

Commission Meet

(Continued From Page One) Of this grand total of $16,441,971.00, there are homestead exempt valuations amounting to $4,761,570.00 that cannot be assessed for any cost of the operating of the City.

"The City has got to raise more money in order to balance the 1948-1949 Budget, and IT IS NOT FOR OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE PURPOSES, because the Commissioners have combed thru the tentative Budget prepared by the City Manager, which was based on past two years operating costs, and they have cut the personnel force in several of the departments, and eliminated several other items, that in the past, have been considered essential to the welfare of the community.

"The proposed increase of approximately $45,000.00 in the new Budget for 1948-1949 is not for direct operating and maintenance costs, as stated before, but is being appropriated for obligations made by the City for items such as constructing hydraulic fill and preliminary expenses in connection with constructing the dock and facilities on the lake front; removing the remains of the old St. Johns River Line Dock, which a majority of the citizens wanted done, considering the number of complaints registered against it being left there; and inducing the NEW YORK GIANTS to purchase and operate the Mayfair Inn. The latter being most favorable to everyone, based on the commendations and praise of our representatives who regulated the transaction for the general public is still throwing them bouquets for a job well done. However, it took more than just persuasion to induce the Giants into purchasing the Mayfair Inn and operate it as a tourist hotel for a period of at least four years, for they knew that it had been a white elephant in the past and felt that if it meant so much to the community to have it open and operated, why not the City purchase and operate it. So, as a final resort to get them to purchase and operate the hotel, the City had to make certain concessions, which will cost the City approximately $39,000.00, of which $18,500.00 will have to be spent the first year and incorporated in the 1948-1949 Budget.

"These concessions consist of waiving of rental on their facilities at the airport for the next four years, amounting to $14,000.00; construction of new baseball field, all enclosed with board fence and club house facilities, which will cost approximately $12,000.00; and certain concession on taxes.

"The hydraulic fill cost $6,000.00 plus preliminary expenses for plans, specifications, etc., amounting to approximately $1,500.00; and the cost of acquiring and removing the old St. Johns River Line Dock amounts to $5,000.00; all of which will have to be paid from next year's Budget.

"The City's operating costs have climbed considerably during the past eight years, same as all other cities, and the increase in dollars seems very high, but the City is a large corporation and if compared on a percentage basis, it will be found that the increase is considerably lower than that of private corporations, and lower than most other cities. However, since we have served notice on property owners of the increase in assessed valuations, there have been some tax payers attempting to make comparison of the City's operation costs with that of 1938, ten years ago when all costs were below normal. This comparison of $80.00 per month firmen with present day costs of $179.40 per month; $1.50 per 10-hour day labor with present day cost of $4.80 per 8 hour day, and all other wages and materials increased in proportion; it is like comparing the cost of 30¢ per pound for steak in 1938 with present day cost of $1.05 per pound; Shoes at $6.00 per pair today; and the small automobile at price of $450.00 in 1938 with $1,700.00 today. The steak, shoes and automobiles are no better than they were in 1938, and most purchases, not as good, and the quantity is the same, but if Mr. Citizen wants steak, shoes and a new automobile, he has got to pay the inflated price, otherwise, do without. It is the same with the City, it has to have firemen, policemen, labor and other personnel, and equipment and materials in order to operate, and it has to pay the prevailing prices in order to secure them. This condition is beyond the control of the City Officials since the high cost of living is beyond the control of any individual.

"The City officials of not only Sanford but all other municipalities throughout the State have realized for some time that with all delinquent taxes collected and the homestead exemption law in effect, that the burden of maintaining and operating a City has become too great for the exempt property owners to continue carrying, and they have endeavored to secure some financial relief thru the State Legislature in the form of state-aid, by granting the cities their share of revenues collected from their citizens by the state, such as cigarette taxes, gasoline taxes, beverage taxes, etc., but their efforts have been fruitless. The cities of Florida are as much entitled to a portion of these revenues as the cities of other states, for there is only one other state in the United States that does not return a considerable sum of such revenues back to the cities, for they feel that their cities have to grow and prosper in order for the states to prosper. The City officials are again unwilling to make a further and stronger appeal to the 1949 Legislature for some financial relief, thru some source of revenue as mentioned; and if the citizens of Sanford feel that the existing tax burden have become too great and want some relief, it is their duty to appeal to their representatives to enact such legislation as necessary, as the 1949 Session, that will return back to the cities a portion of the taxes they are paying to the state. This would only be fair and just, for the City maintains their streets, police the bars, bear garbage, etc. and furnishes fire protection for their houses, and numerous other services, and all their gasoline, cigarette and beverage taxes goes to the state, for what? This is the only way that citizens can get any relief from the high taxes they are having to pay for operating their cities, and they should lend their support in every possible way to have the 1949 Legislature provide some method for state-aid to the cities.

"In conclusion, I wish to repeat that if the Equalization board approves and accepts the assessed valuations I have placed on the 1948 Roll, the millage can be reduced to at least 3 1/2 Mills, but if the property owners would rather have lower assessed valuations, then the only alternative is for the Commission to impose some of the aforementioned nuisances taxes. I also wish to state that the land values established for 1948 assessment purposes were not set by the appraisal engineers, but were established thru a five member board appointed by the Commission from the local Real Estate Board, who derolled their time without cost to the City in assisting the appraisal engineer in establishing these values, and if there are some instances where the land values are found to be out of line, I am sure the Equalization Board will be glad to have a review made of the Land Value Map, and make the necessary adjustment. Also, that I have computed the taxes under the proposed millage rate, and in almost every case, the taxes under the new valuations on homes assessed at $5,000.00 and less will be about the same and in several cases lower than in 1947. In fact, there will be very little difference in the 1948 taxes in comparison with 1947, unless the new valuations exceed $4,000.00, except in cases where there were a considerable increase in the assessed valuation because of inequalities."

MAY ACCOUNT... WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The House today will vote within 48 hours whether to accept...

Subpoena Of Reds

Thomas did not say where the subpoenas were served on the Samarins.

Ramarin and his wife have been in seclusion since Sunday. Presumably they will appear before the committee first behind closed doors before any public hearing is presented by them.

Thomas did not say when Samarin would be called in for questioning. He made only the bare announcement that the subpoenas were served at 10:55 A. M.

The State Department ruled today that the committee also can serve a subpoena on Mrs. Okanna Kosenkina, another Russian teacher, if its agents can reach her.

Officer Michael McDermott announced the ruling to a news conference today, but explained the agents may not forcibly enter the Soviet Consulate in New York to serve a subpoena on her.

McDermott said the ruling has been given acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) of the House committee.

The State Department official made this statement: "Congressman Mundt was told after study by our legal people that we take the position that law enforcement agencies have a reason to believe a crime is being committed there is no rule in international law which would prevent their obtaining warrants for search and arrest (on consulate property). There is no rule of law which would prevent the serving of a subpoena merely because the lady is a soviet citizen."

Boiled down, the whole thing came to this: 1. Mrs. Kosenkina, the Russian teacher who was the center of a furor last week-end over "kidnapping" and "rescue" charges, has no diplomatic immunity, she can be served with a subpoena to reach her, it can serve a call for her to appear and testify before it.

2. The Soviet consulate in New York can be entered only if warrants are obtained alleging the commission of some crime on the property.

As a practical matter, it all means that Mrs. Kosenkina can be served with a subpoena if she leaves the consulate, but is safe from subpoena as long as she remains there.

Mundt interpreted it in that light. He told reporters no attempt will be made at this time to serve a subpoena since a process server could not serve papers in the Soviet consulate. Although the teacher herself has no diplomatic immunity, he explained, the Soviet Consulate does.

National Guard

It met 65 times, heard 89 witnesses and wrote a thick report. Forrestal praised the job, but cautioned that the proposals are not policy since they have not been reviewed by the three departments.

At any rate, it is political dynamite to tamper with Guard control, now under orders of the state governors.

The committee took note of what it called two obstacles to quick mobilization of the Guard: 1. Inability of the government to use the Guard for Federal purposes until Congress formally declares a national emergency.

2. Time-consuming re-transfer of property and equipment from the states to the Federal Government.

Applying the test of national security the committee agreed unanimously that: 1. The Guard and Reserves "are not now capable of participating effectively in major combat operation on M-day."

It also said the Air National Guard as now constituted is unsuitable for its peacetime mission.

2. The National Guard should remain a part of the nation's striking force, and other units should be organized under state control to meet local needs.

3. The Guard must be directly under federal control—to combine authority with responsibility and to emphasize the federal government's obligation in the organization, training and supply of the Guard.

4. The Guard exceeds the peacetime military requirement of the states, and with its combat organizations and powerful armament is not suitable for state missions involving riot or other civil uprisings.

"To pose a threat of artillery, armor or air power against citizens of this country is hardly in keeping with any responsible situation, and not consistent with sound public policy," the report said.

"The Guard as now armed, should not normally be employed in strike duty or other minor civil disturbances. It should only be employed when the situation becomes fully threatening to constitutional authority established authority."

Mr. Truman nominated the former governor of Massachusetts for the job Saturday night. Just prior to announcement of the nomination, the House today and committee for nearly 20 minutes with the President.

