Despondent Disabled Vet Kills Wife, Kids, Self

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man despondent about a cutoff of his disabled veteran's allotment killed his estranged wife and two sons in Jacksonville then committed suicide, police said. He had left a suicide note saying he was "down and out" and "frustrated and depressed."

Scott Joseph Sperry, 29, of 2316 Hartwell Ave., his wife and two sons were found about 9 p.m.

Tuesday shot to death in their car. Sperry was shot once in the temple from a self-inflicted wound. His wife, Tenya, 25, from Mississippi, and sons Daniel, 5, and Neal, 3, were shot once in the head and heart each.

Mrs. Sperry, who was estranged from her husband and living with her father Herman Ritter in Jacksonville, may have been chloroformed before she was killed. The sons apparently were not, according to a report by the Florida Times

Union.

Sperry, disabled in a army jeep accident in the 1970's, lived with his mother, Mrs. Magorie Alumbaugh, of Sanford. Mrs. Alumbaugh received a suicide note from her son shortly before learning of the killings in Jacksonville, said police spokesman Charlie Hill.

Jacksonville police found a long hand-written suicide note inside Sperry's jacket pocket. Sperry, who attended Seminole High School, reportedly was depressed regarding the pending cancellation of his disability allotment, although the Evening Herald has learned a local case worker said he was optimistic Sperry would get the allotment reinstated.

Sperry, according to police, apparently talked his wife and sons into going for a car ride and drove to an electrical substation in the Regency Square area of Jacksonville. Nine shots were fired

Rain Ruins Columbia's 6th Chance

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The delay-plagued shuttle Columbia and its frustrated crew were grounded again today for an unprecedented sixth time because of a non-stop deluge of rain and low clouds over the spaceport.

Launch director Gene Thomas told the disappointed astronauts that he was sorry he had called off the attempt and said he would let them know as soon as officials decide when to try again.

"Okay, Gene, thank you," replied commander Robert "Hoot" Gibson. "We figured it was worth the attempt but looking out the window we could pretty well see that we weren't going anyway today."

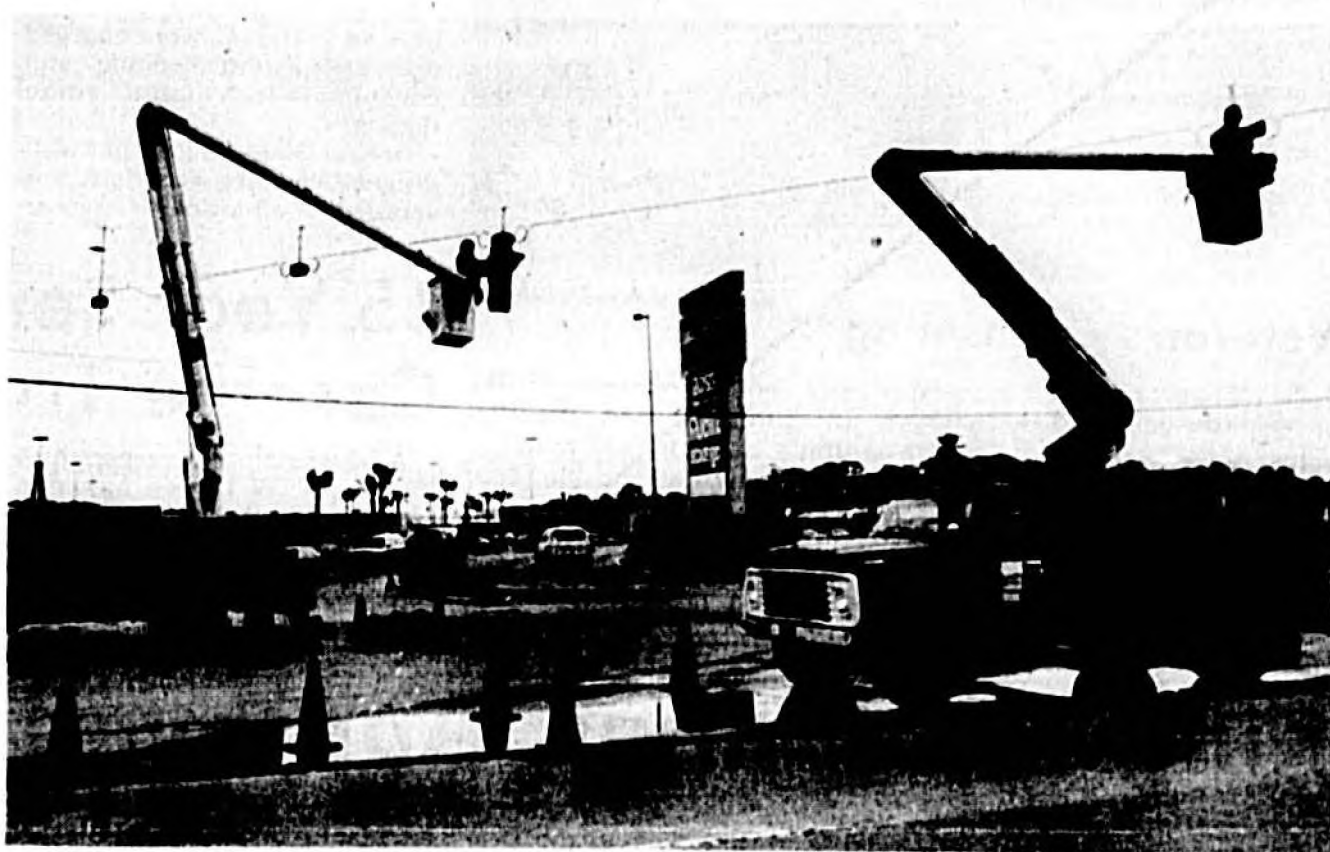

Columbia, now 23 days behind schedule, could be scheduled for another launch try Saturday, but NASA indicated a delay until Sunday was under consideration.

While shuttle schedules are often changed in advance of launch attempts, never before has one had so much trouble getting off the ground once the countdown started, including Columbia's first flight in April 1981 to kick off the shuttle program.

The launch postponement today was another frustrating disappointment for Gibson, co-pilot Charles Bolden, Rep. Bill Nelson, D-Fla., Franklin Chang-Diaz, George Nelson, Steven Hawley and RCA satellite engineer Robert Cenker.

Blastoff today had been scheduled for 6:55 a.m. EST today but steady and occasionally heavy rain forced NASA to delay the countdown three times hoping weather conditions would improve.

They never did and at 8:43 a.m., as Columbia's two-hour launch period wound down, the countdown was stopped for the day.

Getting The Hang Of It

Up taut is the result as linemen hang twin traffic lights Thursday noon across U.S. Highway 17-92 at the Seminole Centre entrance. While there is power to the lights, it is not known just when they will be put into operation, though Sanford officials hope as soon as possible due to traffic congestion. The $30,000 "sophisticated" lights have to be programmed by the state Department of Transportation.

IRS Targets Deadbeat Debtors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service is going after nearly 750,000 people who refused to pay nearly $1.6 billion in student and other government loans, to try to recover the money through their 1985 tax refunds.

The Office of Management and Budget Thursday night announced the number of loan scofflaws who will now be subject to the IRS collection effort as part of a pilot program to begin to recover the estimated $20 billion that is owed the government from bad loans.

An OMB spokeswoman said the nearly 750,000 people ignored several notices of the past due loans before the information was forwarded to the IRS by five federal agencies.

Most of the people involved — 657,894 — had defaulted on student loans which, with interest, totaled $1.3 billion, the spokeswoman said.

Other loans came from the Small Business Administration, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Agriculture Department and the Veterans' Administration, she added.

"Scofflaw defaulters who think they've outwitted and outrun the federal bureaucracy will learn firsthand that federal agencies now have the will — the effective ways — of collecting overdue debts," Joseph Wright, deputy director of OMB, said in a statement.

Administration officials plan to study the effectiveness of the program this year to determine if it should be expanded to other agencies in 1987.

The Office of Management and Budget noted that in the past few months about 41,000 other people who had defaulted on their government loans came up with about $14 million in repayments after being sent final notices.

Relations Panel Sets Objectives

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

With residents' backing, members of the city's Human Relations Advisory Board said they believe the group can successfully foster a permanent spirit of cooperation among all segments of the Sanford community.

Without it, they contend, their own efforts will only serve as window dressing to veil continued disparity.

On Thursday night the board held its first meeting and told one another where they had come from so they could determine where they would go together. Members spoke of their different ethnic, economic and educational backgrounds and readily accepted each other's.

The Human Relations board is a result of Sanford Commissioner Bob Thomas' year-long efforts to establish a bi-racial committee to study race relations in the city.

The appointment of the Rev. Richard Danielak as chairman was unanimously endorsed by fellow board members Atermese Bentley, Herbert Eckstein, Cathy Harrison, Sara Jacobson, the Rev. Paul Murphy, Storm Richards, Lurleen Sweeting, Michael Waters and Stephen Wright. The board's eleventh member, Mary Whitehurst, was unable to attend the meeting.

According to Mayor Bettye Smith, city commissioners purposely gave the Human Relations Advisory Board a broad charter when they approved its formation in October. On Thursday she told its members, "Choose your own path, but don't hesitate to call on us if we can help."

'If we can create the right climate, residents won't have to worry about their human rights.'

The reciprocal will hold true as well, according to board members, who will utilize their charter to assist the city commission's efforts to improve the community. The board hopes to accomplish this by conducting open forums for residents and perhaps locating complaint boxes throughout the city.

Although their efforts are tentative at this point, the magnitude of their responsibility is very clear.

"I'm frightened by the enormity of what we face," Danielak said. "But I embrace it."

Defining human relations was posed of members, who responded that respect, equity and honesty are among the foremost priorities when discussing the quality of life.

Unfortunately, as of yet these qualities are not foregone conclusions.

Gas Tax Plan Must Be Ready By Feb. 4

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County and its seven cities will return to the drawing board over a plan to divide revenues from the six-cent, local option gas tax.

But time is running out. Local officials have until Feb. 4 to come up with a distribution formula to which the county and the cities can agree.

The Florida Cabinet sent local representatives home from Tallahassee Tuesday, giving them just one month to decide how to divvy up $6 million in gas tax proceeds. That's when they will present the new inter-local agreement before state officials.

In response to the Cabinet's direction, the Seminole County Council of Local Governments (CALNO) agreed Wednesday to mull over three possible distribution formulas and come back with a decision when it meets in Casselberry on Jan. 29.

CALNO members represent the county, the cities and the school board.

Chairman Lee Constantine, a city commissioner from Altamonte Springs, said the Council Wednesday opted for the county to get 63 percent of the tax and the cities 37 percent.

Historic Board's Request Puts Library Addition Behind Schedule

Striking a balance between politics and preservation has put immediate pressure on the new overseers of Sanford's historic district as they prepare to review a second set of site plans for a $940,000 library proposed by Seminole County.

Last month, at its first meeting, the city's Historic Preservation Board asked the county's architect to amend the library plans to comply with the downtown district's historic flavor. The facility is to be built behind the Sanford library and board members cited the plan's "contemporary" look as being incompatible with structures located nearby.

On Thursday, during board's second meeting, Chairman Jerry Mills told his colleagues to "be prepared. I've talked with the architect and it doesn't look like he's going to take the suggestions we came up with."

The architect, however, said today he has "finished sifting through" the board's "vague directions" and he "believes" the second proposal will be accepted when he presents it next month.

Architect John Dragash also said it is "frustrating" having to comply with a new board's requirements for a project that has been in the works for over a year.

"We started working on this last January. Last month they told us to go back to the drawing board," he said, adding that the project is now two months behind schedule.

However, according to board members, their efforts to preserve the downtown district has necessitated taking a hard line against all proposals that don't

Southern Bell Building Eyed For Senior Center

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Southern Bell office building next to Sanford Plaza is up for lease or sale, but a proposal to be considered as a location for a senior citizen center for the Sanford area has brought mixed reaction.

Bob Walko, executive director for the United Way of Seminole County and a member of the Senior Citizens Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, suggested at a recent meeting of the committee that the telephone building would make an ideal location for a Sanford senior center.

Walko said the United Way was not involved, but could possibly provide some funding in the future for some of its agencies to open Sanford offices at the proposed center if they decided to do so.

"It would be a fantastic place," Walko told The Herald, "but to get the necessary state and federal grants and funding it will take the cooperation of the city of Sanford and the chamber of commerce."

Chamber President Jack Horner is less than enthusiastic about the proposal and Sanford City Manager Frank Faison said there have been inquiries from time to time about obtaining a senior center, but the city is not doing anything about getting one at the present time.

Horner said he has been trying to find someone to lease the building after having been asked to do so by Southern Bell area Manager Larry Strickler and the Southern Bell real estate office in Jacksonville.

"Southern Bell moved out of Sanford in the dead of night, and we woke up one morning and they were gone and nobody knew where they had moved," Horner said. "The bottom line is they are stuck with the lease and are looking for someone to take it off their hands."

But Strickler said this isn't true. "We are not leaving town, but are looking to sublease or selling the building." Although the teller operation and business office was moved from Sanford to Orlando in May of 1984, the building is still in 60-75 percent use, he said. "We're using everything but the business office and Phone Center."

Strickler listed his firm's options: "We can sublease it, buy it and sell it, or buy it and lease all or part of it. The price is negotiable depending on which option they would choose."

"I would love to see it as a senior center like the one in Casselberry or something else other than commercial," he added. "A senior center could cater to the needs of senior citizens and be used by other non-profit groups as well."

Although a "For Lease" sign went up at the 17,000 sq. ft. building Thursday morning, "it doesn't mean

U.S. To Seek Allied Support For Sanctions Against Libya

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz, saying the United States has run out of economic sanctions it can wield against Libya, will dispatch a top-level U.S. envoy to Europe next week seeking support from the allies.

Shultz, at a news conference Thursday, made a pitch for Western European nations to "do the right thing" and back President Reagan's plea for international isolation of Libya.

He said Deputy Secretary of State John Whitehead will visit several European capitals — he did not identify them — seeking to persuade the reluctant allies to fall in line.

Pleas Fail; Roach Executed

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — James Terry Roach, 25, whose death sentence for murders he committed at age 17 drew international pleas for clemency, was executed today for raping and killing a teenage girl and shooting her boyfriend to death.

"To the family of the victims, my heart is still with you in your sorrow. May you forgive me just as I know my lord has done," Roach said before receiving two one-minute jolts of 1500- to 2300-volt electricity in the state's electric chair at the Central Correctional Institution.

He was pronounced dead at 5:16 a.m. EST. Deputy Corrections Commissioner Doug Catoe said.

TMI Staff Penalized For Coverup

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A high-ranking manager and 16 other Three Mile Island workers have been disciplined for their roles in the falsification of key test records at TMI's Unit No. 2 nuclear reactor before its near-meltdown in 1979.

A report released Thursday by TMI's three utility owners and its operator, GPU Nuclear Corp., said at least two, and possibly four, of the employees directly covered up the unacceptably high leakage of water from the reactor's coolant system.

