Reds Sing Stalin's Birthday Praises In Lavish Ceremonies

Communist Nations Flood Leader With Presents, Praise; Tito Regime Silent

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(AP)— Around the world Communists sang praises of the Joseph Stalin on his 70th birthday today, while Soviet Union and its satellites put on perhaps the most extravagant celebration ever staged in honor of a political leader.

A fantastic flood of gifts rained on the Kremlin, Moscow decked itself out in bunting and huge portraits of the prime minister, and hailed him as "the genius, leader and teacher, the greatest man of modern times."

Stalin was hailed, too, as "the greatest defender of peace."

In honor of his birthday, the Supreme Soviet announced annual international Stalin peace prizes to be awarded each year to persons the Soviets consider to have done the most for world peace. The prizes are 100,000 rubles, or about $20,000 at the prevailing exchange.

Of all the Communist nations, only Yugoslavia, outcast by the Cominform as under the domination of Marxist heretics, ignored the Soviet leader.

Georgi Malenkov, often spoken of as an heir to Stalin's power, unabashedly spoke of the "peace"
theme and revived Stalin's oft-repeated argument that Communism and Capitalism could co-exist peacefully, but another right hand man of the Communist boss had harsh words for Premier-Marshall Tito's Yugoslavia.

"The time is not far off," wrote
Deputy Prime Minister, V. M.
Molotov in Pravda, "when it (Tito's regime) will meet with the beneficial results of the socialist revolution."

While Malenkov spoke of peace, Molotov lashed out at the United States and Britain, their ruling circles, he said, "are feverishly preparing for a new war" for

Airlines Battle For Right To Fly Tourists To Rome

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—
A legal fight between two airlines over the Holy Year air business to Italy was on file in federal court today.

Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., is trying to prevent Pan American Airways from cutting into the U. S.-to-Italy air traffic.

After the suit was filed yesterday, Judge Alfred C. Cox ordered Pan American to show cause Friday why it should not be enjoined from carrying passengers between America and Rome.

TWA complained that as long ago as 1946, the Civil Aeronautics Board turned down Pan-Am's request for a certificate to travel between here and Italy. Meanwhile, TWA said, it built up its business between the countries to 80 round trips weekly with CAB approval.

But last Nov. 9, the complaint said, the CAB approved a Pan-Am arrangement with an organization known as Italia Roma Corp., of Italy, under which Pan-Am would make eight flights to Rome a month except during the summer.

TWA charged that Italia Roma holds no authority to engage in air traffic between the U. S. and Italy.

The suit said Pan-Am's suit outlets a form letter to Roman Catholic priests in the nation, outlining a tentative program for flights to Rome under the arrangement with the Italian firm.

Beyond this, the Holy Year business, TWA said, Pan-Am began advertising all-expense tours to attract other passengers for its Rome flights.

The complaint said the arrangement threatened serious losses for TWA.

Pan American spokesmen declined immediate comment until its legal staff had replied the suit.

Hiss Testifies He Never Headed Communist Unit

Defendant Gives Lie To Chambers' Charge Against Self, Sayre

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—
Alger Hiss denied at his second perjury trial today that he ever headed any kind of Communist underground apparatus.

He also denied that his brother Donald, an ex-state department employee, or former assistant secretary of state Francis B. Sayre ever led such groups or were Communist.

Testifying in his own defense for the third day, Hiss flatly contradicted the story of his chief accuser, Whitaker Chambers, who named both Hiss brothers as prominent members of a Communist unit that tried to influence pre-war government policy.

Writer Malcolm Cowley testified earlier that Chambers, in a conversation with him, also named Sayre as a member of the group.

Sayre, Hiss' former boss in the State Department, now is U. S.
Representative on the United Nations trusteeship council. He dismissed the story of his having Communist affiliations as "preposterous."

Defense counsel Claude B. Cross asked Hiss today: "Were you ever the head of a Communist apparatus when you were with the State Department or anywhere else?"

The 45-year-old defendant smiled, shook his head and replied:
"No, sir."

He gave the same answer with respect to his brother and Sayre.
Earlier, the doctor of the State Department said he did not pass information about the pre-war activities of an American in Russia to a Soviet spy ring.

The accused also said the Rubens case involved the seizure of Mission Marie Rubens in Moscow in December, 1937 and subsequent efforts by American diplomats to free her.

Reference was made to the "Rubens case" in a handwritten note which the government contends Hiss gave Chambers.

The accused also said the Rubens case was a handwritten note which he gave to Chambers. He denied giving it to Chambers. He said it was a memorandum for an oral report which he later gave to Sayre.

Over numerous government objections, Hiss' lawyer put into evidence two New York Times articles about the Rubens case to show, he said, that the matter was public knowledge.

There had been previous testimony that information about the Rubens case was transmitted from Washington to Moscow by an unknown means. Hiss' lawyer apparently was trying to show that

Former French Navy Secretary Kills Self

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—
Jacques Stern, identified by police as former Secretary of the French Navy, plunged to his death today from his ninth floor duplex apartment on Park Avenue.

Police said the 55-year-old ex-cavalry member, who also was a retired banker, left two notes. His death was listed as probably suicide.

Detective Frank Farrell said one note was addressed to Stern's maid, Carmen Imperial, and the other—planned to the dead man's lapse—asked authorities to notify a lawyer of his death.

Stern had been ill for some time.

His wife, who lives on Fifth Avenue, was said by police to be suffering from a heart ailment.
A son, Jacques, Jr., 16, is a poly-myelitis patient in New York Hospital.

The French information service said Stern was a minister of colin-bine before the war.

Modern Lighting May Replace Old Street Lamps

Sanford's New Swim- ming Pool Filled For First Time

Nine modern open-type of street lights mounted on steel poles have been proposed to replace 23 of the old type of lights between First Street and Semole Boulevard, City Manager C. W. McKibbin announced this morning.

This modernized type of lighting would save the City $180 in lighting costs annually in the tested area and at the same time provide better illumination, as the new type of light would give more than twice as much light on the streets as is now being derived from the old type, it was reported by E. C.
Harper and D. L. Harper, who several weeks ago were requested by the City Commission to investigate the value and economy of the new type fixtures.

According to Mr. McKibbin the old white way posts and fixtures, installed about 25 years ago, are valued at about $100 each and cannot be used in newly developed residential areas.

The requests for improved street lighting were made by (Continued on Page 3)

ROLLINS LIBRARY
WINTER PARK, Dec. 20.—(AP)—
Henry A. Ivey Inc., of Atlanta today submitted a low bid of $377,

sales tax, for construction of Mills
Memorial Library at Rollins College.

Arthur Perry of Jacksonville was second low with $384,700, $5,076 state sales tax included.

When awarded, the contract will be the largest for a building construction job in the history of Winter Park. Paul A. Wagner, president of Rollins, said that the contract would be awarded "very quickly." Efforts will be made to complete the building in time for the fall term of 1950.

Cheaper Fuel For Motor Cars Developed From Water, Alcohol

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(AP)— A mixture of plain water and alcohol mixed in gasoline allows the use of cheaper motor fuels, James C. Porter of the Federal Department of Agriculture said today.

Porter explained the department's alcohol injection tests in a talk prepared for delivery to the winter meeting of the American Society of Automobile Engineers.

He said mixture of water and alcohol permits the use of a lower octane number gasoline in automobiles, trucks and tractor engines.

Tests of the injection system are being carried on at the department's northern regional research laboratory in Peoria, Ill. Porter's assistants in the work are Max
M. Gilbert, Howard A. Lakin, and Richard Wiebe.

"The method is based on the fact," Porter said, "that in an alcohol engine, for example, each octane gasoline is required only when under load, under acceleration, and in hill climbing.