Huge Crops

(Continued from Page One) Last month's estimate for durum wheat was 44,254,000 compared with 43,995,000 last year and 34,619,000 for the ten-year average. The forecast for other spring wheat was 245,439,000 last month compared with 252,966,000 last year and 219,398,000 for the ten-year average.

Berlin Blockade

(Continued from Page One) Powers called this a fraud. They resorted to planes to feed the 2,000,000 or more Germans in West Germany increasingly short.

Informed British government sources in London said Russian Foreign Minister Molotov gave the Western Diplomats a plan for solving the currency dispute in Berlin and indicated its acceptance would bring about a lifting of the blockade. It was Molotov's third session in a week with the diplomats. He raised objections last Friday to a Berlin settlement plan advanced by the West, the British informants said.

Reports from Moscow indicated the envoys would see Molotov for the fourth time shortly. The Moscow radio urged closer collaboration between Russia and the United States.

A Russian-sponsored unit crowded the regular city government food administration out of the city hall in the Soviet zone today. It seemed probable the city's food administration would be established in the western part of Berlin, thus giving the city two food officials, just as it has two police chiefs and police forces.

Battle For Lead In Sally League Is Getting Hotter

In addition to Greenville, and Jacksonville, anyone of Charleston, Macon or Columbia have a chance at the flag.

Jacksonville made the race closer with an 8-3 victory over Greenville last night, while Macon moved ahead of Columbia. The Peaches defeated the Augusta Tigers 2 to 1.

Charleston's 6-3 triumph over Savannah put the Rebels a full game closer to the top. Columbia shut out the Columbia Reds 1-0.

The Jacksonville Tars trailed going into the seventh but a seven run surge set them ahead for the victory. Jacksonville made 12 hits.

Macon also had to come from behind to win, and they waited until the last possible moment to start their rush. Both Peach runs were scored in the bottom of the ninth. The victory gave the Peaches a clean sweep of 11 games played against Augusta and Macon.

Marshall Resignation

(Continued from Page One) there was nothing to a report published in the New York Star that Marshall had threatened to resign because Mr. Truman wanted to take several pro-Israeli steps.

Actually, McDermott told reporters, each of the steps listed in the Star story is getting careful attention from the State Department and related government agencies so that positive action on all of them possible.

CRASH VICTIM BORDENTOWN, N. J., Aug. 10.—(AP)—William Lawrence Wiscom, Jr., 21, of Tampa, was killed instantly today when the truck he was driving crashed into the rear of a 14-wheel truck-trailer on route 25 in Mansfield township, three miles south of here, police said.

An unidentified passenger riding with Wiscom is reported in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital, Trenton.

NEGRO BEACH RESORT FORT LAUDERDALE, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Von D. Mittel, negro physician here, said today a negro beach resort is being considered for an area immediately south of Fort Everglades Inlet, near Hollywood.

Backing the project, he said, are retiring heavyweight champion Joe Louis, land loader Cab Calloway, singer Lena Horne, and dancer Bill Robinson.

TUESDAY DINNER

Liver loaf
Baked Potatoes with Parsley and Paprika
Buttered Chopped Spinach
Orange Raisin Muffins
Beverage
(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)

Orange Raisin Muffins
2 cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour
2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup raisins
1 egg, well beaten
2/3 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup shortening, melted

Mix and sift dry ingredients; mix in orange rind and raisins; beat egg until thick and pale-colored; add buttermilk and orange juice and stir well. Add to dry ingredients along with shortening (slightly cooled) and stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Mixture will look lumpy. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in a hot (425 F.) oven about 20 minutes or until done.

THIS JOB WOULD BE SIMPLE... IF YOU'D JUST STOP GROWING!

Florida's growing about four times as fast as the U. S. as a whole. Providing power to meet her demands is a tough job. Calls for covering a lot of spots in a hurry.

It's taking an $85,000,000 program, but we're getting the job done. Four big new power plant projects completed - three more on the way... hundreds of other extensions and improvements... more power, better service for every community we serve.

Citizens Protest Against Increase In Tax Assessments

Complaints Filed In Writing But No Final Decision Made; City Cost Said Low

City Manager H. N. Sayer today advised property owners who have complaints in regard to inventory values, that these will not be considered unless the owners are able to produce sufficient proof to satisfy the Equalization Board that the assessment is wrong.

Sanford property owners, half of them colored, jammed the City Commission room to overflowing last evening as they met to protest to the Commissioners and appraisers of the J. M. Clumshaw Co. increases in tax assessments. Les R. Lester presided in the absence of Mayor R. A. Williams.

There were many verbal protests against the increase of assessments in lots, homes and personal property, but no decisions on adjustments were made by the Commission, as the owners were directed by Mr. Lester to put their complaints in writing and to appear before the Commission this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the first of a series of meetings de-

Soviet Block Votes Down U. S. Ideas In Danube Meet

By AEX H. SINGLETON
BELEGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Communist bloc of Eastern Europe voted down, seven to three, today a second American effort to guarantee free navigation on the Danube.

The conference then accepted a Russian proposal for the first article of the new Danube shipping conference convention. The vote was seven to one. France voted against adoption. The United States and Britain abstained.

It was the second time in two days the Communist states of Eastern Europe beat down attempts to obtain guarantees of free navigation without discrimination of Europe's vital waterway, and showed their ability to push through a Danube pact barring the Western powers from any say on control of the river.

Yesterday the Soviet draft for general objectives of the conference was pushed through by a seven to two vote, over American and French objections. Britain abstained from voting.

The U. S. then made its proposal in the form of an amendment to the first article of the convention which, as drafted by Russia and adopted, reads:

"Navigation on the Danube shall be free and open for the nationals, vessels of commerce, and goods of commerce of all states, on a footing of equality in regard to port and navigation charges and conditions for merchant shipping."

New Meeting Of Envoys, Molotov To Be Tomorrow

Session Between West Powers' Representatives Expected

BERLIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Western Powers, striking back in the Berlin economic war, froze all eastern (Russian-sponsored) mark accounts in Western sector banks today.

The three Western military governments sent an order to the city government to instruct central offices of Berlin banks that "no transfers from accounts in the Western sector branches may be effected without express approval of the military government."

MOSCOW, Aug. 11 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today they expect a new meeting between Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and envoys of the three Western Powers to take place tomorrow.

These informants pointed out that the new meeting cannot take place until the three Western representatives have received reactions from their home governments on their reports of the last four-power session here Monday.

The three Westerners, U. S. Ambassador W. Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chateignat and special British Envoy Frank Roberts, still had to meet to discuss the reactions to the latest Soviet proposals to iron out East-West difficulties and plan their next approach. The informants said it might be late tonight before such coordination was possible.

In the first Russian editorial on the four power talks in Moscow, the New Times ridiculed foreign newspapers for saying "there is no ground for compromise between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union on the German question." The article criticized L'Epoch of Paris for saying the talks are "predestined to failure."

Meanwhile in Berlin the Russians boasted they have accumulated enough food to feed all Berlin for 40 days. At the same time, however, complaints about hunger came from the surrounding Soviet Zone.

There have been repeated reports of a new Russian proposal in the form of an amendment to the first article of the convention which, as drafted by Russia and adopted, reads:

Undecided On U. S. Cabinet Post

FORMER GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS, Maurice J. Tobin, who was dominated by President Truman as Secretary of Labor, talks to a reporter before leaving Boston to deliver a campaign speech. Tobin is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He refused to comment on statements by political observers who believed he would withdraw from the Sept. 14 primary and enter the Cabinet. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Capitol Hill spy hearings branched out to the Russian embassy today when a confessed wartime Communist spy named an embassy official as the "payoff" man who once slipped her 100 $20 bills.

Elizabeth I. Bentley, who says she is a former Red spy, returned to the witness chair of the House Un-American Activities Committee and testified that Anatol Gromov, first secretary of the embassy, paid her $2,000 in October, 1945.

She also said he told her the Soviet Supreme Council had awarded her a medal.

Her story of the money and the medal had been disclosed by committee members earlier, but she pointed for the first time to the embassy as the source.

Miss Bentley, who says she gave her story to the FBI in August, 1945, also told the committee: "The FBI has told me that in checking all of the evidence I have given them they never have found any major discrepancy."

The committee put Miss Bentley back on the stand after hearing Henry H. Collins, Jr., a former military government officer, deny that he was ever a spy for a foreign country, but refuse to say whether he is or has been a Communist.

Before he took the stand, Chairman Thomas (D-NJ) announced that a special subcommittee will go to New York tomorrow to take testimony in closed session from Michael Ivanovich Samarin, former Russian school teacher.

Other members said there are plans also to send a subcommittee perhaps of one man—in Canada to get a statement from Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian clerk who was responsible for breaking the Canadian atom bomb case.

It was disclosed, too, that the committee contemplates a review of the hearings here.

Rep. McDowell (D-Pa) told reporters that a committee will be set up "all next week" at least. Collins, who is now executive director of the American-Russian institute in New York, held various government jobs before the war.

He came before the committee with a prepared statement which read: "I never have engaged in espionage for, nor been an agent of, a foreign power. I do not believe in the overthrow of the government by force or violence and I know I have never violated any law of the United States."

