Halt Development Along Wekiva, Group Urges

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A citizens group is calling on county commissioners in Seminole, Lake and Orange counties to halt development in "environmentally sensitive" areas of the Wekiva River Basin until the impact of existing development there has been assessed.

To meet that goal, Friends of the Wekiva River is asking Gov. Bob Graham and the state Department of Community Affairs to designate the 130-square-mile basin (along the river in the three counties) for a resource planning and management committee study and "if appropriate (to) designate the basin as an area of critical state concern."

If the state takes that action, development in that area would be controlled by the state, county officials say.

Seminole County Commissioners have agreed to hold a work session on the suggestion in mid or late April.

But Commissioner Sandra Glenn expressed fears that the state will come in and take back to Tallahassee the right to regulate and set all planning and zoning in the county.

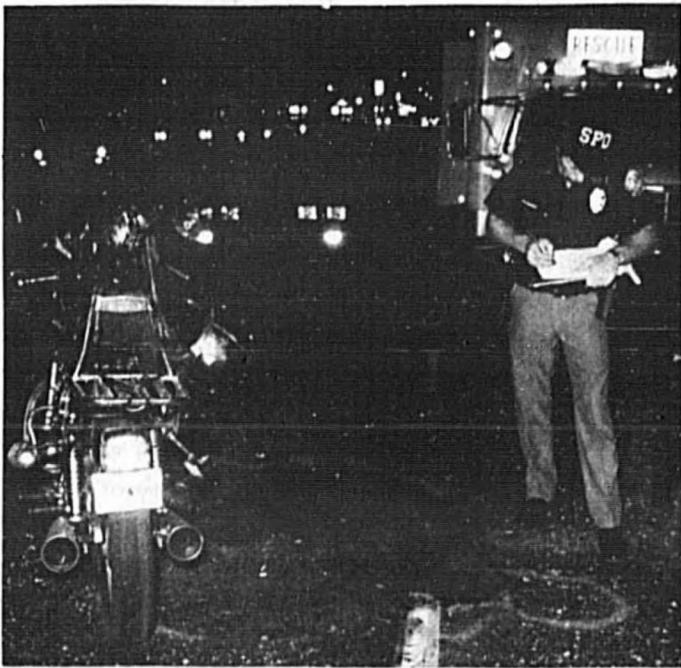

"There's a danger when regulation is taken away from local government by the state that the people's wishes will be ignored," she said.

Pat Harden, president-elect of the Friends of the Wekiva River, said her organization is "not interested in having the state come in like Big Brother to control anything."

"We want the Wekiva River Basin to be designated an area of critical state concern. We want the three counties and the state to get together and gather information already available on subjects including the economy of

Motorcycle, Car Collide

A Sanford officer completes a report, left, and a firefighter inspects a damaged auto following a motorcycle-car accident Sunday at 8:45 p.m. at U.S. Highway 17-92 and 22nd Street. The operator of the motorcycle, Marlin W. Johnson, 18, of 2510 Mellonville Ave., was listed in serious condition today at Central Florida Regional Hospital. He was treated at the scene for bleeding from cuts on his hands, legs and face. Driver of the vehicle, John Murphy, 43, of 1003 Elm Ave., Sanford, was treated for a scrape above his left eye. Police reports on the incident were not made available today.

Tornado

2 Die; 42 Hurt As Rows Of Homes Made Rubble

VENICE, Fla. (UPI) — Thirty inmates from a county jail were called out early today to help clean up rubble two blocks wide and a mile long, the devastation of a tornado that killed two people and injured more than 40 others.

The twister touched down before dawn Sunday, narrowly missing the Venice Airport and the winter home of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus before it smashed through a shopping center and row upon row of homes.

Gov. Bob Graham declared a state of emergency. A spokesman said 55 homes were destroyed in Venice, 122 others were at least 50 percent destroyed and more than 120 sustained minor damage.

The storm tore gaping holes in a huge Publix supermarket, destroying everything inside before moving on to damage or destroy another 30 businesses, a spokesman for the governor said.

"Oh, my God, there's a funnel," shrieked Janell Johnson, 18, moments before the tornado hit.

Her mother, Mary Johnson, said there was a deafening roar followed by the screams of helpless neighbors and the sound of cars and trucks being tossed about and rooftops exploding off buildings.

"I could hear people screaming," Mary Johnson said. "I sort of got nauseous because I didn't know what to do. It was frightening. There's no place to go here — no basements."

The twister cut a path two blocks wide and a mile deep, killing a man and a woman, injuring 42 other people and causing millions of dollars in damage to more than 300 homes and shops.

Eight of the injured were hospitalized at Venice Hospital and the others treated for lacerations and released. Nursing homes opened their doors to dozens of victims left homeless by the storm.

Officials complained they had no warning before the storm hit, except for a National Weather Service advisory about a "strong thunderstorm in the area."

"There was no advance word of a tornado," said Gregg Feagans, executive director of the Sarasota County Office of Disaster Preparedness. "The area is a mess. The shopping center is torn up. It (the tornado) did the same thing with the homes."

A weather service spokesman in Miami said the Tampa office has jurisdiction over Venice, 72 miles south of Tampa about halfway down the west coast of the Florida peninsula. But no one from that office was available for comment Sunday night.

Jaquib Sienlowski, 66, died in his sleep when the roof of his home fell on him, sheriff's officers said. His wife was treated for lacerations.

Dorothy Taravella, 65, of Steubenville, Ohio, was killed and her husband Salvador was injured when the tornado smashed their mobile home, which was parked in the parking lot of a shopping center.

Barricade Issue Expected To Pack City Hall

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Swift, vocal opposition to the closing of South Grant Street may force the Longwood City Commission to reconsider the move.

A controversial emergency ordinance facilitated blocking a portion of the connector street for 60 days beginning Thursday. But at least one commissioner, June Lormann, said because of the many calls of protest she had received, she would have to vote against the ordinance when it comes up for preliminary approval tonight.

Mrs. Lormann said she expects city hall to be packed with residents protesting the barricade. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Longwood City Hall, 175 W. Warren Ave.

City workers put the dirt and pilings barricade across the street at the request of the Columbus Harbour Homeowners Association President Paul Carroll. He said the members of the association objected to the traffic, which includes large trucks, through their subdivision on the connector street between state Road 434 and Dog

S&Ls Ordered To Seek Federal Insurance

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Gov. Richard Celeste has ordered 70 privately insured Ohio savings institutions he ordered closed four days ago to keep their doors shut until they apply for federal insurance.

Celeste ordered the institutions closed Friday after depositors began making withdrawals at several savings and loans associations in the Cincinnati area, threatening their financial stability. The institutions were to reopen today, but Celeste said late Sunday they would reopen "as soon as possible."

It was an uneasy weekend for depositors, who still do not know when or if they will be able to recover their money.

"The goal I've established from day one is to fully protect all of the depositors," Celeste said. But that remains a goal, not a promise. He said he could not put the "full faith and credit" of the state of Ohio behind the deposits.

Celeste spent Friday and Saturday in marathon negotiations in Cleveland with state officials, representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank and the banking industry.

He also ordered the state Legislature into emergency session today to act on a plan to stabilize the savings institutions insured by the state-regulated, but privately run Ohio Deposit Guaranty Fund.

All of the savings institutions must apply for insurance issued by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. or prove they meet the FSLIC's basic criteria before reopening.

Florida Ruled Out For Saturn Plant Site

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. Chairman Roger Smith says states with heavy debts and poor educational systems won't be chosen for GM's new Saturn plant regardless of the tax breaks and other incentives they offer.

And, they said Florida has been ruled out as a site. They would not give details.

In an interview with the Detroit Free Press, Smith said incentives "are a factor, but they are not so predominant a factor." He said "tax breaks can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

Smith did not name specific states in the interview with the newspaper's editorial board, nor did he say how GM rates Michigan's economic health and the quality of its schools.

The Saturn plant will employ 6,000 workers on two shifts. Several states and hundreds of communities have been courting GM for the plant.

Smith praised Gov. James J. Blanchard and other Michigan officials for their attempts to lure the plant, but said there is nothing more they can — or should — do to sell GM on Michigan.

"They made a great presentation," he told the Free Press. "They put an attractive package together, and I think that they literally have done all they can or should do."

A decision is expected by May 1.

Swift Kick Nets $10,600

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Richard Edge, 24, a native of Chichester, England, had never kicked a football until two weeks ago, but drilled a 40-yard field goal Sunday to become the first person to win a $10,600 prize in a Birmingham Stallions halftime promotion.

He had only a little soccer experience and some good advice from a friend. "He told me to keep my head down," Edge said.

The line-drive kick was a little off-center, but it sailed through the uprights with plenty of distance to spare.

Supreme Court Hears Arguments On Zoning Of Mentally Retarded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Texas city today defended its right to ban homes for the mentally retarded in its apartment zoning ordinance in a case that could affect the rights of the retarded nationwide.

The Supreme Court was scheduled to hear oral arguments today from attorneys for the city of Cleburne, Texas, and from advocates of a group home for the retarded in the community of 20,000.

The city is challenging a ruling by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which said retarded people are entitled to special protection from federal courts.

The four-bedroom home, purchased in 1980 by a corporation known as Cleburne Living Center, has been vacant pending the high court's ruling.

"The crux of this case is whether the mere possession of the trait of mental retardation makes a citizen less entitled to live meaningfully in an American community," lawyers for the center said in legal papers filed with the court.

The city argued it has a legal right to zone property to regulate certain types of businesses.

The high court could use the case to expand the rights of the retarded by making them a class deserving of special protection under the Constitution or the court could issue a narrower ruling solely on the legality of the Cleburne zoning ordinance.

The Association for Retarded Citizens said a favorable ruling from the court could help end decades of discrimination against the retarded and expedite integration of the retarded into society.

The ordinance gives automatic zoning authority to apartments, nursing homes and fraternity houses but requires special permits for "hospitals for the insane or feeble minded."

While the Cleburne ordinance might be illegal, the federal government said, a new constitutional mandate is not the proper remedy.

"The primary objective of the Equal Protection Clause is ... to prohibit official racial discrimination," the government said. "Because of the special needs and abilities of mentally retarded individuals, legislative choices may properly take mental retardation into account."

Schroeder Breaks Record For Artificial Heart Survival

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Bill Schroeder's record 113th day of life with an artificial heart passed without ceremony, as his chief surgeon said quality of life is more important than quantity.

Schroeder, 53, Sunday surpassed the survival of pioneer mechanical heart patient Barney Clark, the Seattle dentist who lived 112 days at the University of Utah Medical Center in 1983. Clark was never healthy enough after his implant to leave the hospital.

In nearly four months, Schroeder has been out of Humana Hospital Audubon twice for brief wheelchair rides and once for a 30-minute van ride. But he was proclaimed not well enough to attend son Terry's Saturday wedding in his hometown of Jasper, Ind., a 180-mile round trip from Louisville.

Attending the wedding had been one of Schroeder's biggest goals since his Nov. 25 implant.

