BRIGHTEST PROSPECTS

For One of The Largest Crowds Ever Gathered Here

HORSE SHOW AND FIELD DAY

Weather Promises To Be Ideal For The Athletic And Other Events Today And Tomorrow

The weather man is a friend of ours and he is making a special brand of the ideal mixture for the Big Field Day and Horse Show events. The stores and residences are decorated for the event and Sanford will be a mecca today and tomorrow for neighbors and tourists.

The grounds at Holden Park have been put in first class shape and occasion a burst of surprise on the part of every one at first glance. The sawdust show ring is just about the finest ever arranged for an event of this kind and the boxes are all that could be desired.

Today at 11:30 the big event started by a parade and Grand Entree of the grounds and the Big Show is on. All the neighboring cities are well represented in the gladness through and are entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion.

Cold Spell is Broken

The severe and protracted cold spell of many years probably will be broken this week and the usual winter which has partially paralyzed transportation on land and sea taken many lives and caused untold suffering in all parts of country, will give way to more reasonable temperatures.

Observers of the weather bureau do not promise there will be no more cold waves this winter, but they predict that the next week or ten days will be the forerunner of a spell of moderate weather.

Since the last week in December save for short periods in all the country east of the Rocky Mountains new records for extreme low temperatures have been set. While it was extremely cold in the east, however, temperatures were above normal on the Pacific slope.

At times below zero, was recorded as far south as Tennessee, Arkansas, Northern Texas and Oklahoma and frosts were recorded in Miami, Fla., where they rarely occur.

Lake Superior, greatest of the great lakes, is reported frozen over from shore to shore, something never heretofore recorded. In the present month mercury at the Sault Ste Marie has touched thirty-two below, at Northfield, Vt., twenty-six below, while in San Francisco it has never been colder than forty-six degrees above.

But the weather map of the northern hemisphere as it looks for warmer weather from now on.

There are no indications at the present time of a general storm to cross the country. The precipitation for the week probably will be generally light except in the North Pacific States, where more than the normal rainfall will occur.

Good Roads in Florida

The total mileage of roads in Florida is 17,579, of which there was improved in 1904 885.5 miles and in 1909 1,752.25, and in 1911 approximately 2,500.

During the period between 1904 and 1909 the per cent increase in good roads in Florida was 97 per cent.

In 1909 the per cent increase on new improved roads was 9.97 per cent exceeded by only four other states. Oklahoma made the least improvements, 50 per cent.

Two Car Loads of Cars

The B. & O. Motor Co., of this city are the candy kids when it comes to distributing Overland Cars. Two big car loads of Overland came in yesterday for them and they are selling them right along. The Overland car has made a bit with the people and the new models are a thing of beauty. Bob Holland is busy today taking out customers in the beautiful new models and everybody expects to own an Overland soon.

See the B. & O. people before the new consignment has been sold.

Oviedo For Lake

In this issue we have the announcement of Hon. Forrest Lake as candidate for the Legislature. It was our privilege to be closely associated with our delegation during the entire session of 1911 and can say that we feel thoroughly justified in supporting him for re-election. Being a new man there, he took small part in the organization of the House, being content to leave that to men with more experience than he, merely casting his ballot for the man of his choice. Such is by far the wiser course to pursue, as it leaves no scars to heal and at once puts a new man in a better position to be of service to his county. No sooner than the House was in good working shape Mr. Lake took his place among the leaders on the floor. He was ever at his post of duty, casting his vote for the best interests of his county. Few men have made such a good record during their first term. While not trying to do bulldoze or do any rough riding he did not know what defeat meant. We have positive authority for saying right here that Mr. Lake stands today where he stood two years ago on county division. He says the time may come, but the time is not yet. This should be a claim on every true lover of old Orange and we should rally to his support. This together with other things that peculiarly fit him to represent us, is sufficient for us, and we are for him from start to finish.—Oviedo Advance

The Sanford Register

The Sanford folk had a register at the register at the fair, and when the gates were closed and the crowd had gone, it was taken stock of. It was discovered that representatives from the following states had signed their names at the booth: Ohio, Nebraska, Iowa, Michigan, Kentucky, Wisconsin, New York, Rhode Island, Kansas, North Dakota, Maine, Indiana, New Jersey, South Dakota, Colorado, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Missouri, New Hampshire, West Virginia and Canada.—Reporter-Star

CELERY MOVEMENT STARTS

Sanford Stuff While Small Will Bring Good Price

The celery movement has now started, but this week will be very light, as there is only a limited acreage boarded and showing up sufficiently well bleached to permit its being marketed. The probable movement for the entire week will hardly exceed 12 cars, and a very active demand exists for all cars being loaded. Indications now point to a light yield, as celery is not cutting as heavily to the acre as in previous years, and with market conditions so firm, and the fact that Florida celery this season will not be forced to compete with heavy offerings from California is making growers here optimistic, and all are anticipating a profitable season.

First cars are selling $2.25, depending upon quality. The major portion of the stock runs to small sizes at present, cars this week containing mainly 6s and 8s, but as weather has been cool and favorable lately for the maturing of this crop, indications are that much better quality and size will prevail within the next two weeks.

Shipments will now go forward daily and the movement will last into April.

The lettuce crop is not doing so well, extremely wet weather and unfavorable conditions proving too much for the crops, which should now be matured and ready for marketing, and while there is a limited quantity of lettuce moving forward, the quality is only mediocre, there being nothing in this section in that line which could be graded fancy.

Other crops are progressing nicely. Growers here are diversifying to a great extent this season, and there is rather a large acreage planted to tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers and cabbage. The probabilities are that shippers will be moving carlots of the above vegetables for the next four months. A careful canvass of the celero farms indicates that the total movement from the Sanford District will run between 600 and 700 cars for the entire season.—Produce News.

Maud Powell at Orlando

Interest in the appearance of Maud Powell at Orlando on the evening of February 19th, is not confined to musical circles. Everyone in this country knows Maud Powell as the most distinguished of Americans and takes pride in the fact that the only woman violinist, who ranks among the foremost of the world's great artists, is an American.

Maud Powell is acknowledged the greatest instrumentalist America has given to the world and she has given proof of her supremacy in every nook and corner of the globe.

The program which Madame Powell present in Orlando is sure to appeal to everyone who has a love of music. The secret of Madame Powell's popularity is that she strives to reach the hearts of her hearers and not to surprise or dazzle them with her technical proficiency.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of The Week's Most Important Happenings in The State's Domain.

From Miami comes the information that the Huyler-Comfort Company, which for the past two years has been making experiments with growing sugar cane in the Everglades, has now decided that the cane can be grown profitably and will plant 1,000 acres for the next crop.

The Jacksonville Board of Trade is planning for a new union station. The present one is said to be inadequate for the needs of the city at the rate she is growing. At the next meeting of that organization a definite plan of action will probably be decided on.

A big cattle deal was pulled off in Venice, Fla., a few days ago. The cattle sold was off the Jesse Knight estate, and the consideration paid was $15,000. A Bradenton capitalist bought the cattle.

The growers at Little River are sending out heavy shipments of vegetables.

Zona, the first town of the Florida Everglades, situated near Fort Lauderdale, has now a postoffice and is rapidly growing in other ways.

The Montezuma Hotel in Ocala is to be remodeled, opened up under new management and the name changed to the Harrington Hotel.

Beautiful Church Wedding

The loveliest and most interesting event of the season occurred Monday evening, Feb. 12th, when Miss Rose Baskerville Dickinson, one of Sanford's charming and popular young ladies, was united in marriage to Mr. Martin Henry Long, a prominent young attorney of Jacksonville, by the Rev. B. F. Root at the Church of the Holy Cross, which was beautiful in the decorations of green glistening vines, graceful bamboo branches, handsome ferns and a profusion of lovely pink chrysanthemums.

