Williams In Class Of FHP Troopers To Graduate Friday

The Florida Highway Patrol will graduate a new class of state highway troopers at exercises in Westminster Presbyterian Church on Florida State University west campus next Friday at 10 a. m. in the class will be Carl R. Williams, of Sanford who was injured in a head-on collision on 17-92 south of Sanford.

Dr. Donk S. Campbell, FSU President, will deliver the main address and the response will be given by Alvin F. Green of Pennsylvania, class president.

Justice Elwyn Thomas of the Florida Supreme Court will give the men the oath of office and diplomas, will be handed out by Commander H. N. Kirkman of the patrol.

The Rev. Ellis B. Turner, Fellowship Baptist Church, will give the invocation and the benediction will be by the Rev. William O. Stewart of Westminster.

Staff members of the school include School Director L. Jay L. Hall, Tallahassee; L. J. W. Higgins, Jacksonville; and First Sergeant B. J. Barnet, Miami.

This class includes 19 recruits, 19 troopers who had not gone through the training school, and three men from the Palm Air Force Base Air Police.

French Ave. was dedicated and officially opened to the public Friday afternoon at elaborate ribbon cutting ceremonies held at 4 o'clock when Mrs. Charlie Johns cut the ribbon which stretched from one side to the other of the six-lane thoroughway in front of Seminole High School.

A motorcade carrying dignitaries to the scene of the ribbon cutting arrived at Seminole High School promptly at 4 p. m. amid the screaming sirens of police cars which led the way from the Mayfair Inn.

Francis Whitehair, speaking from the platform at the site of the ribbon cutting and dedication said, "If you duplicated the State Highway system you would not have sufficient roads to provide the necessary roads for traffic."

He explored with the statement, "I am looking the senators right straight in the face when I say the legislature has not met its duty in providing roads and highways in this state."

Whitehair said tribute to the late Senator Lloyd F. Boyle and his efforts to obtain the French Ave. Project.

"The only thing I regret in the 13 months that I served on the State Road Board," said Whitehair, "was that Charlie Johns was condemned for building too many roads too fast."

Former Governor Charlie Johns paid tribute to the late senator Boyle in dedicating the French Ave. Six-Lane Thoroughway and he said in winding up his reminiscence of the French Ave. controversy, "Not only the Johns administration but the Collins administration is proud of French Ave."

Again in the evening Friday at the banquet honoring those who were responsible for the French Ave. project, Whitehair turned into the legislature for not providing the roads necessary for Florida.

In picturing a trip back to the East aboard a plane which also brought wounded servicemen to hospitals, Whitehair gave his version of Freedom's Code of Honor. The six point code included "the ballot box," "the quill and ink," "burning torch of education," "the shield," "two hands of different colors clasped," and then a shower of stars."

However, former Governor Charlie Johns brought the segregation question into his talk to the banquet. He told the packed Mayfair Inn Ballroom audience "The most important of all questions today is segregation."

"Some people say we have to accept it," Johns said, "but I tell you that we do not have to accept it and when you go to the polls you want in fight for leadership that will fight for our Southern Tradition."

James A. Wright, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, French Ave. Dedication and Banquet was master of ceremonies for the afternoon and evening affairs that officially opened French Ave.

Other speakers were Farris Bryant, gubernatorial candidate Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., and Assistant State's Attorney Volle A. Williams Jr.

March 31 Date Set For Paying Taxes Without Penalty

Last day on which taxpayers can pay 1955 taxes without penalty will be March 31, John J. Galloway, Tax Collector, said today.

Failure to pay taxes on or before that date, he said, will result in a minimum penalty of three per cent on real property taxes and one per cent on personal and intangible taxes.

He also pointed out that the tax laws require the additional charge of cost of advertising the property as delinquent.

Attention was called to the fact that interest, advertising and other collection costs are added to the tax and all becomes a lien against any property owned by the delinquent taxpayer.

