

NOTED LECTURER

Rev. Henry Atkinson D. D. at Congregational Church Friday Next At the Congregational church Friday Atkinson will deliver an address on 'The Relation of a Church to Its Community.' Dr. Atkinson is a specialist on the industrial and social problems of the modern church and comes to Sanford to deliver one of his favorite talks along these lines. He has filled the pulpit of the Central Congregational Church of Atlanta, Ga., for many years, leaving that field to take up this specific work in which he is now engaged. He is said to be a strong and eloquent speaker and one of the ablest men in the Congregational ministry. A cordial invitation is extended the various denominations and people of Sanford to be present and enjoy the address.

Missionary Meeting

The regular business meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon in the church. Mrs. H. H. Chappell, president of the society presided over the meeting. After the devotional exercises the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. C. H. Smith, after which an excellent and very satisfactory report for the past quarter was made by the treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Abernathy. Reports were made by the vice president of the society who were present. After the transaction of further routine business and the appointment of committees and their chairmen, the meeting adjourned.

Presbyterian Church

Preparatory to the Evangelistic Meetings next week, Dr. Brownlee will preach on Wednesday night on "Hesitation to Attempt Personal Work" it will be a sympathetic discussion for the Christian who would like to lead souls to Christ, but who hesitates to speak to them. Friday night at 7:30 there will be a special service of prayer for the meeting. We are hoping for large congregations at each of these services.

Little Folks Recital

How wonderful it seems that the little folks and junior pupils of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson's music class have arrived at the dignity of a real public recital, in the evening—all their own, when they were the performers before a large, appreciative and interested audience. What is really more remarkable, every selection, with two exceptions were play-without notes, entirely from memory by the composed and dignified little performers who seemed perfectly at ease, although they were the cynosure of all eyes. It goes without saying that their delighted instructor was very proud of each pupil, and of course their parents and friends were equally proud. During the evening Miss Lillie Farnsworth entertained the young people with some charming stories, delightfully told.

The Lucky Sanford Minstrel The Lucky Sanford Minstrel was organized a few weeks ago by the young men of this city and on May 8th and 9th at the Star Theatre they will present to the people here for their approval one of the best performances that have ever been given by the home boys.

For the last few weeks the fellows have been rehearsing every other night and on the above dates they will give you a show that will entertain any member of your family.

This company consists of twenty of Sanford's best entertainers and after you have once heard them you would be under the impression that they are all professionals instead of amateurs. It will be a real live minstrel show from the start to finish, but there will be nothing done or said that will offend any lady or child. The first act will be the grand minstrel opening with the semi-circle consisting of fifteen of the best dancers and singers. They have special scenery for this act and this act alone is worth the price of admission. The songs and jokes will be all new and original, something that you have not heard before, for they have gone to a great deal of trouble to secure all new songs and jokes. They also have with them in the semi-circle a fine quartet that will render several selections. The six black face comedians will entertain you with songs and jokes that will cause you to laugh as you have never laughed before. After the first act will be given several good specialties and will close with a one act negro farce called, "The Black Breach of Promise Case." This alone is a show within itself, as it has ten good characters, besides those that will serve on the jury.

The proceeds of both nights will go to the Sanford Base Ball team, so this is a good way to help the hall team. Don't forget the date. Good music, good singing and good dancing.

Price of admission will be 35 and 50 cents. Seats on sale at Maxwell's. There will be several ladies who will help sell tickets.

The program will be published some time real soon.

To End Commission Graft

The New York Assembly by an overwhelming vote passed last week the Cole Bill providing for state regulation of the commission merchants' business. Produce commission men had their agents on hand to block the progress of the measure, but their efforts failed. The nine men who voted to kill the bill come from New York districts where there are large markets or where the commission men are particularly strong.

The fight for the measure was led by Democratic Leader Levy and Assemblyman Cole of Orleans county.

To conduct a commission merchant business under the proposed law a man will have to obtain a license from the state commissioner of agriculture and file a fidelity bond of $3,000 to safeguard the farmer from attempts to cheat him.

Many instances of rascality on the part of dishonest commission men were cited by Assemblymen from rural districts. Leader Levy said that the honest commission men were not opposed to the bill. "What objection," he asked, "can there be to a measure of this kind?"

If a man is honest he has no reason to be alarmed at state regulation.

Seeking to kill the bill by subterfuge, Assemblyman Cuvillier, championing the amendment and read a letter from the president of the Produce Exchange saying that the 2,000 members of that body were against the measure.

"You farmers," said Cuvillier, to the speakers in favor of the bill, "are glad to sell your skim milk, bad cheese and rotten potatoes to New York City people, but you make a howl when any one happens to do you."

"Foodstuffs are shipped to New York aggregating in value $150,000,000 a year," explained Assemblyman Cole. "The consumers pay $500,000,000 for these shipments. Through the elimination of dishonest practices on the part of the commission men, the consumers I estimate, will save $3,500,000. And that is where this bill affects the high cost of living."

Assemblyman J. A. Smith of Lawrence referred to the crusade of the World which led to the prosecution of several commission merchants on charges of dishonest practices. He declared that the farmer wasn't getting enough for his products and that the consumer was paying too much.

The operations of dishonest commission merchantmen were made easy, said Assemblyman Gage of Montgomery, because no capital was required to conduct the business and a quick get away could be made.

The men who voted against the bill were Caughlan, Cuvillier, Gillen, Kornobis, O'Connor Schifferdecker, Walker and Weil, Democrats, all of New York City, and Sufirin, Progressive, of New York. The measure now goes to the senate, where it will be substituted for the Roosevelt bill on third reading. It will probably be put through the house next week.

Celery Avenue Bridge

A committee from the New Smyrna Board of Trade went to DeLand Monday to meet the county commissioners in the interest of the proposed bridge at East Coast ferry, and while no definite action was taken in regard to the matter the committee is pleased with the attitude of the commissioners and have hopes that the appropriation will be made.

The committee consisted of Brunning, W. H. Newell, E. L. Greer, J. H. Hibbard and D. P. Smith.

The commissioners agreed that they would invite the Orange county commissioners and the committee from the New Smyrna Board of Trade to meet them at the site of the proposed bridge on Tuesday, May 6th, to discuss the proposition.

While some of the commissioners are not friendly to the proposition, it is understood that a majority of them are and it is believed that an appropriation for one half the cost of the bridge will be made. The commissioners certainly could not spend money for a better purpose.—New Smyrna Breeze.

ELIMINATE THAT QUESTION!

You should eliminate now the question of "Have I Enough Fire Insurance?" by making an inventory of your property and determining its present value and comparing the total with your insurance. New additions in fixtures, improvements, furniture, stock, etc., should be protected by additional Fire Insurance—have you attended to this? If not, let us talk the matter over—and, if more insurance is needed, place it in our safe companies. CHASE & CO.

To dress informally does not mean to dress carelessly—the Woodrow is a smart raised toe style that young fellows will like.

This is a happy compromise between the extreme radicalism of the usual "high toe" styles and the more conservative English custom shapes. The toe is somewhat narrow, very graceful, and is raised quite a bit at the end. The last provides ample room at the ball, or treading surface, and the spring of the sole allows comfort for the man who does quite a lot of walking. The heel is moderate in height.

