Southside Shuddering

By SUSIE SPOOK
A Susie Spook salute to the Southside P-TO prezzy H. W. (Buddy) Rawls and ex-prezzy Don Bales, for doing all in their power to assure full time power at the Halloween Carnival come Oct. 31. If, however, some gremlins do get in the fuse box it will not be because these two enterprising fathers have not tried.

Headman Buddy extends a cordial invitation to all spooks, ghosts, goblins, spooklets, witches, owls and what have you to be at Southside the day before the big event. And since you'll be there anyway, how about bringing along a hammer and maybe putting up some booths. Leader spook, Jerry Kirk, reports so many spooks have responded to her call that the cakes, white elephants, country store items and other carnival bric-a-brac will be coming in real soon now.

A haunting refrain from the past is the rhythmic chant of an auctioneer. Susie Spook is happy to report that a real live auctioneer will be on hand for the Halloween Carnival. The Colonel (himself) Collier, who thrilled young and old last year, will be at Southside again. He'll auction off all the white elephant, pink elephants and just most anything that the friends of Southside send.

Another exciting Susie Spook scoop is the super duper merry-go-round that has been arranged by Rose (Mrs. Ernest) Southward. This is the same one that scored such a hit in Lake Mary last week.

What's all this for? Some might ask. Well Susie Spook can remember some of the many extras that have been gained for the school as result of the carnivals. For instance last year's carnival is responsible for fans that are in each classroom, and for the new books in the school library. Other years have produced record players for each room, valance and teatime curtains for the auditorium, drinking fountains, public address system, and numerous other nice things including a sidewalk on one side of the playground.

SOUTHSIDE SCHOOL P-TO CARNIVAL CHAIRMAN, Mrs. W. L. Kirk, left, gazes into the crystal ball for new ideas while Mrs. Velma Mitchell, right, school principal reminisces over some past carnivals with some stories by Susie Spook. The annual event will be held at Southside School Oct. 31 from 5:30 till 9 p. m.

Science Club Has Unusual Facts

The Seminole High Science Club not only gets the facts—its members deal with the unusual facts. For instance:

Do you know why certain salt-water animals such as the manatee, blue crab and stingray are able to live some 170 miles up the St. Johns from its outlet to the ocean? The abnormally high content of salt in the St. Johns River has proven to be the answer. This exists for two reasons:

During dry season the St. Johns River has little current. This allows salt water intrusion into normally fresh water areas. Secondly, certain springs such as Salt Springs, which flows in the St. Johns, are nearly as salty as the ocean. Also, in the St. Johns River north of Lake Harney, there are several salt springs which have a higher salt content than the ocean.

So, don't go and get confused if you see stingrays in the ocean and then catch one on your trotline.

Seven Sanford Furniture Stores Organize New Association

Operators of furniture stores here have formed the Sanford Furniture Dealers Association.

The group issued a statement saying "the sole purpose of this association is to unitedly explore any and all suggestions at regular monthly meetings as to how Sanford furniture dealers can better serve the people of Sanford and surrounding areas."

The statement also said that the members unanimously agreed to urge, through the Chamber of Commerce that all merchants keep stores open one night a week, preferably Friday, in order to give husbands and wives an opportunity to shop together. They suggested that closing at noon on Wednesday would give store employees the same amount of time off. They pointed out that other Central Florida communities stay open one night a week.

"Other suggestions to be of better service will be discussed at future meetings and it is hoped that the Sanford Furniture Dealers Association will become a stimulating factor in the business life of Sanford," the statement said.

Chester Muse, of Mather of Sanford, was elected president of the group, Robert Carnie of Sanford Furniture Co., vice president and public speaker; B. R. Carroll, of Carroll's Furniture, secretary-treasurer, and C. Wilson, recording secretary.

Meeting to form the organization were L. A. Berry of Berry's Warehouse Furniture; L. F. Garn-

New Red Nuclear Tests Suspected

CHICAGO (UPI) — Atomic Energy Commissioner Robert E. Wilson hinted Thursday night that the United States has evidence the Russians may have been conducting underground tests of new kinds of nuclear weapons.

He said the United States, in the absence of a policed test ban agreement, should resume underground testing soon to perfect more powerful warheads for the Polaris and Minuteman missiles and to develop "new and really revolutionary" atomic weapons for use against enemy troops.

Wilson addressed the second national youth conference on the atom here.

Campaign Blunter, Angrier

The presidential campaign, entering the final two weeks, was marked today by blunter words and angrier charges as the candidates stumped long hours for the support of crucial states.

Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy scheduled 20 speeches during his second grueling day in Illinois. State Democratic leaders were enthusiastic about his showing Monday. Sen. Paul H. Douglas, (D-Ill.), predicted Kennedy would capture the states 27 electoral votes.

Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon, making a whistle-stop tour in a 16-car train, arranged appearances in Ohio, which has an important bloc of 25 electoral votes, and in West Virginia. He makes his first nationwide political TV speech of the campaign tonight from Cincinnati.

In a speech prepared for Marietta, Ohio, the vice president kept up his charge that Kennedy is playing loose with the truth concerning U. S. prestige abroad. The Democratic nominee, Nixon said, "has been trying to win this election by recklessly downgrading the United States. He has done this with misleading statements, with misrepresentations, with half truths."

Kennedy attacked the GOP candidate's aid-to-education stand in an address prepared for Carpentersville, Ill. He said Nixon had raised a "false issue" by contending that federal aid for teachers' salaries could lead to government control of education.

Kennedy termed this a "political bogeyman" designed to defeat federal aid to education and "mislead the people."

The White House rivals traded some of the sharpest accusations of the campaign in their speeches Monday.

"Nixon told a Pittsburgh audience that Kennedy's spending plans were a 'major contributing factor' to the current gold speculation in London. He suggested Kennedy's election could touch off a run on America's shrinking gold stocks.

Kennedy shrugged this off. He said Nixon was showing "signs of tension" by making the charge. A Rock Island, Ill., audience laughed when the Massachusetts senator declared, "He blames me for the increase in gold on the London market. If Mr. Nixon is listening, I didn't do it."

The Democratic candidate branded Nixon the leader of a Republican "wrecking crew" which he said had consistently opposed Social Security and would do little to help the aged meet medical expenses.

Nixon said during his Pennsylvania whistle-stop tour that Kennedy's Cuba, Malaya-Quebec and U2 policies represented "disastrous" errors of judgment that could plunge the world into war. He said Kennedy was "the kind of man Khrushchev could make mince-meat of."

Kennedy said any resemblance between the vice president's campaign promises and previous record "is purely coincidental." He described Nixon as a "no" man who would get a "no" from American voters on election day.

The GOP candidate accused Kennedy in a telegram of backing away from a statement about helping anti-Castro Cubans. "This is another case of your speaking first and thinking afterwards, a habit which is a very dangerous one for a man who is asking the American people to elect him commander-in-chief of all the armed forces of this nation," Nixon wired.

Snowfall Spreads Across Northeast, Cold Wave Hits

The season's first snow hit the nation's Northeast Monday as torrential rains deluged parts of Texas.

Wide-spread snow showers whipped across the eastern Great Lakes and New England during the night. The snow reached a depth of seven inches at the little town of Tropic, Pa., and five inches on Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks.

A cold wave followed hard on the heels of the wind-driven snows, dropping temperatures across the Midwest. Marquette, Mich., had a nighttime low of 17.

Snow removal crews went on 24-hour shifts along a 100-mile stretch of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

New York City's first snow was recorded at the top of the world's largest building, the Empire State, but 44 degree temperatures melted the snow by the time it reached the street.

Highway crews in Michigan's Huron County battled blizzard-like snows. Five-foot waves lashed the Lake Huron shoreline. Four hunters were rescued from the storm, but two were still missing today.

Fall thunderstorms pounded New England and rained half-storms on Boston. Some Boston streets were flooded and lightning caused some damage to electrical service.

But the rain changed to snow over many sections of the six-state area during the night.

City Water Deposit Fee Is Doubled

The City of Sanford last night increased its water connection deposit from $7.50 to $15 and instructed the city manager to turn delinquent accounts over to collectors.

The city manager showed commissioners a list of water accounts that have been unpaid much longer than the normal grace period and said that some people let the $7.50 deposit go against bills of three months and simply move and open a new meter at a new location.

The doubled deposit will protect the city better against non-payment of the minimum monthly rate of $3.15 in case of deaths, and all new applicants will be checked against the delinquent list.

Four Youths Held In Police Cases

Two teenagers have been arrested for petty larceny after pilfering parked automobiles and two juveniles for breaking and entering, police reported today.

The two juveniles, remanded to the county juvenile judge, reportedly broke into one place five times, stealing cigarettes, candy, milk and other items. Police recovered 15 cartons of cigarettes from the loot the boys took from the B & M Market.

A call from a resident in the 1100 block of Oak Ave. that two youths were going into parked automobiles led police to the arrest of the two youths, who were charged with taking items from five cars. The two teenagers are suspected also of being involved in some other cases.

