Verdict Returned In Less Than An Hour 'Steal-To-Order' Defendant Found Innocent

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

A circuit court jury deliberated less than one hour today before finding Maitland Marine owner Ralph DiLisio innocent of knowingly buying property stolen by members of a multi-county "steal-to-order" theft ring.

DiLisio told the jury Wednesday that he bought the air compressor from James L. Davis for $300 cash thinking Davis was a Cocoa Beach contractor who was going out of business.

DiLisio said he'd told employees his firm was in the market for a used compressor for sand blasting work and outward motor mechanic Roland Durand told him he knew of a man who had a compressor to sell.

DiLisio said the compressor had already been delivered to his business when he first met Davis, when Davis came for the money.

DiLisio admitted his business was in "dire financial straits" in November 1974 when he bought the compressor and that the cash payment was made from personal "emergency" funds instead of company check because he knew a payroll had to be met.

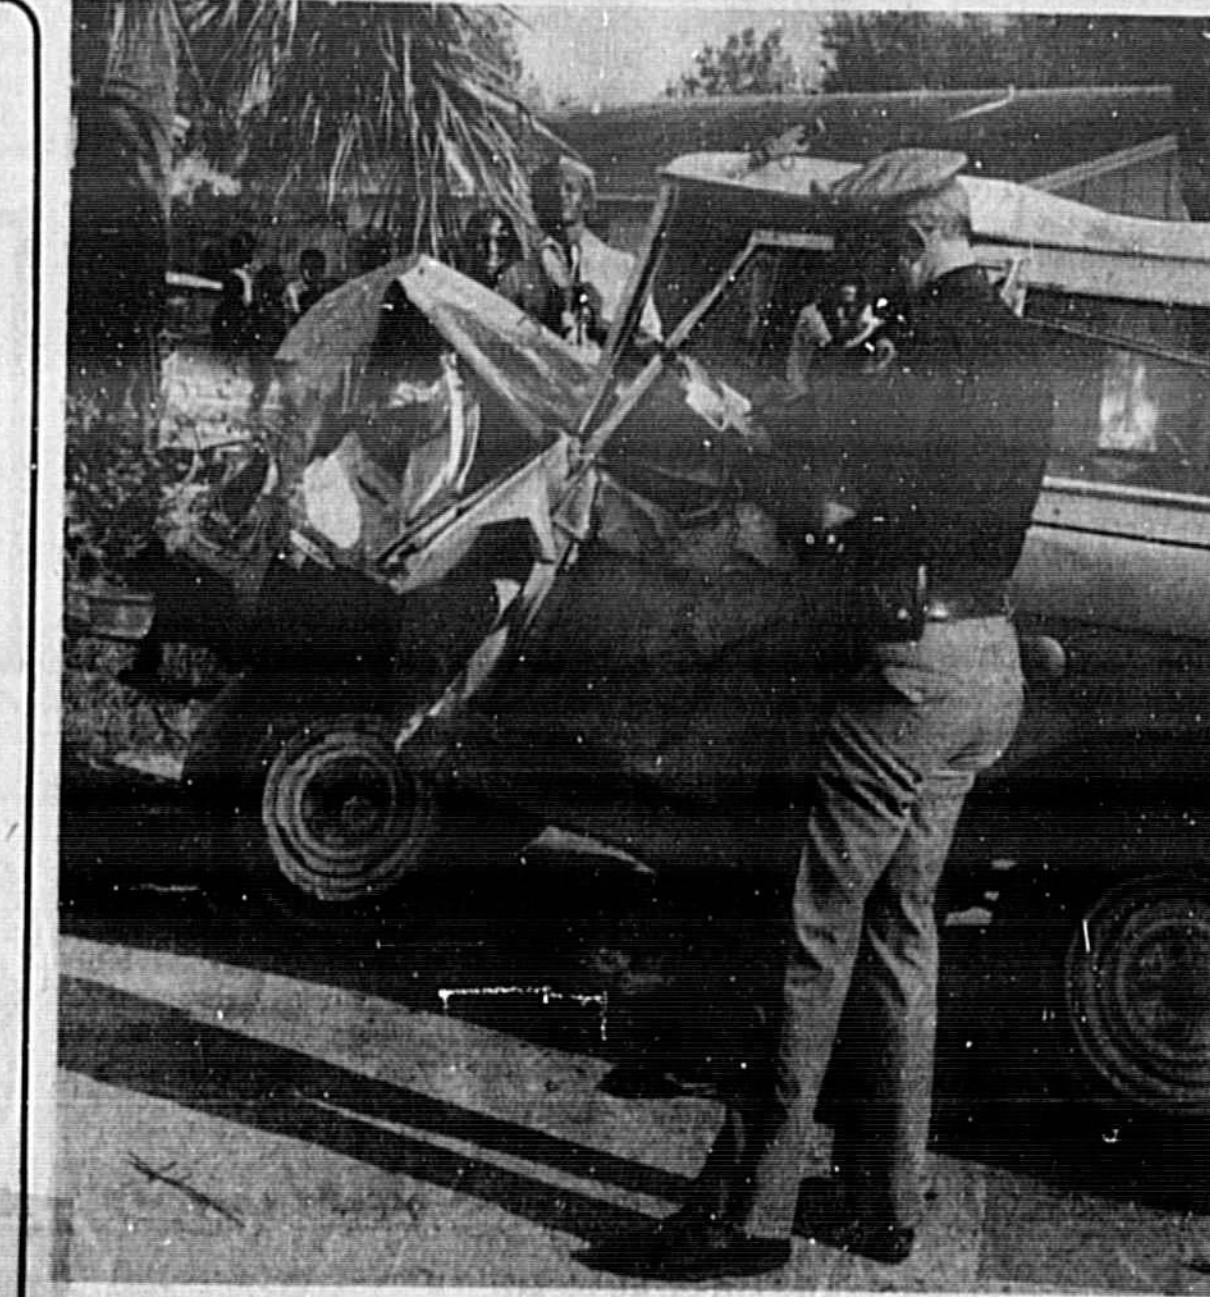

United Way Aids 'Home Society'

The Children's Home Society of Florida has placed 15 children in Seminole County homes this year, according to Dorothy R. Pearson, division executive. The Children's Home Society is partially funded by the United Way of Seminole County, Inc. The Society performs a variety of functions, including providing care for natural parents, adoptive parents and healthy, as well as handicapped, children.

For instance, natural mothers are provided financial assistance for doctor, hospital and maintenance costs. The Society accepts applications for adoption, performs a home study with the couple, places the child and performs follow-up studies. The Society seeks foster homes for mentally and physically handicapped children and performs follow-up studies after the child is placed. Besides placing the 15 children this year, the Society so far has taken 14 children from Seminole County into its care; has conducted 20 adoptive family studies; and has found five foster homes for nine of Seminole County's retarded children.

The biggest cost for the Children's Home Society is medical expenses, Mr. Pearson said. The Society pays boarding parents to keep the child until it is placed in a foster home. Foster parents are charged a fee for adoption, usually eight and one-half per cent of the family's annual income.

During the past year, adoptive parents in Seminole County paid $15,000 in fees, Pearson said. She said the entire child care and adoption process is an expensive service.

SANFORD CRASH INJURES TWO

Sanford police reported William A. Horn 25, Altamonte Springs, and James Wagner, 27, 114 Mayfair Circle, Sanford were injured Wednesday when a four-wheel drive vehicle passed a car on the right and struck a mailbox and two palm trees on Persimmon Ave. near McCrackin Road. A Seminole Memorial Hospital spokesman said today that Horn was listed in "good" condition and that Wagner was treated and released. Investigating officer H. J. Shea Jr., above, said no charges were made in the accident. (Herald Photo by Joe Askren)

Fields, Crowder Set To Go On Trial Today

Selection of a jury was to begin this afternoon in the trial of two other persons arrested in connection with a $1 million per year "steal-to-order" theft ring.

Herman E. Fields, 38, 125 Grace Boulevard, and Donald R. Crowder, 44, 551 Karen St., both of Altamonte Springs, are accused of buying, receiving and concealing a 150-horsepower outboard motor stolen at Orlando in January.

On Monday Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor denied a motion by defense attorneys Tom Freeman and Ned Woolfolk for a change of venue because of news media pre-trial publicity in the theft ring cases.

Crowder and his wife were arrested on multiple charges in connection with the theft ring Aug. 15 when sheriff's agents raided the bar and their residence, hauling away allegedly stolen merchandise in two trucks. Assistant State Atty. Charles Gordon, prosecutor in the Fields-Crowder trial, is expected to present testimony by Yates and other members of the alleged theft ring that police said operated for 18 months with a $1 million a year business.

Development Company Announces Dividend

The Sanford-Seminole Development Co. Inc. has set a yearly dividend of investment at 50 cents a share. Formed by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce several years ago to provide capital for prospective industries and businesses, the company agreed recently to place the question of staggered terms of office for directors to the stockholders.

National Recognition Sought For County

The county's management consultant, E. H. "Woody" Underwood, has applied to the National Association of Counties (NAC) for recognition for Seminole County's "outstanding achievements" in streamlining county government.

In a letter to NAC President, Bernard F. Hillenbrand, Underwood cites county commissioners with "outstanding achievements" during the last 12-18 months which have "improved the county's capacity to manage and administer its governmental affairs... as well as provide an improved living environment for Seminole County."

From 1970 to 1974, Seminole County's population grew at an annual rate of 16 per cent. And, now, officials estimate the county has 140,000 residents.

Parents Demand Courtesy Busing

By JOE ASKREN Herald Staff Writer

Three parents of children attending the new Sterling Park Elementary School demanded Wednesday night the Seminole County School Board either provide courtesy busing or force the subdivision developer to provide better access to the school.

The board agreed to investigate the problem, determine responsibility for providing a bike path and curbing and estimate costs by the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 22, at the Altamonte Springs City Hall.

The motion was made by Davis Sims and seconded by E.C. Harper Jr. Superintendent William P. "Bud" Layer said the base cost for the narrow, half mile access road off Eagle Circle "went down last Friday after our attorney threatened suit (against the developer)."

Mrs. Maxine Derrington, representing Sterling Park, cited a "misapplication of funds and breach of contract between Florida International and Orange Paving has left us without a paved road."

Mrs. Derrington said 72 pupils from the planned unit development (PUD) have had difficulty getting to their "walk-in school" since it opened last month. She said it is about a mile from most of the homes.

"It is potentially, highly dangerous and there is no provision for walk-in students," Layer said the bike path is the responsibility of the developer. He said he would check school bike path funds available.

Personal Checks 'Out' For Buying Lunch Tickets

A rash of bad checks from some parents recently has forced Seminole County school officials to refuse all personal checks for payment of student lunches beginning Oct. 20.

"We regret to disaccommodate those parents who have for years written good checks. It's too bad the good have to be penalized for the rotten apples in the barrel," said Roger Harris, assistant superintendent for finance.

"But we feel the condition will get worse rather than better... We haven't got the staff, personnel nor the time to deal with the bad checks," Harris said today.

Harris said the lunchroom accounts (elementary schools have been hit the hardest) are continually out of balance as a result of the flood of bad checks which started about Sept. 20. At stake is a $2 million lunchroom budget, he said.

"We're averaging about 30 bad checks a week and every check that bounces takes effort and time and detailed record keeping... the merchants are getting stuck," he said.

Harris hinted it may be necessary to hire an additional employe just to check on the bad checks.

NEW BUSINESS IN SANFORD

Another new business opened in Sanford today with the official ribbon cutting at Head Hunters, a hair styling shop at 207 E. 25th Street. According to owner Darlene Brock, both men and women customers will be accommodated. On hand for the opening were (from left) Mary Douglas of U.S. Bank, City Commissioner A.B. McLanahan, Chamber of Commerce President Wayne Albert, Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager Jack Horner, Mr. Brock, Jack Wieble and City Commissioner Gordon Meyer. NATION IN BRIEF

Airlines Oppose Ford Plan To Ease Rules On Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's plan aimed at stimulating competition in the air transportation industry is drawing strong opposition from airlines.