The Democratic caucus late today on the tariff took up the Underwood tariff measure, placing wool on the free list after Mr. Underwood had made a stirring appeal for the support of the caucus. An amendment offered by Representative Dies of Louisiana to place raw wool on the dutiable list was defeated.

Military and political leaders from all parts of the Mexican republic are arriving in New Orleans daily, most of them en route to Coahuila to join Governor Venustiano Carranza who has been proclaimed provisional president by various provisional presidents by various revolutionary factions, now in arms against the Huerta government.

Police captains who had charge of the men on March 3, when the suffragettes held their parade in the capital, rallied to the defense of the department today in the hearing of complaints of woman marchers. Six captains, a lieutenant and several sergeants told the same story, that they did everything possible to preserve order and protect marchers and officers and men under him did their best to carry out instructions. The captains declared that there were such crowds on the street that there was some difficulty in controlling the parade. Several officers said there were not enough regular policemen to handle the crowds and added that the hundreds of special sworn in for the duty that day were practically useless because of lack of training and discipline and on account of the fact that they were not in uniform.

Willis Moore Fired

Washington, April 17. Prof Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau since 1895, and an appointee of the Cleveland administration, today was summarily removed from office by President Wilson. His resignation recently had been accepted to take effect July 1, but after an investigation of his alleged efforts to become Secretary of Agriculture in the present cabinet grave charges of irregularity were preferred and the President today withdrew his acceptance of the resignation, dismissing Mr. Moore.

How About Joe Lee?

Senators and Congressmen from Florida hustle to the White House and back and tell Wilson and McAdoo that the people are howling—and Joe Lee holds his job.

High priests of the progressives orate and write and consult and suggest—and Joe Lee holds his job.

Senator Donegan From the Nineteenth District is a Self Made Man

A Native of Florida who has Made Good as a Business Man and is Making Good as a Law Maker

(By D. B. POTTS)

Tallahassee, Fla., April 18th.—Big men may be classified in two grades, mentally and physically, and one senator, Arthur E. Donegan of Orange and Ocala measures up to both requirements, the banker-senator from Kissimmee is being felicitated daily on his capabilities and will undoubtedly leave a fine record in the Senate. In 1907, Arthur E. Donegan had a desk in the house and did effective work at that time. During the interim he has increased in favor and power and in 1913 is looking after the two southern counties in the senate.

He is chairman of the committee on public lands and drainage, one of the most important, especially so when it is remembered that the Everglades has a speaking acquaintance with Ocala, Lake Okeechobee being located on the south end of the famous cattle county of Ocala. The senator from the Nineteenth District is an inspiration for young men, as he started traveling upwards not more than fifteen years ago. In that time he has managed to accumulate a bank roll that would shame Rockefeller. Not satisfied with owning vast tracts of virgin acres in South Florida, the senator is president of three banks in the state. The First National Bank in St. Cloud, the State Bank of Haines City and the Citizens of Kissimmee are honored by the distinction of having the senator as their president. The Florida Life Insurance Company, together with the Florida Fire and Casualty companies recognized Mr. Donegan's ability and thus we find him on the directorates of these organizations.

Senator Donegan started as a grocery clerk and wound up as gubernatorial timber which is pretty fast traveling. While the modest and unassuming Arthur is not assisting a campaign for the governorship, numerous friends are behind the movement and it is predicted that something will transpire before Governor Trammell finishes his term. Senator Donegan has a greater "Cracker" following than perhaps any other member. Down in South Florida they swear by him but never at him. He has concealed a sentiment of popularity that is pregnant with voting possibilities. A man emanating from the masses is bound to get results when the common people are concerned. Senator Donegan has a happy faculty of getting through turbulent political times without being engaged in unbrogious detrimental to his plans. He has participated in various strenuous campaigns but has always bobbed up with a serenity that is edifying. He permeates localities with his democracy and is gaining ground every day by reason of his pure and undefiled motives.

He sold 18,000 head of Florida cattle one time and if you are good at figures, you can determine the extent of his financial acumen. Money comes to him in box cars, but the accumulation does not make a particle of difference in his plebeianism. He is the same courteous and pleasing gentleman whether he is signing a check for $500,000 or whether he is handing out a quarter to a blind man.

The chances are that Senator Donegan will have more honors after the present session and his chances are bright, for no man is better-liked and more cordially respected than the member from the Nineteenth.

BOY SCOUTS GENTLEMEN

Organization of Little Fellows Wins Merit at Celebration

During the Ponce de Leon celebration closing today the people of St. Augustine have had better opportunity than ever before to learn exactly what the Boy Scout movement amounts to. The verdict of those who have been in immediate charge of the events of the celebration is that no better movement for the boys was ever instituted—Boy scouts are manly boys—gentlemen.

The boy scouts have been in camp on the fort reservation throughout the week. And they were always at hand and willing when there was anything to be done. There was nothing of the military in the camp except what is good in the making of a man of a boy and the instilling of the patriotism in his heart which makes a good citizen. Reveille in the morning with a sunrise gun brought the stars and stripes adfluter in the air over the camp and the flag descended at night with the sunset gun.

Because of the absence of a large out-of-town military force the task of policing the lines of the reservation and holding the crowds back from the arena where the great spectacles were enacted was a great one for the officers. But a word was needed and the boy scouts were ready. They were everywhere about the lines, patrolling and holding back the pressing throngs. And they did their part in so gentlemanly a manner, showing uniformly courtesy that won them the ready respect of the people and made them willingly comply with the requests to keep back.

Throughout the celebration whenever emergency arose where an errand should be speedily done and correctly done, there was always a boy scout at hand eager for the task.

Boy scouts are gentlemen. They are going to be mighty good citizens.

Here's wishing every American boy was one.—St. Augustine Record.

Hastings Shipping Potatoes

Hastings, Fla., April 17.—Twenty-eight carloads of potatoes were shipped from Hastings yesterday and probably thirty-five will move forward today. The weather is fine and the spuds are now in prime condition, being well ripened. It is estimated that fifty per cent of the Hastings crop has been shipped. Prices today are ranging from $2.25 for No. 2s to $3.75 for No. 1s. New York prices stand at $4.75 for No. 1s. Heavy rains here yesterday, last night and today have held down the retail trade, preventing better market conditions. The weather in New York today is reported the worst in years for this time of year. The western market is opening up and causing a better demand.

Four carloads were shipped from Elkton yesterday, making five from that section thus far. The growers there are just beginning to harvest.

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

Three steamships left Pensacola Saturday morning with a combined shipment of nearly four million feet of pitch pine lumber and more than a million feet of sawn timber for Lisbon, London, Liverpool and Rosario. One of the steamers carried a large amount of tar, the total quantity being nearly one thousand barrels.

The contract has been let for the erection of a thirty-five room hotel in Daytona. The time stipulated for the completion of the building is the 15th of next October, so that it will be ready for occupancy by November 1. The hotel is to be modern and moderate in price.

