CCIB busts 2nd pot operation in two weeks

Photo submitted

More than 300 plants were discovered by police in a man's garage near Casselberry.

Agents with the City-County Investigative Bureau (CCIB), early Friday, busted another marijuana growing facility, located in a home, in the unincorporated Casselberry area.

The bust occurred at 959 North Jericho Drive, just four houses down, and across the street from another indoor growing operation bust two weeks ago at 970 North Jericho Drive.

Neither of the marijuana growing operations was linked to each other, according to Seminole County Sheriff's Office spokesman Steve Olson.

Agents developed information about this particular operation after wrapping up the last case. They served a search warrant at 959 N. Jericho Drive at around 5 a.m. They arrested Vincent Paiano, 51, and seized 322 marijuana plants and growing equipment. The plants in this case were about seven to eight weeks old. The plants were found in Paiano's garage, which had been divided into two growing rooms.

Paiano is accused of marijuana trafficking (more than 300 plants), cultivation, and distribution. He faces other drug-related offenses as well. He is being held in the county jail on no bond.

County approves plan for Myrtle Street

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Developers, residents and county commissioners finally have a plan — after two years of debate — they feel will preserve the rural setting of 620 acres around Myrtle Street.

In 2002, commissioners asked county staff to analyze how the area north of Lake Jesup and west of South

Overlay will require 50 percent open space while capping development at 2 units per acre

Sanford Avenue would develop. Conscious of serious drainage concerns and dense developments such as the 144-home Autumn Chase neighborhood and the 160-home Lake Jesup Woods subdivision, commissioners wanted a way to preserve the rural setting while improving services to the area.

Formerly a hotbed for the celery industry, the land around Myrtle Street is now primarily open fields and suburban estates of one acre or more. A considerable amount of the area is wetlands and part of it is in the Lake Jesup Basin that basically sheet flows to the lake during hard rains, said county staff.

Commissioners unanimously approved Tuesday to forward an "urban conservation village" overlay for Myrtle Street area to the state for review. The plan proposes to maintain the rural character of Myrtle Street by requiring developers to preserve at least 50 percent open spaces. In return, developers who improve drainage and bring sewer and water lines to the area could build up to two units per acre.

State leaders answer residents concerns

CASSELBERRY — Two state legislators let residents know their concerns are not falling on deaf ears during a town meeting at City Hall on Tuesday.

State Sen. Lee Constantine and Rep. David Meador, both Republicans whose districts include parts of Orange and Seminole counties, addressed educational and growth management issues, along with individual concerns.

"There were a lot of advocacy issues that were not the mainstream," Constantine said.

He was elected to the Florida Senate in 2000 and serves as the Chair for the Education Committee.

Constantine is also a member of the Natural Resources Committee and the Joint Legislative Committee on Everglades Oversight, among others. He served as a state representative from 1992-2000.

Seminole County Customer Service Liaison Sue McCracken was one of 10 employees to receive "Employee of the Year" honors.

By Christopher Patton

SANFORD — She's often the first person to greet visitors and Seminole County Government wouldn't want it any other way.

Customer Service Liaison Sue McCracken was one of 10 county employees to receive the Employee of the Year honor this month during the annual awards and recognition luncheon. An employee from each department is honored with the "top employee" distinction, however, McCracken was one of the newest employees to receive the honor and one of the most visible.

She began working in Seminole County Government in April 2000, but her job didn't really come to fruition

Good news for I-4 travelers

FDOT says it will finish several road projects in Seminole County next month

By Nick Pfelfaut
Staff Writer

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) officials say March will be a busy month in FDOT-related projects and events.

"We've been very busy," added FDOT spokesman Steve Homan, "But there is some good news for people who use Interstate 4 between Deltona and Lake Mary."

Homan said it is likely that westbound I-4, from east of the St. Johns River Bridge to Lake Mary Boulevard in Seminole County will be open to three lanes of traffic in a month. Homan said the exact date is not certain, but the target date is March 24.

The project has been in two phases, both under the same contractors, and includes the new St. Johns River bridge. Locally, the project, which includes widening of I-4 to six lanes between Lake Mary Boulevard and the U.S. Highway 17-92 intersection at the St. Johns River, started in September 2002.

The other phase is the six laning of I-4 from between Dirksen Drive to Highway 17-92 in Volusia County, which got underway in March of 2001. Both projects are expected to be completed to the point where the lanes can be in operation by the Iraqi Diary: Soldiers destroy rusted artillery gun

Editor's note: Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson III, son of Sanford historian Charlie C. Carlson II, is deployed in Baghdad as part of the 549th Military Police Company. He is providing the Herald with a journal of his experiences.

22 Feb. 2004 Today I went out with my squad and some IPF who wanted to destroy an artillery piece that the enemy was planning to use as a mortar against coalition forces and lob mortars into our bases.

We got to the site where the mortar was sitting in a field, about 200 meters from the road across from some houses. We checked the weapon out. It was a large artillery piece in which the breach was rusted shut but the barrel could be moved up and down.

SFC Goldberg was with us and he placed an M-14 (Incendiary Grenade) down the barrel which had some effect, and then I placed a grenade on the breach. The way an incendiary grenade works is once you pull the pin there is a loud "pop" and the grenade goes to work by creating a heat so intense that the metal is welded together or melted down. There is no cook off time. You just place it and run because as soon as you pull the pin and the spoon flies off, the grenade goes off. Of course this is not a fragmentation grenade.

Carlson

Anyway we rendered the weapon useless so it can't be used to kill our soldiers. I really doubt that it was a useful weapon because it was a piece of junk to begin with. We did get to use an incendiary grenade, which is not used that much.

After we got back to camp, we got two of our vehicles ready for turn-in for the replacement unit and will be signing them over tomorrow. This means that I first got rid of P-14 (Nightstalker 2A vehicle) and tomorrow I get rid of P-15 (Nightstalker 2B vehicle). Now the only team left with a vehicle is my C Team with P-16 (Nightstalker 2C vehicle). These were the vehicles/fighting platforms that my squad used during this entire war from start to finish and now they will go on to serve a new unit and protect them as they did my squad.

23 Feb. 2004 Today is my wife's birthday. We transferred our vehicles and it was smooth turn-over. Later today, my squad is supposed to escort our replacement unit back to Marlboro or RSS.

I looked at my Web page. Several people have signed my guest book. I was amazed to find one from California and one from Colorado. Both were readers of the Herald. I guess they must subscribe to it or read it online.

In 11 days our unit is heading north to Balad to CSC Anaconda where we will fly out. If you look at a map of Iraq and find Tikrit and then look a little lower where Samarra is, the next town is Balad. That whole area is Sunni territory. We are to travel up there in 5-ton trucks, no armor and only one magazine of ammo. Yes, Balad is in the Sunni Triangle. I'm not too thrilled about going north without much ammo in the back of a five ton truck through the middle of the Sunni Triangle. We don't know what genius decided to redeploy us by sending us through the Sunni Triangle when all the other

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

People say that good news doesn't sell but I only get to write this article once. Sanford has been good to me so I would like to say some good things about Sanford, its people and businesses. After all, I've spent just about every Monday through Friday here for the last 27 years. Let me begin with The Sanford Herald.

In 1977, the Herald's priority was the Courts which still serve as a form of entertainment. In 2004, the Herald has a lot more to write about with growth, expansion and its numerous off shoots. There is plenty to write about. Anyway, Dan Ping, Tommy, Chris and Nick, you are all doing a GREAT JOB.

Moving along to the Police Department, in 1977, Ben Butler was the Chief of Police and I knew him well. Police work was a lot simpler and safer back then and I was allowed to ride in a police car thanks to "Uncle" Ben.

Police work, like everything else, has progressed enormously. In 2004, Chief Brian Tooley has accepted this challenge and has created a professional and first class police department. Chief Tooley, you're doing a GREAT JOB.

In 1977, Lee Moore was Mayor. I didn't know Mr. Moore, but, when spoken of, words like honest, hard working and a devoted family man are his reputation. In 2004 Sanford's Mayor, Brady Lessard, can be described in the same manner. I truly believe that Mayor Lessard has Sanford's best interests at heart in every decision he makes. Mayor Lessard, you're doing a GREAT JOB.

In the late 70s, I avoided downtown with the exception of Billy Painter's Colonial Room (still has great food). In 2004, downtown Sanford has turned into an example of how to bring back a once vibrant area. I hope the city and the downtown folks can resolve their differences.

Finally, there's the Sanford airport which I understand was a great "lover's lane" in 1977. In 2004, the airport security would not approve of folks "parking" if such a spot could be found. The airport, under the leadership of Mr. Larry Dale and the Airport Authority, have done a great job creating a modern and efficient airport. This facility has the potential to be a major source of economic growth for Sanford and Seminole County. Of course, such growth must prioritize noise abatement and the impact on folks who live near the airport.

Well, that's it. I wish I had more room to say more good things about the good people of Sanford. Maybe Dan will run for "King" again next year!

Wow, who would have thought a politician would use the power of the press to promote a cause that is not his own? I appreciate Thom's column and the hefty donation he made to the Sanford Chamber off Commerce entitling him to write it. It's nice that the mayor of West Sanford, er, I mean Lake Mary, has some nice things to say about the Celery City.

