Chinese Seize Hill Top, Mass Fresh Troops

Fanatical Reds Rush Over Slopes With Screams, Curses To Rout Defenders

SEOUL, Va. — Chinese Reds battled their way to the top of White Horse Mountain Friday night and massed 18,000 fresh troops within easy striking distance of the blood-soaked hill.

Intelligence officers said the Communists could commit two fresh divisions to battle at any time. The fanatical Chinese stormed up the slopes with screams and curses and pushed valiant South Korean defenders off the ridge line.

The bone-weary U. N. troops scrambled right back to the top and battled the Reds hand to hand in a drenching rain for half an hour before surrendering the crest again.

The wild fighting broke off at 9 p. m. with the Chinese in control. The South Koreans hugged the south slope 150 yards from the top. Earlier reports said a "hilltop brawl" erupted around the peak in almost pitch darkness. Reds and South Koreans fought it out with grenades, rifle butts and bared bayonets.

It was the seventh time Friday that the battle raged close in fighting, swept across the rubble crest of the vital peak.

A peeling rain started just after dark. It soaked the weary soldiers who have been fighting continuously more than four days. A front line officer said it was so dark on the crest that the Republic of Korea troops had to grope their way forward to close with the Reds.

He said the South Koreans had one simple rule for fighting in the dark. If they felt a hand on their shoulder in the hand-to-hand fighting they knew it must belong to a Chinese. That was all the identification (Continued on Page Three)

Commission To Study Program For City Streets

Repairs On First St. Made At The Rate Of $350 Per Block

Plans for renovating Sanford streets may come up for further discussion at the meeting of the City Commission Monday night. Tom Lenton, City Manager, said today, as he outlined matters which will be presented at the session.

Experimental resurfacing projects on First Street and Seminole Street are being conducted to ascertain some idea of the overall cost of a full-scale street improvement project, have shown the cost will come to approximately $350 a block on First Street and about $200 a block on Seminole Boulevard.

Rain has delayed the completion of both projects. These are wide streets, he pointed out, and the cost to resurface them would apply to other, narrower streets in the City, which would cost somewhat less for resurfacing.

He also brought out that sub-surface materials in the two experimental streets were in good condition. (Continued on Page Six)

Nixon Accepts 'Backbone' As Major Issue

Slur Of Stevenson At General Ike Taken Up By Senator Who Likes Challenge

By DICK HOENIG
ABOARD NIXON TRAIN
SEN. Richard Nixon's 11th special slurs through seven Northwestern Pennsylvania cities today with the California senator ready to consider the "backbone" of the presidential issue.

The Republican nominee for vice president will give six rear platform talks at New Castle, Meadville, Oil City, Titusville, Corry and Sharon in his second successive 14-hour day plugging for Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes.

He is scheduled to make a major address at Erie tonight before leaving for a tour of New York State.

Nixon brought up the backbone issue in every one of six speeches through Central and Eastern Pennsylvania yesterday. He explained it stemmed from a statement by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, which Nixon said implied Dwight D. Eisenhower lacks backbone.

"I am willing to accept this as a campaign issue," Nixon said. "Where was Stevenson trained in his time? The Department under Dean Acheson never has been less spineless policy than that of the present State Department."

"Stevenson has about as much backbone as Acheson and that is as little as a man can have, in my opinion," he continued.

"We all know in our bones that it is dangerous to talk tough on less we are ready to act tough," he declared. "The new Republican policy and I am sorry to say this is to talk tough while we simultaneously weaken our defenses and alliances."

"That just doesn't make sense to me. That is a sure road to disaster."

He previously had criticized Eisenhower's assertion the United States would "never rest" until the people of the satellite countries were freed. Stevenson said this was "reckless action" might be taken by Eisenhower later said he was speaking only of present means, not war.

Stevenson has contended that Eisenhower's call for a 20 billion dollar budget cut would mean a 30 percent reduction in the nation's resources. He said the Republicans were trying to scrap the bipartisan foreign policy he called into Eisenhower's power.

In fact, the campaign has clearly brought out that the Old Guard of the Republican party wants to scrap that bipartisan foreign policy and that the candidates with the new look of the general of the army, had become the policy partner of Sen. Taft and some conservative Republicans.

Warren made the keynote address before the fourth annual session of the governor's highway safety conference and the first legislative session of the year. He opened here today and will continue through tomorrow.

An audience of about 1,200 heard Warren, the two gubernatorial candidates, Dan McCarry, Republican, and Bill Swann, Democrat, who told what they have done to promote highway safety and what they plan to do.

"I have done what I could to leave to those who follow me as your governors a sound foundation for a practical, workable safety program," Warren said.

McCarry praised the highway patrol, urged that the drivers' license laws be strengthened, asked that "death traps" be eliminated, spots for more driver education in schools and said, "We've got to build bigger and wider roads for safety."

Swann asked for uniform traffic laws throughout the U. S., tougher laws on drivers' license regulations, getting the courts to be stricter with traffic offenses and driver education in the schools and homes.

HOUSING SHORTAGE
Known available housing has been depleted for quartering families of members of a new FABRON and a flying squadron at the Sanford Naval Air Station, Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Chamberlain of Commerce secretary, stated today.

She appealed to persons having available quarters, particularly unfurnished apartments and houses, to contact her by phoning 1890. As a rule, the incoming families do not have kitchen appliances equipped she said.

Eisenhower To Make Public Statement On His Finances; Adlai Thinks Reds Thwarted

Stevenson Says Best Way To Keep Russia Off Balance Is To Retain Demo Plans

By JACK HELL
OKLAHOMA CITY, P. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson turned his campaign southwest today with the prediction that Russia may abandon its aggressive policies because American-sponsored collective security has "worked so well."

But the Democratic presidential nominee, contained in an address prepared for a City Auditorium rally here that the United States must be on guard against "trickery" in any Soviet attempt to substitute money for money.

He declared that even the chance he now sees for long run gains for the United States will be nullified if the Republicans win in November and proceed to do what they say they will do.

Heading for New Orleans and an appeal to the southern states by rebellion against the Democratic ticket, Stevenson fired heavy artillery here against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on what the Illinois governor called the principal issues of the presidential campaign—peace and prosperity.

He said if there is any weakening of American defense and foreign assistance programs the Kremlin can change its signals quickly.

"We all know in our bones that it is dangerous to talk tough on less we are ready to act tough," he declared. "The new Republican policy and I am sorry to say this is to talk tough while we simultaneously weaken our defenses and alliances."

Ike Reveals Plan After Reports He Intended Not To Disclose Income Data

PHOENIX, Ariz. — General Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he will make public before the election a report on his financial status.

Arriving at Phoenix, Eisenhower was asked this question: "May we have an answer directly from you to the question whether you intend to make public before election time your income tax returns or a financial statement giving substantially the same information?"

Eisenhower replied: "Of course if anyone is interested they can have a report as soon as it is completed. It is virtually all a matter of public record anyway."

This statement came after reports that Eisenhower had no intention at this time of making his financial affairs public.

Eisenhower's statement this morning did not make clear whether he intended to open up full income tax returns for public inspection.

But some of his aides earlier had led the impression that a financial statement of some kind will be thrown open for inspection, which they say would give virtually a complete story of the general's financial position.

BY DON WHITEHEAD
ENROUTE WITH EAST SHOW
ER. — The Eisenhower command was inclined to count California's 32 electoral votes in the Republican column today after a tumultuous sweep through the state which went Democratic by a narrow margin four years ago.

With 11 states behind him in his current 28 state tour, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved early this morning to Los Angeles. He will schedule called for appearances in Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., Albuquerque, N.M. and Salt Lake City, Utah. He left his special train in Los Angeles to travel by plane to the West Coast.

In California the general stirred a storm of controversy wherever he appeared. His frequent visits to Los Angeles, a promising sign of victory in the state come Nov. 4.

