WALSH LEARNS OF IMPORTANT LETTERS ON OIL

Senior Attorney Telegraphs Senator Walsh of Discovery of Important Correspondence Bearing on Oil Scandal Which May Cause Sensation in Senate.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—Senator Walsh Wednesday learned that he had possession of correspondence which he thought the committee should have. At the same time the Montana senator received a telegram from D. F. Stackalbeck of the Denver Post, saying he had good reason to believe the correspondence was "sensational." He immediately telegraphed the committee and asked to bring the correspondence which he had with newspaper publishers. In Mr. Schuyler's telegram he requested the committee to appear before the committee at the earliest convenient time, saying he was personal counsel for Leo Stackalbeck and his contract with Pioneer Oil Company and claims arising therefrom. When the committee resumed work Wednesday Stack, who testified Tuesday, was cross examined by Chairman Lenroot. Lenroot emphasized the danger of leakage of teapot dome by wells which would open land surrounding the naval reserve under the plan which interior department had taken in 1920, when rights to operate on such land had been sold in public auction. In 1920 it was common talk among oil men that the reserve was being drained, Stack said.

There were further indications Wednesday impending first importance in connection with the designation of government counsel to prosecute the oil lease cases. The question was talked over with President Coolidge by Chairman Lenroot of the oil committee and Senator Curtis, Kansas, Republican. Afterward there was increasing evidence that the committee would refuse to give approval of one or both men nominated as counsel by the president. It is believed that the committee would believe voluntary changes may be made in the president's selection precluding any necessity to return to senate action.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—An organized fight in the senate against confirmation of Silas H. Brown and Allee Pomerene as special government counsel in the oil lease investigation, which is a dramatic chapter to the rapidly unfolding story of the oil lease scandal. Definite indications that Senator Walsh, Dem., Montana, dominant figure in pressing the inquiry, is opposed to the lawyers selected by President Coolidge, provided the chief development of the day in the oil investigation.

The oil committee considered the nominations at two executive sessions, but without reaching a decision. Between times it heard six witnesses at public sessions in efforts to obtain more light on the circumstances surrounding the leasing of the Teapot Dome reserve to Harry F. Sinclair and the California Elk Hills reserve to E. L. Doheny.

Members of all senatorial groups showed a disposition Tuesday to treat as a closed incident the return of President Coolidge to obtain the senate's request that he designate "immediately" the resignation of Secretary Denby for his part in the lease scandal. Senator Wheeler, Dem., Montana, announced that on Thursday he would introduce a resolution proposing a full investigation of all of the official acts of Attorney General Daugherty and of all branches of the department of justice under the stewardship of Mr. Daugherty.

George Creel, former chairman of the committee on public information, told the oil committee he had been employed by Doheny as "publicity consultant" five months after he left the government service, but had resigned after three months because of a disagreement with his chief. His salary was at the rate of $10,000 a year. He also disclosed that he had interested himself in obtaining a lease for offset wells in Teapot Dome and had taken the matter up unsuccessfully with Secretary Daniels.

Appropriation Bill Aggregating Sum of $729,000,000 Largest in History Congress Passed By Viva Voce Vote

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The largest peace-time appropriation bill ever before congress—the annual treasury-postoffice supply bill, carrying approximately $729,000,000—was passed Tuesday by the house by a viva voce vote. The measure goes to the senate practically as drafted by the house appropriations committee, only a few amendments of importance having been adopted by the house.

Rural Mail Maintenance. One amendment, adopted at the last minute, increased the amount for maintenance of rural delivery service during the coming fiscal year from $89,250,000 to $89,250,000. The vote was 129 to 115. Previously the house had increased the $87,000,000 for pay of city letters to $87,000,000 and had raised the amount for transmission of mail by pneumatic tubes in New York city approximately $70,000 or to a total of $520,372.

The chief change in the bill was the elimination of a section allotting $1,500,000 for maintenance of the New York-San Francisco airplane mail service. This provision was thrown out on a point of order by Representative Crampton, Republican, Michigan, who contended the service was unauthorized by law, and the house was without power to grant it funds in an appropriation bill. The point raised by Mr. Crampton cut short an effort led by Representatives Laguardia, Republican, New York, and Clancy, Democrat, Michigan, to increase the appropriation for airplane mail to $3,000,000. During debate Mr. Clancy charged that the railroads were seeking to have the appropriation knocked out altogether. $610,000,000 For Postoffice. Of the total carried in the bill, $610,000,000 is for the postoffice department, and $119,000,000 for the treasury. Included in the treasury allotment is $10,020,770 for prohibition enforcement, $14,000,000 for the coast guard, and $13,874,000 for the customs service.

