

Seminole Seen As Center Of Area's Greatest Development

Krider Tells Of Canal Progress

"We are sitting in the middle of the greatest development of our area," John Krider, manager of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, told Sanford - Seminole Jaycees Thursday noon.

He was referring to the water link of the St. Johns River with Indian River and the Atlantic Ocean, a 80-mile project dreamed of for more than a century.

"We have received very little basic help from the people," Krider said. "Instead, we get needling letters asking us how you can borrow $40,000 from the Internal Improvement Fund and $50,000 from the Housing & Home Finance Agency."

The HHFA loan is interest free and is to be repaid only after construction, the Chamber executive said. It will move the project ahead rapidly and allow for engineers to study the program with careful thoroughness.

By legislative act, the Canal District is composed of four counties - Seminole, Volusia, Brevard and Orange. Each contributes $2,500 a year and this will be used to pay back the Internal Improvement Fund.

Krider, chairman of the canal district, emphasized his group "has no power of levy any millage. We don't want any and are not seeking any."

The engineers, he added, are now at work on the basic alignments and preliminary engineering and design. This will be followed by securing rights of way.

"Commitments are now in hand for approximately 90 per cent without cost," Krider told the Jaycees.

"The engineering factors and cost estimates will determine the method of financing," the speaker said. "Nothing on the horizon," Krider emphasized, "is more important than this major development."

"As an example, traffic on the St. Johns in 1963 was approximately 700,000 tons, equivalent to one barge a day. This traffic is almost entirely a one-way haul, composed mostly of chemicals and petroleum."

"With completion of the connecting waterways, your local port will be connected to 75 per cent of the total population of the United States. There will be 120 different commodities available for barge transportation and the canal will serve an 18-county area with an estimated population by 1980 of six million people—65 per cent of the state population," he asserted.

Sanford and Seminole County are now at the highest level of economy in their history. Out of the total work force of 10,000, some 14,500 are now employed, Krider noted.

The non-farm employment is now at a peak of 10,000-plus, indicating a gain of 2,000 in manufacturing during the past five years.

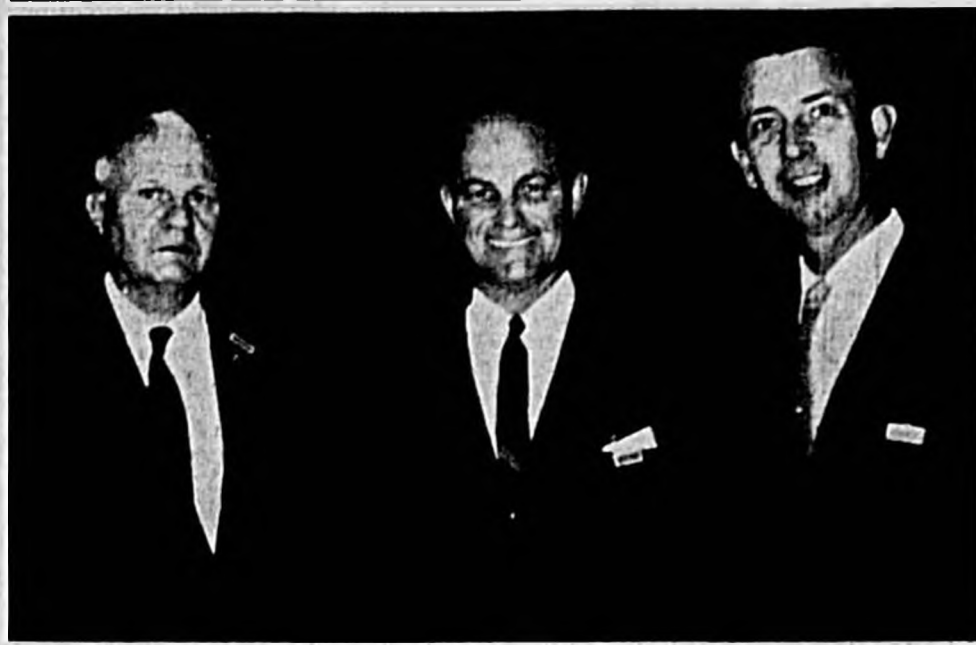

A short while ago, the speaker said, Orange County officials met with the canal group and reported they wanted to join in the project. "They see its importance," Krider stated.

He also reported that several companies have offered revenue certificates to finance the entire program. "Frankly," Krider said, "I don't know how we are going to finance it. The engineering factors and cost estimates will determine this."

Referring to those he said were "needling" the project, Krider said, "People say they can do it better. We want them to show us, not just sit back and criticize."

"In closing," the speaker said, "I challenge you to adopt and work for projects that live beyond the day you stage them."

Krider was introduced by the program chairman, Clyde Long, Jaycees President Jim Smith conducted the meeting.

Progress Reported By Southern Bell

Southern Bell Telephone Company spent a record-breaking $373 million in 1963 for facilities to expand and improve communications services for a changing, growing south.

President Ben S. Gilmer reported this in the firm's 1963 annual report released today in Sanford, one of 93 exchanges which Southern Bell serves in Florida.

The year 1963 was Southern Bell's second consecutive record-breaking year in building new facilities. The company spent $26 million more in 1963 than in 1962.

There was an increase of 407,000 Southern Bell telephones in 1963. To achieve this net gain, the firm connected or installed 1,424,000 telephones, disconnected 1,017,000 and moved another 770,000. At the end of the year, Southern Bell operated 8,418,000 telephones.

Residence customers with individual lines increased from 63 per cent in 1962 to 60 per cent in 1963. Ten years ago only 25 per cent of Southern Bell residence customers had individual lines. Only seven per cent of the residence customers now have four-party service compared to 35 per cent 10 years ago, the report said.

Southern Bell has spent almost $3 billion in the past 10 years to expand and improve its services in the South, Gilmer said.

"Our expenditures for plant improvement, expansion and cost of operation have a substantial impact on the south's economy," he said.

In 1963 operating expenses and taxes totaled $851 million. Of this, $240 million was paid in taxes to the federal and state governments and to 3,700 local taxing units. This amount does not include the 10 per cent federal excise tax on local and long distance service which was $88 million in 1963. Total wage cost was $413 million in 1963.

Southern Bell's earnings per share were $2.10 in 1963 compared to $2.07 for 1962. Discussing the need for "vast amounts of new capital," Gilmer said the company "must continue to strive for a level of earnings that will enable us to do more quickly more of the things we want to do to make our service better and more useful."

He also reported that several companies have offered revenue certificates to finance the entire program. "Frankly," Krider said, "I don't know how we are going to finance it. The engineering factors and cost estimates will determine this."

Referring to those he said were "needling" the project, Krider said, "People say they can do it better. We want them to show us, not just sit back and criticize."

"In closing," the speaker said, "I challenge you to adopt and work for projects that live beyond the day you stage them."

Krider was introduced by the program chairman, Clyde Long, Jaycees President Jim Smith conducted the meeting.

Bombing Derby Gets Under Way

Fair weather greeted weapons teams and flight crews today as the Navy's Tenth Annual Bombing Derby at the Sanford Naval Air Station got underway.

AL DAVIS
Insurance Man In Justice Of Peace Contest

Al Davis, of Longwood, has qualified for the Democratic nomination for justice of the peace, District 6.

A native of Mims, he attended Mims-Titusville schools and left college for a two-year hitch in the U.S. Army during the Korean conflict.

He was discharged from active duty in April 1953 and the following September enrolled at Florida State University. In February 1957 he earned his bachelor of science degree in business administration.

In April 1961 he opened an insurance agency in the South Seminole area. Being a property owner and businessman of South Seminole, he says he is interested in the growth and development of that area as well as all of the county.