Retailers Report Modest Gains

United Press International

The nation's major retailers Thursday reported modest sales gains in December as consumer debt held back spending during the key Christmas buying season.

Analysts estimated the industrywide sales increase at about 5 percent, which was at the low end of forecasts.

Sears, Roebuck and Co., the Chicago-based No. 1 retailer, said its December sales rose 1.7 percent to $3.73 billion from $3.67 billion in December 1984.

Several retailers pointed out that sales were strongest in the final days before Christmas.

WORLD IN BRIEF

U.S. Lawmakers Pledge Support To South African Blacks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — A U.S. congressional delegation vowed on the eve of its return home today to show disenfranchised black South Africans that Americans "care" about their plight.

William Gray, D-Pa., and five congressional colleagues headed for Johannesburg, where they were to meet today with trade unionists and members of the anti-government South African Council of Churches before flying home.

While the delegation toured a squalid Cape Town shanty camp Thursday and prayed with a leading dissident, two bombs exploded in a post office and an electricity substation in Durban, injuring a policeman and four civilians.

Resignation Slaps Thatcher Style

LONDON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Michael Heseltine's resignation — in a dispute over rescue of Britain's only helicopter manufacturer — turned into a wider debate about the autocratic style of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Press commentators speculated the move was linked to Heseltine's ambition to become prime minister and said it might encourage other ministers to confront Thatcher's "Iron Lady" reputation for unbending and single-minded leadership.

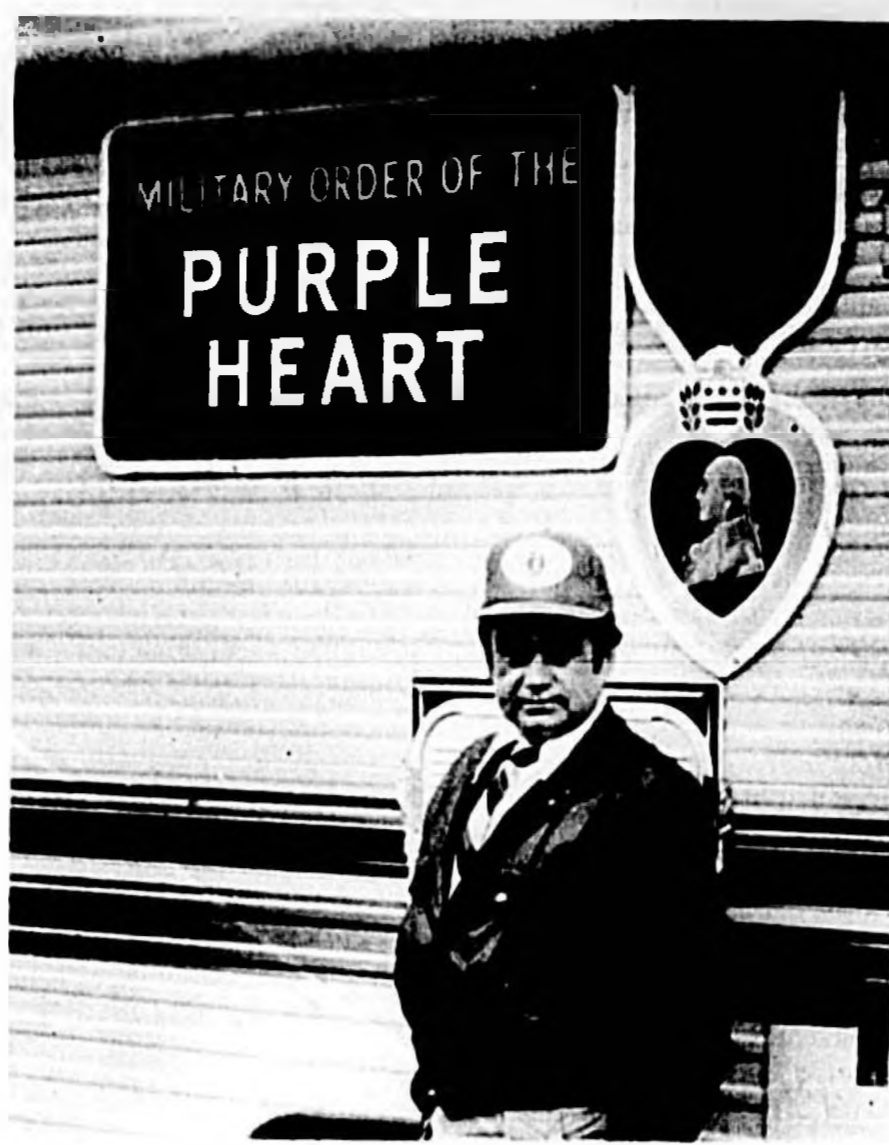

Heseltine, however, said he was "not interested in discussing my future" in the ruling Conservative Party, except to say he intended to run in the next election.

Marcos Rules Out Martial Law

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Ferdinand Marcos today dismissed concern that next month's election might be canceled, saying it could not happen unless rebels attack the cities and force him to reimpose martial law.

Marcos said in a nationally televised news conference he expected to beat opposition presidential candidate Corason Aquino in the Feb. 7 vote by "a credible majority" of at least 60 percent of the vote.

"All those doubts that have been expressed about the holding of the snap election have no basis," Marcos said. "I do not see any obstacle, legal or otherwise, to the holding of such election."

Kingwood Plans Approved

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

Plans for the construction of the 529-acre Kingwood development in northwest Seminole County were approved by the county commission Tuesday night.

The commission okayed a rezoning request by Seminole Partnership from agricultural and single family residential to planned unit development for the property, located west of I-4 and bordered by Orange Boulevard, Oregon Avenue and State Road 46.

Commissioners also approved Kingwood as a development of regional impact, which means the plan will now go before the state Department of Community Affairs for review.

The county commission was the third board to approve the project. The East Central Florida Regional Planning Council and the Seminole County Planning and Zoning Commission also recommended the plan be approved.

Kingwood Planner Jack Gladning described the development as a "golf course community" similar to the Wekiva and Deer Run projects.

Kingwood will include 1,780 single and multi-family housing units, 19.5 acres of commercial property and a 110.4-acre golf course.

Developer Howard Pomp said the development will also contain a 32-acre lake system, an 80-acre conservation area and water and sewage treatment plants.

County Administrator Ken Neiswender said the development can utilize its own utility plans or receive service through proposed regional facilities. The county is looking for a major wellfield on the east side of Interstate-4 to service the area, he said.

The primary access to the property will be from State Road 46 with other entrances at Oregon Avenue and Orange Boulevard, Pomp said.

As part of the plan, the developers have committed to paying school, fire, police, drainage and transportation impact fees, he said. Pomp said a homeowner's association will be

Two Arrested In Plot To Kidnap Graham

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Authorities broke up a plot to kidnap Gov. Bob Graham with the arrests of a convict and his wife, who had hoped to hold the governor until the convict was freed.

Fred Schneyer, spokesman for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, said Howard Crawford, 44, was arrested Thursday at the Union Correctional Institution in Raiford, where he is serving a 12-year term in a 1985 solicitation-to-commit-murder case.

FDLE agents and Oregon authorities arrested Vicki Jill Crawford, 39, at the Portland, Ore., airport, Schneyer said. Her mother, Donna Priest, 68, was with her but was not held, Schneyer said.

Crawford and his wife, who lives in Portland, were charged with conspiracy to kidnap and conspiracy to commit grand theft.

Oregon State Police Sgt. Walt Wagner said Mrs. Crawford was arrested on a Florida warrant as a fugitive from justice on the two counts, each of which carry a $1 million bond.

A spokeswoman for the governor said Graham was informed of the investigation last week and expressed no alarm. She said she knew of no extra security precautions for Graham or his family.

"He is aware occasionally this occurs," Chamberlin said. "He is confident in the ability of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement to protect the governor and his family."

If convicted, the Crawfords face 20 years in prison and $15,000 in fines on the charges.

State Attorney Eugene Whitworth of Gainesville said the FDLE and the Jacksonville sheriff's office learned in late November that an inmate was interested in paying someone to have Graham kidnapped.

Whitworth said the Florida Department of Corrections assisted in the investigation but would not elaborate further.

15 Year Sentence For Cocaine Trafficking

A 39-year-old man reported to be the son of Darren McGavin was sentenced to 15 years and ordered to pay a $250,000 fine for trafficking cocaine.

James E. Goodwin was sentenced Thursday in Orlando by Circuit Judge Ted Coleman who earlier ruled cocaine seized by police could be entered into evidence against Goodwin.

Goodwin was arrested May 6 as he tried to smuggle 1 1/2 pounds of cocaine through Orlando International Airport, according to court records.

The case was found abandoned on a tram at the airport and the man who found it turned it over to police. While an officer and an agent were examining the case, a second man told police he had lost a case.

Officers, posing as lost-and-found employees, said Goodwin looked in the case then said it was his.

Goodwin, who had flown to Orlando from California, never disclosed his destination. Officer's said he appeared drowsy and disoriented when he was arrested and reportedly "begged" them to give him some cocaine to "get him through the night."

Rebate And Fee Break For Pet Sterilization

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County residents who have their pets spayed or neutered will receive a break on the fees they pay for the sterilization.

The program approved by the county commission will result in a $25 rebate to pet owners who have their animals sterilized. One county official said it will also go a long way in helping solve the growing problem of unwanted animals in Seminole County.

The rebate program is designed to offer an incentive to pet owners to have their animals sterilized. County Animal Control Director Bob McIntosh said.

The county will take $2 from each pet licensing fee it collects and put the money into an animal control rebate account from which the rebates will be paid. Fifteen dollars from each $35 group fee paid will also go into the special fund.

Residents with sterilized dogs and cats who once paid nothing to have their animals licensed by the county will now pay $3 for the service under the new fee structure.

However, those people will still pay $2 less for a pet license than those residents with unsterilized animals. Residents with unsterilized dogs and cats will pay $5 for a pet license, $1 less than the $6 fee they have paid.

Residents whose pets have been licensed and inoculated for rabies will have 30 days from the date of sterilization to ask the county for the rebate, McIntosh said.

The fee changes are an effort to "balance out" the contribution all residents make to animal control in Seminole County, he said.

The licensing fees are effective now, but the sterilization rebates will not begin to be paid out for another three to six months, McIntosh said. The county plans to have $3,000 in the account before it begins the rebates, he said.

McIntosh said he feels the rebate program will be successful in helping to decrease the number of unwanted pets in the county.

In fiscal year 1983-84, 8,210 were handled at the county's animal shelter and in 1984-85 the number grew to 9,222 animals, he said. In October and November, 1,427 animals were handled, up from 1,395 animals for the same period the previous year.

"With the increased population growth in Seminole County, there is also an increase in numbers of unwanted strays, puppies and kittens," McIntosh said.

The number of unwanted animals is at its peak during late winter, early spring and fall. Over the next two months, the shelter will become "inundated" with boxes of puppies and kittens, he said. And, although the county has a pet adoption program, close to one half of those animals received at the shelter will have to be destroyed, McIntosh said.

Appeals Court Reversal Brings Plea Bargain Agreement

A former Chuluota woman who stabbed her husband to death in 1982 was sentenced to 90 days in the Seminole county jail following a reversal by an appeal court of her 1983 manslaughter conviction and 10-year sentence.

Cora "Sami" Louise Tanner, formerly Mrs. Larry Cannon, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor.

Her conviction was overturned by the appeal court which said the judge did not properly instruct jurors before their deliberation. They ordered another trial. Rather than go to trial, Ms. Tanner pleaded guilty to attempted manslaughter. McGregor noted during the sentencing that Ms. Tanner has remarried, is in the process of building a home in Orange County, and has donated a kidney to her daughter. He said those things should be taken into consideration. The state had asked for a one-year sentence.

Ms. Tanner was convicted following a 4-day trial which revealed conflicting stories as to the events leading up to the death of Larry Cannon, 36. Ms. Tanner told investigators that her husband grabbed her around the throat and that she stabbed him with a 10-inch knife in self-defense. However, at the trial she said she wanted to scare her husband and walked into their bedroom shouting at him to leave her alone and warning him that she had a knife. Cannon, apparently either too drunk or enraged to care or hear, jumped from behind a door and grabbed her pulling her towards him and forcing the knife into his leg.

Cannon died from massive internal bleeding after the knife severed an artery.

KNIFE SPOTTED
A 24-year-old Sanford man has been charged with possession of a concealed weapon and possession of drug paraphernalia after police spotted a butcher knife on the floorboard of his car, and a beer can that had been altered to make a device for using cocaine, a police report said.

Police approached the suspect and two other men as they stood outside his car at the Rib Ranch on U.S. Highway 17-92 at about 11:20 p.m. Tuesday. The weapon was spotted, the can found in a search, and the suspect was charged, the report said.

TRUCK THEFT ARREST
A man accused of stealing a 1977 Chevrolet pickup truck that was disabled along Airport Boulevard in Sanford on Dec. 27, and abandoning it in an orange grove, has been charged with auto theft.

Jeff Robert Keyser, 20, of 641 Riverview Ave., Sanford, was arrested at the Seminole County sheriff's office at about 1:15 p.m. Tuesday. He has been released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Jan. 27.

MAINTENANCE THEFT
An Apopka man has been charged in connection with the theft of $30 worth of items taken from a vehicle parked at the eastbound rest area of Interstate 4 near Longwood, where he worked as a maintenance man, a sheriff's report said.

The man was first arrested for Seminole County in Orange County at his home on Jan. 2. He was moved to the Seminole County Jail Tuesday, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Mark Stefanich Oliva, 24, of 22 Britton Road, was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond on charges of burglary to a conveyance and petty theft.

CANNED OVER JARS
A Lake Mary man was arrested and jailed on a charge of retail theft after he was accused of taking three empty jars from a store.

According to an arrest report, the man was seen taking the jars out of the store, then putting them next to him as he sat on some shopping carts. The man reportedly had $48 with him at the time. The jars were valued at $5.28.

Given a summons to appear in court Jan. 17 was David James Fitzgibbons, 19, of 166 Sir Topas Lane.

TRUCK PARTS TAKEN
Someone stripped a parked truck of ignition parts while it was in the lot of an auto dealership.

According to a sheriff's report, the incident occurred between New Years Day at 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Friday.

Airport Authority OKs 3 New Leases

The Sanford Airport Authority granted one month's free rent to the new operators of the airport's restaurant and approved three lease agreements with new tenants during Tuesday's SAA meeting. The commission also refused to allow a builder to locate a small retail store on property he originally intended to develop into a shopping center.

According to commissioners, a 10-acre tract of land extending back from the intersection of Mellonville Avenue and 25th Street was leased last year with an agreement that it be developed as a series of retail stores. The site plan they received this month, however, called for one shop at the front of the property and the 9-acres behind it to be reserved for light industrial development.

"That's totally incompatible with what we discussed," said Authority Chairman Kay Shoemaker, who added that the developer might want to consider opting out of his lease in light of the authority's site plan denial.

