Drainage District Petition Expected

The County Commission expects to set the date within 10 days for a special election on setting up a tax district in the Loch Arbor area.

Chairman John Krider reported to the board today that a petition with the names of 51 percent of registered freeholders in the area asking for the district should be in next week.

The district involved includes Loch Arbor, Little Venice and the Country Club section. The petition is being circulated in the area calling for the special election.

If the majority of the property owners favor the district, a plan to eliminate flooding would be put into effect before the fall.

Krider said the estimated cost of the plan would be $21,000. This would provide for acquisition of property, construction of drainage ditches, dams, canals and installation of culverts and drainage pipes.

If everything goes smoothly in setting up the district, the board agreed that the next step would be a tax district in the Tanglewood and Temple Terrace section.

The county agreed to join in a project with Orange County and Winter Park to eliminate flooding in that area. Money for Seminole's share would come from funds out of the tax district.

Castro Criticizes Eisenhower Letter

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro said today President Eisenhower has "no right" to speak out against him, the Cuban revolution or the Cuban government.

Castro made the statement in an interview granted CBS correspondent Richard Bates and published in full by the semi-official newspaper Revolution.

The premier also denied that he had suggested personal talks with Eisenhower or U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Hoff to seek solutions of differences between Cuba and the United States. He said his remarks in a previous interview with Bates had been distorted.

Castro charged that the U.S. government "is taking advantage of every opportunity to sow confusion" over the Cuban revolution.

"If there is someone in the U.S. government who believes he can conquer the Cuban revolution in that way he is making a mistake because the Cuban revolution without any doubt will continue without any vacillation," he said.

Castro said Eisenhower "had no right to speak the way he has spoken about the Cuban revolution and the Cuban government."

Eisenhower in a recent letter to Chilean students said Castro had betrayed the ideals of the revolution.

Passage Of Rights Bill Is Cleared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Rules Committee cleared the way today for final congressional passage Thursday of civil rights legislation aimed at guaranteeing the voting rights of Negroes.

The committee approved a resolution calling for House acceptance of changes the Senate made in the bill before passing it April 2.

The House, which approved its own version of the bill March 24, will receive the Senate measure Thursday on a take-it-or-leave-it basis as a result of today's committee action.

The Rules Committee, which chairman legislation in the floor, assured final House passage by permitting the House to act on the measure by a majority vote.

Without committee clearance, the House would have required a two-thirds majority to send the civil rights bill to the White House.

Troops Battle Mobs In Seoul

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Anti-government mobs raged through Seoul today, placing President Syngman Rhee under virtual siege in his presidential palace, attacking government buildings, newspapers and police stations and setting fires.

Government troops and armored cars firing at point blank range rolled them back with heavy casualties but the mobs attacked again. Two Americans were known to have been injured.

Authorities at six major Seoul hospitals reported at 9:30 p. m. that at least 81 persons were dead and 300 seriously injured.

Republic of Korea authorities declared martial law in Seoul and five other cities as demonstrations protesting last month's national elections spread from the south into the capital itself.

The other cities were Pusan, where the Orient Press reported five dead, and Tagu, Kwangju, Taegon and Masan.

Orient Press said rioting involving 30,000 to 40,000 demonstrators still raged in Pusan as of 9 p. m.

In Seoul, the fighting came close to American Army installations and homes occupied by Americans but there was no known attack on any of them. U. S. troops were kept in their bases as a precaution.

Outside the Korean government's Anti-Communist Center the mob tried but failed to topple a statue of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

This evening, American Ambassador Walter F. Connally called on President Rhee to express "concern" over the day's rioting.

As night fell, most of the streets were quiet. Street cars stood idle, with lights burning but empty of passengers. On some streets, the dying flames of burning automobiles flickered.

The government radio warned against further violence, and ROK soldiers in full battle dress rode in jeeps, warning by loudspeaker against mob action.

Seoul's martial regime tightened curfew regulations and banned all outdoor gatherings. Mayor Yim Heung Soon resigned, saying it was his fault that the rioting had gotten out of hand.

James Wilcox, of Quincy, Mass., former president of the American Chamber of Commerce here, was shot in the abdomen while watching the riots from the roof of the Bando Hotel. A U.S. embassy spokesman said his condition was "quite serious."

Hugh F. Blaney, of New York City, chief of the U. S. Army's Seoul fire department, was hit in the forehead by a stone.

The Communist radio reported that rallies were being held throughout Red North Korea to pledge "full support" to the rioters south of the 38th Parallel.

President Eisenhower was briefed today on the rioting and martial law in South Korea, but there was no indication whether he might cancel his plans to visit Russia and the Far East.

Acting Press Secretary Wayne Hanks said the president was getting regular briefings on the Korean situation, along with intelligence reports from other parts of the world.

Drainage Levy Suggested

County Commission Chairman John Krider suggested to the commission today that a county-wide millage be set up for drainage in next year's budget and that the portion collected within municipalities be returned to the cities to use as they see fit.

Krider offered the suggestion after Clerk David Gatchel said that he would start work soon on making up the preliminary budget for next year and asked the board to start looking ahead toward budget planning.

All drainage work now being done in the county has been charged to the road and bridge fund, Gatchel said.

Krider, in alluding to the need for a special levy, said that "$20,000 has been taken from the road and bridge fund for drainage needs when that money should have been spent on building roads."

In other business during the meeting, County Engineer Robert Davis reported that work on paving Lake Mary Road is completed and said his crews hope to finish the Bear Lake drainage project in the near future.

The board also approved the paving of the south end of Oregon Ave. and agreed to vacate a plot in the Crystal Lake Court Manor area and agreed to pave Lake Brantley Drive when the money and materials are available.

Casselberry To Get New Fire Station

A proposal to give Casselberry a new fire station in return for a piece of land was accepted by the town's Board of Aldermen Monday night.

Developer Hubbard Casselberry offered to build a new 60 x 15 foot fireproof fire station on the east side of the present station if the aldermen would give him a piece of land, Casselberry intends to put up a building there to house some of his Casselberry Garden trucks. The garage will be concrete block painted on the outside.

Casselberry said he would give the new fire station enough of a foundation to hold a second story in case one is added later on.

The aldermen decided that any home additions or alterations costing more than $300 will require the builder to get a building permit. The fee for these additions or alterations will be two cents per square foot with a minimum of $5. This will be written into the Casselberry building code.

Concrete four foot high posts will be used as street markers in Casselberry from now on, instead of wooden street markers. The concrete posts will have vertical lettering on them. The aldermen agreed that wooden markers are too liable to rot. Alderman Graham Wilson said that car headlights can pick up the low, concrete posts better.

Building inspector Al Downs will be paid $10 for inspecting each home where building permit fees are levied on a square foot basis. Town Clerk Mrs. Lillian Beisel also got a raise. She will receive $2 for issuing each building permit for a new home.

Sanford's zoning and planning commission will vote two new zoning areas at the commission meeting Thursday night.

The commission will vote 50 lots recently taken in between Eighth St. and Colony Ave. just east of the agricultural experiment station. These lots are being developed for homes by Philip Hall and were zoned by the City Commission April 11.

Four San Sun Knolls lots also will be zoned. The commission will have a request to rezone two lots at 113 Avenida Ave. from single family to multiple family for operation of a nursing home there. City street parking requests also may be on the agenda for the 7:30 p. m. meeting in City Hall.

Polaris Missile Hits Crucial Snag In Development

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Structural problems apparently have snagged the Navy's Polaris missile at a crucial point in its development program.

Monday, the second straight shipboard launching of the 15-ton rocket came out with only "partial" success when its second-stage engine cut off far ahead of schedule.

It was reported missilemen were checking telemetry data to see whether there was any connection between the missile and a similar "partial" success of March 28.

Informed sources said the March shot fell 500 miles short of its target 300 miles down the Atlantic missile range when the front end of the missile caved in, causing the second stage to lose thrust.

The rocket fired Monday from the USS Observation Island 20 miles out to sea missed its target at a similar range by an even greater distance.

As with the March 28 firing, the missile burst from a deck tube aboard the Observation Island, then rode a column of air to a height of about 75 feet before its solid-fueled engines ignited. Second-stage separated and fired on schedule about one minute later.

Then, in visual observations on the beaches south of the Cape, it appeared the second-stage engines quit too soon. There was no indication from the Navy as to exactly what caused the malfunction, but sources reported structural defects might again have been the cause.

The Polaris is slated to become combat-ready late this year. As a war weapon, it would be launched from submerged nuclear submarines of the USS George Washington class. It will have an eventual range of about 1,500 miles.

Laird Campaigns In City Monday

Angus Laird, candidate for the office of secretary of state opened a hard-shaking campaign in Sanford Monday.

Laird, who lives in Tallahassee, said if elected he plans to operate the office with "promptness, efficiency, integrity and will support the merit system."

Laird has a varied background in education and business. He has taught in Florida county schools, at the University of Florida and at Florida State University.

