EFFORT TO GET SECOND REPORT PROVES FUTILE

Reporter Stalls Herald Reporters Who Ask Information About Disposition Of Bonds Trustee Declares He Is "Too Busy"

Reporter Makes Five Trips To Key And Is Told To Come Back

Repeated efforts of The Sanford Herald to secure from the city bond trustees a statement relative to certain phases of Sanford's financial condition with reference to the receipt and expenditure of bond moneys, resulted in failure this morning after a fifth request had been made of E. J. Key, secretary of the trustees.

The Herald attempts to obtain comprehensive statement for the benefit of Sanford citizens have been made for two days and in each instance the request has been refused by Mr. Key with the excuse that he had been so busy that he had been unable to get to the office.

When first approached, Mr. Key stated that he would try to get the figures compiled in two hours. Tuesday afternoon he again stated "that he had been so busy that he had been unable to get to the office."

Following are the questions asked of the bond trustees:

1. How much bond money is on deposit?
2. In what banks and how much in each?
3. What security do the banks offer?
4. What rate of interest do the bond funds bear?
5. What bond moneys are on hand?
6. Where is the swimming pool money?
7. What disposition was made of $100,000 hospital money?
8. What was done with the bond money recently raised in New York?
9. Why?
10. Who are the bond trustees?
11. What position does Mr. Key hold with reference to the trustees?

DeCottes, prominent Sanford attorney and one of the leading opponents of the proposed St. Johns River canal, reiterates his stand against the waterway and raises several issues in connection with the proposed bill which will be decided at the polls on Aug. 16.

A question which heretofore has not been raised, is contained in Mr. DeCottes' statement when the attorney makes the assertion that by virtue of certain provisions in the canal bill, the policies of the Canal Board will always be dictated by Brevard county because it has three members on the commission and Seminole County has only two.

"On the 16th day of August the citizens of Seminole and Brevard Counties, who are qualified voters, will be called upon to vote on the issuance of bonds by the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District consisting of One Million Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($1,250,000.00) Dollars, the proceeds of said bonds, if authorized by a vote of the people, to be used to promote the maritime shipping and commercial interests of the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District."

DANN RESIGNS FROM 'GLADES' 'YES' BOARD

Purpose Of Citizens Everglades Committee To "Sweepingly" Endorse Martin Plan

Appreciates Honor Of Appointment

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., July 27.—(INS)—Herman A. Dann, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and one of the leaders of the group opposed to the administration Everglades drainage policies, recently appointed to membership on "The Citizens Everglades Committee" or "Yes" Board.

"I appreciate the honor of being asked to serve with the other excellent gentlemen on this committee, but I cannot consistently serve."

"No new information developed out of the Baltimore conference. There was nothing disclosed there that I did not already know. No argument was advanced which caused me to withdraw from my bill and its entanglements. I do not believe in the administrative original position of opposition to the 'solution' of the Everglades problem, in fact I am unalterably opposed to it."

"I expect to continue to work for Florida's best interests as I see them and I feel that membership on this committee would restrict my freedom of expression and my freedom of action."

"I am sure you will appreciate my position and relieve me of further duty."

Tarpons Win Second Straight Game From The Celerymen, 3-0

Brower Yields Champs Only Three Safeties And Shuts Them Out By Score Of 3 To 0

Feds Unable To Hit In Pinches

Sanford Has Men On Third In 3 Frames But Cannot Score

SARASOTA, Fla., July 26.—(Special To The Herald)—Sanford passed up the few opportunities presented to them here in the second game and as a result Sarasota made it two victories in a row over the Champions as Brower let the Feds down with three hits. The score was 3-0.

Along with this the sensational playing of centerfielder Manush and the hitting of Maloney, one time Tarpon and later with Miami seemed to be united in causing the visitors another defeat. The Feds looked good for at least one run in the second inning when Crowe first up reached second on an error and stole third.

Then Meyer popped up for the first out. Dunbar hit one on the line to center and Manush coming in fast, made a great catch and his throw to the plate caught Crowe by inches. In the third the visitors started off again when Bailey opened with a double, he went to third on an error, but was stranded.

In the seventh Allen was safe at first on a boot to start things but he was out stealing. The final opportunity came in the ninth when Beazley singled with two down and reached second on a passed ball. He died on third. The Tarpons collected but six hits, five off McClannahan and one off Withrow, but they came in the pinches.

