Old Gun Club Proposed For Organization

Are you interested in old guns?

Pete Powell, a Navy Shore Patrolman stationed at the Sanford NAS, and who lives at 1513 1/2 Palmetto Ave. is attempting to organize a hobby club of persons interested in the collection, study and firing of old guns or replicas of guns.

Muzzle-loaders or guns that use black powder and ball such as Kentucky rifles and Civil War and pre-Civil War guns are the type which are included in this hobby club. Powell says that such clubs exist all over the U. S.

State Criticizes Seminole JP's, Constables On Handling Funds; Board Mildly Rapped

State Auditor Bryan Willis sharply criticized three Seminole County justices of the peace, three constables for their handling of public funds and was mildly critical of County Commission records from September of 1960 to 1961, it was revealed today.

Willis also reported a cash deficit of $337 in the Tax Assessor's office in February of this year which was made up four months later. At the same time he praised the books of Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr., County Judge Vernon Mize, Sheriff J. L. Hobby.

Justices of the peace Hugh Duncan, Elmer Ashley and Thomas Moon as well as former Peace Justice Theo Ania were also criticized for not complying with Florida statutes in their handling of public funds. Duncan was rapped for not keeping a balanced cashbook as well as criminal docket record books not being kept properly. The audit also revealed that he was overpaid $332.86 in criminal coroner fees by the county. Constables Bob Carroll, George Kelsey and W. A. Lewis were criticized for the same statute regarding the handling of public funds. Also in for criticism was former peace Justice Homer Sewell. The only constable to get a good audit was Grady Hall of Allamont Springs. The state auditor, discussing the County Commission audit for the three year period, said records were generally well kept but that the board without apparent authority authorized the negotiating commission to hold several dinner meetings during the audit period at the county's expense. Records reveal that the costs of the meals amounted to $170.72 and were held during August and December of 1960. The board was also criticized for buying a bed linen without authority for the Good Samaritan Home and for not having a centralized purchasing system.

Here in Seminole

Seminole County's first push-button dairy farm will be in operation here soon.
The installation of new equipment that will make possible an almost completely automated operation, one of the first in the South, is now underway at Joe Baker's dairy farm out on the Elder Springs Road.

The Baker operation, which consists of some 350 acres here and hundreds of acres of pasture land in Marion County, is home to a herd of over 400 milch cows, which produce over 1,200 gallons of milk daily. In order to increase the eficiency of the overall operation there is now under construction at the farm a completely new feeding barn which will be entirely push-button operated. The basic structure for the feeding operation are three huge tanks which hold the specialized feeds given to the cows, such as citrus pulp, which, when the button is pushed, drops down onto a worm that conveys the feed through tubes and into a trough where another worm installation carries it the length of the feeding barn, which accommodates 50 cows on each side of the feed trough.

The other two tanks make their contributions on command, as does a large silage bin which drops the silage directly into the trough. Baker says the use of the worm conveyor guarantees even distribution of the feed in the big trough. The cows will come into the feed barn directly from the milk "parlor" which is being re-equipped with the latest development in milking machines, and which will save an estimated 10 to 15 per cent in milking time, and increase the amount of milk obtained by using a revolutionary new pulsator. This is only the fifth such installation of this magnitude in the state.

Meredith Stopped On 3rd Down

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — Negro James Meredith today made his third attempt to enroll at the University of Mississippi but was stopped outside the campus by Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson and turned away.

The confrontation started calmly but ended in a pushing-shoving contest. Gov. Ross Barnett, who has twice turned away the 29-year-old Air Force veteran in his persistent attempt to break the color barrier at Ole Miss, also flew to Oxford but sent Johnson to stop Meredith this time.

The Negro was turned aside as the nation in general, and the federal government in particular, watched a deliberately defiant act of protest against federal interference in state affairs. Meredith, who was refused admission by Barnett here last Thursday and at the State College Board offices in Jackson Tuesday, flew here today from New Orleans. He arrived in a car, accompanied by deputy U.S. marshals, at 10:55 a.m.

He was stopped by state troopers a few feet outside the campus entrance and U. S. Marshal James McShane told Johnson. "We are not going to let him in," Johnson said. "You want to make a big show for the whole country to see. We have a duty to perform."

"I am going to have to refuse on the same grounds the governor did," Johnson said. Johnson said that admitting the Negro at this time would possibly result in violence and said "I refuse before."

John Dear, attorney for the U. S. Department of Justice, then stepped forward and reminded Johnson that Meredith's admission had been ordered by federal courts. Dear then attempted to serve on Johnson a contempt citation directed against Barnett. Johnson refused it.

The meeting started out amicably between Johnson and McShane, but quickly turned into a test of wills. McShane repeatedly tried to shove through the line of unarmed state troopers but made no headway. Meredith appeared calm and stayed behind McShane as he walked from one point to another in the line, trying to find a hole.

Franchise Meet Set Thursday

Highlight of the Seminole Association of Communities meeting Thursday evening, at the Longwood Elementary School, will be a discussion of the proposed sewage directive between County Commissioner Vernon Dunn and Col. Paul Blaisell, of Lake Mary, one of the leading antagonists of the measure as proposed.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a short talk on the work of the Airport Planning Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, by Wilbur Stewart, Fern Park, a former Federal Aviation Agency expert on airport planning and construction.

A resolution will be introduced by Sanford representative Joe Baker, calling on the County Commission to make a definite policy stand on the matter of road construction and fund allocation for that purpose. Commenting on his resolution, Baker said, "It is time the people of Seminole County knew what to expect of the Commission on the matter of road construction, and time the Commission committed itself definitely on the distribution of funds for that purpose."

The meeting is open to the public and will be held in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

Reds Plan Cuba Naval Base

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States cast anxious eyes today on Russia's latest Cuban aid maneuver—construction of a "fishing port" that is expected to become a Red naval base.

No matter what Premier Fidel Castro chooses to call the new anchorage the Soviets are building for him, officials here expected it to be a significant base for extending communist operations in several ways. It could impose new complications on the announced United States policy of increased surveillance of Cuba and containment of Castroism.

Castro announced the joint venture Tuesday over Havana Radio, saying the Soviet Union would build the port "to facilitate fishery operations of the Soviet fleet in the Atlantic area."

The meeting is open to the public and will be held in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

Starke Murder Trial Continues

STARKE (UPI)—The first degree murder trial of Thomas Gill Jr., accused of the shotgun slaying of a 17-year-old girl, continued in Bradford County Circuit Court today as the state sought to prove the killing premeditated.

Gill, 25, a graduate of the University of Florida, pleaded innocent as the trial opened Tuesday to the murder of Lina Hopkins on April 15 as she stood talking with him at the front yard of her home.

The meeting is open to the public and will be held in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

Scoutmaster Hit On Passing Out Pamphlets

MIAMI (UPI) — A scoutmaster was under fire here today, accused of passing out "right-wing" literature to boys in his troop.

