability of unwillingness of the public authorities to punish the persons guilty of this crime, threaten very seriously the future peace of the nation. Lynching blot our fair name as a nation for we cannot claim to be civilized until our laws are respected and enforced and our citizens secured against the hideous cruelties of which we are constantly furnishing fresh examples. The report added that while it had been impossible to get accurate figures, available records showed 3,224 persons had been lynched in the last thirty years, of which number 2,522 were negroes.

Declaring the bill unconstitutional, the minority report presented by Representative Summers, Democrat, Texas, contending it would tend to destroy the sense of local responsibility without adding to protection of people.

"This bill, in the judgment of the minority, is without constitutional warrant," said the report. It is definitely and directly antagonistic to the philosophy of our system of government and within the limit of its effectiveness, if it should be held constitutional, would be destructive of that system.

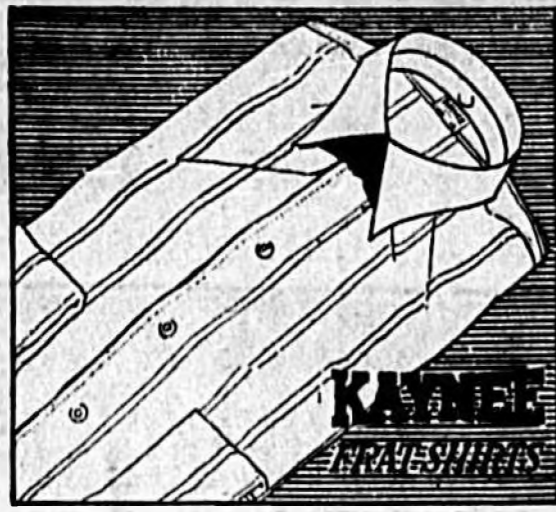

"If enacted and operative it would not add to the protection of persons or general efficiency of government, nor strengthen the relationship between the federal government and the states. On the contrary, this proposed intervention of the federal government directed against local power, supplanting and superseding the sovereignty of the states, would tend to destroy that sense of local responsibility. * * *

"This bill, challenging as it does, the relative government efficiency of the states and the integrity of purpose of their governmental agencies, placing the federal government, as it does, in the attitude of an arbitrary dictator, assuming coercive power over the states, their officers and their citizens in matters of local police control, would do incomparable harm to the spirit of mutual respect and trustful co-operation between the federal government and the states essential to the efficiency of government."

Mr. Dyer will ask for a rule to bring the bill up for consideration probably this week.

STRIKING AGAINST DECISION OF BOARD PUTS THEM OUT.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 31.—The United State Railroad Labor Board Saturday, in effect, forbade railroad union labor from striking without the board's permission, and declared that all strikers who violated the order would be classed as "outlaws who had voluntarily removed themselves from the protection of the transportation act."

The labor board, before detailing the decision of both sides to abide by the law says "these facts render it unnecessary for the board to make any further rulings about this matter and congratulate the parties directly interested, and the public, most vitally and profoundly interested on this return to industrial peace, triumph of the reign of law and the escape from this national disaster."

"But, at this time, and while the matter is so intensely before the minds of all, the board deems it expedient and proper to make its rulings and positions on some of the points involved so clear that no ground for any misunderstandings can hereafter exist. First, when any change of wages, contracts or rules previously in effect are contemplated or proposed by either party, conference must be had as directed by the transportation act and rules and decision as to the procedure profulgated by the board, and where agreements are not reached the dispute must be brought before this board and no action taken or change made until authorized by the board."

"Second, the ordering or authorizing of a strike against decision No. 147 (the July 1 wage cut) of this board is a violation of that decision. The board desires to point out that such overt act by either party tending to and threatening an interruption of transportation lines, the peaceful and uninterrupted operation of which are so absolutely necessary to the peace, prosperity and safety of the entire people are in themselves, even when they do not culminate in a stoppage of traffic, a cause and source of great injury and damage."

"The board further points out for the consideration of employees interested that when such action does result in a strike the organization, as acting, has forfeited its rights and the rights of its members and to the provisions and benefits of all contracts theretofore existing and the employees themselves have voluntarily removed themselves from the classes entitled to appeal to this board for relief and protection."

BUT PEOPLE WERE READY FOR BLOW THAT FAILED

W. P. Reave, who represents R. F. Polk, publishers of city directories, has just returned on the Miami, of the P. & O. line and reports humorous experiences at Key West waiting for a gale that never materialized.

According to official weather forecasts and the prognostications of local experts the storm was scheduled to hit the end of the state at 5 p. m. Monday. All preparations were made as the advance notices said the disturbance was the worst in the history of the Gulf. Houses were barricaded, signs taken down, people whose homes looked unable to face the tornado took shelter with friends in more staunch houses, supplies of food were laid in and every emergency measure provided.