Two singles and a sacrifice gave them one run in the second. In the sixth Meyers' error, a walk and a sacrifice sent one more across, while in the eighth a walk, followed by two infield outs and a single chalked up the third. Close decisions throughout the contest caused Manager Crowe and Buske to do much arguing. Pug Allen's drive to deep center looked good for three or possibly four sacks but Manush made a one hand stab to pull the ball down.

N. Y. INDIFFERENT AS OTHER CITIES BID FOR BIG BOUT

Tex Rickard Will Receive Delegation Today From Quaker City And Will Confer With Chicago Committee Friday

NEW YORK, July 25.—(INS)—While New York stands by in an attitude of official indifference, Philadelphia and Chicago bids for the Tunney-Dempsey heavyweight championship bout are being pressed on Tex Rickard, the well known occupant of the golden seat.

Today Tex will receive a delegation from Philadelphia and listen to a proposition to stage the Centennial spectacle in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium.

Next Thursday or Friday Rickard will leave for Chicago to confer with members of the mayor's committee of business men which is working to book the fight for the soldiers memorial stadium. George F. Getz, chairman of this committee, urged Tex by wire yesterday to make an appointment in Chicago at the end of this week.

Meanwhile Rickard will not commit himself to any policy insofar as the New York situation is concerned. Having widened the field of promotion endeavor by establishing himself successfully in Philadelphia last fall, and with Chicago offer to consider he is in a position to ignore arbitrary rulings of the New York Boxing Commission.

Tex made it plain yesterday that he would not go before the commission today to ask for any price revision. He is in the spot to make the commission come to him if an effort is to be made to keep the big fight here. The pronouncement of Secretary of State Moses received wide publicity yesterday. Possibly Moses, through George E. Brower of the commission, may move to abolish price fixing in New York.

Only by inference yesterday did Rickard drop hints that New York was out of the running. His talks in the Philadelphia and Chicago stadiums.

"It isn't a question of ringside seat prices," he declared. "What I need for this fight is a place big enough to accommodate a much bigger crowd than we can get into the Yankee Stadium. Where the crowd's bulk is so great the average seat will cost less."

"More people are interested in a second Tunney-Dempsey fight than the first one. They drew 120,000 last year and I have no doubt that they will play to 150,000 next fall if I can accommodate that many."

"These stadiums with their steep banks of seats are ideal for fight crowds. The field can be banked so that every ringsider gets a clear view of the pit down in the center. It was that way in Philadelphia. Ball parks are different. The field seats cannot be banked because that obstructs the view of those off in the lower part of the stands."

Ace Hudkins Beats Sergeant Baker To Avenge N.Y. Defeat

WRIGLEY FIELD, Los Angeles, July 26.—(INS)—Ace Hudkins got his revenge over Sergeant Sammy Baker, who stopped him in New York several weeks ago, by winning a decision in their 10-round last night.

Three times during the bout the Nebraska wildcat had the non-com on the floor. Baker went down for a count of seven at the end of the fourth round.

It looked like the end, but Baker was saved by the bell. He had to be carried to his corner.

Baker was in difficulties with Hudkins' sledge hammer body attack. Hudkins had an edge in six rounds, Baker getting the advantage in the sixth and seventh and the first and eighth being termed even.

The welterweight battle was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed here. There was plenty of action from start to finish by Steve Neyland, of San Jose was a popular one.

Baker was almost ready to go down under Hudkins' body attack toward the end of the last round but came back to carry the fighting at the finish.

He was ineffectually trying for a knockout, Hudkins taking the round. Hudkins' had eye was bleeding at the end of the ninth.

Tagging All Bases

By International News

The Pittsburgh Pirates are in second place today because they are unable to beat Larry Benton, who was obtained by the Giants from the Braves, principally because he is supposed to have the Indian sign on the Bugs. Benton performed his specialty yesterday, whitewashing the corsairs 1 to 0 with the aid of a homer by Andy Reese.

The Cubs who were idle, received first place while the Cardinals edged wide open and lost two to the Reds, 3 to 2 and 3 to 3. May not be the best of the two pitchers' best. The Red Sox won eight of their last nine starts.

Boston's Red Sox who have been winning nearly half of their games in the last two weeks, plastered Cleveland 10 to 7.

A homer by Johnny Dykes in the thirteenth enabled the Athletics to nose out Detroit, 6 to 5. Al Simmons, the league's leading hitter, is injured and will not be able to play for three weeks.

The Athletics have released Joe Pate, veteran southpaw and relief twirler, to Fort Worth of the Texas League, and have re-instated pitcher Howard Ehmke.

Pitcher Tony Kaufman, who acquired a permanent grouch when traded by the Cubs to the Phillies, and who has failed to win for his new club in five starts, has been suspended indefinitely.