Whittaker Chambers, now a senior editor of Time Magazine, told the committee last week that Collins was associated with a "Communist underground" in Washington before the war. Chambers, an avowed former Communist, described Collins as the treasurer and dues collector for the Washington group.

Spy Hearings Branch Out To Reds' Embassy

Agreement For Sake Of Agreement Ruled Out For Soviet Meet

Secretary Marshall Outlines Principles In Negotiating With Russians

TALKING TO REPORTERS at Nyack, N. Y., Martha Knutson, manager of the Tolstoy rest home for White Russians, expresses her opinion that Mrs. Okana S. Kousenka was a fled spy sent to the home to check on its activities. Mrs. Knutson discounted stories told by the Soviet Consulate that Mrs. Kousenka had been "abducted" and held prisoner at the farm until her "rescue" by Russian Consulate officials. (International)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today that in negotiating with the Russians the United States must not seek agreement merely for agreement's sake.

Marshall made the comment at a news conference after he had been asked to discuss the international meeting at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, on freedom of navigation on the Danube River. The conference is split between a majority Russian bloc and a minority Western bloc.

Repeatedly the secretary gave a no comment reply to inquiries about the big four talks now under way at Moscow on the Berlin blockade and the broader problem of a German settlement. However, the sweeping nature of his response to the inquiry on the Danube meeting made it clear that he applies the same line of reasoning to the Moscow and Belgrade sessions.

The Danube Conference now in progress, Marshall said, is an excellent example of the difficulties that the United States encounters in all its negotiations trying to

Hospital Bulletin Declares Ruth's Condition Critical

1,200 Guests Are Expected Here By Fellowship Group

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Babe Ruth, baseball's ailing home run king, was reported in critical condition today at Memorial Hospital.

The hospital said Ruth had developed a higher temperature and that there were pulmonary complications.

On Monday he was reported as having a cold. Yesterday the hospital said his condition seemed improved and the temperature had gone down.

The hospital bulletin said: "Babe Ruth's temperature has risen. There are pulmonary complications. Condition critical."

Ruth has been undergoing a series of treatments in the hospital.

He has been ill for nearly two years. Late in 1946 he entered French Hospital, where he underwent a delicate neck operation. He left the hospital last year, and was seen in public on a few occasions, chiefly in connection with activities for the Babe Ruth Foundation.

He has spent vacations in Florida and in the past few months has attended baseball games where he received tributes from fans, old and young. His old New York Yankees uniform, bearing No. 3, was retired recently.

At 11:30 A. M. J. Paul Carey, treasurer of the Babe Ruth Foundation and a close friend, arrived at the hospital and 10 minutes later came out and told reporters of the new facility.

Superintendent Madly Outlines Plans At Kiwanis Meeting

Bambino Has Been Undergoing Series Of Health Treatments

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Fellowship Foundation has been granted the use of 17 buildings at the Municipal Airport and these are being put into good condition to house visitors who are expected to number 1,200 by Jan. 15, it was announced today by C. A. Madly, superintendent of the Foundation.

Reviewing the three years in which the Fellowship movement has been established here, he called that it was on the recommendation of Governor Caldwell that members left the poorly drained area of Intersectoan City and came to Sanford.

"The people of Sanford have what you need and are hospitable," he quoted the Governor as having advised, when the group appealed to the latter as to what to do.

So we contacted the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce," said Mr. Madly and they set down a committee that included Fred R. Wilson, and they expressed the opinion that our institution would be constructive.

He told of difficulties with the government and War Assets Administration with the acquisition of the property. This was settled when Sanford took over the property from the government and completed a contract with the Fellowship group.

The Fellowship Foundation is not merely a school, but a community center, he said.

Jews And Arabs Americans Show Reopen Battle In Palestine Fight

Guns And Artillery Resound Despite Cease Fire Order

By ERIC GOTTGHEBER
JERUSALEM, Aug. 11 (AP)—Guns and artillery resounded from midnight to dawn today in the heaviest fighting here since the U. N. cease fire was imposed.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator who said he was going to get tough in order to stop the shooting, was here and heard it all. The U. N. officer has put 50 more American and French observers on the job in an effort to restore peace.

(A Tel Aviv source close to the Israeli cabinet predicted new Jerusalem and its Arab quarters will be annexed to Israel within two weeks. He said the cabinet already has decided secretly to take the step. The Arabs hold the old city, which is about a fourth of the total area.)

The unofficial battle reached its height in Jerusalem around 3 A. M. Rifle shots and automatic fire broke out by the thousand. Artillery, seemingly from a distance, was audible throughout the city. White and green flares lit up the sky as Arabs and Jews could spot their foes.

Official Jewish sources said Arabs "who continue to violate the truce" attacked Jewish positions.

Research Laboratory To Be Built In State

MIAMI BEACH, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dr. Joseph E. King of the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service, said today the service plans to establish a research laboratory on the Florida west coast within two months to determine the causes and possible permanent measures against the red tide.

Dr. King who made the announcement at the Fisheries Institute said he did not know where the laboratory will be established. He said there were several points in mind but would not name them. He said the laboratory was being made possible through a $50,000 congressional appropriation.

South Carolina, Arkansas And Idaho Demos Appear To Have Named Men

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
South Carolina, Arkansas and Idaho Democrats appeared to have their nominees all picked today for major November political contests.

Candidates for at least one of South Carolina's three contested Congressional posts seemed headed for runoff elections, but Senator Burnet R. Maybank held a clear 10,000-vote majority over four competitors for his Senate seat, with returns almost complete.

In Arkansas—where, as in South Carolina, Democratic nomination means certain election in November—Hot Springs prosecutor Sidney E. McMath, 38, took a lead over former attorney general Jack Holt in the race for Governor.

In all three primaries, the other major ballot battles concerned house seats.

Giants Officials Are Expected In Sanford

A number of officials of the New York Giants, including Horace C. Stoneham, president, are expected to arrive in Sanford next Tuesday for an inspection of Giant properties, including the Mayfair Inn where they will stay, it was announced today by Charles Marion, hotel manager.

The party is expected to arrive here at Municipal Airport in a plane piloted by Mel Lamb and will include Mel Ott, former manager of the New York Giants, Carl Hubbell, Giant from organization director, and Garry Schomberg, who represent the National Exhibition Co., owners of the New York Giants.

JETS IN FLORIDA
MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 11 (AP)—More than a hundred jet fighter planes will operate from Brookley Air Force Base here during a combined exercise starting around 11:00 A. M. today.

The Brookley Public Relations office said the F-86 Shooting Stars would be based here for a three-month period while Operation Combat III is underway in the Northwest Florida area.

Comparison Of Meat Prices In 1948 With Those Of 1938 Reveals Boosts

A comparison of the price of meat at "bargain prices" in grocery stores today with prices of 1938 reveals that present prices are often three to four times what they were 10 years ago.

Housewives who are staging a strike against high meat prices may be interested to learn that just 10 years ago the butcher would sell two pounds of hamburger for a quarter, or enough for the family supper. At present, you can get only a half a pound of hamburger for a quarter, or the two pounds now costs $1.00 plus, or four times as much.

An advertisement of a local meat and grocery store in a July, 1938, edition of The Herald, reveals that for 90 cents you could get three pounds of center cut pork chops, enough to feed a family of six and in addition three visitors. The same sum will now buy one pound of chops, and the visitors might be advised to stay at home or bring their own pork chops which now cost three times as much as in 1938.

A dollar, and ten cents would buy a nice three pound round steak but in the period when Howard Hughes was making his globe circling flying tour in 91 hours, nowadays a customer is lucky if he can find a single pound of round steak for the same amount. Bacon which then sold for 27 cents a pound now costs 77 cents. Fryers which sold at 25 cents now bring 70 cents a pound.

The following 1938 prices will prove interesting to compare with present day prices: flour, 20 pounds for 49 cents; bananas, 10 pounds for 25 cents; chick roast, 21 cents; club steak, 25 cents; and butter 27 cents a pound. Sausage was 10 cents a pound and lamb chops were two pounds for 20 cents. A pound of stew meat cost one dime. Oils, then 18 cents is now 36 cents a pound.

Vegetables and fruits were much cheaper also in 1938. Ten pounds of potatoes cost 10 cents then; now five pounds can be purchased for 25 cents. Two (Continued on Page Four)

Earl "Tim" Tyler Resigns As Teacher

The resignation of Earl Q. Tim Tyler as a teacher in Seminole High School was accepted yesterday morning by the Board of Public Instruction at a meeting in the office of Supt. T. W. Lawton.

New appointments were: Miss Margaret Dohler as a teacher of home economics at the Lyman School in Longwood, Miss Sylvia Jones of Belle Glade as a teacher in the South Side Primary School and Josie Baskin as a teacher in the Ovidio Colored School.

C. C. Howard, superintendent of maintenance reported on progress of repairs at the Crooms and Hopper Academies.

Following the meeting, Supt. and Mrs. Lawton left yesterday on a two week vacation at Winona Lake, Ind. where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Elaine Maxwell and her family.

Road Block Ordinance LAKELAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—The city commission instructed the city attorney today to draw an ordinance limiting blocking of streets crossing by Atlantic Coast Line trains to five minutes.

