Jeanette MacDonald And Nelson Eddy In New Screen Romance

A new Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy and a new warmth, color and comedy spirit in musicals makes itself manifest in "Sweethearts" fifth co-starring musical of the famous singing team, which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Technicolor has given both singers a more vivid personality, while the up-to-the-minute story devised for them by Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell from the Victor Herbert operetta provides the stars with comedy characterizations which should win them legions of new followers.

In "Sweethearts" Miss MacDonald and Eddy portray two Broadway musical comedy stars who are husband and wife in private life. Their quarrels, temperamental outbursts and jealousies, together with their joint attempt to outwit a producer who wants to prevent them from accepting an offer from Hollywood, make for a comedy which is rich in laughter and at the same time replete with beautiful and original song and dance presentations.

Miss MacDonald and Eddy prove themselves as skillful in modern roles as in their past costume successes and offer a musical feast in their singing of the lovely Victor Herbert songs, among them "Sweethearts," "Every Lover Must Meet His Fate," "Pretty as a Picture" and "In Parade."

The supporting cast is one of the best, including in its imposing lineup such well-known performers as Frank Morgan in the role of the scheming but laughable producer, Ray Bolger who dances with Miss MacDonald and also in solo numbers, Florence Rice as Miss MacDonald's secretary, Mischa Auer, Herman Bing and Reginald Gardiner.

Director W. S. Van Dyke has done a magnificent job of blending a sparkling script and spectacular song and dance numbers to make one of the most entertaining musicals of the new movie season.

Industry's Drive To Supply Jobs Portrayed In New March Of Time

As U. S. public interest in national affairs reaches new heights with new signs of U. S. economic recovery, the March of Time brings to the screen a pictorial balance sheet of "The State of the Nation: 1939." This film will give audiences at the Ritz Theatre their first opportunity to eye-witness by picture the actual assets and liabilities of America and to evaluate the opinions and increasing interest in the state of the nation on the part of their fellow citizens.

In "The State of the Nation: 1939" March of Time analyzes the American political-social-economic situation from the point of view of the U. S. public. It shows why Americans are taking a new interest in their government and how they have assumed new responsibilities in national affairs. The film is timely and significant for it reveals how new public opinion surveys, worked out on a mathematical basis, have made it possible actually to measure public opinion. How the survey works is shown in unusual and exclusive stretch of Time pictures.

In presenting this pictorial balance sheet of the U. S., March of Time shows where the nation stands economically and politically as it enters 1939. Analyzing the nation politically it shows the significance of the changes in the political line-up in Congress. Economically it portrays the first real evidence of America's emergence from its nine-year depression; new signs of recovery in steel and automobile industry; increased carloadings; hopeful signs for a real housing boom.

As the nation's greatest liability, March of Time shows the grim problem of 10,000,000 who still remain unemployed despite this new business upswing. In this connection it portrays the new campaign of U. S. industry to cooperate with government, labor and agriculture to provide jobs and face U. S. common problems together as the only way to sound recovery.

In an exclusive interview before March of Time's cameras, Howard Conroy, as president of the National Association of Manufacturers, outlines business' new stand as: "Industry has pledged its cooperation with government, with labor, agriculture and all groups that have the national welfare at heart. Let's stop fighting and face our common problems together. Then and only then will we progress along the road to sound recovery. Industry's attitude can be summed up in four words: 'Let's all work together—it's an old American custom.'"

Trio Of Villains In Latest Thriller At The Ritz Tuesday

Famed producers of the screen's most notable all-time shockers, Universal studios re-assumes the position as leader in the field of spine-tingling dramas with "Son of Frankenstein", new, powerful production which makes the flesh creep and at the same time emerges as a dramatic triumph at the Ritz Tuesday.

"Son of Frankenstein" surpasses all other efforts at blood-curdling film fare. It combines the stunts of the original "Frankenstein" and the equally shuddery "Dracula." Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi.

Basil Rathbone assumes the mantle of Baron von Frankenstein, possessor of the dread be-legacy of the family, a destructive monster. In one of his most difficult roles, that of a doctor torn between love of his wife and daughter and scientific fervor for his sinister experiments, Rathbone wins new laurels.

The story, penned by Willis Cooper, opens when the new Frankenstein figure returns to his ancestral castle twenty-five years after his father's death, as stipulated by the elder Frankenstein's will. He stumbles upon his father's grim creation, the hair-raising monster of destruction, played by Karloff.

Lionel Atwill, Josephine Hutchinson, Emma Dunn, four-year-old Donnie Dunagan, and Edgar Norton are outstanding in supporting roles. Atwill as a police inspector whose arm has been torn off by the Monster and Miss Hutchinson as Frankenstein's wife.

