WORLD IN BRIEF

U.S. Considers Prisoner 'Exchange' With Cuba

By United Press International

The Justice Department has confirmed it is considering freeing four Puerto Rican nationalists, including one who tried to kill President Truman, apparently in the hope Havana will free four Americans jailed in Cuba.

Although most parties involved have been carefully staying away from applying the word "swap" to the situation, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro has said he may release the Americans if the Puerto Ricans go free.

The jailed nationalists, regarded as heroes by leftists in Latin America, are Lolita Lebron, Irving Flores Rodriguez and Rafael Cancel Miranda, who served up the House of Representatives in 1954, and Oscar Collazo, who tried to kill Truman on Nov. 1, 1950.

The Americans jailed in Cuba — all but one on espionage-related charges — are Lawrence Lunt, a former U.S. Air Force man, Juan Tor, Claudio Rodriguez Morales and Everett Jackson, a former U.S. paratrooper.

Bomb Blasts Rock Paris

PARIS (UPI) — A bomb blitz swept across Paris today, damaging government buildings, businesses and a bank in one of the worst nights of sabotage in the capital since the final days of the Algerian war in 1962.

No one was injured in the seven bomb blasts, which all occurred within an hour on the right bank of the Seine and in the western suburb of Boulogne-Billancourt.

Police said damage was extensive, although no immediate estimate of financial loss could be made. A previously unknown group called the "Coordination of Revolutionary Action" claimed responsibility for the explosions.

Saudis: Sadat Sold Out

By United Press International

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin today suggested the PLO should be granted the PMO — "Palestine Movement Organization" — and said if Washington ever negotiates with the group it will be "a black day for all free humanity."

The Saudi Arabian newspaper Al Bilad charged Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's scuttling attack on the Saudis Tuesday for turning their back on Cairo was proof that Sadat had sold out the Arab cause by signing a separate peace with Israel.

In an Independence Day interview broadcast on Israel radio, Begin said starting later this month he will go to Egypt over the future of the West Bank and Gaza Strip may present a "serious and even difficult problem."

FBI Investigates Billy

ATLANTA (UPI) — The FBI is investigating Billy Carter's financial activities with Libyan businessmen to see if they represent a transfer of money to Libya without requiring registration of foreign business agents, it was reported today.

The Atlanta Constitution said Tom L. Jordan, a College Park, Ga., real estate developer who went to Libya with Carter last September, was questioned by FBI agents about Carter's involvement in arranging business contracts for the Libyans.

Jordan said federal agents were interested in how the trip was arranged, who paid for it, and whether the Libyans asked for Carter's help with American investments.

Troops Launch Raid

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — A huge military convoy carrying 500 crack troops headed toward the Costa Rican border today to launch a sweeping raid on Sandinista guerrilla positions in the region, military sources reported.

National guardsmen fired on an anti-government May Day demonstration in Managua and killed at least three people, witnesses reported.

Speaking at an official May Day celebration, President Anastasio Somoza, told some 50,000 supporters, "We want peace because otherwise the national guard will impose it."

Carter in Trade Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter and Japanese Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira want to forge an economic and political partnership for the 1980s, but today's talks inevitably were overshadowed by Japan's top-heavy trade imbalance.

Carter planned an elaborate White House welcome for Ohira, complete with full military honors on the South Lawn. Their first talks were scheduled immediately afterwards in Carter's Oval Office.

U.S. Ambassador Mike Mansfield said he expected the talks "will be productive, worthwhile, and will better our understanding and teach the virtues of patience. I think the president has enough good judgment to understand the situation."

Assassination in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The government today declared a national day of mourning for a top religious aide to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini who was shot and killed in the second major political assassination since the revolution.

All government departments and most shops will close Thursday in tribute to Matabari, who was shot once in the head by two men as he left the house of Dr. Yadollah Sabahi, an eminent revolutionary. He died in the hospital an hour later.

The funeral for Matabari, a leading Shiite figure in Tehran, was set for Thursday.

Awards Highlight Loyalty-Law Event

By NANCY BOOTH
Herald Correspondent

Loyalty-Law day ceremonies were held at the Winter Springs City Hall Monday in a program sponsored by the Winter Springs VFW Post and Auxiliary #466, and conducted by Post Chaplain Robert Dyer and his co-chairman Jerry Ann Hoffman, Auxiliary Americanism chairman.

May 1, came into being through an Act of Congress in 1958, due in large part to the efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization, according to Dyer. It is a day when all Americans reaffirm their loyalty to their country. As America's answer to the Communist May Day, he said. Appropriate ceremonies are held throughout the land by various civic, veterans and other organizations.

After the opening remarks by Dyer and Mrs. Hoffman there was awards ceremony. The Post awarded a Fireman of the Year plaque to Winter Springs firefighter Roger Roy. Presentation of the plaque was made by Winter Springs Fire Chief Charles Holzman and Miss Winter Springs, Sandy Smith.

Winter Springs Police Chief John Govorukh was on hand to assist in the presentation of the Policeman of the Year plaque to Winter Springs Police Officer Edmund Taylor.

Mayor Troy Piland accepted a plaque as representative of the citizens of Winter Springs. The plaque was awarded to the city government and citizenry of Winter Springs for their assistance and support of the organization since its inception some five years ago.