Ford announced Wednesday he is asking Congress to remove some of the authority of the Civil Aeronautics Board, to allow airlines more freedom to raise and lower fares and to start stop service between cities.

Administration officials contended the legislation would result in lower over-all air fares for the public by stimulating competition.

Major airlines objected to the proposal, saying it would lead to higher prices and turn the nation's transportation system into chaos.

Kidnap Called Retaliatory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Members of the Symbionese Liberation Army kidnaped Patricia Hearst in retaliation for the arrest of two comrades in the murder of an Oakland school superintendent, according to an SLA document published in part by the San Francisco Examiner.

The newspaper, which did not say how it gained access to the material, said the SLA members who kidnaped Hearst, whose father, Randolph A. Hearst, is president of the Examiner.

The manuscript was included in a variety of written material confiscated from the San Francisco apartment where SLA members Bill and Emily Harris were living when they were arrested on Sept. 18. Miss Hearst and artist Wendy Yoshimura were arrested later the same day at another apartment they shared here.

Dairy Prices Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's anti-inflation agency is studying dairy industry prices after an economic analysis concluded that government regulation boosts milk prices by about 10 cents a half gallon.

The Council on Wage and Price Stability has made up its mind yet about the validity of the analysis, which started as an economist's doctoral dissertation. Indeed, the Agriculture Department, which the analysis blamed primarily for the higher prices, has attacked the conclusions as based on false premises.

But Michael H. Moskow, the new director of the inflation monitoring wage and price council, said in an interview Wednesday the agency has initiated a review of milk prices because milk is such an important product for American consumers.

Dirty Trick Charge Levelled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stuart Spencer, recently named political director of President Ford's 1976 presidential effort, ran a campaigning school in the 1960s which taught politicians tricksway as phone tapping and spying, according to the Scripps-Howard newspaper.

Spencer, a Los Angeles political strategist, denied the accusation, which Scripps-Howard said came from political consultant Raymond V. Humphreys and three unnamed sources who also attended the campaign courses.

The sources called Spencer the original "dirty trickster," teaching his followers it is "not how you play the game that counts, it is whether you win or lose," according to Scripps-Howard.

Hirohito Meets Mickey

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Japanese Emperor Hirohito fulfilled his "long cherished desire" in a daylong visit here, eating California avocados amid marachi music and shaking hands with two of his favorite personalities, John Wayne and Mickey Mouse.

The emperor was scheduled to fly to San Diego today for a tour of the city's reclaimed land on Wednesday, and he later rode a trolley steam-engine train through a Disneyland exhibit showing the evolution of the national landmark.

Federal Immunity Grant Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — The government may grant immunity to the son of Detroit's reputed organized crime don in an attempt to learn more about the disappearance of ex-Tenatters boss James R. Hoffa, according to sources close to the investigation.

A federal grand jury probing Hoffa's disappearance questioned Anthony J. Zerilli, 47, for nearly an hour on Wednesday.

Sources said prosecutors may grant Zerilli immunity from prosecution, which means he could be freed in contempt of court and sent to jail for refusing to answer questions before the grand jury.

Handgun Formula Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service favors any legislative formula that would make it more difficult for mentally unstable people to obtain handguns, according to its director.

H. Stuart Knight told the Senate Government Operations Committee Wednesday that controlling handguns "wouldn't solve all our problems (in protecting the President) but it would go a long way."

Knight said the prospect of a mentally unstable person with a handgun poses the agency's largest concern on presidential security.

FBI Probes Northrup Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is investigating allegations that Northrup Corp. improperly charged the Pentagon for parties, goose shoots, political donations and other outlays disguised as military spending.

Several reports on Northrup's alleged misuse of government funds have been sent to the Justice Department "for appropriate action," the Air Force said in a letter to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis.

Tax Rule Change Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some motorists may no longer be able to deduct state gasoline taxes from their federal taxes if Congress approves a proposal by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee met Wednesday to consider a plan designed to simplify tax returns.

Fire Safety Pushed

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer

This is National "Fire Prevention Week" and firemen in Seminole County have been busy demonstrating equipment and firefighting techniques to both public and private school children.

"There is no reason why society today can't be more aware of fire hazards and know how to deal with them with all of the educational material and many safety devices available," said Sanford Fire Chief G. M. Harriett.

"Most fires are caused by human carelessness. Most fatalities are people too young or too old," said Harriett.

Fire Prevention Week originated in 1922 at the suggestion of the National Fire Protection Association. Both the United States and Canada proclaimed the week in which October 9 occurs — the anniversary of that fateful Chicago fire in 1871.

The "Great Chicago Fire" — which legend says began when Kate O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern — left almost 100,000 people homeless, claimed 200 victims and leveled 2,000 acres of the city.

Lt. James Poovey and a half dozen firemen from Sanford's 42-man fire department Wednesday held several equipment demonstrations at the Sanford Christian School at the Sanford Airport.

Four lime-green-colored fire and rescue trucks rolled up in front of the school. After a fire drill was conducted by Principal Carmen Gager, firemen demonstrated hose and ladder skills and a special tool called "jaws of life" which opens crushed metal and helps save lives of automobile accident victims.

Poovey said firemen are invited to kindergarten through fifth grade classes in the county's public schools and to most all grades in private schools.

Are there any red fire trucks anymore?

Sanford firemen said their No. 12 firetruck and two back-up pumper units are still the traditional red color. The other 10 units at the two fire stations here are now lime green.

Each of the 39 principals at the 41 public schools in the Seminole County school system set up their own special program this week in observance of the National Fire Prevention Week, according to Hugh Carlton, director of auxiliary services.

"We get tremendous response from the schools," Carlton said, explaining that each school sets up talks and demonstrations with local fire departments.

"Fire Prevention Week is a little special emphasis, but all the work and regulations are done before the kids enter school," said Carlton. He said most of the drills and emergency notifications are given during the first two weeks of each school year.

— Are matches and lighters kept out of reach of small children?

— Has everyone been warned never to use gasoline or similar flammable liquids for cleaning clothes and other things?

— If your clothes ever catch fire, you must never run. Do you know how to smother a clothes fire by rolling on the floor or ground, or covering fire with a coat or blanket?

— Does your family have fire escape drills from bedrooms, so you will remember two ways to the outside from your room?

— Most home fires start between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m., just when you are asleep and least prepared.

Two Methods Eyed

In other action, Massey was instructed to prepare an ordinance abolishing the police and fire departments as separate units, consolidating them into a new department of public safety. The ordinance is also to list all other city departments and create a new department of recreation.

Terry said the department of public safety would be responsible for all aspects of the safety under one head.

Currently, under the city charter, various council members are considered department heads. A move by council member Virginia Mercer to have Councilman Burt Perinchief, currently head of the police department over Police Chief Harry Benson, named head of the joint department, was declined at least temporarily by Perinchief.

Perinchief said he would insist on meeting with the city's five-member board of fire commissioners to determine if rapport could be established with them before he would consider assuming the added responsibility.

Paving Funding To Go On Ballot

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — City voters here will be asked at the Dec. 2 municipal election to choose the method of financing the city should follow on paving projects.

The city council Wednesday night, voting unanimously, instructed City Attorney Gary Massey to prepare the necessary documents to have the item placed on the ballot.

The question is to have two alternative methods of financing. The first, Plan A, calls for the city to pay one-third of the paving costs with the other two-thirds assessed to owners of property abutting the roads to be improved.

The second alternative, Plan B, would have all paving costs borne entirely by the city.

Councilman Harry Terry, who suggested the ballot question, indicated he favors the first choice whereby roads to be improved would be chosen by the owners of abutting properties, through their willingness to pay the major portion of the costs.

Sanford Fireman Jan Shaver stands atop truck extension ladder and waves to pupils below in demonstration.

Adair Gets Final County Paycheck

Seminole County's former pollution control officer, Langley Adair, was awarded his last paycheck Tuesday — two weeks' severance pay.

The only question came from Commissioner Mike Harriett, the commissioner who earlier said if a "position is available, I'd be in favor of not turning him (Adair) out in the cold."

The question Harriett asked was if the $546.15 severance pay is in conformance with county personnel regulations.

It was.

Adair learned his job had been wiped out Sept. 11, a few days after the commission cut his total $4,584 budget.

Adair was informed that he no longer had a department by a reporter.

He was stunned and at first vowed to fight but later backed down in return for jobs for two of his former employees.

Adair couldn't be reached for comment.

But a county official said he understands he hasn't landed a job yet.

"As far as I know he's still hunting," the official said.

Executive Search Consensus Sought

A county official is polling the county commission today to try to reach a consensus to initiate an "executive search" for the commission's new assistant.

Bob Ellis, the county commission's administrative assistant, said if he can get a consensus he will begin advertising the position before Oct. 22.

October 25 is the date set for a vote on the ordinance which creates the new position. Although the salary hasn't been decided on, $25,000 is in fiscal 1975-76 budget for the assistant's salary.

Some commissioners are ready to go ahead and advertise for the position, but others are less eager.

Commissioner Mike Hatway says he's ready to "initiate recruiting" and if the ordinance falls on Oct. 22, the commission "could discontinue the search."

Commissioner Dick Williams is more reluctant.

Williams said an "executive search" at this point of time "just may be containing." The reason, he said, is because the commission still has to decide on the amount of money to pay the new assistant.

Also, Williams said, the commission has not officially decided what the title will be. The title has been a hangup all along. At first, commissioners referred to the position as the "executive assistant," but that was so soon that even a title couldn't be agreed upon.

Finally, the commission tentatively agreed to an ordinance which gives the position the title of executive assistant to the commission.

Some commissioners feared the title of county administrator — the title given the job in most counties — would give the administrator too much power in county government. So, executive assistant was the compromise.

But, Williams says he is reluctant to begin advertising until salary is set. After all, says Williams, the exact title will determine salary.

Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski said the problem could be solved with one word, "negotiable," or leave the salary open until the ordinance is approved.

Police Testimony Heard

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Billy Glenn Isley said shortly after the slaying of Kenneth Houston that "he didn't believe he had cut him or stabbed him, but he wasn't sure," a police officer has testified at Isley's murder trial.

Tampa detective Irvin M. Carpenter and hypnotist Jim McLeod testified Wednesday during the second day of Isley's trial on charges of first-degree murder in the so-called satanic slaying last March in Tampa.

and a new five-year capital improvements program.

He also mentions a new executive assistant, a position that will report directly to the board. Some $25,000 has been budgeted for the executive assistant.

— New countywide departmental policies and procedures. Underwood says the county began this month developing procedures manuals for each of the county's six departments which "should significantly strengthen the internal operations of the county."

— Creation of a professional financial management department. "The board persuaded the Florida Legislature to pass legislation to separate out the BCC's financial function from the Clerk of the Circuit Court's office. The objective is to provide a professional financial management system and staff directly responsible to the BCC," Underwood said.

That legislation will require approval of the voters, and referendum will be held in the spring of 1976.

"If the voters approve the split-out of functions, it just may prove to be impetus needed to professionalize county financial management practices in the State of Florida," Underwood said.

Although Underwood is employed by the county as a consultant, he also is vice-president of a research firm in Atlanta.

And, Underwood said the commission was unaware of his request.

Federal Jury Convicts Man In Gotha Post Office Killing

ORLANDO (AP) — A Winter Garden man has been convicted of the execution-style murder of Gotha Postmistress Lorraine Smith, 51, who was shot during a robbery in the tiny Orange County town July 21.

