

WOMANS LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE OF SEMINOLE MAKES GOOD REPORT

Patriotic And Energetic Women Achieve Success

The Woman's Liberty Loan committee of Seminole county beg to submit the following report for work accomplished during the third drive: Sanford $45,750 Geneva 6,850 Chuluota 350 Ovidio—No report Longwood—No report Altamonte—No report Total $52,950

Mrs. Ernest McCown Galloway, chairman of the Woman's Liberty Loan committee of Seminole county appointed the following chairmen throughout the county:

- Mrs. Walter Morgan, Sanford Mrs. Endor Curlett, Geneva Mrs. C. D. Brumley, Chuluota Mrs. W. B. Ballard, Altamonte Mrs. T. L. Mead, Ovidio Mrs. M. A. Hardaway, Longwood.

In accepting the work in Ovidio, Longwood, Altamonte and Chuluota the chairmen stated they would do what they could, but being so busy with Red Cross and other war work they had little time to give to soliciting bonds and could find no one who could assist materially in the work.

In Sanford Mrs. Morgan appointed the following women, representing the various churches, lodges, banks, newspaper, club, etc., of the town, for instructions from the national chairman, Mr. McAdoo:

- Mrs. R. J. Holly Miss L. Farnsworth Miss P. Leffler Mrs. Mahlen Wright Mrs. Frank Woodruff Mrs. G. F. Smith Mrs. E. P. Morse Mrs. G. I. Loucks Mrs. J. B. Moughton Mrs. Gene Roumillat Mrs. Boyce Bell Mrs. H. G. Dietrich Mrs. Geo. Fox Miss Isabel Raynor.

This committee was given the care of Sanford from Park avenue to Geneva Bridge. Seven of the committee, under Mrs. Morgan reported bonds sold anywhere from one $50 one to $10,000. No reports from rest of committee. Much credit is due Mrs. Morgan for her many hours of work and splendid efforts in securing the largest bond sold in Seminole county. Mrs. E. P. Morse, Mrs. Gene Roumillat, Mrs. Loucks, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Moughton deserve special mention for work during the month. Mrs. Forrest Lake, chairman of the Woman's Committee Council National Defense of Seminole county appointed a committee to work with the Woman's Liberty Loan committee as follows:

- Mrs. A. Vaughn Mrs. S. O. Chase Mrs. Minnie Jones Mrs. J. G. Stringfellow Miss Martha Fox Mrs. Cecil Gabbett Mrs. A. P. Connelly Mrs. W. J. Thigpen Mrs. W. E. Watson Mrs. T. L. O'Connor Mrs. W. H. Peters Mrs. B. W. Herndon Mrs. Billy Hill Mrs. R. A. Newmah Mrs. J. N. Robson Mrs. B. F. Whitner Mrs. John Parker Mrs. P. M. Elder.

This committee had the west side of town from Park avenue to bridge. One member of this committee reported, Mrs. T. L. O'Connor, who did excellent work, having secured $9,600 worth of bonds.

These same committees worked the east and west side of Sanford in the Thrift and War Savings campaign, early in the year. In some sections results were not great and many of these workers grew discouraged and felt it useless to canvass for Liberty Bonds. However, the report given above shows that people did buy Liberty Bonds and the bonds were well distributed over these sections. We never know what we can do until we make an attempt.

Mrs. Curlett of Geneva has won more glory for herself. Although active in the Red Cross work she devoted the latter part of the month and several drums of gasoline to the Third Liberty Loan cause. This chairman set for her quota $1,500 and raised $6,850, and Geneva gets an honor flag, due to Mrs. Curlett's efforts. Mrs. Galloway feels deeply grateful to the committee who gave such splendid assistance and support to the work, and to the banks who were always courteous and ready to assist, and last but not least to the men of the town who so ably assisted the committee.

Aeres Invests in Savings Stamps

Last week the county chairman received word that he might sell a few war savings stamps to a grocer on Ninth street. He thereupon proceeded to the store of Klen Aeres, a Greek who operates a good sized grocery and restaurant near the depot on Ninth street and pretty soon was advised by Aeres to deliver $300.00 worth of war savings stamps. The seller and purchaser then went to the postoffice where they were assisted by Harold Haskins and Miss Muller in picking and sticking 72 war savings stamps on cards for Mr. Aeres. Besides feeling safe about his money Mr. Aeres has the satisfaction of knowing he is helping in the great war and at the same time his money is working for Uncle Sam. It is also working for him and on January 1, 1923 less than five years from now his $300 will have grown to $350.00. After making this large investment Aeres at once began to accumulate thrift stamps and states that he will be ready to take some more war savings stamps in a few days.

The example set by this man should be followed by every business and professional man as well as by every other man, woman and child in the county.

COATES IN AVIATION

Sore About the Publishing of Names Among Delinquents

Frank Coates writes the Herald that he is serving Uncle Sam in France as an aviator and that he enlisted and was not drafted and that he is sore about the board publishing his name among those who failed to return their questionnaires therefore placing him among the delinquents or slackers. Since this was done in many instances and as the board had it done without any choice in the matter this paper does not consider that it owes anyone an apology as the government asked the papers to publish all these reports in order that the boys who had joined as well as those who had not could fill out the questionnaires. We would advise Frank and all the rest of the boys to fill out their questionnaires as did the boy in France who received one the other day and filled it out as follows:

- Q.—Are you an expert in any occupation? A.—Fighting Huns with a bayonet. Q.—What language do you speak? A.—Pigeon French. Q.—What enterprise are you engaged in? A.—Fighting Huns. —State the name under which the enterprise is conducted. A.—European war. Q.—What is produced by said enterprise? A.—Hell. Q.—How many persons are employed in the plant where you work? A.—Ten million. Q.—Are you engaged in an agricultural enterprise? A.—Plowing "No-Man's-Land." Q.—Are you an employe or managing head of the enterprise? A.—Rear of enterprise. Q.—State the kind of farm? A.—Poor farm. Q.—What branch of the work are you engaged in? A.—Digging trenches. Q.—What is produced by that branch? A.—Shell craters.

