HUNCH MEN PICK DEMPSEY TO WIN THURSDAY FIGHT

Those Who Gamble On Fight of the Year Are Picking Tunney To Remain Champion; Odds at Present About Even

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—I, myself, believe that when David slew Goliath there was some egg in the background who had hunched the winner and bet his claim shells accordingly. There always is an egg in on the short end money, no matter whether the contest calls for a proof as to whether marl crabs is a cocktail or a suburb of New Orleans.

The boys today were hunching Dempsey. In fact, they had gone so far with the matter that the odds on tomorrow night's heavyweight championship fight were approximately at even money. They should not be by all the laws of percentage, form, past performance and the will of the majority. Dempsey, judged by what he has shown since he blew the title to Tunney in Philadelphia just one year ago, can't be so far off in this fight.

In the meantime, I can discuss with some degree of confidence the fact that Tunney may blow the title because he is a man who fights to win. I hate to bet on that kind. It is the only flaw that I see in Tunney's preparation for the fight. The young man chooses to fight. He probably is slightly a better fighter than he was last year, a better man in the legs and feet and a somewhat sharper boxer.

I think he knows this. It might seem like the fight. For Tunney, who clearly has indicated in his training that he wants to stand and slug instead of run and box. The oft-repeated story of a counter-hitting of his open field running against Dempsey at Philadelphia has gotten under an epidemic that already is thinner than a skatlon key. The man wants to show the great populace that he is something better than a mere boxer. He won't feel just like Dempsey corks him.

Dempsey has many things in his favor in this fight—youth, speed, the distance of ten rounds and the fact that he already has beaten the man he must beat tomorrow night. There are only two factors working against him and both of them are important. The first, already mentioned, deals with reality. The second is psychological. It centers around the fact that the challenger of last year is the champion of today with all of the champion's worries and cares and responsibilities.

Tunney had all to win and nothing to lose at Philadelphia. He can win nothing here but merely keep what he had before. Tunney is in Dempsey's position as Dempsey knew it in 1926.

Dempsey Is Hoping Tunney Will Stand Toe To Toe And Hit

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—I hope he doesn't regain his intellectual tameness and change his mind," was Jack Dempsey's comment today concerning the stories that Gene Tunney was all frothed up and would go out fighting with the bell on Thursday night.

"I hope it, but I don't believe it," added the ex-champion. "But word from the Tunney camp insists that it is all true, that Tunney will step into Dempsey and truck to knock him out instead of making it a boxing match. Dempsey's manager, Leo P. Ryan, was greatly interested in the report.

It is certainly hoped that Tunney will back his brains outside the ropes in the fight with Dempsey. The odds on the battle will be short and Tunney will be short for the following reasons. Dempsey will not hit him in two rounds. He may hit him who could hit him with Dempsey and stand up—Tunney is a million miles away from being an exception. He can't hit the Dempsey, he can't take it like Dempsey and he has a fancy idea that when the going gets tough he won't show the counting grace of Dempsey.

I have a little something about Gene Tunney. I could tell you a lot about him. But what I don't want to do is because I don't want the book printed before I get back and by that time Tunney will be far out of these ex-champion's things.

THE WORTH—Jones Purdy, president of the local branch of the Standard Oil Company of New York, will leave for New York.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Soviet Russia was described today by Prof. Boris E. Limberg, president of the Russian surgical association, as a land of the toothless. "Russia is losing its teeth," said Prof. Limberg. "Hardships undergone by millions of Russians during the past ten years are undoubtedly responsible. The various ailments caused by bad teeth are providing us with a serious health problem.

"We don't know the exact cause of much of the mouth disease now sweeping the country. The population appears to have developed the tooth disease during the past two years. "We are looking to America for artificial teeth. There are none in Russia. Russian agents in New York are now negotiating for large quantities of dental supplies." Prof. Limberg said the dental problem was only one of many similar ones now confronting his country. "Our surgeons," he said "are hampered by an absolute lack of any laboratory facilities for manufacturing other."