However, Aviation Director J.S. "Red" Cleveland said the developer wanted to hold onto the land and "might not build on it for at least a year."

"If that's the case," Shoemaker said, "I still want to keep a close eye on what's developed there."

Shoemaker said his concern stemmed from it "just being a matter of time" before a parallel road to Interstate 46 is built in that area.

He said sufficient frontage should be included on any new plans that are submitted.

A free month's rent will be used by the new operators of the airport's Skyport restaurant to launch a mini-advertising campaign. Commission approval of the measure came on a recommendation made by Cleveland, who has high hopes for the restaurant.

"I think it will be the best effort we've ever had," he said.

The new three leases approved by the SAA are for a print shop, at $107.33 a month; storage of aerospace equipment, at $2,000 a month; and storage of helicopter parts, at $5,880 a year.

Commissioner Joe Baker expressed reservations regarding the helicopter lease because the company already rents three airport buildings and is "a sloppy tenant."

The commission adopted his motion that the lease contain an addendum calling for "management to reserve the right to terminate the agreement if the area becomes unsightly."

U.S. Says 1 Mile Not 1.609347 Km

Ten years ago, the country suddenly became metric-minded.

It was predicted that within 10 years all of America would be measuring in meters, grams and liters — instead of yards, ounces and quarts.

Well, it didn't happen. Oh, we can buy our booze and soft drinks in liter portions these days and perhaps read in a magazine article that a mountain is 6,000 meters high or a reef 20 meters under the surface. Marijuana comes in kilos (but then it always did). General Motors American-made cars now require metric wrenches, but Ford and Chrysler domestic products are still on the standard system. Most grocery-product labels carry both metric and non-metric units.

The liter, however, has practically disappeared from gasoline-pump readout dials, where it once had a firm foothold. Schools, which heavily emphasized the metric system 10 years ago, now are teaching both metric and the English systems.

The message must be that it is hard to get people to change, especially if they are comfortable with what they have. "If it ain't broke, don't fix it," they are glad to advise.

Now, experts still are saying metric is bound to come to America, but it will be a slower process than first believed — perhaps another 15 or 20 years before the country is substantially converted.

Ten years ago we joined the metric bandwagon. We said editorially that it made a lot more sense than our system of measuring and weighing. We still believe that's true. We're 10-square for metric, even if it doesn't arrive until we're 180 centimeters under.

Why Not Spy?

Maybe it is true, as some commentators have been saying, that crass materialism — the ancient sin of greed — is behind the rush of American spy cases uncovered of late.

Yet what about three decades of "sophisticated" sneering at American patriotism?

What about the torrents of lies blaming America for the Cold War, the arms race, Third World poverty, economic inequality, domestic and overseas terrorism, discontents at home, conflicts abroad, the nuclear threat and most of the rest of the world's problems.

Maybe many, if not all, of the spies who betrayed America were instigated to some extent by wave after wave of nasty-spirited propaganda which left the impression that America ought to be betrayed.

Avoid A Heart Attack - Sleep 'Til Noon

WASHINGTON — Among the many advances medical science has made lately is the discovery that the prime time for heart attacks is around 9 a.m.

Conversely, according to a Harvard cardiologist, the safest hour is 11 p.m.

You don't have to be a doctor to recognize the significance of these findings. Even a layman who looks at the two periods attentively enough can see a correlation, of sorts.

The post meridian hour falls after dark when all sensible people are in bed asleep. The morning hour, by contrast, arrives when most people are awake if not already out on the job.

The preventive step is clear. If you wish to avoid a heart attack — and who doesn't these days? — sleep 'til noon.

That was not, I noted, among the conclusions drawn by Dr. James Muller of the Harvard Medical School. There is no quarreling, however, with his observation that waking up raises the blood pressure, thus putting additional stress on the ol' bod. Particularly if one has set an alarm clock.

I would say an alarm clock ringing in the early bright causes a bigger jump in my blood pressure than a telephone ringing in the dead of night. Small wonder that the main "window of vulnerability" for heart attacks opens at 6 a.m.

By the time one is sufficiently aroused to turn off the bloody alarm, it may be too late. Zap! A hour or so later, the old ticker goes bad.

It is, of course, embarrassing to have a heart attack while taking a shower. Better to wait, if possible, until you are dressed for work.

The ambulance driver will appreciate your thoughtfulness, and so will the hospital emergency ward staff.

Better yet, sleep until 9 a.m., so that if you do have to go to the hospital in an ambulance, you will at least be wearing pajamas.

If, however, you customarily retire for the evening in footie jam-jams, forget it. Almost nothing can provide a red-face faster than for an adult, old enough to have heart trouble, arriving at an emergency ward clad in children's nightwear.

Unfortunately, Muller does not address my idea of avoiding heart attacks by seeking employment that permits you to sleep until noon and get to bed before midnight.

I'm sure, however, that your boss will cooperate. Unless you happen to be working in a hospital emergency ward.

There are always a few people who will have mid-morning coronaries regardless, and for them nothing could be more unsettling than to be told the emergency ward staff is still in bed.

Such information could send your blood pressure up another couple of notches. In fact, the effect could be even more devastating than a poor electrocardiogram reading.

Muller notes that doctors tend to remember the heart cases that forced them to get out bed to render treatment. So, I might add, do the patients.

There is no doubt a 9 a.m. heart attack is more convenient, if not memorable, than one that occurs at 11 p.m. Try to arrange your day accordingly.

BEN WATTENBERG

American Message Muffled

On Dec. 27, Palestinian terrorist machine-gunners mowed down innocent civilians at airports in Vienna and Rome. Five days later Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev delivered televised messages for broadcast in each other's nations. The nature, sequence and background of these events tells us a great deal about how the world will work in the post-Geneva summit era.

There's good news and bad news.

The broadcasts were a plus for America. The reason is elementary. We in America often get to hear the Soviet party line. When the topic involves Russia, ABC's "Nightline" may offer up a Soviet "journalist" direct from Moscow, speaking in American-accented colloquial English (just as he was taught in KGB school), saying precisely what the Soviet government wants him to say. Just the other night a well-spoken Soviet diplomat, Vitaly Churkin, was on PBS's McNeil-Lehrer program, giving us instant analysis about Russian public opinion after Reagan's talk. The Soviet public, said Churkin, wanted to know only this about Reagan's policy: "Where is the beef?" (Back to colloquial school, Churkin.)

On the other hand, the Soviets don't hear Western voices on their evening television programs. (The Soviets try to jam foreign radio broadcasts.) So getting Reagan's message into Russia — unjammed, on television, in prime time — is good. After all, official Soviet posters depict Reagan with missiles coming out of his ears.

But what did Reagan say? He said that we don't wish Russians harm, that we want to cut nuclear arsenals, that Star Wars is peaceful, that Americans and Russians will be visiting each other, that we care about human rights, that we want settlements to armed conflicts.

All fine. But what didn't Reagan say, and why didn't he say it?

That's the bad news. Just five days after the airport massacres, Reagan didn't tell the world that over the years the Russians and their proxies have trained Palestinian terrorists in and out of Libya. He didn't say that the Soviets are providing an incredible array of weapons to Libyan madman Muammar Qaddafi, who harbors and praises the gang that shot up the airports.

Why didn't Reagan make that case? Because we are now playing "hard-headed detente," going to summits and trying to work out a missile deal.

U.S. Should Target Bekaa For Reprisals

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Internal White House documents emphasize President Reagan's attitude toward any further tweaking of Uncle Sam's beard by Moslem terrorists: He's sick of being pushed around.

Reagan believes the American people "are tired of suffering insults at the hands of other nations," as one policy paper put it. For this reason, Reagan is convinced that "minimal risks" can be taken to bolster U.S. leadership in the world.

The list of target options that could both assuage the public's outrage and deal the terrorists a damaging blow includes the obvious ones like Libya, Syria and Iran. But there's an even more tempting target, the ancient city of Baalbek in northeastern Lebanon.

If ever there were a viper's nest ripe for destruction, it is this terrorist plotting-and-training center in the Bekaa Valley, close to the Syrian border. Since 1975, the Bekaa has been the headquarters and nerve center for the greatest

AIA Aims At Profs

Reed Irvine, the contentious chairman of Accuracy in Media, which regularly irritates the media by accusing them of foul play in the service of a left-liberal bias, has now poked his cane into another busy hornet's nest, with predictable results. Irvine has announced the formation of a new group, Accuracy in Academia, dedicated to monitoring the performance of Marxists and other assorted leftists in America's college classrooms and blowing the whistle on their factual misstatements, if any.

Naturally this declared intention has made Irvine about as popular in academic circles as itching powder in a Turkish bath. But, as I observed in an earlier column, if Socrates didn't mind being quoted, why should America's college professors?

Since I first addressed the subject, however, various thoughtful conservatives have weighed in with expressions of serious doubt about the idea. Midge Deeter, while acknowledging the existence of outrageous distortions in academia, has expressed the fear that the judgments arrived at by AIA "will be dictated by people with a political, not an intellectual, agenda." And Education Secretary William Bennett has called the new group "a bad idea," arguing that the issue ought not to be the views of any individual professor but the need for balance, which he acknowledges is often woefully lacking.

There are several things to be said here. First, remember that Irvine's choice of targets — the media and the academy — is not accidental. They are the two remaining bastions of left-liberal opinion in America, and the academy is infinitely the worse and deadlier of the two. Our colleges and universities, which are supposed to be strongholds of unfettered inquiry, are in fact about as intellectually untrammelled and free-spirited as the Gulag Archipelago. At this moment, on campuses all over America, professors in the relevant disciplines are being pressured to swear publicly that they will never engage in research that would advance President Reagan's Space Shield proposal. Others are being threatened with damage to their academic careers if they don't subscribe to the theory that dust from a meteorite collision wiped out the dinosaurs — and that Carl Sagan is therefore, by extension, right in warning us about the dangers of a "nuclear winter."

In the second place, note that Irvine has defined his purpose with considerable care. I know what his conservative critics fear: The liberal media, who used to love to photograph perspiring fat ladies with straw boaters and palmetto fans at Goldwater rallies, will try to come up with some ignorant and overzealous AIA "monitor" at Mississippi U. who distinctly heard Professor So-and-So say, "There's nothing wrong with being a thespian."

But Irvine protests mildly that AIA will merely be "criticizing those who say or publish demonstrably inaccurate or misleading things," and it's hard to see what's wrong with that. These aren't the only deplorable things that are going on in the American academy today, but there's more than enough of them to keep AIA busy for decades.

My hat is off to Boston University President John Silber, who calmly remarked, "I don't think anything serious is going to happen to the professors beyond the fact that it may become a matter of broad public knowledge that they don't know what they're talking about.... If a professor gets his facts wrong and somebody spots the inaccuracy and somebody makes it public, how is that a disservice to the university or the pursuit of truth?"

Computer Interfaces Wallets

By Edward K. DeLong

An oversupply of computer hard disk data storage devices has driven prices down to within the budgetary reach of many personal computer owners.

A hard disk compares to the more familiar floppy disk the way an entire file cabinet compares to a single file folder. Both the hard disk and the file cabinet store vastly larger amounts of data.

In addition to the convenience of greater storage capacity, hard disk drives cut down on waiting time for computer users by operating more than three times as fast as their floppy disk cousins.

Until recently, hard disk storage was a costly luxury used primarily in the business world. But a glut of hard disk drives for IBM PC and PC compatible computers has driven prices below the $500 mark in the past few months.

Industry insiders say the reduced prices have nothing to do with technological advances or better manufacturing techniques. It is a classic case of supply overpowering demand.

Floppy disks or floppies — so named because they are thin and flexible — are a familiar part of the desktop computer scene.

The most common floppies look like black plastic squares that measure 5.25 inches on a side, have the thickness and flexibility of an empty file folder and are marked by cutouts in the center and along one edge. Other members of the floppy family measure as much as 8 inches or as little as 3.5 inches on a side.

The visible part of the floppy is actually a protective jacket surrounding a thin, round disk that has been coated with dark brown magnetic oxide similar to that used on cassette tapes.

One of the cutouts in the jacket is an oval slot that exposes the surface of the disk, allowing a tiny data head to transfer information to and from the floppy as it spins inside the computer at 300 revolutions per minute.

PCs typically can store 360,000 characters — or about 100 single-spaced pages — of information, although some newer ones have double or triple that capacity because of advances in drive design.

The smallest hard disks commonly used for desktop computers can hold 10 million characters, or 10 megabytes, of information. That is slightly more than the equivalent of 31 floppy disks.

as well as airplane hijackings, murders and kidnappings of Americans.

The old schoolhouse isn't the only identifiable target for U.S. retaliation in Baalbek. The Hotel Khawam is used by the Hezbollah as a military training school. The Hezbollah headquarters in the Sheik Abdullah barracks sits on a hillside above the town; a one-time Lebanese army post, it was the target of French and Israeli reprisal raids in 1983, but has since been rebuilt.

Also housed in the Bekaa Valley is the radical Shilte group, Islamic Amal, led by Hussein Musawir, a 42-year-old former schoolteacher. Though he denied complicity in the bombing of the Marine barracks, he praised the action. U.S. intelligence is convinced that his group had a hand in the bombing.

Anderson, Strickland Push Lady Seminoles Past Brantley, 53-48

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Basketball

In its four losses this season, Seminole High's Lady Seminoles have practically written the book on how to self-destruct. And Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots lended their version of the book, too. Thursday night in a sloppy Seminole Athletic Conference game that had a combined 66 turnovers.

However, when Seminole looked to be in trouble, senior forward Catherine "Kitty" Anderson took over. And, after Anderson fouled out, freshman Leticia Strickland clinched the win with excellent play down the stretch.

Anderson poured in a game-high 20 points and Strickland hit two key baskets in the late going to lead Seminole to a 53-48 victory over the Lady Patriots before 151 fans at Lake Brantley High.

Seminole's win, combined with Lyman's loss to Lake Howell, leaves Seminole, Lake Brantley and Lyman tied for the SAC top spot with 2-1 records. Seminole ran its overall record to 9-4 while Brantley now stands at 6-3. The Lady Patriots host DeLand tonight in a non-conference game.

"They (Lake Brantley) came to our gym and cheered for Lyman the other night (Monday)," Anderson said. "And they said they were going to beat us, but I said, 'no way.'"

Anderson scored 14 of her 20 points in the second half and also added six rebounds and four steals. Strickland had a fine all-around game with 10 points, eight rebounds, four assists and five steals.

Yolanda Robinson added nine points and a game-high 14 rebounds while Kim "Big Wheel" Johnson tossed in eight points and nabbed eight boards. Temika Alexander had an off night shooting but was instrumental in breaking Brantley's press. Alexander also dished out 11 assists and came up with six steals.

Sherry "Ice" Asplen got off to a slow start shooting the ball but kept the Lady Patriots in the game in the second half. Asplen led Brantley with 18 points and also dished out four assists and made five steals. Kim Wain added nine points and 13 rebounds.

