ADVICES DO NOT STATE EXTENT OF LAST NIGHT'S QUAKE WORST IS FEARED

Bodies Are Piled in Heaps in Many Towns and Burned

SANTIAGO, Nov. 14.—Chile was again visited by earthquake shocks late last night. Severe tremors were felt at Lasercana and at Seaport Constitucion, according to advices. Thompson's appearance roused upon the assembled veterans like the explosion of a shell in their midst.

WORK ON WILSON DAM AT MUSCLE SHOALS RESUMES WORLD'S LARGEST POWER DAM

Furnished With Congressional Appropriations Engineers Proceed

FLORENCE, Ala., Nov. 14.—The roar of construction work on the great Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals is again sounding through the valleys and over the hills along the Tennessee river. The federal government has stepped in to rescue from possible denial the spectacular war-time enterprise and power projects, which sprang up almost overnight, involved in the building of what will be the world's largest water power dam.

United States army engineers, who have just been furnished with $8,000,000 in congressional appropriations, are once more proceeding with the work of harnessing the mighty waters of the Tennessee under a government program which provides for the completion of the Wilson dam, the installation of machinery, and the furnishing of electrical "juice" by the late winter of 1925 or the early spring of 1926.

This program is so definite that the army appropriation bill to be introduced in congress December 1 is to contain an item making available $8,000,000 additional for the work for the fiscal year 1923-24. They will be used for the purpose of completing the dam and installing machinery after the first of the new year, before the winter season sets in.

or drive his machinery with the electrical energy which is to come from the harnessing of the waters now to be brought under the guiding hand of man. Questions such as whether Chattanooga, Memphis, Pensacola, or other communities are to use the electrical energy from the Tennessee finally for cheap power for manufacturing purposes are questions which give the army engineer dam builder no concern whatever.

All these army dam builders have known or cared is that they have been halted in their work since April 15, 1921, by lack of money, when the dam was one-third completed, at which time the air began to be filled with the roar, not of dam building, but of who should finally use the dam.

The armistice had come. Appropriations had dribbled for a while, then completely stopped. Armed soldiers faded from the picture of the great work. The dam builders were obliged to turn their backs on their war-time picture of furnishing ultratelephone cables for the army in France. A means of the water power of the Tennessee, which had called into being the plans for the dam. For a time it seemed as if the great dam would be a heap.

JAPANESE ARE DECLARED TO BE "NOT WHITE"

MAY HAVE FAR REACHING EFFECT ON POLITICS OF THE ENTIRE WORLD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Japanese cannot be naturalized in the United States and cannot become citizens of this country, the supreme court of the United States decided today in its first consideration of federal statutes bearing on the subject. The decision was the first delivered by Justice Sutherland as member of the court, and was handed down in a case brought by Takao Ozawa, who, in 1911, applied for citizenship in Hawaii.

The ruling is expected to attract wide attention, not only in the United States but abroad, notwithstanding the failure of the court to make any reference to its diplomatic significance. The case has long been pending in the supreme court and last term when reached for argument during the conference on limitation of argument and Eastern questions, consideration was postponed at the request of the department of justice. No conference is to be found in the decision to the gentlemen's agreement under which Japanese immigration into the country has been regulated.

In the Ozawa case, the court stated that there is not implied either in the legislation or in our interpretation of it, any suggestion of individual unworthiness or racial inferiority. These considerations are in no manner involved. It also referred to the "complimentary" terms used in describing in the papers presented in the court "the culture and enlightenment of the Japanese people." With such an estimate, the court said, it had "no reason to disagree." Such matters, however, Justice Sutherland stated could not enter into the decision of the case. "We have no opinion in the matter," he said, "other than to ascertain the will of congress and declare it."

Two questions decided by the court were whether the general naturalization act of June 29, 1906, was limited by the provisions of section 1169 of the revised statutes, authorizing the naturalization of "free white persons," and those of African birth and descent and whether, if so limited, Japanese were eligible to naturalization. In an exhaustive analysis of the history of the legislation, the court held that section 1169 was in full force and that under it Japanese could not obtain citizenship in this country.

The court stated that "in all of the naturalization acts from 1790 to 1906, the privilege of naturalization was confined to white persons (with the addition, in 1870, of those of African nativity and descent) although the exact wording of the various statutes was not always the same."

Having sustained section 1169, the court then proceeded to discuss whether Japanese are "free white persons" within the meaning of the statute. It was the intention of congress, the court held, "to confer the privilege of citizenship upon that class of persons whom the fathers knew as white, and to deny it to all who could not be so classified."

"The federal and state courts in almost unbroken line have held that the words 'white person' were meant to indicate only a person of what is popularly known as the Caucasian race. With the conclusion reached we see no reason to differ," said the decision.

Theo. J. Miller is in receipt of a letter from his son, Dr. O. J. Miller, who is stationed at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 45, at Biltmore, N. C., conveying the sad intelligence that Mary, one of the twin daughters of Dr. Miller, had been run over by a truck on Armistice Day and severely, if not seriously, injured.