The western teams of the National League won 41 and lost 26 games on their eastern tour just completed. Cincinnati made the best record, winning 11 games and losing four.

The eastern clubs of the American League won 41 and lost 29 in the west. The Yankees led with 13 victories and five defeats, while Washington won 13 and lost 6.

ATLANTA, July 26.—(INS)—New Orleans moved into first place in the Southern League penultimate race when they copped both games of a double-header from Little Rock 7 to 6 and 6 to 1.

Birmingham slipped back into second place, despite the fact they defeated Chattanooga by the overwhelming score of 13 to 3. The Pels now lead the Barons by four points.

Memphis overcame a six run lead piled up by Mobile in the first inning and won 10 to 1.

Atlanta came to life with a bang when they walloped Nashville, 13 to 7, making it two straight over the wols.

Ten thousand girl members of the Girls' Life Brigade recently held a three days' festival at London in celebration of the twenty-sixth anniversary of the organization. NOSE POWDERING BARRED Powdering of noses has been barred by many factories where large numbers of girls are employed. The move is to reduce waste of time. In one factory it was noticed that one girl stopped working 15 times a day to powder and beautify nose. The average girl, it has been calculated, powders her nose five times an hour, taking two minutes for each operation. When one hundred girls are employed on a special task, the loss of time is very costly, say experts. Some employes balk at the efficiency saying the experts forget the psychology, and that comes to getting out work, as an with a well powdered nose worth two that are overhauled have shiny noses.

"David Belasco's advice impressed me"

Walter J. Leather is telling Joyce Todd as they start for an all-day motor jaunt through the Berkshires.

David Belasco, dean of the American Theatre, writes:

"The voice is to the actor what the chisel is to the sculptor. He must beware of dulling its qualities. Naturally I am vitally concerned about the voices of my players, so I always advise the one cigarette that I discovered many years ago that does not impair control of the subtlest vocal shadings or cause huskiness or harshness. I mean the 'Lucky Strike.' It is the player's best friend."

David Belasco.

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Go to the City Hall tonight and hear Colonel Youngberg's side of the canal.

Now, all you've got to do to be able to vote is to be sure your poll tax is paid.

We expect that old Sid Catts was thoroughly delighted with Jack Dempsey's noble comeback.

Now that wives can go to Cuba without their husband's written consent, we presume there will be a veritable exodus to the island republic.

More people have registered for the charter amendment election than for any previous election in the history of Sanford. They seem to be interested.

Under the caption, "Florida Politics," the Times-Union reprints two paragraphs from the Tampa Times and The Sanford Herald relative to a statement of Congressman Joe Sears to the effect that Floridians should "forget the boom." The question is, what is the connection between the boom and politics? —Florida State News. Do you really want to know? Well, watch The Herald.

Through good times and hard times, the newspapers of Florida are doing full justice to those communities which they serve. An editor has the privilege each day of keeping in intimate touch with what is going on in every corner of the state through his long list of exchanges and daily association, though the columns of the newspapers, with those men who are doing such good work for Florida causes us to remark that this state is fortunate in having such a loyal bunch of scribes extolling its virtues.—Ocala Star.

Get The Facts

Tonight in the Court House a meeting will be held to discuss various phases of the proposed canal joining the upper St. Johns River to Indian River.

Friday night in the Court House another meeting will be held in the interest of the proposed charter amendments. Public speakers will inform the citizens of certain facts regarding the present administration.

The Herald has always been in favor of the principle of five commissioners. For years we advertised the fact in our platform. We knew with five commissioners the people would secure better and more thorough representation upon which our government has always been based.

But as times grew hard, and the City's financial condition became impaired, we felt that additional impetus to a movement to effect a change under existing circumstances might prove more disastrous than beneficial.

However, since that time certain facts in regard to the City administration have been brought to our attention which lead us to believe that only by prompt and stringent action can the City be saved.

There are facts which the people should know before they cast their votes in the coming elections. Income tax figures for 1925, recently made public by the bureau of internal revenue, present some interesting facts for Americans to peruse and consider with some degree of pride.

Make Good Investments

Income tax figures for 1925, recently made public by the bureau of internal revenue, present some interesting facts for Americans to peruse and consider with some degree of pride. During that particular twelve-month period more than nine thousand persons were added to the number of millionaire incomes, making a total of 30,295 persons in the United States who receive incomes of $50,000 or more.

