City Opposes Countywide Drainage Levy Proposal

The City Commission met in special session Saturday afternoon and adopted a strongly worded resolution to the legislative delegation opposing any countywide drainage levy.

The County code bill is general state legislation which has the endorsement of the County Commission. The bill provides for supplemental powers for counties. The bill grants powers to counties to perform municipal services countywide and further allows additional powers of county taxation to provide these services.

Officials that property in a city may be taxed by the county for local services outside the city. In practice, there would be no need for annexation by or to municipalities, as residents in heavily populated areas adjacent to cities, would receive similar services as municipal citizens, without having to pay any city ad valorem taxes.

City Manager W. E. Knowles said that the county drainage committee had recommended that the bill be drafted on a district basis. The commission also voted to oppose any county tax imposed on municipalities, whereby the municipalities would not receive or participate in the benefits.

County Accused Of 'Lip Service'

City Manager W. E. Knowles accused the County Commission Saturday of "recognizing the city residents only when they are paying their tax bills."

Knowles said that the request was denied "on the basis that all the funds in the county budget had been spent or committed."

County Health Director Dr. Clyde Brothers is expected to appear before the County Commission Tuesday to explain proposed curtailment of health department services.

Bible Reading Appeal Looms

MIAMI (UPI)—The ruling of a circuit court judge, who Saturday upheld a 30-year-old state statute which calls for daily Bible readings in public schools, may be appealed by Dade County parents who call the practice unconstitutional.

Health Director To Explain Fund Needs To Board

State Of Emergency Declared As First Reports Indicate Heavy Casualties

United Press International A fighting force of Cuban rebels invaded their homeland by air and sea today only 90 miles from Havana, and Premier Fidel Castro declared a state of emergency.

Rebel troops swarmed ashore after midnight in the swampy area around the Bahia de Cochinos, the Bay of Pigs. The invasion area lies at the south of Matanzas Province below Havana.

First indications were that the casualties were heavy. Near midday the largest radio station in Havana, CMQ, was heard announcing that Castro had declared a state of national emergency.

As the government acted to fight off the invaders, Cuba had charged in the United Nations that the attack was waged by "mercenaries" from bases in Florida and Guatemala. The invasion, Cuba said, was financed by the United States.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk denied that the invasion came from American soil, but said the United States is sympathetic with the invaders' aims.

The first stage of the invasion began Saturday night when "hundreds of Cuban army of liberation troops" went ashore in Oriente Province in Eastern Cuba, revolutionary leaders claimed.

The broadcast statement by Castro said the invasion troops "are attacking various points of the national territory to the south of the province of Las Villas aided by aircraft and warships."

Government troops engaged the invaders at the beachhead, the broadcast said, and "are advancing against the enemy sure of victory."

Several hours after dawn the government's internal radio communications system, which had been commandeered by the army, reported invaders were dropping by parachute, that planes were bombing and strafing the beachhead area, and that two gunboats supported the assault.

President Jose Miro Cardona of the Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York said the assault was the beginning of the battle "to liberate our homeland from the despotic rule of Fidel Castro and rid Cuba of international cruelty and oppression."

Seminole County Harness Racing Legislation Passes Committee

The bill that would allow a harness racing permit in Seminole County was voted out of committee today.

Frederick said he and Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. stressed to the committee that the voters of Seminole County had approved harness racing in 1956 by a three to one majority.

Rep. Gordon Frederick reported that the House public entertainment committee approved the bill by a 11-1 vote, with Rep. George Hollahan of Dade County opposing. This also was the vote for another bill transferring an existing harness track from St. Johns to Broward County.

The Seminole legislators predicted they will pass. The committee voted against bringing out a third bill to give the racing commission authority to grant other harness tracks in Broward.

Congressional District Bill Tossed Into House

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A controversial interim committee bill to add four new congressional districts in Florida was tossed in the House today by Rep. W. E. Scott of Martin.

less scheduled to meet today include those on citrus, forestry, public health, and water conservation, public safety, livestock, appropriations, higher learning and public schools.

Air Force Pilot Reports On Air Attack Over Cuban City

EDITORS NOTE: Francis L. McCarthy, United Press International's Latin American editor obtained an exclusive radio-telephone interview with one of the Cuban air force pilots of the three planes which attacked three Cuban cities Saturday. The jet fighter pilot, who spoke freely for 15 minutes, said he came forward because Premier Fidel Castro had ridiculed news reports that the planes had taken off from Cuba. The only condition for releasing the dispatch was that the "foreign country" to which he fled would not be disclosed. Here is his story.

By CAPT. ORESTES ACOSTA
As told to UPI

I am slender, black-haired, just a plain Cuban. I learned to fly with Eduardo Ferrer and Miguel Yabur. I never flew for Batista Fulgencio Batista, former president of Cuba. I joined the air force after the triumph of the revolution. Before that I was a soldier in Escambray. I defected because there's pure Communism in Cuba now. Nobody can take it any more. I took off Saturday morning in my regular plane, a T33 jet trainer converted for combat. I had no bombs. I did not carry bombs on patrol. I plan to return to Santiago soon, but I'll keep to myself just when I will return. I lived in Santiago, but was born in Santa Clara, Las Villas Province. I had been planning to defect for about three months. We had prior consultations with people outside, but it was our own idea and we carried it out on our own initiative.

I arrived at the airport about 3 a.m. Saturday, flew for about an hour, then rendezvoused in the air at a pre-determined place with my two companions. We attacked our respective targets simultaneously. My target was Santiago. I machine-gunned plenty, I completely destroyed a Sea Fury a British-made propeller driven fighter on the ground.

It is absurd and typically Communist to say that the planes were flown by Americans. Castro is used to lying like that.

The Castro air force has about six jets. He now has less. Mine went. He has about six Sea Furies, two P52s, DC3s and PB5s. He has many helicopters.

Cuba. They say they are there to fight. Personally, I have not seen them fight. But they are there and they say they are ready to fight. There are about 80 Cuban pilots now training in Czechoslovakia, but some of them have already returned. I think I've talked about enough for tonight.

Geneva Club Meets To Study Civil Defense

The Geneva Home Demonstration Club met last Wednesday at the Community Hall where a program on "Civil Defense for Me and My Family" was the study of the day. Presenting a skit entitled "Home Preparedness — Family Living," were Mrs. Mammie Sieg as gran-

Mrs. John Maxwell as father, Mrs. Paul Maxwell as mother and Mrs. Roland Wesson as sister. A very informative talk on first aid in times of disaster was given by Public Health Nurse Mrs. Hayes. As it also is "Cancer Month," Mrs. Charles Lamb, registered nurse, gave a talk including the seven danger signals of cancer which can be recognized by an individual. Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent of Seminole County, expressed her approval of the Geneva's Club's display of a food which should be stored in case of emergency.