A federal court jury deliberated 6 1/2 hours before convicting Thomas Brunson, 24, late Wednesday. Brunson and defense lawyers sat silently as the verdict was returned. He faces a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment for the murder and 25 years for the post office robbery.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered before sentencing Oct. 31. Another defendant in the case, Glen Herman, 21, of Plant City, is scheduled to stand trial next week on murder and robbery charges.

Police said the postmistress was shot once in the head as she knelt beside the post office safe, apparently because she had enraged one bandit by not moving quickly enough. The two robbers made off with $300, police said.

Branley Blasts Posh Prisons

MIAMI (AP) — State Sen. Lew Branley, the Jacksonville Democrat slated to become president of the Florida Senate in 1976, says the state must quit building "country club prisons" and overhaul its criminal justice system to provide swift and stern punishment for offenders.

"Today it's the law-abiding citizen who is locked up," Branley decried Wednesday in a speech to a Miami political club. "He or she is forced to hide in the home behind electronic warning systems while the criminals walk the streets."

Branley added, "We must do away with the country club prisons we're building now at a cost of $3,300 a bed in air conditioned rooms with semi-private toilets and kitchenettes."

Sheriff Cites Alcoholism

NAPLES (AP) — Collier County Sheriff Doug Hendry, under investigation by a special prosecutor and county grand jury, says he may be an alcoholic and will seek help at a rehabilitation center.

Doug Hendry, 51, who has been sheriff since 1959, said that because of a 1973 operation he underwent for pancreatitis it is possible that he cannot drink alcohol.

From Lake Mary Council Election Appointments Draw Much Criticism

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Mayor Walter Sorenson, despite a battle with four members of the city council Wednesday night, named an election board for the Dec. 2 municipal election.

Sorenson's appointments, on recommendation of council member Virginia Mercer, of Ed Zimmerman, chairman, Kay Gehl, Phyllis Rugenstein, Sam Martin and Richard Pardy as the election board was vigorously protested by Councilman Martin Bacon Sr.

Other council members joined the fray after Sorenson admitted that those appointed were recommended by Mrs. Mercer and that he had personally spoken with none of them.

Sorenson listened to suggestions for other appointments, then said his action would stand unchanged.

Asked for an opinion on the matter, City Attorney Gary Massey said the election ordinance does not require confirmation of the mayor's appointments in this instance.

The conflict at first centered on Zimmerman, who Councilman Harry Terry and Bacon described as "against the city" and an active supporter of previous efforts to dissolve the municipal corporation.

Council member Lillian Griffin said persons, such as two widows in the audience, ought to be considered for the election board.

Councilman Burt Perinchief "faulted" Sorenson for accepting a list from anyone and making appointments to "such an important committee" without personally contacting the prospective appointees.

Perinchief said he was also offended by Sorenson's sarcasm in refusing to accept recommendations from others.

Sorenson, saying his appointments would stand, insisted the politics of the appointees should not be considered.

Mrs. Mercer called the disagreement a "tempest in a teapot."

Bacon directed City Clerk Kay Sassen to take note of his opposition to the method used by the mayor in selecting the election board.

Mrs. Mercer was named with Perinchief and Mrs. Sassen as the election canvassing board, after Mrs. Mercer announced she will not be running for re-election.

The council, meanwhile, voted to pay members of the election board for their work at the upcoming election at the rate of $20 per day. They also designated the polling place as the Lake Mary Elementary School.

base cost would have to remain "dry" for about three days before it can be paved.

In other action, the board passed an emergency joint agreement with the county to provide $3,787 towards the paving of Oakland Rd. and Spring Lake Rd., the entrance to Lake Orienta Elementary School. The paving work is less than 10 blocks long, according to Ralpy Ray, the board's information officer.

Carlton said the money would come from the Lake Orienta school project funds.

"Let's get the road on the show," said Board Chairman Robert G. "Bud" Feather.

A motion by Board member Alan F. Keeth to appeal a ruling by the state Public Employees Relations (PERC) was defeated by a 2-3 vote.

The PERC ruling excludes school principals from a managerial category, thus allowing them the right to collective bargaining if they so wish, according to Layer.

Layer said the state constitution guarantees every public employee the right to join a bargaining unit or union if they wish.

"PERC's ruling is insignificant if the principals want to bargain collectively," said Layer. He said he has heard "very little" of attempts by Seminole County principals wanting to bargain collectively.

Layer said he understands legal costs of the appeal would have been about $3,000.

All Keeth and Layer agreed with the board's position is that both principals are "managerial in nature."

'Dog Box' On Sale

Seminole County's animal control department may soon have a new "dog box."

The county commission declared the present box "surplus" at Tuesday's commission meeting.

The reason? Commissioner Dick Williams says animal control wants to build a new box that will hold "four large animals or eight large cats."

A "dog box" is used to transport captured animals to the pound.

The county's "dog box" at present holds only four animals.

and a new five-year capital improvements program.

He also mentions a new executive assistant, a position that will report directly to the board. Some $25,000 has been budgeted for the executive assistant.

— New countywide departmental policies and procedures. Underwood says the county began this month developing procedures manuals for each of the county's six departments which "should significantly strengthen the internal operations of the county."

— Creation of a professional financial management department. "The board persuaded the Florida Legislature to pass legislation to separate out the BCC's financial function from the Clerk of the Circuit Court's office. The objective is to provide a professional financial management system and staff directly responsible to the BCC," Underwood said.

That legislation will require approval of the voters, and referendum will be held in the spring of 1976.

"If the voters approve the split-out of functions, it just may prove to be impetus needed to professionalize county financial management practices in the State of Florida," Underwood said.

Although Underwood is employed by the county as a consultant, he also is vice-president of a research firm in Atlanta.

And, Underwood said the commission was unaware of his request.

Higher Education Needs State Help

Many members of Florida's high school graduating class of '76 face rejection of their applications for admission to colleges and universities unless the next session of the Legislature takes action.

Problems are severe in both public and private higher education. In the State University System, for example, enrollment has risen 71 per cent in the past seven years while funding, adjusted for inflation, has risen only 45 per cent.

The system has absorbed some of the impact of the funding lag by properly demanding greater productivity from its faculty members and by holding pay increases down. But officials now fear that further erosion in funding may seriously damage a public university system already beset by numerous problems. Community colleges face a similar plight.

Meanwhile, Florida's private colleges and universities are struggling to maintain their academic standards in the face of increasing economic problems. Because these institutions perform the indispensable public service of offering an alternative to state-controlled education, their welfare is as much a matter of public interest as adequate support for the public system.

Unfortunately, the 1975 Legislature, pressed by the demands of an unrealistic austerity budget, made a truly shortsighted decision to reduce by 6 per cent the appropriation for Florida State Student Assistance Grants, a program vital to the health of private higher education in Florida.

Since 1972, 4,124 of these grants averaging $1,112 have enabled many talented and needy students to attend private institutions. This fall, some 19,000 needy students had applied for the grants.

Legislators cut the grants program even though it was already seriously underfunded and despite convincing evidence offered by the private institutions that each grant recipient who attends an independent school instead of a public one saves the taxpayers $1,244 a year—a rare bargain these days.

Unless the Legislature gives more thoughtful attention next year to the needs of higher education, both public and private, future Florida high school graduates will increasingly face the unpalatable choice of attending second-rate schools, of giving up altogether on aspirations to further their education, or of attending schools in states where there is a less shortsighted attitude toward the value of education.

Florida's young people should not be forced to make that choice.

Death Valley Dispute

Death Valley has always seemed so vast and empty that it is hard to believe the activities of mere human beings could make a dent in its appearance. Yet a confrontation is developing between borax miners and the National Park Service, which is responsible for protecting the scenery in Death Valley National Monument.

Miners who have access to the monument under an act of Congress are poised to move their operations into an area seen from a favorite lookout for tourists, Zabriskie Point, and the Park Service is objecting.

Either the borax miners should go elsewhere or the Park Service should establish a new lookout. With nearly 3,000 virtually unminable square miles in the national monument, tourists and miners can surely keep out of each other's way.

BERRY'S WORLD

The infamous House Un-American Activities Committee, whose witch hunts terrorized Washington in the 1940s simply won't let go of the public purse strings.

This was the committee that made Richard Nixon, as a young communist hunter, a national figure. But because of its irresponsible tactics, the committee became badly discredited.

At first, its members merely changed the name of the House Internal Security Committee and dressed it in sheep's clothes. But this didn't fool the public. So the House voted last January to disband the committee altogether.

The committee disappeared, presto, from the view, unmissed and unscorned. But its staff and its files remained behind. The deposed chairman, Richard Ichord, D-Ill., deposed House Judiciary Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., to absorb the entire staff into his own fold and to carry on the investigations.

After months of haggling, Rodino agreed to retain eight of the dispossessed subversive hunters. This will cost the taxpayers $160,364 a year.

But 30 other investigators, research analysts, secretaries and clerks remained on the congressional payroll until June 30. Most of them just hung around, looking for a job, at a cost to the taxpayers of another $28,236 in salaries.

A spokesman for La Costa said he was unaware that non-union labor had been used. "All the people we do business with are union," he said. He said the use of non-union labor was a violation of the contract.

We spoke to several subcontractors who said they were paid by La Costa. The spokesman said Fitzsimmons paid La Costa for the home.

Footnote: We made repeated calls to Fitzsimmons' office for his comments. The calls were not returned. We also called his lawyers who refused to discuss the La Costa project.

Around

The Clock

Effective Oct. 20, personal checks will no longer be accepted for payment of student lunches in Seminole County school cafeterias.

All this comes about because the school administrative staff says there are just too many 'bad' checks being used to pay for the lunches and the difficulty in trying to collect on the checks is too time consuming and difficult.

Unfortunately, the majority of these bad checks have been showing up in the elementary schools, according to Rozer Harris, assistant superintendent of finance.

Who gets hurt the worst because of all this?

We could say those parents or guardians who submit valid checks for the lunches. However, we feel it will be the youngsters themselves who will take the brunt of this latest action.

Not that we blame the school administration. Those people must do what they can to protect the interests of all citizens and if they're losing money because of the bad checks, naturally some steps have to be taken.

However, the little tykes who must now carry the cash to pay for those lunches are the ones we're most concerned with.

Too many of them aren't responsible enough to handle the money and aren't well used to it along the way.

Or, they may just decide to skip lunch and use the money for those little goodies that all children love so much.

Worse yet, and we've known this to happen, there are children in some schools who can, and have, intimidated smaller youngsters into turning their lunch money over to them or suffer the consequences.

We're not saying anything like this is happening here and we hope it never does come about. But, it has happened in other areas and the possibility of such being perpetrated here must be considered.

DON OAKLEY Campaign Law Cramps Republicans

The political pundits are still mulling over the meaning of New Hampshire's senatorial run-off election in which Democrat John A. Durkin defeated Republican Louis C. Wyman.

As New Hampshire went, not necessarily will the nation go in 1976, of course. But the immediate consensus is that the defeat is a bad omen for the GOP in next year's presidential and congressional races.

The New Hampshire election was more than the first electoral test of the Ford administration, however. It was also the first test of the new federal campaign spending law, and in this respect numerous observers see portents of trouble for the GOP that go far beyond apparent popular dissatisfaction with the President's inability to turn the economy around.

The election dramatically demonstrated the powerful political leverage the new law has given to organized labor, they say. While Durkin, the winner, actually spent about $25,000 more of the over-all campaign ceiling of $220,000 than did Wyman, the loser, he was able to target his spending more effectively because thousands of dollars worth of support contributed by unions was not counted.

For example, union agents working for the Democratic candidate telephoned each of the 45,000 union households in the state several times, mailed literature under cheap bill rates allowed for nonprofit organizations, distributed absentee ballots and worked house-to-house in some districts on election day.

