VanDerworp resigns from city

By Don Pleg
Editor

SANFORD — City Manager Tom VanDerworp resigned Thursday, just a week after the city commission adopted a referendum to determine whether the city should keep its current form of government.

In a letter dated Feb. 2, VanDerworp informed the mayor and commissioners that he will resign effective Feb. 11. He provided the reason for the resignation. Commission members authorized VanDerworp to resign to take effect on a date to be determined by the adoption of a March 4 referendum.

City manager's leaving comes as voters ponder change in government

They say the referendum is only a referendum to be held in about two years. VanDerworp was disappointed about his future. He said with Mayor Brady, Leard and District 4 Commissioner Willey Eckstein, indicated that VanDerworp was pursuing opportunities with Seminole County and in his native Michigan.

"Tom's not really saying much," Eckstein said, "but I understand there may be an opportunity at Seminole County."

District 4 Commissioner Eckstein said he would be interested in seeing VanDerworp leave. With the Riverwalk, conference center, and a proposed Executive Center, he said, he would be interested in seeing VanDerworp leave. He said he would be interested in seeing VanDerworp leave. Florida Power and CP&L become Progress Energy

Progress Energy (NYSE:PE) announced today that its two major electric utility companies, CP&L and Florida Power, have officially been re-branded Progress Energy. The two companies began using the legal names Progress Energy Carolina, Inc. and Progress Energy Florida, Inc. respectively, as of January 1, 2002. This re-brand for CP&L and Florida Power will be phased in over two years.

Customers will not see the names on their electric bills change until March 2002, but the company has already re-branded most company facilities, signs, vehicles, attire, advertising, and community involvement with the Progress Energy name and logo.

"Since the 2000 merger, we've been working toward the goal of creating a seamless operation under the Progress Energy banner," said William Cavannah, chairman and CEO, Progress Energy. "We have made a great deal of progress toward that goal and, today, stand as a highly integrated, dynamic, diverse energy company."

Progress Energy was created in December 2000 following the completion of CP&L's acquisition of Florida Power. Since the merger, the process of creating a single Progress Energy entity has been ongoing. Progress Energy is the name of the holding company created to serve as the parent company of CP&L and Florida Power but until now the two utility companies have maintained their pre-merger brand names.

"We want to reassure Progress Energy customers, both in Florida and the Carolinas, that while the name has changed, the people they count on to provide reliable electric service has not changed. The people you rely on in Charlotte and the Carolinas, and the people you rely on in your neighborhood in the Carolinas, will have all come to depend on," Cavannah said. "That kind of continuity is a primary demand on us as we move forward, serving our customers."

"The merger that will not only eliminate confusion between Florida Power and Florida Light but we hope it will also serve as a sign of our renewed commitment to deliver safe and reliable service to our valued customers," said Bill Hahnemann, president, Florida Power. "The new name and a positive image are a sign for Florida Power. We have made significant strides in the past few years in customer improvement and innovation in Florida."

Customers in the Carolinas for Florida Power Carolina and Progress Energy Carolina will begin using dual billing for CP&L/Florida Power and Progress Energy Carolina respectively.

Progress Energy Carolina provides electricity and related services to more than 1.4 million customers in Florida. The company is headquartered in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and serves territory encompassing over 200,000 square miles, including the cities of St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Palmetto and Sarasota in North Carolina and Florence and Sumter in South Carolina.

OPINION

YMCA: It's more than just a fun song

There is a new plethora (always wanted to use that word) of public service announcements on television these days. People are repeating "Le-Y" to indicate they are not only members of a YMCA but are actively participating in the many programs offered.

The YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association) was formed in the United States on Dec. 27, 1851, modeled after an organization started in London in 1844. The first YMCA was organized in Boston, Mass.

Today, there are approximately 4,000 YMCAs in 12,000 communities in all 50 states. Programs serve more than 17 million people each year, including more than 10 million children. The organization is also expanding to cover 120 nations under the World Alliance of YMCAs.

Nick Pfeiffauf

Why mention this now? It's because of the New Year's resolutions many people have probably made.

Probably the most common resolution is to exercise more and lose weight. New Year's resolutions may also go so far as to want to learn how to operate their computers, (to be better than their children at it).