Disposal of the bill, the second supply measure to be sent to the senate this session, cleared the way for house consideration of the tax bill which will be taken up Thursday. Wednesday will be devoted to the consideration of miscellaneous measures.

The annual treasury-postoffice department appropriation bill carrying $729,000,000, was passed by the house. Navy orders were made public completing preparatory steps for the flight of the Shenandoah to the Arctic this summer. A provision allotting $1,500,000 for the New York-San Francisco airplane mail service was eliminated from the postoffice appropriation bill in the house. The soldiers' bonus bill was sidetracked by the house ways and means committee until the tax bill is disposed of on the floor of the house. The senate oil committee heard testimony of George Creel, J. Leo Stack, Carl C. Magee, Sidney M. Well and others in its investigation of naval oil land leases. A house Indian affairs committee questioned the legality of a ruling by Albert B. Fall as secretary of the interior which permitted leasing of certain Indian lands.

New Ice Cream Plant To Open For Business Within A Few Weeks

Announcement was made Wednesday that the Royal Ice Cream Company will open its place of business to the public in about two weeks. For the past few weeks since Mr. Royall's decision to locate his company here, he has been busy making alterations and installing machinery and fixtures in his place of business on Second Street. Most all of the equipment has arrived and has been installed. At present the large cold storage room is being completed and within a few days other equipment will be here to be installed. Mr. Royall stated that when the plant is ready to open he will have put approximately $10,000 in the plant. It will be one of the most complete and up-to-date plants in a city of this size to be found anywhere in this state. Within a few days announcement of the opening date will be made. On that day free ice cream will be given to visitors to the plant. Visitors will also be asked to give the business a thorough inspection.

Famous Banker Made Some Grave Charges

(By The Associated Press.)
OSSINGTON, N. Y., Feb. 13.—In the course of arraignment of public officials in the past and present, Frank A. Vanderlip, financier in a Rotary club address Tuesday night criticized a "certain Marion newspaper" as "a certain Marion newspaper sold for fine sum," he said. Two young men with no financial standing bought it. Everybody in Washington knows this but no one wants to look under the edge of the shroud. The banker whirled into the Teapot adding that there were other national scandals more flagrant than the Teapot Dome.

Baptist Minister Speaks on World War at Luncheon

Sanford Kiwanians heard with interest a talk by Rev. F. D. King, pastor of the First Baptist church, on the subject, "The Cost of the World War in Men and Money." Dr. King gave to his hearers figures showing the stupendous cost of the recent conflict and also gave the effects that the war has had upon the world and what its effects will be in the future. Sam S. Baumele gave a short talk on business conditions in the East as he saw them at a recent trip to the nation's metropolis. Ed. F. Lane was in charge of the program which was much enjoyed. It included several musical numbers together with the singing of several songs by other members. Dr. Gardner led in the singing in his usual enthusiastic manner. Dr. Voorhees of New Jersey, who was present at the invitation of Mr. Lane, was introduced to the club and welcomed by a Kiwanian song. The attendance prize was won by A. C. Fort. Morgan Company Announces Loan of $150,000,000 to Japanese Government

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Flotation of a $150,000,000 Japanese government refunding and construction loan in the United States was announced Tuesday night by J. P. Morgan and Company, who with Kuhn, Loeb and Company, the First National City Company, and the First National bank will offer the issue later in the week. Sale of the bonds, bearing interest of 6 1/2 per cent and maturing in 30 years will be made at 92 1/2 to yield approximately 7 1/2 per cent. Simultaneous offering of 25,000,000 pounds of Japanese government bonds of the same term, except that the coupon rate will be six per cent and the maturity 35 years, will be made in the English market. Part of the American loan is to be placed in Holland, and part in Switzerland by banking groups in those countries. No formal issue of the loan in continental markets will be made except as a part of the American issue. Biggest Operation Since 1915. Sale of the Japanese loan marks the largest financial operation for a foreign government since the flotation of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan in 1915, and is the largest piece of long term foreign government financing ever undertaken in this country. Kengo Mori, a special finance delegate of the Japanese government, announced that the loan, together with existing foreign balances will provide not only for retirement of substantially the whole of Japan's external debt maturing prior to 1921 totalling about $700,000,000, but also for the Japanese government's entire estimated financial requirements in foreign markets for reconstruction work. Although the government's reconstruction program contemplated the expenditure of about $700,000,000, approximately $400,000,000 will be raised in Japan, and the present loan, together with existing foreign balances, will provide the remainder of the foreign vbgk vbgk vbgk vbgk vbgk funds, which will be expended in foreign markets. The bulk of Japan's purchases, it is expected, will be made in the United States.