The ushers were Messrs. Tom Elmore, Syd Berg, Percy Gaskins, Charles Pelot, friends of the groom from Jacksonville. Miss Fannie Steinbock, Misson presided at the altar and accompanied the young couple to the altar and the bride and her family, who had assembled to witness the plighting of the troth of the happy couple, by several selections of beautifully soft sweet music.

After the arrival of the family the familiar strains of the wedding march announced the approach of the bride party. The ushers slowly paced down the center aisle of the church, two by two, followed by the first bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Bowler, attired in pale pink messaline en train, draped with pink chiffon and carrying a lovely large bouquet of sweet peas, who took her position on the right of the channel. Miss Elizabeth Hewlett of Cocoa, the second bridesmaid, came next. She was gowned in beautiful pink chiffon over pink messaline, trimmed with white fur. She also carried a large bouquet of sweet peas, and was followed by Miss Nell Whitner, the maid of honor, wearing a lovely white messaline en train over pink, with a large bouquet of beautiful pink roses, who took her place on the left with Miss Hewlett.

The lovely bride, always charming, was exceedingly fair to look upon in her beautiful bridal robe of white satin, with long brocaded satin train and trimmed with point lace, with trailing bridal veil, fastened with orange blossoms, and wearing the groom's gift, a lovely circlet of sapphires. She carried an exquisite shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was the cynosure of all eyes as she came slowly down the aisle of the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. H. C. Sloan of Jacksonville, and took her place by the waiting groom, who was attended by Mr. Frank P. Hamilton of Jacksonville, his best man. When Mr. Sloan stepped aside, the beautiful ring ceremony of the Episcopal church was begun by the rector, Mr. Root.

Owing to the illness of the bride's father, Mr. G. B. Dickinson, Mr. Sloan gave the bride away, in response to the inquiry "Who gives this woman away?" At the conclusion of the ceremony, the maid of honor threw back the bridal veil, and Mrs. Long left the church, on the arm of her husband. They were followed by the maid of honor with the best man; the first bride's maid with Mr. Syd Berg, the second bride's maid with Mr. Charles Pelot, and Mr. Tom Elmore with Mr. Percy Gaskins.

The bridal party drove to the home of the bride and partook of a delicious buffet supper.

The bride quickly donned a handsome invisible blue tailored suit, with hat to match, and with the groom, quietly got into a waiting automobile, which took across the country, to catch the train further south, thus successfully eluding the bridal attendants, and other friends, who expected to accompany them to the depot, and enjoy the customary rice shower and bridal send-off. Mr. and Mrs. Long will visit New York city, Washington city and Richmond, where they will be guests of relatives of the bride before they return to their home in Jacksonville.

The out of town guests were: Mr and Mrs H. C. Sloan, of Jacksonville, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, Mrs. F. W. Daniels, of Montreal, Canada, a friend of Mrs. Sloan, who came to Florida to attend the wedding. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dickson, of Orlando.

Post Card Day

May 1, 1912, will be Post Card Day, as in former years. Every newspaper and commercial organization needs get busy and get cards ordered for the big event. Florida started this mode of publicity, which has been patterned after by many states and hundreds of live cities.

As we paved the way, we must set the pace, and instead of a million this year, let us mail two million.

WILL OPEN SEASON HERE

Moss & Marr's Great Consolidated Shows in Sanford

Just because George Marr likes Sanford and no matter in what part of the world he may be always registers from this city he will open the big Moss & Marr's Shows here in a few weeks. Several other cities were anxious to have the Moss & Marr aggregation open the season in their respective bailiwicks but George stuck out for "home" and just to show that their heart was in the right place the city council reduced the license to fit the case.

These shows will mean that some one hundred and fifty people will be here next week busy as bees getting all the paraphernalia ready and Sanford will be winner to a large amount. Mr. Kennedy, formerly of the Johnny Jones Show, the advance agent will be here today getting ready for the small army of workmen who will invade the city next week. The making of a carnival will be an interesting sight to the people of this city and will be equal to a regular exhibition.

More Building Operations

A permit was issued at the city office on Feb. 5, for the construction of a two story brick addition to the Enaminger building on Park avenue.

The dimensions of the entire building as remodeled, will be 32x49 1/2 feet. Mr. Shinholder is the builder. The wooden part of the photograph gallery, which has occupied the back of the lot since the 80s already down. The gallery was known originally as the "Lakeside Photograph Gallery" and was pulled down to avoid a general conflagration when the Lake View Hotel burned. When rebuilt the front of the building was of brick.

Brick for the addition is already being hauled and the work of construction is being pushed. In order that Mr. Leigh, the new photographer may occupy the photograph gallery upstairs. This will be illuminated by an improved light of the best pattern, will have a pleasant reception room, and will be up-to-date and equipped for the best work.

The ground floor will be enlarged so as to make a desirable business place in a central location. Notice of the space available is seen in another column.

We are glad to see this improvement and are pleased that the gallery is to remain in the old location.

Dalyin Company is Good

The Ella and Johnny Galvin Co., at the Imperial last night was the best musical comedy company that ever struck our city in the past few years. The play last night was all to the good and those who like a musical jingle, a good laugh, good songs, pretty girls should be at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow night, Tuesday and Wednesday. Popular prices and you will never regret the money. You get the best there is when you see the Galvins and their superb company.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE

St Johns River Will Again Become Commercial Artery

FROM SANFORD TO JACKSONVILLE

Capt. Pryor is Getting New Steamer Ready To Begin The River Traffic

Sanford and the St. Johns river are not destined to remain idle and the predictions of The Herald that in time this city would become the commercial center of Florida is being fulfilled. In the old days before the railroads there were nine steamers daily plying between Jacksonville and Sanford and necessity made the St. Johns river one of the greatest commercial arteries in the south. With the advent of the railroads and the "pull" exerted by the corporations wherever they operate and the death of trade due to the great freeze the St. Johns river languished.

With a deeper and better channel the eyes of the promoters are turning to the possibilities of the river traffic and the river steamers will again fill this great river and many steamers daily will soon be loading and unloading cargoes at Sanford docks.

The following from the Times Union indicates that the vanguard will soon start.

"Jacksonville will within the next two months have a new line of steamers plying to points up the river, and it is not improbable that in a short time the river will take on the appearance of the old days when steam-boating was the only means of reaching points south of Jacksonville.

For some time past Capt. George H. Pryor, who for years has been one of the most prominent navigators on the St. Johns river, has been considering the advisability of starting a line of boats running up the river and has decided that the time is ripe.

The new line of steamers will be inaugurated within the next two months, Capt. Pryor having just purchased the steamer Kennedy from the Florida East Coast Railway Company.

The Kennedy is a freight and passenger boat of the stern wheel type, and very much resembles the old steamers of the Indian River Steam-boat Company. She is 125 feet long and has a beam of thirty-four feet. Her speed is eleven miles an hour.

The vessel is now down on the Key West extension and Capt. Pryor intends to leave today for the purpose of bringing her to this port. The steamer will lay here for several days undergoing repairs to suit her for the traffic in which she is to be placed. This will take in the neighborhood of thirty days.

It is Capt. Pryor's intention to establish a daylight line to the up-river points, and while the alterations to the vessel are being made he will decide as to which will be his terminus at the southern end of the line.

With the establishment of the line, the Kennedy being the nucleus, it is not improbable that there will be several other steamers added to the service, and there will be a scene on the river reminding one of the old DeBary and Baya line days.

Coronado for The Bridge

A meeting was held at Coronado Monday night in the interest of the bridge to be built at the East Coast ferry. The meeting was largely attended, many going over from New Smyrna.

