Violence Breaks Christmas Peace In Several Florida Homes

MIAMI (UP)—Violence broke the Christmas peace in several Florida homes during the holiday. There was a "mercy" slaying in Hollywood, a mystery slaying in North Miami and a violent family argument in Tampa in which one man was stabbed to death.

But there was also a happy ending to another Christmas Eve incident, in which a pilot crashed his plane into the Everglades and lived to observe the holiday with his family.

One of the more tragic events was that of 90-year-old Charles Bertram Olsen who made a murder-suicide pact with his bedridden 80-year-old wife, Wilhelmina, on Christmas Eve. He had seen her suffer for months while slowly dying, police said, with an incurable illness.

Olsen left the nursing home in which they lived and bought a .22 caliber pistol to carry out the pact with his wife. He shot her and turned the gun on himself but found an attendant at the home grabbed the weapon first.

Olsen, who had written a note telling officers what to do with their bodies, spent Christmas Day in jail.

A few miles south of this Hollywood nursing home, Gill H. Gunson Jr., 28, walked into his father's home in North Miami to eat Christmas breakfast with him. He found his 51-year-old father lying sprawled in a pool of blood. His Christmas presents he meant to give friends stacked neatly nearby.

A single bullet had passed through his left shoulder, puncturing a lung and lodging in the right arm of the real estate broker. Officers placed the time of death at after 3 p. m. Christmas Eve.

Since Gunson lived alone, Dade sheriff's deputies started questioning friends and business acquaintances for a lead to the slayer.

The officers believed that Gunson had been talking to the killer in his office at the time of the shooting.

Apparently nothing was touched by the slayer in the combination office - home in which Gunson lived.

In Tampa, Jerry Parker was stabbed to death with a hunting knife in a family squabble over who would clean up the kitchen after a Christmas Eve party. Kay Williamson, brother of Mrs. Parker, rushed to her aid while she and her husband were scuffling.

"He apparently stabbed Parker with the first thing he could find," an officer said.

Williamson was held for investigation by the county solicitor's office.

Lon Lipman, 36, Hollywood, a private pilot and a produce handler of Immokalee, had to crash land his plane in the Everglades Christmas Eve but escaped with only shock and exposure after spending the night there. He was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter Wednesday morning after the Civil Air Patrol had spotted the wreckage of his plane.

Weather
Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers followed by clearing and cooler tonight and Friday.

Truman Hits Dulles, Ike's Talk To Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles telecast to the nation Monday night was "a lot of gobbledeegoo."

Truman said his six-month-old grandson, Clifton Truman Daniel, had received "so many toys it will be some years before he can use them all. You name something he didn't get!"

He said he had given the baby a swing "that he can bounce up and down on."

The child's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Clifton Daniel Sr., who also came here from North Carolina for their grandson's first Christmas, gave him a "nice as could be high chair and table combination," Truman said.

Operators Handle 3,396 Phone Calls On Christmas Day

The entire staff of telephone operators for Southern Bell Telephone Company was on duty yesterday handling Christmas Day messages around the country originating in Sanford.

Each operator handled a tremendous load of calls, Bob Shedd, local telephone company manager said this morning.

"There were 3,396 calls accepted by operators which exceed all of our predictions," Shedd said.

According to the local manager, there were 2,166 calls accepted last Christmas Day and the prediction this year was "in excess of 2,500," he said.

Telephone calls to families in every section of the country started pouring in to the local board beginning at about 6 o'clock Christmas morning and continued throughout the day with only a brief lull during the latter part of the afternoon, Shedd reported.

"Our telephone operators, with Christmas trees and excited children waiting at home, reported for duty so that messages creating extra happiness on Christmas Day might be completed," said Shedd.

"Imbued with the spirit of Christmas, it seems that Southern Bell Telephone operators' Christmas Day is not complete without the happiness of others coming first," the local manager said this morning.

A total of 44 operators in Southern Bell Telephone Company's Sanford traffic department reported for duty yesterday, he said.

Badges, Tags To Be Worn During Courtesy Week

Huge badges and tags will be worn by sales people and all those who come in contact with the public to proclaim Courtesy Week, Howard McNulty, chairman of the Jaycee Courtesy Week committee said today.

"That will be one way to bring to the attention of everybody in Sanford the fact that Courtesy Week is in progress during the week of Jan. 6," he said.

Plans were completed Tuesday morning at a joint meeting of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and Sanford Semipole County Junior Chamber of Commerce representatives John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and M. L. Harborn Jr., president of the Jaycees, met with Howard McNulty who leads the Jaycee committee to iron out all details of the week-long event.

"Prices of $25 U.S. Savings Bonds will go to winners in five categories," McNulty announced.

Federal Aid To Education Big U.S. Need

TOKYO (UP)—Sen. Wayne Morse said today "the greatest foreign policy need of the United States during the next 50 years is federal aid to education."

The Democratic member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the United States cannot stay ahead of Russia in manpower, and that its only hope to remain ahead of Russia "is in brainpower."

Morse, chief American delegate to the recent Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference in India, warned that Russian Education of the high school and college level may well be of higher caliber than it is in the U.S.

"It would hate to see an across-the-board test on all education between high school students in Russia and the United States," he said.

Morse, a teacher himself for 21 years, said it is alarming to realize that "23 per cent of the high schools in the U.S. do not offer a course in chemistry or physics."

He said Russia's educational process of finding bright students and providing them with a college education was superior to the U.S. emphasis on mass education.

Morse also said he favored settling the issue of war and peace through the United Nations.

"An extraordinary session of the United Nations to dramatize the war and peace issue—with all nations laying down their blueprints for peace—is preferable to a summit meeting between the heads of the great powers," Morse said.

"I don't believe in circumventing the United Nations when there are great problems to be solved," Morse said. "and I have been critical of the United States when it has done this."

"We have to fight for ideas—through the United Nations—because nothing else is practical," he said.

Elk's Club Holds Christmas Party For Underprivileged

The Sanford Elk's Club played host to more than 300 underprivileged children Christmas Eve afternoon, complete with Santa Claus and all!

Santa Claus arrived for the big event, held at the Elk's Club on East Second St., accompanied by screaming sirens of the Sanford Police Department.

Children, waiting around the Elk's Club for Santa's arrival, rushed the "Jolly old Gentleman," vying with one another for the opportunity to talk with him first. Each child had an opportunity to talk with Santa Claus.

Each child, as the line of more than 300 passed by Santa at the entrance to the Elk's Club hall, received a large bag of fruit, candy, cookies and raisins and selected a toy.

Toys were provided by contributions from the American Legion, Sanford Lions Club, Sanford Men's Golf Association, and the Anna Miller Circle. Dolls were dressed by women of the Presbyterian Church. The dolls were furnished by the Salvation Army.

More than a score of members of the Sanford Elk's Club and the Anna Miller Circle were on hand to assist children in selecting toys and to see that each child received a toy and fruit.

The Christmas Party for underprivileged children is an annual event of the Sanford Elk's Club.

Quiet Holiday Is Reported In County

Sanford and Seminole County citizens observed Christmas yesterday in the true spirit of the holiday, according to reports from Sanford Police Chief Roy Williams and Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobbs.

It was a "very quiet" holiday, both law enforcement chiefs reported.

In order to take care of any emergencies the Sheriff's Department was out in full force patrolling the highways and communities of the county and in the city a full force plus extra policemen were pressed into service.

The automobile, a 1950 two door Ford, went out of control and smashed into a tree on the right side of the Old Orlando highway a half mile south of the Oyster Bar. The driver was charged with "failure to have her car under control."

Deputy Sheriff brought in two "carrying concealed weapons" the Seminole County Sheriff's Department reported. Both men were carrying pistols. Traffic was under control throughout the holiday with one charge for "parking on the highway" and "violation of restricted drivers license" made.

When he was asked if there were any Christmas presents he might wish to give to persons in government today, he said: "I would like to get Mr. Dulles a good college dictionary so he can use the English language so that we can all understand him."

However, it appeared that accidents might get out of control when one automobile was reported with a total loss at 12:45 a. m. Christmas morning.

