Central and Eastern Louisiana Floods Ex- act Large Toll REFUGEES IN CAMPS

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS AND BEING TAKEN CARE OF BY THE RED CROSS

(By The Associated Press) NATCHEZ, April 29.—More than fifty thousand persons will be homeless or suffer financial losses and total destruction of property will amount to many millions in Central and Eastern Louisiana as the result of floods. It was estimated here to-

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—Inter-est in the Mississippi river flood situation yesterday was divided between the work of thousands of men, hastily called from all walks of life to prevent further breaks in levee and the efforts of smaller groups to locate refugees and remove them to safety.

Rescue work was carried on without intermission in the Ferriday area and at Poydras. Persons who had decided to take chances with the flood and remain in their homes changed their minds, when the waters continued to rise, and gladly welcomed the approach of rescue boats.

Reports from the Ferriday area late yesterday state that the flood waters, flowing through the break there are spreading over larger areas, altho the first rush has lost much of its force. The flood is spreading through Ten-nessee parish and is nearing the towns of Vidalia, Azucena and Delta Bridge.

Plantation homes more than a cen-tury old have been swept away and many plantations have been inundat-ing ruining every prospect for ra crop this season. Many homes and farm buildings have been destroyed.

Due to the quick action of the Red Cross and local organizations no real suffering has been reported among the hundreds of residents of the in-undated area who are being concen-trated in well laid out and managed camps. They are being housed in tents.

Approximately 500 refugees have crossed the river into Mississippi at Natchez and are being cared for there. The Red Cross yesterday took charge of the camp established at Harrisburg where it is reported 1,500 are being cared for. Approximately 2,000 others are in camps at Jonesville and Martinsville.

Large numbers of refugees were taken from Moreau, Frogmore, Chevy Chase and other villages to Jonesville today, the steamer Howell carrying many other to that point last night. The majority of these are women and children picked up along the route of the Missouri Pacific.

More than 250 persons, who had pre-viously announced they would remain in their homes at St. Bernard, sur-rounded by water from the Poydras Crevasse, began a general exodus in boats to Violet late yesterday. St. Bernard, seat of the Parish by that name, is expected to go under water early today.

STOLE CUFF BUTTONS.

A young white man, who was evi-dently starving to death, slipped into the home of T. J. Miller and stole a pair of gold cuff buttons, coming down town with them and trying to dispose of same. It happened he went to J. T. Brady, the jeweler, who recog-nized the buttons, having made them out of gold dollar pieces for Mr. Mil-ler and he questioned the young man and he confessed to the stealing. Upon being questioned at the police station he said he was from Philadelphia, had never stolen anything before and real-ly stole because he needed something to eat.

Mr. Miller is one of the biggest hearted men in the world and when he found out about the young man he and Frank saw that he had a square meal and refused to prosecute him for the theft.

Despite the Newberry case, the parties are preparing to spend con-siderable money without the knowl-edge of the candidates.

Cook, Oneco; "Pro-tecting Florida's Horticulture," by A. C. INVESTIGATING THE INLAND WATERWAY

Under the provisions of the river and harbor act of congress, approved June 5, 1920, a move has now been made to start an investigation of the inland waterway along the East Coast of Florida, with the idea of de-termining whether it would be a real benefit to the people of the East Coast to have the waterway im-proved to an extent which would per-mit of shipments by boats along this waterway.

The investigation is being under-taken by the department of engi-neers of the war department, under the direction of Major Wm. C. Le-men, of Jacksonville, who is the offi-cer in charge of this district.

Notices have been given that a public hearing will be held at Titus-ville Tuesday, May 16, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of obtaining informa-tion on which to base a report to the war department. Another hearing will be held at West Palm Beach Wed-nesday, May 17, at 1:30 a. m., for the same purpose, both of which hearings will be conducted by Major Lemen.

The particular provision of the river and harbor act which provides for this investigation simply names a preliminary examination covering "intra-coastal waterway from Jack-sonville to Miami, Florida," but it is taken to mean an examination to de-termine what amount of benefit would really accrue to the people if this waterway was made navigable for regular boats. In making the examination the officer in charge will endeavor to ascertain what is the character, tonnage and value of out-going an incoming commerce at all points along the inland waterway, to what markets the outgoing ship-ments are made, and to determine, if possible, what proportion of these shipments would be made by boat if the waterway was made navigable.

The object of the examination is also to determine, as nearly as possi-ble, an estimate on the cost to the government of deepening the water-way and making it a permanent, avail-able waterway.