Programs offered at the Y's often depend on the size of the facility. Some have swimming pools, others may not. Some have gymnasiums, others have none.

For all of them offer a variety of programs to find out, it is best to physically visit the Y, and either discuss programs or obtain a brochure. Locally, the Seminole Family YMCA is located at 665 Longwood Lake Mary Road, in Lake Mary. There are others in the area as well, depending on where one lives, and how far it may be to drive.

The Seminole Family Y does have a pool and as such, offers swimming lessons for the youngsters — certainly a needed skill in this part of the South.

Among many opportunities at the Seminole Family YMCA are personal training, youth soccer, basketball, roller hockey, teen programs, activities in men's and women's locker rooms, Tai Kwai Do, playshops and creative kids classes, and child care while you work out (up to two hours).

Incidentally, the Seminole Family YMCA is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

For adults who hesitate to join because they don't want to leave their children home, keep in mind, the Y has many programs for all ages, and by proper planning, the whole family can spend time at the Y. It is best to obtain a family rather than an individual membership.

You can become involved in programs that will indeed help you to tone up and probably lose weight. Then, perhaps on a weekend, you can take the whole family to the pool and have a fun day.

A True Counselor Of Law, In Spirit And In The Courts

During the past 23 years Mahler Gubay & Mahler has been privileged to have John Jones "of counsel" to its law firm. Mr. Jones opened his law office in Seminole County 20 years ago and has strong ties throughout the Central Florida community.

Senior partner Michael Mahler and Mr. Jones both attended Seminole University College of Law. When Mr. Mahler was in his last year, Mr. Jones was in his fifth. Mr. Jones says that, in 1980, "Mike became my mentor. I decided to focus my law practice. I changed from a shotgun approach in law, doing the whole spectrum of cases, to using a targeted approach, helping injured people."

Outside of his law office, John has two commitments: his family and his church. He has a long history of involvement and leadership at Calvary Assembly of God. As vice chairman of the board at Calvary Assembly, he is part of a leadership team that serves 3,000 parishioners. He is extremely proud of his church's commitment to help the church's debt of $1.5 million in 2007.

Mr. Mahler says that Mr. Jones is a great asset to the law firm for many reasons. "John has the best reputation of any lawyer that I've ever known. He has developed deep friendships in the community. His empathy for people and his ability to communicate with everyone is an exceptional strength and asset."

Mr. Mahler adds, "John is truly every man." Mr. Jones has a broad range of experience from working as a professional football scout for the Kansas City Chiefs to four years' active duty in the Navy during Vietnam and 16 additional years in the Navy Reserve. Through these years, serving which he received the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

He also serves on the board of directors for Calvary Assembly, a 501(c)(3) profit for lower-income elderly people and persons with handicaps. Through his involvement, Mr. Jones became aware of medical problems faced by the elderly. He learned early on of defects with belt-up requirements.

On a personal level, Mr. Jones and his wife Carolyn like many families, have to care for an elderly parent. They have been with Carolyn's mother through her transition from an assisted living facility into a nursing home, where they visit her daily. As a lawyer, he is particularly astute regarding nursing homes and other difficulties the elderly face.

As a child, Mr. Jones lost his father who was killed by a drunk driver, and he was raised by a single mother who faced the struggles that usually occur in those situations. At the same time, she instilled values in him that he lives by today. Knowing this helps with an understanding of Mr. Jones' personal devotion to helping people.

Mr. Jones works with the partners and associates at M&M on significant medical negligence, wrongful death and automobile accident cases. In his 30 years as a lawyer, Mr. Jones has exhibited an outpouring respect for the legal system and developed tremendous credibility with the judges in the Central Florida area. According to Mr. Mahler, "John's professional manner has influenced the younger members of our firm who have become excellent lawyers. He stresses the ethics that he has demonstrated and strived throughout his career."

The mutual respect between Mr. Mahler and Mr. Jones is obvious and extends to their personal friendship. Mr. Jones says, "I saw much of Mike's strength of character in his son Steve. I will work with them as long as I practice law."