After some explanations of the road condition of road, etc., for the benefit of those who did not know, a subscription list was circulated and over four hundred dollars was subscribed, and we are reliably informed that more will be added to this amount.

The bridge is now an assured fact and it is hoped to get it built by beginning of the summer season. The committee are working hard to this end.—New Smyrna Breeze.

Stole A Cornet

William Larson had the misfortune to lose a fine cornet last week. A young man travelling under the name of Baker took a room with Larson and in the absence of the latter made a sneak with the cornet and a pair of pants. The cornet is a Frank Halton No. 13026 and if any one in the state is caught selling such an instrument, Chief of Police Tillis of this city would like to hear of it.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

A Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me"

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Plead 'Em'—So Says Saunterer.

The most disgusting part about the rotten Republican party is the way they swing the south for the Presidential nomination. Especially is this true of Florida where the convention is a mere form and is packed by the office holder to strengthen the hand that feeds them. The whole proceeding is darkened by the negro who holds the best offices in the state and dominates the Republican party. The cost of the office holding delegates is enormous.

The salary list of Florida's delegates to the 1908 convention figures just about $23,000 a year. This doesn't include the vast sum paid out to other office-holders named on the recommendation of these leaders—the nine hundred and eighty-seven postmasters, the city carriers, clerks in the big federal offices, and so on.

Assume that there are only two thousand federal officers in the state—the postoffice department alone has nearly that number—and put the average salary at $700. The yearly pay-roll will figure $1,400,000. In four years that amounts to $5,600,000. As this whole federal establishment is devoted to the purpose of elching the administration control of the state's delegation to a national convention; as all appointments are made with reference to maintenance of the machine for that and related uses, it is fair to count that this large sum of the people's money is spent with constant view of the control of the Florida delegation.

Now Florida cast 10,654 votes for Taft in 1908. If we divide this number of republican votes into the quadrennial amount of salaries, we find that republican votes in Florida cost about $525 each. Or, if we divide the number of national delegates—twelve—into the same sum, we find that each delegate represents the properly discriminating expenditure of $468.666.

No chance of getting an electoral vote; no possibility of real support at the polls. Florida has absolutely no value to the party save in nominating candidates. There, its twelve delegates have just as much voice as twelve from a state that regularly chooses republican leaders.

Yet the Florida delegates, who represent absolutely no chance of contribution in the election, are mortgaged in advance to maintain machine control of the party. The very backbone of that machine is the petrified republicanism of the South.

Gainesville people were not satisfied with the exorbitant rate charged by a private corporation for electric lights and the city council made the company come to time. The Gainesville Sun has the following editorial regarding the matter:

Now that Gainesville people are receiving a lower rate for gas and electric lights a number are claiming credit for the reduced rate being put into effect. Be it said to the credit of the City Council that they are the only ones who have had the "grit" to take advantage of the provision of the city charter and pass an ordinance requiring a lower rate for these public utilities, although the city has had the power to regulate the price for the past five years. The provision empowering the city council to regulate the price of gas, electric lights and other public utilities was placed in the city charter by the Senator from Alachua county. This amendment was not suggested by any city official of Gainesville or property owner, but was inserted in the charter by Senator McCreaty on his own initiative, because he felt that the people were being charged too much for gas and electricity and it was retained in the charter notwithstanding an urgent appeal from one of his most esteemed personal friends to strike it out, the said friend, who was interested in lighting companies in other sections of the State, stating that the incorporating of such a provision in Gainesville's charter meant the granting of the same power to other municipalities at future sessions of the Legislature. The Senator from Alachua replied that he could not withdraw the amendment, and it passed unanimously. Other towns which were granted the same power two years later long since took advantage of it, and not until 1911 was a Council elected in Gainesville which had the stamina to give the people relief in this particular.

Dr. N. deV. Howard has returned from the beach and can be found at his residence in the mornings and his office in the evenings.

STAINPROOF TOP FOR TABLE

Suggestion That Will Relieve Hostess of Much Worry While Presiding at Tea Table.

"At a formal afternoon tea," remarked the woman who keeps bachelor hall, as she put the kettle on and filled an oval plate with cheese straws, "whoever presides is generally fairly on guard against spilling tea on the embroidered cloth; but when one has it every afternoon, as I do, it doesn't pay to use fine white linen and delicate needlework to array the table. Yet one likes to have it attractive. I had had two of my prettiest drawnwork tea cloths badly spotted before I had the inspiration I wanted. Then I deliberately stained a bit of white linen with the kind of tea I generally use and let it dry so. Then I took that tea stained bit downtown and searched until I found a heavy linen of that precise tint. It was the old, twilled weave that you see, and I found the silks that harmonized with it for the simple drawnwork edge that you were admiring on this one, for a scallop with a design of maidenhair ferns above on a second and for a little running pattern of clover leaves and an occasional blossom that secures the deep hem of my third one. The dull gray-green of the material and the clearer fern and clover colors make a thoroughly artistic setting for my white china and bits of old silver, to say nothing of the antique candlestick, and I have no more nervousness when somebody's hand shakes while lifting the freshly filled teapot."

Meat Hash.

Just plain, plebeian hash. Few can make it good. Chop meat with a fourth its quantity of fat—corned beef is best; put in frying pan and fry slowly while you chop equal amount of potatoes. Then add to meat. Salt if necessary, pepper a little and stir well until the whole has really fried a little. Then add a little boiling water; stir all well, and make it into a nice flat cake, straight on one side. Set on moderately hot part of stove to crust one side. Turn out carefully, so as not to break it, with crust side up. Two beats added when potato is put in make an improvement.

Tomato Catsup.

Bull half a bushel of tomatoes until soft, force them through a fine sieve and put a quart of white wine vinegar, one pint of salt, two ounces of cloves, two of allspice, one-half ounce of cayenne pepper, one tablespoon black pepper, two heads of garlic skinned and chopped fine. Mix together and boil four hours.

Crystal Icing.

All one teaspoonful vanilla to two teaspoons boiling water, stir in one cup confectioner's sugar and use as soon as it will spread. This icing is quickly made and has a sparkling appearance. A little coarse sugar dusted over gives it brilliancy.

Cream Sauce.

Mix to a paste one tablespoon butter and half a teaspoon flour, with salt and pepper, and add to the juices in the pan. Gradually add half a cup milk.

Still to Memory Dear.

There are few men in this country fatter than President Taft, and there are equally few who get more amusement out of their own avoirdupois. Senator Nathan B. Scott, who always tries to get off something funny when he goes to the White House, told Mr. Taft one day: "You know, Mr. President, it is a very usual thing for fat men to get thin as they grow older." "Well," replied the president laughingly "if that happens to me it will give me an opportunity to see something of some old acquaintances of mine." "Who are they?" asked Scott. "My ribs," replied Mr. Taft.—Popular Magazine.

Stencil Letters Used by Ancients. Movable characters were known to the ancients; they were used in teaching children to read. The ancients had also stencil letters, which they used to secure a regular style of penmanship. They even made use of plates, thus opencut, containing an entire page; it was placed on the papyrus to guide the pens of children; "an excellent means," said Quintilian, "to learn them not to exceed the desired proportions." The Emperor Justinian (A. D. 518) could neither read nor write, an unexampled thing in one of such high rank. When it was necessary for him to sign his name, he had a sheet of gold, through which were cut the letters of his name. "Then," said Procopius, "placing this tablet on the paper, one conducted the hand of the prince, holding the stylus dipped in purple on the type of the different letters, and took away in writing furnished with his signature." The same thing is reported of King Theodoris and of Charlemagne.—Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

For State Senator—Arthur E. Donegan

To the Democratic Voters of Orange and Osceola Counties

I am a candidate for state senator for the senatorial district composed of Orange and Osceola counties and will appreciate your support.

