The Voice Of The People

Dr. Albert Kinsling, pastor of the Riverside Presbyterian church of Jacksonville, recently told students at the University of Florida "to stand against the crowd, to stand against the pull and force of respectability."

In looking back over the events of the past fifteen or twenty years, one cannot escape the conclusion that the public has been wrong more often than right. In 1917 we declared war on Germany. Anyone who remembers those turbulent days at all knows full well that action was taken in complete response to the voice of the people.

A little later we enacted the prohibition amendment, which is known as the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. That action required the overwhelming support of the people.

In spite of the fact that Republican graft and corruption were fully exposed immediately following the death of Warren Harding and the scandals of the Internal Revenue Bureau and the Interior Department which had practically given away valuable oil reserves were laid bare to public gaze, the public apparently placed its stamp of approval on such conduct when it re-elected the Republican Coolidge in 1924, and again in 1928 when it elected Hoover.

We might go on and on but the recitation becomes monotonous. Who lent the money to the Allies during the war? Representatives of the people. Who lent the money to foreign nations after the war, billions upon billions of dollars, poured down a foreign rat hole? The people, through their chosen representatives, the Wall Street bankers.

But if this is so, why is it? Why is it that the people so often do things which they later regret? They do not like the burden of debt and taxation. They do not like the depressions which invariably follow booms.

They voted to give their money and their sons to the cause of the World War because they were told by bullhoo artists on every stump in the country that we were going to make the world safe for Democracy, that we were going to fight a war to end wars.

In 1924 the cry was to "Keep Cool with Coolidge," not to get all hot and bothered over those graft charges. Business was picking up. Everybody had a job. The people were told that Republican prosperity had done it. Making loans to foreign countries was encouraged to finance our export trade.

Is it any wonder that the people are more often wrong than right? They are sprayed with banana oil from one day's end to the next.

THE DECLINE OF INCOMES

THE SANFORD HERALD

The shrinkage of earned income of only about four percent of the American people, between 1931 and 1928, amounted to $2,537,160,000. These figures are derived from income tax returns and cannot be projected beyond 1931 at this time because, in the first place, returns are made and taxes paid on a previous year and the task of compiling the statistics is a large one.

By the end of 1931, there were 8,508,000 persons unemployed and while this situation had much to do with the income losses of the whole nation, the losses of the 8,508,000 are by no means reflected in the huge money figure presented above. Only about four percent of the population was paying income taxes in the period and that percentage of wage earners whose pay was sacrificed. The figure quoted relates only to salaries and wages—enough to require income tax returns. There is no very accurate way of arriving at the wage loss suffered by those below the income tax level but that it would amount to another $2,500,000,000 is not regarded as unreasonable.

The losses realized by business between the two years amounted to $1,354,197,000. This is a higher percentage of loss than was suffered by the recipients of earned income. Salaries and wages in 1928 amounted to $14,263,700,000 and in 1931 to $13,257,000,000. This is a loss of about 7 percent. Returns from business in 1928 amounted to $3,243,965,000 and in 1931 to $1,889,758,000. This amounts to more than 30 percent. It appears that efforts must have been made to maintain earned incomes on higher level than profits of trade.

Partnership income declined from $1,229,519,000 to $729,823,000, a loss of $499,696,000, or more than 50 percent. There are a great many different kinds of partnerships. There are business, law, banking, and trading partnerships, but a large proportion is professional. This group seems to have been especially hard hit.

The year 1928 was a year of great real estate activity. It was also a year of activity in stock and bond dealing and from other transactions in capital items. This does not include marginal trading on the stock market but only sales of capital assets held at least two years. The profit arising in 1928 from all such trades amounted to $2,329,141,000. In 1931 such profits had dwindled to $301,664,000, representing a difference of $2,027,477,000.