They Never Give Up

It seems to us that Gov. Bryant has taken too much upon himself in the matter of price fixing. With Bryant's backing, the legislature is considering a bill to forbid the use of prices in liquor advertising, thereby making it much more difficult for dealers willing to give the public a break to get their message across.

If this measure passes what's to prevent the Legislature from forbidding price advertising of radio and television sets, clothing, furniture and even groceries.

Regardless of what a person feels about whisky advertising this seems to us a foot in the door move. It will benefit nobody but a faction of liquor dealers . . . and we are afraid it will give new hope to the price fixers in all other fields.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Laura's case is more common than most parents think, so learn how to prepare the first-born child for the arrival of the new baby brother or sister. A lot of adults' anxiety is traced back to the "psychic trauma" inflicted on youngsters by thoughtless parents and relatives. Love must be developed, just like piano playing, so follow the plan outlined below.

CASE H-461: Laura L., aged 9, has a problem that bothers her mother.

"Dr. Crane," the latter began, "Laura is very well behaved around the house.

"But whenever she is alone with anybody else's infant, Laura will pinch the baby or even stick a pin in it, just to make it cry.

"She has two little brothers, one of whom is still a baby, but she never seems to mistreat them. It is always some strange baby. What is wrong with her, Dr. Crane? I thought ALL little girls had a natural maternal impulse?"

Children are neither cruel nor kindly at the outset. They are simply neutral.

But everybody is branded with this tattoo across his or her chest: "I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT."

If you parents will thus use tact before your second baby arrives, you can set the stage so that the new baby will make the first-born feel more important.

Many parents think the oldest child should just naturally love the newcomer. That's not true at all.

There is no native or instinctive love between brothers or sisters, as Cain so ably demonstrated when he slew his brother Abel.

Love must be cultivated, just like piano playing.

So how can the second baby make the first-born feel more important? That's the crucial problem that challenges every parent.

Laura was the only child who reigned supreme in her family for 9 years.

Then, without warning, an intruder usurped Laura's absolute monarchy. For her parents didn't prepare Laura for the next baby.

REMEMBER THAT NAME?

How About Setting Up A Middle-Aged Corps, Too?

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME—Should President Kennedy's Peace Corps be limited to the young?

How about a middle-aged corps?

To start with, the inclusion of middle-agers would work wonders for the health of the United States. As outlined, the Peace Corps members will be paid practically nothing, and will have to live on the sparse rations of the country in which they serve.

What a blessing the new diet would be for the middle-aged businessmen! In a few months his spreads and bulges would be gone, and he'd have a trim figure that has been spoiled by luncheon clubs, martinis, swivel chairs, elevators, and automobiles.

On his return, he'd make up in the coat of his food the money he had sacrificed by going abroad with the Middle-Aged Peace Corps. He'd no longer want ham and eggs and hot cakes and sausages for breakfast, but would grab himself a handful of cold rice as he ran—without drawing a deep breath, either—for the $15 to town.

At lunch a morsel of pickled fish, or a few berries would carry him nicely through the afternoon, and he'd go home ready for a substantial dinner of a bananas boiled in buffalo milk and some more pickled fish.

The middle-aged Peace Corps member would, I believe, enter more into the spirit of a new country than a youthful corpsman. This is especially true where native costumes and native dances are concerned. It has been my observation that the middle-aged American man no sooner puts foot on a foreign shore than he heads for a haberdashery, or what serves for one, and decks himself in splashing finery as fast as possible. By nightfall he is indistinguishable from the village chief or the leading alderman.

The middle-aged woman is always an eager learner of native dances. I have seen them taking lessons in Fiji with all the earnestness of ballet students, swirling, stomping and spinning in time, or nearly in time, to drums, gourds, and one-stringed banjos.

The middle-aged women and men would dance their way into the hearts of their new country faster than youngsters ever would.

Middle-aged Corps members would be more relaxing than youngsters. They might not start out with as much fiery zeal, but over the long pull would have more staying power. Years bring patience and understanding, and it is going to require both to teach a native of the Congo shorthand, pressure cooking and permanent waving. Or instruct a rural Malayan in the art of bedmaking, chicken hatching, and interior decoration.

My only worry about the Peace Corps, young or middle-aged, is that we'll teach crafts to people all over the world, and our experts, already a matter of grave concern, will suffer. The people will build what they need, and not have to buy it from us or anyone else.

Let's not forget the Japanese. We broke our necks to teach them, and now they undersell us everywhere on the globe.

In his first meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Key West on the Laos situation, it might have been expected that there would be some uneasiness in the younger, unproved president meeting an old pro as an equal.

But it is apparent that the president moved into this emergency easily, that he was listened to and that he gained respect. There had previously been considerable opposition by second-level British officials against American willingness to use force if necessary in stabilizing Southeast Asia.

This was quickly removed. From the prime minister came the needed assurance of British backing if a showdown develops.

The final SEATO communique issued at Bangkok was amazingly close to the original draft prepared by the president and his staff before Secretary of State Dean Rusk left for the conference.

This can now be reported in spite of contrary statements from foreign sources on radical changes and toning down of the American program at Bangkok. Rusk was, of course, the operating agency head who put it over.

Kennedy and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer are expected to have little difficulty in reconciling their views on Berlin, NATO or North Atlantic Treaty affairs and similar mutual problems.

But President Kennedy's meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris at the end of the month may be different. For France plays a lone hand among the Western allies.

The French have not done the best job in the world in carrying out their responsibilities to train and equip the Laotian army for self-defense against the Communists. France has refused to pay a share of UN forces' costs in the Congo. And France wants a more dominant role in NATO, without giving it proportionately greater support.

On the troublesome Algerian question, which the French are about to try solving again, Kennedy is on record as a U. S. senator with a speech advocating American support for Algerian independence.

Instead of using an intermediary to iron out these wrinkled relations, Kennedy is moving right in on the situation himself as the U. S. official constitutionally responsible for the conduct of American foreign policy.

POLITICAL NOTEBOOK

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's no doubt now about who's running U. S. foreign policy. It's President John F. Kennedy himself. His hand shows in every major foreign policy move since inauguration.

The president has organized his staff and his principal advisers on foreign affairs so that he gets full information at all stages in the development of policy. He then determines his moves step by step, while planning his final programs.

He is described as an empiricist and a pragmatist, in the best meaning of those $4.40 tax-included Harvard words. What is meant is that he takes command of a situation and he offers his own new theories for its solution. He works on specific problems, not generalities.

In this sense he is said to differ markedly from former President Eisenhower, who liked to deal in generalities but left concrete details of operation to his subordinates, army style.