Attorney William Carpenter most awarded a plaque and praised for his efforts in behalf of the post in purchasing a parcel of land within the city limits to build a new Post Home. The Winter Springs Post Home is presently located in Longwood.

Officer George Burfield of the Longwood Police Department was awarded a plaque for his outstanding bravery during a recent fire.

Auxiliary President Esther Jacobs awarded citations to three Winter Springs police officers: Wesley Dowell, John Keith and George Ellis, for "the outstanding job they are doing in assisting at the Winter Springs Elementary school crossing." Keith was also cited for his assistance with the annual VFW Lite-a-Bike program.

Other dignitaries present during the brief ceremony included Winter Springs councilman Wilfred ("Hap") Arnold and John Torcaso, and their wives.

Representing District 18 VFW was Commander Halsey Hart, and District 18 Auxiliary Chaplain Nancy Booth.

The program was concluded by soloist department for the state Auxiliary, Kay Bessen.

Explosion Rocks Office

BESSEMER, Ala. (UPI) — An explosion, possibly from a bomb, rocked the public safety commissioner's office at the Bessemer City Hall today, killing a police officer and injuring three other people, police said.

Police Sgt. E.L. Robinson said the explosion was in the office of Police Commissioner Max Williams, one of three city commissioners.

Police Lt. Clifford Hill, who was in the office with Williams, was killed by the blast, Robinson said.

Williams and Eugene Lint, the executive secretary to the mayor, were injured. A custodian working outside the office in a hallway was treated for minor injuries. His name was not immediately known.

The explosion occurred about 7:30 a.m., before most city employees had arrived for work.

Robinson said the cause of the explosion was not immediately known, but said the FBI and agents of the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were called to investigate.

"Apparently it was a bomb," Robinson said. "It did extensive damage."

It's identical to the original model, except it glows in the dark.

Manfre's latest accomplishment was being named the principal of the new Rock Lake Middle School.

Howard Johnson's motel in suburban North Randall, Gardner said.

During the time at Kravitz's apartment and at the motel, the kidnapers allowed the businessman to make several telephone calls in an unsuccessful attempt to arrange for payment of the ransom, police said.

Later, they left the motel and while again driving around, "for no apparent reason, one of them turned and shot Mr. Kravitz," Gardner said. Mrs. Kravitz also was shot.

"At that time, she jumped out of the car and they (the kidnapers) kept on going," Gardner said.

Kravitz was found along a road in suburban Gates Mills. She made the first report to police of the kidnaping.

Kravitz was found in the parking lot of an appliance store across from the sprawling Randall Park Mall in North Randall. His car was found in a field near the appliance store's parking lot.

Nuclear Plant Workers Get Highest Radiation Doses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Naturally caused radiation accounts for most of the exposure Americans receive, but a National Academy of Sciences committee said today 30,000 nuclear power plant workers receive six to eight times the natural dose annually.

Cancer and birth defects are the main adverse effects from radiation exposure. But the panel's long-awaited report on the effects of low-level radiation said not enough is known to determine whether low doses are detrimental. The average annual natural radiation dose is about 100 millirems per year, or about the equivalent of three chest X-rays. Nuclear power industry workers receive the highest doses of any Americans on a regular basis, ranging from 600 to 800 millirems per year.

Bogus Expenses Deposited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Over the years Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., received nearly $37,000 from the Senate for official expenses he did not incur. Those bogus expense checks, along with legitimate income, were routinely deposited by his staff in a Georgia bank account.

After two days of testimony in the Senate Ethics Committee's disciplinary hearings on live charges of financial misconduct by the millionaire Senate veteran, the question that still remains is what happened to that excess expense money.

Ally Tisdale, the senator's longtime financial manager, was scheduled to testify today and may provide some of the answers. On Tuesday Talmadge's personal secretary, Rita Huber, told the committee it was standard procedure to draw down the maximum allowable reimbursement from the Senate each year, regardless of whether expenses actually were incurred.

Garwood: I'll Tell Story

ADAMS, Ind. (UPI) — Marine Pfc. Robert Garwood, who maintains he is innocent of allegations he collaborated with the North Vietnamese, says he would "never disgrace" himself or the Marines by accepting a presidential pardon. "To accept a pardon would be like an admission of guilt," Garwood said Tuesday in an interview with the Freeman, Ind. Daily News.

Garwood, 33, spent more than 13 years in Vietnam, most of that time listed as missing in action. The Marine Corps is investigating allegations by several Vietnam veterans' acquaintances that he collaborated with the North Vietnamese. He also faces possible charges of desertion.

"I do want the American people to know the truth when this is over. Whether I am found guilty or not guilty, I must do that to clear my hometown and my family."

Wife Pays Husband Alimony

NEW YORK (UPI) — The granddaughter of Frank Phillips, founder of Phillips Petroleum Co., has agreed to pay her ex-husband $1,800 a month in the first alimony award to a man in New York state.

The settlement between Henry Durand Irwin, 62, and Elizabeth Phillips, 27, was reached Tuesday with the aid of Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Felice Shea.

In return, Irwin, a West Point graduate who had no significant employment during the 34-year marriage, agreed to the divorce. She sued for divorce in 1977, citing cruelty and abandonment, but he resisted.

Sniper Victim Gives Birth

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (UPI) — Less than five days ago, Irene Hernandez was shot in the leg by a sniper who opened fire on a fiesta crowd. Tuesday she gave birth to a healthy baby girl.