"I am seeking office of justice of the peace," he said. "To help in any way I can to develop and strengthen the community we live in."

Davis said that he feels his college education, his business experience, his background in law through his business, his ability to deal with people will qualify him for the office.

Guests at the meeting will be Democratic candidates running for offices in the May primary.

were scheduled to apply their shoulders and skill to the heavy cargo at 7 a.m.

Their mission was to install the "bomb" on weapons receptacles of designated aircraft as quickly and efficiently as possible.

At the same time, 18 flight crews were standing by and manned their twin-jet A-5 Vigilantes and A-3B Skywarriors at 11 a.m. for the first bombing event, as visiting dignitaries from all over the nation began arriving for the six-day fleet readiness exercise.

Among those expected during the week are eight admirals, all of whom are intimately concerned with Sanford's heavy attack program.

The events will continue through the week, winding up Saturday with an open house, air show and awards presentation ceremony. This part of the program traditionally attracts many thousands to the Central Florida air station.

Among aircraft launching for the 11 a.m. bombing event were five RA-5C version Vigilantes, the Navy's new mach two (twice the speed of sound) reconnaissance-attack aircraft.

While other participants were dropping two dummy "shapes" on a training target in nearby Lake George, RA-5C entrants today were flying two photographic missions designed to exercise the plane's complex reconnaissance system.

Since this is a competitive event, Navy officials have developed a special system for evaluating the "reco" missions on a basis which will match their results against the bombing scores of other participants.

At Lake George, Skywarriors and A-5A Vigilantes were scheduled to drop the "bomb" on a target in the lake. The target was a dummy delivery maneuver known as loft bombing.

This is a technique developed by the Navy especially for the safe release of nuclear weapons. It involved a low-altitude target approach, an abrupt pull-up and a release, occurring as the aircraft was in the midst of its looping maneuver. The weapon was lobbed (or "lofted") in an arc to the target, allowing time for the pilot to perform an escape maneuver away from the "blast" area.

The weapons used today, while completely inert, were similar to atomic ordnance in size and weight.

The Vigilante and Skywarrior flight crews exhibiting the best accuracy will match their skill against an A-4C Skyhawk, the world's smallest nuclear bomber, in a "Might vs. Might" loft bombing run-off at 9 a.m. Friday.

Heavy Attack Squadron Five (VAH-5), now the fleet's first unit to operate the RA-5C, won the loft event in the last Bombing Derby en route to a near sweep of the week's competitions. VAH-11, which still flies the A-3B, won the last weapons loading exercise.

"We will soon discuss how best we can meet these threats to our independence," he said.

"But I now assure you that the full power of the United States is ready to assist any country whose freedom is threatened by forces directed from behind the shores of our own continent."

"The enemies of freedom seek to harass us at every turn," Johnson said. He said this involved "a struggle for the destiny of the American republics."

These seven bring to an even 50 the number of candidates who have filed for county offices.

Expansion Of Firm Boost To Area Industry

Industrial growth of Sanford and Seminole County was given a "big shot in the arm" this morning when the Chemical Corporation of America, with headquarters in Tallahassee, accepted delivery of the Del Mar building on West 20th Street in more than a quarter-million dollar expansion program.

Shortly, the company's products will spread the name "Sanford, Florida" on some seven million cans for distribution throughout the world.

Jack Feinberg, president of Chemical Corporation, told The Sanford Herald by telephone that he was flying this morning from Tallahassee to New York City in further efforts of his company's expansion and would be met at Atlanta airport to sign final papers accepting title of the local building from Del Mar Industries, of Atlanta.

Feinberg announced that the purchase of the building and land plus remodeling and other improvements will total $250,000. He added that to this figure another large amount will be invested in new machinery for new lines of production.

Chemical Corporation of America has its administration and sales offices in Tallahassee and its production plant, under Irving Feinberg, vice president, at 204 North Elm Avenue.

Irving Feinberg said here this morning that engineering studies will be made for interior modifications. He added his firm now is entering its peak production season, and, therefore, with the new structure modifications and the building up of a large inventory in the new plant, it probably will be September before the transition will be accomplished from Elm Avenue to 20th Street.

His brother, Jack also told The Herald that ultimately the administration and sales offices will be removed from Tallahassee to the new plant here.

Chemical Corporation commenced operation in 1950 with the production of the world's first insecticidal floor wax. Consumer products were expanded to the present Free-wax, a wax remover. This was followed by Bugfree, an insecticide, and Free Seal, for terrazzo, cement and other masonry surfaces.

The expansion program, relating to the purchase of the 20th street facility, will include a new furniture polish, Image; the world first self polishing wax for wooden floors, Guard Gloss, and will be introduced within 30 days a new Gold Label Free-wax for triple action, cleaning, shining and killing insects.

Del Mar Industries, with the help of the Sanford-Seminole Development Company, built the plant and operated a cabinet industry there for eight months, closing operations in August 1962.

Oviedo Council Delays Talks

Discussion by the Oviedo City Council of expansion plans to meet the impact of growth to be caused by the new state university, has been postponed from tonight to March 31.

Council members plan to discuss with U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency representatives of a loan for a feasibility study for a new water system and sewerage system.

A framed certificate was presented to Senior Regent Ida May Sjoblom after presentation of the colors, the Alma and Purposes of Girl Scouting, The Promise and Laws, a brief history of Girl Scouting and an explanation of the World Association and what the association pin symbolizes to members who wear it.

The colors were retired to close the program. Mrs. Dankiefs is Moose Haven Chairman for the Chapter and as a follow up to last week's program, the Scouts will make handmade stationary and deliver it to residents of Moose Haven in Orange Park.

By Frances Wester

her home last Tuesday night. The hostess gave a meaningful devotional, centered on the theme of "Faith," ending with the Lord's Prayer recited in unison.

Badger Demos Tag Wallace 'Carpetbagger'

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — C "Carpetbagger" is a fighting word among Wisconsin Democrats these days.

Mrs. Robert Rugenstein was in charge of the program which took up the Bible lesson, Colossians I, 1-12, as amplified by the Study Book, "Be What You Are." Each phase of the study was made all inclusive through discussion by all members present.

The Association president, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, gave a brief report of the last Association meeting when Presbyterian president, Virginia Williams, and Presbyterian recording secretary, Lenore Long, were guests. These ladies gave a program based on "Be What You Are" and further illustrated it by showing a film on the work and the needs of Nepal.

Mrs. Ed Zimmerman, circle chairman, presided over the business session. Reports were made by the various committee chairmen of the circle. Mrs. Abbie Freese won the door prize.

The meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and the Mizpah Benediction. Thirteen members attended. Refreshments of assorted cookies, floating sherbet fruit punch, pecan pie and coffee were served by the hostess during a social hour that followed.

helper. He later was promoted to water tender, condenser operator and turbine operator.

Hirt was presented with a wrist watch as a retirement gift by his fellow workers.

Our Retailers invest freely to supply us freely

Stimulated by Competition and free to act without oppressive socialist controls, our modern retailers supply us with competitively priced products in abundance no other nation's markets can approach.

Free to invest their money, their time, their energy and individual initiative as they see fit, these American businessmen have helped us achieve the world's highest standard of living.

The prohibitively high pricing of goods in a government controlled economy — making them available to only the wealthy few — has no place in a land that prospers with free enterprise.

Still, voices are heard urging government ownership of certain businesses, a condition which would stifle the very freedom that makes America the greatest nation on Earth.

Let us at all times vigorously defend this freedom of individual initiative and enterprise so that we may keep America Powerful.