Mary Shiver Gayle, 25, told Deputy Sheriff L. J. Kriz "there was a limb of a tree on the highway which I swerved to miss and my opening hit the handle of the door and it was thrown out of the car."

In Sanford, Police Chief Williams said that one case of assault and battery was made on Christmas Day. The fracas occurred on Lake Ave. in the Goldsboro area.

There was one point in which Truman appeared in full agreement with Eisenhower and Dulles. "I have no faith in any Russian peace offers," he said.

One hit and run accident was reported on French Ave. and only one public intoxication case was made.

Highway Death Toll Over 200 Mark

The nation closed out a short but tragic Christmas holiday today with the highway fatality toll topping the 200 mark.

A United Press count at 3:50 a. m. showed at least 213 persons killed in traffic accidents during the holiday period from 4 p. m. Tuesday until midnight Wednesday night. At least 27 persons were killed in fires and 27 died in miscellaneous accidents for an over all total of 267.

Ohio led the nation in traffic fatalities with 26 killed, followed by New York with 17 deaths, Michigan and California 12 each and Washington State and Oklahoma 10.

Ohio also was the scene of fire tragedy when four children burned to death in a blaze that destroyed their home while their mother was in Indiana to attend her son's wedding.

A last minute appeal by the council for motorists to practice the spirit of the season, "good will toward men," went unheeded and the toll shot upward in the crash of homeward bound traffic.

A mother and her two young children burned to death at Quincy, Mass., when an oil stove exploded and the resulting fire destroyed their home.

Safety Council President Ned H. Dearborn expressed disappointment at the high toll.

The average traffic fatality toll for a 36-hour non-holiday period in 1957 December is 80 deaths, the council said.

Lighting Contest Awards Made Today

Prizes for winners in the Jaycee Christmas Lighting contest were awarded today at the noon luncheon meeting of the Sanford Semipole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Top prize went to William Heinbeck, Orlando Highway, for the best overall display in the three divisions of residential lighting. Second place in the overall division went to Mrs. Berner Winn.

In the "window and doorway" division of residential lighting, first place was the display of Mrs. Berner Winn, 2400 Stevens Ave. Second place in this division went to Mrs. William Kirk, 4th and Summerlin.

All of the entries in the Jaycee Christmas Lighting Contest are to be commended," said Dave Thrasher, chairman of the Jaycees Christmas Lighting Contest committee. "It was very hard to determine winners as all of the entries were very good," he said.

William Heinbeck, Orlando Highway, also won top prize in the "Figure Setting" division of residential lighting. Second place in this division was won by Gretchen Crosswell, 1906 French Ave.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Fred Hymas, president of the Sanford Garden Club, Mrs. Frank Donahue of the Sanford Flower Shop, and Mrs. Mildred Babcock, art teacher for Seminole County Schools.

In the "Lighted Lawns" division of residential lighting, first place went to Mrs. Harold Kastner, Twin Lakes, Paula Road with the second place going to Mrs. E. P. Lane, 310 Park Ave.

In the Commercial Lighting Division of the Jaycee Christmas Lighting contest, Wieboldt's Camera Shop of 210 Park Ave. won the Florida Power and Light Company's "traveling trophy."

Sen. Butler Foresees 'Mild Economic Recession' In 1958

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress will vote to increase taxes next year unless the people demand an end to spending for "needless and postwar programs," Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.) predicted.

He said already some members of Congress "have voiced opposition to the curtailment of spending for so-called 'social gains'."

Each merchant will receive a letter immediately advising them of the details of courtesy week and asking them to meet with their sales staffs to advise them of the selections to be made. "There's going to be a lot of competition," Krider said.

He also foresees a "mild economic recession" in the early months of 1958 but believes it will end by mid-year and will require no action by Congress. The administration already has all the power it needs to deal with the situation, he feels.

McNulty said that committees will be appointed immediately so that they can "go into action the very first thing on the morning Courtesy Week begins."

Butler predicted Congress "will have to act in a year-end legislative force so that 'only the folks back home can prevent Congress from going on an appropriations spree that will knock all hopes of a balanced budget into a cocked hat.'"

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Found between Isaiah 48 and 49.

Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You!

Christmas is much of the commandment "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" . . . and this has been a wonderful Christmas Season!

With one exception. Just a few days ago, three men, traveling along a highway headed for a relative's home to spend the night before a day of hunting were abruptly and intentionally run off the highway and then dragged out of the car practically at the point of a pistol to be herded off to a county jail and an arrest.

Officers failed to identify themselves—they refused to advise the three men of what charges were being brought against them—the officers were rude beyond explanation!

This incident—by the way—happened in the Ocala National Forest where game wardens are expected to teach people, to guide people, to watch over them to see that laws are obeyed.

And three innocent people now are forced to employ legal counsel to protect their rights!

In our state coming to the point where officers—representatives of our state government—fly down on people, regardless of their position in life, and herd them at point of guns like barbarous slaves?

If such is coming to pass—then it behooves us our citizens to stay at home nights behind the curfew of being thrown into a jail, forced to place bond money to be released, and then to employ legal counsel to protect their innocence.

Without warrants—without marked cars for identification—without regard for human life and the protection of property—three officers swoop down on innocent people giving them no explanation and listening to no reason.

Certainly, it is against the law to hunt out of season, to hunt against regulations, to hunt wantonly and promiscuously.

But, at the same time, hunters must be given an opportunity to go from one place to another to take part in legal hunting seasons and to hunt within the regulations set down by our people and by their representatives.

We deplore the method these officers of our state have used. This is, we believe, a matter that should come to the attention of our governor and a matter that should be handled by our Senator and Representatives.

If our own citizens are to be manhandled, shoved around, treated like criminals, and jailed without reason—then what would these same officers do to our tourists?

It's time to take action and eliminate this type of enforcement in the State of Florida!

A 40th Anniversary For Finland

Italians have been living on the slopes of Mount Vesuvius for centuries. They know that some day an eruption may swallow up their farms. Yet they cling to the belief that it will not happen in their time.

The Finns can understand this attitude. They have just been celebrating their 40th year of freedom from Russia, which previously had ruled Finland for two centuries. Before that the Swedes owned the country, so that this is really the first taste of independence that the Finns have had.

At any time Russia might swoop down on their relatively tiny country. Yet the Finns, remembering the stiff punishment which they inflicted on the Russian invaders in the war of 1939, are not afraid. They admit that Russia could conquer them, but they believe that it will hold the cost too high.

A hardy and hard-working race, the Finns have made valuable contributions to the world. The great composer, Jean Sibelius, ranks with the masters of music. And the recipients of the Nobel prize for literature include a Finnish writer, Frans Sillanpaa.

Nor have the Americans forgotten that, alone of all the nations that borrowed from us in World War I, Finland paid us back. All will hope that this is only the first of many series of 40 years for Finnish independence.

This Is Medicines Golden Age

You as an American, are living in medicine's golden age.

That is the striking point of an article by Robert F. Goldman, in Parade Magazine. The record of recent medical achievement is almost incredible. According to Mr. Goldman, new treatments developed in a single decade have saved the lives of 1,240,000 Americans who would have died in any previous era. Doctors have twice as many medications to choose from as they had ten years ago—and three out of four prescriptions written today call for drugs unknown before World War II. And more has been achieved in this decade than in the previous 50 years combined, especially in the war against infectious diseases.

Simple statistics, cited by Mr. Goldman, tell the story. Between World War II and the present, death rates have declined as follows: from influenza, 91 per cent; from appendicitis, 76 per cent; from tuberculosis, 77 per cent; from kidney disorders, 40 per cent; and so on down the long list. Medicine—American medicine—is saving life on an unprecedented scale.

So much for the past. What of the future? Mr. Goldman quotes a medical researcher who told him: "Right now, we can say a million a quarter lives were saved in the past 10 years, the number may well be doubled—or even tripled." The medical men stand on the verge of tremendous discoveries. In the fields of both mental and physical illness.

Mr. Goldman cites another fact—that there has been a revolution in the concepts of patient care. As he puts it, "Increasingly, doctors and their co-workers are recognizing the human factor in illness—the sick person needs care for his mind and body—to make him 'totally well.'"