Instructor Will Be Here Tomorrow For Seminole

Those who have agreed to take the course of instruction for all classes of surgical dressings will be interested to know that Miss Byrd Blankenship, one of the best instructors from the Southern Division Headquarters will arrive in Sanford on Wednesday and the course of instruction will begin Thursday afternoon, at the local Red Cross Headquarters at 2 o'clock. Instructions will be given every afternoon from 2 to 5. Every member of the class must be prompt, punctual and regular in attendance. The members must bring coil (cap), high neck, long sleeve white apron, scissors, thimble and fee, $3.50 to resident members, and $2.00 to members from the branches who will furnish their own transportation.

After the course is completed Mrs. Geo. H. Fernald, supervisor of surgical dressings will institute a strenuous drive for making the government allotment of surgical dressings given this chapter for April and May.

For all information concerning the course of instruction, time, place, fee, etc., apply to Mrs. Fernald, who will gladly furnish any information desired.

Q.—State the number and kind of livestock on hand?

A.—Cows and other varieties also Huns.

Q.—How many persons live on the land?

A.—None very long.

It was a wise decision the St. Cloud Council made when it adopted the plan of the street commissioner to make the grounds surrounding the pumping and electric light station into a park. It will be a very pleasant sight for visitors to view from the train as they go into the city, and will have a lasting and beneficial effect, as one's first impressions of a place do more to make of them permanent residents than all else combined.

OUR NEW POTATOES CAN WAIT

Should Not Be Dug on Glutted Market

Washington, D. C., May 6.—Delay potato digging! When you do dig hold the potatoes in storage as long as facilities permit. Increase southern consumption of this year's southern potato crop—of course reducing wheat consumption proportionately.

To carry out these three suggestions of the United States Department of Agriculture will be to promote the prosperity of the potato producing sections of the south, and will be to conserve further the food resources of the nation.

Every person in the south can do one or the other of these three things. If you are a farmer, you can do the first, probably the second, and certainly the third. If you are not a farmer you can at least do the last—eat more potatoes of the new crop, at the same time eating less wheat.

There is an abnormally heavy hold over of northern potatoes. They are now moving into consumption, and will be for some time. If the new southern crop now coming in is harvested and marketed according to the former custom, it will be reaching the northern markets just at the same time as the heavy northern hold over. This would mean a glutted market, lowered prices, and perhaps a considerable loss of potatoes.

The southern crop, in past years, has been dug while the potatoes are small. The custom has been to harvest them before maturity, in order to get to market with the new crop just as early in the spring as possible. But that is not the proper objective under the peculiar conditions obtaining this year. On the contrary, it is to the southern producer's interest to reach the northern market as late as he can, because he will get the benefit of the high price simultaneously with the heavy movement of northern holdover potatoes.

This explains the necessity for delaying digging. Simply let your potatoes stay in the ground and continue to grow two or three weeks longer. During that time some of the northern surplus will be out of the way. Also, by harvesting mature potatoes the yield will be increased and the crop will be more susceptible of successful storage, and by storing, if you have the facilities and further delaying your marketing you are more apt to receive satisfactory prices.

ITALIAN FRONT ACTIVE MAY MEAN THE DRIVE GERMANS ARE STOPPED

Extending the marketing period relieves transportation strain, conserves food, brings you more money Rush marketing, as under the old plan, promises transportation congestion, glutted markets, lowered prices and loss of potatoes.

With suitable storage the crop may be held for some time, if it is allowed to mature before harvest, and if all unsound or badly cut tubers are removed. Artificially refrigerated cold storage plants are the best, but this type of storage is limited. Irish potatoes may be stored successfully in up to date sweet potato curing houses, providing much care is taken in cooling it off at night—opening it to admit the cool air, and closing it early in the morning. Well ripened potatoes, if dug in the early evening and gathered early the next morning when cool and immediately placed in suitable storage, may be satisfactorily held for a month or two, possibly longer. In cold storage plants they may be kept several months.

Finally, increased consumption in the south of the new southern crop is very important. Normally the south consumes more potatoes than it produces. Except for a few weeks during the harvesting, the southern markets are supplied from the north. Of course it is not good business to sell the whole southern crop to northern markets and then, in a short time be dependent upon the north for potatoes. The south, both producer and consumer will profit by a gradual marketing and increased home consumption of the new crop. The nation will profit because there will be less loss of food-stuff.

Delay potato digging! When you do dig, hold in storage if facilities permit. Market gradually.

Eat more potatoes of the new crop and eat less wheatstuffs.

Women Propagandists

There never was in the history of the world a time when peoples' tongues needed to be guarded as now.

There are so many reports, too much adverse criticism, too many unkind strictures, too much exaggeration of possibly unfortunate conditions:

Much of this propaganda can be traced to its source and refuted. Even our great Red Cross organization has not been allowed to escape! People talk and talk and gossip and disseminate evil seeds until the very air is rank with poison.

Are we aware that in a sense we are affording aid and comfort to the enemy? Do we realize that anything in the way of criticism against our war administration, or our great right hand of service, the Red Cross may be pronounced pro-German?

Are we familiar with the fact that the government's department of justice has an agent to run down adverse reports and to arrest offenders? Wouldn't it be awkward if he should call some fine day on some fine woman and say with emphasis, "Madam, it is reported that you are circulating rumors derogatory to the government's interests, and I am directed by the government to convey to you the government's positive orders that you desist!"