While driving his automobile south on Riverside avenue at what is said to have been a high rate of speed, W. A. B. Worley, a well known young man of Jacksonville, crashed into a northbound Riverside street car Tuesday night and was hurled headlong to the pavement, sustaining a fractured skull and other injuries from which he died at 11:40 o'clock at the State Sanitarium.

Plans and specifications have been drafted for the building of a concrete block edifice for the Methodist church at Fargo. Work will be started on the foundation at once and the trustees hope to have it ready for the dedication services the first Sunday in October. The building will be a modern structure in every particular and will cost about $10,000.

Revival of the hemp growing industry, started here many years ago by the original owners of the Perrine grant, is anticipated by those who are watching the situation closely, and it is felt that Cutler, left somewhat stranded when the railroad passed it by and consequently took away most of the shipping from the dock here, is about to receive new impetus and growth. It is understood that a northern company will soon close a deal for most of the property about here, and that it will be replanted and thrown on the market.

The way to make the criminal-minded understand that the law means what it says is to make it hurt and cut to the quick in its enforcement. The other day in Live Oak, an operator in the blind tiger industry, doubtless a persistent sinner who had been getting off light and despising the law accordingly, was brought up with a round turn by a fine of $500 and a chain gang term of ninety days. When he gets through with that sentence he will understand that the law means what it says.

Florida Turned Down

Washington, April 17.—Desperate efforts of the Florida representatives to increase the duties on citrus fruits specified in the Wilson-Underwood Tariff Bill failed in the house Democratic caucus this afternoon. All amendments were voted down with machine-like regularity.

Frenger in Virginia

Captain A. J. Frenger and wife arrived in the city yesterday from Florida—their first visit to Norfolk since the Jamestown Exposition. They were surprised at the material advancement the city has made in the last six years, and predict for it still greater things upon the completion of the Panama Canal. Capt. Frenger is well known to many railroad people here in Virginia, where some years ago he was with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway as conductor, but for the past fifteen years he has resided in Florida and engaged in railroad work with the transportation system of that state. Mrs. Frenger likes Norfolk and will spend the summer and fall here.—Norfolk (Va.) Dispatch.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Sanford does not need to sing a song of county division. Other sections know about our fight against oppression. The following from the Jacksonville Floridaian is an example:

"There are several county division bills now before the legislature. Seminole county will be the hardest fought measure. This is a division of Orange, with Sanford and Orlando locking horns. Sanford is to be the county site of Seminole, the forty-ninth star in the galaxy of Florida's sisterhood of counties. Among other members, there seems a consensus of opinion that this division will ultimately redound to the interests of both of these sections, and Sanford already has the best of the argument. Only a few short months ago, the lawyers of Orlando, headed by Colonel Lincoln Grant Starbuck sent Senator Bryan a threatening letter to the effect that unless United States Judge Cheney was confirmed, Five Thousand Republicans in and around Orlando would know the reason why. Senator Bryan told of this threat in his speech last Tuesday night, and it is safe to say that such an attempt at bulldozing had its effect upon a Democratic legislature."

WHAT'S IN A NAME

The editor of the Orlando Citizen has evidently given up the county division fight and is now concerned in our name, as the following would indicate:

"If the proposed new county to the north of us is to have as many kinds of complexion of government as names it will be something to write up in history. It started out as 'Sanford county,' then 'Celery county,' then 'Harney county' and now we are informed it is to be named 'Seminole county.'"

Well, if the truth were said, be it known that the name of the county for it is Sanford's own little kiddet. The second name would be good only so long as the celery market would hold good. The third name represents death. The fourth name really has some significance, because the Seminoles were at last good fighters, even though a trifle wild and woolly.

And after all has been said and done the Sanfordites are fighters all right."

Thank you, Bro. Howard, for your compliments. We are willing to take your name of Seminole, for we are indeed fighters, being imbued by the same desire that has made nations—the right to govern ourselves since we have grown strong enough to do so. We are also glad you acknowledge that we will have use for the name and that the division is won. The business manager does not wish to engage in any arguments while the editor is away.

WE ONLY WANT JUSTICE

The loyal Sanford people who are waiting anxiously to ascertain their fate at the hands of the legislature are only wanting justice. The committee on county organizations could have met last Tuesday but the Orlando people were not on hand having gone home for more ammunition. The chairman, after consulting with the two Orange representatives placed the committee meeting for yesterday afternoon, giving Orlando plenty of time to marshal their forces. Representative Lake wants the anti-divisionists to get a hearing. He wants the people of the whole county to get a square deal. He wants the county to be divided fairly and honestly and the people of the north end who expect to get county division expect to get it honestly and fairly. We want the division so badly that nothing else is talked about in this part of the county. We want division so badly that work has been practically suspended and every man, woman and child in the north end is waiting with bated breath for news from Tallahassee. But we want Orlando to have a fair and square deal, although they have never given us one at this end of the county. We are leaving our cause to the fair minded men who compose our legislature and although Seminole county men have been in Tallahassee for the past two weeks waiting for action they are willing to wait and bide their time and to abide by the action of the members of the legislature. People who have a fair and just cause do not need to force action for righteousness will always prevail.

The Speaker himself is a most fair-minded man and one of the new rules that Speaker Farris will insist upon in the house provides that all committees meetings shall be open. Speaker's stand so that ample opportunity will be offered for all interested persons to be heard.

ORLANDO AT SEA

Orlando having lost the county division fight has taken on another problem at home in the nature of commission form of government. Orlando voted for commission government last Saturday and now they want it changed and having instructed Representative Robinson to have the legislature ratify it now instruct him to await action as they have changed their mind again. They find that their tax levy will be raised to sixteen mills and various other and sundry exceptions that may touch their pocket books. Their representative is as much at sea over the city charter as he is over the county division bill, for he never knows how many times his people are apt to change their minds in twenty-four hours. Representative Robinson knows that county division was not an issue in the last campaign. He knows that the Orlando Reporter-Star came out squarely for county division when the Sanford Commercial Club ratified it. He knows that the majority of the Orlando people today favor Sanford and the north end of Orange separating and he knows that there is merit to our contention. He does not understand the methods of the peanut politicians of his own city and no other living man knows or understands the tactics of the inner circle of the RING POLITICIANS who rule the southern end of Orange county and who having failed miserably in attempting to rule the northern half have tried to whip us into line and forced county division upon us as a last resort to free us from their tentacles.

The cry goes out to the big hearted men who compose our present legislature to save us from the rotten ring rule of Orlando, and knowing our condition and knowing that we have an honest contention our appeal to the legislature will not be in vain.

Progressiveness is the watchword of the legislature and Progressiveness has always been the watchword of northern Orange county.

CALLS FOR SHORTER NAMES

"If, in the face of the affidavits sent up to Tallahassee, the members of the house of representatives have any respect for Forrest Lake, or have any regard for his word, they must be a sorry lot."—Orlando Sentinel.

