Pitching Four - Hit Ball, Bazner Paven Way For Win

Smith Has Perfect Night To Lead 12 Hit Attack On DeLand Hurler; Nats Play Here Tonight

Pitching four-hit ball, Hank Bazner fanned 11 men Monday night as Sanford collected 12 hits to defeat the DeLand Reds 5 to 1 in DeLand.

Bobby Smith, Lookout second baseman, led the Sanford batting attack with three safeties in three trips to the plate while Bazner and De Ramus each got one base blow in four trips.

John Red first baseman, got two of the Reds four hits.

While Bazner was whiffing 11, Smith managed to have two hits fall out by the strike-out quota. Bazner walked three and Porter issued only one free pass.

The Sanford hurler had the game under control from the start. He was never in trouble and kept the four hits well scattered.

Tonight the Orlando Senators come to Sanford to engage the Lookouts in the first of the usual two-game series. Beginning with next week all games start at 8:00 o'clock instead of the usual 8:15 o'clock.

Monkey Catchers Are Aided By Gland Study

SINGAPORE, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Hundreds of itinerant monkey-catchers in British Malaya are getting employment through the rapid increase in gland research activities in the United States.

These catchers receive nearly 7 dollars for a good "rhinoceros," the most valuable type of animal.

Every steamer leaving Singapore for eastern ports in the United States is carrying several crates of fat, healthy monkeys.

Captain Jimmy Oxford Will Hold Key Position On 'Gator Eleven

THE STANDINGS

By FRANK WRIGHT

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 23.—In this first discussion of the 1938 football prospects at the university, it seems fitting to begin with a review of that position on the team where Jimmy Oxford, the team captain, has played with definite credit for two seasons. Therefore, we look at the center position, indeed a key position in football, and the principals involved are Captain Oxford, Leesburg, who will be a senior; John Berry, from Nashville, Tenn., and Mike Bucha (pronounced Boo-ha), from Bridgeport, Pa. These are the three Coach Josh Cody has invited back for practice beginning Sept. 1.

Oxford told me recently that he had just learned to play real football at the close of this past season. Two years under Cody, a master of line play, and one of them with Sam McAllister aiding, brought Oxford into the forefront as a college football player. In the last five games last fall, Jimmy faced such widely known and acclaimed centers as Lumpkin of Georgia, Woods of Clemson, Chivington of Georgia Tech, Antley of Auburn, and Hinklebein of Kentucky, and a comparison of the play of the various men left Oxford with an exceedingly good reputation.

Jimmy was 23 just a few days ago. He weighs nearly 200 pounds, stands a good six feet, one inch. He looks like a football player, and he's been a good one. He should feel the inspiration of the honor of the captaincy, and mix with it the experience he has gained, and the natural zest which seems to be his to be the best possible player at his position, and come close to whatever one would want to consider as "tops" in 1938.

Behind Jimmy are the two sophomores; and one of them, Berry, while he's got to prove his mettle in variety competition, holds unusual promise. He has shown in high school ball and his freshman play here that he has exceptional ability in moving out of his position and being "down the field," where his blocking can be so significant. Berry is smart, and a born competitor. Bucha is a sturdy, hard-plugging sort of boy, whose defensive play has thus far been his strongest point.

The outlook at center is indeed encouraging, with Oxford moving into his final year, with the opportunity apparently before him of becoming a very fine center. And surely no one with John Berry and Mike Bucha behind him, can afford ever to be anything but at his best.

6-4 Victory Over Leesburg Advance Senators To Third

G-Men Split Double Bill With Azaleas; Saints Down Islets

The Orlando Senators defeated the league leading Leesburg Gendollers 6 to 4 last night to advance into third place in the league's standings while the Gainesville G-Men split a double bill with the Palatka Azaleas and the St. Augustine Saints took a decision from the Daytona Beach Islanders by a 4 to 1 margin.

Staging a first inning scoring spree off the two walks given by Hardee before he was yanked in favor of Travis, the Senators pushed across four runs and added two more in the second to take a lead that was never tilted by the hard fighting Gons who pushed across one run in each the fourth fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Hardee gave up six hits while Overstreet permitted the visitors seven.