Galloway said the longer the delay in paying taxes after March 31, the higher the penalty cost becomes. The interest rate on real property begins at one and one-half per cent per month with a minimum charge of three per cent. On the personal and intangible taxes, the interest mounts at the rate of one per cent per month.

Tax certificates will be sold at tax sale to be held on June 25, 1956, on each parcel of real estate on which the 1955 taxes have not been paid. At the same time, warrants will be issued against all personal property tax items directing the levy and sale of the property to satisfy the taxes and costs, Galloway said.

Capt. R. Jackson Dedicates DAV Home

The recently completed Disabled American Veterans home for the Seminole County Chapter was dedicated Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The celebration officially opening the meeting place and home of the local DAV was followed by a fish fry at the Farmers Auction Market.

Attended by state officials and by local officials, members of the Disabled American Veterans and friends, the home was dedicated by Captain Robert W. Jackson, Commanding Officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station who paid tribute not only to the members of the organization who spent tireless hours in planning and creating the home, but also praised the businessmen and organizations who played important parts in the furnishing of materials for its construction.

Captain Jackson said in his dedicatory address "This building can, therefore, be dedicated in part in the name of those donors who not only have provided for the strength and support of this building but also the strength and support of our local chapter of the Disabled American Veterans."

"This building can also be dedicated to the $1,500,000 military personnel who have made the supreme sacrifice in the great international conflicts in which the United States of America has been involved since 1917," Captain Jackson said.

"Let us hope and pray," he said, "that their sacrifice was such as to eventually bring a final peace to this torn and war-shredded planet of ours."

Addressing the audience assembled for the formal opening of the DAV Home, Captain Jackson said, "I speak with humble and (Continued on Page Eight)

Donations Don't Materialize

Farris Bryant today said he had stopped campaigning for governor due to a lack of funds.

He said, however, he had not withdrawn from the race.

He had formally launched his campaign only Saturday.

The campaign was only six days old when Bryant made his announcement.

Bryant issued the following statement: "There is no money to continue campaigning and promised contributions have not materialized. The big man wants $2 back to every $1 he puts in—the little man doesn't understand."

"In the face of the law requiring that money to pay expenses be on deposit before the expenses are incurred, I must either violate the law in the hope of promoting contributions or abide by the law and stop in my tracks."

"For me there is no choice, I have no apologies, because I have fought as hard and as well as I know. I have no regrets except for the trouble I have been in my friends."

"I have no bitterness, because thousands of people have been good to me, the press has been generous in its treatment, even my opponents have not questioned my ability and integrity."

"I have always wondered if I could succeed as a politician without compromise—now I know, I have enjoyed serving my state and have derived a deep satisfaction from the small contribution to its welfare I have been able to make."

Bryant said he couldn't say at this time when he would reach a decision about leaving his name on the ballot.

He said campaign contributions have not come in in the amounts necessary to conduct the "expensive" (Continued On Page Eight)

Dr. Robert J. Schmidt is a professor at Florida State University. He is a member of the School of Social Welfare in the department concerning Marriage and Family Living. He conducted classes which started Monday and the course was completed Friday.

Daily classes were attended by the seniors. Subjects concerning dating, going steady, love versus infatuation, engagement and marriage were considered. Individual private counseling was also provided for the students.

When asked what his purpose for this program was Dr. Schmidt remarked, "To make the students stop and think that maybe their way is not the only way."

Thursday at 8:50 a.m. the entire student body heard the Doctor lecture. After the lecture, the students were permitted to ask questions which were discussed.

Programs such as this prove that something is being done concerning teenage problems.

The last few days of next week Mary Grace Hobby, Nan Cushing, and Ernie Morris will represent SIS at the Student Council convention in Gainesville.

Also next week the band will attend District Band Contest in DeLand. They have been working very hard in the preparation for this event. They are sure to bring home high honors.