"At other times they generally will operate on the lower octane fuel—efficiently without knock."
The injection of the alcohol water mixture should permit the use of a cheaper fuel when they will still have the power to back up the automobiles and instantly when such are required.

In another address prepared for delivery to the meeting, E. F.
Samsbury, chief of the Agriculture Department's experimental work,

3 Children Burn To Death In Flash Fire In Country

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis.,
Dec. 21.—(AP)—Three children died last night in a flash fire, while five brothers and sisters and their parents escaped as their cottage home was leveled.

The dead, all children of 11 and Mrs. Frank Sondheim, 57, Nancy, 7 months, Gray, 2, and Robert, 14.

Kenneth, 9, was overcome to smoke and hospitalized here.
Not a stick of furniture was saved from the two-story wooden house, one and one-half miles west of here.

Assistant fire chief Earl Kees said the blaze apparently broke out when some of the children were in the basement late at night filling firewood. They humped over a can of kerosene for some reason they started recrapping its contents into the lighted stove. Flames flared up and spread swiftly through the house.

The parents frantically began herding the children from the structure, Robert ran upstairs to get Gray, trapped in a bedroom, and was trapped in the flames himself and both perished.

The baby, Nancy, was wheeled in her carriage to supposed safety on the front porch, Kees said, but apparently was overlooked after that in the general hysteria and also died in the flames.

Neighbors rushed to the scene and hoisted a ladder to a second floor window but were driven back by smoke and flames.

Yule Spirit Brings Back Memories Of Past Christmases

By HAI BOYLE
 NEW YORK—(AP)—The heart turns back at Christmas. It turns to other Christmases, spent in other places among faces no longer with us.

The Christmas that most grows in memory is the one when our faith was a bright as Santa's beard and a bright new sled under a popcorn-decked tree filled with joy almost too tremendous to bear. For Christmas wasn't just fun when you were young and got what you asked for—it was ecstasy.

But many a landlocked heart this season isn't merely voyaging back to childhood Christmases at home. It's ranging in memory overseas to wartime Christmases abroad. There were millions of American men and women overseas during those years, so there must be millions of Christmases-in-exile to remember—or, forget.

There are the Christmas memories—in Algiers, in Belgium, in Manila.

It was in Algiers in 1942 that I learned how the war had divided the loyalties of countrymen as well as countries. A fellow correspondent and I invited to have Christmas dinner with a young Frenchman, Paul Million, his wife and their two children. It was a wonderful family meal and the kids forgave us our bad French. They thought it came from chewing too much gum.

Looking down at us from the wall was a portrait of Marshall Pétain. This seemed odd as the old hero of Verdun, now a prisoner of his country, was even then widely regarded as a traitor. But Paul wouldn't take the picture down.

"We simply cannot believe all they say about the old Marshall," he said. And you couldn't help but admire him for his faith, however misplaced.

The spooked Christmas I ever spent was in Spa, Belgium, in 1944. The little town had been captured by the American First Army headquarters in the first days of the battle of the Bulge. It looked like a drab Christmas for a few correspondents who had elected to remain in the Hotel Portugal.

Then a strange Santa Claus indeed—a bearded, stubble-bearded supply sergeant—came to our rescue. He whipped up three turkeys, cranberries, potatoes—and the hotel provided wine, cognac and the other trimmings. While German guns boomed across the hills we sat down to a merry banquet presided over by Madame Beaucoup, the hotel proprietor. We called her "Madame Beaucoup" because her bills for cognac were always "beaucoup big."

I remember a 1945 Christmas eve dinner in Manila because it was the first Christmas without peace. We were guests of Mrs. Slaron, a Filipino woman, and her family. The place was overrun with jitterbugging children and yelping dogs, and we ate chicken and rice, and lush fruit salad.

One daughter wanted us to settle a big argument in the family. Holding up two mail order catalogs, she asked:

"Which American company has the best women's styles?" We said that, as far as we knew, Montgomery Ward and Sears. Rose, both claimed that honor and we weren't the one to decide.

Outside firecrackers popped and the gecko brand rang as were the famous lithograph of Jesus hung in the living room, and a flickering light beneath it lit these words:

"I will bless the homes in which the image of my sacred heart shall be honored and exposed."

Somewhat it seemed like a message of a peace that would be lasting.

Dear Mrs. Slaron, dear Madame Beaucoup, good Paul Million—to you and the millions like you in many lands who look American strangers into your homes and make them happy—a merry, merry Christmas, in remembrance of things past!

Farm Price Decline Puts New Meaning In Price Supports

By OVIN A. MARTIN
 Associated Press Farm Reporter
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The terms "parity" and "farm price supports" are likely to hold up very frequently in the weeks and months ahead as agriculture seeks to adjust to peacetime conditions.

Declining farm prices and income, mounting surpluses, and a return to pre-war crop control measures serve to put new importance on the terms.

Fast discussion of federal farm programs often indicate that there is not a complete understanding of these terms. Often parity prices and support prices are used interchangeably, as if they both meant the same thing.

They are different. Parity is a term used to describe a standard for measuring actual farm prices. It can be compared to a yardstick. Parity is declared by law to be a yardstick that is equally fair to the farmer and those who buy his product.

Parity prices in themselves do not guarantee farmers a profit. The Agriculture Department makes parity calculations once a month. They are based on the relation between farm prices and prices of things farmers buy—of the 10th of the month.

Price supports, on the other hand, are government devices to assure farmers a certain return for their product. The supports are based on the parity yardstick.

The department calculates parity prices for virtually every farm product. It does not support the price of every product for which it calculates parity. A notable exception is beef cattle for which there never has been a support program. Nevertheless, the farmer is able to determine, by using the parity yardstick, how his cattle prices measure up.

There is much controversy about levels at which the government should support prices. The term "high, rigid" supports has been used by some Congress members and farm leaders to describe phases of the support program set up for 1950 by the recent session of Congress.

The Congress directed that the basic farm commodities—cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, rice and peanuts—be supported at 90 per cent of parity next year, providing controls were set up to prevent overproduction. The law permits an administrative discretion in adjusting them either upward or downward.

Rarely has the government ever supported any commodities above 90 per cent of parity. A few were supported at higher levels during the war emergency, when vast production was needed.

Some farm leaders object to the

Hints To Housewives By ASSOCIATED PRESS

REFINISHING HOME FLOORS need not be an expensive job calling for outside expert labor. The home maker herself can do it satisfactorily, says Blanche M. Kusche of the Rhode Island Experiment Station, offering an evidence reports from 40 rural women in that state who refinished floors in their homes. They reported on 131 floors, 81 of pine, 70 of oak. Shellac was used on half these floors, penetrating seal on 27 per cent, varnish on 18 per cent.

Penetrating seal proved most satisfactory and also required the least time and effort, the report concludes. All the women who refinished floors with the seal were satisfied with the results. Many also were satisfied with shellac and varnish but some had objections. Some complained about white spots or scratches which soon showed on shellac. Some who used varnish said that traffic lanes looked scratched almost immediately after the floor was used.

A better understanding of these common floor finishes is needed. Shellac and varnish form a film over the surface of the wood to protect and beautify it, but they can be scratched or marred by grit carried in on shoes. Though worn places in the finish may be repaired, it is difficult to prevent

"high, rigid" description. Among them are those who argue that the farmer is entitled to full parity and that the government price supports should be set at full parity. To them, a price support at less than full parity is low and not high. And parity itself is a variable figure.

Some other farm leaders, including President Allan R. Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation and Master Albert Jones of the National Grange, defend the use of this description. Kline, for example, advocates a flexible price support system under which major products would be supported at rates ranging between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. The actual level would depend upon the supply of the particular product. "The larger the supply, the lower the support would be, and vice versa. Under Kline's plan, supports would rarely be as high as 90 per cent.

Thus to Kline, a support rate at 90 percent of the supply is both rigid and high.