"I think we're safe in predicting that the state will go for the general's close advisers," said Los Angeles GOP candidate a roaring reception to match the uproarious San Francisco welcome and last night 9,000 people jammed into the Pan Pacific Auditorium to hear him.

An estimated 20,000 stood outside to hear his speech over a public address system.

He promised it elected that the Republicans would promote a program of social welfare which would bring increased security to anything yet achieved under Democratic administrations.

Eisenhower insisted it was time to take a new look at the Social Security law to extend it and to make it fair to all. That is what (Continued on Page Six)

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws. His acts were the demonstration of Science, overcoming the false claims of material sense or law (p. 273)."

Hal Boyle Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — The most common criminal in America today is neither the burglar, the bandit nor the shady opportunistic salesman.

No law really protects the public against him. He operates with a smooth tongue instead of a gun, he rarely is strung from a gallows as some think he deserves, and yet every year he walks away scot-free with untold thousands.

Who is this bold rascal? Well, if you are able to read, it is probably you—the ordinary book thief.

"But I'm not a book thief, you protest. 'Why, I never stole a book in my life.'"

Oh, yes you did. If you go to inspect your books right now, the chances are that you'll find a book that says "Stolen from the library of ————."

And the name written therein won't be your own. "But I didn't really steal it—I only borrowed it," you say, and add bitterly: "And I certainly intend to return it."

Maybe. But you probably have had it for years. You are holding this valuable property against the real owner's will—and if that isn't thievery, what is it? He could go to court about it, but among book lovers there is a tolerant recognition of human frailty and a general live-and-let-live policy. And of course each knows the other fellow may break down sometime and buy a book worth borrowing himself.

The true professional book thief is a scoundrel who steals precious volumes only to barter these priceless products of the human spirit for filthy cash. He is beneath the contempt of murderers, and stands alone in the very sewer of crime.

There is also the occasional kleptomaniac who has such a compulsion to take what doesn't belong to him that he will rent a 310 hotel room just for a chance to lift a Gideon Bible.

But most of America's millions of book thieves are happy amateurs who prefer to be known as "long-term borrowers." And this softer term is often used by forgiving librarians who know how hard it is for some patrons to bring back a book they are having a long love affair with.

"We never say they are stolen," said a lady spokesman for the New York Public Library. "We say the people just forgot to return them." "Sometimes they come back 25 years late."

Sometimes also they are mailed back by the widows of the men who checked them out years before "for four weeks," then held them until death.

The volumes that now are most likely to vanish mysteriously from open library shelves are the "How-To-Do-Something" books, such as "How To Become A Detective." One with that title doesn't have a chance.

But the ordinary book prowler like you and me, who merely feed on each other's collections, actually served a useful purpose. As the bees pollinate a clover field, we enrich our own store of books by "borrowing" back and forth, giving it a variety it would otherwise lack.

I doubt if I have read any of the scores of books I bought myself in the last 10 years. They never stay in my house long enough. But I never fail to read a book I "borrow" and I am honest enough to say I never borrowed one with the real intention of returning it.

But my private library is an open shelf of other people's books. I'll match it against any man's, and the odds are it contains at least one book that belongs to him.

H. Buckner, superintendent, Prayer Meeting Wednesday 8:00 p. m. Visitors are welcome.

Forestry Products Bring $304,000,000

TALLAHASSEE (Special) — Harvesting and processing trees provides employment for nearly one-third of the industrial workers of Florida, Owens McDonald, chairman of the newly-formed Florida Forest Industries Committee reported today.

"Forest products industries are Florida's third largest employers of labor," the report said. "In addition, thousands more supplement their incomes as part-timers in the woods or mills and others earn their livings in businesses and industries directly dependent on forest products."

Florida has nearly 750 wood-using plants. These include pulp and paper mills, sawmills, veneer and plywood plants, cooperage plants and specialty mills manufacturing assorted products.

The annual forest industry income from payrolls and profits totals $118,000,000. Total annual sales value of forest industry products amounts to $304,000,000.

"Thousands of farm woodland owners also share in the economic returns from Florida's forests," according to the committee.

Florida's forests, after almost three centuries of constant use, continue to grow more wood than in any other section of the world, the committee said.

Losses from man-caused forest fires, insects and disease are upsetting this growth advantage and that forest fire prevention and improved forest management practices are needed.

MARTHA RAYE ILL.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—Martha Raye, the large-mouthed comedienne, was in serious condition in a hospital today suffering with an intestinal disorder.

She became ill yesterday in Kingston, Jamaica, just 24 hours after she had returned from a tour of duty in the South Pacific.

Dr. Ralph Robbins, her personal physician, said she was "critically ill with an intestinal disorder" and that an operation might be necessary. "We'll know more about that in a day or so," he said.

Miss Raye and her husband, Nick Condos, own the Miami Beach Five O'Clock Club.

General Sanford

lets, all of whom had fulfilled their contracts. He spoke of the sad days of '71, when devastating storms played havoc with the happy homes of the colonists. Most tenderly he spoke of those who had crossed the dark river, more especially of him who had brought them to the land of the free, General Sanford. At that name sobbing tears came to his eyes, the purest tribute that could be paid his memory. He then passed on to "brighter things" telling of the Sanford in 1891 as compared with the many years prior. Names mentioned in connection with this period included A. C. Martin, H. L. DeForest, agent of General Sanford, and Dr. Caldwell.

Another speaker, Mr. Menechen, "pressed it upon his hearers that the colonists came here, not for liberty, but that they had in their own country, but their adoption of the long hard winters there."

Mr. Ingraham was another speaker. "As one who had suffered with them, he spoke of storms and insect with the many years. Hope's star seemed set, and of later days when it was again triumphant."

Later, "Like the sabbling of heart broken women came the notes of a dirge, the same that was played at the funeral of Charles the Ninth, a tribute to the memory of General Sanford."

"In behalf of the Swedes, of Ovidio, Gus Nelson spoke to his countrymen, expressing sympathy and good will and saying that in Ovidio, as elsewhere, the only ambition of the colonists is to become thoroughly American. Even through the celebration, "there ran a minor strain, as though even in this dear land, their adoption, Swedish hearts turned toward the fatherland."

A special train carried colonists to New Upsala, where they assembled in the afternoon. They were decorated with green. Supper was served in the school house and a mammoth tent, following which children played games. "The scene was very picturesque, church, school house and tent were brilliantly illuminated and elegant flags, American and Swedish, flung their folds to the breeze."

"On Sunday, services were held in the church and visits were made to the home of the colonists. In the evening a special brought back the veterans, their different ways, God alone knowing whether ever again to meet together."

Prosperity was described as the feature of New Upsala, distant about three and a half miles from Sanford, the drive through the shadowy forest aisles being very lovely and one always experiences a certain sensation of surprise to find in the midst of the forest a primeval the thriving little settlement with its quaint old country air, its comfortable homes and fine orange groves.

"We had many times driven near the settlement and seen gleaming snowy white through the trees, the pretty little church and school house and amidst the dark green foliage of the orange trees silhouetted against the lighter shades of forest growth, but to us the Swede settlement meant but little save a name. Now we have been among them, have seen something of their home life and have shared in the happiness of these people whose home was once in the land of the Midnight Sun."

About 25 families comprised the settlement, and almost without exception, all were land owners. Groves were from five to 10 acres in extent, side by side for the most part, separated by boundary fences. "In spite of this being a semi-tropical country, or it may be because of it, the settlers have found their fear of long, hot summers unfounded, and they live here the whole year round. Florida summers are delightful, with comfortable, more often than not cool enough for a blanket, and long, languorous days broken by showers."

The older groves then were bearing from 600 to 1,000 boxes of fruit, which brought an average of $1.60 a box in the most recent season.