Every community along the East Coast should be represented at one of these hearings and the statistics desired from these communities should be prepared for presentation to the officers conducting the hear-ings.—New Smyrna News.

FRANCE AND BRITAIN DISAGREE ON RUSSIA AND PAYING OF DEBT

France Insists on Payment in Full—England Would Modify

(By The Associated Press) GENOA, April 29.—Two historic documents dealing with the recon-struction of Russia have been submit-ted by France and Great Britain to the economic conference and last night were in the hands of a special draft-ing committee appointed by the sub-committee on Russian affairs, which will endeavor to harmonize the diffi-culties in them.

The special drafting committee will report to the full subcommittee Satur-day morning, and the subcommittee, after approval is given the report, will submit it to the soviet delegation. The French document sketches at length means for restoring Russia's agricul-tural and industrial activities, while that of Great Britain devotes more at-tention to credit for Russia.

France insists on the full payment of Russia's war debts and the restora-tion of private property to foreigners;

Florida Railroad Commission Opposes Ry. Consolidation

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, April 29.—The Florida Railroad Commission through its chairman, R. Hudson Burr, has announced its opposition to the pro-posed consolidation of railroad prop-erties throughout the country, and has entered its opposition with the Interstate Commerce Commission which recently held a meeting on the subject at Washington.

The proposed merger was advanced several months ago. Its proponents claimed such an arrangement would go a long way towards solving the railroad problem by eliminating du-plication of service and other econ-omic waste.

Mr. Burr wrote John E. Benton, gen-eral solicitor of the National Asso-ciation of Railway and Utilities Com-missioners and explaining that other cases precluded the Florida com-mission's having a representative at this time before the Interstate Com-merce Commission hearing, requested that he take action towards putting the Florida commission's opposition on record. At the proper time the commission would send a representa-tive before the I. C. C. to argue against the plan.

Mr. Burr in his letter to Mr. Benton sets forth that a consolidation of the carriers as proposed would eliminate competition and react against the public rather than proving to be a boon. Mr. Burr cites the American Railway Express Company for what he terms an example of the elimina-tion of competition with a result and policy inimical to the public's inter-est.

SEES NO DRAIN ON TREASURY IN SOLDIER BONUS

Lodge and Other Leaders Feel That Financing Will Not Be Hard

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Senator Lodge and other Republican leaders are of the opinion that whatever sol-diers bonus plan is adopted finally can be readily financed without im-posing a serious drain upon the treas-ury, it was ascertained from official sources today.

The cut of $3,250,000,000, which it was said had been made in the national debt since 1919 has left them con-vinced that the deficit of $250,000,000 or even $500,000,000 Secretary Mellon stated recently was threatening the country, should not stand as an argu-ment that the government cannot af-ford to take care of the bonus.

They believe that the bonus can easily be provided for by the issuance of additional certificates of indebted-ness, for which the treasury was giving ample authorization by the liberty bond and victory note acts, until such time as interest payments on the British debt becomes available.

GOOD CONTEST AT TRAPS YESTERDAY

Ben Coleman still holds a good lead in the shooting at the Sanford Rod & Gun Club traps. While his score was off a little yesterday over previous days there is still a good margin between his score and the score of his nearest competitor, Dr. Puleston.

Yesterday was a good day for shooting although a little warm. A good crowd was out and the contest was a good one. Next Thursday being the beginning of the half holiday period for the summer it is expected that the crowds at the traps will be larger in the future.

The score of the members and their season's percentage to date is as follows:

Table with columns: Name, Score, Percentage. Coleman, J. B. 75-69 .931, Puleston, Dr. S. 60-44 .874, Wight, R. B. 125-110 .867, Hand, Walter S. 50-45 .860, Hill, W. C. 100-87 .840, Newman, R. Note: The first column is yesterday's average and the last column the total percentage for the season.

"DUSTED"

The Club making an effort to get into the State Trapshooting Association. If they are successful they may be able to send a squad to the State Championship Tournament in Jacksonville next month.

Make sure your gun is ready to fire. The Club is being run as nearly as possible according to the American Trap Shooting Rules, and it should be. If you go to Jacksonville on the Sanford team they will make you come up to the line and you might as well get used to it now.

Ralph Wight is looking at second place. Another day like yesterday and he will be in it, unless Walter Hand gets there first.

Walter Hand and Will Hill each went up forty points yesterday putting them in fourth and fifth place. They are both good marksmen and getting better every day.