The 1950 supports—as well as most of those in effect this year—are both high and rigid compared with war supports. Generally speaking, war supports ranged between 62 and 75 per cent of parity, depending in part on the supply. A support rate as high as 90 per cent was unheard of before the war.

Broadway Stars Made Overnight, But Work Hard

By MARK HARRON
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 The last 50 years on Broadway have bridged a gap where a star such as Maude Adams had to train for years in small parts to become a star and the present day where a girl who puts over a popular song or dance may become a star overnight.

The true analysis of the comparison is that back when she played Peter Pan in 1905, Miss Adams had to play on Broadway for many months and then go on tour for several seasons before she could be seen by enough audiences to establish her as the great star she was.

In contrast, Mary Martin, erstwhile star of "South Pacific" today, can be heard and seen on stage, in movies, on television, radio and phonograph records to such an extent that to stardom in a couple of months as Miss Adams could establish in a couple of years.

A resume of all the female stars over the 50 year period would be an impossible thing for the theater is a world of trains—and stardom is a fleet.

patching from showing. White spots on shellac are caused by moisture.

Quite different is penetrating varnish or other similar materials which sink into the wood, sealing the pores and giving a pleasant sheen though not a high gloss on the surface. Many good markets. A seal finish wears well, a dusts of this type are on the market and are not scratch with ordinary use.

With consideration also in refinishing floors when the house is occupied is the time the floor must be out of service while the finish dries or sets. The Rhode Island women reported that varnished floors were out of service an average of 65 hours, shellacked 41 hours, penetrating seal 20 hours. Only one coat of shellac or varnish was used but two or three applications of the seal were used. Seal can be applied every 20 or 30 minutes, as fast as the wood absorbs it. Then the excess is wiped off and the floor left overnight before waxing.

How much time does it take to apply these finishes? In this study the women reported an average of 52 minutes for shellac 100 square feet; an hour and 10 minutes for varnish; about 15 minutes for seal.

Rural Common Sense By RUDIS JOHNSON

THIS YEAR HAS BEEN GENERALLY GOOD FOR FARMERS OF FLORIDA. As with people in all other lines of endeavor, this is the point in time for Florida farmers to indulge in a bit of retrospect and then turn their thoughts and actions toward the New Year with hope and anticipation of progress and achievement.

Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Nine has been a good year for Florida agriculture generally. Of course returns have been lower than those farmers received during the peak years of the war and the prices they paid for most things they had to buy have not fallen in proportion, and that combination worked in a sort of double-barrelled way against farmers, but still it was a good year.

Farmers received somewhat lower prices for many crops, but remember this. Some grasp it for the moment of one or two shows, and then are heard from no more. Others, such as Ethel Barrymore, have achieved a stardom in a couple of months as Miss Adams could establish in a couple of years.

A resume of all the female stars over the 50 year period would be an impossible thing for the theater is a world of trains—and stardom is a fleet.

patching from showing. White spots on shellac are caused by moisture.

Quite different is penetrating varnish or other similar materials which sink into the wood, sealing the pores and giving a pleasant sheen though not a high gloss on the surface. Many good markets. A seal finish wears well, a dusts of this type are on the market and are not scratch with ordinary use.

Few industrial items are classed as scarce and much of the demand backlog that built up during the war has been filled, which means, if incomes in 1950 are near present levels, home-makers will continue to have enough money to pay good prices for Florida farm products.

To obtain maximum success in 1950, however, Florida farmers are going to have to plan carefully, employ the most efficient methods available in production of their crops, take advantage of research results, and make every effort to produce good yields of high quality crops at the lowest possible costs. And, of course, it is highly important that they produce as much as is economically possible of the food and other things they need on the farm.

Nineteen Hundred and Fifty should be a good year, but it is largely up to the farmer himself to make it so.

Youth Who Shot Girl To Death, Dies Of Wound

Same Gun Was Used In Previous Murder; Child Kills Mother

COVINGTON, Tex., Dec. 21.—(AP) A stocky, dark haired youth died today from a pistol bullet he fired into his head after killing his beautiful childhood sweetheart.

George Clements, 19, pumped three bullets from the pistol into blue-eyed Marilyn Forston, 17, yesterday. She died instantly, and he shot himself. He died at 1:25 p. m. without ever regaining consciousness.

Last summer, George's brother, Robert, 27, used the gun to kill his father-in-law, Charles Avery during a family quarrel. Then Robert shot himself and he died.

Carrying the pistol yesterday, George stalked silently into the B. O. Busham hardware store. Miss Forston was sitting at a wrapping counter. He shot her in the back, witnesses said, and fired twice more as she fell and lay on the floor. Then he stepped away and shot himself.

The young couple had dated in school here, but recently they had broken up. Miss Forston was home on Christmas vacation from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth.

Sheriff Garrison said after the Avery shooting last June 13, George came to him and got the pistol.

"I didn't want to give it to him, but he insisted on it," Garrison said. "And the Clements boys' mother insisted I give it to George as a souvenir."

And in Aberdeen, S. D., a 30-year old automobile salesman died early today of a bullet police said he fired into his head after killing a former sweetheart as she sat beside him in a parked car.

The girl was Joanna Rump, 19-year old teacher at the Rasmussen county school 25 miles north of Aberdeen. Cosper Ray Ginter, 30, was slain by Lincoln Boardman, Aberdeen, as the couple sat in the front seat of Boardman's car parked in the driveway of the school. A .22 caliber pistol was found in Boardman's hand. Five discharged cartridges were in the gun.

Boardman died this morning in a British hospital, retaining consciousness.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(AP) Little Joe Langston, a 10-year-old boy, wouldn't talk to detectives who gently queried him for hours about the fatal shooting of his mother.

But later, when Joe was taken back to the scene of the shooting, he told his aunt, Mrs. Frances Keatts:

"I saw a bird in the room. My pussy cat was there too. I saw the gun, and I shot my mom."

County detective Steve Pucker said that he and four others from the district attorney's office heard the youngster's admission.

The words confirmed what Joe's two older brothers had told police and what a paraffin test made almost positive.

Joe's mother, Mrs. Helen Langston, 39, was shot to death in the family's home yesterday after she intervened in a quarrel between two older sons, William, 18, and John, 17.

William and John said little Joe the baby of the family, brandished the pistol to make them stop fighting. Somehow the gun went off and Mrs. Langston fell dead, a bullet in the brain.

Little Joe, an appealing type in blue jeans and a bright red shirt, doesn't know his mother is dead. He thinks she was "hurt."

At detective headquarters yesterday the boy dutifully and quietly did everything the police asked him to—except take off the black baseball cap he wore constantly.

He barely winced when a technician brushed hot paraffin over his hand. The test designed to determine if little Joe fired the fatal shot, turned out positive.

One detective said: "It's good he doesn't realize what he's done—but when he does the poor kid will never forgive himself."

U. S. Pork Supplies Largest In History

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP) An Agriculture Department farm survey indicated today that 1950 supplies of pork may set a new record.

Considering that large wartime supplies were framed with armies and allies abroad, the amount available for housewives next year could well be the largest in history.

The department reported the 1949 fall pig crop at 87,063,000 head, an increase of 10 per cent over the 1948 fall crop, and forecast a 1950 spring crop of 62,500,000, an increase of 4 per cent over this year's spring crop.

The fall crop will go to slaughter next spring and summer and the pig crop will be sold next fall and winter.

Beautiful supplies of corn and other feeds coupled with comparatively favorable grain prices were said to be encouraging farmers to raise more hogs.

Jamaica, British Crown Colony, Votes To Retain Labor Party

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 21.—(AP) William Alexander Bustamante's Labor party retained control of the House of Representatives in this British colony's general election yesterday. Substantial returns today gave the Laborites 17 of the 32 seats in the House of Representatives.