Norman Benson, Scoutmaster of Troop 69 in south Dade County, admitted distributing several pamphlets. Among them was one called "Red Stars" which names more than 200 actors, singers and composers as "Reds and fellow travelers."

Benson said he got the pamphlet from the Liberty Lending Library, a distribution point for literature operated by an anti-communist study group in Homestead.

Ed McCall 'Call To Action'

Sportsmen Call Meet To Talk Hunt Solution

A public meeting will be held at the Civic Center Monday night to try to find a way to allow hunting in the area southeast of Sanford and properly protect the rights of all property owners at the same time.

The board of directors of the Seminole County Sportsman's Assn. voted Tuesday night to sponsor the public meeting in the public interest and will invite all interested individuals, county commissioners, Sheriff J. L. Hobby and the top officials of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to attend.

The president of the association, Edward McCall Jr., called the meeting to discuss action Tuesday in which the county commission reaffirmed a previous resolution asking the game commission to close the area bounded roughly south of 25th St. and east of Sanford Ave. to dove shooting this season.

The Game Commission had deferred action on the resolution by the county, which acted on the request of some property owners in the area last May. "We think that our active membership of 450 persons this year represents the feeling of the majority of the residents of the county more exactly than the smaller number of people who asked that this area be closed to hunting," McCall said.

"We do not wish to enter any controversy about it, but feel that it is important that a solution be worked out that will benefit both sportsmen and land owners of the present and the future.

"The Sportsman's Assn. will do anything possible to cooperate with law officers and property owners to promote safety and prevent violation of privacy and destruction of property," McCall said.

"We hope that a large number of our members and the general public will attend Monday's meeting in order that our county officials and state officials may know what the desires of the majority are. We must stress that the area in question has not been closed to hunting by any action taken so far and we urge all groups interested in this solution to come to the meeting and make their wishes known," McCall said.

Search On For Aide's Office

The search for rooms to house the proposed and budgeted administrative aide or deputy clerk for the county commission has started in earnest by Zoning Director Robert Brown, who is gauging every nook and cranny in the court house hoping it can be tailored to fit the new offices.

One suggestion was to use the office vacated by Probation Officer Jim Lee, next door to the commission chamber, which Brown thought would be adequate. The problem also exists for housing a full time county lawyer, if one is hired. Brown said the Small Claims Court could be moved across the street, and the room, Brown said, "wouldn't be big enough for an aide or deputy clerk, but would take care of an attorney."

The commission decided to refer the matter to the Van Hoy Committee, in charge of the renovation of the court house.

Commissioner Ted Williams proposed that the Zoning Director's salary be raised by $100 a month, instead of the formerly proposed $50 per month.

He used as a basis figures from other counties where the zoning director receives higher salary, plus allowances and expense and does not also serve as Building Director and Planning Director as does Brown. Commissioners deferred action on the proposal until they could study the comparable figures shown on a tabulation sheet.

In other business County Road Superintendent J. C. Lavender was authorized to pave a 1,000 ft. stretch of road on Adair Ave. in Altamonte Springs, because maintenance costs are excessive, due to washouts.

County Engineer Bill Bush was instructed to look into rights of way along Jerry Creek with the aim of finding a way to control the rising waters of Lake Kathryn in Casselberry. He was also instructed to get drainage easements along Lake of the Woods to maintain the outfall and keep water off the road along the Orange County line during the rainy season.

The interceptor ditch in Tanglewood came up for discussion and the County Engineer was instructed to write to the Winter Park engineer's office and remind them of their agreement to provide maintenance of the ditch.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn reported many instances of the dumping of trash in his district, saying that he has found refuse from taverns, garages, restaurants and contractors. The commissioners discussed various means of dealing with the situation in an effort to apprehend the dumpers. Lavender was instructed to see Sheriff J.L. Hobby would consent to deputize some road department employes for the purpose of arresting violators.

The commissioners agreed to an on the site inspection Tuesday concerning a proposed land swap by a Lake Mary nursery owner, whose nursery now infringes on county rights of way. Commissioner James Avery maintained that the lots offered by the landowner were low and swampy and not worth anything, but commissioners agreed to take a look at them.

Avery requested that the commissioners come to a decision on requests for funds from the Altamonte Springs and Longwood libraries, but legal and technical questions were raised and no motion was made. County Attorney Harold Johnson was instructed to determine the procedure of other counties along the lines of the provisions of funds for the libraries.

Commissioner Williams was authorized by the board to interview a Cuban refugee from the refugee center in Miami pertaining to the position of nurse at the County Home. The commissioners had been notified that no more state funds would be allowed until the home had the required service of a nurse.

The nurse has been approved by the State Health Dept. and the local employment service. Williams was also authorized to fix up the nurses quarters at the county home, if she accepted the job.

A letter from Sen. Bernard Parrish was read by Clerk Arthur Beckwith notifying the commissioners of a hearing on the Sanford-Titusville Canal to be held in the County Commission Room of the Orange County Courthouse, Thursday at 3 p. m.

7 Refugees Rescued At Sea

MAYPORT (UPI) — Seven young Cuban farmers who became sailors for 15 days as they fled the Fidel Castro regime were brought here today.

They were rescued at sea Tuesday by the motor vessel Silver Bay, a federal government exploratory fishing boat from Brunswick, Ga.

The seven men, aged 25 to 29, told authorities they had drifted for 15 days, the last seven with little water.

The Silver Bay found the refugees in their 20-foot boat about 80 miles off St. Augustine.

JFK Watches Broadway Musical

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy watched the song and dance woe Tuesday night of a musical "Mr. President" seeking readjustment to private life after two terms in office.

But Kennedy, arriving for the second act curtain at the Washington premiere of the Broadway-bound show, missed a first act spoof of life in the White House — including dancing of "the twist."

The $15 to $100 a seat performance, which Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy saw from the presidential box in its entirety, was for the benefit of the Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Institute, Washington, and the Kennedy Child Study Center, New York City. Both are financed by the family-sponsored Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, named for the President's late brother.

"Mr. President," with songs by Irving Berlin and book by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, drew vigorous applause from the Kennedys and the benefit audience. Many of its topical lines hit home with the social and governmental dignitaries in the audience.

"Very good... very good," said the President when he was asked to comment on the show.

When Mrs. Kennedy met her fictitious counterpart in the show — actress Nanette Fabray — she told her she "lived" the show.

But other members of the administration were privately calling it a dud.

The real-life first lady applauded throughout the show, including a song in which Miss Fabray recalled a recent trip of Mrs. Kennedy's by singing:

"In Pakistan they let me see a lovely lake,
"In India they let me see a mongoose kill a snake."
Movie star Robert Ryan portrayed President Stephen Decatur Henderson in the show, and Kennedy applauded him vigorously after the performance. But because Kennedy arrived late, he had to lean over to his wife for fill-ins on what the plot was about.