The average of the five high men at the Sanford traps this season is over 87 targets out of 100. Not so bad. We should stand a good chance in a state shoot of amateurs with that score.

We'll wager that Joe Hutchison buys a new trap gun. He tried one out yesterday with good results. That's all it usually requires.

Missed several of the regulars yesterday who were out of town. Among them were Bob Newman, Ed. Higgins and Frank Crosby.

It is expected that the Elks Club will take over the property of the Rod & Gun Club in a few days. However, it is said that the trap contests will continue as before on each Thursday. Visitors always welcome.

THE NEW SERIES "22" LEXINGTON

The new series 22 Lexington is equipped with the famous Ansted engine, and the Moore Multiple Exhaust System which saves fuel and adds power. The Ansted motor is one of the most powerful and economical motors ever put in an automobile. Riding comfort has been achieved in the new "Series 22" Lexington by using front and rear semi-elliptic springs of exceptional length. The front springs are thirty-eight inches long and two inches wide, and the rear springs are fifty-nine inches long and two and one-quarter inches wide. The spring bolts are oversize throughout. Force-feed oilers are provided for all spring bolts, and at other friction points throughout the chassis. The B. & O. Motor Co. makes the unqualified assertion that "no car on the market will ride as well as the Lexington, that does not weigh more, cost more, and have a longer wheelbase." Hoots are placed around all springs at the factory to assure permanent riding ease by keeping the lubricant in and mud and water out. The body is both beautiful and roomy. All Lexington features, such as the "one-finger" emergency brake system; the equalizing foot cable brake system; the adjustable radiator mounting for the new drum-type headlamps. The wheelbase is 123 inches and carries a 32 by 4 1/2 inch cord tires. See this car, and get a demonstration.

"WAY DOWN EAST" based on William A. Brady's famous play by Lottie Blair Parker and Jos. R. Crismer. A simple, old-fashioned story of plain people, embracing the four seasons. A story of love—Man and Woman—Mother and baby. A great bell-tolling humanity. A story of laughter—Rabelaisian horsplay. Quaint absurdities—springing, every barn dances—sleigh bell a-jingling. Love's voice—sweet and low—strong and tender—across fragment fields and twilight streams. In the end, amazing scenes, March storm, ice break-up, Anna and David carried with blinding mass of ice down the roaring river. Matinee Friday at 4 p. m. and Saturday at 3:00. Evening at 7:30.

When Florida farmers co-operate in planting sufficient quantities of a standard variety, then they will have the buyers on the ground, as in Hastings, and Plant City, and Sanford.—Tampa Tribune.

"Seaboard Train Hit a Ford Car in Georgia," says the Jacksonville Metropolitan. According to the description the train evidently hit the Ford just about where the gas mixed with the air and they do say that spot is a fatal one.

"Minister's Sons Not as Bad as Reported," says headlines in paper. That stuff is all bosh. Minister's sons and editor's sons are simply watched closer than others and if they stub their toe one time the whole world lets out a yell that is heard round the universe.

BUT NOT A "DEEP WATERWAY."

Titusville has a business men's Club which meets at luncheon each week and plans for better things—along the same lines as does the Chamber of Commerce of Kissimmee. At a very recent meeting President W. B. Dobson said the next big thing for Titusville to go after is a ship canal from Sanford to Titusville via the chain of lakes between the Saint Johns River and the Indian river. "Connecting Florida's two greatest rivers will provide a deep water ship canal from Jacksonville to Miami."

There have been several surveys for such a project, running from Lake Monroe through Lake Harney to the canal on the east coast. Some ten years ago the federal authorities replied to questions pertaining to such a measure that the enormous expense of cutting through east of Lake Harney where there would be a considerable stretch of mileage that would demand fully a thirty-foot cut to obtain even a passageway for small boats would not be justified at that time by the traffic which might follow. It is possible, however, that at this time there may have been a change of opinion, and that such action might be induced; yet after reaching the east coast canal what is there to be found to justify the term of a "deep water ship canal from Jacksonville to Miami?"

The east coast canal is hardly navigable by small launches. A houseboat drawing eight feet of water cannot in safety make the trip. As a rule it is perfectly safe for rowboats and skiffs—but a real ship drawing eighteen feet, or sixteen, or even fourteen feet would have to be mounted on skids, and then propelled as were the old-style cannibots on the Erie canal in New York—by horse-power. It is always well to look matters squarely in the face and not allow zeal to paint a picture of an impossibility.—Kissimmee Gazette.