Instead, Schroeder spent the day quietly watching basketball on television and visiting with his wife, Margaret, who had returned from Jasper.

Teachers Call For Statewide Strike

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi's largest teachers organization called on educators to walk off their jobs today to protest anti-strike measures in a $4,400 pay-rise package passed by the Legislature.

Lawmakers approved the three-year wage package for the nation's lowest-paid public school instructors in a rare weekend session and sent the bill Sunday to Gov. Bill Allain who was expected to act on it today.

The Mississippi Association of Educators said in a statement it "intends to assess" its position on the statewide strike after appearing today before chancery court Judge Paul Alexander in Jackson. He subpoenaed several of the association's board members Friday to show why they should not be held in contempt of court for calling the statewide walkout.

The 13,000-member association has objected to anti-strike measures in the bill that provide for the firing of striking teachers in the future.

Bach Chorales Show Early Genius

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Music lovers attending the modern world debut of 33 organ chorale preludes said the premiere exhibited the genius of Johan Sebastian Bach as a young man.

Before an audience of more than 2,000 at Yale University chapel Sunday, assistant head music librarian Victor Cardell said, "This is a beautiful way to celebrate Bach's 300th birthday."

Bach's tricenennial is not until Thursday, but the excitement generated by the presentation of the chorale preludes on a renovated organ attracted musicians and Bach connoisseurs from throughout the country for the two performances.

The works, among the earliest by Bach to be discovered, were all written before the composer was 25.

Three months ago Christopher J. Wolff, chairman of the music department at Harvard, discovered the chorales in an 18th century collection of German music at Yale's Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library.

Robbers Grab $5 Million In Precision Gallery Heist

DEERFIELD BEACH (UPI) — Three armed robbers who stole $5 million in cash and jewelry from an exclusive gallery in a 10-minute heist that police say was carefully devised are still at large.

Police said a Latin male about 40, a black male about 35 and a white male about 25 struck Herdan's Auction Gallery, which once handled gems for Elizabeth Taylor and the late Mae West.

The robbers left the area before neighboring merchants or beachgoers noticed anything unusual, police said.

The theft was believed to be the largest in South Florida history.

The gunmen entered the gallery early Saturday, as workers were preparing for the evening auction. Police said the establishment's doors were open and the safe was unlocked.

The three men bound two employees on duty with plastic-covered wire, locked them separately in a storage closet and a bathroom and quickly cleaned out the safe. The thieves ignored most of the art objects in the showroom, police said.

Cap'n Crunch Divers Rescued

KEY LARGO (UPI) — The Coast Guard reports all 48 divers and snorkelers were rescued from choppy seas after the Cap'n Crunch, a 60-foot charter boat that one passenger said was in poor shape, capsized near Key Largo.

Several rescuers in diving boats and recreational crafts in the area pulled the passengers Sunday from the Atlantic Ocean at Molasses Reef about 11 miles northeast of Key Largo.

The Cap'n Crunch, owned by Ocean Divers Inc., had ventured out into the rough waters despite small-craft warnings by the National Weather Service and 30 mph winds.

The vessel needed repairs and began taking on water on the group's second dive, said Alex Rosen, a New Jersey surgeon who was rescued by another charter boat.

"The boat was in very poor condition, the pumps weren't able to handle it," he said. "One planking gave way and it took on water. It went down."

The Coast Guard says investigators were still trying to determine why the vessel capsized.

Acid Rain

U.S., Canada To Study Causes And Solutions

QUEBEC (UPI) — President Reagan and Prime Minister Brian Mulroney opened their "shamrock summit" by agreeing to explore the touchy issue of acid rain and today shared their conservative views on East-West issues.

Wearing a bright green tie, Reagan swung into a busy schedule Sunday upon arriving in the historic, quaint city. Shortly after coming to Quebec, he and Mulroney announced the agreement on acid rain, a major point of friction between the North American neighbors.

White House deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said the two leaders today would discuss East-West issues — including the new Soviet leadership, arms control and mutual security.

The two leaders, who share an Irish heritage and a conservative philosophy, celebrated St. Patrick's Day Sunday at a glittering gala honoring Reagan at the Grand Theatre de Quebec Sunday night.

At the close, the Reagans and Mulroneys took the stage, held hands and sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." At one point, Mulroney sang alone for a verse.

After a half-hour meeting Sunday at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, Reagan and Mulroney announced a pact, worked out ahead of time by U.S. and Canadian negotiators, for the two nations to explore the root cause of acid rain and solutions for the future.

The leaders said the study will be conducted for the United States by Drew Lewis, former transportation secretary, and for Canada by William Davis, the former premier of Ontario.

"We did not work a miracle," Mulroney said, "but we did take a significant step forward."

Reagan steadfastly has refused to propose a costly federal cleanup of acid rain, saying more research is necessary. Speakes said Sunday's agreement does not mean Reagan has changed his mind about acid rain but has "promised to look at the problem and look at it with an open mind."

The Canadians believe Americans contribute to the acid rain problem by the emissions from the smokestack industries in the Midwest.

A senior Canadian official, saying there had been a "deadlock for the last three years" on acid rain, called the agreement an "action plan."

While the leaders met, city police arrested six demonstrators, who were protesting acid rain. U.S. police in Central America and nuclear weapons, outside the hotel for disorderly conduct.

Mulroney also told Reagan of his initial impression of new Kremlin leader Mikhail Gorbachev, who he met in Moscow last week after the funeral of Konstantin Chernenko.

Both leaders were in good spirits when they met Sunday. They have met twice before when Mulroney came to the White House — once before he was elected and after he took office.

Burglar Facing Up To 15 Years; Child Molester Receives 1 Year

An Apopka man who has pleaded guilty to burglary and theft in two separate cases has been found guilty in a third case of burglary to a dwelling and petty theft.

And a former Casselberry man was sentenced to one year in jail and 15 years probation for lewdly assaulting a 7-year-old Casselberry girl.

Gary Palmer, of 1201 Gail St., could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced May 30 Circuit Judge Dominick J. Sallio on the burglary charge.

However, because of guilty pleas in other cases, Palmer could receive up to 15 years in prison, although state sentencing guidelines recommend only three years. The prosecutor was Assistant State Attorney Kathy Simcoe.

According to court records, Palmer was charged with grand theft on Dec. 10 after sheriff's deputies confiscated a pair of stereo speakers found in his home which were linked to the Nov. 10 burglary of a house at 232 Portsmouth Cove, Longwood.

Palmer is awaiting sentencing from an October incident in which he broke into his wife's home and threatened her with a knife after he threw a concrete block and a tricycle through her kitchen window.

In the second case, Arnold Wayne Frost, 30, of North Charleston, S.C., was sentenced by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. Frost pleaded no contest to the charge Feb. 6.

According to court records, Frost, while living in Casselberry, assaulted the girl several times between Jan. 1, 1984 and June 15. The girl said in a taped interview that Frost fondled her, engaged in oral sex with her, and at least five times committed other sexual acts with her.

Frost, a convenience store clerk when he lived in Seminole County, was arrested on Nov. 16 at Charleston International Airport, Charleston, S.C. A sheriff's deputy with a warrant from the State Attorney's office brought Frost back to face the charges.

Court: Law Limiting PAC Contributions Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today ruled a federal election law limiting how much political action committees may spend to help presidential candidates violates the First Amendment's guarantees of speech and political association.

The 7-2 ruling came in a case brought by the Democratic Party, which tried to get the court to decide the issue last year to head off the expenditure of millions of dollars by political action committees — PACS — for President Reagan.

PACS are independent political organizations dedicated to specific political goals and campaign independently on behalf of candidates who agree with their goals.

Writing for the majority, Justice William Rehnquist said "there can be no doubt that the expenditures at issue in this case produce speech at the core of the First Amendment."

Such discussion of public issues and debate on the qualifications of candidates are key to the operation of the American system of government, Rehnquist said.

"The PACS in this case, of course, are not lone pamphleteers or street corner orators in the Tom Paine mold; they must spend substantial amounts of money in order to communicate their political ideas through sophisticated media advertisements," Rehnquist said.

"For purposes of presenting political views in connection with a nationwide presidential election, allowing the presentation of views while forbidding the expenditure of more than $1,000 to present them is much like allowing a speaker in a public hall to express his views

Balance Of Payments Deficit Hits Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. balance of payments deficit was a record $101.6 billion in 1984, as the strong dollar and weak economies elsewhere and other problems siphoned some of the nation's economic strength, the government said today.

But the deficit in the fourth quarter — at $23.7 billion — was substantially smaller than the third quarter's revised $33.6 billion in red ink.

The United States benefitted both by an increase in fourth quarter service receipts, like the proceeds from engineering, insurance, tourism and finance, as well as a decrease in the imbalance of merchandise imports over exports.

Most striking in the latest report was the skyrocketing purchases of U.S. government securities by private individuals living abroad.

Farm Debt Program Little Used

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only 61 farmers nationwide have been helped since last fall by President Reagan's $650 million program that offered federal guarantees to help banks restructure loans to debt-strapped farmers.

An Agriculture Department survey showed that only $8.4 million in guarantees have been made. Department officials conceded an earlier figure of $25 million was based on an error in data collection.

"I can't believe that. That's terrible," said Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, whose state is suffering most from the farm debt crisis.

Some officials blamed lack of use on banks but Weldon Barton of the Independent Bankers Association of America said, "If this was a workable program, the banks would be the first to participate."

A second part of the program, which helps restructure farm loans made by the Farmers Home Administration, has helped 21,580 farmers, about one-fifth of 106,032 who have asked the agency for debt relief.

An Agriculture Department study released last week estimates that 93,000 farmers are insolvent or almost broke and another 136,000 have serious financial problems. Those 229,000 farmers are $98.2 billion in debt.

Farmers have been hurt by high interest rates and falling land values. The strong dollar has put a 40 percent surcharge on the price of their exports, which are declining.

-Republican leader Robert Dole

Last week, Reagan vetoed a bill that would have sweetened the barely used program and provided advance payment of half of price support loans this spring instead of this fall.

Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., said the administration is providing more help to Farmers Home clients who could not get bank credit than to more credit-worthy farmers who borrowed from banks but have seen their land values decline as neighbors go out of business.

It is "ironic if government helped those who are the poorest risks," said Boren, who engineered last month's Farm Belt filibuster that held up Edwin Meese's confirmation as attorney general.

Frank Naylor, undersecretary of agriculture in charge of farm loans, said he believes some banks that made money on farmers in the 1970s are unwilling to participate in the program and stick with farmers during tough times.

"The financial strength is there," he said. "Frankly, we're going to press the banks a little bit."

Bankers object to reducing interest or principal on farm loans to qualify for 90 percent federal guarantees, but Naylor said if bankers are honest with themselves, they will recognize the reduction reflects a decline in the value of their farm loans.