In Gainesville, the Azaleas copped the afternoon affair from the second place side by a score of 6 to 4 but the G-Men came back in the nightcap to nose out the Palatka crew three to two.

At Daytona Beach, Carl Weigel led the Islets down with six scattered hits and drove in two runs himself to lead the Saints to a 4 to 1 victory over the coastal city outfit. The Saints trumped on the nine hit hurling of Pete Kamp in the fourth to drive in three runs which with the one run pushed across in the second gave the Ancient City crew the winning margin. The Islets took an early lead by pushing across their first and only run in the first inning but failed to rally after the visitors spree in the fourth.

"B" Squad Drills To Be Emphasized By Local Mentor

McLucas States Fed Eleven To Begin Training Sept. 6

With the opening practice of the football season just a couple of weeks away—Sept. 6 to be exact, Head Coach Leonard L. McLucas has announced that a great deal of emphasis will be placed upon training a "B" squad this fall.

The "B" squad will in all probability have an attractive schedule of several games. However, as yet no games have been definitely lined-up, it was pointed out.

Coach McLucas urged all sophomores and freshmen to come out for the "B" squad, declaring that every man who comes out will be thoroughly tried. He also pointed out his intention of providing uniforms for every man on the second squad.

It is Coach McLucas' intention to use mainly juniors and seniors on the varsity squad with perhaps two or three promising sophomores. In the main, though, the freshmen and sophomores will be trained on the "B" squad.

Asking that all men report in A-1 condition on Sept. 6, the Seminole coach said he expected all players to be ready for intensive training of two drills daily until school opens Sept. 12.

It sentenced "Smiler," an aged native, to two years banishment from his tribe for killing a fellow tribesman.

The court is composed of a special magistrate, a superintendent of native hospitals, a Crown law representative, the professor of native affairs, and "Sambo," headman of "Smiler's" tribe.

Indignant Wives May Picket Their Husband

CALCUTTA, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A number of women of South India, in the Punjab, have decided that one wife is enough for their husbands.

They have formed themselves into a "monogamy brigade" to force their husbands not to take second wives.

Should moral persuasion fail, peaceful picketing of the "panda"—the tent where the second marriage takes place—will be resorted to.

Finally, the weapon of social boycott will be used.

Hospital Cost Cannot Be More Than $127,000

$95,000 Is Listed As Cost Of Building; Nurses Home To Be Built For $6,500 $68,850 Will Be County's Share

Voters To Decide On Bond Issue For Institution Sept. 27

The application in the Public Works Administration for funds with which to construct a County-owned hospital provides for an expenditure of an amount not to exceed $127,000 for constructing and equipping the proposed three-story, fireproof institution, according to figures listed on a copy of the project application.

Construction of the brick building was estimated by Architect Elton J. Moughton at $95,000 while the estimated cost of the nurses home to be built in connection with the institution is $6,500. The cost of walkways and drives approaching the main building was listed at $2,900 while the balance of the funds would be taken up by engineers and architect fees, liability insurance, performance bond, the cost of selling the bonds, project and other incidentals.

Mr. Moughton, who drew up the plans and specifications for the project stated that these estimates had been set high enough to care for any fluctuation in the price of materials, which is in accordance with the requirements of the P.W.A.

The hospital committee which has been appointed to expedite the project, pointed out that when contracts are let for construction of the building the cost is estimated at $127,000.

Frank Hawks And Companion Die In Airplane Accident

EAST AURORA, N. Y., Aug. 23. (AP) Commander Frank Hawks and a civilian companion, J. Hazard Campbell of East Aurora, were killed last night in a flaming plane crash less than a year after Hawks gave up the speed flying which made him famous and took up "safety and comfort" flying.

The tiny Guinn Aircar they were flying smashed into a high tension wire and fell to the earth in flames.

Horrified farmers in the area pulled the two men from their burning craft but Hawks died a few hours later in a Buffalo hospital. The aircraft burst to a mass of twisted wreckage.

A fire extinguisher in the plane exploded, adding to the danger of those seeking to aid the two men.