Laird served as president of the Florida Public Health Association and is the co-author of "The Government and Administration of Florida."

He also helped in establishing and directing the merit system in the state.

Architects plans for the building have been started. The name of the building has been tentatively set as "The Park-Fulton Building."

Cuban Issues May 2 Ultimatum To Castro To Get Rid Of Commies

MIAMI (UPI)—The 29-year-old exiled Cuban accountant who delivered an ultimatum of war to Fidel Castro lives in a three-room cottage and works as a waiter in a Miami Beach hotel.

He is Fernando Lopez del Toro. He has a wife, a child, and limitless confidence.

"The plan is easy," he said Monday night in fairly good English. "We have more than 5,000 men ready inside Cuba to start the war. They are ready in six provinces and they will all start at once. I will be there to help them."

Lopez' ultimatum, a duplicated legal-sized sheet of white paper, was circulated in Miami Monday. He said copies were smuggled into Cuba and that a 19-year-old volunteer, Elmo Martinez Garcia, was supposed to deliver it to Castro in Havana.

The ultimatum served notice on Castro to purge his government of Communist influence or face internal war starting May 2.

Lopez calls his movement the Cuban Anti-Communist Army. "Others who say they are anti-Castro are nothing," he said. By others he meant men like Francisco Cajigas and Pedro Diaz.

Officials Bypassed Lung Cancer Sign

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Officials of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. admitted Monday the firm did not specifically instruct its researchers to probe a possible link between lung cancer and cigarette smoking until 1953, when it acquired a cigarette smoking machine for research purposes.

Otto Pritchard, 61, a Pittsburgh cabinet maker, is suing the tobacco firm for $1,250,000, contending he developed lung cancer from smoking its cigarettes for more than a quarter of a century. Part of Pritchard's right lung was removed by surgery in 1953.

Testimony from Benjamin F. Few, retired president of Liggett & Myers, and Dr. Frederick R. Danks, research director, was read to the jury Monday.

Danks said the cigarette smoking machine was completed under his direction in 1953 and in December of that year studies dealing with the effect of alleged cancer-producing cigarette agents on rats were brought to his attention.

"There was a great deal of conflict of opinion on what these studies meant. We had no basis to take seriously the opinions of a few people," Dr. Danks said. Few, who was questioned particularly on the firm's advertising campaign, said the firm was "not in the cancer research business. But our scientists . . . would have reported it" if they found any indications that cigarettes were a causative agent in cancer.

Lanz, both of whom have announced the formation of anti-Castro organizations.

"They just talk about it," said Lopez. "I mean to do something." Lopez said he has always been anti-Castro. "Even when I was at the university (of Havana) I knew he was not right for Cuba. He was too far left . . . with the Reds."

Lopez came to Miami as Castro marched into Havana. Since then, he said, he has been exhorting Cubans to buy weapons for the "war from within."

He said there are now enough arms — mostly pistols, rifles and Thompson submachine guns — to fight a successful war. "We will hit and run and wear the Communists out," said Lopez. "We will use the same tactics Fidel used against Batista."

Realtors To Induct New Members

The regular meeting of the Seminole County Board of Realtors will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at 116 S. French Ave.

Another in the series of educational programs will be given, with A. C. Doudney, registered land surveyor, showing two films produced by the University of Southern California — one in color and one in black and white.

The film, "Property Lines," will bring the practice of surveying land up from the early days in the Nile Valley to a present controversy between neighbors concerning their own joint property line.

The other film will be an informative one, "On This We Build." Doudney will answer any questions concerning surveys.

Induction of new members will take place when Rosa Payton and Florence Harris become Realtors and are welcomed by the membership committee.

Orange City Group Enjoys Ranch Party

A group of Orange City neighbors formed a party and drove to the MQ Ranch for dinner, recently. They brought to life a reminder of the "good old days" when neighbors used to do much more entertaining of this kind. They were met at the gate by the Morris boss and boss lady and given the full treatment and hospitality of the MQ, including roast beef, ambrosia and all the other Western style delicacies. The dinner was served from the lazy susans, while the hosts related highlights of the ranch history. They visited points of interest and lucky number was chosen to determine who would receive a chunk of homemade soap.

USO Still Doing Worldwide Job

Rev. Ernest Bolick, chairman of the Sanford USO Committee, has written a letter thanking the paper and its readers for "the many friendly acts in the past year which have helped so much to improve our hospitality to those in the armed forces."

He went on to point out that April is the month for a nationwide effort to remind the public that the USO still is doing a big job for our service men all over the world.

The USO is in its 19th year of service wherever U. S. armed forces are stationed and continues to be operated entirely through contributions from the public. The Sanford USO is operated by the YWCA and gets its support through the United Fund.

With the latest war some years past, we are inclined to forget that the armed forces still take hundreds of thousands of young men away from their homes each year. And we are just as likely to forget that the USO and other groups still are on the job to help them and bolster their morale.

As Rev. Bolick said: "It is comforting to know that what we are doing here for them is being done throughout the country and the world."

Truman Moving The Throttle To Stop Kennedy's Demo Bid

BY LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harry S. Truman got the message of the Wisconsin presidential primary. HST's political caudal hand is on one of the throttles of the stop-Kennedy movement.

He can't win in HST's word for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) The former President seems to have a throttle in either hand. He is chief engineer of another stop operation.

This one is to prevent the re-nomination for president of Adlai Stevenson. He can't win, either, is HST's word for Stevenson.

Truman did not say directly if either Kennedy or Stevenson that they couldn't win; did not say it, that is, in just those words. What HST did say was that Republican newspapers were conniving to promote the nomination of Kennedy or Stevenson by the Democrats.

"But our party is going to nominate somebody who can win," Truman told tag-along newsmen on a recent early morning hike in New York City. Heretofore HST has insisted that ANY Democrat could lick Vice President Richard M. Nixon next November.

It is obvious by now that HST's boy is Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.). Politic being a fabric of gossamer delicacy, it could be that something might develop which would damage Symington's eligibility for the nomination before the Democratic national convention July 11 in Los Angeles.

If such transpired, HST would need another boy and it is not impossible that the former president would reverse himself on Kennedy and promote the young man from Massachusetts for the Democratic nomination. It is not likely, however, that HST would change his mind about Stevenson.

Harry S. Truman is a political feudist of character and determination. He is endowed liberally with an attribute of character without which no feudist can amount to much anywhere. That attribute is pride. Stevenson snubbed Truman in the prize in the 1952 presidential campaign although HST more than any other man was responsible for Stevenson's nomination.

What Stevenson did in 1952 was brush off HST after the nomination and by-pass HST's hand-picked chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Frank E. McKinney of Indiana. Those things Stevenson did for sure.

It seemed to some others, perhaps including HST, that Stevenson delicately held his nose as though offended by foul speech whenever he was reminded of President Truman or of the Truman administration.

Good Deed Wins Cruise For Former Sanford Resident

Mrs. Tom Kirkman just salvaged herself a Caribbean cruise.

The former Topsy Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell of Sanford, won the cruise from the Junior League of Orlando by bringing in $5,000 of salvaged clothing and household articles. Mrs. Kirkman collected the savings during the past year and was striving with five other contestants to see who would win the cruise for two.

The former Sanford resident brought in more salvage than any other contestant ever, gave the judge before. The clothing and goods will be sold by the Junior League to maintain the league's day nursery.

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—When it comes to worrying about the physical fitness of the kids of today, Grandpa Eisenhower is like most other parents I've heard from.

The president conceded that we've grown soft through our desire for comforts, and that we're handing over this fat-cat way of living to our children.

The way he put it in reply to my query to him at his press conference was: "Our mode of life has brought about something we have to overcome... we have to do it very earnestly."

This is, in substance, what several hundred mothers and fathers wrote in response to a recent column discussing our mollycoddling of our young generation. Many writers admitted frankly that they themselves were kiddie-coddlers.

While the Russians are showing greater signs of strength, physically and mentally, we find increasing examples of softness in our youth — and most of the blame is our, the adults. A lot of folks in our suburban Bethesda were sore last month when school officials closed classes for a day because of a four-inch snow—that fell two days before.

by Ed Koterba

Another example: the boy who delivers the paper in our neighborhood failed to bring the paper twice within a week. When I asked him about it, he replied: "It snowed hard and I don't have anyone to drive me around in a car like the other boys do." A generation ago you wouldn't have heard an excuse like that.

I believe Mr. Eisenhower is genuinely concerned about the state of our young boys and girls for four good personal reasons—that boy, David, and his three sisters up at Gettysburg.

The president was now saying: "In Europe today you see children by the thousands bicycling along the Holland roads and the Paris roads and so on. In our country, you don't see it."

Here, he said, kids go to school in buses, and if they have to walk more than four or five blocks, parents drive them to school. One reason, he said, is because they're frightened by so much traffic on the roads. This here parent is no different...