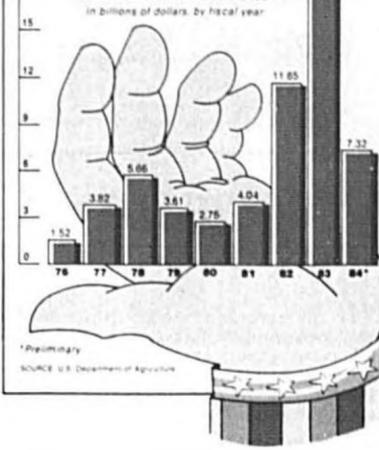

He said banks are sending borrowers to the Farmers Home Administration. Through February, a "very high" 40 percent of all direct loans the agency made were to farmers who turned to the agency for the first time, he said.

Senate Republican leader Robert Dole of Kansas said farmers perhaps need operating money instead debt relief and bankers may not understand the administration's program.

"It probably means we're going to have to find more money for direct loans," Dole said. "It may be we find that the issue was overblown in the first place. There may not be that demand for farm restructuring."

Federal farm support

The federal government spent $7.32 billion on farm support programs during fiscal 1984, about $11.5 billion less than in 1983. Federal outlays for farm support in recent years have been far above levels of the late 1970s. Outlays include operating and administrative expenses, program payments, storage facilities, and interest.

Woman Hitchhiker Raped On Hood Of Car

A 20-year-old Satellite Beach woman offered a ride from the Circus Circus go-go lounge in Fern Park to the Doll's House just down the street didn't make to the second topless bar. She reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that she was raped by the man who picked her up.

The woman told deputies the man offered her a ride at about 3:45 a.m. Sunday, but instead of driving to the bar he took the woman to a wooded area off Longwood Lake Mary Road, Lake Mary, and raped her on the hood of the car.

The man took an undetermined amount of cash from her purse and then drove her to the One Stop convenience store at Lake Mary Boulevard and Interstate 4, where he released her, a sheriff's report said.

checked on him every 20 minutes, sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

Hernandez was cut down by jail personnel and was treated at the scene by jail medical staff. He did not require further treatment, Spolski said. Since he is a federal prisoner a federal marshal took custody of Hernandez and had him transported to the Orlando hospital, Remland said.

Remland said this is the second attempt by Hernandez to kill himself. But jail officials and U.S. marshals do not consider the first incident Remland calls a suicide attempt as such. U.S. Marshal Supervisor Carlice McClelland said.

McClelland said when Hernandez was first in the Seminole lockup in January he suffered minor cuts to his mouth when a plastic spoon broke while he was eating.

SPOUSE ABUSE CHARGED

A Lake Mary man was arrested for spouse abuse after his wife went to the police and complained that he hit her.

According to the victim, her husband punched her in the face and kicked her in the ribs around 11:30 p.m. Friday in their home.

An officer noted that the woman had a welt on her face and a bloody mouth. The arresting officer reported the suspect said he hit his wife because she had been "on his case" all evening.

Released on $500 bond was Paul Louis Moduki, 33, of 127 Lake Mary Ave.

GROUNDING

A passenger jet pilot told deputies someone put four nails in a tire of his car.

According to a deputy's report, sometime between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 2 p.m. Thursday, someone drove the nails into the front passenger tire of a Cadillac owned by Richard Eugene, 118 Cherry Hill Circle, Longwood.

Eugene is a pilot for American Airlines.

SPATTING WOMEN

A west Seminole County woman reported she was threatened by another woman, while in a separate incident a Payola woman said two women tried to run her down.

Connie Riddle Mendez, 25, told a deputy that a woman came to her place of employment, Kmart, Wekiva Square, told her they needed to have a long talk and threatened to beat her up and kill her.

No reason was given for the threats. The suspect was described as 6-foot, 300 pounds and a bus driver for Orange County.

In the second incident, the husband of Kathy Poole, of 6295 Sandy Lane, told a deputy two women really didn't try to run over his wife.

He said he had repaired a car for two female friends and when they arrived to get the car, his wife chased them off the property and followed them in her car. When the wife caught up with the car the women were driving, she got out of the car. As the other car drove away, it passed closed to her, he said.

INSULT BRINGS CHARGE

A man was charged with battery after he reportedly struck a witness who insulted him.

According to a sheriff's incident report, the man was cited for trespass after warning after returning to Classy's Bar, U.S. Highway 17-92, at about 9:10 p.m. Friday. When the witness against the man called him a derogatory name, the man allegedly struck the witness several times before the deputy could intervene.

Arrested for trespass after warning and battery was James Whalen, 44, of 220 Charles St., Winter Springs. He was released on $500 bond.

DIAMOND SWAP

An Altamonte Springs woman told a sheriff's deputy that someone swapped a glass replica for her $17,000 diamond.

Carole Thiele, 40, of 31 Academy Drive, said she took her 3.2 carat diamond to be appraised Friday and was told by the appraiser that the "diamond" was glass.

She reported, however, that when she had the stone appraised in June it was valued at $17,000.

Ms. Thiele said someone must have swapped the fake for her diamond while it was in a safe in her home. Only three people know the combination to the safe, she said.

Mopping Up The Mafia

For 53 years, a secret "Commission" comprised of top Mafia bosses from New York and other cities around the nation has directed five organized crime families in New York City and underworld operations in other urban areas with apparent immunity from the law.

Some had come to believe that the Mafia overlords of the New York crime council were so powerful and so expert at covering their tracks that they never would be apprehended. But now the Commission is out of commission. A task force of 175 FBI agents and 25 New York Police Department detectives, after a long investigation, has brought about the arrest and indictment of Commission members on 15 criminal charges that include drug trafficking, loan-sharking, gambling, labor racketeering and extortion against construction companies. The nine — the heads of five La Cosa Nostra families and their "underbosses" — were linked to six murders and the extortion of $1.4 million from concrete contractors in New York City. The indictment also alleges that the nine had rigged bids and obtained kickbacks on ALL concrete-industry projects of $2 million or more in the city.

FBI Director William H. Webster, a former U.S. District appellate court judge in St. Louis, is to be congratulated for this operation that dealt a sledge-hammer blow to the dreaded Mafia from which it may never recover.

When the top Mafia crime barons are rounded up and face up to 20 years in prison if convicted on these serious charges, it sends an unmistakable message to other Mafia leaders around the country that their days of free-wheeling racketeering are ending. The combined efforts of the FBI and the local police, using the provisions of the federal Racketeer-Influenced and Corrupt-Organization Act, are too much for the crime bosses. Principally by using RICO, the FBI and federal prosecutors have brought about the indictment of 2,000 organized crime suspects in the last two years, including 300 in the New York metropolitan region.

It will be a great day for America when the Mafia is crushed in this country. As was pointed out by Rudolph W. Giuliani, the U.S. Attorney in Manhattan, organized crime has been principally responsible for illegal narcotics in the city, thereby causing a great amount of violent crime.

He could have added that this drug trafficking also causes enormous physical and mental damage to tens of thousands of drug abusers as well.

The extortion by the mob in the concrete industry, said Giuliani, was only one example of "hidden taxes" imposed by organized crime.

All Americans should applaud this ten-strike against the Mafia chieftans. They and their cohorts are a scourge on the nation.

Thanks to the FBI and other crime fighters, the days of these criminal "families" appear to be numbered.

BERRY'S WORLD

"HEY, WOW! If the secretary of education could see us now, eh?"

DONALD LAMBRO

Cabinet 'Loopholers' Fighting Reform

WASHINGTON — A chief irony behind the administration's struggle to develop a rate-cutting, loophole-busting tax-reform plan is that many of President Reagan's Cabinet members are fighting to protect loopholes that benefit their agencies' constituencies.

These officials are peppering Treasury Secretary James A. Baker III with pleas for special preferences as he picks through the thicket of tax loopholes, credits and exemptions in preparation for the tax-reform plan Reagan wants to send to Congress early next month.

Thus, Deputy Energy Secretary Danny Boggs, with the approval of his boss, Secretary John Herrington, voiced "great concern" before a recent Senate hearing over the prospect of losing tax breaks for oil exploration and drilling. Boggs says his department intends to vigorously "make that case" — i.e., lobby against eliminating existing oil exemptions.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige has likewise warned Baker that curtailment of "investment incentives," such as the investment tax credit and accelerated depreciation deductions, would hurt the business community, and thus the economy.

Similarly, U.S. trade representative William E. Brock has sent a letter to Baker warning against any changes in existing tax preferences — preferences under which many companies pay no tax on their income — that would make U.S. products less competitive overseas.

Baker is hardly surprised by these special pleadings from his Cabinet colleagues. They are merely echoing the views of many special interests in this city that support rate-reducing "tax reform" in the abstract but oppose eliminating their favorite loopholes: tax-exempt employee fringe benefits, special tax breaks for life-insurance companies and the foreign tax credit, to name only a few.

These and other tax benefits were praised late last month by House Ways and Means Committee members before whom Baker testified on the tax reform options contained in last year's Treasury study plan. Every recommendation is negotiable, he told them, but he also warned that every tax loophole that gets dropped from the plan affects how far tax rates can be lowered.

Lowering the rates without further reducing badly needed revenues means broadening the tax base — the income on which Congress can levy taxes. Over the years, the tax base has drastically shrunk because Congress removed hundreds of billions of dollars in income from taxation through a host of exemptions, credits and deductions. The tax-depletion privilege alone covers everything from clamshells to kitty litter.

For every dollar of corporate taxes the government collected in fiscal 1983, it lost $1.67 through loopholes. For individuals, the government lost 60 cents through loopholes for every dollar paid in taxes. Tax loopholes of one kind or another totaled $37 billion in 1967. Today they total nearly $370 billion.

Not only has a shrinking tax base radically reduced available taxable income, but it has also reduced the willingness of many middle-income taxpayers — who cannot take advantage of such loopholes — to pay. This is why noncompliance with federal tax laws has more than tripled in the past decade, costing the Treasury nearly $100 billion last year, or enough to cut the deficit in half.

ROBERT WALTERS Picking Foes And Friends

WASHINGTON (NEA) — On a memorable occasion many years ago, the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen was pressed to justify his capricious political behavior.

Paraphrasing Ralph Waldo Emerson, an indignant Dirksen proclaimed, "Consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds."

That aphorism probably provides the best available defense for this country's schizophrenic attitude toward the real and imagined communists of the world.

President Reagan surely has exacerbated an already difficult situation. Thus, we have the spectacle of a president who not long ago denounced the Soviet Union for presiding over an "evil empire" shamelessly maneuvering for an opportunity to meet with that nation's new leader.

Similarly, we have an administration that has elevated the struggle for political control of Nicaragua to a level just short of Armageddon but has been unenthusiastic about providing desperately needed assistance to those bravely resisting the Soviet Union's takeover of Afghanistan.

In Reagan's defense, however, much of this country's inconsistent policy toward communism was in place when he assumed office and he has merely perpetuated it.

Consider, for example, the strange case of Kampuchea, the Asian nation formerly known as Cambodia whose citizens suffered under the communist Pol Pot regime from April 1975 through December 1978.