"The first colony of Swedes came to Florida when there was hardly a store within 20 miles of anywhere, or to stick to plain English, everything had to be hauled long distances. Nothing grew in South Florida but oranges and other fruits of the tropics and it was never considered possible that anything else could grow here. Corn, hay, vegetables, meats, everything almost, was brought in from the North at enormous cost and sold at enormous profit. However, railroad facilities cut down shipping costs and colonists began growing gardens, hay and cows which were no longer a reproach," bringing about remedy to this situation.

A Miss Friese was named as the school teacher in the article. Attendance averaged about 80 pupils. Not far from the school was the store and post office in which O. Seltzer was both store keeper and postmaster.

The principal grove owners of New Upsala were: Mr. Vilho, Gus Levi, O. Baltason, A. H. Nelson, Mrs. Seltzer, John Lindgren, Angus Barthelsson, P. E. Erickson, G. Lundquist, E. Hermanson, N. Pierson, R. Anderson, Hans Swanson, G. Gustafson, August Swanson, C. S. Ewroth, a Mrs. Bengtson, Emil Magnuson, Eric Layton, Olof Lundquist, E. Nylund, John Lundquist, and Charles Seltzer.

Another story in the Journal, of which George A. Vannevar was publisher and Lucie Vannevar was editor, tells of memorial services conducted in honor of General Sanford. Following the death of Mr. Sanford at Healing Springs, Va., on Thursday, May 31, 1897, at 7 p. m., news was received in Sanford the next day.

A call was issued for a public meeting Friday night, at which J. M. Parkman was elected chairman and E. W. Parkby, secretary.

to be held on Tuesday, May 26, at 10:30 a. m. Members of the committee were J. E. Ingraham, F. H. Rand, A. C. Martin, D. L. Way, E. K. Foster, A. M. Thresher and D. H. Elliott.

"The adjourned meeting was held on Tuesday morning by Captain Parkman, when Mr. J. E. Ingraham, chairman of the committee on resolutions, stated that a dispatch had just been received, stating that the funeral of General Sanford would take place at Birmingham, Conn., at 2:00 p. m. on Wednesday, and that it was the sense of the committee that this meeting should adjourn until that hour, and that memorial services should be held, opened with song and prayer and closed with an address, arrangements for all of which had been made by the committee."

These suggestions were adopted unanimously, following which the committee passed a resolution requesting the merchants in this county, by their adoption, to observe the funeral of General Sanford on the day of the funeral.

A large number of citizens gathered at the opera house the day of the funeral and the meeting was opened by the singing of a hymn by a choir composed of a Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Paton, Mrs. Randolph, Mr. Whitman and Mr. Parker. Religious services were conducted by the Rev. Lyman Phelps. At the conclusion of the services, Mr. Ingraham read a resolution lauding General Sanford and the whole state had sustained a severe loss and that "we deplore the loss of one of Florida's principal citizens, and one among the first to foresee its possibilities, and who took great interest in testing them to the utmost extent, devoting his time and private means to the development of citrus and semi-tropical fruits, and the future prosperity of Florida."

The resolution further read that General Sanford "gave his time, energy and material influence to the development of its commercial prosperity, the improvement of its waterways and railway systems, its schools, churches and postal facilities, and was a warm friend and earnest advocate of all movements tending to its increased growth and advancement."

Principal speakers on the program were Judge E. K. Foster. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Tomkies.

According to the obituary of General Sanford in this paper, published over 60 years ago and still in a fine state of preservation, "Although Mr. Sanford had been sick for some time, his death was not anticipated. He passed away quietly after suffering intense agony some little time previous. Mr. Sanford's reputation is not confined to Florida. Most of his life had been spent in diplomatic service."

"He was born on June 15, 1823, at Woodbury, Conn. His early life was spent in Birmingham, Conn., where his father lived a prominent and highly respected citizen of that state. Mr. Sanford entered Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., but owing to ill health did not graduate and went to Europe in hopes of regaining it. His diplomatic career commenced as attaché to Russia. After leaving Russia, he graduated at the University of Heidelberg.

"He was secretary of the U. S. Legation at Paris under Honorable William C. Rives, and upon Mr. Chase's death he became chargé d'affaires."

"He became conspicuous in Paris upon his refusing to wear the diplomatic uniform, claiming that the citizen's dress of an American was the only uniform he should or would wear. From 1861 to 1869 he was U. S. Minister to Belgium. In 1877, he became interested in organizing the association that afterwards founded the independent State of Congo and at the time of his death was largely interested in the development of the Congo country."

"It is of Mr. Sanford's interest in Sanford and Florida that we desire more especially to speak in the year 1869-70, Mr. Sanford purchased from General Joseph E. Finegan, then living in Savannah, the grant now known as the Sanford grant, paying $18,000 for the same. He at once commenced improvements and erected a wharf and store house, built roads to the wharf and, as soon as he could, had the most office removed from Middletown, placed in or near his store and the name of Sanford given to the town."

"Mr. Sanford was a gentleman of large conceptions, and at once started to plant a large orange grove near Sanford, called Gertrude after his wife. The land selected was not adapted to orange culture, and the trees were removed to what is now known as Blair. From the very first he became enthusiastic on the culture of the citrus and tropical fruits and planted at Blair many varieties of oranges and lemons, also olives and such other fruits that he thought the climate would suit. Soon he made earnest and successful efforts for increased postal facilities on the river, and when the South Florida Railroad was started, he graded at his own expense, the road as far as Blair. He was instrumental in forming a telegraph company and in bringing the wire into Sanford several years before the I. O. T. Company reached here. He was also anxious to see the river widened and cut so as to have steamers from the ocean land at the wharves of Sanford, and one of his last visits to Washington was to have an appropriation looking to the improvement of the Upper St. Johns."

"While Mr. Sanford was interested in advancing his own affairs, he was not unmindful of the needs of others, and not a few of the old citizens can testify to his words of encouragement and his assistance in days of trial. Through the exertions of himself and his devoted wife, the Church of the Holy Cross was erected, and under the minispensive peace may be, it will cost as nothing compared to a new world war."

On the other hand, Stevenson said he thinks the Democratic administration's policies have been "highly successful."

"They have rallied and united the free world and have checked the spread of communism," he declared. "If we stick with these policies, I deeply believe we shall avert a third world war."

On the prosperity issue, Stevenson said the Republican administration is preaching a lot of "secure stuff," saying that good times are based on military production.

"The general says our prosperity is a sham prosperity, that it is based on war and that it is going to collapse as soon as the defense orders taper off," the Illinois governor said.

"On this subject, the general has agreed to agree with Sen. Taft, on domestic economic issues the general has, in effect, admitted that he does not know very much. If he did, I don't think he would have chosen Sen. Taft as the man who will determine his domestic economic policies."

Stevenson drives into the South with an evident note of new confidence in his camp that Dixie will remain in the Democratic column next month.

Rain Pelts Eastern And Southern Points

By The Associated Press
More rain pelted areas in the South and Eastern sections of the country today but it was generally fair weather in other areas.

The wet belt extended over parts of the Carolinas and Virginia westward into Kentucky and Tennessee. Heavy rain fell in some areas with gale force winds at Bowling Green, Ky.

Warmer air moved into the Northern plains and headed for the North Central region. Mild weather continued in most of the Western states, with readings in the high 70's and 80's in the Rocky Mountain region yesterday. The day's top mark was 103 at Yuma, Ariz. Elsewhere temperatures were around seasonal levels.

Far out in the Atlantic Ocean, hurricane Euse, the 10th of the season was dying a natural death. The Miami weather Bureau Thursday reported winds had dropped from 100 miles an hour to 50.

Legislator Defends Alcoholic Hospital

SEBRING, Fla. (Special)—State Sen. James W. Moore says the much criticized $200,000 project for a state alcoholic hospital is only the first phase of an alcoholic program which has been successful elsewhere.

The Sebring hospital, situated on some state lands, would be a model for alcoholic care not effective and abandoned elsewhere.