Mrs. Hernandez, 29, and her daughter, Isabel, were reported in good condition late Tuesday night at Robert B. Green Hospital. The baby was born at 5:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Hernandez was one of several hundred people waiting at the starting point, for the Battle of Flowers Parade to begin last Friday when Ira Attebery, 64, threw open the door of his camper and began firing with an automatic rifle.

Launch Pad Gets Check

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Space Shuttle launch pad checks will begin soon at the Kennedy Space Center with the test ship Enterprise, which was positioned late Tuesday.

The pad had been used for the Saturn 5 launches and has been equipped with space agency officials want to make sure the equipment will mesh properly with the Enterprise — a look-alike to the Columbia, which is to be the first Space Shuttle shot into orbit.

Was Swap Effort To Deceive?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alexander Ginsburg, one of five imprisoned Russian dissidents freed in a swap with the United States for two Soviet spies, says his release had "nothing to do with human rights."

Ginsburg Tuesday told ABC-TV's Barbara Walters the trade was a deception and that he would be willing to return to prison at any time.

"I believe in a way the swapping was an effort to deceive the U.S.," he said through an interpreter. "This exchange has nothing to do with human rights or the Soviets' respect for human rights."

Fiedler Back At Pops

BOSTON (UPI) — The applause stopped the show even before it began.

Arthur Fiedler, who late last year underwent delicate brain surgery, Tuesday night celebrated his golden anniversary as Boston Pops conductor performed before a standing Hall audience that gave him one rousing rendition after another.

"I'm back, and I'm always coming back," Fiedler told reporters prior to the nationally televised concert, which included everything from a hip swiveling disco arrangement to a foot-stomping, headclapping John Philip Sousa march.

"I'm on a real high from this. I love to sell county surplus equipment," says JoAnn Blackman, county purchasing agent, displaying a bigger than life size check for $149,417.50, the proceeds from an auction of the surplus equipment last weekend.

Praised by the county commissioners for her efforts in arranging the sale, county Administrator Roger Neiswander said surplus property equipment sales in the past have realized $35,000 in revenues for the county. Drink Issue Alive Again

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Lawmakers trying to raise Florida's drinking age want House Speaker Hyatt Brown to overrule a committee which killed a bill changing it from 18 to 21.

Brown rules today on arguments by Rep. Tom McPherson, D-Port, Lauderdale, that the regulated industries committee illegally killed an age 20 drinking proposal (CSH502) last Thursday, taking it up even though it wasn't listed on the House bill coming down here (and send the amended proposal back). That will give the House the opportunity to vote on it, and once this happens, it'll pass, he said.

Senators deadlocked on whether a proposed court jury pipeline should be regulated by the Public Service Commission, holding up a bill considered crucial to the $3 billion project.

The dispute surfaced during debate on a measure (SSB4) giving Florida Gas Co. of Winter Park the power of public condemnation to secure land for the pipeline. Final action on the measure was put off until Thursday.

A bill exempting manufacturing plants from the 4 percent sales tax on electrical energy was bottled up in the House Tourism and Economic Development Committee.

The Peace Treaty: A Testing Period

Although the fragile peace treaty between Egypt and Israel that entered the harsh international scene in March was known to face a troubled future, the testing has already been rougher than was generally anticipated.

It is mostly in recognition of this bleak reality that President Carter has appointed his versatile troubleshooter, Robert S. Strauss, as chief U.S. mediator in maintaining the peace momentum.

This, we think, an excellent move. The Arab world, fevered by an aggressive Islamic jihad, has made good on its promised threat to punish Egypt for disengaging from the 30-year-old Arab war against Israel.

For the moment, the Palestinian Liberation Organization is carrying out a limited war against Israel, thanks to Soviet arms and funding by the Arab oil states. The PLO has been responsible for a terrorist outrage in Israel almost every day since the treaty was signed.

Moreover, Arab terrorists have set off bombs in Egypt, and Yasir Arafat, the PLO leader, has promised "the most violent means against the United States."

The vigorous Israeli retaliation against PLO bases in Lebanon has produced a moderate, and perhaps pro forma, protest from Egypt. But, while this expected Israeli response can be understood and rationalized, the decision by the Israeli cabinet recently to approve two new Jewish settlements in the occupied West Bank cannot but strain Jerusalem's cords with Cairo and Washington.

Israeli justification aside, the timing of so provocative a decision can only raise doubts about Israeli sincerity in resolving the West Bank issues. It must magnify the Arab furor, and perhaps most seriously of all, undercut Anwar Sadat, who has transcended hatreds, fears and the gravest risks to prove that there can be peace between Jew and Arab — that the Israelis are not perfidious and can be trusted.

The Israelis, it seems to us, have a surprising interest, therefore, in the survival of President Sadat and his government in Egypt, now isolated except for American support, and under growing internal as well as external pressures. If the Israelis are seen to sabotage their peace with Egypt, thereby confirming the worst Arab suspicions, they could, conceivably unleash an Islamic revolution next door to them that would render meaningless the question of West Bank settlements.

The harsh reality of the Arab world's rejection of the Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty now confronts Israel, Egypt and the United States with a new challenge to collaborate as earnestly to make the treaty operative as they did to bring it about. This means forbearance and understanding in Jerusalem and Cairo, and it means courageous U.S. commitment so that this peace can be sheltered.