Which is one way of saying that this nation has become the slave to, and unwitting victim of, high-powered mechanization. Certainly, the parent-teacher organizations of our country are influential enough to bring about measures to give our kids the proper right to walk—or ride bikes—to school in safety...

The key to the president's concern for this physical degeneration of our youth was his reference to a test given a few years ago to 15,000 children of the United States, together with about 5,000 European youngsters.

Bald Mr. Eisenhower: "The alarming results were—well, they were very depressing."

It doesn't look like there's much hope unless there's a movement to de-emphasize this era of wide-screen TV, higher-powered teenage cars and ready, big weekly allowances.

Nobody wants to kill off our basic democratic leisure-loving comfort-seeking philosophy, but in view of what the president said maybe it's time to bend the trend back a little before we end up a lazy, fat sitting duck for some virile enemy nation.

Reds Relaxing Restrictions On Visits To East Germany

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

Things may get easier soon for West Germans wanting to travel across the Iron Curtain to visit relatives and friends in Communist East Germany. This year, for the first time since the curtain came down, Communist authorities abolished long and complicated visa applications for West Germans and admitted them for the Easter weekend merely on production of a regular West German identity card. The relaxation was good only over the Easter holidays but West German officials are hoping it may be a sign of a more permanent relaxation of border formalities in the future.

With all farms collectivized, East German Communists now are making private craftsmen

REDS RELAXING RESTRICTIONS ON VISITS TO EAST GERMANY

(their next target. Special squads of agitators are being formed to get craftsmen to give up their private businesses and form "collectives." East Germany still has about 200,000 private craftsmen employing about 600,000 workers. About 3,500 collectives have been formed with about 140,000 workers.

During President Charles De Gaulle's visit to Washington, he is expected to settle with President Eisenhower outstanding differences between France and NATO. Informed quarters say the tension created in NATO by De Gaulle's insistence on a greater say for France in allied councils has decreased lately. De Gaulle also is expected to urge Eisenhower to use his influence to gain France a share in some U. S. atomic secrets.

THE WORRY CLINIC

By Dr. George Crane

Many of your parents or grandparents have only five more years to live. Make those last months on earth as happy as possible by giving them gifts which they will use every day. These elderly folks are so frugal they seldom will indulge in even needed physical repairs, bundle them in your care and see that they have properly fitted eye glasses, false teeth, hearing aids, etc.

CASE E-431: Lois W., aged 24, is an attractive stenographer. "Dr. Crane, my parents were poor but honest folk," she told me. "They had very high ideals and sacrificed so that I might get a college education. "Now I have a fine position as private secretary. I'd like to make life easier for them. But they prefer to live simply and save their money. "Even when I give them a birthday or Christmas gift, they thank me but say I shouldn't spend the money. "And if I give Mother anything that I can wear, she'll make me take it back for my own use. "Dr. Crane, what kind of a gift would you recommend for older people, such as our parents and grandparents?"

It is typical of human beings to grow more frugal as they advance in years. Even a spendthrift or Prodigal Son at the age of 25 may become a penny pincher in his old age, for this is the natural trend. For as we grow more decrepit and dependent, we like to hang on to our money, since it symbolizes power and independence. This doesn't mean that elderly folks are penurious. They will gladly spend money for their children or grandchildren. Indeed, their parents are likely to leave a small inheritance to their loved ones.

But elderly people are usually too stingy with themselves: They hesitate to spend hard earned money for their own welfare. For example, they try to make an old, outmoded pair of spectacles last them till their death. Meanwhile, they strain to read the newspaper or finally give up after skimming the headlines, which are in large type. They may have difficulty in recognizing people, including their own relatives. They cannot fully enjoy the beautiful colors of spring and autumn. They may stumble and fall because of this defective vision. They may have difficulty in recognizing people, including their own relatives. They cannot fully enjoy the beautiful colors of spring and autumn. They cannot fully enjoy the beautiful colors of spring and autumn. They may stumble and fall because of this defective vision. They may have difficulty in recognizing people, including their own relatives.

Let them experiment with various hearing aids until they find one that will really help them. Then insist on their using it steadily. Let them enjoy their declining years by seeing and hearing and tasting the joys of life. So don't limit your gifts to hose or handkerchiefs, which they probably store away in bureau drawers, anyway. Give them gifts which they will use every day, such as new eye glasses, or false teeth or hearing aids or a good radio or TV set. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

ITHACA, N. Y. — Former President Truman, stating his belief that twice-defeated Adlai E. Stevenson wants to run for president for a third time: "Stevenson wants it — like any person wants to be president. I know from experience."

MOSCOW — A Russian first-nighter at the opening of "My Fair Lady," disagreeing with the majority of the audience who gave it one of the warmest receptions an American production ever won in Moscow: "It's not so funny as I expected. Why didn't you send over 'Ok-labaha'?"

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Elvis Presley fan, tagging along at his heels as he waited for a train to Hollywood and begging him to kiss her: "Look at me, Elvis, look at me, Elvis."

Gubernatorial Candidates Move Into 7-Figure Spending

By United Press International
Florida's candidates for governor, taking aim at a record number of voters, went to work on spending their second million dollars today.

Spending by the 10 Democrats and two Republicans moved into the seven-figure class Monday — $1,065,725 reported spent so far.

The target, though, is bigger than ever before. State officials predicted Monday that total registration for next month's primaries will top 1,750,000.

Only Santa Rosa of the state's 67 counties remains to report. Officials promised its report will be in today.

Monday's campaigning Doyle Carlton took some of his opponents to task for promising to enact any new tax laws. That promise is impossible to keep, he said at Orlando.

Auditor Criticizes Records At Retarded Training Center

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Auditor Bryan Willis Monday criticized record keeping at the Retarded Training Center for the mentally retarded, and reported a deficit in the accounts of former Collier County Judge E. S. Jolley.

At Sunland, Willis said, inventories of supplies not current or accurate, accounting inaccurate in several cases and internal control over cash weak.

Expenses at the center increased two million dollars within the last two years, Willis said. Measures to correct the record-keeping deficiencies were being put into effect, he said.

Willis reported a $603 deficit in Jolley's accounts. He said the judge still owed Collier County $1,500 for excess income shown in a previous audit.

Mouth Resuscitation Explained To Rotarians

Why mouth to mouth resuscitation is the best method of reviving a drowned or suffocating person was explained to the Sanford Rotary Club Monday.

Florida Power and Light Co. personnel representative James Breedlove said that you can get 48 percent more oxygen to a suffocating or drowning person with this new method than with the older back pressure or arm lift methods of artificial respiration.

Breedlove showed the Rotarians a training breather device used to teach Florida Power linemen the new method.

Here are some things to remember about mouth resuscitation:
First, clear the victim's mouth and throat of any foreign particles.

Then tilt his head back to open an air passage. Insert your thumb in the side of the person's mouth and lift the jaw forward to keep the tongue from falling back and blocking the air passage. This is where the old artificial respiration methods may fail, a film showed. No matter how much you move the victim's diaphragm, if the tongue is blocking the air passage, diaphragm movement isn't going to do much good.

Then pinch the victim's nostrils together with your other hand. Seal your mouth around the victim's. Take a deep breath and breathe for the victim until his breathing returns.

You should blow into an adult victim's mouth about 12 times per minute, Breedlove said. Children's breathing is faster but not as deep. Breedlove cautioned against breathing too strongly into a child's lungs as they might burst.

The rescuer is not just breathing carbon dioxide into the victim's lungs, the film showed. By inhaling deeply, the rescuer is able to have oxygen in the breath he exhales. The rescuer must inhale twice as deeply as normal. The idea is to get oxygen into the victim's lungs. If the victim's chest rises and falls as you breathe, you are getting air into his lungs.

Smathers Raps Policy 'Neurosis'

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A defensive attitude, "the beginning of neurosis and self-doubt" has infected American foreign policy, Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) told the University of Florida Blue Key Club Monday night.

The Florida Democrat said that "we are so preoccupied with a kind of flabby, internationalized public relations that the first question you often hear when a new policy is suggested is not 'will it work?' but 'will it offend anyone?'"

Smathers made clear, however, that he did not intend to imply that foreign aid is "an offense against the republic—only that it ought to be directed to a worthy, and more attainable objective than buying friendship."

Ode To Casey Shows Dynasty May Be Ending

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American League pennant race starts full blast today and — with apologies to Ernest L. Thayer — herewith an ode to the possible end of a dynasty.

The outlook isn't brilliant for the Yankee club this day: the pennant score stands nine to two with one season more to play.

And now that Bauer went out west, and Larsen did the same, a sickly silence fell upon patrons of the Yankee game.

A gasping few have given up in deep and dark despair. The rest cling to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast.

They think if only Casey could get out the weeks with bat, they'd get up even money, now, that Casey'd get it back.

Yet Noun preceded Casey, as did also Harris, Bucky; and the former was a lulu and the latter was unlucky.