Where the full program has been undertaken, as proposed for Florida in a 1951 bill sponsored by Moore, it has never been dropped, he said.

Moore's defense of the hospital project came in a letter to the Tampa Times, which has criticized it editorially.

The State cabinet this week has laid action on construction but instructed the Department of Administration to draft plans and specifications.

ABRAHAM THUMAN HEADS HIS WHISTLE STOP SPECIAL THROUGH THE WHITE STATE OF NEW YORK'S GOV. THOMAS E. DREWES TODAY, ANTI-ON BEHALF OF ADLAI STEVENSON FOR THE BIGGEST ELECTION DAY PACKAGE OF ALL—45 ELECTORAL VOTES.

Launched with an assault on the Republicans' civil rights record, this next-to-last day of the President's coast-to-coast campaign trip promised to bring him into contact with the man he championed in the race for the White House four years ago.

Truman started his New York State swing with a Buffalo speech lambasting "bolshaks," mostly Republicans, he said, but including some Democrats who in "a wave of hysteria" have tried to win votes by hurling false charges of communism.

The officer said the only sounds from the hilltop were "the screams when someone is killed and the moans of the wounded." Because of the darkness, the big guns of both sides were silent.

The South Koreans launched their attack from a line about 100 yards below the crest at 8:30 p. m. They apparently ran head-on into the Chinese, who were pushing their way slowly forward.

The Koreans stormed back to the crest less than two hours after a fresh battalion (about 750 of screaming Chinese drove them from the top to the base of the hill again.

The ROKs regrouped and moved back up the southern slope behind the protective curtain of a feature Allied artillery barrage. About 100 yards from the top they established a defense line at 7:30 p. m. In the hour later they clawed back to the crest.

The Red attack a few hours earlier had come as no surprise.

GAMBLING PICKING UP
JAI KWANVILLE, Fla.—Florida gambling or at least, the taxes paid on it is picking up again. Collector John L. Fahs of the Internal Revenue Bureau reported Thursday that betting taxes paid during September for August totaled $43,140.48. That compared with $41,851.33 paid for gambling in July.

The tax is 10 per cent of the gross bet on such forms of gambling as numbers, and off track betting on horse racing. The figures for August indicate Florida gamblers handled $434,000 in bets during the month.

Governor Dewey accuses the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket of being the candidates of "Jim Crowism".
If there were just some way of getting this idea over to the Negro voters of the South!

Don't forget a Democratic primary will be held on Oct. 14 next week. And don't forget to vote.
Justice Dewey or Judge Giblin must be nominated for the State Supreme Court.

The issues in the presidential campaign are really getting hot.
"My opponent has been worrying about my funnybone", says Governor Stevenson. "I'm worrying about his back bone". If that were all the people have to worry about, they wouldn't be taking this campaign so seriously.

Drew Pearson who has always
considerably left of Eisenhower, and is now traveling with President Truman's campaign special, says the voters in western states want a change. "They don't know much about Stevenson", he writes, "except that he's a little highbrow.
But above all they want a change".

The policy of asking presidential candidates to reveal their income taxes for ten years back is one that is apt to spread. The first thing you know they are going to be asking candidates for governor to do that, and perhaps candidates for other offices. If you expect to go into public life in the future, you better keep your records straight.

Admitting that he once said General Eisenhower would make a good president, Mr. Truman admits now that he was wrong, that the General is a changed man, that he would make a very bad president. Mr.
Truman evidently changed his opinion of the General when he declined to run as a Democrat, accepted the Republican nomination.
Otherwise, the General would make a very good president, in the President's opinion.

In 1945 when Eisenhower as commander-in-chief of the Allied armies in Europe had completed the liberation of Europe, President Truman commended him with
"There is no position, including the presidency of the United States, you might want that I will not help you get." In 1951 President Truman gave him the job of building up the defense of Europe against Communist aggression and welding together the NATO armies. At that time President Truman said, "It's the biggest job we have and you're just the man for it." Now as the Republican candidate, "It is not fit to be president", according to Truman, who is a one-party man himself.

Down in Miami 100 persons have been indicted for defrauding the government out of some $250,000 to $450,000 in connection the GI education program. Teachers, employees, and pupils of alleged schools were involved. These veterans were supposed to be taking courses in what was known as the Burlitz School of Languages and the Miami School of Languages.
The government says they made false claims for compensation and allowance under the GI training program and the government paid the bills without question. No telling how many millions of dollars the government has been defrauded in similar claims throughout the country. It would be interesting to know what the same total amounts to in one of the 48 states "retaining its own government." What the amount of the government is to get of the taxpayers' money in each of the 48 states is an interesting question.

Bible Revised

The new revision of the Bible has been greeted with enthusiasm by individuals and church groups throughout the United States. Its publishers call it the most significant Bible news since the publication of the King James Version in 1611. The research was done by American Protestant scholars who attempted to re-define words which have changed in meaning or whose meaning has been obscured by the passage of time, while retaining the magnificent poetry of the King James Version.

There are some who criticize the revision as "tampering with the word of God." Perhaps these critics forget that the Bible has undergone many translations in its long history, and that the King James Version was regarded as "tampering" in many quarters at the time of its publication.

Perhaps the most significant thing about the new edition is the fact that it has an advance sale of 1,000,000 copies. In an era that is frequently described as "materialistic" and "godless" this demonstrates an amazing interest in the ancient and holy truths that are contained in the Bible.

It is not surprising that scholars should attempt new translations of the Bible for man is constantly seeking to re-discover old truths and few fields are more profitable for such research than the Bible. It is good that the fruits of such scholarship should be so eagerly accepted by the book buying public. New strength and beauty will be found by new reading of old truths.

A Quota Question

At present there is an increasing agitation to alter America's system of immigration quotas governing admission of aliens into the United States. Hearings in changes in the McCarran-Walter immigration law are being held. Reports from these hearings are being made and will be submitted to the President for consideration.

The McCarran Act is unjust in several ways. But it would not be wise to use it as a means to an end to rewrite America's traditional policy of the immigration quota system.

This system is based on the absorption power of certain North European groups. Most of them are Franco-Germanic. These have the highest quotas. Smaller quotas are allotted to southern and central European groups whose national tradition and political structure are different enough to make absorption into American life a slower process.

To do away with the present quotas would only put these people at the mercy of organized pressure groups hoping to see more of their own nationals within our borders. To do so would be likely to increase the friction and tension among the many differing groups which make up the American population.

That Something Extra

The 1952 World Series is over and the New York Yankees have been crowned baseball champions of the world for the fourth straight year. The Brooklyn Dodgers made a gallant attempt to upset the Yankee championship tradition but "the Bronx Bombers" are a great ball team while the Dodgers are only a good one.

The Dodger defeat disappointed many fans. Support for the underdog is an American characteristic. But it is just as characteristic of the American sports fan to bestow liberal admiration and applause on a consistent winner who has that extra something in that moment in any human endeavor when the difference between victory and defeat hangs in the balance.

The Dodgers deserve every word of praise that can be given them by their admirers for they were not beaten until the last game. But at the end it was the Yankees who won. Hail to the champions!

Lewis Is Reported To Be Considering Nation-wide Strike

CINCINNATI — John L. Lewis was reportedly today to be considering a nation-wide coal strike unless the government Wage Stabilization Board approves the union's recently negotiated pay boost by next Wednesday.

Lewis sent his chief legal lieutenant, Welly Hopkins, flying from the United Mine Workers Union convention here to confer today with the wage board in Washington.

The problem, it was understood, may complicate the current political situation.

Lewis, who seemed to be on the verge of endorsing Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson after apparently favoring Republican nominees in the past three national elections, was holding up any flat endorsement until he sees how the Democratic administration handles his wage case.