There is not any earthly institution that may not be subject to criticism, but loyal, broad and refined women should not be hasty to condemn anything connected with the conduct of this war, both on the part of our own country or the allies.

Such propaganda is delightful to the scheming, conscienceless, unspeakable Hun.

Entente Strengthen Position By Several Drives

Germany has not yet taken up the offensive in the west and probably another effort against the allied armies is held in abeyance, to begin simultaneously with a drive against the Italians.

Preparations by the British and French for further German attacks have resulted in improved conditions on the Flanders battlefield. The allies in minor operations near Dranoucourt have advanced their line 500 yards on a front of 1,000 yards, gaining positions which strengthens the important section of the front between Scherpenger and Montrouge. German counter attacks were repulsed with loss. Berlin, reporting on the same fighting, attempts to make out the attacks were made in large force. It says they were repulsed and that the French lost 300 prisoners.

On the southern leg of the Lys salient, which is the one the Germans must attack if they wish to connect this battlefield with the one in Picardy by wiping out the Arras salient, the Germans have made no more attempts to push back the British from their gains at Hinges, previous efforts having failed.

Artillery fire continues on both arms of the Lys front and in Picardy and some of a Somme in Picardy. Further safeguarding of the southern side of the Lys salient was effected by the British last night through a local operation improving the British positions near Locon, north of Bethune.

It is on the Somme front, north-east of Amiens, however, that the most important fighting of the last 24 hours has taken place. The Austrians made a dashing attack last night between the Aere and Somme rivers and drove their lines ahead nearly a third of a mile, on more than a mile frontage in the Morlancourt region.

Farther south in the Picardy area, the French stood off successfully a German attempt at penetration. The trial was made after a heavy bombardment of the line below Hailles, southeast of Amiens, but the French fire completely repulsed the enemy effort.

The coming of a strong push on the Italian front is heralded from Vienna, which says that Emperor Charles and his military advisors are on the Italian battlefield. In the Tyrol and elsewhere there have been heavy artillery fire from the Austro-Germans. Rome reports no heavy infantry fighting, nor does Vienna, but the Italian war office notes a great increase in the violence of the Austrian artillery fire, especially on the Trentino front, where the new attack probably will come in an effort to force the Italians from the Piave line. Aerial activity in northern Italy is intense.

Emperor Charles leaves his capital for the fighting front at a time when Austria is seething with political unrest. In Bohemia and elsewhere the radicals are protesting against his action in dismissing parliament. It is announced in a pro-German Berlin newspaper that Emperor Charles' government has taken over most of Bohemia for the better control of foods. Vienna reports the cabinet has resigned.

Americans in the Toul and Luneville sectors have been very busy with the Germans. Northeast of Toul the Germans attempted to occupy a trench, formerly held by the Americans, and which was evacuated a month ago. The American artillery broke up the offensive, but further activity is not unexpected. East of Luneville the German have been driven from their front line positions by American gunfire and a patrol has penetrated 300 yards into the enemy lines.

Attention, Rebecas

There will be a regular meeting of the Seminole Rebecca Lodge Friday night at regular time. All members are urged to attend and all visiting Rebecas welcome.

Publicity Pulls Progress

"PRODUCING NOT PROMOTING" BOARD OF TRADE RESULTS (By the Secretary)

Put Liberty Loans, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Thrift Stamps and everything that goes to help win the war first and next to these back up your Board of Trade because your Board of Trade stands for the best interests of Seminole County and its purpose is increasing the business of the county.

A committee composed of Judge J. J. Dickinson, J. R. Hayden, L. M. Rehlinger, M. E. Dooley and E. H. Kilbee will go to DeLand next Monday in the interest of the Geneva-Titusville road. It is the purpose to induce Volusia county to put their portion of the road connecting Seminole and Brevard counties in passable shape.

This organization has already taken action and filed protests with Regional Director Markham, Atlanta, in reference to his circular No. 121, dated April 16th, wherein it is proposed to withdraw all differential rates between water and rail carriers bringing the water rates up to a rail basis. A movement of this sort would sorely affect all places that enjoy water competitive rates and would incidentally mount prices of necessities a little higher. This is a matter that our merchants should be vitally interested in as this move means more to them than to any others.

Every single member of the Board of Trade, including every member of the three auxiliaries own a Liberty Bond.

A Tampa paper said the other day that farmers "should use their land and products a little more patriotically," or words to that effect, adding that more cross roads meetings were necessary, more alleys, etc. This may be needed in some sections, but in the Seminole county section, what the farmer needs is a little more returns for his crops and considerable less theory on what to produce and how to produce it. Along with a normal yield of his usual crops the Seminole farmers have increased their corn acreage 100 per cent. and other staples accordingly but not as large. It will also be noted that in the last Liberty Loan campaign farmers took over 55 per cent. of the total subscription, it should also be remembered that these same farmers have lost a total of about six hundred thousand dollars since January on their crops—the crops that for years they have looked to for support.

Modern and spacious rooms will soon be the headquarters of the Board of Trade. At the last governors meeting steps were taken toward this end and all arrangements will soon be completed. This move is necessary because of the increased work and scope of the organization. The present paid membership is the largest of any in the history of the Board of Trade.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Member Legislature
To the Democratic Voters of Seminole Co.: I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the house of representatives in the next Florida legislature from Seminole county, subject to the democratic primary to be held June 4th at 11 o'clock and in the your consideration of my qualifications.

Respectfully,
J. J. DICKINSON.