So upon the stricken multitude grim melancholy thrives, for there seems but little chance this time of Casey getting first.

Sure Noun finished in the show spot, to the wonderment of all; and Bucky brought 'em home on top, when they tore the cover off the ball.

Yet when the dust had lifted and the men saw what occurred, there was Bucky out of work because the Yankees finished third.

Then from a million throats and heads there rose a lark-like yell: it rambled through the valley, it rattled in the dell.

It knickered upon the mountain and recoiled upon the flat, for Casey, mighty Casey, had put on the pitcher's cap.

There was seen in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place: there was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.

And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat: there were strangers in the crowd who answered "Who in the world is that?"

Ten million eyes were on him and he double-talked them wide; five million tongues applauded as he got them on his side.

Then while his writhing rivals round their teeth and did a flip, defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

Through nine of those next 11 years they hurried through the air; and Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there.

His double talk got triple and it was a joyous life, his Yankees knocked 'em over, even out too late with wile.

"Break up, break up the Yankees," shouted those who trailed behind.

"That ain't my style," smiled Casey, "Guys like mine you'll have to find."

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone; he ignored the rising tumult, and the razors they did hone.

And while they beat the bushes, and jangled here and there; Casey stayed with the old ones, and ignored their falling hair.

But the sneer is gone from Casey's lip, his teeth are clenched in hate.

Who would think that he would finish third and almost get the gate? They've seen his face grow stern and cold, they've seen his eyeballs strain.

And they know that mighty Casey can't let first go by again.

So! Somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright; the hand is playing somewhere, and somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout; but there is no joy in Brounville — mighty Casey might strike out.

Neil's Take Over Kegler Loop Lead

Neil's Hair Salon took over first place in the Jet Bowlerettes Bowling League last week.

In second place is Trim-etie followed by Howe's Fashions, Yowell's Ro-Jay's, Mary Esther's, House of Rahiha and Duke and Duchess are all tied for fifth place with Ivey's in the cellar.

Neil's Hair Salon won the first game from Ro-Jay's by a large score but, dropped the second to the dress shop only to come back to win the third, plus total pins.

Margerie Lyons rolled high for Neil's while Jo Hunt led the Dress Shop Team. Betty Dedman looked like an expert in toppling the 3-10 and 5-10 splits.

Howe's Fashions lost the first point to Duke and Duchess by eight pins, but came from behind to take the next three points without any trouble. Ruby Carlson lead the Duchess team while June Anderson stood high for Howe's.

Trim-etie jumped on top of Mary Esther's in the fifth game, but lost the drive to take more than one game at the dress shop team came back strong to win the last two. Frir Mackey was high for the winning team and Mary Setre stood high for the figure salon.

House of Rahiha Portraits was out in front all the way as they racked up all four points from Sweeney's Team. The stationary store just couldn't get ahead of the Portrait Studio as the whole team was really hot. Shirley Rasmussen led this team while Arlene Dederling struggled high for Sweeney's.

Ivey's Shoe Store took the first game from Yowell's, then lost the second, only to come back strong and win the third, plus total pins. Joan Peterson's 478 was high for Yowell's and Mildred Nowers had high for Ivey's Shoe Store.

Browns Sign Evans To Coach

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Richard Evans, assistant coach at Notre Dame, will take over May 15 as an assistant on the Cleveland Browns coaching staff.

Paul Brown, coach and general manager, who made the announcement Monday, said Evans will handle the defensive line and game scouting.

Evans served four years as offensive and defensive line coach at Washington previous to his Notre Dame position, and also played four years in the pro loop as a member of Green Bay and Chicago.

Gonzales Floors Flamio In Bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jose Gonzales, promising slugger from Puerto Rico, is expected to be rewarded with another feature match seen as a result of his unanimous 10-round decision over Billy Flamio of New York.

Gonzales, 31, floored Flamio, 188½, for eight counts twice in the second round and slashed away at his opponent throughout the entire bout Monday night.

Score Traded To Chisox; Looms As Top Reclamation Project

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Herb Score, once-known as the pitcher with a million dollar arm today in the reclamation project of Chicago Manager Al Lopez.

Score, who has won 18 while losing 15 in the past three seasons, was traded Monday to Chicago by Cleveland Indians General Manager Frank Lane, who completed two major swaps in less than 24-hours.

In return, the Indians obtained youthful righthander Barry Latham, who in his first season won eight games for the American League champions last year.

"I reached the point where I felt Score could not win in Cleveland," Lane said in explaining the swap.

White Sox owner Bill Veeck said he wanted Score "because two of his finest years he had with Cleveland were when Lopez was manager there and he has the potential of being a really great pitcher."

Lopez said he was "very happy to get Score. He'll be a very valuable addition to our pitching staff."

"Joe Gordon didn't like me, Lopez does, and I'm sure I'll get along better with him," was Score's comment on the transaction.

When the senior was managing the Tribe, Score, during the 1955-56 season amassed 508 strikeouts and won 36, while losing 19.

The Indians rejected a million dollar bid made in 1957 by Joe Cronin, then general manager of Boston.

Score's star started to dim early in '57 when he was struck in the eye by a line drive from the bat of Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees. He returned to action late in the season and won several games. The following year, an elbow injury sidelined him most of the season. In 1959, while appearing in 20 games the former $60,000 bonus baby, won nine games in the first half and failed to win a game after July 3. He wound up the season with a 9-11 mark.

Ingemar May Sign Rematch Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ingemar Johansson, jubilant over adding an airplane pilot's license to his accomplishments, plans to sign today or Wednesday for his return heavyweight title bout with Floyd Patterson the week of June 20 at the Polo Grounds.

"I feel fine and I hope to sign for the bout Tuesday or Wednesday," Johansson said after arriving by jet Monday night from Europe. "I plan to fly back to Europe Wednesday and will return to the United States May 5 to finish my training at Geopline, N.Y."

After what appeared a leisurely training stint last summer at Grossinger (N. Y.), Ingo stunned Patterson and the boxing world by taking the heavyweight title from Floyd on a third round knockout June 26 at Yankee Stadium.

Since then, Johansson, the New York State Athletic Commission and the state attorney general's office have been sparring with various promoters, would-be promoters, managers and TV magnates.

American League Will Have To Catch Senators Now

The American League starts its 60th season in four cities today with everybody trying to catch the Washington Senators.

An estimated 125,000 fans should turn out in good weather hoping for at least partial answers to three big questions:

—Are the American League champions Chicago White Sox really that good?

—Are the New York Yankees really that bad?

—Has Frank Lane traded away the Cleveland Indians' pennant chances?

The American League, left at the post when the National League started its race on April 12, staged its "presidential opener" before President Eisenhower in Washington, D. C., Monday when Camille Pascual set a club record of 15 strikeouts in a 10-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Washington fans thus were assured of rooting for a first-place team at least one day of the season.

An estimated 35,000 fans will see the White Sox open at home against the Kansas City Athletics but the day's top crowd — about 40,000 — is expected at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium where the fans apparently are debating whether to host the American flag or Frank Lane to the center-field flag pole.

The Indians will have American League batting champion Harvey Kanan playing center field and hitting second while the Tigers will have ex-Cleveland favorite Rocky Colavito in right field and batting fifth. Kusan and Colavito were the principals in Sunday's sensational trade that brought the fury of many Cleveland fans down on Lane's head.

A crowd of about 20,000 will see the Yankees open against the Red Sox in Boston and another 20,000 will see the Senators play the Orioles in Baltimore.

Early Wynn, 40, a 23-game winner in 1950, has been named to pitch for the White Sox against 18-game winner Bud Daley, a left-handed knuckle-baller, who beat the AL champs three times last season.

The Indians will have Gary Bell, 16-game winner as a rookie, on the mound. The Tigers are countering with Frank Lary, 15-10, in 1959.

The Yankees, who won 11 games and lost 19 during one of the worst exhibition showings in their history, are sending Jim Coates (6-1) against Tom Brewer, who has a 6-3 lifetime record against New York.

Jerry Walker, 11-10 with a 2.92 earned run average last season, is starting for the Orioles. The Senators are sending Pedro Ramos out to keep their winning streak intact.

The National League resumes with its first "crucial" (or at least more important) than ordinary) meeting between pennant contenders as the Los Angeles Dodgers play the Giants at San Francisco. Chicago is at St. Louis and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh in other games.

Pascual, whose 17-10 record and six shutouts stamped him as a star last season, pitched a three-hitter Monday and his 15 strikeouts broke the club mark of 14 held by Walter Johnson and Jim Shaw. The Red Sox' run resulted from the 43rd homer of Ted Williams' career—tying Lou Gehrig's lifetime total. Jim Lemon, Bob Allison, Earl Batley and Billy Consolo homered for the Senators.

Giardello, One Of Boxing's Bad Boys, Gets Title Chance Wednesday

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI) — Joey Giardello, one of boxing's bad boys, gets a long denied title chance Wednesday, and the Brooklyn middleweight was confident today that he wouldn't miss cashing in against NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

"I've got peace of mind," he said, "for the first time since maybe 1954. I've got determination to win. I'm in the best shape I've been in for maybe five years, and I don't see how I can lose."