After the first half of the season, Lake Brantley coach Cindy Frank said the key for the Lady Patriots was to cut down on turnovers. But Brantley committed 30 miscues Thursday night.

"If we could at least cut our turnovers in half there would be very few teams that could stay with us," Frank said. "We were prepared in every way tonight, but I can't go out there and pass the ball for the girls."

Seminole took advantage of Brantley's cold shooting and 11 turnovers to build a 15-8 lead after one quarter. Robinson scored five points while Anderson and Strickland added four each.

Brantley's shooting problems went from the field to the free throw line in the second quarter as, after Wain hit two, the Lady Patriots missed five in a row, three on front ends of one and ones.

Seminole kept its lead up at seven, 23-16, late in the second quarter but Asplen came out of her shell and scored the last four points of the half to pull the Lady Patriots within 23-20.

Mediocrity seems to bring out the worst in coach Bill Klein's Fighting Seminoles. Every time they run into a decidedly smaller and slower team, out comes the listless effort.

DeLand's Bulldogs slipped into Thursday night's District 4A-9 prep basketball clash with a 3-8 record. They were slow and small. But they were also smart and feisty. Thursday night, the Bulldogs were everything the Seminoles were not.

"Realistically, they're no way we should stay on the same floor with Seminole," DeLand coach John Zeoli said. "But it's been like that for us all year. These kids play hard and with heart. But they get tired, too. And that's what beat us again tonight."

Barely. Seminole's Mike Wright converted a free throw with 1:10 remaining and when DeLand missed a desperation jumper with two seconds left, the Seminoles escaped with a 47-46 victory before 201 fans at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Klein, who has taken a low-key approach while he hopes his potential powerhouse evolves, couldn't say too much positive about the first half.

"We have our 'Sanford Stars,'" he said facetiously. "They feel since we beat them before (at DeLand), all they have to do is pull on their shoes."

"They forget every game is a new game and that you have to play people. You can't just pull on your shoes and win."

tonight in a big Seminole Athletic Conference game. The Tribe is 2-0 in the SAC while Lake Brantley is 1-1.

"We better play a lot better Friday," Klein said. "We didn't play very well tonight but it was exciting for the 10 people that were here."

Seminole opened in a zone and DeLand took immediate advantage. The Bulldogs worked the clock with a series of passes while moving to an 8-6 lead. Baskets by Lance Marlin and footballer Deke Harris in the final 27 seconds pushed the lead to 12-6 after one quarter.

Seminole pulled even when Jerry "Stick" Parker popped in a jumper to open the second quarter and Rod Henderson followed with two more buckets, the second on a nice feed from Andre Whitney.

Turnovers plagued both teams in the second quarter but DeLand did build the lead to 18-13 on a jumper by Marlin before Parker and Whitney offset a deuce by Willie Smith to pare the deficit to 20-17 at halftime.

DeLand solved Seminole's halfcourt trap early in the third quarter and again built a five-point lead but 6-7 Craig Walker and Parker converted buckets near the end of the quarter to slice the lead to 36-33 entering the final eight minutes.

The Tribe came alive immediately in the fourth quarter as Wright snatched a rebound and scored. Parker then stole the ball, was fouled and hit one free throw. Henderson then drove the baseline and scored to give Seminole a 38-37 lead with 6:32 to play.

DeLand, though, refused to fold as Dan Finley converted two free throws and two minutes

Jeff's Day Comes In SCC Win

Basketball

Sometimes academic difficulties can be good for a basketball team. It provides an opportunity for a seldom-used player to shine. Jeff Day's time arrived Thursday night.

The 6-5 Monticello frontcourter, taking advantage of two absent Raiders, pumped in 10 points and grabbed seven rebounds while David Gallagher popped in 25 points as Seminole Community College successfully opened Mid-Florida Conference with a 71-64 victory over Central Florida Community College at Ocala.

The victory was the 15th in 18 decisions for SCC. The Raiders host No. 1-ranked Santa Fe Saturday night at the SCC Health Center. Coach Benny Gabbard's CFCC squad fell to 7-10 and 0-1.

Coach Bill Payne did get third guard Efreem Brooks back from the endangered grade list but the status of 6-7 Greg "Slim" Johnson and 6-5 Carl Poellnitz is still in question. Payne expects a decision by today on whether they have sufficiently made up two incompletes. Calvin "Kiki" Bryant and Scott Hughes were both ruled ineligible.

Gallagher, in the midst of an MVP season, turned in yet another all-around effort. The 5-10 sophomore converted 9 of 11 floor shots and 7 of 11 free throws for his 25. The Edgewater High product also found time to snare nine rebounds, hand out five assists and collect three steals.

Gallagher tossed in 10 first-half points. Claude Jackson added eight and Day clipped in six as the Raiders dashed to 20-10 lead capped by a James Morris dunk. The bulge eventually grew to 37-23 and in the process Gallagher's drives along with the inside attack of Jackson and Day took its toll on CFCC's 6-8 Trent Johnson and 6-4 Mike Ford.

"We got their two big guys in foul trouble early," SCC assistant coach Dean Smith said about Johnson and Smith. "That helped us get the big lead in the first half."

Central Florida moved within four points early in the second half but Mike Landell popped in a jumper to break a 5:10 scoring drought and push the Raiders up, 39-33, with 16:50 to play.

Brooks followed with a pair of free throws while Gallagher and Landell each notched a bucket to boost the margin to 51-37 with 13:30 to play. CFCC, though, got it together over the next five minutes as Bernard Robinson and John Molden led a surge to cut the deficit to 53-50 with 8:25 to play.

Gallagher, nevertheless, rescued the Raiders with a three-point play and Day supplied back-to-back buckets to put SCC up, 60-52.

DAYTONA UPSETS SANTA FE

In other JUCO action Thursday, Daytona Beach Community College stunned No. 1 ranked Santa Fe, 68-67. Kevin Morris dropped in a layup with seven seconds left to provide the margin of difference. Santa Fe fell to 13-2 and 0-1.

No. 5-ranked DBCC (15-3, 1-0) received 28 points from the "Sanford Connection" as Willie Mitchell led the way with 12. Fred Miller added nine and Darryl Merthie had seven. Miller had six assists.

Aretha: No Change

Aretha Riggins, a Seminole High School freshman suffering from Landry-Guillain-Barre syndrome, remains in guarded but stable condition at Orlando's Florida South Hospital, a family memoer said Thursday.

"Aretha hasn't changed," her brother Chris Riggins said.

Aretha, 14, was diagnosed as having the rare syndrome last week. It affects just 1 in 1,000 persons.

Aretha was suffering from the flu when she was admitted to Florida-Altamonte on Jan. 2. She was later transferred to Florida South where Casselberry physician Steven Van Ore diagnosed the illness as the Landry-Guillain-Barre syndrome, a disease which impairs motor functions through an ascending paralysis.

Chris Riggins said Aretha can move her arms but not her legs. She is still on a respirator to facilitate her breathing. She is also being given metabolic support.

Aretha, the daughter of Joe and Cora Lee Riggins of Sanford, was a starter on the volleyball and basketball teams as a freshman and was expected to be a brilliant addition to the girls' track team.

Quinn Knows

Sanford physician Jim Quinn, who provided a recovery rate percentage in Wednesday's Evening Herald article on Aretha Riggins, said he has received five phone calls from people who wanted to explain the Landry-Guillain-Barre Syndrome to him.

Quinn said he is very familiar with the syndrome since one of his friends from Lakeland was affected by it several years ago.

He consulted Harrison's Textbook of Internal Medicine at the request of the Herald and said Aretha has a "75 percent chance of full recovery."

Apparently some readers, through the wording of the sentence, felt he was unfamiliar with the disease, which is not true.

'Refrigerator' Heads UPI All-Rookie Team

Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — By the time the NFL regular season ended, it seemed William "Refrigerator" Perry had been playing for years, so popular was the wide gap between his front teeth and his wide body.

However, Chicago's 308-pound defensive tackle was just a rookie. And with all the fanfare over his physical appearance and his role in the Bears' offensive backfield, it was easy to overlook that he cracked the starting lineup of the NFL's best defense and provided a solid anchor in the middle of the line.

For his defensive performance, Perry headed the UPI All-Rookie team that was announced Thursday.

Perry, the Bears' first-round draft choice, was tagged a "wasted pick" by Chicago defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan when he saw the Clemson product wobble into training camp.

But Perry became a national hit during an Monday night game against Green Bay in October, when he blocked for two Walter Payton touchdowns and plunged 1 yard for a score. This season, Perry gained 7 yards on five carries and caught a 4-yard touchdown pass.

On defense, Perry registered five sacks and began to establish himself as a future star.

Perry was one of eight first-round draft choices to make the team. Three first-year players from the U.S. Football League and one Canadian Football League also made the squad.

Former members of other leagues dominated the offensive backfield. Quarterback Dieter Brock, who spent 11 seasons in the CFL, where he was twice the Most Valuable Player, was the rookie team's oldest player at 34. He completed 59.7 percent of his passes with 16 touchdowns as he directed the Rams to the playoffs.

The running backs were former USFLers Kevin Mack and Gary Anderson. Mack, who won AFC Rookie of the Year honors, rushed for 1,104 yards for Cleveland. He teamed with Earnest Byner to give the Browns the third tandem in NFL history to each rush for more than 1,000 yards.

Eddie Brown

Anderson joined the San Diego Chargers five games into the season, but still rushed for 429 yards with seven touchdowns.

A plethora of talented first-year players came into the league at wide receiver. Cincinnati's Eddie Brown and San Francisco's Jerry Rice stood a bit taller in a crowd that included the Jets' Al Toon, Washington's Gary Clark, Buffalo's Andre Reed and the Raiders' Jesse Hester.

Brown had 53 catches for 942 yards and eight touchdowns.

Lady Raiders Turn Away CFCC, 77-76

Ileana Gallagher continues to prove that, even though she's down, she's definitely not out.

After the first half of the season, the Seminole Community College women's basketball roster was reduced to six. With the lack of depth, particularly at the guard spot, not too many people figured the Lady Raiders would be very competitive.

But Gallagher has found a way to get the most out of her ladies and Thursday night the Raiders fought off a physical Central Florida Community College squad, 76-75, at the SCC Health Center.

It was the second win in a row for the Lady Raiders after the holiday break. SCC now stands at 9-6 overall and 1-0 in the Mid-Florida Conference with Thursday's win. The Lady Raiders return to action tonight at Chipola and get back in league play Tuesday at home against Florida Junior College.

"Offensively, we were pretty flat," SCC assistant Debbie Scherr said. "But the girls had a lot of hustle and determination."

Rene Ivey poured in 21 points for the second game in a row to lead SCC while Kim Lemon pumped in 19 and Carol King tossed in 18.

SCC built a 37-34 halftime lead and neither team could take control in the second half. The last seven minutes, Scherr said the two teams traded buckets but SCC took a 76-75 lead into the final minute, then got the ball back and ran out the clock.

Also hitting double figures for SCC Thursday was Lake Howell graduate Elizabeth Dietrich with 10 points. Lake Mary graduate and Sanford resident Alleen Patterson made 2 of 3 floor shots and 2 of 2 free throws for six points.

Codrey's Revolving Door Shuffles Past Lyman

By Chris Pister
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds were probably wondering what happened Thursday night after they saw their chances of taking sole possession of first place in the Seminole Athletic Conference go down the drain.

What happened was the "Lake Howell Shuffle."

Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks use 12, sometimes more, players a game and coach Dennis Codrey has them checking in and out so fast the school might want to install a revolving door. And, for the last eight games, no matter who Codrey revolves, the job gets done.

Thursday night, the Johnson twins, Jolee and Kellee, were double trouble for Lyman while Lake Howell's depth wore the Lady Greyhounds down as the Lady Hawks pulled off a major upset, 54-53, in SAC action at Lake Howell High.

Basketball

It was the eighth straight win for the Lady Hawks who now stand at 9-3 overall and 1-1 in the conference. Lyman now stands at 6-3 overall and 2-1 in the SAC. The Lady Greyhounds, Seminole and Lake Brantley are locked in a three-way tie for the conference lead.

"They've got 11 girls running in and out all the time," Lyman coach Dick Copeland said of Lake Howell. "With the kind of game they play, you have to have some depth and hit your free throws. We don't have any depth and missed a lot of free throws and both took their toll on us."

Lyman had a last chance to pull out the win in the end but Kim Forsyth couldn't hit a followup shot after grabbing an offensive rebound. Forsyth, the county's leading scorer, was held to a season-low 11 points by the Lady Hawks.

Meanwhile, the Johnsons combined for half, 27, of Lake Howell's points. Jolee led the way with a season-high 17 points while Kellee tossed in 10. Erin Hankins and Carolyn Kuhl added eight points each for Lake Howell.

LaTonya Johnson poured in a game-high 20 points to lead Lyman and Denise Stevens continued to lend strong support with 12 points. Lyman hit just 5 of 18 free throws for the game.

Lyman raced to a 16-7 lead after the first quarter by Copeland said Lake Howell went to its press in the second period and pulled within 27-26 at halftime.

LEESBURG DROPS OVIEDO

Turnovers, and 3 for 13 shooting from the free throw line did Oviedo's Lady Lions in Thursday night as they dropped a 67-43 decision to Leesburg's Lady Yellow Jackets in Orange Belt Conference play at Leesburg.

Oviedo, 2-10 overall and 2-1 in the OBC, returns to Seminole Athletic Conference play tonight at Lake Mary. Lake Mary is 9-2 overall and plays its first SAC game tonight.

"We played good in spots and worked hard on defense," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "But we had too many turnovers."

Leesburg took a 19-10 lead after one quarter but Oviedo came back within five midway through the second. Leesburg then took advantage of Oviedo turnovers to build a 37-24 halftime lead. The Yellow Jackets ran their lead to 21 points, 53-32, after three quarters.

Stephanie Nelson led Oviedo with 14 points while Michelle Eck added eight. Teresa Wallace poured in a game-high 21 points to lead Leesburg.

Late Start Doesn't Stall Sanford Driver From Successful Run

At age 45, Sanford's Junior Simmons is kind of old to be starting his racing career. King of old to be called junior, too, but Simmons doesn't have any trouble keeping up with racers have his age when he hits the track.

He's got a simple reason for his great start, too. "I just waited until I could afford it," he said. Simmons did do a little drag racing a number of years ago, but that only got him primed for running the oval tracks.

Simmons, one of Sanford's top drivers, will have his beautiful new 1985 Thunderbird entered at New Smyrna Speedway's Speed Week (Nov. 7 - Nov. 13) with hopes of doing well against some of the top cars in the country during the thundercar features which run every night of the week.

Simmons debuted his new car two weeks ago and definitely is one of the cars to beat in the thundercar class.

Simmons and Steve Morse, an up-and-coming car builder, built the car at the R-O Simmons Palm Tree Shop. Along with Simmons and Morse, it became a family project as daughters Michele and Shelly pitched in. Morse and Simmons' two daughters also form his pit crew.