This is a golden age indeed.

Agriculture News

CECIL A. TUCKER, II
A few weeks ago the main topic of conversation were satellites and states' rights. Today it has turned to the weather and the extent of the freeze damage. No one needs to be told the severity of the Dec. 12-14 freeze, because all one has to do is to look about.

Since the freeze there have been numerous estimates or "guesstimates" made concerning the amount of damage—including one by this office. It can be said now, though, that unfortunately no one is qualified at the moment to estimate accurately the actual damage, except in those crops wiped out completely.

It will be some weeks, maybe months, before the real extent of the damage in Seminole County is known, except by guessing from a few known facts. There is some foliage damage to practically all citrus trees in the county with the young trees, of course, being hit the hardest. Probably 90 per cent of the young citrus trees have been knocked back to the bank. It is too early to guess as to the percentage of wood damage of the older trees, although 25 per cent may be a conservative guess. As for the fruit hanging on the trees, only a small percentage, if any, of the "hand peeled" fruit such as tangerines, ponkans, and Temples, escaped damage. Guesses on the other citrus fruit range up to 80 per cent and over, except for Valencia, about which it is too early to tell much since it is a late fruit. There are close to 4,000 acres of Valencia in Seminole County's 13,350 acres of citrus.

Fortunately most of the vegetable crops growing in Seminole County are hardy vegetables such as celery and cabbage. Even so, many people feel that close to 50 per cent of the anticipated production for the next sixty days is gone. Again, the action and reduction in yield will not be known until harvest time.

The damage to most foliage and nursery operations was equally severe ranging upwards of 30 per cent damage to stock beds. Damage to some nurseries was extremely severe, almost 100 per cent. I think that Robert Rutledge, General Manager, Florida Citrus Mutual, gave the best advice on the subject recently when he said, "In the face of adversity—have courage." Farmers are known the world over for their courage, or they wouldn't be in the business. Every segment in the field of agriculture is starting to plan its comeback or the continuation of its program. If you don't believe it, look to the fields that are being planted back.

A lot of advice has been given concerning the care of frozen plants. One thing worth remembering is that history shows some of the most severe freezes to be January-February freezes following a rather severe November-December freeze. The severity is emphasized if the plant has put forth a new flush of growth.

PERPETUAL CARE

Your Faith HAS MADE US GROW

Soon it will be four years since we opened Oaklawn Memorial Park to the public. On that occasion, January 1, 1954, we expressed our faith in you. We showed our confidence in the people's desire for a cemetery so beautiful as to seem a bit above this world . . . a lovely memorial park to hint a little of the peace and tranquility that awaits us in the world beyond.

OUR FAITH IN YOU HAS ENGENDERED EVEN GREATER FAITH IN US. Oaklawn Memorial Park has grown both in size and beauty in the past four years. There are now 500 lot owners in the original two gardens, the Garden of the Cross and the Garden of Devotion. Soon we plan to open two more—The Garden of Faith and the Masonic Garden.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES W. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may take the lead in sounding out Soviet Russia on the possibility of easing cold war tensions.

It is known that Andrei Smirnov, Soviet ambassador to West Germany has postponed a Christmas vacation to remain in Bonn as he will be available if Adenauer wants to talk to him.

Now it is reported that Adenauer is working on a "realistic" reply to the letter Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin sent him on Dec. 10.

This letter was one of the series with which Bulganin bombarded allied leaders and all other members of the United Nations in advance of last week's North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris.

Russia Holds Same Position
Bulganin's letter to Adenauer added nothing to Russia's known position on cold war issues.

But it lacked the threatening tone of Bulganin's previous letters to Adenauer and was even friendly.

Some disappointment was expressed in Bonn at the speeches middle of January, according to Congressman Billy Matthews. The town of Horse Shoe has a population of about 200 people—mostly fishermen. At low tide their boats can't get from the Cove into the Gulf. The new channel will be several miles long and will allow boats to go back and forth any time.

This will also serve as a haven for small craft when the storm warnings are up in the Gulf," the Congressman said. Next project on Matthews' list is to try to open the mouth of the Suwanee River and develop the small seaside town of Suwanee.

New Faces—Latest addition to the Washington office of Congressman Jim Haley will be Quillon S. Yancey, of Lakeland, who will be in charge of Haley's "legislative aide" in January when the Congress reconvenes. Yancey is an ex-FBI man and is married to the former Norma Helts, of Wauchula.

At the same time, Mr. Haley announced the appointment of R. Elmo Hood, Post State Commander of the American Legion, to be in charge of his year-around District office in Barlow.

Tideland Trouble—The U.S. Government has enjoined the State of Florida from exercising jurisdiction over the areas three leagues seaward to our coastline. In preparing the State's answer to the government's brief, Attorney General Richard Ervin has invited Senator Holland to join him in presenting it. Holland is the "father" of the Tidelands Oil Bill, which passed by the Congress in 1953.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev made before the Russian Parliament Saturday.

Gromyko and Khrushchev all but ruled out the proposal made at the NATO conference for new disarmament negotiations either in the United Nations disarmament commission or at a special "Big Four" foreign ministers meeting.

Adenauer Starts Ball Rolling
But somebody has got to make a new move toward negotiations of some sort. And he seems to be ready to start things going himself.

The feeling has strengthened that Adenauer, rather than President Eisenhower, was really the leading figure at the Paris conference in so far as practical proposals were concerned.

It was Adenauer who set the keynote for the conference by inference in so far as practical sifting that the NATO countries find out whether there might be any sincerity in Russia's expressed desire to ease world tension.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, as Eisenhower's adviser on foreign policy, had wanted to put all possible emphasis on setting up missile bases in Europe rather than negotiating with Russia.

Soviet Ambassador Smirnov decided to postpone his departure for Moscow after Adenauer had spoken in Paris, and before the NATO conference ended.

"FLORIDA" STILL WALKING
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—"Peace Pilgrim," a silver-haired woman from Cologne, N.J., who never mentions her real name, said she was on her second 10,000-mile freedom walk today. She said she has vowed to "remain a wanderer until mankind has learned the way of peace." She said she will walk 1,000 miles in Florida by March 31.

TALKS KEPT HER ALIVE
JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—A survivor of a boating accident said Monday that "if my husband hadn't kept talking to me I wouldn't be here for Christmas." Mrs. Joe Morgan said her husband "kept trying to make me laugh" during the two hours they clung to their overturned boat in a lake Sunday until they were rescued.

Cake For The White House—The President's Christmas cake was baked in Miami. For several years, the Greater Miami Council of Churches has been promoting the idea that Christmas should be celebrated for what it really is—the birthday of Jesus. To this end, they have urged folks to bake and serve birthday cakes at Christmas time—just as they would on any other birthday. This year, at the suggestion of Mrs. C. O. Prowse Jr., the group had a special Christmas cake baked for President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The cake was flown to Washington. It was presented at the White House by John Buckley, administrative assistant to Congressman Dante Fascell. With Buckley was the Reverend Frederick Reising, executive director of the Washington Federation of Churches. The cake was a 15 pound job. It was white with a star and a angel mounted on top. The outer rim of the cake was ringed with tiny red candles. The president was not personally available to receive the cake, but it was accepted instead by Earle Chesney, one of his assistants.

7 Down—8 To Go—How to take advantage of the "hull before the storm" is being demonstrated by Congressman Charlie Bennett. The storm will break on Jan. 7, when the Congress is called to order. The hull is December, which usually is a quiet time for those members of Congress who already have returned to Washington. That's when Bennett does his lobbying on Senate side. According to Bennett, the few Senators who are back in town aren't very busy. That's the best time to have a relaxed chat and visit with them. So, during the past two weeks, Bennett has been spending time in the Senate Office Building. Reason: half a dozen of his bills have passed the House and are now waiting to come up in the Senate.

He has a list of 15 Senators who will be key figures in passing his bills. Up to date, Bennett has seen seven of them. He figures to have his spadework done by opening day.

Work To Start—The Army Engineers' dredging project at Horse Shoe Cove is all set to start the

Who Is Most Likely To Be Hit By Auto?