Writer Hecht Brings Up Old Case Of Death Of Harlow's Husband

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The district attorney's office wants to know today what evidence writer Ben Hecht might have to back up his accusation that the late Jean Harlow's husband was murdered 20 years ago. The Sept. 8, 1932, gunshot death of film director Paul Bern officially was ruled a suicide by a coroner's jury at the time, and most officials still seemed inclined to believe that no foul play was involved. Bern's death came only two months after his marriage to the blonde Miss Harlow, who then was nearing the peak of her popularity as a movie siren. Renewed interest in the once sensational case came when Hecht wrote an article for the current issue of a magazine in which he claimed another woman killed Bern and that movie studio officials made the murder appear a suicide.

Hecht, screen writer and former reporter, claimed the suicide note purportedly left by Bern was actually a forgery, and that movie officials acted to hush the slaying because they feared Miss Harlow's box office appeal might be hurt. He did not name who he believed could have committed the "murder." Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson, in announcing Monday his office would look into Hecht's accusations, said he actually believed "there's very little probability that it was murder." However, his office was interested because "any time a writer of Hecht's prominence makes such charges, it bears investigating." Burton Fitts, the district attorney at the time of Bern's death, scoffed at Hecht's accusations. "I was firmly convinced then that it was a suicide," he said. "I am firmly convinced now."

Amendment No. 1 Should Be Adopted

One of the most important constitutional amendments to be voted on in the November general election is amendment No. 1 which would give two additional judges for the Second (including Seminole) and Third District Court of Appeals.

Because the present construction inflexibly sets the number of judges of those courts at three, it is necessary to amend the constitution to empower the legislature to provide these needed judges.

The proposed amendment No. 1, according to Circuit Judge Volie Williams Jr., will have the sole effect of authorizing the legislature to provide not less than three nor more than five judges for each of the District Court of Appeals.

In 1959, according to the Florida Bar Journal, which has endorsed the proposed amendment, 636 cases were filed in the Second District Court of Appeals. This means that in 1959, in order to merely keep even with the filings, the three judges of the district had to consider and decide an average of 3.6 cases per day for each of the 178 days they were on the bench.

We heartily endorse this amendment as a means of decreasing the overburdening of our district courts.

Why Don't You All Make Up Your Minds?

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON, D. C.—You'd have to say there's a count-down coming for those of us who search our living in the unferocious soil of public comment. While the columnist has no duty to "pick a winner," he isn't worth the nibble on his chin if he can't decide which presidential ticket is the better in current circumstances.

Well, the count-down goes on, but with a couple of weeks in October remaining, I'm still stalling, as I bet half my countrymen are. Back in August, having attended both Conventions, the Churchillian ring in Jack Kennedy's promise to ask for sacrifices of the American people had me edging toward his ranks. I promised nothing then.

Under Nixon we could expect to extend the Eisenhower formula where it seems to be sound (such as allowing business, industry and the States to participate in health plans, etc.), and to junk the Eisenhower formula where it has failed (as in continuing to accept farm surpluses).

Aided by the partisan competition of a divided government, Nixon should be able to prevent runaway legislation (we always have too much, never too little), and to maintain something like fiscal responsibility. His opponent would Federalize all welfare programs until the mind reeled, would be swept along in the torments of Lunatic Liberalism with which his party abounds and which he could hardly hope to stem.

The case for Kennedy is that, while the country doesn't need to be revolutionized in a Rooseveltian Hundred Days, the country does need to be shaken up. After eight years of any party, it's nearly always time for a change. Long ago we ought to have taken the lead in satellites and missiles. We had no business ever being behind the Russians. Our military airlift should have been kept modern instead of requiring a belated face-lifting. Our foreign policy almost everywhere is feeble. Kennedy says so—his opponent, for whatever reason, denies it. Our leaders ought to stop quacking "peace, peace" and warn the country that we may have to fight a war, Kennedy admits this, if only by indirectness—his opponent denies it. But how are you going to support a candidate who is making it a campaign promise to pull back from Quemoy-Matsu? And how can you support a party with a growing number of Senators—Moran and Fulbright are the latest—who countenance admitting Red China to the United Nations? If Kennedy really thinks that he can buy peace in the Formosa Strait by handing over those important islands, he sounds like a man who would continue appeasement to death's door. If the Democratic party is going to give us a get-along-with-Communism Secretary of State, then it's "Good Night, Girls, We're Through."

One of the tickets will be defeated, but the boys who ought to be taken out, put in a bag and dropped into Limbo will survive. I'm afraid, either party's defeat, I mean the Globalism of the State Department and other foreign affairs agencies which for thirty years have been Foreigner-Firm and Share America. Would Kennedy clean them out, so that we could have a new start? Not a chance! Would Nixon? Well, the Old Nixon would. The Grand Old Party would. But the New Nixon and Modern Republicanism—not very likely!