"Personally," said Mr. Reave, "I laid in a good stock of Tampa made cigars, several boxes of crackers, a jug of water and a copy of Robinson Crusoe, thinking I might get some tips from Daniel Defoe in case I was washed out on a desert island. My landlord also came into my room with some cleats, a bag of nails and a hammer, so that I could provide a raft from the floating timbers if we blew out to sea."

And then the expected didn't happen. The worst wind was only 35 miles an hour, just an ordinary Key West breeze. The people were so disgusted that they declared a holiday Tuesday and closed up all business houses. Everybody was pitying poor Tampa, which was reported wiped off the map, and expressed the feeling that they were cheated out of something to which they were entitled.

There is a standing legend according to Mr. Reaves that no storm ever hits Key West after September. He said that the greatest philosopher he encountered during the frenzied preparations was an old negro who was heard to remark: "If de storm comes who's a gwine to stop it?"—Tampa Times.

TWO GIRLISH HIKERS.

Two pretty 18-year-old girls are walking from Cleveland to Los Angeles. They started from home Sept. 20, and within three weeks had passed Kansas City. They are carrying soldier packs and wear knickerbockers. Wherever they stop they find only courteous treatment. They accept occasional lifts from passing automobiles, but are pledged to take no trains.

It is pleasing to hear that two young girls can travel thus across America and have no unpleasant experiences. That is the sort of country America is supposed to be, at some how its fair record has become somewhat blurred of late.

Perhaps this helps to explain matters: These young women mind their own business sturdily as they trudge along. If they accept a lift, it is from some person of evident fitness, not from some leering 'vamp' or group of reckless boys. The very business-like way in which they go ahead leaves no doubt in any mind as to the character of the girls themselves, and this is their best protection.

Though there are exceptions terrible enough, as a rule it is the girl who is looking for trouble that finds it.—Pensacola Journal.

HALLOWE'EN IS THE ORDER FOR TONIGHT

BOYS CAUTIONED TO GO BLOW WITH THEIR FRANK AND FROLICS.

Hallowe'en tonight, and the small boys are looking at the front gates and getting ready to soap the windows and carry off chairs and do all sorts of things—only it might turn out that the police will not let them.

Hallowe'en is the one night on the calendar when wild spirits are wilder and it seems that nothing short of something real devilish, will suit the small boy, and the larger boy. However, there is a kind of fun that does not destroy property, and yet thrills the boys quite as well, and this is the spirit that puts on masks and puts "tick-tacks" on doors, and ring door bells and all of those many little stunts that are filled with fun for the boys and girls, but do not entail any property loss.

Along with the real pranks of the boys, the girls usually go in for parties and dances, and Hallowe'en doings and this is really the best and safest way to spend Hallowe'en. And then Hallowe'en, this year, comes on Monday, and Monday is a bad night, for on Tuesday comes the school bell, big as life, and twice as natural, with the stern visage of the school teacher looking them over the next morning and wondering where "Willie" spent part of the night.

We would caution the boys and the girls, that no foolishness will be tolerated this year when it comes to the destruction of property, such as has occurred here several times. The school houses were the special target for boys one year, and there was a ruthless destruction of property that came from the tax payers' pockets, and did nobody good. It would be well for the parents of the boys and girls to warn them against soaping windows and breaking windows and doing other stunts that are a malicious destruction of property and are not classed among innocent amusements, and this sort of stuff puts the perpetrators in the malfactors class with a jail sentence or big fine to face in the morning.

GAINESVILLE GOLF COURSE UNEXCELLED.

The erection of a golf links in Gainesville, which was a subject of discussion for a long time, and which finally resulted in the formation of a strong golf club organization, is showing quick results toward the completion of the links on the property purchased just west of the city.

"A trip to this spot is a revelation," stated a visitor who made a visit to the new link site Friday. Through the wise leadership of Edwin Hampton who was chosen to head the local golf club the organization will soon be in possession of one of the best constructed courses in the south and are signally fortunate in having secured one of the best natural sites for golf links that the State of Florida affords. It is doubtful if there is a more beautiful landscape in the entire southland than presents itself to the visitor to the Gainesville course. Under the efficient hand of James Scott, who is actively in charge of the engineering work on the new links, beautiful fairways and greens are already a long way toward completion and the whole aspect is being made entrancing and inviting to the eye.

Practical golfers who have viewed the work already accomplished toward the completion of the Gainesville links have been enthusiastic as to the natural playing advantages of the course; praising in the highest terms the prospect of central Florida having one of the finest links that has ever been constructed in the south.

When driving west of town it will pay you to run to the top of the hill overlooking the construction work now going on and enjoy the happy prospect spread before the eye.