Kennedy's operation of the White House has also changed. There have been only three Cabinet meetings and three meetings of the National Security Council since the Kennedy inauguration.

Their general discussions have been eliminated. Their main purpose has been to inform and educate all the top level administration leaders on the Kennedy programs, horizontally.

But the president has kept in closer contact with his principal officials by prodigious use of the telephone and by individual meetings with department heads on specific problems. He is said to move vertically, going direct to the responsible operating level in his administration for action.

It is in this framework that the president is tackling his current series of meetings with the heads of friendly governments and particularly with the Big Three this month.

In his first meeting with British

Twins, Giants Give Leagues New Look

DeLand Raps Sanford Nine By 9-5 Score

The DeLand Bulldogs rolled to four runs in the bottom of the third inning to slug the Sanford Seminoles 9-5 in an Orange Belt Conference game in DeLand Friday.

It was the fifth loss of the season for the Seminoles against three wins. The next game for Sanford will be against Winter Park Tuesday.

George Perides hurled for the Seminoles and despite giving up nine runs and eight hits pitched the complete game.

The Seminoles banged out seven hits with Perides, Carlo and Markham getting two hits each.

DeLand opened up with a one run lead in the first frame. In the top of the third, Sanford scored three times to take a 2-1 lead. Two walks and two singles produced the runs.

However the Bulldogs quickly regained the lead in their half of the third scoring four runs and were never headed after that.

Pirates Keen On Keeping Flag

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Stars and Stripes won't be lonely at Forbes Field this season.

For 33 years Old Glory was the only standard waving in the breeze at the Pittsburgh Pirates ballpark. But Tuesday it will be flanked by the National League pennant and the World Series flag when the Pirates open their 1961 home season against the Chicago Cubs.

Southpaw Vinagar Bend Mizzell, 13-game winner after the Pirates acquired him from the St. Louis Cardinals last spring, drew the opening day assignment. Right-hander Don Cardwell at southpaw Dick Ellsworth will start for the Cubs before a sell-out crowd of 25,000.

Mizzell was riding a 10-game victory streak against the Cubs until he was beaten in a rather spectacular fashion last summer. Glen Hobbie, his pitching opponent, hit a ninth-inning homer to give the Cubs a 2-1 victory.

Mayor Joseph M. Barr officially proclaimed Tuesday as "Welcome Home Pirates Day."

"The fans and the Pirate team and management are determined that the world's championship will remain in the City of Pittsburgh," this proclamation read.

United Press International The Minnesota Twins and San Francisco Giants in first place provide a new look to the 1961 baseball scene today but there's also an old look because Leo Durocher's in hot water.

Their most faithful fans couldn't have foreseen the Twins and Giants at their current levels so early while the question with Durocher is how it took him so long to get into his familiar position.

It all came about on the snow, rain and wind-plagued first Sunday of the season when:

The Twins whipped the Baltimore Orioles, 10-5 and 6-4 in 11 innings, to take a half-game grip on first place in the American League.

The Giants downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2, and went a half-game ahead in the National League.

Durocher and plate umpire Jojo Conlan became engaged in a shin-kicking duel during the Los Angeles Dodgers' 13-8 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates with Leo "getting the boot" to the accompaniment of boos and cat-calls from the crowd of 27,716 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The Cleveland Indians scored all their runs in the ninth inning to beat the Washington Senators, 3-2, in the only other American League game while the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, in the other National League action. Foul weather forced three postponements in the AL and one in the NL.

Bob Allison and Zorro Verales swung game-winning bats for the Twins, who have won four of their five games. Allison drove in seven runs with a grand slam and a three-run homer as Pedro Ramos gained his second win of the season in the opener and Verales broke up the nightcap with a two-run homer in the 11th inning. Allison drove in eight runs with four hits and Verales knocked in four strong pennant contenders off with five hits during the double-header.

First official report on the St. Johns shad season shows that 60,493 shad were caught up to April 2, with 41 percent of them having roe.

This report by Paul Nichols of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries placed the number of shad taken near the total for the whole 1959-60 season.

Another big figure in the report is that 18,434 man days of fishing were recorded during that portion of the season in Seminole County.

Nichols' report put the peak of the shad fishing during a period from March 6 through March 12. He reported catches of 7,295 shad and 1,428 man days of fishing.

When you consider that the official survey is based only on catches and man days of fishing reported from the camps and then add a possible good sized percentage of catches and fishermen who launch boats from other locations and do not report what they land, it makes a great big season.

The impact of the shad fishing sport on the tourist season for the county can be measured by multiplying the log kept by Crowe's Camp on SR 46. It listed fishing parties from 22 states and 16 other Florida counties during the season.

That's 20-0-0-0.

Big Sam, the $10,000 fish, is still at large in the area including Seminole County in the Shilts Florida Fishing Contest.

Latest catches of tagged fish in the contest included W. R. Giles of Lake Monroe, who landed a bass worth $50 in the St. Johns, and Jimmy Butler of Sanford, who had another $50 bass from the river.

Nine tagged fish have been caught in the St. Johns as of April 11, the contest officials reported.

Teams Tighten Plan In Loop

Only four points divide the top four teams in the Seminole County Businessmen's League. Le Roy Benton Contracting has won 74 games, Sanford Electric 73, Line Inn, 71 and Southern Bell, 70.

Rubel set a new high for individual series with a 629 score and May was high for team singles with a 234, to bring Southern Bell the team high singles of 874, while Line Inn took the team high series with 2551.

Schumacher and Danyluk both picked up the 4-7-10 splits, Tom Brown made the 5-8-10, Ross got the 2-7-5, Pentecost made the 8-7 and the 4-5 and Hincey the 8-10.

In the DeBary Social Bowling League, the standings show Jackson's out in front with 78 wins, DeBary Business Men, in second with 69, VFW, 62 and Faron Builders No. 1 in fourth place with 61.

Faron's No. 1 took the team high singles with a 1050 and the series with a 2980. Ogden was high individual with a 217 and Walake took the individual series with a 581.

Barbour Breaks Broad Jump Mark At DeLand Meet

Sanford's Bobby Barbour broke the Seminole High School record in the broad jump at the Stetson Mainland Relays held in DeLand Saturday.

Barbour jumped 21 feet, one inch to break the five-year-old mark of 20 feet, four inches.

Barbour finished third in that event.

The first steam locomotive built in America was credited to Peter Cooper in 1830.

Hart Scores Hole-In-One

James Hart Jr., of Orlando, playing in a foursome at the Casselberry Country Club course, pipped an ace into the 133-yard No. 2 hole and won himself 150 in merchandise Friday.

Hart became eligible for the $150 merchandise prize under the terms of the $1 Million Hole in One Club sponsored by the First Flite golf ball manufacturer.