ENGLISH PRIME MINISTER GIVES OUT HIS POLICY

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 13.—In a calm atmosphere though not devoid of excitement and in circumstances which a few months ago would have been regarded as impossible, the new labor prime minister, J. Ramsay MacDonald, Tuesday announced the policy of his government in a crowded and intensely interested house. His speech was characterized as able and well reasoned and it earned compliments from two former premiers, Stanley Baldwin and H. H. Asquith, leaders respectively of the conservative and liberal parties. There were no scenes of turbulence or criticism, such as have characterized many former great occasions in British parliamentary annals. It might have been a new government formed by either of the two great traditional parties, which in past times have alternatively controlled Great Britain's administration. The country has called for fair play for the labor government, and from anything visible in the house of commons yesterday fair play will be accorded. Taking into consideration the novelty of the position of the ministers, who only had three weeks to prepare to present themselves before parliament under exceptionally difficult circumstances—circumstances which would have severely taxed the energies of the well-versed and experienced administrators formed by the older parties—the house was willing to adjourn immediately after the prime minister concluded his speech and would have done so but for the pertinacity of a few members. Can Take Care of Selves. The new ministers showed themselves well able to take care of themselves in the conflict arising during question time. The premier had apologized on the ground of the small amount of time he had at his disposal for his failure to present the government's policy in a more concrete and detailed form, but he based himself in dealing with both internal and external affairs on introducing a new spirit and new methods into parliamentary work and diplomacy, that he had no intention of driving against parliamentary traditions, but warned the house that his government equally had no intention of being driven from office by smart party tactics. He intended to claim the privilege due the head of a minority government. Separatists Fight To Retain Building Th o Many Killed. Fighting between the Separatists and the inhabitants of Pirmanses, Bavarian Palatinate, last night, resulted in the killing of 17 persons and wounding 20 according to dispatches received from Pirmanses this morning. The casualties occurred during the fighting for possession of the government building which eventually was set on fire. Fourteen of those killed were Separatists. Dispatches to Mittag say the leaders of the attackers previously served an ultimatum demanding the Separatists to evacuate the city by 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Separatists ignored the ultimatum and the attack was launched.

Woman's Club To Hold Tag Day for Hospital Friday

Friday of this week will be tag day for the benefit of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital, it was announced Wednesday by the committee in charge of the appeal for funds in behalf of the Sanford hospital. The appeal—the tag day plans—is being arranged by members of the women's club, who are urging that every citizen of Sanford aid in a cause which is deserving. The Fernald-Laughton Hospital, one of the finest of its kind in the state, is badly in need of some more equipment and as there are no funds with which to purchase that equipment, the Woman's Club has decided to conduct a tag day in its behalf. That Sanford people will support this cause liberally is the belief of the club members. All plans for the tag day have been made. The committee in charge together with many other members will ask everyone whom they meet on Friday to buy a tag. No fixed amount will be placed on the tags. Everyone is urged to give as much as possible. In giving support to the tag day, people of this city will be helping a local institution that is deserving of the best support, it was pointed out Wednesday by the committee.

Promises Prosecution Of Case, Asks Support for Mellon Tax Bill, Calls Assistance for Agriculture and Defends Sale of Arms to Mexico in New York Speech

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge, speaking here Tuesday night before the National Republican Club, promised immediate and unshrinking prosecution of the oil land lease cases, appealed for the Mellon tax bill, called for assistance for agriculture from all resources of the country, and defended the sale of arms to Mexico. The chief executive also reiterated his opposition to soldier bonus legislation, declared there was some promise of a European settlement, and asserted the United States stood ready to join with other nations in further limiting armament whenever there appears to be a reasonable prospect of agreement. The address, which was made at the Lincoln Birthday dinner of the club, was the first Mr. Coolidge has made outside of Washington since he became President. In many respects it was an elaboration of his message to congress. The President devoted much attention to taxation and agriculture, but in concluding turned to the sensation of the present time—the oil land lease investigation. "Lately there have been most startling revelations concerning the leasing of government oil lands," he said. "At the revelation of greed making its subtle approaches to public officers, of the prostitution of high place to private profit, we are filled with scorn and indignation. We have a deep sense of humiliation at such gross betrayal of trust, and we lament the undermining of public confidence in official integrity. But we can not rest with righteous wrath; still less can we permit ourselves to give way to cynicism. We propose to follow the clear, open path of justice. There will be immediate, adequate, unshrinking prosecution, criminal and civil, to punish the guilty and to protect every national interest. In this effort there will be no politics, no partisanship. It will be speedy, it will be just. I am a Republican, but I can not on that account shield anyone because he is a Republican. I am a Republican, but I can not on that account prosecute any one because he is a Democrat. "I want no hue and cry, no mingling of innocent and guilty in unthinking condemnation, no confusion of mere questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption. It is at such a time that the qualities of our citizenship are tested—unrelenting toward evil, fair-minded and intent upon the requirements of due process, the shield of the innocent and the safeguard of society itself. I ask the support of our people as chief magistrate intent on the enforcement of our laws without fear or favor, no matter who it hurt or what the consequences."