It is expected that with the completion of the course will come the development of a golfing fraternity in this city that will add greatly to the social enjoyment of Gainesville folk as well as tourists and visitors.—Gainesville Sun.

FARMER ORGANIZATIONS ASK REPEAL OF TWO R. R. ACTS.

Following the recent petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking an immediate reduction in freight rates of from 10 to 20 per cent plus subsequent reductions based on all savings in operating costs, the Washington office of the American Farm Bureau Federation was instructed to request Congress to repeal both the Cummins-Esch law and the Adamson law. Explaining this action President J. R. Howard, issued a statement as follows:

"Two legislative measures of war time are preventing a speedy return to normal conditions. They are the Transportation Act of 1920, known as the Cummins-Esch law, and the Adamson law. The Cummins-Esch law was the vehicle through which the railroads were returned to their owners. It was enacted after long and careful consideration by both houses of Congress and after extended deliberations of conference committees. Like many other laws, it was a compromise measure passed for the return of the roads under condition then prevailing.

"One provision of this act we very much objected to at the time of its passage, namely, 15-A, or the clause directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix railroad rates to produce a minimum net return of 5-1-2 per cent above all expenses and taxes on the present value of American railroads. The Farm Bureau believes this to be paternalistic, class legislation, un-American and unsound.

"At the time of the passage of the Transportation Act we urged the preservation of the powers of the several states to regulate rates and practices of the carriers relating to interstate transportation and distribution of cars. We were told that this was provided for within the act, but interpretations since its passage have taken these powers from the state authorities.

"The provisions of the act in setting up a Railway Labor Board did not properly take into account the necessity for coordination as between the Interstate Commerce Commission which determines the income of the roads, and the Railway Labor Board, which has control of the largest items of expenditure. This seemingly prevented the proper functioning of both the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Labor Board.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation believes that the Cummins-Esch Act should either be repealed in its entirety or at once amended to correct these serious defects.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation has long been on record favoring the repeal of the Adamson Law. Our executive committee, with representatives from all sections of the country, declares that it is responsible for the unreasonable transportation rates, and, if continued, will affect all industries, including agriculture, toward increasing the cost of production beyond an economic basis.

"These two measures, which were the result of war-time conditions, should, because of their effect upon the business interests of the country, receive the immediate attention of Congress. The repeal of both measures would go far in re-establishing pre-war relationships, which at this time is highly desirable."

NO UNIONIZING WEST VIRGINIA FIELDS ORDERED

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—Collection of funds of the United Mine Workers of America through the "check off" system, by which union membership dues are deducted from miner's wages by operators throughout the country, were enjoined yesterday by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson. Further, his order enjoined all union officials and members from seeking by "any and all means" to unionize the Williamson coal field in West Virginia, where violence has marked the strike that began more than a year ago. The order is a temporary one, but effective until changed by court.

The only comment on the order from the miners side was a statement by Ellis Searles, editor of the official publication of the union, who asserted the injunction was "certainly joyful news for the United States Steel Corporation," which he added was reputed to be the largest coal land owner in the strike zone.

Advisory Committee Armament Conference Announced Today

Consists of Twenty-one Members, Four of Them Women

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Advisory committee of the American delegation to the armament conference it was announced today at the White House consists of twenty-one members, four of whom are women. One cabinet member, Hoover, will be a member. Others included are Pershing, Under Secretary of State Fletcher, Admiral W. L. Rodgers, Samuel Gompers and Stephen G. Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee.

An interesting feature of the gathering recently held in Gainesville was the second annual meeting of the Florida State Beekeepers' Association. The talks made by men of experience and the discussions brought on will be remembered by all present and prove of value to those who are engaged in beekeeping. Florida honey is always in good demand, and the number of beekeepers is steadily increasing, and the product more generally found in the markets.

Taylor, was married to Mr. Russell Theodore Mickler, of Tallahassee, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives at the First Baptist church here Wednesday evening. Dr. A. M. The decorations were very beautifully and artistically arranged. The bridal motif was featured in the rainbow color scheme. Stately palms formed a dark background for the bright colored flowers arranged upon pedestals before the altar.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT TITUSVILLE.
The semi-annual meeting of the Baptist Sunday school convention of the Seminole association was held at Titusville on last Saturday and Sunday, and was well attended. The purpose of this convention is to increase interest in and to foster the work of the Sunday schools and B. Y. P. U., and the reports show that great progress has been made along these lines.
Rev. W. W. William, state Sunday school secretary, was present and delivered a strong address on Sunday school work, especially urging that every school be thoroughly organized and graded. Rev. A. B. Cannady told how to reach the people by census, and Rev. H. S. Rightmire outlined the best methods of putting life into the home department.
On Sunday afternoon a large delegation from Cocoa, seventy-five strong put on a B. Y. P. U., demonstration meeting. The evening service was devoted to organized class work.
Rev. H. S. Rightmire, of Daytona, was elected president for the ensuing six months.
Those attending from Seminole county were: Mr. Lee McLain and Miss Myrtle Jacobs, Chuluota; Miss Margaret Brain, Miss Carrie Stanley, Miss Maude Jinkins, Mr. Roy McNabb and Jno. D. Jinkins, Sanford.
The next meeting will probably be held at the Y. M. C. A., camp at Lake Winona in Volusia county, in May or June.