Production and direction are credited to Rowland V. Lee. The massive striking sets were designed by Jack Otterson, and eerie lighting and camera effects are due to ingenious photography by George Robinson.

"ARIZONA WILDCAT" brings the mischief-maker and the ocean star together. Jane Withers and Leo Carrillo form a new team at the Ritz.

PATSY KELLY and Alan Mowbray as a comedy romance team in the Hal Roach production "There Goes My Heart" opening Wednesday at the Ritz.

A surgeon who sewed up his instruments inside a patient has nothing on a North Carolina automobile mechanic who left his wrench inside a tire he repaired.

ANTHOINIST VERSION of the splendor of the latest Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy creation "Sweethearts" opening at the Ritz Sunday.

Local Growers May Seek New Canal Hearing

Schmah Re-Defines Opposition As Cross-State Project Is Revived In Congress

Cut Might Affect Supply Of Water

Texans Charged With Favoring Project To Florida's Detriment

Seminole County relay growers will join the Water Conservation League in demanding a hearing in which they will be allowed to voice objections against the construction of the proposed cross state canal if agitation continues in Congress to revive the project. Gus Schmah, president of the Seminole County Agriculture Association which represents a majority of the county's vegetable growers, said today.

Declaring that it has been shown that the project is not justified by economic considerations, nor by present or potential traffic which could plausibly use the canal, Mr. Schmah states that growers are becoming increasingly alarmed at the possible disastrous effects of digging into the state's only water-bearing formations, the Ocala limestone.

It is un sound, Mr. Schmah continued, to place in jeopardy the vitally necessary fresh water supplies of Florida in order to construct a canal of doubtful utility.

Geologists agree, he said, that construction of the proposed canal would cause some derangement of the State's underground water supply which would have a disastrous effect and might even destroy the state's vast production of winter fruits and vegetables. But despite this information which is in Congressional records, Chairman Mansfield (D. Tex.) of the Rivers and Harbors Committee and representatives of other winter crop regions continue to advocate construction of the canal.

Sanford Gets First Rain As Blizzards Strike North

A total of 3.5 inches of rain fell in the Sanford section this morning for the first precipitation in the month of January and the largest single rain since the month of October, according to records of G. P. Paxton, local meteorologist.

To citrus and vegetable growers the rain was received with gratitude for their crops had begun to show the effects of the continued lack of rainfall. While today's shower will give temporary relief, much more rainfall is necessary before water levels in the lakes and the wells will reach normal.

More Shocks Hit Stricken Chile Region

Chillan, Concepcion Tremors Lasting Over Two Minutes

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 30.—A new panic was reported today among the survivors of Chile's disastrous earthquake as they fled from the same tremors which between 2,000 and 3,000 already had died.

The new tremors, lasting more than two minutes, raked Chillan and Concepcion shortly before last midnight, injuring 20 persons in Concepcion and spreading terror among the homeless at Chillan.

Some sources said the new shocks were almost as strong as those of last Tuesday. There was little property left to be damaged, however.

Chile's earthquake death toll mounted hourly yesterday as small towns in the stricken area established contact with the outside world for the first time since Tuesday's catastrophe.

Hitler Warns Westerners Against Any Interference With Aims Of Germany

Speeches By Chamberlain, Mussolini To Follow That Of Germany's Dictator

By Associated Press
An armed, furious Europe looked today to Adolf Hitler for a clue to how he intends to use Nazi Germany's great new world spotlight when he opens the Reichstag in Berlin where the Reichsbanner will crown the 25th anniversary celebration of Nazi rule in a speech to the first Reichstag of the Greater Germany at 8 P. M. (2 P. M. E. S. T.) tonight.

His speech will usher in a portentous week in Europe. Tomorrow in London, British Prime Minister Chamberlain will face a foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, probably on what Hitler says today. In Rome Wednesday, Benito Mussolini will add his voice to the "war of words" that may foretell Europe's future. So vital was Hitler's speech considered to the shaky European peace framework that Chamberlain delayed the writing of his own parliamentary speech until he could hear it.

Behind Europe's uneasiness was Spain where General Franco's forces struck from three directions on the new government lines and predicted they would complete the conquest of Catalonia within two weeks. Refugees fled the roads to the French seacoast today.

SHIPWRECK DANCE

Tacky costumes of any and all descriptions will be worn to the shipwreck dance Friday evening at the City Hall. The event is one of the regular weekly dances of the Sanford Dance Club and is under the auspices of the recreation committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Due to the high school basketball game, the time for dancing has been extended from 9:45 until 12:00 o'clock instead of 11:30 o'clock.