Today, as part of the world's greatest power system, investor owned, tax paying Florida Power & Light Company speeds expansion to keep abreast of our growing need for more power. As in the case of the retail business... our past achievements have been possible only because our nation has been free of oppressive state dictatorships common in socialist and communist societies. We hope, through even more outstanding performance, to encourage the trend in America today which proposes more freedom for private enterprise so that industry may serve our Country even more efficiently.

Exile Cubans Prepare For Early Action Against Castro's Communist Rule

Castro's Cuba is near its end. The Fidel Regime faces major opposition within two months.

This much has been revealed in news items carried by major wire services and attributed to the Cuban Exile Revolutionary Junta. The Junta is led by former Cuban public works minister Manolo Ray.

The wire services said he gave no details of the group's promise to fight.

There are several groups of Cubans, all foes of Fidel Castro, now in exile and all of which promise to return to their homelands in triumph as quickly as possible.

They have been plotting in separate ways for that day. They have, until now, failed to unite for the common purpose of the overthrow of Fidel.

The Sanford Herald has in its possession one group's plan. The key to the success of the May 20 goal set by Manolo Ray can be found in this group's last sentence of its "conclusion."

"In a democratic society war is the common factor that unites the different ideas and ideologies."

The bickering groups are nearing unity. The statement quoted above is the clue to this.

Much of the "plan" now is the possession of The Herald has been or is being fulfilled. The "General Plan" for the Fidel foes includes:

- Sabotage in key industrial centers and communications systems.
- Commando actions in principal ports and installations near the sea shores in order to harass and prevent as much as possible the sea commerce.
- As is generally known, Cuba, being an island, depends on sea trade for its economic life. Without it, Castro's Communist Cuba would be weakened to the point that an internal revolt would be imminent.
- The key control spot for the approaching fight with Fidel is not in the United States. It is in a foreign country. A "Shipping Company" has been "Maritime Company" has been "Outside of Cuba the exiles have been granted the use of bases from which they operate with the approval of the foreign country's naval forces.
- The Herald's "memorandum" lists the objectives (accomplish the downfall of the Communist regime of Castro); the general plan; what has been accomplished, much of which must continue to remain confidential; the goals of the exiles, many of which have been accomplished; and the needs of the group.
- The conclusions consist of many factors generally known by the reading public. The group expects to create chaotic conditions inside Cuba through the lack of electric power, inability to operate industrial plants and through faulty communications.

"With the cry of war, all Cubans will be united for a common goal," the memo declares.

Manolo Ray has announced D-Day for this. With it, he has sounded the death knell of Fidel Castro.

Apparently he feels the bickering has ceased as "war is the common factor that unites different ideas and ideologies."

Ginderville VFD President Makes Report To Auxiliary

Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department President Thomas F. Weiss was guest speaker at the March meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. David Fauver with 19 members in attendance.

Weiss advised that the truck now is in running condition and tires will be put on upon completion of final welding needed.

Prices on a pump for the truck are being secured by R. F. Roehl and the firemen are planning to sponsor a circus on April 8 across from the HLIH Plant to help put the truck in working condition.

Weiss pointed out that there still are some families living within the five mile radius to be served by the department who are not aware of its existence. He explained that the five mile area is from the HLIH Plant, by airline, and will cover the east side of Sanford and Sunland Estates to Five Points on Highway 17-92.

Further information is available from Weiss or from Leon Steinmeyer, treasurer of the department.

Meetings of the firemen are held at the Ebenezer Methodist Church the first and third Mondays of each month, at 7:30 p.m. All the help possible is needed and all men of the area covered are invited to join.

During the Auxiliary's business meeting the ways and means committee report ed a total of $73.10 from the chicken pilau supper held recently at the Farmers Auction Market. Members were asked to consider ideas for an annual fund raising project which will be discussed at length at the April meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Steinmeyer.

Expression's Origin
The expression "to get the brushoff" started with Pullman porters, who were said to give their best service to high tippers, while other passengers would be dismissed at the end of a trip with just a quick brush with a whisk broom.

We Did It Again

Sanford area citizens failed in our responsibility when we defeated the proposed county-wide, toll free, metropolitan telephone system.

This we cannot understand, especially when it was so vividly pointed out that the communications system was vital toward uniting the county and preventing the dread disease of sectionalism.

Chamber of Commerce officials as well as authorities of the Southern Bell Telephone Company and the Winter Park Telephone Company agree that a second effort to establish the system will have to wait at least another year. Even then, if we approve it another 12 to 15 months will be required before the system can be made operative.

In the past there has been considerable criticism of Sanford merchants for not having adequate stocks and varieties of merchandise. Yet, when our people had a chance to support our own merchants and other business firms we were not willing to spend about one cent a day.

During recent promotional efforts to make the metro system a reality, the merchants of this area went along with it — at least for the most part. Some, perhaps because of the nature of their businesses did not favor it. But, generally speaking, Sanford's business element did favor the toll free system.

Our citizens must have realized that the metropolitan system would have been a tremendous asset to our entire economy. Also, we must have known that the toll free system would have been a big factor in deterring this growing problem of sectionalism — something Seminole County does not want because it cannot afford it.

Just recently the DeLand, Deltona, DeBary and Orange City subscribers voted to unite themselves into a single, toll free system. The new plan went into effect a few days ago. About 80 percent of the subscribers voted in favor of the unit system.

Here in Seminole, however, the die has been cast by the question remains. "Why must Sanford always have to make two or three attempts before it approves a progressive measure?"

Hope Of A Nation

After a male baby has grown out of long clothes and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives do not dare to kiss it before meals, it becomes a boy. A boy is nature's answer to the false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can swim like a fish, run like a mule, climb like a squirrel, talk like a deer, bellow like a calf, eat like a pig or act like a donkey, according to climatic conditions.

He is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite, a noise covered with smudges. He is called a tornado because he comes at the most unexpected times, hits the most unexpected places, and leaves everything a wreck behind him.

He is a growing animal of superlative promise, is to be fed, watered, and kept warm; a joy forever, a periodic nuisance, the problem of our times, the hope of a nation. Every boy born is evidence that God is not yet discouraged with man.

Were it not for boys, newspapers would go unread and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt. Boys are useful in running errands. A boy can easily do the family errands with the aid of five or six adults. The zest with which a boy does an errand is equalled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day.

A boy is a natural spectator. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball-games, automobiles, boats and airplanes with equal fervor, but will not watch the clock. The man who invents a clock that will stand on its head and sing a song when it strikes will win the undying gratitude of millions of families whose boys are forever coming to lunch about supper time.

Boys faithfully imitate their dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. A boy if not washed too often and if kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie.

(The author of the above is unknown. But, The Herald thanks John Angel, principal of South Seminole Junior High School for providing us with a copy.)

Thought For Today

The latter splendor of this house shall be greater than the former says the Lord of hosts; and in this place I will give prosperity, says the Lord of hosts.—Haggai 2:9.

The welfare of the United States calls for stable prosperity and a rising standard of living in all parts of the free world.—David Rockefeller.

Dick West Says

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All over America, citizens are coming to grips this week with a strange and difficult problem. Namely, how to spend the money made available by the new income tax act.

Americans have had very little experience in this sort of thing. It will take time for wage earners to become adjusted to the lower withholding rates. In some instances, it may take as long as three or four weeks. But if we keep our heads, remembering the immortal words of Clifford P. Case, R-N. J., we should be able to cope with the situation without undue stress. It was Case who pointed out that "welcome as the income tax cuts are to all of us who are employed, they may be even more helpful to the unemployed." That is something to think about as we go about spending our largesse. There is no fixed formula, or set of rules, to guide a taxpayer in disposing of his additional "take-home" pay. Each will have to work it out for himself.

'Is There a Doctor in the House?'

Bruce Bissot -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A major attempt is underway to array large elements of organized labor against the civil rights package pending in the Senate.