The coupling of Israeli technology and genius with Egyptian manpower, which peace and open borders could bring, promises to make the desert bloom and buy time for an overall settlement in the Middle East. But there is not a day to be lost. We guess things will begin to fall apart in Egypt within two years if some of the benefits of the treaty with Israel, which were promised by President Sadat to his people, are not realized. That stark possibility is what should be preoccupying Washington, Cairo, and, especially, Jerusalem just now.

JACK ANDERSON CIA Reacts To Mafia-Castro Reports

WASHINGTON — It has taken 12 years to get the reaction of the Central Intelligence Agency to our stories on its recruitment of Mafia mobsters to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Working under the late Drew Pearson, I published two columns, dated March 3 and March 7, 1967, on the plot to kill Castro. CIA officials grimly refused to comment.

But President Lyndon Johnson demanded a full report from the CIA after he read our stories. We have obtained a still-secret report that the CIA's inspector general confirmed the essentials of the columns, conceded that the disclosures had caused "much distress" at the spy agency and discussed the ways in which the government could minimize the embarrassment.

"Drew Pearson's column of March 7, 1967 refers to a reported CIA plot in 1963 to assassinate Cuba's Fidel Castro," the inspector general wrote. "Pearson also has information, as yet unpublished, to the effect that there was a meeting of the State Department at which assassination of Castro was discussed, and that a team (of three men) actually landed in Cuba with (poison) pills to be used in an assassination attempt."

The report then says, "There is a lead in fact for each of these three reports." In light of this incontestable accuracy, the inspector general asks: "Can we plausibly deny that we plotted with gangster elements to assassinate Castro?"

And the answer: "No. We cannot. We are reasonably confident that there is nothing in writing outside the government that would confirm Pearson's story of the operation, but there are plenty of non-gangster witnesses who could lend confirmation."

Well then, the inspector general asks, "Can CIA state or imply that it was merely an instrument of policy?" In other words, could the spooks pass the buck to the martyred President Kennedy?

"In this case," the report decides, "While it is true that (the later phase of) the plot was carried out in an atmosphere of intense Kennedy administration pressure to do something about Castro, such is not true of the earlier phase. (1) The plot was initiated in August, 1960 under the Eisenhower administration. (2) The inspector general also concluded that the Castro assassination project could not be fobbed off as just a gaudy maneuver — part of the 'Executive Action Capability' being developed by the CIA's clandestine operations arm. It is still not known whether this 'capability' program, code-named with ominous precision 'E-RIFLE,' was requested by the Kennedy administration or developed by the CIA on its own."

Our stories raised the question whether then-Senator General Robert Kennedy had approved the assassination plot. The secret report concedes only that Kennedy "was fully briefed" on May 7, 1962. "A memorandum confirmed the oral briefing was forwarded to Kennedy on 14 May 1962. The memorandum does not use the word 'assassinate,' but there is little room for

Around

The Clock

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

A painting contest for elementary school children, which was to have been held in downtown Sanford Saturday as part of the many Youth Day activities, has been cancelled. Several merchants had agreed to allow the children to paint on their store windows with the school system providing brushes and Sanford Kiwanis agreeing to purchase the tempera paint.

It was felt that for the safety of the children the street should be closed off from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. but the downtown merchants did not want it closed at that time. They recommended instead that the contest be held in conjunction with the annual Fall for Art show at which time the downtown streets are closed to automobile traffic.

Another factor in the decision to postpone the contest was the fact that McDonald's Big Mac bus was not available at this time to take the 18 winners to Disney World, a prize planned by Fran Kemp, County Schools Art Education Coordinator. There will be art competition for children from PACE School, Head Start and the Nativity Sunday School Saturday at Altamonte Mall, however, with first prize $25 donated by the Sorotona Club and other winners receiving merchants' certificates and T-shirts.

There will be plenty of other activities going on for Youth Day in Sanford Saturday including the Festival in the Park from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Centennial Park with fun for all ages, the Children's Story Hour at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Civic Center Annex and the Community Leaders vs. Youth Softball Games at Chase Memorial Park, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. We hope those youthful ballplayers will go easy on the more sedentary adults, some of whom were just about wiped out by practice.

The youth teams will receive attractive Youth Day T-shirts designed by Chris Holden of Seminole Youth Service Systems. Maybe some liniment would be an appropriate gift to the adults.

Telephone calls for various departments, except for emergency police and fire department numbers, now go through a single switchboard in city hall. Numbers in the telephone directory for the utility, department, public works, animal control, fire and police business calls and sewage treatment plant are no longer valid and they can be reached by calling 321-5551.

Sanford Kiwanis President Jack Wetble has called our attention to the fact that a total of 94 members of the 9th United States Congress are active or honorary members of Kiwanis. Legislators from Florida included in this number are Senator Lawton Chiles of Lakeland and Representatives Daniel Amico, Riviera Beach; Bill Nelson, Melbourne; Claude Popper, Miami Springs and Edward Stack, Pompano Beach.

A Pay Phone In Every Home

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Once upon a time, as seasoned consumers will surely recall, "more for less" was a proud marketing slogan. And nobody had any doubts what it meant, either.

Whatever the service or commodity advertised, the purveyors were promising to deliver more bang for the buyer's buck. A better calculator at a lower price. A longer plane ride at a lower fare. Faster service for less money.

Those were the good old days, all right, but they are apparently gone forever. "More for less" is still a dominant theme of the marketplace, but the concept has taken on a nasty reverse twist.