This statement is in keeping with the general tone of the Orlando papers on the question of county division. They have never yet put up a sensible argument against county division and have persistently refused to touch upon any except personal points. Last week the Orlando people appeared at Tallahassee armed with what they thought was the real ammunition to knock a hole in county division. They had reported beforehand that when they arrived on the scene they would put Representative Lake out of the running. Just what affidavits about Forrest Lake would have in county division was never made plain before the Orlando delegation left but they tried it on and it worked the other way and only strengthened the cause of county division and made more friends for Lake. The Orlando people forget that Tallahassee is not Orlando. They forget that Florida law makers are not peanut politicians. They forget that Florida legislators are not taking up local fights and petty differences and lastly they forget that the great body of the Florida legislature has a dignity and position that cannot be assailed at the state capitol.

Forrest Lake made his campaign in Orange county when county division was not an issue. Senator Donegan made his campaign in Orange and Osceola counties when county division was not an issue. Sanford and Orlando elected both men to their relative positions because county division was not made an issue in the campaign and the candidates for the legislature that received the undivided support of The Herald were Lake and Robinson. Sanford had two candidates. Why didn't The Herald support both of them if county division was an issue?

Orlando had a candidate for the senate. Why didn't Orlando give Massey the undivided vote if county division was an issue?

The question came up one or two years after the primary election and because Orlando has always believed in gag rule and ring rule policies the Tammany bunch attempt to whip the legislators and the Senator into line by calling attention to the well known fact that if they did not stand against county division or anything else that Orlando demanded then they must of necessity have broken faith with Orlando.

Orlando also threw the gauntlet to

U. S. Senator Bryan and he exposed the bunch of ringsters in a recent speech in Tallahassee before the very SAME MEN WHO TODAY THE ORLANDO SEN-

MEN. The affidavits and the mud slinging indulged in by Orlando regarding our Senator and our Representative has not met with the approbation of the legislature at Tallahassee and because they have frowned it down the Orlando papers turn their guns upon the whole legislature.

The Sentinel says that if the legislature does not believe as Orlando would have them believe that the LEGISLATURE IS A SORRY LOT.

The Orlando people have lost and they are so mad that they allow passion to fly away with their better judgment.

They will soon learn that Tallahassee is not Orlando.

They will soon learn that the LEGISLATURE IS NOT A SORRY LOT.

Orlando people will be the SORRY LOT.

WILL OVERAWE LEGISLATURE

Twenty-five men from the country precincts were drawn into the division fight on Wednesday in Orlando and carried up to Tallahassee to make a fight against the north end of Orange getting her rights. Orlando will work her ring rule politics again and attempt to overawe the legislature by numbers of farmers who, to all intents and purposes are against county division, when the majority of them are outside the proposed territory and know but little about the real issue. They have been dominated by the Orange ring rule politicians so long that they listen to their siren song and would help to perpetuate the Orlando yoke by taking an outing to the state capital at Orlando's expense and trying to scare the legislature into voting against county division.

But the present legislature is a most progressive bunch and they are fighting the people's battles and county division, where it has a merit, is a most progressive movement and in keeping with the ideas of the members of the present legislature.

The big bunch of Orlando wind jammers and their friends who have been carried to Tallahassee ignorant of the county lines and the state constitution but told comfort from the Florida legislature.

They know the justice of our claims.

They know the justice of our claims. They know that we have presented our claims in a careful, calm, gentlemanly way. They know that we are toilers and tillers of the soil. They know that we are the most progressive people in Orange county. They know that we have left the matter of county division in their hands and that we do not propose to coerce, browbeat, influence them or talk them to death. The Florida legislature has questions of more moment on their hands than our little county division affair and they are a busy bunch right now. Too busy to see the Orlando delegation that does not represent the people of Seminole county.

The first delegation from Orlando met a signal defeat. They carried men up to Tallahassee who were not in the new county and when they saw the true map of Seminole county wished Sanford God speed and left for their homes at once.

Orlando is fighting a losing fight and pulling straws to help them out. Their big delegations will avail them nothing. The Florida legislature is too busy to entertain big delegations. And the Florida legislature is averse to Ring Rule Politics.

GOOD LOGIC

"Come, brethren, let us waste no time on what is past. The present demands our attention. No time to pull hair. Let us pull together for the good of Orlando. The city has a great future; it is going some right now, and if you simply hang on to the tail board of the hand wagon you are liable to get hurt when the wagon goes round the bend. Just jump right in and join the crowd—as happy a crowd as ever piled into a wagon since the days of Uncle Josh and his load of pumpkins."—Orlando Sentinel.

All of which means that Orlando has wasted much time trying to prevent the northern part of Orange county from governing themselves and now they see their mistake and the futility of attempting to stop a popular movement. The Sentinel was the first one to make the mistake of fighting division and naturally is the first one to acknowledge defeat.

FOR CHATTAHOOCHEE The Orlando editors made up an excursion trip to Chattahoochee yesterday, where they will stay until the new county of Seminole is created.

Up to Orange County There is much complaint about the condition of the Orange county approach to the Beck ferry across the St. Johns river. Volusia county has gone to several thousand dollars expense to prepare a road leading to this ferry, and Orange county has also built a good road almost all the way to Sanford. There is a small strip, however, a few hundred feet from the river that should be repaired. Orange county could put this piece of road in good condition for $50.00, as the material to repair it lies alongside the roadway. Get busy, gentlemen. DeLand

The Coca Cola Bottling Co Among the many busy places in busy Sanford is the plant of the Coca Cola Bottling Co., on west First street on the A. C. L. terminals. The Coca Cola Co. was recently organized and is now controlled by home capital, in which the principal stockholders are S. Runge and Joe DeMont and no better hustlers and good fellows exist than these two. Not only do they take an interest in building up their own business but they have a deeper interest in building a greater Sanford and they are found at the head of every progressive movement. In a few months they will tear down the present building shown above and will erect

The work was compiled by Mr. W. S. Neville, who has worked hard and earnestly and we wish him the greatest success in the disposal of the directories.

Latest From Tallahassee The Seminole county division bill is now being fought out before the committee and both sides given a respectful hearing. The bill will then go to the house, where it is sure to pass.

COLD IS NOT UNUSUAL

Tampa, Fla., April 17.—Cold weather in April for Tampa is not an unusual thing, according to Weather Forecaster Wurtz, who sometimes delights in turning to the records of his office when the weather is considered unusual to show people that it might be worse.

Some one complained to him Tuesday morning that last night was about the coldest night he had ever experienced in Tampa during the month of April, and he claimed to be "an old resident, at that." Mr. Wurtz quickly disabused his mind. By his records he showed that April, 1901, the thermometer registered 38 degrees, while in April, 1907, it registered as low as 43 degrees, while last night the lowest the mercury succeeded in falling was 56 degrees, or three degrees higher than on that previous morning.

The "old resident" was satisfied it was not so cold last night as he thought it had been.

Cool weather is prevalent all over Florida at the present time and is likely to remain so for two or three days to come. There is what the weather man knows as a "low pressure" hanging on somewhere over the coast of South Carolina and until this can be moved over the Atlantic Ocean weather will continue cool here.

The mean temperature for yesterday was 60 degrees, or 10 degrees below normal. This has reduced the excess of temperature for the month of April by 21 degrees. It is the fact that there was so great an excess of temperature during the first days of April that helps to make the general public think the present weather is exceedingly cold.—Tampa Tribune.