This included the improbable romance of the President's daughter, played by Anita Gillette, with a Secret Service agent, played by Jack Haskell.

Rights Suit Filed In Queens

NEW YORK (UPI) — Suit was filed in federal court Tuesday charging schools in Queens are racially segregated and operated in a manner similar to the pupil assignment plan popular in some southern states.

Negro Attorney Paul Zuber, active in several recent legal fights involving alleged segregation in the New York area, filed the action after a 26-hour sit-in demonstration by Negro parents at the office of school Supt. John J. Theobald.

The suit was brought on behalf of 48 children who have been assigned to junior high school 141. Their parents claim that junior high school 145 is closer to their homes and want them assigned there.

Federal Workers Near Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was expected today to pass a bill to raise the pay of 600,000 federal workers.

The bill is one of the most complex ever to come out of the Senate Post Office Committee.

Provisions of the bill would mean an increase of 4 percent for all 575,000 and dramatic changes and curbs starting next Jan. 1. It would also raise the pay of congressional aides and lowest federal positions by 60 million a year.

One section provided to stir a floor fight. This provision would direct the Treasury Department and the postmaster general to intercept Communist-originated mail and deliver it only if the addressee wants it.

This was substituted for a section in the House version of the postal increase bill which would bar materials regarded as political propaganda from the first, second and third class mails.

Other congressional news: Cohn: The House was prepared to give sweeping approval to a right-of-access resolution on Cuba and send it to the White House. The resolution warns that the United States, if necessary, will use force to prevent any aggressive move or offensive military buildup by Cuba.

Summary: Senate Democratic Whip Robert H. Taft, in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, praised the Import-Export Bank but said he thought it was too conservative in many of its risk-taking activities. He said the fact it had earned a surplus for several years indicated it was "being excessively cautious."

Bad Winter For Asian Flu Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you're (1) over 45, (2) pregnant, or (3) suffering from a chronic disease, the surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service has some advice for you.

His advice is: Start taking flu shots right away.

It looks like it's going to be a bad winter for Asian flu, according to Surgeon General Luther L. Terry.

The last widespread epidemic of Asian flu occurred in this country during the winter of 1959-60. Since the disease hits in cycles of two or three years, Americans are due for a large outbreak this winter, probably beginning about mid-December.

Terry said the impact of Asian flu on a healthy young person is relatively mild. But its debilitating effects can be "quite serious" for certain types of people, he noted.

"Long experience shows that the greatest risks occur when influenza strikes persons over 45 years of age, pregnant women and those suffering from chronic illnesses," he said.

For some of them, the disease can be fatal.

Survivors Of Plane Crash Heading Home

LONDON (UPI) — A Swiss freighter and a Canadian aircraft carrier steamed for separate ports today with the 48 survivors and 12 bodies recovered from the ditching of a Flying Tiger Lines airliner.

An air-sea search for the remaining 16 passengers and crewmen was abandoned at dusk Tuesday night when British and American officials decided there was no more chance of finding them alive.

The Canadian carrier Bonaventure was due in the Shannon, Ireland, Estuary shortly after noon to allow helicopters to remove to hospitals four of the more seriously injured survivors.

Classmate Says Ole Miss Negro Was Popular

OXFORD, Miss (UPI) — A classmate of the first Negro to attend the University of Mississippi said Tuesday night that Harry S. Murphy Jr. was a "very popular" student who danced with white coeds in the campus canteen.

"He was a big dancer, all right," said drug store operator John Leslie. "He liked to jitterbug."

Leslie said he was in the same Navy V12 class with the lightskinned Murphy at Ole Miss in 1945-46.

Chemist Takes Issue On Use Of Insecticides

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — An American Cyanamid Co. chemist today took issue with Author Rachel Carson's contention that heavy use of insecticides is slowly poisoning humans and the food they eat.

Dr. Robert H. White-Stevens told a food additives conference here that "Silent Spring" Miss Carson's recently published book, builds the hazards of agricultural chemicals to staggering dimensions, while deliberately depreciating all those safety measures which research has laboriously built into them."

The Wayne, N. J., chemist said insecticides are not used as widely as "Miss Carson implies" and he said the federal government provided adequate safety controls.

In her book, Miss Carson warned of a future "silent spring" in which nothing would grow because of over-use of insecticides. She also warned that humans were ingesting poisonous residue left on food after they had been sprayed by insecticides.

White said insecticides have to be poisonous or they wouldn't be effective against insects. "However," he said, "the danger is only to those who apply the compounds—not to the general consumer."

He said there was no evidence "whatsoever" to support Miss Carson's contention that insecticides may cause genetic mutation.

White acknowledged that there had been 80 fatalities in the United States last year traced to improper use of insecticides. He said most were due to industrial accidents and compared that number with "about 150 persons. Mostly children who die annually from excessive doses of aspirin."

U.S. May Resume Atmospheric Nuclear Testing In Pacific

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The possibility arose today that the United States may resume atmospheric nuclear testing in the Pacific before Walter M. Schirra Jr. attempts his six-orbit space flight next month.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department said they would start triggering nuclear tests above Johnston Island, 800 miles southwest of Honolulu, at the end of September or early in October.

The schedule calls for three high-altitude (rocket-borne) tests and four or five atmospheric explosions of experimental devices dropped from airplanes.

Police Take Steps To Aid Visiting British Fascist

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Police took special precautions to insure order today when British wartime Fascist leader Sir Oswald Mosley speaks at the State University of New York.

A police spokesman said orders were issued Tuesday at a closed meeting in the office of Commissioner Howard E. Finney to prepare for any disturbances that may be sparked by Mosley's appearance. He did not elaborate.

Three congressmen and a state senator have denounced the appearance of the controversial Englishman. They were Sen. Jacob K. Javits, (R-N.Y.), Reps. Seymour Halpern, (R-N.Y.), and Emanuel Celler, (D-N.Y.), and state Senate majority leader Walter J. Mahoney. Mosley arrived here by plane Tuesday night and was greeted by students bearing placards that read, "Stop Mosley—No Nazis here" and "Help keep our streets clean." Several student groups plan to protest Mosley's appearance. They do not oppose his right to speak, but are against his philosophy.

In a short interchange with reporters before he was whisked off in a taxi by a student leader, Mosley said he thought America is a "very dynamic society." Asked if there is sympathy for his ideas in the United States, he answered, "We'll talk about it."

End On List

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Lou Cordileone, a defensive end, has been placed on the Los Angeles Rams' waiver list. He was obtained from the San Francisco Forty Niners during the off season.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA and the AEC have agreed to schedule their operations so that there will be no conflict between the explosions and astronaut Schirra's flight.

