HOLIDAY IN ROAD BUILDING IS SEEN AS POPULAR IDEA

Hillsborough Solon Receives Congratulations Upon His Plan

TAMPA, June 29.—"Tremendously impressed"—that's what Representative Tom Watson said yesterday, discussing the telephone and personal calls from Tampanians who endorsed his legislative program for a one-year holiday in road building to give the taxpayers a break.

Watson, one of the leaders of a growing group in the Legislature behind the Matthews bill which would divert $2,000,000 of road funds to the general fund, said he would stand and fight for that bill.

"I have told hundreds of business people in Tampa in the last few days that the Matthews administration agrees to a let-up in this road building orgy we will defeat any bill seeking to tax keosauke and to put an added two-cent tax on gasoline," Watson said. "Everybody with whom I have talked—most of them came to me to talk—agreed with that program. They believe we have made enough. They believe there should be an adequate fund for maintenance. But they are bitterly against any more building."

"Take the case of the governments of the world. Look how the people have approved the present program."

Mellon Resumes His Parleys With Leaders In France

PARIS, June 29.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon resumed his conferences yesterday with French financial leaders in an effort to bring the French viewpoint into line with those of the other nations as President Hoover's plan for a war debt holiday.

He and Ambassador Walter E. Edge talked with Pierre Flandin, minister of finance; Clement Morel, governor of the Bank of France; and the other financial powers whose word will be important in determining the final French position.

The conversations thus far, and those which will follow today and tomorrow, are expected to turn principally upon the financial aspects of Mr. Hoover's proposal. Yesterday's conversations bore on the topic of the suspended interest.

Today the same issues will be discussed by the Secretary of the Treasury and Premier Laval.

It is expected that the French will be persuaded entirely to accept the suspended interest plan, which would allow the United States to suspend interest on the French war debt for a period of one year.

The possibility of interrupting the suspension was not taken into consideration when the Hoover plan was first announced.

The question that the French will be asked to consider is whether they will accept the suspension of interest on the French war debt for a period of one year.

AROUND WORLD FLIERS OFF ON RISKIEST HOP

Post And Gatty Take Off For Nome, Alaska Upon 2200-Mile Non-Stop Sea Flight

VLADIVOSTOK, June 29.—(AP)—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty resumed their world girdling dash at six P. M. today when they took off from Khabarovsk for Nome on a projected non-stop flight of 2100-miles across the North Pacific.

Patrol lines gained several notches on the fliers as they let a few precious hours slip by to have an auspicious moment for the take off on the most difficult part of the remainder of the world flight. They landed at Khabarovsk yesterday after a 350-mile hop from Blagoveshchensk. They got the longest sleep they had since leaving New York last Tuesday and after a thorough inspection of their plane pronounced it ready for the dangerous flight across the North Pacific.

They have already covered 3,250 miles on the 15,000 mile world flight in approximately five days and are well ahead of schedule which calls for completing the circuit in 10 days.

Women To Petition Hoover For Repeal Of Liquor Statute

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP)—The Women's Moderation union announced yesterday that it will petition the president with the signatures of more than 1,000,000 American women urging the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The petitions, authorized by M. Louise Gross, national chairman, appeal on behalf of mothers "who feel deeply the responsibility for the welfare of the coming generation," and have watched with "greatest anxiety the growth of intemperate habits in this country."

They will be circulated to members of the Women's Moderation union throughout the country, and read, in part, as follows:

"We see everywhere about us the disastrous effects of these habits. Men, women and children whose energies are sapped and whose respect for honest work is destroyed."

"We are almost afraid to think of the probable effects of this state of things on the men and women who are growing up to take over the inheritance of the present generation, which has been so deeply infected by the alcohol poison, and we believe that they can only be saved if a speedy end is made to the present system, the only fruit of which has been the teaching of a spirit of lawlessness."

"We are convinced that as long as national prohibition remains in force all efforts to make the people of the United States sober and temperate will be hopeless."

Similar petitions will be circulated at the 1932 national political conventions the chairman said.

Mrs. Shepherd's Body Sent Back To Tifton

The body of Mrs. C. I. Shepherd, 64, who died at the Orange General Hospital in Orlando Saturday night after a short illness, was sent to her home at Tifton, Ga., yesterday afternoon by the Elizabeth Funeral Home.

Mrs. Shepherd was on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Walden, 1015 N. Avenue, and her twin sister, Mrs. A. A. Maynard, West First Street, when she was taken ill.