Giardello, 29, twice previously lost chances at the middleweight crown. Once he withdrew from a bout with champion Carl (Bobo) Olson because an injured knee stiffened up.

The second time he was not permitted to go through with an Olson fight because he was under charges of assault and battery in 1954 following a scrap between a group of his friends and a filling station attendant. He eventually served nearly four months of a six- to 18 month sentence in the case.

Fullmer, who will be defending his national boxing title not recognized in New York and Massachusetts, was a 5-2 favorite despite Giardello's optimism.

He won the world crown previously with a decision over Sugar Ray Robinson, then lost it when Robinson knocked him out in a return match, the only time he has ever been stopped. He won NBA recognition Aug. 28 when he stopped Carmen Basilio in 14 rounds and defended successfully once, a 15-round decision over Spider Webb Dec. 4.

Fans To Get Look At Greyhounds, FSL Foes Starting Wednesday

Local fans are in for plenty of baseball between Wednesday night and May 1, with six of the Florida State League's seven Greyhound opponents scheduled to appear at Memorial Stadium.

Leesburg, returning to FSL play for the first time since 1957, provides opening night opposition here starting at 7:45 p. m.

Thursday night sees the Cincinnati Red-supplied Palatka Redlegs in action here. Dave Bristol, veteran of the Reds' farm system and an All-Star team member while he was with West Palm Beach some seasons ago, is managing Palatka. Sanford plays in Palatka Friday night.

The New York Yankee-owned St. Petersburg Saints, defending league champions, come in Saturday night for a two-game series ending Sunday night. Word from St. Petersburg is that the entire team will be new. Stanley Charnofsky will be playing manager, possibly at second base.

Monday night finds the Lakeland Indians at the stadium. The Indians are a farm club of the Cleveland Indians, and they'll be managed by Johnny Lipon, former major league infielder. Lakeland has been out of the league since 1957, too.

Sanford plays in Lakeland Tuesday night and meets the St. Louis Cardinal's Daytona Beach outfit in that city Wednesday night, returning to the stadium for the Islanders' first appearance of the season Thursday night.

Frank Calo, a veteran catcher, is managing the Islanders. It was understood that while he had planned not to play this year, he might be signed as a playing manager if needed in the field because of his hitting prowess.

Sanford's oldest rivals, the Orlando Dodgers, will be met at Tinker Field there April 29, with the Dodgers slated for their first showing here April 30. The Dodgers likely will be a brand new team, too, and Brandy Davis, a hustling young infielder, will be the pilot. Sanford's success for the remainder of the season can easily be measured by their showing during this series of games—even out of 11 slated for the home field.

HONORARY BATBOY Johnny Appleby is an avid baseball fan and ranks the Sanford Greyhounds among his favorites. Johnny was recently appointed honorary batboy by general manager Peter Schaal. Bob Piercy gives Johnny some baseball pointers here while Tuff Bishop, left, Bill Duke and Dick Green of this year's team look on. Johnny will be host to the Greyhound players at his swimming pool this season. (Herald Photo)

Young Players To Shoot At Old Fielding Marks

When Sanford's young Greyhounds take the field in Leesburg tonight to open the 1960 season, they'll hopefully be eyeing numerous Florida State League "all-time" records, notably those established in the department of fielding.

Virtually all of the league's fielding records were set years ago. Matter of fact, the official record book reveals that it's been nearly three years since an old record was tied.

Greyhound, and other league first basemen, have perhaps the oddest records to shoot at.

All-time record for chances handled at first in a nine-inning game was set by Reggie Otero for St. Augustine on May 29, 1958 when he had 23 putouts, no assists and no errors.

Strangest fielding record of them all, one seldom seen in even the majors, was that set May 30, 1947 when Joe Eaton of Gainesville, now state Senator Eaton of Dade county, went through a nine-inning game at first base without a putout, an assist, or an error!

Here are the all-time league fielding records at each position:

2b: Murray of Sanford, June 30, 1947, 10PO, 7A, OE, 17 chances, a record that was tied June 1, 1955, by Eddie Miller, Cocoa, who had 9PO, 8A, and OE.

3b: Burke, Gainesville, April 29, 1946, 7PO, 6A, 1E, total 14 chances.

SS: Bryant, Sanford, Aug. 8, 1946, 7PO, 7A, 2E for 16 chances, a record tied by Vega, DeLand, May 21, 1947, when he had 4 PO, 8A, 3E. However, the shortest record for chances without error was set June 12, 1957 by Hut of Leesburg with 2PO, 12A, OE for 14 total chances.

LF: Stewart, Daytona, April 29, 1946, 8PO, 1A, 1E for 10 total chances.

CF: Kinard, DeLand, April 19, 1956, 10PO, 0A, OE, for 10 total chances.

RF: Jones, Cocoa, June 10, 1961, 8PO, 1A, OE, for nine total chances.

OF: McWilliams, Daytona, Aug. 24, 1956, 18PO, 1A, 1E for 21 total chances, with the all-time record for catchers' chances without error set by Red Dulaney of Gainesville July 3, 1947, when he had 17PO, 4A, and OE for 21 total chances.

UT: Wright, Sanford, May 6, 1957, 1 PO, 8A, 1E for 10 total chances, a record equalled by Colick, Gainesville, June 25, 1941, with 1PO, 9A, and OE.

Give Your Outboard Motor Spring Tuneup — It'll Serve You Better

A little attention now will pay big dividends during the season when you use your outboard motor the most. A spring tuneup and some preventive maintenance is a good idea. Here are some simple steps recommended by Mercury outboard motors.

First remove the cowling and clean the entire unit thoroughly, including all accessible powerhead parts; then remove the spark plug and rotate the crankshaft by vigorously operating the starter to remove oil deposits that form during idle periods in the cylinders and crankcase.

Another important step is the inspection of spark plug leads for damage or deterioration, particularly where insulation comes in contact with metal parts. Be sure to reconnect each to its proper spark plug. Check all gas fittings, fuel lines, etc., for damage or loose connections. Apply a drop of S. A. E. No. 30 motor oil or DC4 Compound to the control linkage joints, levers, bushings and all exposed parts beneath the cowling. Renew spark plugs, or, if recently replaced, check gaps and set to the manufacturer's specifications. Clean the fuel filters, inspect the starter rope for damage or deterioration.

A grease fitting, located under the airtight bracket, is often missed or forgotten. A good-quality marine grease should be applied to this fitting. Lubricate the gearshift cam with a brush, using Lubriplate or DC4 Compound. Special attention is required for the lower unit and its various parts.

After removing the air vent screw, the grease filler plug should be opened and a marine gear lubricant should be inserted in the filler plug hole until it starts to emit from the air vent screw hole, indicating that the gear housing is filled. Before replacing the air vent screw and the grease filler plug, make sure the gasket under the screw head is in place, otherwise water may leak past the threads into the gear housing.

Remove the propeller and inspect. Trim nuts and burrs with a file; however, when performing this operation be careful not to remove more metal than is absolutely necessary. In addition, inspect for cracks, damage or a bent condition. Before the propeller is reinstalled, lubricate the propeller shaft with waterproof grease or DC4 compound.

If remote controls are used, check the parts and operation. The majority of today's outboard motors are sold with remote fuel tanks, which also require periodic inspection. Check the entire tank and its fittings for loose, damaged or missing parts. Inspect for leakage around all parts on integral tanks as well as on remote tanks. Also check the fuel line and the twist connector closely for damage.

Carburetor cleaning, magneto inspection and breaker point adjustments to the manufacturer's specifications by your Mercury outboard dealer will add many more trouble-free hours of boating pleasure.

Owners of outboards equipped with electric starters should have the battery checked and recharged. If the finish of the engine is damaged or corroded excessively, clean the damaged or corroded areas and apply matching paint.

American use about 100 gallons of petroleum per person each year, about 18 times the amount used by the average person in the rest of the free world.

Franchise Rumor Again Denied

MIAMI (UPI)—Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League, is tired denying the circuit's Havana franchise will be switched to Jersey City, N. J.

"It's a damnable lie," Shaughnessy said when the report popped up again Monday. "I'm sick and tired of denying . . . denying . . . denying."

Shaughnessy did say, however, that plans have been made to move the franchise if playing in Havana becomes unwise or inadvisable.

"We have two or three places," Shaughnessy said, but he added that the franchise would remain in Havana unless there are provocative incidents.

Wins Race

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UPI)—Glenn Wood of Stewart, Va., led all the way to win Monday's 200-lap Grand National Circuit stock car race. Rex White of Spartanburg, S. C., was second and Jim Massey of Mc Ann, N.C., was third.

Still Leading

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Latest Professional Golf Assn. figures showed Arnold Palmer still in the lead in money-winning for the 1960 tour with $44,328. He has won five of the 13 tournaments he has entered this year.