Frank L. Woodruff Announces for Legislature
To the Voters of Seminole Co.: I beg to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the house of representatives from Seminole county. Having served you in that capacity in the session of 1917 and 1918, I feel I am prepared to give you better service in 1919. I do not know of any reason why you should not give me a second term, which has always been accorded all representatives in the past. I fully appreciate the high honor I am by electing me in 1919 and I have endeavored at all times to look after the interests of the people of Seminole county and the state of Florida. I hope I have not failed to fulfill your expectations and I trust you will see your way clear to give me a second term. Again thanking you for the many favors bestowed on me in the past I promise that I will be faithful to the trust imposed in me.
Yours very truly,
FRANK L. WOODRUFF.

For County Commissioner
I hereby announce myself a candidate for County Commissioner for the 5th District of Seminole County, subject to action of the Democratic Primary of June 4th, and solicit the votes of all Democrats. My platform is a secure deal to all Democrats.
Respectfully,
E. H. KILBEE

Mother, Home and Heaven

There are three words that sweetly blend,

That on the heart are graven; A perfume, soothing balm they lend, They're Mother, Home and Heaven.

They twine a wreath of beautiful flowers, Which, placed on memory's urn, Will e'en the longest, gloomiest hours To golden sunlight turn!

They form a chain whose every link Is free from base alloy; A stream where whosoever drinks Will find refreshing joy!

They build an altar where each day Love's offering is renewed; And peace illumines with genial ray Life's darkened solitude!

If from our side the first has fled, And Home be but a name, Let's strive the narrow path to tread, That we the last may gain!

—Selected.

Woman's work is in the home—you have heard that before. She makes Sanford homes happy. Here's what she does: Looks after the home and the children. Washes the clothes and cooks the food. Bargains with the grocers. Does most of the thinking and nine-tenths of the planning. And all the worrying. Frequently makes the living for the family. Does the Red Cross work. Nurses the sick and cheers the weary. Helps the afflicted. Is neat, cheerful and smiling. Also tireless. Sometimes works sixteen hours out of every twenty-four. But some think her not intelligent enough to vote, yes, lads and lassies, it's a gay world, if not a sad one.

The motto of every good American who cannot go abroad to fight will be to donate to the Red Cross all he can afford and induce his neighbors and his chauffeur, his man servant, his maid servant, and the stranger within his gates to do the same.

As explained to me by a charming lady friend, the fancy styles in shoes are necessitated by the shortness of skirts, and the skirts are made shorter in order to display the fancy shoes.

Nobody wants to cripple or obstruct a single activity that is helping to win this war and in it as quickly as possible; but one first class way NOT to win this war is to make it impossible for anybody to buy Liberty Bonds or savings stamps or to pay income taxes. Every business that can be kept going without stopping the direct war activities ought to be fostered and given every chance to thrive and do, if possible, more business than ever before. Let the war industries have the right of way and the first chance; and then let the rest do the best they can with what is left; but do not start out to stop all industry not directly connected with the war, and then be compelled to readjust the whole organization of business so that the great body of industry may be saved from utter ruin.

It is strange that the authorities at Washington seem never to have heard that Great Britain and Canada have gone through this very crisis and test and have a priceless lesson of experience from which we may derive a chart for "win the war" and at the same time "business more than usual."

A lot of this pro-German stuff is all rot. We are naturally strung up to the highest tension and are apt to place credence in every report about German meetings and Germana crossing Lake Monroe to march on Sanford but all we need to do is to keep quiet and keep our eyes open and what are real facts should be given to the authorities to be investigated. The government men know what to do and when to do it and there is no need for us to get excited over mere rumors. We hear a lot about this one and that one but traced down to the starting point it slimmers out completely. If you hear any pro-German talk it is your duty to report it at once or you should be placed with the Germans. But be sure that you have heard it right and that you can prove it.

And now comes the report that there are more hides and more leather in the good old U. S. A. than ever before and some-gink is hoarding them for high prices. And thus we pay the freight and pay twelve dollars for friend wife's shoes when they are worth about four bones. If this thing keeps up I will join the army in order to get a pair of shoes.

I print this one for the benefit of my friends, the ministers for they can enjoy a joke as well as any of us:

"Jimmy, didn't I hear you and William swearing?" asked the father of his two little sons. "No sir," said William, and Johnny together, "we just said 'to hell with the kaiser.'" "Oh," said their old man, resuming the reading of his newspaper, "I beg your pardon; go right ahead with your playing."

What gets my goat is the fact that there are people here who have plenty of money who have given nothing to the Red Cross or any other war fund. Others who have sons in the army and navy who do not even belong to the Red Cross. The time is coming when a committee will wait on these people and ask them why they do not come in out of the rain.

We want to keep the home fires burning and we want to keep the home business turning this summer and that is what all of us should figure about. The thing to do is to get up the amusements right here and keep the people at home instead of having them go elsewhere to spend the summer. We can have the swimming pools and the picnic grounds and the places to camp and spend the summer. There are plenty of them near this city and every dollar spent here will be that much.

Some Fast Shipbuilding

Philadelphia, May 6.—All records for rapid construction of a ship were broken today when the 5,548-ton steel collier Tuckahoe was launched at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation in Camden, N. J. The keel of this wonderful ship was laid on April 8, and only twenty seven working days were required to prepare the hull for launching. The boat was 90 per cent completed when it slid into the waters of the Delaware. In fifteen days more it will be ready for a cargo.

A distinguished company witnessed launching including Chas. M. Schwab, director general of ship construction; Chairman Edward N. Hurley of the shipping board, Vice-president Chas. Piez, Francis T. Bowles and Senator Fletcher, chairman of the state commerce committee. Miss Helen Hurley, Chairman Hurley's twelve year old daughter christened the ship.

Literature Department

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will meet Wednesday, May 8th, at 8:30.

The department is now closing the year's program and this will be the last meeting.