By HERMAN H. BUNDLEN, M.D.
STATISTICS say a pedestrian is the most dangerous day probably will be killed in your community tomorrow.

He will be struck down by a passenger vehicle sometime between 8 and 10 p. m. (probably between 6 and 7 p. m.) as he crosses the street.

While I can't identify this victim by name, I can tell you a lot about him. He will probably be at least 65 years old. While a younger person would have a better chance of surviving an auto injury, this pedestrian's chances of living are only one in nine. According to statistics, the injury will be fatal.

A survey made by the Citizens Traffic Safety Board of metropolitan Chicago shows that 60 per cent of accident fatalities in this city are pedestrians.

Without the armor of an auto to protect him, a pedestrian can't get up much of a defense against a huge steel bumper bearing down on him. That's why one out of 34 pedestrians, who are struck down in traffic accidents in Chicago, die in contrast to one in 232 motor vehicle occupants.

For pedestrians, December is the most dangerous month, Saturday the most dangerous day and 7 p. m. the most dangerous time. It will be dark when tomorrow's accident occurs, the weather probably will be a little cloudy and maybe foggy, too. The surface of the road is apt to be wet.

The World Of Women In The Year 1957

By SHERI GILES
 United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO—They call this the "Frantic Fifties." Maybe they're right. Certainly the year 1957 was frantic. Hydrogen bombs replaced atom bombs. Satellites out-paced inter-continental missiles. Dictators replaced dictators. And the sack replaced the shape in women's fashions.

Mike Todd: New Jersey's governor Robert Meyer and Helen Stevenson; crooner Bing Crosby and starlet Kathy Grant; actor Marlon Brando and a Welsh-Indian beauty.

Looking back, it was a year of many accomplishments in many fields for women. In Morocco, a woman wrought a change which shocked the Moslem world. No more veils, announced Princess Lalla Aisha to her countrywomen, breaking a tradition that had stood for centuries.

The stork brought heirs to the throne of Monaco and Todd-A.O. He also visited Margaret Truman and her husband, newspaperman Clifton Daniels.

Eleanor Roosevelt, former First Lady, pushed aside the Iron Curtain to report on social work, health and welfare programs inside Russia.

The women established some firsts in '57. Two airline stewardesses became the first women to fly into Antarctica, when they were assigned to a commercial flight taking military replacement into the frozen south. One disgruntled airman complained they had ruined his record—one more week, and he would have gone a year without seeing a woman.

The Queen of Britain came, saw and conquered the hearts of many Americans in October. She brought her handsome husband, Prince Philip, along and many a housewife wished for a moment—that her man were as dapper.

The sack look
 Britain's House of Lords engaged in a battle of the sexes. Lady Astor was one of those demanding that women be allowed to become peers. Lord Argyle insisted women were no good in politics. The girls won, naturally.

In September, a young girl named Dorothy walked into a high school in Montgomery, Ala., her head held high. But she was beaten down. She left school, but others in other parts of the country followed her lead. Thus began the process of integration in 1957.

In fashion, the big news of the year was the birth of the sack look and the death of Christian Dior, who for 10 years dictated styles for women from Calcutta to California. Dior's heir apparent to the Paris dictatorship was his protegee, Yves St. Laurent.

Mrs. Dorothy Le Masurier, Duluth, Minn., proved the endurance of womankind. She emerged from 19 grueling days on a mountain-side, starving, sun-whipped, but still alive. A plane crash had claimed her husband and left her stranded.

The Russians' sputniks also were reflected immediately in fashion. Lilly Dache, produced an array of satellite hats, some of which practically took off from the head. And the jewelry industry also went on an outer-space kick.

A woman doctor in Philadelphia claimed to have isolated the multiple sclerosis virus.

The year had its sadder side. Death came to Mrs. Grace Coolidge, wife of the late President; to Betty Falkner Henderson, New York's uninhibited society leader; Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas, whose letter to the New York Sun in 1897 inspired the immortal "Dear Virginia" editorial.

The women made big strides in the world of sports.

Irene Dunne of the movies made a new kind of debut, as a delegate to the UN general assembly. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister and native of Milwaukee, traveled the world as her country celebrated its 10th year of independence. The women in Switzerland won the right to vote. And Jessie Wilson did what few wives of cabinet officers would dream of doing—she stood up to the President of the United States. This came about because her husband, then secretary of defense Charles E. Wilson, charged that the National Guard had been a haven for draft-dodgers during the Korean war. Well, the protests were long and loud, and at his news conference, President Eisenhower called the statement untrue. He then counseled it with praise for Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Cupid Busy
 Said Mrs. Wilson later: "I think the President would have stood back of Mr. Wilson instead of spending his time commenting on how wonderful Foster Dulles is. . . I think you need a pat on the back once in awhile."

It was a busy year for Dan Cupid, although one of his famous earlier works fell apart. Actress Ingrid Bergman announced her separation from the Italian movie director, Roberto Rossellini.

Married were two of the Dionne quintuplets; Elizabeth Taylor and Venison is the most highly prized of all wild game. If properly dressed and cared for in the woods by the hunter, it is free from objectionable and so-called game flavors. However, good cooking is important in making venison appetizing—and it can be as good as the best meat from the butcher.

It should not be necessary to make any attempt to conceal the flavor of venison. The characteristic flavor seems to be concentrated in the fat, and, if strong, trimming away excess fat will help. However, venison is a rather dry meat and is improved by addition of suet, butter, or other fat when using dry heat methods—roasting, broiling and frying.

Here are some good recipes for cooking venison:
Venison Pot Roast With Vegetables (Shoulder, rump, round)
 3-4 Pounds venison
 3 whole carrots
 3 whole potatoes
 3 whole onions
 Turnips and celery also may be used

Dredge meat with flour, salt and pepper, and brown in fat. Drain the meat for two or three hours over very low heat. When the meat is tender, add the vegetables and cook until the vegetables are done. Make a gravy of the liquid in the pan, pour over the meat and vegetables.

Venison Stew with Dumplings (Shank, flank, neck)
 Proceed as for Pot Roast with Vegetables. Fifteen minutes before dish is ready to serve, drop in the dumplings on top of the vegetables. Cover and cook without removing the cover for 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

Venison Barbecue (Steak, chops)
 Mar 3 pounds of venison in frying pan with slivers of salt pork or other fat. Mix following ingredients in saucepan:
 1 cup catsup
 1 tablespoon salt
 3 slices lemon
 1 onion, sliced thin
 1/3 cup beef steak sauce
 2 tablespoons Tarragon vinegar (may be omitted)
 1 tablespoon chili powder (for hot sauce)

Bring mixture to a boil—stir to avoid burning. Cover venison with the sauce and roast in moderate oven (350F). Cook 1 1/2 to 2 hours—turn occasionally.

Deerburgers
 Take two pounds ground lean venison, 1/4 pound suet, a handful of moist bread, sliced onion and seasoning—well mixed and fried or broiled like hamburgers—and you have venison on its best.

Venison Soup
 2-3 pounds venison
 1 1/2 quarts cold water
 3-6 carrots, cubed
 1 bunch celery, cubed
 2 cups tomatoes
 2 tablespoons salt
 2 medium potatoes, cubed
 2 or 3 onions, cubed
 1/2 teaspoon savory
 1 bay leaf
 Soak meat in salted cold water for several hours. Simmer slowly for two hours, skimming occasionally. Let the broth stand overnight. Next day remove the congealed fat, add vegetables, and cook 1 1/2 hours slowly.

IMPORTED INSECTS
MOSCOW, Idaho—Southern Idaho cattlemen and sheep-growers are interested in getting certain types of insects imported from arid sections of Europe and Asia. These insects, according to a U. S. entomologist, feed on halogton, a cattle and sheep-killing weed which range men have been fighting to control in southern Idaho. The University of Idaho agricultural extension service told the cattlemen and sheep-raisers about the insects.

Blue Devils To Depend On Effort

Johnson Wins All American Honors At Guard

JACKSONVILLE (Special)—In this day and time of top-grade college football, it isn't often a 185 pounder can win All American honors at guard. But that's what Tennessee's Bill Johnson did. He was named All American with both NEA and the Football Writers (Look Magazine).