Carburetor Choke

The carburetor choke is a very useful appliance to facilitate starting in cold weather, but its use is not generally understood and this lack of knowledge of its function has caused much damage to engines.

Its function is to provide a slightly richer mixture for starting than is necessary for regular running as the engine will start more readily when cold on a richer mixture. As heat is also necessary to vaporize present dry fuel, they will only partially vaporize in a cold engine or carburetor, therefore a larger quantity of fuel in proportion to air is necessary for starting. The choke forms a means of providing this variable ratio of air to fuel, because in the closed position, it decreases the amount of air drawn into the engine and at the same time increases the suction on the nozzle giving a richer mixture.

This device is manually operated and for this reason gives trouble because the operator will close it and then pay no further attention for some time until the engine operation indicates that the mixture is too rich. In the meantime certain things are taking place and as these occur each time the engine is started, they will in time lead to serious trouble.

After the engine starts, the choke should be opened immediately, for, if the mixture is not rich enough to stall the engine, the excess gasoline will not be burned and it will work by the pistons into the crankcase and dilute the lubricating oil. As the oil is diluted, its lubricating properties are destroyed, causing all moving parts of the engine to wear rapidly. Excessive carbon will also collect, causing sticky valves and other troubles. In very cold weather it is generally not possible to open the choke immediately after the engine starts. It should, however, be opened just as far and as rapidly as possible, allowing the engine to idle for a few minutes to warm up and thus permit the proper carburation. The warming up period may be hastened by covering the radiator and hood when no means such as a thermostat or radiator shutter are provided. As soon as the engine has warmed up, the choke should be opened fully.

The viscosity of gasoline changes with temperature and in cold weather it will not flow through the carburetor nozzle as readily as in warm weather, resulting in a lean mixture. It is advisable to compensate for this by a slight change in the carburetor adjustment and thus avoid the danger of running with the choke partly closed.—Automobile Digest.

STUDEBAKER IS WINNER OF RACE FOR FOURTH TIME

Big-Six Touring Car Bucks through Deep Snows of Mountain Roads in Gruelling Pilgrimage into Famous Valley

Thrusting triumphantly through snow-and-mud roads, a Studebaker for the fourth year in succession won the hotly contested race to be the first touring car to enter the Yosemite Valley and drive in at the ranger's checking station.

The annual pilgrimage over the snow-tortured roads of the Sierras in order to appear first in the valley is one of the most gruelling grinds known to motordom, and therefore a highly coveted honor for Studebaker. No car has ever won the race four times before.

The winning passenger car was a stock Studebaker big-Six, dispatched from the show rooms of the Chester N. Weaver Company, San Francisco. The car was piloted through the "thick going" of the Wawona road by H. M. Gregory. He was welcomed at the park by Chief Ranger, F. S. Townsley.

Light-Six Second Into Park. "Well!" exclaimed the Chief Ranger, "we're not surprised. Although the roads are just about impassable now, we were looking for you. Year after year a Studebaker has been the first touring car into the Yosemite, and we just figured there would be one along again this year."

The Chief Ranger thereupon issued the first touring car permit of the 1924 season to this Studebaker. The snow was heavier and the road conditions more difficult than in any previous year, according to Pilot Gregory. Another Studebaker, a Light-Six Touring Car, driven by William J. Silva of Modesto, Calif., came in second in the "first into the park" run, and both cars arrived in perfect condition, victors over mountain roads and perilous winter weather.

Roads Were Almost Impassable. "It was mighty cold and the grades were steep," said Pilot Gregory, "but the Big-Six showed fine hill-climbing qualities and ran faultlessly throughout the strenuous race. Several times we had to back away and charge the snow like a battering ram; then we proceeded on. It was a great honor for Studebaker to win this mountain race for the fourth time."