During that Marxist reign of terror, there were mass executions of citizens who displayed even the slightest sign of disobedience to or dissatisfaction with the ruthless central government. The number of people murdered during Pol Pot's tenure is estimated at 100,000 to 300,000.

In early 1979, however, troops from another communist nation, Vietnam, swept across Kampuchea, overthrowing Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge government in Phnom Penh.

Finally, there is the strange case of Angola, a communist nation that the United States refuses to recognize diplomatically but whose economy is propped up by a consortium of this country's leading banks and oil companies.

Thus, the United States is in the position of decrying the stationing of Cuban troops in Nicaragua while financing their presence in Angola. That's selective anti-communism at its best — or worst.

JACK ANDERSON

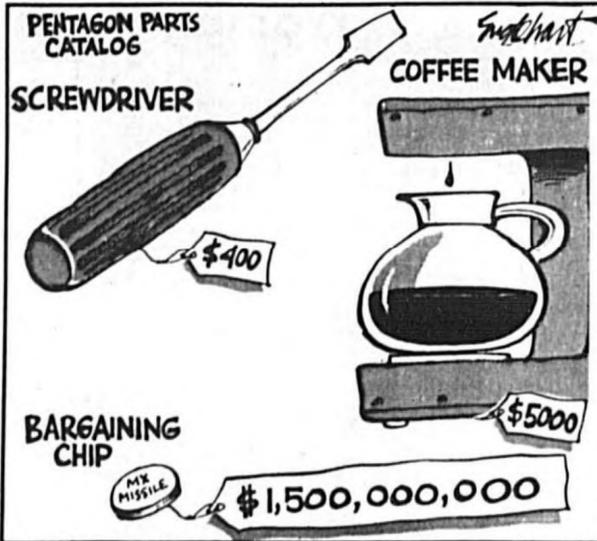

Grace Findings Generally Supported

WASHINGTON — There should be bad news today for the spendthrifts who are squandering the taxpayers' money. The General Accounting Office is expected to release its nine-month, 1,312-page critique of the Grace Commission's work.

The report generally supports the commission's assault on federal mismanagement. Most of the exceptions can be attributed to differences on recommended changes in major policies and in accounting methods.

My associate Tony Capaccio pored over the GAO review; here's a summary of the most important savings the Grace Commission recommended — along with the GAO's evaluation of the commission's findings:

— The Grace Commission offered five specific recommendations that would provide a central focus for the Budget and Personnel offices. The purpose is to encourage increased

DON GRAFF Relief Ahead—Maybe

Another April 15 is just around the corner, but hold on — help is finally on the way.

Income-tax indexation is to begin this year. That was decided by Congress back in 1981, under pressure of double-digit inflation and rising public protest at its effect on tax rates.

What it means is that the inflation rate will be factored into the tax rate, so that the effort to keep up with rising prices through larger paychecks will not move wage-earners into ever higher tax brackets.

In short, it means the end of bracket creep.

So far so good, but not necessarily all to the good in the longer view, according to a study by the Conference Board, an industry-supported research organization located in New York. To get a reading on the likely impact of indexing on federal finances, it surveyed 15 countries and 10 states that have tried it.

Indexing of state personal income taxes began in some of the states as far back as 1977 and in others as recently as last year. Results have been largely as expected. In the report's language:

"It has eliminated the bulk of inflation-induced increases in income tax collections; reduced average effective income tax rates; and provided the largest relative reduction... to low-income taxpayers."

However — and it is a big one — benefits have been offset by "substantial cumulative revenue losses that aggravated fiscal strains."

California's tax take, for a prime example, dropped a total of $4.5 billion in the 1978-82 period, and an additional $3.9 billion the next year alone.

The states have survived, but the report foresees a significant financial threat to many if inflation should pick up and economic growth slow down.

The experiences of the 15 indexed countries are variations on a similar theme. They include many of the major industrial democracies — Britain, France, Canada — and indexation frequently was adopted following prolonged bouts with inflation.

Canada, where it has been in effect for 12 years, dealt with a similar problem by capping indexation at less than the inflation rate for 1983 and '84, which meant the son of bracket creep was back in business. To some, that may be fine-tuning. To others, copping out.

GOP: Year Of Gains

By William Cotterell

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Precisely one year ago today, Rep. Andy Ireland marked St. Patrick's Day by announcing that he was switching from the Democratic Party to the Republicans.

Since then, the Florida GOP has made some impressive gains, and caused once-confident leaders of the Democratic majority to begin talking nervously about how they can separate their image from the liberal views of the Democratic National Committee. State Republican leaders are banking that it can't be done — at least not in time for the 1986 elections.

Gov. Bob Graham, Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., and State Democratic Party Chairman Charles Whitehead are talking up the past accomplishments of leaders of the Florida party, while at the same time trying to steer the national party toward a more centrist political course.

Ireland, a Lakeland banker who served eight years in Congress as a Democrat, said his experiences "have convinced me that fight is useless." Ireland said he tired of trying to make the Democrats more conservative and jumped to the GOP because "our views are not heard, not heeded and not wanted" by the national leadership of the majority party.

Republican gains over the past year have included:

— A 65 percent majority for President Reagan last Nov. 6, despite the state's majority Democratic registration.

— Defection of more than 30 state and local elected officials, including two state legislators, who have changed parties.

— Out-registering the Democrats among new voters, especially in heavily Hispanic precincts where Reagan's anti-communist stance has been well-received.

— A gain of seven legislative seats in the 1984 state elections, in addition to the two state lawmakers who switched sides since then.

All told, the Republicans now hold 173 local offices, 44 House seats, 10 in the State Senate, and seven Congressional seats.

State GOP Chairwoman Jeanie Austin of Orlando, who took office shortly before Ireland's switch last year, has designated Boca Raton college professor Don Ross to head a registration drive. The Republicans claim to have signed up more than 25,000 new voters since election day — topping the 2 million mark statewide — and party officials predict they will overtake the Democrats (currently 3.3 million) by the end of this decade.

That trend, coupled with the fact that no public officials have been switching from Republican to Democrat, has set off a slightly delayed reaction among the Democrats.

Senate President Harry Johnston, D-West Palm Beach, last month made a stinging attack on GOP legislators — saying Florida Democrats had nothing to apologize for, and claiming Republicans offered only nice-sounding slogans but "lacked courage" to make politically unpopular decisions about taxes, education and environmental protection.

productivity among federal workers, which would save an estimated $10.5 billion in personnel expenses over three years.

Comments the GAO review: "The savings estimates provided by Grace appear to be reasonable, although they cannot be fully supported" — meaning that the exact amount of savings can't be predicted until the recommendations are tried.

"What is important," the review explains, "is that the Grace Commission and the GAO show significant opportunities for reducing federal costs through productivity gains."

— The commission wants to get Uncle Sam out of the hydroelectric power business by selling off five of the country's major dams and their generating plants. The sale of the power complexes would bring in $19.8 billion over a three-year period, the commission estimates. The GAO isn't so sure.

While the recommendation "may have some merit... GAO sees a number of obstacles to implementing this recommendation," the review states. The GAO auditors had "no basis to assess... whether the commission's estimated sales price is reasonable," they point out.

— GAO's hard-eyed cost cutters give unqualified approval to the Grace Commission's recommendation that user fees for government-operated hydroelectric plants be increased. And they agree with the commission's estimate that $4.5 billion could be realized over three years by bringing the user fees more in line with what most utility customers pay.

— The Grace Commission urged that federal agency procurement chiefs — the people who are responsible for what the government buys — abide by the provisions of a 2-year-old directive called Circular A-76. This directs agencies to rely on the private sector for commercial products and services whenever they are cheaper.

The commission estimated a three-year savings of $7.3 billion from turning over procurement to the private sector. The GAO review neither approves nor questions this estimate, but it notes that while the Reagan administration had made some moves in the spirit of A-76, "in spite of these actions, GAO agrees with the Grace Commission's position that legislation could be beneficial in encouraging more consistent and widespread compliance with A-76."

— The GAO finds "merit" in the commission's recommendation that three federal wage-protection laws, including the controversial Davis-Bacon Act, be either repealed or modified. The Grace Commission estimated that the three-year savings would be $11.6 billion; the GAO said this estimate appears "reasonable."

Family Comes 1st, Betris Resigns From Coaching

"How sad that men would base an entire civilization on the principle of paternity, upon the legal ownership and presumed responsibility for children, and then never really get to know their sons and daughters very well." — Phyllis Chesler

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Renny Betris, the coach of the Lake Brantley High girls basketball and softball teams, has a baby boy almost one year old. Because of his involvement in athletics at Lake Brantley High, Betris has had little time to spend with his son the past year. Primarily for that reason, Betris has resigned as basketball coach and, at the end of this season, softball coach of the Lady Patriots. Betris said it doesn't mean he will be out of coaching permanently but that being a husband and father was the most important responsibility in his life.

"The main reason I resigned is I wanted to be with my family more," Betris said. "I (coaching) got to the point where I'd leave home in the morning and see my baby, then I'd come home late after practice or a game and he'd already be asleep. I want to be around my son more. One of the things I've learned from teaching school is it's vital for a father to be around his kid. I want him to have every opportunity to succeed in life.

"And my wife has been a champion through the whole thing," added Betris. Betris is the second successful county basketball coach to resign in the last week. Ron Merthic, who guided Seminole to its third Five Star Conference championship in four years, gave up his head coaching job to concentrate on different career opportunities.

Betris, who graduated from Edinboro (Penn.) University, is in his fifth year coaching at Lake Brantley. He previously had been a teacher at Pine Crest Elementary School in Sanford.

Betris started out as the junior varsity girls coach at Lake Brantley while Willie Richardson was head coach. Richardson then moved on to take the head boys job at Lake Mary and Betris moved into the head job.

"I learned a lot from Willie (Richardson)," Betris said. "And from Bob Peterson (Brantley boys coach). They're two of the best coaches around."

Betris guided the Lady Patriots to their most successful season ever in 1984-85 with a 23-6 record and a state (4A) ranking as high as fifth. All six of the Lady Patriots' losses were to Lake Mary (three) and Seminole (three).

"It's all been worth it," Betris said. "I've met some incredible kids and there have been very few I've had a hard time with. I'm very fortunate my first major coaching job was in the Five Star Conference. It's one of the most competitive conferences in the state."

Betris also said his assistants this past season, Debbie Frank and Ann Mallory, were important to the success of the team.

"My two assistants were outstanding," Betris said. "Debbie Frank is one of the most knowledgeable people I know. She helped start the girls program at Lake Brantley and Ann Mallory did great job teaching the JV kids."

Frank, who also assists Betris with the softball team, said she enjoyed working with the Brantley mentor.

"I respect him as much as any coach around," Frank said. "He teaches the kids so much more than basketball."

Betris said the Lake Brantley administration was also very supportive.

"The administration at Lake Brantley is outstanding," he said. "They always back their coaches. Peterson (the athletic director) gave me incredible support. It's a fine place to start out a coaching career. Coaching here is one of the greatest

Rams, Lyman Eye Saturday

The second half of the Five Star Conference baseball schedule begins today as five county teams are in action. Another set is slated for Wednesday. Lake Mary and Lyman, nevertheless, can't help but look to Saturday.