The miners union president has just negotiated one of his fattest labor contracts in history—a pay boost of $1.90 a day, boosting the basic daily wage for miners to $18.25, plus a 10-cent increase in the tonnage royalty paid by coal mine owners to the union's welfare fund. The increase brings the royalty to 40 cents a ton, or better than 150 million dollars a year.

Coal operators have taken the position they can't pay the new contract terms until the WSB approves. It has generally been felt among people close to the situation that the board probably will give its approval, but perhaps later than the Oct. 15 pay day when first checks bearing the new pay rates become due.

Hopkins, senior counsel for the union, was reported to be due to tell the WSB, in a private conference in Washington today, that approval by Oct. 15, next Wednesday, must come or a coal strike will follow.

Although Lewis has seemingly leaned heavily toward Stevenson, the union boss has not made any endorsement. He has been highly critical of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and anybody "whom Taft may lead around by the collar."

Artist Is Found Tied And Burned To Death

NEW YORK — The burned body of a man tentatively identified as Sanford Tilles, a television scenery artist, was found tied hand and foot with wire under a burning studio couch in a Manhattan apartment early today.

Firemen answering an alarm found the bedroom and living room of the first floor apartment in flames.

Police Capt. Henry Wade described the case as "arson and murder."

Sam Carrow, superintendent of the building where the man worked for the National Broadcasting Company and was about 35 years old.

All four windows of the apartment were locked. The superintendent opened two locks on the apartment door with pass keys.

Wade said the body had a large gash on the right temple and indicated the man had been struck with a heavy instrument. The man's hands were tied behind his back.

A third floor tenant had smelled smoke and called the superintendent.

union, was reported to be due to tell the WSB, in a private conference in Washington today, that approval by Oct. 15, next Wednesday, must come or a coal strike will follow.

AND THAT'S FOR SURE!

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Korean peace looks remote. Truce talks at Panmunjom have not officially ended. Peace efforts shift now to the U.N. General Assembly which opens Oct. 14.

The Korean War, beginning in June, 1950, is now more than 21 months old. Truce talks between terms of U.N. and Communist negotiators began 15 months ago.

For the last six months the talks have bogged down over one question: The exchange of prisoners.

There have been no real discussions at Panmunjom since mid-July. The teams met more or less regularly every week just long enough to say they had nothing new to say and to declare another recess.

On Wednesday even the meeting themselves went into indefinite recess.

This was at the demand of Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., chief U.N. negotiator. He bluntly told the Communists the next move was up to them. He told them to accept the U.N. proposal for settling the prisoner problem or make a "constructive proposal of their own."

The U.N. says it will not force any of its prisoners to return to China or North Korea if they don't want to go.

The Communists take the opposite position: that all prisoners should be returned on both sides.

Neither side has been willing to budge.

While the talks limped on, the fighting in Korea continued. This week 15,000 Reds attacked the U.N. positions in the biggest Communist offensive since May, 1951.

This has not been regarded so far as the opening of a major Communist offensive to drive the U.N. troops out of Korea.

Why the Communists have opened up this much now is not clear. It may be the result of decisions made between the Russians and Chinese when the latter visited Moscow for important talks last summer.

When Secretary of State Acheson announced several weeks ago there would be a full-scale debate in the U.N. Assembly, after it opens next week, it was a change from the American government's previous position. Until then Acheson had opposed U.N. debate on Korea on the grounds that it might interfere with the Panmunjom peace talks.

That ceased to be a reason against U.N. debate when for months it was clear the Panmunjom talks had become a farce.

The U.S. and Russia will slug it out in the U.N., as usual. Russia is sending over a high-powered delegation headed by its foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky.

This week Acheson still seemed hopeful that a truce in Korea could be worked out. He told a news conference: "We continue to believe that a humanitarian solu-

Britons Speculate Upon Explosion Of Second Atom Bomb

LONDON — Britons speculated today that their second atomic explosion may be set off in Australia within the next two months.

The wave of conjecture followed an announcement that Britain's three top atom men would fly to Australia in early November.

The three are W. G. Penney, scientific director of Britain's first atomic explosion Oct. 2 in the desolate Monte Bello Islands off Western Australia; Sir John Cockcroft, boss of Britain's Harwell atomic energy plant; and Gen. Sir Frederick Morgan, the nation's atomic energy controller.

Penney left Australia by air today to report to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the British Cabinet on the effects of the Oct. 2 explosion. He was flying in a special Royal Air Force plane.

The announcement said that Penney would return to Australia Nov. 5. He is scheduled to be followed by Cockcroft on Nov. 10 and Gen. Morgan the next day.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Supply, which supervises the nation's atomic program, said "no comment" when asked if Penney's return to Australia meant another atomic test in the offing.

condition and did not involve much work other than filling in dips and hollows. He expressed the opinion it is better to start work on streets in repair before wet surfaces do become in poor condition, and more work and more costs are involved in improving them.

Speaking of the possibility of extending resurfacing activities over the City, he stated, "It's not going to be too expensive, but then again, we don't have a lot in the budget either." At present, the matter of full-scale activities is only in the discussion stage.

Mr. Lennon is advocating the purchase by the City of a slag spreader and an oil distributor, to be used in maintaining and repairing all streets. He pointed out the City would save considerable amounts of labor, material and time through the use of this equipment, instead of using present methods which involve a lot of hand work.

In getting materials for street repairs, he disclosed, hand crushed and chip are purchased in carload lots, making for a considerable saving. He expressed the opinion that streets could be put in better condition a lot cheaper with City owned equipment and City labor than could be done through the services of an outside contractor.

Among items which will come up for discussion, Mr. Lennon said, will be complaints concerning garbage collection and the matter of dogs running at large in the City. Another item for possible discussion will be the purchasing of new equipment for all City projects, which is being proposed by the City Manager. He expressed the feeling that new equipment should be furnished, not only for street maintenance and repair, but for the collection of garbage, where new trucks are needed. Replacements should be made, he pointed out, where equipment is antiquated and too expensive to maintain.

The group life insurance program for City employees will be another matter of discussion. At present, the City has no group life insurance, but an individual company, rather than having the prior set-up in which the City furnished half the coverage for such insurance in its own independent insurance organization, while the remaining half of coverage was taken by a regular company, according to Mr. Lennon. He plans to give further information, including costs, on the matter at the meeting.

Whether a City park being used as a trailer park will continue to be used in such a capacity or will revert to its original purpose will be another point of discussion. Requests for better benches and additional street light also will be brought before the Commission.

Eisenhower

Our new administration plans to do it," he said.

Eisenhower departed from his prepared script to take a lick at a "ghost spokesman" for his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson.

"I have no ghostly spokesman," Eisenhower quipped "but when I have something to say to the American people I will say it myself."

Then he said he didn't have time to take notes of the innumerable irresponsible things that a frightened administration and opposition are trying to say.

And he added, "I know that we have been called a party of special privilege but I tell you, my friends, that of all the special privileges that are dangerous in this country, the most dangerous is the special privilege of big government."

He said the Democrats had issued "dime warnings" that a Republican administration would reduce, if not totally destroy, the federal social security program.

"Such talk is not only false," he said, "it is not only unwise, it is downright sinister. The only refuge of the desperately fearful administration in Washington is to deal in false charges."

Then he went on to attack so-called medicine while saying adequate medical care must be made accessible and brought within the means of all our people.

He said, "Our doctors will be among the first to admit that at present too many of our people live too far from adequate medical aid, that too many of our people find the cost of adequate medical care too heavy."

"Federal compulsion, with our health supervised under a Washington microscope, is not American and it is not the answer."

Cadillac

Says Wonderful Things About You!

The instant your beautiful Cadillac points its crest into view, it begins to say wonderful things about you. It says, almost as plainly as if the words were written out, that you are a person of achievement in your own world of affairs.

It talks of your good judgment and your splendid taste—and indicates your sense of responsibility for those who ride with you as passengers, or drive beside you in the traffic lanes.