LABOR TURNOVER OF REO BELIEVED TO BE THE LOWEST

What is believed to be the lowest labor turnover recorded by any automobile manufacturer in the United States for the year 1923 has been announced by officials of the Reo Motor Car Company where the turnover averaged less than 3 7-10 per cent per month.

While this is not the lowest figure ever written by the Reo in a report of its labor turnover, it is considered exceptionally good for a year in which work in the automobile industry was plentiful and in which there was tendency among workmen from a majority of plants to change their employment frequently.

January might be expected to be a month in which a number of changes are made but in January of this year, the Reo turnover was only 1 60-10 per cent.

It is estimated that in a number of automobile manufacturing companies during 1923, labor turnover averaged 30 per cent per month. Reo, on the other hand, had one month, November, in which the turnover was only 2 3-10 per cent.

Labor turnover, Reo officials believe, is a reflection of factory conditions, conditions which are also reflected in the finished product of the company. Happy and reasonably contented workmen, they contend, will do the best work, and the same workmen will stick to their jobs, even when work is plentiful and they can move about at will. For this reason, the Reo takes no small amount of pride in its low turnover.

Oakland Travels To Summit of High Peak in Colorado

Traveling over a rocky foot trail traversed generations ago by Indians and the early pioneers, a true blue Oakland scout recently visited the grave of Buffalo Bill—William F. Cody—at the summit of Lookout mountain, Colorado. The summit of Lookout mountain is 7,500 feet elevation and is 2,500 above the valley, which stretches for miles from the base of the peak. It was a favorite scouting post for Buffalo Bill during the years he ranged the plains, and at his death the peak on which he had so often stood was chosen for his grave. The spot is marked

Good Roads and Construction.

It is a significant fact that no community or state in the union which has not given the subject of good roads proper consideration, can boast of a great increase in its construction program.

Florida has the most wonderful climate in the world. Her soil is productive. Her people prosperous and happy.

We are told that during the year just closed that more than fifty million dollars were spent in Florida for construction and from all indications the building program for this year will almost double that amount.

Florida has just started to grow. Just what record it makes this year and next will depend in a great measure upon the progress made in building new roads and taking care of the highways already constructed.

Publicity that Counts.

Copies of The Sanford Herald of last Saturday have been sent to all corners of the world. Hundreds of extra copies of the edition depicting the progress that is being made by "The City Substantial" have been sent to prospective Florida visitors and home-seekers in many different states.

Sanford is securing high class advertising of the right sort and citizens of this section can expect a record breaking growth during the next few years.

Sanford Growing Faster.

Postmaster J. P. Hall stated several days ago that the Sanford post office shows a fifteen per cent gain in postal receipts over the month of January, last year.

Statements like those are convincing arguments of the rapid growth of Sanford. When the post office can report a steady and continual increase in business the people in any community need never fear for the growth of that community.

From all sides are seen evidences of "growth." New additions are being made to business institutions, improvements are going on all around, new enterprises are coming to the city, and in fact the rapid rate at which Sanford is growing is gathering momentum daily.

CONFEDERATE PENSION BILL

The following bill to pension Confederate soldiers was introduced in the present Congress by Congressman Tillman of Arkansas:

Whereas, it is desirable to destroy the last vestige of sectional feeling and emphasize the fraternal spirit that should obtain in a happily reunited country and to permit a generous and a just government to recompense, in part, the south for her losses not justified by the stern demands of war; and

Whereas, it is practically impossible to restore the "cotton tax" illegally collected or other property confiscated to the people from whom it was taken during and after the war; and

Whereas, the surviving soldiers of the Confederacy are conspicuous and deserving representatives of said section: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That upon the passage of this Act there shall be paid to each soldier who served in the Confederate Army and to the widow of any Confederate soldier the sum of one thousand dollars, and that in addition to such payment such soldiers and such widows shall be paid quarterly the sum of fifty dollars per month each during the remainder of their lives.

Sec. 2. That this Act shall be administered by the Treasury Department of the United States.

Sec. 3. That to carry out the provisions of this Act the sum of $100,000,000 be, and the same is hereby appropriated.

Sec. 4. That this Act shall be in force from and after its passage.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

Col. Bozeman Bulger went back to his old home in Alabama after several years' absence, for a visit. On the main street of the small town where he had spent his boyhood he encountered the leading colored barber, an old acquaintance of his.

"Well, was it meant to be laughed at?" "Naw, suh, 'twas meant to be serious. So I'm axin' you, please suh, to tek a look at it and tell me if they's anythin' wrong wid it."

So Bulger accompanied the colored man into his establishment and after reading the verse which hung upon the wall enclosed in a gold frame he gave it his enthusiastic endorsement, not only as having poetic value but as embodying a sound commercial principle.