The tax returns in 1926 on 1925 incomes show four newcomers into that select circle whose members boast incomes of five million dollars or more each. The ultra-exclusive group was thereby increased to seven. Million-year incomes for the 1925 period multiplied rapidly, increasing from seventy-four in 1924 to two hundred and seven in 1925.

Big incomes have come from three sources, the bureau officials say. First, there has been a great increase in the number of high salaried men; second, big property and security holdings were sold at peak prices and third, wise investments have yielded fabulous returns.

Those of us who have not been so fortunate as to be included in the millionaire class, nevertheless may secure a bit of wise counsel from these figures. If you have any surplus money now or at any other time, the wisest thing to do is to invest it, but invest it in something that is good.

JUST HOW MUCH George Bernard Shaw knows about prize-fighting is uncertain but he generally has something interesting to say about the big fights. Discussing the contention that these fights are brutal and inhumane, Mr. Shaw says, "The knock-out, for which all pugilists strive nowadays, far from being painful is the most perfect known anesthetic and leaves none of the unpleasant after-effects as chloroform."

BREAKFAST, DINNER-SUPPER CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Is the New England supper on the verge of disappearance? We doubt it very much. Though substitution of dinner for supper has been gradually developing in the past quarter of a century, supper still persists in old New England families both in name and character.

In the old days in all New England there were three meals on week days and two on Sundays. Approximately breakfast came at 6 a. m., dinner at noon and supper at 6 p. m. On Sunday breakfast was served—no, no breakfast was "ready"—at about 8 o'clock and dinner at almost any time between 2 and 4 p. m. If the children started "fussing" along about bedtime they stood a fairly good chance of getting a cookie, a doughnut, or a cracker.

There are probably a great many of today's New Englanders who speak of dinner with a mental reservation that "it's supper just the same" and no amount of revision of the customs of their forefathers ever will make "supper time" anything else but "supper time" even though dinner may be served.

Marriage and Divorce $1,000,000 a Day The Average Farmer The Power of Terror By ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

TOO MANY NOISY marriages, too many quiet divorces, says the Rev. Dr. Stetson, rector of New York's Trinity church, that looks from Broadway down Wall Street to a convenient dock on the east river.

DR. STETSON FEARS that we may imitate Soviet Russia, where divorce is granted without question, and that our government will some day make polygamy legal. He also deprecates the power of sex appeal.

SCIENTISTS, ON THE other hand, say the one danger threatening the human race is the possible dying out of that same sex appeal, in which case there would be no more children, and the race would fade away.

What power was it, or what appeal, that in Dr. Stetson's opinion brought about the marriage of Adam and Eve long ago?

CHANGE FROM one type of car to another, with no cars selling in the meanwhile is said to cost Henry Ford $1,000,000 a day. Meanwhile General Motors is selling more than 100,000 Chevrolets a month.

Fortunately for him, Henry Ford can afford to lose $1,000,000 a day for a while, as he always keeps about $100,000,000 cash in the bank. There will be a big and interesting fight in automobiles when the new Ford car is revealed.

HOW WOULD you like to be the average American farmer. His farm is 45 acres. His investment $16,308. His average net return for 1926 was $1133.

He could make more than that driving a street car, getting regular sleep, not worrying about the weather, lame horses, sick cows, rust on wheat, bugs on potatoes, blight in the orchards, etc.

THE BRITISH General Reginald E. H. Dyer, just dead, put down the famous Amritsar rebellion in the Punjab.

General Dyer crowded his men to fire without warning into a threatening mob in India, and continued the firing until 379 were killed and 1233 wounded.

GENERAL DYER was forced to retire from the army, but fund of $130,000 was presented to him by British admirers. He had announced his intention "to strike terror into the whole of the Punjab," and he did it with only 50 men.

THE BRITISH practice and approve of drastic measures when they seem unnecessary. One Black Hole of Calcutta was enough.

IN WASHINGTON Mrs. Fader spanked her 3-year-old son, Bruce because he would climb the White House iron fence. During the spanking her $3000 diamond bracelet flew off and was lost. Bruce saw the bracelet in the air but busy with his spanking said nothing. Whipping children causes greater loss than that of any bracelet when it destroys the child's affection and respect for parents.

ANOTHER AMERICAN, Lieut. C. C. Champion, of the navy, sets another flying mark. He is believed to have broken the world's altitude record.

He fought a temperature of 90 degrees below zero and his plane caught fire. An ambulance rushed to meet him, found him grinning instead of dead as was expected.

OUR ATMOSPHERE is 500 miles high or deep, so thin at the top that a feather would not float in it. How high up will men go? Will there be astronomers looking through thinner air at the universe outside of us?