Library Notes

Several volumes were received last week. To the student of Sociology the following will be interesting:

"The Americans" by Hugo Munsterberg, is a study of conditions, political, economic, intellectual and social. The author thinks that a truer title of his work would have been "The Philosophy of Americanism," and that he, an outsider, must be more suited to the task of writing it up than one who has breathed the atmosphere from his childhood.

Two other volumes are by Henry George. "The Land Question" (what it involves and how alone it can be settled), and "The Condition of Labor."

"The Struggle for Self-Government" and "The Shame of the Cities," are two recent publications from the pen of Lincoln Steffens.

"Crusade against Tuberculosis" by Lawrence F. Flisk, M. D.

"Glimpses of Fifty Years" by Francis E. Willard, is a welcome addition to our growing list of biography.

Fiction
Two volumes of short stories, one "Stratagem and Spoils," are tales of love and politics.

"Stories of the Railroad" by John A. Hill tell of the usual narrow escapes and man's bravery.

The Library Association wish to thank publicly Mrs. O. W. Brady for books and a Globe-Wernick bookcase, the latter very welcome because of the great need felt for additional shelf space. The Wednesday Club for a year's subscription to the Century Magazine, and the Welaka Club for the very handsome sum of $24.00.

Commencing May 1st the following magazines will be received by the Library for their readers' use during the coming year:

- Harpers' Weekly.

Wednesday Club

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. V. Whitner Wednesday afternoon. A goodly attendance of the members of the club and one visitor were present.

The president, Mrs. George L. Maris presided. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary and before the afternoon's program was taken up, a report was made by the committee, who have the Library Day program in charge.

Mrs. May Dickens stated that the committee had decided to celebrate the nineteenth birthday of the Wednesday Club for the benefit of the Library, by asking each member of the club to put twenty cents instead of nineteen in a little bag, two of which she kindly furnished, for the benefit of the Library, and bring it to the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase, who had offered her home for the occasion, Wednesday afternoon, April 23rd at 3 o'clock. The second bag was to be given by the members to one of their friends, whom they were asked to invite for the same purpose. An invitation will also be extended to all the friends of the Library in the city to attend the celebration of the Wednesday Club's birthday with their presence and a silver offering.

Miss Mabel Bowler opened the program by singing, "Spring Has Come," accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Key.

An interesting article on "Agriculture in Mexico" was read by Mrs. Cruse Barnes.

Mrs. A. D. Key read a fine paper, supplemented by clever magazine articles on the study of "Peonage and the Peon." The "National Drink of the Mexicans," how and of what it is made was given article read by Mrs. T. A. Neal.

After the conclusion of the program the ladies enjoyed some very good real Mexican candy, presented to the club by Mrs. C. R. Walker, to whom it was sent by a friend in Mexico.

EAGLE RALLY BANQUET

Fine Program Was Enjoyed by Over 200 Members

The Rally Banquet given by the Celery City Aerle No. 1853, Fraternal Order Eagles, at Eagles' Nest, Welborne Block Wednesday was a decided success. Quite a program had been arranged for the evening by Dr. Robson who acted as toast master, and promptly at 8:30 Stumon's orchestra began to render the sweetest music and at the end of the selection the house was very still when the very audible voice of Dr. Robson announced the orator of the evening, Mr. Geo. A. DeCottes, who spoke at some length on Eaglesdom, the founding of the lodge, etc. After Mr. DeCottes a solo by Mr. Frank Campbell was much appreciated, this was followed by a selection by Mr. Hess and Mrs. Turner Houser, piano and violin, which was rendered very sweetly. After this a few moments was given to the orchestra followed by an address on Fraternalism by Mr. Dickinson, then another selection by the orchestra, followed by a piano solo, rendered in her usually sweet manner by Miss Marie Herby. This was followed by the closing ode sung by the lodge quartet, Frank Campbell, Phil Moore, W. H. Wright and Dr. Robson. After this a most pleasing address by Dr. Robson, welcoming the guests to the sumptuous spread. This was followed by prayer by Lodge Chaplain Bell, and the guests seated themselves at the long tables which were heavily laden with the most choice viands, numbering 216 plates.

The banquet was given under the direction of Mrs. Mebertens and this lady deserves much credit for the tasty manner in which everything was served. The Eagle lodge as a whole deserves considerable mention for they certainly have a live set of members. We think it proper to mention the fact that within the past three weeks they have, by their firm belief in the order and by their never tiring efforts secured over sixty five new members, and have given a rally banquet that was more largely attended than any banquet in Sanford to some time.

Dick Calhoun Injured

Dick Calhoun suffered a very painful accident one day this week while attempting to launch his boat on the lake. He had tied up to the bank and upon getting ready to start again was pushing the boat away from the bank when the earth gave way and Dick fell under the boat the propeller striking his foot and badly bruising it. For some time he thought it was broken, but the physicians think he will get off with nothing more serious than a game leg that will keep him on crutches for several weeks, which to a man of Dick's active character is worse than being dead.

Eagles Remember Orphanage

After the banquet Wednesday night given by the Eagles at their hall, it was found that the members and friends of the order had been so generous and had brought so many good things that many cakes, pies and chickens and other toothsome eatables had never come to the banquet tables. By a unanimous vote it was decided to box these nicely and send to the Enterprise orphanage, and seeing the action to the word this was done at once with the result that a huge box was produced and filled to overflowing and at once dispatched to the orphanage.

Birthday Party

Last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. G. B. Pope of Sanford Heights gave a delightful party for the birthday of her little daughter, Doris who was three years old Sunday and her son Herbert who was five on Wednesday.

Many interesting games were enjoyed by the little folks, after which lovely refreshments were served.

Those assisting Mrs. Pope in entertaining were Miss Daisy Betts, Misses Marlin and Hazel Packard, Miss Maude Miot and Annie May Pope.

The invited guests were Jamie May and James Brown, Louis and Velma Shipp, Blanche Wray, Virginia and Marjorie Packard, Mildred, May and Robert Holly, Dick and Gussie Frank, Olive and "Sonny Man" Karnatz and Mrs. Karnatz, George Cowan, Claude Robson, Mary and Louise Fields, Kathleen Powers and Mrs. Powers, Ralph West and Mrs. West, Frank Pope, Dorothy May Haynes and Mrs. Haynes, Mrs. Mahoney and Miss Mahoney.

For Mrs. Peck

The Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church were at home to the members of the church choir and girls of St. Agnes' Guild at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, complimentary to Mrs. Jonathan Peck, mother of Rev. A. S. Peck, rector of the Episcopal church.

With music and conversation the hours were pleasantly spent.

Tea was served in the living room by Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., and Mrs. Geo. A. Speer served ice cream and cake in the dining room.

Cameo Bridge Club

Mrs. T. A. Neal was hostess of the Cameo Bridge Club Wednesday morning. Two tables of bridge were played. Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin made the highest score and will wear with pleasure the handsome cameo brooch the club prize, until another member of the club makes a higher score. Mrs. Neal's guests were Mrs. C. M. Vorse, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. W. R. Atmo, Miss Mell Whitner.

Library Benefit

Every friend of the Sanford Library and all others interested in its welfare and growth are cordially invited to a birthday party to be given by the Wednesday Club for the benefit of the Library, and in celebration of its nineteenth birthday at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase Wednesday afternoon, April 23rd at 4 o'clock. The lady modestly requests that the suggestions bearing on this celebration be completed at this time.