That's when the two county heavyweights will meet for the third time this year and this one will be of the most importance. Lake Mary, ranked No. 6 in the Florida Sports Writers 4A Prep Poll, plays Seminole today at 3:30. The Rams, 11-3, travel to Mainland Wednesday. Lyman, ranked No. 8 last week, travels to Seabreeze tonight and hosts Spruce Creek Wednesday night. The Greyhounds are 13-2.

Lake Mary has an 8-1 conference record. Lyman is 6-2. Lyman is one game behind because Apopka had a conflict during the first round and that game will be played at the end of the season.

Both teams are loaded with pitching. Lake Mary has three good starters (Anthony Laszale, Eric "The Whip" Hagen and Neal Harris) behind ace Mike Schmit. All three have shutouts this spring. Look for Schmit in the big game Saturday, nevertheless.

Lyman's ace is Derek Livernolis but Byron Overstreet has been the 'Hounds most effective pitcher lately. Clint Baker, a lefty, leads the county in earned run average. Overstreet, a junior, lost a heartbreaker to Lake Howell March 6, picked up a save and twirled a one-hitter in his last three outings. Look for Livernolis on Saturday, however.

Livernolis beat Lake Mary the first time they met but Schmit didn't pitch. Lake Mary rocked Livernolis the next time when Schmit pitched. Livernolis didn't receive much support defensively, though, which could be the final indicator between these two good teams.

The Rams' left side of third baseman Kevin Hill and shortstop Shane Letterio or Anthony Laszale is excellent. The Greyhounds' right side of second baseman Kyle Brubaker and first baseman Baker is also tough.

Give Lake Mary the edge in hitting and Lyman the edge in pitching. Defense? Whoever makes the routine plays will probably win Saturday.

While Lake Mary and Lyman have an eye on Saturday, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley, two honorable mention teams in the state poll, will go to war on Wednesday.

These two squads had a great slugfest the first time they met at Lake Brantley. The Patriots came away with a 15-14 victory. Wednesday's meeting will be at Lake Howell's Homerdome. Look for another attack of aluminum.

Each team has great hitters and so-so pitching. Andy and Brad Dunn, Mike Beams, Dan Beaty, Mike Davis and Kevin Bass lead the Brantley bunch. Ed Taubensee, who had a grand slam in the first game, Scott "Thurman" Munson,

Skillful Hurdle

No matter what the camera angle, negotiating the hurdles is one of the most skilled of all high school athletic events. A good hurdler needs speed, grace, timing, conditioning, and determination. Above, Lake Mary's Chris Bonham, right, and Boone's Scott Toney are evenly matched as they skim the last hurdle of their preliminary heat at the Lyman Invitational. At the right, Lake Howell's Rochelle Spearman gets complete extension as she leaves the field behind. Spearman won her specialty — the 110 hurdles — and finished third in the 330s. Toney was fourth and Bonham placed sixth in the 120s behind Seminole winner Frank Barnett. The county's ninth and 10th graders move into the spotlight Tuesday with the Five Star Conference Frosh-Sophomore championships at Lake Brantley. Seminole's boys and girls go to the Bob Hayes Invitational in Jacksonville Saturday.

Howell, DeLand Are Tied

With one-third of the Five Star Conference softball schedule completed, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks and DeLand's Lady Bulldogs are tied for the top spot at 3-0 followed closely by Lake Mary and Apopka at 2-1.

Lake Howell and DeLand put their unbeaten conference marks on the line Tuesday as Lake Howell travels to Lake Brantley (2-2 in the Five Star) and DeLand hosts Lake Mary at the DeLand Airport.

In other games Tuesday, Seminole (0-2) hosts Mainland (1-1) and Lyman (1-3) travels to Spruce Creek (1-2).

Oviedo's Lady Lions are currently on top of the Orange Belt Conference with a 3-0 mark. Oviedo hosts Lake Highland in a non-conference game today at 4:15 at Red Bug Park.

Lake Mary's Kim Averill, a senior shortstop, continues to lead the county in hitting with a .733 average (11 for 15). Seminole's Mary Hicks (.667) and Barbara Silva (.650) are right behind Averill. Lyman's top hitter is Kristie Kaiser (.533). Jennifer Wallace tops Lake Howell (.500). Mikki Eby leads Oviedo (.464) and Laura Davis leads Brantley (.400).

Eby, a sophomore outfielder, also leads in home runs (2) and runs batted in (12). Seminole has the leaders in runs (Alycia "Fat" Dixon with nine), triples (Hicks with three) and doubles (Jackie Suggs with two). Also tied with Suggs in doubles are Lake Mary's Lisa Simkins and Lisa Santulli.

Big East, ACC Maintain Supremacy

United Press International

The ongoing battle for conference supremacy between the Big East and the Atlantic Coast Conference is coming to a head, but Sunday's NCAA Tournament games did nothing to resolve the stalemate.

In two showdowns between Big East and ACC teams, each conference claimed a victory and as a result, both powerhouse leagues will have four teams among the Tournament's "Sweet Sixteen."

At Atlanta, Mark Price scored 18 points and Yvon Joseph added 17 to lead ACC champion Georgia Tech to a 70-53 victory over No. 15 Syracuse and a berth in the NCAA East Regional semifinals.

The sixth-ranked Yellow Jackets, ahead only 28-27 at the half, outscored the Orangemen 9-2 over the first 4:11 of the second half for a 37-29 lead and Syracuse could get no closer than three points after that.

Georgia Tech, 26-7, will play 10th-ranked Illinois, which beat Georgia 74-58 Sunday, in the NCAA East semifinals Thursday night at Providence, R.I.

"I didn't think I would be sitting here as a winner," said Georgia Tech coach Bobby Cremins, who in his four years has turned the Yellow Jackets from a laughing stock into a serious contender for the national title. "Syracuse is a great basketball team. The score is no indication of the game."

The Eagles, who advance to Thursday's regional semifinals against Memphis State, had trailed by as many as 11 in the first half.

At Houston, Tyrone Scott's free throw with 13 seconds left gave Boston College the cushion it needed to upset No. 12 Duke 74-73 in the Midwest Regionals. The Eagles, who placed sixth in the nine-team Big East, led 73-68 with 1:07 left, but Duke's All-America guard Johnny Dawkins hit a jumper and then added a free throw to cut the deficit to 73-71 with 29 seconds left.

Southeast

Dwayne McClain scored 20 points and Villanova hit 11-of-13 free throws in the final 97 seconds to pin a shocking 59-55 upset on No. 2

Basketball

Michigan in the second round of the NCAA Southeast Regional at Dayton, Ohio.

McClain credited the rugged Big East, where the 21-10 Wildcats faced Georgetown and St. John's five times this season, for preparing him for the NCAA Tournament.

Maryland shattered Navy's hopes for a second straight upset when Jeff Adkins and Keith Gatlin each canned 2 free throws in the final 40 seconds to seal the Terps' victory. Navy, which shocked Louisiana State in the first round, ended its season with a 26-6 record.

East

At Atlanta, Doug Altenberger led No. 10 Illinois on a 16-point scoring spree late in the first half as the Fighting Illini, 26-8, thrashed Georgia 74-58 to set up Thursday's meeting with Georgia Tech. Illinois is the only one of six Big Ten teams which received berths left in the Tournament.

Midwest

At Houston, Andre Turner hit a 15-foot jumper with six seconds left in overtime to lift No. 4 Memphis State into the final 18 for the fourth straight year with a 67-66 victory over Alabama-Birmingham. Anthony Gordon had given Alabama-Birmingham a 66-65 edge on a follow shot with 43 seconds left.

West

At Albuquerque, N.M., Alabama, a surprise 63-59 winner over Virginia Commonwealth, and North Carolina State, which topped Texas-El Paso 86-73, will battle in Friday's West Regional semifinals in Denver.

Bobby Lee Hurt touched off an Alabama streak late in the first half and keyed a defensive effort that held Virginia Commonwealth without a field goal for 10 minutes.

The power of Lorenzo Charles and the quickness of Anthony "Spud" Webb sent North Carolina State rolling past Texas-El Paso for the Wolfpack's eighth straight NCAA tournament triumph.

Known as the 'Big E,' Elvin Hayes, who played center for Houston, has score more points in NCAA basketball tournaments than anyone else. Yet his tournament average of 358 points in 13 games (27.5 points per game) is far below Austin Carr's 289 points in seven games (41.3 points per game). Hayes, however, played in almost twice as many games with the Cougars as Carr did with Notre Dame. Oscar Robertson, who played on 10 NCAA tournament entries, is second with 324 points for a 32.4 average.

Pennywell Cuts Off Punt Return, Breakers Escape

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — No one expects to match Portland linebacker Robert Pennywell in a race with Carl Lewis, but Breakers coach Dick Coury is satisfied with the big man's effort Saturday night.

Pennywell, 30, came up with the play of the game Saturday night as Portland evened its record at 2-2 with a 23-17 victory over the Orlando Renegades.

Portland was leading 23-17 with 15 seconds left and had to punt on 4th down. Orlando's Victor Jackson took the ball on his 15 and fumbled it forward. But it bounced right back to him and he took off, suddenly finding himself with clear sailing ahead.

Except for Pennywell. The veteran linebacker came in on an angle and managed to tackle Jackson on the Breakers' 14 as time expired.

"Robert Pennywell, at that time of the game, probably would run about a 6-flat 40, and he was chasing a guy who probably runs 4.6 or 4.7, but he caught him," said Coury.

Pennywell said he didn't see the fumble. "Some guy was trying to rough up (Jeff) Gossett (the Portland punter). I turned around to get him off Gossett. The next thing I knew, the punt returner was in the open field. I was just praying for some extra energy and speed from somewhere to catch the guy."

"I saw him (Pennywell) all the way," said Jackson. "I thought I could beat him. I was just running for my life. It was a heck of a play. I'd gotten my shoulder past him, but he got me on the back of my shoulder."

Thus, Portland escaped defeat and Coury said: "We make it exciting for you. Don't leave any of our games early."

Two weeks ago, Portland salvaged a victory over Los Angeles by holding the Express four yards short of the winning touchdown on the final play.

Another solid crowd of 25,844 turned out for the Breakers' second game. The home opener against Los Angeles also drew more than 25,000.

It was another big night for Portland's 230-pound Buford Jordan, the running back who took over when Marcus Dupree went down for the season with a knee injury.

Jordan picked up 175 yards in 19 carries and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. He got 140 yards in the second half.

Of his 25-yard touchdown run, he said, "It was just a toss to the outside. We had the defensive back one-on-one. Vince (Williams) made a block and there wasn't nothing but the open field."

Jordan has had three straight 100-yard games.

Another highlight was a 95-yard kickoff return by the Renegades' Jerry Parrish to close the gap to 15-10. But Portland came back to score on Jordan's run after a 26-yard pass from

Anderson Runs Wild, Bandits Top Outlaws

Football

TAMPA (UPI) — Doug Williams didn't know he was in the right place Saturday until the boogie started.