Mute To Be Queried In Second Murder

MIAMI (UPI)—Deaf-mute Harry Lee Mundy, III, under mental examination after he admitted stabbing to death a hotel maid here Friday, is to be questioned in a second killing murder.

Juvenile Judge W. R. Culbreth Monday granted permission for Mundy to be quizzed in the "mummy murder" of Chandler Steffens at Sarasota last Aug. 9. Steffens, 22, an ex-high school halfback and a student at the University of Florida, was found dead in the bedroom of his parents' home.

He had been struck with a blunt instrument. His hands were tied with electric cord and his feet bound with rope. His head and face were wrapped in adhesive tape with what appeared to be breathing holes cut in the tape at his mouth and nose.

His killer slashed Steffens' throat twice and stabbed him in the stomach. He was cut several other times.

Mundy, a skinny 18-year-old runaway student, was in the legal care of his grandmother, Mrs. H. L. Mundy, who lives at Venice, about 10 miles south of Sarasota.

Detectives said they would question him in the Sarasota slaying as soon as they receive a report on the crime from Sarasota police.

200 Girls See Elvis Off For Hollywood

MEMPHIS (UPI)—Rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley shouted "adios" and "goodbyes" Monday night to a host of admirers who saw him off to Hollywood for his first post-Army film.

A dozen blondes and brunettes crowded around the 25-year-old entertainer shortly before he boarded the train, clamoring for goodbye kisses.

"I love you, kiss me, Elvis," shouted the girls, who grabbed Presley. The singer obliged as many as he could before the train left.

About 200 fans were at union station to give the rock 'n' roller a sendoff.

As Presley walked along the railroad platform, one girl kept pleading for Elvis to kiss her.

"Look at me, Elvis, look at me, Elvis," she pleaded as she tagged along at his heels. Presley finally stopped, held her face between his hands, and planted a kiss on her lips.

Presley, wearing tight black slacks, a black coat and a white sport shirt open at the neck, appeared well-rested after a week-end of parties. He said he planned to stay on the West Coast for about two months.

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — The thought occurs that it might be fair to let my youngsters, or perhaps an authority like Art Linkletter, write this column.

Wouldn't they be the ones to review Sunday night's "Children Are People" special?

But let's not be too hasty. After all, if 200 bright-eyed boys and girls, all 12-years-old or less, can take over a full hour of NBC-TV's prime Sunday time, then we grownups had better watch out. That's why I'll handle this myself. Parents are people, too.

As for the show, I found that when the grownups behind it eased up on some gaudy "show biz" touches, the kids invariably did a fine job of entertaining. They had spirit, made lots of noise, sometimes seemed to be having a good time, also. Dr. Spock would be proud of them. Many of the kids showed genuine talent, which helps.

But after seeing how the kids handle trained animal acts and high wires, I'd say the future of the Ed Sullivan show is assured.

Of the show's three stars, I thought Master Mothers did the best job. He still manages to sound like a non-pro.

Dialing and Filing: "Paris in the 20's" on CBS-TV's "Twentieth Century," flicked on two fascinating silent motion pictures.

Girl — "I'm bathing a dog."

Boy — "What kind of dog?"
Girl — "A dirty one."
The youngsters — led by Jerry "Beavers" Mathers, Jay "Denia" North and Angela "Linda" Cartwright — moved from one segment to another with a minimum of fuss, supported by brisk loud music.

My favorite portion of the hour involved some charming and clever playground shenanigans and sounds. The last half of the show, a small-fry circus, fell flat because so much effort went into making the kids come up with artificial reactions and cute moves. The mood of spontaneity and fun melted away like cotton candy.

The Channel Swim: With Easter behind us, CBS-TV now is preparing for the Christmas season. It is repeating the two-hour motion picture, "The Channel Swim," starring Judy Garland, on Sunday Dec. 11. "National Velvet" starring 11-year-old Lori Martin as Velvet goes into NBC-TV's Sunday, 8-8:30 p. m. time slot in the fall.

The series, produced by Robert Maxwell and NBC-TV's "Starline" will follow the new "Shirley Temple Show."

"The Funfair," with Celeste Holm as hostess and an all-star cast that includes Cliff Arquette, Hermione Giglioli and Jaye P. Morgan, is NBC-TV's "Starline" special for Tuesday, May 8. "Three Wishes," described as a fantasy series based on the adventures of a working girl and a genie, is being readied for NBC-TV's fall schedule. Diane Jergens, Gustavo Rojas and Wallace Ford are the leads.

ABC-TV's "College News Conference" does a turnabout next Sunday (April 24). Two congressmen will interview four college students about the sit-in movement in the South.

THE CHULUOTA WOMEN'S CLUB presented all sorts of talent at one of its meetings. The program reached comedy heights when Mrs. R. P. Jones took over in her "hillbilly" costume. But Mrs. Edward Murphy held her own with reminiscences of Waikiki. (Herald Photo) of world-famed writers and performers living it up. The narrative also offered some interesting comments about the creative aspects of the era. Janet Flanner's reminiscences about Gertrude Stein and Pablo Picasso were especially meaty.

NBC-TV's remarkable re-run of the Sam Snead-Mason Rudolph golf match probably shed no new light on the "extra club" controversy. According to a statement read on the re-run the network learned about the incident before the original April 3 airing. (The controversy involves Snead's declaration to lose the match after he discovered he was juggling along an extra club in his golf bag.)

"The Way of the Cross," on NBC-TV's "World Wide 60" Saturday night turned up as a vivid presentation of the scenes of Jesus' life. "A Samaritan worked with the instincts of poets."

Tonight's TV Highlights

"Well, What About You?" is a non-partisan documentary-entertainment hour on NBC's "Starline" at 8 p. m. which is designed to encourage citizens to go to the polls next November. Such prominent political figures as Vice President Nixon, Senator Kennedy, Morton and Paul Butler are involved. From the entertainment field are Marian Anderson, Polly Bergen, Fred Clark and Eddie Albert.

Darrin McGavin, Gertrude Berg and Maria Pavan appear on "The Arthur Murray Party" for NBC at 9:30 p. m.

Red Skelton gets help from Basil Rathbone and Elena Verdugo on his CBS program at 9:30 p. m. Jimmy Durante visits his old radio program partner, Garry Moore, on the latter's CBS variety hour at 10 p. m.

'Lady' Called A 'Smash' In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — A capacity Russian audience, including many who could not speak a word of English, laughed and applauded itself giddy Monday night over Broadway's "My Fair Lady."

The feeling was entirely mutual. Pretty girl dancers wept unashamedly at the overwhelming reception for the American stage production, brought here under the cultural exchange program.

"Every one of us came off the stage in tears," said dancer Claudia Kobelt, Berkeley, Calif. "It was the most fabulous thing that ever happened to us."

An estimated 1,000 persons in Moscow's Red Army Theater clapped and cheered so wildly and so often that much of the dialogue and some of the singing was lost.

For many of the Russians, words were incidental anyway. They did not know any English and drew their thrill from the music, dancing, dazzling sets and costumes.

At the end of the show—the first American musical comedy to reach Russia—the ovation lasted a full 10 minutes, punctuated by shouts of "bravo" and "bis," which is Russian for encore.

Second Marriage Loses Three Weeks

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Debra Paget, once billed as "the girl who has never been kissed," has separated from her second husband after three weeks of marriage.

Victim of a two-month first marriage, the beauty actress left her new husband, film director Saul Zaentz, 41, last Thursday. They were married March 24 in Mexico.

"Saul is a wonderful man," Debra said. "There are a few adjustments that will have to be made. I'll be back from Mexico in two weeks."

"If things work out—and it looks as if they will—Saul and I will be back together then."

Commission Plans 'Luring' Campaign

TALLHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Development Commission is planning a new campaign to lure manufacturers of building materials to the state.

Nicholas J. Murphy, head of the commission's Industrial Services Division, said researchers have compiled a list of 22 building products being used in Florida at a faster rate than they are manufactured in the state.

Murphy's department is currently analyzing each material to find out if it is feasible to manufacture it in Florida.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.) says Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is too young and inexperienced to be president.

Kennedy, who is 42, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), 48, are the only contenders in the May 19 Democratic presidential primary in West Virginia.

Hearing Monday For Bev's Mom

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mrs. Florence Andland faces preliminary hearing next Monday on five counts on contributing to the delinquency of her 17-year-old daughter Beverly.

Mrs. Andland, 38, wearing a gaily flowered dress, appeared in court Monday for arraignment on the charges which carry a maximum sentence each of $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

Judge John G. Barnes allowed her to remain free on $1,000 bail after setting the new court date.

Mrs. Andland was arrested on the charges last Thursday following disclosure of photographs taken at her apartment. They showed her and Beverly, the playmate of the late Errol Flynn, cavorting with five men.