Brains no doubt help Johnson. This year he won the Knoxville Journal's Roy Lotsepich trophy as the senior with best grades during his collegiate career. But it takes more than sharp thinking on the part of the finance major from Sparta, Tenn. to handle those 200-plus pound backs he meets on the Tennessee schedule which this year included seven Southeastern Conference opponents.

Other equipment, an aggressive spirit and plenty of speed and agility add up to Associated Press All Conference recognition for the Vol co-captain.

Not that Johnson is completely satisfied with this lack of pounds on a 9-11 frame. "Sometimes a big team that runs a lot of power at you will give you fits," he says.

Being a comparatively small guard does not make Johnson a freak at Tennessee. Some of his illustrious predecessors were not giants. Among them were Bob McWhirter, Ted Daffer and John Michaels, each an All American too.

Johnson more or less fits a pattern at Knoxville as Gator Bowl line will see when he goes out against Texas A&M here Dec. 28. The single wing as coached by Bowden Wyatt, and before him, Gen. Bob Neyland, calls for guards to pull out quickly to lead downfield blocking.

"I think speed is more important than size," Johnson said recently. "And fortunately for me, that's the way the coaching staff at Tennessee has always felt about it, too. There are a lot of schools who wouldn't even look at me because of my size."

Assistant Coach Dick Hitt, who tutors Tennessee's guards, will be the first to tell you that Johnson has never played a bad game. Both this year and last he feels Johnson has been outstanding every Saturday. "His extraordinary speed enables Bill to move anywhere on

United Press Sports Writer
DURHAM, N.C. (UP)—Duke, taking a leaf from Notre Dame's notebook, figures its success in the Orange Bowl against Oklahoma depends upon effort extraordinary, plus conditioning.

Coach Bill Murray believes his squad will be mentally prepared for a maximum effort. The Blue Devils usually have fared well against major opponents during Murray's coaching reign.

Conditioning has been stressed in Duke preparations for the New Year's Day game. And it has been costly in the way of injuries. Rugged practice brings injuries. Murray admits trouble in keeping his first three units intact because of injuries in rugged practice.

SOKC Schedules Special Events

A number of special events are scheduled at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club in the near future, according to General Manager Jerry Collins.

Collins has announced that the track's third annual Charity Night will be held on Jan. 18. A host of welfare, service and fraternal organizations in Seminole and Orange counties will benefit for the 10-race program.

The Sanford-Orlando track has raised a total of $10,000 for charity from the previous benefit nights in 1956 and 1957.

For the first time in history, a matinee will be run off on New Year's Day. The special afternoon slate will constitute the only racing action Jan. 1, for the track will be closed New Year's Day. The special afternoon slate will constitute the only racing action Jan. 1, for the track will be closed New Year's night, as is customary, so that racing fans and employees can attend the Elks Tangerine Bowl game.

the field and even bring down opposing backs from behind," Hitt says.

Now that his regular career has ended except for meeting the Angels in Jacksonville, Bill feels his greatest thrill as a Tennessee grader was seeing the Vols win four straight over Vanderbilt. "I'm a Middle Tennessean," he explains, rating that above the Vols' nationally-saluted 6-0 triumph over equally potent Georgia Tech in 1956 or blocking a punt against Auburn this season.

GROZA HOLDS RECORD
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns takes a National Football League record of scoring in 71 straight games into Sunday's title game with the Detroit Lions.

WVU INVITED
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—West Virginia University, which won Kentucky's invitation basketball tournament last weekend, today was invited to defend its championship in the 1958 renewal of the event. Ohio State already has accepted an invitation to play in next year's tournament.

PIRATES SIGN OSBORNE
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today named Don Osborne, manager of the Miami Marlins for the past two seasons, as their farm club representative to handle pitchers.

Jim Brown Named Outstanding Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback who prefers to let his performances tell the story, has been named the National Football League's outstanding 1957 rookie in the annual United Press poll.

Brown's 842 rushing yards gave him the league ball-carrying championship by 242 yards. He finished even farther ahead of his rivals in the voting for rookie honors.

The former Syracuse All-American player received 28 of the 32 votes cast by sports writers who covered the campaign in the 11 league cities. Don Bosseler, Washington Redskins fullback, was a distant second with two votes. Jim Podoley, Washington halfback, and R. C. Owens, end and halfback for the San Francisco Forty-Niners, split the other two votes.

Broke Colts' Monopoly
Brown snapped a two-year Baltimore Colts grip on the rookie award. Lenny Moore of the Colts led the 1957 voting after Alan Ameche of the Colts won in 1955.

Coach Paul Brown was able to grab Jim in the NFL draft because Cleveland had the only losing season in its history in 1956.

Enroute to the ball-carrying championship, Brown set an all-time rushing mark for a single game when he gained 237 yards against the Los Angeles Rams Nov. 24.

Scored 4 Against Rams
Brown scored four of the 10 touchdowns he made this year in that game. One of his runs against the Rams covered 69 yards and was the longest scoring run from scrimmage made in the NFL this year.

He also was the team's top pass receiver in the game with three catches for 21 yards as the Browns rallied to win, 45-31.

Jim also played a vital part in Cleveland's 63 "no touchdown" victory over New York in the season opener. The Giants were the defending league and Eastern Division champions and never quite recovered from that defeat.

Brown, a native of Manhasset, N. Y., is only 21. Still a "growing boy," he is six feet, two inches tall and weighs 230 pounds.

loss. A major blow was the loss of guard Phil Scuderi, playing on the No. 1 unit in place of ailing All-Conference guard Ray Ford. During the regular season Duke lost second-unit Carol Jamison.

Tackle Tom Topping, another All-Conference player, returned to practice Thursday for the first time since the Clemson game in November.

Injuries hit as many as five starters, but all except Scuderi are expected to be ready.

Sunshine Drills Friday
Duke begins practice in the sunshine at Miami Friday and Murray's plans are to keep the accent on conditioning right up until game time. Against Oklahoma's speed, Murray figures it's essential to alternate fresh units frequently and hopes to have three units of almost equal strength.

"We must count on our players being at a peak of conditioning," Murray explained. He concedes Oklahoma has an edge in team speed.

Duke is known as a team that features raw power—a team of brags which likes to beat down an opponent by brute strength. Murray contends that Notre Dame beat Oklahoma "just by knocking them down," and he adds, "that's the way you have to do it."

What, if any, innovations for the Blue Devils' split-T have been installed during practice is something which Murray declines to disclose. There are reports of some new plays. Murray does say Oklahoma "has less variety than we do" and they "just beat you at football."

Many of these bases are for long range bombers, which can carry atom bombs. The Strategic Air Command has 70 such bases, some in the U. S. Estimated SAC strength is 2,000 medium and long range bombers. The push of a button at headquarters in Omaha, Neb., can get them into the air from any of the bases within 15 minutes. (C. P.)

GRADUATE TO MISSILE AGE—With a Snark missile for a backdrop, 105 men graduate as specialists in the firing of intercontinental guided missiles. The ceremony at the Northrop plant in Hawthorne, Calif., released the class for assignment to the Strategic Air Command's first operational long-range missile squadron. A few of the men are civilian technicians. (International)

STORK FLIES FASTER THAN AIRLINER—Stewardess Lillian Slegerswald holds a newborn boy as the child's father, Lajos Raics, anxiously watches inside an ambulance at International Airport, Idlewild, N. Y. Raics and his wife, Elizabeth, waited more than a year in Yugoslavia to fly to the U. S. after fleeing from Hungary. Citrus Commission Postpones Action

By ROBERT E. MENKEL
United Press Staff Correspondent
LAKELAND (AP)—The Florida Citrus Commission has postponed for one week any action toward changing an emergency regulation prohibiting frozen-damaged fruit from being used in the manufacture of orange concentrate.

The commission, in an unanimous action, decided to take up the matter at a meeting next Monday at 2 p. m. The decision, in effect, extends for seven more days the regulation imposed by the commission Dec. 14 which banned use of freeze damaged fruit in concentrate, allowing a tolerance of five per cent on damage.

