Picketing Is Upheld In High Court Ruling

Tribunal Decides Legislation Regulating Strikers' Actions Is Unconstitutional

Murphy Returns Two Opinions

Freedom Of Discussion Is Said Limited By Ordinances

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—(AP)—Legislation regulating picketing in Alabama and Shasta county, California, was held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The Alabama statute was attacked by the AFL while the California ordinance was attacked by the CIO. Frank Murphy delivered both opinions. He said they limited freedom of discussion, Mr. Reynolds dissented. The Shasta ordinance prohibited picketing in the vicinity of any place of business for the purpose of influencing persons to refrain from working there. The Alabama law prohibited picketing for the purpose of harassing, delaying, interfering with or injuring the lawful business or enterprise of another.

Workers Warned Not To Aid In Political Work

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—(AP)—Federal Commissioner F. C. Harrington last night warned all relief workers and officials that they will not tolerate their participation in the coming political campaign. All WPA employees, it was said, will be handed a letter from Harrington with their new pay checks emphasizing that the WPA is not in politics, either directly or indirectly. Regulations and assurances contained in the letter to more than 2,000,000 persons on relief rolls follow: 1. You are entitled to vote or not vote as you choose. 2. No one can force their discharge or change their wage rate because of their political affiliation or their voting intentions. 3. They may not legally be solicited for contributions to a political campaign. 4. Administrative or supervisory officials are prohibited from participating in political activity or using their influence in campaigns. 5. Every effort will be made to arrange working schedules so that those who wish to vote may do so without losing time on the job. 6. Voting to "keep our business" is not a political act. 7. "I will not tolerate any violation of the above regulations," Harrington wrote. His action was designed to prevent political activities by WPA workers such as those which took place in the 1933 primaries in several states. Disclosures by a special Senate committee which investigated these activities led to the enactment of the Hatch "clean politics" law under which Harrington acted last night.

Porter Lansing, Sr. Is Fatally Wounded

Porter H. Lansing, Sr., 65, father of Peter Lansing, Jr. of this city, was fatally wounded by an unidentified person in the robbery of his bank store last night. The store was in Jacksonville. Mr. Lansing was shot in the chest by the robber and died in the hospital. Mrs. Lansing told law enforcement officers that her husband had driven to investigate a noise he heard in the front of the store, which he had been visiting. Mr. Lansing is a former resident of Sanford and a native of Ohio. His wife is Mrs. E. W. Lansing, who lives in Jacksonville.

President Urges Liberal Candidate

President Roosevelt is shown in Georgia Hall at Warm Springs, Ga., as in an address to the Young Democrats of America he urged his party to nominate a liberal candidate for the presidency. Roosevelt of Fort Worth, Texas, and Charles F. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Talk Saturday Elicits Many Telegrams

Reaction Favorable To Request For Nomination Of Liberal

WARM SPRINGS, Apr. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt accepted a flood of telegrams yesterday as indicative of favorable national reaction to his demand that Democrats this year nominate a liberal for the presidency and vice presidency. Twelve hours after he warned a nationwide series of meetings of Young Democratic clubs that his party must nominate liberals or be deposed, telegrams began to arrive at the temporary White House here. William D. Hassett, acting White House secretary, declined to disclose contents of the messages, and said that only a heavy volume was received. It was indicated that Roosevelt's plea for liberalism and his aggressive response to young members of his party had evoked a favorable response. Broadcast over major national networks and directed to Young Democrats' dinners in 33 states, his speech last night appeared to be the opening gun in his party's national campaign. It was his first rejoinder to criticism of his administration leveled by Republican candidates for the presidency, and included a direct rebuff to District Attorney Dewey, New York. Seeking relaxation during a 10-day vacation at the Warm Springs foundation, Roosevelt subordinated work to rest. Because there were no morning services on the foundation, he slept late and did not receive the sheaf of congratulatory telegrams until late in the day. During the afternoon, he left the temporary White House for a long drive about the countryside, Canon Calhoun, textile operator of La Grange, Ga., followed to another car.

A surgeon and farmer, he was representative in the 1927-1928 legislature from Baker county. The candidate said he stood for economy and honesty in operation of government. He said he would support the operation of the government for the benefit of the people. He said he would support the operation of the government for the benefit of the people. ## Mrs. Dean Talks To Rotarians At Weekly Luncheon

Club Told Of World's Fair Exhibits For 1940

Despite the war in Europe there will be as many foreign exhibits at the New York World's Fair this summer as there were last year, said Mrs. Roland Dean in an address before the Rotary Club today in which she stated that arrangements have been made for Poland, Czechoslovakia, Finland and Norway, as well as 45 other foreign exhibits, to be represented this year. The Florida Exhibit is making many new improvements to add interest to this year's fair, including a Spanish restaurant, complete Florida beach scene, tropical garden and orange grove, Mrs. Dean said, pointing out that the fair will reopen on May 10 and is expected to run until the end of October. Following an announcement by Earle Turner, the Rotarians voted to hold their annual boat ride on May 2. The meeting for May 4 will be dispensed with. In invitation from the Deland Rotary Club, the annual golf tournament between the two cities will begin on May 9. Introduced by Andrew Carraway, chairman, Mrs. Dean attributed the successful tourist season last winter to the Fair last summer in which over 4,000,000 people visited the Florida Exhibit. Declaring that the Fair should not be judged by its financial results alone, Mrs. Dean said that it had given joy and inspiration to over 25 million people. Visitors to today's luncheon included Theodore Brand of Deland, James Haskin, John Wigfall and C. T. McClung of Orlando.