This action came after a 2-1 vote by the commissioners.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

AFTER WE CONFESS WE MUST MAKE AMENDS IF WE CAN, AND TURN FROM A BAD
WAY. I prayed unto the Lord
my God and made my confession.—Ps. 54.

Down in Tampa two men got
in a fight. One of them got hit and suddenly went blind. He was a war veteran, injured in France,
was wearing a silver plate in his head. Better count ten before starting a fight.

Florida's governor-designate,
Fuller Warren, says he is going to vote for all the Democratic nominees, including the presidential electors, even though he does not agree with major planks in the Democratic platform. He could hardly do anything else since he took an oath when he qualified as a candidate for governor to support all the Democratic nominees. However, it is encouraging to recall that at least three of Florida's Democratic presidential electors are pledged to vote against Truman.

An Orlando youth returning from Sanlando Springs saw a rattlesnake on the road, decided
he wanted it for his collection.
The snake, however, had other ideas about that, and now he is nursing a badly bitten hand. If you must have rattlesnakes as pets, use a short stick with a fork
at one end. Gently place the fork over the rattlesnake's neck, immediately in the rear of its head
and press down firmly into the ground. Better still, shoot the head off with a 12 gauge shotgun before starting the operation.

Children are not always the little angels their mothers think they are. Especially when they go to picture shows do they put their feet up on the backs of the seats in front of them, laugh and talk loudly to each other, and generally make a nuisance of themselves. "Nobody has any manners any more," said 94-year-old Mrs. Alice King, who bopped
a couple of kids over the head
with her handbag in a Chicago
theater the other afternoon. "I stood it as long as I could," she later told the police, "and then I let them have it." "Not guilty,"
said the judge.

The assessed valuation of all
real estate and personal property
in the City of Sanford is now estimated in excess of 14 million dollars by the appraisal engineers
of J. M. Clemmshaw Company.
That is supposed to be somewhere near its real value. And the tax millage may be reduced to something like 21 mills. It is good publicity for a town to have high assessments together with a low millage rate. The first thing a business man wants to know when he considers moving to a new place is "What is their tax rate?"
If it is low, he likes that. Then he asks, "What is the town assessed at? What is it worth?" Naturally the higher it is, the more he figures it is worth, the better town it is.

Do you want to know why prices are high? The people of the United States will have $211, 900,000,000 this year to spend instead of only $70,000,000,000
as before the war. Since production of goods has failed to keep pace with demand, due to arbitrarily restricted working hours,
and other restrictive measures
which tend to destroy the profit
motive and discourage production,
we have more people than ever before with more money in their pockets bidding against each other for scarce commodities. Of course, the price goes up, and it will keep on going up, until the money to buy with is reduced, or the supply of goods is increased. Personally
we prefer vastly stimulated production... even though you have to let someone make a profit, and let it to get him to start a factory.

Truman And Prices

That President Truman does not sincerely wish to reduce prices and that his calling of the special session of Congress was merely a cheap political trick to mislead the public was pretty well proved the other day by Walter Lipp-mann, one of the ablest newspaper columnists in the country, who said that Mr. Truman does not have the political courage necessary to do the things which have to be done if prices are going to be brought down.

"Mr. Truman called the special session in order to make the voters think that he would now be reducing retail prices
if the Republicans would let him," Mr. Lippmann declares.
"The question is whether the voters will recognize the difference between a serious program to combat the inflation
and a quite cynical political trick."

"For the special session was a trick. The Truman program was not meant to be enacted, or administered, or enforced. Had Mr. Truman wanted it enacted, he would have consulted the leaders of Congress before he announced it. He would have rallied his own party and he would have conciliated the Republicans, and he would have negotiated with them. Had he expected to administer and enforce his program, he would have done something with the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board to make them ready to administer and enforce it."

"But what Mr. Truman wanted was not the hard and dangerous task of combating inflation. He wanted to be the candidate who stood for lower prices in the retail shops without having to do any of the disagreeable and unpopular things that would have to be done if retail prices are to be reduced."

"That the program was quite insincere—that is to say, not intended for action—is evident. It proposed a return to rationing and price control. But the machinery of rationing and price control does not exist. He proposed a contraction of the money supply. But Mr. Snyder and Mr. Eccles, who would have to perform the operation, are sorely on speaking terms. The very program which was supposed to combat inflation contained a series of proposals to increase it—a big housing program, new expenditures for education, for old age insurance, and a higher minimum wage. The program
did not contain proposals to reduce purchasing power by raising income taxes, by lowering the support of farm
prices, and by reducing Government expenditures."

"As a matter of fact the Truman program for the special session was concocted by his political advisers; it was not even the program of the Truman Administration. Had it been in fact the Administration program, its sponsors
would have been the agencies which would have to administer it—namely the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board.
But Mr. Snyder damned it with faint praise; Mr. Eccles who is the most serious and the most competent member of the Administration dealing with the subject said frankly that the program was worthless. Mr. Paul Porter, who holds no office, was appointed the spokesman for the program—the theory being, apparently, that since Mr. Porter had no power to act he could talk all the more freely."

In Gibbon's Footsteps

Historians record history, seldom make it. An exception was the modern dean of the profession, Edward Gibbon, author of "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire", who served many years in the British Parliament. An eminent American historian is now following Gibbon's precedent. This is Prof. Preston Slosson of the University of Michigan, who has written several authoritative works on American and world history.

Slosson is running for the Democratic nomination for Congress, on a platform supporting the Truman administration, especially in foreign affairs. If successful in the September primaries, he will oppose the veteran Earl Michener,
one of the most conservative members of an extremely conservative state delegation.

In addition to his long service as a teacher at Michigan,
which should bring him many votes from former pupils, Slos-
son has been a popular radio commentator on current affairs.
His gift for making complicated subjects simple might be inherited from his father, the late Edwin E. Slosson, a best-selling writer on popular science.

If Slosson weathers the primary and the election, he will add distinction not only to the Michigan delegation but to the House of Representatives. The House has had no professional historian in 40 years, the last being James Brock Perkins, authority on eighteenth century France, who long represented Rochester, N. Y., and rose to a place amply suited to his talents, the chairmanship of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Foreign Policy Unity

It is reported that Republican and Democratic leaders have reached an understanding which will preclude injection
into the presidential campaign of any foreign policy issue
which might weaken the front presented to Russia by this country.

From a purely domestic viewpoint, this understanding might be regarded as depriving the people of important questions to be considered in the November elections. It is not accurate to say that foreign policy is not, or should not be,
a political issue. Fundamental questions of foreign policy should properly be decided by the people, at the polls.

But in this case there is no sensible alternative. The understanding, if accurately reported, reflects wise statesmanship in both parties. The present strained condition of relations between the two countries is partly a result of our misjudgment of Russia in the past. It is at least equally a result of Russian misjudgment of us.

Should policy toward Russia be debated between the two major parties in the campaign, it would be easy for Russians, prone to think of our election system in terms of their own, to misunderstand. Poorly advised steps might follow.
It is prudent, then, to avoid contributing at this time to misjudgment.

Tinker To Evers To Chance

The death of Joe Tinker, last
of the famous double play combination of the great Cubs, in which Johnny Evers and Frank Chance were his associates, called attention to other days and other types of players, other seasons
and other schools of baseball writing.

Even before the passing of Tinker had brought up comparisons, Richard Maney, New York
press agent and stage and sports
critic, had thrown the spotlight
on baseball writing in the Sunday
book section of the New York Times. Maney revealed the fact that fun, biting sarcasm, had fled
the scene.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Moscow radio laid aside its customary attacks on the Democracies yesterday and for a change
urged closer collaboration between Russia and the United States to assure lasting peace.

The commentator declared that
"just as it was collaboration of the great powers that made possible
complete victory over the forces of Fascism and militarism, so collaboration can assure a lasting peace at the present time." Since all broadcasts in Russia are government controlled,
we can be sure that this extraordinary statement had official approval.

Such a striking about-face
from the usual caustic criticisms
of the democracies makes it difficult to inquire "Why?" Are the Moscowites talking "for the record,"
are they on a fishing expedition, or do they really mean business? However, before trying to answer that let's give a constructive response to the suggestion of collaboration.

There is just one way, as I see it, in which full collaboration can be secured with the United States.
That is for Moscow to abandon the project of world revolution
for the establishment of Communist governments by force.

America never has challenged Russia on what the latter was doing within Soviet borders. However, the United States has made it quite clear that she will not stand idly by while Communism
is thrust upon small nations which lack the strength to defend themselves against Moscow-directed aggression.

And you, we are not dealing
with a normal ideological crusade.
One of the cardinal tenets of Bol-
shevism is the necessity of using
"strong-arm" methods not only in
the establishment of Red governments but in "persuading" unwilling people to subscribe to the cause. In this manner little countries like Czechoslovakia are taking over by Moscow.

And you, we are not dealing

One of the cardinal tenets of Bol-
shevism is the necessity of using
"strong-arm" methods not only in
the establishment of Red governments but in "persuading" un-
willing people to subscribe to the
cause. In this manner little countries like Czechoslovakia are taking over by Moscow.