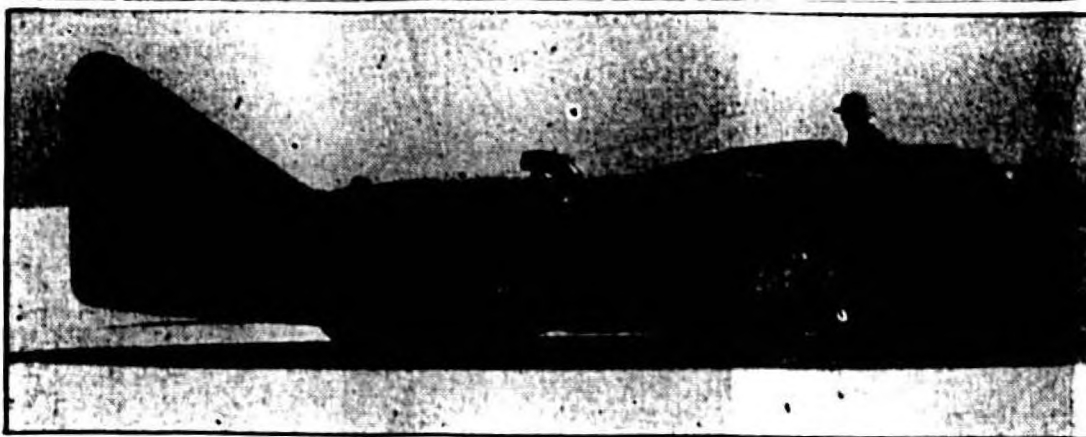

"Hawks and his companion were" taking off from the polo field on the E. H. Rogers estate," J. M. Guinn, president of the Guinn Aircar corporation, said. "Hawks was demonstrating the craft to Campbell. Wind conditions were against them. They had to take off the long way of the field and apparently they were up in the air before they saw the wire and it was too late to avoid them."

The stubby biplane with its three landing wheels and similarity to an automobile in operation was designed for safety and simplicity in operation. Hawks was a vice president in the Aircar company.

M. E. Carlin, a transport pilot who flew from New York with Hawks yesterday, said Hawks had given up all speed flying about a year ago and had been concentrating on "safety and comfort" flying.

What we can't understand is why New Deal chieftains persist in denying that they are trying to establish a dictatorship.

The testimony now being presented before the House Un-American Activities Committee is interesting if true.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt would be the dictator doesn't make it any the less a dictatorship.

The Governor's Successor

Although everyone still hopes that Governor Cone will resume his duties at Tallahassee, the nature of his ailment and the seriousness of his condition could not but arouse considerable speculation throughout the state as to what would happen in the event of his death.

It seems to be pretty well established and everyone seems fairly well informed of the fact that the President of the Senate, in the present case, D. Stuart Gillis of DeFuniak Springs, assumes the Governor's office in the event of his death or permanent incapacitation.

Under the present laws of Florida, if a vacancy in the office of Governor were to occur before the November election, Senator Gillis would immediately become Governor.

There is of course nothing to prevent Senator Gillis, if he became Governor before November, from entering the primary as a candidate to succeed himself in November.

Whatever is said here with respect to the possibilities of these political developments is of course dependent upon the course of Governor Cone's illness.

It's a poor day in Europe in this glorious era of civilization that doesn't see some international treaty scrapped.

Bumper Wheat Crop

Newspaper readers may have been surprised yesterday to read, in spite of starving millions in China and Russia, in spite of the drastic restrictions on the sale of bread in Germany, in spite of the use of substitutes for bread in Italy, in spite of all the evidences there are in this country and throughout the whole world, that millions of people actually are not having enough to eat, that the world wheat crop is 900,000,000 bushels too big.

The wheat-producing nations of the world, of which the United States is perhaps foremost, will this year produce four billion bushels of wheat, enough to supply the dietary wants of every man, woman and child in the world.

For more than five years the policy of our government has been to reduce wheat production. It has done this by paying farmers not to grow wheat. It has done this by paying farmers to grow crops other than wheat.

With all the acreage taken out of wheat production, one wonders why it is that we have a record wheat crop this year. A strange inconsistency in the government's policy opens up new land for cultivation as fast as former wheat acreage is turned to the production of something else.

But even the biggest American wheat crop on record, and even the bumper world crop of four billion bushels would not be too much wheat to feed the people of the world if governments could agree on a proper distribution of this essential food.