Snow Lashes New England And New York

Flood Threat Seen In Swollen Rivers; Temperature Below Normal In Georgia

By Associated Press
Snow driven by strong winds lashed New England, and most of New York state today. Several coastal communities were isolated, and overland and water travel was hampered, and swollen streams brought threat of serious floods. In Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the West Virginia flood area, rivetmen agreed the worst was over. Routed lowland dwellers returned to water-logged homes. Damage to roads alone in southern Ohio was placed at $1,000,000. Two were drowned in West Virginia, and two in Ohio. In Alabama, and Georgia temperatures ranged to 10 degrees below normal. High tides thundered against the New England coast, slashing spray over 114-foot Minot's light in Boston Harbor. About 7,000 persons were isolated in the Maine coastal area. Throughout New England highways, snow and ice-sheeted, many automobiles were abandoned. Snowfalls ranged in inches in Maine and New Hampshire.

Hearing On Barge Canal Is Set For Ocala On Tuesday

Chamber Plans "Visit Seminole County" Drive In Summer

Facts concerning the feasibility and the value of a barge canal across Florida along the route of the proposed cross state canal, will be submitted at a hearing to be conducted in Ocala tomorrow at 10:00 o'clock by Col. Lewis H. Watkins, chief of the U. S. Army Engineers in Jacksonville. The hearing, to be held in the Dixie Theatre Building, is the initial move toward the accomplishment of the plan recently submitted by the Senate by Senator Claude Pepper for the construction of the large canal which might be deepened later to a depth sufficient for a ship canal. In presenting his plan to the Senate, Senator Pepper cited the military importance of such a project as well as its value in promoting the trip around the peninsula for commerce between Atlantic and Gulf ports. Local interests have objected to the construction of the proposed ship canal on the ground that it had not been proven such a change would not interfere with this section's artesian water flow. Among those who plan to attend the hearing from this county are J. C. Chase, George S. Winters and Randall Chase.

Extortion Charge Hangs Over Head Of Labor Union

NEW YORK, Apr. 22.—(AP)—Giovanni Magovern, international president of the 70,000 member Building Trades Union of America, International Union of Bricklayers and Allied Craftworkers (AFL) was arrested in his room at the Commodore hotel at 3 p. m. yesterday on charges of extorting about $100,000 in the last three years from 20 local hotels and cleaning contractors. He was accused by a grand jury of extorting money by threatening strikes or excessive wage increase demands, or by threatening to unionize non-union establishments. After spending the day in the Tombs prison, Scallia was released on $10,000 bond posted by the union through a bondsmen company. After his arraignment he remarked that he had been "persecuted," referring to recent activities in which syndicate colonel Westbrink Peeler attacked his union administration. Scallia's police record showed that he served four and one-half years in the Atlanta federal penitentiary on a 1913 conviction for white slavery under the Mann act. Assistant District Attorney Gurfin said two other union officials had been named as co-conspirators with Scallia. They are Ivey Schwartz, Scallia's eastern representative, and his brother Louis Schwartz, president of local 323 of the union. They have been indicted for extortion conspiracy, Gurfin said, and released in $5,000 bail. Scallia's secretary, Ann Kimmeler, picked up last night as a material witness, was released from the women's house of detention in hall of $20,000 also provided by the union, at the same time Scallia was released. Doney's aides said that the arrest was made on his order in a telephone call yesterday from San Francisco, where he is campaigning and that Scallia had been under investigation for four months.

Capt. Robert Losey Killed In Norway

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—(AP)—The State Department today received word that Capt. Robert Losey, assistant military attaché at Stockholm, was killed in a German bombing raid at Bommas, Norway, yesterday. He was the first American killed on land since the European war started. The State Department said Losey had gone from Stockholm into Norway to assist in removing Americans from the war zone. He was with a party of Americans composed largely of families of the American legation of the consulate at Oslo. All others were unhurt and crossed the frontier late Sunday. Unanswerable here was the question of the strength of the Allied expeditionary forces or whether the severe air bombing, which the Germans said they had administered yesterday, had crippled their effectiveness. In the 12 days of action in Scandinavian waters, Germany in unofficial reports has said she has inflicted the following losses on the British fleet: Five cruisers, 10 destroyers. ## Air Warfare Rages Over North Front