An interesting program and refreshments will be provided for the entertainment and pleasure of the club and their guests.

Methodist Church

The regular morning services at the Methodist church will be held at the usual hour. Subject of sermon: Why Part Between Two Opinions.

There will be no evening services, as the congregation will unite with the Baptist church to hear Pastor Willman's farewell sermon.

Lodge Entertainments

Seminole Lodge No. 280, I. A. of M. entertained the members and friends of the lodge at an open meeting last Tuesday night. The following program was enjoyed:

Instrumental Solo by Mrs. Houser. Address of Welcome by Master of Ceremonies, Chas. Ingold. Violin Solo, by Ed. Hess. Vocal Solo, Miss Renfro. Installation of Officers by Chas. Ingold.

Musical Selection, Mrs. Houser. Slight of Hand Performance by Mr. Karnatz.

Vocal Solo by Mrs. Chas. Ingold. Recitation by Miss Ensminger. Violin Solo by Mr. Hess. Vocal Solo by Mrs. Ingold.

Flash light photographs were taken at the close of the program, after which bounteous refreshments were served. Special mention was made of a beautiful and delicious cake in the shape of a large horse shoe, covered with white frosting, decorated in morning glory vines, the pink flowers and green leaves (made of colored icing) looked like the real thing. The cake was made by Mrs. R. W. Hines.

The latter part of the evening was spent in music and dancing. At a late hour the guests returned to their homes, desiring the mechanics to be loyal entertainers.

The committee on entertainment were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Randall, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Biggers, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Mitchell.

Panama Social

The ladies of the Congregational church are planning for a very delightful unique and novel affair to be known as the Panama social, the date to be announced later. A special feature of the occasion will be a lecture or informal talk on Panama by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. D. Langley, who has recently returned from the Canal Zone. Mr. Langley has many interesting experiences to relate and being a keen observer will be able to give a splendid outline of the customs and habits of the people who make up the population of that new country. The social will be held at the home of the great and wonderful work in the building of the Panama Canal, by faithfully adhering to the request of the committee in charge, not to tell every thing to every one, as his visit to Panama until the social, so his lecture will be new, interesting, brief and entertaining and will doubtless attract many people eager to hear from one direct from the zone. There will be a program of music under the direction of the choir master, Mr. Woodruff and other features. The social will be held next week but as yet the date has not been decided. Mrs. Henry Wight and Mrs. Chas. R. Walker are the committee on arrangements.

Will Deliver Lecture

Rev. Henry A. Atkinson, field secretary of the southern district of the Congregational American Missionary Society will be in Sanford tonight and will deliver an address at the Congregational church at 7:30. His subject will be "The Relation of a Church to its Community." Dr. Atkinson is said to be an able speaker and a specialist on the subject of church and community. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of all denominations to come out and hear him.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and no salves have been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it.

In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a 11 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

FLA. POSTMASTERS APPOINTED

Selections May Bring on Differences Between Congressmen

Washington, D. C., April 18.—Three nominations for postmaster were sent to the senate by President Wilson yesterday afternoon. They were Chas. Kettle at Hastings, Arthur B. Brown at Fort Pierce and Elmer J. Roux at Fernandina. All were recommended by Congressman Frank Clark. Representative Clark has sent to Postmaster General Burleson a list of men he recommends for appointment as postmasters, to succeed Republican office holders whose fourteen years terms have expired.

Several of these also have been named for appointment by Congressman-at-large L'Engle, but in the majority of cases L'Engle has named men in opposition to Clark's choice. It will be interesting to note whose recommendation is acted upon by the Postmaster General. It would be unfair to the other representatives if Mr. L'Engle is allowed to name men for appointment in their district, they say. On the other hand, if Postmaster General Burleson accepts the recommendations made by Representatives Wilson, Clark and Sparkman, Representative L'Engle will have no "patronage pie" to distribute.

This situation will undoubtedly cause a good size mix-up in the state and will put up to President Wilson the matter of choosing between Representative L'Engle, who classes himself as a "Progressive" as does President Wilson, or Representatives Sparkman and Clark who are declared by Representatives Wilson and L'Engle not to be "Progressives." It is probable that the senators will be called into the fight to name their preference between the opposing parties. The postmasters recommended by Representative Clark are:

- Fernandina—Elmer J. Roux.
- Starke—John W. Alvarez.
- Alachua—Joseph A. Williams.
- Live Oak—William R. Dorman.
- Eau Gallie—George W. Roesch.
- Fort Pierce—Arthur B. Brown.
- Daytona—William Jackson.
- Kissimmee—Mrs. B. P. Simpson.
- Hastings—Charles E. Kettle. St. Augustine Record.

L. L. Hamilton and wife, who spent the winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Miot on Sanford Heights returned to their home in Owasso, Michigan yesterday.

The Senator From Lake.

We assume and we trust that the two Representatives from Lake county to the lower house of the Florida legislature are men in all that the word implies. Knowing them not, but hoping to become well acquainted with these gentlemen, we reserve for the future an expression of our opinion and esteem. That they have our well wishes and respect goes without saying.

But of the senator from Lake we may speak without reserve, with a candor born of knowledge of his character as a citizen, as a business man, as a politician, as a husband and as a father, and as a friend.

Will Igou is a man of extraordinary parts. He is scrupulously honest; he is faithful to every trust committed to his care; he is fearless in the expression of his convictions—and what is better, his convictions we have ever found to square with the rules of loftiest conduct in life; he is competent and able; and he is industrious. And even so, he is on the level.

Give us a politician who is honest, who is courageous, who is able, who is industrious, and we will show you a man whom you can trust in the dark; a man whom you can vote for absolutely without personally knowing him; a man who will honor any office to which he may be chosen. We lay down that proposition as a safe guide in the selection of a public servant. No other rule is safe. Popularity does not mean fitness or efficiency. It takes honesty, ability and courage—all three—to make a model officer.

Senator Igou possesses these traits. Woodrow Wilson recently said: "The rarest thing in public life is courage, and the man who has courage is marked for distinction; the man who has it not is marked for extinction and deserves submersion. The people of this country are going to be served by conscience and not by expediency."

Lake county may rest assured her highest interests consistent with the loftiest code of political honor are safely guarded in the upper house of the legislature, by the senator from Lake—Eustis Lake Region.

The regular meeting of the Music Club will be held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Woodruff Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. M. Martin, leader.

Presbyterian Church
Friday Night—There will be a special service of prayer for the approaching meeting.

Sabbath Morning—The Brotherhood meets at 9:45, and it is especially desired that there be a full attendance.

A male quartet will sing at the 11 o'clock service.

FLORIDA IS A PARADISE

Connecticut Editor Takes a Trip to Sanford

FINDS OUR CITY PROGRESSIVE

Writes Entertaining Letter About Trip on St. John to Sanford

The following is from C. N. Scholey of the Guilford, (Conn.) Times:

"Sneezel sneezel sneezel! For goodness' sake where did you catch that cold?"

