Dirksen (In) actively Supports Fortas For Bench

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has reaffirmed his intention to vote for Abe Fortas, but stopped short of saying he will actively push for Senate approval of President Johnson's nominee to be chief justice.

"Are you going to take an active part in fighting for confirmation?" Dirksen was asked Wednesday.

"Well, I'm going to vote for him," he said.

Dirksen commented as Congress reconvened after a month-long recess and spent most of the first day grumbling over the electoral system, suggesting ways to change it but doing little substance about anything.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, where the Fortas nomination has been bottled up, had been scheduled to meet on the matter.

But Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., taking the opportunity to declare his suspected opposition to Fortas for the first time, put off the session indefinitely when a quorum failed to appear.

All of the other members opposed to Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren stayed away as well as a few supporters.

Whether by accident or design, absence of the opposition seemed to indicate that its chief weapon—delaying tactics—started no rust during the August recess.

The aborted Judiciary meeting and lack of significant accomplishments by Congress on its first day back were not promising for a mid-October adjournment urged by leaders.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said that if Congress didn't get through the backlog —which includes the Fortas nomination, nuclear nonproliferation treaty, gun controls, major appropriation, and extension of the farm program—it probably will have to recess and come back after the November elections.

The first day's doings on Capitol Hill included a lot of criticism of the convention system of selecting national candidates, introduction of one bill to reform the system and promise of more to come.

The Senate debated an $18.5 billion money bill to finance the departments of Health, Education and Welfare, and Labor.

The House passed a bill to let employes contribute to trust funds for scholarships or child care centers for their employes, then talked about the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Dirksen's comments on the Fortas appointment followed speculation that the nomination of Richard M. Nixon as Republican presidential candidate would blunt some GOP support for Fortas in the Senate.

Nixon has said the nomination of a chief justice should be left to the next president. His position is expected to influence some Republican senators who are interested in party unity.

The opposition bloc has threatened a filibuster and Dirksen told newsmen "it wouldn't be easy" to shut one off.

Besides Eastland, only four members of the committee showed up.

Eastland said his opposition to Fortas "goes to his general philosophy," but he declined to elaborate.

Warren has retired from the court contingent upon Senate approval of a successor. The judiciary committee has shelved Johnson's nomination of Homer Thornberry as an associate justice until Fortas is either confirmed or denied.

The bill to reform the electoral system was introduced by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis. It called for a federal commission to work out a new way of selecting presidential and vice presidential candidates by next Aug. 1.

Sen. George McGovern, an unsuccessful aspirant to the Democratic presidential nomination, said while campaigning for re-election in South Dakota that he also planned to offer such a bill.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan called for abolition of the electoral college, direct popular election of the president, and a re-examination of the way national convention delegates are selected.

Referring to the events last week in Chicago, Ford said it "was a pretty sad display of the way to act at a convention and the way to run one."

BURKE STEELE

Top Mason To Address Wayfarers

The DeBary Wayfarers Club, which is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year, will open the second half of the 1968 program with a luncheon meeting to be held at 12:30 p. m. Monday at the DeBary Civic Center.

Program speaker will be Burke Steel of Sanford, district deputy grand master for the 16th Masonic district of the Florida Grand Lodge.

Steele also will present 50-year service pins to Edward F. Bodin and Walter A. Blackwood, both of DeBary. In addition, he will acknowledge 50 years service of James Bain, also of DeBary.

With these presentations, the club now has 57 members whose service total 50 year or more, according to Charles B. Cottrell, president.

William Schiffermuller, past district deputy grand master of the 15th Masonic district, will present Masonic birthday greetings to 35 members who will be celebrating their annual anniversary of becoming Master Masons.

The DeBary Wayfarers are a recognized unit of the Florida Grand Lodge with 370 active members, the largest unit in the state. Included in its membership are 43 Past Masters and 36 states and three foreign countries are represented in the membership.

Aim of the association is to foster the fellowship of Master Masons by meetings and social gatherings to render to Master Masons in this area such aid and assistance as may be required to promote faith, hope and charity among all peoples. Also, to serve as liaison between club members and their lodge homes.

Meetings are at 2 p. m. the first Monday of each month in the DeBary Civic Center. All Masons in good standing in the DeLand, Orange City, Deltona and Sanford areas are invited by Cottrell to "meet with us and participate in our efforts to obtain the fulfillment of the aims of the club."

GREG CARLTON, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Carlton of Sanford, left Aug. 26 for Lake, Hawaii, where he will enter the College of Hawaii, a Mormon supported school. A graduate of Seminole High School, Greg plans to major in English.

Students Share School

Junior High School students in DeLand and Deltona are sharing the school in DeLand until the new one in Deltona is completed, the DeLand-Orange City School Board has announced.

Classes for the Deltona students run from 12:15 until 4 p.m., with arrival at the school in time to eat lunch.

DeLand Principal Edward Talton and Deltona Principal Wayne Myett and their staffs are sharing administrative offices.

Opening of the Deltona school has been delayed by heavy summer rains which have put construction approximately six weeks to two months behind schedule.

Students from the southwest part of the county who will make up the Deltona Junior High student body will move en masse when the buildings are ready. Enrollment is expected to be some 450 youngsters.

Areas included to attend the new school are Orange City, and all residential developments in those areas.

New Suit Would Halt Bond Sale

Court action to stop Seminole County from validating bonds to build the new Seminole County court house was requested by attorney Harlan Tuck in a motion filed in the Fourth District Court of Appeals late yesterday afternoon.

Tuck is representing Robert Tucker, of Casselberry; Thomas Pratt, of Rolling Hills, and James Latner, of Forest City, in the matter.

The motion requests the court to issue a stay order to prevent the county from proceeding with the new courthouse until determination of an appeal currently before the Court of Appeals.

The latest suit was filed just one week before the scheduled hearing on the $2.9 million bond validation for the county facility which was to take place at 1 p.m. Thursday before Circuit Judge Roger Dykes.

Judge Dykes' decision, many months ago, in dismissing the original injunction suit to stop construction of the county building, is one issue currently under appeal.

Arguments in the appeal were heard last April, but no decision has been forthcoming. In the meantime, the county has proceeded with plans for the $2.3 million courthouse and jail addition.

Architects' plans for the facilities are nearly complete and the project was expected to be put out for bids in November.

Sanford City Attorney William Hutchison, who, with County Attorney Harold Johnson, will defend the county in the action, told The Herald he is "preparing a reply to Tuck's motion and will file it with the Appellate Court Monday."

"I doubt seriously that the court in fact could grant a stay fast enough to stop the hearing next Thursday," Hutchison declared.

Tuck is basing his appeal on an old case in which decision was given in 1837 that appears to indicate that type of financing being used by the county is not available to a county unless the county seat is permanent.

Judge Dykes' declaration that Sanford is the permanent county seat is one of the items under appeal.

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — A dispute over which airstrips to use threatened today to delay the Red Cross airlift of food to the starving Biafrans as Nigerian troops seized more territory from the rebels.

Dynamics Planning Expansion

Seminole County's two General Dynamics plants will stabilize at around 800 workers; approximately 600 each at the Lake Mary and Longwood operations.

Sam Ackerman, vice president of General Dynamics and general manager of Dynatronics, revealed to Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, meeting for lunch yesterday at the Sanford Civic Center, that the electronic firm was pleased with its operations here and is happy over the way the area has accepted the new industry.

He informed the group that the Rochester (N.Y.) parent company had just about exhausted all efforts to find suitable labor there and decided to move here because of sufficient workers and location near Dynatronics, which was acquired 30 months ago by General Dynamics.

SAM ACKERMAN

Future looks good, Ackerman commented, and revealed a $5 million annual payroll for the local operation.

He continued that the firm is now in process of bringing a trained professional force here from Rochester but confided the effort thus far was only 70 per cent successful.

The reluctance of wives to leave "mamas" and concern for local school system was given as chief reasons for slow pace of re-locating company people.

Ackerman informed the civic club that General Dynamics plans to increase the Lake Mary plant by 100,000 square feet, and work on this should start around first of 1969.

The average production worker's wage is around $2.60 per hour, the official said, but added this was a "ball park" figure.

Ackerman was introduced by John Thompson, program chairman.

SJC Construction Faces New Rules

By BILL SCOTT

Atlanta office of U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has notified Seminole Junior College president Earl Weldon that several of the proposed items will be required by that agency before building funds for construction of the permanent facility at the junior college will be released.

The HEW office listed, as one of the requirements, that county School Board enter into an agreement with SJC board of trustees stipulating that School Board will provide a central utility facility for the college for a period of 75 years.

The school board also must agree to be responsible for maintenance and operation of the utility facility on a basis that is mutually agreeable between the college trustee board and the School Board.

The separate boards recently signed an agreement designating the School Board as the contracting agent for the junior college construction project.

This was done in an effort to speed up an approval for funds already allocated for construction of permanent buildings at SJC.

The HEW office tentatively agreed to approve a new line recently drawn by representatives from State Department of Education to define a separation between the junior college and the Seminole Vocational-Technical School, provided other agreements between the two county boards relative to the operation and construction of the two facilities on same campus can be obtained.

Copies of the HEW letter were distributed to School Board members yesterday afternoon and a decision into the situation is expected at next board meeting scheduled for Thursday at 3 p.m.

Vote Rules Outlined

New residents of Seminole County who do not pass the one-year residency requirement to vote in the general elections in November, may still vote in the presidential portion of the election under certain conditions, Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections, told The Sanford Herald today.

Mrs. Bruce reports a two-week period, Sept. 21 through Oct. 5, has been set aside for persons registered in other states to file application to be permitted to cast ballots for president in Seminole.

The application must be filed with Mrs. Bruce in her courthouse office and may not be done at the branch office in Seminole Plaza.

Los Angeles was the "mystery city" for Thursday's national showing of 1969 Rambler automobile lines, John D. Brass, owner of Brass Motors, the local agency, reported this morning to The Herald. "No one, not even the factory men, knew where we were going until the plane set down at the Los Angeles airport," Brass said. "The new models were shown right at the airport and met with enthusiastic reception. In addition to viewing the new lines we also got to see the sports models run," he added. Formal showing the six new Rambler models in Sanford will be Oct. 1.

In another action, the board left a problem involving class rings upto Andrew Bracken, principal of Seminole High School, to resolve since he had entered into an agreement with an unnamed company to buy rings which were formerly bought from same company through a local jeweler, John Kader.

Kader, since had severed himself from the company, but was attempting to sell rings to students, although Bracken had signed part with another agent. Board reasoned that since the principal had signed the contract, it was left for him to resolve.

Finance Director Walter Teague informed the educators that Title 1 money in the amount of $450,895 was now available from the federal government and board amended the Elementary-Secondary Education Act money into budget.

'New Broom Sweeps Clean'

By CAROL JAQUES

Newly elected Mayor Ken Brown received his oath of office as chief executive of the City of Longwood last night and immediately launched into a clean-up campaign.

The first problem to plague Mayor Brown was the complaint of an irate citizen, of the "rat infested" lot adjacent to her property.

Mrs. Naomi Brinker of Palmetto Avenue, reported her dogs had been bitten on the tails by the rats and her four grandchildren could not be allowed to play in the back yard for fear they would be bitten by the "filthy things."

She further stated that Police Chief Grady Hall had received a written complaint from her and had promised to "do something about it."

Mayor Brown assured Mrs. Brinker that he personally would be responsible and talk to the people involved.

Council Chairman E. E. Williamson advised Mrs. Brinker that a complaint of this nature should not be taken to the police department, but should instead be given to the mayor in writing and the mayor would give the complaint to the police department. "We're all interested in seeing our city grow," said Williamson, "but when we take a step let's be sure it's in the right direction."

In addition to the rat problem, Mayor Brown was given authority to look into the dog situation, after complaints were voiced concerning dogs running loose. Police Captain D. R. Schriener told council that "Longwood seems to be the dropping off place for stray hounds."

Mayor Brown assumed his duties moments after pledging to the people and the council that he was not "a figure head mayor but will work with you 100 per cent.

"I further dedicate myself to make the City of Longwood a better place to live," concluded Mayor Brown.

Officials Face Suit

Legal action looms around the corner in the aftermath of the jailing of a Sanford youth for five months after he had been ordered released by a peace justice.

Ned Julian, local attorney, said possible action would be filed after his office obtains more information in the incarceration of John Burgess Jr., 421 East Fourth Street.

Burgess was arrested in April, 1968, on a larceny of auto charge, but the warrant was dismissed by Al Davis, justice of peace, when the complainant, Lorene Curry, failed to appear at a preliminary hearing to prosecute the charge.

Burgess was returned to county jail on April 18 and remained there until Aug. 19, when a representative from

Longwood OKs Budget, Increases Millage

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Longwood City Council adopted its budget for fiscal 1968-69 last night on three consecutive readings.

The total budget $157,017.77 calls for a millage increase from 9.45 mills to 9.97 mills.

Shortly after unanimous adoption of the largest budget in the city's history, Council participated in a lenthy debate on recreational facilities in the community.

One councilman declared, "I intend to see something done about recreation for Longwood if I have to do it myself."

Councilman Eugene Jaques picked at reductions in the recreation budget over the past several months insisting that even though the funds have been reduced nothing has been done.

He hit at the proposal by the Council to buy "a hole" for a sanitary landfill while it refuses to provide recreation for the children of the city.

Councilman James Brown maintained the creation of a sanitary landfill is "essential" to future growth of the municipality and stated the opinion that construction of a civic center is usually a "public contribution type thing."

He set Maitland as an example where a civic center was built through public conscription.

Juvenile delinquency in the city was discussed with a member of the police department admitting problems with youth are developing due to fact no recreation facilities are available in Longwood.

Mayor Ken Brown assured Jaques of his full co-operation in trying to solve the problem and a meeting between the two city officials was scheduled for tomorrow.

Constitution Revision Published

Complete text of the proposed new Florida Constitution to be voted on by the people in the November elections is printed in its entirety on pages 4A and 5A of today's edition of The Sanford Herald.

The proposed Constitution updates the state government, provides for creation of the office of lieutenant governor, retains the elected cabinet system, continues the prohibition upon income and inheritance taxes, continues $5,000 homestead exemption and authorizes homestead exemption increase not to exceed $10,000 to owners disabled or over 65 among its many provisions.

Other sections provide for limited self-rule for counties, establish a minimum age requirement for the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Cabinet members of 30 years and increase state residency requirement for the Governor from five to seven years and establish seven year residency requirement for Cabinet members and the Lieutenant Governor. The Governor could also succeed himself for an additional term.

Take Time To Meditate

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

By this time of year almost everyone has had his vacation. Vacations are wonderful things for they give us the chance to rest up and recuperate from the rigors of our daily toil. We may end up working just as hard or harder than we do in our daily jobs, but there is a break in the routine of things and a chance to do what we really want and need to do for a few days.

Vacations are really great for the mind and the body. Maybe we get tired physically, but at least we have had a chance to withdraw from ordinary things and get a perspective on living.

We wonder, though, how many folks used their vacations to help their spiritual lives while they helped and rested their minds and bodies. Surely the life of the spirit is just as important as the physical life. Really it is more important, since it is the spirit which powers the mind and body and it is the spirit which is sensitive to God.

There is a way of giving the spirit a sort of daily vacation if one will take time to do it. It is called "meditation", and a good many people are afraid of the word because they don't understand how simple it can be, how easy it is to get started, and how fruitful meditation can be.

First of all, one prepares himself for his daily meditation by finding some quiet place where he won't be interrupted for a few minutes. Maybe in a corner of the bedroom would be a good place. Sit down and offer God a simple prayer of commitment, "Here I am, Lord. Use me as you will." Then read, either from a religious book or, better, the Bible.