"It wouldn't have been Tampa without the boogie," said the former quarterback of the NFL's Buccaneers, who jumped to the USFL in September 1983. "If it was all cheers, I would have gone home."

Williams had a decent game at quarterback for Arizona, but Tampa Bay running back Gary Anderson was exceptional as he shredded the league's premier defense for a career-high 162 yards and Zenon Andrusyshyn kicked three field goals to lead the Bandits to a 23-13 triumph.

"There was no reason for us to lose this game," said Williams, who completed 19-of-37 passes for 204 yards but was intercepted twice. "We moved the ball well enough to come away with a lot more points, but our mistakes stopped us. Anderson can run inside, run outside and catch the football. I wish he was playing for our side."

The Bandits improved to 3-1, but the defense suffered a major setback when free safety Zac Henderson separated his right shoulder. Henderson, who intercepted Williams in the end zone to frustrate the Outlaws on their opening possession, is expected to miss 4-6 games.

"Our defense gave up some yards, but hung in there tough down near the goal line," said Tampa Bay coach Steve Spurrier. "We only gave up 13 points and if we can continue to do that, we'll be all right. What can you say about Gary Anderson? I'm just glad we've got No. 43 on our team."

Anderson, averaging 5.7 yards per carry this year, opened the scoring with a 51-yard touchdown scamper just 3:12 into the game. John Reeves hit Eric Truvillion on an 11-yard TD pass and Andrusyshyn clicked on field goals of 43, 42 and 20 yards for Tampa Bay. The Outlaws, 2-2, were limited to two field goals by Luis Zendejas and a 12-yard scoring run by Kevin Long.

Stars 29, Generals 9
The Baltimore Stars used their home opener to make the New Jersey Generals feel unwelcome.

Kelvin Bryant broke 100 yards for the first time this season with 136 yards on 25 carries and scored two touchdowns Sunday to help Baltimore to its first victory of the season, a 29-9 pounding of the Generals at Byrd Stadium.

"The real Stars showed up today," New Jersey Generals coach Walt Michaels said. "This is a good football team. They are big, strong and young," Michaels said of the Stars.

The victory broke a three-game winless streak for the USFL champions now 1-2-1. New Jersey fell to 2-2.

Invaders 42, Bulls 36
At Oakland, Calif., Bobby Hebert threw for over 300 yards and four touchdowns Sunday to lead the Invaders. The victory raised Oakland's record to 2-1-1, while Jacksonville lost its third straight to fall to 1-3.

Stallions 34, Showboats 19
At Birmingham, Ala., Cliff Stoudt threw two touchdown passes. Danny Miller added two fourth-quarter field goals and Birmingham held off a second-half surge to top Memphis. The Stallions moved into a tie for the USFL Eastern Conference lead with a 3-1 record.

Sutcliffe Flashes '84 Form, Cubs Win

Baseball

By United Press International
Rick Sutcliffe is picking up where he left off last season.

Sutcliffe pitched five shutout innings and drove in a run with a single Sunday to beat the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 as the Cubs upped their exhibition record to 6-3. A year ago Chicago was 7-20 in the Cactus League.

Sutcliffe, last season's National League Cy Young Award winner, is 2-0 this spring with an 0.75 earned run average.

"I'd like to go nine innings before we break camp," said the team's opening-day starter April 9 against Pittsburgh.

The Cubs scored twice in the second inning off loser Tim Lary, beginning with a double by Ron Cey and an RBI single by Jody Davis. Two batters later, Davis scored on Sutcliffe's single.

Leon Durham's first home run of spring in the third inning proved to be the clincher when the Brewers scored twice in the sixth off Ray Fontenot on rookie Doug Loman's two-run homer.

White Sox 7, Royals 2
At Fort Myers, Tom Seaver pitched five scoreless innings and Darryl Boston and Joe Skinner each cracked home runs as the White Sox defeated the Royals. Seaver, the winner, limited the Royals to two singles.

Yankees 9, Red Sox 6
In Winter Haven, the Yankees scored six second-inning runs and held off a five-run Boston comeback in the fifth inning to defeat the Sox.

Dodgers 6, Astros 5
At Vero Beach, Bill Russell had two hits and two RBI and the Los Angeles bullpen pitched 4 2-3 scoreless innings, helping to subdue the Astros. The Dodgers improved to 5-3, including a victory over the Samsung Lions of Korea. Houston slipped to 3-8.

Orioles 11, Braves 2
In Miami, rookie third baseman Fritz Connally hit his second home run of the spring to lead the Orioles to victory over the Braves.

Mariners 2, A's 1
At Tempe, Ariz., Spike Owen singled home Ivan Calderon with one out in the bottom of the ninth to give the Mariners a victory over Oakland.

Reds 3, Pirates 2
At Tampa, Dave Parker's two-out single in the 10th inning scored Eric Davis and gave the Reds a victory over the Pirates.

Mets 5, Cardinals 2
At St. Petersburg, George Foster smashed a three-run, first-inning home run to spark the Mets over the Cardinals. The Mets are 3-4 in the Grapefruit League and the Cardinals 1-3.

Blue Jays 8, Phillies 2
At Clearwater, the Toronto Blue Jays rolled to their ninth straight exhibition victory, scoring six unearned runs in the 10th to beat Phillies. Juan Samuel's two errors opened the door for the Blue Jays as they scored six times on four hits and three errors.

Tigers 7, Twins 1
At Lakeland, Nelson Simmons cracked a three-run homer in the first inning to power the Tigers over the Twins. The Tigers snapped a two-game losing streak and raised their record to 7-3.

What does an ordinary major-league baseball player earn? The average salary last season was $329,408, according to the Players Association. Pay ranged from an average of $458,544 for the New York Yankees to $159,744 for the Cleveland Indians. New York's signing of Rickey Henderson to an $8.5 million contract over five years will push owner George Steinbrenner's payroll even higher. The White Sox are second behind the Yankees.

John Canfield, Vic Roberts and Ernest Martinez are the Silver Hawk swatters. Eric Martinez, bothered by the flu the past two weeks, may be ready to return for the Hawks.

Seminole, meanwhile, takes on Deland Thursday at SCC before going to Lake Howell Friday. Coach Mike Ferrell opened the season with a young squad and its getting younger. He called up freshman Jeff Blake and sophomore Dwayne Willis last week and both made contributions in a win over Spruce Creek.

The Seminoles start just three seniors in Tom Wilks, Tony Cox and James Hersey. All have played well but Ferrell said he knows that he has to get his kids some playing time if the Tribe hopes to compete in this county.

"The other schools have such good feeder programs," he said. "We have to get our programs going at the lower levels. I know we have some good young players coming and we have to keep them interested in baseball."

The programs which have paved the way for success by Lake Mary, Lyman, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell and Oviedo are the Altamonte Springs and Oviedo Little Leagues along with the Seminole Pony Baseball program at Five Points near Winter Springs.

Until Sanford gets a fundamental program to compare with these solid organizations, it will be tough for the Seminoles to compete with the rest of the county.

The Sanford Recreation Department could take a positive step by getting out of the Florida Little Major League Baseball organization and into Little League Baseball. There is no comparison between the organization or the caliber of play between the two baseball organizations.

Sanford baseball players grow up playing mediocre competition and when they are exposed to players like Schmit and Livernois they are overmatched. They won't be able to compete unless they play against players of that caliber from the get go.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Greek Government May Be Forced To Hold Elections

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — The candidate chosen by Socialist Prime Minister Andreas Papandreu's party to replace President Constantine Karamanlis has failed to win parliamentary approval in a first round of voting.

Conservative members of Parliament boycotted the balloting Sunday to protest Papandreu's refusal to back Karamanlis for a second term.

Papandreu's decision prompted Karamanlis to resign last week. The speaker of Parliament, Yannis Alevras, assumed the post of acting president.

A second presidential vote in Parliament was set for March 23 and Papandreu was expected today to begin mustering support for the candidate of his ruling Pan-Hellenic Socialist Movement. Supreme Court Judge Christos Sartzetakis.

Papandreu's government will be forced to hold general elections if Parliament fails to elect Sartzetakis — the only candidate — in the second or third round of voting.

Cruise Deployment Debated

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Prime Minister Wilfried Martens faced a possible parliamentary challenge to his government today over its decision to permit the deployment of 16 cruise missiles at a U.S. airbase in Belgium.

Tens of thousands of people paraded through Brussels for three hours Sunday to oppose last week's Cabinet decision to go ahead with the deployment of NATO missiles in Belgium. The march had originally been planned to protest nuclear escalation in Europe by both the United States and the Soviet Union.

A parliamentary debate on the deployment was scheduled to begin today and could result in an attempt to bring down the government through a vote of no-confidence. However the deliberative body has no authority to overrule the Cabinet on the deployment short of forcing new elections.

Martens was confident last week that his government would survive any such challenge.

While the nuclear deployment is not popular, most Belgians are staunchly in favor of NATO and are thought to be more concerned with internal issues such as unemployment and taxes.

protecting the environment and water quality and to collate that information before the basin develops beyond the point of no return.

"The citizens of Florida already have a large investment in the Wekiva River Basin. Some 20,000 acres in that basin is already state-owned and parks on portions of that property are heavily used by the people of this area."

There are now five developments, encompassing 3,563 acres either on the drawing boards or in some stage of the county permitting process for development along the river in Seminole County, according to a study completed by the organization.

Among the recommendations in the report is that Seminole County adopt a wetlands ordinance to protect the area along the river, which they say is threatened by over-development proposals.

But Tony Vanderworp, the county's principal planner, says the county already has a wetlands ordinance on the books and staff, consultants and a special advisory committee have been working for the past two years on a wetlands management program to update and expand the ordinance.

He says he expects the work will be completed and ready for public hearing sometime in July.

Vanderworp said the advisory committee includes among its members representatives from the Friends of the St. Johns, the University of Central Florida, the League of Women Voters, lawyers, engineers, Seminole Community College, realtors, planners and agricultural interests.

The wetlands program when adopted will restrict development in wetlands, provide for protection and use of wetlands and provide enhancement of water quality and flood storage capacity there.

Vanderworp agreed with the study report from the "Friends" that the county's wetlands ordinance, now in effect, doesn't have sufficient guidelines to protect wetlands.

When the program is adopted, Vanderworp said he envisions comprehensive regulations on wetlands, much like the county's arbor ordinance.

"No one will be allowed to go in and rip out wetlands," Vanderworp said.

Commissioner Bill Kirchoff said the county does not permit developers to build on wetlands.

He said when wetlands are included in a development plan, the county requires that they be left in their natural state.

The organization's comprehensive study also says the fresh water supply of southwestern Seminole County has been threatened because of the withdrawal of water from the Floridan Aquifer at a rate some 50 percent higher than safe levels as defined by the U.S. Geological Survey.

It says because of this excessive withdrawal of water, there has been permanent enlargement "of the area of saltwater encroachment in the aquifer."