According to the findings of Dr. Leonildo Ribeiro, Brazilian fingerprint expert, the whorling patterns which vary characteristically with the individual are affected by three diseases: leprosy, radio dermatitis, and scleroderma.

FATS IN THE FIRE AND I AM A LIAR... There may be more poetry than truth in this but as one newspaper man to another, I think we should admit our mistakes and I made one last summer when I predicted that President Roosevelt would not make reprisals against those who opposed his program.

WATCH THIS—Even if the President fails in this attempt to purge the conservatives there is still a strong possibility that he will control the Party since a majority of the Senate and House were generally loyal.

Tests With Canned Flowers Successful

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Some tropical plants which never flower in temperate latitudes bloom all summer under a special treatment at Indiana University.

For about two weeks, when the plants are small, for two or three hours each day it is covered with a can. That is all. After that, with no further covering, the plant blooms and seeds as if it were home in the tropics.

New horizons for plant breeding are promised by work of this kind. Some varieties of tropical corn respond to the "canned" treatment. This means that the qualities of the tropical plant can be crossed with temperate ones.

Cans have been used at Indiana University because they are cheap and easy. Any other way of blanketing the daylight would do as well.

Dr. Paul Westhorpe, professor of botany, is making the can experiments. To create a cereal related to corn, was the first tropical plant to respond to this treatment. What range of tropical plants will bloom in this manner in the temperate latitudes, Dr. Westhorpe does not know. He has enough samples to show that possibilities are wide.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — This department gathers that the Supreme Court would like Mr. Roosevelt to appoint a member who knows western irrigation and mining law and that calls for a western man.

And the western men most often mentioned heretofore for the job are William Denman of San Francisco and Sam G. Brant of Albuquerque, New Mexico, members respectively of the ninth and tenth circuit courts.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, who himself could easily be called a westerner, already has recommended Felix Frankfurter, Harvard law professor.

Lacking on the Supreme Court bench just now is a specialist in irrigation and mining law as is known in the west. Besides the usual sense, politeness and common sense, the man for the job must have two complete branches of basic law, those dealing with water rights and metal mining.

Justice Van Devanter of Wyoming handled the bulk of such cases when he was on the court but he retired a year ago.

Just now a really serious test of the whole basic law of irrigation rights is arising in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation has intervened in a suit involving allocations of waters of the North Platte among the three states. In its supporting brief the government lays claim to certain water which heretofore the states have claimed as their own.

Hospital Cost Cannot Be More Than $127,000

Total cost of construction would likely be considerably lower than the tentative estimates which were set out in the project. If this is true County Attorney E. F. Housholder pointed out, the number of bonds not required to pay the county's share of the project will not be sold.

However, it was indicated that in no instance could the cost of construction exceed the amount set up in the project.

The bond issue on which Seminole County freeholders will vote in the election on Sept. 27, will be $100,000 although the county's share of the cost is actually $60,000. If the project is approved by the Public Works Administration and by local freeholders, the PWA will make an outright grant of 15 percent or $5,100 in federal funds, while the county's share of $70,000 would be paid by the R. F. P.

Following a scrutiny of the special bill which provides for referendum on the bond issue for the hospital, Mr. Housholder explained that from the text of the bill the County Commissioners evidently were not prohibited from acting at their own discretion in constructing a hospital without federal aid in the event the PWA turned the project down. He declared, however, that there was very little likelihood that the Commissioners would take such action. It has been previously stated erroneously that the bonds could not be sold unless a grant of at least 40 percent was secured from the PWA or other federal agency.

Mr. Housholder also stated that the special bill provides specifically for a levy not to exceed two mills over a period of 20 years for retirement of the bonds payment of the 4 percent interest and maintenance of the hospital.

Having determined about the jump, the scientists turned their attention to the sort of host that the flea likes best. They found that fleas will wander back and forth between man and dog, but they prefer to jump from a dog to a man.

Lookout, Senator Contest At Local Park Rained Out

Other Loop Games Are Won By Saints, Islanders And Gons

With the Sanford-Orlando game here Tuesday night rained out other state league battles saw St. Augustine take Palatka 3 to 2, Gainesville win over Daytona Beach 8 to 7, and Leesburg win both ends of a twin bill with the Deland club 4 to 2 and 4 to 0.