This sets the stage for the use of our minds in consideration and imagination. When we have read, maybe just a few verses of the Bible, we examine the passage to see what it said in terms of when it was written and in terms of the present moment. Imagine, for example, that one is a witness to an event in Christ's life, or a listener to something He said. How did it affect those who watched and listened? If you had been present, how would it have affected you? Then, bring it up to date, so to speak. Imagine the same event in a modern setting, or the same teaching in today's world. If you could be present near Decapolis when Jesus healed the man who was deaf and dumb, how would this affect you? Or imagine that YOU are the man being healed. Imagine the joy at being able to hear and speak. Imagine the way you would feel toward Jesus if this had happened to you.

Then offer thanks to God. Offer thanks that He has sent His Son into the world to heal the dumb and make the deaf hear. Offer thanks that He has sent His Son into the world that we might come face to face with God Himself. Offer thanks that God has called us all to know Him and be loved by Him.

Offer, too, your sorrow that we have not always responded to God's love with love. Lay your sins before God and beg His forgiveness.

Then, knowing God's love, rejoice in an act of adoration that God has created this whole world and all who dwell therein. Rejoice and be glad that Jesus has been born, and crucified, and raised from the dead.

Finally, see how this new understanding can be used as the world once more surrounds us. Go from the moments of silence and prayer back to family and world and apply the new understanding, penitence, and joy to living today and tomorrow and the day after tomorrow.

Granted this method of meditation is simple. Perhaps too simple for many people. It takes but a short time. But it is a way of beginning by which we can be still and know God. It is a simple way of giving the spirit a daily vacation.

Functions Resumed At Church

By MILDRED HANEY

Deltona Christian Church has announced two special functions which are being resumed this week after summer vacations.

The Sunday Church School will meet in the Sunday School room each week at 9:30 a.m. This class is open to all who are interested in Bible study.

The Christian Women's Fellowship starts the new season with a general meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the church. This group is open to all women interested in sharing Christian worship and study. The Esther Circle will be in charge of refreshments.

This will be the first meeting for each of these groups for the new season and it is hoped that there will be good attendance and a lot of interest shown.

Other special meetings to be remembered are the choir practice on Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. at the church. The choir is open to all members and friends interested in helping to worship through music.

Also, the regular monthly Fellowship Dinner is Thursday, Sept. 19 at 6:15 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and table service and "join in an evening of fellowship." The meat, drink and bread will be furnished.

Pastor Accepts Methodist Call

Call by the congregation of First Southern Methodist Church of Sanford to fill the pastorate has been accepted by Rev. Austin L. Phillips who occupied the pulpit for the first time Sunday.

Born in Bainbridge, Ga., Rev. Phillips attended school there, later going for one year to North Texas State University in Denton, Tex., before entering the U. S. Air Force for four years in 1961. Following his discharge in January, 1965, he entered Abraham Baldwin College in Tifton, Ga., and attended classes there for one year during which time he was called to the ministry. He served as pastor of the Southern Methodist Church in Ehrhardt, S. C., for two years and continued his studies at Southern Methodist College in Orangeburg, S. C., completing work there in May of this year.

He is married to the former Miss Janet Player of Savannah, Ga., and they and their six months old son, Austin Jr., are residing in the parsonage at 234 Flamingo Drive here.

Rev. Phillips has announced office hours at the church will be scheduled six days a week from 8 a.m. un til 1 p.m., followed by visitation during the afternoon hours.

Invitation is extended the public to join in worship services each Sunday at the church, which is located at 2460 Sanford Avenue. Midweek prayer time is at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. At present, a study is being conducted on the church doctrine, Rev. Phillips advises.

REV. A. L. PHILLIPS

Covenant Schedules Elections

There will be a Congregational Meeting immediately after the 8 a.m. worship at the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant Sunday for the purpose of electing elders and deacons.

A nominating committee consisting of M. J. Corbett, Arthur DeYoung, and Mrs. Al Case will present a report with recommendations. By recent action of the congregation, the terms of office of church officers will begin Oct. 1 and run through Sept. 30.

The Youth Fellowship will resume meetings at 6 p.m. Sunday. Guest speaker will be Jennifer Olliff, a member of First Presbyterian Church, who recently returned from a visit to Spain. She will speak and show slides taken during her time there. Both junior high and senior high youth are invited.

Local Church Resumes Full Schedules

First Congregational Christian Church of Sanford, 2401 S. Park Avenue, returns this month to a full schedule of activities for the fall season, Dr. Harold A. Harris, minister, announced today.

The Ruth Bean Circle will meet at 7:30 p.m., Monday, in Fellowship Hall. The Board of Deacons and Deaconesses will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, at the manse, to complete final plans for membership visitation. The Board of Trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Fellowship Hall for planning with respect to the new educational building and Fellowship Hall. Senior Choir will meet at 7:30 p.m. each Thursday for rehearsal.

Dr. Harris' sermon for the 11 a.m. service this Sunday is entitled "How to Deal with Dislikes." Nursery care is provided during the service. Church School meets at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages and The Pilgrim Youth Fellowship will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Youth Choir To Present 'Good News'

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church of Sanford will present the folk musical "Good News" during the worship service at 7:45 p.m. Sunday.

"Good News" is a modern day expression of the gospel message, and incorporates the use of guitars, piano, chorus, soloists, narrations, and dialogue in its unique approach.

Soloists include Peggy Fuller, Steve Madden, Linda Mabry, Tawana Metts, Russell Pryor, Wade Singletary, and Rosemary Walton.

Guitarists are Mike Booth, Mike Rudd, Patricia Stenstrom, Ronnie Westbrook, and Gary Walker.

The group will be under the direction of Errol Simmons, minister of music and youth. The public is invited to attend.

Chapel To Have Two Services

Schedule of Sunday worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. at Altamonte Community Chapel, United Church of Christ, will be resumed this week, Rev. Wayne Smith, pastor, has announced.

Church School, with classes for three year olds through 12th grade, will be at 9:30 a.m. Nursery will be provided.

Volunteers will have a work day around the church grounds and buildings from 9 a.m. until noon, Saturday.

Meetings will be held in Fellowship Hall for fifth and sixth grade students Saturday from 4 until 6 p.m. and for the seventh and eighth grades from 4 until 6 p.m., Sunday. Ninth through 12th grades will meet from 7 until 8 p.m. Sunday.

The Women's Guild will have a membership coffee at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Smith, 105 Whippoorwill Lane, Altamonte. Nursery will be provided at the church for those attending the event.

WSCS District To Meet

The Women's Society of Christian Service will hold an Orlando District Training Day at the Casselberry Community United Methodist Church Thursday starting at 9 a.m. with a "Love In" theme.

Books and publications will be on display for examination and purchase at 9 a.m. and classes will begin for officers and chairmen at 9:30 a.m.

The closing program will begin at 11:30 a.m., with the host pastor, Rev. Delmas Copeland, giving the invocation.

Rev. Dean Brown will sing "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?" District President Mrs. C. L. Eby will give the welcoming remarks. Those in charge promise lots of LSD will be available for the "trip" (Loving Service and Devotion).

Noon refreshments will be served by the women of the host church.

The first general meeting for the new year of the Casselberry WSCS will be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, with Rev. Copeland as speaker. The executive committee is in charge of the program with Mrs. Wilma Michaels as program chairman. The new president of the WSCS, Mrs. Harold Kryder, will preside. An executive meeting will be held at 9 a.m. preceding the program.

Diocese Enrolls 13,150

The 23 Catholic elementary and secondary schools of the newly created Diocese of Orlando has enrolled 13,500 students in its school system for the 1968-69 school season, Richard T. Conrads, superintendent of education, has announced.

At All Souls School in Sanford, a total of 206 students have been reported by Sister Lucy, principal, while Sister Mary Charlita, principal at St. Mary-Magdalen School in Altamonte Springs reports 500 students enrolled.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR
Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the solace of worship knows no barriers—temporal or spatial.
Some find they God in church. Others see him in a spring sunrise, or in a peaceful meadow at dusk. Children often find peace in an evening prayer.
Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.
Why not join them? You, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

VCs Herd Civilians As Shields

SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Viet Cong battalion, herding women and children in front as human shields smashed into a company of American paratroopers in three waves early today. Thirty-one Americans were killed and 37 wounded.

The waves of troops from the Viet Cong's Cu Chi Regiment broke through a company from the U.S. 10lst Airborne Division 26 miles northwest of Saigon. The Viet Cong and the paratroopers were still locked in battle as night fell.

Thirty-one Viet Cong have been reported killed so far.

AP photographer Max Nash reported from the battlefield that many of the Americans were killed by the Viet Cong as they lay wounded on the field.

The battle was one of three fought northwest and southwest of Saigon today in which, according to incomplete reports, at least 110 of the enemy were killed and 150 persons seized as suspected Viet Cong.

A Community defector had told U.S. intelligence officers that Viet Cong troops were meeting Thursday in the village of Ap Trang Dau, nine miles from a major allied military base housing the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and a South Vietnamese training base for rangers.

Troops from the 25th Division put a cordon around the village, and the Viet Cong tried unsuccessfully three times to break out.

Suddenly, Nash reported, about 300 enemy troops charged through rice paddies into one American paratroop company 150 yards away. They came in three waves. At command headquarters in Cu Chi, the voice of a radio operator came through: "They are coming, they are coming." Then the radio went dead.

U.S. officers said the first wave of enemy troops came running shoulder to shoulder through the night, screaming, firing assault rifles and pushing women and children in front of them as human shields.

After breaking the cordon, the enemy vanished into the darkness, leaving 31 of their own dead on the battlefield. Nash said some of the third wave enemy troops had bamboo poles with them to carry off some of their dead.

In an 18-hour fight that lasted until noon today, other troops from the 9th Division reported killing 46 Viet Cong 13 miles southwest of Saigon and captured 15 tons of rice apparently stockpiled to feed Viet Cong soldiers fighting in the area.

Two Americans were reported killed and nine wounded.

Farther out on the northern and northwest approaches to Saigon, the Air Force's B52 bombers kept up their campaign to break up Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops that might be assembling for a major assault on Saigon. The eight-engine bombers dropped 350 tons of bombs on troop concentrations, base camps and infiltration routes along the northern and northwestern approaches to the capital Thursday afternoon and today.

Tropical storm Bess again cut heavily into American air strikes against North Vietnam's southern panhandle Thursday, and the three Navy carriers in the Tonkin Gulf were unable to launch a single mission. Air Force pilots used radar bombing to pound supply routes and storage areas in the panhandle.

Road Chief, Solon Hassle On Study

PONTE VEDRA BEACH (AP) —Officials authorizing an efficiency study showing the State Road Department could save $20 million a year through better management and fiscal budgeting drew fresh criticism today from Sen. Ralph Poston, D-Miami.

"The road board cannot instigate or promote legislative change," said Poston, head of the Committee on Roads and Highways. "It is my opinion the legislature should have been in on and working on this from the beginning."

Poston said he was puzzled that the Atlanta, Ga., firm making the survey never queried any legislator.

The road board spokesman Thursday night accused Poston of making "unfounded statements" about the report and said, "We will hear exactly what this study does."

Poston last month said the road board had erected "a wall of secrecy" when officials refused his request to see the report by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. of Atlanta.

As today's meeting opened, Michael O'Neill of Miami, chairman of the road board, said he wanted Poston's opinions on the cost study because any budget or management changes in the huge road department will require legislative changes.

The $41,000 report was first presented to Road Board members and top management of the department in July. Written copies of the report were submitted to key officials early last month and obtained for the first time Thursday.

Another source said that it is estimated it will cost nearly $300,000 to implement the recommended improvements in the first year and require "a blank check" after that, but the report didn't mention the cost of putting the suggestions into effect.

The management consultants, complimented the Road Board for taking "well directed steps in assessing and continually improving overall department operations" and said their 148 page report was intended to supplement those efforts.

The report did not break down how the $20 million a year could be saved.

It said "the very root of the majority of the difficulties in the department" appears to be a low salary scale, which results in "a glaring absence of knowledge with respect to modern techniques."

"SRD (the State Road Department) has difficulty recruiting, training and keeping the requisite type engineering, technical and administrative personnel," it said.

Duplication of efforts and a lack of long-range planning also waste the department's money, the report said.

"Wide passes for long-range planning consists of intuitive judgements as to what might be needed 20 years from now," it said.

White Way Sketches Ready Next Week

Sketches on the 'White Way' lighting project will be ready no later than Tuesday of next week, Scott Burns, of Florida Power and Light Company, reported to Sanford City Manager W. E. (Pete) Knowles and County Engineer William Bush in a meeting this morning.

The meeting was held by the three men to "iron out the wrinkles" in the project which would provide lighting along the 15,000 feet of U. S. 17-92 from the city limits around the lakefront to Interstate Four.

The White Way lighting is to be financed jointly by the City of Sanford and the county with Sanford providing installation and maintenance costs and the county supplying materials.

Next step in the project will be a meeting with engineers of the State Road Department to come to a decision on types of materials to be used and specifications on distances from the road paving for the installation of the lights.

No cost estimates are yet available on the project.

Dirksen Tells Of Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a sure sign Congress was back in session. The champion of the marigold, the protector of birds was holding court.

Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, Republican minority leader from Pekin, Ill., was perched on a table in the Senate press gallery with a cup of coffee in his hand cigarettes nearby, holding his weekly news conference for the first time in a month.

Tousle-haired and irrepressible as ever, not even a story about a report that he was marked for assassination escaped the wit touch.

"I don't want my head blown off," Dirksen said he told police after one of three reports of threats on his life.

"I've got flowers in bloom and they need me. I've got 65 bird feeders now and the birds need me," he said.

But the news conference, darting as usual from anecdote to reminiscence to hard answers, touched on more than birds, flowers and assassination.

What did he think of chances the Senate would confirm Abe Fortas' nomination as chief justice?

"Not roseate," he intoned.

Parking Gem

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Tom White picked up his fiancee's engagement ring at the jewelry store, slipped it into his pocket, then made a brief stop at the supermarket.

At home, he discovered the ring was gone and placed an advertisement in the newspaper.

The next day he received a call from Mrs. H. H. Noe, who explained that she had found the diamond in the store's parking lot.

As a reward, she was invited to the wedding.

Woman Killed

MANDEVILLE, La. (AP) — Mrs. Lorena Jansen, 53, of Lake Helen, Fla., was killed when a car collided headon with a truck near here on U.S. 90.

Officials Face Suit

"After Care," a counseling service of the state for previous offenders, found the youth in his cell; Burgess reportedly blurted out that he should be released.

Further investigation revealed this to be true and a resulting order was obtained ordering freedom for Burgess.

Jullan said he is also planning to file a claim bill with state for compensation for his client's illegal incarceration and also had secured a copy of the original release order dated April 18.

He further revealed he had contacted Charles Davoll, of After Care, for more information into the case.

Jullan talked with the youth's mother and reported she was "upset" over her son's ordeal.

Sheriff Peter Milliot, in discussing the report, had said his office never received a release order for Burgess and, therefore, could not discharge the accused.

Milliot blamed a "clerical error" in the office of Davis as reason for the situation.

Volusia Enters Food Program

Move to lease a warehouse for use as headquarters and storage in Volusia County's participation in the commodities food program was taken by County Commissioners, meeting in regular weekly session yesterday.

Chairman James Dixon and James Doyle, clerk, were authorized to negotiate for the lease, effective Nov. 1. Building under consideration is located in Holly Hill and includes 10,000 square feet of floor space and some refrigeration equipment. A sum of $30,000 has been tentatively set aside by the commission in the next fiscal budget toward financing the food distribution program.