Hart's hole in one was the second in two months at the Casselberry club, Paul McClure, manager, reported.

JO SA TIPSAHATCHEE overlooks the St. Johns River from a high bluff and is the "home on the river" of Joe and Sarah and Judy Bunten, a lovely spot to settle down if there ever was one.

From the cool and comfortable screened and tiled porch with a palm tree growing out through the roof and a three-sided view of the beautiful River of May (the original name of the St. Johns) with Charlie, the mynah bird, whistling Dixie off key behind you, and Sinbad, the squirrel monkey, chattering at you from his perch high in one of the palm trees dotting the front yard, you can watch the boats of all sizes and descriptions passing up and down when the "fish are jumpin'".

Looking to the left, you can see the green concrete pit where the alligators and turtle live and the pen of Mortimer the rabbit at the edge of the lush green lawn.

Out to the right are the spotless concrete and wire pens of the champion AKC Dalmatians, the two females with brand new litters of puppies, cute and fat, spotted all over, some with brown and some with black. Their sires have earned 15 ribbons at dog shows all over the state.

Out here, too, are Dr. Bunten's greenhouses full of beautiful orchids, which are his hobby. He has imported orchids from all over the Western Hemisphere and grows them in special peatling media, hangs them from the rafters. It is breathtaking to see the lovely purple and lavender Cattleyas and the delicate waxy white and Ivory Vandas, the tiny magnificent nun orchids, with the semblance of a veiled nun visible inside the bell of the flower.

We learned that there are 28 species of orchids native to Florida that grow wild in the woods in many places. Dr. Bunten has some of these growing on the palm trees in front of his home. But the big, showy corsage variety, most commonly known are the beautiful Cattleyas which come in shades not only of violet, but also of peach, lavender, orchid, bronze, white and what is called black, but is really a dark, dark purple.

Dr. Bunten has over 1,000 plants of the Cattleyas and hundreds of Vandas and many of the other more than 1,800 species, including the Phalaenopsis. Some grow in the air (literally) some will grow in pots full of pebbles, or charcoal, or the bark or moss of certain Mexican trees.

The little nun orchid will grow in compost and the others grow well in builders sand. A plant must be seven years old before it blooms, but when it does, once a year, the blooms last for weeks, particularly the Vandas, which last for about three months.

Garden Circles

AZALEA CIRCLE
Mrs. Gordon Brison, a geranium enthusiast, spoke to members of the Azalea Circle at their meeting Thursday evening at the Al Hunt home on Palmetto Ave.

Her instructions in propagation and care of geraniums was comprehensive, based primarily on her own experience. An armful of specimens and cuttings were graciously shared with circle members.

Mrs. Brison's enthusiasm is contagious. It's a good wager many pots and beds of the old beloved geranium will brighten houses and garden as result of this program.

Mrs. John Callahan, president, appointed committees for next years activities. Members were complimentary to Mrs. J. P. Culien, program chairman, as they appreciated the programs of the current year. Suggestions for next years programs were solicited.

Announcement was made of presentation of past president pins at the general luncheon scheduled for May 18 at the Capri Restaurant. Mrs. O. P. Herndon is the only past garden club president still active in Azalea Circle, and members are duly proud of her. Illness prevented her and Mrs. W. P. Fields from attending this meeting. Cards to each were signed by all present.

Spring flowers from the Hunt garden brightened the party rooms. Mrs. W. R. Stringfield assisted the hostess in serving.

Others enjoying the meeting were Mrs. Porter Lansing, Mrs. Henry McLaughlin Jr., Mrs. Henry Russell, Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. J.L. Clark, Mrs. Ed Kirchhoff.

Mrs. Alice Click, Mrs. C. P. Harkey, Mrs. Hal Harris, Mrs. Dempsey Carnes, Mrs. Clyde Stinson, Mrs. J. D. Brown, Mrs. G. M. Shipp and Miss Ellalce Kirchhoff.

VAH-13 Wives Enjoy Bounteous Buffet

Will power dissolved when the Officers' Wives Club of VAH-13 met at the home of Mrs. George Koen, wife of the squadron's commanding officer, for a social get-together and luncheon.

Mrs. J. J. Dohard won a surprise package devised by the hostess, a clever party hat with black and orange bair as the motif in accord with the squadron's prospective insignia.

The Navy relief fund got a boost from the group, and each one bought a ticket on the boat which will be given away at Ramey Field.

All proceeds will be welcomed by others spearheading the drive for this worthwhile fund.

Among those enjoying the bounteous buffet was Mrs. F. G. Edwards, a guest of Mrs. Koen.

Other members of the club attending were Mrs. P. S. Harward, Mrs. R. G. McKee, Mrs. M. L. Jones, Mrs. P. S. Goldman, Mrs. D. B. Dolly.

Mrs. C. V. Choyle, Mrs. Dohard Mrs. L. D. Tension, Mrs. R. E. Osterholm, Mrs. D. R. McGraw, Mrs. T. P. Stewart, Mrs. W. W. Otto and Mrs. C. Marshall.

Club Departments Plan Luncheon Meeting Wednesday

Members of the American Home Department of the Sanford Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Douglas Sienstrom, 499 Elliott Ave., Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. for the monthly business meeting.

Following the business they will join the Civic Department at the club house at 12 noon for a covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. Robert Kuhn and her committee will be in charge of the luncheon.

The afternoon program will be presented by Mrs. S. C. Dickerson, who will speak on landscaping.

No reservations are necessary, just bring a covered dish.

Staff Wives Enjoy Luncheon At Osborne Home

Mrs. Leo Zok and Mrs. H. H. Osborne were co-hostesses for the Staff Wives of HATWING 1 at a luncheon held at the Loch Arbor home of Mrs. Osborne.

Creating quite a sensation were the arrangements brought by Mrs. C. P. Harkey, a special guest of Mrs. Robert Anderson. Mrs. Harkey collects rare and beautiful artificial flowers and arranges them in just as rare and exotic containers, such as cloisonne vases, mahogany and brass epergnes, and a glazed bird cake.

Enjoying the event were Mrs. Paul Speltz, Mrs. G. S. Blake, Mrs. Richard Andrus, Mrs. J. D. Langford, Mrs. D. G. Faulkner, Mrs. Norm Thom, Mrs. Bill Bergstedt, Mrs. A. S. DePalma, Mrs. H. F. Bryani, Jr., Mrs. L. G. Sheels, and a guest, Mrs. B. J. Scott.

Joint Meeting Held By Church Circles

Members of the Friendship League and the Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met in Fellowship Hall, for luncheon and a joint meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. William Linz, Mrs. Minnie Salisbury and Mrs. Alice McMillan.