It speaks of your family and home and your way of life—and, in general, paves the way for the respect of those you encounter as you sit at its wheel.

This is true because those who own Cadillacs form a virtual "Who's Who" of America's highways. In almost every community in the country, it is obvious that Cadillac is the favored car of the leading people.

The reason for this, of course, is found in the history of the car itself.

For fifty years, it has been the unwavering purpose to make Cadillac as fine a car as it is practical to produce. Goodness has always been the watchword—craftsmanship has always been the creed.

As a result, Cadillac has long been known and accepted as—"The Standard of the World." And, inevitably, people who want and seek the finest have turned to Cadillac.

That's why the man who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac is an accepted member of the most distinguished motoring family to be found anywhere.

If you are ready for membership in this incomparable group, better come in and see us soon. We'd be happy to welcome you at any time.

Feds Favored Over Tavares In Kiwanis Game Tonight

Seminole Are Six-Point Favorites To Win Children's Benefit Contest

By KENT CHELAIN
Seminole High School's gridiron warriors will enter the Memorial Stadium for the first time in the year 6-point favorites over the Tavares Bulldogs tonight in the annual Kiwanis "Under-Privilege Children's Benefit" game. The Feders will upset Tavares twice in beating Eastis 6-0 to open the season and last week they defeated Jacksonville 6-0.

All proceeds from this evening's fray over and above the initial expenses will be given to the Kiwanis Club for their worthy children's fund.

Sanford's opponent, the Bulldogs from Tavares, opened their season in fine style by whitewashing Lyman 20-0, but the succeeding two weeks they ran into a lone wall. Titusville first took the wind out of their sails with a stunning 21-0 victory and the perennial Central Florida Conference power Mount Dora, rolled over the Bulldogs, 39-0, the following week.

Coaches Bill Fleming and Fred Gunn are expected in field almost the same team they have all season long, with the exception of the ends. Jimmy Krider, who started last week's game, will be at one flank position while Billworth Sheffield, tank pass receiving flash, will get his first crack at the right end.

Respectable Calvin Wright, who has been starting at the right flank position, has been shifted back to the defensive play to make room for Sheffield.

Fleming, who personally is in charge of the backfield, will probably go with his senior quartet of Ray Davis, Junior Metts, Ed Lockett and either Joe Hutchinson or blocking back O. Touhton.

Veteran Joe Pickens and husky John Carter will be at the tackle, Bubba Hibree and Ross Hannam, two juniors who have been making good in the forward wall, at guard, with Terry Cordell calling the signals and commanding the center position.

Weather permitting, the Kiwanis Club will be trying to establish an all-time football attendance record in Sanford this evening. The Seminoles have averaged 1,326 per game so far in two titles. The estimated record of 2,400 was set during the war when Ocala played Sanford.

A crowd of 1,400 would push the total attendance for this season over the 5,000 mark.

Feds May Set New Gate Record Playing In Memorial Stadium

3,398 See First 2 Contests; Morris Predicts Larger Football Crowds

By KENT CHELAIN
Seminole High School Principal Herman E. Morris today voiced the prediction that the Celery Feders would establish a new attendance record in the Memorial Stadium this year. Not only did he forecast a new gate mark, but he went on the limb to say the high school would make money on the operation of the football team for the first time in 10 years.

In the first two games the Feders have drawn 3,398 total attendance with 2,807 being paid admissions for an average of 1,693 total and 1,303.5 paid. Here are the figures broken down for the two contests.

Game	Total	Total
Eastis	1,719	1,650
Leesburg	1,308	1,738
Totals	2,997	3,398

There are four more home games remaining in the season, he said. All the not-so-fancy of tonight's game will, however, go to the club's Under-Privilege Children's Fund.

Morris, in his pessimistic mood, went on record as believing the homecoming game with DeLand played here on Thanksgiving, Nov. 26, will be a sellout.

"I don't think there would be a seat available for that game," he predicted. "It's a national title game and DeLand are still a leading contender for the state title." He said the team would play the homecoming game last Wednesday. They will seek revenge on the suddenly scarce here that winds up the season.

"Then, too, you also remember that the East Florida Conference inaugurated a new playoff system for the winners of north and south sections of the league. Last year, if this had been in force, we would have played the winners of the northern half, since we have the best record in the south among Sebring, DeLand and New Smyrna."

At this point he reminded us that Sanford has never had a championship since the early '30s. "Now if we are in the thick of that battle for the southern half of the EFC play-off berth, then you will see an even better crowd, Morris continues.

"This year's first two games have been near record crowds, but not record breakers. During the last war, when we had five games, either at the Ocala game drew 1,500 paid and added 500 more including children under 10, the hands and pen clubs.

"I will say this much for this season," Morris added, "We have never had such consistently large crowds over the years. It used to be that we would have one or two big games, either at the Ocala game drew 1,500 paid and added 500 more including children under 10, the hands and pen clubs."

Campanella Might Become 1st Negro Big League Coach

By JOE HECHLER
BROOKLYN — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's popular catching star, may become the first Negro coach in major league baseball when his playing days are over.

Walter F. O'Malley, owner of the Dodgers, disclosed today he and the club's star catcher had discussed the idea at some length and that he was all in favor of employing Campanella as a Dodger coach "in a few years."

"I don't see why Roy can't turn to coaching when his playing days are over," the executive said. "He's intelligent, level-headed, well-liked by both players and fans, and I think he'd make a fine teacher."

O'Malley added that he believes the color angle is a thing of the past in baseball. Roy and Jackie Robinson and the rest have taken care of that by their wonderful compartment. They've been a credit to the game and not even the severest critics could point a finger at their behavior.

"The only stipulation I made to Roy was this: I think he must take care of himself. By that I mean he must watch his weight. He has a tendency to put on a lot of poundage during the off-season. I want him to set an example to the others. Before he learns to handle himself, he's got to be able to handle himself. The weight problem is the only obstacle to his chances of remaining in the Dodger organization for years to come."

O'Malley said he believed the 31-year-old Campanella could continue as a top-ranking star for five more years provided he took care of himself. He regards Roy as the best catcher and one of the greatest clutch hitters in baseball.

Campanella corroborated O'Malley's disclosure. The 5-foot 9-inch catcher, who left today for a barnstorming trip through the South, said he would not be at all surprised if he were named as a top-ranking star for five more years provided he took care of himself. He regards Roy as the best catcher and one of the greatest clutch hitters in baseball.

O'Malley has offered me a great opportunity, he said cheerfully, and you can bet I'm not going to let it go. He's worried about my weight, but he needn't worry about me now. That's my best playing weight. I promise never to go beyond that."

FAU SLATE — (Special) — Florida State University plays a 15-game grid schedule this fall, the only school of the league were on the A1 slate: Tampa, Sebring, and Wadega.

The Washington Senators top last season's home attendance record by 4,000 when they drew 52,500 fans to Griffith Stadium.

The Lake Monroe locomotive, Junior Metts, who was last week's Celery Fed in the Leesburg 6-0 tie, is currently the team leader in punting, passing and rushing. He has gained 110 yards on the ground in an impressive 5-yard average per try. Metts has also piled up 335 yards via his excellent passing arm. Among the most notable achievements, however, has been his punting record. The power-packed senior halfback has kicked eight times for 267 yards and a lofty 32.4 yard average.

NBA Reveals U. S. Boxers Hold Only Four World Titles

NEW YORK — Meet some of the football players you will see on your TV screen Saturday when Texas A&M is the guest of Michigan State at East Lansing, Mich.

We will introduce you first to Johnny Wilson of Michigan State. His number is 45. He is 21 years old, 6-foot tall and weighs 195. His position is defensive halfback.

Off the football field Wilson is listed among the honor students in journalism and he also is president of the senior class which numbers 3,200. Michigan State is one of the larger brain factories with an enrollment of 13,000.