THE QUICKSILVER POOL

CHAPTER THIRTEEN
AT THE Low's Low room near Wade into the long room where candles were mounted to a number by the reflection from small windows. Sweating sweat drops by in the pools and there was laughter and the sliding sound of feet on the waxed floor.
The Christmas tree looked bright in the bay window, crowning the bright scene.

Across the room near one place she saw an arresting object who were not ruffling themselves in the quick dance. The woman was Morgan Channing and she was a gem of a woman. Her eyes were blue. Her mouth was a smile. Her hair was a white cascade. She had a white sweater and a white skirt. She was looking at Wade with a glance that was not a glance.
It would seem that all her attention was for the handsome young man with blond sideburns before her. But just for a flickering instant Morgan's eyes shifted from his face and swept toward the door, then back again. She had seen Wade, of course. But she had not tried to catch his eye, and she did not move to greet him.

Wade and Lora found themselves near a window at the far end of the room, and from that direction they were not left alone. Wade was as charming and easy as though he were a shadow.
Lora fell on his life. Everything seemed to like him, and Lora knew that she was popular. He and Virginia must have been in the happy days before the war.
Lora began to expand and smile more content under this familiar situation and admiration.
He had a need for this sort of thing. Lora thought guiltily, that she could not fill.

She knew his friends were curious about her, though they hid their interest in a well-mannered way. There were some who gazed at Wade and told Wade that she was a little and told Wade that she was a little.

was "sweet" and "shy." Lora and watching, smiling, my of life she felt increasingly ill at ease.
She did not think that she was either sweet or shy, and she wished Wade would not be so pleased with these labels.

Finally, she thought, reacting was far removed from the glittering party world, but Finsville had more reality. True, the blue of uniforms was in evidence tonight on every hand, but that was the only reminder of the war. What did these pretty, richly gowned women know of dirt and blood and death? Or even of the deprivation of war? Wade had not yet truly touched them—not in the sense that it had put its harsh stamp upon women of the border towns and women of the south. The gay party Lora had looked forward to with such eagerness seemed suddenly tinsal, and those who danced were paper puppets.

She had been reaching for a rainbow, she thought, pretending to herself that rainbows were tangible. Now she knew that what she had reached for was only forgetfulness, just as Wade, too, reached for some anesthetic that would deaden the sense of pain, permit an escape into a carefree, happy world. But there was no such escape for her.

Across the room Morgan Channing moved into the arm of her and joined the dancers for the first time.
Lora followed them with her eyes. Of all the women in this room Morgan alone seemed fresh and blood in reality. One could sense the lovely ladies to sit and watch. May
I have the honor?"

Again she shook her head.
"Thank you, but since Wade is unable to dance as yet—"

"I've never known Wade to be so unkind a taskmaster," Edgar said,
and turned his friendly smile on Wade. "You'll surrender the lady,
sir?"

road to treason. Somehow I do not like the smell of Copperhead any more than I like the stink of treason."

Tinsal fell away for a moment, uncovering the gray look of war beneath the glitter. But after a tiny, shocked silence, the tinsal covering was tugged back into place with quick words and laughter, and the moment might have been forgotten had Wade not, Lora's surprise, challenged the speaker.

"As I understand it," said Wade courteously, "there is no talent of treason on Seymour. He is against the war—and so has been elected.
But he is not against the Union."

The man who had spoken said, "Fah!" rudely and would have argued further had not his femi-nate companion pulled him a little frantically out upon the floor among the dancers.

"Plainly not a gentleman," someone said lightly as they whirled away, but Lora saw Wade's gaze move speculatively toward the man with Morgan Channing.

Now and then some gentleman bowed before Lora and asked her to dance, but each time she shook her head, smiling, and Wade was pleased.

During the next break in the music, Edgar Lord came toward her across the room, broad of shoulder and handsome in a new blue uniform with brass buttons shining. He smiled down at her, bowing.