Most people at all interested in such matters may recall how J. P. Morgan astonished his auditors by saying he had paid no income tax for two or three years. The official returns indicate that more than he had paid no income tax because of their tremendous losses. The new figures show that profits from capital net gains in 1928 amounted to $1,879,780,000 while in 1931 they amounted to only $180,949,000, a difference of $1,698,831,000. The figures show that the people who had enjoyed the $1,879,780,000 in 1928 paid huge income taxes while there were only gains of $180,949,000 on which taxes were due in 1931.

This situation has a great deal to do with the plight of the treasury. It explains why there is a lack of income to the federal government. Tax rates are applied in terms of percentage on total amounts. The same rate applied to a small income obviously brings in much less than when applied to a larger income. Therefore, when the income of the government declines, a government cannot possibly be any richer than its people. Both have had times together.

Hugh Johnson Says 30-Hour Work Week Is Not Needed Now

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Plans for the distribution of 10,000,000 Florida oranges monthly to the unemployed of New York state were announced yesterday by the temporary Relief Administration.

Asked if the people generally would think the 30-hour week better than the NRA, Johnson replied the industries "would turn backward somewhat at the thought of a 30-hour week."

The administrator reported some of the NRA industries had come from the red and would make money this year. Then, he explained, it would be time to call on them to pass on further benefits to their workers.

The general had a good laugh when Connery, a Massachusetts Democrat, called his attention to talk around that the grievance strike meeting called for next month "could be termed the first move of a fascist conference."

"No," Johnson replied swinging around in the crowd witness chair at one end of the big committee table, "that idea is simply preposterous. We've necessarily had to try this and that, and have blundered in some things, and we want to get some consistency in the codes. There's no fascist about it."

The NRA head endorsed such social legislation as unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

Sweep said first there must be increased consumer power in get the heavy industries going which thought was abandoned by Johnson.

Johnson declined to say how fast he thought the unemployed could be reabsorbed by industry but he did say more than two and a half million probably still would be unemployed under a 30-hour week, and that he saw a report 5,000,000 were out of work now.

Belgium Pays Final Tribute To Dead King

WAR VETERANS passed before the coffin prior to the funeral march. Thousands of weeping Belgians waited in a mile-long line again last night for a last glimpse of their revered King Albert I as preparations for his funeral were completed.

Among the peasants, diplomats and others thronging the palace to pay their final respects was a group of war blinded veterans, who wanted to "see" the dead monarch.

They were guided to the flag draped hall and stood there with bowed heads, some of them overtaken with grief.

The palace gates have been open since early Tuesday, and through the long hours the queues outside had not diminished. By dawn 200,000 had moved past the body, women, children, priests, peasants from the fields.

Heavy wooden barriers were being placed along the three-mile route of the funeral procession from the palace to the Saint Gudule cathedral and the royal crypt at Laeken.

Police, gendarmes and troops from country garrisons were mobilized for participation in the cortege. Officials guarded movements of high-placed visitors as a precaution.

Communists were closely watched to prevent a rumored demonstration.

King Boris of Bulgaria was expected to arrive last night to join other kings and princes here. A British delegation headed by the Prince of Wales arrived yesterday in 11 airplanes. Other prominent persons already here included crown princes of Sweden and Norway and Prince Axel of Denmark, and two sisters of the late ruler.

Diets And Colds

While admitting that there is no diet which prevents what is known as the common cold, Dr. Hazel Munsell of the United States Bureau of Home Economics, insists that certain foods which have plenty of vitamins and minerals in them are a great help.

"This is because," Dr. Munsell explains, "after they are digested, they give substances that are alkaline in their reaction. Milk is another alkaline, or base-forming food. In the acid-forming group are meat and eggs and fish; in other words the protein foods; and also bread and cereals. Fruits and vegetables, because of their potential alkaline properties, as well as their vitamin content, should be used liberally in the diet."