Ever since the creation of this senatorial district in 1887, each county has had a senator for the same number of years, the custom being to allow each county a representative for eight years at a time. Orange county has had the senator for the past eight years, and under the customs prevailing in the past Osceola county would be entitled to the senator to be elected in the primaries this year. The two counties have worked harmoniously under this custom for a quarter of a century and I see no reason why it should be broken at this time.

I have served the people of my county at various times as deputy tax collector, deputy clerk of the circuit court, member of the state executive committee and clerk of the circuit court, and I have discharged the duties of each office I have had in a manner which I trust has met with the hearty endorsement of my people, and if elected as your state senator I will use my best efforts to promote such legislation as is needed by the people and the varied interests in this senatorial district.

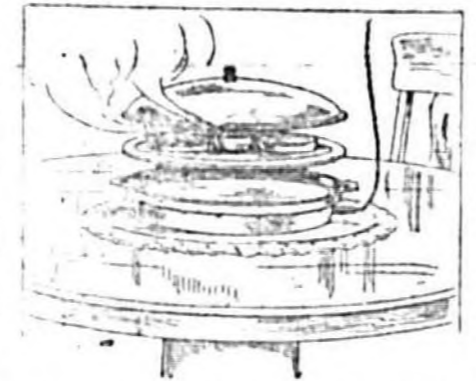

In asking you to elect me as state senator I believe that I know the needs in a legislative way of this district as well perhaps as anyone in the district, and I believe I can represent you in the state senate in a manner that will be entirely satisfactory to you.

ARTHUR E. DONEGAN

SERVING TRAY IS NOVELTY

An electrically heated serving tray of interesting design has been invented by a Detroit woman. Extending across the flat bottom of the tray on the under side is a sheet of asbestos.

the heat unit being attached to the under side of the asbestos. The flat-bottom casing entirely surrounding the heat unit has vent apertures in its upper portion, whereby heat generated by the unit is allowed to escape from the casing so as to preserve it in a cool condition. This casing is asbestos lined.—Popular Mechanics

Meat Economies.

In the preparation of cheap cuts of meat brown the meat first in a hot spider or kettle for flavor, and sear the surface so that the juices may be retained in the meat. Some scraps of fat may be browned and onions sliced and fried in the fat, an equal mixture of flour added, and when it is mixed smoothly with the fat water is put in to make a thin gravy. The meat is then put in and left covered on the back of the stove and later vegetables and seasoning are added, or they may be put in with the meat, seasoned, covered and boiled five minutes and put at once into the fireless cooker and left several hours or all day. Long slow cooking is the only rule for good results.

World's Oldest Investment.

The oldest investment security on earth is the real estate mortgage. We know that money was loaned on mortgages in ancient Babylon, in the time of King Hamurabi, four thousand years ago, and that some two thousand five hundred years ago the great Babylonian banking house of the Eglbi family invested large sums in mortgages on both city and farm property, the mortgages being recorded on bricks, which have been preserved in the safety deposit vaults of those times—great earthenware jars buried in the earth—preserved until the archeologists, in our own day, and age, dug them up to show us when, where and how mortgages originated.—Leslie's.

TAKE CARE OF THE GREASE

Housekeeper Will Find It Great Advantage to Keep Various Kinds Separate.

Every housekeeper has a pot into which drippings are poured, but it would be far better if each kind of grease were separated, for the dishes needing such an ingredient are greatly benefited by some one flavor. Thus, potatoes are wonderfully enhanced by being fried in pork fat, only, and are even better if pure ham grease can be used. Beef drippings are better for browning lima beans and cabbage; and for frying French toast, there is nothing quite the same as the fat from pork chops.

All the greasy gravies, such as those of roast pork and lamb, are excellent, if thickened with a little flour, allowed to simmer for half an hour, and used as a dressing for potatoes that are to be warmed over.

There should be a crock for every different kind of dripping; for bacon grease, ham fat, "fried out" suet, pork and lamb chop grease, roast greases, and a final, choice little for pot for chicken and goose grease, for these are the ultra aristocrats of the fat family, and they can be used in a number of odd and appetizing ways. Spaghetti, boiled exactly twenty minutes may be drained and dipped into a skillet of it, tossed about for a few minutes, and served with toasted cheese spread over it. Tomatoes and green peppers, sliced and fried in a deep pot of it, make a wonderful addition to cold meats. Artichokes, cauliflower and asparagus, the aristocrats of the garden, take kindly to this superfluous oil, and are especially good when warmed over in it.

Ham drippings added to bean soups have an excellent effect, and will be found a great saving, if used instead of meat stock.

It may seem a great deal of trouble to thus divide and subdivide these products, but, once the thing is begun, it is just as easy as pouring all the drippings into one large crock, and the result is so much better that some extra effort will seem well worth while.

A small amount of bacon or ham grease, dropped into string beans or spinach or beet tops gives a splendid flavor, and if it is once eaten, will never again be omitted.—Armour's Farm Almanac.

Graham Bread.

One quart of buttermilk, one cup of molasses, four cups graham flour, three cups white flour, one large teaspoon of soda and a little salt. Bake in a moderate oven.

Truly a "Lightning Calculation."

Arthur Griffith, the "lightning calculator" who died recently, was able to multiply any nine figures by any nine figures in less than eight seconds. In the auditor's office at Springfield, Ill. he did the day's work of fourteen clerks in three hours' time. He once solved this problem and had the correct answer almost as soon as the question was put: "What is the compound interest on 1 cent at 6 per cent from the birth of Christ to the present time, and how far would that many silver dollars reach in the air if placed on a floor 25,000 miles in circumference?"

Poor Man's Rice Pudding.

Two tablespoons rice, a pinch of salt, three tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon butter, one quart milk. Wash the rice well and put it in a baking dish with the salt, sugar and butter, pour the milk over and bake very slowly at least two and a half hours, stirring twice during the first hour.

Meat Toast.

Chop cold steak, veal, fowl or tongue very fine, cook in a little gravy or water, add cream, thicken, season with butter, salt and pepper, and pour it over slices of toast. Prepare boiled ham in the same way, adding the yolk of an egg.

Creamed Hamburg Steak.

Shape the steak into small, thin, flat cakes and fry in enough bacon fat to prevent burning.

VERSE WORTH READING.

The Lapful of Nuts.

Whenever I see soft hazel eyes
And nut-brown curls,
I think of those bright days I spent
Among the Limerick girls;
When up through Cratia woods I went
Nutting with thee;
And we plucked the glossy clustering fruit
From many a bending tree.

Beneath the hazel boughs we sat,
Thou, love, and I,
And the gathered nuts lay in thy lap,
Beneath thy downcast eye;
But little we thought of the store we'd win.

I, love, or thou;
For our hearts were full and we dare not own
The love that's spoken now.

Oh, there's wars for willing hearts in Spain,
And high Germanle!
And I'll come back, ere long again
With knightly fame and fee;
And I'll come back, if I ever come back,
Faithful to thee.
That sat with thy white lap full of nuts,
Beneath the hazel tree.
—Sir Samuel Ferguson.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

If you want to vote in the primaries of next spring—and of course you do—you must pay your poll tax by March 9th.

SMITH FOR COMPTROLLER Telegrams and letters from all parts of the State of Florida to Mr. M. M. Smith, and his close friends have urged him to go before the people in the primaries for the office of Comptroller.

This is one of the most important offices in the gift of the people, and one that should be filled by a man who has made a success in business, and by a man who is familiar with banking and general finance.

Mr. Smith is the president of the Orlando Bank and Trust Company, a position he has creditably filled since the death of the Hon. J. D. Beggs who was its first president. He is now, and has been the president of the People's Bank of Sanford since its organization in 1906.