Reports Say German Bombers Have Hit British Heavily; English Retaliate

Nazi Plane Shot Down By Swedes

Americans Advised By U. S. Legation To Leave Hungary

The towns of Namsos and Andalsnes—where the Allied forces have landed in Norway, are aflame, Germany reported as both sides, sparked by intense rivalry for air supremacy over Norway, stepped up the pace of their aerial warfare. DNB said German bombs have struck the British heavy bomber force of Britain's air force. The British reported night raids on the airfield at Stavanger, and also bombed German-held bases at Kristians and Aalburg in Denmark. Charging "especially numerous and grave" incursions over Swedish territory by Nazi warplanes, the Stockholm government protested strongly to Berlin, and asked measures against repetition. One German plane was shot down on Swedish soil, and another shot fired at others. One Swedish newspaper accused the Germans of reconnoitering Sweden's defenses. The United States legation at Budapest advised American citizens in Hungary to decide as to the advisability of leaving the United States while there still are means of egress available. It said, however, there had been no information leading to believe that the war will be transferred to southern Europe. Both sides claimed at least 11 planes were shot down over the sea and in various war zones. Swedish sources reported that Allied forces, attacking south from Namsos, struck at German bases at Andalsnes, 35 miles north of Trondheim, in an effort to gain control of the railway to the Swedish frontier. In the Hamar-Elverum district, 60 miles north of Oslo, the Allied column, joined the Norwegians in driving back the Germans. They claimed Hamar was recaptured. An unconfirmed report said Elverum also was retaken. Germany denied the Hamar report. The British broadcast warning that German-held Narvik could be bombarded, and advised residents to leave before the firing starts.

Mrs. Bahrt, who was introduced by Mrs. H. L. Covington, circle chairman, illustrated her talk with 28 specimens, all native of Central Florida and many of which are in bloom now in the Big Tree Park area.

She stressed to members that when transplanting native material, it has been proven more satisfactory to transplant from wet native surrounding soil into dry soil than from dry soil into wet grounds. The importance and necessity of conservation was also stressed.

Thanks were extended by Mrs. Fred E. Wilson, president of the Garden Club, to the Sanford Herald and the City of Sanford, for making possible the purchase of stakes by all citizens.

Air Warfare Rages Over North Front

and eight submarines sunk; one cruiser beached; four battleships, seven battle and heavy cruisers, one light cruiser and one airplane carrier badly damaged.

As many as seven British transport ships sunk or damaged. The air force accounted for the lion's share of these claims. The British have denied most of the German claims but have acknowledged the sinking of four destroyers in naval fights.

Yesterday's high command communique described an air attack yesterday on British forces landing at Namsos and Andalsnes as "of extraordinary effectiveness."

At Andalsnes, it said, a cruiser was sunk by a heavy air bomb and another, set afire, was beached. At another place, a 15,000-ton troop transport was said to have been set afire by numerous bombs, and another listed after being hit.

"British military units which landed," the communique said, "were attacked by bombs at two places and suffered heavy losses of men and materials. The railway stations at Namsos and Andalsnes were set afire, highways and bridges were destroyed by bombs."

The high command also reported several small Norwegian war vessels sunk in Hardanger fjord by German sea forces, a land battery silenced there, and a former Polish destroyer sunk by a German submarine north-east of the Shetland islands.

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 22.—(AP)—The Norwegian legation in Stockholm yesterday confirmed earlier reports that a British expeditionary force, supported by tanks, has landed at Namsos, 60 miles north of Oslo, and said it was reported Elseviken had been recaptured too.

The English force was rushed to the battle scene by rail from Andalsnes, 100 miles south of Trondheim on the west coast, where the British navy covered a landing.

A French division also has landed at Namsos, 100 miles north of German-held Trondheim, the legation said.

As outlined by the legation, the Norwegians are fighting on seven main fronts, from north of Narvik to Oslo.

The other fronts are at Evanger, 30 miles north of Trondheim, 20 miles east of Trondheim, 60 miles north of Oslo, and the last front, it was said, some 20 miles northwest of the capital, to Gjøvik, Hamar and Elverum and thence in a straight line east to the Swedish border.

A salient driven into the line between Gjøvik and Hamar, it was explained, cut all the way up to Lillehammer, 80 miles north of Oslo and 25 miles beyond Hamar.

The English are fighting on this salient with the Norwegians. The Hebra forces, commencing last night, sent the German-occupied an expedition by train last night to reach the Swedish frontier and cut Norway in two, was reported.

We wish to take the moment of expressing to our many friends our appreciation for the acts of kindness, and sympathy extended during our recent bereavement.

VACATIONISTS BRING MONEY

but what brings vacationists?

a sure answer—

CONCRETE ROADS

No matter what they like when they get there, vacationists never enjoy "roughing it" on the way. Of two attractive vacation centers, tourists choose the one that's on their favorite kind of road—concrete.

Everybody profits—directly or indirectly—from tourist trade. And everybody profits directly from concrete.

Concrete highways are always ready for travel. They cost less than other pavements of equal load-strength. Save a big share of road maintenance funds. Save on car operating costs. Reap these benefits—pave with concrete.