In addition, the New Hampshire State Labor Council mailed pro-Durkin letters to 7,000 AFL-CIO members, and the heads of several other unions also sent out literature.

Under the campaign spending "reform" law, none of these or other union political activities had to be applied to Durkin's spending limitation because such "in kind" aid is merely the expression of the unions' right to communicate with their members.

According to William Baltaks, regional director for the Republican National Committee, the failure to include "in kind" union contributions in the campaign spending law is going to be "a big problem" for the Republicans.

And it is hardly as if the party did not have enough problems already.

The 13 million Americans who are deaf are the latest discriminated against in the state to be heard from, and they intend to shout until the insurance industry, for one, opens its ears.

"Insurance protection is an essential element of American life, yet deaf citizens are often denied coverage," says Albert Pimentel, director of public services at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. "Or when insurance is available, the deaf man or woman must be content to pay higher premiums, accept unwarranted restrictions or both."

To change this situation, an educational program aimed at the insurance industry has been launched by the National Association of the Deaf and Gallaudet, the nation's only accredited liberal arts college for the deaf.

What the Un-American Activities staff really considers an American, activist, is cutting off their public funds.

HOFFA'S SUCCESSOR: While the search continues for the body of ex-Texasers boss Jimmy Hoffa, his successor, Frank Fitzsimmons, is moving into a $270,000 home under the California sun.

Hoffa is believed to be a mobster victim. Fitzsimmons' new house reportedly was built by a company with mobster ties.

The La Costa Land Company, which constructed the Fitzsimmons hacienda, allegedly was established with mobster money. Title to the house was transferred to Fitzsimmons, according to our investigation, on July 10.

Although Fitzsimmons heads the nation's most powerful union, two subcontractors admitted to us that they used non-union labor on his home. Another company used non-union labor in furnishing some of the concrete for the home.

Fitzsimmons has stated that he wasn't sure whether he would purchase the house. But the architect's plans in our possession are marked "Fitzsimmons' home." The plans were drawn by the San Diego architectural firm of Paul Thorky and Associates.

A spokesman for La Costa said he was unaware that non-union labor had been used. "All the people we do business with are union," he said. He said the use of non-union labor was a violation of the contract.

We spoke to several subcontractors who said they were paid by La Costa. The spokesman said Fitzsimmons paid La Costa for the home.

Political Football

I attended the football game between DeLand and Sanford and I was so shocked to see officials get away with so much overlooking on their part. Our boys played hard and played well. They just couldn't get ahead for being penalized, yet officials overlooked DeLand's actions.

Maybe we did get a little upset, or as Jim Haynes said "panic in the heat of the battle, desperation," and last but not least, "unwise." I would think that anyone who saw the game saw its unfairness. It was like watching someone commit a crime against someone and being tied up and not being able to help them. A very sick feeling, I assure you.

My seven year old nephew was with me and if that game was an example of fair play he isn't interested. Watching DeLand players rough our guys after the whistle had been blown and not getting penalized was more than he or I could take.

DeLand really feels good about how the game was "won" and if the officials could sleep well that night, I would say their character is lacking.

It looks like high school football has turned into politics.

TOM TIEDE Politicians Never Lie, Do They?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Two years ago this autumn Gerald Ford presented himself to the public trust in much the same way others in this town do, by dissembling.

Pressed as to whether he would use his untested elevation to the vice presidency as a vehicle to even higher reaches, Ford assured a concerned Congress and bemused nation he had "no intention of seeking public office in 1976," and could "foresee no circumstances where I would change my mind." Considering events since, one could conclude he lied.

Yet if Ford did deceive, he also knew there was no worry or shame in it. Terminological inexactitudes, as Churchill said it, are among the foundation blocks of the American political-governmental process and public citizens have long looked on such faith as little more than tennis elbow of the soul.

Ever since Parson Weems warped the truth about George Washington, and grew rich and famous doing it, fictionalization has become an accepted, almost mandated, religion with officials fascinated by the remaining of reality.

Examples have been on most tongues in all moments of Washington history. George Washington lied to the Indians, Tom Jefferson lied to the blacks and Richard Nixon lied to the American people. Author Clinton Rossiter, in "There has not been a great leader in this century who wouldn't be devious at certain times for his own ends."

One recalls, almost with amusement, Lyndon Johnson rallying hawk support among troops in Korea (Hawes, 1966) by imagining, "My great grandfather, you know, died at the Alamo."

Bemusement, perhaps, is the only fitting reaction to government's preoccupation with atomic weapons, during a real effort to have a terribly frightened public.

Wise says the government had prearranged blacks in a different category away from all human beings. As we have the same wants, needs and desires as others.

The young man might have been provoked to attack the girl, I don't know. You must also realize that at age 15, most students are thinking for themselves and not necessarily what their mother taught them.

My concern is that Americans and others must realize that blacks are human too.

Armed Refugees In Argentina Hold 5 U.N. Officials Hostage

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Armed Latin American refugees held five United Nations officials and employees under threat of death today, but Argentine officials agreed to let them leave the country if they find somewhere to go.

The group, said to consist of Chileans and at least one Brazilian, burst into the offices of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees at midday Wednesday, demanding that the United Nations take the refugees to another country because they said they were destitute in Argentina.

60 Hurt In Portugal Battle

OPORTO, Portugal (AP) — Demonstrators supporting millions far-left soldiers clashed with opponents overnight, and hospital authorities said between 60 and 80 persons were injured, two with bullet wounds.

Most of the victims, including six soldiers, were injured during rock-throwing battles between the two groups, they said.

The demonstration, grouping about 5,000 members of the centrist Popular Democratic party (PPD), began in the heart of Portugal's second largest city 175 miles north of Lisbon. The demonstrators shouted their support for Beirut's fighting, moderate government.

Amendment Bars Military Forces

Congress Expected To Finalize Sinai Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, about to begin a week's Columbus Day vacation, is expected to stamp final approval on a resolution that will place American technicians at electronic detection posts in the Sinai desert.

The proposal, part of the United States commitment in the Sinai peace accord between Israel and Egypt, was given overwhelming approval Wednesday by the House, which added an amendment to bar the use of U.S. military forces in the region. The resolution was approved 341 to 69.

President Ford had sought approval of the stationing of technicians in the buffer zone between Israeli and Egyptian forces by last Friday, but the Senate has yet to act on the proposal.

Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., has moved to scuttle the measure by returning it to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for further work. A vote on his proposal was set for Friday, the day they recess for their vacation.

If the Senate does take final action on the measure this week, it will have to accept the amendments tacked on to the proposal in the House and turn down a dozen others proposed by senators. Otherwise, final action would have to await the end of the week's vacation, when the two chambers could iron out their differences.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., manager of the measure on the Senate floor, urged his colleagues to adopt the proposal as offered by the House. Humphrey said time is essential, noting that congressional action on the measure will trigger final implementation of the peace accord.

Before approving the resolution, the House passed an amendment specifying that the measure gives the President no authority to introduce U.S. military force into the Middle East.

The amendment, introduced by Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., won approval of supporters of the technician resolution, including Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, who said it would not bar Ford from using U.S. military strength to rescue the civilian technicians if they were in per-

Smorgasbord Attracts Eaters, Saves Money

By NANCY BOOTH
Herald Staff Writer

Smorgasbord is a "meal of appetizers served buffet style." It originated in Sweden and has since become international. How about trying an American style smorgasbord that doesn't cost a penny?

Most people, especially men, say, "I don't like leftovers, don't serve them to me." I think the reason for this is most foods change taste once they have been reheated. There is a way to avoid this. You can use your leftovers, satisfy your husband and your family and serve an internationally famous dish at one and the same time. Usually, after each meal there is a cup of this or that left over. Most homemakers put this minute amount into the garbage disposal. DON'T! Wrap each leftover portion separately in aluminum foil and freeze. After accumulating a dozen or so packets, depending on the size of your family, try this.

Take a large cookie sheet, lay your aluminum wrapped packets on it, opening each packet just enough to let some heat penetrate. Warm in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes or so. Arrange on a platter. Add a large bowl of salad and crisp garlic bread. Voilà! American smorgasbord!

Your family can serve themselves from the display. The variety of choices is unlimited and most kids find it a treat.

By heating the food in aluminum foil, you retain the original flavor and color, thereby satisfying those who "don't like leftovers." Aluminum foil is also an excellent conductor of heat so you save on electricity. By having a "leftover smorgasbord," you save on a night's supper, which means a few more of those precious pennies saved for other items.

If you wish, put lighted candles on the table, use fresh hot china and turn the meal into a special occasion. You will be surprised how much fun it can be. And, don't forget those savings.

Garlic bread always adds a festive touch to any meal. Here is an economical way to make it by using your broiler, instead of your oven.

GARLIC BREAD
BROILER STYLE

- 1 loaf of french bread or two rolls
- 1 teaspoon of paprika
- 1 teaspoon of onion powder
- 1 teaspoon of garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon of parsley flakes
- 1 stick of butter or margarine

Slice bread in half lengthwise. Then cut almost through the crosswise. In a small sauce pan melt butter of margarine. Add paprika, onion powder, garlic powder, and parsley flakes. Mix well. (You may wish to add more garlic powder, depending on individual tastes.)

With a pastry brush, brush mixture on top of bread, letting some run into the creases. Place on an aluminum covered cookie sheet. Place under the broiler approximately 3-5 minutes. Watch carefully as oven temperatures vary.

When golden brown, remove from oven and place on a small platter. Cover with aluminum foil and set aside. The foil will keep the bread hot and crisp for one-half hour or so.

Musical Compositions Sought For Bicentennial

American Music Radio Series which will be broadcast throughout Florida in preparation for Florida's participation in two projects which are part of the Bicentennial Parade of American Music.

This Bicentennial composition contest is being sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs and the National Music Council. The first project is a 13-week Parade of Composers who wish to submit their compositions for possible use in the radio series for the Florida Day project will write Dr. Donald P. McClintock, Coordinator of Compositions, The Bicentennial Parade of American Music, Department of Music, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611. Deadline for submitting compositions is November 1.

The purpose of the Bicentennial Parade of American Music is to provide each state in the nation with an opportunity to present music written by its composers to the citizens of the state through the radio series. The project is also designed to bring national attention to these composers by having the best of these compositions performed at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and in other appropriate locations in Washington, D. C. These works will be performed by the outstanding musical ensembles and soloists from each state as part of the State Day Celebration. States are performing in the original 13 states performing in 1975 and all other states and the District of Columbia in 1976. The Kennedy Center programs are being taped as a permanent addition to the Library of Congress. Voice of America will use all worthy programs in its overseas broadcasts.

Eligible compositions for both projects, as administered by the Florida Federation of Music Clubs for Florida, must be by composers who were born or have presently lived in the State, or who are associated with Florida.

Dr. and Mrs. A.L. Rousey, Longwood, were guests of honor at a party given at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rousey, Longwood, in celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary.

The Rouseys were married in Nebraska, on Sept. 22, 1915, and the 60th anniversary celebration was postponed a few days, so all the relatives could get together.

Flowers and a beautifully decorated cake, frosted in white, gold and green, with yellow frosting roses in the center, highlighted the table. Others attending were: Sue Rousey, Longwood; Mrs. Vernon (Mary Virginia) Blome, of Ft. Collins, Colorado, and her daughters, Mrs. Ford Russell, of Lanham, Md., and Mrs. Broderick and Mrs. Dick Herren, of Harrison, Nebraska; and Mr. and Mrs. Robin Baughn, Long Beach, Calif.

Rollins Schedules Music Man

The Annie Russell Theatre at Rollins College will open its forty-fourth season with a salute to America's Bicentennial—THE MUSIC MAN. Opening night is Oct. 16 with performances also scheduled for Oct. 17, 18, 23, 24, 25.