Reader, I address you personally. How can anybody who sizes up the candidates as above, being himself to side with one of them? Yet, as with the millions who vote next month, a choice has got to be made.

DOING WHAT COMES NATURALLY

THE WORRY CLINIC by Dr. George Crane

CASE G-407: Don D., aged 34, is a bachelor school teacher. Dr. Crane, I read you regularly in the Chicago Daily News. Don informed me after a talk I had made to a teacher's convention. "But I am quite happy as a bachelor. So I think you are all wrong in trying to introduce comely folks with a view to romance. "Why help a woman snare a man for a husband? Women are so crazy to have a "Mrs." in front of their name they'd gladly take even a beatnik. "I live with my widowed mother and am happy to have peace and quiet, instead of a houseful of howling kids around me. "Why should I give up my independence just to listen to a nagging wife when I get home at night. "I'd much rather play golf than play postoffice. I love my mother and my lodge meetings. And now I am free to make my own decisions, instead of having to defer to a wife. "A lot of grown men are stunted in their emotional development so they remain dwarfed in their social outlook. "Old bachelors are often of this sort. They haven't reached the emotional maturity of the majority of men who marry. "At birth, we are in the egocentric stage of emotional development where everything centers around our own ego. "By kindergarten age, we usually attain the next step upward, which involves acknowledging parents as important luminaries revolving around our ego. "By the age of 9 or 10, we enter the third stage, where we admire our own sex and think the opposite sex is definitely inferior. "But by the middle teens, however, most of us human beings attain emotional adulthood so we look to the opposite sex for love, affection and comradeship. "You readers can thus rate Don. He shows the naive egotism of the third stage, when he thinks the male is such a superior creature that every female is just dying to have a "Mrs." in front of her name. "Thus, he says every woman would even accept a beatnik just to know off a wedding ring. "Don's love of his lodge meetings, where he mingles solely with his own sex, is also an indication of his third stage (homosexual). "But Don's very prating about his independence, indicates he is NOT as independent as the average man. "For an independent man cuts loose from mamma's apron strings and picks a female companion nearer his own age. "When men stick to mamma abnormally, it means they have never yet been weaned, psychologically, so their bold talk about "independence" is just "whistling in the dark." "And nagging wives are usually and indictment of the sexual technique of their husbands. For "nagging" is a common symptom of a sexually starved female.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — Some people are so intensely partisan in this Presidential campaign that they just won't tolerate neutrality. It's laugh on a journalist who tries to keep his writings objective. The partisans indignantly claim you're showing favoritism—for the other side. My mail is the best example of that. Over the campaign months I have kept count of the letters accusing me of taking sides. Altogether there have been 164 postcards, letters, telegrams and telephone calls. There's something strange about the way the opinions fall. Precisely 82 have charged I'm for Richard Nixon all the way. Even more perplexing is that some of the opposite views are aimed at the same columnist! Some newspapers that try to maintain objectivity in the campaign, I have learned, are targets of the same partisans. For instance, two weeks ago the Charlotte, N. C. Observer gave Vice-President Nixon a big splash following his speech there. Democrats cried "Favoritism!"

For instance, two weeks ago the Charlotte, N. C. Observer gave Vice-President Nixon a big splash following his speech there. Democrats cried "Favoritism!" I turned out that the Observer had devoted four inches more to Kennedy! You can't blame folks for getting wound up and defensive for their man, but some of my mail has gotten downright nasty, and usually I didn't get nasty about buying his suits in London while he blamed the Republicans for the unemployment in our textile mills.

I pointed out that on the other hand Nixon and Pat bought a large amount of clothing in Hong Kong. A postcard from Rockville, Md., said: "Why don't you show your true colors and announce you're for Kennedy?" A reader in Philadelphia, referring to the same story, said: "Only a dirty Republican would try to make an issue about Jack's clothes. . . ." When I reported what I had seen and heard in the South on the religious issue, a Florida reader wrote: "It's obvious to us you are a Catholic on Senator Kennedy's payroll." A letter from Indiana commented on the same column: "What have you against the Catholics?" I honestly thought I was giving equal time, space and mental effort to both sides. If I thought I was objective in the past, what would happen to me if I really took sides in this campaign? I shudder to think of it. Actually, I'm so objective about it all that I always turn on two television sets in our house during the Great Debates. I have one turned up bright to make Nixon look drawn and pale. I turn the other dark to make Kennedy look equally bad. Can anything be fairer than that?