The spotless red, white and gold No. 15 Ford Thunderbird is not presently sponsored but Simmons would welcome one. "I hope to do better this year where I could get a sponsor," he said.

In the three years he has been driving a stock car he has managed three feature wins and a number of heat victories.

Carl Vanzura
MOTOR SPORTS

Simmons said his favorite track is the New Smyrna Speedway where he runs every Saturday. He also likes running at Speed World in Orlando where he occasionally runs on Friday.

Last year, he was involved in a bad crash that broke his ankle and foot. With that exception, his three years have been pretty trouble free.

"My really good motor blew a couple weeks ago," he said. "But it should be back in action this Saturday night."

Simmons goal is to move up into the super fast late models after a year or two in the slower thunder-car class.

Simmons won't be the only hotshot during Speed Weeks. A complete set of racing will be on tap all during Florida's busiest race season. The biggie, of course, is the Daytona 500 on Feb. 16.

Daytona originated and called the Feb. 2-16 two-week period Speed Weeks. The New Smyrna Speedway and Volusia County Speedway (Barberville) followed suit.

Before all the wheels spin toward Daytona, however, they will get a chance to see some of the best short track racing in the nation in Central Florida.

The New Smyrna Speedway, with much higher purses and longer races, will mark the 20th Anniversary of the World Series of Asphalt Stock Car Racing. Scheduled for Feb. 7-15, the rich series will conclude with the first to be annual Richie Evans Memorial 100-lap Modified Championship.

On Feb. 14, the ASA-ALL-PRO-type late models will go for a 100 laps around the high-banked, half-mile of pavement. On Feb. 13, the NASCAR open-wheel modifieds will run a 50-lapper, with the late models scheduled for the same distance a night earlier (Feb. 12).

The thundercars will be in action for one feature only, on each of the nine nights of racing. As extra added attractions, the New England mini modifieds will appear on Feb. 7-9 and 13-15 while the IMCA modifieds will race on Feb. 10-12.

For more information and starting times contact New Smyrna Speedway public relations manager John Darveau at 904-427-4129.

Volusia County Speedway will also have a big series during its Speed Weeks. Some of the best dirt racing ever seen will highlight the 1986 World Series of Dirt Racing at VCS.

The fourth annual February spectacular will feature five different divisions of racing over a 13-day period.

"Speed Weeks offers the race fan the opportunity to see the very best dirt racers in the nation together at one place and at one time," VCS spokesman Jim Taylor said.

Every dirt racing sanctioning body in the nation will be represented featuring drivers from nearly every state. The purse for Speed Week at VCS is expected to be more than $160,000.

Winged Out-Law Sprints, Street Stocks and Cyclones will open the show Feb. 1-2. Late Models and Northern Modifieds will also run during the series. The track is now sanctioned by NASCAR and should put on quite a show.

For additional information and starting times contact Volusia County Speedway 904-255-2243 or 904-985-4402.

Tide Routs LSU, 83-67

United Press International College basketball lost one of its undefeated brethren Thursday night.

Louisiana State, in a misspent trip to Tuscaloosa, Ala., was beaten 83-67 by Alabama in a Southeastern Conference game.

The decision left the No. 7 Tigers at 14-1, reducing the number of major unbeaten schools to a select half dozen — North Carolina, Michigan, Duke, Syracuse, Memphis State and Oklahoma.

Buck Johnson, Alabama's 6-foot-8 forward, bludgeoned the Tigers for 29 points and 10 rebounds while Jim Farmer added 19 points and Terry Conner 10 assists. John Williams scored 16 points for the Tigers.

"They just outplayed us in every aspect," LSU coach Dale Brown said. "They were quicker to the ball — quicker than us. They just pummeled us."

Johnson came off the bench for a key jumper late in the game after LSU sliced Alabama's 17-point lead to 9.

The Tide, ahead 40-31 at halftime, hit 11-of-14 free throws down the stretch as the Tigers began fouling in a desperate last effort. In all, the disparity in free throws was staggering — 25-of-34 for Alabama to 5-of-10 for LSU.

"The key to our win tonight was keeping them from getting second and third shots at the basket," said Alabama coach Wimp Sanderson, whose team is 9-3. "They did that some, but we were able to do a good enough job in here to win."

Elsewhere, No. 1 North Carolina routed Fordham 92-68. No. 5 Georgia Tech blitzed Rutgers 85-46. No. 6 Memphis State edged No. 17 Louisville 73-71. No. 12 Nevada-Las Vegas took Pacific 85-80. No. 13 Alabama-Birmingham edged Virginia Commonwealth 72-70 in overtime. No. 18 Purdue defeated Michigan State 88-83; and No. 19 Bradley beat Wichita State 57-55.

At New York, Brad Daugherty struck for a career-high 33 points, hitting 13-of-14 shots, to power North Carolina. The Tar Heels, 15-0, outscored Fordham 20-2, with Daugherty scoring 10 points, to lead 41-21.

Said Fordham coach Tom Penders on playing North Carolina: "It feels like you have six holes with water coming out and you only have five fingers."

At New York, John Salley and Mark Price scored 16 points each to pace Georgia Tech over Rutgers. The Yellow Jackets, winners of 12 straight after a season-opening loss, led 14-12 before running off 14 consecutive points.

At Memphis, Tenn., William Bedford scored 20 points and Vincent Askew hit 10 straight free throws in the second half to pace Memphis State, 14-0. Louisville, 8-4, made just 9-of-17 free throws to 23-of-27 for the Tigers.

At Birmingham, Ala., Steve Mitchell scored 4 of his 27 points in overtime and Jerome Mincy finished with 21 for UAB in the Sun Belt game. Michael Brown of Virginia Commonwealth hit a 20-footer to force overtime at 61-61. The Blazers, who played a sloppy first half, are 15-2.

At East Lansing, Mich., Todd Mitchell had 27 points and 14 rebounds and Troy Lewis tossed in 24 points to spark Purdue.

MERTHE HITS 13
In Florida cage play, Sanford's Bernard Merthie scored 13 points as Ecker (9-4) dropped Saint Leo, 68-58 and Stetson (6-7) nipped Towson State, 61-60, as DeLand's Randy Anderson scored 16 points. South Florida (8-5) topped N.C.-Charlotte, 67-61, and Rollins (10-2) punted Grinnell, 91-65, as Curt Fister tallied 22 points. Ex-Oviedo star Troy Kessinger added eight.

The Quarterbacks

McMahon, Brock Find Way To Put Points On Scoreboard

CHICAGO (UPI) — It would be easy to understand how Los Angeles Rams' quarterback Dieter Brock and his Chicago counterpart Jim McMahon might easily develop a robot mentality.

After all, when you have an Eric Dickerson or a Walter Payton to hand off to, it often doesn't make for a hard day's work. Dickerson and Payton are considered the two premier runners in the NFC and how they fare Sunday at Soldier Field could be the key to which club makes the trip to New Orleans for Super Bowl XX as the NFC representative.

However, the performances of Brock and McMahon could wind up being a more significant barometer. Both have shown the ability to get their team points and both have the respect of each other's defense.

In Brock's case, playing in a cold climate should be a reminder of his more successful Canadian Football

NFC Playoffs

League days. Since moving to the warm shores of the Pacific Ocean, he hasn't been called on to throw the ball as much as he did in Canada.

Brock has had a decent enough rating — 81.8 — third best in the league. But his numbers remain relatively modest. A total of 16 TD passes, 218 of 365 for 2,658 yards and 13 interceptions.

Like Brock, McMahon's past shows he can throw — and throw effectively. He re-wrote the Brigham Young and NCAA record books as a collegian and showed in a reserve role against Minnesota in September he can strike quickly with three TD passes in a quarter.

Yet his statistics reflect the run-oriented Bears' offense. A good rating — 82.8 — second best in the league, but the numbers are smaller. Fifteen TD passes, one less than Brock, 178 of 313 for 2,392 yards and 11 interceptions.

Brock has yet to face the kind of pass rush that he is likely to see against the Bears on Sunday. He has been sacked 57 times — the Bears have 64 sacks — and he is a pocket passer. The only quarterback who beat the Bears this year in its 16-1 campaign was Miami's Dan Marino, who raced out of the pocket to avoid the Bears' pass rush.

McMahon has been sacked only 43 times, a credit to the Bears' preference to run and an improved offensive line. But he also hasn't had to pass his team to a fourth quarter victory all season long and he hasn't been required to execute a two-minute offense to win a game. Experience under pressure may be a decided edge for Brock, eight years older than McMahon.

Still, Brock completed only 6-of-22 passes for 50 yards in the Rams' 20-0 victory over Dallas last week.

"I was disappointed with all phases of our passing game, except blocking," admitted Rams' Coach John Robinson. "Dieter had a bad game. I don't think we threw it the way we're capable of or caught it the way we're capable of."

Brock was criticized for often over-throwing his receivers.

"I know he's been called the worst football player in history," Robinson said, "but he's the third-ranked passer in the NFL, he's the Western Division champion and he's 12-5. He's a competitive person, a tough person and the type of man I want quarterbacking our team."

Marino, Eason Are Rising Stars From Same Player Draft

MIAMI (UPI) — Tony Eason is considered a rising young NFL quarterback who has learned a great deal this season.

But his counterpart in Sunday's AFC Championship Game, Miami's Dan Marino, is still learning more than people think.

Eason and Marino should both be improving at this stage of their careers. Eason was one of five quarterbacks drafted ahead of Marino in 1983 but has had much less playing time in his three seasons with the New England Patriots.

Eason mostly has shared the job with veteran Steve Grogan. Eason was sidelined for five games this season because of a separated shoulder.

Marino has started since midway through his rookie season and shattered practically every NFL single-season passing record in only two years.

Since Eason took over when Grogan injured a leg in the 11th regular season game, he's earned high grades from his teammates and opponents.

"With playing time, experience, you're going to get better," Dolphins linebacker Bob Brudzinski said of Eason. "You're not going to get any better sitting on the bench. He's a scrambler, he throws well on the run."

"He doesn't call his own plays like Grogan, but he audibles and he knows what to look for."

Eason agrees playing time is the key to his improvement.

"I've got the same ability I had before," said Eason, who took heat after New England's 2-3 start. "When the season started I was still learning a new offense. I've learned a lot the past six weeks. I have a much better idea why we call the plays we call and what we're trying to get out of them."

Eason completed 56 percent of his passes during the regular season but had just 11 touchdowns and 17 interceptions in 299 attempts. In playoff victories over the Jets and Raiders, he was 19-of-30 for 296 yards, two TDs and no interceptions.

The change in Marino's style shows up negatively statistically, but he helped lift the Dolphins from a 21-3 deficit to a 24-21 victory over Cleveland last week.

In Miami's 21-point second half, Marino became more patient — throwing underneath the Browns' deep coverage to running back Tony Nathan.

Marino, whose stats slipped this year in part because of injuries to deep threats Mark Clayton and Mark Duper, passed for 238 yards against Cleveland despite one catch by Clayton and none by Duper.

Marino, who completed 336-of-567 passes for 4,137 yards, 30 TDs and 21 interceptions this season, had trouble in two games this season against New England.

He completed 15-of-33 for 171 yards and two interceptions in a 17-13 loss at New England, and was 17-of-33 for 192 yards, one TD and one interception in a 30-27 victory at the Orange Bowl.

Eason missed the first Dolphins' game and was in the second.

Edberg Marches Into Semifinal With Upset Win Over McEnroe

ATLANTA (UPI) — Earlier this week, Sweden's Stefan Edberg said he had no realistic chance of reaching the semifinals of the $500,000 Challenge tennis tournament after being upset by countryman Anders Jarryd.

But "tennis is a strange game," Edberg said Thursday, after his 6-3, 7-6 (7-4) upset of flu-ridden John McEnroe propelled him into today's semifinals of the round-robin tournament against Jimmy Connors.

Ivan Lendl, who saved two match points in a third-set tie-breaker to defeat Yannick Noah 6-3, 6-7 (4-7), 7-6 (10-8) Thursday night, will meet McEnroe in the other semifinal.

In other matches Thursday, Connors defeated Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-0, 3-6, 6-2 and Kevin Curren beat Jarryd 6-4, 6-1.

ICBA To Open Season Saturday

The Inter-County Basketball Association opens its regular season with a batch of games this weekend at both Lake Howell and Oviedo high schools. The ICBA will be entering its fourth season of play with four divisions, ranging in age from 7 to 15, both boys and girls.

Games start at Lake Howell and Oviedo at 9 a.m. on Saturday and at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday at Oviedo. There will be girls league games on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at Rollins and SCC, plus a boys league game at Rollins on Jan. 15 at 5:30 p.m.

Kohde-Kilsch Surprises Turnbull

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wendy Turnbull is discovering that, sometimes, guile and experience are not enough to overcome youth and sheer talent.

Turnbull, 33, the veteran tennis star from Australia, dropped a 6-4, 6-4 match to West German Claudia Kohde-Kilsch Thursday in the second round of a $150,000 tennis tournament.

Top-seeded Martina Navratilova, an easy 6-3, 6-1 winner over unseeded Susan Sloane of Lexington, Ky.

Peete, O'Meara Take TOC Lead

CARLSBAD, Calif. (UPI) — Calvin Peete and Mark O'Meara closed with a flurry Thursday, enabling them to share the lead with defending champion Tom Kite midway through the $500,000 Tournament of Champions.

came up with a steal and led Alexander for a layup that gave Seminole a 31-30 lead. Anderson scored five more points in the quarter to give Seminole a 38-34 lead going into the final period.

Brantley stayed within five, 43-38, midway through the fourth quarter, but Anderson then made two strong moves to the hoop and converted both layups to give Seminole a 47-38 lead with 3:44 left to play.

"We had a little trouble getting the ball inside and, once we did, nobody wanted to take it to the hoop," Anderson said. "So I was trying to take it inside more in the second half."

Moments later, though, Anderson was whistled for her fifth foul. With 3:12 left, Johnson also took a seat on the bench with her fifth.

But, after Wain missed the front end of a one and one, Strickland came back to hit a short jumper for a 49-40 Seminole lead.

Seminole lost the momentum, though, when coach Charles Steele was whistled for his first technical of the season. Aspin, who specialized in technical shots, converted both free throws to make it 49-42.

Brantley couldn't convert after the technical, however, and Strickland grabbed the rebound and took it coast to coast. The freshman phenom's layup in traffic gave Seminole a 51-42 lead with 1:59 left to play and all but sewed up the win.

"Leticia (Strickland) did an excellent job down the stretch," Steele said. "There were a couple of times there when I would have liked for her to pull the ball out but she made some clutch baskets instead."

Brantley cut the lead to five, 53-48, with 40 seconds left and had the ball and a chance to cut it to three when Frank was called for a "seat belt" technical for coming off the bench. It was her first T of the season.

BRANTLEY JV WINS BIG — Three players scored in double figures Thursday night as Lake Brantley's junior varsity Lady Patriots downed Seminole, 49-32.