The verse ran as follows: "Roses is red, Violets is blue. Don't ask me fur credit, 'Cause I'll have to say no!"

As Brisbane Sees It

W. J. Bryan Speaks. Older Than 12,000 Years. Immigrants Build Greatness. Hard Drinking, Poor Thinking. Copyright, 1923

W. J. Bryan says that Mr. Mellon's new tax plan "tries to make five hundred rich taxpayers a present of $90,000,000."

Can Mr. Bryan mention five hundred men that now pay $90,000,000 income tax? Would it surprise him to know that, thanks to intelligent lawyers, income tax free securities, plus the holding of wealth and income by corporations that pay only a small tax, some of the wealthiest men in America pay trivial income tax, or none?

MR. MELLON is working for people for nothing. He can make at his own business in two days or two hours what the people pay him in a year.

He is trying to lay taxes that will be PAID, instead of taxes that NO ONE pays.

Here and there a widow or minor children may pay heavy surtaxes. But the big fortunes do not pay them.

MR. MELLON understands finance. Mr. Bryan will admit that HE does not. Mr. Mellon has cut down the cost of government by hundreds of millions.

IF A twenty-five per cent surtax is enough, why demand more? Taxes are laid to raise revenue, not to punish men for success. In war any tax is justified. In a country as rich as this, taxes much smaller than Mr. Mellon suggests would supply all needed revenue if the people here paid as they do in England, for instance.

MR. BRYAN said the oil scandal will reveal more surprises "than King Tut's tomb."

That may be; we are all weak mortals. But Mr. Bryan can find for quick grafting, stealing, swindling, inefficiency and general rottenness were broken under the Democratic party in wartime.

Oscar Underwood Boomlet Collapses

PENSACOLA JOURNAL

"Let the interest controlled newspapers seek to ridicule the idea as much as they please in their hope to nominate Oscar Underwood."

"President Murphree is one of the outstanding university presidents in the United States. I know him to be a man possessed of the qualities that go to make a well-balanced, progressive executive—the kind the American people are hopeful of having."

"Are you for Mr. Murphree merely to contented Underwood sentiment and in the hope of being elected delegate from Florida to the national convention?"

"Underwood does not enter the question at all. Murphree is not only one of the best university presidents in the country, but he is much better known than I was when I received the nomination, was the Commoner's reply."

Mr. Bryan, upon his return to Florida, will make a speaking tour into every county in the state, carrying his message to the people.

"There is no hope for the Democrats if Charles Murphy, of New York, is permitted to dominate the Democratic convention, thinks Mr. Bryan. Asked if he would make a fight to read Murphy out of the party, as he did in 1912, the Commoner said he would be governed largely by the attitude and activity of Murphy and his crowd."

"If you are selected as a delegate from Florida to the convention, and the state should instruct the existing board to grant such licenses as the product of the not."

The city commissioners have approved an ordinance providing for a bond issue of $150,000 for a municipal gas plant. BIG TOMATO CROP IS BEING RAISED IN MARION COUNTY

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Feb. 13. Tomatoes are being planted all over Marion county, according to the weekly report of County Agent K. C. Moore, who says that some watermelons are up and starting off well. Mr. Moore reports that demands are increasing for instruction in raising seed, and that many farmers are anxious to have their fertilizers tested.

From Bay county the report comes from R. K. Whittington, the agent there, that more land is being cleared than ever before, with stumps being removed from some of the older farms and improved implements being provided.

Extracts from other county agents' reports follow:

Seminole (B. F. Whitner, Jr.): Celery is moving very rapidly; quality good, prices poor.

Palm Beach (J. A. Dew): First Everglades fair was held at Belle Glade this week; residents and visitors from nearby towns took great interest in it; different products of the Everglades were shown in attractive displays.

Walton (J. W. Mathison): At a successful meeting of our farmers this week we had an organization perfected and determined how many acres of sweet potatoes we can grow co-operatively for the early market.

SPLENDID STYLE, CHARMING LINES

The qualities that one likes most in a frock for general wear are strongly featured in this frock of French blue tulle, trimmed with a fancy braid that harmonizes blue and henna. The sides are trimmed with bands of self-material to simulate tucks and extend below the front for the sake of uneven effect at the lower edge. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1461. Sizes, 36 to 52 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

WOMAN'S CLUB CARNIVAL. BOYNTON, Feb. 13.—The Boynton Woman's club continues preparations for its annual carnival which is to be held in the near future.