She was born in Hamilton County, Fla., on Jan. 22, 1865. She had resided in Tifton, Ga., for many years.

She was survived by her husband, Mr. C. I. Shepherd, and her son, Mr. E. H. Shepherd, Jr., both of Tifton, Ga.

KEY EXPANDS HIS CHARGE MADE BY DRY LAW VIEWS WILL HAYS UPON TO BIBLE CLASS CHURCH SOCIETY

ATLANTA, June 29.—(AP)—Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta repeated and expanded his criticisms of prohibition in an address to his Bible class here yesterday while dry organizations planned a meeting to protest his much-discussed remarks made while he was touring France with a party of American mayors.

Meanwhile, three ministers here preached on prohibition Sunday, and the Rev. W. I. Tyler, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in which the Mayor teaches his Bible class, announced he would make a statement next Sunday of the church's attitude toward the amendment providing for prohibition.

Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge of the Central Congregational Church, in a "Radio Church" address, Dr. J. W. Bessom of St. Paul's Methodist Church and Dr. L. R. Christie, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist Church, discussed the dry laws. Dr. Christie's subject was "Was the Mayor Right About It?"

The dry protest meeting was announced for tonight by Dr. Charles O. Jones, superintendent of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League, who said its purpose was to "protest the wet assertions of Mayor James L. Key while in Paris." He said speakers would include Judge W. A. Covington and Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, leading prohibition advocates.

Mayor Key told his class that prohibition in America has "failed, providing a rich harvest for those who violate it and every evil of the old liquor days for those who use it."

He said he took his daughter, Ruth, to a speakeasy while he was in New York on the way to France and the operator said them "putrid liquor—we wouldn't drink the stuff."

"But," he added, "they sold it to an 18-year old school girl without asking any questions, and they are selling it to thousands of others on the same basis and the same condition—there being no condition except the ready cash."

Prohibition, he said, "has failed to prevent the sale, use or spread in the use of intoxicants, one of the prime motives for its enactment. It has failed miserably in keeping it from the hands of the innocent youth of America."

The mayor said he had no solution to offer but knew the "good people of the United States want a change. They want liquor controlled but the Eighteenth amendment has failed in that. It is up to the citizens to put their good common sense to the question and solve it. I know they can."

The mayor's speech had been distributed for only a few minutes when his presence announced the subject of last Sunday's sermon.

TEN KILLED AS SPAIN BALLOTS FOR REPUBLIC

Various Disturbances Attend Election To Decide Kind Of Government Will Rule

MADRID, June 29.—(AP)—Despite strict censorship on dispatches telling of election disturbances it was learned today that 10 persons were killed in uprisings attending yesterday's voting. Major disturbances on balloting which, on the basis of incomplete returns, showed a victory for the conservative republican socialist bloc, occurred at Malaga, Seville and Pieve.

It was necessary to declare martial law because a general strike was called in protest against the death of a workman in an election brawl.

Two persons, including a policeman, died in Adolons when communists fought with police. Another was killed in a fight between Catholic nationalists and republicans in San Sebastian.

Two persons were killed in fights between police and communists at Alamedilla, near Granada. In Malaga one person was killed when police fired on a mob.

More than 1000 candidates, representing 24 parties and independent tickets, sought seats as deputies.

The republican-socialist bloc is relatively conservative like the present provisional government.

Political observers last night believed Alejandro Lerroux, minister of foreign affairs, stood out as the most probable future president of the republic in case Alcala Zamora is not left in that position.

Early indications were that Mr. Lerroux, who has been removed as chief of the air corps as a result of his political activities for the "revolutionary party," had been elected at Seville. This was expected to bring about his release from arrest in connection with an alleged plot for an uprising to establish an Andalusian republic.

The Catalan question, involving the future status of that province under the federal republic, increased in importance when it appeared that Francisco Macia, provincial president, had triumphed with his Catalan independence party. The question is now whether the independents will accept steepled under the Spanish republic or insist upon a separate Catalan state.

In Valencia the radical republicans, under the leadership of Minister Lerroux, were leading.

It was apparent that the triumph of the republican-socialist group in Madrid would mean that two women had been elected to the assembly. They are Victoria Kent, first Spanish director of prisons, and Clara Campoamor, a Madrid attorney.

Delay Is Granted In Sentencing Of Scarface Capone

CHICAGO, June 29.—(AP)—Sentencing of Al Capone on a plea of guilty to prohibition conspiracy and violation of federal income tax laws was reset today for July 30 on a motion of the gang chief's counsel.