From the time of the Bolsh-evist revolution in 1917 in Russia
until 1933 Washington refused to acknowledge the Soviet government because of its persistent propaganda and subversive activities in an effort to Communize
the United States. Finally Treaty Roosevelt recognized the Soviet Union after Moscow pledged its other objectionable efforts would cease -- a pledge which obviously never was implemented.

So the way it looks from here,
the time has arrived for Bolshevism to purge itself of its broken promises and other sins if it wants collaboration with the United States. It is conceivable that collaboration of some sort might be worked out on that basis.

The column frequently has ventured the view that Communism
and Democracy cannot exist
together in the same country.
However, it may be that a democratic country and a Communist
country might live side by side
without warring -- provided each minded its own business.

That gets us back to our question of why Moscow suggests collaboration now. Judging from current developments the proposal
was "for the record," and perhaps to encourage concessions by the Democrats in the German crisis.

Beginning Sept. 1, regular daily
service at the Sanford local office
of the Florida State Employment Service will be discontinued and after that date Sanford will receive weekly itinerant service from the Orlando local office of the FSES, Dr. Funa, A. Hathaway,
director Florida State Employment Service, announced today. At a later date, the new office location
and the day of the week and the hours during which service is available will be determined.

With transfer of the United States Employment Service to the Federal Security Agency from the Department of Labor on July 1,
the cut was made by Congress
in operating funds of the two services, ES and UC, making it necessary for State Administrations to receive their operating expenses for the period July 1-Dec. 31, 1948.

In order to bring costs within funds allocated to Florida, Dr.
Hathaway said the Industrial Commission has been urged to adopt certain more or less rigid economies. As a major move in this direction, it was decided to

Seaboard Airplane Plants
Being Transferred Inland
Wallace Strength Weaker,
Political Scribes Believe

WASHINGTON—The armed services are quietly having the factories which build warplanes moved inland, away from vulnerable coast lines and borders.

The movement started some time ago, long before the National Security Resources Board recommended diversion of industry and its removal inland.

First move involved the Chance Vought division of United Aircraft from Bridgeport, Conn., to Fort Worth, Tex. Chance Vought built the famed Corsair shipboard fighter used so effectively by the Navy in the Pacific.

The company is now building the Pirate, a new Navy jet fighter, and carrying on various secret projects.

Next move will probably involve the six-jet flying wing bomber, now being built by Northrop
at Hawthorne, Cal. This project may also go to Fort Worth, where the mammoth B-36 bomber is already being built.

The Air Force built a number of modern plants
inland during the last war and quite recently activated several of these which were about to be sold to non-aviation industries.

Both the Air Force and Navy are relieved at conclusion that underground plane-building plants will not be necessary, since such construction would have seriously delayed the 70 air group expansion.

WALLACE DOWNTREND—Veteran political reporters covering the founders' convention of the new Progressive party in Philadelphia are revising downward their estimates of the votes Henry A.
Wallace will poll in November.

From a tentative pre-convention seven million, the figure is being lowered to between three and one-half and five million. The experts say it may go even lower because of damaging publicity which came out of the conclave at the Quaker City.

The foreign policy plank of the lengthy platform was assailed as a restatement of Russian foreign policy. The delegates even beat down an amendment stating that "nothing in this plank shall be construed as the endorsement of the foreign policy of another government."

Observers felt that the new party got off to a bad start, and that it is not destined to play a major role in American politics unless the communists are cleaned out.

They also felt that Wallace himself lost prestige at his news conference when he declined to confirm or deny he had written the mystic Guru letters.

PRICE ELEVATOR—Mrs. John Q. Public may be squirming at the continuing increase in the cost of living—but the worst is yet to come.

President Truman's Economic Advisory Council
estimates that farm marketings for 1948 will be down three or four per cent. This will be a major factor contributing to high meat prices and one that will assure their continuance.

The number of cattle on farms and ranches has been dropping for the past three years. Dairy cows are down to pre-war levels;
sheep numbers are the lowest in 75 years and the spring pig crop
is off about three per cent.

New Navy Carrier Will Be First
Capital Ship For Atomic Age

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—
The biggest fighting ship in the world—the Navy's $125,000,000
carrier—will be the first capital ship built for the atomic age.

The contract for her construction by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., was announced over the weekend.

No date has been set for the keel laying and her first taste of salt water is expected to be almost four years away.

But she is being planned for a new era in sea warfare—she may be used one day to launch big planes loaded with atomic bombs,
and she must be fast and well
armed against enemy planes perhaps dropping atom bombs on her.

Her exact tonnage has not been set; estimates range from 65,000
to 80,000 tons.

No conventional "island" will interrupt an armored flight deck
more than one-fifth of a mile long and some 130 feet wide. Navigation wings will be built on each side, housing radar antennas and fire control apparatus.

Few details of the carrier have been announced, but the emphasis on atomic planning in Navy circles
suggests that she will be air conditioned against deadly radioactive air particles.

The navy's jet-ship postwar construction program, which includes the unnamed flush-deck
carrier, is almost entirely experimental. If advanced ideas built into the prototypes work out, the Navy will gradually rebuild its present fleet, putting in the proven new features.

The other 15 guinea pig ships
cruisers, 4000-ton HM H II HM
include two anti-submarine cruisers, four big destroyers, six high-speed submarines and three
"anti-submarine" submarines.

One of the cruisers, the Norfolk, will be built by the New York Shipbuilding Corp., Camden,
N. J.; the other, not yet named,
by the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

The close of the war. Beginning Sept. 1, these communities will be placed back on a weekly itinerant schedule with adequate personnel
assigned to ES and UC function.

"Rent is one of the major items
in the cost of maintaining a small office," Dr. Hathaway explained.
The elimination of this item of expense will go a long way toward effecting total savings that the Commission must make in its economy program. Reductions will be made with a view of causing the least possible injury to the Service as a whole," he said.

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 11 (Special)—The second installment of state school funds under the Minimum Foundation Program
will be sent to the county on August 15, State School Supt.
Colin English has announced in Tallahassee.

English said the county will receive a total of $28,710 of which $23,536 is for teacher
salaries, $1,533 for transportation,
and $3,639 for other current expense. No capital outlay funds are being distributed this month.
The total estimated state allocation for the county this year is $388,180.

English has estimated the cost of the new school program at $41,750,179. This is $249,821 less than the limit of 42 million dollars set by the 1947 Legislature.
In addition to the state allocation Florida's 67 counties will contribute $11,943,964 to fund
Seminole county's share amounts to $131,604.

Pilot Club Picnics At "Time And Tide"

Members of the Pilot Club enjoyed a swimming party and picnic at "Time and Tide," summer home of Mrs. Mary Rawlins yesterday afternoon and evening. Swimming and boating were enjoyed after which a picnic supper was served. Miss Maude Ramsey, delegate to the international convention held in Daytona Beach in June, gave some interesting highlights of the convention. Those enjoying the party were Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, Mrs. John L. Galloway, Mrs. M. C. Stone, Mrs. Ruth Scott, Mrs. M. B. Smith, Mrs. W. V. Hitting, Mrs. E. H. Laney, Mrs. Joel S. Field, Mrs. Felice West, Mrs. Frank R. MacNeill, Mrs. Mary Rawlins, Mrs. Bart Peterson, Mrs. W. E. Holleyhead, Mrs. Bill Tyre, Mrs. M. L. Raborn, Mrs. H. E. Chapman, Mrs. John L. Clark, Mrs. Verne Measenger and guests. Miss Shirley Morgan of Katoomba, N. Y., and Miss Marjorie Lee of Shelby, N. C., and Miss Maude Ramsey.

Personals

Mrs. William Viblen and son Roth and Mrs. Earl Dossey and children Floyd and Evie, have returned from New Smyrna Beach. Mrs. J. M. Murry of Birmingham, Ala. is visiting her sister Mrs. Hattie Abercrombie for about ten days. Miss Marguerite Graves of Columbia, S. C. has arrived to spend several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huller at their home on Magnolia Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Early, Miss Jean Luckman and Don Carter are spending several days in Sanford as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hofmann at their home in San Lanta.