As anyone who has bought a candy bar — or a house — in the past few years can readily testify, the new rule is "pay more and get less." If you don't believe it, just contemplate for a moment the prospect of dollar-a-gallon gasoline and rationing at the same time. Or if that lacks appeal, as well it might, take a look at the latest "bargain" dear old Ma Bell, everyone's favorite utility, is seeking to foist off upon telephone subscribers in a growing number of states.

After years of not only providing but vigorously promoting the flat-rate local service now used by almost 90 percent of all residential customers, telephone operating companies have started switching signals.

In state after state, the companies are seeking to introduce a more expensive pricing system. Local calls similar to that already in effect for long-distance service.

Called "local measured service," or LMS, the new billing system imposes charges based on the number of local telephone calls made each month, the duration of each call, and the distance covered.

While the companies hold out the lure of lower monthly bills for customers who restrict their phone usage, heavy users such as families with teen-aged children would end up paying considerably more than they now do under the prevailing flat-rate system.

Consumer advocates, including the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs, are justifiably wary of the slowly developing trend to LMS, charging it amounts to the introduction of a "pay phone in every home."

In areas where LMS has been initiated — the Miami metropolitan region is the latest — the list — the telephone industry offers customers a choice of retaining flat-rate service or switching to LMS.

But, as Lee Richardson, of the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs, points out, the choice may not last too long. As consumers with low phone usage shift to LMS, the flat-rate group will consist increasingly of heavy users — whose rates will start to climb.

The Army: Vacations Or A Job?

What kind of an army do we have? That question is being heard more and more these days. Usually it concerns the city hall preparedness of the all-volunteer army. But there are other questions about the army which go to the very heart of military service.

Recently, an article in the Sunday New York Times raised questions having to do not just with the technical skills of our soldiers but the very definition of what it is to be a soldier.

The article was written by Richard A. Gabriel, described as an associate professor at St. Anselm's College in Manchester, N.H., and co-author of a book titled "Crises in Command." I have not read the book but its title gives some idea of Prof. Gabriel's major point.

He claims — and I am simplifying his long and detailed article — that when the army started to incorporate business management practices into its officer training and advancement programs, what it gained in efficiency it lost in spirit.

He also says she has heard that the Fairy Auditor dwells somewhere in the far reaches of the South. He says she has seen the Fairy Auditor right up there with St. Nick, the Easter Bunny and the Tooth Fairy in philanthropic symbolism.

Clearly, Texas lacks something — something that keeps it from generating the good cheer and fellowship manifested on such occasions as Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving and Valentine's Day.

The missing ingredient, I believe, is symbolism. Christmas, Easter, et al, are symbolized by jolly little babies and figures that add to the gaiety. Who can resist Santa Claus, the Easter Bunny, Cupid, the Great Pumpkin and so on?

Before Texas can similarly fill its adherents with spirit and warm glow, it must acquire some customary, adorable folkloric icons. Here's one way to get a legend started:

A young girl writes a letter to a newspaper asking whether there really is a Fairy Auditor. The girl, whose name can be Virginia, or maybe North Dakota, says she has heard that the Fairy Auditor dwells somewhere in the far reaches of the South. He says she has seen the Fairy Auditor right up there with St. Nick, the Easter Bunny and the Tooth Fairy in philanthropic symbolism.

A REAL 'FIND'

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benham of 605 W. 20 Street in Sanford have enjoyed beach combing together for 40 years. They have collected many types of shells and Benham said he has even found a $5 bill in some seaweed. Gerard Madzerni lives in Dourdan, France and is a dealer for the Phillips Co. He recently won a cruise to the Caribbean with other Phillips dealers in a company sponsored trip. On the seventh of April he sealed a note to this effect written in French, Spanish and English inside a bottle and tossed it into the sea while aboard the cruise ship Mermoz. He wondered if anyone would ever find it. Twenty days later walking along Playa Linda Beach in Brevard county, Mr. and Mrs. Benham did (at left).

The power to save electricity is in your hands.

Regular and low sulfur oil are in short supply. And expensive. So right now it's more important than ever to practice conserving electricity. Governor Graham is encouraging a voluntary conservation program, because it's in everybody's best interest to preserve our energy resources. We agree. And here are some of FPL's suggestions on how you can lend a hand.

down to 120° (or 140° if you have a dishwasher). And if you're going to be away for three or more days, turn your water heater off.

Don't do a handful of laundry or dishes. Wait until you have a full load. And use cold water whenever possible.

If you have a pool, lend a hand by reducing the hours of the pump's operation to the minimum required by the manufacturer. That will make your bill take a dip, too.

Use a twist of the wrist to replace high-watt bulbs with lower-wattage bulbs. Every little bit helps.

A flick of the finger will turn off any light or appliance you're not using. It's a small economy, but not when you multiply it by thousands of hours and millions of homes.

And, if you're planning to buy a new home, there's more than a handful of reasons to ask your builder about FPL's Watt-Wise Living Program; and the built-in energy-saving features that will help reduce your electricity costs.

We can save a lot of electricity. If everyone lends a hand.

A finger and thumb is all it takes to turn your air-conditioner thermostat up to 78°. A comfortable setting, that will result in significant savings.

Any handyman or plumber can turn your hot water thermostat

We want to help you save.

Only Question In Derby Concerns Franklin

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Bid, Bud and The Kid. They couldn't pass for the Three Musketeers, but they may have a shot at the Three Stoges.