In other business, the commission set Sept. 19, 10 a.m., as deadline for receiving proposals to provide countywide emergency ambulance service. Addendum was approved to the board's present contract with Beacon Livery Service extending it to Oct. 1 to concur with the county's fiscal year. The ambulance contract to Beacon, approved last year, was in the amount of $91,200. The firm also has permission to operate in most cities in Volusia.

Final agreement was given with engineering firms to make a comprehensive study on additional bridges across the Halifax River and the proposed four-laning of Seabreeze Bridge. Fees are not to exceed one-half of one per cent of the estimated project cost for which initial phase has been estimated between $45,000 and $50,000.

Referendum on financing first phase of the bridge building program will be held in March or April at which time freeholders in the Halifax and Daytona Beach special road and bridge districts will vote on the issue.

Commission also adopted a resolution calling for a referendum this November on the proposed $2 million bond issue for the South East Volusia Hospital District for expansion at the New Smyrna Beach hospital.

Application was approved from Deltona Corporation providing exclusive franchise for a sewer system over a 10-year period for the company's second housing development in the community.

Stronger Enforcement Of Law Is Proposed

By CAROL JAQUES

William Chappell, democratic candidate for Congress, lashed out yesterday in favor of stronger law enforcement and the Vietnam issue.

Speaking before some 50 municipal leaders at a Longwood Hotel luncheon in his honor, Chappell said he admired the stand the police took regarding the Chicago episode. "The people didn't see the policemen being spit on, cursed, being hit with rocks and the American flag being stepped on," he reported.

"American people are polluting the lifestreams of America today," he said. "Some of the people are saying, 'If you don't agree with the law, you don't have to obey it.' It's time we give the law enforcement agencies the support they need and deserve,'" stated Chappell.

"The Vietnam War is a war we ought to win," reported Chappell, "And will win if the State Department will keep its hands out of it and let the military personel handle things. The State Department has enough to do minding its own business. Experts say," he continued," that we could win the war in 60 to 90 days."

"We are the only nation which has the ability to stand against Communism," declared Chappell.

Tough Policy Urged For Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says the United States must toughen its negotiating position toward Russia by pushing missile development and defense.

Clifford also came out strongly for keeping "a significant American military presence in Western Europe," which feels threatened by the concentration of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

The defense chief's statements before the National Press Club luncheon after a series of high level policy discussions, including a session of the National Security Council chaired by President Johnson.

These sessions weighed the implications of Russia's reversion to a hard line, and possible action the United States might take at the diplomatic and military level to shore up Western defenses.

There were the related developments.

—Citing the Czech situation, the State Department announced cancellation of a tour of Russia by the University of Minnesota concert band and a second ceremonial flight marking the start of commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, commenting after a White House meeting, said there was a possibility the Senate will not act this year on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

—The State Department branded as "indecent and outrageous" attacks in the Soviet press which said the Atlantic Alliance had planned to take over Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

ments confirm that "when and if we negotiate, safety and success demand that we negotiate from strength."

Clifford indicated that he believes the climate may not be right for the arms control talks which the Soviet Union has agreed to.

"We can continue to hope that, at an appropriate time, these talks can take place," he said.

Teachers Continue Walkouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A threatened teachers' strike in Philadelphia has been averted but hundreds of teachers elsewhere in the nation continue walkouts that have delayed the opening of the fall term.

Any hopes for an extended vacation among 290,000 Philadelphia school children were dashed Thursday when the city put together a $27.6 million wage package to avert a strike by the 12,500 teachers.

Under the new two-year pact, salaries go up $1,800 to give beginning teachers $6,700 at the start and pushing the top wage to $13,200. The fall term opens today.

In Michigan where schools were scheduled to open earlier this week, 11 school districts serving almost 64,000 youngsters remained closed due to teachers' strikes.

Today's scheduled registration for 14,000 children in the Montgomery County-Clarksville, Tenn., system was postponed until further notice with 500 teachers out on strike over school budget cuts.

In East Chicago, Ind., a strike by nearly 300 teachers enters its third day. Six of the city's 13 schools are closed again Thursday and less than 50 per cent of the 100,000 pupils showed up. All but about 2,100 were sent home.

In East Chicago Heights, Ill., 69 of the district's 70 teachers called in sick Thursday and an attorney for the board declared it was "impossible for that many teachers to be sick at the same time."

PROPOSED REVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION AND NOTICE OF ELECTION

WHEREAS, The Legislature, at its Regular Session of June 26, 1967, by Joint Resolution No. 1-XX, proposed to the electors of Florida, except for Article V, Section 16, and Article VI, Section 4, a revision of the Constitution of the State of Florida, and directed that the said proposed revision be published in the manner provided by law, and submitted to the electors of the State of Florida for approval or rejection at the General Election to be held in November, 1968;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, TOM ADAMS, Secretary of State of the State of Florida, do hereby give notice that the said proposed revision of the Constitution of the State of Florida, except for Article V, Section 16, and Article VI, Section 4, will be submitted to the electors of the State of Florida for approval or rejection at the General Election to be held throughout the State of Florida on the 5th day of November, 1968, at which time the said proposed revision of the Constitution of the State of Florida, except for Article V, Section 16, and Article VI, Section 4, will be voted upon in its entirety.

I DO FURTHER GIVE NOTICE that the said proposed revision of the Constitution of the State of Florida, except for Article V, Section 16, and Article VI, Section 4, consists of the following articles and sections thereof, to-wit:

ARTICLE I
DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

Section 1. POLITICAL POWER.—All political power is inherent in the people. The enunciation herein of certain rights shall not be construed to deny the existence of other natural rights.

Section 2. BASIC RIGHTS.—All natural persons are equal before the law and have inalienable rights, among which are the right to enjoy and defend life and liberty, to pursue happiness, to be rewarded for industry, to acquire, possess and protect property and to petition for redress of grievances.

Section 3. NATURAL RESOURCES AND SCENIC BEAUTY.—It shall be the policy of the State to conserve and protect its natural resources and scenic beauty. Adequate provision shall be made by law for the abatement of air and water pollution and of excessive and unnecessary noise.

ARTICLE II
SUFFRAGE AND ELECTIONS

Section 1. CONVENTION.—The legislative power of the state may be exercised by a convention of the people. The governor shall call a convention upon the application of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, specifying the purpose to be considered. If the governor fails to call a convention within ninety days after the application is delivered to him, the legislature shall convene in convention on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the election of members of the legislature unless the governor calls a convention to meet prior to that time. A convention shall consider only subjects relating to the purpose specified in the applications. Delegates to a convention shall be selected from each representative district. The number of delegates from each district shall equal the largest number of representatives from the district in either of the two houses of the legislature. Delegates shall be selected in the manner provided by law for the selection of members of the legislature. A convention shall judge the election returns and the qualifications of its delegates, prescribe its rules of procedure, choose its officers, fix the compensation of officers, employees and delegates, and provide for the printing of its records, journals and proposals. A majority of the delegates shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A convention may recess for periods of not more than ten days. Proposals approved by a convention shall be submitted to the electors at the next general election unless the convention, by a vote of two-thirds of the membership of each house, provides for submission at a special election held more than ninety days after adjournment sine die of the convention. Unless the convention shall provide otherwise, the legislature shall implement the procedure for submitting proposals to the electors and for certifying the results. Amendments submitted by a convention shall be considered severally.

Section 2. AMENDMENT BY INITIATIVE.—The power of the people to propose amendments to the constitution by initiative is reserved to the people, but shall be prohibited unless, prior to circulation of a petition for signatures, the sponsor files the petition with the secretary of state and thereafter obtains and files with the secretary of state a statement from the supervisor of elections of each county in which petitions were circulated indicating that the petition has been signed by the number of electors required. The sponsor shall obtain the statement from the supervisor of elections of each county within ninety days after the petition is filed with the secretary of state. The number of electors required shall be eight percent of the votes cast in the state for all candidates for governor in the last general election at which governors were elected. The number of electors required shall be eight percent of the votes cast in each of fifty percent of the congressional districts in the state for all candidates for governor in the last general election at which governors were elected. The sponsor shall submit signed petitions to the supervisor of elections of each county in which petitions were circulated within one year after the petition is filed with the secretary of state. The supervisor of elections shall certify the number of electors who signed the petitions. The petitions shall be void unless signed by the required number of electors within two years after the petition is filed with the secretary of state. The proposed amendment shall be published as provided by law in the manner required for publication of laws during the year in which the petitions are signed. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors at the next general election unless the legislature, by a vote of two-thirds of the membership of each house, provides for submission at a special election held more than ninety days after adjournment sine die of the session of the legislature. The legislature may provide procedures for withdrawing petitions and for declaring petitions void because of subsequently dated signatures. Petitions may be withdrawn and declared void if sufficient signatures are withdrawn to reduce the number of valid signatures below the number required. Petitions may be declared void by the governor if sufficient signatures are declared invalid by the supervisors of elections or by the canvassing boards because of insufficient time remaining in which to verify signatures. The governor shall declare petitions void on the first Tuesday in February of the year following the general election at which governors were elected. The legislature may implement the procedure for processing petitions.

Section 3. AMENDMENT BY CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.—Amendments to the constitution may be proposed by a constitutional convention pursuant to Article V.

Section 4. AMENDMENT BY LEGISLATURE.—Amendments to the constitution may be proposed by joint resolution agreed to by three-fifths of the membership of each house. The joint resolution shall specify the date on which the amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the electors, which shall be the next general election unless the legislature, by a vote of four-fifths of the membership of each house, provides for submission at a special election held more than ninety days after adjournment sine die of the session of the legislature. The joint resolution shall be published as provided by law in the manner required for publication of laws during the year in which it is agreed to by the legislature. The amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the electors at the time provided in the joint resolution. The legislature may provide procedures for withdrawing proposals.

Section 5. REVISION.—Revisions of the constitution may be proposed by a constitution revision commission appointed every twenty years. The commission shall consist of nine members selected by the governor, three members selected by the attorney general, three members selected by the chief financial officer, and three members selected by the chief justice of the supreme court. Not more than two members appointed by each officer shall be residents of any one congressional district. The commission shall elect a chairman from its membership. Members shall serve without compensation but shall be allowed travel expenses. Vacancies in the membership of the commission shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointments. The commission shall terminate its activities within one hundred eighty days after it is organized, unless the governor extends the time for not more than sixty additional days. Not more than ninety days after the commission is organized, it shall present to the secretary of state its proposed revision of the constitution, or its recommendations for amendments to the constitution, or both. The commission shall submit with its proposals explanatory information and an estimate of the financial impact. The secretary of state shall submit the proposals to the electors at the next general election following the presentation of the proposals to the secretary of state unless the commission, by a vote of two-thirds of its membership, requests that a special election be held for that purpose. Proposals of the commission shall be published as provided by law in the manner required for publication of laws during the year in which they are submitted to the electors. The legislature may provide procedures for withdrawing proposals.

Section 6. REPEAL.—Unless specifically readopted, this article is repealed on December 31, 1970.

ARTICLE III
LEGISLATURE

Section 1. STATE BOUNDARIES.—The state boundaries are as follows:

Begin at the point where the north boundary of the Perdido River intersects the Alabama-Florida boundary line; thence run westerly along the said north boundary of the Perdido River to the point where it intersects the line dividing the ranges 31 and 32 west; thence due south along the said line dividing the ranges 31 and 32 west to the point where it intersects the line dividing the townships 1 and 2 north; thence westerly along the said line dividing the townships 1 and 2 north to the point where it intersects the line dividing the ranges 33 and 34 west; thence due south along the said line dividing the ranges 33 and 34 west to the point where it intersects the line dividing the townships 2 and 3 north; thence westerly along the said line dividing the townships 2 and 3 north to the point where it intersects the line dividing the ranges 34 and 35 west; thence due south along the said line dividing the ranges 34 and 35 west to the point where it intersects the line dividing the townships 3 and 4 north; thence westerly along the said line dividing the townships 3 and 4 north to the point where it intersects the line dividing the ranges 35 and 36 west; thence due south along the said line dividing the ranges 35 and 36 west to the point where it intersects the line dividing the townships 4 and 5 north; thence westerly along the said line dividing the townships 4 and 5 north to the point where it intersects the line dividing the ranges 36 and 37 west; Editorial Comment

We Should Hear And See Mayor Daley On TV

We believe that the television networks owe Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago prime time to present his version of what went on in the streets of his city during the Democratic National Convention and has resulted in a major controversy.

Although born of political action and inescapably involved with the presidential election, what is basically at stake is a determination of the police role in maintaining "order."

Remember back to a week ago. Recall the columns of news and editorial comment and expression of opinions since then by the "pundits." Just imagine the millions of Americans—and those overseas with "via satellite" viewing facilities—who still are shocked or amazed or completely confused by what the TV screens presented.

It is impossible, of course, for the climate in which the TV reporting of that convention to be resurrected. Mayor Daley does not expect any such thing. But what he is asking that the vast public exposure which TV has at its disposal be given him so that he can correct what he evidently believes was slanted reporting.

He would balance "the one-sided portrayal of the controversial events that were telecast" during the convention. We believe that his request—already apparently refused by at least one of the major chains—is one that transcends the immediate one of redressing the balance.

We wonder if the network officials who are charged with establishing policy and directing news gathering have, indeed, been able to recover sufficiently to realize that there is a substantial public opinion that this may be the time to re-assess television and to determine if this rapidly growing and most desirable form of informational distribution needs attention.

We are, to be sure, engaged in the historical and traditional enterprise of publishing a daily newspaper. We are conscious of the various pressures that can generate during as momentous and important a news event as a national nominating convention.

We are also aware of the almost impossible duty to keep news reporting and news editing and editorial comment in their proper channels. And we would be the first to admit that this is much more possible in the established lines of reporter, city editor and editorial writer on a newspaper.

But it seems logical to assume that in this Daley-TV argument the present embroilment indicates that the extraordinary rioting which called for police action in Chicago, the pre-convention difficulties which alarmed television preparations for the event, are factors to be considered.

Electronic aids to communications between the news director, the floor reporters, the closeted editorial commentators, seemed at times to be confused enough so that it was impossible to draw a line between news that was happening without any prods from over-zealous reporters, to news-editorial comments made and broadcast on the spur-of-the-moment.

Mayor Daley, to be sure, is not an attractive figure on television. Neither his person nor his delivery does other than make his designation as an old-time, big city boss quite believable.

But what he did in directing his city police, the policies which he established and which they carried out have nothing to do with his appearance. What they have to do with is the much more basic and serious issue of the role of police, not only in Chicago but wherever police protection is required.

If there is no prime time given to the Mayor of Chicago to "balance" the story, the controversy will not end then or there. It will continue throughout the campaign and thereafter. And the entire question of the "freedom of the air-waves" may well be a by-product that could over-shadow the event which produced the issue.

About Payrolls!

One of the factors which is a sure sign of progress is a growth in employment, new payrolls, new industries, new stores, new services.

But there is one statistic along this line which does not mean true prosperity, which is, in fact, something the taxpayer might view with somewhat of a jaundiced eye.

We refer to governmental payrolls.

This is not in any way to say that we deplore any increase in the size of our municipal or county departments where this growth is needed to back up the growth or promise of growth in our private sector.

But is to say that a recent report from the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, gives us pause—a deep breath before trying to determine what this growth in employment means right now and what it indicates for the future.

All of us are aware that increases—especially statistical increases—are the life-blood of the chamber of commerce. But this is something quite different.