"You've not been dancing, Mrs.
Tyler. But tonight we permit no lovely ladies to sit and watch. May
I have the honor?"

Again she shook her head.
"Thank you, but since Wade is unable to dance as yet—"

"I've never known Wade to be so
unkind a taskmaster," Edgar said,
and turned his friendly smile on Wade. "You'll surrender the lady,
sir?"

"To a superior officer, yes," said Wade, laughing. "Of course you must dance with Edgar, Lora."

Too Late To Classify

We are aware of Florida's growing cattle industry, her extending agricultural and industrial development and ever increasing tourist business, but we have heard little about a new and rapidly expanding industry that promises another star in Florida's crown.

When a Florida bred race horse landed out at Hialeah recently and won the biggest race of the season, romping across the finish line to win the $148,000 Flamingo, 33,289 spectators and 23 million television viewers went wild. This remarkable horse, Needles, was foaled and raised near Ocala and today is the favorite to win the race of races, the Kentucky Derby. Development of this champion horse is a direct offshoot of Florida's great cattle industry.

James H. Bright, pioneer Florida rancher and long time member of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, has always had a keen interest in the speed, soundness and courage of the native Florida cow pony. He became interested in racing in the late 1880's and early 1900's and became ambitious to breed a champion Florida horse. Considering the traits and character of the Florida raised cow pony he reasoned that if Florida climate, water and soil could produce them in the cow pony it could do the same for a thoroughbred.

In 1908, Mr. Bright acquired a son of Man O'War to stand in Broward County and there in 1936 was foaled the first Florida bred race horse of modern times, Martha's Queen. In 1939 Martha's Queen won $675. Five years later the winnings of Cracker horses totalled $12,260. Then things began to hum. Florida horses were showing their stuff and in the year 1944 won $66,810 and it jumped to $188,072 in 1949. By 1953 the winnings of Florida horses had jumped to $339,673 and last year to more than $700,- 000 in purses.

When Bright first began to talk enthusiastically about the breeding and training of race horses in Florida, the breeders of the nation gave him a razing he has never forgotten. They told him that "Florida might be all right for breeding alligators or rattlesnakes, but certainly not race horses."

Although race horse breeding in Florida is a small operation in comparison to activities in Maryland, Kentucky, Virginia and California and even New Jersey, we have made a mighty good start and the industry is growing fast.

Today there are 31 farms in Marion, Dade, Broward, Pinellas, Highlands and Duval counties.
There are 33 stallions and 199 mares. A total of 74 two-year-olds, ready to race, were registered with the Florida Breeders Association during 1953. The most famous Florida horse farm today is Rosmere and Dickey Stables, the former home of Needles, winner of the famed Flamingo. Other fine farms are being heard from and Florida bred horses are holding their own with the best.

Enthusiastic Needles fans came up with a Needleless song to the tune of "We Are the Boys From Old Florida." Florida race fans are singing it with gusto.

Gibson's Victory Unforeseen

By MERCER BAILEY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — John Gibson's victory in the 300-mile race for expert motorcycle riders was an unexpected 25-year-old mechanic hadn't decided what to do with his $2,000 first prize money.

The Pasadena, Calif., rider moved out front yesterday when mechanical trouble knocked out former winner Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich. Just three laps away from the checkered flag.

Asked what plans he had for his winnings, the elated Gibson replied: "I don't know. I didn't expect to win."

And he didn't think he had won —not even when his pit crew began congratulating him. Gibson's crew decided not to signal him that he was leading the field after Goldsmith went out.

Gibson, father of an 8-month-old son, made 49 trips around the 4.1-mile beach road course in 2 hours, 6 minutes, 21 seconds for an average speed of 94.21 miles an hour on his American-built Harley-Davidson.