Immediately after the accident the little one was rushed to the hospital where it was found that there was no evidence of injury to her spine, ribs or other chest bones were broken, but that her right thigh was broken in the middle third. A tracery of graceful asparagus fern and red and white rose buds bordered the table, and in the center a tall silver basket held red and white roses, its handle tied with a red tulle bow. On the silver candlesticks were tiny hives of the same vivid hue. Invited to be present were three representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic: A. Robbins, C. F. Haskins and M. F. Robinson. PUBLIC FORUM

"WHY HAVE TRAFFIC LAWS?"

Any citizen of the United States will admit that to have order we must have law. These laws are formed by people who have the welfare of the entire public in mind and not solely for individuals, therefore traffic laws should apply to all alike, if one person is allowed to make thirty miles per hour when the law says fifteen, why should not all persons be allowed the additional fifteen miles per hour?

When the "impudent, unkept youth" enforces the law, is he not fulfilling his duty? Is this not the thing for which he receives pay, not graft but a fixed salary? Rather than shun a town that is orderly would not any law abiding citizen prefer a town with rigid enforcement of the ordinances, in which to rear his family, where his children could be trusted to cross the street in safety rather than be imperiled by speeders.

If considering one man's pride is more orderly than guarding the welfare of others, then I say abolish all order and traffic laws, but hold fast to your pride.

A SPEEDER, WHO ALSO PARTED WITH A PERFECTLY GOOD TEN.

JACKSONVILLE LADY PRAISES NEW TREATMENT

Was So Nervous and Run-Down She Couldn't Do Housework

Jacksonville, November 13.—Among the prominent people who are praising RECUMA the new treatment introduced here only a short time ago, is the wife of Mr. George A. Frank, who is prominently identified with the firm of Edenfield & Brown, 18 West Forsyth Street.

Mrs. Frank is very well known, and her experience with RECUMA will be read with unusual interest. "My wife suffered for months from extreme nervousness, headaches, and was easily excitable," said Mr. Frank.

"But now, after taking just one bottle of RECUMA for not more than a steady and healthy sleep, and she has no more signs of headaches.

"Last Monday we went to a ball game for the first time in months and all the excitement didn't have the least effect on her, when such a strenuous afternoon would have been enough to put her in bed before she began taking RECUMA.

"We simply can't say enough for RECUMA, and if there is anyone else in Florida suffering as Mrs. Frank was, we want them to know that RECUMA will relieve them quick."

Local People Anxious

This statement will undoubtedly prove just what many people here have been waiting for to satisfy themselves about RECUMA and the Union Pharmacy will be glad to explain the reason for such quick action to be derived by using this new treatment.—Adv.

(By The Associated Press) TAVARES, Nov. 14.—The Lake County Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago conducted an advertising campaign in newspapers throughout the country, and one result was startling. It happened that persons who desired information were requested to write "Tavarae, Lako County, Florida." The "Lake County" saved the day, for postal clerks for mail received during the last thirty days was addressed to "Tavarae" spelled in fifty-six different ways. POSTERS ANNOUNCE COMING OF SPARKS' BIG R-RING CIRCUS

The bill posters are here. The red and gold wagons are coming. The No. 2 advertising car of the Sparks Big R-Ring Circus arrived in Sanford this morning with twenty-two posters, lithographers and advertising men aboard. The big show will be in Sanford, Tuesday, November 28, two performances. The Sparks circus bears the distinction of being the oldest, largest and best on road and this season takes the road with an entirely new equipment. The animal acts this year are better than ever, the winter months have spent in training many additional acts and the two hour program is filled with animal features, many of them with the human acrobats in performing difficult feats. It's going to be a thrilling show from the opening act—the two herds of monster elephants, each group being worked by a lady trainer—to the Great Koban, who causes gasps of wonder and amazement at his death defying slides, backward and forward, from the loftiest point of the large tent to the ground—a distance of 150 feet. Are there clowns? Yes, forty of them and every one of these funmakers can produce more laughs in a minute than all the "tin Lizzie" jokes can in a century, and Pete Mardo's clown band is one of the hits of the show. The varied two hour program contains two score or more of high class acrobatic stars, wonderful riding acts and high school horses. Remember the day and date, Tuesday, November 28th.

SOFT DRINK STANDS NOT BE SCREENED IN PENSACOLA CITY

(By The Associated Press) Pensacola, Nov. 14.—Screens at the entrances of saloons in the days before prohibition were the targets of temperance workers and others who believed publicity would go a long way toward correcting the evils of the bar room, and when the county went dry it was believed they could be relegated to the museums. Several operators of soft drink emporiums here, however, hung screens at the entrances of their places and became the subject of attack. An ordinance was enacted prohibiting screens that would obstruct the view from the outside, and for failure to comply with the law nine business men were haled into court last week. Recorder Morey held that the screen law was not violated if no alcoholic drinks were sold, and the cases were dismissed.

Second sheets, 8 1/2 x 11, only 50c per 1,000, while they last, at Herald office.

Three Killed in Airplane Smash

(By The Associated Press) LEBOURGET, France, Nov. 14.—M. Parrot, a noted French aviator and two mechanics, were killed when his plane crashed to the ground during the competition for the grand prix for commercial airplanes here.

The War Department has granted a permit for construction of the proposed bridge over the Indian river at Quany, the permit having been reserved by the bridge commissioners a day or so ago. Immediate steps will be taken to dispose of the $35,000 bond issue some months ago, which has been held up pending issuance of the permit.