The major recommendations in the report are that: "no further development be allowed in the Wekiva River Basin until the cumulative development impacts have been assessed and future impacts are reliably predicted" and that the state "designate the basin for a resource planning and management committee" under the control of the state, as provided by state law.

Mrs. Harden said it will cost the taxpayers far less to correct the problems with the wetlands in the basin now than it will after the area is over-developed.

Islamic Jihad Kidnaps Three

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The fundamentalist Islamic Jihad movement has claimed responsibility for kidnapping an American and two Britons last week and warned all foreigners in Lebanon to refrain from subversive activities.

In Damascus, Syrian Vice President Abdel Halim Khaddam canceled plans today to travel to Beirut for talks with President Amin Gemayel on the demands of a breakaway Christian militia for a greater role in Lebanon's government.

A spokesman for the Islamic Jihad, or Holy War, telephoned a Western news agency late Sunday to say the group had seized American newsmen Terry Anderson and two British nationals.

The Arabic-speaking caller said the three were abducted during a campaign to clear Beirut of "spies living amongst us" and issued a "final warning" for foreigners to avoid involvement in "subversive activities."

City workers put the dirt and pilings barricade across the street at the request of the Columbus Harbour Homeowners Association President Paul Carroll. He said the members of the association objected to the traffic, which includes large trucks, through their subdivision on the connector street between state road 434 and Dog Track Road.

Also scheduled for tonight's meeting are several public hearings. The first will be on a request by Mary E. Doan to operate a wholesale retail motor vehicles sales business at 800 W. state Road 434.

The commission will consider a conditional use request to exceed the 35-foot height limitation in C-3 (commercial, general) zoning on the south side of State Road 434 submitted by agent, Robert Beaver for the owner Richard H. Garland.

A site plan submitted by Regional Construction for a Federal Express warehouse, office and distribution center on Lots 24 and 25 in the Florida Central Commerce Park will be reviewed. City Attorney Gerald Korman will report on the noise ordinance and the engineering consulting firm of Dyer, Riddle, Mills and Precourt will give a project report.

An ordinance establishing a Parks and Recreation Advisory Board will be up for preliminary approval.

Hearings will also be held on the following rezoning requests:

• Lots 1, 2, and 3, Block 4, Entzinger's Addition No. 1, West side of County Road 427 from I-1 industrial to commercial, general, submitted by County Jail — began the massive job of cleaning up after the county's worst storm ever.

Electricity was still off in most of the area today. Florida Power & Light officials cut power Sunday to reduce the danger of fire or electrocution. Residents and shopkeepers boarded up their homes and damaged storefronts.

The Venice tornado was one of three to strike south-central Florida Sunday. Twisters at Fort Ogden, 40 miles to the southeast, and along the northern edge of Lake Okechobee, 200 miles east of Venice, caused minor damage but no injuries.

"As far as I know, this is the largest storm in terms of property damage and maybe in terms of human life that Sarasota County has ever experienced," said sheriff's spokesman Lt. Bill Stookey.

"As soon as any institution receives FSLIC insurance or demonstrates ... that they have sufficient outside backing, they will be allowed to open their doors," Celeste said at a news conference.

"The adoption of this plan, we hope, will mean the reopening of many of the institutions should be a matter of days rather than weeks," he said.

Concern for the stability of the savings institutions arose after Home State Savings Bank closed its doors because of a run.

Home State dealt with ESM Government Securities, Inc., of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and borrowed nearly $670 million from the company after putting up $100 million in securities as collateral.

The run occurred following reports that Home State may have lost the $100 million when the Florida securities firm collapsed after being accused of fraud by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Celeste admitted the new requirements would force some of the savings institutions to close because of an inability to meet federal criteria, but he said that was overshadowed by the need to guarantee the safety of deposits and restore confidence in the state's banking system.

Home State is owned by Cincinnati financier Marvin Warner, ambassador to Switzerland during the Carter administration and a financial backer of Celeste's gubernatorial campaign.

'Poison-Proof' Home To Prevent Tragedy

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing in response to the problems of the elderly and those with arthritis in opening pill containers with child-resistant caps. If it's any consolation, they really do work, and since their appearance, the incidence of child deaths from aspirin has been reduced by 88 percent!

Dear Abby

However, pharmacists also have non-child-resistant caps available — all you need do is ask. But please warn grandparents whose grandchildren come to visit that their homes (and especially grandmother's purse) are a treasure trove for a curious child.

Keep medicine and poisons out of reach. Have a bottle of syrup of ipecac on hand in case your local poison center or your physician recommends its use to induce vomiting. Lastly, put your name, address and emergency numbers (including that of the poison center) on or next to your telephone. If you have more questions, please call your local poison center or pharmacist.

ELIZABETH BENNETT, SEATTLE POISON CENTER DEAR MS. BENNETT: Thank you for a timely and valuable letter — especially since this is Poison Prevention Week. Some poison prevention tips:

- Never take medicine in front of children.

- Never call medicine "candy."
- Store all cleaning supplies out of sight and out of reach of children. (Never leave cleanser or detergent under the kitchen or bathroom sink.)
- Keep all products in their original containers.
- Discard old medicines by flushing them down the toilet.

Here is a checklist of potential poisons found in the home. These products should be locked up or kept out of reach of children.

KITCHEN: aspirin, drain cleaners (lye), furniture polish, powdered and liquid detergents, cleanser and scouring powders, ammonia, oven cleaner, rust remover, dishwasher detergents.

BEDROOM: all medications, jewelry cleaner, cosmetics, perfume.

LAUNDRY: bleaches, soaps, detergents, disinfectants, bluing, dyes, spot removers.

CLOSETS, ATTIC, STORAGE PLACES: rat poison, ant poison, mothballs, insect sprays.

PURSE: aspirin, all drugs, cigarettes.

BATHROOM: all drugs and pills, shampoo, wave lotion and sprays, nail polish and polish remover, suntan products, shaving lotions, toilet bowl cleaner, rubbing alcohol, room deodorizer, hair remover, boric acid, denture tablets, deodorants, pine oil and bath oil.

GARAGE, BASEMENT, WORKSHOP: lye, kerosene bug killers, gasoline, lighter fluid, turpentine, paint remover and thinner, paint, weed killers, anti-freeze and fertilizers.

GENERAL: flaking paint, repainted toys, broken plaster. Some flowers and plants are poisonous.

FIRST AID FOR POISONINGS: Keep syrup of ipecac on hand in your home, but do not use except on the advice of your physician or the poison center. (Call information now for your local poison center's 24-hour hot-line number, and keep it on or near your phone.)

Poison prevention is the best antidote for poisonings, but accidental poisonings can occur in any home. The natural impulse is to act at once, but the wrong treatment for poisoning is often more harmful than none. So call your physician or your local poison center for advice immediately.

Rock Lake Mathcounts First Again In Contest

A team of five eighth grade students at Rock Lake Middle School in Longwood excelled over 19 other schools in central Florida in the Mathcounts Mathematics Contest sponsored by the Florida Engineering Society.

This is the school's third win in the three years of the contest.

The young mathematicians are Eric Hornquist, Joel Miller, Jason Witt, and Darrel Fabian with Scott Schiff as alternate. The group is coached by Maria Gerrity, chairman of the Math Department at Rock Lake.

Competitions for the State title will be held in Tampa at the University of South Florida on April 13. Rock Lake's team placed sixth in the State in 1983 and second in the state competition last year. This year's Mathcounts hope to bring home first in State honors.

The Longwood Civic League Woman's Club recently viewed a fashion show narrated by Kitty Barnett of the Don Ellen Dress Shop of Longwood. Mrs. Barnett presented the club members modeling the new fashions. They were as follows: Marsha Waite, Patti McKinny, Peggy Gromack and Elda Nichols.

Jane Lornann, vice president of the club, was chairman of the affair.

"A Tribute to Chuck Magione" concert performed by the Altamonte Springs Jazz Ensemble will be held March 24 at 7 p.m. at the Eastmonte Civic Center on Magnolia Drive. The concert is free to the public.

Latin students of Lake Brantley High School's Latin Program recently won the District Five Junior Classical League title for the second year successively.

The win entitles the students to compete in this year's State Finals. Last year, 25 Brantley students placed in this State competition. On the National level, 19 students garnered gold and silver medals on the National Latin exam.

Mrs. Debbie Williams, Latin teacher and Brantley's 1986 Teacher of the Year is the sponsor and coach of this winning team.

South Seminole's Public Library at Casselberry will present young performing artist, Craig Hunting, violinist, of the Florida Youth Orchestra at a concert at the library on March 21 at 4 p.m.

Mr. Hunting will offer selected pieces from Mendelssohn and Joplin. He will also speak about his 10 years of violin study and what it means to be a young violin performer.

Several Longwood area students competing in the Seminole County Festival of Science at Seminole Community College fared well with winning projects.

Garden Clinic will be closed, but plant specimens and soil samples will be accepted and diagnosed the following work day.

The new, regularly scheduled hours will help the Extension personnel to better serve the residents of Seminole County in their home gardening and landscaping efforts. Residents needing help in gardening problems are asked to cooperate by limiting their visits and telephone contacts to the scheduled hours.

Area residents and history buffs are invited to join the members of the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation at their monthly meeting to be held March 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bradley-McIntyre House on Warren Avenue in Longwood.

Grace Bradford, the "grace" of Longwood and the Historical Society reports that Channel 6's PM Magazine team was at the Bradley-McIntyre House last week to do a segment for their show which will air at 7 p.m. on March 29.

Garden Clinics At Ag Center

Due to the increasing demand for gardening information and plant problem diagnosis, the Seminole County Cooperative Extension Service has set up regularly scheduled days and hours at the Agricultural Center at Five Points, south of Sanford.

During these scheduled times, a master gardener or the urban horticulturist will be available for consultation.

The new times are Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday during the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon, Wednesday, the

Vaccine Shows Promise Against Herpes Viruses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A vaccine tested in guinea pigs offered partial protection against the viruses that cause genital herpes and cold sores and shows promise for people, researchers say.

The vaccine protected some guinea pigs completely against the virus and in others appeared to reduce the severity of symptoms, researchers reported in the Journal of Science.

"Our indications are it protects against facial cold sores as well as against genital herpes," said Phillip Berman, a biochemist at Genentech Inc. of South San Francisco and co-author of the report.

Genital herpes is a sexually transmitted disease. An estimated 270,000 to 600,000 new cases are diagnosed annually. Symptoms include pain, tingling and small blisters on the genital area.

The virus remains latent in the victim's body and can cause new outbreaks several times a year. There is no cure but the drug acyclovir can reduce severity and frequency of outbreaks.

All guinea pigs vaccinated with protein, known as gD-II, produced antibodies capable of preventing infection with both kinds of virus, abbreviated as HSV-1 and HSV-2.

The formulation, however, was unsuitable for humans.

When the protein was mixed with two kinds of chemical that could be used in humans, only 22 percent and 44 percent, depending on the medium, were protected, the researchers reported.