"When experimental animals or human beings for weeks and months eat foods that contain little or no vitamin A, their eyes begin to get sore, and the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and lungs become infected. These are the tissues, of course, that colds attack. A diet rich in vitamin A helps to keep these tissues healthy and so better able to withstand the cold bacteria."

Eat vegetables of green or yellow color if you want vitamin A. This is true of some fruits, too. You'll find vitamin A in apricots, bananas, yellow peaches, muskmelon, and many others. Butter and cream, and liver are all good sources of vitamin A among the animal products. And cod-liver oil comes at the head of the list.

One of the latest lending plans of the government is to get the banks to make "character" loans to individuals in whom they have particular confidence for the purpose of repairing or renovating their homes. The government would guarantee the repayment of these loans up to a very high percentage. Without a doubt such a plan, if put into effect, would prove of great help to the building trades.

Florida Quintet Gets Defeating Champs In Opening Contest

ATLANTA, Feb. 22.—(AP)—For the third time in as many years the Florida basketball team has been given the opportunity to play the "great-killer's" role in the Southeastern conference basketball tournament.

Two seasons ago Florida quintet, which had had little success during the regular season, drew the defending champions from Maryland in the opening round.

Florida accepted the designation and to the surprise of everyone eliminated an Old Line outfit that was figured just as powerful as the one that had won the title the previous year.

Last year Florida had the same opportunity in its first game—the chance to upset the favored Kentucky team. But, after threatening mildly in the first half, the Gators folded up in the final period and were soundly beaten.

Other than the Administration on veterans' benefits, which will come up today for decision, but Democratic leaders saw a possible veto if the House concurs in the liberalizations.

Designed to boost collections by stopping up legal loopholes in the income tax law, the new $225,000,000 general revenue bill was approved by the House yesterday by the overwhelming vote of 333 to 7 and dispatched it to the Senate.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, announced hearings would begin before the finance committee next week. Secretary Morgenthau is to be called as a witness.

In their opportunity to change the bill under the drastic procedure adopted for its consideration, House Republicans were unsuccessful in a move to reduce the 2-cent first-class postage rate to 2 cents.

Before passage, the House adopted 10 perfecting amendments offered by Representative Hill, Democrat, Washington, designed to strengthen further the administrative provisions of the income tax law pertaining to personal holding companies, through which the most flagrant cases of tax avoidance were revealed in studies by the committee.

The measure revises the income tax rate structure to benefit the small income earner and increases levies on incomes in the higher brackets; tightens administratively provisions of corporation depletion and depreciation allowances; reduces credits in capital gains and losses, exchanges and re-organizations, and for foreign tax payments.

22,000 men out. An ice crust made removal laborious.

Despite the improvement on land, shipping conditions in New York harbor were termed even worse than during the height of the storm. Though the wind had abated the harbor was filled with ice. Several incoming liners were reported late.

In the South temperatures moderated from the minimums which meant winter maintained its attack in parts of Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota. Deadwood in the latter state was visited by a snowfall of 8 to 10 inches, heaviest this year.

State Supreme Court Upholds Conviction

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The supreme court yesterday affirmed the manslaughter conviction of Law Key in Pinellas county for the automobile accident death of Miss Marie Sutton on Mar. 23, 1933.

Miss Sutton was killed when a car in which she was riding was struck by Key's car after it collided with the Stevens' creek bridge and crossed back into the road.

Key was charged with being intoxicated at the time of the accident. He was convicted of manslaughter for Miss Sutton's death and sentenced to 10 years.

The supreme court said it found no reversible error in the lower court proceedings.

Stock Propaganda is Rapped By Fletcher

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(A.P.)—Chairman Fletcher of the Senate banking committee in a statement yesterday said the New York Stock Exchange was conducting a national propaganda campaign against federal regulation and challenged it to defend "unconscionable deeds."

"The representatives of the New York Stock Exchange," he said, "instead of uttering glib generalities, must explain away the mass of sworn evidence showing how its facilities have been used by a relatively small group of men for their own profit at the expense of the investing public."