The state C of C points out "there are 58 per cent more people holding public positions in Florida today than in 1960." Ominous enough in its own right. It gains depth when a comparative increase in private employment is announced as 34 per cent for the same period.

Nationally the comparative figures are 38 and 16 per cent. Thus we are holding our own nationally with private employment growing enough to make Florida appear as gainer.

The statistics come from a special study by the U. S. Department of Commerce. Military personnel are not included.

As a final fact, something on which taxpayers can meditate usefully, we submit:

"The monthly payroll of state and local government employees in Florida came to $124,896,000, not including federal civilian employes, in October of last year. This figure was 121 per cent over the comparable 1960 total. Payrolls of private companies moved up about half as fast as public payrolls during the interval."

Interpretive Report

Up-dating Voting Practices

By DON OAKLEY

In 1789, it was a matter of days before the news reached George Washington that he had been elected the first president of the United States, and weeks before the remotest hamlet heard about it.

In 1968, it will be a matter of mere hours before all Americans — millions of whom will not even have cast their ballots yet — will know who is the 37th president of the United States.

The reason, of course, is the instantaneous communication we are dubiously blessed with in the 20th century, plus the assistance of the all-knowing computer. In the face of all this modern technology, however, we continue to follow voting procedures that have changed little since Washington was a candidate and news traveled no faster than the fastest horse.

One voter who thinks it is time for a change in this area is Frank Stanton, president of CBS, who for years has been campaigning for a 24-hour election day, with the polls opening and closing simultaneously everywhere in the country, regardless of local time.

No one has yet proved that reports from early-closing polls in one state have any influence on voters in other states where the polls close hours later. But a uniform voting day would certainly remove the possibility of such influence, argues Stanton.

It would also do a number of other things, he claims. For one, it would relieve the pressure in urban and suburban voting districts where long, slow-moving lines often discourage voters from even making the attempt to vote. It would end the attitude that voting is an unpleasant chore that somehow has to be squeezed into a busy working day.

Election day should be a national holiday, freeing everyone from normal demands upon his time and attention, says Stanton. The responsibility of voting would then be associated "not with crushing inconvenience, but with a special day dedicated nationally to the most fundamental act of democratic life and expression."

So far, however, Stanton's bandwagon seems to be pretty much a one-man affair.

Hal Boyle Says:

Snoring - Dreaming - Golfing

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Fantasy starts early in human life. Researchers believe that many babies begin to have dreams within five hours after birth.

Does your mate snore? Snoring is so prevalent in Britain that a specialist estimates it threatens the marriages of 1.5 million couples in that country. He believes that about 50 per cent of snorers can be cured of their affliction and another 30 per cent helped by proper treatment.

Uncle Sam picks up the tab for the world's most expensively tailored clothes. They are the individually fitted 21-layer suits which U.S. astronauts will wear on projected flights to the moon. The suits cost about $100,000 apiece, weigh 57 pounds, and are designed to protect spacemen from lunar temperatures which range from 250 degrees below zero to 250 degrees above.

Although women generally brush their teeth more often than men, they are more likely than men to lose all their choppers. On the average, U.S. women have two more fillings or missing teeth than men. At any age they are also more likely to need eyeglasses. About 50 per cent of the female population wear them, only 43 per cent of the male population.

Here's why it's a good idea to stand well behind a golfer teeing off: A well-hit golf ball takes off at a speed up to 200 or more miles an hour.

Quotable notables: "When liberty destroys order, the hunger for order will destroy liberty." —Will Durant.

Subsurface diplomacy: Ihan tribesmen of Borneo once had a custom of settling arguments that delegates to the United Nations might well employ. When two tribesmen disagreed violently, they dived together into the water. The one who stayed under the longer was declared winner of the dispute.

Worth remembering: "The trouble with most of us is that we would rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism."

No magic cure: Science has yet to come up with a wonder drug that will quickly remove the agony of a hangover. "Sobering up is essentially a matter of time," says Leon A. Greenberg of the Rutgers University of Alcohol Studies. Neither coffee gulping or work do much, he says, to speed recovery from the results of excessive imbibing.

Prosperity note: Roughly 182,000 individuals are expected to file personal bankruptcy proceedings this year—chiefly because they didn't stick to a family budget, let small debts pile up.

Political Notebook:

Outworn Convention System

By RICHARD WILSON

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Democratic National Convention, even more than its Republican counterpart, performed a useful service in exposing the seamy and outworn garments of the traditional political system. Reform is in the air and four years to accomplish it is probably not enough but a vigorous beginning ought to be made now.

A national presidential primary is not a good alternative to the present archaic and unrepresentative way of selecting major party candidates for the presidency. The nomination in such a confusing free-for-all would surely go to the candidate with the most money and the more appealing television personality, qualifications for the presidency which leave something to be desired.

We would be likely to get someone like Ronald Reagan or George Murphy with membership in Actors Equity more important than a sound grounding in public affairs.

Theodore White, author of the "Making of a President" books, says the conventions just concluded are the last of the old style quadrennial political pow-wows. Probably not, but there are still ways to improve the system to avoid what George McGovern has described as the "obscene" exercise of a presidential candidate going hat in hand to some old ward-heeler type who has come into possession of a state's party machinery in a long life of handing out favors to politicians and a big state's business interests.

Mayor Daley of Chicago was unblushingly described on television by the articulate public relations director of the Chicago police department as the nation's no. 2 political figure, a generous concession to President Johnson at no. 1. This suggests how far out of context the party political system has gotten, and how little it responds to the rising demand for more general and more intelligent public participation.

The truth of the matter is that Hubert H. Humphrey did not need Mayor Daley's Illinois delegation to win nomination, but it was an important psychological factor in the pre-positioning of the presidential candidates, and Mayor Daley is at least a No. 2 kingmaker.

This has helped to bring the whole matter into focus, along with Gov. John Connally's superb control of a 104-vote Texas delegation which was supposed to have a Voltairean freedom of action and expression.

Many of these delegations come to national convention under excessively non-public pressures little related to popular sentiment among people who regard themselves as Republicans or Democrats. This can be true even in state delegations which are selected in primary elections, and especially in party caucuses and state conventions. The latter, for the most part, attract the interest of those who are politically aware and are subject to raids, invasions, manipulations, and, in Texas, "steals."

Hubert Humphrey and Gene McCarthy ought to know. That is the way they clawed up the political ladder. Not by "steals" but by moving in on party caucuses when most of the voters couldn't care less about them, if they know they were being held at all.

In the present instance, the two major political parties managed to surmount the faults of the undemocratic system by nominating the two men who best represent their parties. But that has not always been the case and is no argument now why a bad system that produced a good result should not be brought into the 20th century.

Conceivably, of course, the party system, if it had been more representative, would have nominated Nelson Rockefeller and Gene McCarthy.

It is hard to say exactly how the party system ought to be reformed. There are many different proposals, such as uniform state laws on the selection of delegates and their freedom of action. If states are to have delegates, they should be representative and they should have freedom of action to interact with delegations from other states in picking a presidential nominee.

Equally as important is the imperative demand now that the electoral college system be abolished in favor of the direct election of the president by popular majority, with a run-off if necessary.

The conventions, producing apathy in the one case and revulsion in the other, have proved that a general reform of the election process is long over due.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Illiterate High Schoolers

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D.

CASE G-574: Alisa D., aged 26, teaches kindergarten.

"Dr. Crane," she shook her head sadly, "I wish parents would stop being so concerned about boning children across town.

"Instead, why don't they spend more time trying to help cultivate an interest in reading and music and other school subjects while their kiddies are little?

"Why, many of my youngsters have no books in their homes and don't even see a daily newspaper.

"All the entertainment they get is from TV, and many parents don't even insist that these 5-year-olds go to bed before 8 p.m.

"Actually, I have kiddies who stay up till the late show!

"The parents squander money on beer and cigarettes b don't even have an encyclopedia in the house! Imagine!"

Right here in Chicago we have high school seniors who are actually illiterate!

And it isn't because they are feebleminded!

They have gone through 8 grades of Chicago grammar schools, plus 3½ years of high school.

Recently one of our talented teachers had his students try to read aloud this sentence:

"Man is what he is because of preceding generations."

Half his class stopped on the word "because."

And not one of his senior high schoolers could pronounce either "preceding" or "generations!"

"Dr. Crane," this teacher added, "these students didn't come from ignorant areas of the South.

"No, they have now had almost 12 years in Chicago schools, yet they are practically illiterate."

So why should taxpayers be staggering under huge new taxes to build swankier schools when the present schools are turning out illiterates?

Maybe it is high time we stopped compulsory education, at least after the 6th grade, and make it a tuitional affair, thereafter!

American GIs CAN Leave Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — How soon can the half million American troops in Vietnam begin turning the burden of the war over to the Vietnamese military and start going home?

The prevailing Saigon viewpoint sees this goal realized only years from now unless a settlement is negotiated. The arming of the Vietnamese with more than 200,000 M16 automatic rifls, half of them already delivered, is seen as the initial phase of a long rebuilding process.

And yet because of the peculiar way the Vietnam war is being fought, particularly the general acceptance that military victory in the classical sense is unreachable because of the war's "limits," there is another viewpoint that suggests American boys can start moving out right now without any appreciable military injury.

Just as another quarter of a million American troops brought into Vietnam would not necessarily win the war, many believe the converse applies: A quarter of a million troops pulled out would not necessarily lose it.

Civilian and military viewpoints on the prospects do not necessarily coincide, but the view that American force levels could and should be reduced has already been placed in circulation in the top government levels in Washington, according to senior Americas here. Its proponents see the war's costs — about $30 billion this year—as the major irritant within the United States over Vietnam.

Some Americans here believe that a phased reduction of U.S. troops could begin immediately, paring the number to 200,000 by 1972. One of the proponents is John P. Vann, an influential and knowledgeable regional director of the U.S.-backed pacification program.

Vann would cut deeply into the elaborate military structure built by the former commander of U.S. troops and now chief of staff of the Army, Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

The U.S. high command jealously guards its establishment in Vietnam. Vann admits his proposal is provocative—"It would need a hard-headed secretary of defense to push it through."

Senior U.S. field commanders are against pulling out any American troops in the foreseeable future. Lt. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, commander of the area that includes the battle-scarred demilitarized zone, comments: "No troop commander will ever admit he has too many trigger-pullers." Certainly it is a tenet among commanders that they need as much manpower as is necessary to accomplish the missions assigned them.

The commanders argue that under the ceiling of 550,000 U.S. troops for Vietnam imposed on the military, an "economy of forces" strategy is already being practiced in most of the country. This is the minimum deployment of forces in one area to permit the maximum deployment in another.

Only around Saigon itself and in the two northernmost provinces are there enough forces to amply meet maximum enemy pressure. Elsewhere the allies react to enemy thrusts by rapidly massing the limited forces available.

Jeweler Slain By Holdup Man

TAMPA (AP)—A screaming man in a blue serge suit lost a race for life in downtown Tampa Thursday evening and was shot to death by an assailant who chased him half a block.

Police Detective Gabriel Vanero said the victim was Jacob Hauser, a Miami Beach jeweler.

Stunned witnesses who saw the desperate chase said Hauser had a black leather satchel which which his killer grabbed after shooting him in the back.

Police theorized the satchel contained jewels.

Byron Taggart, who witnessed the chase, said Hauser suddenly bolted from the front door of the Tampa Sheraton Hotel and ran, screaming, across the street with his attacker on his heels.

"He was screaming . . . it was definitely a scream for help," said Taggart.

Taggart said he lost sight of the men when they turned a corner. Then he said he heard the report of a gunshot.

"My first reaction was to get out of here," he said. But he said he waited and watched Hauser's killer dash back to the hotel, carrying the satchel, and leap into a waiting car that contained three men.

The car sped away and Taggart walked around the corner where he found Hauser lying face down on a Greyhound Bus Depot driveway, with blood seeping from under his blue serge suit. Police said he had been shot in the heart.

An alert for an "armed and dangerous" man believed to be carrying a .32 caliber pistol was issued across South Florida. Officials said the suspect was in a white, 1959 model car last seen on Interstate 4 about three blocks from the death scene.

Area PTAs To Meet

By MARYANN MILES

Meetings of Parent-Teacher Associations for two South Seminole area schools are scheduled next week, it has been announced.

The Altamonte Elementary School PTA will meet at the school Monday at 7 p.m. for a social hour and room visitation with the business meeting to follow at 8 p.m.

First meeting of the year for the new Spring Lake Elementary PTA will be Thursday, with open house scheduled at the school from 7 until 7:30 p.m. after which those present will proceed to the Altamonte school for a social half - hour before the business meeting at 8 p.m.

Lyman Gets First Test

Greyhounds Open Jamboree Against Boone

By RON PAGE
Herald Sports Staff

Lyman's Greyhounds are looking forward with anticipation to the pre-season jamboree at 8 p.m. tonight at the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando.

After practicing for four weeks, Lyman's crack eleven is looking good ann are ready for their first match with Orlando Boone in the first quarter. The Hounds play Orlando Edgewater in the fourth quarter of the Jamboree.

The event hosts four one quarter games between four of Central Florida's most promising teams. They include Boone, Titusville, Edgewater, and Lyman.

The purpose of the Jamboree is to raise money for insurance coverage for the participating grid teams.

The Hounds, under the direction of Head Coach Richard Copeland, are boasting 10 returning lettermen as the main gird formation despite the loss of eight starters graduating last June.

Lyman's strong standing backfield consists of two of Seminole County's most impressive runners. First string senior halfback Tim Pinnock, Seminole County Back of the Week by The Sanford Herald, will lead the Hounds. Others include Junior Greg Stults and sophomore Butch Eldridge.

Assisting Pinnock will be senior Mark Dowell in the other halfback slot. Left-handed Dowell promises to give the team a strong passing advantage.

Covering the middle is fullback Rick Brown, a 195-pound junior, who last season was selected All-County and All-Conference fullback.

Keeping tabs on Brown at fullback will be senior transfer Charlie Miller at the other halfback slot. Junior Craig Smith, another senior transfer from Atlanta, will be ready to come in for Brown if necessary.

The line, which is smaller than usual for the average Lyman team, is centered by 235-pound senior Ray Brockmann. Other prospects for the position are senior Danny Dempsey and Curt Riley, a junior.

At the guard spots are senior David Fulsang and junior Paul Nichlas will assist tackles David Rutenkroger, a senior and John Hicks, a junior who is vying with Senior Jay Wolk for the all important starting roll.

The end position is well equipped with veteran Paul Deldner, a speedy junior followed by senior Marn Meyers and junior Greg Voskins and Dean Noland.

DUFFING WITH DON

By: Don Farrens

We had an enjoyable time playing the Southridge club last week. It is going to be a nice addition to the Central Florida family of clubs. The pro is Bill Morgan formally of the Royal Oaks in Titusville.

Mike Whelchel's greens at the Mayfair have never been better . . . we had four one putt greens the other day to break the magic 80 number for the 1st time in many a moon. So, we know that they are in good shape . . . DeLand boys play that Southridge coarse better than South Carolina products, according to Ronnie Hunt who says he beat Fletch Cockrell for the 1st time ever, hard to believe . . . The Jayree tourney was rained out last week, but a few hardy souls still took to the links in the twilight hours, and we are very grateful to fellow member Mike Whelchel for having us out . . . How would you like to have Bob Murpho's last three week's pay checks? The tubby former gator is doing Metrecal great damage these days. Looks like it will be fashionable to be fat and play golf . . . I have finally got it made if that's so.