Tagging All Bases

With their sensational rush toward Pennsylvania halted by the steady effectiveness of Brooklyn's high class pitchers, the Pittsburgh Pirates are only three games in front of the Giants and Cardinals today and the scramble of Smokey City fans to purchase world series tickets has vanished like a dollar bill in the grocery store on Saturday night.

For the second time in as many days, the Corsairs were blanked 3 to 0 yesterday. Spittin' Bill Doak, the moist ball expert, exerted a powerful salivary influence over the battering Buccaneers and held them to two hits, only one Pirate reaching second base. A triple by Max Carey, one-time Pittsburgh fool, Hendrick's single and Hermon's double won the game.

Today's less petty, cranks Brooklyn southpaw, probably will pitch against the league leaders in the only game scheduled in the National League. The Cardinals beat the Phillies again yesterday and negotiated a tie for second place with the Giants, who were idle. The standing:

St. Louis	85	69	10	590
New York	85	69	10	590

Chicago police have launched a campaign to stop crime at its source—young boys out of work and with nothing to do. "Get 'em a job and keep 'em out of trouble," is the slogan of Chief of Police Michael Hughes' latest attempt to solve the crime problem.

The drive was launched following a conference with officials of the Chicago Association of Commerce who agreed to find jobs for the boys. "This plan ought to do more to cure the crime situation in Chicago than anything else the Department could do," said Hughes. "If it works we may be able to extend it successfully to other men."

"I agree with Mary Lewis - Luckies have the finest flavor"

Said Jean Ackerman to Murrel Finley, Blanche Satchel and Myrna Darby while they rested between acts of The Ziegfeld Follies.

Mary Lewis, Famous Metropolitan Star, writes:

"Because they never irritate the throat and because of their finer flavor, Lucky Strikes are my favorite and of all whose voices are precious."

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Play Foin

A newspaper dispatch yesterday telling of the death of a young boy who broke his neck during a high school football scrimmage, might well serve as an announcement that the football season is already upon us.

The passing of each Fall season sees scores of such cases where young men are killed in the pursuit of what for the moment seems the greatest thrill of life.

Accidents will occur as long as men are men and games are played. And perhaps it is better that youth die letting off steam in clean sport than that they die letting off steam in some other less immaculate manner.

There is no harm in every man giving his best; that is to be desired. When men play the game they should play it for all it is worth.

There is no particular reason why he should feel it a part of his duty to jump, feet first, on the top of a huge mass of arms and legs, piled indiscriminately around a football.

A man can play the game just as hard and can give just as much to the "dear old school" with an occasional slap on a rival's back, or a friendly word if he appears hurt.

The Value Of The Sweet Potato

The Jacksonville Times-Union, ever enthusiastic about the agricultural possibilities of the south, in a recent editorial praises the sweet potato as a product which cleans the land and provides a profitable cash crop.

The advantages of the sweet potato are numerous, the Times-Union says and points out that "it may be made the entering wedge that shall make possible the greater use of the light soils of the coastal plain, soils usually so light that in general they cannot be used to produce corn at a profit, and yet on these soils the sweet potato will yield 150 to 200 bushels per acre."

More about the crop is given as follows: "It is as a cash crop the sweet potato offers the greatest opportunity. The years of the World War, and those since, have convinced every thoughtful man human food has been, and will continue to be a very important object of our lives."

"The white or Irish potato crop has been held back in its development in this country by the absence of a balance wheel to steady the market and insure returns. The average person in the United States eats approximately 22-3 bushels of potatoes annually, while the average German eats seven bushels, and these seven bushels are only 28 per cent of the annual potato crop of the country and the balance is used to feed livestock and for manufacture of starch, sugar and alcohol."

"What is being done with the Irish potato in the industrial way suggests what may be done with the sweet potato. In time to come the Florida grower will realize handsome returns from sweet potatoes through their use in the manufacture of syrup, starch vinegar, flour, chips and many other by-products."

"On the subject of the size of the sweet potato market it is not possible to do more than guess. It is certain the South is far from its saturation point, the North has hardly been interested and the great European market has not been touched. White or Irish potatoes as well as sweet potatoes are of American origin, and while the white potato has become an important European product, the sugary sweet potato of the South has not yet established itself in the Northern states nor in the countries across the Atlantic."