The veteran senator issued his challenge to the Exchange as the stock market investigating committee which he heads continued its inquiry into recent Stock Exchange operations.

able that this Board allot at least a portion of said funds to the school board.

"The Board of County Commissioners held a special meeting for the purpose of considering your suggestion and after a thorough discussion it was decided that the Board of County Commissioners could not allot any portion of said funds for the fiscal year 1933 for the use of the school board.

"The reason that this board could not at this time give your request favorable consideration is that the monies arising from this fund were appropriated and allocated to the Fine and Forfeiture Fund of said county to be used primarily for the purpose of paying and settling judgments against the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District for which Seminole County is legally liable.

"For your information the Board of County Commissioners wish to advise that last year we arranged with the judgment creditors of this district to assess a two mill tax for such purpose and thereby avoid the assessment of a tax sufficient to pay the entire indebtedness during any one year. This arrangement was made because of the fact that the Board of County Commissioners agreed to use these judgments in addition to such amounts as might be paid through taxation. Last year the Board of County Commissioners settled a judgment in the sum of $4,308.28 by paying the sum of $2,000.00. In making this settlement the debt was secured for approximately 63 percent of its face value. The Board of County Commissioners therefore being able to save the tax payer of Seminole County approximately 37 cents on the dollar.

"The above saving was made with the understanding that the Board of County Commissioners would this year appropriate the hour.

months of study, the former vice president made his optimistic prediction in an address before the Chicago association of commerce.

Dawes said he predicted much of his forecast on a conviction that President Roosevelt would accomplish his purpose of balancing the national budget in 1936.

"That program of budget balancing," he said, "should be of tremendous importance in restoring public confidence, which he described as tantamount to reviving prosperity, to its fullest extent."

Declaring economic history showed the average length of 35 depressions to have been five years and three and one-half months past the peak of pre-depression prosperity, General Dawes said:

"It may well be that the beginning of the fifth year of the cycle in this present depression will be regarded hereafter as the eighth month after the bank moratorium of 1933, to-wit: October, 1933."

Seminole High Handed Beating By Tavarez

Coming from behind the last few minutes of play, the Tavarez High School basketball squad which had been taken rather lightly before the game, produced enough points to score a 27 to 22 victory over Coach Leonard McLucas' Seminole High School team in Tavarez last night.

It was the eighth defeat of the season for Seminole High, against 11 victories. The two teams play here tomorrow night in the final home game of the 1934 season. Two games are to be played, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

5 ARMY FLIERS KILLED IN LESS THAN 5 DAYS

Deaths, Accidents In Air Mail Service; Move Made To Stop 'Legalized Murder'

(By The Associated Press.)
The Army counted five dead, three injured, and nearly a dozen cracked planes today as the toll of the first week-long excursion into the nation's airmail lanes.

All of the dead were either flying the mail or had been assigned to the task when they plummeted out of the sky.

The latest in a series of mishaps came in the midst of a bizarre near Freemont, Ohio, early today when Pilot Norman Burnett became hot and bailed out, suffering a fractured leg.

Reluctant to speak until investigations are completed, Army men tentatively laid some of the mishaps to equipment failures.

After Representative Hamilton Fish, New York had called the government's assignment of service men to airmail duty a form of "legalized murder" a program was brewed in Washington House circles today to put airmail pouches back into private planes.

The Administration was silent.

Dirty flying weather—belts of fog and snow—apparently caused one of two accidents yesterday, that near Deshler, Ohio, in which Lieutenant Durward O. Lowry rocketed to his death in a wheel.

Near Denison, Tex., Lieutenant Fred I. Patrick lost his life when his plane plunged to earth. He was not carrying mail.

A little more than 12 hours after Lieutenant Lowry, miles off his course, plowed his craft into a creek bank on a farm. Lieutenant Harold Belts catapulted onto a farm field near Marion Station, Md., and was hurried to hospital at Crisfield. He was piloting a mail plane from Newark, N. J., to Richmond, Va.