NATION WILL GIVE SILENT TRIBUTE TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The two minute silent tribute in honor of the unknown American soldier which President Harding has asked the entire nation to give on November 11 from noon to 12:02 should occur throughout the country on eastern time. The United Press was told today by the war department.
Adherence to one standard of time is the only way of making the tribute simultaneous throughout the entire country, which is desired, the department said.
Thus people in the central time zone will stop work at 11 o'clock, their time, those in the mountain region at 10 and those on the pacific coast at 9.
GOVERNMENT TO SELL 81,000 TONS OF NITRATE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Approximately 81,000 tons of sodium nitrate, purchased by the war department for war purposes, will be offered for sale for commercial uses November 30, it was announced today by the director of sales. Sealed bids will be received by the ordinance salvage board for the nitrate which is stored at Hopewell, Va.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Grand Rapids, Mich., and in smaller quantities at seven other cities.
A special dispatch to the Tribune states that the stock of nitrate stored here is not included in the order to sell issued yesterday by the war department.—Tampa Tribune.
NEW ORLEANS CLUB BURNED.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—Fire starting at the dinner hour last night destroyed the handsome home of the New Orleans Country Club on Metairie road. The building cost $250,000 and the furnishings $75,000. Members lost virtually all their belongings stored in the club.
An optimist is, perchance, a man who believes the present congress will some day revise the tax bill.

TO HANG FRIDAY THE 13TH.
ROSEBURG, Ore., Nov. 1.—Dr. Richard Melvin Brumfield was sentenced today to be hanged Friday, January 13th, for the murder of Dennis Russell. Russell's headless body was found under Dr. Brumfield's wrecked automobile near here July 13.
According to the plans that are now well along in the making and preparations more extensive than ever before, the fourteenth annual Marion county fair will be held in November 22 to 25, inclusive, at Ocala. The directors of the fair association are very busy at this time getting things in shape and promise all comers that the show will be a very fine exposition of the productions and activities of Marion county folks in the year past.

PAPER CAN BE SHIPPED FROM SCANDANAVIA CHEAPER THAN AMERICA CAN FURNISH

The Sanford Herald is Using Paper That Was Made in Finland

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—It costs $2 less to ship a ton of newspaper paper from Scandinavia to New York City than to ship a ton of the same paper from Niagara Falls across the state of New York, R. S. Kellogg, of New York, secretary of the News Print Service Bureau, told the Salesmen's Association of the Paper Industry here today.

"America's paper industry," Mr. Kellogg said, "faces serious competition from foreign lands not alone because of the fact that foreign paper is made by cheap labor, under depreciated exchange conditions, but also because of the cost of freight shipments."

Figures showing comparative freights between foreign shipping points and American points, as evidence of conditions confronting the paper industry in general, were supplied by Mr. Kellogg.

"The rate from Hamburg to New York and other eastern ports is $4 per 1000 kilos or $3.64 per ton of 2,000 pounds, and $6 per long ton or $5.36 per 2,000 pounds from Scandinavia," he said. "Compared with this are rates from various important American mills."

"The rate from Watertown and Glens Falls to New York is $5.60 and from Niagara Falls, $5.70. The Watertown rate to Philadelphia and Baltimore is $6.30. Typical rates from important Canadian shipping points to New York are: Espanola, Ont., $10.50; Grand Mere, Que., $7.60; Iroquois Falls, Ont., $9.60; Jonquiere, Que., $8.60; Ottawa, Ont., $7.60; Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., $10.50; Three Rivers, Que., $7.60.

"Maine-New York City rates are not much better than the Canadian, the Livermore Falls rate being $6.40 and Millinocket $7.70. From Port Edwards, Wis., to New York City the rate is $11.30 per ton; to Philadelphia $10.90, and to Baltimore $10.70.

"America, even with the best, fastest and most modern paper mills in the world," Mr. Kellogg declared, "cannot successfully compete with the prices of European paper made and shipped under these conditions. It is the publishers who will suffer in the long run, for American mills cannot make paper to meet present European prices, and Europe cannot supply America's permanent needs. The normal result would be wide swings in prices which are always disadvantageous to producer and purchaser alike in any commodity where price extremes are found.