Chuck Walls, underwater janitor at Weeki Wachee, Florida, cleans 684 square feet of windows each day. Not such an unusual feat until you consider that these windows are all 14 to 20 feet under water. Chuck uses skin diving equipment while cleaning the windows with steel wool.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF
"We were entertaining some very important people for dinner last night," an actor told Robert Q. Lewis, "and one of them accused me of being a henpeck—right in front of my wife and everybody." "Did you get sore," needed Lewis. "Did I?" snarled the actor. "But by the time I finished doing the dishes, sweeping up, and changing the baby, I had cooled off." "What," asked a theater owner of a prospective head usher, "would you do in case of fire?" "You wouldn't have to worry about me," assured the prospect. "I'd be out of the joint in no time."

Cash Pays Off

MIAMI (UPI) — Sophomore end Billy Cash of the University of Florida, whose kicking prowess spelled victory in the Gators' 13-10 conquest of LSU last week, received the "Lineman of the Week" honor today from the Florida Sportswriters Assn.

Cash, of Tallahassee, toed field goals of 47 and 35 yards against the Tigers. He kicked one in the game against Georgia Tech that the Gators won 18-17, and at Florida State with a field goal for the only points of the game.

Monday, the association voted "Back of the Week" honors to Larry Libertore, Florida's sophomore quarterback. Libertore raced 66 yards to score on the first play of the game against LSU.

Winners Get $8,417 Each As Series Loot Is Divided By Pirates, Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 1960 World Series between the Pirates and Yankees will long be remembered as one of the oddest in the history of the fall classic.

It should also be remembered as the one in which one of the greatest number of players and other team personnel shared in financially.

The generous Pirates whacked up their winner's share of $286,300.82 into full shares of $8,417.91, while the equally generous Yankees divided their loser's purse of $191,000.56 into full shares of $3,214.84.

Six other players, most of whom spent part of the season with the Pirates, will receive half shares of $208.97.

Russians Horse Entered In Race

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — For the third year in a row the Soviet Union will start a horse in the $100,000 Washington, D. C. International, Nov. 11, while Ukraine will be represented for the first time.

The Russian Embassy in Washington today notified Laurel executive vice president Joseph T. Cascardella that Zebek, a 3-year-old, will race in the colors of the Soviet Union and that Zadorny, a 3-year-old, will represent the Ukraine.

Georgia's Tarkenton Is Chosen Back Of The Week In SEC Play

ATLANTA (UPI) — Quarterback Francis Tarkenton, the guiding arm of the Georgia Bulldogs, was named Southeastern Conference Back of the Week today by the United Press International for leading the defending champions past Kentucky.

Tarkenton, All-SEC quarterback last season, had been leading the conference in passing and total offense. But it wasn't until after Georgia's drama-packed, 17-13, victory over the Wildcats that he won the Back of the Week honor the first time this season.

In yardage Tarkenton was below par. He hit on only six of 15 passes for 67 yards and gained little rushing. But two of those passes were for touchdowns and it was a goal-line interception by Tarkenton of a Kentucky pass that saved the victory for the Bulldogs.

Tarkenton has now completed 67 of 118 passes for 139 yards. Five of those passes have gone for touchdowns.

Tarkenton's chief competitor for UPI's back of the week award was Mississippi quarterback Jake Gibbs. It was the fourth time in six weeks that Gibbs has been runner-up and he won the honor last week.

Johnny Sain First Yankee Addition Made By Houk

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk had the nucleus of a coaching staff today and was expected to complete his board of strategy by mid-week.

Houk, who vowed he would run his own team when he succeeded Casey Stengel, Monday selected Johnny Sain as "my type of pitching coach."

Veteran third base coach Frank Crosetti was re-hired for his 30th consecutive season with the Yankees.

Other possibilities to round out the staff include Jim Hegan, Hank Bauer and Tommy Heinrich.

Sain, who formed a potent pitching combination with Warren Spahn in the National League a decade ago, replaces Eddie Lopat. A 43-year-old former Braves and Yankee hurler, Sain retired from active competition five years ago.

"I was out in the Yankee bullpen with Sain for several years," Houk said. "and I know and agree with the theories he had on pitching. Sain had to fight his way to the top and he learned a lot about pitching doing it."

Iowa, Ole Miss Will Have To Scrap To Keep National Rating Spots

United Press International

Top-ranked Iowa and runner-up Mississippi, extended to the last whistle in weekend games, face renewed resistance this Saturday while the remainder of the nation's leading college football powers hope to draw a collective breath against weaker opponents.

Iowa, which had to put down a last half uprising by Purdue to win, 21-14, reaches for its sixth straight victory, against a Kansas team that lost its only game to Syracuse this season.