Schirra's journey recently was postponed from Sept. 28 to Oct. 3 with no assurance it would not be delayed further. This raised the question of whether the AEC would go ahead with the test series — which it hopes to conclude by mid-November — while Schirra was grounded.

If Schirra's leap into space should be postponed much past Oct. 3, it was believed, the AEC might decide it was safe to get an atmospheric shot or two out of the way in the meantime.

Strikes... Spares

We had ourselves a beautiful day of happy hits at the Saturday Morning Junior League as trophies for the recently completed Summer Schedule were presented and also, the perennial bowling shirts were awarded to the various winners.

And Non-Ch-Man, but are these shirts over there? Just like them in all of our adult leagues.

It has a bowling ball going through the pins with the words... Sanford Junior League, Fla. and get this, too, their names are inscribed on the back of the shirts... but like the pro's I hope they'll be in the net too distant future.

Didn't you notice that when there's one really good game rolled, it's followed by another two or three in quick succession.

On Friday night for example in the Double Federation Points League, Bill Howard started out with eight strikes in a row and wound-up with a tremendous 307! I believe that's the highest Bill's rolled in league play. This duo of Howard and Tourneau were rolling against Maxwell and Woody Wilson.

In the very next game, Woodrow Wilson started his streak of strikes and almost duplicated Bill's high game with a 258. Woody's series for the night was 604. Man, his ball is really "churnin'".

That 604 just wasn't good enough to cop the honors for the night, though. Al DePalmas had his Big Bomb working, as he exploded with games of 308, 308, 336/658. And would you believe it, he rolled three practice games before league, and he had just as good a series. Man, that's mighty fine shootin'.

Midge Woods continues to dominate the high scoring in the Friday p. m. Sandspur League as he turned in the hi for the night in game and series, a 190/502.

Bowling alongside the Sandspur League are the Mr. & Mrs. couples.

Mah good buddy, Harold Johnson has a lot of moxy, let me tell you. He started one of his games with 6 consecutive splits, that's right splits... (that's usually enough to get you to sweat off the game) and he still came back and rolled the hi game of the evening — a 302. (Golly, he shouldn't get another split for a year after a seige like that!)

If you get to the point that you're starting to "feel your age," just listen to this my friends.

On Friday afternoon, we play host to the Dobbey Spare Ribbers League. And usually, their membership has most of the highest in the 50 to 55 years of age category.

Well, this past Friday, Frank Woodruff joined the "boys" again and decided he'd like to roll his 3-game series. It was also his birthday.

What's so unusual about this? He's 79 years young and rolls a ball better than some character who I know (with the initials of J. A. Spelaki).

Incidentally, this week's hi game and series were turned in by Big Ed Conley—193 and Easy Long—361.

The Thursday A. M. Kingswood Elms/Bunland League had some consistent bowling turned in by Beverly Grabarkiewicz (Jumps' go-head-o-phants... that's a column of space in itself). That's the only name I know of which is mis-pronounced more often than Split-shil Anysey, Rev (what's her last name) shot games of 162, 175, 171/508—tops for the league.

These Mixed Couples from the Thursday Night Mixed League had some good bowling done by their members, too! Come to think of it, that Ellen Betts has been rolling a beautiful ball lately. Ellen's 609 was tops for the girls as Jess Carathers' 556 was good enough to take the honors for the men. Not too many pins behind was Virgil Anderson with his 201/540 set.

The Jet Lanes Kegler's Lg (Thursday p. m.) finally got rolling and it didn't take O. K. Tire Store's Tony Rodriguez long to read the lanes to his liking! Tony blasted a 305 and finished with a respectable 598 set.

Like we were saying earlier, this was the week for lots and lots of BIG GAMES!

Mike Harshman's 236 is a good example. In the Ball & Chain League his efforts netted him the hi game honors with Andy Bolton capturing series with a 550. And how about that Louise Sharp winning both, hi game and series with a 190/506. Atta girl, Louise!

It's real good to see Henry Tamn's name in this column again. Hank's the champ of the City League with a huge 248/629 series. (When are you turning pro, Henry?)

That'll just about do it for this week, friends. Don't forget our Silver Dollar Tournament each Friday at 6:30 p. m. and again on Sunday evening at the same time. And Oh yes... we do have open lanes each and every evening at 8:45. Come on out with the whole gang.

Braves Lose 12-6

By Ronale Broadway

Daytona Beach invaded Sanford Tuesday night and spoiled the first home game for Sanford Junior High School's light squad by a 12-6 score.

Coach Owen McCarron's scrappers still put up quite a fight despite the loss. The Braves defense was outstanding all night, except for the 13 points scored. Halfback Chuck Pigott was a real standout for Sanford on defense and was in on practically every tackle that was made. Quarterback Frank Whigham was the big gun for the offense, carrying and passing the ball for considerable yardage. Kelly Ogden also proved his worth in the Brave backfield for the first time. Since being moved to the starting offensive eleven, Ogden did a fine job all night.

Sanford's Braves failed to score their first time with the ball. The pigskin was moved all the way down to the Daytona Beach four yard line, where a light Daytona defense stuck for four plays. Upon giving up the ball, Sanford then turned on their defense. Daytona was stopped cold and was forced to punt deep in their own end zone. The first period ended with the Daytona eleven punting to the Sanford 25.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second quarter, the Braves fumbled the ball and Daytona recovered. As time passed and Daytona moved the pigskin, they finally crossed the Sanford goal line with 2:40 left in the first half. The extra point was stopped and Daytona led 6-0 at halftime.

Daytona scored once again in the third period to move the scoreboard up to 13 points in their favor. Sanford just couldn't get the ball to move but finally with 1:41 left in the final period the Braves crossed the goal line with halfback Pete Barlow doing the honors.

Sanford's Braves failed to score their first time with the ball. The pigskin was moved all the way down to the Daytona Beach four yard line, where a light Daytona defense stuck for four plays. Upon giving up the ball, Sanford then turned on their defense. Daytona was stopped cold and was forced to punt deep in their own end zone. The first period ended with the Daytona eleven punting to the Sanford 25.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second quarter, the Braves fumbled the ball and Daytona recovered. As time passed and Daytona moved the pigskin, they finally crossed the Sanford goal line with 2:40 left in the first half. The extra point was stopped and Daytona led 6-0 at halftime.

Daytona scored once again in the third period to move the scoreboard up to 13 points in their favor. Sanford just couldn't get the ball to move but finally with 1:41 left in the final period the Braves crossed the goal line with halfback Pete Barlow doing the honors.

Daytona Beach invaded Sanford Tuesday night and spoiled the first home game for Sanford Junior High School's light squad by a 12-6 score.

Coach Owen McCarron's scrappers still put up quite a fight despite the loss. The Braves defense was outstanding all night, except for the 13 points scored. Halfback Chuck Pigott was a real standout for Sanford on defense and was in on practically every tackle that was made. Quarterback Frank Whigham was the big gun for the offense, carrying and passing the ball for considerable yardage. Kelly Ogden also proved his worth in the Brave backfield for the first time. Since being moved to the starting offensive eleven, Ogden did a fine job all night.