"It is better for the American user of newspaper to have a dependable source of supply at home at a price which affords a reasonable profit to the manufacturer and thus encourage greater production than to have a temporary supply from abroad at prices fixed by ruinous unfair competition, which will vanish when world conditions again approach normal."

The Herald received a shipment of paper from Finland last week that was much cheaper than American paper after paying transportation charges from Scandinavia.

HEALTH BOARD URGES CONTROL OF AUTO CAMP.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 1.—The state board of health has issued the following statement regarding the supervision of tourists' camps:

"Tourist auto camps are an institution in Florida. Whether the camps are good or bad for the community they are here and must be supervised. During the winter season of 1920-21 there were many faulty camps in the state, the faults however were not so much with the camps as with the lack of supervision and management of them by municipalities wherein they were located. As a result of poor municipal supervision many of the camps were grossly criticized, condemned and subsequently abandoned. In several cities ordinances were adopted prohibiting any further municipal camps.

"What were the evils of the camps last year? First, many towns advertising camps and bidding for this class of tourist made no provisions for sanitary upkeep. The tourists came and lived as best they could in the midst of inadequate facilities; second, many of the campers were winter laborers who went forth in the respective communities bidding for employment, and third, in several of the larger camps, commissaries were established and food sold to campers at a price cheaper than in the neighboring town. These conditions could all have been regulated by the local authorities.

"Why should the citizens of a community criticize a condition for which they themselves are directly responsible? It is true that many campers were careless, in different towards property and rights yet the errors of a few should hardly be sufficient to condemn all when municipal regulations were wholly absent. A town or city should not bid for auto tourists unless each town or city is willing to be responsible for the camp maintenance.

"There were some excellent camps in Florida last year. The camp at DeLand was a model, also that in DeSoto Park of Tampa. In the latter camp there were at all times about 1,000 campers under strict municipal supervision and everything went well.

"There are going to be some bad camps this year for reasons stated above, but as fast as found these camps will be condemned by the state board of health. The state board of health will not tolerate insanitary, poorly operated camps this season.

"The cities of West Palm Beach and Bradenton have recently promulgated very business-like, comprehensive ordinances to handle camps. The West Palm Beach ordinance defines the limits of the camp grounds; it creates an office of camp superintendent with police and managerial authority; it requires that all tourists desiring to enter the camp apply to the superintendent, giving name of person in charge of party, number in party, permanent home address, make and number of automobile, length of stay in camp. A fee of 25 cents per day is charged for the use of camp, this sum to go to a fund provided for the special service rendered the tourists in camp. The camp will operate in strict accordance with regulations of the state board of health. The ordinance goes into a number of details, regulating the conduct of the tourists and the orderly maintenance of the grounds. In every way the ordinance is complete and under it the camp will be assured of decent supervision. More cities should follow in the steps of West Palm Beach."

FLORIDA AND CAROLINA WILL BATTLE AT TAMPA SATURDAY NOVEMBER 5.

TAMPA, Nov. 1.—Seats went on sale today, and with enthusiasm over the Florida-Carolina game here Saturday at a high pitch because of Florida's magnificent showing against Howard, the early rush exceeded all expectations. Only end auto spaces remain available, but as there are 500 box seats, it will take a few days to clean them out.

In blanking the Alabamans, the Gators did what both Auburn and Alabama U., have been unable to do. The Howardians scored a touchdown against the State U., and a field goal against the powerful Plainsman machine of Mike Donahue.

Against Florida they were able to make just one first down and were never endangering the Gator goal line.

Florida's five touchdowns, and it might have been more had not Coach Kline used two or three shifts, especially using green men in the final periods, represents the same offensive power that both Alabama and Auburn displayed.

Florida showed an impregnable defense against both line plays and the heralded weakness—forward passes. Carolina has a great passing team, it is said, and this news from Howard is especially good news to Gator rooters. Carolina meanwhile added more laurels last Friday, walking off with the annual state championship game with Clemson by the comfortable margin of three touchdowns.

RIDERS DANCE TO CULTIVATE GRACE ON GALLOPING STEEDS

One, two—one, two—one—

Long rows of young women following the stepping of an agile young man. Over in the corner of a large store room, a middle-aged man bangs a piano. This agile young man halts the steps and explains. Then again, "One, two—one, two—"

Sounds like a musical show rehearsal, doesn't it?

It's not. It's the ballet of the Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals hard at it in winter quarters at Denver. But not only the girls of the ballet are dancing. In their ranks are a number of women riders—bareback queens—and one or two girl aerialists—all cultivating that grace of movement that is so necessary to the women of the circus. Among them we see Stella Moss, Alice Floyd of the Famous Floyds, Daisy Howell and others well known in America and Europe, equestriennes of the first rank. They are equestriennes of the first rank because they miss no chance to improve themselves. So, early this season, when the Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals winter quarters began to echo with the tump-tumtum of dance music, these riders, after their daily workouts in the ring barns on their beautiful white horses, drifted into the ballet girls' quarters and took places in the lines of dancers. And that is one of the reasons why they are so alluring as they pirouette on the backs of their cantering horses in the rings of the big show this summer. And when the Howe-Van Amburg Show comes to Sanford, Wednesday, November 2nd you will realize, watching these riders, something of the pains they take to keep at the top of their profession.