This effort has, in some measure, fallen on fertile ground. In consequence, the AFL-CIO, while continuing to support the legislation "without reservation and without delay," is nevertheless highly disturbed. Strong counter moves are being mounted.

What gives the drive against the bill among unions such potency is the fact it is led by Alabama's Sen. Lister Hill, a long-time friend of labor and the chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Hill rose on the Senate floor on Jan. 15 to deliver a blast against the "equal employment opportunity" features of the legislation. In substance he charged the measure would undermine union seniority systems, affect so-called referral (hiring hall) practices, even endanger union representation rights assured under the National Labor Relations Act.

Copies of Hill's speech, plus a 19-page memorandum from which the speech was taken, have since been mailed out by the senator—with a covering letter on his committee stationery—to 80,000 "interested parties," mostly officers of local unions across the nation.

There are today some 70,000 locals, 57,000 of them affiliated with international unions linked to the AFL-CIO. Results of this huge mailing have been more than a little distressing to the federation's leadership and somewhat pleasing to Hill.

The senator's aides say that while disapproving letters predominate in the mail response, a "surprising number" are favorable, with some union officers penning a heartfelt "amen."

A good many ask more information. For its part, the federation has suffered a sizable bombardment from local unions, internationalists and the labor press, the puzzles inquiries asking how to answer Lister Hill, the proven friend of labor who voted against the two regulatory measures union leaders most dislike—the Taft-Hartley and the Landrum-Griffin acts.

A substantial though uncounted number of local unions clearly have welcomed Hill's assault on the civil rights package as justifying and rationalizing their already well-developed fears.

Particularly in certain of the building trades plagued by marked unemployment, the notion had taken root even before Hill's "round robin" mailing that opening these unions to Negroes would only perpetuate and exaggerate existing difficulties.

Confronted with this very real stir, the AFL-CIO leaders have acted to prevent the cracks in their pro-civil rights stand from widening to destructive proportions.

In seeking to answer Hill, the federation could draw upon some "warm-up" practice. Just a month ago it circulated an answer to much similar arguments advanced by the chief lobbyist against the Satterfield, Mississippi lawyer and former president of the American Bar Association.

Satterfield currently is secretary-treasurer of the Coordinating Committee of a Fundamental American Freedom, set up in Washington to combat the bills on all fronts. Federation lawyers, having first framed a reply to Satterfield, prepared then a more detailed, more comprehensive legal argument designed to satisfy thousands of puzzled union men. But this counter-attack against the influential Hill has just begun.

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 200 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

As we approach another election it is only natural that politicians are promising the world with a fence around it, but it is time that the public awakes. We hear President Johnson say economy is a must so he asks that certain lights be turned out (of all things). That might sound OK if the little things like billions to our enemies were stopped.

There are a number of amusing things we hear on the radio, such as the voice of America programs into Russia. Just what good does it do even if they hear the programs? If they tried to do anything about it in the form of rebelling it would be the wall for them and any sensible person knows that.

Then again, just what can we truthfully broadcast? Should we tell them of the riots all over America? Should we tell them that our Supreme Court now makes the laws? Should we tell them about our tax system? There are a lot of things that most Americans do not like, but shall we tell Russia that being in a democracy, the majority rules? We might tell them that if we continue in the present trend in a very short time we will be like them.

Freedom to worship as we choose is slowly but surely slipping away from us. There is no Bible reading in the schools and no repeating of the Lord's prayer in the schools. Unless our church going public begins to get serious and quits commercializing, we can expect nothing but more rights being taken from us. We need more Gull deaks plus more action from Smiths behind the sacred

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Joan is in the same boat with millions of boys and girls in high school or college. So scrapbook this case and its follow-up tomorrow. Or mail it to any children or grandchildren away at school who need help in boosting their school marks. Mothers, be sure to send for that booklet mentioned below.

CASE S-413: Joan J., aged 13, is in Junior High School. "Dr. Crane," she timidly inquired after I had addressed her school convocation, "I need help."

"For my daddy wants me to make straight 'A' grades. But I can't remember half of what I read, so I'm lucky to get 'B' marks."

"How can I improve my memory and get more out of my study time?"

Agenda Plan
First write down a study program for each week. Then stick to it.

Schedule each day's study time something like this:

Monday
7 p. m.—History Study
8 p. m.—English Theme
9 p. m.—Math

Then do the same for Tuesday, Wednesday and the other days of the week.

For you avoid much dilly-dallying and confusion when all you need do is consult your today's agenda.

Thus, instead of wondering: "What should I be doing?" or "What should I study first?" you just look at your agenda and follow it.

And as soon as you have completed one item thereon, cross it out, preferably with a colored pencil.

I use this same agenda plan even now for all my varied duties and I gleefully cross out every completed item with a thick red pencil. The "Agenda Plan" is also excellent for you parents, since it helps banish futile fretting and confusion that may even produce peptic ulcers.

Second, if you have a reading assignment, as for history, then "skim read" and "race the clock."

Allot 10 minutes for a quick "once-over" trip through your entire assignment.

Hit the high spots. Obviously, you can't read every word or even every sentence, but look for topic headings and "key" events, such as dates or a 1-2-3-4 tabulation of causes or results of any given event.

If you thus "race the clock," and glance at it every minute, you can prod yourself into much faster reading time.

Indeed, the machine we use to teach faster reading is simply a device (tachistoscope) that gives you brief glimpses at printed pages.

But you can teach yourself to be a swifter reader just by racing the clock, all by yourself.

A golfer, for example, can also enjoy playing 9 holes all by himself for he can then try to lower his previous scores or compete with "par."

Well, you students of all ages (and adult readers) can develop fun out of racing the clock. It lets you briefly "taste" the entire literary menu.

Then go back and carefully pick the meat from the bones, in your remaining 60 minutes.

In my many years of teaching college students, I have seen "D" or "C" students surprise themselves (and their families) within 6 weeks by these psychological rules for improving your memory and study habits.

But in order to glean the most from this slower second reading, make yourself a True-False or 4-answer quiz as you read. (More tomorrow.)

Meanwhile, be sure to send for the booklet "How to Improve Your Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Art Group To Elect Officers

Election of officers is planned in May for the Sanford Seminole Art Association and a nominating committee was named at the group's recent meeting in the old library building.

Also discussed was a proposal for a week of intensive instruction in painting in the late summer. More than 20 participants have signed for the course.

The March meeting was conducted by the president, Joe Mathieux, who welcomed the guests. A report was given on the reception at the Delany Mansion for two Jacksonville artists whose paintings are exhibited there through this month.

Mrs. Mildred Babcock was in charge of the reception sponsored by the SSAA.

Attention was called to the recently acquired furnishings for the SSAA headquarters. These included 15 folding chairs purchased by the association and contributions of a table and bookshelf by Mrs. A. B. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Scott.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Beth Gregory and consisted of figure sketching with Mrs. Betty Ollif as model. She was attired in a tan and white western costume.

Refreshments were provided under the direction of Mrs. Erma Smith.

The next meeting will be April 15 with a covered dish supper and critique planned.

McNamara Says U. S. Can Win

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara declared on his return from South Viet Nam that every responsible official there believes the war against Communist guerrillas can be won "if the proper effort is made."

McNamara cautioned that "there is no magic formula for winning the anti-guerrilla struggle" and that "the path to victory may be hard." But he attempted to convey full confidence that the battle can be won.

McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, make a full report at noon EST to President Johnson on the results of their five-day, first hand inspection of the critical Viet Nam war situation.