A HOME INSURANCE COMPANY Several times The Herald has advocated the establishment of a home fire insurance company and the idea is taking hold on the minds of the business men of Sanford who are now paying an exorbitant price to companies who are outside of Florida and the money is not invested in the state with the exception of the small amount of commission for the agent.

Financial and business interests in this state and capitalists in all the great money centers are watching with more than passing interest the development of the home insurance idea in Florida.

It is perhaps not generally known that Florida occupies the unique position of being considered by the insurance world as the best moral hazard of any state in the union—and this is a magnificent testimonial to the standard of honor which obtains all classes of its citizens.

It was the disastrous freeze of 1895 which left this splendid business heritage to the state. In the wake of the freeze were thousands of men who were worth $50,000 and upward one day and who found themselves so impoverished by the blast which stole down from the north in a night that they could not raise $18 or $20 for railroad fare the next day.

was not a single dwelling house loss by fire in the entire state which was in the least questionable. Insurance companies are more than vigilant under such circumstances. Occasionally serious business depressions are followed by a material rise in the loss ratio. This illustrates the meaning of the term "moral hazard".

There have been many other advantages local to Florida which have increased the wonderment of investors at the failure of this state—the only one in the union not so provided—to organize home fire insurance companies. The field is certainly here. The increase of insurance on business property in this state jumped from $41,900,000 in 1900 to $131,000,000 in 1910. It is expected that the Spectator report, due in April, will show that there was as much as $160,000,000 in force in 1911.

Financiers and men of large interests will be quick to see the value of the development of the idea. They realize that the concentration of insurance premiums at home means that this home money will go right back into Sanford issues and securities. It will enable the timber and land operators, as well as leaders in other industrial lines, to finance their deals and transactions at home instead of having to go to the money centers of the north, where they borrow the very money, perhaps that Florida has sent there to pay insurance premiums.

JOY AT END OF HER VOYAGE

Gloucester Man Greets His Bride—Elect as Big Steamer Docks—Couple Soon Made Man and Wife.

Philadelphia.—For a week Arthur Owens, an Iron worker employed at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding company in Camden, has carried about with him a marriage license while about every hour he was looking up steamship arrivals. The steamer Haverford warped into her dock at Washington street and Owens got his reward for all his patient waiting, when a pair of pretty eyes caught sight of him from the deck and their fair owner waved a happy salute.

In a jiffy, or as soon as the red tape of the steamer landing could be unwound, Owens and Miss Theresa Maher, who had come from England for the very purpose, were in each other's arms. As fast as boat and carriage could carry them they were in Gloucester, at Owens' home, at 218 Warren street, and there they were made one. The lovers' troth had been kept. Miss Catherine Connolly was bridesmaid, and Joseph Connolly the best man. Mr. Owens is chief ranger of Court Washington, Foresters of America, of Gloucester.

THE UTILIZATION OF WASTE products to the very fullest extent is, of course, the aim of every industrialist, and the Wood Waste Distilleries Co., Wheeling, West Virginia, U. S. A., certainly makes this possible in the case of the waste material of wood working establishments. By means of their distilling apparatus, ranging from a capacity of 5 to 500 gals., the industrial alcohol and turpentine contained in sawdust are effectively extracted, while the resultant fiber is ready for paper manufacturers. This still will actually pay for itself over and over again every month, and Colonial and foreign fruit canning companies, chemical works, saw mills, varnish makers, oil refineries, sugar refineries, etc., cannot fail to find it a profitable acquisition.—R. ## The KIPPEN GABINET

MEN drink because they have a sinking feeling; good food satisfies that craving permanently. —Adelaide Keen.

As a business, there is nothing derogatory in the preparation of our daily food, and the rewards are greater than in many walks of life.

PEACH POSSIBILITIES.

There is no better fruit than the ripe, luscious peach; and fresh from the tree, full of its own flavor, it is indeed food for the gods.

Being frugal housekeepers, we must of necessity look into the future and provide for the time when fresh peaches are not obtainable.

We will can and pickle them, make jam and marmalade, and with the pits and peeling we will cook some green apples and make a most delectable jelly.

Sliced, and sprinkled with sugar and served with cream, they will form many a dainty dessert.

Peaches make a delicious pie. Bake a crust and fill with sliced peaches; sweeten with sugar and pile on whipped cream. Serve chilled.

Peach Canapes.—Sauté circular pieces of sponge cake in butter until delicately browned. Place a half a peach which has been sprinkled with a little lemon juice on each. Pour over a little peach juice, fill the hollow in the peach with nut meats and serve.

Peach Tapioca.—Cook a cup of tapioca in boiling water after soaking one hour, add peach juice to flavor, sweeten and salt to taste. Line a dish with quartered peaches, fill with tapioca and bake thirty minutes. Serve with cream.

Clave Tarts.—Bake crusts of puff paste in the form of cups, lay in a half of a ripe peach and in each cavity place a blanched almond.

Peach baskets are made of paste and baked, then filled with sliced peaches.

Baked Peaches.—Peel and cut in halves, remove the stones, fill each cavity with sugar, butter and a little lemon juice and nutmeg. Bake 20 minutes and serve on buttered toast.

Nellie Maxwell

People Who Bore You.

In the Woman's Home Companion Margaret E. Sangster reports what a brother said about his own married sister: "I never dine at Mary's. I used to enjoy going there, but she and Jack are at present so engrossed with the rising generation that there is no fun in being their guest. The children are permitted to interrupt conversation; their father and mother stop in the midst of a sentence to answer their questions and to conduct their education; and, worst of all, their wonderful sayings are repeated in their hearing, and a bachelor uncle is frowned upon if he does not rise to the occasion and express his amazement at the brilliant speeches of the small people. When Mary's children are grown I shall visit her again; but for the present, I drop in only when I think they are safe in bed."

Worked Hard for Success.

Dr. Luther H. Gulick, director of the department of hygiene of the Sage foundation, came up from the ranks. At Oberlin college he cut lawns, cared for house furnaces and worked as a book agent. In preparing for college at the high school at Hanover, N. H., he paid his living expenses by sawing wood and waiting on table at a summer hotel. He studied at the medical college of the University of New York, taught physical training, had a milk route, and got up before day-break to milk the cows, after which he made delivery to his customers. Dr. Gulick was born in Honolulu, spent his childhood in Japan, and learned the Japanese language thoroughly. In his younger life he intended to follow his father's footsteps and become a medical missionary.

The Port of Workless Men.

One morning we passed through a great square in Moscow containing nothing but men—wild-eyed, long-haired, long-bearded men; men in rags, most of them, and all of them compelled to come there to wait to be hired to work. To that square must all working men go who seek work. The city feeds them while they wait, a single small piece of black bread each day. Some never leave that square, but wait there their lifetime through. They gazed upon our handsome laundeur with hungry and wolfish eyes. I never before beheld so frightful, unkempt a company of hopeless, hapless hungry human slaves as these Russian working men who waited for a job.—William Seymour Edwards in "Through Scandinavia to Moscow."

Diamond Wedding Anniversary.

Mayor Gaynor, replying to an invitation to the diamond jubilee celebration of a wedding of a couple, now respectively 86 and 85 years old, said he would be unable to be at the gathering, but he added: "I wish I could attend. The most important thing of all is that they have reared a family of eight children. They are deserving of the highest honor, especially the mother. The women of this country who are postponing motherhood, or refusing it altogether, are denying themselves the greatest happiness that can come to women."—New York Sun.

Must Learn to Play Together.

We have the sportsman and the sport in business. We need men in life willing to subordinate themselves to the welfare of others. This is true in civic work, absolutely essential to the success of a municipality. When we learn to play together it will be a great world. It is great to do things we don't want to do. But what a life it would be if all of us did our duty all the time. It is those who do their duty when they are called upon that are useful. They are the happy ones, too.—Exchange.

Ople Read's Occupation.