Great weather.
 Puts the old pep into your system.
 Sanford merchants are putting on big sales and bringing in the people.

From now until the first of January is the time to make hay. Everybody get busy. Let's go.

The small boys had their fun last night. As usual, the soap squad were out, and gummed up all the windows and automobiles that were in sight.

Storms off the New Jersey coast are taking their toll of life. When one stops to consider storms, Florida is undoubtedly the most fortunate State in the Union. We have a few small ones in September and October, and some times a rather large one, but they are off then, and we need not fear them again until next September.

The Gainesville Daily Sun came out yesterday with 32 pages of a big fair edition, and it was some paper. Getting up a special edition of a weekly paper is not so bad, but a special of a daily paper is a big job. The special of the Sun was well arranged and well patronized. The Alachua County Fair will be held on November 8, 9, 10, 11. Our old friends, Johnny Jones and Ed Salter will furnish the fun.

The Alachua County Fair sent the Herald a complimentary ticket and we wish it could be used. It was some eighteen years ago that we helped to hold a county fair at Gainesville, and all the exhibits were placed in a stable that stood near the old Sun office. We thought it was a wonderful exhibition at the time, and maybe it was, but now the Alachua County Fair is one of the big events of Florida, and has grounds and buildings and everything.

SAY THE KINDLY WORD.

Dr. Walker in his sermon Sunday night talked about the gossip and the scandal monger, and he flayed them right and left, and he did not say a word too much or a word too strong about them. We consider the gossip and the scandal monger and the character assassinator the vilest creature in the world. And another thing he said, that was true, was about speaking a kindly word instead of the curse, and help people to a better understanding. There is so much in what he said along this line, that everyone should practice uttering the kindly word. It goes a long way toward making a dark day bright, and a rough life smooth, and taking away the thorn from the pathway of life. It means so much that if everyone would practice it there would be a heaven here on earth in a few short months. We could never see why people do not hand out more sunshine down here where sunshine is made. We have so much to be thankful for in Florida, we have so many bright and pleasant days and life holds so much in store for us and means so much to us that everyone should hand out the kindly word—the human sunshine to gladden the hearts of men and make the world a better place in which to live. How much better it is to say something nice about folks instead of handing out a line of criticism. You can make or break a youngster's life by constantly nagging them, and being cross to them, and this is also true of older folks. It is the kindly word and the big hearted manner of overlooking people's faults that makes the world habitable.

It would be fine if the gossipers would stop gossiping and join the "Sunshine Club," or the "Smiles Club," or some other club that would make them see the error of their way and make them shine instead of cloud up. And then Dr. Walker says that a gossip gossips to hide their own sins. If that is true, some of them must have an awful nest to hide and they should stop right now for their neighbors will be asking about their past history and will be digging up some family skeletons.

But cut it out. Shine on. Brighten up, say something good, use honey instead of vinegar. Say good things about people even if they happen to be bad in spots. In time, they will be good.

MENDICANTS, SOLICITORS, SNOWBIRDS.

Read the statement from various cities regarding the beggars and solicitors and mendicants of all kinds. It demonstrates how other cities in Florida handle this vexatious question and Sanford could undoubtedly take a few pointers from this report. Florida will be the mecca for all kinds of salesmen, beggars, solicitors, etc., during the next six months. There is no reason in the world for Sanford standing for this horde of treasure seekers. We want new people and we want tourists and we want home-seekers, but we do not want to take care of the mendicants from other states who should stay at home. We do not want to give up our money to solicitors who work Florida only in the winter and take this money home with them. We do not want our home people and our tax payers to suffer by these migratory birds who pay nothing in many instances and in others a small license. The city of Sanford should shut down on many of these people right now before the season opens and we would not be bothered by them any longer. We want to help suffering humanity and we do help them, but there is not a beggar on the road today who has not a home somewhere and he should be in that home where he is known instead of "touring" Florida in the winter and some summer resort in the summer.

ONE REASON FOR THANKSGIVING.

An additional cause for thankfulness in this coming Thanksgiving month is to be found in the fact that the great railroad strike which threatened awful disaster to the whole country has been called off and will not take place. We have come to the point in this country where adequate transportation between widely separated sections is almost as vital a necessity as the air we breathe or the food we eat. The grain grown on the Dakota or Kansas prairies, makes the bread that is eaten in New York and Boston. Much of the meat consumed in Florida and other southern states grows up on the ranches of the far west and is fed in the corn stalks, slaughtered in the great packing houses of Chicago or Kansas City, and shipped a thousand miles or more in refrigerator cars to the ultimate consumer.