In the Saints home ballgame Lefty Brewer won his 22nd game of the season for the Ancient City club. Giving up but five hits, the Saint southpaw fanned 15 batters. In the Azaleas' half of the ninth a rally left them in a tie 2 to 2 with the Saints half coming up. A prelude play enabled Brewer to score the winning run. He was trapped between third and home plate but Ocelliani hit Brewer on the throw to home plate and he came across with the winning run.

Winning his 18th game of the season, Tom Savage hit an infield grounder in the last half of the ninth last night in Gainesville with the bases loaded and one out to drive across the necessary run for victory. The Islanders had come from behind to tie the score in the seventh and add two in the eighth, mainly because of errors on the part of the G-Men.

In the first game of the Deland-Leesburg double header Leesburg won 4 to 2 although getting only five hits in Deland's nine. "Poison" Jake Bunch did the hurrying for the Gondoliers while Wolfberger took the mound for the Reds. Bunch struck out eight while Wolfberger struck out five. The former walked only

Tackle Berth Well Taken Care Of On 'Gator Eleven

By FRANK WRIGHT

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 24.

Mid-way the past football season, Josh Cody told a civic club audience that he believed Clark Goff would become one of the best tackles in Southern football history. At the time, Goff, a junior, but powerfully built chap six feet two inches tall, and weighing 220 pounds, was holding his own against all competition, and because he was a sophomore, he was just beginning college varsity football.

Now, nearly a year later, Josh Cody still believes what he predicted, and Goff, probably five pounds heavier, but not yet 20 years old, gives no indication that he'll spoil the highest possible tribute to his playing ability which his coach has given him.

Josh Cody knows what great tackle play is. He was one whole of a tackle himself in pre-war days and they say at Vanderbilt he will always be on their all-time football team.

Goff, if he has a handicap, may find it in his youthfulness. Naturally modest, inclined yet to be bashful, he probably can forget his timidity when he stalks into the opposing line; but he must put himself against older and more seasoned men. With the exception of two sophomores and two tackle candidates, Pop Seestedt and Ralph Kelmon, Goff is the youngest man on the Florida line from end to end. The heavier, too, but still one to three years younger than the average of his fellow linemen.

Nevertheless, Goff should take care of Florida's left tackle. On the other side of it it looks like big Burrell Hassett, who'll play at 210 at least like Goff, he was a sophomore last year, but didn't come up to the varsity as Goff had done with a sensational record. Goff had played three years at Scott High, Pittsburgh, and his team had never been defeated. Hassett, from Miami, finished prep days at Riverside, and was considered an average prospect.

When Charlie Krejcir was shifted to end last Fall in the Temple game at Philadelphia, it was Hassett who got the nod from Coach Cody. The Miami boy stepped in and played a beautiful ball game. He had other chances, and did well, so well, in fact in the final tilt of the year with Kentucky, that his brief appearance in the game drew from Mentor Cody the comment, "for five minutes in that game I think Hassett showed me the finest tackle play I saw from anyone all season."

Hassett holds the key if he pushes on into this, his junior year, with the calibre of ball he played last Fall as a sophomore, and aims from game to game to make himself an increasingly better player, then Josh Cody feels he will have two dandy tackles.

John Crabtree, a West Palm Beach boy, who has been on the squad a couple of seasons, but winning his first letter last Fall, is no flash, but he looked dependable in the charges he had last season. Nearly a 200-pounder himself, Crabtree (who's no relation to one-time Gator satellite Cannonball (Iyle Crabtree) seems to be a boy who can hold his own. He is not fast, as big, fast men go, but he ought to be better this season, and this remembering that he wasn't bad at all a year ago.

There's been some talk of possibly making a tackle of Gordon Gardner this year. He has had a bit of play there, but it's too early to say. What Goff, Hassett and Crabtree show in the early weeks of September will determine any such shifts, says coach Cody.

Coming up from the frosh are three boys, Ed Waszak, from Chicago, Ralph Kelmon, from Escambia, Pa., and Pop Seestedt, from Ft. Lauderdale. They'll have to step in and prove what they can do. Waszak is a couple of years older than the other two boys, seems much stronger, more coordinated than twelve months ago. Seestedt, at six foot, three, has the frame of a tackle. Kelmon, one of the brightest of all the football boys in his school work, is, as sophomore material goes, promising.