Sinatra Faces Damage Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Singer Frank Sinatra, actor Peter Lawford and the five other owners of a Beverly Hills restaurant have been named defendants in a $500,000 damage suit.

Harold Webster Coleman, identified as a noted industrial designer, charged in the Superior Court suit filed Monday that he was thrown out of Puccini's Restaurant and beaten by four restaurant employees Feb. 9. He said the action followed a dispute when he requested a different table.

Coleman claimed he was hit and kicked by the restaurant employees. He said he suffered bodily injury, mental anguish and lost a $1,000 diamond ring in the fight.

His suit sought $100,000 in punitive damages and a half million dollars in general damages. One of the employees, Louis Castiglione, was convicted on a battery charge as a result of the fight, according to Coleman's attorney.

Just Imagine What Would Happen If Government Had To Pay Taxes

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the things I have to be thankful for — and the pickings are pretty slim — is that I don't have to fill out an income tax return on behalf of Uncle Sam.

Even with the extensions granted last week, I'm afraid I couldn't finish it in time to beat the deadline. I doubt I could do it if the deadline were extended to infinity.

But by way of a little fanciful revenge, let us pretend for the nonce that the government is a taxpayer instead of the collector. If you think you had trouble wrestling with Form 1040, get a load of this:

The scene is a pine-paneled den on the banks of the Potomac. It is almost midnight. As our imaginary curtain rises, we see the head of the household, a tall, be-whiskered gent in red, white and blue pajamas, seated at a cluttered desk.

The brow under his sloped nose is corrugated with concentration. At intervals he makes a notation on a scratch pad. Then he rips off the page, wads it into a ball and throws it at the cat, who is sleeping in the easy chair.

As we peep in for a close-up, we can hear him muttering to himself. He is trying to determine out of approximately 120 million potential how many dependents he can claim.

In desperation, he finally decides to claim them all and, with a frightened glance over his shoulder to make certain no revenue agents are lurking in the shadows, writes down 108 billion dollars for exemptions.

Running a finger down the tax form, he next comes to line 5 — "wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, tips and other compensation." With a heavy sigh, he picks up the latest statement of government receipts and expenditures, which consists of 18 pages of figures set close together in small type.

Should he put down his estimated gross income for fiscal 1960 or his actual net income for fiscal 1959? He hesitates only a moment before choosing the latter, and smaller, figure — $68,370,252,714.

But hold it a second. Slipping on the bifocals, he notices that $21,301,762 of this amount came from "seigniorage." Does seigniorage have to be declared? What is seigniorage? Should he wake up his wife and ask her?

Instead he consults the instruction booklet. The revenue service in its usual slipshod manner neglected to mention seigniorage. Better be on the safe side and leave it in. He can always make up for it with deductions.

Using a little imagination, he is able to list some 500 deductions totaling $80,877,329,466, which is $12,429,966,751 more than his income.

As he signs the return and starts wearily off to bed, he notices that he is $20,523,412,168 in debt and has only $8,311,684,118 in the treasury. But with a big fat rebate coming up, who cares?

'Apathy' Marks Jersey Primary

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—New Jersey Republicans decide today whether their Senate candidate will be incumbent Sen. Clifford P. Case, a liberal, or Robert Morris, self-proclaimed guardian of the party's conservative wing.

The primary was marked by apathy on the part of the voters and intense interest on the part of national GOP leaders, who view it as a major test of liberal vs. conservative strength.

The polls opened at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. Despite a forecast of fair weather, only about a quarter of the state's 2,742,742 registered voters were expected to turn out.

The anticipated light vote was attributed to the fact that for the first time in 12 years the New Jersey primary does not include a presidential contest.

The contest for nominees for the state's 14 congressional seats involved mainly local organization issues.

Delegates to be elected to the Republican nomination convention today were considered certain to back Vice President Richard M. Nixon; those on the Democratic side were expected to be behind the favorite son candidacy of Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

Auxiliary Plans Meet Wednesday

A special meeting of the Lake Mary Fire Department Auxiliary has been called by Mrs. Ralph Schweickert, chairman of the annual fund drive.

Members of the auxiliary and firemen will meet at the Fire House at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesday for a kick-off meeting to launch the drive which will last through May 21.

Teams will make a house to house canvass through the community protected by the volunteer fire department. The actual area protected covers a radius of two and a half miles from the center of Lake Mary, but the volunteers have never been known to refuse any request for assistance. Telephone numbers to call in case of emergency are FA 2-5805, FA 2-2719 and FA 2-2066.

Fire Alarm

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department asks that anyone who rings the alarm at the town firehouse wait there until the firemen arrive. There have been cases where people rang the alarm and left before the firemen arrived, volunteer Bill LaBree said Friday.

Longwood Jaycees Plan Ham Dinner

The Longwood Jaycees are getting ready to put on a ham dinner within three weeks, membership Chairman Bill LaBree said Friday.

Proceeds will go towards finishing the Jaycee Building. The building needs only plastering and electrical fixtures to be completed, LaBree said. Tyrus Hicks will donate all plastering materials and labor to finish the job.

LaBree said the Jaycees plan to have a soda fountain installed in the building within two weeks. Approximately 100-150 youngsters have turned out for the Saturday night teenage dances during the past two weeks. Admission money is given away in prizes and used to buy photographic records. The dances are at 7:30 p. m. each Saturday.

Church Meet

Longwood's First Baptist Church Vacation Bible School workers and superintendents will meet at the church Friday at 8 p. m. The school for youngsters from three to 16 years old will be in session June 6-17.

New Parking Lot Planned By Church

The Longwood First Baptist Church has cleared land for a parking lot across Church St. from the church building.

Rev. Lewis Futch, pastor, said Friday that he doesn't know exactly when the land will be paved for a parking lot. Rev. Futch hopes that the church will be able some day to buy an adjacent piece of land for basketball and tennis courts. He also has plans for a recreation building to go on the proposed parking lot site.

This would have table tennis facilities, an indoor barbecue pit, showers and rest rooms. The church will probably have to start adding to the west wing of the present building within six months, Rev. Futch said.

Brush Fires On Decrease

Brush fires are decreasing here as summer approaches, the Longwood Forest Ranger Station reported Friday.

The rangers said that as foliage gets greener it becomes harder to ignite. The worst time for fires is in the winter, when foliage is dry, they said. The rangers will put on a fire prevention program in one of the Sanford elementary schools this week.

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.08 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,051.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or coolant radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't:
- Economical fuel economy... and that runs for the time in the middle. Fuel-down runs over 17.6 m. p. g. of extra storage space. (See-chassis independent suspension for a smoother, better ride.)
- Responsive brakes... that come with the engine's weight leaning down on the rear wheels.
- You probably realize already that the all-new 1966 Corvair recorded in the Mobilgas Run ran higher than the average driver can expect. But because the gas meter every kind of driving conditions (city, highway, mixed, low country straightaways, mountainous city streets... those valleys) gives you Corvair's inherent ability to save. Sunday Liquor Sale Issue Enters County Campaign

District 3 County Commissioner Lawrence Swofford said at an Atlanta Springs political rally Tuesday night that a "whispering" campaign has been directed at him because of his stand against the sale of liquor on Sunday and charged that one of his opponents allowed the sale of liquor on Sunday while he served as a commissioner. Swofford, speaking to approximately 150 persons, declared that "liquor has been injected into this campaign because of the position I have taken in the past. I neither deny or make any apology for the position I have taken."

"It is a matter of record that one of my opponents, while serving as county commissioner, did allow liquor to be sold on Sunday," Swofford charged.

Swofford said that he had "two statements signed by citizens and members of the Longwood Town Council that when this opponent was called on by the town council to explain why the ordinance regulating the hours when liquor could be served was not being enforced, he explained that he had taken it upon himself to extend the hours beyond the time set by law."

Swofford said the council demanded that the ordinance be enforced without further violation.

A. B. Lorman, one of Swofford's opponents in the race, cautioned voters that now that the race is coming down to the wire "be wary of rumors, vicious lies and falsehoods which are the tools of desperate candidates."

He said that the commissioner needed should have proven ability and stood on his record as mayor of Longwood.

Another candidate in the race, Otis Fournier of Longwood, said he favored sound and orderly progress in the county and said the county could progress on a "pay as you go" basis.

Another district 3 candidate, Ed Zimmerman, said "although we may have the lowest millage in the state, our valuations are going up all the time. Careful consideration should be given the candidate you select."

James Avery, the fifth candidate in this race said he had been accused of talking too much by certain people and devoted his three minutes to listing his qualifications.

Tax Assessor Richard McCanna reaffirmed his previous stand that "taxation by favoritism is both shameful and degrading and must never be returned to Seminole County."

His opponent, Mrs. Mary Earle Walker said that many mistakes were made in the recent reappraisal and if elected she would do her utmost to give everyone a fair reappraisal.

Circuit Court Clerk David Gatchel said there is no substitute for experience and "because you work in one office in the courthouse does not make you qualified to handle the duties of another office."