Jeff Oetjen will play the hilarious "Professor Harold Hill," a lovable rogue who makes it his business to dazzle small town people into letting him form a boys' band, and then to make off with the money they give him for instruments, uniforms and instruction books.

The setting is a small Iowa town of River City in 1923. Professor Hill tells the townspeople "Ya Got Trouble." A pool table has been set up in town! To save the boys from delinquency, there is only one course—turn them into wholesome boys by starting a brass band. He promises to get the instruments, the uniforms and the sheet music, and to teach the kids to play, if they will give him the money to do it all.

His spiel succeeds but the plot falls because he meets and hopefully falls in love with a prim but charming girl, Lisa Miller who will have the role of this Marian, the librarian, who from the beginning is drawn to, but also is suspicious of, the music man.

The songs include a rousing tribute to the glories of a brass band "Seventy-Six Trombones," plus "Good night My Someone," "My White Knight," and "Till There Was You."

Bill McNulty is directing. THE MUSIC MAN, Bill Hardy is its musical director and Dale Amlund is designing the scenery representing the sunny times before World War I.

For ticket reservations or further information, call the Annie Russell box office at 646-2145, Monday through Friday from 1-5 p.m.

Feminist Credit Union Chartered In S. Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A credit union for feminists has been chartered in Miami by a group of Florida women, Comptroller Gerald Lewis said Wednesday.

The "common bond" required for participation in the credit union is membership in a feminist organization such as the National Organization for Women or Florida Women's political caucus or contribution to the feminist movement, said Nikki Bear of Miami, interim president.

"If you marched in the ERA parade in Tallahassee last April, you, of course, made a contribution," said Ms. Bear, the designation she prefers.

The credit union was formed because women have difficulty getting credit from banks and other lending institutions, said Reps. Gwen Margolis, D-North Miami Beach, and Karen Coleman, D-Fort Lauderdale.

Gen. Hooker Descendant Deplores Use Of Name

DEAR ABBY: I am a direct descendant of General Joseph Hooker, who served valiantly in the Civil War.

I do not know how my family name became a synonym for prostitute, whore or harlot, but I find it very offensive.

There are numerous other Hookers who are respectable, law-abiding citizens, and I am sure I speak for them when I say I'm embarrassed by people who use this commonly accepted, immoral connotation.

I have two daughters and a son, and the girls especially have been embarrassed numerous times by people who use this commonly accepted, immoral connotation.

My son is seriously considering changing his name because his fiancée doesn't want to be a "Hooker," and she says if she has daughters, she doesn't want them to be "Hookers," either.

Am I overly sensitive? Or have I a point?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR PROUD: You have a point. Little can be done about the thoughtless people who use your family name as a synonym for a woman of the streets, but I'll print your letter as a reminder. Also, if your son wants to change his name, it's his privilege.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a guy who is so sheep that he won't marry the mother of his kids because she is on welfare and it pays for all her doctor and hospital bills?

We are a young married couple who worry about the high cost of living but struggle along, trying to pay for doctor and hospital bills, the house we are buying and our taxes.

Our neighbors have been living together for three years. He makes more money than I do, but he told me that he would be a fool to marry his "old lady" because she'd lose all those benefits from welfare.

It bugs me up to see them enjoying all the extra money they have from such a fraud while they laugh at us honest people.

BURNED FATHER

DEAR BURNED: I agree, it's a rotten, unjust situation. But what is the alternative? Forcing people to marry? The standard reply to that would be even worse.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a slightly flabby male in my mid-30s who occasionally wears a corset under a turtleneck or other outfit where "midriff bulge"

Officials Say U.S.-Soviet Grain, Oil Accord May Be Near.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Soviet agreement on American grain sales may be near and could involve a separate accord for the U.S. purchase of Russian oil, government sources say.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Bell, one of the negotiators, was scheduled to arrive here today "with no assurance that an agreement had been reached" for long-term grain sales, a senior Agriculture Department official said.

But White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said there had been no snag in the grain deal and that the U.S. team's chief negotiator, Undersecretary of State Charles Robinson, had left Moscow for another meeting in Paris.

Other sources said Wednesday night, however, that Robinson had remained in Moscow in hopes of putting final touches on at least an "agreement in principle" on both grain and oil.

The sources stressed that the dealings do not involve a barter of U.S. grain for Soviet oil and that the two are being considered as separate trade packages. The sources also indicated that formal agreements still could be some time off.

The sources indicated that if accords are worked out, announcements would come simultaneously from the White House and the Kremlin.

Meanwhile, President Ford is under pressure from farm groups and congressmen from rural areas to lift an embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union.

mid-October and to allow time for negotiating a long-term grain sales agreement.

The administration acted after concerns was expressed by various labor groups and others that the exports would increase U.S. food prices by driving up grain prices.

The lid on grain sales was triggered in July when Russia bought 9.8 million metric tons (more than 2,200 pounds each) of grain from U.S. farms to help make up drought-shortened harvests of its own.

Surgeon Reports On Treatment Radiation Danger Minimized

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands of persons treated with radioactive iodine for thyroid problems have been unduly frightened by incomplete reports about the relationship of radiation treatments to cancer, according to a Cleveland surgeon.

In an editorial in the October issue of Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics, Dr. George Crile Jr. said the media failed to distinguish between types of radiation treatments in reporting the potential for cancer in patients who underwent the treatments.

Small doses of radiation increase the danger of thyroid cancer and persons who have had radiation treatment should have periodic thyroid examinations, Crile wrote in the magazine, published by the American College of Surgeons. However, the danger of developing thyroid cancer from radiation treatment has been overemphasized, he said.

"Most of the cancers that appear in young people after radiation to the thyroid occur before the 10th year after treatment and few, if any, are observed after the 20th year," Crile said. "Many of the patients who are now worried about cancer of the thyroid were treated in the 1940s and 1950s when radiation therapy was at the peak of its vogue."

He said that because 15 to 25 years have elapsed since the treatments were generally used, few patients face the risk of cancer if there are no lumps on the thyroid, which are easily detectable.

Officer Arrests Burglary Suspect

Sheriff's deputies reported today that an Altamonte Springs policeman nabbed a burglary suspect Wednesday after two apartments at Spanish Trace Apartments, Altamonte Springs, were burglarized while residents were away.

Investigators said witnesses reported seeing a man break into and then exit one apartment and leave the scene in a car.

Deputy Ronald Gilbert reported Altamonte officer Norman Floyd Jr. stopped Andre Lemar Ware, 22, of Orlando, at SR 436 and I-4. Ware was held in county jail on $8,000 bond on a charge of breaking and entering a dwelling.

Investigators reported "it is possible that two more suspects were involved in the burglaries" but said there have been no additional arrests.

Hospital Officials Deny Parents' Wish

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — The parents of a 17-year-old boy who has been in a coma for two weeks say they want their son to die "mercifully," but hospital officials refuse to disconnect his life-support system.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Carmon, of Wellington, have asked Elyria Memorial Hospital to take their son, Randall, off a respirator which is keeping him alive.

But James C. Brown, hospital administrator, said hospital policy is that "we do everything in our power to maintain life-saving procedures regardless of the condition of the patient."

He said the hospital will try to keep the boy alive until all vital signs have disappeared.

"He's dead," the youth's father said. "He's been dead for two weeks."

The boy was injured during a football game in a friend's yard on Sept. 21. He finished the game but complained of a headache when he returned home, his parents said.

He lapsed into a coma while X rays were being taken.

Besides the respirator, the youth is being kept alive by a machine that controls his temperature and tubes that pump food into his body.

"We want legislation to make a decision on what constitutes death," Carmon said. "To me, if the brain is gone, that is death."

Carmon said he and his wife talked to a lot of preachers and prayed a lot. "I don't think parents should have to go through this."

The Carmon case is similar to that of Karen A. Quinlan, 21, who has been in a coma for five months in a Denville, N.J., hospital. Her parents have asked the hospital to let her die, but the state has raised legal objections.

The medical and legal communities have been embroiled for several years in a controversy over when death occurs. Death is generally considered to occur when the heart stops beating, but there has been a growing movement toward redifining death as when brain activity ceases, despite a continuing heartbeat.

'Battle Of Balk' Brews In Boston

CINCINNATI (AP) — A "Battle of the Balk" is brewing for the 1975 World Series.

The Cincinnati Reds are ready to raise a fuss over the delivery of Boston Red Sox pitcher Luis Tiant. Ex-American League Merv Rettenmund thinks the Reds have a solid case.

"He'd be called for balking if he were in the National League," said Rettenmund, a former hitting star on two Baltimore World Series teams.

The controversy surfaced Wednesday when the Boston Globe reported that Reds Manager Sparky Anderson sent films to major league officials raising the issue.

Anderson denied sending films, saying the matter "will be up to the umpires and the president of the league."

The Reds, who send left-hander Don Gullett against Tiant in Saturday's Series opener, rely on base stealing as a major weapon in their high-powered offense. Cincinnati set an all-time record with a success percentage over .820 for the season and ran at will against Pittsburgh on the way to a 3-0 sweep in the National League finals.

The Reds stole a record seven bases in the second game against Pittsburgh and finished with a perfect 11-for-11.

Rettenmund describes Tiant's move to first base as "lightning fast but he doesn't step, he jumps. You definitely have to come to a stop before going to the plate."

"If they call him for it, we'll get the big leads," he said.

Tiant's trademark is his tenacity, says Rettenmund. "He doesn't throw hard, but his location is exceptional and he has all that jerky-jerky stuff."

Rettenmund said Cincinnati could have exploited Oakland easier than Boston because Red Sox catcher Carlton Fisk is considered "the best defensive catcher in the American League."

"We would rather have played Oakland because all of their catchers were suspect," said Rettenmund, a utility player who came to Cincinnati two seasons ago.

He said there is no chance the Reds will take the Red Sox lightly.

"Every one we've talked to said we are going to be very surprised by Boston. In the past you didn't worry about Boston. They usually beat themselves. But this Boston team is for real," he said.

Another Flag For St. Augustine? It's Redemption Week In Prep Circles

By JIM HAYNES
Herald Sports Editor

It's redemption week for high school football teams. And we aren't talking green stamps.

St. Augustine may be flying a sixth flag over its city. They say five flags have flown over the city of St. Augustine. After Friday's game against Seminole, a sixth one is likely to be hoisted — a white one.

Seminole is certain to vent its anger and frustrations in the direction of this week's foe at a heartbreaking loss to DeLand last week. Too bad it's homecoming week for Foothills Brumley. He has lost before, and knows the taste of defeat. Chalk up the game as a sour dessert for him.

After all the discussion about questionable calls by officials at DeLand last week, matters are expected to be placed back in proper perspective. Dick Pac, regarded as Central Florida's top official, will bring a name crew of men in stripes to Sanford for the game.

Seminole still has the potential to be a great team. Great teams bounce back from defeats like a baby bleeding milk from his bottle. Friday's game shouldn't be a toughie for a couple of reasons. However, Seminole will determine its character in those final five games against Gainesville, Colonial, Lyman, Seabreeze and Lake Brantley.

Last week's picks were impeccable, a perfect 5-for-5. Still, the seasonal average is only 77 per cent, or 17-of-22.

So, looking skyward and never back, look for the following Friday night:

Seminole 41, St. Augustine 7 — The only question seems to be the extra points. But Bobby Dugger's toe looks healthy, so eat it up Seminole. This is the bread. Don't bother peeping around the corner. You already know Gainesville is there.

Lake Brantley 27, Kissimmee 12 — Sammy Weir has that patriotic feeling, and for good reason. His Patriots are playing home-to-goodness football. You know, the kind where occasional mistakes might crop up, but not the killing ones. Kissimmee will be caught with its pants down when Brantley turns its offense into second gear.