First returns from Kingston and surrounding constituencies last night appeared to indicate that the fiery leader and virtual boss of over a million native Jamaicans might lose the government leadership he has held since 1944.

But with a majority in the House of Representatives, Bustamante will be in power again for the next five years.

Strong opposition cut down his former majority, with Bustamante's cousin, Norman Washington Munley heading the more Socialist-inclined People's National party.

Bustamante formed his Jamaica Labor party in 1940 and led it to victory in 1944 on promises of 45 a day wages to sugar workers and two free meals a day for school children.

Even though at least 100,000 fanatical followers have supported him in his bombastic career, Bustamante has been in and out of the Crown colony's jail numerous times on charges of preaching socialism against the British government.

He has always been dropped and Bustamante has maintained the position of virtual prime minister. He has led sugar workers and dock workers in several strikes that have ended in riot and bloodshed.

He claims to be more American than British, since he spent much time in the United States—rising from Manhattan waiter to Wall Street plunger.

Returns in yesterday's election were still not final, but his closest rival, the People's National party held only 13 seats in the House.

Two independents also were elected. None of the candidates for the island's two minor parties—the Agricultural party and the United party—was elected.

Both Bustamante and his rival cousin, to whom he has not spoken for years, won seats in their own constituencies.

Frequent bloody clashes, had marked the heated campaign and hundreds of police patrolled the streets of Kingston and outlying cities and towns during the election. But no violence had been reported and the island appeared calm.

Even though the rival National party lost the election, it had made considerable strides forward over its previous standing. In the last House of Representatives, the Socialists held only five seats, 25 seats in the 1944 election, but lost eight through party desertions. The Labor party had 17 seats when the House was dissolved—the same number it has gained this time.

Bustamante was communications minister in the last government. It was not known whether he would continue in that post in the new government, but it was certain he would be the power behind the Crown government.

He also has almost dictatorial powers over his own Industrial Trades Union, biggest union in Jamaica.

Street Lights

(Continued From Page One) lighting grew out of a report recently submitted to the Commission, and was compiled by R. S. And in Aberdeen, S. D., a 30-year old automobile salesman died early today of a bullet police said he fired into his head after killing a former sweetheart as she sat beside him in a parked car.

The proposed installation is to be on a trial basis, which in turn, said E. C. Harper, will give the general public an opportunity to observe the difference between the more modern lighting and the present white system. H. H. Coleman, Power Company manager, has been requested to assist in compiling the specifications necessary to enable the City to request bids for this new type of lighting.

The Municipal Swimming Pool was filled this morning with water for the first time, and it was found that no water was leaking.

As a result of this test, and if the cost is not excessive, the pool may be operated as a flow through type without use of the circulation pump, he said. The pump might be used periodically when water pressure gets low. The cost factor would be that of by-pass piping in eliminate friction loss.

The Pool Committee will meet Thursday afternoon to further discuss problems of operating the pool.

Two Of Ward's Staff Arrive In States

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—(AP) Two members of general counsel Angus Ward's party, which was under arrest in Mukden, arrived here last night and commented.

Other than that they declined to say much to reporters.

Eldon Erickson, 30, of Concordia, Kan., and Jack Weigel, 28, of Pine Island, Minn., reached here from Honolulu via Pan-American clipper after being under house arrest in Mukden, Manchuria, from November, 1948, until this month.

Erickson is a member of Ward's economic reporting section and Weigel was a member of the Administrative staff. Both appeared to be in good physical condition.

The men said Ward is leaving Yokohama Dec. 22 for San Francisco aboard the S. S. President Wilson. He is due in San Francisco, Jan. 3.

Weigel said they left Mukden in a third class railroad car and had a dozen armed Chinese Communist guards for company.

Group Planning Urged For Rural Farm Communities

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(AP) Neighborness among farmers is necessary for better living conditions, a sociologist said today.

Paul A. Miller of East Lansing, Mich., told 100 delegates to the National Farm Electrification Conference, that "farm family planning for the good life must ultimately rest in community cooperation and good will."

Miller, an extension rural sociologist at Michigan State College, said farm residents had city folk in provision for hospitalization, schooling, functional housing, doctor service and church facilities because these benefits result from community planning, and many farmers keep too much to themselves.

"Cooperative community planning may best start at the point where the people feel acute needs," Miller said.

Dr. P. D. Sanders of Richmond, master of the Virginia State College, told the group that administrative staff. Both appeared to be in good physical condition.

Vandenberg Calls For Reduced Aid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP) Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) called today for continued economic and military aid to western Europe, but said it should be on a "sharply reduced" scale.

Vandenberg, who wields great influence on Republican foreign policy stands, also told a news conference that:

1. The Communist regime in China should be recognized by the country only when it demonstrated it has control of that country and will carry out the basic obligations of international law. He said Communist China does not now meet these requirements.

2. Full diplomatic recognition should be granted to the Franco government in Spain.

3. The bi-partisan foreign policy involves no "one-trick" on the part of the Republicans since it is open to vigorous debate while decisions are in the process of being made.

4. The objective of the Republican party should be "the restoration of a free world, not putting a closed system on a market repealed all previous laws."

Keeping Secrets
 There has been quite a flurry of interest around the charge that Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, member of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, accidentally revealed an important atomic secret in a radio interview. The officials in charge of atomic secrecy will probably see to it that we never know whether it was something important which slipped from the senator's lips, which may be a little hard on the senator but is necessary to safeguard other secrets.

But being kept in the secret suggests that our atomic secrets are not being kept as jealously as might be. A person who really wants to keep a secret is careful to say nothing about it, to betray no special interest in any shreds of the secret which may leak out, and to display only innocence if someone suggests that he has a secret. In short he makes every effort to avoid attracting the notice of anyone who may be searching for his secret.

We Americans, on the other hand, continually make a great noise about our secret. Now this person and now that one is accused of giving away some part of the secret, and those who are charged with guarding it have been frequently forced to avoid attracting the notice of anyone who may be searching for his secret.

A veritable spotlight is kept on the secret and almost every man who knows an important part of it. This is the way a small group "keeps" a secret, the possession of which brings her no pleasure unless someone is trying to worm it out of her.

Probably it is time to sort through the whole lot of atomic secrets and decide which ones can be let out and which ones should be kept. Those which need to be kept should be put under effective wraps and kept there.

Age Of Danger
 Most persons who have reached the age of 75 retire, and judges are often the exception. Two Ohio Supreme Court judges who came up for re-election in 1950 are respectively 75 and 76 years of age. They have announced their intention of running again. They are probably moved by the examples of the late Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, who died at the age of 79, and of Justice Charles E. Hughes, who served until he was 83, and Oliver Wendell Holmes, who stayed on the bench until he was 91.

It is not surprising that these distinguished judges, it may be doubted if their example ought to be followed. In the rarest cases, judges, like other persons of advanced age, are in the habit of thought, and find it hard to reserve a judicial opinion. They may be overworked, and physical infirmities. A scandal was revealed in the federal judiciary a few years ago, when it was learned that a judge, one of the Appellate, who was 80 years old, was an invalid and was copying decisions from a fellow-judge. The revelation forced a resignation which should have come years before.

Reading Children
 John Kieran, speaking on a New York Times Youth Forum broadcast on children's reading, advocated careful choosing of books for the very young, and expert guidance up to the adolescent stage. After that, he chimed, standards having been established in the child's mind, he should be permitted to choose his own reading. Some young speakers at their forum agreed with Mr. Kieran, but others declared that even at that period young people should allow themselves to be guided by librarians, teachers and parents.

It is a middle way which would permit most outstanding authors to be read, and the child, if chosen on the basis of merit, should be a safe forerunner in the field for the growing boy and girl. A timely word of suggestion from a parent or teacher is more than morally sound; it is good for the child's mind, and it is good for the child's future. It is good for the child's mind, and it is good for the child's future. It is good for the child's mind, and it is good for the child's future.