However, since the herpes infections given to the guinea pigs were much more severe than those suffered by humans, the protection offered by the second and third batches of vaccine was still significant.

"It's quite dramatic protection," said Berman.

Carter: Reagan's Staff Ignored Invasion Warning

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jimmy Carter says in a book to be published next month that Reagan administration officials ignored his warning from a knowledgeable source in Jerusalem that Israel was planning an extensive invasion of Lebanon in September 1982.

"Even as a private citizen I was deeply troubled when Israel invaded Lebanon," Carter said in a manuscript version of his forthcoming book, "The Blood of Abraham."

"I immediately expressed my concern to some Israeli leaders who had participated in the Camp David negotiations."

"Back came a disturbing reply from Jerusalem: 'We have a green light from Washington.'"

But the Reagan administration denied it had given approval for an invasion and did not believe Carter that the Israelis planned such an action, the book says.

"I called the White House to report what I had heard to President Reagan's national security adviser, William Clark," Carter said.

"He assured me the White House had not been involved in any approval and there were top-level assurances then being given to President Reagan by Prime Minister (Menachem) Begin that the penetration of Lebanon would be limited to maximum artillery range, 25 miles."

Clark sent two aides to Carter's home in Georgia to show the former president messages exchanged between Begin and Reagan. But Carter said he knew his source — identified as a participant in the Camp David talks — was knowledgeable.

Carter, who negotiated the Camp David accords between Israel and Egypt, also used his book to criticize Reagan's Middle East policies, saying they have created a stumbling block to peace and have enhanced Soviet influence in the region.

"Capitalizing on the errors of the Reagan government, the Soviets have now reached the greatest level of influence in the Middle East since before they were expelled from Egypt by (Anwar) Sadat," Carter said.

"Under Reagan, the peace process has come to a screeching halt," Carter said. "The debacle in Lebanon severely damaged or destroyed our influence in that area."

Carter also spoke out, for the first time, on Reagan's statement last year that the dismantling of intelligence operations in the Mideast by the Carter White House was indirectly responsible for the terrorist attack on U.S. Marines in October 1983.

In that attack, 242 Marines were killed when a car loaded with explosives crashed into the Marines' barracks at Beirut International Airport.

Carter said Reagan made a great mistake in the Middle East by sending in Marines instead of negotiating.

"President Reagan's administration has shown little interest in diplomacy as a means of resolving regional disputes," Carter said.

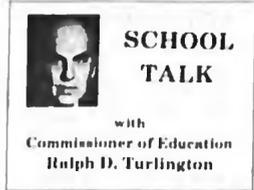

Students Can Get Driver's License In Class And Avoid State Testing

Q. Is it possible for high school students to earn their driver's license in class rather than taking the tests at the license bureau?

A: A pilot program began in January in five counties. Students in Orange, Duval, Dade, Alachua and Palm Beach counties can now get their driver's license through their classroom efforts. If the pilot program is successful, it could be made available to all school districts for the 1985-86 school year.

The Driver Education Licensing Assistance Program (DELAP) grew out of a need to reduce long lines at state licensing bureaus throughout Florida. By allowing students to demonstrate their driving skills and knowledge of road rules in class, the need for them to repeat this performance at the license bureau will be eliminated. Since Dade County, for example, has approximately 12,000 students each year in driver education classes, the impact will be substantial.

The Department of Education has developed two driver education curriculum frameworks, one for the classroom program and a second for a classroom and laboratory program. Students who complete the classroom only course will use a completion certificate provided by the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV) to secure their restricted license while waiting the usual written test. Students who complete the classroom course and the laboratory or driving range course can use the DHSMV completion certificate to receive their operator's license without taking the state driving test.

By allowing the driver and education teachers to administer both written and driving tests to students, the program aims to better prepare students and provide a less stressful road test situation. Many instructors already give written tests that are more difficult than the state examination, with some classes being tested on many more items than the state examination now requires. Instructors also will have a better knowledge of the students by working individually with them for a whole semester. A side benefit may well be that students and their parents save time and money because of increased instruction and lessened anxiety about taking written and road tests with familiar instructors.

Of course, quality control for this pilot program is essential. The Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, in its proposed implementation plan for this program, indicated that it would randomly select some students and require them to take the driving test. Additional spot checks during slack periods at the driver's license office are also anticipated. Results of these sample testings can be used to judge the effectiveness of the program.

Q: I have heard of "teacher to student" ratios, but what about "computer to student" ratios.

A: This is a measure of the availability of computers to students. In our computer-based, high technology society and workplace, it is important that we concern ourselves with the computer and its availability to our students. For a complete education, many of our students will require instruction and contact time on computers. Florida has taken a leadership role nationally in allowing our students "hands-on" experience with this technology. In 1984, the magazine Electronic Learning cited Florida as the state with the best computer to students ratio. For that year the ratio was one computer for every 89 students. This school year we have one computer for every 43 students.

Future Of MX Missile An Iffy Proposition

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A small band of Democrats and liberal-moderate Republicans hold the balance of power on the MX missile, a UPI survey shows, but victory is still within reach for President Reagan.

Reagan intends to lobby Senate Republicans Tuesday just before the Senate holds the first of two votes on releasing $1.5 billion in fiscal 1985 money for 21 missiles.

He suffered a setback Thursday when Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., previously an MX supporter and until Thursday undecided this time, said she decided to vote against the missile this week.

Among senators who voiced an opinion or whose staffs told United Press International how they would probably vote, MX supporters held a slight 41-39 edge. Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Winter Park, an MX supporter last year, said she is leaning toward voting against the missile.

The rest — 12 Republicans and seven Democrats — either declined to say how they will vote or are undecided. They will be the targets of the president's lobbying efforts.

Among them, five Republicans and Democratic leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia backed the missile last year. Twelve more, six from each party, were against it. The last one, West Virginia Democrat Jay Rockefeller, was not in the Senate at the time.

Two votes in the GOP-run Senate are scheduled for this week, the first likely either Tuesday or Wednesday. Then two votes are due next week in the Democratic-controlled House. A loan on any vote would scuttle the 21 missiles this year.

Reagan said last week that the Soviets "will be following the vote on the MX with keen interest and the signal to them will be unmistakable. America will be seen as united and ready to negotiate if the MX moves forward or returning again to vacillation and weakness if the MX fails."

The MX, designed to be the hardest-hitting weapon in the nation's nuclear arsenal, has been in the works for a dozen years and $13 billion of a planned $21 billion already has been spent.

Last year, the 10-warhead missile was kept alive in the Senate when Vice President George Bush broke a 48-48 tie. Bush will be in Washington this week to cast another deciding vote if necessary.

Regardless of what happens in the next week or so, debate about the MX will not suddenly disappear — Reagan already has asked for $4 billion to build another 48 missiles in fiscal 1986.

Causes Of Sharp Pain In The Back Are Many

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — In the past five years I've felt as if I'd been stabbed with a witch's needle about three times. It happened once when I bent over to straighten a spread on my bed. Recently it happened when I bent over to pick up a piece of wood. I have learned that this is a common ailment. David Brinkley said it happened to him as he reached for a collar button he dropped, and everyone knew how to cure him except the doctor treating him.

DEAR DR. LAMB — In the past five years I've felt as if I'd been stabbed with a witch's needle about three times. It happened once when I bent over to straighten a spread on my bed. Recently it happened when I bent over to pick up a piece of wood. I have learned that this is a common ailment. David Brinkley said it happened to him as he reached for a collar button he dropped, and everyone knew how to cure him except the doctor treating him.

Some say it's caused by the muscles in the back. Others say it's a slipped disk. I'm a 63-year-old male and have done heavy work for years.

DEAR READER — Yes, such backaches are common. Some are caused by a ruptured disk between the vertebrae. The disk is put under pressure when one bends over, and a little tear allows material to leak out and irritate the surrounding tissue. When that happens, one usually has muscle spasm. The spasm splints the back while it is injured so it is not all bad, although it is unpleasant. One also can have muscle spasm without any rupture of a disk.

Anyone who develops acute severe backache should have a complete medical examination. Some backaches are caused by disease inside the abdomen, with referred pain. Others are caused by disease of the vertebrae, including various forms of degeneration and even bone cancer, so you should know what you are doing and what you have.

Exercise helps to relieve pain and prevent recurrences. However, if you do have an acute rupture of a disk, you should not exercise. Most doctors recommend that the back be rested, and that is often the main function of traction. After a suitable time, exercises may be prescribed.

In any case, you should read The Health Letter, Special Report 37, Backache and What to Do About It.

DEAR DR. LAMB — If a doctor prescribes calcium channel blockers for a patient, is the calcium clogging up the arter-

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Using attitude leads against no-trump is a modern development. Leading a low card suggests that your suit will be a source of tricks for your side. Leading a high spot-card suggests that your honors are in another suit.

In today's deal, world champion Kathy Wei was East. Playing attitude leads against no-trump helped her make a fine defensive play. West led a heart, a normal long-suit lead, but chose the eight to show weakness in the suit. Kathy won the king of hearts and considered the defense. Since the heart eight was a fairly high spot-card, it was likely that any high cards in West's hand would be in spades, the other unbid suit. But how should that suit be attacked to take best advantage of declarer's possible weakness? After a little thought, Kathy selected the killing defense, the one specific card in her hand that could set the contract. She thrust the spade queen onto the table.

Note the result. Declarer could not develop the ninth trick without giving up the lead to East, who would then lead another spade through South's J-9 to net five tricks for the defense. Note also that declarer could not win by allowing the queen to hold the trick, because another spade would be led and ducked by West, maintaining the defenders' communication to beat the contract.

Although a low spade lead from East might be effective, declarer would have a chance to break up communication by putting up his jack, forcing West to win the ace prematurely.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 19, 1985

Pleasant social events are in the offing for you this coming year. You will establish several ideal relationships, which will be the envy of others.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You are a good student of human nature today and what you learn, you will retain. Your knowledge will not come from books; it'll come from observing others. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing which signs you are best suited to romantically. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Something a trifle strange may develop today that might result in career benefits. It could also add weight to your wallet.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try to express your hunches or insights in practical terms today. When your inner voice speaks, put its urgings to use in your everyday affairs.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) People are apt to tell you things in confidence today that they won't talk about to others. One bit of information could be a moneymaking tip.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you are allied today with one whose ambitions and ideals are on par with yours, something mutually beneficial is going to result.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Think creatively today and dare to be different, especially where your work or career is concerned. Your imagination can help you achieve major objectives.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone you've been hoping would notice you has actually been observing you with admiration for some time. Today he may come forward.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your financial or commercial perceptions will be extremely accurate today. Use them in ways that will benefit yourself and others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your wit, charm and tact are your greatest assets today and will prove useful tools in helping you get along with one who is rather difficult.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are doing comparison shopping today, let quality take precedence over price. Study your purchases carefully to determine their true values.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You will take special pride in all of your undertakings today. The quality of what you do will reflect this and be admired by others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You have a delightful manner about you today that friends will find quite appealing. It's a sincere blend of compassion and warmth.