In fact, Wilson is such an all-around man on the campus that he is a candidate for Rhodes Scholar. Athletic and scholastic attainments are the main requirements for a Rhodes Scholarship, which entitles the winner to do graduate work at Oxford University.

Coach Biggie Munn says Wilson is "probably the surest tackling, quickest thinking defensive back we have." Today's football is a game of chess-at-high speed. Dullards only mess up the works.

Wilson, however, isn't the only scholar on the Michigan State team, currently tied for the second spot in the land.

Thirteen members of the squad are B students. Among these are Larry Hallmark (55), defensive guard, a pre-med student; Defensive end Ed Luke (33), who specializes in business administration; and Doug Weaver (34), who sets his high grades in literature and foreign languages.

Now for some of the Texas A&M giants.

Herb Scott (34), another defensive halfback, has a better than B average in mechanical engineering and Ed Luke (33), who specializes at the Texas school, which is patterned along the line of...

Heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano, His No. 1 challenger, Jersey Joe Walcott, followed by Rex Layne and Ezzard Charles.

The top eight heavyweights listed by the NBA are from the U. S. Not until you reach the name of Johnny Williams, who gets an "honorable mention" from the NBA, do you find a foreigner. He's from England.

The same situation prevails among the light heavies. Joey Staxius is the champ, with Archie Moore and Harry Matthews the logical contenders.

Again, the eight top men are from the U. S. This time it's Volante Pompey, from Trinidad, who finally breaks the monopoly.

But starting with the middleweights, and working down the weight scale, the situation changes rapidly.

Ray Robinson is the middleweight champion, but right behind him is the man who once beat him and briefly held his title, Randy Turpin of England.

Kid Gavilan of Cuba is the welterweight king. Lauro Galois of Mexico rules the lightweight, Vic Toweel of South Africa is champion of the bantamweight, and little Yankee Bobraz, Japan's first world boxing champion, tops the flyweights.

Sandy Saddlers breaks this hold the foreigners have on the light weights, being the featherweight champ. But the NBA rates his No. 1 challenger as Ray Fanechon of France.

That was no surprise in the ratings, unless someone is surprised by the astonishing durability of Walcott.

He has been beaten by Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles. And last month he was knocked out by Marciano, thereby losing his heavyweight title.

The NBA says he's still the best bet around to take on Marciano.

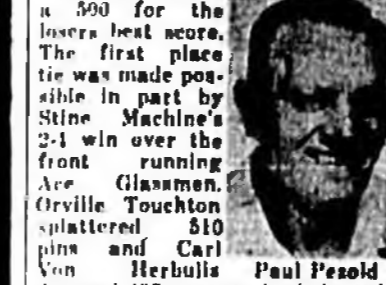

Lefty Gomez leads the distance runners, being the world record holder in World Series history, and Lefty won six games and lost seven.

Post Office Ties Ace Glassmen For City League Lead

A red-hot Post Office bowling team, paced by Bob Steele's 525 series, forged into a two-way tie for first place with Ace Glass by sweeping a three-game set from the Florida Power and Light in City League action last Wednesday night at the Sanford Bowling Alley.

Paul Penold, ace glassman, of the Post Office bowling team, is shown in action. He is currently leading the team in bowling.

Gray rolled a 300 for the losers' best score. The first place tie was made possible in part by Stine Machine's 2-1 win over the front running Ace Glassmen. Greenville Touchdown splattered 510 pins and Carl Von Herubils of Post Office dropped 405 to lead the Stine Machine's 2-1 win over the front running Ace Glassmen. Stanley-Hogers, the City loop's top scoring quintet, jumped into third place by flattening Celery City three straight sets. Paul Penold, aceless pro, raked up the top game for the losing glassmen.

LSU And Kentucky Clash In Battle Of Upset Winners

Associated Press Sports Writer — In a way, it's too bad Kentucky and Louisiana State match football power in Lexington Saturday.

Both teams were slow starters in the Southeastern Conference this season. Neither was able to win its first game.

New-barring a tie which nobody wants-one of them will see its comeback bid halted before it really gets rolling.

Campanella rates the game a toss-up. Each team has met three major teams and on the basis of points scored against them, their defenses rank about even. But Louisiana State has shown much more offensive drive on far, averaging more than 20 points a game. Kentucky's average is less than 10.

Louisiana State has added incentive to win because the Tigers have dropped their previous games with Kentucky. All things considered, give L. S. U. the nod in a close game.

Top game in the conference is the Maryland-Georgia battle in Alabama, closely followed by Tulane at Georgia Tech and Mississippi at Vanderbilt.

Maryland and Georgia are undefeated. The Terrapins are fourth-ranked nationally but Wally Butts, although his usual pessimistic self...

Junior "Triple Threat" Metts Is Seminoles' One-Man Offense

By KENT CHELAIN
Talmadge "Virgil" Junior" Metts, Seminole High School's rampaging triple-threat halfback, is setting a blazing gridiron precedent in three important offensive and defensive categories of running, passing and punting after the first two encounters of the season.

The Lake Monroe locomotive's piston spinning legs have churned up 110 yards in only 22 attempts from scrimmage for a lusty 5-yard average per play. If that wasn't quite enough the taciturn hustler has pitched 11 aeriolas completing 3 for a total of 33 more yards.

But probably the greatest single feat achieved by the power-packed Seminole back this year has been his unusual record of punting 267 yards on eight booms, most of which have been of the shorter, quick-kick variety or the confined out-of-bounds type. The result has been slightly less than sensational from any angle you look at it, for Metts has a lofty 32.4 average per punt.

Sanford has ever had an all-conference candidate, Metts is it. The one-man offensive paces the Seminole gridgers in every offensive department in the football record books. Only fullback Ray Davis, having scored one of the two Celery Fed touchdowns, is tied with Metts in the scoring column at six each.

Ray Davis, fullback, is shown punting the ball. He is currently tied with Metts in the scoring column.

Ed Lockett, the other senior spark-plug, is the only other back on the team that nearly approaches Metts in the ground gaining department. The husky little dynamo has rolled up 96 yards on 22 tries for a good 4.4 average.

Ray Davis, whose 61-yard interception was the highlight of his Eustis opening victory, stands third in rushing with a meager 25 yards in 10 carries for a 2.5 average. Davis' 91-yard, jet-like sprint doesn't count in the yardage gained on the rushing column, or he would have more than Metts.

While the rugged dark haired fullback hasn't proved to be another pile driving Ed Gordon of 1951, Ray has been a superb offensive back, particularly on passes. In just two games the Sanford opposition has attempted seven passes, completing zero and having four intercepted.

Davis has personally intercepted three of the four, and in so doing has earned the respect of enemy linemen. Leesburg quarterback Frank Oberholser finally gave up in the second quarter after chomping his second straight aeriolas in the waiting arms of Davis last Friday night.

While Sanford boasts of undefeated and one tied record this year, the Seminoles have been badly outclassed on the field and in...

Band And Pep Club To Perform Tonight

Seminole High School's Band and Pep Club will put on another interesting halftime spectacle at tonight's Kiwanis "Under-Privilege Children's Benefit" game between Tavares and Sanford at the Memorial Stadium. It was announced today by Sgt. Rosemary Garner.

The band will honor the Kiwanis Club by forming the letter "K" on the gridiron. "Stratford" will be written by Harold S. Walters, will be the theme music for marching Pep Club and Band. Various sections of the Band and Pep Club will be spotlighted during the 15-minute ceremonies.

First two games, but both surprised most folks with upset victories last week over Southwest Conference foes.

City Grosses $253,535 And Nets $209,555 For Initial Two Gridiron Battles

In the first two football games at the Memorial Stadium this year, played by Seminole High School, the City of Sanford grossed $253,535 and netted $209,555. The City tax and light bills paid by the high school, it was revealed today by Roger Harris, Seminole High business manager.