Less serious was the forced landing early in the afternoon at Woodland, Pa., of Second Lieutenant McCoy, another airmail pilot, with a burned-out engine, but Lieutenant G. P. Hollister, flying a load of mail from Cleveland to Washington, lost his ship when he encountered sticky fog near Uniontown, Pa. He washed it out in a clump of trees, but luck saved his life among the jagged rocks of the Alleghenies.

Fear For Lives Of 101 Persons On Ice Field

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—Cut off from rescue by storm conditions on a bleak ice field in Bering Strait, 101 survivors of the sunken steamer Chelluska were reported Wednesday in grave danger of perishing on a drifting and breaking ice flow.

Among them are eight women and two small children. They have been rationed on the ice for nine days, and although plentifully supplied with food, the reported break up of the ice field and its northward drift in front of a high wind made their rescue doubtful.

Federal Emergency Relief Becomes Haven Of Hope For 100,000 State Unemployed

FARLEY REVIEWS STEPS TAKEN BY ADMINISTRATION

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—The Federal Emergency Relief was a haven of hope last night for some 100,000 Floridians as the Civil Works Administration dropped 30,000 men from its payroll.

Orders went out to county relief administrators to make investigations of persons who apply for relief, but Marcus C. Fagg, relief administrator, said:

"We are not going to permit any of these folks to suffer while we are making investigations."

In emergency cases, county representatives were authorized to give relief and then investigate.

Even as nightfall brought in a new day, Fagg renewed his estimate that at least 30 percent of them will have to return to emergency relief rolls.

"The CWA workers," Fagg said, "were transferred from the relief rolls to the regular payroll, and certainly their paychecks haven't been big enough for them to lay by any sizeable amount to carry them."

When the bread winners were transferred from direct relief to the CWA, however, their cases were dropped from the relief rolls. If they need relief again, it will be necessary for them to apply again for admission to the rolls, and social service workers will have to investigate each case again.

Statistics here show that 21 persons are represented by every "case" on relief rolls. About 120,000 persons already are on relief, while some 85,000 persons representing about 400,000 dependents, have been employed in CWA jobs.

Washington ordered Florida CWA quota reduced to 66,000, effective today, and that about 30,000 workers were dropped from the payroll as the work week ended last night.

"This new set up of having to investigate each case again is certainly going to throw a tremendous burden on our social service workers," Fagg said, "but I am confident the social service will come through it with a good record."

Dollfus Seeks To Heal Wounds Of Civil War

VIENNA, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—The conviction that "we must do all we can to heal the open wounds of civil war" was expressed yesterday by Chancellor Dollfus.

He paid tribute to the "high bravery" of the soldiers who fought a lost cause in the street and house, declared Austrian Jews need fear no change in government policy toward them, and asserted a Nazi ultimatum would be answered in the time.

WHITNEY ASKS WORKINGS OF SCRAPPING OF 'MEAT TRUST' CONTROL BILL DISCLOSED

Exchange Head Seeks Substitution Of Act Placing Mart Under Charge Of 7 Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—The New York Stock Exchange last night asked Congress to scrap a bill for strict governmental regulation of the speculative activities of exchanges and substitute a measure of its own original, giving control to a commission on the ground it would have representatives.

The plan was presented to the House committee through Richard Whitney, president of the exchange, who had spent the day detailing objection after objection to the pending Fletcher Kibben bill, principally opposing its minimum margin requirements on the ground they would tend to eliminate speculative abuses which grew out of an unfair and stilling competition.

He said a not very distant day would see in operation a better and more servicable financial system.

President Roosevelt, Whitney said, with stout heart "banned" the forces of pessimism and carried safely through a winter that a year ago promised to be as severe as any that which confronted George Washington and his soldiers in the dark winter days at Valley Forge.