Commission Chairman Key Seales said "the industry is now moving into the second phase of our recovery—careful evaluation of the degree of damage we have suffered and an appraisal of how much of our remaining fruit can be safely used."

He said, "It is the policy of the commission that we want to use as much of the Florida citrus crop as possible utilizing at the same time making sure that the high quality upon which the reputation of this industry is anchored is in no way jeopardized."

Seales said the industry knows "very well that it will be some time before a reasonably accurate figure can be given on actual losses. We now call upon all groups within the industry to turn over to the commission the best information they have or can gather on loss or damage estimates."

The commission also unanimously approved a proposal by its advertising agency, Benton and Bowles of New York, that negotiations be started to cancel sponsorship of two "What's My Line" television shows. The freeze made the subchase necessary.

Governor Reviews Last 3 Years

By GOV. LEROY COLLINS
Written for United Press
TALLAHASSEE (UP)—My life. But I am confident we can make the remaining three even more prosperous for the people. We are now, but the mid-point of the six years of our administration—three down and three to go—and year's end is always an appropriate time to take stock.

The last three years undeniably have been the most exciting of Florida's history, as government continues to count upon their help and cooperation.

Just where do we stand in state government in Florida? Perhaps the best way to measure is to lay up the accomplishments along side the goals I announced when I first took office, in 1955.

One of the things I was most anxious for was the development in our state of a sound industrial economy. With our enormous immigration I felt it was essential, in order for Florida properly to assimilate them, that industrial jobs and opportunities be provided. And we have made tremendous progress.

Workers and Visitors Since 1954, manufacturing employment in the state has gone up 27.2 per cent, whereas in the nation as a whole the rise has been 8.1 per cent.

I was anxious, too, that our tourism be put on a broader, year-round base. It is no longer a winter business alone, and we are attracting visitors from all income levels and from a wider area of the nation.

Helpful in all of this has been the consolidation of our promotional activities in the new Development Commission, which I believe is the soundest public promotional agency of any in the United States.

And, of course, Florida's agriculture I know is as expanded enormously to give further balance. Education always has been a focal point of my governmental interests. Surely whatever the future holds for us will depend upon the sound and proper development of our youth.

School Expansion In Florida, we have some 70,000 more children enrolled in our elementary and high schools this year than we did last year. We have set up programs to provide the necessary school buildings and to attract competent and adequate teaching personnel, and we have undertaken a study to determine our opportunities for further educational improvements.

Concerns Continue Search For Oil Under Florida

By JAMES GILLESPIE
United Press Staff Correspondent
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The continuing search for oil, deep under peninsular Florida and beneath the offshore islands, has produced only wells, but drilling companies have not given up hope of finding more.

Two concerns, the Gulf and Humble Oil Companies, have applied to the state for permits to drill deeper than usual wells so a more complete test in the offshore areas might be made.

All the state's producing wells are now centered in the Sunland Field in the Everglades. Until a couple of years ago, there were two wells in the 40 mile area west of Miami, but Dr. Herman Gunter, state geologist, says they have been closed down.

Through October of this year, production was 381,712 barrels, an average of a little more than 35,000 barrels a month.

The hunt for black gold in Florida goes on. At present there are more than 2,000,000 acres of land under oil lease, roughly a quarter of the state's total acreage.

Under the terms of the leases, a well must be started on property leased from the state within two and one half years of the date the lease was signed, then one every two and a half years thereafter until one has been put down on every section of the land.

The companies are also required to drill test holes at least 6,000 feet deep. However, the state sometimes gives special permission to go deeper.

Recently, Gulf Oil Company was authorized to drill to 12,000 feet in just one well, instead of digging nine wells to 6,000 feet as required in the original lease. A spokesman for the state trustees of state lands said the Humble Company will ask the Cabinet for authority to drill a well to 8,300 feet.

Gunter said there were no wells in the Panhandle of Northwest Florida where the original search for oil in Florida got underway. It was in 1900 that a shallow well was put down at the foot of Polk Street in Pensacola, but it was a dry run.

How To Raise Young Scientist

CHICAGO (AP)—What does it take to rear the scientist of tomorrow? Mrs. Robert Moore of Silver Springs, Md., answered that question in a recent issue of Today's Health, the American Medical Association's health magazine.

Mrs. Moore's son, Bob, 17, recently was named the nation's top young scientist by the Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Scholarships. Bob is attending Swarthmore College, where he plans to major in physics.

Mrs. Moore drew a composite sketch of the ideal environment for producing a youthful scientist. And, as she said, this sketch is so ideal as to be "downright discouraging, but we parents can comfort ourselves with the thought that hardly any scientist had all these things."

The perfect parents of a scientist, Mrs. Moore wrote, "would somehow be forehanded enough to provide themselves with (1) an inheritance of somewhat above-average intelligence and abilities, (2) good education, (3) wide interests, (4) stimulating friends, and (5) a good variety of books or membership in an excellent library."

"They would be willing and eager to have their sons and daughters follow their individual interests without interference, frustration, or ridicule," she added.

The perfect parents of a young scientist "would know how to teach self-discipline, responsibility, and a finely balanced attitude of independence and nonconformity blended with sufficient warm humanness to produce an integrated, wholly functioning young person."

"And, they would constantly put the emphasis where it belongs—on the value and joy of learning for its own sake, not merely for the rewards of prestige and material success," she continued.

As for herself and her husband, Mrs. Moore concluded that "we aren't anywhere near the composite 'ideal.'"

MONROE POSTERS BANNED
FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Posters showing Marilyn Monroe in a form-fitting dress with a plunging neckline have been banned by authorities in two German cities, German film distributors said today.

The Anabes are coming into full bloom at Cypress Gardens, and visitors will see the brilliant blossoms all during the winter months. Here the smiling beauty amidst the anabes is pretty Mary Lou Boyja.

MONROE POSTERS BANNED
FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Posters showing Marilyn Monroe in a form-fitting dress with a plunging neckline have been banned by authorities in two German cities, German film distributors said today.

The city of Osnabrueck said the posters were "shocking." The city of Muenster ruled the posters were "not acceptable for a city that is the seat of a bishopric," according to the distributors.

Oklahoma Sees That Orphans Enjoy Christmas

BY BOB HAUGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
OKLAHOMA CITY (UP) — State highway department trucks play the part of Santa's reindeer in Oklahoma, the only state that has made it official business to see that its orphans are remembered on Christmas.

That goal is accomplished through the work of the Santa Claus Commission, created 20 years ago by the legislature to make sure orphans in state or privately operated institutions would be left out on Christmas morning.

Each of the 2,800 orphans is assured of a gift he or she has asked for, as well as the traditional candy, fruit and nuts.

Behind the unique project is a bustling child-loving woman, Mrs. Jessie Fountain, Santa's comely known as "Mrs. Santa Claus." As executive secretary of the commission, it's her job to do the shopping for the orphans.

LETTERS TO SANTA
The legislature gives her $2,000 to spend and the remaining $3,000 necessary to finance the project comes from contributions.

Members of the commission put up much of the money. By design, they are all wealthy men who consider it a privilege to serve on the commission.

The present commissioners are Forrest E. Harper, an Oklahoma City oilman who has served since 1937; L. E. Simmons, an other oilman from Duncan; and W. G. Skelly, a philanthropist from Tulsa, who replaced the late W. G. Skelly, oil company president.

The orphans begin writing letters to Santa early in the fall. They are given a list of more than 250 types of gifts from which they select three in order of preference. If the child expresses a wish for an item not on the list, Mrs. Fountain does her best to find it.

This year the choices have run to rock-a-roll records and model airplanes and boats, she said. Surprisingly enough, there wasn't a flurry of demands for space toys.

DELIVERED BY TRUCK
Mrs. Fountain gets plenty of amusing requests, along with some pathetic ones. One boy listed a box of chocolates for each of his three choices. Another wanted a radio amateur's handbook and a bottle of shaving lotion.

Girls still like dolls, Mrs. Fountain said, but many ask for material to make clothing and can-can petticoats.