Mississippi overcame Arkansas, 10-7, on a 39-yard field goal by Allen Green in the final three seconds and now meets Louisiana State, the team that handed the Rebels their only loss last year.

LSU is minus All-American Billy Cannon this time, but the Tigers are keyed up for the contest and also are hoping to revenge a Sugar Bowl setback by Mississippi on New Year's Day.

Third-ranked Syracuse, ready to reclaim its old No. 1 ranking should the top two falter, showed signs of old power by defeating West Virginia, 13-0 and now turns toward Pittsburgh. The Orangemen are riding on a streak of 16 consecutive victories. Pitt has a 2-2-2 mark this season.

Joe Bellino, who set a Navy season scoring record in the Middies' 27-0 rout of Pennsylvania, looks forward to increasing the fourth-ranked Midshipmen's chances of a national championship against one of the weakest Notre Dame teams in years. The Irish have lost four straight since winning their opener, including a tough 7-6 loss to Northwestern last Saturday in the national TV game.

Minnesota, the fifth-ranked team in the nation, prep for its battle against Iowa for the Big Ten Conference lead on Nov. 3 by taking on a Kansas State squad that has lost five of six games.

The Gophers beat Michigan, 10-0, to extend their streak to five victories.

Missouri, one of the highest scoring teams in major football circles this season, faces "weak sister" Nebraska in a Big Eight Conference tilt. The sixth-ranked Missourians mauled Iowa State, 34-0, to cement their hold on the league lead.

In a Southwestern Conference clash, Baylor pits its perfect record of five wins against Texas Christian, which has won two, lost two, and tied two others.

Baylor, No. 7, kept its record intact by beating Texas A&M, 14-0. Purdue, ranked eighth, gets a chance to recover from the Iowa loss in a game against Illinois.

Washington's No. 9 Huskies had to go all out to nip Oregon State, 30-29, but do not anticipate the same trouble against Oregon, despite the 4-1 record the Ducks have this season.

Ohio State, last of the top 10 ranking teams, whipped Wisconsin, 34-7, and now meets a Michigan State squad that has lost to Iowa and was tied by Pittsburgh.

Other leading games this Saturday:

East: Miami (Ohio) vs. Army; Cornell vs. Columbia; Yale vs. Dartmouth; Princeton vs. Brown; Holy Cross vs. Marquette; Rutgers vs. Villanova.

South: Kentucky vs. Florida State; Auburn vs. Florida; Alabama vs. Mississippi State; Wake Forest vs. Virginia; Tulsa vs. Georgia; South Carolina vs. Maryland; Georgia Tech vs. Duke; North Carolina vs. Tennessee.

Midlands: Northwestern vs. Indiana; Michigan vs. Wisconsin; Oklahoma vs. Colorado; Iowa State vs. Oklahoma State.

Southwest: Texas Tech vs. Rice; Arkansas vs. Texas A&M; Southern Methodist vs. Texas.

West: Southern California vs. Stanford; Utah vs. Wyoming; North Carolina State vs. UCLA; Washington State vs. San Jose State.

Iowa Opens Lead Over Ole Miss In Major Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — Iowa's hustling Hawkeyes opened a 50-point lead over Mississippi today in the United Press International weekly major college football ratings.

Twenty-two members of the 36-man UPI Board of Coaches selected Iowa as the nation's No. 1 team while Mississippi garnered only seven first place votes compared to 16 in last week's balloting.

The Hawkeyes, who replaced Ole Miss in first place last week by a slim six-point margin, totaled 331 points while the Rebels remained second with 281.

Defending champion Syracuse retained third place with 238 points, Minnesota replaced Navy as the No. 4 team with 208 points and the Middies dropped to fifth place with 185.

Rounding out the top 10 were Missouri 175, Baylor 149, Ohio State 145, Washington 89 and Michigan State 29.

Michigan State was the only newcomer to the top 10, moving from 15th to 10th place. Purdue slid from eighth to 14th place after dropping a 21-14 decision to Iowa.

Tennessee headed the second 10 group and was followed in order by Rice, Arkansas, Purdue, Kansas, Duke and New Mexico State.

Wyoming and Colorado tied for 18th place vote; Iowa picked up nine second-place ballots, two third-place votes and two fourth-place votes. The points are distributed on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second place, etc.

Bible Reading Check Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today directed a federal district court in Philadelphia to take another look at a challenge to Bible reading in the Pennsylvania public schools.

The brief order vacated a lower court decision which banned the readings under a "compulsory" reading law that has since been modified.