Jennifer Tullford led the way with a game-high 15 points while Gretchen Mull dropped in 12 and Karen Hamlett tossed in 11. Lake Brantley improved to 2-2 with the win.

Seminole, which now stands at 2-1, was led by China Gidchrist with 10 points while Angel Bass and Lisa Moore tossed in eight apiece.

Reesman's 5 Goals Sink 'Noles

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

Eric Reesman scored five goals and Sean Makey added two to pace Norm Wight's Lake Howell Silver Hawks to a 9-1 drubbing of the Seminole's Fighting Seminoles in prep soccer action at Lake Howell Thursday night.

The Silver Hawks improved their record to 5-2-1 with the win while coach Carlos Merlino's Seminoles dropped to 0-10. The Lake Howell varsity will be in action Saturday against Boone at 2 o'clock while the junior varsity plays at noon. Seminole hosts Jones Monday at 7 p.m.

The Silver Hawks jumped out to an early 4-0 halftime lead before putting the finishing touches on the helpless Seminoles. The only score for the Seminoles was a second-half shot by Matt Albert.

Even though the 'Noles were never in the game, there is much progress from the earlier part of the season, according to Wight.

"Seminole has nothing to be ashamed of," he said respectfully. "They're improving every time they play. Give them a little time and they should be coming up."

The Silver Hawks had no problem getting up already, as the scoreboard signified. Along with the five goals by Reesman and the two by Makey, Jeff Shirkey and Eric Bird contributed one each to top off the scoring.

The Silver Hawks shot 27 times more than the Seminoles, 30-3, and may have a spark in the works for their season, according to Wight.

"They worked hard tonight," Wight said. "They're trying to get some confidence back and they did pretty well in getting some of it back. I really hope this is the turning point. We have all of the ability and we're playing well. It's just a matter of finishing."

CAMPBELL'S ROCKET ZAPS TRIBE

The Lady Silver Hawks of Lake Howell scored one goal in the second period to overcome the Lady Seminoles of Seminole High 1-0 in girls prep soccer action Thursday night at Lake Howell.

Only 12 minutes into the second half, Tory Campbell took a nice pass over the right side of the field from Kathy DiFonzo and hit a rocket from 15 feet into the upper right hand corner of the goal after Seminole's keeper, Sherri Rumler, almost saved the shot from going through.

"It was a good game," Lady Silver Hawk head coach Art Raynor said. "Seminole had a couple of people that were hurt and that affected the game. There weren't that many good shots all night except that one."

Seminole head coach, Suzy Reno agreed with Raynor that the absence of key players hurt the 3-10-1 Lady Seminoles. "Angle Freeman and Jennifer Roberts are both out and Kim Walsh hurt her ankle," Reno said. "That only left me with Cindy Bengie on defense and she played well but couldn't do it all."

The Lady Silver Hawks (3-3-1) outshot the Lady Seminoles 29-9 to overcome a scoreless first half, but the defensive show belonged to Rumler.

Rumler had 24 saves on the night and almost prevented the only score of the game; however, the shot from Campbell was too hard and fast for Rumler and all she could manage to do was deflect the ball into the upper portion of the net.

"Sherri (Rumler) never saw the shot coming," Reno said. "She still had a good night as keeper."

Raynor agreed. "Sherri's (Rumler) a really nice player," Raynor said. "She's been having a pretty good season thus far. The game really wasn't won by the score, but by the midfield play of our players."

Both teams return to action this Saturday as the Lady Silver Hawks host the Lady Hornets of Bishop Moore while the Lady Seminoles host P.K. Yonge.

In other action Thursday, there was no report from the Oviedo-Winter Park girls' game.

No Reversal, Oviedo Falls

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

The Oviedo Lions' grapplers just can't seem to find the right hold to put a reversal on their season.

Thursday night in prep wrestling action the Lions ventured into the St. Cloud Bulldogs' yard and suffered their ninth consecutive loss, 47-18.

The Lions haven't been able to get a grip on things, according to head coach John Horn. "We're not wrestling that badly," Horn said. "We're just a young team and lack the experience we need to be more successful."

Oviedo was overpowered by the bigger and stronger Bulldogs. The Lions crawled away with only four wins, but managed to gain some much needed experience in the process, according to Horn.

"We're wrestling a lot better than at the beginning of the season," Horn said of his team's progress. "We're improving as each match comes and goes and that's all that's important."

The Bulldogs practically tamed the Lions as they won eight of the 12 matches. However, Richard Dickens gave his opponent some trouble before falling 12-10 in the final seconds after leading the entire match.

"Dickens had a good match," Horn said. "He should have won it (the match), but he couldn't hold on in the closing seconds."

The Lion grapplers recorded wins in the 102-pound class as Sean Dezelgel won by a technical pin, 23-8, over Dan Romkey in the third period. At 109, Kenny Schrupp slipped by Dann Glad, 14-12, and at 130, Charlie Vela pinned his Paul Drake in 2:52. At 159, Jene Hartman licked Ivan Bunton, 7-1.

The Lions face coach Glenn Maiolini's Fighting Seminoles next Tuesday in the Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium at Seminole.

In other action Thursday, there was no report from the Lake Howell-West Orange match.

later, Smith notched two more charity tosses for a 41-40 lead with 3:30 to play. DeLand hit 10 of 13 from the line.

Harris then beat Seminole's zone inside for a 43-40 lead but Whitney found Henderson for a pair to cut it back to one with 2:43 to play. Harris, however, came up with a big three-point play nine seconds later and when he banked in the free throw, DeLand led, 46-42.

Smith stole the ball but was fouled and missed the free throw with 2:32 to play. Wright, a senior guard, then rolled a short jumper around and down for a 46-44 game. Wright then forced a jump ball and Seminole gained possession with 2:03 to play.

Seminole put up a shot 10 seconds later but missed. Henderson, though, reached way back for the long carom and followed it up with a clutch bucket to tie the game at 46 all.

DeLand tried to run the clock down but Henderson stole the ball at the 1:15 mark and found Wright ahead on the break. Wright induced a blocking foul when he took it to the hoop with 1:10 to play.

After a Seminole timeout, Wright dropped in the tiebreaker but missed the second. Seminole dropped into a zone and DeLand ran the clock down to 12 seconds before calling a timeout.

"We had three options on the final play," Zeoli said. "But when it came time to shoot the ball it seemed like nobody wanted the shot."

Finley finally fired up a prayer with two seconds left from 18 feet away. The ball caromed off the left side where Henderson tipped toward the Seminole end to erase any recurring Mike Polite nightmares. Mainland's Polite tipped in a similar missed shot to beat Seminole at the buzzer by a point in December.

My assistants (John McNamara, Tom Smith and Brent Baird) called that last defense," Klein said. "They were a lot of help in the final two minutes."

Henderson led Seminole with 14 points, five assists and six big steals. Parker finished with 13, Walker had nine points, 12 boards and five blocks. Whitney handed out 11 assists but was limited to four points. Rod Fossitt, a 6-7 senior, was held to one bucket.

Klein was more pleased with his team's second half. "The guys did dig down and play hard the second half," he said. "We were 100 percent better the second half."

JV 4-0 IN DISTRICT

Seminole's junior varsity remained unbeaten in the district (4-0) in Thursday's first game when Leonard Lucas dropped in two free throws with eight seconds left to ensure a 44-40 victory over DeLand.

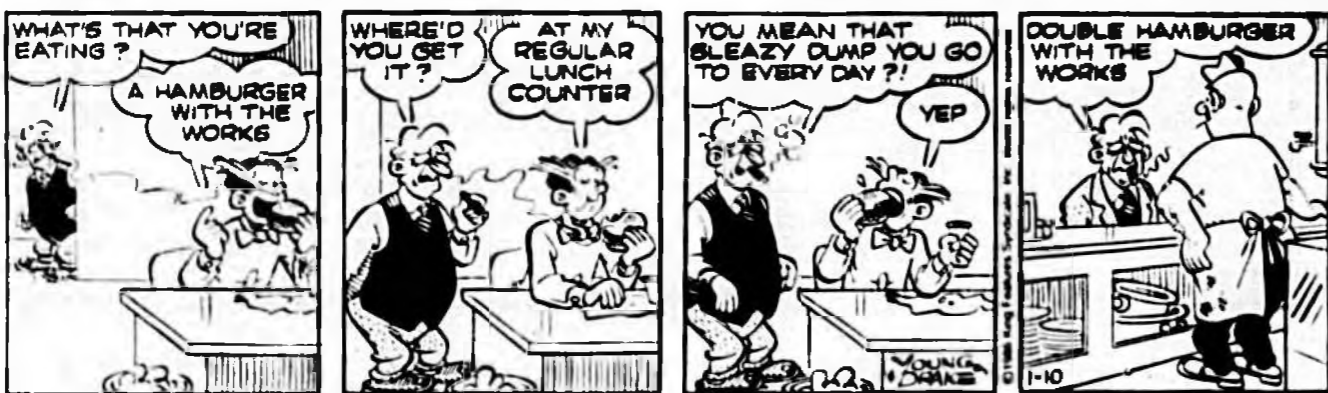

"Leonard has really been coming on for us," JV coach Tom Smith said about his sophomore swingman who led the way with 16 points.

Seminole, 4-2 overall, received nine points from Freddie Gadsdon and six from Walter "Dunkman" Hopson. Hopson and Earnie Lewis controlled the inside game with eight and seven rebounds, respectively.

Flu Shot, Not Penicillin, Effective Against Virus

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I get the flu every winter and have to see my doctor for a shot of penicillin. What over-the-counter medicine is available for flu virus?

DEAR READER — To begin with, penicillin is ineffective against viruses. It just doesn't work and, in the opinion of experts, should be limited to therapy for specific bacterial infections. It is not appropriate for flu.

Second, there are no over-the-counter (or prescription) drugs for influenza. Doctors can treat the bacterial complications of flu, but we are powerless to treat the disease itself.

While there is no guarantee that flu shots will protect you from all types of influenza, I believe you would be helped by having a flu shot every year. The injections may enhance your immune system so that you are not as susceptible to each annual variety of flu virus. Ask your doctor if he or she would consider giving you flu shots.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am somewhat "hard-of-hearing," as is commonly said. When I hold my nose and mouth shut, then blow hard, a little click occurs in both inner ears. Then, immediately, I hear twice as well. Could you tell me how I can cure my hearing?

DEAR READER — Your deafness seems to be due to a malfunction of the ear's venting mechanisms, the two tiny Eustachian tubes that connect the middle-ear chambers to an area behind the nose. These tubes serve to equalize pressure between the outside world and the closed compartments of the middle ear. When the Eustachian tubes remain closed, pressure alterations make hearing difficult. I think an ear, nose and throat specialist would benefit you tremendously.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I injured my eyelid quite a few years ago when I ran into an iron door at work. I have trouble raising the lid. Is there anything that can be done?

DEAR READER — Yes. You may have injured the muscle for the nerve that operates the muscle) of your eyelid. Reconstructive surgery by an eye specialist may return your normal blink. If you were injured on the job, the Workers' Compensation Board in your home state will supply a list of ophthalmologists who are qualified to perform the surgery you may need.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Some things in bridge are just plain logical. If nobody told you what they meant, you would almost surely figure them out for yourself. Take today's bidding, for example. Why did South jump to five spades? Of course he was inviting slam, but there was something more. He wasn't worried about losing two quick tricks or he would have bid the hand more slowly, giving North a chance to cue-bid. North had good values and certainly excellent trump support, so he quickly accepted.

South ruffed the opening lead, played a spade to dummy and led a low diamond. If the king had held, he would have returned to dummy, pitched his remaining diamond on the club ace and looked for the heart queen for an overtrick. But West took the ace and returned a diamond. Now South did not want to risk all on West's holding the diamond jack, so he went up with the queen and later had to guess where the heart queen was.

He would have done better by ruffing the opening club, going to dummy, playing ace of clubs while throwing the diamond 10 and then ruffing dummy's last club. Only then should he play the diamond king. If East wins, he must either lead into the Q-9 of diamonds or break the heart suit for declarer. If West wins (as he would here) and leads another diamond, declarer can play the nine. If East covers, declarer can ruff and still try to find the heart queen for his contract. And if West leads a heart, declarer gets a free finesse.

Gardening

It's Time To Plan Your Backyard Vegetable Garden

The mild weather we've been having tells us that spring is not too far away. And, it's time to start planning your backyard vegetable garden. This may sound familiar to experienced gardeners, but a brief review shouldn't hurt anyone. Maybe it will help those trying vegetable gardening for the first time.

Nearly all vegetables can be grown in our area, if you plant them in the right seasons. The important thing is to grow vegetables that you and your family enjoy.

The first consideration in planning your garden is where to put it. You want it fairly close to your house, so it's handy to work in. And, you want it near an outside water faucet to make irrigation easier. The thing you really want to be sure about is proper light. If possible, locate the garden so it gets full sunlight all day. Unfortunately, some of us don't enjoy that luxury. Thus, we have to choose between morning sun and afternoon sun. Fruiting crops, such as tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, and melons, will have to be planted where you get the most sun. Leaf and root crops generally can stand a little shade.

You may want to fence off your garden to keep out dogs and children. In some areas of the county, wild animals, such as rabbits, can be a problem, too. A fence also can serve as a trellis for pole beans, tomatoes, and other crops that need support.

You may need to protect your crops from nearby tree and shrub roots, which will compete with vegetables for available nutrients and water. To give your crops the edge, dig a trench about one-and-one-half to two feet deep all around the garden. Line one side of the trench with roofing paper or heavy plastic film, then refill the trench. This forms a barrier against the roots of nearby plants.

Naturally, good soil is important. Most of us have to do the best we can with the kind of soil we have. However, we can give our gardens a real boost by mixing in plenty of organic material, such as compost, manure, sawdust or anything else you can think of. With such soil amendments, we can grow vegetables even if our own soil is nothing but sand.

Before you ever plant the first seeds, you need to think about the vegetable varieties you'll choose to grow. You could walk into the nearest garden supply store and buy whatever you see. But, remember that vegetable varieties differ in quality, disease resistance, and climate adaptability, which can be vitally important. Be sure you select varieties that are recommended for our area.

Proper garden design can spell the difference between success and failure. Your garden plan should include several things — the location of each crop — the amount to be planted — the planting date — and, the variety of each vegetable you intend to grow. Try to plan your garden so crops that will be planted on the same date, and reach maturity about the same time, are close together. By setting up different groups, or blocks, within the garden, you'll be able to keep your garden in production as much as possible.

Within each block, arrange crops by size. Starting from east to west, plant low-growing types, such as radishes, turnips, and lettuce, along one side. Plant those of medium height, such as peppers and squash, in the middle of the block. Sweet corn, pole beans, and stake tomatoes can be planted along the other side. This avoids having the low-growing vegetables stuck in the shade of taller plants. Run your rows north and south, so each row will receive the same amount of sun.

You can plant two or more crops in a single row, too, as long as they require about the same spacing. You can even mix crops of different sizes in the same row. For example, you could interplant a fast growing crop, like radishes, with a slow-growing crop. The radishes would be picked before the slower maturing plants need the space.