Oviedo News

Mrs. William Henry Martin and Miss Kathryn Lawton entertained with one of the loveliest parties of the season in honor of a charming bride-elect, Miss Thelma Lee, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lee, Sr., whose marriage will take place on Aug. 22. Rosa, pink tulle, and pale pink ribbons were placed through out the house in profusion. A gift of a set of novel crystal tea coasters was presented to Miss Lee by Miss Lawton and Mrs. Martin as a memento of this delightful affair. Those participating in this party included Mesdames Leon Olliff, Roy Clontz, Jr., Robert Lee, Frank Wheeler, Jr., Merritt Stanley, James Partin, Thomas Staley and Miss Barbara Lee of Oviedo. Also Mrs. Robert Murphy of Hampton, Va. The home of Mrs. Lee Gary was the scene of another lovely party last evening, honoring Miss Thelma Lee, popular bride-elect of Rex Clontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Clontz, Sr. Mrs. W. R. Meek was a joint hostess at this affair. Those assisting Mrs. Gary with the serving were Mesdames Ruth Gwynn, Merritt Stanley, Donald Leinhardt and Roy Clontz, Jr. The house was beautifully decorated with summer flowers throughout. They were artistically arranged in the center of the tea table, presided over by Mrs. William Henry Martin and Miss James Partin alternately. Those included in this party were Mesdames Robert Murphy, Merle Roberts, Marion Estes, John Adams, Jr., John Coulter, June Spencer, Marion Wagner, Frank Wheeler, Jr., Jimmie McGowan, Burgess McMahon, Earl Beasley, Ferrell Beasley, Billie West, Leon Olliff, Ben H. Jones, Joe Beasley, Jr., Phil Packard, Tommy Moon, Tommy Staley, Jacqueline Miliotti, Henry Walcott, J. Y. Harris, Ben G. Mrs. Cordell Serves As Circle Hostess

Mrs. H. E. Cordell served as hostess for the regular meeting of Circle No. 2 of the First Baptist Church held on Monday afternoon at the church annex. The meeting was opened with the Bible study on the "Women of the New Testament" given by Mrs. M. N. Cleveland. Mrs. A. K. Rosseter spoke to the group on stewardship and the community mission chairman, Mrs. B. E. Beck, reported on the visit of the circle members to the County Home where they distributed literature and served refreshments. Mrs. George Dixon asked on the need for missionaries in Cuba after which the meeting was closed with a prayer. Mrs. Cleveland invited the circle to meet with her for the next monthly meeting. Refreshments consisting of Coca Cola and cookies were served at the conclusion of the meeting by Mrs. Cordell. Those attending were Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. M. J. Phillips, Mrs. J. T. Hardy, Mrs. C. A. Whidden, Mrs. Rosseter, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. W. T. Wheelers, Mrs. Lillian Vickers, Mrs. A. J. Peterson, Mrs. Dixon and Miss Allie Trafford.

Circle 5 Has Meet At Gatchel Home

Miss Minnie Stewart entertained members of Circle No. 5 of the First Baptist Church for a regular meeting held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Forrest Gatchel at 2320 Laurel Avenue. Mrs. Gatchel served as co-hostess for the meeting. Following the opening services reports were heard from the various committees and a new member was welcomed into the circle. Plans were made to visit the shut-ins this month in connection with community missions work. "Mary of Rome" was the topic of the Bible study taught by Mrs. Gatchel. Following adjournment of the business session refreshments consisting of punch, assorted cookies and salted nuts were served to Mrs. S. A. Edenfield, Mrs. F. S. Lannon, Mrs. H. W. Shannon, Mrs. W. L. Stoudenmire, Mrs. W. K. Stokley, Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, Jr., Mrs. Gatchel and Miss Stewart.

GIMPE LOOK... Example of a variety of quaint fashions for autumn and winter in a New York dress of taupe wool jersey, worn with a white cotton blouse. Skirt is hot-pleated at the waist. Hat, hatted in leather. Shoes in tucked to front and youthfully colored. (N. Y. Dress Institute Photo)

ACCENT ON BUTTONS... Buttons come in pairs and in rows in many of the New York fashions for autumn and winter 1948-49. This rich red wool gabardine theater costume from the collection of Brownie for Fox-browne is representative of the trend. Jacket has a new wide shawl collar, and the skirt swings out slightly in back. (N. Y. Dress Institute Photo)

Mrs. McCall, Rocco Honor Miss Robson

With one of the loveliest of the summer parties Mrs. Edward McCall and Mrs. J. J. Rocco entertained last evening honoring Miss Mildred Robson whose marriage to M. L. Robson, Jr. will be an event of Aug. 27. The party was in form of a miscellaneous shower and bridge party and was given at the McCall home on East Fourteenth Street. The rooms were attractively decorated with arrangements of roses, geraniums, antigonon and gerbera daisies in shades of pink, deep rose and fuchsia. Bridal favors were chosen as the guests entered and during the evening several progressions of bridge were enjoyed. A fruit drink was served during the games. After the scores were added the high score, Lucien Belong cologne, was awarded to Mrs. Carlin Ray, and the screen prizes, notepaper and costume jewelry, were won by Mrs. W. A. Ludwig and Miss Nancy Williams. A prize, a pocket book amulet, was won by Miss Elyhan Boyd for holding the lucky plate. Miss Robson was presented with her gifts in a small wagon, decorated as a hand-dry truck, by Edward McCall Jr. Mrs. McCall's gift to the honoree was Haviland china and Mrs. Rocco gave her several pieces of silver in the Chantilly pattern. At the conclusion of the games refreshments consisting of individual leaf cakes, ice cream and salted nuts carrying out a pastel color scheme were served by the hostesses. Those enjoying the evening with Miss Robson were her mother, Mrs. J. N. Robson, Mrs. M. J. Raborn, Mrs. W. A. Ludwig, Mrs. J. B. Thompson of Orlando, Mrs. Ray and the Misses Lucille Altman, Lillian Boyd, Pat Scholter, Nancy Colburn, Shirley Smith, Catherine Clark, Nancy Williams, Paula Robson and Minnie Ruth Orlam.

Co-Hostesses Honor Bride With Shower

Mrs. W. C. Coleman and Mrs. Earl Hossay entertained recently honoring Mrs. Mildred Robson, whose marriage to John B. Robson took place on Sunday at the Dossey home in Florida Heights at 8:00 o'clock. The party was in the form of a lingerie shower. Graceful arrangements of mixed summer flowers were used in decorating to form an attractive setting for the party. During the evening games were enjoyed with prizes being won by Mrs. Robert Brown and Miss Arian Brown. Following the games, Miss Johnson was presented with many lovely gifts by her friends. The hostesses were assisted by serving by Mrs. William V. Allen and Miss Barbara Johnson. Enjoying the evening with Miss Johnson were Mrs. R. J. Johnson, Mrs. R. E. Scarborough, Mrs. G. P. Wade, Mrs. W. J. Bennett, Mrs. J. P. LaFolch, Mrs. C. J. Hamner, Mrs. Jett, Mrs. Nell Coleman, Mrs. David Colburn, Mrs. J. C. Coleman, Mrs. A. B. Abrams, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. O. P. Landless, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. James Alford, Mrs. Kenneth Factor, Mrs. Jean Robinson, Mrs. Fred Meyer, Mrs. A. Hine, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Alden, Miss Arlene Bonn, Mrs. Mae Jett, Miss Richard Johnson and Miss Doris Johnson.

Recipe for Stuffed Fish Follows

1 pound zucchini squash, Tomatoes and Onions
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup (2 small) thinly sliced onions
1 cup thin strips green pepper
1 pound zucchini squash
2 small (3/4 pound) tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon dried basil
1 1/4 tea spoon ground allspice

Wash butter in margarine in heavy 10-inch skillet over medium heat, add onions and cook, stirring frequently, until fairly tender and slightly yellowed, about 5 minutes. Turn heat low and add green pepper. While onion and pepper are cooking wash zucchini equal well and pare skin partially off in vertical striped effect. Slice thinly into skillet and mix well with onion and green pepper. Peel tomatoes, having removed stem, cut half and slice into quarters or sixth wedges. Add salt, pepper, basil and allspice; mix well to distribute seasonings over vegetables and cover skillet tightly. Increase heat slightly and cook for 5 to 10 minutes, stirring a few times, until squash is just tender. Serve immediately with pan liquor. 4 servings.

Sanford-DeLand Game Postponed Due To Weather

The game between the Sanford Giants and the DeLand Red Hats was rained out at the Municipal Park last night, and as the result of the postponed game, the Giants and the Hats will play a twin bill at the local park on Aug. 19, which is the last time the DeLand club comes to Sanford in the 1943 season.

The Giants gained one-half game on the St. Augustine Saints last night. The Saints dropped a 4 to 3 game to the Leesburg Pirates last night. Leesburg's Howard Bailey limited the Saints to eight hits to register the victory. Bill Story and Stan Karpinski worked for the Ancient City nine.

The Daytona Beach Islanders trimmed the loop leading Orlando Senators in Daytona Beach by a 4 to 1 count. Stubby Stabelfeldt racked up his 22nd victory of the year. Orlando's Lou Howell was rapped for ten hits by the Daytona club. The contest was "Sam Demma Appreciation Night" in honor of the late manager.

Palatka and Gainesville were rained out at Gainesville.

Tonight the Giants move to Leesburg, and tomorrow evening the Giants play the Pirates at the local park.

All-Star Contest In G-F Loop Rained Out

MOULTRIE, Ga., Aug. 11 (AP)—Four thousand or more fans expecting to see the Georgia Florida League's annual North-South game hoped for clear skies tonight over the baseball park of the Moultrie Athletics, site of the fray.

Showers caused postponement of the game last night. The weather man indicated it may rain again today.

The game pits the stars of the four northmost cities of the league—Albany, Americus, Cordele and Moultrie—against the leading players of the southernmost cities—Tallahassee, Thomasville, Waycross and Valdosta.

The "Confederates," piloted by Manager Jack Rothrock of the Tallahassee Pirates, are the favorites. The squad includes the cream of the three first division clubs—the first-place Valdosta Dodgers, the second-place Waycross Bears, and the fourth-place Thomasville Tigers.

Manager Bob Stanton of the Albany Cardinals will direct the "Yankees."

Both teams comprise 15 players, picked by sports writers who cover the league.

The first pitch is slated for 8:15 P. M.