The unruly trio of Kentucky Derby favorite Spectacular Bid, trainer Bud Delp and 19-year-old jockey Ronnie Franklin ranks among the most extraordinary thing to hit this town since the discovery of bourbon and blue grass.

In all the 105 years of the Derby, few horses, trainers and jockeys have been able to cause as much controversy as the gray colt, Delp and Franklin.

"I would think I was some kind of a nut if I read what I've been saying in the newspapers," says Delp, who is walloping in the publicity surrounding his colt. "I just love it here. I'm not an actor — but before Bid I never had any horse worth writing about."

Bid, a steel-gray son of Bold Bidler, is the early 1-2 favorite over eight others to take the $200,000-added Derby. So far, Delp has caused the local hardboots to turn ashen with shock with such sacrilegious statements as comparing Bid to the only major question about Spectacular Bid lies not with the colt, but his young jockey, who has been riding only 18 months and who is regarded by some as a downright bad rider.

Even Delp admits the kid is not the best there is. "I'm training him just like I'm training Bid," says Delp. "I've got two horses running Saturday before the Derby so Ronnie can get used to the noise and the track. They're both easy to train."

"Ronnie is not the brightest kid in the world, and his ride in the Florida Derby was downright horrible," adds Delp. "But Bid runs some kind of good for him. He runs fast and far for Ronnie."

"He's fit and ready to do 1 1/4 miles in a plowed field," adds Delp after the colt worked five furlongs in 1:00 2/5 Tuesday morning. "I'm going into the race with more confidence than I've ever had."

right horrible," adds Delp. "But Bid runs some kind of good for him. He runs fast and far for Ronnie."

LaSorda Returns To Brooklyn

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Lasorda was getting the chance of a lifetime. All he had to do was say one word — yes.

If he did, he'd be coming back as a conquering hero, coming back to where it had all begun for him, Brooklyn, U.S.A., only instead of showing up as the 10th pitcher on the staff, which was what he was 25 years ago behind fellows like Carl Erskine, Johnny Podres, Don Newcombe, Billy Lee and Russ Meyer, this time he'd be returning as manager of the National League champion.

Lasorda wanted to hear some more about the proposition. "Gimme that again," he said to the caller, holding the phone receiver to his ear.

The voice at the other end started all over. Explaining, the caller said he was part of a Brooklyn group that was going to dedicate a Little League stadium in the Marine Park section of the borough. The structure would be known as Joe Torre Stadium in honor of the Mets' manager, who is a Brooklyn native, and the dedication was to be held on a Sunday when Lasorda and the Dodgers would be here for a ballgame with the Mets.

"It'll be nine o'clock, pretty early in the morning," the caller said. "Do you think you could attend?"

"For Joe Torre," Lasorda said, "I'll do it."

"It was nice of Tommy to show up the way he did," said a genuinely appreciative Torre. "He was there right on the dot despite daylight saving. Of course, when he addressed the kids who were present he called them 'future Dodgers.' You know him. He never misses a bet. But I wanted him to know I was grateful for what he did. It meant so much to me, I bought the bagels for all of us."

Tommy Lasorda tells dozens of stories and draws a lot of laughs sometimes because of the way he's always pumping up his ballplayers and bleeding Dodger blue. Still, in the more than 25 years I've known him, I've seen him do some extraordinarily generous things.

One of the ways he does it is with his sense of humor, which he often uses to make himself the butt of a joke. He tells about this particular doctor he met, for example, who wanted a Dodger cap. When Lasorda saw how much in earnest the doctor was about getting it, he asked for his name and address so he could send it to him. The doctor was so overjoyed at the prospect of receiving the cap, that he wanted to do something in return for Lasorda.

"If you ever need a gall bladder operation, I'll see that you get one free," the doctor promised.

Lasorda's eyes widened. Tugging at his Dodger blouse, he said to the medical man, "If I could get a gall bladder operation for a cap, what would you give me for this — a triple bypass open heart operation?"

"That's one side of Tom Lasorda. There's another side, too, the side you see when he talks of his childhood, of his mother, Carmella, who had a stroke six months ago, and of Frank Sinatra, who paid her a surprise visit only a few weeks ago at her Norristown, Pa. home.

"Frank was appearing at Valley Forge Music Theater in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, about five miles from Norristown, and one day he just went over and had lunch with my mother," Lasorda said. "She couldn't believe it. The following Saturday, he sent a limousine to my mother's house with a doctor and a nurse. She hadn't been out of the house in six months, since she had the stroke, but they took her to the theater where Frank presented her with a bouquet of roses, kissed her, introduced her behind the stage and dedicated the show to her. She told me it was the happiest night of her life."

Crooms Players Join Junior League Teams

For several teams in the Sanford Junior League, this week marked the start of a new season. Several players from the Crooms baseball team that concluded its season last week joined their Junior League teams this week and are now eligible for competition in the local league.

V.F.W. has managed to jump out to a 6-0 start without its two Crooms players, Alton Davis and Don Debesse, and will face Moose at 5 p.m. today at Chase Park.

Moose, managing just one win in six outings, also had two players on the Crooms team, Tracy Walker and Mike Rotundo. Walker, a standout on last year's Junior League all-star team, is expected to get the pitching assignment today against V.F.W.'s Stanley Hogan, who has two no-hitters to his credit this season.