HARMONY TICKET TAMPA TIMES

Commenting upon the announcement of the senator would prove a harmony ticket. At present the situation somewhat reminds us of two Israelites who were exceedingly good friends of ours. They had a misunderstanding.

MR. MORROW-GIVES up his partnership with J. Pierpont Morgan and Company, to accept a poorly paid job as minister to Mexico. This he does to oblige his friend and classmate, President Coolidge.

ANYHOW, the matter is just in the talking stage—the aggravated talking stage, owing to Mr. McAdoo's announcement. There must be talking. And, while the talk is going on it must not be forgotten that what the democracy needs is a "harmony ticket." That is the question to be debated and answered.

John L. and Mitchell. A Suicide's Lament. Ask Him for An Option. $1 Becomes $10000. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

FIGHTING HAS CHANGED. On March 10, 1888, this writer saw John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell fight in a muddy, slippery 24-foot ring on Baron Rothschild's training grounds near Chantilly in France.

THE MEN FOUGHT with bare fists, soaked in walnut juice, and had long spikes on their shoes. Sullivan requested Mitchell to "be a gentleman, you know—if you can," when Mitchell drove a spike into Sullivan's instep.

WHEN THE FIGHT ended in a draw both men were locked up by French gendarmes at Senlis. This writer saw them there. The French jailer had taken away their silk handkerchiefs "to prevent their hanging themselves."

FREDRICK GASTIER, a teacher of languages, killed himself, leaving written in correct Latin this, "I am nobody. I never was anybody."

That could be said truly in many languages by 999,999 people in a million. With few exceptions, nobody is anybody. We are human microbes doing work for which we were put on earth, then disappearing.

MR. J. J. MITCHELL, able and conservative Chicago financier, who says stocks are too high does not like "the antics" of the market.

EVERY WELL MANAGED, necessary American concern is selling for less than it is worth. Ten years hence the country's wealth will be scores of billions greater than today, and that in prices of good securities.

Daughters Of Wesley Meet Tuesday Night With Mrs. C.W. Stokes

The usual social meeting of the Daughters of Wesley Class of the Methodist Church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. W. Stokes on Ninth Street.

A lovely setting was arranged with quantities of golden glow and other cut flowers in the varying shades of yellow, and combined with greenery. The color note of yellow and green was carried out in every detail.

The evening was merrily spent with contests of all kinds, as well as games and music. In the flower contest, Mrs. J. Olin Laney was the fortunate one and received a most attractive prize.

Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the evening and after the contests. The hostesses, Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. C. W. Stokes, Mrs. John W. Sneed, Mrs. Frank Adams, and Miss Ruth Hand served tempting refreshments.

About fifty were in attendance.

Ladies Union Of Local Church Holds Session On Monday Afternoon

The Ladies Union of the Congregational Church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Knight on the West Side for its regular monthly business meeting.

After the usual devotional exercise, led by the president, Mrs. J. V. Davison, the minutes of the last meeting were read and other reports given. Mrs. Sheridan Jewitt gave a most delightful and inspiring talk on the work of the society. A plan was outlined for further work and Miss Goodale was appointed to purchase necessary books to carry out this program.

A very enjoyable social hour followed the business session when the hostess assisted by her daughter Mrs. Zitterer served tasty refreshments.

The Herald

Covering The Field

In buying advertising a merchant must consider what portion of the territory served the medium selected will cover. The cost of advertising should always be judged by results, for results alone are what count.

Reach Sanford's Trading Territory At One Cost

Through The Herald, the only A. B. C. paper in Seminole County, an advertiser can at one cost put his message before 90 per cent of the people that live in Sanford's trading territory. No risks, no if's and's and but's about it. The Herald covers the field thoroughly.

Economy In Advertising Appropriation

Through The Herald an advertiser can reach 90 per cent of the people who buy in Sanford--this medium needs no supplementary publicity--The Herald is an evening paper, a paper which goes home and is read by all the family.