Yanks Cop Flag; NL Race Far From Over

By United Press International

The old champs got their knockout, too, with the time-tested one-two punch of Mantle and Ford.

And so today it's only a question of whether it'll be the Los Angeles Dodgers or San Francisco Giants in the opposite dugout when the New York Yankees begin the defense of their world baseball championship.

The Yankees made it official Tuesday night when they clinched their second straight pennant under Ralph Houk and their 27th flag in all with an 8-3 victory over the Washington Senators. It was the knockout blow as far as the Minnesota Twins were concerned although the Cleveland Indians later added the coup de grace with a 5-1 triumph over the Twins.

Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, who are always ready for a party, were the fellows who flashed the signal to pop the champagne corks.

Mantle enjoyed a perfect night at bat with four singles and a walk, driving in two runs and scoring two others, while Ford scattered 12 hits and struck out six in going the distance for his 17th win of the season. Bill Skowron also drove in two runs with a single and his 23rd homer and Tony Kubek had three hits in the Yankees' 16-hit attack.

The National League race, meanwhile, is far from over—with the Giants making a late push and the Dodgers dragging their heels.

The Giants cut their first-place deficit to a mere two games on Tuesday night when they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2, and the Houston Colts topped the Dodgers, 3-2, in 10 innings. The Dodgers' magic number remained at four with both teams and the Giants having five games to play.

Jack Sanford pitched a seven-hitter to raise his record to 23-7 behind a nine-hit attack that included two hits each by Maitly Alou, Willie Mays and Tom Haller. Bill White homered for the Cardinals.

Maury Wills stole two bases to raise his record total to 99 but Dick Farrell scrambled out of an assortment of tight spots to score his 10th win for the Colts. Ed Roebuck, who hadn't lost a game in two years and had a 10-0 record this season, suffered the defeat when Al Spangler homered in the top of the 10th.

Club Adopts Viewpoints On Franchise

By Shirley Westworth
The Bear Lake Community Club last Thursday night unanimously endorsed a letter written by William G. Carpenter to the County Commission pertaining to the Utilities Franchise Directive and agreed to adopt the letter as a means of expressing viewpoints of the club as a whole.

In his letter Carpenter stated his approval regarding the public hearing held on the directive and his agreement to the stipulation that before franchises are granted to small, private utility companies a thorough engineering study of the entire county should be conducted.

The Bear Lake group also went on record as wishing to appoint a delegate to serve as alternate for Neal Lyles to the Seminole Assn. of Communities.

Following the business session, a Pig in the Poke drawing was conducted by Mrs. J. N. Ancrum who also was hosteesses for the closing social hour.

Hostesses for the Oct. 18 meeting will be Miss Louise Shaw and Mrs. Russell Loomis.

Cuba Squeeze Urged

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today continued his behind-the-scenes efforts to rally more Latin American support for the United States' campaign to tighten the economic and diplomatic squeeze on communist Cuba.

He invited about a half-dozen South American foreign ministers to a late afternoon meeting in his hotel suite to discuss latest developments in preparation for next week's Cuban conference in Washington. It was the second such session in two days.

The discussions were taking on an air of added urgency in the light of Premier Fidel Castro's disclosure that Russia would help build and use a multi-million-dollar "fishing port" on the Cuban coast.

Rusk also is putting pressure on NATO Allies to curtail use of their ships in trade between the Soviet bloc and Cuba. So far, however, two of the major nations concerned—Britain and Norway—have said Cuba is principally an American problem and there is little or nothing they can do.

While urging West European and Latin American nations to do more to isolate Cuba, Rusk apparently had put aside that issue and the Berlin crisis so far as his present talks here with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are concerned.

The two met for three hours on Tuesday but neither Cuba nor Berlin was discussed. Officials said it was up to Gromyko to raise the Berlin issue since there was nothing to talk about unless the Kremlin were willing to retreat from its demands for Allied withdrawal from West Berlin.

On Cuba, Rusk was said to be unwilling to discuss this matter with Gromyko lest it give substance to unfounded charges that the United States would consider a "deal" involving Cuba and Berlin. Rusk also was believed to feel that the Cuban problem was not one for negotiation between Moscow and Washington.

Area Girls Organize New 4-H Club

A 4-H Club for girls, ages 10 to 15 years, was organized last Wednesday for the Upsala-Lake Monroe district at a meeting held in the Educational Building of the Upsala Presbyterian Church with Miss Myrtle Wilson, county home demonstration agent, presiding.

She explained the meaning of 4-H and told of different projects available to the girls who voted to take sewing and clothing for the first year.

The group also voted to hold meetings for Saturday afternoons in the Educational Building with the first to be held this Saturday beginning at 1:30 p.m. Each member is asked to bring a sewing basket fitted with a tape measure, needles, scissors, box of silk pins, a spool of white thread and a thimble. In addition they will need a small piece of material and a 10 inch piece of narrow elastic since at this meeting they will make pin cushions for their arms.

Officers will be elected and a club name chosen at this week's meeting.

All girls within the specified ages who live in Ravenna Park, Loch Arbor, Tee 'N Green, Paola and Lake Monroe are invited to join the club and will be welcomed by the group.

Adult leaders are Mrs. Lucille Fitzgerald, Mrs. Betty Blackwelder and Mrs. H. L. Johnson.

New Brownie Troops To Get Word

Parents of new Brownies in the six new troops which have been organized recently will be notified when the first meeting of the troops will be held. Mrs. Dian Boutwell, Troop Organizer for Neighborhood II said today.

Four of the new troops are in the Pinecrest area. Older troops have already begun meetings. Mrs. Boutwell said, but emphasized that new troop leaders are still working out administrative problems which must be solved before troop meetings begin.

All parents of new Brownies will receive notification by telephone. Mrs. Mildred Lind is chairman of Neighborhood II and Mrs. Katherine MacLaughlin heads up Neighborhood I.

Vatican May Close Basilica

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican officials may close St. Peter's Basilica to the public temporarily because of recent bombing attempts and to permit work for the forthcoming Ecumenical Council, the Vatican press office said today.

Dr. Luciano Casimiri, head of the press office, said the matter still is under consideration by the "proper officials." He said Paolo Cardinal Marella, archpriest of St. Peter's, would have the final word.

Casimiri said it already had been planned to close St. Peter's, probably next week, so that workmen could finish preparations for the council, which opens Oct. 11.

"Due to the bombings it may be closed earlier—possibly even Thursday," Casimiri said. "But no decision has been taken as yet."

One bomb exploded several months ago causing slight damage. Two others were found last weekend before they had gone off.