The case was brought to the high court by the Abington Township, Pa., school district which appealed a decision by a three-judge court which ruled unconstitutional a Pennsylvania state law which said a public school teacher must open each school day with the reading of 10 Bible verses or face dismissal.

The law was amended last December to strike out the "compulsory" feature of the Bible session. It now requires a teacher to excuse any child from attending the Bible reading on written request of the parents.

Mystery Asthma Attacks Strike

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A total of 173 asthma sufferers filed through New Orleans hospitals in 24 hours in one of the worst of a series of mysterious attacks that have plagued the city in the past year. Authorities said two persons may have died of asthma.

Doctors planned to perform autopsies today on two Negroes, Audrey Bailey and Edward Williams. They said they were believed to have been killed by severe attacks of asthma.

There was some fog in the area Sunday night and temperatures were rains.

No one knows what causes the attacks, but they seem to hit Negroes harder than whites. Of the 168 persons treated at Charity Hospital in the 24 hours ending at 6 a. m., only 12 were white.

Puerto Ricans Split Over Church Order

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Puerto Ricans appeared on the verge of a bitter and serious split today over a bishops' pastoral letter ordering Roman Catholics not to vote for the party of incumbent Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

Sunday church incidents stunned the predominantly Catholic island, and it was feared the conflict might have repercussions on the U. S. presidential campaign. Some parishioners booed Archbishop James P. Davis, ranking prelate, in an unprecedented action when he went into San Juan Cathedral to read the letter. Others applauded him.

At the town of Arecibo, Mrs. Munoz Marin, the governor's wife, walked out of San Felipe Cathedral with a large group during the letter-reading, and the priest, the Rev. William Crowley, called after them, "Get out. . . you are not wanted."

For the first time in two centuries, pickets paraded in front of San Juan Cathedral, carrying posters protesting the letter which Munoz Marin denounced as "incredible" medieval interference in an election being held under the U. S. flag and the Puerto Rican Constitution which recognizes separation of church and state.

Nemo Was Just Out For Walk, But He Was Misunderstood

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Nemo took a walk and it scared the dickens out of A. J. Rankin and his friends.

It happened Monday when Rankin, an engineer for Texas and Pacific Railroad, took Charles L. Burnett and two other men out to survey some property.

The grass in the field was about three feet tall. Burnett stooped to adjust some of the gear they were using when he heard one of the others scream:

"Look out, Charlie. There's a lion that's going to jump on you."

The four men made the 1,000-foot back to their car in a dead heat.

Later, it was learned Nemo the lion is a one-year-old pet of V. C. Masters and is generally kept in a cage in his office at Masters Electric Company. Once in a while he takes a walk for a little air.

Nemo has had his big fangs taken out, and has been declawed. He is well liked by most of the residents of the area and probably just wanted to make friends.

Even A Tomboy Can Be Dressed Right For Her Type

NEW YORK (UPI) — Next thing you know, someone will announce a "ten best dressed" list for teen-agers.

For the art of being chic no longer is solely for grownups. Even a tomboy can be dressed to suit her type. Dressing to "your type" is one of the cardinal rules that women like the Duchess of Windsor follow to land on the annual ten best.

Tips on fashion from the crawler to college girls stage are covered in the three newest consumer service publications from the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

The pamphlets are called, "How to Dress Your Little Girl," giving advice on purchasing for the two to 10-year-olds; "Mother-Daughter Guide to Fashion," for girls 10 to 14; and "College Wardrobe," for the older girls.

Now, about turning the tomboy into a fashion plate. The first booklet advised "bright, gay, sturdy, easy-to-clean clothes."

It suggested "sweaters and skirts, overblouses, jumpers, knits, stretch ski pants and boxy coats."

Leotards instead of socks or stockings that fall down will look neater and keep her out of trousers—some of the time.

For a tomboy's party clothes, choose taffeta, wool or saten, not fluffy organdy.

The booklet on dressing the two to 10 group also advised on dress for the demure and shy girls. For the demure, it suggested pretty, but not tricky clothes. Dark Victorian colors, such as garnet red, violet, deep blue, dark greens and brown. Choose small, precise prints; velvet, lace or starched white collars.

For the shy child, select simple lines, and don't overdress her. Choose easy-care clothes so that if she spills food at a party, scolding won't be necessary. If she has a bad feature, don't lead to further embarrassment by ignoring it in her clothing. If her feet are in, for instance, choose shoes to blend with the rest of her clothing. A contrasting color will make them more obvious.

The booklet advised building a child's wardrobe around outdoor clothing, the same as an adult wardrobe should be planned around coats. Choose dresses and separates in colors to go with her coats, snowsuits, jackets and sweaters, so she won't have colors clashing.