Mrs. Fountain said she starts in to work the day after Christmas to line up merchandise for the following year. By early autumn, she is in full stride.

All the packages are wrapped in bright paper and ribbons and are ready to go by Dec. 17. They are taken to the 24 institutions in state highway department trucks and the gifts are placed under Christmas trees.

On Christmas morning, a Santa Claus hands out the presents, each bearing a card with a child's name.

Mrs. Fountain said the list of orphans is growing shorter through the years, "possibly because of better times," but she doesn't believe the Santa Claus commission will ever be dissolved.

"As long as I'm around and able to do the job I will keep on giving the orphans a nice Christmas," she said.

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE
It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memorium" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
What memory plays an old tune
Most frequently an In Memorium is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
Cards of Thanks and In Memorium notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Miss Henderson has just retired as state secretary of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Oklahoma, where she has served a long time. She was sponsored for several years of the "King's Messengers" at Phillips University, a group of young people and graduate students who were dedicated to full-time Christian Service.

Mrs. Perry L. Stone will preside; others having part on the program will be Mrs. O. D. Landress, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. A. R. Stroup, Mrs. Geo. W. Morgan, Mrs. Chandler Vall, Mrs. W. L. Some Veterans Not Affected

Veterans receiving nonservice-connected disability pensions from Veterans Administration are not affected by the recent increase in rates of VA disability compensation for service-connected disabilities.

Benjamin S. Beach, Officer in Charge of the Central Florida VA office, made the announcement today in answer to queries.

Pointing out that only disability compensation rates have been increased, Beach said many people mistakenly think the words "disability pension" and "disability compensation" mean the same thing.

Disability pension, he explained, is paid only to a wartime veteran for disease or injury not connected with his service, and then only under certain conditions.

other hand, is paid to a veteran for disease or injury resulting from his service during either war-time or peacetime, he said.

Public Law 85-168, which became effective October 1, 1957, increased only disability compensation rates. It did not affect VA disability pension, Beach said.

Four Boys Escape From Youth Hall

MIAMI (UP)— Four teenage boys escaped from the Dade County Youth Hall Wednesday night after beating up their 38-year-old jailer, authorities said today.

slugged him with a bar of soap wrapped in a sock, then opened other cells in the juvenile prison. However, the jailer's wife, Mrs. Viola Larson, night supervisor for girls, heard the commotion, and ordered all but four of the youths back to their cells.

The four who escaped were unidentified by detectives, but were said to have lengthy prison records.

Mrs. Larson was beaten by escaping youths two years ago. She said her husband was always "very careful."

In addition to the slugging, the boys severely beat the middle-aged jailer, breaking his false teeth, and punching him in the eye.

Republicans Must Get Top Flight Political Strategist-Or Else!

WASHINGTON, (UP)—No telling what the Republicans wanted for Christmas but there is no doubt about what the party needed most. The Republican Party needed a top flight political strategist, a political genius type. They are hard to come by. The Republican Party must, however, come by such a leader—or else!

Or else refers to the 1938 Congressional elections and beyond that to the Presidential contest of 1940.

There are politicians in Washington who keep not one but both ears to the ground. In this strange posture they have been listening to the grass roots for portents of next November's Congressional election.

Republican ears-to-the-ground men do not like what they hear. From what they hear they fear that the Republican Party will emerge from next year's Congressional contest weaker than at any time since the political upheaval of 1936.

Remember Roosevelt
That was the year in which FDR carried all but Maine and Vermont. The 75th Congress elected in 1936 consisted of:
Senate: Democrats 40; Republicans 47.
House: Democrats 233; Republicans 200; Vacant 2.
Differences Pointed Up
The consensus is that although the Republicans are not heading to a new Congressional low next November, they surely will take a bad beating. Thirty-two Senate seats will be up for grabs in 1938, eleven of them now Democratic and 21 Republican. All 436 members of the House must seek reelection or retire.

There is a peculiar difference between the political outlook for Senate Republicans and what actually happened in the New Deal election triumphs of 1934 and 1936 which so humiliated the Grand Old Party. In 1934 and 1936 the voters cut down the flower of Republican conservatism. Republican candidates who survived those elections generally were politicians who latched onto FDR's New Deal and promised mostly that they could do it better.

Conservatives Listed
The voters picked off such Republican Senators as these:

Fredrick C. Walcott (Conn.), Simon Fass (Ohio), Hamilton F. Kean (N.J.), Arthur Robinson (Ind.), Roscoe C. Patterson (Mo.), Felix Hebert (R.I.), and David R. Reed (Pa.). Patterson was succeeded by an unknown named Harry S. Truman.

These defeated senators are gone and long forgotten but they once were among the shock troops of the conservative GOP. Next year it probably will be a bit different.

Of the 21 Republican senators whose terms are expiring, the experts generally agreed that only two could be absolute shoe-ins, couldn't be beat. They are Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.) and Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.). Jenner has decided not to run again. That, however, does not alter the fact that he and Malone—conservative anti-like men—alone have it made.

Weather
Fair and cool today becoming partly cloudy and mild tonight and Saturday; low tonight 58 to 61.

MISS SYBIL GRANT of Longwood as she delivered her county-wide-winning essay to the Jaycees yesterday. Miss Grant was winner of the Jaycees "Voice of Democracy" contest. (Staff Photo)

Jaycees Astounded By Teenage Girl's Talk On Democracy

A 16-year-old Lyman High School student astounded members of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday when she delivered her "Voice of Democracy" county-wide winning essay.

Miss Sybil Grant, a junior at Lyman High School, was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Grant of Longwood, at the Jaycee luncheon meeting.

M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the local Jaycee organization, and chairman of the "Voice of Democracy" contest, presented Miss Grant with a plaque for her winning essay in the Seminole County contest conducted by the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees.

Thomas McDonald was program chairman for the meeting.

Raborn announced yesterday that the Jaycees cleared approximately $400 from the sale of Christmas trees. This money, he said, will go toward our new building.

The Jaycees president also told members of the your business men's organization that plans had been mapped for the Courtesy Week contest Jan. 6-12. "We need your help as committees are set up," he said as he gave members a rundown of the categories to be judged during the week-long event.

Winners of the Jaycee Christmas Lighting Contest were awarded prizes at yesterday's luncheon meeting. On hand to receive their residential division prizes were Mrs. E. L. Lane, Mrs. Berner Winn, William H. Heinbuch, and Mrs. Gretchen Crowell.

Winners of the Commercial Division in the Jaycee Christmas Lighting contest were Mr. and Mrs. William Wicbold of Wicbold's Camera Shop. Raborn presented them with the Florida Power and Light Company's traveling trophy. U. S. Savings Bonds, prizes for first place in the residential lighting division of the Jaycee Christmas Lighting contest were contributed by Florida State Bank, Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Florida Power and Light Company, and The Sanford Herald.

Those not present for the prizes were: Mrs. Viola Kastner and Mrs. William Kirk.

Visitors at yesterday's Jaycee meeting were: Thomas Stringer, now of Atlanta, Ga. and formerly of Sanford; Herb Hunter, a real estate broker; and Jack Sewell of Sanford who is now in the U. S. Army.

Crowded conditions are beginning to show up in Seminole County Schools according to an announcement made this morning by R. T. Milwee, Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Milwee said this morning that three grades from Lyman School at Longwood will be moved into a church building when children return to school from the Christmas holidays in January.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction said that the first grade, a first and second grade, combined class, and a third grade will be moved in January to the Educational Building of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church.

"We will not reach our peak enrollment in Lyman School until February," said Milwee this morning. At this early date however, "we are finding it necessary to secure facilities to take care of children in our schools without resorting to double sessions," he said.

However, Milwee pointed out, some relief is in sight. On Jan. 9, at the next regular meeting of the Board of Education, bids will be opened for 10 new classrooms at Seminole High School and eight classrooms and a heating plant at Crooms Academy.

This, Milwee said, "is a temporary measure to avoid overcrowding and to avoid the double sessions that are ahead of us unless additional classroom space is provided."

It is expected that an early announcement from the Superintendent of Public Instruction for Seminole County will outline the conditions throughout the county and what can be looked forward to during the next year or two in the local schools.