Mr. Jones' ties to the community have been further strengthened through his three children. His son, Randy, is a city commissioner in Sanford and is dedicated to planning for the future and improving the lives of his constituents. His daughter, Julie, has given her time and talent to help underprivileged children. His younger son, Andrew, is in his first year of law school at FAMU.

In his church community, Mr. Jones has counseled people from all walks of life who face problems and struggles in their lives. As a lawyer, he is able to conduct both his personal life and career by his own moral standards, while at the same time accepting people in a completely non-judgmental manner. This is an invaluable characteristic when helping people solve their problems. These lives are the lives of the pastor, John Jones is truly a counselor of law.

and the March 1 referendum would not provide a picture "since when do people look at the big picture, right?"

Vanderworp was hired as city manager in 1996. It was that he worked in various capacities in Sanford, the state government, serving as director of planning and director of public works before taking the Sanford job.

During Vanderworp's tenure as city manager, Sanford saw a number of major developments and projects. The city's downtown revitalization project, such as the new city hall, the new center and the small renovation either begun or close to beginning. And the police department, once described by an organizational consultant as the most dysfunctional department in the region — is now considered one of Central Florida's best law enforcement agencies.

The leadership of former mayor Larry Dale was instrumental in a lot of the progress Sanford has made. "Without Larry, all of us, including the community and Larry played a role. This wasn't done by one person. Tony was an important part of Sanford's success in the last few years."

Tony brought a lot of experience of management in the city. "I think Tony did a good job for the city. I don't think he anticipated problems as well as he should have and sometimes he took on a lot of an approach. Overall, the city benefited from his leadership."

Colleagues with outside San 13, how to fill Vanderworp's position after Feb. 13. Several names are being considered, including City Manager Roger Dixon, there is not much the community can do to influence the process. "I would like to see Tony out immediately and the city review all remaining would begin within the weeks," he said.

Foundation offering scholarship

The Simon Youth Foundation Community Scholarship Program, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing educational and career development opportunities to youth will award a one-time monetary scholarship of $1,500 to a select number of high school seniors who plan to enroll in any accredited college, university or vocational-technical school, and who meet the program's eligibility requirements.

Last year, a total of $27,000 was distributed to 154 scholarship recipients nationwide. To be considered for the program, national finalists can obtain an application form at the Sanford Market Place at Seminole County Center. Students must complete the application and submit it along with their official school transcripts and a parent's most recently filed tax form to Citicorp Scholarship Foundation of America, Inc. by Feb. 15, 2001. For additional information, contact Shirley P. Sisson, Marketing Director at the Seminole County Center Mall in Sanford 407-323-1843.

CALNO to meet in Altamonte this Wednesday

The Council of Local Government Administrators (CALNO) will meet Wednesday, Jan. 3, at the city hall in Altamonte Springs, 200 Magnolia Ave. The meeting is from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The agenda includes the Sanford and Altamonte Joint Development Council.

Classic

During the two-year restoration project, the car was stored at Mid Florida Motor Sports in Oviedo. Officers first dismantled the car, labeled the parts and placed them in bags. They then transported the items to local businesses to refurbish the pieces. When the officers pulled out the old carpet to replace it, they found the original shipping order from 1962. Once the pieces were returned, the officers reassembled the parts.

"It's been a fun experience, but at times very tedious," said Brewer, who along with Smith and the other officers, thank their wives for being patient when they spent long hours away from home restoring the car. "My dad was a paint and body man for years. When we were working on this car, I regretted not learning more from him when I had the opportunity."

The car, worth approximately $5,000 before restoration, was donated to the police department by Oviedo resident Bill Campbell. He also donated a fully restored vehicle to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

Bill Campbell has a love affair with Impalas. "I've driven with Impalas," said Brewer. "You don't turn a car like that down when it's being donated."

Many of the police cars from the 1960s, the department took good care in looking after them. "I don't know if the car will be lost," said Campbell.

Sanford has a good community and a good staff of department heads," Leppard said. "We have some work ahead of us, but I have no doubt that it can be done."

Leppard praised Vanderworp for his work with the city and said he has had a close relationship with the city manager. "I think Tony did a good job for the city. I don't think he anticipated problems as well as he should have and sometimes he took on a lot of an approach. Overall, the city benefited from his leadership."