Your excitations about the east coast canal are correct in some points old friend, but in talking about "deep waterways" we can only say that it is necessary to crawl before you can walk and if our congressmen will get us eight feet of water now it will only be a year or more until the traffic will be so great that ten and then twenty feet will follow. The St. Johns river is one of the most deserving projects in the United States and does not come under the head of "pork barrel" at all and if our delegation in Congress will just get behind this proposition and give the facts in the case there will be no doubt about the getting of deeper water between Jacksonville and Miami via the St. Johns. The main trouble with all of these worthy projects is that they tread on some fellows toes to the extent that he yells "fire" before he sees the blaze.

"OUR MIKE FOR REPRESENTATIVE"

The Orlando Sentinel has the following about Hon. M. M. Smith, former president of the Peoples Bank of this city and one of the largest land owners in this county:

"M. M. Smith, president of the Florida Automobile Association who has been urged by many of his friends to make the race, informed The Sentinel yesterday that he didn't see how he could allow his name to go on the ballot."

M. M. Smith who is known to his many friends over the state as "Mike" Smith knows the needs of his county and the needs of his state as few men know them. He would make an ideal legislator, he would make an honest, fearless, progressive legislator. He could tell them more about roads, banks, farming, fruit growing, turpentine, lumber, forests, cattle fish and game than any man in the legislature. He has the time and the money to spend sixty days in the service of his state and he should be made to go. Not being in his county the Herald can take the liberty of telling about his good points when his local papers might not want to mix into the local stew being in the same frame of mind as the Herald and not wanting to takes sides with any particular local candidate.

THE MATTRESS BANK

The Jacksonville woman who hid $300 under a mattress for safe keeping probably is now aware that mattresses are not the safest place for hiding money away. Some one came along and stole it and she has been wondering ever since who it was that knew she had her money in the mattress.

But the Jacksonville woman is not alone in this matter. Hundreds do it and occasionally the savings of a life time melt away because some one steals it or the money is destroyed by fire. Others will tuck the money away under a rug beneath some clothing in a dresser drawer or sometimes behind a picture.

As a matter of fact all of these hiding places are standard one and are the first ones examined by a thief who knows even the first principles of getting others' valuables. When the thief or burglar feels he is to have an undisturbed search of a house for several minutes, he turns up the mattresses and rugs and empties the contents on the floor. He searches behind pictures and overturns tables to discover hollow legs or other hidden receptacles.

The safest place to keep money, more than what is needed for pocket change is in a bank. If a bank is robbed the depositor will be protected. A check book will take the place of ready cash, and if it is lost or stolen it can be easily replaced.—Florida Post.

Wauchula has three goods banks. Two of these banks have been running for many years and you never heard of a man losing a penny by entrusting his money to the local banks. A check book will not only take the place of ready cash, but a check is a receipt for every cent you pay out.

Suppose you owe Jones ten dollars and hand him a ten dollar bill in payment of the debt. Later Jones denies ever receiving the ten dollars. It would be simply your word against Jones' word. Had you paid him with a check, the cancelled check would have been a receipt that would be accepted by any court of justice. Use the banks—not the mattresses.—Wauchula Advocate.

FLORIDA IS NOT ALONE IN THE SCHOOL TROUBLE

Florida has been having trouble with her schools for a few years back. The trouble first came up during the war time when the fact was brought to light that the teachers who were intrusted with the education and management of our children, in their tenderest and most impressionable years, who stood to the main in the relation of parents during a large part of their young lives, were receiving less pay, measured in dollars and cents, than many of the rough roustabouts, who unload vessels at our docks. That was almost inconceivable, but it was an established fact, and the people determined that the horrible injustice done to the members of a noble profession should be remedied, and it was remedied so far as was possible. The fact was that the teachers had not been clamorous in their demands for more pay to meet the ever increasing cost of living, and they had been overlooked in the general confusion of the war times.

UNCLE HANK

But now a new and grave situation has developed and is causing the school officials throughout the state much concern. Many of them as without sufficient means to carry their schools the full term. They are obliged to shorten the terms or resort to unusual and unpleasant methods to raise the necessary money. In some instances they have asked patrons of the schools to pay tuition for the last month. In others they have appealed to the general public for financial aid, which has been generally granted to some extent. The real trouble is fundamental and an act of the legislature will be needed to provide a remedy. It seems that the early fathers had little confidence in the ability or integrity of the future school officers and limited the amount which they were permitted to raise for school purposes. Why they should do this in the case of schools and not for other purposes is hard to understand, but they did it. In the meantime the state has been growing. There are more schools and many more pupils than in those early days and expenses have increased accordingly. The early limit on millage is now inadequate to furnish the money to meet these increased expenses. An increase must be granted if we would maintain the proud position we have reached in educational matters.