Ople Read, the big, genial novelist, story teller and ever popular entertainer, was at a Chautauque out west last summer, where, after his lecture, he met a fellow platformist and invited him to have a smoke.

"Come, H—," said Read, "get your pipe and let's get comfortable." "No, thank you, Mr. Read, I don't smoke." "What, don't smoke!" exclaimed Ople. "No," declared the other, "I never smoke, chew, drink nor swear." "Great Caesar, man," cried Read, "I'm doing one of those things all the time!"—Cosmopolitan Magazine

Quantity and Quality.

Some people advocate the restriction of the size of families on the principle that fewer children and of better quality should be the rule. But the trouble with this is that fewer and better rarely go together. One proof of this is that the younger children of a family are, generally speaking, the stronger physically and the brighter mentally. It has been asserted that the seventh or eight child is most likely to be the finest of the lot. This may be because the younger children are born of mature parents.

Stuffed Apples.

Take some good cooking apples, pare and core them and stuff with the following filling: One cup of sugar, half a cup of butter, one teaspoon of curry powder, one tablespoon vinegar, mix all together, fill apples and bake till done.

IN recent issues we have given you a few figures comparing Florida with the very best Northern States in the production of corn and potatoes. It is not possible to compare Florida with all of the states on all kinds of crops, because certain crops in Florida pay so much money to farmers that they do not care to give attention to some other crops which are staple in the North. In looking over the statistics on any crop that is grown both in Florida and the Northern States, we find that Florida has a decided advantage.

Owing to our wonderful climate, we have advantages along other lines—in the raising of stock, for instance. It is not necessary to protect stock from the weather, and consequently all kinds of stock run at large the year 'round and require no attention and but little feed. This is one of the most inviting fields for the cattle business in the country. We may have more to say on this subject later on.

Just now we call your attention to the raising of Poultry.

Poultry raising as an industry has made wonderful strides forward in the past few years, yet the demand for poultry products is increasing much more rapidly than the supply, and prices are advancing slightly each year. This fact is due to several reasons. Almost everybody enjoys eating poultry products. The general high cost of living along other lines undoubtedly adds to the consumption of poultry products and tends to increase prices. Still another, and we think a greater reason than any other is due to the rapid increase of population in our cities and the decrease in population of our country districts. The census of 1910 reveals some startling facts. The State of Illinois, for instance, lost 1,000 population in the rural districts in the past ten years, while the state as a whole, including the cities, gained over 800,000. What is true of Illinois is true of practically every other state in the union. As people flock to the cities they, of course, cease to be producers, but still continue to be consumers. That this condition of affairs will continue for years to come is a practically settled fact.

For one of limited means we do not know of any field so inviting as poultry raising, and certainly if one is going into the poultry business, no place in the world offers the advantages today that Florida does.

In the Year Book of the Department of Agriculture of the United States for 1910, pages 643 and 644, are two tables giving prices in each state of eggs per dozen and chickens per hundred pounds for every month during the past two years. We have selected six representative states out of this list and figured the average price for two years on both eggs and chickens. They are as follows:

STATE	EGGS PER DOZ.	CHICKENS PER 100 LBS.
South Dakota	$ .203	$ 9.04
Illinois	.216	11.26
Indiana	.220	11.48
Iowa	.203	10.20
Missouri	.194	10.80
Kansas	.19	10.37
Average for the six states	.20	10.37

Now compare Florida from the same table. Eggs 24c and chickens $13.34. This will show you that the price of eggs in Florida during the past two years has averaged 3½c higher than the six states above mentioned, and that the price of chickens has averaged $2.97 per 100 pounds higher than in the six states above. This difference of itself should be an attractive margin of profit.

In the vicinity of Sanford but few people pay any attention to poultry, probably because they are engaged in truck growing, from which they make enormous returns, and consequently do not care to fool with chickens.

Being near the great resorts of the country, and having such excellent transportation by both water and rail, the demand here is much greater than in other parts of the state and the prices at Sanford are consequently considerably above the average given.

We do not know of a better place or one more adapted to poultry raising than our Volusia Farms. This land is level, excellent quality of soil, well drained, has splendid transportation facilities by both water and rail and CAN BE BOUGHT AT FROM $30 TO $50 PER ACRE, depending upon location.

One of the finest poultry farms in this part of the state is located at Enterprise, only a short distance from our Volusia Farms. The owner of this farm, Mr. Throop, has a large number of hens, and in an article written for The Sanford Herald of recent date, this gentleman states that his hens average to pay him $2.00 per head each year above all expenses.

Mr. Throop buys all his feed and does not attempt to grow any of it, as his farm is located on a few town lots.

It is so easy to grow anything or everything in Florida that we should certainly advise one who intended trying the poultry business to buy sufficient land to grow all his own feed, especially so when our Volusia Farms can be bought at the present low price. There is no question about an advance in value later on, and besides being able to raise feed for one's poultry, one would get the benefit of the advance in value of the land itself.

Let us show you over this splendid tract of land. No matter what you want land for in Florida, you will be pleased with our Volusia Farms. Sold on easy terms with small payments.

Military Heart Party

Misses Madge and Veda Ward entertained at a delightful Military Heart Card Party at their lovely home Saturday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. A. L. Higbee of Marion, Indiana; and Mrs. Lella Michaels of Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

All the beautiful and artistic green vines and red heart decorations at the reception given by Mrs. Ward the previous afternoon were still in place and effective. Seven tables of hearts were played. Each table was numbered and in the centre was a red fort, surmounted by a flag staff. The table with the largest number of flags was the winning table and each of the four players at the winning table received a prize. The fortunate winners were Misses Lella Michaels, Charlotte Keeler, Genie Wicker, Lucy Whitner, each of whom received a dainty heart shaped fancy apron, trimmed with lace hearts. Each of the guests of honor were presented with pretty fancy work bags.

After the military achievements of the afternoon were exploited, delicious cream chicken, hot rolls, cheese carrots, olives, fruit salad and coffee were served.

Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Pres't.

Lovely Reception

Mrs. H. A. Ward was the hostess of a lovely reception at her handsome home Friday afternoon, complimentary to her lovely house guest, Mrs. L. A. Higbee of Marion, Indiana.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms, green vines and red hearts, suspended from cords and turning to the chandeliers, from which they extended to the sides and corners of the room. A network of narrow red paper ribbons, fastened to the balustrade and secured to the ceiling gave the handsome stairway a very rich and striking effect.

The piano was beautifully screened off in one corner of the room by a portiere of red paper ribbons. The handsome lace curtains were ornamented by wide bands of red paper around the edges and large red hearts down the center.

Mrs. Ward received her guests in a handsome pale pink messaline, with corsage bouquet of pink roses. Miss Ward was lovely in blue crepe de Chine, veiled with black chiffon. Miss Veda Ward wore a very effective gown of lavender messaline with drapery of green chiffon. Mrs. A. L. Higbee was handsomely gowned in black lace with jet trimmings and lovely red roses.

The dining room was lovely with the same color scheme of green and red decorations. The centerpiece on the handsome table was most attractively picturesque. It was a large heart shaped lake, the sides of which were entirely hidden by beautiful red and white roses. The surface of the water was covered by miniature pond lilies; two small boats with red sails floated gently around, while three tiny white swans were the finishing effect, making the color scheme quite realistic.

Mesdames D. A. Caldwell and C. M. Hand poured the fragrant coffee, and the delicious fruit salad, cheese carrots, olives and dainty crackers were charmingly served by Misses Lella Michaels, Alice Caldwell Lucy Whitner, Mabel Hand, Annie Lee Caldwell, Charlotte Hand and Fern Ward. ## WILD DOGS MENACED PARIS

Serious Situation That Became One of the Worst Features of Reign of Terror.