This issue while a strong form of government has never been about Tony Vanderworp. "I don't know if the car will be lost," said Campbell.

being put on," said Smith. "We spent the remaining 12 hours polishing and waxing it for the event."

The officers plan to show the car to parents, special events and car shows in the future.

"It's our PR machine," said Smith. "We can't go anywhere without people staring. Everybody wants to know about it, because it gets so much attention, we plan to take it any place there may be a recruitment drive."

Although the car is complete according to Brewer and Smith, they will be fine-tuning certain aspects of the vehicle. Since the classic doesn't have air conditioning, the officers are working on power brakes. They say those items will be the first ones considered for further work.

Give your children the gift of independence

QUESTION: My 16-year-old son has been in a number of relationships. He is a very good person, but he is not ready to get into a serious relationship. How do I help him?

DR. DOBSON: I'm sure you know that within a couple of years, your son will be an adult. It's important that you help him develop a sense of independence now. You can do this by encouraging him to make his own decisions and to take responsibility for his actions.

There was a moment during my life when my mother said to me, "I don't want you to be a doctor. I want you to be a man." I think that's a wonderful thing to say. It's a challenge to be a man, and it's a challenge to be a doctor. I hope you can help your son find his way.

QUESTION: My wife and I are having trouble with our 12-year-old son. He is very smart, but he is also very rebellious. How do we handle this?

DR. DOBSON: It's important to remember that your son is a young man. He is exploring his identity and his beliefs. It's normal for him to be rebellious. You can help him by setting clear boundaries and by being consistent in your discipline. It's also important to listen to his side of the story and to show him that you care about him.

right track, even though she worried the entire time.

Yes, I think you should be your boy's role model. He will learn more from you than from any other person. It's important to be a good example for him.

QUESTION: Our family lives an exciting lifestyle - we just can't seem to find a way to slow down. Do you have any advice for us?

DR. DOBSON: Let me share with you some thoughts on this. It's important to find a balance between excitement and calm. You can do this by taking time for yourself and for your family. It's also important to have a plan for the future and to work towards it.

He told the students on that occasion that he was a Christian.

A word about family: You have a responsibility to your family. It's important to be a good father and a good husband. You can do this by being loving and by being responsible. It's also important to be a good role model for your children.

Class of '64 preserves legacy of rich heritage

The 1964 class of the Lee P. Moore and Rich Phillips was the theme of the 50th anniversary of Central High School class of 1964. The celebration, during the holidays, made for a joyous reunion for classmates and friends.

The first activity was the presentation of a book at Central Academy of Reform in Washington. The book, 'The Class of '64', was written by the author and published by the new publisher. The fun continued on Friday with a picnic and afternoon social held with the class of 1964 and old friends at the Lee P. Moore Park. There was plenty of delicious food for all.

Saturday evening, classmates and friends enjoyed the Riverside Room for dinner, dancing and fun as they dined down the beautiful St. Johns River.

Sunday morning worship and praise services were held at the New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church, where Rev. William "Bill" Lewis is the pastor.

The Home service was presided over by Rev. Fred Phillips, Class of 1964. The devotion was led by John Barnett, Idella Barkley, and Cora Williams. The spirit of worship continued with the reading of the word, Psalm 91, led by Bernice Dwan Morris. Greetings from the Crocus class of 1963, 65, 66 and 69. With the class of 1964's message by all of the graduates by classmate Victoria Nathan. Messages from the class of 1964, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 00, 01, 02, 03, 04, 05, 06, 07, 08, 09, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50.

The Rev. Reginald McGill and classmate Darzidhe Dixon here to enjoy the luncheon at the Club of 34 reunion.

Highlights of the class of '64 and the reunion committee indeed have preserved its legacy and rich heritage. They extend their thanks to all for the success of the 50th class reunion that started during the four day celebration.

The City of Suffolk Dr. ... The 1964 class of the Lee P. Moore and Rich Phillips was the theme of the 50th anniversary of Central High School class of 1964. The celebration, during the holidays, made for a joyous reunion for classmates and friends.

This event will be Jan. 17 at 6 p.m. at the Suffolk Club, 400 E. First Street at Bedford Avenue.