All three publications are available from the ILGWU's Union Label Department, Box 1491, GPO, New York 1, N. Y.

Ike Expected To Set Refugee Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Deputy presidential assistant Robert E. Merriam, after a consultation Monday with Gov. LeRoy Collins said he felt sure President Eisenhower would establish a committee to deal with the problems of the influx of Cuban refugees into Florida.

Merriam said he would recommend setting up a committee of federal, state and local officials to help find jobs, provide public assistance to the poor and have children admitted to schools.

He said immigration officials estimate about 32,500 Cubans have entered the United States since Fidel Castro took power in January, 1959. About 85 per cent live in Florida, he said.

Merriam said the federal government cannot act until it knows more about the number of refugees who need aid and how much they can aid themselves. The committee would supply the information, he said.

Kilpatrick Sought In Eustis Case

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Authorities disclosed Sunday that a federal grand jury has indicted a 20-year-old Eustis banker on charges of misappropriating nearly $41,000 from the Eustis National Bank and Trust Co. last year.

The indictment charges Robert E. Kilpatrick with 17 violations of federal banking laws. The indictment was returned last week but not made public until Sunday.

The FBI said Kilpatrick has been the object of a nationwide hunt since he disappeared on Aug. 9, 1959, becoming a prime suspect in the large scale embezzlement.

VAH-11 Receives Commendation

The Checkertails of VAH-11 received a commendation Friday from Rear Adm. Kenneth Craig, commander, Fleet Air Jacksonville, for their outstanding performance aboard the Franklin D. Roosevelt while deployed with the Sixth Fleet.

The commendation was presented to Cdr. Charles O. Donnaud, commanding officer by Capt. Frank G. Edwards, commanding officer of Heavy Attack Wing One, during inspection ceremonies conducted for the presentation of awards.

Admiral Craig's commendation cited the squadron for meeting or exceeding all requirements during the course of six NATO and Sixth Fleet exercises. The admiral further commended the squadron for establishing an "outstanding safety record." The Checkertails are the first heavy attack squadron to complete a shipboard Sixth Fleet deployment without an aircraft accident.

After reading the commendation, Cdr. Donnaud presented individual awards to many members of the squadron. Nineteen officers and men were awarded coveted Navy "E's" for outstanding achievement in bombing and navigation and three men were awarded Good Conduct medals.

CAPT. F. G. EDWARDS read the citation commendation of Adm. G. Craig to the squadron during inspection ceremonies Friday at the Naval Air Station.

Realtors Discuss Various Projects

The Seminole County Board of Realtors met at Forest City for their regular monthly meeting. The group was taken through a beautiful lakefront home and asked to cooperate in the selling of the property.

C. F. Field, chairman of the Realtors Industrial Committee, reported on progress being made by the industrial group. Before the committee is ready to function, a few more details need to be worked out. A special meeting will be called within a few days for this purpose, he said.

Mrs. Ruth Hamilton was elected vice-president for the year 1961.

President Neal Farmer asked the members who attended the realtors convention in Miami to report on their reactions to the convention and to the educational material they had received.

Farmer spoke on the convention, especially the award that was presented to the Seminole County realtors for an outstanding press book; Bill Stempert discussed trading; Wally Detrich, legal documents; Mrs. Hamilton on her reaction to her first realtors convention; Mrs. Jackson on information she had received on bringing

Campaign Among Youth Against Smoking Hailed By Cancer Group

NEW YORK (UPI) — A cigarette-smoking education campaign among school children was described today by the American Cancer Society as "a major cancer prevention program of public education."

The society's public relations director, Walter G. James, said the cigarette education program is being carried to high school students throughout the nation in cooperation with school officials.

James made the statements in a report submitted today to the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society which runs through Friday.

He said the society's color sound filmstrip "To Smoke Or Not To Smoke" has had a record response as an education tool on cancer. "More than 10,000 copies of the filmstrip, together with related material, have been distributed in the last eight months," James said.

The filmstrip stresses that the best prevention against lung cancer is not smoking. A leaflet distributed with it states "most scientists agree that cigarette smoking is a major cause of lung cancer."

Also included in the "cigarette kit" is a chart entitled "More Cigarettes, More Lung Cancer." It says: "What are your chances of getting lung cancer? It depends on how much and how long you have smoked. Half a pack of cigarettes a day? Your risk goes up eight times. Two packs or more? Twenty times greater."

James said the Illinois, Pennsylvania, Missouri and California divisions of the cancer society had put about 3,000 of the anti-cigarette filmstrips in use.

As a result of first reaction to the program, James said, the society is considering the calling of a youth conference on smoking, featuring teen-age leaders from all nations.