Battle Of Giants To Be Held Tonite At Volusia Oval

The feature ninth race at the Volusia County Kennel Club in Daytona Beach tonight could be fittingly called a "battle of the giants," for Racing Secretary Merrill Watts has assembled a whole octet of wonder greyhounds to gallop in this classic. Both Rolling Roy and Gloria Ann will be there. The latter is regarded as the track's "First Lady," while Roy is the "super-runner" which humbled beautiful Palatka in a two-dog exhibition match last Saturday. Many persons regard Gloria Ann as the local oval's ace of aces, but hundreds of dog racing fans think that Roy will push her from that pedestal tonight.

And Gloria's prestige also will be threatened by nimble-footed Snow and Sleet. This brilliant female, in a big track upset, defeated her just recently. Olla Honey Bird is another serious threat. In her last five races she has come in either to win or to place. And then there is Rapid Feller. Everyone knows that he has what it takes but he never opened up locally until last Monday night. Then he pulled a brilliant win in the seventh race.

Other races which will run in tonight's main attraction are Ante Over, Poverty, Pride and Little Super.

he had visited Ruth.

"He recognized me and said 'hello,'" Carey said, and, in answer to a question as to whether Ruth smiled, added: "He's always smiling."

The Bambino, as Ruth is affectionately known, started his spectacular baseball career as a left-handed pitcher who doubled as an outfielder. Although a really great pitcher, his slugging was even more sensational and he became a regular outfielder. Before retiring in 1935 he piled up batting records which perhaps never will be equalled.

Although his Major League career started in Boston, he was sold to the New York Yankees in 1920 and it was there that he achieved his greatest fame. He hit most of his 714 home runs with the Yankees.

He competed in 10 World Series, and he piled up more World Series and regular season records than any other player.

Ruth remained with the Yankees through 1934. In 1935 he was

Olympic Meet

Oyster Bay, N. Y., won the sixth race in the championship seven-race yachting series on congested Tonnage Bay.

The United States has strong title chances in this and in the star and firefly dinghy class.

Over in the Empire Pool House at Wembley, Welterweight Horace Herring of St. Petersburg joined three American teammates in the third round of the boxing tournament.

The rugged U. S. Navy 147-pound champion banged out a decision over Peter Foran of Erie to catch up with teammates Frankie Sodano of Philadelphia, 112; Wallace Smith of Cincinnati, 135, and Edward Johnson of Kansas City, 126.

But Uncle Sam's fighters suffered two reversals.

Washington Jones, 22-year-old U. S. middleweight from Loveloy, Ill., was disqualified in his second round bout with A. Gavigane of Belgium for hitting with an open glove. The disqualification came in the second round with Jones apparently well ahead on points.

Charlie Spelzer, 18-year-old Detroit truck driver who fights in the light heavy division, was beaten on a decision by George Hunter of South Africa.

Stanley A. Stancayk of Detroit lifted 286½ pounds in a two-hand press in the light heavyweight weight lifting competition for a new Olympic record.

It was the 17th record established in the competition and maintained a 100 per cent average of a new mark in every division. American fencers defeated France, 11-5, and Holland, 9-2.

Members who participated in these conquests were Norman Armitage of Greenwich, Conn., Tibor Nyilas of New York, Dean Cetrulo of Hollywood, Calif., and Miguel De Capriles of Pleasantville, N. Y.

Nine Major League Teams Have Chance To Capture Loop Flags

By JOE REICHLER
 ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS WRITER

Nine teams are still in the running for the Major League flags today as the greatest of all baseball campaigns roars past the two-third mark.

The list includes Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston and New York in the American League, and Boston, Brooklyn, St. Louis, New York and Pittsburgh in the National.

Only two and a half games separate the first four clubs in the American, while six and a half games separate the first five teams in the senior circuit.

At the moment, the Indians and Braves are on top, but neither position is secure. Only a matter of percentage points separates the Tribe from Connie Mack's amazing Athletics. The Braves, who lead a three game lead, are slipping fast. A month ago they enjoyed an eight game bulge.

By splitting a twilight night doubleheader with Washington while the Tigers were defeating the Indians, 7-3, in Detroit, the A's tied Cleveland for first in games won and lost. However, since they've played six more games and could do no better than get an even break in them, the A's trail the Tribe by six percentage points. After the Senators won yesterday's opener, 8-2, the A's came back to win, 11-2.

The Red Sox moved past New York into third place two games off the pace by growing the Yankees, 9-6, in New York. The New Yorkers dropped into fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

In the only other game yesterday, the St. Louis Browns advanced within a game of sixth place by vanquishing the last place Chicago White Sox, 3-1.

Bobby Feller, trying for his 12th victory, went down in his 12th defeat instead when he was clubbed for eight hits and five runs in the six innings he worked. Young Ed Grady of the Tigers struck out 10 in the 7 1/3 innings he pitched to rack up his second victory in as many starts. Pat Mullin's 18th home run in the fifth produced three runs and pinned the loss on Feller.

A crowd of 67,591 saw the Red Sox come from behind with five runs in the eighth to defeat the Yankees. Vern Stephens' double off Vic Raschi with the base loaded was the big blow. Tex Hughson, pitching in relief, was the winner.

Trailing 3-0, the Giants scored four runs in the seventh, added two more in the top of the eighth, then staved off a Boston rally in

Long Session With Samarin Proves Futile

House Group Says Teacher To Be Held As Source Of Future Information

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Truman repeated today that he thinks the Congressional spy hearings are a red herring. And he said they have the strongest kind of a smell.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12, (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee questioned Michael Samarin, Russian school teacher, today, but said it got no "pertinent information" from him.

At the end of an hour and a half session with Samarin behind closed doors, Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) told reporters the witness would be held under subpoena "as a source of future information."

Meanwhile in Washington the House Un-American Activities Committee announced that "preliminary steps" had been taken to prosecute some spy hearing witnesses for perjury—lying under oath.

On the perjury move, Thomas said George Morris Fay, United States attorney for the District of Columbia, has obtained a transcript of all hearings in the committee's current investigation of an alleged espionage ring. Thomas said Fay is "particularly interested in the perjury angle."

Several committee members have demanded that the Justice Department institute perjury proceedings. They said testimony has been so conflicting that it was obvious some one was deliberately lying.

Georgia Negroes Are Left Stranded In Michigan Fields

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Complaints that 220 Georgia negroes taken to Michigan for farm work had been left stranded in that state, have brought an investigation by the Georgia State Employment Service.

Employment Service spokesmen said today the negroes would be furnished transportation back to Georgia or offered employment in Michigan.

Difficulties encountered by the negroes were reported recently by the Pontiac (Mich.) Daily Press. The newspaper said one of the workers, Reuben Shavers, who lives near Savannah, appealed to the Veterans Administration office in Pontiac for help.

Shavers was described as destitute and ill. He said illness forced him off a truck loaded with Savannah negroes who were enroute to a point near Pontiac to pick cucumbers. His plea for help was turned over to the Red Cross in Pontiac.

The Georgia Employment Service office in Atlanta said the negroes were recruited by Clyde Thompson, of Savannah, for work in cucumber fields near Linwood, Mich. The state office said it understood Thompson operates a farm near here and was a grower in Michigan.

Michigan Employment Service officials were contacted to determine if seasonal labor was needed. Michigan authorities confirmed the need, Georgia employment spokesmen reported.

H. R. Nelson, Savannah area supervisor for the Georgia Employment Service, said the negroes were recruited here in July. They were to receive half the price of the cucumber crop and be given housing and transportation back home.

Meeting Planned To Set State Mapping

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 12 (AP)—A committee of engineers is meeting at the University of Florida today for the purpose of planning a two-day conference to be held in October in an effort to coordinate the Florida mapping and surveying efforts of various federal, state, and private groups.

Professor Tom L. Bradford of the University's civil engineering department, who heads surveying courses at the institution, said that the steering committee meeting today hopes that the October conference will aid in the early completion of adequate mapping of the state.

Forecasts A Woman President

IN THE WHITE HOUSE rose garden, President Truman shakes hands with two of the 94 teen-agers who are in Washington to attend a Girls' Nation assembly sponsored by the American Legion. They are Lillian Gong (left), Miami, Fla., and Kennon Kethley, McAllen, Texas. The President told the high school girls that "some day the lightning may strike" one of them and make her President of the United States. (International)

U. S. Offers Seat On Danube Board For Concessions

Cannon Offers Trade For Representation By Germany, Austria

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, Aug. 12 (AP)—Britain challenged Russia today to prove she has riparian rights on the Danube, a move that is, that the river touches Soviet soil. Russia claims to be one of the riparian states with the right of jurisdiction over the waterway. So does the Soviet Ukraine. The Ukraine does touch the Danube just barely. But if the Ukraine is considered separate from the rest of the Soviet Union, the nearest Russian point to the Danube is about 100 miles away. Britain's Ambassador Sir Charles Peake waded a map, Show him, he demanded, where the Danube touches Russia except in the Ukraine.

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 12, (AP)—The United States offered today to trade away its seat on a new Danubian Control Commission in return for representation for Austria and Germany.

"The United States does not insist upon becoming a permanent member," said U. S. Ambassador Cavendish Cannon. "When Germany and Austria become members of the commission, and adequate provision is made for non-riparian representation, the United States is prepared to give up its position."