Oviedo H, Cocoa Beach 6 — Wait a minute, Mintemite! Oviedo is on its way back. The Lions roar on this night, and it's about time. A win can do wonders to help the upcoming schedule. Waiting in the wings on successive weeks are Bishop Moore, Astronaut, West Orange, Lake Brantley and Apopka. Whew! Make hay while the sun shines, because the weather forecast is for several storms in the near future.

Mount Dora 21, Lake Howell 15 — Gee, too bad Lake Howell is looking at the meat of its schedule. The Hawks are hungry. So hungry they would take a win over Class AA Mount Dora. However, the latter isn't so agreeable, and it's a game, but same song, fifth verse for Lake Howell.

Trinity Prep 20, Cardinal Moorey 14 — Not often will Trinity travel to Sarasota and be favored, but Moorey is in a rebuilding year and with a functional football team, the Saints are in a great spot.

Series Target Reds Hoping To Pull Off Large Theft

BOSTON (AP) — After stealing the National League pennant, the Cincinnati Reds are planning the biggest haul of all — the World Series.

The Cincinnati gang, which stole bases almost 40 in a three-game NL playoff sweep of the Pittsburgh Pirates, prepared to hijack the rich world championship of baseball with a similar plan.

"We can steal, we can hit, we have the bullpen," says Pete Rose, brash ringleader of the National League champions.

"We did everything against the Pirates. I don't see why we should stop now."

The Reds worked out today in Cincinnati and planned to jet into Boston Friday morning before taking on the American League champions in the World Series opener on Saturday. The Red Sox went through a similar workout in cozy Fenway Park.

Although the Red Sox will have the advantage of the extra home game in this best-of-seven series, the Reds have been installed as slight favorites by the Cincinnati club.

Led by Rose — alias the "Cincinnati Kid" — the Reds flashed through the National League West and knocked off 108 victories en route to the division pennant.

"This is the best team I've been on in my 13 years playing in Cincinnati," says Rose, who had 210 hits, including 47 doubles, a .317 batting average and 74 RBI in the leadoff position this year.

Among the muscleboys on the Cincinnati club are Johnny Bench and Tony Perez, two right-handed hitters who'll no doubt have their batting eyes fixed on the friendly left field wall in Fenway called "The Green Monster."

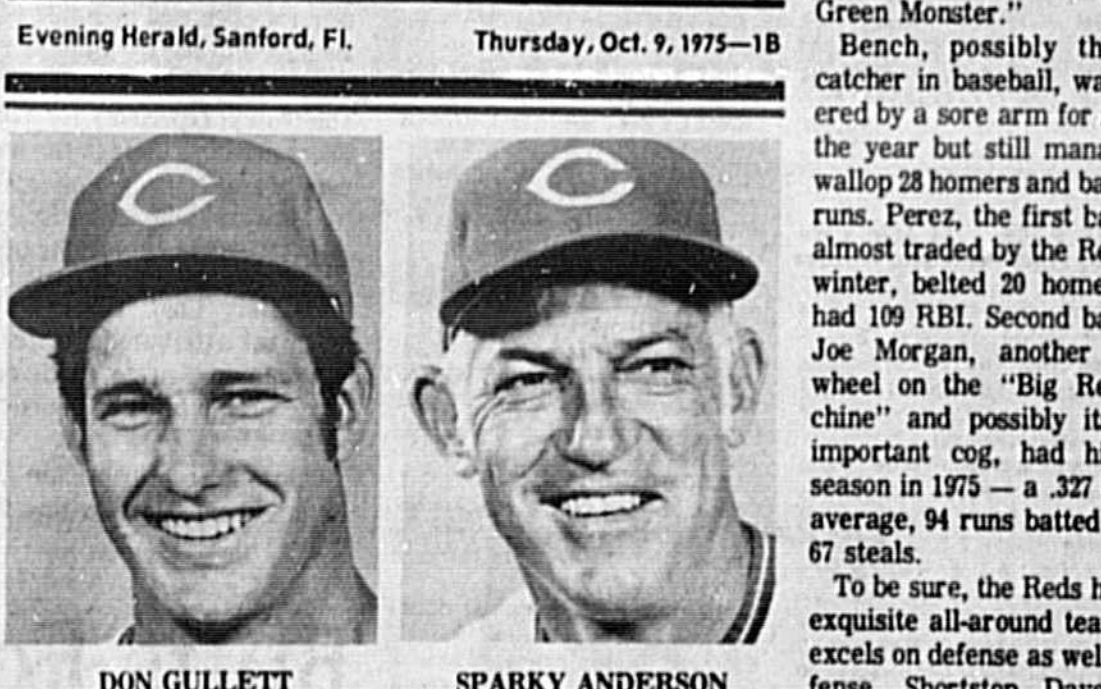

Bench, possibly the best catcher in baseball, was bothered by a sore arm for most of the year but still managed to wallop 28 homers and bat in 118 runs. Perez, the first baseman almost traded by the Reds last winter, belted 20 homers and had 109 RBI. Second baseman Joe Morgan, another strong wheel on the "Big Red Machine" and possibly its most important cog, had his best season in 1975 — a .327 batting average, 94 runs batted in and 87 steals.

To be sure, the Reds have an exquisite all-around team that excels on defense as well as offense. Shortstop Dave Concepcion plays at third base on Rose's side and rounds out the infield. The outfield includes three players with some of the most powerful arms in baseball — George Foster in left, Cesar Geronimo in center and Ken Griffey in right.

Along with the lusty hitting and the gorgeous defense, the Reds have a pitching staff that includes Don Gullett, the opening day starter, Fred Norman and Gary Nolan and a bullpen anchored by Clay Carroll, one of the best in the game.

The Red Sox, who are starting unflappable Luis Tiant in the first game, know exactly what they have to do to beat the rugged National League king. Points out catcher Carlton Fisk: "You can't stop good baserunners. But if the pitchers do their job and keep them off the bases, that's how you stop 'em."

Lawyer Seeks Deposition In Grid Death

MIAMI (AP)—An attorney for the family of a Colorado football player who died after a team workout last year says he will seek a deposition with Colorado Coach Bill Mallory to use in a lawsuit.

Attorney Steven Falk said Wednesday that Mallory will make the deposition before 12th-ranked Colorado's Friday night game against the University of Miami.

Falk has filed suit in circuit court here against Aetna Life and Casualty Co., which has refused payment on a life insurance policy for Polie Potier of Miami.

Potier, a 19-year-old sophomore quarterback, died Aug. 24, 1974, a day after collapsing during an 800-yard run in practice.

Aetna contends Potier's death was caused by sickle cell anemia and not by athletic injury, which the policy covers.

The policy, reportedly for $10,000, was issued through the University and National Collegiate Athletic Association with Potier's mother as beneficiary.

Boilder, Colo., Community Hospital attributed Potier's death to "an acute sickle-cell crisis precipitated by physical activity."

Falk said the family would not take legal action against the school because an investigation showed team officials were not negligent.

Bufs Favored Over Miami U. In OB Clash

MIAMI (AP)—"We can't lose them all." University of Miami defensive back Willie Jenkins insisted after last week's 31-0 football loss to fourth-ranked Nebraska.

Miami will be a heavy underdog against Friday night against 12th-ranked Colorado vs. Buffaloes.

"Miami is the best 0-3 team in the country," said Colorado Coach Bill Mallory, whose Buffaloes enter the Orange Bowl coming off a 21-30 loss to Oklahoma.

The near tie, lost when a conversion kick was missed with 30 seconds to play, dropped Oklahoma from first to second place in the national ranking.

Miami lost 20-17 to Oklahoma two weeks ago in the Orange Bowl.

"People say you're the best 0-3 team in the nation, but it's frustrating to know you still haven't won a game," said Hurricane tight end Charlie Claid.

The other Miami loss was a 38-23 season opening defeat to Georgia Tech, which is 5-7 and ranked but has a 3-1 record.

The Hurricanes led a 5-7 lead against Nebraska at halftime, and Nebraska defensive

Speaks For The Little People

Gene Upshaw Dedicated To Helping Oakland Youths

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
The Herald Staff

OAKLAND, Calif.—On the streets of west Oakland, in a black ghetto, Gene Upshaw is a man of stature. The little kids look up to him when he comes around. They see a giant of a man, 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighing 255 pounds.

"I want a big car," they all say. "And maybe because of them, Gene Upshaw, who is a star in professional football and pulls down a big salary while also operating a couple of night clubs, will play another couple of years only for the Oakland Raiders."

It is the major life's commitment of Texas A&M in nearby Kingsville where he has a scholarship. He was 5-10 and 190. Coach Gil Steinkamp, who remembered him as a spunky high school linebacker, said "on the field he was a dramatic player, speaking out and blacks have a voice."

"But there are kids who live left in their young lives left the west Oakland area, kids who are playing his ninth physical presence, and outgoing,regarious personality, a flair for meeting people and ability to make them relax. He doesn't mind the pawing and the time demands that go with being a public figure. He's a natural politician.

Last year he thought of running for the Oakland city council, even moving from his suburban home into a city apartment. "But they wouldn't understand a football player being a part-time politician," he rationalizes. "They'd say, 'You're always running off to New York to play football.'"

"Now I want to end up in Sacramento. I've been intrigued by state politics. In a couple of years, I'm going to run for the Assembly."

"An election is won four to five years before you run. I've been a winner (in football). I want to collect on some of them chips. I'm going to have to believe in what you want to do."

Tiant Finally Gets Wish-Crack At Series

The son of one of Cuba's all-time great baseball players, Luis Jr. ignored his parents' advice not to try to become a major league pitcher. He went to Mexico and went on to become the ace of the Cleveland Indians before he was hit by injuries. His career appeared ended in 1971 when he was released by the Minnesota Twins and then by the Atlanta Braves.

The Red Sox gave him a chance. On the recommendation of Johnson, then manager at Louisville, he was promoted to Boston, but had only a 1-7 record.

After winning a starting job, he had a 15-6 record in 1972. He followed with 20-13 and 22-13 records, but still the Red Sox couldn't win. This year they did.

Hubbard Takes Blame For Loss

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida A&M Coach Rudy Hubbard said his team played hard enough to win last Saturday's game against Howard, but not smart enough.

"I still feel we have a better team, but they outplayed us enough to win the ball game (6-0)," Hubbard said Wednesday as he prepared for Saturday's game against Alabama State.

He said the flatties "put as much effort into that ball game as they could," but made too many costly mistakes.

"That's my fault," Hubbard said, "I just haven't made them realize how important the little things are. I'm just going to have to do a better job of coaching them."

Howard scored the game's lone touchdown on a 48-yard pass because Florida A&M defensive backs fumbled over the receiver, thinking that the Howard quarterback was trapped, Hubbard said. Rattler running back Donald Byrd fumbled away a likely touchdown when "the last guy on the field grabbed his jersey," Hubbard said.

He said Rattlers failed to execute in key situations and made too many fumbles, losing one of five. But he added that the team is improving.

"It sounds funny for me to be saying it after we lost a ball game, but we're much, much better than we were last year," Hubbard said.

The 6-foot-2, 210-pounder was signed Wednesday. Eley, a Rocky Mount, N.C., native played for the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League the last three seasons, gaining 1,176 yards last year. He also caught 18 passes for 221 yards.

The Falcons selected Eley in the fifth round of the 1974 NFL draft, hoping to lure him back to the United States.

Nissenson Picks Sooners

Texas, Oklahoma To Clash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Texas-Oklahoma game is so important that Darrell Royal, your basic Country & Western fan, probably doesn't even have time to listen to any good guitar pickin' this week.

This corner certainly has nothing against guitar-pickin', even indulging in a few loud chords from time to time, as Darrell can testify, but this week we, too, will stick to pickin' scores.

And there's no better place to start than with the annual Red River brohaha in Dallas between second-ranked Oklahoma and No. 5 Texas, highlight of a tasty schedule which also features three other match-ups between ranked teams — Michigan at Michigan State, West Virginia at Penn State and Oklahoma State at Missouri.