He finished 28 seconds ahead of Dick Klamfoth of Grovesport, Ohio, only three-time victor in this American Motorcycle Assn. race.
George Everett of Pasadena was 54 seconds behind Klamfoth and 21 seconds ahead of Tommy Mc Dermott of Norfolk, Va. Eugene Thiesen of Eugene, Ore., was fifth. All four rode British-built machines.

Last year's winner, Brad Andres of San Diego, Calif., led 10 of the first 13 laps before the magneto on his H-D shook loose and ended his repeat bid.

Spills sent three riders to the hospital. Walter Grims of Lisle, Ill., received a broken leg; Babe

Santee To Run In Columbus Games Saturday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Miller Wes Santee, facing trial Thursday in his battle against professionalism charges by the Amateur Athletic Union, plans to run next Saturday in Cleveland's Knights of Columbus Games.

"My plans are to run in Cleveland, no matter how my trial comes out," the former Kansas State star declared Saturday night after winning his section of the Journal feature mile in 4:10.3.

The 24-year-old Marine lieutenant is under a lifetime suspension by the AAU, which ruled he accepted excessive expense money twice upheld over the appeals of enforcement of the suspension by securing an injunction that was twice upheld over the appeals of the AAU.

"If my suspension sticks," he said, "we have plans. We hope to move through normal channels. I am not at liberty to divulge what those plans are." The trial on the injunction proceedings will be held by the New York Supreme Court.

Saturday night Santee defeated easily Ed Kirk of the Air Force, who was second, and Bill Taylor, a Marine stationed with him at Quantico, Va.

The second section of the Journal mile was won by Billy Tidwell of Emporia Kansas State Teachers College against a five-man field in 4:10.8.

Other events saw Abe Woodson of Illinois equal the world, American and meet record of 6.1 in the 50-yard high hurdles. Three new meet records were written, two of them by Pittsburgh entrants.

Arnie Sewell covered the 1,000 in 2:10, and the two mile relay team, anchored by Sewell, claimed a 7:35.2 mark.
Mal Whitfield ran the 600 in 1:12.6.

Looks Like Dodgers As NL Champs Again

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press
It looks as if the Brooklyn Dodgers are a shoe-in to repeat as champions of the National League.

Few clubs looked worse during the 1953 exhibition season, when the Dodgers won only 13 of their 27 games. But in the regular season they went on to capture the pennant.

Will it be the same story this year? The first two exhibition games would indicate so.

Saturday, the world champions bowed to the Boston Red Sox 8-3 and yesterday took a 17-3 thumping from the same club. The youthful Sox, who collected 17 hits to go with seven Brooklyn errors, did most of their damage off rookie pitchers yesterday. Only Ed Roebuck, veteran relief hurler, was effective.

The Red Sox's big blow was Ted Lepcio's grand slam home run off rookie Ralph Marullo in a five run fourth inning.

Mickey Mantle came through with a three-run homer off rookie right-hander Bob Maha with two out in the eighth to give the New York Yankees a 4-3 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hank Aaron hit two homers over the 433-foot center field barrier at Brantford, Fla., and Billy Bruton big things this season.

Willie Mays, Johnny Antonelli and Ray Katt got into the home beat the Cleveland Indians 8-3 for their second straight over the Tribe. Rookie Carroll Hardy and Dick Brown homered for the Indians.

Vernon Law hit a bases-loaded homer and pitched three innings

Colleges Cannot Delay Admission Of Negro Students

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today declared unanimously that state universities may not delay the admission of Negro students pending a study of problems involved. The high tribunal issued an order overturning a Florida supreme court decision that permitted a delay in the admission of Virgil D. Hawkins to the law school of the University of Florida. Hawkins is a 48-year-old Negro of Daytona Beach, Fla. The Florida Supreme Court had appointed a commissioner to take testimony on the question as to when Hawkins could be admitted without creating "public mischief." The highest tribunal's per curiam (for the court) order today said: "As this case involves the admission of a Negro to a graduate professional school, there is not reason for delay. He is entitled to prompt admission under the rules and regulation applicable to other qualified candidates."