Hospital Room Rates To Increase Next Year

Hospital room rates at the Seminole Memorial Hospital will increase two dollars a day, effective Jan. 1, according to a report by Harry Weir, hospital administrator.

At the December meeting of the Board of Trustees, the budget was reviewed and the increase found necessary. Inflationary cost of supplies and salary demands are largely to blame, Weir stated, however, that room rates for a semi-private room in this area are still from one to two dollars cheaper at the Seminole Memorial Hospital, including the increase, than at other hospitals.

This is the first increase in the last two years at the hospital. "The Board feels very fortunate," said Weir, "that we have not had to raise the rates before this. However, if we are to maintain the high standards that have been the constant goal since opening, we must increase the rates."

Weir pointed out that supplies have risen in cost in nearly every one of the more than two thousand items needed to run the hospital.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Mayor Thomas L. Lemon was named defendant in a suit for divorce filed in Monroe Circuit Court recently by his wife, Betty.

The complaint in the action was "cruel and inhuman treatment."

The Lemons were married in 1934 and have two sons, ages 13 and 12.

Lemon is serving his second term as mayor. His first term ran from 1930-1932. He was candidate for secretary of state in the last general election, and was city manager in Sanford, Fla., in 1933-34.

Authorities Seek Woman Hitchhiker

PORT LAUDERDALE, (UP)—Authorities searched today for a short woman hitchhiker in a red party dress in connection with the "Christmas carings" rifle slaying of a handsome young engineer.

Police said a Miami salesman told them that he drove past a woman walking along the highway Thursday morning about five miles from where Robert Winston Lee, 21, was found. Lee's body was sprawled a cross the front seat of his car, hanging halfway outside the right front door.

The salesman described the woman as "short and sort of chunky... about 23 years old... and wearing a red party dress."

He spotted her walking north toward Belle Glade about 8:30 a. m. He said there was no town near nearby, and she made no effort to flag him down. In fact, she turned her back slightly, he said, so he wouldn't stop.

Woman in Car
A Belle Glade police lieutenant, Vern Clark, said he saw a woman sitting in Lee's parked car early Thursday morning, and Archie Miller, Miami, said he saw a man lying beside the car about 1:30 p. m.

Authorities leaned toward a possible robbery motive in the killing when they learned Lee's pockets were tucked inside his coat, however, 500 worth of travelers checks were found scattered at the scene.

His gold-and-ruby class ring from North Carolina State College and his wrist watch, however, were undisturbed.

Girl, 14, Loses Control Of Car; Crashes Into Ditch

A 14-year-old teenager lost control of her car late yesterday afternoon as she attempted a left turn from Geneva into Summerlin Ave. and crashed into a deep roadside ditch.

Taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, Gertrude Stafford, daughter of C. H. Stafford, 2416 Summerlin Ave., was found to have received a gash above her left eye. She also complained about her knees.

Captain Arnold Williams of the Sanford Police Department, investigating the accident, said that damage to the 1934 Willys sedan was estimated at $350.

Emory Griffin, 18, of Paola, riding in the front seat of the car with the 14-year-old driver, received scratches to the left side of his face.

Two other occupants of the car escaped unharmed. They were Troy Richardson, 20, 1703 West Third St. and Richard Youmans, 20, Paola.

The car, owned by T. G. Richardson, was being driven east on Geneva Ave. shortly before 8 o'clock when the accident occurred.

Miss Stafford narrowly missed crashing into a power pole only inches from where the car straddled the deep ditch. The front end of the automobile buried into the soft embankment and the rear end of the car fell into the roadside bank.

Captain Williams said that charges would be placed against the teenage driver.

Second Sight Dog Will Be Rotary Speaker's Subject

Members of the Sanford Rotary Club will have the opportunity, at their regular meeting Monday noon at the Yacht Club, of hearing Fred Fenwick, formerly of Long Island, N. Y. but presently living in St. Cloud, tell of his dependence on "Mischief", a Boxer Second Sight dog, trained at the Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, at Southtown, L. I.

Fenwick, until about four years ago, was employed by a hospital supply manufacturing company. He lost his sight as the result of a trucking accident. He took a course at Southtown to obtain a "guide dog", and now lectures to civic clubs and other organizations on the subject of the training of these dogs and their inestimable value to the blind.

The Sanford Rotary Club has been selected by The Second Sight Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc. for Fenwick's appearance next Monday because "your constant wish to be of service to your community has earned your club an enviable record in human relations," according to a letter from Gelaine Cameron, Director of Public Relations, of the non-profit, non-sectarian organization which provides Guide Dogs as a gift to the blind.

T. W. (Tommy) Mero, who will present the speaker and his Guide Dog, "Mischief" is in charge of the program.

Detachment Ends 6 Months Of Deployment

The Mighty Mousqueeters of VAH-7, officially known as Detachment 34, have recently completed the first six months of their present deployment aboard the USS Handolph, CVA 13. Under the leadership of CDR H. M. Cummins, Officer in Charge, the detachment left Sanford on June 4 with ten officers, 120 men and five airplanes (A-1 Savages).

Since that time, the Mousqueeters have taken part in the International Naval Review, crossed the Atlantic Ocean and patrolled the Mediterranean Sea as part of the Sixth Fleet. Being part of the nation's first line of defense, they are ready to provide air support for a "brush fire" war or launch an all out atomic attack on a few hours notice should the need ever arise.

This proficiency was arrived at after participating in seven exercises or "war games" and over 800 hours of flying time.

One of the unique features of the detachment is that its five planes serve in the dual roles of tankers and bombers and can be converted from one to the other in a few hours. It is not at all unusual, therefore, to find a plane flying a bombing mission in the morning and refueling jets that same afternoon.

Still another unique feature is that a shore based detachment is maintained at Port Lyautey, Morocco. This is necessary because of the size of the A-1's and also enables the heavy maintenance to be accomplished without taking up important space on the flight deck of the carrier.

In spite of its small size the detachment is organized along the lines of a full squadron. The nerve center is the Operations Department directed by LCDR H. Francisco and LCDR R. Mann. It is here that the plans of admirals are transformed into the daily flight schedules that actually carry out the assigned missions. Maintenance, the largest department by far, is of tremendous importance aboard a carrier where every foot of deck space is urgently needed during flight operations. Lt. I. R. Bauer has been in charge of this department and together

Courtesy Week Material Arriving

Baldges and other material to be used in the Courtesy Week event of Jan. 6-12 are beginning to arrive. Howard McNulty, chairman of the Courtesy Week committee said today.

"Very soon, all of this material will be in the hands of local merchants who are going to participate in the week-long observance," he said.

McNulty said this morning that committees, which are to remain secret, have been appointed and are now lining up their work for the week in selecting winners in the five categories. The committees will select "the most courteous waitress", "the most courteous saleslady", "the most courteous salesman", "the most courteous policeman", and "the most courteous act."

"It seems as if everybody is catching on and planning to take part in the first annual Courtesy Week to be observed in Sanford," said McNulty this morning.

Already planned are several special events for the week, he said.

Courtesy Week is a statewide program staged in each community. In Sanford Courtesy Week is being co-sponsored by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Merchants in Sanford are planning to participate in Courtesy Week by staging Courtesy Week Clearance Sales, and, according to the local Chamber of Commerce, the sales are to be of such nature that folks will be attracted to Sanford from all around.

Salespeople and all of those who come in contact with the public will wear badges calling attention to Courtesy. Also, there will be bumper strips to be attached to local automobiles.

It is also planned, according to McNulty and M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Jaycees, that streamers will be distributed to all of the merchants and business people publicizing Courtesy Week.

Purpose of the program, according to a proclamation already issued by Governor LeRoy Collins, is to improve public relations, to stimulate tourist trade, and to promote business generally throughout Florida and in each community of the state.

The proclamation, to be issued by Mayor David Gatchel of Sanford, states that "the people of Sanford and Seminole County are ever alert to their responsibilities and are aware of the advantages of bettering relationships with their fellow-citizens and visitors alike, priding themselves on their courtesy and friendliness."