So many startling events happened from day to day during the Reign of Terror that the apparition of wild dogs in Paris was commonly overlooked. But it was quite natural. The greater part of the grandees, who fled or went into hiding, kept dogs, and very few of them were able to make arrangements for the poor beasts when they left home.

The dogs, abandoned, took to the streets of course, and shortly they began to congregate in two packs, one occupying the Champs Elysees, and one the Bois de Boulogne. Soon they became a public danger. Carlyle pokes fun at Santerre, the brewer, who proposed a law that all dogs should be hanged; he had not noticed the paragraphs in the newspapers telling how people had been attacked in the Champs Elysees.

At length the situation became really grave, as is easily understood when thousands of starving animals have to find subsistence in a starving city. Many of them were wolf hounds, and of powerful fighting breeds. So in September, 1793, drastic measures were taken against the Champs Elysees pack.

Two battalions of the National Guard surrounded the area, leaving a gap toward the Rue Royale, while multitudes of ragamuffins beat the cover. The game was driven up to the Rue Royale to the Place Royale, where troops made a battle of it, firing volleys. Three days consecutively this operation was repeated and more than three thousand dogs lay in the place.

A certain Gaspardin received orders to clear them away, and he, short of means, applied for the Royal equipages. It was a timely jest, greeted with applause. So M. Gaspardin packed the dead dogs neck and heels in the gilded coaches as full as they would hold, and made a state procession through delighted Paris.

Partial Law.

Stephen Swift, at a dinner in Denver, was urging votes for women. "Give women votes," he said, "and the law will be better administered. Two poor laborers were talking one day. 'All men are equal, in the eyes of the law,' said the first, who was a conservative. 'Well,' the second, a radical, replied, 'it may well be that we're all equal in the eyes of the law, but I know mighty well that we're not in the hands of the law.'"

Quart of Honey.

A bee culturist contributes some interesting data to Popular Mechanics, concerning the work of bees in gathering honey. He calculates that a quart of honey represents no less than 48,000 miles of flight between the hive and the flowers. Also, that in June, which is the busiest month of the season, the workers of one colony easily cover as much as twice the distance between the earth and moon in one day. The distance of the moon from the earth is 237,600 miles. Therefore, the gathering of about 10 quarts of honey means, totalling the flight of all the workers of the colony, a flight of some 475,200 miles.

The General News of The Land of Flowers.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

News comes from Leesburg that never before has the town been so full of tourists as now. Every hotel and boarding house there is overflowing.

News comes from Pensacola that cotton continues to move through that port at a lively clip, and this season will show an increase that will almost double the number of bales shipped in a season before.

The extreme cold weather of the past week has seriously interfered with the strawberry industry over the state. But despite the bad weather a number of berries have been shipped and the price has been decidedly in advance of that obtained during the past three weeks.

The Mulberry Herald will be the name of Mulberry's new paper, which will probably make its appearance the latter part of the coming month. E. S. Forelicht, the new editor, is on the ground getting things in shape for the publication of the paper.

T. R. Sturke, member of the school board of DeSoto county and prominent citizen of this place, was run over by the south-bound passenger train while attempting to board the train as it was moving from the station at Bowling Green Wednesday. The forepart of his left foot was cut off and right ankle badly fractured.

Taft for the Lily Whites

Information that came indirectly from the White House today in the effect that President Taft and Secretary Hilges, as well as Campaign Manager McKinley, were stationed yesterday when they found that in South Carolina where a quiet plot of Taft and Roosevelt strength has been going on revealed the fact that out of the forty-three counties in the state forty-two have negroes as county chairmen of the Republican organization; that of twenty-five executive committeemen twenty-two are negroes and that of the seven congressional districts six of them have negroes in charge of affairs.

Such a condition of affairs it is learned not only opened the eyes of the president and his advisors, but made them hasten to secure information to ascertain whether there had not been a mistake in the reports sent in from those who had been in the field.

It is well known that President Taft is desirous of building up a respectable white party in the south and has endeavored to do everything to carry out such a policy, which, at the same time would not jeopardize the interests of the C. O. P.

Beat Child to Death

Bronston, Feb. 14.—It was intimated yesterday that the body of the three-year-old child of Forrest Kelley who it is alleged died from the effects of a brutal beating administered by the child's stepmother, will be exhumed to ascertain if any of the bones were broken.

The Kelley family reside near Sand Slough, in Southern Levy county. According to the statement of their neighbors, the child was seen playing in the morning and that afternoon they were attracted to the house by the piteous screams. That after arriving the child was found to be dying. Its body was covered with welts and stripes and one side of the head indicated that it had been struck with some blunt instrument. The father was absent from home at the time. It was stated that Kelley's first wife died some time ago and that he married recently the woman who will be charged with the murder.

Changes in State Cabinet

Tallahassee, Feb. 15.—Hon. Wm. V. Knott, for the past nine years Treasurer of the State of Florida, was on Wednesday appointed Comptroller to take the place of A. C. Croom, deceased.

John C. Luning, whom Governor Gilchrist appointed Commissioner of Agriculture, was promoted to the office of Treasurer and W. A. McRae, of Marianna, was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture to succeed Mr. Luning.

Thus have the several offices been filled, and Governor Gilchrist feels that in his selections he has appointed good men, each splendidly qualified for the office to which they were appointed.

Mr. Knott is a man who has the respect of every one, being a gentleman of high honor, unusual ability and conscientious in the discharge of his duties. As Treasurer he has become familiar with the many duties incumbent on the Comptroller, and a better selection for the office could not have been made.

Mr. McRae for several years has been Clerk of the Circuit Court of Jackson county, and is regarded as one of West Florida's most progressive and able citizens.

More Dynamiters Arrested

Arrests in the dynamite conspiracy cases began yesterday, fifty or more defendants scattered in various parts of country being arrested. By noon thirty-six arrested had been made.

Among first arrested Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge Structural Iron-workers. Eleven business agents of ironworkers union, four or five liberals and some of the executive board members charged with knowing what McNamara did with money used to buy explosive life-saving those indicted.

Spurgeon P. Meadows, business agent of the District Council, International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners was arrested here. He represents one of three labor unions implicated.

Frank C. Webb, a former member of the ironworkers' executive board was arrested in New York. He figures prominently in Orrie McManis's confession. Webb, it is charged, met McManis, showed him where to do a job at Hoboken and again at Jersey City.

Still in the Ring

Though some what bedraggled, still in the ring was the suggestive appearance of the pretty and attractive booths in Holden Park Wednesday after the rain had damped their gay and festive atmosphere. Even though the special weather, which the Herald had predicted for the Field Day celebration did not materialize Wednesday the second day of the Horse Show the clouds and rain which the weather man hinted at certainly arrived on schedule time.

It will take more than one day's threatening looks and rain to put all the committees who worked so hard for the success of the Field Day and the hospital association out of business. The ardent enthusiasts and do not dare spirit exhibited Wednesday and throughout the enterprise will not tamely acknowledge defeat, therefore the Sanford Hospital in the near future, is an assured institution.

New Jewelry Store

Theodore Schaal and family left yesterday morning for Sanford, Fla., to take up residence, accompanied by the best wishes of their Hastings friends for success and happiness in their new home. Mr. Schaal has been engaged in the jewelry business here during the past sixteen years and will doubtless still continue it in Sanford, a line of work in which he is very successful. Mr. Schaal is ex-mayor of Hastings and wife are highly regarded by their friends—Democrat, Hastings, Minn. Mr. Schaal has opened a jewelry store at 105 Palmetto avenue with a fine stock and bids fair to become one of our substantial merchants. His announcement will be found on another page.