Mrs. E. W. D. Dunn will give a paper on The Status of Women in the World Today.

Mrs. Dunn's ability is so well known that it will not be necessary to state that a rare treat is in store for those who attend. The department will be glad to welcome any of Mrs. Dunn's friends or any who feel.

Our study this year has been somewhat different from that of former years. Patriotism for our country presented many topics for study. So Vital Questions of the Day has been the subject.

The club has held twelve meetings and the programs have been carried out as arranged by the committee, very few falling to do their part. Many fine papers have been given, as our leaders have spent much time and thought in their preparation.

While not being a money making department some money has been contributed to the Red Cross and many patriotic current events have been discussed and in some measure we feel that the demands of our country upon our womanhood, to keep the home fires burning, have been met and encouraged. We feel sure that the year's work has been a pleasure and great benefit.

ONE MINUTE HALT

Woodruff Thinks We Should Be More Patriotic
Mr. R. J. Holly
Publisher Herald
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Sir:
Do you not think it would be a most appropriate thing for Sanford and Seminole county to adopt the same reverent spirit of patriotism that some of our cities and towns are already commendably exemplifying in compliance with administrative proclamation? We refer to the daily impressive observation of six o'clock evening one minute halt, no matter what engaged in, absolute silence and, by the men, uncovering of head, together with, on the part of all who can and will, mental petitioning to Almighty Jehovah for the success of our arms, divinely vouchsafed concern, care and much as may be protection for our brave boys "called" and at the front, and supreme justice tempered with Christliness in the disposition of our enemies. We believe our community and the entire county would gladly unite in observation of this beautiful ceremony, and who shall say what potency it might have with Him who alone is omnipotent to make our valiant fight the glorious victory it can, must and shall be? Any and all, whether praying people or not, can and we know will be glad to commit and repeat from the heart during this one moment of reverence, "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice to all."
Mr. Publisher, will you please advocate this, for we are sure it needs to be executive promulgated in order to be earnestly and devoutly observed by residents of all Seminole county.

Thanking you for leading in everything that tends to civic uplift patriotism and righteousness, as you always do,
Respectfully,
E. T. Woodruff.

Lute Out of Existence.
The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail and many strings, and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbersome. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgot.

Being Ahead of the Times.
The world calls every man that is ahead of his age a crank. There is no disgrace in it. It may be a little hard not to be understood and appreciated when you know you have what the world needs, notes an exchange. But remember, that's the way with the world. It sometimes takes years, and even centuries for people to appreciate what's beyond their experience.

Tender Thoughts in Will.
Sometimes there are found such tender touches as these in the will of a late town clerk of Monmouth, who died in 1915, aged seventy-two. He left to the Monmouth General Hospital and dispensary, for the children's ward, in memory of his darling child Lizze, 2500 and a framed portrait of the child, and desired the authorities to place on her grave a wreath of flowers each Palm Sunday and a wreath of holly each Christmas day.

Weavers.
The arts of weaving and rope and net-making are practiced by some of the lower forms of life, notably among caterpillars and spiders. The weaver birds of Africa and India, which are a species of Finch, construct wonderful nests out of leaves by sewing them together.

Live Right.
Right living and the right kind of work have changed many a stunted boy into a well-developed man, asserts an educator. Spiritual growth is not greatly aided by sitting down and thinking about it. Live in the sunshine of trust. Rely on a strength higher than your own. Reach out helpfully to others, and growth in the divine life will look after itself.

Economy and Waste.
"Economy is the parent of integrity, of Liberty and of Ease; and the beautiful sister Temperance, of Cheerfulness and Health; and Profuseness is a cruel and crafty demon that gradually involves her followers in dependence and debts; that is, fetters them with "irons that enter into their souls."
—Hawkesworth.

Like Getting Signatures.
Sentiment is so easily molded that three or four active people, by keeping at it long enough can convince millions that water runs up hill instead of down.—Atchison Globe.

About His Relations.
Judge—"Now, sir, tell us about your marital relations—were they pleasant?" Billback—"Pleasant enough, your honor. But they wanted to live on me all the time."
—Life.

The Minuet.
The old-time "minuet" derives its name from the Latin minuet—small, applying to the short steps peculiar to this dance.

Dangerous Symptom.
"I hear that Billcum is going to run for congress." "Really? I'm not surprised. When he was a boy they say his parents were awfully worried about him."
—Life.

The railroad now goes to More-heaven and Editor Will Stevens is justly proud of this fact.

Ma Ruhl is carried away with the flyers from the camps at Arcadia as they now stop in Sebring pastures. Be careful, Ma, about that uniform.

E. T. Woodruff in this issue asks that we observe the minute for reverence of the flag at six each evening. Good suggestion and should be carried out.

There is a big fish on exhibition at Tampa now that weighs 30,000 pounds. That is the same fish that got away from Capt. P. M. Elder on Lake Jessup one day last summer.

Frank Huffaker, that veteran newspaper man who quit the editorial chair on the Tampa Times for the army will probably go across soon as a member of the tanks. Well, when they take them that old we are going over with them.

The young man of this section or of any other section of the United States who fails to serve his country now when he has the chance of a lifetime is not only a slacker but he should be branded as such now and for all time. We have one or two here and they will soon feel the sting.

If labor is scarce here on the spring crops there are plenty of school boys and Boy Scouts that could be used to pick peppers and beans and they are all willing to work. The farmers should investigate the willing boys in Sanford and put them to work. This is being done everywhere in the United States this season.

Will some kind friend please inform us whether this is the year they hold elections or not. Up to date, we have heard nothing about any campaign, any speeches, any noise, any platforms, any promises, any recommendations, any Bulaheviki, any anything. We move that all of them be declared elected by acclamation and get it off the calendar. If they are as dead as they seem they might just as well be interred at the state capital now as next year.