Saturday, Jan. 18 at 8:30 a.m. The 1964 Annual MIA Golf Tournament will be held with a shotgun start at the Sable Point Golf Course in Longwood. If it's your sport, call 407-322-9945 to register and play. Prizes will be given to the winners.

It's the 1964 Annual Cultural Convention at the Suffolk Civic Center. Entertainment and dinner tickets are $20 per person and are available from MIA Committee members or by calling 407-322-2099.

Sunday, Jan. 19 at 4:30 p.m. The 1964 Religious Service will be held at the Suffolk Civic Center. The message of the hour will be given and the HEE Celebration Choir will perform. All students, classes and community are invited to attend.

Monday, Jan. 20, the Dr. M.L. King, Jr. parade and rally will be at 10 a.m. The parade will begin at Crocus Academy of Information Technology, proceed past the 1964 class and to the First Marine Park on the lake front on East First Street where the rally will be held.

For parade and rally information, phone 407-322-5469.

Seminole Community College's City of American Cultural Program presents Heritage Jubilee, a celebration of Black Achievement. Sponsors: Mrs. Theodor Nathan Mike and Dr. Calvin Collins, Jr.

Entertainment featuring the Inspirational Singers, Lester Adams (violin) and Shirley Rango (saxophone) will be featured. The event will be Friday, Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. at the Fine Arts Concert Hall, Sanford/Lake Mary campus. Come early. Free admission.

Landscaping Tips

There are many ways to make a space more attractive. They can be as simple as a lawn or as complex as a garden.

One of the most important things to consider when landscaping is the amount of sunlight the area receives. This will determine what plants you can grow.

Another important factor is the amount of water the area receives. This will determine what plants you can grow.

It is also important to consider the soil in the area. This will determine what plants you can grow.

Finally, it is important to consider the overall look of the area. This will determine what plants you can grow.

By following these tips, you can create a beautiful and functional landscape for your home.

Remember, landscaping is an ongoing process. It takes time and effort to create a beautiful and functional landscape for your home.

Lake Mary just misses sweep

By Dave Smith
SOUTH BAY

Lake Mary just missed a sweep of its two holiday tournaments by winning their own Christmas Classic, while the boys followed up their championship in the Grayhound Invitational with a run-up finish this past week.

Rams girls first, boys second in own Christmas Classic

The Rams opened the tournament with a convincing 62-37 victory over Reynolds and were joined by the Christmas Classic by Edgewater, which ended over Dr. Phillips, 76-54, leading most to believe that the final would be a high scoring affair.

Major title to Titans

By Dave Smith
SOUTH BAY

SANFORD — Power ratings didn't pay off.

When the Titans dropped an 18-4 decision to the Packers on the opening day of the season, few probably gave them a chance of winning the championship.

But displaying the never give up attitude it takes to win a championship, the Titans rebounded as they won their first six games, including a 25-12 victory in a playoff game to claim the Championship in the Junior Division of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Youth Flag Football League.

The victory was the second of the day for the Titans (6-1) who had defeated the Packers (4-2) last week in the semifinals.

Following the opening game, the Packers seemed well on the way to an undefeated season and the division championship.

The Packers rolled to impressive victories in the four of their five wins. The only slip being a 21-13 victory over the winless Dolphins in Week 4.

Tigers claw Lions

HANES TOWN (Jan. 23, 2002) — The Tigers clawed their way back to the top of the food chain after a 104-yard and scoring 28 points in a 34-17 victory over the Lions on Sunday.

The Lions were held to a field goal in the first quarter as the Tigers' defense held them to a field goal in the first quarter.

MALDEN — Males' team pulled off a double-double in the A League, but the B League turned into a real battle when the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department's Fall Recreational Volleyball League wrapped up its season recently.

Males' team closed out the regular season with another perfect night, routing past S & S (25-13) and Sanford Church of God (15-0), before losing to the Dolphins (25-13) in the A League.

The Dolphins also finished the regular season on a strong note, going 2-1 with wins over S & S (25-13) and Sanford Church of God (15-0).

S & S won the other place by a 15-0 whitewash of Sanford Church of God.

The B League also saw its champion, the Dolphins, finish the regular season on a strong note, going 2-1 with wins over S & S (25-13) and Sanford Church of God (15-0).