Lieutenant Champion's estimated altitude of 47,000 feet is questioned. He says he will go up again and higher.

THE ARMY IS testing new "anti-aircraft" devices, which include machine guns, cannon and locaters, to tell which way the enemy planes are coming. This is all interesting, but what the country would need in case of war and attack by enemy planes would be swift pursuit planes to go up and get the enemy. A rabbit fighting an eagle from the ground is a sad sight.

Miss Hoyne Is Hostess To Sandspur Members On Tuesday Evening

Members of the Sandspur Bridge Club and a few extra guests were most delightfully entertained Tuesday evening as the guests of Miss Ruby Hoyne at her home on Park Avenue.

Red and green were the colors featured in the decorations and other details of this pretty party. Numerous bowls of deep red zinnias combined with apricot and purple flowers were placed about the room where the tables had been arranged for play, with artistic effect.

The evening hours passed quickly with the games of bridge, scores for which were kept on tallies done in Japanese designs. After the stated number of rounds had been played, the prize for highest score, a bottle of Houligans' bath salts, was won by Miss Margaret Zachary.

For failing to score her points and honors, Mrs. Earle E. Jones was consoling with a quaint novelty powder puff. The cut price, a box of Cara, Nome powder, went to Miss Frances Dutton.

Red candies were placed on the card tables and enjoyed during the progress of the game and after the prizes had been awarded. Miss Hoyne served peach short cake topped with whipped cream and silver moon punch.

Those enjoying the cordial hospitality of Miss Hoyne were: Miss Margaret Zachary, Miss Frances Dutton, Miss Sara Warren Easterly, Miss Fern Ward, Miss Noelle Williams, Mrs. Earle E. Jones, Mrs. Ralph Stevens and Miss Marcia Patterson.

Many shippers employ uniformed negro chauffeurs to drive their cargoes through the customs zone, often with some well dressed elderly person in the rear seat to suggest a touring party to the border patrol.

"Sometimes these outfits look so dignified and proper we hate to stop them," a United States customs agent explained. Car seizures do not drive the runners from the trade. Twice a year the confiscated cars are sold at public auction in Malone and Ogdensburg. Generally they bring about half their market value. One car has been confiscated and resold five times in the last two years.

Confiscated liquors for the Rousses Point district were stored in the basement of the postoffice here until reported robberies forced the authorities to find more secure storage facilities in bank vaults. The stocks are held until prohibition headquarters in Washington assigns them to federal and state hospitals throughout the country. Canadian border seizures supply medicinal liquors for 27 government institutions in the northeast quarter of the country.

NEW ISSUE ON CANAL RAISED BY DECOTTES

"Under the terms of the Act creating the navigation district, the balance of power remains at ways and forever in Brevard County, at no time, will have other than a minority voice in the administration of the affairs of the navigation district.

"It is proposed by the Commissioners of the navigation district to improve the St. Johns River from Sanford south to Lake Pointsett is to promote maritime shipping and commercial interest" on the St. Johns River from Sanford south to Lake Pointsett. There are no towns of any kind to be found. Therefore, it necessarily follows that the improvement of the St. Johns River south of Sanford will serve no useful purpose whatsoever. If the improvement of this waterway is made, the result will be the increase of the public debt, and the placing of an additional burden upon taxpayers without any resulting benefit."

WIFE EVADES KIDNAPER

Efforts are being made in India to stop the abduction of Hindu wives by Mohammedans in the religious war between the two sects. Recently the nineteen-year old wife of Nabil Channa Nath of Kalkkuta, Bombay, thwarted an attempt to kidnap her while her husband was away from home. While she and her two children were staying with her mother-in-law, she was told by Hassanali Jovias, described as a "good natured Mohammedan," of a plot to steal her and marry her to a Mohammedan. The woman hid in a neighbor's home, just before the Mohammedans raided her home. They set fire to a hay stack as revenge, then followed her to her hiding place, but she escaped and secreted herself in the home of a leading citizen of the village, who routed the pursuers and kept guard over her until her husband returned.

PRESIDENT MAY GIVE SUPPORT TO HERBERT HOOVER

Senator Moses Revives Question Of Whether Mr. Coolidge Should Run For Fear Of Possible Effect Upon His Party

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican party committee charged with electing Republican Senators, on his return from a three-months trip through the country, gave an interview to Frederic William Wile in "The Washington Star" about the Republican Presidential situation. Senator Moses, with an air of rather unwillingly accepting the probable, said that President Coolidge could have another nomination if he wanted it and that if nominated he would be elected. Senator Moses personal view about the desirability of Mr. Coolidge taking another nomination was suggested by the judgment he expressed that the disadvantage of another term for Mr. Coolidge might appear, not in the election, but subsequently.