And so, the Gators start practice with six tackles, untried back only less from last season is Krejcir, a boy who came to Gatorland as a junior college grad, which meant he only had two eligible seasons. He was beginning to play exceptional ball when his career closed last December 15. It is too bad he had to end up just when he appeared on the threshold of his greatest play.

The tackle situation, of all the line positions, looks like it might produce the cause for some shifting. For instance, Gardner from guard to tackle, but if the boys don't stand still, or go backward, then there should not be much worry about Goff, Hassett, Crabtree and Company, and some exceptionally good tackle play may be in store.

They'll play tackle for Florida's 1938 "fighting Gators." Clark Goff upper right, as a sophomore last fall, looked like one of the best in the South. Coach Josh Cody believes Burrell Hassett, at left, who finished last season in top form, will have a good season. John Crabtree, with two seasons experience, is at the lower right.

A Hand to Serve YOU

You, and millions of other telephone users in the United States, called upon the resources of the Bell System for an average of 66,210,000 local calls and 2,580,000 toll calls every day in 1937.

This is a RETAIL business. Every call has to be made to order. Nor are there any "closing hours" in telephone offices, for in this country you get 24-hour service.

Giving this service requires a large organization, which more than a half-century of experience has divided into five major units. Together, they form the Bell System.

1. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company is the parent company. It maintains a large staff of experts and engineers for handling general telephone problems.

2. The "Long Lines" department of the American Company operates a nation-wide network of long distance telephone lines used for telephone, teletypewriter, radio, telephotography and other communications.

3. The Bell Telephone Laboratories is the research organization, which creates and develops new apparatus for improving telephone service.

4. The Western Electric Company manufactures standard design, high-quality telephone apparatus; purchases supplies on a large scale; distributes telephone equipment and supplies. Whenever and wherever emergencies occur, a "Western" warehouse is never more than a few hours away.

5. The 21 operating companies, of which Southern Bell is one, devote themselves to the problems of giving telephone service in their respective areas.

There is no overlapping of functions among the five digits of the hand that serves you. Each has developed so that you may have the most telephone service, and the best, at the least cost consistent with financial safety.

Defense Cross Examines Story Against Hines

Weinberg Is Unruffled As He Denies Theft Accusations Made By Stryker

Defendant Says Witness Is Lying

Two Named By State's Star Witness Deny Any Part In Graft

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Unruffled and unflinching cross-examination, George Weinberg, 36, business manager of old Dutch Schultz gang, today denied accusations by the counsel for James J. Hines that he stole $300,000 from the Schultz "policy empire."

Weinberg, returning his testimony against Hines, Tammany district leader on trial charged with conspiracy to extort political protection to a gang, was questioned closely about the Schultz treasury.

Defense counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker turned back to Weinberg's conviction at the age of 19 for conspiring to commit a burglary but Weinberg insisted his case had been to drive the burglars away in a taxicab and that he never had participated directly.

Yesterday Hines stood up in Supreme Court and cried out that George Weinberg was lying. The dramatic moment came late in the afternoon after Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief defense lawyer, had begun a sharp cross-examination of the witness.

A city magistrate ruled a former district attorney denied testimony of Weinberg, linking them with the conspiracy charges against Hines.

Weinberg testified that he had given Hines $30,000 for former District Attorney William C. Dodge's campaign in 1933, and that Magistrate Hulon Capshaw had assured Hines, before a policy case came up in his court, "I haven't failed you yet; I'll take care of it."

Dodge, in an out of court statement, said:

"I never saw him (Weinberg); never spoke to him and he never

Mrs. Wight Has Returned From New York Trip

Local Resident Sees Numerous Celebrities At Chautauqua

Mrs. Henry Wight who returned Tuesday from a vacation spent in Chautauqua, N. Y. Thursday characterized the chautauqua as one of the finest in the 11 seasons she has attended. Accompanying Mrs. Wight were Mr. Wight and their grandson, Peter Mero.

There were several exceptional lectures, Mrs. Wight said, including William Lyon Phelps, the Yale professor, Sir Herbert Ames, and Dr. Edgar Fischer. Symphony concerts were offered three times each week for the entire six weeks of the season under the direction of Albert Stessel, Mischa Mischakoff, who was concert master for Toscanini, acted as concert master for the orchestra which was composed of 60 men.