Mayfair

In the weekly ladies contest, a feature of points earned was on tap this week. In the Class A Division, Suzy Dicky and Grace Sayles took the top spot together with 32 net points based on their handicaps. Hazel Durzo was tops in the B grouping of gal golfers as she carded the top total of the day with 47. Katherine Park was the best point maker in the C class as she garnered 42 in her nine hole effort.

The Jr. golfers picnic and trophy presentation will be held at the John Dickey summer place, where the youngsters will be treated to swimming, a real old fashion picnic and the trophies they earned in the summer golf program, Kudos to Mrs. John Dickey and Mrs. Tom Botts for their ardent sponsorship of this effort over the summer months. It was the best we have ever seen at the Mayfair and these ladies deserve a real tribute. Thanks to you, Suzy and Margret, we hope the kids appreciate it half as much as we do.

Speaking of Jr. Golfers, lessons for the younger set who are members of the local club will be held every Tuesday beginning on Sept. 10 and will be handled by pro Mike Whelchel.

Seminole

The annual club championships of the Seminole Mens Golf Association w ll begin on Sept. 14 and will continue until match play is completed. It will be based on flights from championship on down, with the first week losers going to consolation brackets. Trophies will be presented to winners and runners-ups of both groups at the completion of the contests.

Rolling Hills

A full weekend of tourneys for all groups highlighted labor day at the Rolling Hills layout. On Saturday, was the monthly breakfast mixer for the mens association; on Sunday a mixed four ball best ball, and on the holiday a two ball best ball for both sexes.

In the mens breakfast frey, Ray Woodard came out on top for the individual prize with a plus 13. Tony Misho and Marshall Jensen teamed for a plus 28 to top the 1st prize in the feature event.

In the four ball contest on Sunday, lots of folks went home happy as a three way tie for first place developed with the triple group all shooting net 61s. The Sam McWilliams teamed with the Phil Kerns, Frank Stuart and his wife teamed with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hendershott and the Con Hilchucks coupled with the Bill Baird and all came out even.

Reed Gregory and John North showed the way for the mens grouping in the labor day two ball as they won the low gross honors on the strength of their natural 67 that included nine birdies between them. Lew Munger and Gus Rennella had a net 60 as did Charlie Evans and Jesse Williams as both twosomes tied for the top prize in the net division. Grace Barnhart and Jane Hilchuck took home the big baron in the ladies event with a net 67, with Winnie Harding and Mary Hendershott winning the runner up spot with a net 70 performance.

Two eagles were recorded at the Rolling Hills course this week. Roy Halpin cramed home a seven iron on the par four number seven hole for a eagle two, and Bert Childs pulled the bat trick on the 10th with a drive, three iron and a seven iron.

Mid Florida

The shot of the week in DWD country belongs to Gene Conrad as he stroked home a nine iron on the 130 yard number six hole for a hole in one. Witnesses to the ace were Mel Akerman, Don Wielsh and W. Gould.

The weekly dogfight that will be held each Wednesday for the rest of the season was initiated this past week with pro Herb Smith and Lester Wood winning with plus 3 points.

The monthly Central Florida PGA will be held here on Friday Sept. the 13 (boy that will be a good scapegoat for some bad scores) If you wish to play please call Herb Smith at 831-2390 for starting times and carts.

Orange Park

The Labor Day two ball best ball was the big event for Orange Park members this past week. Plus 8½ points was tops and this was shot by Mr. and Mrs. T. Willoughby, in second was Shirly Gahms and Harry Hayes with plus 7½.

In the King of the Hill contest, Ed Osterle continues to lead with plus 9½, in a close second is Dr. C. T. Craven with 8¼ followed by H. Lorenz in the third spot with plus 5½.

This Tuesday will kick off the ladies year as they will have a tournament and luncheon to begin the season.

No less than 68 Junior members of the Rolling Hills Club gathered last Tuesday to compete in the Summer Clinic Tourney. Alan Clack and Barbara Stuart were crowned champions of the club for the boys and girls respectively, Chuck Lytle and Laurie Stuart were runner ups. In the boys 11-15 group Chip Harkins was the winner with Robert Stockman as runner up. The girls in this age bracket were winner Jackie Misho and runner up was Carrie Hefferman. In the 9-10 grouping Blake Pridgen was the top boy with Don Briola coming second. Wendy Wright was tops for the girls with Lisa Hutchinson close behind. In the 6-8 class Will Hutchinson was top scorer with Simms Sterba as the runner up and in the girls division National Pee Wee Champ Suzy Wright took top honors over Heide Pausher.

Flag Football League Planned For Sanford

The Sanford Recreation Department will sponsor a "Flag Football League" for boys 10, 11 and 12 years of age this fall. To be eligible for this league a boys tenth birthday must be before Nov. 15, 1968 and his thirteenth birthday must not be before Nov. 15, 1968.

Registration and try-outs for this league will be held on Saturday morning Sept. 14, 1968 at 9:30 A.M. The registration will be held on the Ft. Mellon Park Field. The boys who played in the league last year are not required to try-out or register. They will remain on their same team as last year.

Flag Football is an adaptation of tackle football designed for more informal and recreational play by teams that do not have the opportunity for the practice and training that tackle football requires. This game teaches many fundamentals of the tackle game, but is designed primarily for fun and physical fitness. It is a highly enjoyable way to play football with safety as well as being a wonderful spectator sport.

Adult coaches are needed for the "Flag Football Teams." Anyone interested in coaching one of these teams should contact the Sanford Recreation Department in the Civic Center. An organizational meeting for the coaches will be held on Sept. 10, 1968 in the Recreation Office at the Civic Center. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 P.M. Also included in the organizational meeting will be a clinic on the rules and coaching of "Flag Football". Coaches, parents and anyone interested in knowing about this game are invited to attend this meeting.

4 Gridders Suspended At Oviedo

By DOUG ARIE
Herald Sports Staff

The Oviedo Lions have gained 30 new players since school started Tuesday but have lost four of its first string for disciplinary reasons. This gives the team a total of 20 players for their first game against Daytona and Leesburg For both of the opposing teams the Lions will be giving a balanced attack consisting of passing and running.

The opening hole on the line for Oviedo will be made mostly by All-Stater Steve Bratton.

Walter Jacobs in his sophmore year will be taking the plays for the Lions tonight. Jacobs started last season as quarterback and did an excellent job. Jacobs has a better start this year and will be Oviedo's one and only quarterback. Randy Janson, a returnee, along with Bob Tulp playing his first year will be showing his talent as a receiver. The Lions will also be showing great action tonight at the Jamboree in the Cow Palace in Kissimmee at 8 p.m.

Champ Racers At Orlando

A group of dragsters direct from recently-completed competition at the Nationals in Indianapolis will be on hand Saturday night at Central Florida Dragway near Orlando.

Gates will open Saturday at 5:30 p.m. with races beginning at 6:30. The Dragway is located east of Orlando on SR 50, near the SR 526 intersection.

Saturday's event is another In the Dragway's month-long "September Pazeant of Speed" series of programs.

Keynote For NHL Schedule

MONTREAL (AP) — Variety is the keynote of the National Hockey League's 1968-69 regular-season schedule, released today.

The record 456-game schedule, which gets under way with three games Oct. 11, includes 216 interlocking contests between East and West Division teams.

This represents six games more than the entire NHL schedule for each of the 18 seasons prior to the 1967-68 expanded 12-team league when 444 games were played, including 144 interlocking encounters.

This season, the six teams in each division play teams from their own group a total of eight times, four at home and four away. They play the six teams in the other division six times, including three at home.

Last season's ratio was 10 to four.

As was the case last season, through 25 weekends, ending with 10 of the 12 teams playing Sunday, March 30.

The opening night games are Detroit at Boston, St. Louis at Chicago and Minnesota at Oakland. Saturday, Oct. 12, has the Canadiens visiting Pittsburgh and Los Angeles at St. Louis.

Dusty Boots

Attention all horse lovers. The monthly meeting of the Dusty Boots Riding Association will be held tonight at the Sanford Farmers Auction Barn at Onora Road and 17-92. The meeting will get underway at 8 p.m.

All members are urged to attend as the association is making plans for the next four months. Bring a prospective member or friend. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Crampton Takes Lead In Hartford Open

By TOM HARRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It used to take three good rounds and one terrific round to win one of these golf tournaments. Now it takes four super rounds," Bruce Crampton said Thursday after he took the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Taking Australian Crampton at his word, he would be the only one qualified to take home the $20,000 first prize on Sunday. He had the only super round Thursday, a six-under-par 65 over the 6,368 yard Wethersfield Country Club.

Five other players were two shots behind Crampton at four-under-par 67, including 23-year-old rookie Ron Cerrudo and veterans Al Balding, Billy Maxwell, Ken Still and Mason Rudolph.

Crampton's putting touch was golden for four consecutive holes as he scored birdies on putts of 16, 15, 8 and 12 feet on the fourth through seventh holes. "It sure was fun," Crampton said.

World Series

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The man who has dominated the World Series of Golf will be missing this weekend when the winners of the world's four prestige golf tournaments compete here for gold and glory.

PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters' king Bob Goalby, British Open titlist Gary Player and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino will shoot for the $50,000 first prize in the 36-hole event Saturday and Sunday.

Setting for the seventh annual World Series is the tough 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone Country Club course, scene of the six previous events.

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the top-rated golf professional, failed to qualify for only the second time in the seven-year history of the series.

All-time leading money-winner Arnold Palmer is here, but not as a contestant. He will be announcing for the ABC team that will televise the event.

PGA Peace Coming?

HOUSTON (AP) — The Professional Golf Association has indicated the PGA would agree to a control board that would include equal representation for the sponsor, player and the PGA.

Max Elbin, PGA president, appeared before major sponsors of the PGA's $5.6 million tour Thursday. The sponsors were meeting to discuss a dispute between the PGA and the touring professionals. Further meetings were scheduled today.

Most of the touring pros left the PGA Aug. 13 in a dispute over control of the tour. They announced Aug. 19 the formation of a new oranization called the American Professional Golfers.

Elbin said if the sponsors group united behind the PGA that the association is ready to formulate the 1969 tour schedule immediately. He also predicted that a united position between the two groups would persuade a majority of the current tournament players to remain under the PGA banner.

Elbin urged the group to share the responsibility for tournament golf with the PGA "and effect a lasting solution to the problems of the last three years."

"Tournament golf is at the crossroads," he told the sponsors. "You have two avenues open to you. Tournament golf can be conducted by the players who want full and complete authority over all activities. Or the game can go forward as a joint enterprise of the sponsors, players and the PGA."

None of the players involved in the dispute attend the meetings.

The Chase Is On

Detroit, St. Louis Start League Wrap-Up

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit and St. Louis resume their pennant chases tonight with the Tigers home against the Minnesota Twins and the Cardinals hosting the San Francisco Giants for a twi-night doubleheader.

The Tigers, enjoying an eight game bulge in the American League, have 21 games to play, the same number as pursuing Baltimore. That means the magic number for Detroit to clinch its first pennant since 1945 is 14. Any combination of 14 Tiger victories and/or Orioles losses will wrap it up for Detroit.

The National League Cardinals, are 13½ games in front of second place San Francisco and have the same record as the Giants 89-52.

St. Louis, with 21 games remaining, has a magic number of seven to clinch its second consecutive flag.

In the only game played in the majors Thursday, the Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 2-1.

Gary McSeeney's two-run single in the seventh inning capped off a 3-0 Washington lead and gave rookie Jerry Stephenson his second straight victory. Stephenson allowed three hits in seven innings with Hoyt Wilhelm and Tom Phoebus finishing up.

The Tigers, who Denny McLain hopes to win victory No. 32 tonight, now take on Washington with Jim Kaat, 12-12 and Joe Coleman, 13-11 pitching for the Senators.

The Baltimore Orioles, idle yesterday, host the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader tonight. Jim Lonborg, 15-11, and Ray Culp, 12-11, are scheduled to pitch for the Red Sox while Baltimore will counter with Jim Hardin, 14-9, and Steve Barber, 12-9.

The New York Yankees, who have been mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, host the Cleveland Indians in a doubleheader tonight. Mel Stottlemyre, 18-11, and Lindy McDaniel, 5-5, are scheduled to pitch for the Yankees while Cleveland will counter with Sam McDowell, 13-13, and Steve Hargan, 13-14.

The Oakland Athletics, who have been mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, host the California Angels in a doubleheader tonight. Lew Krausse, 7-8, and Jim Nash, 7-7, are scheduled to pitch for Oakland while Jim Fregosi, 5-6, and Jim McGlothlin, 5-5, will pitch for the Angels.

The Kansas City Athletics, who have been mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, host the Chicago White Sox in a doubleheader tonight. Jim Rooker

Gurney, Collins Spend $708,987

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Rep. Edward Gurney and former Gov. LeRoy Collins have received combined contributions of $708,987 to date for their U.S. Senate campaigns. Prominent state officeholders, including a state democratic legislator from the panhandle who gave Gurney $100, were listed as supporters.

Collins, the Democratic nominee, said Thursday he had received $300 from State School Supt. Floyd Christian and $200 from former Gov. Doyle Carlton of Tampa. Chesterfield Smith of Bartow, chairman of the Constitutional Revision Commission, has kicked in $1,000, he said.

Republican U.S. Rep. Edward Gurney of Winter Park has gotten financial assistance from "War on Crime" chief George Wackenhut, $500; Regent Julius Parker, $300; and Ashley Verlander, keeper of Gov. Claude Kirk's trust fund, $150 according to the reports.

Gurney is listed as having received contributions totaling $377,118, through the end of August, compared to $373,222 listed by Collins. But Collins' report showed that he has outspent the Republican congressman, using $369,789 as compared to Gurney's $335,765.

Other listed contributors to Collins' campaign were J. Wayne Reitz of Arlington, Va., former president of the University of Florida, $50; Sen. Richard Stone of Miami, $200; Rep. Harold Featherstone of Hialeah, $200; and LeRoy Collins Jr., $500.

The Democratic nominee received $10,000 from the State Democratic Executive Committee and $5,000 from the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee in Washington, according to the report.

Labor organizations listed as contributing to Collins' drive included the United Auto Workers Committee on Political Education, $3,000; the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Washington, $1,250; the International Ladies Garment Workers Union Campaign Committee in New York City, and others.

Fortas' Chances Are Dim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders are taking an increasingly dim view of Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice and raise the possibility his nomination will die in committee.

President Johnson, however, is pictured as still hopeful Fortas will make it and as giving no indication he might withdraw the nomination.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated Thursday that opponents may succeed in keeping the nomination locked up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Although Dirksen is supporting the nomination and is the senior Republican on the committee, he said a filibuster in the committee is "the kind you cannot lick."

This is because it is easy for opponents on the committee to keep talking until a meeting is cut off by the start of Senate sessions, Dirksen said.

Under the rules, committees are barred from meeting while the Senate is in session except by unanimous consent.

"I'd say the opposition has hardened and may well have increased," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield. He termed Fortas' chances of confirmation to succeed Earl Warren "not encouraging."

Mansfield said he just didn't know when the committee might act on the nomination.

Dirksen and Mansfield commented at separate sessions with newsmen. But they agreed that even if the nomination gets out of the judiciary committee, it is doubtful if the necessary two-thirds majority could be obtained to break a filibuster in the Senate.

Stalled by the controversy over Fortas' appointment to Johnson's nomination of another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry, to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Unless Fortas is confirmed, there won't be any vacancy on the court for Thornberry to fill since Warren has made his retirement is contingent on approval of a successor.

Miss Harman And Attendants Honored

By VIOLET BECKHORN

The lovely lakeside home of Mrs. Raymond Ball in Lake Mary had the happy sound of a bride's music box, playing "Here Comes the Bride", as Mrs. Ball held a luncheon for Miss Judy Harman and her bridesmaids and the mothers of Judy and her fiance.