This was the greeting the editor received from his guiding star and secretary of the household treasury as he sneezed and sneezed his entrance into his home after almost a fortnight's sojourn in the land of celery, sand and sunshine. Cautiously we framed the reply that it was not for goodness sake or any other special purpose that we had the sneeze and that we didn't catch "It." "It" came uninvited and simply attached itself and became a part and parcel of the other noticeable discomforts of a cold and comfortless and cloudy Northland and a sudden change in thirty-six hours from a temperature of 86 degrees in the shade with rose and orange blossoms trimmings to 39 degrees on the lee-ward side of the street behind the folds on a heavy winter overcoat. And under such inviting conditions the little Sneezel Imp could not resist the temptation to pay the villain.

It was simply the irony of fate that unseasonable New England April weather, cold, cloudy and with torrents of rain, had been one of the most delightfully pleasant and intellectually profitable of our occasional junkies, and will be the means of impressing upon our memory the more indelibly the brilliant sunshine, beautiful flowers and balmy evenings of the land whose Ponce de Leon sought the fountain of perpetual youth, the contrast being so glaringly different.

Florida—or its gateway, Jacksonville—was not new, for several previous visits had made the city quite familiar and it was but a point of arrival and departure on this hurried and time-limited journey. But in passing it may be said and will be supported by those who have been there, that no city in the north of equal population can excel Jacksonville in perpetual push, perseverance and prosperity, for all stand out boldly to even the most indifferent observer, especially so to those who know its business section before the great fire of ten years ago. And not all of this is due to northern tourist patronage as is the case with many Florida cities and towns but is the healthy growth of local commercial enterprise as evidenced by the magnificent municipal buildings, sky-scraping office structures and mammoth department stores some of which match well with some of New York's famous emporiums.

Florida's cities and towns, unlike those of Connecticut, are not obliged to appeal to an indifferent and disinterested legislative body for permission to issue bonds for local improvements but take such action as the people or their representatives in city or town authority deem wise. And so it was that about two months ago the Board of Aldermen of Jacksonville voted to bond the city for one million dollars for the improvement and increase of the city's docking facilities (already large) to attract greater deep sea patronage. New Haven is at present crying for this privilege and must needs go to Hartford and ask permission of Guilford, Killingworth, Hartford, New London and the rest to do so. And then there are people living in the north who have lived within their own picket fences all of their lives and have never gone into the world to see and learn how the other half lives, who claim that the southerners are slow and unprogressive. This accusation may apply to some rural communities but not to the cities. But when it comes to lack of progression there are northern communities not a thousand miles from the publication office that might find the beam in their own eyes before searching for the mote in a brother's eye. In short, towns of 3,000 population and upward in Florida have got scores of towns in the north of like population beaten at the post in local pride and per-

SEMINOLE COUNTY WILL BE FORMED THIS WEEK

Committee Voted Unanimously in our Favor at the Meeting Last Friday

Will Pass the House and the Senate Without Fail And Our Delegation Will Bring the Baby Home.

Tallahassee, April 20.—This has not been wholly a day of rest among the members of the legislature. Of course there are members of each of the two branches whose religious scruples prevent them from doing any kind of labor on the Sabbath. One senator went so far as to ask to be excused from voting on the Pensacola charter bill last Friday because the bill provided for certain kinds of labor on Sunday, but those who are so religiously inclined are in a small minority. Members of the senate, which adjourned over from Friday afternoon until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, caught up with their lobbying on Saturday afternoon and their minds seemed to be at perfect repose today, only a few exceptional cases being noted.

Not so with members of the house who were kept busy by a regular session yesterday and numerous committees were lasting in some instances until far into the night. Their faces wore an expression of eager anxiety, and large numbers of them spent a day of activity at the capitol, catching up with lagging correspondence and log-rolling for measures expected to make them personally famous or usher to the millennium for the benefit of the dear people.

One of the chief topics of conversation on the senate today has been the appointment of Col. Dan Simmons to the senate. Simmons is a native of Seminole county, which it is confidently stated Governor Traub will send to the senate for confirmation tomorrow. It was understood when the appointment was first raised upon the streets that there would be opposition to the confirmation of Col. Simmons, but this afternoon it is said, upon what seems to be the best authority, that this opposition has been overcome and the appointment will go through without a hitch. Col. Simmons has been the recipient of hundreds of congratulations, and expressed himself as amply gratified at receiving the unsolicited honor.

There are so many important matters crowding for positions of advantage upon the legislature calendars that it is impossible to forecast even the early proceedings of the week. It seems to be pretty generally believed that the "mortal anguish" bill will have the center of the stage in the senate early in the week, while others think this measure has already had its day in the limelight.

Tallahassee, April 22. Special to Herald.—The Sanford delegation is still camped upon the red clay hills of old Leon and they will stay there until the new county of Seminole is born. Some of the Sanford people will soon qualify as voters in Leon county, for they have been there most long enough to grow up with the country. Familiarity breeds contempt in some cases, but familiarity with the loyal band of boosters from the new county of Seminole has bred esteem and respect in the hearts of the legislators and the people of Tallahassee from the state officials down to the pages. There has never been a more representative bunch of business men in the state capital lobbying for any measure. "Lobbying" has a nasty sound in the ears of some people but the real name means a man who hangs around the legislature and attempts to bribe them and gets pay for his nefarious work. Of course the Seminole men are not in that class and there is no place for the professional lobbyist this year because there is not one member of the 1913 legislature who would accept a bribe of any kind, and it was not the Sanford bunch who were named for the bill to prevent paid lobbyists practicing at Tallahassee was framed. Seminole men have made a favorable impression because they are known in all parts of the state. They come from all walks of life from the professional man to the farmer and they even allowed a newspaper man to accompany them, which clearly demonstrates their democracy. Quietly and easily they told their story and gave their reasons for being in Tallahassee and why they had left their homes and homesteads in the smiling valley of the St. Johns and they were given respectful hearing at every turn. They were not there to cast aspersions at any one, not even the Orlando bunch who came to tell the legislators just what to do and how to do it, headed by the man who was a right Steiner. The first cut guard from Orlando did not seem to make any headway, and upon their return home the Orlando papers began a vilification and abuse of the Florida legislature, Senator Donegan and Representative Lake and they hurt the cause of Orlando immeasurably. But this has ever been Orlando's style. If you do not agree with that bunch who have controlled Orange county's politics so long they immediately go back to their childish tactics of personalities. They were sadly mistaken in the personnel of the Florida legislature. They could neither cajole, threaten or overrule the men who have been elected to serve the whole people and consequently when the committee on county affairs met last Friday afternoon, having delayed the matter a week for the benefit of the Orlando kickers, their heavy weights in the shape of Struizer, Starbuck and J. L. Lee had their inning and our men in Thrasher, Wilson and Lake met their every advance with the statements that could not be met by the opposition and all their politics, Mother Orange sob and Winter Garden Weeps were unavailing.