His opponent, Arthur Beckwith Jr., said he has made public service his career and has no outside interests. He would carry on the duties of the clerk in an efficient and courteous manner.

The other candidates seeking office used their three minutes mainly to discuss their qualifications and backgrounds.

Introducing . . .

The 1960-style Sanford Greyhounds will be introduced to the home fans tonight before they take the field to try to make it two in a row in the win column.

The story of last night's 14-1 opening victory is on the sports page.

Opening ceremonies will find two of Sanford's most popular former players honored—and in an unusual manner.

Promptly at 7:40 p. m. Buddy Lake and Goose Kettles, all-time great Sanford hurlers, will walk toward the diamond. Buddy will be accompanied by tiny Chris Lake, his "almost six-year old" son, while Goose will be with Tim Kettles, his seven year old soon-to-be-a-little-leaguer.

Buddy and Chris will go to the mound, Goose and Tim to home plate. Mayor Earl Higginbotham, acting as umpire, will signal for the first pitch. Chris will attempt to put it over the plate. Tim will try to catch it, and the mayor's arm will go up for the call which officially marks the opening of the season.

Players will be introduced starting at 7 p. m. while they are taking infield practice. Leesburg's players will be introduced first, then Sanford's. While the grounds crew prepares the diamond at 7:20, lineups will be announced by Lonnie Padron, who will be at the mike all summer.

Box seat sales were brisk yesterday, general manager Peter Schaal said, and will continue until about May 1. Admission prices for all games this year have been slightly revised—adults, 75 cents; military personnel in uniform, 50 cents; children from six through 12, 50 cents; children under six, free when accompanied by parents.

FSU President Dies In Chicago Of Heart Attack

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dr. Robert M. Strozier, popular president of Florida State University, died today in Chicago.

Strozier, 55, became ill Tuesday night while addressing the University of Chicago, a club of law professors and faculty members of the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Strozier, notified that he was seriously ill, left by plane for Chicago without learning of his death.

Strozier had been president of the university in Tallahassee since 1957, when he came from the University of Chicago to succeed Dr. Doak S. Campbell, who retired.

He died at a Chicago hospital, apparently of a heart attack.

He had undergone surgery in Tallahassee last week, but was able to make the trip to Chicago.

He recently had been mentioned as a possible choice for chancellor of the University of Chicago, but said he had not been contacted about the position.

Strozier was dean of students of the Chicago university before going to Tallahassee. He went to Chicago as associate director of international House in May 1948, and became dean of students in 1949.

He believed that an administrator should keep his hand in at teaching and taught a class in romance languages both at Chicago and Florida State.

Strozier, 55, was born in McRae, Ga., and was associate dean of students, associate professor of romance languages and director of the army specialized training program unit at the University of Georgia in Athens.

Hopkins Longwood Jaycee President

The Longwood Jaycees elected E. B. Hopkins their new president Tuesday night.

Hopkins, who will serve for the coming year, replaces Tyrus Hicks. Hopkins is also a member of the Longwood Town Council.

James Gamble was elected first vice president; Dick Zartman, second vice president; Dean Fusch, secretary; and Buddy Eidel, treasurer.

The new Junior Chamber of Commerce directors are Tyrus Hicks, James Lane; Ken James, Vernon Finch and Scotty Berry.

Commission Continues Septic Tank Restriction

The County Commission continued its septic tank restriction Tuesday on the use of septic tanks in subdivisions in low lying areas.

The board, by a 3-1 vote, directed Zoning Director Robert Brown not to issue any building permits to the developer of the Hill subdivision in the county.

The board made the decision after citing a letter from the State Board of Health which stated that "no consideration should be given to the use of septic tanks as proposed in any lots within this subdivision."

A few seconds after the board turned down the proposed plan, developer Sumner Kramer of Orlando said he would put a central sewage system in the development.

Attorney Gordon Frederick, representing the developer, said that the county sanitarian had said that the area was suitable for septic tank use.

"We realize that a central sewage system is the best, but in many cases it is not economically feasible," Frederick argued.

Sanitarian Val Robbins said the location "meets our standards, but I question our standards."

New Riots Sweep Korea

SEOUL (UPI) — New anti-government riots swept the length and breadth of South Korea today and heavily armed insurgents battled government troops in the mountains just northeast of Seoul.

President Syngman Rhee appealed to the patriotism of the rebels. He nevertheless called for early restoration of law and order by loyal troops and police who have killed and wounded hundreds of Koreans.

A UPI survey of major hospitals in the Seoul area showed 123 persons were killed and more than 400 wounded in Tuesday's rioting. Five persons were killed today. The final death toll may be much higher.

Rioting against the Rhee government spread to at least seven cities despite stern repression measures and the imposition of martial law. In Seoul's northeastern outskirts 80 heavily-armed rebels were holding out.

Defense Minister Kim Chun Yul sent trucks with loudspeakers into the area to appeal to the holdouts to surrender. Other appeals came from Rhee's Liberal Party and the opposition Democratic Party.

Police and soldiers stood guard at major buildings throughout Seoul. Infantry rifle squads accompanied by tanks roamed through the city looking for trouble-makers.

The stern measures by the government brought a protest from the United States and U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy was reported prepared to call on Rhee Thursday.

Unofficial reports reaching Seoul reported anti-government demonstrations in Pusan, Kwangju, Taegu, Incheon, Chongju, Suwon and Iri. The outbreaks were quickly put down in most places, the reports said, and there was no mention of casualties.

South Korean government officials were concerned over the possibility that President Eisenhower might cancel his scheduled visit here in June because of the sudden outbreak of violence.

Reports from Augusta said the men responsible for the president's safety were expected to take another look at his Far Eastern travel plans because of the Korean riots.

The U. S. Army said no special action is being taken to alert front-line troops for possible trouble arising from the riots.

"A state of combat readiness exists at all times in forward areas," a spokesman said.

Carlos, Morgan Win DCT Awards
Kathy Carlos and Henry Morgan won top awards at the Seminole High Diversified Cooperative Training employer-employee banquet Tuesday night.

Mrs. Carlos won the award for doing the most for the DCT club during the past year. Henry Morgan won the top DCT student certificate.

"Employers are like parents who want children to go to bed when they're wide awake and get up when they're sleepy," First Federal Savings and Loan Association President George Touby, told about 100 persons gathered for the banquet.

Touby said he was glad the DCT students had been able to coordinate their work habits with the habits of their employers. He said students must learn to accept and offer ideas and must use the fact-finding approach in putting across their opinions. He stressed the importance of learning to get along with other people on the job.

Diversified cooperative training is an application of the fundamental educational principle of "learning by doing." County Vocational School director E. S. Douglas said. Letting a student attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon helps him to get into an office and find whether he likes a certain type of work, Douglas explained.

State Warned Of 'Creeping Integration'

By United Press International
Governatorial candidate Fred O. Dickinson said today unless Florida elects a strong, decisive governor "this creeping integration you see everywhere will turn into galloping integration."

"Unless we elect a man who is strongly dedicated to the proposition of segregation, the charm and tradition of Florida will be ruined," he told audiences in Orlando and Palatka.

The Democratic candidate for governor kept the air thick with oratory, with 1,481,455 registered Democrats as the target and less than two weeks left to sway them.

Some of the highlights included a blunt description of Dickinson as a liar and endorsement of Ted David by a Negro voters group.

Dickinson promised to do "all in my power" to hold the line on racial integration. He said the facts show integration is not a cure-all for the problems of the Negro race and cited racial mixing in the schools of Washington as an example.

Dickinson was termed untruthful by John McCarty. Dickinson had charged that McCarty had his late brother, Dan, had filled many jobs in the flood control authority as "political payoffs" during Dan's term as governor.

Dickinson said also that the McCarty's appointed at least three relatives to state jobs and that McCarty-owned lands benefited from the flood control program.

David was endorsed by the Florida Voters League, a non-partisan Negro group.

The league, which met in Gainesville, noted that David is the only candidate who has endorsed Gov. LeRoy Collins' stand that local counter segregation is "morally wrong" in the case of stores which solicit Negroes in other parts of their operations.

McCarty, campaigning at Fess Pierce, promised if elected to work toward a uniform $18,000-a-year salary for Florida circuit judges.

David, speaking at Tampa, proposed a state wage and hour law for Florida workers not covered by federal wage and hour statutes.

At Jacksonville, Farris Bryant said the state tax on stocks, bonds, and bank deposits should be repealed. He said it is driving new wealth and investment away from Florida.

Bryant and Doyle Carlton Jr. came under attack from Hayden Burns, The Jacksonville mayor charged both consistently veed against the University of Florida and education in general while legislators.

In the race for commissioner of agriculture, Doyle Conner of Starke pledged Tuesday to "continue my fight for improved education."

Hancock, of Groveland, said his work toward reorganization of the Department of Agriculture was instrumental in winning for him the support of 21 newspapers.