Receipts from the 18-cent tax on 81 tickets and 5-cent levy on 50-cent student and children admissions for the initial two contests amounted to $203.35 on 2,807 paid tickets.

While the paid attendance for the first two games is 3,398, the total 3,998 have attended 6 games because 791 have been admitted free. No tax is charged for free admissions.

Most of the free admissions have been members of bands, pep clubs, concession workers, and children under 10.

Besides the regular City tax, Seminole High School has paid $50 for the costs of the light, $25 per night. Combining the $50 light tax revenue with the $50 light tax, the City has received $253.55 for each game.

The figures for each game appear as follows:
Game Pd. Total Tax Light City Tax
Leesburg 1,219 $24.96 $25 $119.00
Leesburg 1,388 $108.56 $25 $133.53
Total 2,607 $203.52 $50 $253.55

These figures do not include the Croombs-New Smyrna Beach game that was played in the Memorial Stadium on the night of Sept. 27. The official paid statistics were not available at this writing for the Croombs game.

Professor Croombs told the Herald two weeks ago that approximately 600 witnessed the New Smyrna contest. At the same time, he stated that the Seminole High games, Croombs may have given the City about $50 on tax collections alone, not counting the $25 light fee.

If Seminole High School maintains its present pace of slightly over $100 per game, the City will net over $600 for this season's home games. In addition the City will receive $150 for the cost of Croombs, a projected total of $750 from the Seminole games for this season.

Frenzied Reds Try To Blast Allied Lines

Fanatical Soldiers, With Torpedoes And Satchel Charges, Disregard Lives

SEOUL—Frenzied Chinese subject troops with demolition charges tried to blow a hole in the Allied defenses on White Horse Mountain Monday night. South Korean gunners mowed them down short of their target.

A front line Allied officer said about half a dozen fanatical Reds with satchel charges and Bangalore torpedoes charged up the north slope in complete disregard of their own lives.

They fell with their charges unexploded. At the same time two Chinese platoons jumped off in a futile attack. The South Koreans drove them back, then launched an assault of their own. At last report they were pushing up the slope of one of three knobs the Reds captured earlier in the day.

As the savage battle for White Horse entered its eighth day the South Koreans were in firm control of the commanding crest.

The "Stay! Fight!" troops of the Republic of Korea Ninth Division prepared bunkers and threw up entrenchments in confident anticipation of renewed Chinese assaults. A front line officer said the ROK positions were in better shape than they had been since the big battle started almost a week ago.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, predicted the savage fighting for the vital high ground commanding the sprawling Chorwon valley may taper off.

Van Fleet told AP correspondent Milo Farnell the Chorwon area has been a sensitive part of the front "but I don't think it will be any longer."

Generally estimates from the ROK Ninth Division indicate the Reds have lost more than 10,000 killed or wounded. Elements of three Chinese divisions have been used in the bitter struggle.

Van Fleet praised the South Korean troops and said they had done "a beautiful job" against "the best" Chinese army on the front.

And he lauded Maj. Gen. Kim Chong Oh for "a fine job as any divisional commander" have ever seen. Van Fleet made his comments at a divisional command outpost while touring the western front.

The fighting on and around White Horse was still the main action along the 135-mile battle front. Only patrol clashes were reported elsewhere.

The air war kept pace with ground fighting. The Far East Air Force said U. N. warplanes flew 142 sorties in victory rounds over the clock operations Sunday. This is the second highest 24-hour total of the Korean War.

Complaints Voiced Over Hotrod Drivers

Several complaints have been voiced concerning the fanner in which some young drivers "hot rod their cars" in the community, according to J. Q. Galloway, constable.

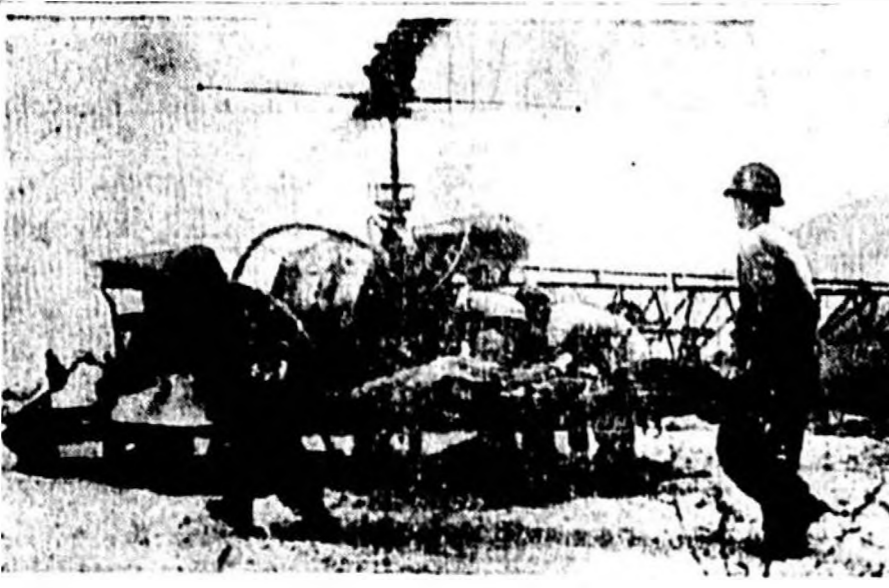

He issued a warning reminder today to "teen-aged drivers that their parents are responsible for their actions while they are driving under restricted licenses. He pointed out that drivers have failed to observe speed zones and others have been driving after dark, an infraction of the regulations.

Galloway said he has warned several youthful drivers but has not made any arrests. However, he pointed out, traffic violations have been committed by "hot rod" drivers, too. "We don't have any mercy on them—we give them tickets."

According to Highway Patrolman R. D. Harrison, most of the fault of reckless driving on the open roads in the county falls to adults. "The hottest rods I've seen out on the highway are driven by the older people," he brought out.

He said there has been a certain amount of "excessive speed all over the county," he said, that "odd thing" about it, the "teen-agers were not responsible for the most part."

Evacuating Wounded From 'White Horse' Peak

SEVERELY WOUNDED UNITED NATIONS SOLDIERS are taken to a helicopter near "White Horse" Mountain, a high Central Korean front, for removal to a rear-line medical treatment center. South Korean infantrymen wrestled complete control of the strategic peak from Chinese Communists. The embattled hill has changed hands more than 20 times in four days. (U. S. Defense Dept. ## Todd Statement On Road Closing Denied By Evans

Two Other Lake Mary Citizens Voice Opinions In Controversy

Three prominent Lake Mary residents today denied in a letter to Wallace M. Todd, whose letter regarding the closing of Palminto Avenue in Lake Mary appeared in last Thursday's Herald, and denied in the main his statements. Frank Evans, one of the three, also rebuked Mr. Todd's statement with reference to improper parties on the beach.

Others who also replied to Mr. Todd's letter were Mrs. James Cowan who lives on Palminto Avenue and Lloyd Leadman, also of Lake Mary.

Mrs. Cowan stated that the beach is right in front of her home and that in the last years she has lived there, the only people who have used Palminto Avenue were the people living in that neighborhood, who go swimming, or have their parties. One church has used this location for Baptisms. Mrs. Cowan said she has never seen one thing that she could complain about.

"Referring to the letter in the Herald, dated Oct. 9, by Mr. Todd denying that he had closed Palminto Avenue," Mr. Evans wrote, "as chairman of the Citizens Committee of Lake Mary, wish to deny his statement. Sometime ago Todd placed a log across Palminto Avenue, about 100 feet south of Sanford Avenue. This morning, Oct. 13, the log is still there, but it has been moved down toward the lake, about 100 feet from Sanford Avenue, still blocking Palminto Avenue.

"The Citizens Committee, an unimpeachable authority, has learned that the water extending into the lake on a dedicated road belongs to the public. The beach, at the water end of Palminto Avenue (Continued on Page 2)