When the joyful news was flashed back to Sanford by T. K. Bates that the committee was unanimous for county division the city of Sanford went wild. Cannon on the lake shore was fired, the bells were rung and wild huzzas rent the air. The good people of north Orange who had been under the iron heel of the oppressor so long felt as did their forefathers when they escaped the rule of King George who had levied taxes so long and given nothing in return. The Sanford people fell upon their knees and thanked the Lord for deliverance and for the righteous end which will always prevail and the dirty tactics employed by Orlando in dragging prohibition and personalities into the campaign has clearly demonstrated that there has never been any real argument against division and all the spleen of the vanquished has poured from the county seat organs ever since.

The bill will go to the house about Friday of this week and from there to the senate and the Seminole warrior has no fear that it will not pass both house and senate. The members of the legislature who were neutral have come out straight from the shoulder of the proposition since Orlando has shown the cloven hoof and Seminoles has gained more friends by Orlando's invasion of the capital and the Orlando newspapers than were gained by argument.

Seminole county hangs in the balance, but it is in the hands of the honest, capable and efficient and progressive members of the Florida legislature and we leave it in their hands.

Friday's Herald ought to be published in Seminole county and discharging freight, about twenty hours and often in the daylight much of interest and novelty to a northerner, who if the day is warm, may be diverted by watching alligators along the banks. The writer had made a brief visit to the town of Sanford four years ago and was favorably impressed with but one feature, a new-born newspaper, The Sanford Herald, that had made its appearance that week under the guiding hand of a live wire signing himself, R. J. Holly. Now we had never seen or even heard of Holly, strange as it may seem (for a misguided lady once told us we ought to know everybody and everything, and evidenced annoyance when we stilled and shook our head when she asked how many eggs a really good hen ought to lay in one day.) But back to Holly. We'd never met Holly but that same newspaper marked him as a man after our own heart and we immediately requested an exchange of papers on our return home; (we might have subscribed off hand but being contrary to our rule to pay for something we can get for nothing we begged Holly to exchange.) He ex'ed all right, and thereby began a mutual admiration party separated by a thousand or more railroad mileage tickets. His paper proved him to be a town lawyer of the inviolable, unquenchable, inexhaustible variety that in the end counts for the town, the banks, the people, the merchants, the farmers, the real estate men and last but not least, the newspaper. So interested did we become in Holly's paper and his town

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

More than 150 physicians are expected to attend the State Medical Association which meets in Miami on May 14, 15, and 16. Plans are being made to give them a royal welcome and a pleasant time while in the Magic City.

A new thirty-five thousand dollar, three-story brick building is to be erected on the southeast corner of Adams and Cedar streets in Jacksonville. The ground floor will be devoted to stores while the two top floors will be fitted up for modern apartments. The plans provide for an exceptionally attractive arrangement and design.

The Ladies' Memorial Association in Quincy is preparing a great day for the old veterans and their friends this coming memorial day. As the day falls on Saturday and many would be unable to attend then the exercises will take place the previous day. Col. G. A. Worley of Miami will deliver the address on this occasion.

Clearwater's first paved street is now ready for traffic and was thrown open Saturday. The east end of Cleveland street, Clearwater's business street, was paved and cement graded about ten weeks ago and is now ready for use, while the west end has not had time to dry and the concrete is still soft. Good headway has been gained on Osceola avenue and Haven street, and it begins to look as though the entire job will be done in four months. St. Petersburg Times.

Has Dates Mixed

Among new arrivals in Eustis since our last issue are Mrs. Ella Osborne, son, Mr. Corwin Osborne and wife and son, all of Sikeston, Mo. Mrs. Osborne owns fine property on Lake Alfred, and she is here looking after it. Her deceased husband was one time editor of the Sanford Herald, many years ago. The Osbornes are well remembered here, although they left Eustis in 1898.—Eustis Lake Region.

The Sanford Herald was born August 22, 1908, and no other editor except the present one has ever occupied the tripod. There were many papers printed in Sanford since the city was founded but we lay claim to the present Herald and hope to be its editor for many years to come, especially since moving into Seminole county.

severance, and especially in the boost and boom spirit.

Florida, or that part of it best known to northerners—the peninsula from Jacksonville south on the east and west coast and the "backbone" falls in every particular in geographical beauty, and the charms and fascinations presented by the everlasting hills, mountains, forests, green hills and meadows of Old New England where she wears her party gowns from May until October have Florida's Nature features beaten to a frazzle. Florida or the sections herein mentioned is perpetually flat compared with New England, and the highest point of land in the whole state according to encyclopedic authority reaches but 300 feet a mere New England mole hill. An idea of the monotonously flat land may be gained by reading the advertising of real estate agents who feature land that gains an altitude of fifty or sixty feet above tide water.

Much of the soil is sandy and to eyes of a northerner, accustomed to sweet ground and black loamy soil it presents itself as a joke and travesty on agricultural aspirations, all of which is correct, only in the imagination of the inexperienced and uninitiated, for a more productive soil properly treated and backed by experience and intelligence cannot be excelled on the Atlantic seaboard according to agricultural statistics and market reports. But of this more will be written later as the editor progresses southward.

Our southern terminal was St. Petersburg, the so-called Sunshine City of the west Florida coast that has been the Mecca of thousands of tourists and home seekers for several years past, but on our journey, which took upon itself a scouting expedition, we determined to touch at Sanford, at the head of steamboat navigation on the St. Johns river, 195 miles below Jacksonville and famed for its extensive and intensive celery plantations.

When one speaks of going south instinctively one feels that he is going "down" and likewise when one ascends a river it is, perforce, going "up." But these two rules fall when approaching towns on the way from Jacksonville to Sanford by reason of the fact that the St. Johns river flows northward, so that while you are going down you are at the same time going up. Yet with the delights afforded by the calm and peace pervading the balmy atmosphere as the steamboat glides over the placid waters of the St. Johns and the aroma of orange blossoms floats from nearby groves on the adjacent river banks, the going up and going down episode falls to create a sensation other than that of dreamy restfulness and as one sits upon the upper deck of an evening with a tropical moon silencing above one feels that to float on and on and on in rivers, free from the cares, trials and vicissitudes of a bustling business world would be paradise indeed.

The journey by steamboat from Jacksonville to Sanford occupies according to time consumed along the river in taking that we determined that the next trip into Florida would find yours truly tagged for Sanford and a view of the man with the name suggestive of Christmas and Santa Claus. That he would come forth trimmed with the red berries typical of his cognomen we had mentally wagered before we crossed the threshold of the Herald office and when we presented our official credentials the hand that came across the intervening space and grasped ours stamped the Yankee editor as a good judge of men. The Herald editor is known among his associates as "Bob" Holly, but it will not go amiss to add to this and suggest "Bob" White, for he's truly white in spirit and has the true ring of the merry whistle of the meadow bird.

Sanford in the four years interim has changed marvelously and for the better, and we are just professionally conceited enough to believe that Holly and his Herald have played a very large part in this prosperity, which is evidenced on every hand, especially in the Herald office, where it sticks out from the walls so abundantly that one hangs his hat on a prosperity point instead of a hook. It is the purpose of the writer to inflict a series of these Florida yarns upon his readers and as he "struck" several interesting yarns he will conclude this letter to take up what he learned of Sanford and her celery and truck farming industry in the next issue to be followed by stories of Orlando, Tampa, St. Petersburg and what he observed and absorbed enroute.