The luncheon table was set on the porch, overlooking the lake, and was accented with pink sweetheart roses in a centerpiece on a pale pink cloth. Bride dolls and tiny glass slippers, with pink mints, were at each place.

The buffet table was beautiful, with a pink cloth overlaid with white lace, pink sweetheart roses in an epergne centered the table with a bride and groom party in miniature placed around it. A "honeymoon boat" with a bride and groom, drawn by white swans, adorned the side buffet.

A white orchid corsage was presented to Judy and purple orchid corsages to the mothers, Mrs. J. Marian Harmon and Mrs. V. J. Robins, by Mrs. Ball.

A delicious luncheon was served to the honor guest, Judy, and her bridesmaids, Miss Peggy Post, Mrs. Tommy Todd and Miss Joanne Winn and the mothers by Mrs. Ball who was assisted by Mrs. R. E. True and Mrs. George Stine.

A hostess gift of a bride's silver cake knife was given to the honoree.

The wedding will be in the fall.

Individuality Counts

Every woman has her own individual "threshold" of deepness and progresses to it at her own degree of speed. According to the Pantoish hand care experts, even light laundry and cleaning chores are major causes of dry skin on hands, rushing after blustery weather and indoor heating. Did you know that mechanical abrasion of the skin actually occurs when you rub and scrub? Abrasion hurts skin, and dries it out rapidly.

Miss Roye, H. E. Cobb, Jr. United In Church Ceremony

By MILDRED HANEY

Darlene Louise Roye became the bride of Lt. Harold E. Cobb, Jr. at an informal wedding ceremony held in the Deltona Methodist Church on Saturday evening, Aug. 31, 1968. The Rev. H. Wight Kirtley officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her matron of honor, Mrs. Charles L. Barnes, Daleville, Ala., while her husband, Lt. Charles L. Barnes, Ft. Rucker, Ala. acted as best man. She was given in marriage by her twin brother, Darrell.

The bride wore a white crepe, long sleeved street length gown with stand-up white sequined collar and cuffs. Her shoulder length veil was of bouffant silk net. She carried one white orchid on a lace covered prayer book loaned by her friend, Mrs. John Green of North Orlando.

The matron of honor wore a white street length sheath with a white flower corsage.

The bride's mother was chic in an orchid figured suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Cobb is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Roye, 705 Normandy Blvd., Deltona. The groom is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Harold E. Cobb of Enterprise. After a honeymoon at Ormond Beach, the couple will reside at Daleville, Ala. The groom is stationed at Ft. Rucker Helicopter School. He will be leaving for Vietnam in January.

LT. AND MRS. HAROLD E. COBB, JR.

Surprise Bridal Shower Honors Annette Cleek

Miss Annette Cleek, bride-elect of Michael Mackall, was recently guest of honor at a surprise bridal shower given in her home by Miss Roseanna Streit, who will attend as maid of honor in the wedding. Mrs. Arthur Streit assisted her daughter as co-hostess.

The bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. Richard Cleek, her grandmother, Mrs. Everet J. Odum, and Mrs. E. A. Lux, mother of the bridegroom, were presented corsages by the hostesses.

The bride's chosen color of mint green was carried out in the home decor. Centering the table, which was overlaid with a green cloth, was a basket arrangement of fern, daisies and wedding bells flanked by a crystal punch bowl and trays containing petit fours, mints and nuts.

Games were played with prizes awarded the winners, after which time the honoree opened her many lovely gifts.

Others attending the shower were the Mmes. Ruby Hackett, Janet Mackall, Pat Reid, Molly Johnson, Evelyn Yates, Damon Scott, Sharon Whitaker and the Misses Julie Scott and Carole Metz.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Hamp Majesky, Mrs. Robert Conley and Mrs. Daisy Horne and daughter, Debbie.

YOUR SKY SIGN

Virgo people (August 23 - September 23) will have to work hard during this month to maintain their equilibrium among a number of minor but troublesome problems. If you keep long-range goals in mind and deal patiently and tactfully with opposition, mid-September should begin a more settled period. Try not to let your tendency to quick criticisms aggravate strains.

Cleek-Mackall Wedding Plans Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Cleek of Lake Mary, are announcing the final wedding plans for the marriage of their daughter, Annette, to Michael Mackall, son of Mrs. E. A. Lux of Casselberry.

The wedding will be an event of Sept. 7, at 11 a.m. at Church of Nativity, Lake Mary. All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the wedding and reception immediately following in the church social hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Staley recently returned from a trip to Gallatin, Tenn. and Portland, Tenn. They visited Mrs. Staley's sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Moore and Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Banks. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson in Macon, Ga.

Mrs. Ralph Neely attended the first summer session at the University of Mississippi at Oxford from June until the middle of July. Mr. Neely and son, Larry, made the trip to pick Mrs. Neely up and the three of them spent two days on the University of Missouri (at Columbia) campus, registering Larry for school. On their way back home they were in a very bad automobile accident in Iowa. They all spent a week in the hospital at Albia, Iowa. From there they went to Des Moines, where they spent three weeks with Mrs. Neely's parents.

Miss Ann Martin will be leaving this month to attend school in Atlanta at the Georgia Baptist School of Nursing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin along with Ann and George took a tour of points of interest in Canada. Among them were Banff, Alberta; Winnipeg, Manitoba; Glacier National Park; Jasper, Alberta, and several others were visited during the two weeks. Mrs. Martin said that she believed the most interesting part, was their snow mobile ride on a glacier which was 1,000 feet thick, in the Columbia ice fields.

Mrs. Clara E. Mariner attended the graduation of her grandson, Jack, from Duke University of Divinty. Also visited a granddaughter in Cheraw, S. C. For the remaining weeks of her three months vacation, she visited her daughter, Mrs. James Toole, in Augusta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clonts and family spent the month of August touring the West. While visiting in California they visited Disneyland.

From the Paris couture collections for Fall-Winter 1968, from left to right, double-breasted coat in pure wool, pale yellow broadcloth by Andre Courreges has tapering buttoning, small turned-down collar and diamond-shaped topstitching in front and back. Dramatic blouse in snowy-white satin of "Qiana" nylon from Jeanne Lanvin has full sleeves buttoned with mother of pearl from cuff to elbow. It is teamed with black gaucho pants embroidered in gold. Broad lapels and a flippant, full skirt for Louis Feraud's redingote in tweed of Orlon acrylic fiber in black and yellow on white. Long-sleeved in luxurious white, double gabardine of "Qiana" nylon, this Christian Dior candle-slim evening gown is richly embroidered with gold, amethyst and silver beads in a Russian folk pattern of thistles and leaves.

Do you have stamps that are stuck together? They can be pulled apart with mucilage intact if you place them in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator for an hour or so.

Homemaker's Hints

Cranberries have been used as a pie filling over the years. Nowadays some good cooks like to team the cranberries with raisins to achieve a pleasant combination of tart and sweet.

When cookie dough is rich, always roll a small amount at one time and use a prepared pastry cloth and a cloth-covered rolling pin.

Filter papers are now available for percolators — the top-of-the-range or the electric kind. The filters help keep coffee clear.

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

Agri-News

Farming Can Be Hazardous

By CECIL A. TUCKER II

County Agricultural Agent

Like almost everything else these days, even farming can be hazardous. In fact, the accidental death rate in American agriculture now ranks third after the mining and construction industries.

The latest figures for farm residents show a total of 8,100 deaths and 730,000 disabling injuries in the United States last year. Of the deaths, 3,700 involved motor vehicles used in connection with farm work. The rest of the accidents were attributed to various kinds of farm work, or to home accidents.

The common farm tractor was involved in more farm-related accidents than any other single piece of equipment. Of the 1,000 lives lost each year in U.S. tractor accidents, about 600 are due to overturns. At least three-fourths of these could be prevented by protective frames around the driver and seat-belts or crush-resistant cabs.

These protective frames and cabs are now available on some new production models, and all tractor makers are expected to offer them eventually. The problem of tractor overturns isn't as serious in Florida as elsewhere in the U.S. because of the state's relatively flat terrain. But, fatal accidents do occur, and protective devices are recommended.

Low speeds of tractors on the main highways in Florida are responsible for collisions each year. In one-third of all highway accidents studied recently, one driver was going at least 30 miles per hour slower than the other. You are least likely to have an accident if you drive at the average speed of other vehicles on the highway. During the day, a driver traveling at a speed of 20 miles per hour on main rural highways is about 100 times more likely to become involved in an accident than a driver traveling at a speed of 45 miles per hour.

Nearly half of all accidents were either rear-end collisions or same-direction side-swipes. About 46 per cent of the day and 40 per cent of the night accidents were of this type. Most farm tractors and other types of farm equipment rarely travel long distances on highways, but drivers of these machines will be a lot safer if they choose another route and stay off the main highways. By law, slow moving vehicles cannot travel on interstate highways unless the minimum speed is 40 miles per hour.

To lessen the chance of collision between slow moving vehicles and automobiles, a special emblem has been developed to identify slow vehicles traveling at speeds of 25 mph or less.

Consumer Education Available

By LOUISE LONG

County Home Economics Agent

Are you puzzled by fabric finishes when you shop, wondering which to select? Do advertising claims of soaps and detergents confuse you? Are you having difficulty stretching your food dollar?

The County Extension Home Economics Office is your Consumer Education Center. It has reliable, unbiased information to help you as a consumer to become better informed. Extension Home Economics is a part of the University of Florida and the Extension Agents are University staff members.

Information of importance to the consumer is presented in several different ways. Special interest groups, workshops, classes and club groups are popular ways of reaching individuals. Others either visit the office, telephone or write for information. Pamphlets and leaflets on many subjects are available for the asking. Clubs or groups desiring a program on a subject of concern to consumers should contact the Home Economics Agent.

Insects Multiply Rapidly

By CECIL A. TUCKER II

County Agricultural Agent

We all know the bug population grows rapidly during warm weather, but few realize how fast insects actually multiply.

Florida Agricultural Extension Service entomologists say the potential rate is astounding. For example, assuming all their off-spring survived, a pair of flies might produce 191-quintillion flies between April and August. That's 191-million-million-million-million!

That many flies would cover the entire land area of the United States to a depth of four and a half feet. Of course, this never happens, because natural enemies and insecticides limit the growth of the bug population. Otherwise insects would overwhelm humanity.

With this in mind, it's easy to understand why all of us should be thankful for the factors that keep bugs in check. And, we also should support the research efforts of scientists who are seeking even more effective methods of insect control.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

FRI., SEPT. 6, 1968

8:30-11 p.m. NBC. Special. American Football League Game (Color) The first regular season game finds the Cincinnati Bengals meeting the San Diego Chargers. Curt Gowdy does the play-by-play.

8-11 p.m. CBS. The CBS Friday Night Movies. "King of the Sun." (1963) (Color) (Rerun) What this really is is "Taras Bulba" south of the border. Yul Brynner tars as Black Eagle, chief of an Indian tribe, who opposes George Chagiris, who plays Prince Balam, heir to the Mayan throne. The issue is blood sacrifice. Brynner is the abolitionist and Chakiris represents ancient religious tradition which dictates that the Gods must be appeased. It all revs up into a war and a lot of blood is spilled before blood spilling is outlawed. Shirley Ann Field plays Isobel, whose affections become divided between Brynner and Chakiris. Richard Basehart plays Ah Min, a high priest in the Mayan religion. Directed by J. Lee Thompson. ("The Guns of Navarone", "Taras Bulba"), the film stays at the level of feather and spear opera, and fails to make good use of a fascinating era and setting.

10-11 p.m. ABC. Judd for the Defense. "No Law Against Murder." (Color) (Rerun) Tonight's story runs a distinct parallel to a case held in Mississippi not too long ago. It is edifying and starkly well done. Lonny Querido (guest star Earl Holliman), sheriff of a backwater town, is accused of violating the civil rights of a New York writer by murdering him. Judd defends him. Tune in to find out how he does, and how successful he is.

Wallace Headquarters Opened

West Volusia Campaign Headquarters for George Wallace for president were formally opened Wednesday in DeLand in the former Florida Bank Building, N. Boulevard and Indiana Avenue.

Area campaign chairman, Homer S. Smith of DeLeon Springs, snipped the ribbon at 10 a.m., in the presence of some 20 Wallace supporters.

Speaker for the occasion was DeLand Attorney Sidney Taylor, who stressed the major plank in Wallace's campaign by stating that "a vote for Wallace is a vote to restore the right of the people to determine their own form of government."

Wallace, former governor of Alabama, is a candidate for president under the American Independent Party.

LBJ Feeling 'Mighty Low'

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson's popularity among Americans has hit a record low, according to the Gallup Poll.

A nationwide survey shows that only 35 per cent of those questioned approved of the way the President is performing his job, the poll said Wednesday. Some 52 per cent disapproved.

'The Devil's Brigade'

"The Devil's Brigade," a film based on true heroic exploits during World War II comes to the wide screen of the Movieland Drive-In Theatre for a four-day showing starting Sunday.

Among the many who are in the movie, the top stars are William Holden, Cliff Robertson, and Vince Edwards.

Movie fans will remember Cliff Robertson who played John F. Kennedy in the memorable movie, "P.T. 109."

Companion feature will be "Grand Slam," a suspense movie in color starring Janet Leigh and Edward G. Robinson.

The film "The Devil's Brigade" has the rating of "suggested for mature audiences." Both features are showing in Sanford for the first time.

Elvis Presley teams up with Nancy Sinatra in Elvis' latest opus, "Speedway," filmed in color. It offers top song-and-dance entertainment of the highest quality and is a romantic comedy set against a daredevil background of stock car racing.

Incidently, "Speedway" is in color and will be the top half of a double feature program. Other feature is "Nevada Smith" is also a top western drama starring Steve McQueen. This program plays Thursday thru Saturday of next week.

CLIFF ROBERTSON, William Holden and Vince Edwards star in "The Devil's Brigade," starting Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

'The Fox' A Hit

KEIR DULLEA and Anne Heywood are the stars of "The Fox," opening today at the Sanford Plaza Theatre.

"The Fox" is a daring and provocative drama, centering on two young women. Retreating to the isolation of a run-down chicken farm, they are forced to the realities of life—and their own hidden emotions—by a fox, which preys on their chickens, and by a virile young salesman, who becomes an unlace the realities of life—and are played by Sandy Dennis and Anne Heywood and the man is played by Keir Dullea.

The Claridge Pictures release, "The Fox," represents an unusual degree of satisfaction for producer Raymond Stross, for he has been a life-long admirer of D. H. Lawrence, the noted author of the novella on which the screenplay, by Lewis John Carlino and Howard Koch, is based. Stross spent 14 months preparing the project which was filmed in color and widescreen on location in Canada. Directed by Mark Rydell, the emotionally intense drama opens today at the Plaza Theater. Runs one week.

Filming "The Fox" in Canada, during a February and a March, provided the production with a harshly beautiful and natural winter setting which enhances the drama. The freezing weather, often dropping to just 20 degrees below zero, added unwanted hardship for cast and crew, however. The farm used in "The Fox" was found by art director Charles Bailey a few weeks of scouting back roads in the area. The elderly couple who owned the farm had never been exposed to the sometimes incomprehensible undertakings of a motion picture company. While they could understand the construction of new fencing and new siding on their house, the building of a windmill that did nare, functions, and the removal of trees from one area to another, including the planting of an oak tree in their front yard had them shaking their heads in wonderment.