DATE IS CHANGED

The date of the George Washington subscription bridge party has been changed from Feb. 22 to Feb. 21, it was announced today by Mrs. A. M. Phillips, chairman.

The party is being sponsored by the Civic Department of the Sanford Woman's Club for the benefit of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital.

Comps and vegetable cooking fats averaged three-hundredths of a cent a pound lower than refined lard at Chicago during 1935, but they were a cent a pound higher on the average in 1936.

Animated Magazine Has Fine Program

Outstanding speakers for the ninth annual edition of the animated magazine of the Woman's Club have been engaged to present the various articles for the occasion.

The feature composition, "Builders or Wreckers?" will be given by Dr. Helen Cole of Winter Park, who is professor of Greek and Roman civilization at Rollins College. She is also one of the committee group directors in the adult education program, which Rollins conducts each winter term.

A member of the Bishop Arthur's Club, the Florida Poetry Society, Dr. Cole is also chairman of the department of international relations of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs. She is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa scholastic fraternity at Holyoke College.

Mrs. Rose Mills Powers will present a group of original poems. A member of the Florida Poetry Society, Mrs. Powers is the author of many poems on the beauties of this state. She makes her home in Winter Park. Art will be the theme of the article presented by Newton Merrill, considered one of the outstanding artists in the United States at the present time. He and Mrs. Merrill have recently established their home in Fern Park.

Mrs. Mary Stewart McLeod of Fernow, chairman of the juvenile department of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, has chosen for her editorial, "Public Safety." This is particularly appropriate since the Junior Woman's Club of the state have adopted safety as one of their major projects for the year.

Music for the program will be unique in that it will be presented by students of the conservatory of music at State University, who will play their own original compositions.

This program is given each year by the literature department of the Sanford Woman's Club. The address of the program this year are: Mrs. C. E. Dawson, Mrs. Henry Wright, and Mrs. Walter J. Cooper.

Miss Jane Lloyd Is Named Sorority Head

Boris Karloff Seen Again As Frankenstein

For the third time, Boris Karloff is portraying the role of the Frankenstein Monster on the screen.