Mrs. William Bowles, of Winter Park, was guest speaker and gave a very inspiring talk on "Unity." She stated that working together is the mission of the church and that now is the time for the renewal of our faith.

She also told the group "that every last person should work toward unity and peace with all man-kind by our stewardship in our own communities."

The luncheon tables were attractively decorated with spring flowers and those present enjoyed the baked foods, salads, hot rolls, cake and coffee.

Following the luncheon, the Friendship League held a short business session. Mrs. Ralph Hammond led the group in the opening prayer and Mrs. George Chabot gave the devotion, using as the topic, "the meaning of the resurrection."

Members of the league agreed to help the Ethel Root Circle with their "Gold Bond Stamp" project. The stamps have a double value when used for church purposes and are given with purchases at the Food Mart. The circle plans to purchase a steam table for the church kitchen with them.

At the close of the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. Those attending included the guest speaker, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Stock, Dr. Fred Ensminger, Mrs. Helen Remusat, Mrs. Bea Alford, Mrs. Lorraine Dilts, Mrs. Betty Bailey, Mrs. Bernice Zittrower, Mrs. Allen Rollins, Mrs. Lillian Andrews, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. William Heinbuch, Mrs. C. # Taylor Favored To Win Oscar SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor, making her first public appearance since her brush with death, is the sentimental favorite to win the best actress Oscar tonight at the Academy Award presentations.

The dark-haired beauty suffered a near fatal attack of pneumonia in London this year but has recovered sufficiently to attend the event with husband Eddie Fisher.

She and only one other nominee for best actress, Greer Garson, will be on hand for the 33rd annual Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences awards to be televised tonight on ABC.

Comedian Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies.

Nominees in the top five categories are with favorites listed first:

Best actress: Miss Taylor (Butterfield 8), Miss Garson (Sunrise at Campobello), Deborah Kerr (The Sundowners), Shirley MacLain (The Apartment), Melina Mercouri (Never on Sunday).

Best actor: Burt Lancaster (Elmer Gantry), Jack Lemmon (The Apartment), Trevor Howard (Sons and Lovers), Spencer Tracy (Inherit the Wind), Laurence Olivier (The Entertainer).

Best picture: "The Apartment," "Elmer Gantry," "The Alamo," "Sons and Lovers," "The Sundowners."

Best supporting actress: Shirley Jones (Elmer Gantry), Janet Leigh (Psycho), Mary Ure (Sons and Lovers), Shirley Knight (Dark of the Top of the Stairs), Glynis Johns (The Sundowners).

Best supporting actor: Sal Mineo (Exodus), Peter Falk (Murder, Inc.), Jack Kruschen (The Apartment), Chill Wills (The Alamo).

Best director: Billy Wilder (The Apartment), Alfred Hitchcock (Psycho), Jules Dassin (Never on Sunday), Jack Cardiff (Sons and Lovers), Fred Zinnemann (The Sundowners).

Some of the first volunteer Union troops sent to Washington during the Civil War were housed in the Senate and House chambers of the Capitol.

Lt. GEN. Paul D. Adams, commanding general of the Third Army at Ft. Pherson, Ga., will speak at the dinner meeting of the Central Florida Chapter, retired officers Assn. at 6 p. m. Tuesday at the Orlando Air Force Base Officers Club.

Red Chinese Relations With Russia Worsen Over Ideas

EDITOR'S NOTE: K. C. Thaler, chief European diplomatic correspondent for United Press International, was the first to disclose the rift last year between Moscow and Peking. In the following dispatch he reports new deterioration in relations between the two Communist giants.

LONDON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources report that Red China's relations with the Soviet Union are worsening and the Chinese are becoming ideological outcasts in the Communist world.

Although the differences between the Communist Chinese and the Russians have not yet reached the breaking point, the compromise on the Soviet versus Chinese ideology that was reached with the Communist manifesto of Moscow last November has all but disappeared.

Highly placed Communist sources outside the Soviet Union told this correspondent that relations between the Communist parties of the Soviet-led bloc and Red China have "ground to a virtual standstill" with no visible attempts at present for another compromise effort.

However, both sides remain anxious to maintain political relations for their mutual benefit.

The sources said the Peking regime is nearly back to where it was at the height of the Sino-Russian differences last year and is again adhering strictly to its brand of Marxist-Stalinist Communism, or what Russia and the manifesto denounced as insubmissible doctrinism and dogmatism.

The Communist informants said it is difficult to pinpoint the reasons for Red China's swing back to the old theories, except that regime's burning desire for Communist indications point to the Peking, Communist leadership.

Mather of Sanford MANAGER'S SALE

MONDAY -- TUESDAY -- WEDNESDAY -- THURSDAY -- FRIDAY -- SATURDAY

TELEPHONE FAIRfax 2-0983

Mather of Sanford
203 E. First St.
SANFORD, FLA.

Apr. 17, 1961

OPEN LETTER — To all of Mather's customers, friends and folks. Before our Vice President left the store last week he said to me: "Muse, this is the end of your fiscal year. I want you to put on a sale that Sanford will remember for a long time to come."

"I want the floors, the racks and the walls reduced to a minimum before you take inventory. You have my permission to make your own prices, regardless of original cost."

Well folks, this is all I needed to start preparations for this NEVER-TO-BE-FORGOTTEN SALE.

I have personally marked down every item advertised on this page and others in this store, and I hereby certify that all items advertised during my Manager's Sale have been substantially reduced in price. And — to the very best of my knowledge, the greatest values and discounts ever offered by this company or any other company where I have been employed.

Chester Muse
MANAGER
MATHER of SANFORD

I WAS SO THRILLED at being able to offer these fabulous discounts, I did not take time to look up pictures and mats, or to segregate the merchandise.

The newspaper and radio representatives followed me up one aisle and down the other—First Floor, Second Floor, Warehouse, Used Furniture Department, etc.—writing down these items and sale prices as we came to them.

If you're unable to find your needs from the listings below, remember — there are hundreds of Unadvertised Selections MARKED DOWN TO SELL BEFORE INVENTORY. It will pay you to investigate.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: Recently I stated that those hideous, uncomfortable, dangerous, pointed-toe shoes that have been forced on the modern woman in the name of "fashion" were designed by men who hated women. Furthermore, I invited readers who felt as I did to send their letters of complaint to this column. I promised to send them to the National Shoe Manufacturers' Association, hoping to provoke them into giving us sensible, comfortable, beautiful footwear again. Printed below are a few of the thousands of letters I received.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 94-year-old retired shoe wholesaler and, in my opinion, the shoe manufacturers are losing their marbles. I have seen many styles come and go, but never have I seen such impossible shoes for women! They are destroying their feet. I cannot for the life of me understand how the shoe people stay in business.