Bailey and his aides also filled the house with antiques and battered furniture, curtains, and the inside decor and removed all the beautiful heirlooms owned by the couple. What really confounded them, however, occurred during a period of warm weather which melted the snowfall. At that time, artificial snow was trucked in and flung about the farmstead.

"Hollywood Squares" gains a topnotch rating from all three age groups of TOP VIEW voters, but final score of "As The World Turns" gets knocked down by young voters.

Hollywood Squares, NBC, 75.2. superb.

As The World Turns. CBS, 70.8. good.

Love Is A Many Splendored Thing, CBS, 65.6, fair.

Treasure Isle, ABC, 46.2, very poor.

READERS SPEAK

Dear TOP VIEW: I dearly love "As The World Turns" and will not answer phone or door at that time. Only wish it ran longer! I live from Friday wanting Monday to hurry up and come.—Mrs. Kirven Gilbert, Sr., Columbus, Ga.

Dear TOP VIEW: I refuse to watch "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing" and I'll continue to boycott it! It supplanted one of the finest most interesting and different programs ever shown on TV: "Password." Why was an A-3 program replaced by another soap opera?— Mrs. Ernest L. Nordin, Omaha, Neb.

Dear TOP VIEW: "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing" is the most superb show my husband and I have ever watched. It was taken off here by kook TV to accommodate news. How dumb can stations get?—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Dahl, Billings, Mont.

Dear TOP VIEW: Must we spend the next two months with program interruptions to tell us what this or that candidate said — and news coming in next half hour?—Mrs. M. S. Thomas, Fayetteville, W. Va.

Dear TOP VIEW: Why have such sassy kids on commercials for our children to imitate? Even adults talk hatefully to friends on the way "home to get a permanent." We not only have violence on TV, but also, ill-mannered people. How much nicer to have the child ask the parent to "please try another brand of toothpaste, and use a nice tone of voice. I'm sure they would sell more products. If we wouldn't have sense enough to go to the store to buy the products.—Mrs. Irene Morris, Sarasota, Fla.

Bridge Study Scheduled In Volusia

Terms of a contract for a comprehensive study for additional bridges across the Halifax River were approved Tuesday by the Volusia County Commission in a special conference with consulting engineers. Formal approval is expected today at the regular commission meeting.

Emphasis will be placed on construction programs for bridges from the Holly Hill and South Daytona areas and possible four-laning of the existing Sealtreze Boulevard Bridge. Funds will come from the Halifax and Daytona Beach Special Road and Bridge districts, with a referendum is expected in March of April, 1969.

The study also will review area and regional growth patterns with projected traffic demands, future road construction and evaluation of the impact and stabilization program of Ponce de Leon Inlet, and relocation of the Intracoastal Waterway.

County To Participate In Programs

Volusia County will participate in the food commodity program, community action project, and other federal programs, the County Commission agreed Tuesday following a conference with Durwood Smith, local director of Project Uparde, and Robert Wright, his assistant.

The commission, in sponsoring the programs, will be required to provide "in kind services" totaling 20 per cent of the cost.

District 5 County Commissioner Hubby Saxon will represent the board on a 30-member committee made up of representatives from municipalities and the poverty program.

Public hearings on the program will be scheduled later in Daytona Beach, DeLand and New Smyrna Beach.

School Lunch Prices Same In Volusia

School lunch and milk prices in all Volusia County schools are the same this year as they were last except for a five cent price reduction per lunch if weekly tickets are purchased by the students.

Milk in schools where cafeterias are located will be five cents for each one-half pint and six cents a half-pint in others.

Lunch prices are 40 cents per plate, kindergarten through sixth grade; 50 cents a plate for seventh through 12th grades, and 60 cents for adults.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I suppose you will throw this in your waste paper basket, but I am going to have my say anyway, and I hope it doesn't shock you.

I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is my mother. I hate her. It may sound terrible to you, but I really HATE her. I used to think I would get over it, but I know now I never will.

Sometimes I think I will go out of my mind if she doesn't quit picking on me. I never do anything to suit her. She doesn't like my clothes, my hair, my friends, or anything.

My friends are not bums, either. They are good kids and they aren't wild or on pot, or anything like that, but my mother says they look like hippies, and they AREN'T.

Please help me, Abby, before I run away from home. I cry myself to sleep at night because my mother is so hateful. If I babysit she makes me put the money in the bank. Other girls can buy records or do whatever they want with the money they earn.

Don't tell me to talk to my father. He's always on her side. And don't tell me my mother "loves" me and is only doing things for my own good. If you print my letter, don't sign my name, or I'll get killed.

MISERABLE IN PHOENIX

DEAR MISERABLE: Your letter doesn't "shock" me at all. I receive many such letters each week. Almost every normal teen-ager alternately loves and hates his parents.

It's not easy to be criticized, restricted, corrected, and disciplined day in and day out. But parents who prove it by consistently letting their children know what is expected of them. Parents who are "soft" and permissive, rear confused, insecure children.

I don't expect you to agree with me today, but keep this letter and read it again 5 years from now, and then you'll understand it perfectly. Good luck, dear. You're lucky. You are loved.

DEAR ABBY: I am appalled at the carelessness with which some women and girls sit in their too-short skirts these days. I am tired of sitting on buses, in restaurants, and at private gatherings and being exposed to views I can't avoid.

The other evening in a restaurant an older woman in a miniskirt left nothing to the imagination. I didn't know whether to signal her, whisper to her as I left, or write her a note on my napkin.

Should one ignore a situation which is disgusting to all, or try to communicate the problem to the offenders if some way? REVOLTED

DEAR REVOLTED: Don't bother to signal, whisper, or write any notes. The offenders know full well what they're exposing, and they could care less. Just look somewhere else.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were divorced several months ago. The divorce was on very friendly terms, and we see each other occasionally at social gatherings, etc. It is very awkward to introduce her as my "ex-wife." Is there a less embarrassing way?

ALABAMAN

DEAR ALABAMAN: Yes. Introduce her by name and skip her marital history—unless somebody asks.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For Abby's BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton McLeod

"I am forty-three, not married, very lonely. I have an excellent job which is rather until age 65. I have no hobbies, few friends. I often wonder what I will do when retirement takes the only thing I have, my job. Can you discuss this? I suspect you have other readers like me." D. L.

Yes, I feel sure that there are many women with thoughts like yours. You are young, do not look forward so much, think NOW. But, make yourself join something, some group, a study class would be interesting. Also, try to figure out how your job experience might fit into some work you could have as a second career. Women are doing all kinds of new jobs after "retirement." But, planning will help things to work for you. Make yourself talk to people, invite them to come to see you. Friends are so important, being alone too much makes for bitterness. There is much to do. Hospitals need help. Civic groups need help. Find something for you.

"I am going abroad in October, please suggest a very small wardrobe for me. I am a career woman. I have no friends in Europe, going alone, Will visit several countries, staying one month. Will stay at the best hotels." V. V.

For travel, a jacket suit and a comfortable tweed coat. A small soft hat. This outfit can go anywhere. Have one afternoon dress, shoes, accessories. You just might have a date! If you choose your coat carefully, it can be worn at anytime. If you have a fur stole, be sure to take it. A skirt and several sweater blouses; low-heeled shoes for comfortable walking and wear these for travel also. Keep everything in one color note so that anything you have looks well with everything else.

Too many clothes are a burden and you spend time packing and unpacking, when you could be enjoying the sights. Have fun!

Tomorrow: "Lipsticker."

Career Corner

People - Key To Political Career

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a new Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Keith Derryberry, Wellington, Tex., for his request:

"The field of politics interests me and I plan to attend law school. I would like to know how to prepare myself and what courses to take for a political career."

A.—BEN FRANKLIN once observed that "an investment in knowledge always pays the best interest." True. But for a politician — candidate or office-holder, manager or technician — the big dividends comes by pairing education with people-involvement.

THIS ADVICE COMES FROM EXPERT ROY PFAUTCH, professional campaign management superstar who is handling Congressional and Senatorial races in six states during the '68 elections. Pfautch recently completed a nation-wide tour speaking on the developing campaign management industry, and the organization which he heads, Civic Service, Inc., has been described as one of the country's most active campaign firms by prestigious Congressional Quarterly (the political insiders' bible). His record is one of solid wins in campaigns he has directed personally.

CLASS ROOMS. Your college preparatory course should include all the English and history available. Also social sciences. In college, Pfautch suggests that a liberal arts or political science background is a good preparation for law school and a political career. A business or public administration major is good too. "In general, the candidate and campaign manager need solid grounding in political science, English and history. The specialized technician (such as opinion researchers, press secretaries, speech writers, etc.) require more subject education in such areas as sociology, math, psychology and journalism," Pfautch explains.

He adds that his above comment is by no means the only way to fly — "successful politicians have arrived by just about every imaginable route."

LAB WORK. Whatever the academic choice, Pfautch emphasizes putting education to work early through heavy campus participation. (He started in politics at 16, and at 21 managed his first Congressional campaign.) He offers a few ideas:

Become involved in student government . . . write articles on current issues for your school paper . . . join clubs and organizations (become an officer if possible) . . . organize a mock convention or rally.

OFF-CAMPUS LEARNING GROUNDS. Senators and Congressmen hire a limited number of students as summer interns in Washington. There are also openings for non-paid interns who are willing to underwrite their own expenses. Application should be made to your Representative or Senator at least nine months prior to the summer you wish to work.

VOLUNTEER CAMPAIGNING FOR REAL. "A good politician has a high awareness-quotient and learns to articulate that awareness in particulate that awareness in per-

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A basic influence now in effect — the Sun conjunct Jupiter — brings much of benefit and value in whatever has to do with new beginning and dealing with those in power. Ful position, especially where health, apparel, service, employment, personnel and dietary conditions are concerned. Judgement should be good now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A good day to arrange your labors and activities for the days ahead so that all goes very much better for you. Do something about improving your health also. Be more dynamic, vital and really enjoy your life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can really have a delightful time at the recreations you most like and enjoy, and rid yourself of tensions and timidity. Be with persons you like most, particularly closest kin. Don't stay out too late tonight, though.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Focus your attention on family matters today and see to it that all at home is most orderly and clean. Get rid of those things that are obsolete. Give them to one who will appreciate them. (Call usually.)

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A day to visit about with good and close pals and have the kind of delightful time you like at fine restaurants, etc. First do those duties quickly that must be done. Then off to fun and frolic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A fine day for handling monetary matters and consulting with experts getting their ideas. Add to present assets soon and do something about getting property improved. Stop putting up with leaky faucets.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Others will be flattered if you tell them what they can do for you, so do just that today. Dress in fine style, but not gaudy. Do whatever you can to assist them, also, and have fine rapport.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Studying situations that apply to you exclusively is your best bet now, so get busy and do not confide in others. You can have happy time with mate, if you are charming with him, or her. Be very considerate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A day to be with congenials as much as you can and get the future mapped out more satisfactorily. First be sure you have activities for the coming new week nicely worked out. Then go-go-go!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to get those obligations out of the way that are impossible during the busy work week. So get an early start in the bustling world of activity. Bigwig understands you better and gives a boost forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Getting a good start early on does the trip you have planned is wise so that you avoid heavy traffic. Good results can come of this. Get the data you want from those whose acquaintance but be diplomatic about it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you apply yourself, you find that all those financial affairs can be settled very nicely today. Center efforts on adding to present assets and cutting down on expenses. Pay any debts you may have.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can now have those fine talks with associates and get them to follow through on your most practical ideas. Show that you value their loyalty. A little soft soap can go a very long way — use it.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she, will be one of those delightful young people who needs to be prodded along where activities are concerned to avoid developing an inferiority complex. Have the right sort of books and people around early in life, since this is very sensitive. Being around sick people can do much harm to this fine youngster.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

SUNDAY, SEPT. 8, 1968

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much tension and strain can be in effect today as the Full Moon starts to wane. You would be wise to take no chances and to do nothing of a drastic or dramatic nature just because you want to be in the limelight or impress one who means a great deal to you. Carry through with your duties in a steadfast fashion.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Taking chances with demanding friends could cost you a pretty penny today, so steer clear until they come to their senses. Better do more study-ing where those new ideas are concerned, too. Not a good day to put them in motion.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Taking any risks that will stamp you as a poor citizen is not wise now, nor getting yourself out of the good graces of bigwigs. Handle those credit affairs wisely by making right plans now. Analyze your holdings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Thinks over how to be more successful in group affairs in the future, but wait a better day to put ideas in motion. A friend can be very annoying now, but remain calm. Know that something is disturbing this person. Be kind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take time to learn just what your relative position is with higher-ups, but use tact in so doing. Much occurs that points the way to far greater productivity. Get wheels in motion early.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have to do more studying before you comprehend how to get ahead in new outlets of importance. Growth can then come quiet easily. You garner information you have wanted from a long-distance relative.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can begin the new week wisely by digging right into responsibilities of whatever nature in a novel and more efficient way. Be exact. Show mate that your devotion is undying and certain.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are now able to get associates to show you what is best to make your aggregate projects work to real advantage. Change your ways somewhat if you want true harmony to exist. Show that you are right on the button.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You love your work, but it must be made more efficient through the use of modern methods and mechanisms. Some new contact can point out some different position that could greatly improve the situation. Be active.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to rid yourself of dull doldrums, so do just that and free time for yourself, and use that wisely. Making appointments with congenials early for recreation is fine. Try not to spend too much money.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to have more harmony at home and this is to comply with wishes of kin. Clear up that situation that has been on the fire for so long and can now be handled with relative ease.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some new attitude on your part will now permit partners to give you their good and practical ideas so that you can be mutually more successful. Make those business appointments early. Do your shopping without fail.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) The right time to make those little changes in present business set-up, budget that will add to present income and prosperity. Listen to what a bigwig in business has to suggest. Then follow finest idea.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those very fascinating young people who understands the modern and will be able to make his, or her, fortune via this channel, as alant the education along such lines early. Teach early to finish what is once started or there can be a jack-of-all-trades-and-master-of-none personality here.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

Back in the days of Whist some unsung player said, "When in doubt, lead trumps."

A much better aphorism would be, "When not in doubt, lead trumps."

North's two spade bid was one of those modern cue bids that may or may not show first round control of the suit, depending on just what the cue bidder holds.

East decided to jam the bidding with a jump to four spades and South was happy to be able to pass. He had a minimum opening bid and his partner had passed as dealer.

North's jump to six clubs was unsound. He had no reason to expect that a slam could be made but his partner could have the right cards. However, North did not like the way that East had jammed the bidding and decided that his jump to six clubs might well get East and West to go to six spades. North was sure that his side would show a profit against that contract.

East and West refused the bait. They both passed and it was up to West to lead.

West was in doubt. He hated to lay down the ace of spades. It might just set up the king somewhere. He hated to lead from his king of hearts and he was not intrigued with his diamond doubleton. Finally he led a trump.

South drew trumps, discarded his three hearts on dummy's diamonds and conceded a spade trick.

We sympathize with East and are sorry for West but we do not approve of his trump lead. West should have attacked and the ace of spades opening would have been the best way to start. After that West would surely have found the shift to hearts and South would have been down two tricks.

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

I envied those parents whose first child went off to school this year. I sympathized with them also because I know all about the damp handkerchief bit as little Merton trudges, dragging his schoolbag, down the walk. Mother just thought she had prepared herself for sending him out into the world alone and father, for all his fatherness, experienced a hollow feeling about the breastbone.

Silently both parents offered up a prayer for their child, and that's what I envied. The prayer for the first one off to school is a brief plea that Merton will learn and prosper and get home safely and on time.

With each child and every passing year that's one of the things I pray for—passing years; the entreaties grow not only in number but in details as well.