A Lesson For Organized Labor
 by THURMAN SENNING
 In Southern Lumberman

I have no reason to believe that the rank and file of union labor in this country is not just as patriotic as any other group of men. Just as interested in the national freedom and independence of this country as any other group of men. Just as interested in the national freedom and independence of this country as any other group of men.

The American workmen who choose to labor under conditions which the company is dissolved and liquidated. Now, all right for the labor unions to question the decision to dissolve the company and cut salaries. But with all the facts laid before them, it was not all right to demand the status quo. It was not all right to demand the status quo.

Chemp Fuel

Sanford, in an interview with the department, said that Delicious variety apples, if held at 30 degrees Fahrenheit, have a normal life expectancy in storage of 200 days, but standing outside at 70 degrees for one week will reduce the storage life by about nine weeks.

If a Delicious apple is held at 70 degrees continually its life in storage will be only 20 days, he said.

In another apple report prepared for delivery today, Robert L. Givens, also of the department, told tests at Blackburg, Va., showed that "quick removal of initial heat from apples is one of the important factors in their storage life."

SEC Basketball Is Planning Change In Two-Minute Rule

Commissioner Bernie Moore Polls Coaches For Stand On National Cage Ruling

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Southeastern Conference may modify the much-discussed two-minute rule in conference basketball games, the Nashville Banner said today.

It said Bernie Moore, SEC commissioner, is polling conference coaches as to their stand on the present national rule. The paper said votes will be received by Moore's Birmingham office Thursday and if a revision is voted it will be effective in conference games after Jan. 1.

Several conferences have already changed the two-minute rule which awards the ball out-of-bounds to a team fouled in the final two minutes of a game or during an extra period. This is mandatory whether or not team makes its free throw or throws.

The rule, put into effect this season, has been attacked by many coaches, including two SEC members, Kentucky's Adolph Rupp and Tennessee's Emmett Lewary.

For conference play only, the Big Ten revised the ruling to give two shots to a team fouled

Frank Leahy Cops Man Of Year Title In Football Circles

DES MOINES, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Frank Leahy was named today as football's man of the year by the Football Writers Association of America.

The Notre Dame coach, who recently concluded his fourth straight unbeaten season, finished first in a field of eight candidates nominated in preliminary balloting.

Tabulation by Association Secretary Roy McHenry showed Leahy received 162 of the 449 votes cast by the writers.

Bud Wilkinson, coach of undefeated Oklahoma, was the runner-up.

Others nominated and their standing in the final balloting were: Lynn Waldorf, California coach; Homer Cooke, national collegiate statistical bureau; Paul H. Helms, Helms Foundation, Los Angeles; by Williamson, Wisconsin coach; Leon Hart, Notre Dame end; and Earl Blaik, U. S. Military Academy coach.

Leahy will receive the football writers plaque and possession for one year of the man of the year trophy.

Redskin Fullback Loses Court Plea, Pays Off Debts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Fullback Ralph Ruthstrom, who tried to get the Washington Redskins to pay him $4,100 for a season in which he didn't play, wound up by being ackled behind his own goal line.

Federal District Judge David A. Pine yesterday ordered him to pay the Redskins $241.80.

That's what the Redskins had asked for in a counter suit. They said they had advanced Ruthstrom some money, and that he was $241.80 shy in paying it back.

Ruthstrom's argument was this: He said he had been suspended by the Redskins in 1947, and that he couldn't get another fullbacking job because of the so-called reserve clause.

This clause — it's used in baseball as well as pro football contracts — says a player can't sign with another club until he is given a written release.

The Redskins, Ruthstrom argued, wouldn't give him this release.

But National Football League commissioner Bert Bell, in a 54-page deposition, said many players had gone over to the All-American Conference without bothering to get a formal release.

Furthermore, Bell contradicted earlier testimony by Ruthstrom in which he had said he had appealed to the commissioner.

Bell said he hadn't. If he had, Bell said, he would have made the Redskins take Ruthstrom back or make him free agent.

George Preston Marshall, Redskins owner, told the jury that Ruthstrom was a "bitter disappointment" to the team. He reportedly broke training, Marshall said, and never lived up to the standards the Redskins had set up.

Pacific Coast Cagers Whipped By East, West

Idaho Ekes Out Weak 41-39 Victory Over Tough Iowa State

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Tuesday night was a black one for Pacific Coast basketball teams. They engaged in nine inter-sectional games against foes from the east and Midwest — and lost eight.

Idaho, 41-39 victor over Iowa State, was the only winner.

Southern California and California, from the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, took it on the chin from Long Island and New York University, respectively, in a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. USC absorbed a 70-45 licking while California stumbled, 60-56.

Los Angeles Loyola made it nip-and-tuck against Boston College in Boston, but lost 55-53 on Frank Higgins' set shot in the last seven seconds.

Washington and Oregon State, members of the PCC northern division, played at home, but nevertheless lost to the undefeated Big Ten quintets, Minnesota and Indiana.

Minnesota aided by Maynard Johnson's accurate shooting, chalked up a 55-53 triumph in the last two minutes. Indiana had an easier time in taking Oregon State, 58-53. The Hoosiers held a half-time edge and stayed in the front the rest of the way.

In the other three tilts Hamilton-soaked St. Mary's of California, 75-41; Indiana State whipped Southern Oregon, 62-52; and Iowa Teachers dumped Fresno State, 64-42.

There were other inter-sectional games between major teams.

North Carolina State, Southern Conference champs, bounced back from Monday's defeat to trim Michigan, of the Big Ten, 63-52. Holy Cross stayed in the unbeaten class by taking Kansas, 67-53; Missouri hung on to nip Wisconsin, 50-48; St. Louis whipped Georgia Tech, 50-45; and once-beaten Tulane walloped Baylor, 66-53.

Stanford nosed out Oregon, 70-67, on the Pacific Coast while at Columbia, S. C. South Carolina registered a surprise 54-44 victory over Duke in a Southern Conference fray. This feat established South Carolina as the conference dark-horse.

Auburn beat Alabama, 45-40, in a southeastern conference struggle, while unbeaten Siena (NY) won its 10th in a row with a 40-40 triumph over Southern Illinois.

Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns has passed and run well over five miles in four years.

All-American football Conference play.

Tommy Holmes Of Boston Braves Refuses To Ask For Switch

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Tommy Holmes, forgotten man of the Boston Braves outfield after eight years as a regular, isn't giving up without a struggle.

"No, I'm not going to ask to be traded," he said today. "I read where Billy Southworth said Sid Gordon, Sam Jethroe and Willard Marshall were going to be his outfielders next season. Maybe I can make him change his mind."

"I'm only 31 and I feel there's a lot of good baseball left in me. Sure I only hit .255 last year. That was bad for me. But my lifetime average is over .300.

Best Fielder

"I think Marshall is one of the best right fielders in the league. Getting him, Gordon and Billy Kerr from the middle of the season would help us plenty. I don't have any idea what they plan for me, but if I'm still around I'm sure I can hit enough to play regular."

Holmes, darling of the "Jury on" fans who jam the right field stands at Braves Field, never has played with any other major league club. The Braves bought him from Newark in 1941 and he's been there ever since.

"There was no question we needed outfield strength badly," said Holmes. "A couple of real strong arms will help plenty. Kerr will make us a fine shortstop. I think. And the Giants are getting a good one in Alvin Dark."

Southworth already has cut loose outfielder Mary Bicket, sold to Pittsburgh, and released Jeff Heath. Many think Jim Russell and Pete Reiser also are due to ask the plank. If that happens, the Braves may find Holmes valuable as a replacement when any of the first three falls.

In spite his poor season in '49, Holmes retained the distinction of striking out fewer times than any player in the majors. He whiffed only six times all season.