Don't plant too much of one crop at a time, especially those vegetables that must be eaten shortly after they're harvested. To have fresh product over a longer period, plant smaller amounts of the same crop at 10-to-14-day intervals. Beans, sweet corn, and peas fall into this category. Be sure you plant sweet corn in blocks rather than in single rows — you'll get better pollination and help produce more corn.

It's best to design your garden so you can rotate crops from year to year. If you avoid growing the same crops, or the same type of crops, in the same spot more than once every three or four years, you may reduce the build-up of soil borne diseases which can reduce yields or even wipe out your crop.

Now's the time to get a head start on your garden — on paper. It's too early to be planting most crops, but you can start planning — selecting the proper site, choosing the right crops, and setting up a good design — all to increase your chances of producing a successful spring vegetable garden.

Happy gardening!

Mom With A Memory Says Child's Room Is His Castle

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 13-year-old son. I believe if a child wants his bedroom to be messy, with clothes and other belongings strewn all over the place — on chairs, doorknobs, the floor — so be it.

The bedroom is supposed to be a private, comfortable place a child can call his own. How can that be when parents holler, scream, yell and threaten at whatever trips their trigger?

My son will be brought up to know that his bedroom is his — not mine.

I don't know how many others would agree with me, but I was raised by a mother who screamed, yelled and threatened me if my room wasn't in perfect order, and all I have is bad memories of my childhood.

MODERN MOM IN ENID, OKLA.

DEAR MOM: Kids (especially messy ones) will love your letter. Mothers will hate it. Me? I say keep the doors to the kids' rooms closed, and go in once a week to rake them.

I would, however, insist on one rule: If there is any snacking in the bedroom, all dishes and leftovers should be taken to the kitchen before bedtime.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I am 28 and the mother of two darling children. I've been happily married for five years and I really love my husband. He's good to me and the kids, but here's the problem: I am very much attracted to my husband's brother, and he's attracted to me. We kid around and flirt a lot, but haven't done anything about it except maybe a quick kiss in the kitchen. Abby, it's getting harder and harder to fight these feelings.

Maybe if I have a fast fling with this guy and get it over with, I will finally get him out of my system.

What do you think?

ALL IN THE FAMILY

DEAR ALL: I think you should try harder to fight these feelings. No flirting, no eye contact, no kidding around, and no quick kisses in the kitchen or anywhere else.

Forget the fast fling. It could fling your marriage right into the divorce court.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle an argument between my daughter and my husband? It's about the J.C. Penney Co.

My daughter claims that the "J.C." in the J.C. Penney Co. stands for John Cash.

My husband insists that the "J.C." stands for Jesus Christ. Who is correct?

EDIE FROM DAYTONA BEACH

DEAR EDIE: Neither, but your daughter comes closer. Although the founder of J.C. Penney Co. was the son of a Baptist minister and a very religious man, the "J.C." in his name stands for James Cash, not Jesus Christ.

DEAR ABBY: Many people down here in the deep South who have arranged their lives around shift work owe you a debt of gratitude for helping to eliminate the old concept that uninvited guests should be welcomed with open arms at all times.

Now we need your help in another area: Recently, I attended services in a small Protestant church where a very sincere layperson delivered an impassioned address, closing with, "Would those who would like to rededicate their lives, please come forward and kneel at the altar?"

As I looked around the church, I saw that about three-fourths of the congregation was over 55 years of age.

As anyone involved in the health care field can tell you, their reason for not wanting to kneel could range from A to V — arthritis to vertigo.

Please inform the clergy to consider the age of most church congregations and use the phrase, "Come forward and gather at the altar" instead of kneel. I'm sure the response will be greater.

ARTHRITIC WITH VERTIGO

Coast Guard Search Fails To Find 'Man Overboard'

MIAMI (UPI) — The report of a man overboard from a cruise ship launched the Coast Guard on a busy 24-hour period that saw the service make three other unrelated rescues.

The off-and-on search for the man overboard was called off late Thursday with no trace of anyone bobbing in the Atlantic Ocean. A 6-year-old boy aboard the cruise liner Emerald Seas alerted the crew that he thought he had seen a man overboard, said Coast Guard Petty Officer Dan Waldschmidt.

The Emerald Seas was about 40 miles east of Miami when the search for a man overboard began about 3 p.m. EST Wednesday. A passenger count aboard the cruise ship later showed no one was missing, and there were no reports of other missing boaters.

Coast Guard vessels searching for him were diverted by three unrelated rescues. In the following 24 hours, Coast Guard vessels searching the area near the southern Bahamas rescued a couple from a disabled sailboat, twice aided 10 passengers aboard a pleasure boat that was taking on water, and saved nine crewmen who fled a sinking Haitian freighter.

Group Would Ban Cable Porn

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A coalition of church leaders, women's groups and parents Thursday urged a ban on pornography on cable television, claiming it promotes deviate sex and rape.

Barbara Hattermer, coordinator for the Coalition for Clean Cable, said in a news conference that the group will stir grassroots support for, and monitor compliance with a bill by Rep. Herb Morgan, D-Tallahassee, to make it a misdemeanor to broadcast porn over cable lines.

Second offenses would be treated as felonies. The bill refers to "ultimate sexual acts, normal or perverted, actual or simulated; masturbation; human sexual or excretory organs or functions; or a display, description, or representation in lurid detail of the violent physical torture or dismemberment of a person."

"Children cannot see this material without being affected by it," Hattermer said. "They assimilate it into their consciousness without imitating it. We have an epidemic of children seeing graphic sex on cable and acting it out on younger, helpless children."

She added: "All this in the name of freedom. Whose freedom? Certainly not my freedom to bring up my children in a decent society."

Group Funds Pay Equity Study

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Spurred three years running by the Legislature, a coalition of women's and civil rights groups and labor unions announced Thursday it is preparing its own study of pay equity for women and minorities in Florida government.

Rep. Helen Gordon Davis, D-Tampa, said at a news conference that she hopes the private study will prompt lawmakers next spring to raise salaries in jobs traditionally held by blacks, Hispanics and women if inequities are found — and that the private sector will follow suit.

Davis called pay equity "the most important and overriding human rights issue of the decade."

She said 20 states have begun or completed studies of comparable worth to employers of jobs traditionally held by men and women. Nine have acted to erase disparities.

New York state, which has roughly double Florida's 77,000 employees, spent $34 million on its pay equity plan, Davis said.

Business groups have opposed any pay equity study, claiming the market, not bureaucratic formulas, should set pay.

their loans late included a "midwestern" state legislator who, according to OMB, denied the existence of a $2,898 student loan debt and refused to pay until the final notice arrived. The lawmaker then sent the government a cashier's check for the money.

Of the almost 750,000 with outstanding loans, those who held student loans were by far the most numerous.

There were 21,000 HUD loans worth $111 million, 31,073 Small Business Administration from a revolver, according to police. The bodies were found around 9:30 p.m. or one to two hours after the shooting.

Robbery detective Jerry Rigdon, who found the bodies, was on patrol, looking for a robbery suspect in the area. He said he knew something was wrong when he spotted the car.

"When I rode up on the car, I could see that the driver was slumped over the wheel," Rigdon said. "I called for backup units and then approached the car. At that point, I could see they were all dead. The man was behind the wheel and the woman was in the front passenger's seat. Both the kids were in the back seat."

Hill said there was no sign of struggle in the 1967 Cougar.

"It appears he systematically murdered each person before he killed himself," said Hill.

"The gunshots were very precise and aimed at vital organs. The wife and both children were all shot (at least) once in the head and once in the chest. Sperry, himself, was shot once in the head."

Hill said a lengthy hand-written suicide note was found in one of Sperry's jacket pockets. He would not reveal the exact wording of the note, but said it appeared Sperry wrote it shortly before the shootings.

"The note we found said Mr. Sperry was 'very depressed and frustrated,' and 'down and out.' He was at the end of his rope and could not go on," Hill said. "This was a very troubled man."

Sperry was born in Geneva, Ill., in 1956 and moved to Sanford in 1971.

He is survived by his mother, three brothers, a sister and two nephews, all of Sanford, except one brother. There is no funeral scheduled. Memorial services will be held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Prior to their separation, the Sperrys lived in Security, Col., a small town east of Ft. Carson and south of Colorado Springs, where their sons were born.

Former neighbors of the Sperrys in Security said they were shocked to learn of the murder-suicide incident, according to the Florida Times Union.

...Gas Tax

CALNO is eyeing floating formulas based on data which includes the five most recent years of transportation expenditures. Three of the plans also call for half the revenues to the cities to be distributed based on such criteria as population, general fund transportation expenditures, property values and lane miles maintained by the cities.

The county's adopted distribution plan calls for a 30-year frozen formula. In which the four cents is distributed based on transportation expenditures prior to 1983 while the two-cent tax is divided up based on expenditures five years previous to 1985.

The gas tax funds are being collected by the state but they have not been distributed because the cities cannot agree to one formula.

Five of the cities in Seminole County stand to lose money under the distribution formula adopted by the county—Sanford, Casselberry, Longwood, Lake Mary and Oviedo. Two cities, Altamonte Springs and Winter Springs, would receive more of the gas tax revenue.

Altamonte Springs appealed the issue to the state Cabinet, saying the entire six cents should be distributed based on the most recent transportation expenditures.

CALNO Chairman Constantine said the city has asked that the formula not be frozen, and he feels the Cabinet agreed when it told the county and cities this week to devise a new distribution plan.

"That's what we were asking for and the Cabinet seemed inclined to agree with our position," he said.

The council agreed that the county should keep a fixed percentage of the revenues, but that the five-year revolving formula is the "best and most equitable way" to distribute the funds among the cities, Constantine said.

"That way, the more they spend (for transportation each year) the more (gas tax) they will get," he said.

While the tax would not be a "dollar for dollar match" on the amount of money cities would spend on their transportation needs, the floating formula would give them an "incentive" to spend more on transportation projects, Constantine said.

"Each city has its own priorities, but they cannot look just at how much they will get this year. They need to look at the big picture," he said.

Constantine said he is hopeful CALNO can get a unanimous agreement on a formula by the end of the month.

"They are under the gun. They have to make a decision," he said. When an agreement is reached, the cities must "live with" the fact that the revenues they receive will change from year to year, Constantine added.

The county is willing to go along with whatever formula the cities "are willing to sign," said Deputy County Attorney Bob McMillan. The county, though, believes the Cabinet has leaned toward the plan it has adopted, a formula the state legislature directed be used, he said.

Governor's General Counsel Luis Figueredo rejected the Altamonte Springs appeal in his recommendation to the Cabinet, McMillan said. The Cabinet must rule on the appeal, however that decision can then be taken to the First District Court of Appeals, he said.

The county will circulate a number of proposed interlocal agreements among the cities incorporating each of the distribution formulas which have been discussed in hopes that a majority of the cities can agree to one, that is, those cities representing the greatest number of incorporated population, McMillan said.

"Whatever is signed, we will recommend the county commission take this to the Cabinet. If it is not a unanimous decision, we will take whatever we can get," he said. "We are in a very tight time frame, and the state is holding up distribution of the gas tax."

After two years spent trying to strike an agreement with the cities, the county is doubtful that unanimous agreement can be reached, McMillan said.

"It is always a hard road. If someone gets more, someone gets less," he said. "Somebody always loses."

adhere to their specifications.

"Who is the county? They're the same as anyone else," according to board member L.K. Howell.

Mills, however, although in full support of the board's efforts, also said it should avoid "crossing swords with the county." He said his past experience on the Orlando historic preservation board "showed me this can lead to real problems."

"Where have you been, they're (the problems) already here," said board members Gerry Gross and Shirley Moak said in unison in reference to the strained Sanford-Seminole County relationship.

In tandem with the board's discussion of the library on Thursday were the efforts it took to finalize regulations for itself and developers to follow as a means maintaining the downtown district's historic flavor.

According to Bill Simmons, city planning and engineering director, the library proposal "got caught in the middle" of these efforts. He added, however, the board was granted authority to deny projects in October, when the city commission adopted its historic district ordinance.

On Thursday, acting city attorney Clay Simmons reiterated the city engineer's comments. He termed the board "a function of the city" and recommended it adopt "objective criteria" for review of building proposals.

"You can hold proposals up to these guidelines," he said, "and if they don't comply, then you would deny them."

Developers whose projects are approved must still take their site plans to the city's Planning and Zoning Commission. Denials issued by the Historic Preservation Board can be appealed to the city commission, the attorney said, and if the decision is upheld, the matter could be pursued in court.

"Until a court tells you otherwise," Simmons said, "you have the authority to turn down proposals that don't meet your specifications."

The city's district extends west of North Sanford Avenue, down East Commercial, Fulton and West 3rd Streets, to North Myrtle Avenue. Board members have been charged with preserving and protecting the historic structures in this area, while at the same time promoting its economic growth.

In discussing their responsibilities on Thursday, Historic Preservation Board members addressed the difficulties of establishing a criteria that would encompass both aesthetic and economic principals. New projects and modifications to existing buildings "must meet the philosophy we're going to develop for the district," Mills said.

"A very contemporary building can go in if it adheres to the historic integrity of surrounding structures."

Gross said he felt the first library proposal had fallen short of this requirement. "I find that particular style of contemporary building objectionable," he said.

Board member W.E. "Duke" Adamson expressed reservations that demands for "visual compatibility" might hamper the area's economic growth.

"If you make the guidelines too stringent then nobody will want to move in there," he said. "Our philosophy could end up being grossly unfair to the downtown business district."

Mills said a successful combination of aesthetic and economic principals would be one which saw the board "helping businesses as much as we can without compromising the district's integrity."

we are going to move out next week or anything," Strickler said, "but sometime this year we will be moving our Sanford work center and office into smaller quarters."

"At present there are no groups pursuing the (senior center) project, just 'interested citizens,'" Walko told the chamber committee meeting.

One of these interested seniors is John Kane of Sanford, who is active in the Over 50 Club and numerous other senior organizations. He is also on the Chamber Senior Citizen committee. Kane, according to Walko, told the committee he has been trying to get a senior center in Sanford for five years and likes the idea of the phone center as the spot.

There has been a longtime concern among the area senior citizen groups about the need for a facility similar to the one in Casselberry where seniors could meet and where various services would be available. A senior center in the Sanford area was one of the priority needs presented to the Area Agency on Aging at hearings last year, according to long-time advocate of a senior center for Sanford, Paulce Stevens. Mrs. Stevens conducts craft classes at the Casselberry center.

Another member of the Sanford Chamber Senior Committee is Sally Dykes, Federation of Senior Citizens Clubs of Seminole County project director.

"A senior citizen center is needed very badly in the northern end of the county," she said. "We have the center in Casselberry, but it is difficult for seniors in the Sanford, Lake Mary, and Geneva areas to get there."

"There is so much that can be done and offered at senior centers. I think the committee is starting the ball rolling. Mayor Bettye Smith and the Sanford commissioners have been approached and have taken the first step by writing letters for us, but it's a waiting game where state and federal agencies are concerned."