Tonight's 7 p.m. game pits second place Kiwanis against Rotary. Kiwanis was upset 12-1 Monday by Knights of Columbus, another team that picked up a pair of Crooms players, Brett Von Herbitus and Nasar Baker.

Hot SuperSonic's Go 1-Up Against Phoenix, 108-93

SEATTLE (UPI) — After three overtime games in their best-of-five playoff series, you might have expected the Seattle SuperSonics to be a little cooler about a runaway win over the Phoenix Suns.

Williams led three other Sonic starters in double figures with 27 points. Shelton added 19 points, Dennis Johnson 17 and Jack Sikma 16.

"Don't let the stats fool you," said Seattle Coach Lenny Wilkens after Tuesday's series opener. "You can read anything you want in stats."

But even Williams would have trouble reading anything but victory in Seattle's 108-93 rout of the Suns. After going ahead for good midway in the first quarter, the Sonics methodically built the lead to as many as 22 points in the fourth quarter.

"This game didn't come as easy as it seemed," Sonic forward Lonnie Shelton insisted. "We were out there playing hard — everybody gave 100 percent."

Sikma tallied 11 of Seattle's first 15 points. But it took a pair of jumpers by Gus Williams, his first points of the game, to give the Sonics a 19-16 lead with 4:35 left in the first quarter. Seattle never trailed thereafter.

Seattle put the game away with an 8-0 spurt early in the fourth quarter. Johnson started it off with a pair of foul shots and added a basket after a Sun turnover. Then Williams followed.

"It's nice to be the bigger guy in this series," said Sikma, who had trouble shooting over 7-3 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in the Laker series.

There's a package that's probably on your kitchen shelf right now that can help with this dilemma... and it contains rice. Sareys have shown that rice is already in the kitchens of over 80 percent of the households. Don't just look at it every time you open the cabinet door... USE IT!

Rice only costs about three cents per half cup serving. Add it to dishes containing your family's favorite cut of beef and you'll find that the meat will easily serve another person or two. That's one of the very special attributes of rice... stretching your budget.

Fresh Florida Valencia oranges are in season now and here's one way you can enjoy them — in Orange Savarin. It's a rich yeast cake, flavored with an orange juice syrup and sections.

Orange Treat Perfect Any Time

The Valencia is a brilliantly colored late-season Florida orange that's available now through July. Take advantage of the succulence of Valencias in citrus desserts that demand lots of sweet juice.

Choose Orange Savarin for your fanciest dinner party or as a special touch to a family dinner. The refreshing orange flavor is perfect any time.

 1 tsp. cinnamon
 1 lb. Worcestershire sauce
 Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. In an ungreased 12x12-inch baking dish place chicken pieces, skin side up. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake for 45 to 60 minutes until golden brown.

GLAZE
 Prepare glaze by combining all of the ingredients. Drain off excess fat from baking dish. Move partially baked chicken to one end of baking dish. Pour glaze through into middle. Arrange biscuits in opposite end of baking dish. Bake 10-15 minutes until chicken is glazed and biscuits are golden brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Let The Kids Take Over On Mother's Day

Mom, psyche yourself for this. Resolve that on Mother's Day you'll get out of the kitchen and turn it over to the children or grandchildren. Perhaps, on this Mother's Day accomplish the most challenging thing you've ever done. Resist going into the kitchen when something is dropped and even when you hear the question "Where is this or that pan?" Enjoy your flowers and gifts and have the most consistent child-chat with the grown-up kids you've ever had.

Let the children and grandchildren decide who is going to fix what on the basis of knowledge and experience in the scouts or home economics classes.

To be certain, Mother's Day will be unique when the children and grandchildren take over the kitchen. What with all the new gadgets available to the cook, the menu can be varied as imagination and creation will make them.

Suggestions for this Mother's Day kitchen adventure to give Mom or Grandma a day off from the kitchen call for a breakfast try. A French Toast for breakfast. Easy to fix, here's how it goes:

FRENCH TOAST
 4 eggs
 1 cup milk
 2 tps. sugar
 1 tsp. salt
 8 slices white bread
 In bowl, beat together eggs, milk, sugar and salt. Dip bread slices into egg mixture. Brown on both sides in small amount of hot fat until golden brown. Serve hot with melted butter and honey or syrup. Makes 4 servings.

Or, fix a breakfast like you know best to do with eggs. They are versatile and can be made into many different dishes.

Mom and the rest of the family can be treated to a Continental breakfast just like at a hotel restaurant. Get every body to have at least one or two halves or more for the big eaters. Then poach eggs in Mom's poacher. In the poacher, put a little butter in each individual cup. Add water in the pan and place egg-filled cups in position on the pan. Cook on medium heat until eggs harden to the desired doneness. Serve the eggs on top of English muffin halves.

For lunch a salad will highlight a menu of Cheeseburger Pie or Sloppy Joes. Two salad suggestions are a Peanut Waldorf Salad or a traditional Florida Waldorf Salad.

Peanut Waldorf Salad
 8 cups shredded cabbage
 2 cups chopped apples
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 cup roasted peanuts
 Salad Dressing or Mayonnaise
 Juice of 1/2 lime
 1/4 tsp. Worcestershire Sauce
 1/4 tsp. hot sauce
 1/4 tsp. celery seed
 Mix all ingredients together and refrigerate 3-4 hours before serving. May be garnished with fresh lime slices. Yield: 8-9 cup servings.

TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL
 4 cups tomato juice
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/2 cup vinegar
 Juice of 1/2 lime
 1/4 tsp. Worcestershire Sauce
 1/4 tsp. hot sauce
 1/4 tsp. celery seed
 Mix all ingredients together and refrigerate 3-4 hours before serving. May be garnished with fresh lime slices. Yield: 8-9 cup servings.

YOUR BIRTHDAY May 3, 1979

Several nice things that you would love to have, but really don't need, are likely to come your way this coming year. They'll just be the frosting on the cake.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you feel backed into a corner today, you have only yourself to blame. Look beneath the surface of things and you'll find your opportunities. Find out more about yourself by sending for your new Astro-Graph Letter that begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 488, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) People are trying to be friendly because they really like you, but unless you get out of your doldrums you won't even recognize it.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Being just your natural, charming self is what impresses those you're trying to influence today. Don't think you have to spend lavishly.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) Make an effort to treat all you meet equally today, or you'll make the wrong impression and could be labeled a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It won't be enough to feel kindly toward another if you are to be of some help. Show your intentions with a visual demonstration.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Although you will be most cordial and charming to those you're involved with today, the truth is that crowds wear your nerves to a frazzle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) If at all possible, work at home today. In your intensity to get things done, it'll appear that others are getting in your way and you won't be pleased.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Your popularity continues to be a high point again today. However, if you ignore your work for the sake of a good time, you'll have to pay the consequences.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Although your heart is in the right place and you're trying to be helpful, in reality you may be too wasteful with yours or the other person's resources.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If a family spat should arise today, try using your quick wit to avert a major squabble. You could have your kin chucking instead of quarreling.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) If you can't keep your mind on what you're supposed to be doing today, walk away from it. You'll actually save money quite often, mistakes are likely.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're in an extremely sociable mood today and will look for ways to break your routine. However, you may spend a lot more than you should in the attempt.

SPIDER-MAN ESU... JOHN SPIRBY ON CAMPUS AT ESU... AS THE WORRIED REARS ARE WAIL... YOUR ENTIRE GAINING BUS... MINUTES LATER... YES, I NEED A... FOR THE CAUSE!

Stretching Helps Her 'Heartburn'

DEAR DR. LAMB—I seem to have the same trouble as the man I heard you talking to Tab Hunter about on your TV show. It began when I was first pregnant. I seemed to notice having heartburn and I felt as though I was ruptured where my diaphragm where it joins the stomach.

The only way I could get some relief was to straighten my arms up and stretch. Then something would go back in place but I still gets lots of heartburn. Sometimes I'm afraid to eat. I feel as if there is a hole and it's very disturbing. I'd like to learn more about this. Why is a hiatal hernia operation so risky? I'm 44 years old and can't seem to lose weight. I'm 167 pounds and am 5 feet 3. Can you help me?

DEAR READER—It's important to know why you have heartburn before you're treating it. This pain or burning in the pit of the stomach or just under the breast bone can be associated with irritation of the lower part of the esophagus. The leak occurs because of a faulty closure mechanism where the esophagus and stomach join. This can be associated with a hiatal hernia. Such hernias do commonly occur in women during pregnancy. The increased pressure inside the abdomen forces the stomach through the normal hole in the diaphragm. The hole is stretched. As a result, part of the stomach that joins the esophagus where it comes through the diaphragm may slide through the enlarged hole or herniate. It follows that pressure inside the abdomen is a bad thing for anyone who has a hiatal hernia. That pressure can be caused from the accumulation of fat inside the abdomen. Because of your weight problem this could well be a contributing factor to your recurrent heartburn. Also you don't want to wear anything tight or constricting around the abdomen. This outside pressure will squeeze part of the stomach and tend to push it through any enlarged hole in the diaphragm. I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-8, Hiatal Hernia, Esophageal Reflux. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1651, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10101. It will give you more specific information on things you can do to help control such problems.

I'd like to say again that you'll need to know for sure that you do have a hiatal hernia before you start treating yourself. That means you should see your doctor and have a medical examination. To give you some help with your weight control program, I am also sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. (Other readers can order it for 50 cents, too, from the above address).

There are two problems with an operation for hiatal hernia. The first is that they don't always relieve the symptoms. Correcting the hernia doesn't necessarily mean that you correct the leaky valve problem. In fact, a person can have the leaky valve problem with reflux into the lower esophagus without having a hiatal hernia at all. The other problem is the risk of a major operation. How big a risk that is often depends on the overall medical status of the individual.

WIN AT BRIDGE

band have 7-10 high-card points with the understanding that you can up 11 or down to 8 if the spirit moves you. The suit should be six cards and should have some Lady to it and the preferred distribution is 6-3-2 with 6-3-1 coming second.

The two-trump response to a weak two bid is artificial and forcing. Opener rebids his suit with a minimum (7 or 8) and shows a feature with a maximum (9 or 10). The South hand has a maximum for a weak two bid so he rebids three diamonds to show his side ace. North's three hearts is a general continuation of the force. South's raise to four hearts is a raise. For all he knew, North was showing a real heart suit.

At this point North know that there was enough ammunition for 12 tricks. His five-spade bid confirmed spades as the suit and told South to bid six if he held second-round club control. South might have held just one club. He did have two, so he passed at five spades. The defense took two club tricks and South took the rest.