The coal dug from the hills of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, generates the steam that pulls heavy trains over the Rockies, and feeds a million factory furnaces all over the land.

No community lives to itself alone. The prosperity of the country depends upon the unhindered and rapid exchange of products from one community to another. That is why the prospects of an indefinite tie-up of all transportation was regarded with universal dismay. Should transportation be completely broken down for a period of two weeks, three-fourths of the inhabitants of this country would suffer from cold and hunger, and many would suffer with the rest, perhaps more, for the deprivation of the accustomed wage would be a hard blow to them.

It will be a much more joyous Thanksgiving Day, now that the strike order has been recalled, than it could have been had it remained in force. Not if the labor board, or the interstate commerce commission, or whatever body has it in charge, will bring about a reduction in freight rates, the country will have something to be really thankful for. That is the next thing to be fought for.—Tampa Times.

OUR WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW
 By Henry Clews & Co.

The nearer approach of the Arms Conference at Washington, and the increasing certainty that that conference will necessarily deal with financial questions is the most important factor of general significance to the market now on the horizon. Not only the revision of our tax system, but the whole problem of the funding of the international indebtedness may largely be influenced by the outcome of this meeting. It has become a factor in the financial situation which must be ranked as of first importance.

The calling off of the threatened railroad strike is a great moral victory for the government and is of course good for the railroads as well as the whole country. Those in a position to know, however, have felt that there could be no other result for the reason that a number of affiliated unions were not in sympathy with the walkout, public sentiment was against it, and the great number of people out of employment rendered the success of the undertaking very doubtful at the outset. This situation has, of course, been well understood by the union heads, nevertheless they deserve great credit for displaying good sense in rescinding their strike order, notwithstanding that it was delayed until the eleventh hour. So far as the roads are concerned, however, it still leaves open the matter of lower freight rates which the railroads under present conditions can ill afford to make so long as operating costs continue at their present high level, and these can only be materially reduced by a further readjustment in wages which the Labor Board apparently is not inclined to sanction for some months to come. Pending the decision, not merely of the strike, but of the wage and rate situation of the roads it is not strange that the general public should have held aloof from the market and especially from railroad securities, fearful of the consequences of the controversy.

It is gratifying to note that general business has been singularly little disturbed by the strike prospects. In some parts of the country there would seem to have been an effort to produce and ship rather more largely than would otherwise have been the case had there not been a prospect that the movement of freight would be "tied up" at the end of the month. Business, however, in not a few branches is still showing the continued results of the depression. The quarterly report of the U. S. Steel Corporation, although exhibiting an improvement for September over the preceding August and July, is a favorable factor, notwithstanding that the combined figures are bad when compared with previous quarters of this year. The showing made by Central Leather may be regarded as a moderate improvement. In the oil industry Mexican Petroleum's large reported earnings have naturally been taken as a helpful element. Continued firmness on the part of the copper shares has been an encouraging phase of the week's developments, although it is still uncertain just how much real improvement has taken place in the copper business itself. Excellent reports from textile and leather industries continue to support the belief that those lines of trade have been fairly thoroughly readjusted. Particular encouragement is to be drawn from the fact that prices have apparently been more fully stabilized. Current index numbers show that the average level is now either holding its own or else advancing. The definite determination of the strike threat ought to confirm the greater confidence of business in the outlook.

YOUNG BOYS ARE BUYING LIQUOR.

There was never so much liquor being drunk by young boys when the open saloons were here as there is right now in Sanford. You can go down the streets of Sanford any night and the young boys are filled up on moonshine liquor and reeling around the streets dead drunk. The officers arrest them but can do nothing more. Sunday night Officer Walker arrested two youngsters not over fifteen years of age, both so drunk they were almost helpless. He could only arrest them, however, and beyond paying a fine there is nothing done about it. If these young boys are to be allowed to buy liquor as they are buying it, then prohibition has played a sorry trick on Sanford for it seems that the boys will not tell where they purchase liquor and there is no way of finding out. It is only one of the signs of the times that there is more liquor being sold now and the rottenest kind and sold more to young boys than ever before. What are you going to do about it?

who believed that an early vote would be taken. Adoption of the excess profits tax repeal has, however, been rendered certain through the preliminary vote of the senate, while other measures of amendment have on the whole been unsatisfactorily dealt with. It is now promised, however, that the conference committee will greatly reduce the surtaxes. A notable feature of the Congressional situation has been the increasing favor granted to the Smoot sales tax proposal. There are many who believe that it may yet gain at least a partial foothold in the bill during the conference between House and Senate. Adoption of the railway refunding bill is again promised, but is apparently conditional upon the making of concession with regard to rates which the managers of the roads believe should not be granted. The House of Representatives has acted upon the international debt funding measure and it is likely there may be action on the bill by the Senate prior to the meeting of the Arms Conference. Meaning the continued effort to put some portion of our large gold reserves back into common circulation may succeed, and if so will result in lowering the reserve ratio which for the system as a whole has now reached a figure of nearly 71 per cent. With our banks steadily withdrawing from foreign trade financing there has been little reason for improvement in foreign exchange.