W. A. W. (PORTSMOUTH, OHIO)

DEAR ABBY: When a woman didn't like the sack dress, she could whip up one more to her liking. But she can't make her own shoes. It does no good to buy them a size larger (as shoe salesmen suggest) because the weight of her body thrusts her foot forward, and is ultimately forced into the treacherous little triangle. When a woman suffers from corns, bunions and ingrown toenails, her general health is impaired. I think you should appeal to Secretary Ribicoff, since the condition of our women's feet directly affects the health and welfare of our nation.

CONCERNED FROM ST. LOUIS

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many women have tried to kneel in church with those pointed-toe shoes and sharp, steepled heels? KATIE FROM BOSTON

DEAR ABBY: You may as well save your energy because you will get nowhere in your campaign to rid the market of those ugly, uncomfortable atrocities they are selling for ladies' shoes. The reason is this: Ninety-five percent of the women would rive through their noses if they read it was in style.

MAN ON THE SIDELINES IN PHILLY

DEAR ABBY: I could just hug your neck for starting a crusade for sensible shoes for women. I have fought with shoe salesmen all the way from Orlando, Florida, to Seattle and they all tell me how "comfortable" the new shoes are. I would like to give them all a good swift kick with that "comfortable" pointed toe.

NOT BUYING FROM FLORIDA

DEAR ABBY: I am with you 100% in your crusade against those horrible shoes for women. I recently saw a bride catch the thin, steel-tipped heel of her shoe in her lace wedding gown while she was cutting the wedding cake, and she almost cut her finger off.

M. W. (DENVER, COLO.)

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever noticed how a MAN'S shoe is shaped? Just like a man's FOOT, of course. Why, then, must ladies' shoes look as though they are ready for the ski slopes? Nobody hates the new ladies shoes more than I, and I refuse to buy shoes until the manufacturers regain their senses.

DEAR ABBY: You deserve a gold medal for trying to get decent footwear for women. I am 72 and have lived through the pointed-toe shoe era of the "Gay Nineties." My feet were badly crippled from the shoes I wore then. And now when I see the same thing happening to my beautiful teenaged granddaughters, I want to cry.

GRANNY FROM TYLER

DEAR ABBY: I am deeply moved by your diatribes on the issue of pointed-toe shoes. I am a designer-retailer of women's shoes and must assume my share of the responsibility for the diabolical machinations you accused us of. We are just trying to fit your feet, enhance your beauty and make an honest buck. Is this the gratitude we get for such lofty motives? Let me say that when you women stop BUYING them, we will stop SELLING them.

HONEST SHOE MAN

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

"Don't you think it is interesting", a home economist recently remarked to me, "that it is the young Mrs. Kennedy, rather than one of her older predecessors, who launched the program to locate and buy authentic furniture of the 1802 period for the White House?"

Interesting, yes. Surprising, no. For all over the country young homemakers are showing an active interest in antiques.

The craze for strictly modern and strictly functional furniture seems to be over. Many young homemakers are searching family attics, antique dealers, and even junk shops in search of something old to add to their new homes.

Business Briefs

An increase of 4.86 percent in sales was recorded by Winn-Dixie Stores during the 40-week period ended April 1 compared with the corresponding period a year ago. The company, which operates a number of supermarkets in this area, now has a total of 532 retail stores and eight wholesale units throughout the South, compared with 513 retail stores and nine wholesale units this time last year. The Winn-Dixie 40-week sales volume totaled $878,103,694 as compared with $838,834,414 this time last year, an increase of $39,269,280.

Mrs. Pope's Art Work Displayed

The latest member of the Sanford Art Assn. to have her work displayed in Senkarik's Paint and Glass Store is Marguerite (Mrs. Herbert B.) Pope of Indian Mound Village. Most of Mrs. Pope's presentation consists of family portraits that she has done, and portrait painting is her first choice, although she has also done some very striking landscapes, and still life pictures in oils. The portraits are of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Howell, as she looked at 28 years of age, done from an old picture in a locket and of Mrs. Howell's son and daughter and two of her granddaughters. Mrs. Pope studied with Newton

Merrill in Winter Park, at his art studios and also worked for two years with the late Mrs. Sophie Parsons, a famous portrait artist. She is now working with local artist Ed Stowe. The portraiture of the Madonna which is on display was done from a picture of the original statue which stands in the Chartres Cathedral in France, and the one of the Madonna and Babe from a very old painting. First successful use of a parachute in a descent from a moving airplane was made by Capt. Albert Berry at St. Louis, Mo., in 1912.

Oviedo P-TO Names Officers

Oviedo P-TO members, meeting at the school Thursday, elected and installed new officers. Taking over were Bob Parker, president; Mrs. Thurman Coberly, first vice president; Mrs. John Jakubein, second vice president; Mrs. Jack Bratton, third vice president; Mrs. Peter Wright, secretary and Ralph Neely. Installing officer was Rev. John T. Adams of the Sanford First Methodist Church.

Eichmann Loses Plea To Disqualify Judges

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann today lost the first round in his desperate battle to escape the gallows for the alleged slaughter of millions of Jews during World War II. Three Israeli judges ruled they were not prejudiced and were fully competent to try the former Nazi SS colonel on 15 counts of the persecution, deportation and mass murder of the Jews. After almost a week of legal sparring, the "trial of the century" began officially when Eichmann pleaded innocent to all the counts in the indictment. Eichmann had his earphones clamped tightly on his head as he sat in the bullet-proof glass box where he will spend many of his daylight hours for weeks to come and heard presiding Judge Moshe Landau slam the door on any possible technical escape. Landau, speaking briefly and quickly in Hebrew, threw out one of the challenges made by the defense against the jurisdiction of the court—that the three Israeli judges could be swayed in their judgment because members of their families might have been victims of Nazi terror. "It's true," said Landau, "that the holocaust terrified every Jew but it's our duty to conquer these feelings. Judges dealing in this trial are experienced judges, accustomed to weighing the evidence. The accused is being defended by an experienced counsel. We will fully observe the guarantees provided an accused by law." The court also ruled it irrelevant that Eichmann was kidnaped illegally by Israeli agents, as charged by the defense. And it rejected a request by the defense that two employees of Al Airlines be called to testify in an attempt to prove the Israeli government ordered Eichmann's abduction from his refuge in Argentina. The court's ruling consumed about 20 minutes and the judges then got down to the business at hand—proceedings that will decide Eichmann's guilt or innocence.