"It is the purpose of the Administration to see to it that the fruits of labor from now on will be more equitably divided, that the rights of property are adequately protected, and that the rights of all people are jealously guarded."

Brisbane Again Calls For Issuance Of Paper Money To Take Care Of Nation's Debt

WILCOX BILL TO DIE IN SENATE IT IS PREDICTED

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—Arthur Brisbane yesterday told the Georgia press institute that the United States should issue paper money instead of bonds to take care of its indebtedness and prepare armed forces that would be "invincible."

The newspaper writer said interest on bonds doubled the burden the nation had to carry and added that both bonds and paper money were inflationary but there was no reason why the issuance of paper money should get out of hand and that the money could be recalled just as bonds are.

He warned Americans against the "insidious wiles of foreign influence" flying fleet, submarine fleets and mechanized army.

He lauded Washington as a living symbol of the great American dream, and a father of his country who will never cease to exercise a beneficent paternal influence on his people.

Brisbane said Washington was "the spring from which Americanism derives all its qualities."

"The things Washington said, the precepts he laid down for government, are the guiding principles of good American statesmanship today. We warned us to stay out of entangling foreign alliances. He warned us to prepare for war as the best means of insuring peace."

The editor said "nations today are where men were 6000 years ago. They are still savage, as Washington said, and there can be no greater error than to expect a calculate upon real favors from nations to nations."

Van Nuys told his new men "I think this resolution of debts has gone far enough. I think it both unconstitutional and against good public policy."

Leopold The Third Is Crowned Asking Of Belgian Nation

BRUSSELS, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—The new king of the Belgians, Leopold the Third, was crowned today when the former crown prince took the oath to defend the Constitution before both houses of Parliament.

He officially became king succeeding his father, Albert the First, who died Saturday in a mountain climbing accident.

The 32-year-old monarch spoke the oath in French and declared that he was before the Belgian and assembled dignitaries.

TOUHY, AIDES GET 99 YEAR PRISON TERMS

Last Of Gangs Which Gave Chicago Tough Reputation Before Repeat Is Destroyed

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—The law, after three trials, has put the finger on Roger Touhy, one of the last and most notorious of the dry era desperadoes.

A jury convicted Touhy and two others today for the abduction of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, and fixed sentences for all three at 99 year in prison.

Those convicted with him were Albert Kator and Gustav Schaefer, lesser fellows in the once mighty combine against law and order.

With today's verdict, authorities said the last of the gangs which during prohibition gave Chicago an unwelcome reputation as a capital of crime has been destroyed. Only the remains of "Big shot" gangs remain, and their trail is being kept constantly hot.

The jury returned the verdict after six hours of deliberation. Touhy and his two henchmen made their defense yesterday by accusing Factor of faking his abduction.

The "accusing witness" was Basil "The Owl" Banghart, released 12 days ago in Baltimore as a Touhy gangster and himself under indictment for the kidnapping. He charged, in a sort of backward confession, that Factor staged at least part of his own abduction.

His combined charge and admission, made under cross examination, made Prosecutor Wilbert P. Crowley, was that he took part in an attempt to collect a second $50,000 from Factor, after the latter's release, but that this was arranged by Factor.

The kidnapping did it, Banghart said, to "convince the government he really had been kidnapped."

Explosion In Theater At Yonkers Kill 2

YONKERS, N. Y., Feb. 23.—(A.P.)—An explosion in the cellar of the Proctor Theater today killed two men and injured 11 persons, several of the latter so seriously that they are expected to die.

The origin of the blast was not immediately determined. It was so severe that it ripped out the lobby of the theater, blew out the front of both the theater and an adjoining dress shop, wrecked an automobile parked at a curb and shattered the pavement of the walk and the street.

One of the dead was a patrolman who was burned to death attempting to rescue engineers working in the basement. The other was an engineer. The injured passerby, No show was on at the time.