The result might be, he said "a sullenly accepted Administration after March 4, 1929, which could bode no good either to its head or to the Republican party or to the country."

Retirement Rumor Revived In Senator Moses's interview there is an atmosphere which is strengthened from other quarters and amounts to a temporary revival of the notion that Mr. Coolidge has never decided to run again and will not do so. The idea, as found by Senator Moses in some parts of the West, and as repeated by others from New England, is that Mr. Coolidge will retire and give at least his blessing, if not more substantial help, to Secretary Hoover as a candidate to succeed him.

Since the whole subject is one about which all the data necessarily exist only in President Coolidge's head, judgments about it coming from New England or elsewhere do not have great evidential value. The allusion by Senator Moses, however does point at the weakness inherent in Mr. Coolidge's position if he should run again. The chief argument in favor of another nomination for him and the chief reason actuating those who favor it is to continue the status quo of prosperity in reply to this point is made that the President's running again is not essential to continuation of prosperity. All the assets associated with Mr. Coolidge are equally associated with Mr. Hoover, and the one liability associated with the President, the fact that another term would be called by a third one does not attach Mr. Hoover.

Hoover Advantage Cited Those who argue this way argue that under the circumstances the country and the Republican party would have in Secretary Hoover every advantage expected from Mr. Coolidge, and in addition would be free from the handicap of breaking a long American precedent. Wherever this argument is accepted it puts the President in the position of seeking another term, not because the desirability of continuity compels it but because he wants it.

Another form of the argument is that Mr. Coolidge now stands as high as any man could wish to, but that during the next four years the prosperity with which he is associated might come to an end through causes beyond his control. Those who make this argument conclude that Mr. Coolidge's most intelligent self-interest would dictate that he step aside now, and as respects his future political fortunes take a chance on the country turning him four years or eight years from now. At that time another term, would still be another term, but with the well recognized difference that he could not then be charged with dictating his own renomination.

It should be added that the overwhelming judgment of Republican leaders differ from that of Senator Moses and from what is heard said, and is to the effect that Mr. Coolidge will be renominated and re-elected next year. It might be further added that many Democratic leaders believe the same, with the single provision that this outcome is dependent on the continuation of prosperity for another year. The acceptance of this expectation by many Democratic leaders accounts for the lack of activity about the Presidential nomination of that party.

Invents Guard in Prison Ivan Novak's invention of an automatic guard for railway crossings, devised while doing 15 years penal servitude at Belgrade for murder, has been recognized by the government. A special commission appointed to examine the device recommended it, and Novak has been sent to the government railway shops to make a model to be tried on the state railway. The apparatus consists of a barrier that falls automatically as a train approaches and rises after it passes. Nails near the rails some distance from the crossing cause the barrier, weighing 600 pounds, to fall and remain down until the engine comes in contact with the rails on the other side.

Need a New Rug This Fall?

Protesting to the legislature that the wires they had to run around bear traps to warn hunters also warned the bears, and that the bears had learned to read notices, too, the United States biological survey has taken in its traps in the state of Washington, and as a result the bears are becoming a nuisance to the farmers. The open season on bears begins Oct. 15, and the survey has cordially invited the bear hunters of the nation to take part in the shoot. Ell Laird of Seattle, one of the northwest's most famous hunters, is shown here with a black bear he killed.

Russian Princess Believed To Have Brought Crown Jewels To Sell In America

DENVER, July 26.—(INS)—The Russian crown jewels, "purchased" and "discovered" on innumerable occasions in various parts of the world since the Bolshevik debacle, are being freely discussed here along with the arrival in Denver of Princess Stephanie Dolgorouky, of Russia.

Possibility that the sale of some of the Russian crown jewels to her millionaire friends in America is the mission of the Princess was first suggested by the mysterious actions of the royal guest upon reaching the Denver union station. She personally watched, despite protests of her hostess, every detail of the transfer of her baggage from the train to the local hotel.

Although Princess Dolgorouky was quoted as expressing the hope that Russia would eventually become a free republic, and unhesitatingly declare that in her opinion, the country of the Romanoffs would never return to a monarchical form of government, it was rumored in some circles here that funds to be obtained by sale of the Russian crown jewels were to be used to aid in financing the Russian Royalist party that is reported being organized in Europe.