"I always do my best work from the middle of the season on," said Holmes, "being shoved in and out of the lineup doesn't help me."

Buckeye Coach To Make Rose Bowl His Last Grid Tilt

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Will Coach Wes Fesler, whose Ohio State University Buckebs clash with California in the Rose Bowl, Jan. 2, quit football?

Reports he will resign to enter the business world are strong.

Confronted with the reports on the West Coast, where he is putting his players through their paces, Fesler said:

"No comment."

One report has it that the University's board of trustees now is discussing possible successors. Another says that athletic director Dick Larkins has told intimates he would lay all applications before the board of athletic control, and not pick a successor himself.

Those who claim to be in the know say that Fesler has been offered at least two industrial jobs which will pay him $25,000 a year. That is twice what he gets for coaching.

He is the fifth coach for the Bucks during the 1940's. As an OHSU student he became an All-American end in 1929 and 1930.

He took the coaching helm three years ago. The first year his boys finished last in the Big 10. The next year the Bucks were in the middle and this year Ohio State and Michigan are Western Conference co-champions.

The pressure of producing a winning football team is not Fesler's liking, or to his family's either, intimates say.

College basketball teams will hold the Madison Square Garden spotlight during 29 nights this season.

Two of Michigan State's top burblers, Horace Smith and Jesse Thomas, were left all-backs on the Spartan football team.

Willie Knapp, who rode the winning upset in Man O'War's only defeat, in charge of the E. L. Hopkins' racing string this winter at Hialeah.

Three members of the Syracuse University football team won their fourth football letters in 1949.

In the final two minutes, with the ball remaining in play following the second shot.

Georgia Fireball To Play In Texas League

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Ellis Gray, the Georgia Fireball from Valdosta, will play baseball next season with Dallas in the Texas League.

The Baltimore Orioles, who obtained the infielder from Toledo, sold him yesterday to Dallas. He formerly played with the Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns.

One of his most publicized feats was to climb into the stands last season after a heckler. He and Tommy Thomas, Oriole manager who egged him on, both were suspended.

He did not play after May. His batting average was .190.

Alabama Fans To Decide On Baseball

Reds Threaten U. S. Arms Aid For French Defense

Thorez Directs Party To Sabotage Unloading Of Arms Ships

PARIS, Dec. 21—(AP)—Communists are hinting openly today they will try to sabotage the unloading of American arms sent to France under the Atlantic treaty.

American officials are optimistic that the Communist attacks will be limited to propaganda and demonstrations. Some French officials, however, fear violence in the ports when the first guns arrive.

Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the French Communist Party, recently declared that "the most important question" facing the Party today "is the transportation and storage of American war material."

"Will the French people," he cried, "allow these engines of death to be unloaded and transported?"

Thorez told the Party's high command in effect that some Communists may get their skulls cracked by police in their campaign against the arms shipments, but that it should be fought out "without fear and regardless of the sacrifices required."

The Communist-dominated dock workers' union at Bordeaux promptly adopted a resolution refusing to unload American guns.

U. S. arms are due in Europe to help rebuild armies of the 10 nations which joined Canada and the U. S. in the North Atlantic treaty. Congress voted $1,000,000,000 for the purpose, and treaties covering terms of the arms deliveries are now being written in Washington.

French government informants have stated that the arms shipments to France will be channeled entirely through the port of Cherbourg, built up during the war to a training allied invasion port.

Cherbourg, it was pointed out, is predominantly non-Communist. It is a French naval stronghold and employment among dockers has been slack in recent months. The last factor, it was believed, may forestall a possible strike since Cherbourg stevedores badly need the new arms shipments would provide.

Truman Speech

(Continued from Page One) down, the same way if, God forbid, the free world should ever be challenged by anti-Democratic forces.

"For there is one thing we never will accept, and that is totalitarian slavery."

President Truman said that "if man could achieve self-government and leadership with his God throughout the world, peace would not be made in the constant dread of war."

"Mankind is exhausted from the ordeal of conflict. Mr. Truman went on: 'All men are sick of bloodletting and hunger, and weary of the troubles suffered for so many years. If we could mobilize world opinion among all men who walk the earth, there would never be another war.'"

"This we can not do alone. For the earth is deeply divided between free and captive peoples. There is no appeal to the brotherhood of men who live in daily fear of the concentration camp."

"Until the captive peoples of the world emerge from darkness, they can not see the hand we hold out in friendship. While they are made to respond to our handclasp choice but to stand ready in self-defense with a mailed fist, we have no defense."

The President said that by generous sharing of material goods the United States has restored to many peoples faith in themselves, in freedom, and in certain triumph of confidence over fear. He added: "Just as long as we continue to face our world responsibilities with the courage and realism we have already shown, we shall deserve the right to hope—and work—for lasting peace."

The President said that social

Sherman gave the Soviet fleet's known strength as three old battleships, 14 cruisers, 10 destroyers, and about 270 submarines.

In addition, he said, it includes a force of minor torpedo boats, submarine chasers, and inshore patrol craft in a certain number which exceeds the numerical strength of equivalent types in all other navies combined—including the United States.

"Our outstanding superiority over the Russian fleet lies in our carrier force," Sherman said. "The maintenance of our carrier force is essential to our uninterrupted use of vital sea communication. It is also essential to Naval support of the Army and the Air Force. It is the core of the offensive power of the fleet. It is the most modern tactical Air Force in existence."

At present, the United States Navy has 12 aircraft carriers active

Hiss Trial

Also in the trial record was an intimate warded letter from Hiss to his wife, Priscilla.

Meanwhile the long-delayed spy conspiracy trial of Judith Coplon and Valentin Z. Galtchey was postponed again today.

The ex-government girl and the Russian engineer were scheduled to go on trial Dec. 27 but Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan said a pre-trial hearing now in progress would prevent the trial's starting on that date.

Ryan did not immediately set a new date. The opening of the trial has been delayed before a long series of defense moves to get the case thrown out of court.

Archibald Palmer, Miss Coplon's attorney, has 81 witnesses that he wants to call in his effort to prove that the government's case rests on "illegal" wire-tapping and therefore should be dismissed.

Ryan said the hearing would resume Thursday night until Tuesday and that the trial—unless the case is dismissed—would begin two days after he rules on pre-trial motions.

Today's chief witness was Dr. Edward U. Condon, atomic scientist, Bureau of Standards.

He testified that information found by FBI agents in Miss Coplon's purse when she was arrested "has been in the public domain for at least 20 years."

The government contends that this information, concerning a device called a Geophone, was secret and that Miss Coplon copied it with the intention of giving it to the Russians.

The memorandum found in Miss Coplon's purse said the Soviet trading corporation, Amtorg, was a device for measuring the force of explosions.

At yesterday's hearing, FBI agents admitted listening to telephone conversations between Miss Coplon, a former Department of Justice employee, and her attorney, Archibald Palmer.

The government admitted that FBI men were assured by a card holder in the case records and to monitor Miss Coplon's telephone in Brooklyn and Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—President Truman and Raymond M. Foley, housing and home finance administrator, talked over today the Administration's plans for new housing legislation for middle income groups.

Housing officials disclosed last week that plans were in the making for a housing program aimed particularly at those who can afford to pay $8,500 to $10,000 for a home.

progress must not be forgotten in the search for peace and security.

The greatest strength is not in weapons but in spiritual strength, he said, declaring that weapons or defense "may obscure the fact that the real basis of our strength is a strong and active faith in freedom."

"While faith does not do freedom, so does freedom give us hope of a just and lasting peace."

Stalin

All through the satellite countries Communist parties whipped up enthusiasm for the Soviet leader's birthday, pouring out pledges of greater production, greater loyalty, greater purges of Communist enemies.

On the satellite orbit, other Communists were equally lavish in their praise and promises.