Parents with several children find themselves looking forward to a year when nobody is in danger of failing and when at least one of them will come home with an Excellent in conduct.

After such generalities the prayers get on to particulars.

"Oh, please, please," mother entreats, "don't let me get talked into being on the Welcoming Committee for Parents' Night and, if it is possible, stop Merton's mouth when he jumps up to volunteer me for chaperone duty at the eighth grade dance!"

Yes, and let me not be called to the school with my electric drill," father intones. "Surely seven years of making holes in acorns and hazelnuts for the Thanksgiving decorations is enough for even a Job."

"And if Susie HAS to have nosebleeds, let her learn to use her handkerchief and get to the restroom without ruining her uniform jumpers this year," mother implores.

"Deliver Ralph from fistfights and help him to not tear up more than one car coat this winter," they chant together.

"And let us not be troubled with uneaten lunches and lost books and mateless rainboots," the lament rises.

"And let all the children remember they need a costume for the school play BEFORE the day of the first dress rehearsal," mother cries at least half.

"Keep them from losing the school's expensive basketballs and slide rules," the litany continues, "and never cut cars to their everlasting complaints that 'everybody ELSE gets to go, do, spend, have, get . . .'"

"And let them grow at least half their talents and abilities," father concludes fervently, "and may joy be before them and peace be behind them."

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—How do you and the other girls use up odds and ends of bias tape?

HAZEL

DEAR POLLY—I have a solution to the problem: "Could someone please tell me if paper white narcissus bloom more than once? If so, how would one care for the bulbs to get them to bloom again? I am 12 years old and got the answer out of an encyclopedia. It said: "In general, the garden species succeed best in well-drained garden soil of medium texture and richness. The bulbs should be planted in the autumn, about five inches deep and three inches apart. They should not be disturbed until they appear to be failing, perhaps about three years. Then, when the foliage has died down, the clumps may be dug up, divided, cleaned and stored in a cool place until planting time."

—ROBERT

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Edna that my mother-in-law says that bulbs which have been forced (indoor planting) should not be forced again. My birthday is in January and every year my husband gives me new paper white narcissus bulbs which are planted among pebbles in a shallow pottery planter. After they have bloomed and the leaves dried naturally, I put them in the basement to dry out for replanting in the garden when the ground thaws. So you see they do bloom again but not in the house. I do hope Edna has as much success with her bulbs as I have had during past years.

—I. W. A.

DEAR POLLY—For an unusual and practical wedding shower gift, I buy six matching dish towels and sew two of the towels together, lengthwise, and gather the top edge onto a tape of ribbon to make an apron. The apron and four matching dish towels make a gift anyone is pleased to receive.

DEAR POLLY—Ladies like Gladys who have to buy long underwear so husbands can wear those scratchy suits probably find the cotton knits with long legs fit so close to the skin that they are too warm except in cold weather so my man prefers the long cotton pajama pants. I have even bought extra ones, without tops, through a catalogue. Great savings!—CAROL

Registration Offices Open Saturdays

Volusia County voter registration offices will remain open each Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. through the Oct. 5 deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 5 general election.

Offices are located in the court house in DeLand, at 440 S. Beach Street in Daytona Beach and in the court house annex in New Smyrna Beach.

Young Adults Set Dance

By MILDRED HANEY

The Young Adults Club of Deltona will sponsor a dance Saturday at the Community Center, beginning at 8 p.m. with special music by a new Deltona Rock 'n Roll group for young people.

Adults will join the younger set at 9 p.m. to enjoy a floor show featuring the "Glo-Gle Girls." A sketch by the Delbary Players, area little theatre group, also will be presented.

Following the entertainment program, Norm Right's Orchestra will provide music for the adult dancing. Light refreshments will be available for everyone.

Plans for the dance were completed at a recent meeting of the club's executive board at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rose.

Where the Fish Are

Granddad loves to fish. Secretly, I think he likes to talk about it equally as well. He spends hours with his friends arguing the pros and cons of "angling." The other day I overheard a lengthy controversy about the best place to fish. Granddad ended the whole matter with these words of wit and wisdom, "If you ask me, the best spot to fish is out there where the fish are—so let's get going!"

This special brand of humor greatly appealed to all of his friends and it remained in my mind long after they had left. It seemed to answer those nature lovers who claim that they can worship God out of doors as well as in church. For certainly, the best spot to worship God is where God is.

Worship means not only moments of adoration and praise but also thoughts channeled toward God. The Church has the living presence of the Lord and inspires spiritual thoughts through hymn, prayer and litany.

Yes, the best place to lift up the heart is in the house of God.

Ward's Loses $6,479 To Bandit

Gunman Makes Good Escape

By BILL SCOTT

Two separate weekend holdups netted robbers a haul of $6,546.68 in receipts from the Seminole Plaza's Montgomery Ward Store and Johnson's Atlantic Station, at U.S. 17-92 and SR 436 intersection. Both incidents reportedly involved a lone gunman who forced their victims into lockups while making off with cash.

A blond man, approximately 45 years of age, wearing green pants and white shirt, took a total of $6,479.36 in bills and change late Saturday afternoon from the Casselberry outlet of Ward's, after forcing Tom Hoody, a store employe to take the money from a safe.

The bandit deposited the loot in a trash can, then at the point of a .32 caliber pistol, forced Hoody, Betty Morgan and Mary Clark, all store employees, into a closet, which he locked.

He reportedly carried the can through the store to a waiting automobile and escaped.

According to firm's report, the bandit got $6,000 in bills and remainder in change. He was not masked and witnesses reported him to be approximately 6'2" in height and weighing around 220 pounds. Casselberry police and Seminole County authorities are working on leads, it has been reported.

County authorities discount any connection between the first holdup and an early Sunday morning robbery of a Fern Park service station.

In the latter, Michael David Quattry, an 18-year-old attendant, was robbed of $66.72 by a gunman wearing gray sport shirt and black pants and carrying a .22 caliber revolver.

Seminole Deputy Tom Simmons investigated the report from Robert Stephenson, a reserve deputy sheriff, who happened by the station approximately 45 minutes after the robbery. Stephenson said he found Quattry locked in the trunk of a car which was parked at the station.

He reportedly heard the youth's cries for help.

The boy related he was robbed minutes earlier by a bandit approximately 25 years of age and six feet tall. He added the robber walked into the station and asked for a dollar's worth of change. While making change with register open, the bandit produced a gun and said, "Never-mind, I'll take all of it."

Quattry related the robber put the contents into a zipper case and forced him into the car's trunk where he remained until Stephenson heard him.

Cold Front Triggers Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front that arches across the nation's midsection early today triggered thunderstorms and showers over a broad area from Upper Michigan to Texas.

Drenching rains, damaging winds and hail hit many locations from the Great Lakes to the Gulf Coast while much of the rest of the nation enjoyed clear and pleasant weather.

Funnel Clouds were sighted west of Jacksonville, Fla., and near Tunica, in northwest Mississippi, late Sunday.

Wind gusts up to 65 miles an hour, spawned by a thunderstorm, blasted Walnut Ridge Ark., which took an inch of rain in six hours today.

Hail battered Little Rock and surrounding areas during the same series of storms.

Drenching rains, half-inch hailstones and wind blasts up to 50 miles an hour buffeted Hugo, Okla., while heavy rain and smaller hail fell on Bond on, in northern Michigan.

Other thunderstorms, bubbling out of humid tropical air along the Gulf Coast, spread over southern Texas, and into the Atlantic Coast region.

The same weather conditions produced cloudbursts over central and northern Florida Sunday. Tallahassee was swamped with five inches of rain in one hour Sunday afternoon.

The low pressure system from which the Midwest frontal system emanates was over northern Wisconsin today. To the north and west of it cold moist air spread a blanket of fog and drizzle from Iowa to Michigan.

Temperatures in the nation ranged from 42 at several stations in North Dakota to 90 at Blythe and Thermal, Calif.

Sanford Eyes City Planner

Providing for a part-time planner to keep Sanford's workable program certified is expected to come before the regular City Commission meeting at 8 p. m. tonight, when Arthur Harris, chairman of Citizens Advisory Committee, and Lynn Risnor, city building inspector, report on their findings to keep federal funded program certified.

The commission, in an earlier action, chopped off funds for the workable program when the code enforcement program was lopped from fiscal 1968-69 budget.

Later, after an appearance by Harris, the commission appointed Risnor, Harris and Harris to seek ways to keep federal money coming into city by providing for a planner to report to U. S. Office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) on city's program, and continue with necessary planning for additional federal money.

Other subjects scheduled for commission action tonight include:

Continuation of Board of Tax Equalization;

Consideration of Community Antenna Television;

Second reading of stop and risk ordinance;

Consideration of salary reclassification for three city employes;

Consideration of a lease for the Coast Guard Auxiliary for use of city-owned building.

Do Blondes Have Fun?

NEW YORK (AP) — The newly crowned Miss America Judith Anne Ford, arrived Sunday to begin a 10-day visit as part of her year's reign.

The 18-year-old blonde from Belvidere, Ill., will have a busy schedule of wardrobe fittings, interviews and conferences as she gets ready for the 200,000 miles of travel that go with her title.

Miss Ford can expect to earn about $85,000 in personal appearance fees during the year.

She is scheduled to hold a news conference Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman said, she will be in seclusion at Barclay Motel, resting from her four nights of competition in Atlantic City, N. J.

After an acrobatic performance on a trampoline during the talent contest Saturday night the 5-foot-7, 125-pound beauty fielded reporters' questions at a news conference Sunday morning following only two hours' sleep.

"Do blondes really have more fun?" she was asked.

"I've never been a brunette to compare it with," answered Miss America, who is 36-24-36.

Judi was a straight-A student in her freshman year at the University of Southern Louisiana. She was the first coed in the school's 61-year history to win a varsity athletic letter.

As the only woman member of the school's trampoline team, she finished second in the junior national AAU championships this year.

Twister Hits West Of Jax

MIAMI (AP) — A tornado dipped down near Whitehouse, 15 miles west of Jacksonville, Sunday afternoon and heavy thunderstorms deluged portions of north and central Florida.

The twister damaged a house trailer and trees. No injuries were reported.

Subsidy Housing Sought

Applications have been submitted for federal funds to finance construction of low-rent subsidy housing in the area by the newly incorporated Palm Villa Gardens, Amos Jones, a director of the corporation told The Herald today.

Jones said he is "optimistic" about the applications, but has "received nothing of a concrete nature" as yet from the federal government.

The new non-profit corporation has been chartered and officers in addition to Jones are Dr. J. C. Ringling and John Daniels.

'Action' Eyes New Budget

Budget for the new year of $234,000 for continuation of the Head Start program and conduct and administration of the Office of Economic Opportunity in the county will be considered by the executive committee of Seminole Community Action at a meeting called for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the county health department on French Avenue.

Amos Jones, "Action" director, said the budget, when approved, will be sent to the federal government for funding.

Big Tree Park Study Slated

Recommendations on the Big Tree Park will be made to the County Commission by Commissioner Robert Parker at the regular meeting of the Board at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the courthouse.

Parker told The Herald he would personally "like to see the park expanded." Major consideration by the Commission tomorrow is whether to continue permitting the concession at the park to be operated by an individual on a lease basis or to have the county take over the operation completely.

(Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting of invited organization representatives for 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at the House of Steak to consider a program for expanding the Big Tree Park area).

In other business on the short agenda, report will be heard from County Attorney Harold Johnson on the lawsuit requesting court determination as to what method will be used to pay moneys to suspended Constable George Kelsey and Peace Justice Hugh Duncan during the periods of their first suspension by the governor.

Casselberry Mayor Curtis Blow will appear on behalf of the County League of Municipalities to make recommendations on roads to be included in the road program.

New Auto Total Loss

By MARYANN MILES

A late model passenger car driven by B. B. Cavington, of Holly Hill, is a total loss following collision at approximately 9:45 a.m. today with a tractor trailer near the Altamonte intersection of SR 436 and Interstate 4.

According to testimony given by Cavington at the scene, he was traveling east on SR 436 and was "momentarily blinded by the sun," causing him to collide with a Red Wing carrier driven by Ernest Bishop, of Apopka.

GOP Slates Grand Rally

The largest Republican rally ever held in Central Florida is expected to draw some 10,000 people on Sept. 27 at Sanlando Springs.

Ed Guernsey and Bill Herlong will be the featured personalities at the huge rally along with all the Republicans in the Orange - Seminole delegation. All county candidates also will be on hand.

The rally will get underway at 6 p.m. and continue to 9 p.m. with free hot dogs and cold drinks for everyone. All swimming and picnic facilities will be available to the public during the rally, along with musical entertainment.

'Not Enough'

PARIS (AP) — A Hanoi spokesman told the United States today a simple bombing halt will not be enough to insure peace in Vietnam.

9 Counties Plan Vote

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Nine Florida counties will hold special primary elections Sept. 17 to fill incomplete terms of officeholders who died, resigned or were removed after the last voting.

Dorothy Glisson, head of the secretary of state's elections division, said one of the elections will be held in the 5th Judicial Circuit to choose the Democratic nominee for state Senate vacated by resigning Judge Carroll Fussell. Two candidates have qualified for the district which includes Citrus, Hernando, Lake, Marion and Sumter counties.

Elections will be needed to select successor for Brevard County Solicitor Tom Stroud and Citrus County Commissioner Clyde Byrd. Both were removed from office. Two Democrats are seeking Stroud's job. The Byrd vacancy attracted four Democrats and two Republicans.

Two candidates are seeking the Marion County school superintendent's job. Oliver Daugherty resigned to direct the state's $103 million educational Improvement Fund.

Seven candidates are seeking to replace Jackson County Commissioner Coy Dozier and five want the job of Volusia County Tax Collector Cornelia Smith Paul. Both died.

A primary also is scheduled in Clay County for a justice of the peace post. Other vacancies exist in Clay, Nassau, Duval, Broward and St. Lucie counties and the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Duval County. Generally, elections will not be necessary because only one person has qualified to run for each of the offices, Mrs. Glisson said.

Mrs. Glisson said second primaries will be held Oct. 1 if necessary and the jobs will be filled in the November general election at the same time as all other voting.

Claude Kirk

Gov. Kirk Gets Blast

Gov. Claude Kirk was branded the "spendingest governor in the history of the State of Florida" by William Chappell, Democratic nominee for Congress, at the opening of the Democratic headquarters in Fern Park Saturday.

"It's about time the facts about the Republicans were made known to the people," Chappell declared. "It's about time Democrats would say 'I'm rather fit,' than switch!"

Crowd at the opening filled the headquarters office and spilled into the sidewalk outside.

Candidates present in addition to Chappell included Ben Griffin, Henry Land, Margaret Murray, William Pafford, William Carter Jr., Martin Sullivan, Ernest Cowley, all running for the Florida Legislature; John Polk, for sheriff, Edward Yarborough, W. Lawrence Swofford and Dan Pelham for County Commission; Pat Buse, School Board; Arthur A. Beckwith Jr., county clerk; S. O. (Oz) Dorminey, tax assessor; Robert G. Petree, county judge; Camilla Bruce, elections supervisor; Harvey Colbert, peace justice, and Fred Folsom, constable.

Team Is Here

State survey team is in Sanford today to check out and update the county's 18 radiological monitoring units, C. H. Westbrook, county civil defense director, reports.

Westbrook said all of the units, which record radio activity, will be in A-1 condition when the team leaves.

Oviedo Meets

Preliminary work on the budget for fiscal 1968-69 which begins Oct. 1 is the main item of business on the agenda for the meeting of the Oviedo City Council scheduled for 8 p.m. today in City Hall.