CAPT. J. M. TULLY

Tully Is Given Ship Command

Chief of Naval Personnel today announced the orders of Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr. as commanding officer of the fleet oiler USS Neosho. He was commander of Heavy Attack Wing One at Sanford Naval Air Station from June 1961 to July 1963. Such an assignment often leads to command of a carrier.

Captain Tully, presently a student at the National War College, Washington, D. C., was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy with the class of 1942 and has had various assignments both afloat and ashore prior to his present assignment.

The Neosho is one of six giant fleet oilers operated by the U. S. Navy with a full load displacement of approximately 40,000 tons and a complement of 20 officers and 300 enlisted men. This makes the ship about twice the size of the SS America and the SS Independence, or about half that of the super-carrier USS Forrestal.

'Blue Angels' Suffer First Fatality In 18 Years

APALACHICOLA (UPI)—A veteran member of the famed "Blue Angels," the U. S. Navy's crack precision aerial team that never lost a man in 18 years of hair raising exhibitions, was killed Sunday—on a routine flight.

He was Lt. George L. Neale, 29, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa. He died when he ejected from his crippled F11F Grumman Tiger and his parachute failed to open.

Neale was on his way to his home base at the Pensacola Air Station after performing with the team at West Palm Beach.

"He was coming in low with his wheels down, like he was trying to land at the air base here. But he didn't make it," said James Wilson, a commercial fisherman who saw the crash.

"I saw him (Neale) when he ejected out of the plane, and his chute never opened.

It just sort of trailed him down, Wilson said.

Lt. Cmdr. C. E. Nilson of the Pensacola Air Station said Neale's plane "presumably had a flame-out" which shut off the jet of the blue aircraft which is capable of flying near the speed of sound.

Neale flew the number four slot with the crack aerial team which was organized at Corpus Christi, Tex., in 1916 to "demonstrate precision techniques" to military personnel and to the general public.

Neale's wingman, Marine Capt. John Kretzinger, said the Blue Angels fly in such close formations at the air shows they stage all over the country that they lap wings as much as 14 feet and only three feet above each other.

Kretzinger said the team has the best safety record of any aerial group, never having lost a man or had a serious accident in its various exhibitions. The Blue Angels have 82 exhibitions for 1964.

Dodgers Can Be Better, Alston Says

VERO BEACH (UPI)—Those who don't see how the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers could possibly be any better, are cordially invited to come out and take a look for themselves.

The Dodgers approached baseball perfection when they swept the mighty New York Yankees four straight games last October.

It was difficult then to conceive how the Dodgers could do any better.

Manager Walt Alston honestly thinks they can — because "we still have the pitching and should have more power."

The pitching Alston talks about merely happens to be the best in baseball. It may not be deep but it's gutted up front.

That added power he mentions could come from big Frank Howard—if he's available—and fleet Willie Davis.

Alston's power hopes, of course, hinge on the hope that Howard will change his mind and decide to play this year.

And Howard's latest word is it would be "virtually impossible" for him to play.

If those two whack the ball with the added authority Alston envisions and Andy Koufax, Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres and Ron Ferranokki keep firing the ball in the same style they did last year, the Dodgers could become the first club to win National League pennants back to back since the Milwaukee Braves did in 1957 and 1958.

They say pitching is at least 75 per cent of the game. The Dodgers have it in spades.

There's Koufax, who seems well on his way to becoming one of the best of all time. He won 25 games last season while losing but five and set down the Yankees twice in the World Series.

There's big Drysdale, a 19-game winner, whose wicked sidearm curve ball handcuffed the Yankees on a three-hitter, 1-0, for the most glittering performance in last October's series.

There's Podres, who won only 14 games, but all of them big ones.

There's Ferranokki, who won 16 games and saved 10, to become the game's outstanding relief pitcher.

There's Bob Miller, who won 10 games but who teamed up with Ferranokki in the latter half of the season to become an outstanding bullpen man.

If Howard plays Alston has a settled outfield with Willie Davis in center, Tommy Davis (no relation) in left and Howard in right. Tommy Davis won the league's batting championship last year for the second season in a row.

Willie Davis is probably the fastest man in baseball and Howard can swing a bat with the might.

"Some day," predicts Alston, "Howard is going to out-homer them all."

Catching is a settled spot with John Roseboro the No. 1 man and Doug Camilli behind him. Jeff Thorborg, one of four rookies the Dodgers must keep on their roster this year, may stick as the No. 3 catcher.

Alston says he won't decide on his infield until opening day. But you can bet it will be Ron Fairly at first if he's not needed in right field, Jim Gilliam at second, speedy Maury Wills at short and Ken McMullen at third. If they don't make it—there are a lot of other candidates.

So, all in all, you can see why the Dodgers look good—maybe too good for the rest of the league.

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

More than 150 physicians and athletic department officials wound up a two-day meeting in Jacksonville on Saturday which was attended by Seminole High coaches Ralph E. Stumpf Jr. and John Colbert, Sanford Junior High football coach Dan Pelham, and Sanford physicians, Drs. John Morgan, C. L. Park Jr., and Leonard Munson.

The seminar opened on Friday and initial sessions were confined to post-graduate lectures on arthritis and related diseases. Saturday's sessions were devoted to the prevention and treatment of athletic injuries—and this was why so many coaches and trainers from all of Florida and Georgia were present.

The highlight of the two-day seminar came when they heard Forest Evashevski, Iowa's director of athletics, speak on "Medical Responsibilities of the coach in the athletic program."

Other speakers included Florida's cage coach, Norman Sloan; Dr. P. B. Murphy, the University of Kentucky's team physician; Fred J. Allman Jr., an orthopedic consultant for public schools in Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. W. D. Paul, University of Iowa rheumatologist and team physician; and Dr. James D. Beeson, a Jacksonville anesthesiologist.

The sessions also heard a talk and observed a demonstration on "Quackery" by Oliver Field, Director of Investigation for the American Medical Association. He reported that sick people in the United States spend more than 250 million dollars annually on misrepresented treatment programs which are of no use in curing their ailments.

The seminar was sponsored by the Florida and Georgia chapters of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. The Friday sessions were planned to bring the latest information about the diagnosis and treatment of arthritis and rheumatism to practicing physicians in the two-state area.

The faculty consisted of prominent rheumatologists from medical centers in 10 states.

The program was arranged under the general chairmanship of Sanford A. Mullen, M.D., president of the Florida chapter, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. Members of the program committee were Vernin E. Powell, M.D., Atlanta, and Woods A. Howard, M.D., Lakeland. Arrangements for the meetings were made by Ralph E. Nollner, executive director, Florida chapter.

Injured Moore's Condition Is 'Satisfactory'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Former light heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore, suffering from back and leg injuries caused by an automobile accident, remained in satisfactory condition today at Doctors Hospital.

Moore and a passenger in his car-bumper Charles Payne, 24, of Toledo, Ohio—were injured Saturday when their automobile was hit by an out-of-control car and plunged down a 10-foot embankment.

Police said the driver of the other vehicle was Marine Pfc. Eddie Wallace Jr., 19, of Camp Pendleton. They said Wallace lost control of his car and swerved into the left lane, hitting Moore's car head on.

Hospital attendants said Moore, 47, was suffering from minor back and leg injuries and cuts and bruises. They said X-rays showed no broken bones.

Wallace suffered only minor bruises and was not hospitalized.

Hounds Beat Lions; Tribe Loses To WP

Two of Seminole County's high school baseball clubs return to diamond action Tuesday afternoon while another takes the field again Wednesday. Only one of the schools, Lyman High of Longwood, was able to post a win in opener's Friday afternoon. Longwood took a 2 to 0 decision from the Oviedo Lions and Seminole High dropped a 6 to 0 affair to Winter Park in a Metro league affair.

