In his presentation to the commission Ryan explained the new position is needed to aid in shifting the emphasis at the port from strictly marine oriented to encompass all industries. Ryan said this is necessary since the demise of the Cross-Florida Barge Canal and the

The commission deleted funds from the budget for rental at the Paulucci Building en First Street. The commission added to the capital outlay account $3,600 to construct the offices at the Port of Sanford.

The request for $15,000 for advertising was tentatively cut by the commission to $6,000. Deleted from the capital eutlay line was money requested for paving at the PESCO building at the port.

Overall the sinking fund was the only request left untouched by the commission. The sinking fund was left at $60,000, Salaries were cut to $30,778 frem the requested $53,236. Office expenses and equipment were trimmed almost in half as the commission tentatively authorized $33,684 compared to the $62,419 requested,

Malice To None

Seven years ago the United States Supreme Court ruled, in effect, that public figures, by their own deliberate decision to place themselves in the public spotlight, could not be libeled unless malice was proved in the use of a news story or comment concerning them. That court decision was not an open invitation for newspapers to set out on a rampage in maligning public officials; nor did newspapers, in fact, use the court ruling as an excuse to tread the borderline of libel concerning persons in the public

The responsible newspaper and the responsible news writers who are associated with them are the most dependable guardians against deliberate assaults upon individuals, their behavior and their reputations. No self-respecting editor or writer would set out to besmirch a person, whether that person is in private or public life. The recent position the high court has taken will in no way affect the great majority of the people involved in gathering, editing and conveying the news or in the preparation of editorial opinion.

Neither the average newspaper man or woman nor the average newspaper in this country believes that their profession is completely guiltless in the conduct of their jobs. They do believe in - and practice - the principle that they hold a clear obligation to report and write the truth without bias and malice.

To the average newspaper and its newsgatherers and opinion writers, however, this week's court opinion extending the interpretation of the question of libel to private citizens will have no effect one way or the other except when a non-public citizen alleges that a newspaper has libeled him with malice aforethought -Birmingham (Ala.) "Wow!" "I left my stomach back on that last hill!" "What a ride!" Excitement on wheels. That's a roller coaster - up and down, up and down. Just like a roller coaster, all of us realize that our very life is a series of hills and valleys. We are enjoying a smooth and peaceful existence, when suddenly we find ourselves far from the peaceful valley on what seems like a mountain of confusion and distress. At such crucial times we need to remember there is a nearby fortress of stability. It is that place of power that stands ever ready to provide the necessary faith and courage to face tomorrow with enthusiasm. Discover the inner peace that comes from divine love. Worship in church this Sanday.

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) - Three Orlando men were in jail today under $75,000 bond each after, police say, they engaged in a 30-minute weekend gun battle with officers over a planeload of marijuana on an abandoned airstrip. Police said the men were attempting to reach a small plane stuffed with $1.1 million in marijuana that was parked on the weedgrown runway in a remote area near here.

Charles Slaughter, 32; Edward White, 28, and Alfred William Harrison, 43, all of Orlando, were charged with possession of 1,100 pounds of marijuana, conspiracy to smuggle marijuana and assault on a federal officer, police said. Volusia County Sheriff Ed Duff said sheriff's

Prisoners 'Demonstrate' At Orlando

ORLANDO (AP) — Violence erupted at the Orange County Jail twice Sunday as prisoners in a fifth floor cellblock hurled flaming objects through windows and shouted obscenities at passersby, police said.

During the first outbreak from 1 to 6 p.m., Sheriff's Deputy Howard Hair suffered what authorities termed a "stroke while on duty." He was reported in fair condition at Orange Memorial Hospital.

during the afternoon episode, police said. Authorities roped off the area around the courthouse housing the jail. Assistant Fire Chief Calvin Bookhardt said pressure hoses were turned on in the cellblock to douse blazing objects. Prisoners ripped light fixtures from ceilings, and set fire to blankets, plastic plates and other flammable objects, police said. When prisoners were told their visitation privileges had been suspended because of the afternoon violence, trouble began again at 10 p.m. Police said it was quelled in an hour, Authorities said all prisoners in the cellblock were involved, but declined to give the specific number. It usually has more than 100 prisoners.

Sunday's incident is the fifth in recent weeks, authorities said. Last month seven prisoners escaped from the jail, including "black sat-