Navy Base Gets New Catholic Chaplain

Chaplain Finn, a native of Chicago, Ill., entered the Navy on July 1, 1962. He reported aboard from the Chaplain's Indoctrination School in Newport, R. I. Prior to entering the Navy, Father Finn served as a Chaplain for the Civil Air Patrol for three years in the rank of Captain.

The new Chaplain is a graduate of Quigley Preparatory Seminary in Chicago, as well as St. Mary of the Lake Seminary in Mundelein, Ill.

He explained the meaning of 4-H and told of different projects available to the girls who voted to take sewing and clothing for the first year.

Tense Peace Restored In Missouri Town

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—A tense peace was restored today in the troubled Negro suburb of Kinloch following more arrests and armed forces during the night that climaxed a wave of violence.

St. Louis County police and authorities from other suburbs patrolled the streets to enforce an emergency curfew imposed when a shotgun blast wounded four persons during an angry demonstration.

"Things are calming down now," Mayor Clarence Lee said. "They appear to be settling down."

But Lee indicated he would accept Gov. John Dalton's offer of state reinforcements if protests against the shooting of a 19-year-old Negro by a Kinloch policeman got out of hand again.

Police said three fires broke out in vacant houses Tuesday night, destroying one of the structures. Seven false alarms were turned in and four persons were arrested for violating the 10 p. m. curfew.

Two of the three white policemen wounded in the early morning protest by more than 300 Negroes remained in the county hospital. Hugh Hedges, 26, was in serious condition, and Kenneth Armistead, 28, was in satisfactory condition. The other county officer William Rushing, 33, and a Negro bystander, Anthony Williams, 62, were treated and released.

School officials faced the problem of providing classrooms for elementary pupils. The Dunbar school was destroyed by fire, believed purposely set, as the demonstration took place.

Snow White To Benefit 'Retarded'

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a musical version of the fairytale, done on skates, will be presented Oct. 22 by the Melodee Dance and Figure Skating Club, for the benefit of the Little Red Schoolhouse, Shealy Best announced today.

The colorful pageant, to be seen in full costume will be under the direction of Miss Shealy Best, professional skate dance teacher at Melody Skating Rink, and will be produced by Mr. and Mrs. Best as a charity benefit.

Members of the Seminole Association for Retarded Children who underwrite the support of the Little Red Schoolhouse, for mentally retarded children, will assist with the sale of tickets for the show.

Boys and girls who are members of the Melodee Dance and Figure Club will take the parts of Snow White and the Dwarfs, the Wicked Stepmother, the Prince, and all the little forest animals, bunny rabbits, squirrels, bluebirds and other woodland creatures.

Skate dance practice is now underway at the rink three nights a week with costume construction being done by parents of the children.

Net proceeds derived from the ticket sales for the show will be deposited to the treasury of the Little Red Schoolhouse, Best said.

Debt To Toll Roads

An issue that evidently will not be down in this question about the relationship between toll roads and the free interstate highway system.

Cropping up constantly is the phrase "toll traps," used to express the current practice of tying new interstate roads into already existing toll routes like the Ohio and Indiana turnpikes.

Also criticized is the reluctance of some states—Indiana is an example—to authorize a new interstate thoroughfare which would closely compete with its toll road.

No open-road motorist in this country is likely to argue that he would prefer to drive on a toll road when he can find one that is as good or better, and free. But the considerations involved in this matter are much more complex than is suggested by that simple desire.

Critics of the toll roads are not alone in wanting this nation to have a fully adequate, safe national network of superhighways free of all charge.

But these same critics seem to be alone in not recognizing that the federal government failed sadly to meet this need at a crucial stage in the development of U. S. motor traffic.

From 1938 on, many bills were offered in Congress for the creation of a national road network. Yet 18 years passed before Congress did in fact enact such legislation—in 1956.

The glaring gap was filled by the toll turnpikes. Impressed by the success of the pioneer 160-mile section of the Pennsylvania turnpike, opened in 1940, enterprising individuals and groups in other states moved to copy.

By the time Congress finally acted, there already was in being a New York-Chicago toll network, stoplight-free, beautifully engineered, carrying a substantial volume of traffic. Indiana supplied the last link that year.

It is also possible to travel by such routes much of the way from Portland, Me., to Washington, and there are other key turnpikes in southwestern and central states.

These roads have one supreme virtue. They are there—and with one or two exceptions they are being heavily used. There is no way to calculate how bad the traffic situation—and the safety record—would have been without these roads.

They were built at costs generally far less than it would require to duplicate them today or in the years just ahead. To the extent that they are wrapped into the interstate system, they represent billions which do NOT have to be spent at the taxpayers' expense.

By the time the interstate system is scheduled to be finished in 1972, the 360-mile statewide Pennsylvania turnpike will have been carrying traffic for 20 years, the New Jersey pike for 21, others for 15 years or more.

Experienced motorists will testify that some of these roads are better engineered than certain portions of the highly touted free network.

Furthermore, even now, though some 25 per cent of the free system is completed, few long continuous driving stretches are available. So slow is progress in some areas that Florida, Maryland and Delaware have been encouraged to launch wholly new toll roads to handle traffic that can't wait for the free network.

It is both foolish and unfair to complain of the toll network. It arose to fill a crying need and is still filling that need. If there is any grilling to be done, let it be against congressmen who waited two decades to act upon so great a necessity.

Lyle C. Wilson Says: Award For Udall?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The time has come after only a pair of league games to close the books on selection of the professional football coach of the year.

The winner is a politician named Stewart L. Udall, presently employed full time as interior secretary in the Kennedy Cabinet. As a coach, Udall is unique. He has not appeared at any practice sessions of his team, the Washington Redskins.

It is not of record that Udall knows much, if anything, about football. It is known that he has not witnessed a Redskins game more recently than 1960, if then. And Udall does not stand in awe of the big chief himself, Big Chief Redskin being George Preston Marshall, owner of the professional football franchise in Washington.

The record shows that Udall has chivied Marshall and the Redskins into an unbeaten season, so far, plus a golden opportunity to collect gate money from thousands of fans who were beginning to forget that the Redskins still were playing in the National Football League.

It could only happen in Washington, D. C., of course, that a politician, merely by a commitment to civil rights, could turn a losing football team into a winner. Southerners would prefer an all-white team as its very own.

There was quite a hassle when Udall told Marshall to integrate, or else. Udall was backed by a Supreme Court decision which, in general terms, held that what the government subsidizes it also can control. So Udall said he would cancel Marshall's stadium contract if the Redskins color bar were maintained.

Young snakes develop rapidly and must shed their skin to take care of the growth.

Rep. Friedel was present when this testimony was given and said he would introduce a drug bill amendment to this effect. It has just been approved by voice vote in a House Commerce Committee session marking up a final draft of the legislation before it goes to the House floor for debate.