ELEGANT OF LINE

Wool crepe of good quality and in the fashionable cocoa brown is the rival of other smart fabrics for this smart frock, which is trimmed with fancy silk braid. The vest and collar may be of contrasting material, if preferred, but with brown the most classic of colors, it is suggested that the tone of the trimming be kept close to the lighter browns or tan for most effective results. The sleeves may be gathered into narrow cuff bands or made with a deep cuff. Medium size requires 5 1/2 yards 36-inch material and 8 yards of braid. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1480. Sizes, 35 to 50 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Mrs. G. E. Con, chairman of the carnival committee, reports that plans are progressing satisfactorily.

Where you may Golf and Motor and Bathe and Fish and Enjoy Outdoor Life Every Day of the Year

Florida links are green and inviting all the time—you may golf any day and every day.

Motoring is a favored recreation in Florida—no day is too cool for a spin, none is too warm for a tour.

Surf-bathing may be enjoyed throughout the year in some parts of the state—in all portions most of the time.

Fishing is good in every part of Florida at all seasons. Rivers and creeks, fresh water lakes, ocean and gulf, afford splendid sport with rod and reel. Boating, horseback riding, hunting and tennis are a few of many other sports.

There are nearly a hundred golf courses in the state, with new ones added every year. Ten thousand miles of hard roads are built or building. Florida has ample accommodations to suit every taste and to fit every purse.

"Florida's Climate is God-Given and Is Three-Fourths of the State's Value"
—CARL FISHER

Mr. Fisher, himself one of Florida's leading developers, rightly regards climate as the foundation of all the state's attractions. Climate makes Florida supreme as a playground, winter and summer, and contributes no less to agricultural, commercial and industrial progress. Florida offers the wealth of boundless opportunity.

DEMPSEY KNOCKS ARKANSAS GIANT OUT QUICK TIME

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 13.—Jack Dempsey continued serenely on his exhibition tour, with New Orleans being the next in line for a chance to test the heavyweight champion's punching ability. In an exhibition bout here Saturday night he did in 21 seconds what 21 other boxers failed to do. He knocked out "Dutch" Seifert, a 225-pound Arkansas hopeful.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, who is conducting the tour, is permitting ambitious but somewhat obscure heavyweights to sweep punches with the champion.

In this manner, Seifert, who had never been knocked from his feet, got a "match" with the mauler. In the presence of a number of his friends and relatives from Arkansas, Seifert advanced to meet Jack in the ring. Forty-five seconds later he was out, beaten down by a series of short right and left jabs, chiefly to the head. After being revived he came back for more and got it. Dempsey then stepped a few rounds with Dan O'Dowd, his sparring partner. The champion apparently was in good condition. He weighed about 190 pounds.

The exhibitions were arranged to keep Dempsey in trim and also to enable him to "pick up a piece of change," Kearns said. Large crowds witnessed the four exhibitions held in Arkansas and here last week. The tour will end in Baltimore or Washington about Mar. 1.

INDIANA CITY IS PREPARING FOR BIG AUTO RACE

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 13.—The starting line at the track of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where the annual 500 mile international sweepstakes automobile race is held every May 30, has been moved into the back street about 200 feet. The judges' stand, which also has accommodations for the newspaper reporters, also has been moved and set farther back from the edge of the track.

Although only one automobile race a year is held at the speedway, a corps of workmen are given year-round employment to keep the place in condition. While the next event is four months away, much of the work of preparation with it already is being handled. The finishing line on the track was moved back for the accommodation of the fans sitting along the stretch. The old finishing line was only a short distance from the first turn in the 2-1-2 mile oval.

The judges' stand was set back from the edge of the track as a direct result of the introduction of the small, one-seated racing cars which performed here for the first time last May. The numbers painted on the cars were necessarily small and the judges and others had difficulty in checking them correctly.

Entry blanks already have been issued for the next race.

ATTORNEYS DEBATE JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 12.—Roswell King and Emmett Safay, young attorneys of this city and members of the Edward DeSuzarre Post of the American Legion, will take the negative and affirmative, respectively, in a debate to be held Feb. 18 on the soldiers' bonus. Both debaters saw service with the American expeditionary forces. At conclusion of the debate a vote of the legion post membership will be taken on the bonus question.

TENNIS STARS ENTER MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 12.—Some of the leading tennis stars of the country are expected to participate in the Southern Florida Invitation tournament scheduled here for Feb. 18. Among those who probably will enter are Richards, Williams, Hunter, Norton, Alonso and Voshell. The tournament will be under auspices of the Miami Beach Tennis Association.

Another Victim of Gay White Way.