Time Passing

Time was passing slowly for some city workmen today. The crew removing the downtown clock found that it took a lot more digging and pulling than had been anticipated as they took the clock away to a new stand in the Tourist Center area near the Civic Center. City Manager W. E. Knowles said that the clock was removed today on the request of Morris Moses, whose father donated it to the downtown merchants 30 years ago. The city had agreed to wait 80 days to move the clock, but apparently Moses changed his mind about waiting and asked that the clock be moved today, Knowles said. Crowds gathered to witness the transfer of the landmark and some ventured the opinion that it's going to be hard to give proper directions to strangers now that the clock is gone. The old clock finally gave in to the busy workmen who swarmed about it, but as the four faces were removed they stood out in the sun - all with different times, but defiant to the end.

45-Senator Plan Approved

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Two House committees today approved the 45-senator reapportionment plan, tacked on a bill to reorganize the House and to amend the package to the calendar for an early vote.

The compromise solution to the six-year-old reapportionment struggle would give Florida seven new senators and 14 new House members in 1963, all for fast-growing areas. The House part was adopted after representatives from Dade and Brevard counties made a strong bid to get the membership up as high as 109. They warned that it might make the difference between approval and rejection at the polls in the 1962 general election, but their plea failed.

Sen. Ted Davis of Hollywood and his House colleagues said they could not sell the 104-member plan to the voters of their county. But Sen. W. C. Herrell of Miami Springs said Dade would go for the compromise.

The House apportionment would give Dade two more representatives for a total of five; Duval Hillsborough and Pinellas counties one more each for a total of four each; Broward, Orange, Palm Beach, Polk and Escambia one more each for a total of three each.

Spring Bounces Back After Storm

By United Press International Spring bounced back today on the heels of warm air streaming north and east from the Gulf of Mexico. The Midwest gradually returned to normal from its weekend pummeling of snows as high as 20 inches in Minnesota. Snow on downtown Chicago streets vanished overnight after a 3.8-inch fall between Saturday night and Monday.

Warmer air from the Gulf raised temperatures to the 40s from the Atlantic Coast southwest along the Appalachians and west to Colorado. The mercury ranged from 80 to the low 80s in the Carolinas, most of the Deep South and Texas.

San Francisco observed the 55th anniversary of the city's great earthquake and fire in 57-degree weather under partly cloudy skies. The Weather Bureau forecast clouds and widely scattered rain or snow flurries today in the Rockies, the North Pacific, eastern Ohio Valley, lower Great Lakes and New England.

The legislative delegation is really caught in the middle on this proposed county code legislation. The County Commission strongly backs it while the City Commission is opposed to it. It will be very interesting to see how State Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick vote on it.

The County School Board will hold a special session Thursday for the coming year.

The legislative delegation has informed the city commissioners that if they want to meet on proposed urban renewal legislation they will have to come to Tallahassee. City Manager W. E. Knowles received a letter from Rep. Cleveland asking suggestions on convenient dates for commissioners. Indications are that the commission won't make the trek and will shelve urban renewal this legislative session.

The Seminole County exhibit at the Southeastern Industrial exhibit in Orlando this week will be on television tonight. An official of Channel Nine, which will televise the show, called to say that a video tape portion of the exhibit will be seen at 10:30 p.m. today.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club will be the guests of the Florida State bank in their new building at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Officers of the bank have planned a special program, including a tour of the new facility on First St. Door prizes will be awarded. All members of the chamber and non-business people are invited to attend.

New officers will be elected and installed at the final meeting of Seminole County Council of Schools at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at Southside School.

Mrs. E. W. Williams will serve as installing officer. Mrs. Gordon Frederick will preside.

NAACP Asks Desegregation Of Sanford Public Facilities

The city was presented with a petition late Monday afternoon to desegregate all public parks, playgrounds and recreation facilities within 10 days. The petition was signed by 38 Negroes who said they were residents of Sanford. The petition was drawn up by Francisco Rodriguez, attorney for the NAACP in Florida. City Manager W. E. Knowles said today that the City Commission met in special session

Monday night to discuss the matter but declined to comment further. Knowles did say that the "board would study the petition." The next regular meeting of the City Commission is April 24. Knowles added that he doesn't expect any special city meetings this week to discuss the matter. The petition calls for the "abolishment forever" of the practice of racial segregation in the use of all parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities in the city. It asks that "henceforth no citizen of the city shall be deprived of the use of any playground or recreation facility because of race or color." The petition stated that Sanford has denied these rights for Negro citizens and called it unconstitutional and void and in violation of the 14th Amendment.

Bulletin

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Legislature called on Congress today to immediately appropriate sufficient funds to construct the cross-state barge canal. The Senate took up and passed by overwhelming vote a resolution that cleared the House earlier in the session. There was no debate as it sped through with the backing of Gov. Farris Bryant and almost the entire Florida Congressional delegation.

Cuban Invaders Claim Advances

United Press International Invading Cuban revolutionary forces have seized an airstrip and are now flying planes in and out of the beachhead area in Cochinos Bay where the major landing was made, high exile sources said today. The landing strip was captured after fighting described by the sources as "heavy." Invading rebel forces in Las Villas Province are "under extremely heavy attack" by Communist-built MIG jet aircraft, a top exile source said today at midday. An exile spokesman said flatly that liberation troops in Las Villas and Oriente provinces "are firmly established and being supplied." He said that in the Las Villas area there were two points where consolidation was under way. He declined to elaborate on this. The principal movement, he said had been a spread of troops fanning out from Jaguey Grande, where he said more than 100 of Premier Fidel Castro's militia-men were killed Monday. The spokesman said that "complete communications" have been established between liberation forces in Las Villas and Oriente provinces with the secret Cuban Revolutionary Council's general headquarters outside Cuba. The communications network, he said, "is routed through a third country outside of the United States." Pressed to amplify the remark, he replied, "We are getting our news from our forces in Cuba through a certain Latin American country." Twenty-four hours after the invaders dashed ashore in Las Villas province, Castro proclaimed over an emergency national radio hookup that his forces were "fighting valiantly." He said details would be disclosed later on few "successes obtained by the army." As Castro spoke the Soviet Union hinted it would go to his aid unless the intervention ceased. Russia flatly accused the United States of helping the invasion. Thousands of Russians "besieged" the American embassy in Moscow. President Kennedy today discussed with Democratic congressional leaders the Cuban crisis and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's threat to intervene. House Speaker Sam Rayburn called the situation "serious." During a breakfast meeting at the White House, Kennedy received a message from Khrushchev blaming the United States for the anti-Castro invasion. Khrushchev urged Kennedy to "put an end to the aggression." The president was expected to reject the Soviet leader's charge that the United States prepared and began the invasion. U. S. officials said they also expected Kennedy to make it clear that the United States and the other republics of the western hemisphere would not tolerate any foreign Communist intrusion into the affair. Military officials here, backed up by diplomatic opinion, did not believe Russia would risk war with the United States over Cuba. They point out that militarily it would be virtually impossible for the Russians to aid the embattled Castro.