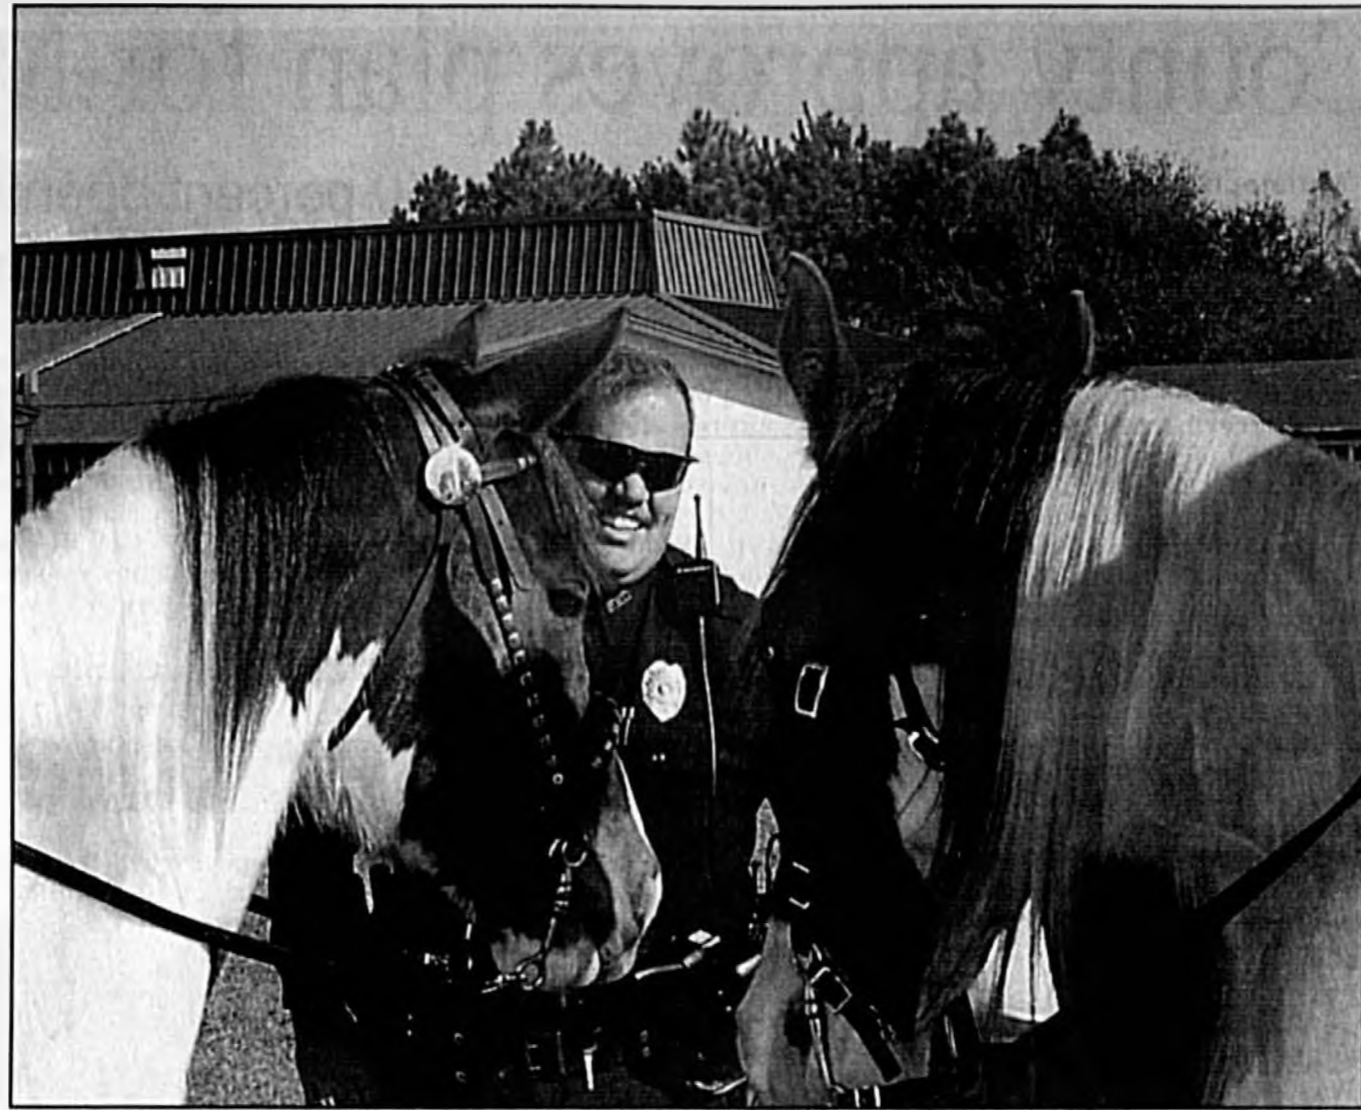

Though it was Thom's week to write Around The Clock (Maria Shreve will get her shot on March 28), your trusty Clock Keeper didn't take the week off. Word Around The Clock is one of downtown's more popular restaurants is closing its doors Saturday night. Mike Morgan, owner of Morgan's Gourmet Cafe, confirmed that he will indeed serve his last meal on Feb. 28.

Mike says he is "burned out" and needs some time away.

"I may re-open down the road sometime, but right now I need some time off," Mike said. "The business is not quite big enough for me to hire a manager, and even though we're closed on Sunday, I'm here working every day."

Mike told his staff Tuesday that he was closing the doors, and as of Friday morning, he said he had three offers to buy the business. He does have a long-term lease on the space, so the restaurant's impending vacancy is drawing lots of attention from local business people. Word Around The Clock is another downtown restaurant is eyeing the space for expansion. Stay tuned.

Thefts

• Johnathan Ellison, 19, of Ridgewood Lane, Sanford, and Antward Barnes, 15, of West Seventh Street, Sanford, were arrested by Sanford police Thursday. They were spotted in a vehicle said to be driving recklessly. The vehicle was stopped at Ninth Street and Poplar Avenue, but the two occupants reportedly fled on foot. They were pursued by officers and subsequently apprehended at 13th Street and Holly Avenue. A computer check revealed the vehicle, a red convertible, had been reported stolen in Altamonte Springs. Ellison was arrested on charges of resisting an officer without violence and trespassing in a conveyance. Barnes, reported to be the driver, was arrested on charges of grand theft of a motor vehicle, resisting an officer without violence, and operating a motor vehicle with no valid drivers license.

• Marquis Montrell Jones, 20, of Vineland Place, Lake Mary, was arrested by Sanford police on Feb. 20. The arrest report says he pawned three stolen nail guns in Sanford on Feb. 10 and 16. They had reportedly been taken from a business in the 2400 block of French Avenue. He was arrested on charges of dealing in stolen property, and theft of over $300.

Drug arrest

Terrance Kentrell Jackson, 21, of Hays Drive, Sanford, was arrested at his residence by Sanford police on Feb. 18. Members of the Sanford Tactical Unit executed a search warrant and uncovered cocaine in the toilet, as well as bags of marijuana in a pair of pants in the bedroom. He was arrested on charges of possession of cocaine with intent to sell, and possession of under 20 grams of marijuana.

Battery

• Troy Letroy Dixon, 25, of Ridgewood Lane, Sanford, was arrested by police on Feb. 21, at his residence where he was reportedly involved in an altercation with a female. He was arrested on a charge of battery - touch or strike.

• Marcus Terrell Perry, 18, of Lake Monroe Terrace, was arrested by Sanford police early Friday at his residence, following an altercation with a female. He was charged with aggravated battery, knowing the victim was pregnant (domestic).

Burglaries

• LaBronnda Vallot, 20, of Hartwell Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday. She had reportedly thrown a rock through a vehicle's window in the 400 block of Willow Avenue and left the area. Police were called back later the same day and found her at the residence, where she is said to have entered the residence and reportedly threatened a man with a razor. She was subsequently arrested on charges of burglary of a dwelling, criminal mischief/property damage over $200 and resisting an officer without violence.

• Janelle Yvette Taylor, 24, of Lake Jennie Drive, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Monday, following a call regarding a burglary and criminal mischief at her residence. According to police, a male had stopped by her apartment and became involved in a verbal dispute with her. Taylor than is said to have left the apartment and smashed the windows of the man's car, then began cutting up the interior with a knife. Taylor left the area but was located late Monday evening at her apartment and placed under arrest on charges of property damage/criminal mischief of over $1,000 or more, and burglary to a conveyance, armed.

Other arrests

Joseph Anthony Denmore, 40, listed as homeless in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday near a store in the 1500 block of French Avenue, at which he had been issued a trespass warning on Jan. 28. He was charged with trespassing, failing to leave property upon order of the owner.

PAL Spring Day Camp to begin March 15

The Police Athletic League (PAL) Spring Day Camp will be in session this year from March 15 to 19, Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the cost of $45 per child.

This fee includes bowling, skating, and swimming (weather permitting) for the week. For 2004, there will be a $45 registration fee. This fee will cover administrative costs, a camp T-shirt, transportation costs and insurance costs.

This is a once-a-year fee and will cover the summer camp also. The camp will be held at the Sanford Church of God, located at 2701 Ridgewood Ave., Sanford.

Transportation to and from camp, as well as lunches, is the responsibility of the parent or guardian.

On Friday, March 19, children will take a field trip to either Universal Studios or Sea World. The $45 registration fee for the week will cover the costs, however, for that day, please send an additional $10 to cover lunch on the field trip. Or, you may pay the $55 when registering on the first day.

A child may attend some or all of the hours established. Payment is due on Monday, March 15.

Children from the age of 6 through 15 are eligible to attend. Activities will include arts and crafts, field trips, sports, table and board games, swimming & more. For an application for the Spring Day Camp, call Carole Brothers at 407-328-3757. For more information, call Seminole County Deputy Sheriff Stuart Walthers at 407-320-5944, pager 407-524-0747 or Brothers at 407-328-3757.

groups, discussions with county staff and development groups, a task force made up of property owners in the area was able to hammer out the plan. Concessions were made on both sides, and while some were unhappy about the proposed density and open space requirement, others congratulated the county for its innovative plan.

"I think we're close to having something that is going to work," said Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide. "We're not all going to be a 100 percent happy. If someone was overjoyed out there with what we're doing there would be some concern."

Myrtle Street resident Mary Baker lobbied for the commissioners to reduce the density cap by a half acre.

"If we in District 5 don't want growth I don't think you can vote for it," she said.

Commissioner Daryl McLain said the extra bonus unit is considerably better than the current situation where one-acre lots can be developed with no open space, wells and septic tanks.

"This has been a long, long process, but it is one that is going to provide open spaces so they can enjoy the quality of life," he said.

Anne Esterson, whose family has owned 140 acres of farmland on Myrtle Street for more than 60 years, said she has been trying to develop some of her land for two years.

"I think it can be done, but we're not pleased with the 50 percent," she said. "We think it should be 40 percent."

"It's hard to be the basis for an experiment, but if we are going to be an experiment give us the density of (40 percent) so this experiment can be a success and not a failure," she added.

Other Myrtle Street residents praised the county for its plan, including Robert Jasmine who said it could be "a blueprint for a wonderful thing for Seminole County."

After state review, the county is expected to finally adopt the plan at its June 8 meeting. At that time, details of how the process of developing in the "conservation village," proper open spaces uses and restoration and maintenance of the open spaces will be better defined.

County staff suggested if the plan was successful it has the potential to be applied to other places in Seminole.

In other business, commissioners upheld a board of adjustments decision to deny a special exception for a 150-foot-tall Cingular Wireless cell tower on property owned by Markham Woods Presbyterian Church, near the intersection of Markham Woods and Carter roads.

Interstate

Commissioners approved to transmit two International Parkway property rezonings to the state for review.

Two adjoining properties, 24 acres located at the southwest corner of International Parkway and Wayside Drive and 10 acres located at the northwest corner of International Parkway and Wilson Road, is proposed as the Savannah Park development. The larger parcel will include 48,000 square feet of retail space, 24,000 square feet of office space and a maximum of 186 condominiums.

The smaller parcel will include townhouses of no more than eight units per acre.

The eastbound lanes however, in this same area, between Dirksen Drive and Lake Mary Boulevard, could not be opened completely until May. Bridge work at Padgett Creek, Dirksen Drive and the Enterprise Road overpass will present opening of all lanes (east-bound) all the way to Saxon Boulevard before the summer completion time of the project.

The FDOT however, did not have what may be considered good news for motorists in the Orange and Osceola county areas. U.S. 441 from the Osceola Parkway and Taft-Vimeland Road in Orange County, (5.8 miles) is to be widened from four to six lanes. Likewise, State Road 520 from the Orange/Brevard county line to CR-532 in Orange County is being widened from two to four lanes. Homan said these will get underway on March 8, and motorists can expect lane closures and construction delays in those areas for a considerable length of time.

Work is also expected to begin on March 15 for improvements to the I-4 John Young Parkway interchange in Orange County.

Haiti up Close

A few facts to familiarize readers with the 'conflict' closer to home

While I normally dedicate these columns to historical events or local situations, the recent problem in Haiti has prompted these comments and statistics.

As everyone knows, there is a major rebellion going on in Haiti. The rebels, for the lack of a better term, now control half of that nation and the way they are operating indicates they may eventually have control over the entire nation, which is the western third of the island of Hispaniola, between the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea. At the present time, it is not known if the United States will get into the fracas, or why it should. We have already sent 50 U.S. Marines to Haiti, (at the time of this writing), but they are to protect our consulate. By publication time — who knows how many may be there.

Nick Pfeifauf

Although we have many people from Haiti living here in Central Florida, most of us know little about that nation, and perhaps a little information might be helpful. The statistics that follow have been taken from the 2004 Encyclopedia Britannica Almanac, so these are not my figures and I couldn't be certain they are all correct.

According to the encyclopedia, Haiti has a population of slightly over seven million people, crammed together at 660.5 persons per square mile, (compared to 296 per square mile for the state of Florida). In land area, it is one-fifth the size of Florida.

The rebel attacks have apparently been relatively easy, as the Haitian Army was disbanded in 1995, and the only law enforcement for that nation of over seven million was 5,300 persons in 2001, a figure which has diminished to only several hundred in 2004.

The life expectancy as of the year 2000 was 47.5 years for men, 51.1 years for females.

The percentage of persons age 25 and over with no formal education is listed at 59.5 percent.