But we are not entirely alone in our trouble. Other states have had the same troubles, and even the city of Washington is not exempt. Mrs. Herbert Hoover has said that she considers the public schools of the capital a national disgrace.

Further she says: "The county school in California from which we took our youngest son is better than the public school he attends in Washington. On account of the congested conditions, he must reach school at 8:30, and without intermission or study period, recite steadily until 12:30, when he is dismissed for the day. Next year, unless conditions are bettered, he will have to attend school at night, as the teachers will have three shifts instead of two a day. No child gets five hours' schooling a day; mentally deficient children shift for themselves.

"The buildings are overcrowded and unsanitary; overworked and underpaid teachers, when ill, must pay for substitutes from their own salaries. Meanwhile congress cut school appropriations for the district. The district taxpayers have done their part but none of their money can be expended on the schools their children attend until the national fathers on the hill match it dollar for dollar.

"At a dinner the other night I sat next to an influential congressman with whom I discussed this shameful condition. 'Why, Mrs. Hoover,' he said, 'I'm amazed at what you tell me!'

"And the educational heads say it's up to congress!"

Mrs. Hoover probably knows, however, that it is seldom that an important congressman can bring his mind down to such a trivial thing as a public school. There are seeds to send to constituents and copies of the Congressional Record showing their last utterance on the Four-Power treaty.—Tampa Times.

NEW SMYRNA WILL BUILD

A few days ago the Herald called upon the people of New Smyrna to get a move on themselves and build a better and wider road from Osteen ferry to New Smyrna, make a free bridge to Coronado and otherwise put in motion the machinery of that end of Volusia to meet the new bridge that Seminole will build at Osteen ferry. The New Smyrna News has the following about it: "The suggestion of the Herald is timely and the people of this commu-

ity must awaken to the necessity of improving and permanently hard surfacing the road to the Osteen ferry if Coronado is to grow and prosper as she should grow with the finest beach in the world to offer as an inducement. Up to this time Coronado has enjoyed a reputation with the people of the interior of the state of being the finest summer resort along the East Coast and there is no question that the people from interior points would rather come to Coronado for their summer vacation outings than to go to other points on the coast. One of these is that Coronado beach offers the finest bathing because of the absence of the strong undertow noticeable at most other points. Another reason is because of the excellent fishing, which is unexcelled at any point along the coast.

Since the proposition of the Seminole county board of commissioners to build the bridge across the St. Johns river at the Osteen ferry, which has been accepted by the Volusia county board, a strong movement has been started to have Volusia county purchase the Harden ferry bridge and make it a free bridge.

There are reasons for this movement which the people of this section must recognize and they are the very reasons why we must get busy and complete a permanent hard surfaced road to Osteen. In years gone by when there was no fine road from Harden ferry bridge through DeLand to Daytona and Daytona Beach and the automobilists had a choice of traveling the same kind of road to New Smyrna and Coronado or to Daytona and Daytona Beach, the majority of them came to Coronado because of the shorter distance and more direct route. Since the fine road between the Harden ferry bridge and Daytona has been completed and the road from New Smyrna to the river has been permitted to deteriorate, these same people prefer to travel the longer route over a better road and they go to Daytona Beach for their summer outings. This route also makes them through DeLand, and there you have the reasons for the movement to have the county purchase the Harden ferry bridge and get the deal through and completed before the Seminole county board can finish its agreement to build the bridge at Osteen ferry, which would eliminate the danger and unpleasantness of crossing the ferry route to Coronado.

To hold and increase the summer business for Coronado we must have this permanent road from the new bridge at Osteen to New Smyrna."

STATE NEWS

KEY WEST, April 28.—Troop 6, Boy Scouts of America, of this city staged last week an event which passed almost common in other days, passed almost out of existence before any members of the troop were born. They put on an old fashioned Cake Walk. The program included clog dancing.

ORLANDO, April 28.—William M. Blackstock, of Lafayette, Ind., a winter visitor here, and his brother, George, who is spending the winter in California, almost hold the twin longevity record. The brothers are 83 years old, having been born in Petersboro, Ontario, January 12, 1839. They moved to Indiana in 1856.