The Herald is being thanked every day for assisting the various campaigns and from those at Washington up to those at home are telling us what a wonderful help we have been. Sounds sweet to the ear but in passing the prunes please remember that editors have to eat and the boys have to be paid every Saturday night. If you want us to keep the home fires burning you should take The Herald—that is you can keep the fires burning with it after you read it.

Seminole county can well feel proud of her feat in subscribing for the Third Liberty Loan and doing more than her share. Now we will soon be called upon to subscribe for the Red Cross and this will be real giving. Subscribing for the Liberty Loan is merely investing your money. Giving to the Red Cross is real giving and those who some time ago wanted to give real money to the Red Cross will be called upon for the donation. Giving to the Red Cross is real patriotism.

Congressman Joe Sears sends us a printed letter saying that he is a candidate for congress and will have to stay on the job but that he is willing to answer any and all questions, etc. We will send him one of our stock letters in due time thanking him for past favors in allowing us to vote for him and wishing him many happy returns of the day. We are just crazy about those printed letters and the Congressional Record and divers and sundry reports sent from Washington.

BRUTALITY OF THE GERMAN BUTCHER

One of the most touching incidents of the brutality of the war and the dastardly machinations of the prosecutor of humanity comes from the mother of Wm. S. Moore of this city. Her brother has been in the service and not long ago was captured by the German horde. She received a letter from him stating that he had been captured, was well fed and treated, and for them not to worry, but in that letter was a statement that by separate post he was returning a package of his effects for her to keep. The package came shortly and it was a gold watch. On looking into the works she found a slip of paper, apparently a cigarette paper, upon which was scrawled this fateful message:

"I will never come home; my nose and ears have been cut off."

Now, folks, that is not all they have done to this man and to every other man captured; and, too, the report does not come from a newspaper reporter and is not exaggerated; no, it is not told half as bad as it really is, and it comes right out of the home of a Lakeland man. That tell-tale note placed against the letter which he was forced to write opens the story of German treachery and cruelty; of the untold misery our boys are subjected to.—Lakeland News.

VITAL STATISTICS

There has just come under our observation a small circular, the kind which may be conveniently slipped into a letter, which evidently is sent out by our neighbor city, Sanford.

"Vital Statistics of Florida," is the heading. It then gives the birth rate and death rate per thousand of several of Florida's important cities. Sanford is credited with 17.3 births and 9.0 deaths per thousand. Orlando is credited with 15.2 births per thousand and 23.6 deaths per thousand.

The reason Sanford's death rate is so far below us in comparison with the population is because when it comes to dying every one in the country, for miles around wants to die here.

Not so much from the fact that they would rather die in Orlando than live anywhere else, but because of our wonderful medical institutions. Orlando is noted for its hospitals, so after all that is possible is done for a patient at home and the case seems hopeless they rush them here. Nine times out of ten they are saved, but not always, consequently Orlando is credited with the deaths of most of the territory, from Haines City to DeLand, from the East Coast to nearly the West Coast.

Orlandites rarely die from anything but old age.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

This "vital statistics" seem so vital to Orlando that the papers down there bring it up every year after the tourist season is over and there is nothing else to talk about. We know nothing about the little booklet spoken of but the vital statistics were compiled by the State Board of Health, we presume and with that we have nothing to do. "Facts is facts" and "Figgers is figgers" and you can't rub them out with the flamboyant idea that Orlando needs all of her hospitals and drug stores to take care of the other fellow's patients. We would suggest that since Orlando has nothing to do in the summer that the newspapers down there take up the water question again—that seems too hot for them to handle in the winter—and see what they can do with it, eh what?

OUR DUTY TO THE FARMER

South Florida cities of Arcadia's size and commercial importance are not living up to their opportunities or doing their whole duty to the country when they fail to provide cold storage establishments, canneries and other means of taking care of the surplus food products of the farms.

The farmer lost heavily on his late cabbage because the local supply was greater than the demand and the northern markets were demoralized by the commission crooks who always find plenty of boneheads who will give him their crops and sometimes pay the freight.

The new crop of potatoes is now coming on the market and will go like the cabbage. Ditto various other perishable crops.

A little later on we will be shipping in these same products from the northern farmer and pay a stiff price for them, when if we were able to keep these food crops on storage at a nominal cost we could not only produce what we consume, but able to hold our surplus for the most attractive price and market at our leisure.

Moreover, the farmer could store the meat supply of the country at home instead of shipping it away to the packing house of the north and buying it at a greatly increased price.

What is the remedy? If it is not a large storage plant at each important business center, then we are unable to suggest anything to check this great economic loss to our country.

Other towns have tried the storage plan and it is proving a great success, if we can rely upon newspaper reports.—Arcadia Enterprise.

RAILROAD AND DOCK CONDITIONS

In New York Are Ruining Southern Growers

New York, May 6.—What powerful influence has the Pennsylvania Railroad exerted on Government officials at Washington which allows this road to practically dictate what commodities shall be unloaded at B. & O. pier No. 7 and which shall come to piers 28 and 29? This is the question receivers have been asking all the week. They seem just as far from a satisfactory solution as they were in the beginning. They know some powerful influence is at work, because, try as they may, and some real hardwork has been done, they have not been able to secure any relief from the grievous conditions which have demoralized the markets the past two weeks and which instead of growing better are getting worse.