In recent years, with the resulting insurrection going on now, life in Haiti has continued to weaken. The almanac says the country is lingering near the bottom of the United Nation's annual survey of living conditions. At least 23 percent of the children, ages 5 and under, suffer from malnutrition and roughly one out of 12 people have HIV/AIDS.

As for the economy, the nation exports machinery, transportation equipment and petroleum, but importing products from other nations is three times the cost. How does this poor country pay for it? The only profitable undertaking is drug smuggling — Haiti being considered a stopping-off place for drugs coming to the United States from Columbia, as well as those being raised or created in that country itself, and controlled by powerful drug czars.

Individual lifestyle is not good. The average per family income, (in U.S. dollars) is equivalent of $309 per year.

Reports tell us that these attacks by "rebels" are aimed at overthrowing the government, of President Jean-Bertrand Aristide and putting a new government into place, which will improve the economy, provide better incomes, help in health care, and, among other things, help provide more food for the majority of folks who are said to be starving.

In consideration of that, the rebels wiped out the food storage unit of the United Nations. How is this supposed to help, other than provide food for a few, over a brief period of time.

To form a government that will do all of these improvements, it is going to take money, which Haiti doesn't have (except for the drug trade). As I see it, it's a lose-lose situation.

The questions are many. Will the United Nations discuss the problem and decide to send in troops to quell this uprising? If so, they will still have President Aristide, who apparently hasn't been able to do anything to improve the nation. If the U.N. decides to send in troops, from where will they come? No doubt, the United States will be asked, and if our government agrees, here we go again, into another civil war in a foreign country, where we will no doubt have casualties and heavy costs to our nation's coffers.

The Iraq situation aside for a moment, the Haitian insurrection looms as our next big problem in this world of ours. Again, our nation will be split over whether or not we should even get involved.

Haiti is relatively close to U.S. territory, especially Florida. No, I don't expect this uprising will have an effect on us, but it will possibly involve our military forces, and as such, will be a problem worth consideration by all of us. As I will, I urge you to keep a close watch on this situation.

Carpenter thinks its time for a new police station

To the editor:

Is it time for a new police building in the City of Sanford? I think so! We have been talking of the need for a long time. The city is experiencing a period of phenomenal growth, with public safety growing accordingly and appropriately, transforming from a department with real problems, to one with a broad force of skilled and well-trained officers, motivated and enthusiastic about doing their job of "serving and protecting."

Along with our country's movement to a society of high-tech lifestyle, has come the need to deal with high-tech crime. By correctly anticipating the need for these changes, Chief (Brian) Tooley (with the firm support of city leaders) have transformed the Sanford Police Department into one of the best in Central Florida.

My concern is that we, the city of Sanford, may get caught behind the curve on this one. Putting sub-stations in various locations was a smart move that relieves some pressure of working out of a building, one-third the size needed, and this practice should continue even after a new building. This move has treated some of the symptoms but not cured the problem.

Low interest rates is one reason a new building can help pay for itself. There are many more reasons, such as, the increase in efficiency, the ability to respond quickly and professionally, an environment better suited to keeping and using the high-tech equipment that is increasingly required, more and better suited storage space, higher morale thus less turnover of personnel, improved ability to co-ordinate with other agencies, and of course, it is better for all of us when more time is spent on preventing crime than responding to it.

Lawlessness — this building would be for us, our city, our homes and families, and our infrastructure. Let's take care of us for a change and support quick movement on a new Public Safety Building.

Armstrong thanks Sanford police for resolving matter

To the editor:

Dear Chief Tooley, Yesterday, Jan. 27, there was a domestic disturbance at a house at 1807 Vernango which I own. Your officers responded to a call from one of the tenants. Two police cars responded.

The officers, Patrolman Hilton and Francis did an excellent job in controlling the situation and causing the matter to be resolved in a peaceful manner. I wish to commend these fine young men for their handling of the parties involved.

We have had reason to call on your officers in the past for prowlers and the like in the area, and have found your department applying the sentiment of your mission statement to the letter. Thank you.

Sanford

A personal history of war and peace

By L. Millard Hunt
Special to the Herald

The recent obsessive focus on all things military — in the daily news, in movies, on television, in historical commemorations — leads me to reflect on my own experiences, beginning in Sanford.

My days at Seminole High (1940-44) included such "patriotic" actions as attempts to enlist in two different military programs, and reference in my valedictory address to "our great national leader" (FDR). Failing to pass the physicals, including the one for the draft, I enrolled at Georgia Tech. Later, on V-J Day itself, a Notice to Report arrived in the mail, and I was sworn into the Army at Camp Blanding, the day before my 19th birthday.

Whatever contradictions I felt while growing up, between war making and my Baptist training, were buried in my subconscious. But time on the firing range during Basic, thinking of what slugs from the Thompson submachine gun could do to a fellow human being, led me to decide that I would never participate in combat.

I was never confronted with that reality, but the seed had been planted. Later while I was a student at Mercer University, a great public controversy arose over passage of the Selective Service Act of 1948, the first peacetime draft in U.S. history.

One hundred Christian ministers issued a statement advocating that young men refuse to register for that draft. To my surprise, I found that one of those ministers was Dr. Clarence Jordan, Southern Baptist theologian, Greek scholar, and founder of a pacifist interracial farm community practicing "New Testament economics" in South Georgia.

After much debate with other students and teachers, a friend and I rejected the positions of non-combatant or conscientious objector, and chose complete non-cooperation with the draft. This, even though I was exempt from call-up on three different counts. I delivered a letter to the local draft board in Macon, stating my refusal to register, and then a copy to the local newspaper. Things happened.

The first was that the President of my Baptist school sent word barring me from school, and I was told not to come on campus again. Eventually, I was arrested and convicted in federal court of "Failure to register."

Interestingly, the pastor of the Baptist church I attended on campus disparaged my position in his testimony. But, I learned later, the Board of Deacons of Sanford First Baptist Church attempted to intercede on my behalf with the judge, assuring that I was "sincere in my beliefs."

What has happened since completing my sentence at a Federal Correctional Institution in Florida? Events around the world have not led me to question my pacifist commitment of 55 years ago.

Some remarkable examples of accomplishments by means of nonviolence have occurred, not the least of which is our own civil rights movement. I've learned some interesting things. My first major paper at Earlham College, at the suggestion of the Quaker professor, was on "The Early Baptist Origins of Quakerism." How far has the church strayed from its roots.

I've participated in peace and civil rights demonstrations over the years, most recently in Orlando, if you can believe it.

Financial support of peace organizations, including the Baptist Peace Fellowship of North America, and "socially responsible" investing have been part of my commitment. Another investment was becoming a patron of (helping finance) a video, "The Good War and Those Who Refused to Fight," shown nationally on PBS, through not in Central Florida as far as I know.

There is a particular irony for me in that, since returning to Sanford eight years ago, I've been a sponsor and then chairman of the group seeking to "Save Fort Mellon Park," named for a U.S. Army officer killed in combat here.

The current war in Iraq is an interesting case against which to test alternative ideas. It has been a practical pleasure for me to read the remarkable letters of Staff Sgt. Charles C. Carlson III, as published for months in The Sanford Herald.

He is giving us up-close documentation of the contradictions, political motivations, the cruelty, the lies, the lacerations of the soul that are part of all wars. The raw realities come through in a way that we do not get from he Pentagon or from in-bed (embedded) journalists.

One of the more striking aspect of Charles' series is found in the editor's note with the first installment.

"While it may seem ironic to many this (Carlson) family views its military service strictly as a profession, and as combat veterans, they are ardent anti-war advocates and peace activists who view war as a failure of civilized mankind."

I look forward to exploring this seeming contradiction with Charles-3.

Let's I come off as seeming to claim to be unique in Sanford, I hasten to point out that some months ago I discovered another draft resister ex-con lives right across the street from me. May our tribe increase.

It's time to shore up safety net for unemployed

Dissembling on the campaign trail is always easy. So, for the two viable Democratic presidential candidates, it must be tempting to distort, to disguise, to demagogue — to look into the faces of desperate, jobless workers and pledge to fix everything: to bring back the good-paying jobs at American auto plants, to restore textile jobs by stopping Wal-Mart from importing bras from China, to penalize American credit-card companies that send their call centers to India. After all, the best chance for defeating President Bush is to promise to restore the 2.3 million jobs that vanished under his watch.

But any easy answer would surely be a lie. Most of those jobs are never coming back, no matter who is elected president.

To their credit, John Kerry and his rival, John Edwards, have backed away from easy answers. Edwards still rails against Kerry's support for NAFTA, but he admits that "NAFTA should exist." Kerry pledges to tinker with NAFTA, but he has told the United Auto Workers that manufacturing jobs will continue to flee the country.

(The president, meanwhile, is sticking to his story: His tax cuts have already brought about economic recovery, and for even more recovery, he's pledging to make those tax cuts permanent. It ought to be clear by now that the nation cannot withstand more of Bush's economic recovery program.)

Jobless Americans are the victims of tectonic shifts brought on by globalization, every bit as dramatic and unsettling as the shift from an agricultural economy to an industrial one 150 or so years ago. Facing such forces, the federal government cannot save the job of every American worker. But it can help save both his dignity and his ability to earn a living.

The Bush team, a cavalier bunch of wealthy and well-connected folk who have little experience with job loss, haven't done much to shore up the social safety net for unemployed workers. Since the Reagan era, the GOP's response to economic misfortune has been, "It's your own fault." Moreover, Bush's tax cuts and increased spending — which created a gargantuan deficit — have limited his ability to help the unemployed. Perhaps that's why he's busy trying to distract voters with the bogeyman of gay marriage.

Cynthia Tucker

By contrast, Kerry and Edwards propose rolling back tax cuts for the wealthy to pay for more job training, an expanded health-care program for the less affluent and incentives to American companies for job creation. Kerry, for example, proposes pouring federal dollars into research on alternative fuels, which, he says, would decrease dependence on foreign oil reserves and create jobs in a budding industry.

The most rational proposals don't overpromise. Some middle-aged workers, for example, will probably have to accept easing gently into retirement with a lesser paycheck. A 50-year-old who loses her job at a cigarette plant may not be interested in job retraining, especially if the new job would require relocating to a distant city. But she may settle for part-time work or running a small business from her home. Federal policy ought to insure that she has health-care coverage until she qualifies for Medicare.

Younger jobless workers, however, should be encouraged to seek job retraining, even if they are college-educated. (Outsourcing has left highly educated financial analysts, accountants and software programmers, among others, out of work.) Federal funds could provide not only job training but also extended unemployment benefits and a temporary health-care plan.

Then there's basic education itself. Two decades' worth of education reform proposals — from Washington and from the states — have failed to substantially improve academic achievement for children from poorer households. If all Americans were competent in basic literacy and math skills, retraining them in new industries would be far easier.

Nothing about the new global economy will be easy, and few people know that better than American workers who watch their jobs leave the country without them. Let's tell them something they won't hear from George Bush: Their country can help.

Sheriff's office search for area vandals

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is seeking the person, or persons responsible for some $2,000 damage done to a Wekiva area home, which was discovered this week.
The home is located at 220 W. Cumberland Circle in Longwood. The owner lives out of state.
Earlier this week, the owner's sister, who lives in the local area, discovered the damage.
Several interior walls of the home were spray-painted. It appears the individuals made forced entry into the home.
Some evidence was recovered at the scene that may lead to one of those responsible.

Anyone with information about this crime is asked to call the Seminole County Sheriff's, District Seven Office at 407-862-1554.

HORSE PLAY

The Howells have a special bond with their horse Sailor.

Former Sanford commissioner; wife caught 'horsing around' in competitions

By Cristina Llorens
Herald Intern

SANFORD — Combined driving events, in which couples compete in horse-drawn carriage competitions, have been in the United States for more than 30 years and are growing more popular. Former Sanford City Commissioner Lon Howell and his wife, Laura, compete in these events.