Southern Bell does not own the one-story building but has an 18-year lease with an option to buy. The lease does not run out until 1993. The facility was built to the company's specifications in 1978 so that a second story could be added if needed. There are 167 parking spaces on the three-acre site.

The facilities are very flexible because the office space is modular with easily relocated walls that could be easily converted to accommodate the needs of a senior center, Strickler said.

"We will need even less with our new 'Let's Get Neighborly' program in which employees who do maintenance and repair take the company van home with them each night. They go out on the job directly from their house communicating with their supervisor with the use of a hand-held access terminal to order supplies, get work orders and their next assignment. We've found it is cheaper for them to order their own supplies and have them delivered by UPS to their home."

"Because of the scattered Sanford service area that extends from Orange City, DeBary, Deltona, and Osteen to Winter Springs," Strickler said, "having the technician go direct to the job rather than report to the Sanford center, and go directly home in the afternoon, saves 1 to 1 1/2-hours a day."

"It's a win-win situation benefiting the company, the employee and the customer," Strickler said. The program, made possible because of automation, is voluntary for employees, some of whom are prevented from parking the vans in their driveway because of restrictions.

Huddleston: Dependable, Steady Actor

By Dick Kleiner

Though Christmas is gone, maybe Santa Claus isn't.

David Huddleston, the Santa Claus of the big "Santa Claus: The Movie" movie, says the producers have an option for him to do two more Santa Claus films.

Maybe, like Rocky, Santa Claus will next conquer the Soviet Union. Or, like "Star Trek," he will conquer outer space. Or, perhaps, since the first "Santa Claus" movie didn't knock anybody's socks off, there won't be a sequel at all.

Huddleston, naturally, hopes there will be at least one more. After all, playing Santa is his first starring role.

"This is," he says, "the first picture I've ever done that is about the character I play."

For an actor, that is a quantum leap. Huddleston has long been known, in acting circles, as a very fine actor, a reliable sort, the kind of actor you can always trust to do a sterling job. But that's not being a star.

He was spotted by the "Santa Claus" team — the same team that made the "Superman" movies — while he was supporting Dustin Hoffman in the Broadway production of "Death of a Salesman." He says the films had been running a long time when Jeannot Szwarc asked to see him.

"I had known Jeannot casually before," Huddleston says. "We had talked about doing some things together, but they had never worked out. But I went to see him and a couple of days later the producers flew over from England to meet me."

He didn't hear anything except a nonchalant, "Thank you for your time." So he moved on to other things — he did the HBO production of "Finnegan Begin Again," with Robert Preston and Mary Tyler Moore at that time.

And, meanwhile, Szwarc and the others were looking at a bunch of potential Santas, con-

Mary Tyler Moore Hoping For Big TV Comeback

By Joey Sasso

Confidential Report ... Mary Tyler Moore is praying that her third attempt at a TV comeback will return her to the top, say insiders. Her new show, Mary, which made its debut last week is very close to the format of the old Mary Tyler Moore Show, which won 29 Emmys before it went off the air in 1967. "Mary's facing what probably is the biggest challenge of her career, and it's a scary situation for her," says an insider. "She's sacrificing a lot to make this work and facing long separations from her husband, Dr. Robert Levine, in New York." Mary's two previous comeback tries — Mary, a variety show, and The Mary Tyler Moore Hour, a variety-comedy series, flopped miserably. "That was a painful lesson for Mary to learn," says the insider. "Viewers didn't want to see her sing and dance." Another source adds: "The new show has her in another newsroom setting, but this time it's a newspaper. She'll be older and wiser Mary Richards, cast as Mary McKinnon, an all-caring advice columnist. She's believable in the role because she's been through so much in her private life. Who better to advise others on divorce, drinking, drugs and raising children?" Mary's only child, Richard, shot himself to death several years ago under circumstances that spawned speculation about suicide. After her divorce from NBC head Grant Tinker, Mary made headlines when she checked into the Betty Ford Clinic, admitting that she was suffering from alcohol and prescription drug abuse. A source close to Mary says that Tinker, even though he is the top honcho of a rival network, has consulted with his ex-wife about her new project. She has been in close with Ed Asner, her on-screen boss and off-screen pal during Mary Tyler Moore Show days. "She wanted Ed to consider joining the series, but he told Mary he was too involved in his own projects to work with her right now," says the source. A third source discloses that Mary is feeling the pressure of this effort. "The strain of the show is getting to her," says the insider. "She's a bundle of nerves and looks dog tired. Some of the cast and crew say she's so edgy on the set that they're going out of their way to make sure everything goes her way. Success is nothing new to Mary. She was fantastic in the film Ordinary People — but light, TV comedy is where she shines, and she's betting an awful lot that this show will be a hit. I hope she can take the disappointment if it isn't."

As The TV World Turns ... Gene Kelly pays a heavy price for loving Joan Collins in her upcoming mini-series Sins. In this exclusive sneak preview, it reveals the heart-stopping moment when he puts his life on the line for her — and loses. Gene, who plays Joan's sensitive husband Hovland, a classical musician, is quietly playing the piano in their house when he hears her blood-curdling screams coming from the bedroom. He rushes up the stairs and bursts through the door. He is thunderstruck at what he sees: His wife being brutally raped by a vicious thug played by Neil Dickson. Gene valiantly wrestles with the younger, stronger man to save his beloved Joan. But his courage is not adequate to overcome the cold-blooded attacker, who beats him badly and heaves him over the balcony to his death as Joan looks on in horror. Ironically, she cannot bring the killer to justice because he comes from a rich and powerful family who pay off the authorities to protect him. But, in the end, she takes bitter-sweet revenge through blackmail ... James Garner is sorry he ever made his hit TV series, The Rockford Files. "I'll never do another series for TV," Garner swears. "I just can't do it anymore. I'm not physically able to do it anymore. Rockford fixed that. I'm afraid. It beat me up too much physically. I spent 16 hours a day minimum for six years and that's a long time. And I don't look back on it as being very good because it wasn't profitable. The people I was working with were wonderful. It was good to do a series and have a success but when you find out it was not a success financially than that kind of takes the air out of the balloon."

Inside Soaps ... He's caught right in the middle of a love triangle — but 15-year-old Brina Bloom says he's got the whole thing figured out. And that's no easy task for a young man who's experiencing his very first romance both on — and off — the screen. As Dusty Donovan, on As The World Turns, Brian is currently dating Lily Walsh, who's played by Martha Byrne. But in real life he is seeing actress Allison Smith — and there are times when even he feels just a tad confused. "The problem is, I keep calling Allison, Martha, and Martha, Allison," Brian said. "I must say, they're both very good about it. And I'm not worried about Allison getting jealous once my love scenes with Martha's character, Lily, become more demanding, luckily, she's the understanding type — and besides, she knows the business." ... Also the "understanding type," is Young and Restless star, Tracy Bregman, who is dating Another World's Tom Eplin. "Tom lives in New York and I live in L.A.," she said. "We met on a publicity tour, and before we knew it, we'd begun a long-distance love affair." What's the worst aspect of living so many miles apart? "I can't decide whether it's the phone bills, or the air fare." ... In case you think you're the only one who's disappointed, Marj Dusay, Myrna Cleg on Capitol, has this to say about love: "You give away all your money — and a year later you enter full-time therapy." ... Love is not necessarily better the second time around — or even the third or fourth, according to Santa Barbara's Marcy Walker.

sidering their chubby cheeks and their ho-ho-hos. Charles Durning was one. Orson Welles was another. And there was one man who almost got the part, an amateur who just happened to be a perfect physical Santa.

But they came back to Huddleston. He got the part and two weeks later he had begun shooting. He had put on 10 or 12 pounds in a bid to get the part, and he added another 20 during the shooting. (It's all come off, subsequently.) He thought about growing a beard, but there wasn't time, so all those whiskers you see in the film are courtesy of the make-up department.

This isn't the first time Huddleston has played Santa Claus, although it is the first time he's been paid for it. Some years ago, he did a charity appearance as Santa, handing out gifts at Christmas time to retarded children.

This time, however, the gift came to him. Even though the movie has not been the blockbuster it was hoped to be, it has been a blockbuster for David Huddleston personally.

The reviews for his performance have been universal raves.

And, even more important, starring in a major film (with its $50-million budget) has automatically boosted him into a higher level.

"There have been many scripts coming in to my agents," he says. "What's happened, because of the heat generated from this picture, is that instead of me having to go out looking for parts, now the parts are coming after me. Producers and directors are asking if I'm available. I just hope it will stay like that."

Huddleston is an old friend of the veteran actor James Cagney, and treasures some advice Cagney gave him years ago.

"We were down at his place at Twentynine Palms, in the desert," Huddleston says. "And I said to him one day, 'Jimmy, tell me the secret of acting.' And he said, 'Try never to get caught at it.' Maybe that's why Huddleston always makes it look easy. He doesn't want to get caught acting."

Country Music Influenced By Black Culture, Trends

By Jim Lewis

Black music historian Arnold Shaw says the apparent renewed popularity of traditional country music isn't rooted in racism.

In fact, Shaw sees just the opposite happening.

Shaw, an award-winning songwriter, record producer and author from Las Vegas, contends that the "fusion" of black music styles has permeated all forms of American popular music, including country music.

The author's "Black Popular Music In America (374 pp., $20.75) will be published Feb. 1 by Schirmer Books.

The book is encyclopedic in scope, ranging from minstrels and the Fisk Jubilee singers on up to today's modern popular music in America.

But Shaw explains that he views the black influence from a different angle.

"I would say for some years now inside the field of musical scholarship there has been recognition that blacks originated most of the styles that later became mainstream in popular music.

"In other words that concept has been around for a while. What I have tried to do is a little different. I try to show that we haven't been aware that the black influence has been a constant influence and has permeated all the popular music styles of the 20th century, and that our popular music is neither white or black but is a constant fusion of white and black."

He said it is a "mistake to say there is a black influence in jazz, or there is a black influence in rock. It's true there are black influences, but the point is these are persistent and have changed the character of the so-called white popular music.

"In changing the character it has created a fusion — a black-white fusion — which is a constant one throughout the history of American popular music. There is no point where American popular music was just white. It was always an intermixture of white and black."

The author said his history is written from the black standpoint, "from the other side of the track."

At the end of each chapter, Shaw writes his "white synthesis" in which he indicates "how white musicians and white arrangers came along and took over influences from the blacks and changed their own way of singing, their own way of arranging and their own way of playing.

"In other words, the point to be made (is that) black is not an influence but part of the fabric of American popular music." Fine examples of this, Shaw said, are Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Buddy Holly, Bill Haley and, more recently, Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings and other country artists.

"When Elvis was a youngster he was listening to all types of music. He made some demonstration records for Sun that were imitations of Dean Martin. Obviously Elvis learned whatever music he knew from listening to records. He didn't learn it from sheet music.

"So he listened as any young kid would do to the range of music being played. He listened to country music, obviously. The point is he also listened to a type of music which he was forbidden to listen to by the tenets of the religion his parents followed. They didn't want him to listen to Big Bill Broonzy and Arthur "Big Boy" Crudup, but he was listening to them. At this particular time it was their music, their rhythm, their drive which attracted him, and that ultimately shaped the style for which he became known."

Country music's pendulum has swung back in the direction of traditional forms and some observers have viewed this as a move away from outside influences, including black.

But Shaw doesn't see it that way.

"I've watched country music develop. There has been as much a crossover of black artists as there has been in the so-called popular field. In watching the Grand Ole Opry there are a fair number of black artists appearing. I'm disposed to say that so-called traditional opposition of country-folk to black influence has no real validity now."

Shaw said there has to be variety in any form of music and some are going to be more traditional than others.

"No matter how dominant the trend you always have the fringes. I don't think country is all white."

He noted that back in the old days drummers were hidden behind a curtain when they appeared on the Grand Ole Opry.

"That's gone now. What we think as traditionalism itself has undergone changes. A lot of people couldn't believe it when Ray Charles started singing country songs.

"The general public is always a little bit behind. When it comes to the field of scholarship black infusion of styles into popular music is authenticated. A fair number of scholars say we should not talk of American popular music but Afro-American popular music. The fusions today predominate over so-called pure examples."

Networks Determine What Shows Are Pre-empted

Dear Dick — Who or what determines which show is pre-empted for a special? I'm getting so tired of "Riptide" being pre-empted! — B.S., Armarillo, Texas.

That decision is solely the responsibility of the three major networks, ABC, CBS and NBC. Theoretically, they try to alternate their pre-emptions, so no one show is taken off more than the others. But, in reality, they play ratings games with pre-emptions, trying to slot specials against weak shows on the other networks, trying to get viewers to watch their network on certain nights, trying all sorts of other corporate schemes. And shows that get pre-empted frequently — such as your "Riptide" — often complain, but to no avail. It's just the way things are done.

Dear Dick — My wife and I recently watched the movie, "Meet Me in St. Louis," with Judy Garland. While watching, I pointed out that the father of this lovely family was played by actor Walter Abel. My wife said, "Absolutely not!" Who buys lunch? — G.A.S., Muskegon, Mich.

You do. The father was played by Leon Ames. Ames and Abel look alike, and they each have a last name that begins with A and has four letters, but you can't weasel out of it that way. You buy lunch this time.

Dear Dick — For the last few weeks, a friend and I have been going around in circles about something we hope you can help us with. She insists that Tracey Gold, the girl who plays Carol on "Growing Pains," is the same girl who played Tracy on "The Partridge Family." I disagree. A steak dinner is riding on your answer. Who gets the bill? — J.P., Knoxville, Tenn.

I hope you enjoy your steak. Tracy Partridge was played by Suzanne Crough.

Dear Dick — Is actor Richard Dean Anderson the son of actor Richard Anderson, who was the boss on the "Bionic Woman" series? — T.S., Fleetwood, Pa.

No, he's not.

Dear Dick — As so many of your questions involve a bet, this is no exception. My brother says Tony Danza is married and I say he's not. If he is married, how long has he been married? Also, does he have any kids? — K.W., Dubuque, Iowa.

Tony is divorced. He has custody of his son, Marco, who is 14, and his ex-wife has custody of his daughter, Gina, who is two.

Dear Dick — Could you please tell me if Corey Haim, who was Peter in the movie "A Time to Live," played in the movie "Silver Bullet"? How old is he? I really think he's cute! In real life, does he have muscular dystrophy? Is there any way to get rid of it? I sure hope so! — M.L., Houston, Texas.

Yes, Corey was in "Silver Bullet." No, he doesn't have muscular dystrophy. He's a perfectly healthy 13-year-old. You can see your cutie-ple soon in the new movie "Murphy's Romance," with Sally Field and James Garner.

Dear Dick — I'd like to know if Rhea Perlman of "Cheers" and Danny DeVito of "Taxi" are married to each other. A big $1 bet is at stake here. — D.H., Bowling Green, Ky.

Yes, Rhea is Mrs. DeVito. I hope you are the rich winner.