Capone was to have been sentenced tomorrow. The government made no objection to deferment of the time for pronouncing sentence and Federal Judge Wilkerson granted the petition.

Capone's attorney stipulated that the gangster would begin serving sentence immediately after the hearing July 30. A maximum of 32 years imprisonment was imposed but the current opinion in court circles indicated a term of not more than three years.

Legality Of City's Present Limits Is Questioned In Suit

VARNER DEFENDS LAWS DEVISED TO FORCE MORALITY

Censures People Who Use Arguments Of "Personal Liberty"

"Human nature, which is exceedingly corrupt," needs every restraint possible put around it, said the Rev. Carroll Varner of the First Methodist Church as he summed up his short sermon on "Personal Liberty," delivered at the church yesterday before a large audience.

Dr. Varner declared that the question of personal liberty was settled for all time by the Bible when, in St. Paul's epistle to the Romans, Chapter 14, Verse 7, we find this sentence: "For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself."

The love of God and our neighbor as ourselves was pictured by the speaker as being the ideal state, "but, until that time comes, it will be necessary to regulate the rights and liberties of peoples by laws."

The Rev. Varner's sermon was as follows: We grow weary these days of so much talk about "personal liberty." Just as soon as any honest goodness effort is made to have the laws of the community or nation enforced, or new laws passed with which to curb the evil tendencies of men, there immediately arises from certain quarters the cry of "interference of personal liberty," or that other alibi, "you can't make people moral by law!"

Dr. Varner, who was speaking at the church yesterday, said that the right when he recently made the statement, published in a well-known magazine, that we have experimented with this so-called personal liberty business until it has reached the explosion point, and the pendulum having swung just as far as it is going to in that direction is now about to swing back in the other direction. Let us hope that he is a prophet as well as a great preacher.

The truth of the matter is, that back of much of this hue and cry about the encroachment on personal rights, and etc., is somebody's personal grudge against the Eighteenth Amendment, or statutes against gambling, or the observance of the Sabbath, or easy annulment of the marriage vow. Instead of coming out flat-footedly and saying in so many words they are in favor of all the liquor they can get, they are in favor of the public want regardless of the suffering entailed upon innocent ones; that they believe in all kinds of gambling whether on a horse race or a slot machine; that they do not believe the Sabbath should be observed as a holy day, and etc., they proceed to throw out a smoke-screen by saying they don't believe in trying to make people good by law, or don't believe in any infringement on one's personal liberty.

In all probability those who have so much to say about personal liberty are not thinking so much about liberty as license; they want an excess of liberty. And by the same logic which they use there would be no laws against murder, stealing, house-breaking, carrying of concealed weapons, etc. Every sensible person knows quite well the necessity of laws on our statute books against murder, stealing, and various other crimes, and we all clamor for their enforcement; nor does anyone object that the enforcement of them is an effort to make people good by means of the law.

The Louisiana lottery which flourished so powerfully a generation ago was a monster evil, but many innocent people were caught by it, and the thought of legislating it out of existence was laughed at. After the public was aroused, however, laws were at once passed prohibiting it, and today it is only an unpleasant memory of which Louisiana itself is ashamed. No one thinks that was just a foolish effort to make people "good."

The revolt against authority and an undue emphasis on personal rights reached its inevitable end in the French Revolution. (Continued on Page Four)

Fight Is Launched Against Roosevelt By Woman's Group

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP)—An editorial characterizing Governor Roosevelt of New York as "wetter than Smith" and calling upon southern Democratic women to bolt the party if he were nominated for president was published today by the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League.

The article was written by Mrs. Jesse Nicholson, president of the league, and appeared in its official organ, "The Woman Voter." The editorial also assailed Colonel Edward House, confidential adviser to President Wilson, who recently conferred with Roosevelt in Massachusetts.

Referring to a statement attributed to House that Roosevelt would be acceptable to the "Woman Voter" (editorial said) "What does he mean? The very southern politicians who supported 'Smith' in 1928?"

BRAPMAN'S MEN READY FOR TRIP TO COCOA SUNDAY

Pilot Burns Them Up At Practice Bees; Bud Lake Will Hurl

Headed by their new manager, Bert Chapman, and accompanied by a host of fans, the Celery Feds will leave here at noon tomorrow for the 88 mile ride to Cocoa where they tackle the Indians in one of the few games remaining on the first half schedule. The game gets under way at 3:30 o'clock.