"It's very traditional and formal," said Laura Howell.

The couple has been competing in combined driving events for the past year. Laura, who comes from a riding background, became interested in carriage driving after attending an event in Live Oak, near Ocala.

"I was like, 'I've got to do this,'" Howell said. She began training with Sailor, the couple's 11-year-old Trakehner horse, and started competing in driving events at the training level.

The first day of a combined driving event consists of dressage, a test of the development and skills of both the horse and driver. This formal event has strict grooming and presentation rules for both horse and driver. The presentation guidelines, according to the American Driving Society, are "designed to encourage drivers to achieve a standard."

Day two in the competition consists of a marathon. Howell and her husband, who is the navigator in the marathon event, guide Sailor through gates that are placed throughout the a routine check by a veterinarian and the teams move on to compete in a timed obstacle course. By looking at a map, the navigator determines the fastest way to complete the course.

"That's an important part of the navigator's job," Howell said. "It's difficult to concentrate on all aspects."

The winners of the marathon and obstacle course are determined by the team who acquires the least number of penalty points.

On the final day of a combined driving event, Howell must guide her horse through a set of cones with tennis balls placed on top. The objective is to complete the course as quickly as possible without knocking over any cones.

Currently, Howell said she is training and competing only with Sailor.

"I'd like to do pairs one day," she said.

Howell said a large part of what she and Lon have achieved comes from their relationship with Sailor.

"There's a lot of trust between me and my horse. I think that's why we do so well, because we have that relationship," she said. "It's just fun, I feel free."

The couple has placed second and third in combined driving events, and plan to move up from the training level to compete at the preliminary level.

The Way We Were: Truman, locals enjoy 1948 election wins

The Wednesday, Nov. 3, 1948, edition of The Sanford Herald carried the astounding news that Harry S. Truman had been elected president of the United States. All opinion polls had predicted a safe margin for his opponent, Thomas E. Dewey.

Grace Mario Stinecpher

The headline across the page screamed "Truman Scores Historic Upset." A smaller headline underneath stated

"Democratic Party wins Amazing Victory, Confounding Opposers; Republican Congress is Retired."

Associated Press returns at 2 p.m. EST, Wednesday, with the precinct count four-fifths complete, showed Truman leading in 28 states including Florida, having a total of 304 electoral votes. Dewey led in 16 states and Strom Thurmond, States Rights Candidate, was in front in four states (Alabama, South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana). Dewey had conceded at 11:15 a.m.

Truman wins in Seminole in close race

Seminole County citizens gave President Truman a plurality of its votes, joining the Democratic procession.

The vote was Truman, 2,197, Thurmond, 1,027, Dewey, 1,693 and Wallace, 21. In Sanford, the vote was Truman, 1,321, Thurmond, 743, Dewey, 893 and Wallace, 4.

(I recall listening to the Democratic Convention on the radio the previous summer as the delegates balloted several times. When Truman finally won, Thurmond and his delegates walked out, forming their own States Rights party, which I believe was called "Dixiecrats." All of this was very exciting to this 12 year old. In the general election, my parents split their vote and I heard a Sanford citizen say the other day that he had voted for Thurmond.)

State races decided

Seminole County selected A.S. (Sid) Herlong to represent them in congress over his opponent, M.J. Moss, Jr.

Fuller Warren, Jacksonville attorney, was named governor of Florida by an overwhelming majority over Bert Acker, Miami Republican.

Seminole County voted against all 10 of the proposed constitutional amendments, but all were passed by the state except the gas tax amendment.

2 named members of the City Commission

Fred R. Dyson, former county commissioner and contractor, was elected the previous day as city commissioner in Group 1, and W.H. Stemper, grocer, was elected in Group 2.

With 427 votes, Dyson edged out his nearest opponent, Roy Holler, who had 390. Henry Witte placed third with 293. B.F. Ganas was fourth with 212, and Henry McLaulin trailed with 76.

In Group 2, Stemper received 658 votes, J.E. Rowland 474 and O.E. White had 250.

Dyson, who lived with his family at 201 W. 17th St., had come to Sanford in 1926 from North Carolina and had been engaged in paving and construction work here. From 1936 to 1944, he had served as a

Rural digitized: Geneva news via e-mail and Web

As was determined last year, Geneva is a "village," but by no means does this fact leave the residents behind when it comes to being computer savvy. On the contrary, when you live this far out, you stay connected any way you can.

Thus began the Geneva E-mail News, as well as a Web site devoted to the rural community. This week's column features what you'll find when exploring both sources with the hopes that readers will remember that when the power goes out or the computer virus strikes the paper is still a good read and your best source of information.

The most recent "edition" on the Geneva E-mail News offers many event listings including:

- Feb. 29 — Family Line Dancing, 2 to 4 p.m. at the Geneva Community Center. Exercise and fun for all. Sundays except the second. Fee is $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under.
- March 3 — The Geneva Methodist Church community dinner, Wednesdays from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Take-out available. Fee is $2 children, $3 seniors and $4 adults. All you can eat.

- March 7 — The Museum of Geneva History is open from 2 to 4 p.m. Admission is free.
- March 11 — Relay For Life Geneva 2004 Team Captain meetings on Thursday, March 11, Wednesday, March 24, and Thursday, April 8. All meetings are at 6 p.m. at Geneva Elementary School. Goal is to have 38 teams of 10 to 15 people at Geneva's First Relay For Life April 16-17. For more information, call Dorothy Hardee at 407-349-3797, dhardee@earthlink.net, or Nicole Zvosec at 407-843-8680 ext. 525, Nicole.Zvosec@cancer.org.

- March 20 — The Geneva Jam at the Geneva Community Center, every third Saturday of the month. Free admission. Purchase dinner for a modest cost. Come listen or join the jam. Dinner served from 6 to 7 p.m. and the music plays until about 10 p.m.

- March 26 — The Geneva Evergreens meet the last Friday of the month at 11:30 a.m. in the First Baptist Church of Geneva fellowship hall. Seniors, 55 or older, are welcome. Each month they have fellowship, a potluck lunch and a special program or field trip of interest to the group.
- April 23 — Steamboat Days of Geneva are back with a second narrated presentation. More than 100 slides and a rare 1883 Nautical Map will be featured. Program begins at the Geneva Community Center at 7 p.m. Presented free by the Geneva Historical & Genealogical Society.

Ongoing organization meeting and activities listed include:

- Boy Scout Troop 837 meets Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Geneva. For more information, call Ed Bennett at 407-349-5621.
- Christian Skate Night is every first Monday of the month. For $5 a ride is provided from Community Church of God on State Road 46 to the Deltona Skating Rink, rink admission and skate rental. Leave the church at 5:30 p.m. and return at 9 p.m.. For more information, call 407-349-2955 or 407-349-9058.

- Beautiful Fort Lane Park off Jungle Road on Lake Harney is owned and operated by the Geneva Historical Society and is open to all. There is a self-guided hike on site, and the pavilion can be reserved for group activities, reunions, etc. For more information, call 407-349-9639.
- The Geneva Artisans group is open to anyone who possesses an artistic talent of any type: painting, wood carving, quilting, sculpting, blacksmithing, ceramics, etc. The group meets at 7 p.m. every third Monday of the month at the Geneva Community Center. For more information, call Bob Hughes at 407-349-5001.

Fla. A&M alumni host banquet

Seminole County Chapter of Florida A&M University Alumni's annual scholarship banquet will be Saturday, March 13, at 6 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center.

This fund raiser will provide scholarships for students to attend FAMU.

Guest speaker will be William McCray, a graduate of FAMU, where he earned a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton. Having served in several administrative positions in high schools, community colleges and volunteer services.

McCray presently is interim director of the office of recruitment and scholarships.

Daryl Mobley and FAMU Alumni of Seminole County invites the community to support this event and purchase a ticket for scholarships, which will enable students to attend FAMU. For tickets or more information, call 407-323-6366.

Happy February birthdays

Locals recognized during Black History Month

The observance of Black History Month was celebrated with pioneer honors given to Sanford natives who have made contributions to the community in which they have served for many years. Those being honored were the following:

- Historian Altermese Smith Bentley, retired educator, community activist, author, religious leader, known for her leadership and travel experiences throughout the country. Bentley recently celebrated her 93rd birthday. She is an ardent member of St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church in Sanford. She is the mother of one and has three grandchildren.
- Pauline Brown was honored for her dedicated service to the Sanford community where she was an active member as a Pink Lady at the Seminole Memorial Hospital for more than 15 years, also a Sunday school teacher, choir member and deaconess at the St. Matthew Missionary Baptist Church.

• Maebelle Glover, 92, was honored for her service to the Markham community and as the owner and operator of a citrus grove business. She is an active faithful first lady of Corinth Missionary Baptist Church for 40 years where her late husband, Oliver Glover pastored. They were the parents of 10 children with six children still living.

• Bernice Jackson was honored for her service to the Sanford community where she lived and worked for many years as a domestic worker and community church leader. She is an active member of New Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church for a lifetime. She was an ardent member of the Usher Board and other church auxiliaries.

• Samuel Wright, retired educator for the school system, an active community church leader at the St. James AME church where he served since he was a teen. Wright has that knack for conversation we call him around town "Mr. Remember," having touched many lives of young people of the Sanford community. Wright has children and grandchildren. He presently serves as president of Resident Council of Lake Mary Rehabilitation Center, where seniors are residents. A program was held at the center in honor of these residents.

We must remember that America is woven of many strands. Our fate becomes one and yet many.

The lives of these African-Americans we salute for their service to others as loving, persons, leaders, Christians, educators and community servants.

Black Women's Congress to hold annual conference

Central Florida Chapter of the International Black Women's Congress 12th Annual "Every Black Woman should Wear a Red Dress" conference, "Matters of the Heart, enhancing mind, body and spirit." This organization's mission is to bring forth exemplary models of African Womanhood by defining ourselves and empowering ourselves through sociopolitical and economic empowerment.

This year's conference, March 5 and 6, will be at Holiday Inn on West State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs. Topics of interest are health, self, and family matters for women and the same topics for men. Youth sessions will focus on obesity, body image, self-care, finance, sexuality and abstinence. The conference is designed to present a holistic approach to acquire and apply knowledge that will empower people of color, especially the African American community in key areas of concern.

To pre-register, call 407-331-5665. Tickets for adults are $35, seniors (60 and older) $25 and youth, under age 18 are free. Corine Varn Wilson, president, Region IV, Shelia Jeffers, Conference Coordinator. Checks or money orders. Vendors are $125. Payable to CFCIBWC.

These members of Troop 34 of Boy Scouts of America had probably returned from having collected scrap metal during the early 1940's. Whitey McMillan was able to identify the following. On the ground, left to right, unknown, Leon Swain, Kay Shoemaker, Johnny Alexander, Richard Singletary, unknown, Al McMillan. Everyone can probably recognize Bob Crumley. Behind him is Gene Singletary and to his left is Bill Jennings. The boy on the truck in the white shirt is George Crapman. If you can identify any of the others, contact Grace Marie Stineciper at 407-322-4381.

county commissioner. During World War I, he served in the Navy.

Stemper, a lifelong resident of Sanford (born here in 1916), was married to the former Mildred Wells and had two children, Martha and Bill, Jr. The family lived at 1920 Locust Ave. He graduated from Stetson University in 1937, served on the faculty of Seminole High School for two years, and had been a chemist with the Florida State Department of Agriculture. He served in the Navy for four years during World War II, and was presently associated with his brother in the grocery business.

Election officials were F.E. Rounmillat, Margaret Barnes, Jay Beck and Mrs. Ralph A. Smith.

(Stemper was my uncle, my mother's brother, so this was probably one reason the paper was kept).