Lady's Communist party assured Stalin its workers never would fight against Russia. It messaged greetings to "dear comrade Stalin" in the name of a claimed 2,000,000 party members, and said "we assure you that the Indian workers will not let themselves be dragged into taking up arms against the great Soviet Union."

Italy's Communist boss, Palmiro Togliatti, is among the many leaders in Moscow today to pay homage to Stalin as the patron saint of Communism.

Diplomatic greetings came also from western Democratic countries and from non-Communist and nervous neighbors.

Demark, on the doorstep of the Communist world, sent "sincere congratulations." Israel sent greetings pointedly from Jerusalem, where it has moved government offices.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee sent a greeting through the British ambassador in Moscow. It said: "Permit me to tender you my greetings and congratulations on the 70th anniversary of your birthday and my best wishes for your continued good health."

United States ambassador Alan G. Kirk also sent "best wishes."

In West Germany, focal point of the east-west cold war, the press attacked Stalin as a "Fuehrer" while Soviet-dominated East Germany's press and officials heap glowing praise on him.

One West German newspaper speculated whether Stalin would be the fate of Hitler and Mussolini who "tumbled from totalitarian self-conceit into total defeat and ruin." The anti-Communist in the Russian sector of Berlin recently passed out leaflets calling Stalin "the greatest slaveholder of mankind."

The words about peace spoken by Malenkov in Moscow, were printed in a special edition of Pravda honoring Stalin. The words were for the ears of the listening world as well as the Communist orbit. The theme of peaceful co-existence of Communism and Capitalism has been recurrent in Soviet propaganda since the war and has been stressed frequently of late. The aim is to show Russia is the outstanding champion of peace.

Yugoslavia, alone of the Communist countries, ignored Prime Minister Joseph Stalin's 70th birthday today.

Just a year ago Yugoslavia's official press on this day splashed big front page pictures of Stalin as the savior of world Communism.

Instead, today the press called the Soviet Union "counter-revolutionary," one of the most violent epithets it could apply to Moscow.

VA Decision On GI Tuition Fee Is College Boon

Attempt Of Federal Agency To Limit Fees To Schools Is Quashed By Ruling

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Veterans Administration ruled today it has a right to pay higher college tuition rates for GI's than the colleges are legally permitted to charge.

The decision means millions of dollars for state and city operated schools, which may be barred by state law from charging tuition fees or are limited to the amount that can be charged.

The general accounting office, "watchdog" on government spending, had challenged some VA tuition payments to those schools. One test case involved the University of Wisconsin and an estimated $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 in payments.

Primarily, VA said, the ruling by Administrator Carl Gray holds the VA has the right to pay so-called "non resident" tuition rates for GI students even though the veterans are residents of the state in which they are going to school.

That right had been challenged by Comptroller General Lindsay Warren, head of the general accounting office, in the University of Wisconsin case. VA has been paying higher "non resident" fees for student veterans who are Wisconsin residents.

VA said, the ruling settles the matter because he is charged under the GI training bill with determining what tuition shall be paid.

The ruling was split into two parts. VA said he held in effect that:

1. Colleges or universities that have no tuition fees or are barred by state law from charging tuition or phoning restricted in the amount that can be charged are not precluded from applying for VA tuition payments.

Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Is No. 1 Truman Project In Labor Field

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act still is President Truman's No. 1 objective in the labor field. But Democratic leaders in Congress say they look for the law to stay on the books through 1950.

Mr. Truman's lieutenant at the Capitol have indicated clearly they plan to advise the President at the end of the session that they favor repeal, or even drastic revision of the law—at the new session opening Jan. 3.

"So far as I can see, we just don't have the votes," one of the party chiefs told a reporter.

This repeal appears almost certain to be one of the major issues of next year's congressional election campaigns, just as it was in the presidential and other contests in 1948.

The Truman Democrats aren't unhappy about that. On the con-

Death Comes To Boomtime Money Wizard

Howard Hopson Made Millions Juggling Utilities Empire; Jailed For Fraud

GREENWICH, Conn., Dec. 22 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, 66, the financial wizard who created a billion dollar utilities empire that crumbled as he went to prison for mail fraud, died yesterday.

He had been living in broken health for the past five years at a sanatorium here, Brooklea Farms.

Hopson pyramided a $300,000 investment into the vast Associated Gas and Electric system by a series of financial maneuvers that baffled the nation's leading accountants and lawyers.

His personal fortune once was estimated at $74,000,000.

But the whole intricate structure collapsed in the 1940's under searching investigation by committees of congress, and thousands of stockholders lost millions of dollars in the crash.

The aggressive, hard-driving financier was convicted in New York federal court of defrauding A. G. & E. of nearly $20,000,000. He was sentenced to five years in prison, and later to a 180-day term for failure to pay $1,800,405 on unreported profits in the stock market crash year of 1929.

The final blow to his paper-built empire was dealt by the securities and Exchange Commission when, in 1939, it forbade big shareholders on unreported profits in the stock market crash year of 1929.

Truman Talks Budget Plans With Cabinet

McGrath Says Coning Message Will Be Good And Merry Christmas To All

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—President Truman had a two-hour general discussion with his cabinet today of the legislative and other recommendations he will send to the new session of congress.

After the meeting, Mr. Truman had individual conferences with some of the members.

All department heads were present. Vice President Barkley, who, usually attends, was absent. Barkley is still on his honeymoon.

It was the first cabinet session in a month, the president having spent 22 days resting in Key West, Fla., and working on the three messages he will send to congress.

The state-of-the-union message is expected to be delivered in person by Mr. Truman on January 4 at 5 Congress meets Jan. 4.

Messages covering economic and budget proposals will follow.

The President held his cabinet meeting today, instead of the customary Friday, because he is leaving tomorrow morning for Independence, Mo., to spend Christmas with his family. He will return on Wednesday.

But weather in the mid-west may cause a change in the President's plans to take off at 8:30 A. M. in his plane, "The Independence." If the weather is good, it is had for flying, he will go by train.

None of the cabinet members would comment on what took place in the cabinet meeting, but all left with smiles.

Attorney General McGrath, who said about the state-of-the-union message, told reporters: "It's a very merry Christmas."

James H. Roosevelt, Presidential press secretary, said "other business" as well as the state-of-the-union message.

A reporter asked Postmaster General Donaldson if there were "any surprises" in Mr. Truman's message.

"No," Donaldson replied. "It's a general message and will cover about everything."

Donaldson said he did not yet know how the Postoffice Department would fare in the budget.

He added that he expected Mr. Truman to support it all along the line, and does not anticipate that the department will receive as much money as he has asked.

Donaldson remarked that he is optimistic this year as coming up ahead of last year.

Plea For Jap Captives Made By MacArthur

General Urges Keeping Of Japanese In Prison Camps

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur today urged that Japanese prisoners of war be kept in prison camps.

The general's plea was made in a letter to the War Relocation Authority, which is in charge of the Japanese-American relocation camps in the United States.

MacArthur said that the Japanese prisoners of war are being held in camps in the Philippines and that they are being treated as prisoners of war.

He said that the Japanese prisoners of war are being held in camps in the Philippines and that they are being treated as prisoners of war.

Nation Tightens Security Leaks To Soviet Russia

Export Of Important Technical Data Is Banned By Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The government today tightened up its machinery for keeping scientific and technical data from going to Russia.

The Commerce Department announced that "in exceptional cases" it will impose an outright ban on export of technical information which is "significant to the national security."

The obvious object—though not stated in the official statement—is to keep such information from reaching the Soviets.

The main aim is to help a private firm without matter affecting national security when the firm has a contract that would be breached by refusing to make shipments.

This is the background:

Recently, the department set up a "voluntary control plan" over export of information. It asked Americans to get an opinion from it before exporting data which might have a security value.

Some firms requested advice and were given opinions against sending the data abroad. Later, they reported they would like to sell the data, but feared law suits for breach of contract.