Only Monday the Supreme Court affirmed a lower court decision reported colleges and universities which broadened to include tax-supported high court's 1954 decision on striking down segregation in public schools.

Request Is Made To Local Residents

Edgar Griffith, street and refuse superintendent for the City of Sanford, requested today that garbage and trash be placed back of the gutter instead of in the gutter as some are doing. Many people are placing their garbage in the gutter which makes it impossible for the street sweeper to operate either around it or over it, he said. "Please do not put trash and garbage in the gutter" Griffith requested. Such an improvement in placing the trash outside for pickup will materially help in better street sweeping, he said.

"I have reached this conclusion by myself and my statement speaks for itself. I have nothing further to add at this time." Warren issued this statement during a stop on his stumping tour at Green Cove Springs. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. It is a right of any citizen to run for office and it is his right to withdraw as a candidate."

Lowry issued this statement from Tampa: "Under the circumstances I think Mr. Farris Bryant did the right thing and showed good judgment in withdrawing from the governor's race. I can now take on the two ex-governors and their political machines. It will be a clean cut issue between my stand favoring continued segregation and their stand in favor of race mixing."

In Bryant's campaign kickoff before a crowd estimated at about 1,000 in his home town of Ocala he lashed out at Warren and Gov. Collins and gave his own political platform. He gave no hint in this talk or afterwards that he planned any change in his campaign.

Bryant had been scheduled to start out this morning with sound equipment on an intensive stumping tour of the state. Until he formally asks the secretary of state to withdraw his name from the ballot, he will still be a candidate.

Gov. Collins said "I can understand Mr. Bryant's difficulty. I am satisfied he counted upon the support of those in our state who want good, clean, honest govern-

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Education Building on Commercial Ave. Members to be present for this very important meeting, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager Forrest Breckenridge said that the agenda included: French Avenue Dedication report; Exhibit Committee report; Chamber of Commerce Work Shop report; and a discussion by Superintendent of Public Instruction R. ## Sanford Couple Reveals Gadget

An invention by a Sanford mail carrier and his wife can well revolutionize the food shopping habits of the nation and at the same time make food selecting for the family dinner table as simple as A-B-C. Patent No. 2,135,579 has been awarded Clifford B. Wynn and Helen Wynn for their "Pantry Elevator Shelf."

Wynn, proudly showing his creation, and taking the wraps off the carefully guarded secret that finally became official his own, said "I've been working on the idea since 1947."

Using the back porch of their home as a workshop and a part of their kitchen as a proving ground, spare time during the nine years has been spent in perfecting the gadget that will deliver canned goods with a mere twist of a dial and the push of a button.

The "Pantry Shelf Elevator," said Wynn, "has been tried and tested and we know what it will do because we've actually used it for more than two years." He said that the electrically operated storage cabinet and selector for canned foods was installed in his home for the first trial operation Jan. 1, 1954.

"We'd like to call it the 'Wynn-O-matic,'" said Mrs. Wynn, "if we form our own manufacturing company to start production of the step-saver, stretch-saver, stoop-saver and time-saver."

The "Pantry Shelf Elevator," as it is termed by name in the patent issued by the United States Patent Office, Mr. and Mrs. Wynn explained, is a cabinet equipped with receptacles for the storing of canned foods. Behind the receptacles, which are built on an incline, is an elevator electrically operated which selects foods chosen from an index and then reloads as it again passes the "steep receptacles."

Mrs. Wynn says, "The gadget of ours is a boon to those with heart trouble, pregnant women, those who are too stout to stoop down and choose from cabinets, those with arthritis, or afflicted persons."

"Even children can operate it," she said.

The inventor, Clifford Wynn, who is a very quiet and deep thinking person, explained that the "Pantry Shelf Elevator" can be built to fit any space available in a kitchen. It can be made as large or as small as one would want to install in their home.