Herald election party attended by 2,000 citizens
More than 2,000 citizens gathered the previous evening in front of The Sanford Herald office on Magnolia Avenue to hear election returns. They also saw results flashed on a screen on the Touchton building as fast as they were received on the teletype from Associated Press. Arthur Beckwith, Jr. served as announcer.

The section of Magnolia Avenue between First and Second streets had been roped off and the city benches had been provided for seating. Many automobiles full of spectators were parked nearby.

Spectators were entertained with motion pictures loaned by S.O. Chase. The projector was loaned by Herman E. Morris. The screen was hung on the Touchton building through the courtesy of Dr. W.V. Bitting of Touchtons. G. Hoover operated the movie projector, and D.C. Howard operated the stereopticon.

The Seminole High

School Band, seated on two large trucks, provided by Chase and Co. played several stirring marches and school songs, under the direction of B.E. Black.

Members of the SHS Glee Club led in group singing with such songs as "The Old Gray Mare," "Let me Call you Sweetheart," and school songs. The group included Stanley Brumley, Betty Rene Ball, Betty Duncan, Ingrid Esterson, Joan Meeer, Floyd Cooper and Kathryn Babcock.

A special musical feature was the Hymn, "If We Never Meet Again this side of Heaven" sung by Mr. and Mrs. Reual Thomas. They were appearing with the Renfro Valley Singers in programs at Central Baptist Church. Mr. Thomas was the originator of the original Renfro Valley Quartet.

Use of the upper porch of the Herald building for projection of pictures and sound effects was provided through the courtesy of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Sanford-based club wins 4-H state championship

A five-member team of high school students from the Sanford Seminole 4-H Club in Sanford won the State LifeSmarts Championship held recently at the Florida State Fair in Tampa.

Florida Agriculture Commissioner Charles H. Bronson congratulated the team and announced that the state winning team and their coach will receive a check for $3,700 from the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services to defray expenses to national competition, scheduled for April 24-27 in Chicago. Seminole County 4-H Extension Agent Shelda Wilkins served as the team's coach. Team members are Josiah Davis, Ricky Hellstrom, Jenna Linduff, Haylee Linduff and Jonathan Estry.

"LifeSmarts is an educational program, and the newly implemented Internet-based competition coupled with the face-to-face game show format provides a fun and challenging way to involved the students," Bronson said. "I encourage students, club members and teachers from across the state to participate in Internet competition when the opportunity becomes available again in September, 2004."

There were a total of 18 teams qualified for the state title. Two of the teams were from Seminole County 4-H while the rest were from far distant areas such as Miami, Marathon, Duval County and other locations.

LifeSmarts is an innovative competition that tests students in five areas of consumer issues: personal financial management, health and safety, the environment, technology and telecommunications, and consumer rights and responsibilities. The program is designed to cause students to think seriously about these important issues through a challenging, game show format.

Prodigious project maker

Sanford Middle School eighth grader Sean Wyma earned praise from his American History teacher, Rick Smith, and school administrators for his recent class projects on Black History Month. Students were assigned projects that included choosing one African American mathematician, author, scientist and another prominent figure to feature in graphical presentations. Sean said history is his favorite class and enjoyed doing the projects, which he spent more than an hour on each. Showing off his favorite project on scientist George Washington Carver, Sean said he aspires to be an artist or car designer. "The thing that really impresses me with Sean is he seems to always rise to the occasion to do better than he did before," Smith said.

Seminole High School teacher honored

From Staff Reports

Jeanne Swaynos has experienced many successes over the course of her 16-year career as a mathematics teacher, but nearly all of those achievements have been celebrated vicariously, through the accomplishments of her students. Now, after being named a state finalist for the 2003

Presidential Awards for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching, the nation's highest commendation of its kind, Swaynos, a teacher at Seminole High School in Sanford, will be given recognition for her own efforts.

"This is a wonderful honor", said Swaynos, who is one of 233 finalists for the prestigious presidential award. Recipients of the awards will be announced next month.

"Innovative, creative, enthusiastic and professional are all terms used to describe Ms. Jeanne Swaynos," said Karen Coleman, principal of Seminole High School, "but she is best described as a one-

CITY OF LONGWOOD LAND PLANNING AGENCY PUBLIC HEARING - DATE CHANGE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN BY THE CITY OF LONGWOOD, FLORIDA, that the Land Planning Agency (LPA) was scheduled to hold a public hearing on Wednesday, February 11, 2004 at 7:00 P.M. This public hearing has been rescheduled for Wednesday, March 10, 2004 at 7:00 P.M. or as soon thereafter as possible, in the Longwood City Commission Chambers, 175 West Warren Avenue, Longwood, Florida, to hear public comment and to review and make recommendations to the City Commission regarding the following:

Amending Ordinance No. 02-1599, the Longwood Land Development Code, by repealing Section 24-27 entitled Downtown Historic and Section 24-96 entitled Historic District Projects of the Land Development Code, and replacing said sections with the Longwood Historic District Development Code pursuant to the requirements of the City of Longwood and the Florida Statutes Book.

At this meeting, interested parties may appear and be heard with respect to the proposed amendment. This hearing may be continued from time to time until final action is taken.

A copy of the proposed Longwood Historic District Development Code is available for review in the Planning Division office between 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. during regular workdays and on the City of Longwood website at www.ci.longwood.fl.us. The office is located at 174 West Church Avenue, Longwood, Florida, or you may call the office at 407-260-3462.

NOTICE: All persons are advised that if they decide to appeal any decision made at the meeting/hearings, they will need a record of the proceedings and for such purposes, they may need to ensure that a verbatim record of the proceedings is made, which record to include the testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is based (per Sec. 286.0105, Florida Statutes). Persons with disabilities needing assistance to participate in any of these meetings should contact the A.D.A. Coordinator at 407-260-3481 at least 48 hours in advance of the meeting.

South Seminole student wins bee

South Seminole Middle School student Curtis Dyal won the 2004 Seminole County District Spelling Bee on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at Millennium Middle School in Sanford. Sixty-two students, representing grades fourth through eighth, from public, private, and home schools, competed in a written elimination test of 50 words. The final field of 23 competitors regrouped in the afternoon for the oral spelling bee. After 15 rounds, the champion and runner up emerged: winner, Curtis Dyal, South Seminole Middle School, and runner-up, Lauren Elias, St. Luke's Lutheran School, will represent Seminole County at the March 23 Regional Spelling Bee. The third place winner was Soy Hee Park of Indian Trails Middle School for the second straight year. Presenting Curtis with the award is (left) Hugh Harris, director of curriculum, and Seminole School Board Vice Chairman Dede Schaffner.

in-a-million teacher that truly is the foundation of any successful school."

"I enjoy being around adolescents," said Swaynos. "They are so optimistic and they see the world very differently than adults see it. That's what drew me to teaching."

Swaynos describes her students as "sponges," and she believes the best way to maximize absorption is to connect math topics to things that are relevant in the lives of her students. In her class, Swaynos plays a lot of simulation games with her students and keeps them engaged through the use of a computer-based geometry program that allows students to make and measure their own angles and shapes.

"I love teaching statistics because it is totally relevant," said Swaynos. "They can see it in their world, see how it's used, apply it every time they pick up a newspaper."

The goal of the presidential awards is to expand and model the definition of excellent science and mathematics teaching. Awardees will receive $10,000 from the National Science Foundation, and take part in a week-long series of professional development activities during recognition events in Washington, D.C. All of the awardees teach grades 7 through 12, but next year, K-6 math and science teachers will be eligible for the award.

Scouts hold annual dinner

Boy Scout Troop 34 held their Second Annual Spaghetti Dinner on Feb. 7. The Scouts decorated the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall with a Valentine's Day theme. The red and white table cloths, balloons and candles created a special mood for the guests that were greeted and served by the Scouts. The guests were even entertained with piano medley by the senior patrol leader. Pictured at the event are (left to right, first row) Tod Gaines, Damon Bultermore, Henry Russell, Matthew Luciano, Sterling Scott, (second row) Teri Scott, Thomas Russell and Rev. Jim Bradshaw. For more information about Boy Scout Troop 34, call Teri Scott at 407-302-4247 or e-mail redtts@aol.com.

SAFE START

A ONE-OF-A-KIND DROWNING PREVENTION PROGRAM THAT GIVES YOUR CHILD THE SKILLS TO SURVIVE.

Protecting your child against drowning is a serious responsibility. Drowning is the number one cause of accidental death for children under four, and 11 children will die today from drowning in the United States alone. Thankfully, there is a program that teaches children water survival techniques. Safe Start teaches your child the skills of floating and swimming to safety, both in swimwear and everyday clothes. Throughout its history, Safe Start has taught survival swim skills to over 100,000 children. Of those, over 740 have saved themselves in a drowning situation.

SAFE START is available through participating YMCA Family Centers in Orange, Seminole and Osceola Counties. For more information, please call (407) 644-3606. Visit our website at www.safestart.cc

LIBERTY TAX SERVICE
Committed To The Community!
 2311 French Avenue, Sanford, FL 32771 • (407) 330-3350

To show our support for the many qualified charitable foundations in the area we have established an exceptional program to honor and provide support for their cause.

Our program is simple yet very effective. The Liberty Tax Office of Sanford will provide "Send A Friend" certificates to participating charities who may then distribute those certificates to their supporters. Every time a customer presents one of these certificates when they have their taxes done in our Sanford office we will contribute $20 to the charitable organization listed on their certificate and give the customer $20 off on the cost of their return.

The customer saves $20, the charitable organization receives $20, and Liberty Tax Service of Sanford is given the opportunity to demonstrate our sincere commitment to the community.

This offer expires April 15th, 2004 and certificates cannot be used with any other coupon, advertisement, or certificate. Only one certificate per customer may be applied. Liberty Tax Marketing Staff: Susan Persaud - Don Hoffman - Greg Fuller

DAR honors local students

Sallie Harrison Chapter, DAR met Feb. 13 at the Garden Club of Sanford. Honorees at the 2 p.m. tea were Seminole County winners in several contests sponsored annually by the National Society, DAR.

Lois Somerville introduced the presentation of awards to student winners. Snider, chairman of the American History Committee, announced that this year's essay contest subject was "The Louisiana Purchase--Thomas Jefferson's Presidential Legacy." County winners were brothers from Indian Trails Middle School. Aubrey Marnym Zaino Chase was sixth grade winner and Adrian Sylvanus Zaino Chase won in eighth grade competition. Each received a certificate and medal.

The chairman also presented a winner's certificate in the

Christopher Columbus Essay contest to Caroline Schneider, a senior at Central Christian Academy. This contest is jointly sponsored by NSDAR and the National Italian Foundation. The topic was "A Day in the Life of Christopher Columbus the Explorer."

Lorraine Buhmann, chairman of the Good Citizens Committee, which sponsors a contest open to seniors in each high school, announced the seven winners: Kathryn Suzanne Beers, Lake Brantley High School; Chauncey Lewayne Ware, Lake Howell High School; Laura Margaret Grady, Lake Mary High School; Ashley Elizabeth Conyers, Lyman High School; Whitney Blair Winchester, Oviedo High School; Marian C. Hillery, Seminole High School; Jenna Renee Nix, Winter Springs

High School.

The essay contest topic was "Our American Heritage and Our Responsibility for Preserving It." Lake Howell's winner was unable to attend because of his scheduled surgery. All others spoke briefly about her involvement in school activities and goals for the future.

Kathryn Beers, Lake Brantley, was named the county winner. Her entry has been forwarded to the state chairman for further competition. She will receive a $100 savings bond. All other winners will receive a $50 bond. Each school winner received a certificate and a pin from the National Society.

Sallie Harrison Chapter also honored Adam Bransfield, Seminole High School, as Outstanding American History Teacher for the County.

until the Customer Resource Center came online in February 2002. Since then, McCracken and the resource center has helped more than 16,000 customers.