Numerous efforts have been made to secure conferences with railroad officials looking to some solution of the trouble. Officials of the Food Administration have been consulted. They have recommended that P. R. R. officials meet the trade, discuss the points at issue and try to reach an understanding. Despite this, it is impossible to reach any one high up on the P. R. R. Receivers declare Philadelphia officials dare not come here. Officials of that road seem determined to avoid any conference, indicating plainly by their attitude that they do not care what happens to the trade or to the southern growers who have poured millions into their treasury in freight. Unquestionably misrepresentations have been made to the Railroad Administration probably by P. R. R. representatives—about actual conditions on the piers here. These railroad men know it would be an easy matter for receivers to refute all these untruths and for that reason refuse to come out in the open. There is no proper coordination between the Federal Food and Railroad Administrations. Food Administration representatives have shown themselves willing and anxious to do what they can to help out, but cannot get any assistance from the Railroad Administration. The Pennsylvania Railroad people know this and are apparently using the lack of harmony to further their own ends.

The trade cannot understand why it is that Florida potatoes, cucumbers and cabbage, all heavy freight articles from which the P. R. R. has suffered heavy losses from shortages should all be diverted to the B. & O. pier No. 7, and the easily handled perishables to piers 28 and 29. Outside of a few stragglers cars which got there by mistake not a single car of Florida potatoes was unloaded on the Pennsylvania pier this week. Every car went to pier 7 with the result that receivers were compelled to haul potatoes and other products to their stores and sell them there. This not only meant a great waste of time and heavy additional expense, but cause serious losses to the growers in reduced prices. Several receivers kept salesmen on the B. & P. pier, which by the way does not open until 7 a. m., hoping buyers might come, but had to take them away because there was no trade. In the meantime, a piers 28 and 29, the natural markets for southern goods, the stevedores, because they had nothing to do, were willing the hours away amusing themselves. Tuesday, during the day, 25 cars were unloaded on piers 28 and 29. That night 34 more cars were unloaded. At the same time 23 cars were unloaded on pier 7. The P. R. R. could easily have handled all of these cars without any congestion or confusion and saved Florida growers thousands of dollars. Thursday 47 cars were at pier 7, while the P. R. R. in 24 hours had unloaded only 69 cars. Before the war 250 cars were handled in a day at piers 28 and 29.

Through congestion and delays in transportation the past winter Florida celery and lettuce growers were ruined and the same fate is in store for the Florida potato grower. The market here has gone to pot because the potatoes were at pier 7 instead of piers 28 and 29. Prices this week will net the growers less than $2.75. These potatoes cost $5 bbl. to deliver here. Losses to the growers are easily several hundred dollars a car, a loss which they can ill afford, and which they will remember when the Government again urges them to raise potatoes to feed the country. As New York goes so goes nearly every market in the country. Because of the break here nearly every other market is lower, Philadelphia selling down to $3.50. The losses are cumulative as well as local. A telegram was received from Hastings by a local receiver early in the week stating that digging was heavy with indication of more rain. The f. o. b. market on Thursday was $3 for No. 1s. Buyers would not offer more than $2.75, showing a $2 f. o. b. loss to growers. Many cars were being diverted from New York and more will be unless there are better dock conditions here. N. Y. Produce News.

at his home, 347 West Seventh street, after a lingering illness. Surviving him are his wife and two daughters, Miss Arline McCoy of this city and Miss Ethel McCoy of Bristol, Tenn.

The body accompanied by relatives will be forwarded to Cleevand, O., tonight at 8:40 o'clock, where the interment will take place. Funeral services will be held at the residence this afternoon at 8 o'clock. First Methodist Church, South, conducting the same. The arrangement directing the same. The arrangements are in charge of Moulton Kyle.—Times-Union.

Wilbur McCoy was well known in Sanford where he accomplished much in the way of inducing people to locate here and was greatly interested in the celery and winter vegetable crops. He made this city his headquarters in the early days and his many friends here mourn his loss today.

Lemon City is about to lose the Smith-Hughes fund for support of agricultural schools, because some people of that section do not think the agricultural course, which is required to get the fund, is of benefit to the school. The rules require at least ten students in the agricultural department, who will devote at least half of each day to the study of agriculture.

The Bellevue Hotel at Clearwater is erecting a swimming pool which will cost, when completed, $75,000. The first story will contain the swimming pool handsomely appointed and finished, the second story a dance hall extending around three sides and overlooking the pool.

Very few types of road would have been in constant use nearly 5 year and a half, subject to the heavy traffic that goes over the Dixie Highway without requiring some repairs. But Polk's roads are better than when first put down, because the base is packed harder and the waves and ruts have "ironed out." These roads will need maintenance, however. It would be sheerest folly to expect them to stand indefinitely without repairs. Provision for systematic patrol and upkeep is one of the prime duties of the county commissioners.

"Over There"

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Lossing that their son, Arthur has at last arrived safely "somewhere in France." All of his friends and the people of Sanford wish Arthur all the success and best wishes and we are all hoping he will soon return.

Summer School

Mrs. C. L. Polk, one of Sanford's former teachers will accept a limited number of pupils who are desirous of making up work during the summer months. 73-tf are many indeed and when most vividly portrayed by a minister as they were by Mr. Massey at the Temple Sunday night in his sermon on that subject, certainly give one plenty of food for thought. Mr. Massey began with the days of old and re-stated the greater surprises that the world had witnessed, even unto the present day, closing his sermon with a kind of a pre-review of the outcome of the present world conflict that is more or less the greater surprise of the ages. The advice of the pastor was given at intervals throughout the service and was to the effect that all should be ready to enter into the presence of the Master and not be taken by the surprise of death at any time.

During the services a beautiful violin service was rendered by Mrs. C. J. Marshall. Mrs. Marshall has kindly consented to render several selections for the church and her playing will be a feature of the services for a time.