Coach Jim McCoy's nine was limited to four scattered singles by Jim Wallace of the Wildcats. Meanwhile the Winter Park nine picked up seven hits off John Siers and David Gollsher. The latter worked the last two frames for Sanford.

Winter Park broke into the scoring column in the fourth frame when they pushed over a pair of runs. They bunched a couple of hits in the fifth for two more and added another pair in the sixth. Wallace picked up the win for Winter Park while Siers of Sanford took the loss.

At Longwood Park Friday afternoon, Steve Simpkins spun a neat two-hitter for the Lyman High Greyhounds who were able to pull across single tallies in the fifth and seventh innings and post a 2 to 0 victory over the Oviedo Lions.

Both clubs, comprised primarily of basketball athletes who just completed the cage season, were in exceptionally good form. Simpkins, in hurling his shutout, was in deep trouble in both the second and third innings but he was able to bear down and pitch his way out of danger. Marvin Cook and Richard Smith came through with timely singles to punch over Lyman's two runs.

Jim Courier went the distance for the Lions and twirled commendable ball, limiting the Hounds to only four safeties, but one of them was a triple tagged by Duffy Meufeld.

Seminole meets Boone High's Braves of Orlando in another Metro League affair Tuesday afternoon while Lyman tangles with the Wildwood High Wildcats in an Orange Belt Conference contest at Longwood.

Oviedo will go to Melbourne Wednesday afternoon to meet Central Catholic High.

Little League Units Facing Busy Week

The City Recreation Department announced that this will be a busy week with tryouts for the junior boys and major leagues on the calendar.

Tuesday and Wednesday boys who wish to play junior boys baseball this year for the first time will go through various workouts and clinics at Sanford's Memorial Stadium. The tryouts will start at 4 p. m.

The youngsters will receive a number and then proceed through a grading system of running, throwing, hitting and fielding.

City Recreation Director Jim Jernigan said today he was anticipating a highly successful season in little major and junior boys play. He said he expected a big turnout at the two-day clinics.

Jernigan declared that boys should be sure to bring birth certificates with them to the workouts. He emphasized that this also holds true for boys attending the little major league tryouts at Fort Mellon Park which are slated for Thursday and Friday of this week. These workouts also will begin at 4 p. m. each day.

Age groupings have been announced as follows: to be eligible for little major league play boys nine but who will be 10 years of age before Aug. 1 are eligible along with youngsters 10 and 11 years of age plus 12-year olds who will not be 13 before Aug. 1; and to be eligible for junior boys baseball youngsters 12 but who will be 13 before Aug. 1 are eligible along with all boys 13 and 15 years of age plus boys 15 who will not be 16 before Aug. 1.

The City Recreation director reminded boys wishing to play in either of the two leagues, who are non-residents of Sanford, should be sure to obtain a non-resident recreation card from the Sanford Recreation Department. Non-resident cards are available for a nominal fee on either an individual or a family basis.

"It's More Fun To Watch The Greyhounds Run"

Pirate's Alley Polls 3 Homers To Help Beat A's

United Press International Home run hitting may be right up a certain Pittsburgh rookie's alley.

Gene Alley of the Pittsburgh Pirates that is. Alley, a 23-year-old shortstop who poked 19 four baggers last season for Columbus, the Bucs' International League affiliate, powered three home runs Sunday to lead his mates to a 15-7 victory over the Kansas City Athletics. Another rookie, outfielder Rex Johnson, gave added potency to Pittsburgh's attack by blasting two home runs. The Pirates have now produced 29 runs in two exhibition games.

Alley, who hit his home runs in the second fifth and eighth innings to account for five runs batted in, has smashed four circuits in two games. Inasmuch as Pittsburgh finished eighth in home runs last season with a total of 108, Manager Danny Murtaugh can't be hoping anybody who is capable of occasionally reaching the seats.

Indestructible Warren Spahn picked up Milwaukee's first victory by pitching three scoreless innings in a starting role to help the Braves blank the Washington Senators, 2-0.

Another indestructible institution, the New York Yankees, didn't fare as well, bowing to the Baltimore Orioles, 10-1. The Orioles settled freshman Manager Yogi Berra's hopes of gaining his first victory early, tallying nine runs in the second inning. Southpaw ace Steve Barber took care of New York easily, blanking the Bombers with only one hit over the first three innings to pick up the victory.

In other grapefruit contests, the Cincinnati Reds launched a 17-hit attack to wallop the Chicago White Sox, 11-7, despite rookie infielder Charlie Smith's two home runs in a losing cause; the Philadelphia Phillies topped the Houston Colts, 5-2 on rookie Ricketts Allen's three-run fourth bagger; the St. Louis Cardinals cashed in on six errors to down the New York Mets, 6-3; and the Minnesota Twins defeated the Detroit Tigers, 9-6, with six runs in the seventh inning.

In the Cactus circuit, the Cleveland Indians beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, as rookie righthander Gordon Syfied gained the victory in a starting assignment with five scoreless innings; the San Francisco Giants scored the seventh exhibition victory, the most in the exhibition league, by topping the Boston Red Sox, 7-4, behind Bob Shaw's second win; and the Los Angeles Angels edged the Cleveland "B" team, 8-7, with a two-run rally in the ninth inning.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, playing their third exhibition game south of the border, sustained their first defeat against combined squads of Mexico City Reds and Tigers, 8-5, in a contest called in the bottom of the eighth inning because of rain. The Mexican All-Stars effected the victory by snapping a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning with a four-run outburst against Dick Calumst.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"
By - WOODROW CASH

Don't fail to take advantage of our advance information bulletins on the new materials now being sold, as we discussed last week. It is doubly important now that spring weather is here, and thoughts turn to new wardrobes. It is also necessary to begin thinking about storing winter garments, and the utmost requirement is that they be clean. Absolutely NOTHING draws the hungry moth as much as a dirt spot on cloth. Each garment cleaned through our Sanitons method has four clothes to be free of moth damage until the next cleaning. Our special Sanitons method as used at DOWNTOWN CLEANERS by trained, and experienced, cleaners gives you fresh, bright results, whether it is used on your winter heavy garments, or last year's summer clothes. See, or call, your DOWNTOWN CLEANERS for the latest in dry cleaning news. Remember, one of our trucks will pick up and deliver if you desire.

Club Presents Program On Lawns

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder The Osteen Home Demonstration club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John Melrose and Mrs. John Bradin as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Joe Masters, president, presided. The meeting was opened with the reading of the HDC creed by Mrs. Eva Williams.

Mrs. James Wallin Jr., past president was presented with her past president's pin and a personal gift from the club as a going away gift.

Mrs. Webster Hunt, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of powder blue with matching shoes, pill box hat with a small veil and carried a bouquet of blue and pink carnations.

Recorded organ music including "Because," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly," was presented.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Florida room. The table was overlaid with a white cloth. In the center was a low arrangement of white mums and gladiolas flanked by candelabra. A three-tiered wedding cake, mints and punch were served by Mrs. Harly Patterson, Mrs. Robert Lippincott and Miss Babs Odham.

Miss Susan Dekle presided at the bride's book. The table held a low arrangement of white mums.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to the west coast after which they will reside on West First Street.

Teenagers Give Priority To Snacks

Don't envy the teen-age girl who runs with the drugstore crowd. Unless she exercises a lot, she's going to end up overweight, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration agent.

A person can eat only so much and when snacks are given top priority, there's little room for the more nutritious foods needed by growing teenagers.