To Visit President Princess Dolgorouky came to Denver recently to be the guest of Mrs. J. J. Brown, known internationally as the "Unsinkable Mrs. Brown," because of her escape from the Titanic disaster. She came here from New York and Newport, where she had been entertained by exclusive social leaders. And she plans, she announced, to visit President and Mrs. Coolidge at the Summer White House in the Black Hills of South Dakota before returning east.

The Princess appears in a costume of dead black. She claims that the Russian revolution has left her almost in poverty, but her black garment is ornamented with pendants of valuable gems.

The widow of Prince Anatol Dolgorouky, a former attache of the Russian Court, and sister-in-law of the second wife of Czar Alexander II the Princess is among 18 members of the former royal family of Russia living. She is a cousin of Queen Marie of Roumania and is also related to the British Royal Family.

Writes A Book Her advent in this country was marked by the publication of a book which she has written, entitled "Russia Before The Crash". Princess Stephanie carries with her on her American travels a trunkload of references from Government officials and royal personages all over Europe to establish her identity.

SULTAN'S HAREM HOME IN TURKEY WILL BE MUSEUM

Place That Housed Wives Of Turkish Rulers 400 Years Will Soon Be Thrown Open For Inspection Of Public

STAMBOUL, Turkey, July 27.—Veil upon veil has fallen in the new Turkey, disclosing mysteries of the old regime.

Now the heaviest and most mysterious veil of all is to be drawn aside—the massive bronze door which for almost 400 years has shut the Imperial Harem of the Seraglio palace from the world.

Within the labyrinth behind that door workmen are busy with scaffolding and plaster to prepare for the opening of the harem as a museum within several months.

The harem is a maze of tiny rooms built into each other like a nest of Chinese boxes and connected by witchery of shadowy corridors and little stairways which wander up and down haphazardly.

The subdued laughter and the whispered fears of thousands of women echoed in the past through the hundred or more rooms of the harem, through the inner courtyard and the high-walled roof garden, still ornamented with roses and fountains, where the imprisoned ladies could see the sky.

The rooms are dark, lighted only by tiny windows of stained glass barred on the outside and covered with lattices, or by the typical Moslem honeycomb nest of holes in the roof. Thus dim light filters on polyerome carved woodwork in the ceilings, tiles in the walls and soft old rugs on the floors.

Much of the old furniture remains; wide, low divans covered with tattered brocades, chairs of ivory and of precious wood inlaid with mother-of-pearl, diamond mirrors in frames of golden filigree, paneled walls open disclosing hundreds of closets, in one of which there is still a mound of mattresses formerly used to make a royal bed under one of the carved many-colored canopies which are scattered throughout the harem.

Outside the bedchamber of Sultan Ahmed, III, "the tulip-loving monarch," there is set in the wall a slender column of antique verde which turns in its socket with a grinding sound. It was used by the eunuchs to warn His Majesty of the approach of any interloper.