Royal won 12 of the first 14 battles against his alma mater but a revolting development has taken place the last four years with Oklahoma winning 4-0-7, 2-0-11 and 16-1-3. Oklahoma's Barry Switzer has never lost to Texas — or anyone else, for that matter — as a head coach, and he won't this week ... Oklahoma 28-21.

Last week's count showed 53 right and 15 wrong for a percentage of .779. For the season, it's 188-82-7-696.

Michigan at Michigan State: It's the fifth year in a row the Spartans have played Notre Dame and Michigan back-to-back. The first four times they lost to both. This year they beat Notre Dame, but they'll still lose to ... Michigan 17-10.

West Virginia at Penn State: The last 18 years, except for a 14-14 tie in 1958, have only three times has the "Nittany Lions" margin of victory been under 10 points. They say all good things must come to an end ... or must they? Penn State 24-14.

Oklahoma State at Missouri: Cowboys hit the road for the first time. The road hits back ... Missouri 24-17.

Ohio State at Iowa: "The players might tend to take this one lightly, but I won't let them," says Woody Hayes, whose Buckeyes are No. 1 ... Ohio State 42-7.

Washington State at Southern California: It's easy to get to the L.A. Coliseum but it ain't easy to win there ... Southern Cal 28-14.

Kansas at Nebraska: You think Kansas doesn't remember last year's 56-0 shellacking? You think Kansas won't get beat again? Nebraska 21-7.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech: Considered this for Upset Special ... very briefly. Texas A&M 27-10.

Washington at Alabama: Might be closer than you think. Then again, it might not ... Alabama 35-7.

Colorado at Miami, Fla.: Upset Special of the Week ... Miami 20-17.

Notre Dame at North Carolina: There isn't any good time to play the Irish, particularly after they lose a toughie ... Notre Dame 30-6.

Vanderbilt at Florida: The Gators haven't forgotten last year ... Florida 24-6.

Louisiana State at Tennessee: LSU won last year 20-10. This year ... Tennessee 20-10.

Canadiens Blank Kings In Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
scoreless tie at 3:05 of the third period.

The game had been billed as a forerunner of the James Norris Division first-place race: the Los Angeles Kings against the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League season opener for both clubs.

It was, in fact, a preview of things to come, there's trouble on the West Coast. The Canadiens destroyed the Kings 9-0, with four players scoring two goals apiece and goalie Ken Dryden stopping a Bart Crasberry penalty shot.

"It didn't look like the same Los Angeles team," offered Dryden, who stopped 29 shots on the way to the first shutout of the 59th NHL season. "That's enough errors by a team for three or four games."

All the scoring Wednesday night was by the Canadiens, who took a giant stride towards matching the league-leading 374 goals they collected last year. Jim Roberts, Guy Lafleur, Jacques Lemaire and Bob Gainey had two goals apiece for Montreal, and Yvan Cournoyer had the other for Montreal, which took 48 shots on Kings' goalie Rogatien Vachon and netted six shots in the third period.

Ten other clubs opened their NHL seasons Wednesday night, as the California Seals surprised the Atlanta Flames 4-3, the St. Louis Blues tied the Detroit Red Wings 1-1, the Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers tied 2-2, the Kansas City Scouts and New York Islanders tied 1-1, and the Vancouver Canucks edged the Minnesota North Stars 3-2.

Seals 4, Flames 3
The young Seals came back from a 3-1 deficit to beat Atlanta, which got two goals from Tom Lysiak and one from Curt Bennett.

Seals' scorers were rookie Ralph Klassen, Dave Gardner, Larry Patey and Bob Murdoch.

Wings 1, Blues 1
Bill Lochead, sprawled on the ice five feet from the St. Louis goal, swept in a pass from Dan Maloney with 1:53 remaining to lift the Red Wings into their tie with the Blues.

An outstanding game by goalie Jim Rutherford kept Detroit, outshot 34-18, in contention until Lochead scored. Chuck Leffley had broken a knocked in with a high stick ... Guy Charron scored for Kansas City, Billy Harris for New York.

Canucks 3, Minnesota 2
The coaching debut of Ted Harris at Minnesota was ruined by a bad break when the stick of North Stars' goalie Cesare Manigo snapped in half just before Jerry O'Flaherty scored the game-winner.

Don Lever and Dennis Verbergart also tallied for last year's Smythe Division champs, Dennis Hextall and Lou Nanne counted for Minnesota.

Notre Dame 30-6
The Gators haven't forgotten last year ... Florida 24-6.

Louisiana State at Tennessee: LSU won last year 20-10. This year ... Tennessee 20-10.

Claws Continue Dealing

Nuggets Acquire Big Dan Isell

DENVER (AP) — Wheel-dealer Carl Scheer, never content to stand idly by if there are transactions to be made, moved to shore up the Denver Nuggets weakened center position Wednesday by acquiring veteran Dan Isell from the Baltimore Claws.

In exchange for Isell, Scheer said the Nuggets gave up veteran center-forward Dave Robisch and an undisclosed amount of cash. One source pegged the sum at $600,000.

Isell, a four-time All-Star with the Kentucky Colonels, had been traded three weeks ago to the Claws, a new American Basketball Association franchise. He initially balked at that trade.

Scheer, the Nuggets' president and general manager, announced the acquisition of Isell only 12 hours after receiving news that the team's No. 1 draft choice, 7-foot-1 Marvin Webster, was suffering from a form of hepatitis that would force him to miss all or part of the 1975-76 season. Webster played in only one preseason game before undergoing a series of tests at a Denver hospital.

"You don't get a chance to get to know Dan Isell's caliber every day," Scheer said. "He really fills a hole with the loss of Marvin."

Robisch's departure leaves Denver with only five players from last year's Western Division championship team.

Sources differed on the exact compensation given the Claws.

Dave Cohan, president of the Baltimore franchise and one of the club's 10 partners, said the Claws would receive Robisch, the rights to Webster and "two other solid players" from the Nuggets.

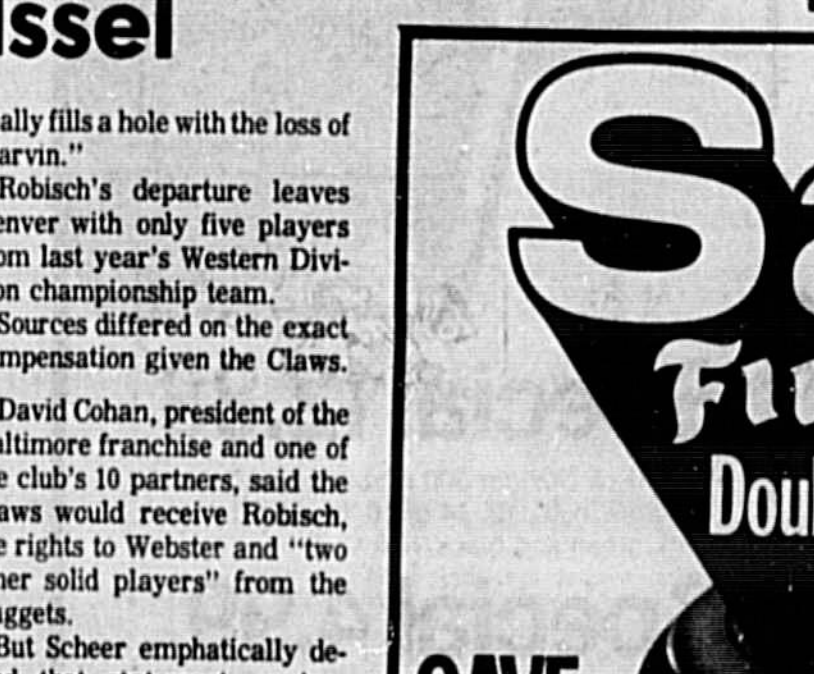

But Scheer emphatically denied that statement, saying, "Marvin is not part of the deal. The only players involved are Isell and Robisch."

Isell, a five-year veteran, has been among the league's top scorers and rebounders since graduating from the University of Kentucky. The 6-9 Isell, who played center his first year with the Claws before being switched to forward, has averaged 28 points and 12 rebounds per game during his pro career.

"Dan Isell will be a starting center," said Nuggets Coach Larry Brown upon learning of the trade. "He's great on the boards and loves to run, so he should fit in well with the type of game we play."

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Friday, October 10, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Don't put your mouth in motion before your brain is in gear today. You could be very irritating to all within earshot.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You'll find you're better at handling serious matters in the p.m. than in the a.m. Don't rush into decisions without weighing alternatives.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Your first impulse today is to look after your self-interests. You'll soon discover you'll accomplish more by adhering to the spirit of give-and-take.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
You'll be asked to do a favor you consider an imposition. You'll find you not only feel good about doing it, but are having fun, to boot.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
If you don't succeed on the first try — and you probably won't — hang in there. It may take several attempts, but you'll catch the brass ring.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You're apt to experience some domestic pressures early in the day. Later, things will get brighter. You won't even remember what disturbed you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
An opportunity that will make or save you money will pop up suddenly. Be on your toes to grab it, for it will disappear as quickly as it appeared.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22)
Keep your schedule flexible today. You're going to make some sudden changes in direction. You won't want to be locked into an outmoded plan.