A girl's date can eat 3,100 to 3,600 calories a day. In fact, his body requires it. But a girl, alas, needs only 2,400 to 2,600. After that, anything she eats may be "food for fat."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Since we moved to this state, seven years ago, we've bought our eggs from the same egg man. Soon after the tragic death of our beloved President I went to buy our eggs as usual, so it was natural for me to say, "Wasn't it heart-breaking about Mr. Kennedy?" Abby, his reply was so cruel I can't even repeat it. In the past he has made remarks about "dirty Jews" and "niggers." But knowing that my religion was the same as President Kennedy's, I never expected him to say what he said. I told my husband that I will never again buy eggs from that man. My husband said I am foolish. His eggs are fresh and reasonable, and I shouldn't quit buying from him just because he is ignorant. I would like his opinion.

DEAR ABBY: My son is now 14 years old. My husband and I were divorced three years ago. The law officer told me at that time that when the boy reached the age of 13 he could choose which parent he wanted to live with. Well, he chose his father, and the officials told me that I couldn't even SEE the boy unless he wanted to come and see me. This week he came to my house. His shoes were worn out, his clothes were a mess, and he looked as though he hadn't had a haircut in six months. He had money in his pocket, though. I always kept him looking nice, Abby. What kind of law do we have that lets a 14-year-old boy go around looking like a bum? Or is there any such law? I think I have been tricked.

glected to acknowledge her wedding gifts: We have the same situation in our family. Our granddaughter was married last summer. We sent her a costly wedding gift, which she has yet to acknowledge. A thank-you note need not be over 20 words, and I am just ornery enough to see to it that the omission of those 20 words will cost that little brat exactly one thousand claims per word. That ought to flatten a few high hair-dos.

GRANDPA, THE KNIFE

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who quarrels in front of company?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Not much. And it's good to remember that TWO is company.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

A WOMAN FROM N. H.

DEAR WOMAN: Ignorance is the least offensive of your egg man's shortcomings. Assure your husband that you can buy "fresh and reasonable" eggs from someone who is not so bigoted, vicious and destructive. Then prove it.

A BUM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband apparently is not looking after the boy properly. Talk this over with a lawyer, or go to the local Legal Aid Society and find out what can be done in a case like this.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the bride who ne-

Girl Scouts Present Program At Civic Center

A Commemoration Vesper Service in recognition of the first day of Girl Scout Week was held March 8 at the Civic Center with some 400 Girl Scouts and Brownies participating.

Scouts from all parts of the county came to hear the inspiring program planned by Mrs. L. E. Morgan, district chairman; Mrs. W. E. MacLaughlin, neighborhood I chairman; Mrs. Milton Sorokowski, neighborhood II chairman; and Mrs. C. L. Geiger Jr. and Mrs. H. W. Danklefs.

Following the welcoming address by Mrs. Sorokowski, a flag ceremony was presented by Junior Scouts from Altamonte Troop 693. The Scout Chant was led by Junior Troops from Neighborhood II and Junior Troop 557 gave a brief history of Girl Scouting. The Girl Scout Prayer was led by Troop 223 and a Prayer for Adult Girl Scouts was led by Mrs. Morgan.

Senior Scouts from Troop 204-211 sang "America, Our Heritage," followed by an inspiring address from Chaplain R. L. Deal of Sanford Naval Air Station. The Hymn of Scouting was led by Cadettes from Troops 321 and 85.

Representatives from each troop presented a donation to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Brownie Troop 630 led the Brownie Promise and Junior Troop 638 led the Girl Scout Promise.

Benediction was given by Chaplain Deal, the colors were retired and all girls joined in singing "Girl Scouts Together."

Cadettes from Troops 112 and 64 served as ushers for the afternoon.

Officials in charge of the program have extended special appreciation to Chaplain Deal, to Mrs. Cecil Danbridge who provided music throughout the program and to all friends of the Girl Scouts who attended.

WHPC Answer Service Set

N. MIAMI — The Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions (WHPC), U. S. Department of Labor, reports that the WHPC field station at Orlando has installed an answering service for the convenience of persons seeking information from that office.

Three field investigators, Clayton L. Johnson, Otis R. Warner, and Kenneth R. Werts work out of the office located in the Executive Building, 2520 N. Orange, but do not stay there. They now can be reached at Orlando telephone number 425-1835.

If the investigators are out of the office as is usually the case, the caller can now leave a message by following the instructions given by the answering service. Investigators will furnish workers and employers alike information and guidance concerning the federal wage-hour law.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

No bridge encyclopedia would be complete without a collection of cliches and forenoat among them would be, "When in doubt, lead trumps."

The cliché might easily be revised to read, "When not in doubt, lead trumps."

Now take a look at the West hand only. Your opponents have arrived at a four-spade contract by the simple bidding of one spade, two spades, four spades.

A trump lead is clearly called for. In the first place, any other suit lead is unattractive. In the second place, the chances are that declarer is going to want to do some ruffing. You will want to get trumps out as quickly as possible.

No one vulnerable
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
4 ♠ Pass Pass
Opening lead—4 ♠

You want to be sure to get two rounds of trumps played and there is very little chance that an ace lead will drop a singleton king from your partner.

It really does not matter which trump you lead the second time. Declarer will have to go after the diamond suit. You will get the lead again and continue trumps. Eventually declarer will have to lose three diamond tricks and the ace of spades.

If you don't start with a trump, declarer will still have to go after diamonds. You will get in and may shift to a trump, but it will be too late. Declarer will be able to ruff one diamond in dummy and make his contract.

Your only real problem is which trump to lead. I recommend the ace in this spot.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"Many women can not get a man to marry them." When one of her male colleagues made that statement during a tax bill debate in the United States Senate, Sen. Maurice Neuberger promptly called him on it.

"When women stay single, it is always implied that they cannot get a man," she said. "But I have never heard it said that when a man chooses to remain single, he cannot get a woman."

No, and she isn't likely to, either. Because men are so sure that any man who wants to marry any time he wants to, they just naturally assume that bachelors are always bachelors by choice.

But women don't have that kind of built-in confidence in their own sex. They figure that when a woman doesn't marry, the only possible explanation is that she couldn't get a man.

It seldom occurs to women that a woman who doesn't marry might just happen to be a lot more particular than many of her married sisters, who wanted so much to marry they were willing to take whatever they could get.

Nor do married women believe that a woman might not have married because she valued her independence too much, was so engrossed in a career she wanted to devote her life to it, or simply because the right man never came along.

So you almost never hear a married woman speaking enthusiastically of an unmarried friend.

And you never hear a married woman referring to marriage as a trap, the way many a married man does.

So, when a man makes a statement like, "Many women can not get a man to marry them," it's all right to set him straight. But don't blame him for his attitude. He got it from women who, even in this enlightened age, still consider a divorce a more successful woman than one who has never married even the wrong man.

Some words to the wise for big boys: "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Mail 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 480, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Navy To Display 'Might' And 'Mite' During Derby

The "Might" and the "Mite" of Navy aircraft will each have its hour in the Heavy Attack Wing One Tenth Annual Bombing Derby March 16-21 at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

"Might" is represented by the Wing's twin-jet A-5 Vigilante and A-3B Skywarrior, largest and most powerful combat planes ever operated from aircraft carriers. Their payloads can include the most potent nuclear weapons in the Navy's arsenal.

Also participating are Douglas A-4C Skyhawks, which with wingspans of only 27.5 feet and overall length of less than 43 feet are the "mites" of attack aviation. The A-4C is the smallest nuclear bomber in the world.

Despite their diminutive size, the Navy's more than 1,000 Skyhawks play a giant role in carrier striking forces on station around the world.

Armed with two 20 mm wing-mounted cannons, the Skyhawk can also carry several hundred variations of weapons loads including large nuclear bombs, Bulpup air-to-ground missiles, rockets and conventional high explosive bombs.

Although no A-4C's are regularly based at Sanford, Skyhawks from Carrier Air Wing One at Cecil Field (near Jacksonville) will be on hand for the final two days (Friday and Saturday) of the Bombing Derby.