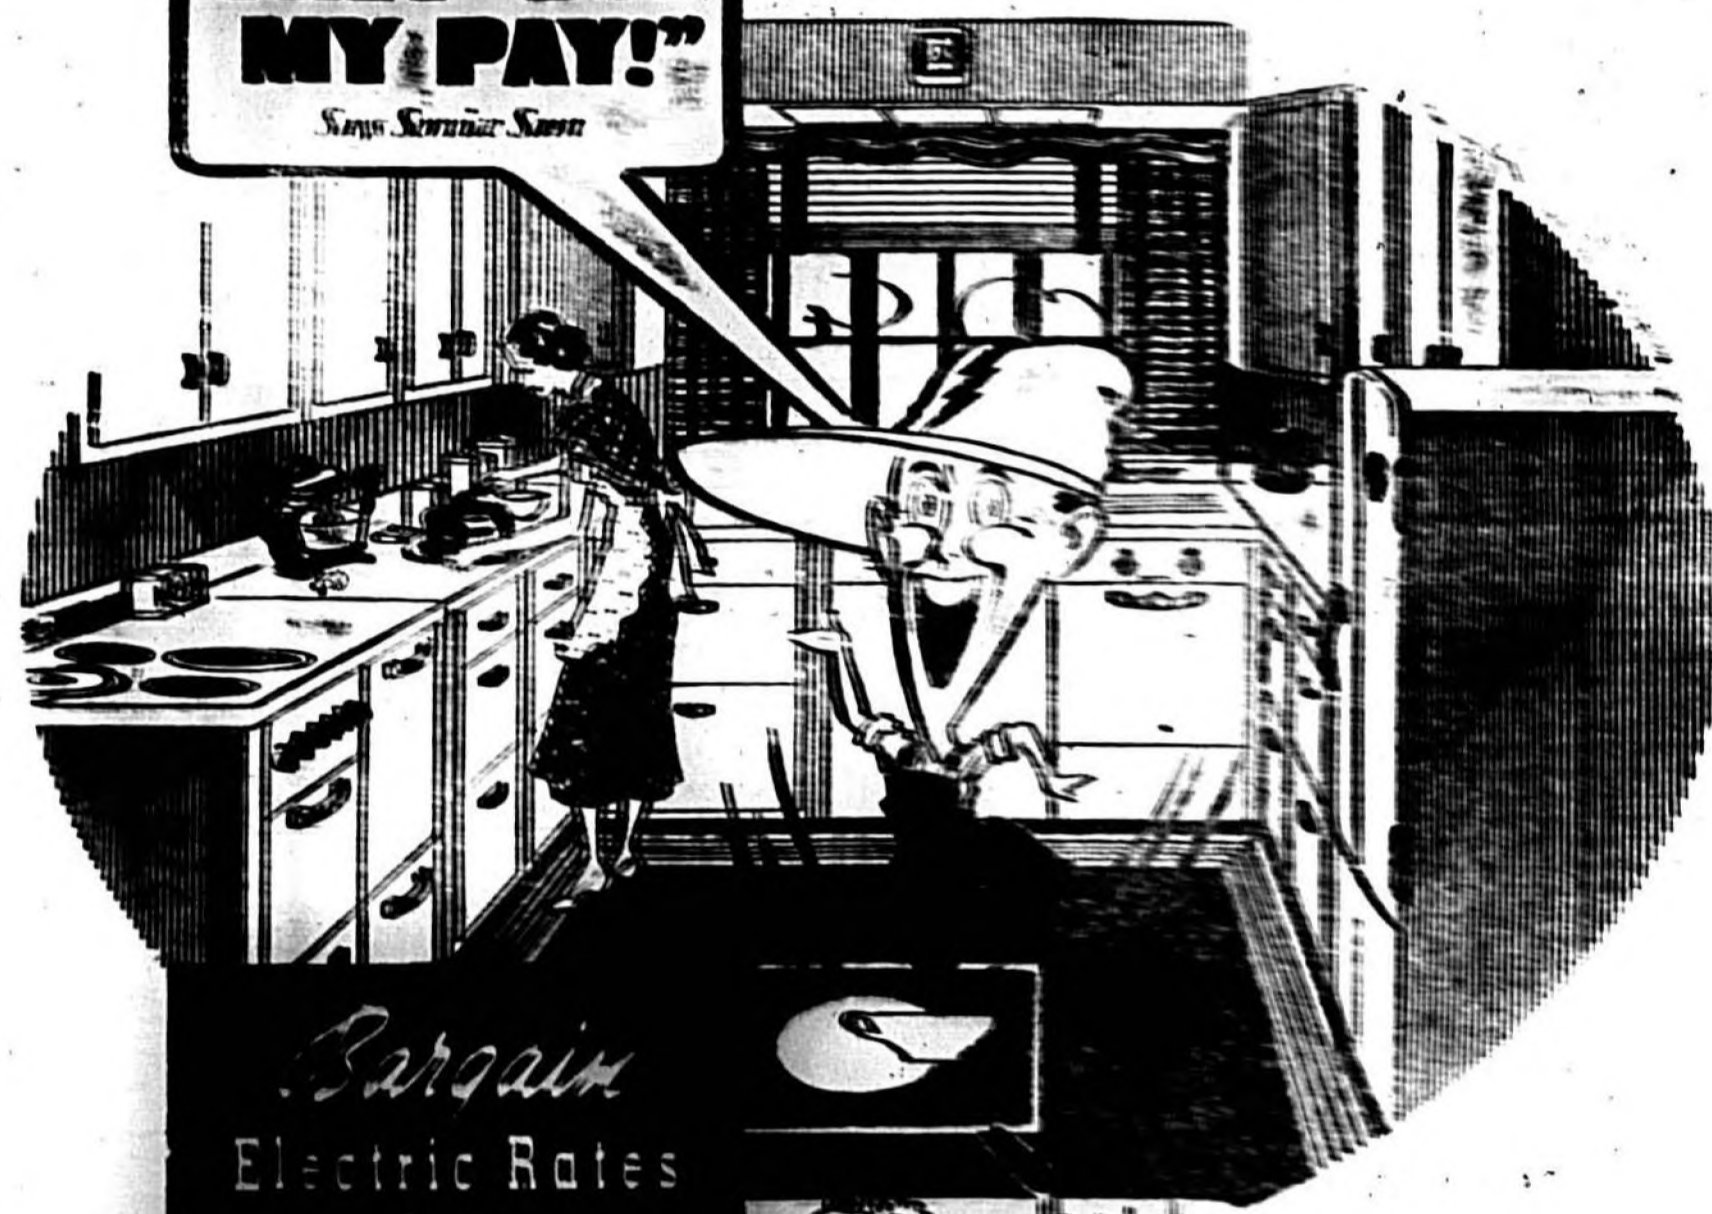

Wearing a hideous, make-up weighted down with heavily padded clothes and head-doll-shaped hair, Karloff is to be seen at the Theatre Tuesday in the same character he portrayed in "Frankenstein" and in "The Bride of Frankenstein." His present picture is Universal's new "Son of Frankenstein."