UCF men leash the Bulldogs

ORLANDO — Ray Abellard scored 25 points for the third time this season and captured the 20-point plateau for the first time in 12 games in leading UCF (2-1) to a 66-55 win over The Citadel Monday evening.

The game also featured a homecoming for the Bulldogs' Mike Marshall, who played his prep basketball at Oviedo High School.

The 6-foot-8 junior grew up in Bangui, Central Africa, but met a name for himself while a member of coach Ed Kauter's 1999-2000 team, making all-conference, all-state and honorable mention All-American selections.

Abellard, who scored 25 points in the first half, led UCF to a 34-17 victory over The Citadel in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs were held to a field goal in the first quarter as the UCF's defense held them to a field goal in the first quarter.

Pre-season testing begins at Daytona

Special to the Herald

DAYTONA BEACH—The world's top road racers will kick off pre-season testing at Daytona International Speedway this weekend, Jan. 4-5.

Teams and drivers from around the world will converge on Daytona to hone their skills on the 3.6-mile road course in preparation for the 41st Rolex 24 At Daytona, Feb. 1-7.

Some new Daytona Prototypes will make their first appearance at the Speedway during testing. The Daytona Prototype is the new premier class of the Rolex Sports Car Series and will make their racing debut at the 2003 Rolex 24 At Daytona.

The #11 Ford Focus Daytona Prototype is expected to take its first turns on Daytona's high banks during this weekend's testing, with an all-star lineup of road racers at the wheel.

Canadian Scott Maxwell and American Peter Dinklage will partner with American driver Jonathan Allen in the Ford Focus Daytona Prototype. Maxwell is a two-time Grand-Am Cup driver champion, while Dinklage is a past Toyota Atlantic and Indy Lights champion.

Their teammate from down under, who now resides in Florida, is one of the most noted sports car racers in the world, racing both prototypes and GT cars in the U.S., Europe, Asia and Australia, in addition to his two stints in Formula 1 racing.

with Austrian Dieter Quester, Italian Luca Badoer and American Darren Law and Boris Bird at the controls of the Red Bull-sponsored machines.

Pre-season testing will be held at Daytona after completing a seasonal development period of testing at the same track in early December. This time the team is expected to have both their Porsche-powered FASCAR Cayman Prototypes on hand.

The #99 Daytona Prototype will carry the traditional British livery with Hurley Haywood, J.C. France, David Donohue and Mike Borkowski sharing driving duties, while the #50 Porsche-powered car will have International Sport Sharp and Scott Goodyear, as well as Chris Bye and Wayne Jackson, at the wheel of the Daytona Prototype, also sponsored by Red Bull.

NASCAR Winston Cup driver Kyle Petty will prepare for his third-straight Rolex 24 At Daytona, co-driving Curb Racing's #43 Porsche GT3 R with race veterans Peter Dinklage and Scott Goodyear. The #43 Porsche GT3 R will be driven by Petty and Dinklage, while Goodyear will be in the driver's seat for his first Rolex 24 appearance as he partners with David MacLennan and Tommy Macklin in the Mustang Motorsports #11 Mustang.

Former Cup champion Kevin Buckler, who won the GT class at both the Rolex 24 and LeMans in 2002, will begin his quest to defend his title by driving the #2000 Ford Focus with Michael DeGroot and Paul Miller. The #2000 Ford Focus will be driven by DeGroot and Miller, who were team members from 2001 and 2002.

International Speedway will get underway on Friday and will conclude on Sunday, Jan. 5. A portion of the Daytona race starts will be live and cast to the public for viewing on the

WOMEN'S HOOPS

Arizona Ripcord sneaks victory with six seconds remaining in UCF's 54-52 win in women's basketball action on Tuesday afternoon at UCF Arena.

The two teams played tight back-and-forth on the scoreboard for the first two minutes of play until a steal from senior Erin Fago started the run. Fago then passed to senior forward Kaitlin Bell for a layup that put the Ripcord up 12-15. Lipscomb's Holly Campbell made a three-point shot at 1:15 that cut the UCF lead to 19-14 and another try by Monica Blake brought the Ripcord to 21-17 at 7:14.