An A-4C piloted by Lt. Dick Porter, who hails from Appalachicola, Fla., will compete with a Vigilante and Skywarrior in a "Might vs Mite" loft bombing contest Friday, March 20, at 9 a. m. Porter is assigned to Cecil Field's Attack Squadron Twelve.

The competitors will be launching a simulated nuclear attack on a training target in Lake George, a large body of water 85 miles northwest of Sanford.

Each will be trying to place a practice "shape," similar to an atomic weapon in dimensions, on the half-submerged hull of an old Navy landing craft.

Three Skyhawks will be at NAS Sanford for the big Air Show and Open House beginning at 9 a. m. Saturdays, March 21.

DeMolay Marks 41st Year

More than 100 members of the Sanford DeMolay chapter are observing the 41st anniversary of the founding of the international organization this week in what Mayor A. L. Wilson has proclaimed "DeMolay Week."

The local group received its charter Dec. 4, 1922. Officers are Harold Unger, master counselor; Charles Stein, senior counselor; Bobby Rumbly, junior counselor, and Bedford Aiken, chevalier.

Local members attended a breakfast Sunday at Masonic lodge and then attended church in a group.

They will present a subscription to National Geographic magazine to Seminole Memorial Hospital Wednesday and will conduct a free car window wash in the downtown area Thursday to lead to ester driving.

The week's observance will be climaxed with a dance Saturday evening at the Shrine Club.

There's a bit of Irish in all of us today, St. Patrick's Day. Notice all the green worn by the populace? And did you hear the brogue of the true Irish? It got even thicker this special day. Sure it did.

And the Rotary Club got a head start Monday, singing an Irish tune. To keep the balance, though, they also made music with a Scottish melody.

Another landmark, now considered by many if not all to be an eyesore, is succumbing to progress. It's the Palma Hotel whose walls—if they could talk — would probably offer an interesting story, to say the least. But, then, maybe it's a good thing the walls are mute.

The calorie count for Herald staffers went out the window Monday. Mrs. Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration agent for Seminole, sent over a German chocolate cake as a gesture of her appreciation for past favors the newspaper gave to her HD projects. Delicious.

Save yourself a lot of time and temper tantrums by keeping an active record of your income and outgo. That's the advice of the economics specialists with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Keeping copies of former income tax returns also gives you a lift when it comes time to file.

Bob Bessner is looking for John Krider to tell the Chamber of Commerce manager about some nationwide publicity given Sanford. Bob is displaying the annual report of the Kendall company, which did a $139 million sales business last year. Included in the report are four scenes, one at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston; one at Johns Hopkins Hospital, at Baltimore; University Hospital, Seattle, and Seminole Memorial Hospital. The hospital administrator identified the nurse in the photo as Betty Robinson, operating room supervisor. Bob also is displaying a telegram from Forbes magazine requesting permission to publish the same photograph.

Jerry Cullum, Seminole High School senior, has been named the local winner in Time magazine's 23rd annual current affairs contest. Mrs. Virginia M. Burney, teacher, also reported that other high scoring students are Stephen Bassett, Jeffery Barlow, Patrick Zueli and Howard Harris.

George Touhy gives the "News at Noon" each Monday at the Rotary luncheon. He ends his presentation with a "word for today." Monday it was this: "What happens seldom bothers us as much as what might have happened."

Grid. In many cases this is a lost faculty in today's hectic way of life. But there's one family in the Herald area that insists on solving their own problems.

And they have problems. The father is ill; has been for a long time. The young mother has children to care for as well as her husband. They were offered assistance.

Their thanks were warm. But they'll try to go it alone. Grid. In many cases a lost faculty. Not here, though.

Bomb 'Attacks' Renewed By Vigilantes

Judges were still thrashing out results late last night following the first assault on North Florida training targets by twin-jet attack planes flying in the Navy's Tenth Annual Bombing Derby at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

And while officials met this morning for final computations, a second wave of A-5 Vigilantes and A-3B Skywarriors launched an attack on another target sight at 10 a.m.

The famous fleet weapons exercise will continue through the week, winding up Saturday with an open house, two-hour air show, carrier air-ship competitions and an awards ceremony. The public is invited to all of Saturday's events.

On tap today for Heavy Attack Wing One's 18 competing flight crews was a close air support exercise, emphasizing low altitude delivery of conventional weapons such as might be expected in a "brush fire war" situation.

The event also presented the opportunity for airmen flying the Navy's new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance - attack aircraft to demonstrate the plane's tremendous versatility.

RA-5C crews made two low level attacks on practice targets at the Pinecastle Impact Range near Astor, and then flew a photo reconnaissance mission over several sections of North Florida.

Miniature practice bombs were used on the attack phase of the mission.

Today's exercise stood out in sharp contrast to Monday's competitions, where nuclear weapons employment was the keynote. Navy officials pointed out that one of the important ingredients of the annual Bombing Derby is their demands for flexibility among flight crews and equipment.

Close finishes in Monday's weapons loading and loft bombing events prohibited judges from announcing scores until later today.

As one Navy observer stated, "This is where the Navy man's pride for his unit comes in. We don't want to make any mistakes in scoring."

Sanford's Heavy Attack Squadron Five, the Navy's first unit to fly the RA-5C, is the defending champion against five other competing units.

A group from Offutt AFB, Neb., headed by Vice Adm. Robert J. Stroh of the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff, is expected Wednesday.

U2s May Be Flying Over Red Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Military observers said today that American U2 planes may be flying high-level reconnaissance missions over Communist North Viet Nam and parts of South China, Laos, and Cambodia.

Their speculation was based on an announcement Monday that the U2 planes are stationed in South Viet Nam for "an in-country mapping mission."

The high-altitude reconnaissance planes, made famous by Francis Gary Powers' espionage flight over the Soviet Union and subsequent capture and trial, are believed to be stationed at Bien Hoa airbase just north of Saigon. The base has been off limits to newsmen for some time.

A U. S. military spokesman declined to go beyond his announcement that the planes were in use within the borders of South Viet Nam for mapping purposes.

There was no explanation why it was necessary to use the long-range U2s for mapping in this small country, especially since such efficient mapping planes as the RF101 and RB57 have been in use for some time.

3 Shaken Up In Collision

Three persons were shaken up but not otherwise injured today at 7:30 a. m. when two cars collided on Celery Avenue about a half mile east of the city limits.

Examined at Seminole Memorial Hospital were Rosemary Flowers, 17, her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Flowers, both of East Celery Ave., and George Robinson of Midway.

Highway Patrolman Bill Stringfield said Robinson was driving west when his car was struck in the rear by one driven by Miss Flowers.

The latter was cited for failure to have her vehicle under control.

Dublin Recalls Son Of Erin

DUBLIN (UPI) — Irishmen marked the feast day of St. Patrick today, their traditional exuberance for a son of Erin who will never return here — John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

"Ah, we'll miss him," said one pub-keeper for the late President. "I remember when he visited his relatives last summer in County Wexford. There was nothing high-falutin' about Jack then. It was just an Irishman coming home to his folks."

President Kennedy received one of the greatest welcomes in Irish history during his car and helicopter tour of the island.

Today, hordes of Irishmen who, like the grandfather of the late President had left their homeland to try their luck in other countries, poured into the country by ship, plane and train to take part in the day's festivities.

Most Irish began St. Patrick's day with early Mass, parades and pageants, sports and drama festivals were scheduled throughout the day.

Pubbs were filled with men and women downing Irish stout and boozing out old songs in Gaelic and English. It was a marked change from past years when the pubs were closed on the saint's day. This year, the licensing law was changed.