George Miquelle played first cello. He has been called the finest cellist in America. George Barrere, known as the world's greatest flutist, also played. In addition to the concerts there were five plays and six operas.

Among the artists were Albert Spalding, Richard Crooks, Gladys Swarthout.

Mrs. Wight declared the institution is progressing rapidly and is now out of debt and several new structures are being built.

During the season, she said, over 25,000 persons visited Chautauqua. This made her 11th season and since 1929 she has raised only one.

Many Arrests Expected In Prison Death

Investigators Plan To Test Cells To Find If They Are Planned Roasters

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Arrest of at least eight persons on the "baking to death" of a convict, who led a hunger strike at Philadelphia county prison, was predicted today by Governor Charles A. Harsch.

He said the investigation he is conducting with District Attorney John A. Boyle indicated at least that many would be implicated in the deaths of the men in steam-heated, almost air-tight punishment cells.

State prison investigators said they plan to "turn on the heat" and enter the stuffy cells to learn whether the punishment cell block was a "liberally planned roaster."

Governor Harsch said he would ask Gov. George Earle for troops to take over the prison during the investigation.

Yesterday Mayor S. Davis Wilson ordered the arrest of two guards, Alfred E. Hirschi, 38, and Francis Smith, 41. Hirschi and Smith were taken to city hall.

When the men appeared before Nathan Bell, Assistant District Attorney John A. Boyle protested that the arrests were "premature" and asked the magistrate to exclude testimony believed agreed and held the guards without bail for a hearing next Tuesday.

Later Boyle obtained from Common Pleas Judge Gerald F. Flood a writ transferring the guards from police custody to that of the district attorney. He notified police his office was "taking complete charge of the investigation."

Flood held the men in $2,500 bail and ordered them brought before him next Tuesday. The attorney promised to raise bail for their early release.

Whittington Is Chosen Judge For National Fox Hunt

C. C. Whittington, local hound enthusiast, has been chosen as one of the judges for the 45th annual run of the National Fox Hunters Association to be held this year in Winchester, Ky. during the week beginning Nov. 17.

Mr. Whittington is the first Floridian ever to be given the distinction of judging the hounds at the national meet. He was awarded this honor for his activities in judging local, state and regional field trials throughout the Southeast during the past five years.

At least 600 hounds from all over the United States will participate in the week's chasing of red fox. Mr. Whittington stated, pointing out that there would be two main events in the chase. The first event will be a chase futurity with a purse of $500 for the winning hound. Mr. Whittington said, explaining that hounds in this event were limited according to age and were required to meet other exacting standards. The second event will be the National All-Age Championship run in which the owners of the winning dogs will be awarded trophies of many kinds.

In conjunction with the field trials there will be a bench and a horse show, he said, adding that leading apertemen from all over the United States were making entries for the event.

Defective Auto Lights Are Menace To Safety On State's Highways, Hale Says

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 25. There are 17,941 motor vehicles in Florida being operated at night with defective lights, Arthur B. Hale, chairman of the State Road Department, said last week, basing his estimate on a study recently completed by the Division of Highway Planning Service of the State Road Department and the number of licensed motor vehicles in the state.

The study of the Highway Planning Survey covers actual observations of motor vehicles on the main rural highways at night traveling with defective lights. Observations were taken four times at each of the 128 key stations located at strategic points on the main highways throughout the state. The period of checking was from 10 P. M. to dawn.

The record of the study shows that during the course of the 501 observations made, a total of 70,647 motor vehicles passed the stations. Of this number 907, or 1.3 percent, had defective head lights and 2,306 or 3.3 percent, with defective tail lights. The study covers a period of one year.

D. W. Finley, commissioner of the Motor Vehicle Department, states that to date there are 428,287 licensed motor vehicles in the state. Using this number and the percentages shown above, Chairman Hale estimates that there are 5,059 motor vehicles being operated at night with defective head lights and 12,903 with defective tail lights; a total of 17,962.

And, says Chairman Hale, every one of these 17,941 defective motor vehicles is a constant menace to the safety of all persons using the state highways at night.