FIGHTING IN FRANCE

The French Government Official Motion Picture of Fighting in France

Taken by the order of the General Staff and loaned by the French government to the N. Y. World through its war correspondent, E. Alexander Powell will be shown at the Lyric Thursday Matinee and night. This picture shows war just as it is. You will see the mighty guns pounding away, sending 2,000 shells from each gun in a few seconds of time. Armored airships seen in flights. Two thousand prisoners taken in battle, see the clouds of poisoned gas and see the defenders in the first line trenches.

See history as it is made at the cannon's very mouth being recorded by the camera with such unmistakable accuracy that even at this distance we get the spirit of it all.

All modern war machinery is shown in detail and one is afforded unusually intimate views of the trenches.

Many pictures of the German trenches and entanglements are seen through a periscope from the French trenches.

Don't miss seeing this wonderful picture at the Lyric Thursday.

COMMITTEE MEETING

Red Cross Society Meets Thursday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 at the Woman's Club. This will be the usual second Thursday meeting.

Red Cross Magazine

The Red Cross Magazine bears to the world the message of the Red Cross. It is a message of tenderness and it speaks from trench to battle-ship, from hospital and prison camp and recreation center. It tells you of the heroic work of soldiers and sailors, of nurses, surgeons and ambulance drivers. It tells you how your bandages and dressings are stopping wounds and how your money is fighting death. It is the very cornerstone of a great humanitarian effort, for it joins your efforts with the efforts of the rest of the human race and gives them all the strength of unity. Two dollars gives you one year's membership in the Red Cross and one year's subscription to the magazine. You cannot fail to be interested in the work of the Red Cross if you read the magazine.

Chain Letters

There is now a chain letter being circulated in this Division, especially in the state of Tennessee.

The statement referring to the Red Cross in this letter is without authority, and chapter members are requested to do all they can to stop this letter and not have it answered. Any time you happen to see a chain letter in which the Red Cross name is used you are authorized to state that it is without authority.

The Postal Department does not sanction the circulation of any kind of chain letters, and no chain whatever should be answered.

Red Cross Briefs

If your son or brother or friend is in a German prison camp he finds awaiting him an American Red Cross emergency food parcel.

Free life insurance is to be provided for Red Cross workers across the seas.

The Red Cross has supplied 1,000,000 surgical dressings and opened relief headquarters in nine regional districts of Italy.

Supplied American troops with comfort kits and sent them Christmas gifts.

Organized a nurse's service for American army use.

Established infirmaries and rest stations along all routes followed by the American troops in France.

Provided an artificial limb factory and special plants for the manufacture of splints and nitrons oxide gases.

Established a casualty service for gathering information in regard to the wounded and missing.

Hospitals and convalescent homes, twenty dispensaries in the American army zone, warehouses from the sea to the Swiss border have been established, children's hospitals and homes, reclamation work in invaded sections from which the enemy has been driven, clothing the naked and feeding the hungry are some few of the uses to which our dollars have been put by the American Red Cross. Are you a member? and have you renewed for another year?

Pay Your Poll Tax Now

In order to vote at the coming primary election poll taxes for 1916 and 1917 must be paid on or before May 11th.

Woman's Club Notes

The last monthly business meeting of the club year was held on last Wednesday afternoon at the club house, Mrs. E. M. Galloway presiding. After the repeating of collect and singing the club song by all present, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Mrs. Phillips sang most beautifully, "Spring Has Come."

Mrs. W. E. Watson, secretary, gave minutes of last meeting, following which reports from departments were called for.

The chairman on finance reported that through the building fund the club would find it possible to make an advance payment of one hundred dollars on the annual amount promised to be paid of $200.

Mrs. Watson, chairman Thrift Stamp reported $40.75 collected thus far, a very creditable showing.

Music Department announces a Community Sing for Sunday May 19th, to be held either in the parlor at the Star Theatre. Further announcement to be made as to place of meeting.

Mrs. C. M. Berry, chairman Home Economics gave an interesting talk on war bread.

Welfare Department announced a Better Baby Contest.

Literature Department announced the anticipated pleasure of having Mrs. Dunn with them tomorrow Wednesday, May 8th. A special program has been arranged in honor of the occasion. Mrs. Dunn is a charter member of the club, a woman of rare ability and fine intellect and her papers are always enjoyed and are invariably of unusual interest.

The Social Department will have an evening bridge at the club house on Tuesday, the 14th, to which the public is invited. This is a benefit affair in the interest of the Red Cross work and it is hoped a large crowd will attend, thereby swelling the proceeds. For reservations please phone Mrs. R. A. Newman, phone 98. Mrs. Newman will be hostess on this occasion.

IN SOCIETY'S DOMAIN

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND SANFORD

Mrs. Neva King McLaughlin, Social Editor. Arrogans having guests, parties or any article for this column, it would be appreciated if they would telephone 870-J

In honor of their guest, Mrs. D. S. Shellhorn of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. William Gillen charmingly entertained on Wednesday evening at their home on Laurel avenue. The rooms of the residence were prettily decorated for the occasion with many beautiful roses and violets. During the evening a number of interesting games of Five Hundred were enjoyed and at a late hour dainty war time refreshments were served. The affair was thoroughly informal and enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hurley and Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Estridge.

Arthur Dickins arrived yesterday from Camp Wheeler on a five days' furlough to the delight of his parents and many friends.

Washburn Promoted

Word comes from Floyd Washburn, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Washburn that he has been transferred from Co. K, 122nd Infantry at Camp Wheeler to the Motor Mechanics Signal Corps and has been promoted to Corporal.

A Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all those who contributed the beautiful flowers, and all kindness shown us in sympathy in the death of our dear brother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sammis.

The commissioners of St. Augustine recently paid off the entire indebtedness of the town except a bond issue of $65,000 issued for the purchase of the water works system. The city owed $400,000 at the time the commission took over its affairs.