A verbal lashing which is said to have been plenty warm, stung the hapless Feds to the quick at both Friday and Saturday afternoon practice sessions, for the pilot expressed his opinion of his athletes in no uncertain tones. Although he realized that as far as first half baseball honors were concerned the Feds have less a chance of climbing from the cellar, Chapman was particularly concerned over the failure of his men to heed his repetitious suggestions as to how to play; this game of baseball. He is unable to understand why the boys, after playing together for nearly 20 games, have failed to click as a well-oiled machine; why the defensive value of the team has failed to rise above a nothing minus value.

While it is useless to rehash all the old days and games, in defense of Fed pitchers we, as well as all the fans, know that the pitching has been more than good. Only the fielding has failed to improve, and Chapman seems unable to reach the hidden sore. He is unable to understand why a group of such promising youngsters should fail miserably when it comes to catching and throwing baseballs.

The Feds, errors and all, will visit Cocoa tomorrow however, for the express purpose of winning their third game of league competition. They will send their pitching ace, the sensational Buddy Lake, to the hill, and they have promised one another that errors will be reduced to a minimum. From past performances, tomorrow's contest should be a well-played one, for the Feds usually play a good game and then a bad one. The bad one hit here in all its glory Thursday. The good one will be played at Cocoa tomorrow.

The lineup remains as it was in Thursday's game. Britt will lead off, Peters next, and Deutch, Martin, Miller, Higgins, Harrison, Seltrud, and Lake in that order.

It will be the 17th game of the first half play. Thursday the Feds will visit Daytona, while on Sunday they go to St. Augustine. They do not play here again until July 9, the last day of the first half.

Chase Outfit Wins From Grocer Team By 16- To 8 Score

By H. E. CULLUM.

Chase & Company's among ball team jumped on Paul Pezold in the second inning last night, and before the Piggly-Wiggly could retire the side, 14 runs had been scored by the Chase players.

Outside of this one inning Pezold held Chase, up to the seventh inning, the Chase men being able to score twice more up to this inning. In the seventh, Chase staged another rally, and had put over 4 runs when the rain stopped the game. On account of the rain the game had to revert to the sixth inning, the score at the end of this inning, Chase 16, Piggly-Wiggly 8. Ravenel starred for the Chase team, both in the field and at the bat, making several hard catches. He also got three hits out of four times up, a single, double and home run. Buddy Lake also played a good game at third.

LEARN TO AVOID BOXING BOOTS AT MUNICIPAL PARK

Peckham Will Be Head- liner On Wednesday Night Fight Program

By PETER SCHAAAL.
Boxing, one of the earliest forms of amateur and professional sport, will make a return to Sanford after an absence of nearly two years, when, under the auspices of the Campbell-Lewis Foot of the American Legion, Bill Melton, well known fight promoter will bring a group of fast scrappers of recognized ability and standing here next Wednesday for an inaugural fight card.

Municipal Park will be the scene of the bouts, which will get under way with a fast preliminary starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Realizing that his opening card must be one of such dramatic and spirited proportions as will merit a large attendance of local fans, Promoter Melton has succeeded in securing one of the best amateur boxers in central Florida as one of the stars of the feature bout of the evening, none other than Stanley Peckham, the 135 pound University of Florida star who lives at signed up by Piggly-Wiggly played a mighty good game in right field, accepting all chances without an error.

On Monday night Matland will come to Sanford to look up with a picked team. Matland defeated the Sanford team on their last visit, and the boys are determined to even up the series Monday night.

He was on the Gator team which was entered in the intercollegiate boxing tournament held at the University of Maryland, and was successful in upholding his end of the game by knocking out his opponent through the early rounds to reach the finals. He lost only by a decision in the final match.

Peckham will be matched with Eddie Stewart, Miami, a 127 pound lightweight who has fought headliners throughout the south for many years. He has participated in more than 100 battles, coming through with a better than 750 mark, and with several champions of important fairs to his credit. He holds decisions over such boxing talent as Joe Blanco, Joe Shaver, and George Fleming, while in a recent bout at Jacksonville, he held the reigning, title-driving Billy Teams, Opala, to a draw.

With these youngsters scheduled as the main attraction, Promoter Melton's preliminary and semi-final bouts will also continue interest, for a Sanford batter in an one side of each scrap. In the semi-final, E. O. Roachey, 145 pound colored batter of Sanford will mix it with Benzer Lancaster, Orlando. The Barrett lives up to his name in more ways than one, and has often appeared in Orlando rings as either headliner or semi-final attraction.