Mr. Blackstock cast his first ballot for Abraham Lincoln in 1860 but declares that after the days of reconstruction period when the South suffered so greatly, he voted the Democratic ticket and has been a Democrat ever since.

AUBURNDALE, April 28.—Progress of the citrus industry in this section, of which Auburndale is the center, has passed beyond the capacity of the packing plant now operated by the Auburndale Citrus Growers' Association and as a result a new and more modern structure has been planned.

The new building will stand on the site of the present plant, a frame structure, and will be built of steel and concrete. It is expected to cost approximately $25,000 and will have a capacity of four cars a day.

DAYTONA, April 28.—County division, a controverted subject many times in the past, bids fair to be an important element in the June primary in Volusia county.

Two candidates for the house and one for the senate have entered the race making as their major aspirant for the senate is advocating a three way split and another candidate for the house is campaigning on a two-way division.

Macon Thornton, advocate of the three way split would center the new counties around Daytona, New Smyrna and Deland. Glenn F. Montgomery of Oak Hill aspirant for the house, is avowedly for an East and West Volusia county division.

WEST PALM BEACH, April 28.—Francis Huston, steel man and banker of Coatsville, Pa., plans to develop a large winter estate on that part of Palm Beach Island between the old inlet and the new inlet.

Not only has he acquired property on the island but has also purchased several lots on the mainland just north of West Palm Beach to insure privacy of the approach to a bridge which he plans to construct across Lake Worth to his estate. His property on the island lying between the two inlets is one mile wide. A private golf course will be one of its features.

Fagg, who will speak on some phases of work which touch on the activities of the Mothers' Clubs.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING APRIL 25, 1922

Temperature: The week averaged warmer than the seasonal, except in the extreme west where the temperature was about the normal. The nights during the last days of the week were especially unseasonable. Day temperatures during the forepart of the week were well up in the 90's.

Precipitation: The week was a continuation of the drought, which has assumed a serious aspect throughout all districts east of the Apalachicola River, except some small areas where local rains occurred during the forepart. There were good local rains at Hypoluxo and Jupiter and moderate showers in the Apalachicola Valley, but the rest of the peninsula, especially upland, is "powder dry," apparently, in some localities.

Condition of Crops: Practically all crops are at a standstill, or deteriorated during the week. Beans and cucumbers have been ruined over large areas, and crops on low lands have seriously deteriorated. Melons have made very little progress; the continued dry weather and cool windy days during the last of the week being very unfavorable. Corn is suffering, although in fair to good condition on low lands; germination is unsatisfactory in some recent plantings. Cotton is fair to good (being a dry weather crop), but rain is needed. Tobacco made fair progress; oats are a failure in some localities; on low lands, but fair to good; harvesting continues. Harvesting Irish potatoes continues; dry weather favored the work, but rain is badly needed on late plantings. Citrus leaves are curling and fruit dropped badly in some groves; young trees are in serious condition in some portions of the south.

Their Independence," and the affirmative won by a close margin. The Junior class again debated Thursday morning, although with different speakers on same subject, and this time the negative side won. Byron Stephens can surely "hand it to them."

Byron Stephens has a real muscle now—and not artificial, either.

Friday in chapel, the third debate on the Philippine subject was given by the Senior Class, and it was generally accorded the best of the three. The affirmative side was represented by Florence Henry, Margaret Zachary and Frances Dutton—while Fay Lansing, Margaret Gallagher and Claire Swinney took sides with the negative. Bertram Shepherd presided as chairman. Each side had many splendid points, and all the speakers held the attention of the students. The negative side won.

EVANGELIST TAKEN ILL.

J. T. Saxton, the blacksmith preacher who has been holding revival services at Lake Monroe was taken seriously ill and sent to his home in Tennessee today. Rev. Saxton was holding a very successful revival at Lake Monroe and it is with sincere regret that the people are giving him up.

with advance and improvement all along the line. A new charter, and constitution in harmony with it, was adopted, putting the church in better shape to cope with the needs of the work. The spirit of optimism pervaded every address and speech made from the floor. The spirit of harmony and unanimity of purpose was an outstanding feature. The Conference passed unanimously a resolution calling upon the churches and pastors to support every organization that had for its purpose the enforcement of law, and to emphasize the need of a law abiding citizenship for the welfare of our country.

The next conference will meet with the church at Miami, Fla.

The trouble seems to be that the parties stand for nothing and the people stand for anything.