The 78-to-0 Senate-passed bill contains no such stringent restriction. Sen. Jacob K.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — A new gimmick that could start another hassle like the thalidomide controversy has just been introduced in the House version of drug control legislation now under consideration.

It is an amendment introduced by Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, D-Md., providing that government regulations must require doctors to inform "human beings or their representatives" and obtain their consent to give patients experimental drugs before they are approved by the Food and Drug Administration for general use.

Obtaining the consent of a patient's "representative," was included to cover the cases of children, the critically ill, those in a coma or incompetents whose parents or guardians have the responsibility for their dependents', relatives' or wards' care.

From an average citizen's point of view, it is only common sense that patients be told when a new drug is prescribed for them and give their consent to its use.

This idea was presented to the House Commerce Committee on Aug. 22 by Clinton R. Miller, assistant to the president of the National Health Federation of San Francisco and Washington.

Miller testified that "No person should be denied the right to know that he is being made an involuntary guinea pig for the testing of experimental drugs."

Rep. Friedel was present when this testimony was given and said he would introduce a drug bill amendment to this effect. It has just been approved by voice vote in a House Commerce Committee session marking up a final draft of the legislation before it goes to the House floor for debate.

The 78-to-0 Senate-passed bill contains no such stringent restriction. Sen. Jacob K.

Javits, R-N. Y., offered a strong amendment with this provision during floor debate, but after cloakroom conferences he was persuaded to water it down.

So the Senate bill provides only that the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, in issuing regulations on the use of experimental drugs, "shall have due regard for the ethics of the medical profession and the interest of the patients."

The medical ethics of this situation are laid down in an opinion of the American Medical Association House of Delegates on March 3, 1958. Three principles for the use of experimental drugs must be followed "wherever possible."

—There must be voluntary consent of the patient.

—The danger of each experiment must be explained.

—The drug must be prescribed under proper protection.

An AMA spokesman in Washington says it will have no official position on the Friedel amendment — which came as a complete surprise — till there is an opinion by legislative counsel.

Drug industry representatives say this is primarily a problem of medical ethics. Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn. is issuing a statement calling attention to some of the problems of conducting research and developing new drugs under the proposed Friedel amendment.

Present law requires that there be substantial tests on patients with proven clinical results before the government will approve a new drug for use in general medical practice.

A Food and Drug Administration spokesman declines comment, saying this agency would prefer to stay out of the argument.

The question raised here is how new drugs can be approved if there are not tests on human beings without their consent? Sound medical research can be conducted, it is maintained, only if patients have no knowledge that they are being given experimental drugs.

If patients are given advance knowledge that they are being experimented on, it may affect the way they react. In psychological terms, this is a placebo, or soothing effect.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE N-49. Mary X, aged 20, is a beautiful senior college girl.

"Dr. Crane," a fellow psychiatrist began, "would you like to examine her chart?"

When I did so, I found that Mary came from the Midwest. She had been an honor student up till a few months before.

Then her grades began to drop and Mary seemed indifferent. Later, she grew so aloof from life she wouldn't answer questions.

Finally, she was admitted to a sanitarium. There she sat in a corner, facing the wall and ignoring everybody and everything.

In fact, she stripped off all her clothes and sat naked. She showed no concern for toilet functions and regressed to the infant stage. She wouldn't even eat, so a stomach tube was inserted via her nose so food could be forced down, just to keep her alive.

Then shock treatment was used and she snapped out of her mental fog.

Now she seemed normal. She would answer questions and knew who she was, where she was and the correct date.

But her parents decided to pull her out of school and take her home.

Her father was a talented physician, so Mary drove the car for him as he made house calls each morning.

And for almost a year, Mary functioned normally. Then, at breakfast one day, she blurted out with this totally irrelevant remark: "Mother, take that dog away from me!"

But there was no dog present.

Her mother was startled and knowing about Mary's past breakdown, she felt quite anxious. But she made no comment about the dog.

And the mother didn't tell Mary's father, at least till a few days later when Mary began to deteriorate mentally.

Then they rushed her back to a sanitarium where Mary again received a series of shock treatments for several weeks.

Finally, she reacted normally again and was sent home, where she again drove her father around for his medical house calls.

And Mary seemed O. K. for almost another year. Then, out of a clear sky one night at the dinner table, she blurted out: "Mother, take that dog away from me!"

Again, no dog was even in the house nor had anybody been talking about dogs, so Mary's remark was irrelevant.

But her parents were now alerted and decided that the comment about the dog was like an epileptic's "aura."

For epileptics often experience a preliminary warning of a severe seizure. Sometimes the aura pertains to sounds. In other cases, it deals with flashing lights or peculiar odors.

So Mary's parents decided this irrelevant comment about a dog was a psychiatric "aura", warning them of Mary's forthcoming mental collapse.

So they took her back to the sanitarium for another series of shock treatments. And in a few weeks, Mary seemed quite normal, so she came back home to drive her father's car.

But shock treatments, though very valuable in such cases, are what we call "psychiatric aspirin". They don't cure the underlying problem.

No, they simply mask it, as aspirin can mask the pain from an astigmatic headache. I'll explain more about Mary tomorrow.

Expect Higher Taxes, 'Key' Legislators Say

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The two key men in the Legislature, House Speaker Mallory Horne and Senate President Wilson Carraway, said Monday that Floridians can expect higher taxes and a billion-dollar state budget for the 1963-65 biennium.

Speaking to the annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners, Carraway said the upcoming Legislature must find additional state funds to meet educational, conservation, mental health and correctional institution needs.

"I wish I could tell you and all other people in Florida that there will be no new taxes voted by the 1963 Legislature, but I can't," said Carraway.

The Senate president promised to cut every frill and to do all he could to cut down expenditures in some fields. But, he said if the state is to keep pace with private business, "we must adjust the salaries of our public employes."

House Speaker Horne indicated that the budget for the 1963-65 biennium will top the billion-dollar mark for the first time. He also put in a plug for the proposed 46- senator, 135 - representative reapportionment plan facing voters Nov. 6.

Groundbreaking Set For College

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Board of Control today set Dec. 8 for ground-breaking ceremonies at the new Florida Atlantic University, expected to open for classes in the fall of 1964.

President Kenneth Williams said planning for the two-year university at Boca Raton was on schedule. He said a skeleton administrative-academic staff was being hired this year and department heads would be picked next year.

Flood Kills 'Thousands'

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — More than 1,000 persons were reported dead or missing today in the worst flood in modern Spanish history. Fresh rains threatened Barcelona province.

A spokesman for the civil governor's office announced that the flood casualty toll as of late this morning was estimated at 841 dead, 464 missing, and 836 injured.

A U. S. embassy spokesman in Madrid said that no U. S. citizens are among the casualties. Unofficial estimates put the total property damage at more than $25 million. The scene was catastrophic at Tarrasa and Sabadell, Spain's two biggest textile centers.