She was originally hired to help scan documents for the planning and development department. As the county remodeled its building permit division, room opened up for the customer resource center that acts as a starting point for customers seeking information from planning, building, development review or community resources. It features several computers, a fax machine, numerous planning and development pamphlets, maps, documents and applications and an attendant to help point customers in the right direction.

"When I first joined the county this room was just a mere thought in (county planning and development director) Don Fisher's mind," McCracken said. "His mission is to exceed customer expectations so when he was working in the private sector he knew inside what it was going to take."

A senior planner for Seminole County in 1998, Fisher returned in 2000 as the department director, but during his time in the private sector he started to understand how difficult it was to get information from governments. He made it his goal for Seminole County to buck that trend.

"I think we are well on our way in the U.S. and we're at the top of the list in Florida," he said.

A resident of Deer Run near Casselberry, McCracken said when Fisher selected her to man the resource center she knew it was the perfect fit.

"I feel like I have the best job in Seminole County," she said. "This is so me."

Primarily, her job is to figure out what customers need and what she can do to help accomplish their goal. She says she helps "eliminate the runaround" by teaching customers how to "fish" for the information they need on various county Web sites.

"She embodies the goal of the department," said Craig Shadrix, program manager for the county's community resources division. "because she goes out of her way to make you feel comfortable. She does the little things, and that's something you can't coach or teach."

Lake Mary, was elected in 2000 and serves as the Chair of the Subcommittee on Higher Education. He is also a member of the Finance and Tax, Appropriations, and Business Regulation Committees, along with the Subcommittee on Energy.

Education was at the root of many of the questions asked by the meeting attendees. Meetings held last week by the Seminole County School Board at Lyman High School in Longwood and Lake Howell High School in Winter Park left residents disappointed with the redistricting measures proposed by the school board.

"Local officials must look at what's best for the community as a whole," Constantine said. He said organizing a group of supporters and approaching the school board or the city commission with strength in numbers could help.

Residents also voiced support for a proposed bill that would establish universal pre-kindergarten education in the state.

units around here have redeployed through the Baghdad airport or through Kuwait. Of course, we have no choice in the matter. We're used to getting the royal shaft. It is like they want to put us at risk one more time before we leave.

24 Feb. 2004 We are now training some artillery troops to be military police. We are also in our final phase of getting out of here, but the danger will not be over until we are on the plane going home. We should be excited about leaving, but we stay so busy that we don't have much time to think about it until we go to bed at night.

Our internet access will discontinue in a day or two so consider this the next to the last Iraqi Diary. I will send the final one just before they shut down our internet. My Web page will be the only communications until we are back at Fort Stewart.

"This year we are going to finalize that and we will have universal Pre-K," Constantine said. He added that it is still undetermined how much funding parents will receive to send their children to preschool.

Constantine addressed the issue of funding for Orlando Regional Medical Center's trauma center. The center was in jeopardy of being shut down, when officials in Osceola, Orange, and Sumter counties voted to help the hospital with the needed funds. However, a task force created last year to find ways to keep the trauma center operating is pushing for the state to try and keep the center's doors open.

"The one thing that is at the top of everyone's list is to solve the trauma center problems," Constantine said. "There are a number of different things that we are looking at."

In the aftermath of the 2000 presidential election fiasco, many who attended the meeting expressed security and privacy concerns over the new system that will be in place for voters to cast their ballots in this year's election. Mealor said the state will be using touch-screen systems to vote in November.

"It is going to be received very favorably by those who vote," Mealor said. "We have the best technology we can find and we have the best security we can find to protect every individual."

Both legislators announced their agendas for the upcoming session, which begins March 2. Constantine said he plans to focus on having more effective relationships between cities and counties and the services that each provides. Constantine also said that as a member of the Select Committee on Constitutional Amendment Reform, he plans to re-evaluate how amendments are introduced on the ballot.

"Quality of life issues are the most important thing," Constantine said.

Mealor said he will focus on economic development in Florida, along with job availability. He will also focus on improving relations between the Department of Children and Families and the state education system, including sponsoring a bill that would create provisions for the education of abused, neglected and abandoned children. The bill would also require an education component in department training programs.

"It's not efficient and there's a better way to use taxpayer dollars," Mealor said.

Irene Stevens of Oviedo said the Constantine and Mealor "did a very good job addressing people's concerns."

"They were very receptive," she said.

Stevens said her greatest concerns were those of growth and congestion. "Our transportation system is very overloaded and our schools are becoming overcrowded," she said.

Constantine said he was pleased with the results of the meeting.

"I enjoy it," he said. "That's what this is all about. We're here to listen as much as we are to address."

SPEEDWORLD SETS OPEN PRACTICE

Drivers in need of a "tuning session" or just wanting to brush up on their driving skills will be able to do just that this weekend at Orlando Speedworld.

Open practice is scheduled for today (Saturday, February 28th). Time is from noon-to-5 p.m. each day and all types of race cars are welcome to practice.

Admission is $20 per car with three people per car getting into the pits for that $20 fee. "We're coming out of the gates with a vengeance and not looking back starting in March, so we want everyone to have a good chance to be prepared for the opening of the season," says Track GM Dick Westfall.

Orlando Speedworld is located on State Road 50 in Bithlo, 17 miles east of Orlando at the 520 Cocoa Cutoff.

Orlando Speedworld opens the 2004 season on Saturday night, March 6th with the Re/MAX Realty Legends cars, Bandereros, Hurricane Four Cylinders, Modified Lites and Thunder Roadsters on the card.

Friday night FASCAR stock car racing goes to post on March 12th.

For more information on any local FASCAR action, call the FASCAR offices at 407-568-1367 (Orlando) or 386-427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the new Internet site at WWW.NEWS-MYRNASPEEDWAY.ORG.

IRISH OPEN

Mayfair Country Club in Sanford is hosting its famous 9th Annual Irish Open on Sunday, March 14th.

The four man scramble will begin with a shotgun start at noon and the cost is $40 per person for members and $55 per person for non-members, which includes green fees, cart fees, dinner and prizes.

There will be a traditional Irish dinner and trophy ceremony at 5 p.m. and dinner guests are welcome at $15 per person.

The course will also be available for a practice round on Saturday, March 13th, at an additional fee.

Please call 407-322-2531, extension 3, to sign up or for further information.

GLIDERS LOOKING FOR RUNNERS

The Central Florida Gliders Track Club is looking for athletes that want to participate in track and field this spring.

The Gliders are a 14-year old, non-profit youth running club based in Altamonte Springs servicing youth ages, 8-to-18, throughout Central Florida. The club competes in local, state and national competition and has produced many athletes of national caliber and has won several national championships in both track & field and cross-country.

The Gliders will begin its 2004 track season in March. The registration meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday, March 4th at Sanlando Park. Practices are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the Altamonte area at Sanlando Park and the See Briefs, Page 18A

Schedule set for college baseball at Stadium

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

SANFORD — The excitement of college baseball is back in town. Starting tomorrow (Monday) and running through Thursday, March 11th, Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium will be hosting two tournaments, the Florida College Jamboree and the University Athletic Teams from 11 states to play over next 11 days

Association (UAA) Championship Baseball Tournament, featuring college teams from 11 different states, Georgia, Ohio, Missouri, Tennessee, South Carolina, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, West Virginia, New York and Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia.

There has been one disappointing development, however, as Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach will not be making an appearance here as previously announced. The Eagles' scheduled doubleheader as part of the Jamboree has been moved to ERAU's home field in Daytona.

Boys teams advance

Four of six teams still alive

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

The first round of the 2004 FHSAA Boys Basketball Regional Tournament proved to be a good one for Seminole County teams.

Four of the six teams left in boys' play came through with wins and will be playing in the regional semifinals on Tuesday.

The biggest surprise of the evening came in Class 5A-Region 1 as Lyman (12-17) went on the road and upset Class 5A-District 4 champion Eau Gallie (22-5), 50-46.

The trio that has been leading the Greyhounds' late-season resurgence, Erik Nix, Mark Robinson and Sanchez Hughley, were the main contributors again with Nix scoring a game-high 21 points and Robinson and Hughley chipping in with 10 points each. Robinson also pulled down 15 rebounds, while Nix grabbed five caroms.

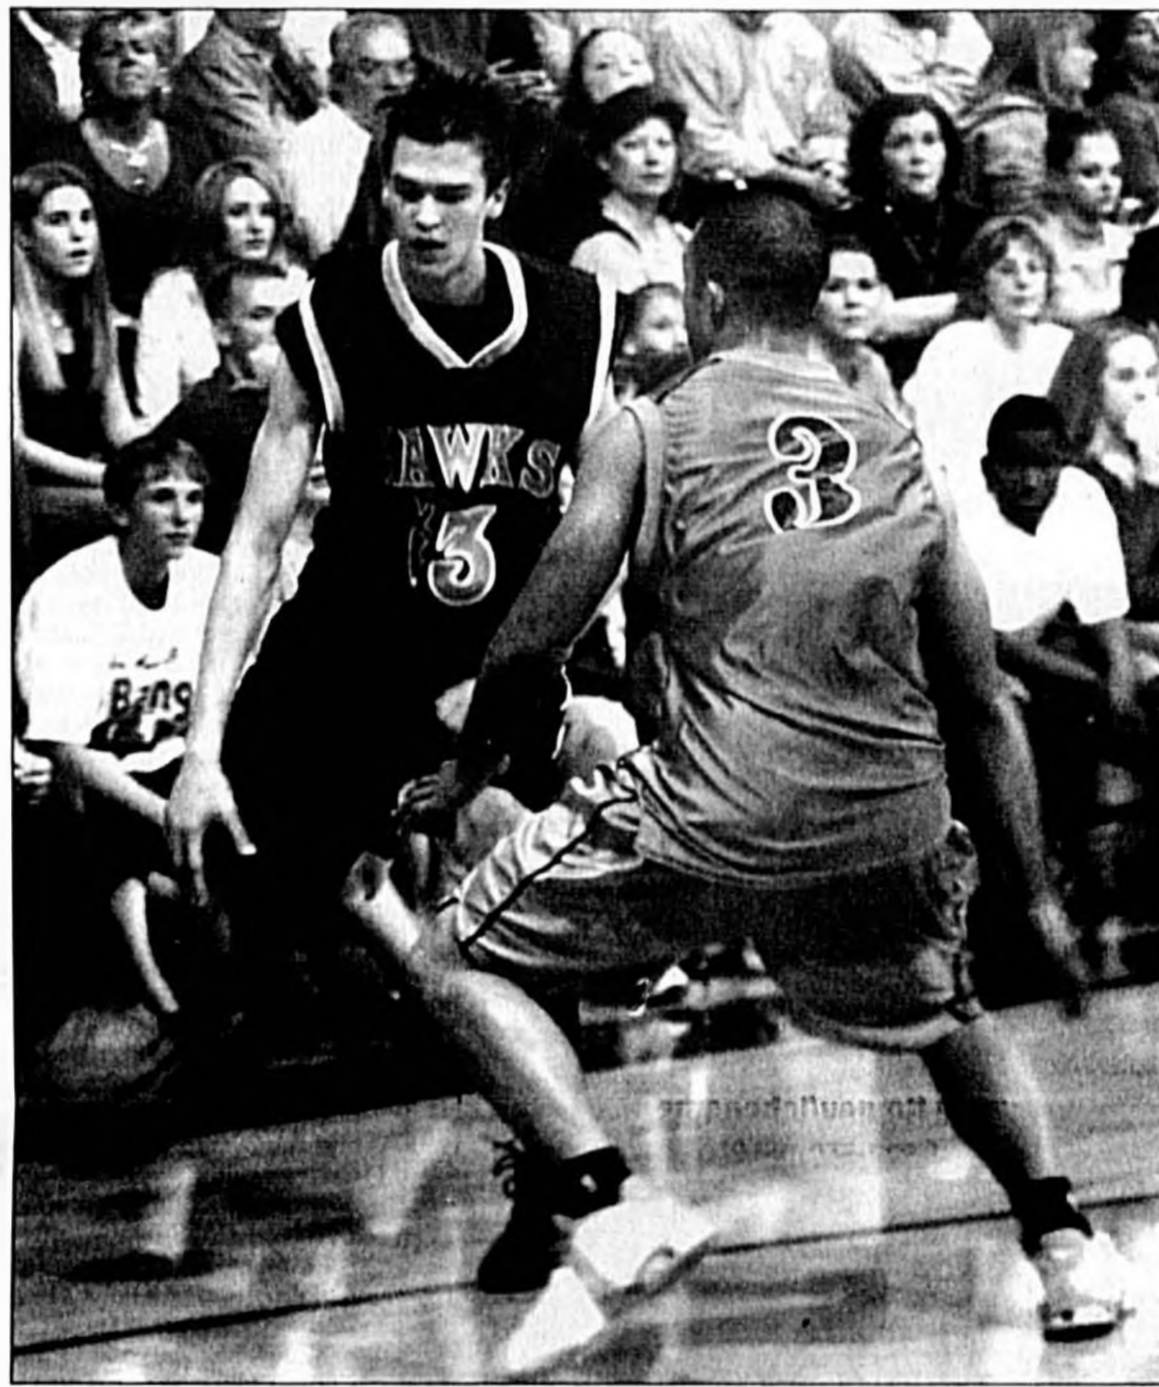

Lyman will travel to Jacksonville to take on Wolfson (17-10), which outscored Ft. Walton Beach (21-6), 76-69.