Pretty Louise Lawson, music student from Texas, was found murdered in her 3-room apartment in up-town New York, near Broadway. Police are trying to solve the mystery of the girl's death, and believe robbery was the motive.

The girl's apartment was ransacked. The robbers and murderers had bound the girl's hands and feet and gagged her. She suffocated to death.

The case recalls the mysterious death of Dorothy King some months ago.

SPRINTERS AND THEIR WAYS IN THE OLDEN DAYS RECALLED BY HUGHES

By Ed Hughes
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—My good friend, John T. Dugie of A. G. Spalding & Bro., gives me permission to reprint the following from the excellent volume he has just turned out for the Spalding Library, "How to Sprint," by Archie Hahn, the old Olympic champion.

The picturesque snide tricks used years ago by "pro" runners in dapping the yokels are highly interesting, as well as the crude methods of conducting races then in use.

As in many other lines of activity, there are always a few sharpers whose active hands enable them to take advantage of the lower thinking of their fellow beings and whether it is separating the gullible from their money by means of the elusive pen and shells or appealing to their home pride through the athletic prowess of a local idol, the result is always the same—a deficit in the pockets of the trusting townsmen.

If, after hearing the local champions in races on even terms and under ordinary conditions, any money still remains in sight, the sharpers tried to secure it by offering contests on novel terms and with such conditions as seemed to the uninitiated foolhardy and sure to lose. One of these was called the "lying down" start.

The novice stood in his usual position, while the professional would lie flat on his back, with his head at the scratch and his feet pointing away from the finish, and the race started by pistol shot. To men unacquainted with this trick, it seemed as if the novice must win, and elderly know-it-alls, standing about, shifted their quids and wisely drew out. "Why, Jimmy will be down to the other end before that fellow gets started."

But it did not work that way. When the pistol sounded, the professional turned on his face, rose to his hands and feet, and found himself in the attitude now universally adopted by present day sprinters (the crouch start), and which is much better than the old-fashioned erect position.

This preliminary movement cost the professional movement about

BIG MOMENTS OF SPORT

When the third game of the world's series began at the Yankee Stadium the argument was a tie, one game each. G. Hermar Ruth, the Colossus of Clout, had largely accounted for the Yankees' drives, and Charles Demion Stengel, the ex-cab driver of Kansas City, had chalked up the Giant victory with an equally effective home run.

Samuel Pond Jones and L'I Arthur Nehf were engaged in a great pitching duel in that third game. For six innings the scoreboard boy was kept busy hanging up a fine flock of goose-eggs. Hits were few and far between. Sam Jones held the Giants to four safe blows all told, while the Giant left-hander allowed the Yankee sluggers but six safeties in nine innings.

Where Sam made his mistake was in not limiting the Giants to three hits. He allowed just one too many, and that came in the seventh inning and at an unexpected moment. Irish Meusel opened this inning by sending an easy fly to Brother Bob in left field. The next gentleman at bat was Casey Stengel.

Mr. Stengel had already won a game for the Giants with a home run. Nothing more was expected of him by the great crowd that thronged the Stadium, and least of all by Samuel Pond Jones. The Yankee pitcher slipped over one strike and two balls. One of these pitches had skimmed past Casey's head, and he intimated to Jones that he considered it a "bean ball," that is, a ball thrown with the intention of making the batter duck for cover and put away from the plate. Sam secured the base insinuation, and just to show that he was not trying to hit the batter, he put one over the plate and hit Casey's bat instead.

It was a sad moment for Sad Sam. The ball sailed high up and far away into the right field bleachers for the only run of the game, and Mighty Casey, single-handed once again hurled the Yankees to defeat.

Weather Bulletin

The week was one of continuous low temperature throughout the Section. The cold weather set in over the western division on the 6th and by the morning of the 8th had overtopped the entire Section, persisting thereafter to the close of the week. Frost occurred southward over the central portion of the state on the morning of the 7th and as far south as Miami on the morning of the 8th, it being the first frost observed in that section so far this winter. Frost was general over the central division on the 9th and 10th. The rainfall was somewhat above the normal in the southern portion, decreasing thence northward to little or no rain over the northern and western divisions. Sunshine was more plentiful than during the two previous weeks and would have been ample for a healthy plant growth and development were it not for the persistent low temperature. As it was, growth and development were retarded, and the week produced little in the way of improvement.

Central Division.

The weather was too cold for favorable growth of truck, though no material damage resulted from the low temperatures. The rainfall was moderate and the sunshine above normal. On the whole, the week was unfavorable. Citrus is in good condition, and was not affected by the cold weather, and blooms are moderate. Pa-