Developments during the week have appeared once more to show that liquidation is a thing of the past, even the prospect of a serious railroad strike having failed to bring out any stocks of consequence, and without this there is no reason for fearing any retrograde movement of importance. To be sure the general public is inclined still, to hold aloof until it has been more fully demonstrated to what extent business conditions are mending. The calling off of the railroad strike, which threatened to disrupt business in all sections of the country is of course, a favorable market factor which cannot be over-estimated, and to that extent the market has been benefited; still it is very doubtful if a sustained upward movement of consequence can be expected at the present time as the demand for stocks will necessarily have to run well ahead of the supply before this can legitimately take place. Looking ahead several months, however, the outlook is promising.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSE TAGS TO BE READY DECEMBER 15.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 1.—Automobile license tags for 1922 will be ready for distribution December 15th, according to the State Automobile license bureau, while the bureau expects the flood of applications for tags to begin about December 1.

Officials desire especially to impress upon the owners of trucks the importance of having their cars weighed in order to avoid delays and unnecessary confusion in registering their vehicles. The weight of trucks must be given when license is applied for.

A large number of the counties have already secured their space at the Florida State Fair in the agricultural building, for their exhibits.

WILL BOOST HOME PAPERS

Week of November 7-12 Set for Nation-Wide Endeavor

"Subscribe to your home town paper." This is the slogan of a new nationwide movement backed by the National Editorial Association and other agencies.

The movement has back of it far more than a selfish desire on the part of newspapers to acquire increased circulation, for it is, in effect, a step toward the perfect unification of America by the strengthening of ties that bind everyone to his native soil.

The campaign is, moreover, an excellent opportunity to boost the home town. The men and women who were born and reared here have, some of them, been away for many years and many important changes have taken place—changes in which they would be greatly interested. It is more often the case than not that private correspondence overlooks these changes, however carefully one might attempt to write "the news" in a letter.

The newspapers, on the other hand, prints all the items of interest, large and small, and is the ideal medium through which to keep in touch with in the old home town.

In order to stimulate this movement we are this week offering an extra copy of The Weekly Herald to every subscriber who calls or writes for it. This extra can be sent, with a special subscription blank which we will furnish, to any member of the family who is away from home. Or, if preferred, we will mail a copy free of charge to anyone you designate.

ROMANCE OF RIVER LIGHTS

Flashlight Messages Fly Between Gobs on the Hudson and Girls Ashore in New York.

Sitting in their apartment windows on warm summer nights trying to get cool, many girls along Riverside drive amuse themselves by "blinking" messages by flashlight to the sailors on the navy craft anchored in the Hudson, the New York Sun states.

"Oh, I wish I had something to read," was the message which some quarter-master was blinking away aimlessly the other night when:

"What do you like—romance, love, mystery, sea adventure or detective stories?" came the barely discernible twinkle from the eleventh floor window of a big apartment house in the 90s.

"Romance," flashed back the gob. "Real stuff."

And then the first chapter of a wonderful romance was blinked off and the second chapter was being enjoyed when the mist and fog descended on the river.

"Sorry, but can't read any longer tonight," blinked the gob, who already had met the young woman of the blinker romance, which is taking a serious turn.

"You wait and see," predicts one young lady who is intercepting the messages each night. "Those messages are endearing and, oh, well, what girl wouldn't enjoy being courted so romantically?"

EASY WAY TO GET MONEY

Indianapolis Youngster Preferred Good Time at Lawn Fete to Possession of Two Teeth.

This young man of eight years has been suffering the loss of his first teeth, and his mother has had him in the dentist chair several times. As the teeth show an inclination to part company with the boy, the dentist's bill is running up. Until last week the boy positively refused to permit his mother to pull his teeth. She told him finally that he could pull them and she would give him 50 cents for each one. He thought it over and decided to pull two loose ones himself. It was easy and he got $1.

A lawn fete was to be given in the neighborhood the other night, and the boy wished to go. The day before the affair was scheduled he brought four teeth to his mother and demanded $2. His mother was shocked, examined the teeth and found they were sound and would have lasted a long time. The youngster said he needed the money, as he expected to attend the lawn fete. He got it.—Indianapolis News.