The Greyhounds will be joined in the 5A semifinals by Lake Howell, which improved to 24-4 with a 71-52 thrashing of Palm Bay-Bayside (11-17) at home.

Senior forward Pat Calathes, who has signed with undefeated and No. 2 nationally-ranked St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, had another big all-around game with 24 points, 12 rebounds and three blocked shots for the Silver Hawks.

Freshman point guard Nick Calathes, the youngest of the three Calathes brothers on the Lake Howell roster chipped in with 14 points, while fellow freshman Jon Roberson also played a masterful game.

This is the third consecutive year that the Silver See Boys, Page 18A

 Seniors Pat Calathes (with ball above) and Lyndon Merthie (left) had the two biggest games among all local boys basketball players in the regional quarterfinals Thursday night. Lake Howell's Calathes had another big all-around game with 24 points, 12 rebounds and three blocked shots and Lake Mary's Merthie scored half of his team's points, 26, including hitting five three-pointers and scoring 20 points in the first half, but, unfortunately for Merthie, his effort came in a 58-52 loss against Evans, while Calathes got much more help from his Silver Hawks teammates as they rolled into Tuesday's semifinals with a big, 71-52, win over Bayside. Lyman, Trinity Prep and Orangewood Christian also won and will be playing in the regional semifinals on Tuesday starting at 7 p.m.

Patriots blanked in semis

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

Everything seemed to be against the Lake Brantley boys soccer team Thursday afternoon at Lockhart Stadium in Ft. Lauderdale. The wind, the sun, the fans and, ultimately, the final score.

Second-year school Cypress Bay from near-by Weston took advantage of the elements and the experience and size of Luis Campo to shutout the Patriots, 4-0, in the semifinals of the 2004 FHSAA Class 6A Boys Soccer Championship.

With the wind at their backs, the Patriots used long kicks to initiate their offense and put pressure on the Lightning's goalie in the first half. The locals' best chance to score came on a blast by senior Gordon Stasak from 15-yards out, but the Lightning goalie made a sliding kick save.

But with the wind and sun in its face in the second half Lake Brantley (20-5-3) could do very little on offense and Cypress Bay took advantage. The wind knocked down the long kicks by the Patriots and the setting sun played havoc with trying to see on defense.

The huge crowd that turned out to back the Lightning also had a troublesome effect.

For 53 minutes the game was scoreless, but the complexion of the game changed in a little over two minutes.

Cypress Bay star Campo, a 6-foot-2 senior forward who is playing in his fourth consecutive state tournament, took a pass from Remy Salazar in front of the next and put the Lightning ahead to stay at the 54-minute mark with his 43rd goal of the season.

Two minutes later, Cypress Bay (22-3-3) put the game away when Salazar took the ball away as Lake Brantley pushed forward trying to tie the game and hit Felipe Castrillon in the open field and he did the rest, putting the Lightning up 2-0.

Cypress Bay's Luis Delgado scored the final two goals at the very end, one in the 75th minute and one in the 80th minute (stoppage time), after Patriots coach Danny Kirby had more or less thrown in the towel, putting in his seniors to finish the game.

Campo, who will be playing in his fourth state championship game after playing for runner-up American Heritage in 2001 and 2002 and leading Taravella to state title last year, assisted on one of Delgado's scores, giving him 40 assists.

The Lightning outshot Lake Brantley, 18-5, and had eight corner kicks to two for the Patriots.

Cypress Bay played No. 1 nationally-ranked Miami Sunset (29-1-0) for the title.

 Senior point guard Irimar Hernandez (No. 4) only scored seven points, but her two free throws in the final eight seconds gave Oviedo a 49-48 victory over Boone Tuesday night.

Oviedo girls pull one out

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

When it comes to basketball, offense since to get most, if not all, of the ink.

But the outcome of a game often comes down to the little things - rebounding, defense and free throw shooting.

And that's just what happened at Oviedo on Tuesday as the host Lions used a strong defense and outstanding free throw shooting to overcome the Boone Braves, 49-48, in a Class 6A-Region 1 Girls Semifinal.

The hosts trailed for much of the game and were behind by eight, 40-32, with seven minutes to go in the game.

That's when No. 2 ranked Oviedo (25-3) went to a smothering defense and forced five turnovers on six possessions and outscored Boone, 11-2, over a five minute period to take just its second lead of the game, 43-42, on a pair of free throws by Alex Wood with 2:34 left.

The team's traded the lead the rest of the game with the Braves taking their final lead, 48-47, on a Jade Williams basket with eight seconds left.

That's when confidence and experience gained from starting and playing under pressure for four years came to the front for the Lions as senior point guard Irimar Hernandez was fouled with four seconds left and calmly sank both free throws.

The game remained in the balance, however, as Williams got loose for a layup attempt at the horn that rolled around the rim before falling off and starting a monster celebration by the home fans.

Free throw shooting, which seems to have become a lost art when it comes to the NBA and most boys games, was the difference in this one as Oviedo converted 15-of-17 charity tosses to only seven-of-12 for Boone (22-5).

Sis LoSauro scored a game-high 15 points for the Lions, while Whitney Tossie and Kate Koestner were also in See girls, Page 19A

UCF men beat Gardner-Webb, host Dupre and Campbell today

Special to the Herald

Led by a career high 28 points from Dexter Lyons, UCF (21-5, 16-3) notched its 21st win of the season turning back a very determined Gardner-Webb (8-20, 5-14) squad, 87-79, in overtime at UCF Arena Thursday evening. With the win, the Golden Knights have now posted back-to-back 21 win seasons with one game remaining.

Lyons gave UCF a four-point lead, 83-79, with just over a minute to play in the extra session after sinking a pair of free throws and then helped seal the win after recording two steals on the Bulldogs next two possessions. Lyons capped off the first steal with a thunderous dunk to put the Golden Knights up by six and then just 19 seconds later swiped the ball again and found Josh Peppers streaking to the basket, who then closed out the scoring with a two-handed dunk for the final margin of victory.

Josh Bodden opened the scoring in overtime converting a traditional three-point play, but GWU answered right back with a three from Andre Wiggins to draw to within two at 74-72. Lyons scored the next five points for UCF to give the Knights a five-point cushion with two minutes elapsed in overtime. Following a free throw by Wiggins, Bret Noonan hit the Bulldogs second triple of the extra period to cut the deficit to one at 79-78. Bodden added a jumper for the Knights, before a foul on Noonan sent Lyons to the line to set up the games final sequence.

Brian Bender made his only two free throws of the game with just 25 seconds remaining in regulation to knot the game at 69 and force the overtime period. UCF could not grab a lead of more than six points in a tightly contested second half and with just over eight minutes remaining found itself tied at 59 following a three from Andre Manning. Rob Ross broke the tie after canning a triple for his only points of the game.

The Bulldogs scored the next four points and after a short jumper by Simon Conn had grabbed their only lead of the second half and the first since the final two minutes of the first half.

Kingsley Edwards, who made his second start of the season, finished with a season high 15 points while Bodden added 19. Roberto Morentin who grabbed 11 boards led UCF, which outrebounded the Bulldogs 34-26. Morentin also finished with a team high seven assists.

The Golden Knights will close out the regular season at home today (Saturday) with Senior Day against Campbell and Sanford's own Robby Dupre at UCF Arena. Tip off is at 7:30 p.m. All the action can be heard on the UCF ISP Sports Network AM-740 The Team with Marc Daniels calling the action. Pregame coverage will begin 30 minutes prior to tip off.

UCF WOMEN OVERPOWER MERCER

Junior center Takira Allen poured in 20 points as the UCF women's basketball team conquered Mercer, 66-39, in Atlantic Sun action at University Center on Thursday night.

Freshmen John Roberson (No. 21) and Nick Calathes (No. 23) have been playing outstanding basketball in support of senior Pat Calathes as Lake Howell continues its run through the playoffs.

Boys

Continued from Page 17A Hawks have reached the regional semifinals and the team is looking for a second straight trip to the Final Four. But Lake Howell has a huge obstacle in its path this Tuesday as it must take a six-hour road trip to the panhandle to face Niceville (20-6) on Tuesday.

If Lyman and the Silver Hawks survive on the road on Tuesday, they will meet for a trip to the state tournament next Saturday, probably at Lake Howell.

Trinity Prep (24-4) kept pace with the Silver Hawks for the most wins in the county as the Saints crushed yet another Class 2A foe in District 10 runner-up Ft. Meade (14-13), 57-33.

Eric Dietrich led a balanced Trinity Prep attack with 15 points and five assists, while Madison Hampden chipped in with eight points and eight rebounds.

The Saints will host Admiral Farragut (22-6) from St. Petersburg on Tuesday in the Class 2A-Region 3 semifinals and if they win, would probably be at home for the regional finals next Saturday looking for their first trip to state. This is as far as any Trinity Prep team has ever advanced.

The final winner was in Class A-Region 3 where Orangewood Christian won its 20th game against eight defeats by outscoring Circle Christian (19-10), 74-59.

Michael Caulfield was the leader for the Rams with 22 points and 10 assists, while Nick Porta helped out with 19 points for Orangewood, who will host 26-1 Brevard Christian from West Melbourne in the semifinals. The Rams will most likely host the regional final if they can pull off the upset.

All of the regional semifinals are set to begin at 7 p.m.

The only teams to see their seasons end on Thursday were the biggest, Lake Mary, and the smallest, Lake Mary Prep, local teams in the tournament.

The Rams (19-8) looked like they might get their 20th win of the season and another shot at nationally-ranked Edgewater as senior Lyndon Merthie led the visitors to a 31-25 halftime lead over host Evans (18-10) in the Snake Pit.

The Trojans came out in a box-and-one defense on Lake Mary star Darryl Merthie, but his cousin Lyndon, the eldest son of former Seminole Community College coach Bernard Merthie, stepped up big-time, pumping in five three-pointers and scoring 20 first half points.

The second half was a different matter, however, as Evans made perfect use of its size advantage, going inside to 6-foot-5, 220-pound University of Florida football signee Brandon Siler to dominate the paint and outscore the Rams, 35-27, in the second half and pull out a 58-52 victory in the Class 6A-Region 1 Quarterfinals.

Siler, who was the MVP of the Florida-California All-Star Football Game and a stand-out in AAU Basketball last summer, scored 26 points and pulled down 10 rebounds as the Trojans outrebounded Lake Mary 19-7 in the second half.