"This has ruined our textile industry," a textile engineer said. "I say he sadly surveyed the debris, mud and ruins which were once his factory."

Mayor Lawrence Swoford and City Attorney J. Sylvan Davis said their reception was very good, and the government officials agreed on the town's need for a municipal water system. The local men were urged to get the necessary papers into Atlanta as soon as possible, in view of the deadline for starting the installation which is rapidly approaching.

The city commission of Altamonte Springs discharged the previous fiscal agent who had been working on the revenue bond issue for nine months, and the possibility of rapid service out of Atlanta, after the recent stalemate, was, as Mayor Swoford says, "very, very encouraging."

The interest rate on the government loan will be 3 1/2 percent, as opposed to the 4 1/2 percent rate for private financing. "This in itself gives us every reason for bending all over efforts to do business with the Federal agency," said Swoford.

Board Hit On Purchases

The County Commission during a three year period made numerous purchases of pipe, culverts, chemicals and lumber in small quantities without competitive bids, an analysis of State Auditor Bryan Willis' report revealed today.

"The attorney general has ruled," the audit said, "that where materials and supplies needed in quantity can be reasonably ascertained in advance, then the board should comply with the spirit and interest of the law and purchase pursuant to bids."

Willis said at the end of the audit period from September of 1959 to 1961, the board began to call for bids on quantity purchases.

Centralized purchasing, fundamental to proper financial control, was not in use by the County Commission, Willis added.

Willis released a generally good report for the commission and most other county offices, noting however, that constables and justices of the peace failed to comply with all regulations for handling and safeguarding public funds. He said most of the constables and peace justices didn't keep balanced cash-books or use official pre-numbered receipts.

The report listed a $337 deficit in the accounts of tax assessor Mary Earle Walker as of Feb. 28, 1962, caused by charging some 1960 employee overtime work against 1961 expenses. It said the assessor repaid the money from personal funds on July 1, 1962. In an audit of the county commission for the 1959-61 fiscal year, Willis said the board's financial condition was good and financial management was good, with some exceptions. Property records were incomplete, Willis said.

Some travel vouchers did not contain enough supporting data for audit purposes, Willis said. He also reported that the board, without appropriate legal authority, authorized the zoning commission to hold several dinner meetings at county expense. He said the cost of the meals, $170, should be refunded to the board's account.

Also during the audit period, the board bought a $155 bed lifter and donated it to a private organization, the Good Samaritan Home. "There appears to be no authority for an expenditure of this nature," the audit said.

"Budgets were well prepared and closely adhered to," Willis said.

Crapps Says He'll Run

Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps today qualified to seek another term on the City Commission and political pundits predicted today he would go in unopposed.

Crapps will be closing out his third year on the board and his first year as mayor.

The deadline for qualifying is Oct. 17.

Crapps, vice president of Hill Lumber Co. has been one of the most popular mayors on record.

The only other city commission race open is Earl Higginbotham's post with Sonny Raborn seeking to unseat the incumbent.

No political rallies have been called.

Barnett Back At 'Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Gov. Ross Barnett hurriedly returned to the University of Mississippi campus today and went into conferences with state and school officials in a building guarded by helmeted police carrying clubs and tear gas.

There was no immediate indication what brought Barnett back to this campus, made tense by Negro James Meredith's repeated attempts to enroll here.

U. S. marshals were reported pouring into town. There were unconfirmed reports that Meredith, believed to have spent the night in Memphis, might try again today to enter the school under a federal court order.

Barnett, who twice has personally rejected Meredith, arrived about 8 a. m. and went straight to the alumni house on the campus for talks with officials.

The building, and virtually the entire campus, was ringed with police and local police. Many of them wore helmets and makeshift white arm-bands. Some had dogs.

The new executives bring to more than 1,000 the number of Cuban victims of Castro firing squads since Jan. 1959. Estimates of political prisoners range as high as 150,000.

So far, the Cuban people have heard officially only of the arrest of five rebels in Havana's Miramar suburb, and the seizure of arms and documents alleged to involve them in a "counter-revolutionary" plot.

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI) — It cost Billie Sol Estes $50 to drive without a license. Judge James K. Graham fined Estes that amount Wednesday. Bill Thomas of Abilene represented Estes, who was not present in court.

Pastor Gets Six Months
CHICAGO (UPI) — A pastor has received a six-month sentence for having sexual relations with a 17-year-old girl.

Pleas for probation by former parishioners failed to deter the sentencing of the Rev. Hiram B. Holdridge. He was suspended from his pastorate at the Logan Square Methodist Church after he confessed his relationship with the girl, saying it had begun when she was 13.

Evansville Municipal Court Judge James M. Corcoran, who passed sentence, called the case the "most shocking, repulsive and nauseating I have ever tried."

Stocks Lower
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks moved lower in moderately active trading today, with aircraft and finance shares showing the biggest declines.

Stop Creating Crises, British Tell Soviets
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Britain called on Russia today to stop creating artificial crises in Berlin, end tensions along the Communist wall and negotiate a just settlement.

Foreign Secretary the Earl of Home told the UN General Assembly that "only a negotiated and just settlement can bring lasting security to Europe, and, I may add, to Russia."

"The only permanent solution for the future of the city of Berlin is in the context of self-determination for Germany," Home said. "But as, for the present, Russia preaches self-determination for everyone else but will not allow it in East Germany, the only thing we can do is seek a modus vivendi."

Duncan Takes Issue With Audit Report

Justice of the Peace W.H. Duncan today took issue with the report of State Auditor Bryan Willis on the condition of his office records as revealed Wednesday.

The local Justice declared he did not handle any public funds through his office whatsoever, and that he kept his financial records strictly in accord with the instructions given him by Willis when the State Auditor set up his books.

He also said, "The records concerning my dockets have always been kept according to law, and I will continue to do so. As for the $238 alleged shortage, if my books were not in balance when audited, nothing was said about it at the time."

Duncan denied any mis-handling of funds, and related that he handled no public funds through his office.

When contacted today, Justice of the Peace Thomas Moon, of Oriedo, said he had no previous instructions on keeping the required records, and he was "learning from scratch, this being my first term." He pointed out he was doing things as his predecessor had done them, and would make the necessary changes to bring the records into line.

Justice of the Peace Elmer Ashley was not available for comment.

Kennedy Gets Buildup Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy had full congressional backing today for whatever steps he considered necessary to deal with the Communist military buildup in Cuba, including use of U. S. troops.

The House completed congressional action on a fight-if-we-must resolution Wednesday. It cleared the House by a 384 to 7 vote. The Senate had passed it previously, 86 to 1. The few opponents contended the resolution was not strong enough.

The lopsided House vote did not indicate the strong criticism of Kennedy which preceded it. Many lawmakers, especially Republicans, said he was not being tough enough in handling the Cuban situation.