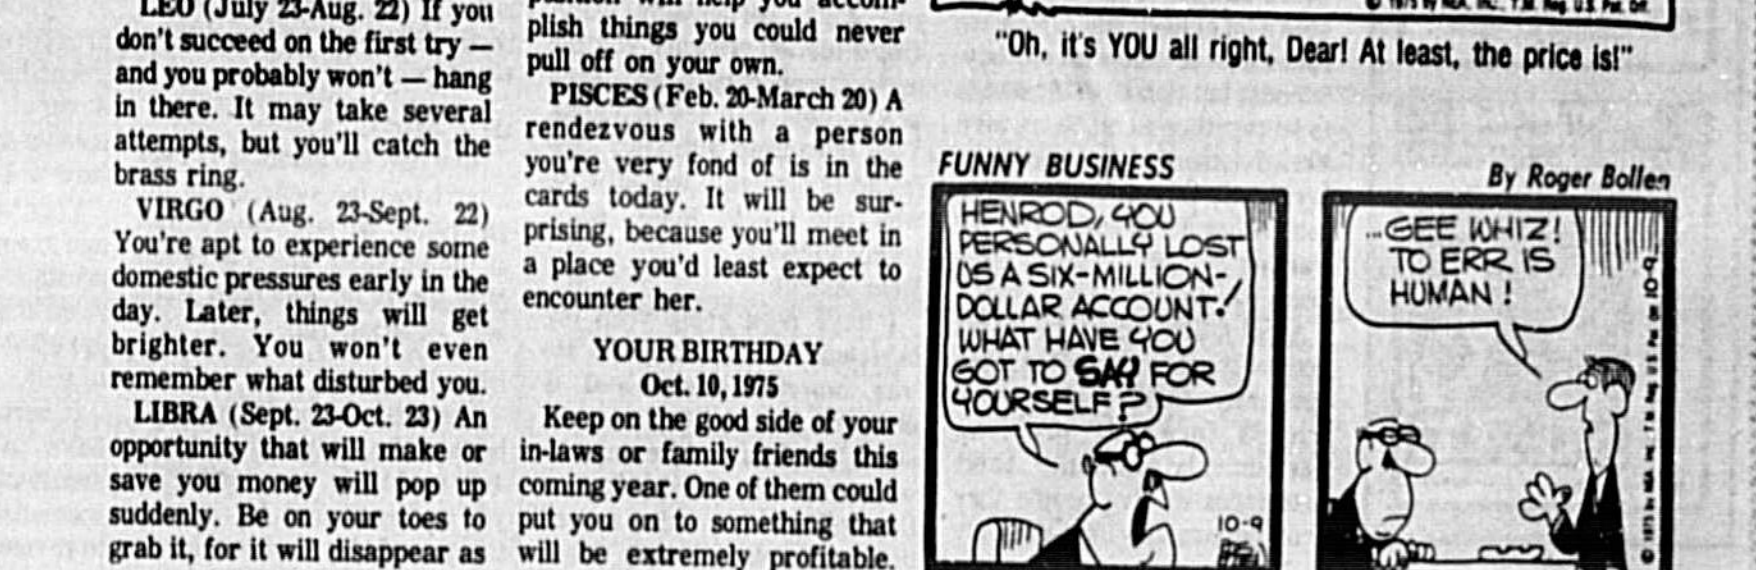

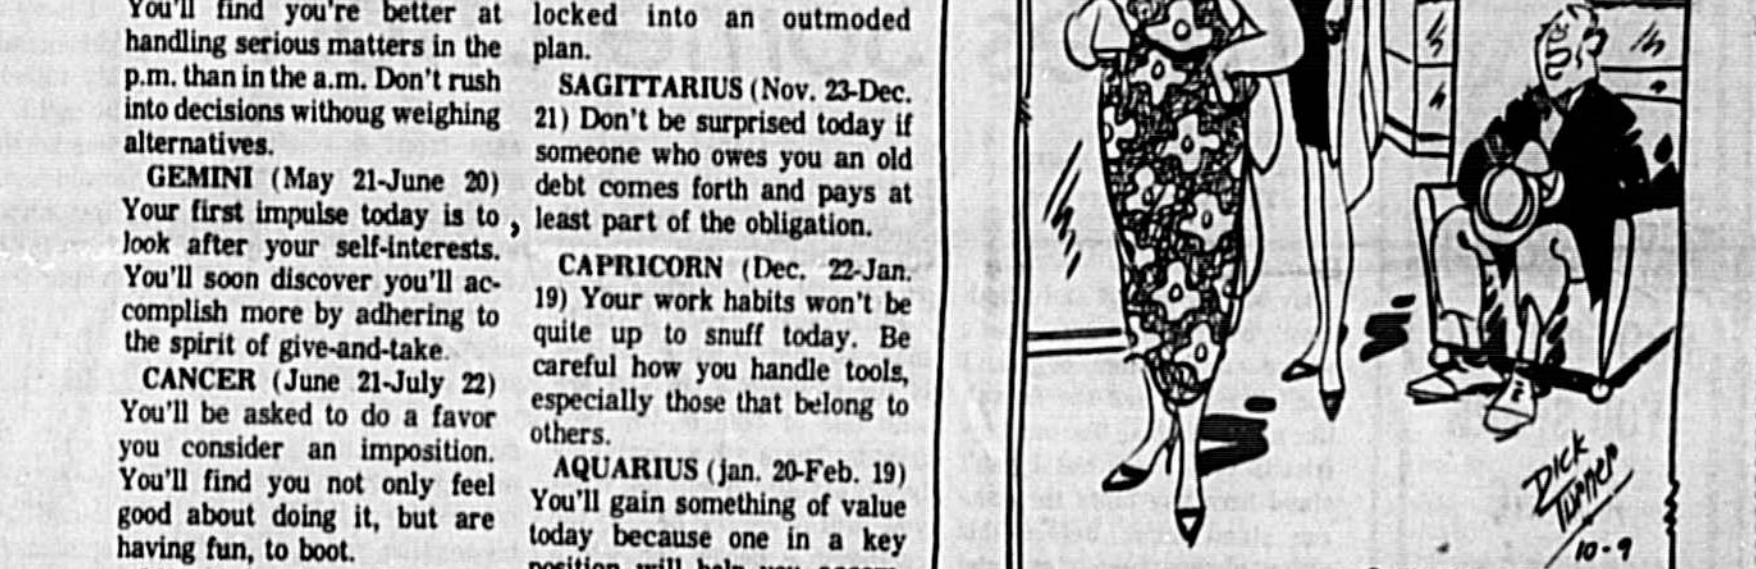

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Don't be surprised today if someone who owes you an old debt comes forth and pays at least part of the obligation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your work habits won't be quite up to snuff today. Be careful how you handle tools, especially those that belong to others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You'll gain something of value today because one in a key position will help you accomplish things you could never pull off on your own.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
A rendezvous with a person you're very fond of is in the cards today. It will be surprising, because you'll meet in a place you'd least expect to encounter her.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
Oct. 10, 1975
Keep on the good side of your in-laws or family friends this coming year. One of them could put you on to something that will be extremely profitable.

Executive Director Sara Jacobson and committee adviser Shirley Moak presented the Development Council with a series of recommendations based on months of research, including consultations with planners, architects, economists, government officials and civic organizations. Jacobson and Moak recommended:

- A Comprehensive Development Plan that includes surveys of existing facilities, economic patterns, and attitudes in the downtown area.
- Training programs to aid downtown businessmen in merchandising, display techniques, public relations, etc.
- A recruiting campaign to draw new businesses to fill up existing vacant buildings. Prospective businesses would be analyzed to determine their suitability to the development program.
- Formulation of an image for downtown Sanford, a comprehensive plan to promote an easily identifiable and warmly acceptable image the public will associate with the area.
- Coordination and implementation by the Downtown Development Council of the other four areas of the program.

The Downtown Development Council, which is not connected with the Downtown Business Association, is made up of nine members, including Executive Director Jacobson; Chairman John Morris; Rose Jacobson, Don Knight, Ralph Larson, Vince Roberts, Janice Springfield, Doug Stenstrom, and Garrett White.

The group, once called the Downtown Steering Committee, has been meeting regularly for three months. Jacobson said the committee will formulate a final pre-planning report by Nov. 6 which will include research data to be collected next week via questionnaires.

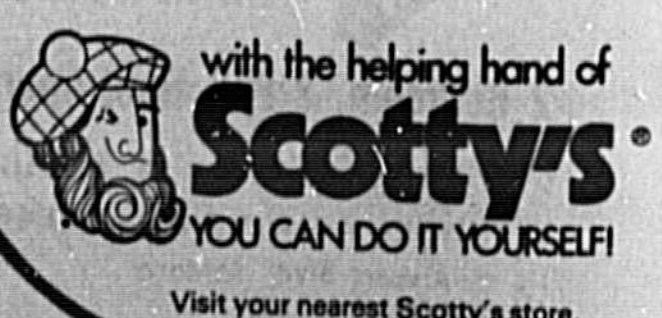

Downtown businessmen — real estate brokers, attorneys, merchants, insurance executives and others — will be the targets of the questionnaire, which will attempt to determine prevailing attitudes and ideas on downtown business operations.

Jacobson said committee members will "hit the streets" next week to conduct the surveys. Also, businessmen will be given the opportunity to participate in "brainstorming sessions" to come up with ideas on downtown development.

"We need and encourage their participation," Jacobson said. "We feel that downtown property owners and businessmen themselves have the answers to the problems."

Citing some confusion in what is meant by "downtown Sanford," Jacobson said the committee has established a working definition in the form of four delineated areas. In its initial efforts the committee will use its first two areas to define downtown: from Palmetto to Park and from Second to Commercial Ave; and from Palmetto to Myrtle Ave. and from Third to Commercial. She said as the development program continues the definition of downtown Sanford will expand outward to eventually include the area from Mellowville to Auto Train and from Fourth to Seminole Blvd.

Jacobson said that next week she and committee adviser Shirley Moak, along with State Senator Lori Wilson, will travel to Tallahassee to lobby for government funding of the program. She said her group will be concentrating on the departments of Archives and

Facelift Planned For City

Long Term Clay Need Cited

Seminole County Road Supt. J. C. Lavender disagreed today with a charge earlier this week that the law of diminishing returns will eventually negate the county's need for its own $317,000 clay pit.

Lavender agreed with Tom DeWolf, the vice president of Markham Woods Civic Association, that over the next 10 years the county will pay about $100,000 a year for clay if a site owned by Lester Mandell near Markham Woods Road is purchased.

County officials are now paying $20,000 a year for clay. In essence, DeWolf said that over a span of 10 years the

Housing Board Takes Action

By JOE ASKREN Herald Staff Writer

The 112 elderly tenants in Redding Park Gardens won't have to pay for electricity in the future as a result of action taken Thursday night by the Sanford Housing Authority (SHA).

A resolution was passed establishing a policy of not charging residents for "excess" electric utility fees in the 100 unit project — one of six under SHA.

Executive Director Tom Wilson explained a $5 monthly utility allowance is included in rent payments, which average $39 a month.

Wilson said the reason for the resolution is because of the "fixed incomes" of the tenants, which does not exceed $4,500 a year.

Tight money in the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has forced SHA to dip into the $140,000 reserve account to supplement the 1975-76 fiscal year budget, he said.

"We will be operating with $127,000 of our reserve account," said Wilson.

If Sheriff Wins, County Appeal Will Follow

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

If the Florida Cabinet awards Sheriff John Polk his full $253,000 request, Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said today the commission will appeal the issue to the district court of appeals.

Vihlen's statement comes after a Thursday hearing in Tallahassee in which Polk argued for a full $2.6-million budget, while the commission sought to hold the sheriff's budget to $2.3 million.

"I would predict that if the full amount is awarded, the board will take this to the courts," Vihlen said.

The chairman said board attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. has advised him to "run it through" the courts if Polk's award is higher than the commission feels feasible.

Part of Polk's appeal was based on the existence of organized crime in Seminole County, a statement that Vihlen says he heard for the "first time" on Wednesday in Tallahassee.

"I cannot argue with the statement, the sheriff is the professional law enforcement officer," the chairman noted.

And, Polk, contacted at his office, today confirmed that he definitely feels there is a certain element of organized crime in Seminole County.

"A large part of our drug problem is organized. When you have coke and heroin and large quantities of marijuana — it's got to be organized."

Though Polk feels all organized crime is not tied to the syndicate, he said "some of our drug problem . . . would be tied to the syndicate."

Polk asked for special radios and four additional deputies to create three additional districts patrol in the county. Polk says manpower shortages prompted him to create seven districts which he says now needs to be added to.

Polk's actual request is for

United Way Aids Area Girl Scouts

The Citrus Council of Girl Scouts serves half a dozen Central Florida counties, including Seminole. The Girl Scout organization emphasizes four main objectives in its programs: to deepen the girl's awareness of herself as a unique person; to develop the girl's value to give meaning and direction to her life; to relate to others with increasing skill, maturity and satisfaction; and to cooperate with others in contributing her talents and efforts to society. There are over 600 troops in Citrus Council, each averaging from 18-32 girl members.

Operations of the council are financed by product sales, program activity fees. Sustaining Memberships, gifts and the United Way. Troops are self-supporting in their activities as much as possible. Mah-Kah-wee has hosted such program events as dramatics, dance, gymnastics, hand arts, creative cooking, leather crafts and camping skills.

Motor Buy Is Denied In Trial

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Attomone Springs bar owner Donald R. Crowder today labeled confessed burglar Calvin C. Yates Jr., of Casselberry, a liar and denied that he ever "ordered or bought" an outboard motor from Yates.

Crowder, 44-year-old owner of the Henderson Bar, and Herman E. Fields, 38, co-owner of a repair shop located across the street from the bar, are on trial on charges of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Crowder testified for the defense today that he knew Yates and James L. Davis and had seen them in his bar. But, Crowder said he "never ordered a boat motor from Yates. I've never ordered anything from Cal Yates."

Yates and Davis, confessed members of the theft ring, testified Thursday that they were told Crowder "had a customer interested in a motor bigger than 115-horsepower" and that they, accompanied by another confessed member of the theft ring, James Arthur Onie, stole a 150-horsepower