Lyndon Merthie was held to six points in the second half, but claimed co-game-high scoring honors with Siler with 26 points, while Darryl Merthie, only a junior, was limited to 16 points, his lowest scoring output in a long time.

Lake Mary Prep saw its outstanding season end in a 66-49 defeat at the hands of Pine Castle Christian (22-6) in a Class A-Region 3 quarterfinal.

The Griffins, who got 12 points from senior Gerardo Ortega, finish the season with an outstanding 16-13 record.

The Golden Knights improved 12-12 overall and 10-6 in the conference as head coach Gail Striegler earned her 50th victory in A-Sun play. Mercer fell to 10-14, 8-9.

Up 37-22 at the start of the second period, UCF extended its lead on a 12-0 run before Mercer sank its first basket at 13:25. Both teams fell into an offensive drought at that point. Senior Adrienne Billings (Titusville HS) brought the Golden Knights out of their dry spell at 8:41. An 11-0 run gave UCF a 58-26 margin on the scoreboard when freshman guard Sarah Russell, who netted a team-high 14 points, ended the Bears' drought at the 6:16 mark. The hosts outscored the visitors 13-12 down the stretch run, but the damage was already done.

The Golden Knights owned a 52-44 advantage on the glass and sophomore guard Celeste Hudson had a game-high 10 boards, which tied a career best.

The Golden Knights visit conference leader Georgia State today (Saturday) for a 2 p.m. tipoff before returning to Orlando to host Jacksonville on March 4 at 7 p.m.

STETSON MEN EASE PAST LIPSCOMB

E.J. Gordon led four Hatters in double figures with 19 points and added eight rebounds as Stetson held off Lipscomb 70-67 in an Atlantic Sun Conference game Saturday night at the Edmunds Center.

Six times this season the Hatters (12-13, 10-9 A-Sun) have had a game decided by less than five points, all six times Stetson has been victor. See College, Page 19A

The Bisons (7-19, 4-14) trailed 34-28 at the half, but rallied to take the lead on a lay-up by Chad Hartman with 6:11 to go. Derrick DeWitt tied the game with a three-pointer and Kevin Craig sunk a pair of free throws with two minutes left to give the Hatters the lead for good.

The Bisons stayed close, however, and had a shot at the lead with 30 seconds left, but Matt Jarboe's three-pointer missed the mark and the Hatters held on for the victory.

The Hatters play their final regular season game tomorrow afternoon (Sunday) at 1 p.m. at home against A-Sun Conference leading Troy State.

ERAU BASEBALL OFF TO 15-0 START

With the help of several local players, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University from Daytona Beach won their 15th consecutive game without a defeat on Wednesday with a 14-0 thrashing of Edward Waters.

The Eagles were to have begun defense of their Florida Sun Conference championship by playing a three-game series in Babson Park against Webber International this weekend.

The strength of the Eagles, which went 48-16 and advanced to the NAIA World Series last season, has been a pitching staff that has a 1.49 team earned run average and has allowed only more than four runs in one game.

Three of those hurlers, J.C. Blass, Uriah Kimmig and Brad Stephenson, are all Seminole Athletic Conference graduates.

Blass, a senior from Oviedo High School, is 1-0 with a 1.04 ERA; Kimmig, a 6-foot-8 left-handed sophomore from Seminole High and Seminole Community College, is 1-0 with a 1.21 ERA and has 13 strike outs in 22.1 innings; and Stephenson, a senior from Winter Springs High School, is also 1-0 with a 2.35 ERA and 13 strike outs in 15.1 innings.

Another hurler, junior JR Schuhmann, a former SCC player, is recovering from arm surgery and is expected to make an important contribution as the season wears on.

Making a big impact on an everyday basis for ERAU is former SCC star Sean Greear and Winter Springs High standout Andrew Huff.

Greear, a junior who helped lead the Raiders to their first ever state championship and JUCO World Series appearance last year, has started 11 games and is hitting .312 with five doubles, seven runs scored and eight RBI while playing first base and left field.

Huff, a senior who has played in all 15 games and making 11 starts, is off to a slow start with the bat, only hitting .200, but he has scored eight runs and driven in three. Probably the best athlete on the Eagles roster, Huff has also showed his versatility playing left field, shortstop and third base in the past two games.

Senior forward Whitney Tossie (right) scored 12 points to help Oviedo edge Boone, 49-48, in the Class 6A-Region 1 Semifinals Tuesday night at Oviedo.

Oviedo will now go on the road to face Apopka (27-3), which eliminated Winter Springs 55-48 on Tuesday, in tonight's (Saturday) 6A-Region 1 final at 7 p.m.

This is the third straight year that the Lions and Blue Darters have met in the regionals, Apopka winning in 2002 and Oviedo last year to earn a trip to state.

The winner will advance to next week's State Tournament at The Lakeland Center.

The Bears (19-10) hung tough with the host Blue Darters, but could not pull off the upset of the powerful Apopka quintet.

Most of the Winter Springs offense came from Rollins College signee Natalie Wilmers, who poured in a game-high 32 points. Alyssa Eily helped out with nine points.

The other Seminole County team still alive, Trinity Prep, also advanced to the regional finals with a 56-41 thumping of Indian Rocks Christian (20-8) in Class 2A-Region 3.

Angela Guiu pace the Saints with 20 points, while Erin Kirkwood and Sarah Katynski scored 12 points each and Sarah Badawi pulled down 12 rebounds.

Trinity Prep improved to 23-4 with the win but if the Saints are to earn the trip to Lakeland they will have to get past a 29-0 Fort Myers Evangelical squad tonight in Goldenrod starting at 7 p.m.

Also of local interest, the Sanford sophomore duet of Jessie Pressley and Jennifer Russi are also a win away from a state berth after the All Souls graduates helped Father Lopez dispose of P.K. Yonge (14-10), 67-59, in a 2A-Region 2 semifinal in Gainesville.

The Green Wave fell behind 19-12 after the first quarter and still trailed at half before Pressley scored 13 of her game-high 32 in a crucial third quarter that left the game tied at 48-48 heading into the final eight minutes. Pressley hit four three-pointers and was also 12-of-13 from the free throw line.

Father Lopez is now 24-5 on the season and a perfect 16-0 against Class 2A competition, but now must go to Jacksonville to face a 29-0 University Christian squad at 7 p.m. tonight with a trip to Lakeland on the line.

LM police chief seeks sheriff job

Lake Mary Police Chief Richard Beary has applied to the governor's office to replace ousted Lake County Sheriff George E. Knupp Jr.

Governor Jeb Bush will name Knupp's replacement by Friday, March 26. Beary is one of four people Bush is considering for the job.

Knupp, who has been in office for 15 years, was removed from office without pay on Feb. 25 on two counts of third-degree felony perjury. A grand jury determined Knupp had lied during a hearing regarding the sheriff's policy of disposing of unwanted vehicles.

Calls to reach Beary at press time were unsuccessful.

Longwood sex offender caught

A registered sex offender was arrested Monday by Seminole County Sheriff's, Child Protective Services, Criminal Investigators.

Jon Timothy Pope, 61, of Longwood, is accused of five counts of capital sexual battery and 10 counts of lewd or lascivious molestation. He is currently being held on no bond. The case involves a girl, who was 8 years old in 2000. Pope allegedly molested her. Her family then left the state. Recently, the victim was located and disclosed to investigators the alleged sexual mistreatment by Pope.

Pope is currently listed as a Registered Sex Offender for a case in Seminole County in 1997, where he victimized a seven-year-old boy and girl. He has previously violated his probation on two other occasions; once for being with an 8-year-old child without supervision and once for not properly registering when he did not notify of his change of address after moving.

SANFORD — A commuter rail project that would provide service from DeLand to Orlando passed two hurdles last month when county commissioners and the community discussed the project favorably during two separate informational meetings.

According to state transportation officials, more than two dozen residents attended a Feb. 18 meeting in Lake Mary with most speaking positively about the project. County commissioners also discussed the project later last month, but not without reservations about the cost.

Preliminary reports estimate the project to cost about $155 million with commuter trains running on existing CSX rail lines. Commissioner Carlton Henley questioned Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) representatives if a preliminary cost agreement had been reached with CSX.

"We do not have a number on it because we have not sat down in negotiations," said Michael Snyder, FDOT district secretary. "Everybody we have talked to has indicated we can anticipate a 25 percent increase of the cost of what we are showing you."

Snyder added that when the project is presented to MetroPlan Orlando and the LYNX board, transportation representatives would also be

LAKE MARY — More than 75 guests and relatives helped Margaret Proctor celebrate her 100th birthday last week at Heritage Woods at Lake Mary.

Complete with cake, a lunch buffet and a picture presentation of her century experiences, Proctor's accomplishment was commemorated with proclamations from the mayors of Lake Mary and Sanford.

Born Feb. 26 in Terra Haute, Ind., she married Clifford Proctor of Geneva on July 28, 1920. After their wedding, they moved to Florida where Cliff was a fruit distributor and she played the piano at a silent movie theatre in Ocala for $25 a week.

"She definitely has had an interesting life," said Lake Mary Mayor Thom Greene. "She was a piano player in a silent movie hall."

Family-owned feed store changes hands

By Michelle Donahue

SANFORD — The scent of molasses and fresh-cut hay makes Tucker's Farm and Garden Center customers feel like they have stepped back in time when they enter the store. And new owners, Annie and Doug Horstmeyer, have no intention of changing the nostalgic charm and tradition that is such a familiar part of their clientele's experience.

"Tucker's has always been a family owned and operated business," said Annie Horstmeyer, who works on premises with two of her sons, Justin and Luke. "We will continue in that tradition, as well as keep the same great values, variety and service in place that our customers have grown to trust and depend on."

A part of the local community for more than 30 years, customers affectionately shortened the name to "Tucker's" as word of mouth about the area's largest feed store spread.

Started by Cecil Tucker in June of 1972, it quickly grew in reputation for having quality products at great prices. That reputation for excellence continues to this day.

John Tucker, who took over the store when his father Cecil retired several years ago, recently decided to sell the store in order to pursue a seminary education in Texas, and eventually a job in fulltime ministry. When the Horstmeyers, longtime friends of the Tuckers, heard that the store was being sold, they jumped at the opportunity to buy it and sealed the deal on New Year's Day. The Horstmeyers have also adopted longtime warehouse resident mascot and 20-pound rodent controller, Hazer the cat.

Annie Horstmeyer expressed how blessed and excited the family is about owning and operating such a fantastic place.

Longwood forces issue on LYNX van service

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

LONGWOOD — Longwood became the first city in Seminole to challenge the county in refusing to contribute annual costs attributed to door-to-door van transportation for the elderly and disabled.

With rising mass transportation costs, the county has asked the seven local cities the past two years to share the burden. The service of Access LYNX — or Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) paratransit — helps meet federal guidelines to provide vans for the "transportation disadvantaged" that live within three-quarters of a mile of an existing bus route. The county meets the requirement, but also offers the service to all that qualify regardless of how far they live from a bus line.

Longwood's share of the van service increased by 76 percent from last year to about $59,000 in 2004. While some cities have voiced their displeasure over the reoccurring cost, Longwood commissioners became the first Monday to fund only half of the county's request.

"My concern with this is it becoming an annual item," said Mayor Dan Anderson after being absent from the commission's previous meeting with an illness. "We have to push to get a better funding source."

According to Longwood officials, they were promised the county would raise the gas tax from 7 to 8 cents to fund paratransit. However, commissioners denied that proposal last October. Commissioner Butch Bundy said he thought county commissioners denied the proposal to raise the gas taxes because of the upcoming election year.

"There's an election every year and if a commissioner is afraid of raising taxes...hey that's your job," he said. Bundy also questioned the county's willingness to work with the cities and provide information why costs continue to increase. Longwood was given two documents — one that listed each city's share of