The imposition of bans on export is intended to relieve those persons from "danger of suit," since they can show the shipment was forbidden by U. S. government action.

No ban is likely to be imposed except in a case where the prospective shipper of information takes his problem to the Commerce Department.

Officials pointed out on complete ban could be imposed unless there was some ban on all mail leaving the United States. They stressed there is no intention whatever of setting up such a ban.

Neither the voluntary control plan nor the prospective ban on "exceptional cases" will supplant current provisions against export of technical data classified by the government as security.

Stores Urged To Advertise More To Boost Sales

MaymeHodgkin Talks To Kiwanis About Growth Of Sanford

More newspaper advertising by local merchants to support home businesses of all types, especially clothing and department stores, was suggested by Mrs. Mayme Hodgkin, Orlando Sentinel correspondent, in a talk today to Kiwanians.

"Final stores in Sanford are the only ones that do not suffer from local people spending elsewhere," she declared. Annual food sales in Sanford are $233 per capita, and in Orlando $288 per capita. But total merchandise sales in Orlando are $121 per capita, and in Sanford $60 per capita. Drug sales in Orlando are $44 per capita and Sanford $20 per capita. General merchandise sales in Orlando are $171 per capita as compared to $61 in Sanford.

Kiwanians were entertained by a group of Junior High School girls, who under direction of Mrs. W. G. Fleming sang "The Holy Night" and "Silent Night." Ellen Myers accompanying Billy Park played a violin solo, "I Came Upon a Midnight Clear." The singing group were Patsy Collins, Barbara Casahue, Louise Benton, Sandra Dunn, Joyce Jones, Peggy Wright, Paulette Cason, Betty Ann Miller, Annette Brooks and Martha Owen.

"Newspaper advertising is the medium on which towns feed and grow," said Mrs. Hodgkin. Such advertising could build up in our County in every town and village a real civic pride and a desire to be a part in the building of the capital city of our county.

"Sanford is now growing; that is an undisputed fact," she declared. "Sanford's business situation (Continued on Page Three)

Stores in Sanford will remain open tonight, tomorrow night and Friday night until 9:30 o'clock in order to accommodate Christmas shoppers, Jack Hall, president of the Sanford Merchants Association, announced this morning.

The majority of stores of business will be closed at 9:30 o'clock, the exception of drug stores, which will maintain holiday hours.

Dawson will close at noon Saturday and re-open Tuesday morning.

At the City Hall offices, will close at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning and will remain closed until 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, said City Manager Clifford McKibbin.

East St. Louis To Ban Race Distinction

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 22 (AP)—Racial segregation in East St. Louis public schools will end Jan. 30, for the first time in the history of the 45-year-old school system.

The city's board of education unanimously adopted a resolution to end segregation at the start of the new school year, Board President Benjie Goodie announced yesterday.

Illinois has an anti-segregation law applying to public schools, but it has been ignored in some parts of southern Illinois. A new state regulation would deny state funds to school districts practicing segregation.

In its resolution, the board urged "all citizens, especially parents, students and teachers, to eliminate all types of prejudice, bias and intolerance, so as to insure equal opportunity in the classroom and other school activities."

Florida In Warned Of Water Shortage

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 22 (AP)—A water shortage like that in New York may be clear in some Florida cities, than they think, the head of the State Water Research Agency says.

A. L. Matthews, chief engineer of the State Division of Water Research and Survey, said the same factors which brought on the New York shortage are present in Florida: increasing population, weather changes, and lack of planning for the future.

Some Florida cities have been freighted in attempts to assure water supplies for the future. He mentioned Jacksonville, Orlando, Tampa, Miami, Bradenton and Pinellas county.

But others, both large and small, are growing rapidly and haven't done much thinking about the future. If they don't start planning soon, they may have to do some quick acting in a crisis later, Matthews warned.

He said the St. Francis central and southern Florida flood control project, with its dual purpose of preventing inundations and storing up water for the future, is a "water league" step toward assuring a water supply for the future in lower Florida.

Schools To Open On Tuesday, Jan. 3

Schools of Seminole County will open Tuesday, Jan. 3, rather than on Monday as listed in the previously adopted school calendar, Supt. T. W. Lawton announced this morning.

The change was made, he said due to the fact that business houses plan to close Monday and many parents desire to take their children to places of interest on that day.

The Seminole High School Band, however, will rehearse at the high school Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Stranger Greeting

MASON, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—Governor G. Mennen Williams was late yesterday in arriving for a Christmas party at Boy'sville, but he didn't expect to be greeted for it.

When the Governor, attorney general Stephen Roth and their party got out of their car 13 smiling youths at the school for boys were lined up to greet them. Plaques they held were supposed to spell out: "H-E-L-L-O, G-O-V-E-R-N-O-R."

But the boy with one of the "O's" cards had drifted out of place, possibly with mischievous malice.

Anyway, the greeting in the late-evening came out: "O-HELL, Governor."

3 Die In Fire

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 22 (AP)—Five persons, including two children, died in a rooming house fire here early today.

The victims, all Negroes, were Mrs. Katie Cora Winston, 38, and two of her children—Sammy 3 1/2, and Beatrice, 3; Henry James, 42, and Ellen Clark, about 30, attended.

Witnesses said Mrs. Winston had escaped from the building but ran back into the structure in an effort to save the youngsters. Her body with two children in her arms, was found in a second-story room.

LABOR VIOLATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled today that the AFL International Typographical Union violated the Taft-Hartley act by insisting on the closed shop in contract negotiations with 23 commercial print shops in Baltimore.

The Board's decision was unanimous, and affirmed conclusions reached earlier in a case brought by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Postoffice Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Christmas, 1949, has set a one-day postoffice mailing record in New York City.

Postmaster Albert Goldman reported that receipts yesterday totaled $1,000,858, the first time in the postoffice's history that one day's business has topped the million-dollar mark.

The previous record was $948,146 on Oct. 14.

Santa Claus Rejoices When Tot Remembers To Remember Him

NRTH POLE, Dec. 22 (Special)—Santa Claus was very excited and happy today after reading a letter from Clarence Morgan, Jr. of Sanford in which Clarence stated that he would leave some cake and pie on the table when Santa called.

"Most of the kids who write me tell only what they want for Christmas and never stop to think that maybe I might like a little present too," Santa declared. "Look at the cartloads of stuff they want for you. Thank you Santa! A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Clarence Morgan. I'll read you his letter."

"Dear Santa, he writes, I am Clarence Morgan, Jr. I am very good, and very helpful around the house. I do everything to please my mother. I am eight years old and have a sister which is six. Please bring me a horn, a cap, a piglet, my sister and a tricycle. I also want some clothes. She gave me a doll and some shoes. Some cake and pie will be on the table for you. Thank you Santa! A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Clarence Morgan. I'll read you his letter."

"A lot of people have been getting me confused with Uncle Sam, Harry Truman and Claude Pepper," chuckled Santa. "But here's a little Sanford girl, Frances Middleton, who really believes in me. Her letter says, 'Dear Santa Claus, Will you please bring me a big baby doll. I saw it in Orlando. I expect you'd like it. I have some more cake and pie on the table.'"

Nation's 1st Woman Ambassador Warned To Avoid Danish Society

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 22 (AP)—America's first woman ambassador got a royal welcome to Denmark today, but a newspaper warning to steer clear of Danish high society.

The welcome came from King Frederick IX, who received the new U. S. ambassador, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, at a 12-minute audience.

The warning was contributed by the Danish independent newspaper Information, in a front-page editorial written in English. The paper said Mrs. Anderson "will steal your time x x x and put you in a spiritual concentration camp."

Upon her arrival at the castle, a detachment of the royal Danish guard in red full-dress uniform presented arms. Mrs. Anderson