2,000 IN SCOTCH CHOIR

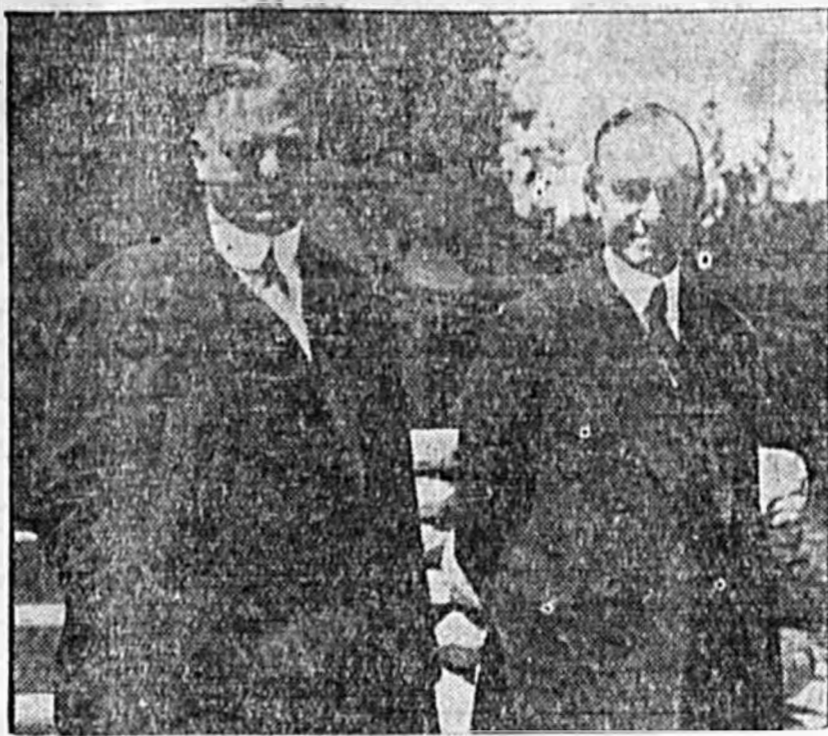

In connection with the Edinburgh Musical Festival held recently in the Scotch city, a choir of 2,000 voices sang familiar Scotch Psalm tunes. The leaders were Sir Richard Terry and Geoffrey Shaw. Many of the songs were accompanied by a pipe organ, and some were rendered unaccompanied. Sir Richard said, at the event, left him "cold," unless the singing was very good, but the old Psalms sung by a large choir, unaccompanied, thrilled him "to the marrow." His remark that he wished that the advocates of the "sickly nineteenth century part-songs of which there were many in the hymn books, might be present to hear it," won applause from the audience.

A French evening gown is made of black chiffon trimmed with chantilly lace and embroidered with rhinestones.

Hats made of shirred velvet, using two or three shades, are very soft and flattering, and some thing of a change.

Modern women of the harem descended to bathe in European style.

Cal and Hoover Talk Flood

Recommending federal aid in the levee reconstruction program throughout the Mississippi valley, Secretary Herbert Hoover is shown here after his conference in the Black Hills with President Coolidge. Hoover told the president state legislatures were unable to bear the entire burden of the cost.

Film Star Studied Dying Persons To Make Part Realistic

The lengths to which some movie actresses go to give the necessary realism to their acting is brought out by an incident told by Lillian Gish to Sidney Southernland, who quotes her in an article in this week's Liberty.

"When it became necessary for me to depict Miss Gish dying of tuberculosis in the final scenes of 'La Boheme,' Miss Gish is quoted, 'I decided to find out just how the victims of this disease die, by watching them expire. I spent all my spare time for weeks in the hospitals, where the authorities gave me every facility for observation.'"

Porridge 730 Times a Year

Protesting against too liberal allowances of porridge and sleep, 174 male inmates of the poorhouse near Govan, Ireland, struck and walked in a procession five miles to the Govan council chamber to air their grievances. The men carried banners, one of which bore the words, "Inmates of Govan Poorhouse get porridge 730 times a year." One speaker told the council that he had been sick in Harlinnie prison, not for criminal offense, and found that the food there was far superior to that in the poorhouse. The inmates had to be in bed in some cases at 8 o'clock, while in others the poorhouse were worse than those meted out to murderers and other criminals in prison, he declared. The Council agreed to appoint a special committee to inquire into the allegations.

BOSTON, July 26.—Mrs. Sara Libby and her sister, Miss Hilda Libby, 82, and possibly the oldest twins in New England, still manage to get about and do all their own work. The twins were recently motored from Lincoln, Mass., to Boston, 250 miles.

WOMEN DOCTORS TOO MANY
England has too many women doctors, according to medical authorities there. A single advertisement for one produced 18 applicants for the two positions of senior and junior medical officials at a children's hospital in London, the salaries being only $400 and $500 a year. A similar advertisement for the post of house physician at the General Hospital in Southampton attracted only 12 male applicants and 38 women, all of whom had held hospital positions for periods of from two to 50 months. All women but one were university graduates, 23 had English qualifications and 21 Scottish. Of every three men and women medical graduates in Ireland, it is estimated that two must emigrate to find fields for their activities. In Scotland the proportion is higher. Many of them come to America.

IN-THE-KNOW
There is a swing to her parties. A smart note of originality. She fairly sparkles with clever ideas.
At her recent dinner she introduced the latest etiquette in serving salad-she served it first. With French Dressing, of course. And realizing how much more appetizing French Dressing is when it is freshly blended, she mixed the dressing, herself, at the table. Stirred it up in a silver bowl.
Easy? Quite. Merely Wesson Oil and vinegar and as much salt and pepper as you wish. If you like it mild use three parts of Wesson Oil to one of vinegar. If you want it tart use two parts of vinegar. It depends somewhat on the strength of your vinegar.
Some prefer lemon juice to vinegar, and many add a dash of paprika for color.
And to this very delightful French Dressing one thing or another may be added to captivate your guests. Worcestershire sauce or a bit of chutney for green salads, mustard sauce for fish and meat salads, or some strong mint jelly on a salad of fruit.
But do use a good salad oil.
Wesson Oil, for instance. It is clear and light in color and very delicate in flavor and so good to eat that it makes delicious French Dressing.