The offer was laid down as the conference began debating the Soviet proposal that membership on the commission be limited to the Danubian States alone. This proposal would give Eastern Europe's Communist bloc exclusive control over affairs of the 1,800-mile long trade artery.

The United States has offered an amendment to set up immediately an all-member commission which would provide for "full and equal" membership for Germany just as soon as she received a peace treaty, or earlier if agreement is reached by the other members of the commission.

Cannon told the conference that the United States interest in the Danubian question is based upon its effort to preserve peace and in the economic progress of Europe in general. He said that interest is not limited to one region.

The American amendment drew a prompt and sharp attack from members of the Communist majority which foreshadowed defeat of the amendment, probably late today.

MORE MONEY

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Governor Caldwell said today he has "reason to believe" money may be available in the next few months to boost the monthly payments to Florida's most needy dependent children, aged and blind.

DIXON ARRESTED
JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A man identified as Jack Dixon, 34, was arrested here today and held in connection with a week during the trailing season. A soda fountain will be operated and soft drinks will be served. There will be facilities for playing pool, ping pong and other games.

Habeas Corpus Writ Is Denied Soviet Teacher

State Justice Re-Serves Decision To Study International Questions

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—An unidentified woman jumped or fell from a third or fourth floor window of the Soviet Consulate late today, police reported. The woman was alive when carried into the Consulate by attendants. The woman reportedly moaned in Russian as several persons approached her: "leave me alone."

NEW YORK, Aug. 12, (AP)—A state supreme court justice today reserved decision on a writ of habeas corpus brought to free a Russian school teacher excluded in the Soviet Consulate here.

The court took the writ under advisement after attorneys for the petitioner, Christopher Emmet, sought writs of certiorari against both the consular general and Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina.

State Supreme Court Justice Samuel Dickstein said he was delaying action "because of the international questions involved here."

In Washington, meanwhile, Russia protested the action of the New York court in ordering the Soviet consul to produce the woman in court. Immediately after the protest was lodged with the State Department, the department wired Governor Thomas E. Dewey requesting that any further action against the consul be held up temporarily.

Justice Dickstein said the Russian consul had informed him he was seeking advice from the Soviet Embassy in Washington "as to his rights and status on this question."

"This matter is important enough to give to the consul every opportunity to consult with his embassy," Dickstein added.

"It is also important for the court to consult with the State Department because there are some international questions involved here with respect to these persons who were brought here, whether under diplomatic immunity or as employees."

The consul general, Yakov M. Lomakin, had been ordered to bring the woman, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, into court at 9:30 A. M. today. Lomakin filed the writ and neither appeared.

During the morning-long court session, Mr. Higgins read a notice from the U. S. Engineers promising a survey of the upper St. Johns River from Sanford to Lake Harney as soon as maintenance funds are available.

The engineers advised that they will remove the old hysacint guard from Lake Harney during the fall or winter months, and also stated that they have requested the ACL Railroad to install power on the draw bridge at Lake Monroe to facilitate the handling of river shipping through the bridge.

Reporting on the filing with the RFC in Washington of the City's request for funds to construct a terminal and warehouse on City property west of French Avenue on the lake front, Mr. Higgins declared that he was well satisfied with the interview and said that he believes that the City will be able to secure the funds with which to do this work.

Mr. Higgins revealed that Mr. Conant of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce has asked for a meeting here on Aug. 21, and that arrangements will be made to have as large group as possible to hear the latter.

W. A. Morrison reported on a meeting of U. S. Chamber of Commerce officials which he attended in Orlando, outlining five important subjects brought up and suggested that the local Chamber become more active in (Continued on Page Four)

Giants To Operate Service Building

The Ship's Service Building at the Sanford Municipal Airport has been taken over by the New York Giants, who will operate it as a recreation center for players and their farm teams. It was announced this morning by Charles Marion, Giant official.

The building which was used by the Navy for recreation purposes, and later by the Fellowship Front, contains an auditorium where movies will be shown three times a week during the trailing season. A soda fountain will be operated and soft drinks will be served. There will be facilities for playing pool, ping pong and other games.

'Mystery Man' Refuses To Identify Spy Queen

A DRAMATIC HIGHLIGHT of the House Un-American Activities Committee's Washington hearing occurs as Alexander Korral (standing, extreme right), named as a Communist courier, refuses to identify Elizabeth Bentley (standing, extreme left), self-accused spy queen. The committee contended that Korral took over Miss Bentley's job in 1945, shortly before she spilled her spy story to the FBI. (International)

President Names Opposition For Governor Jester Of Texas Threatened By Dixiecrats

Maurice J. Tobin Labor Secretary

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—Texas state's incline Democrats, who last night were hosts for the formal opening of the southerners' presidential campaign, today threatened Governor Beauford Jester of Texas with opposition in the November general election.

The threat came as Nowlin Randolph, president of the Houston Bar Association, nominated E. E. Townes, Houston attorney, as permanent chairman for a Texas state's rights party mass meeting.

Randolph threatened Jester with November opposition unless the September State Democratic convention in Fort Worth "is handled in a legal way."

"We will win that convention unless they defeat us by unlawful means," Randolph said.

"If the convention is taken away from us by unlawful means, it is possible for a high state of mind to have opposition in November," Randolph continued.

Reinforcing the approximately 200 state's rights attendees attending the meeting of the fate of Charles I of England and Louis XVI of France, Randolph commented:

"We don't dispute the political leadership today who flout the will of the people, but we might be able to get them out of office."

"We ought to tell Lord Beauford, the Duke of Jester, that there is no need for him to leave any further the responsibility of his high office and he can leave the 'peoples path' and follow the dim path that leads to Corcoran and oblivion."

Corcoran is Jester's home town. Today's meeting in the music hall of Saint Houston College was called for the purpose of whipping strategy which the States' Righters hope will lead to their capturing Texas' 23 electoral votes in the November presidential election.

Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who last night formally accepted his nomination as the States' Righters' Presidential candidate at a big rally in the coliseum, is scheduled to appear before the Texas group before they adjourn today.

Truman Expected To Sign Inflation Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman probably will sign tomorrow on the Republican-sponsored anti-inflation bill.

Mr. Truman is expected to sign the measure with a blast at Congress for its refusal to grant him limited price, wage, rationing and other controls.

The bill authorizes restoration of controls over installment buying, and increases the reserve requirements of Federal Reserve banks.

Russian Troops Are Stopped In Attempts To Search Houses Across Zone Lines

BERLIN, Aug. 12, (AP)—American and British military police turned back two Russian forays into their sectors of Berlin today.

Russian military police, augmented by German policemen from the Soviet sector, were attempting to search German in the western sectors. The Russians said they were looking for black marketeers. British and American said the Soviets also might be looking for Russian army deserters, or might just have been engaging in "harassing tactics."

The Americans at Kreuzberg turned back Soviet-controlled German policemen and Russian MPs who were trying to search houses across the border from their zones. The British, aided by western sector German officers, stopped a similar foray at Potsdamer Platz.

In Frankfurt German things estimated to total 300,000 demonstrated in the U. S. zone today against high prices.

Mass meetings in all major cities of the state of Iowa demanded that Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, approve a law which would provide more rights for workers in management.

About 20,000 office and industrial workers actively protested rising living costs at a mass meeting called by trade unions in Frankfurt.

The Berlin newspaper Telegraf, operating under a British license, reported clothing factories and tailor shops in the Soviet-occupied Mecklenburg were busy with orders for Russian military uniforms.

"It is reported that the uniforms are intended for new Soviet troops whose arrival is expected in Mecklenburg in the near future," said the Telegraf dispatch, from Schwaan.

There was no confirmation, nor was it clear whether any such fresh troops moved in would be replacements or additions to the occupation force.

Five Are Killed In Latest Series Of Air Accidents

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five men were killed today in the latest of a series of airplane accidents in which two planes were destroyed by fire and three others were reported missing in widely separated sections of the globe.

In Kansas an Air Force plane crashed in flames shortly after its takeoff from the Topeka Air Base. Five men were killed and two injured seriously.

A Trans-Canada Air Lines plane burst into flames shortly after landing at Sydney, N. S. Cool work by the slowdances aided the escape without injury of the 11 passengers and six crew members. The plane was destroyed.

The Navy reported a four-engine navy privateer with a crew of nine and two aviators missing on a weather reconnaissance flight 450 miles west of Guam today.

Meanwhile, search continued for two planes reported missing in Canada's northland.

Edmonton, Alta., reported one plane with a pilot and a passenger missing from Bathurst Inlet on the Arctic Circle, about 900 miles north of Edmonton. The passenger was Miss Oldenburg, geologist from the University of Minnesota. In the other missing plane was V. B. Murray, of Washington, D. C., who disappeared Saturday about 250 miles northwest of Edmonton.

CARTER SELECTED
E. B. Carter, former selective service clerk for Seminole County, has been recommended by the Selective Service Board to again serve in that capacity. It was announced today by E. C. Harper, chairman of the board.

At a recent meeting of the board, Joseph Lehnart was named as secretary. John Krider, recently appointed to the board, presented the board's report. The location of the Selective Service office, together with information concerning registration, will be announced when sufficient information is received from St. Augustine, said Mr. Harper.