Jail Terms Begin LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff started serving life imprisonment sentences today for the 1959 murder of the once wealthy surgeon's wife. The lovers were formally sentenced Monday.

Contractor License Bill Supported

The County Commission today by a 4-1 majority refused to be swayed by a host of contractors and voted to support general state legislation for the licensing and examining of all building contractors. District 2 Commissioner James P. Avery, who has fought a local bill for the past five weeks, voted against supporting the general act. At the same time, the County Commission withdrew a request for local legislation after State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. informed the board by letter that a general act will be introduced. Bryan Kimball, chairman of the Zoning Board, asked the commission to rescind its previous action on local legislation and give their full support to the statewide bill. Contractors accused the board of not taking into account "the wishes of the people" and said "let the legislators fight this out with the contractors." A delegation from the Seminole County Builders Assn. and Suppliers Credit Assn. said that the bill would protect the people. In other business, the commission, by a 3-2 majority, voted safeguards to prevent over-expenditures in the road and bridge fund. Expenditures must not be made unless the commission gives its approval. Avery and District 2 Commissioner Ted Williams voted against the motion. The board awarded the low bid to Bell and Hough Inc. of St. Petersburg for the sale of the $500,000 road bond issue bonds. The firm was lowest of six bidders with an interest rate of 4.34 percent from 1964 to 1973 and four percent from 1974 until 1985. The commission also approved new insurance coverage for the courthouse, including a new policy to insure valuable papers. The courthouse will now be insured at $380,000; $50,000 for contents and $235,000 for valuable papers. The commission hopes to save $500 annually under this plan.

34-Foot Fall Fatal

MIAMI (UPI) — Gideon Barbo, 51-year-old iron worker, died at a hospital Monday about six hours after falling 34 feet at the plant site where he was working. Physicians said broken ribs pierced the victim's lungs. He was working at the new building of the Miami Herald.

Veteran Penney's Manager To Retire

Ralph N. Blackwelder, manager of Penney's department store here for the past 12 years, and a veteran of 31 years of service with Penney's stores, will retire at the end of April. Blackwelder started with the Penney company at Concord, N.C., in September, 1930 as a salesman in the work clothes department. He was made manager of that store in August 1933. In October, 1936, he was transferred to the Sanford store as assistant manager. The Penney store at that time was located in the present Western Auto building. After several years here, he was transferred to Clinton, S. C., as store manager. In July 1948, due to the retirement of E. I. Hily, manager of the Sanford store then, Blackwelder was given the opportunity to return to Sanford as manager. He gladly accepted, as he and his wife were both fond of Florida living and of Sanford. After retirement, Blackwelder plans to "catch up on his fishing" and work on his woodcraft in his woodworking shop. He and Mrs. Blackwelder also plan to make a long-awaited visit with their son H. V., his wife, Mary and their four grandsons, Buddy, Bernie, Bobby and Barry, who live in Wilmington, Del. where the younger Blackwelder is an architect with the DuPont Company. Blackwelder said that the new Sanford manager will be announced by the personnel department of the Penney Company in Dallas within a few days.

Britain Shocked By New Spy Case

LONDON (UPI) — Britain was shocked today by its second spy case of the year when a government official was charged with passing secret information "useful to an enemy." The accused man is George Blake, 38, he was remanded in custody for six days at a 30-minute closed hearing before Chief Magistrate Sir Robert Blundell at Bow Street Court. Details of the case against him were not revealed. Neither was Blake's government post. Blake's arrest came in the midst of a reported massive spy hunt in Britain that included a combing of all ranks and civilian employees in the country's air, land and sea forces.

U. S., British Offer Nuclear Ban Plan

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Great Britain presented a complete nuclear test ban treaty to the Soviet Union today and offered to sign it immediately. Arthur H. Dean, chief United States delegate to the three-power test ban conference, presented the document at today's 22nd meeting. It sums up the joint Western position on treaty language and contains what the West regards as adequate provision for control. The document puts into formal language the position which was presented by Dean at the meeting of March 21, when the talks were resumed after a 14-week recess. The treaty would ban nuclear tests for the purpose of developing weapons in outer space, underwater and in the atmosphere. However, it called for an unpoliced moratorium period of three years for small nuclear underground tests while monitoring equipment is perfected to detect the small explosions.

Bryant Signs Bill To Start Highways

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — One of the first major bills cleared by the 1961 Legislature gives Gov. Farris Bryant a go-ahead for starting his primary road construction program. The bill, signed into law Monday by Bryant, lifts temporarily the requirement that a minimum 20 per cent cash reserve be kept in the state's primary road fund. Bryant wants to dip into the reserve to get his program started during the current financial pinch then replace the money later.

First St. Highway Bids Due In May

State Road Department official Hugh Hanna said Monday that bids on W. First St. widening will be advertised sometime in May. Hanna made the statement at the close of a public hearing on the project where no objections were raised. The hearing was held in the courthouse. Mayor Joe Baker, spokesman for the city, emphasized the importance of the road as a way of "easing the traffic flow" into the city. County Commissioner Chairman J. C. Hutchison said that the project was the No. 1 priority project as far as the County Commission was concerned. County engineer Carlton Bliss said that he reviewed plans on the project and called them "well designed. Seminole County will be proud of this road," Bliss added.

Cease-Fire Set On Congo Border

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — A cease-fire has been ordered along the border between Oriental and Equator provinces in an apparent move to bring the leftist Stanleyville regime into the camp of the central Congolese government, it was reported today. Army officers of the rival Congolese government of Communist-indoctrinated Antoine Gizenga have recognized the authority of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Altamonte School Equipment Stolen

Principal George Dabbs reported today that the Altamonte Springs Elementary School was broken into sometime Monday between dark and 9 p. m. and that an Adler typewriter and a tape recorder are missing. This is the second time the school has been entered since Saturday when entry was gained by breaking an office window. The vandals apparently went to the cafeteria where they broke more glass to get in the room. Although his office and the cafeteria were thoroughly ransacked Saturday, Dabbs said nothing was taken.

Bear Lake Women To Meet Today

The Women's Auxiliary of the Bear Lake Manor Civic Betterment Assn., Inc. will meet today at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Ostrander on Jamison Dr. Mrs. Alice Westworth, in charge of the program, will demonstrate the making of seed plaques.

Stocks Uncertain

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks carried their three-day advance into the opening today, notching small gains on moderately active turnover. There was an undercurrent of uncertainty, however, and brokers say it probably is an outgrowth of the Laos and Cuban situations. Concern over developments abroad normally tend to keep investors on edge.