Death of G. I. Ford

George T. Ford, a resident of Round Hill, Va., died at the Bye Lo Hotel yesterday morning. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for several years and came to Florida thinking the change would be beneficial. His daughter was summoned to his bedside by wire and was with him in his last moments. Mr. Ford was a prominent figure in his home city being Mayor at one time and was also prominent in fraternal circles.

The remains were escorted to the station yesterday by the Sanford Lodge of Masons. Interment will be made at Round Hill tomorrow.

Some Fine Wagons

W. H. Underwood of this city has one of the most complete wagon and carriage factories in the state. He has lately turned out some great work in the shape of delivery wagons. The Sanford Ice & Water Co. has one on the street now that is a beauty, also the Progress Laundry. The Sanford Furniture Co., and several other concerns have had their wagons overhauled and painted. Few cities in the south the size of Sanford can boast of such a well equipped factory as that of W. H. Underwood.

FIELD DAY MADE GOOD

Grounds Filled By Large Crowd On Opening Day

EVENTS STOPPED BY THE RAIN

Idea Was So Good That Ladies Will Make It An Annual Affair for Our City

Field Day and Horse Show for the benefit of the Sanford Hospital proved to be a great event. The crowds on the first day were not as large as expected, many out of town visitors intending to come here on Wednesday, but the first day proved most profitable and all of the booths did a rushing business. The affair had been planned on an elaborate scale and every one who entered the grounds was greatly surprised at the beautiful appearance of all the displays. The Sanford girls are the prettiest in the state and were at their best on Tuesday dressed in different costumes and busily engaged in serving the multitude. They carried out the carnival idea and many varied were the schemes to part the people from their money and very few were allowed to escape without giving up.

The horse show was preceded by the parade, which occurred at 12 o'clock and circled the principal streets of the city, under the guidance of Field Marshals C. M. Hand, J. N. Whittier and D. A. Caldwell and their assistants.

Followed by automobiles and carriages, headed by the Sanford Band came a long line of cow delivery wagons, trucks and drays all spick and span and anxious to enter the lists.

From the moment the events started at one o'clock there was something doing every minute.

In the delivery wagon class the Sanford Furniture Co. carried off first honors. The Progress Laundry second and the Hill Hardware Co. third.

Best pair of mules first prize went to Hill Hardware Co. second to L. A. Brunley.

Roadsters, W. J. McRae first, W. M. Igoe second, J. E. Turner, third.

Saddle Horses, E. E. Brady, first, C. M. Hand, second, J. N. Whittier, third.

Wednesday, the second day, opened up dismal and with a dark foreboding of rain and the ladies moved the exhibits to the Elks' Hall where there was a very good attendance in the afternoon and at night. Many people were under the impression that the events at the track had been called off and only a small crowd was present to witness what was the very best portion of the meet, the automobile stunts.

The first was the Slow Race on high gear, once around the track, won by Randall Chase, in Buick car, time 1:11 2-5.

A. H. Gerber, in Overland car, second, 1:09 2-5. Ed Higgins, Everett, third, 1:48 2-5.

Expert Ladies Drive was the next event and was a very pretty affair, the ladies driving between a row of flags.

Miss Elder won, driving a Buick car, time 1:42 2-5.

Miss Williams, second, driving an Overland, time 1:58 2-5.

Each of these ladies only knocked down two flags.

Mrs. B. A. Howard, third, driving an E. M. F., time 1:23 4-5. Mrs. Howard knocked down three flags.

Expert Gentlemen's Drive, F. F. Dutton, first, in Everett car, time 50 2-5. E. N. Morrow, second, Everett, time 1:27.

Roy Symes, Everett, third, time 56 2-5.

Mr. Morrow was handicapped in the race, driving the large Everett belonging to M. F. Robinson and having a 127 inch wheel base made it exceedingly difficult to avoid the flags.

Dash From Dead Motor was a great stunt and was greatly enjoyed.

Roy Symes in an Everett was first.

Ralph Wight in an Everett was second.

Randall Chase in Buick was third.

Department of Agriculture will be in Orlando to address a meeting called in the interests of the boys' corn movement, and to effect to county organization. There will be a general invitation to attend this meeting but teachers, pupils and parents are especially urged to be present.

Train Derailed at Maitland

Northbound train No. 28 failed to make the siding at Maitland Wednesday night and was jammed by train No. 85 southbound. The accident was due to the failure of the brakeman to allow the entire train No. 28 to take the siding before he threw the switch with the result that the last car remained on the main track and for some miraculous reason No. 85 was running fast enough to make a trail shock when it hit the car. Damage was slight but the two trains were late very late.

Helping Hand Society

The Helping Hand Society of the Baptist church met at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Wildman, Tuesday evening with quite a large attendance. The interesting Mission study class, was conducted by E. E. Cox. At the conclusion of which, the members of the society, enjoyed a social hour together which was made very pleasant by several musical selections and fine readings by Miss Oldham, of North Carolina.

Well Deserved Promotion

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Franklin McVeagh, secretary of the treasury, firing an administration pre-convention campaign gun in Michigan at the annual dinner of the Zach Chandler Republican club, where he was the guest of honor, came out flatly with the expressed belief that Theodore Roosevelt "would not—and with his make-up could not—run against Taft, for the Republican Presidential nomination this year.

"Foolish stories" about American intervention, circulated in Mexico through erroneous press despatches have aroused so much feeling throughout the troubled southern republic and so endangered the safety of American residents there, that the State Department today issued a circular to its diplomatic and consular representatives in Mexico, denying all such stories and reiterating expressions of good will and sincerest friendship for Mexico.

In Georgia one Republican faction endorsed the Republican administration and the other lined up for Taft. And yet Georgia is the state that was supposed to love Roosevelt so well that many Democrats would vote for him.

When Weber and Fields opened their re-union at a New York theater last week as high as $1,000 was paid for boxes by their enthusiastic admirers. It was a gala occasion and even David Warfield, who long since graduated from the burlesquers into the legitimate field, again donned his old Hebeew comedian clothes and appeared on the stage in one of the impersonations that laid the foundations of his fame.

All of the delegates thus far elected for the republican national convention in Chicago, twenty-six, are for President Taft's re-nomination. They are distributed as follows: Florida 12, Philippine Islands 2, Fourth Oklahoma district 2 and the District of Columbia 2, Fifth Georgia 1, First Georgia 4.

As the campaign progresses the alleged strength of Roosevelt vanishes like a specter of the Brocken when the sun has risen and is dissipating the fog. In districts where he was to sweep the platter clean he is only fortunate enough to get an honorable mention and where the event was in doubt he gets a consolation delegate or two.

The Republican State Convention to select delegates to the national convention met at noon today in a downtown theater. Whether there would be a contest over instructed delegates was problematical when the meeting was called. It is known that Taft has warm supporters in the State, but also there are some strong Roosevelt supporters.

A commission of thirteen members of the Canadian Senate will determine exactly what the Dominion lost through the rejection of reciprocity with the United States. The commission was appointed on motion of Senator, a Liberal, from Ontario. At the suggestion of one Western member, it was stated Canada had gained considerably by the action.

Huskins Is Postmaster

Washington, Feb. 14.—Charlie H. Stebbins has been appointed postmaster at Manatee, Fla. This office became presidential January 1, 1912. The nomination by President Taft of Mr Stebbins has been sent to the United States senate for its confirmation.

The senate has confirmed the following nominations for Florida postmasterships: William A. Allen, Deland. Charles F. Huskins, Sanford. Charles J. Schoonmaker, Cocoa. John F. Stunkel, Leesburg.

Two Noted Books

It may be of interest to some one or indeed to many who are anticipating the pleasure of hearing Jacob Reis when he lectures in Sanford, March 1st, to know that two of his widely known books are in the Sanford Library. They are "The Making of an American," and "The Battle of the Slums." It would add greatly to the interest of the lecture to read the books mentioned before hearing Mr. Reis.