"Even stores," said Wynn, "can be equipped with the Pantry Shelf Elevator to eliminate the cases of food stacked in aisles and counters or on shelves. The patent issued to the Wynns includes the commercially operated canned food selector. A light or buzzer can be provided to notify stock personnel that certain items are low in stock and need refills."

"We even have the patent on the use of our Pantry Shelf Elevator in food freezers and refrigerators using the agitator method for loading the elevator with selected frozen foods," said Wynn.

"Right now we haven't made a final decision on how and when production of the Pantry Shelf Elevator will begin," Wynn explained. "We have talked with several manufacturers and will probably talk with more," he said.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wynn said that with the huge amount of Florida building and construction planned for the immediate future it is hoped that the new gadget will be used in Florida homes and businesses. "With retirement homes being built in Florida at such a rapid pace, the Pantry Shelf Elevator will add to easier and happier living," the Wynns remarked.

The patent was issued by the United States Patent Office Feb. 21, 1956.

Orange Slate Oil Awarded Gasoline, Fuel Bid For City

Initial action by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night was the awarding of the bid for gasoline and fuel oil for the City of Sanford to the Orange Slate Oil Company.

The low bid for premium and regular gasoline as well as fuel oil by tank wagon and transport was submitted by the Orange Slate Oil Company at .2342 per gallon for premium gasoline, .2117 for regular gasoline, .1311 for tank wagon fuel oil, and .1161 for fuel oil by transport.

To accomplish a lengthy agenda the commissioners followed closely the order of business outlined for the meeting.

The Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution in which the City would participate in additional funds derived from rentals of low rent housing units by the Sanford Housing Authority.

The proposal for construction of perimeter streets around the additional 30 units planned for Higgins Terrace was deferred until an estimate of cost would be available as well as the approval of the street. No accurate information, said the commissioners, would make necessary the deferring of the proposal.

A discussion of proposed fire hydrants located near the Sanford Boat Works on Holly Ave. and another in the 25th and 26th Streets area was deferred until proposals are made through conferences between the City Manager and the Sanford Industrial Board.

William H. "Bill" Stiemper, speaking for the Sanford Industrial Board told the Board of Commissioners "we have a negative approach toward getting industry and so little to offer in their continued growth." Commissioner Jack Rattigan proposed that the request be tabled since "we have no money now." "There are two new areas developing in the City and we must attempt to meet the need in forthcoming budgets," he said.

Commissioner John Kridler told the Board, "I would prefer to study the situation to see if some way can be worked out to accomplish the need."

No action was taken on a proposal to change the designation of State Roads 26 and 116. City Manager Warren Knowles said "the proposal originated in a discussion with Road Board District Engineer Rich Green on the flow of traffic through Sanford."

Volleyball and tennis courts in the Goldsboro Recreation Area will be paved under a contract with an Orlando paving company now re-locating City streets, according to a unanimous decision of the Board of City Commissioners.

The lengthy meeting with discussion on many details presented the Board of Commissioners on the planned agenda continued until midnight.

City Board Approves Rezoning Of Area For Commercial Use

Presbyterian Choir To Present Music Service March 25

The all music service given each Easter season by the Chancel choir of the First Presbyterian church will be presented at 5:30 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m. on Palm Sunday, March 25. It was made known today by the Rev. A. G. McInnis, pastor.

The two services will be identical and are made necessary by the increasing popularity of this annual hour of worship that has resulted in overflow-congregations, it was said.

The 35 voices of the choir, under the direction of Mrs. George Touhy, Minister of Music, will be heard in eight anthems on the theme Psalms of Christian Faith. In the candlelight period of worship Mrs. Touhy will play three organ selections as preludes and one as an offertory.

Church officials are hopeful that with the duplicate service ample provision is made for those who have expressed eagerness to attend but who could not come early enough to be assured a good seat. There are others who prefer the vesper hour, some whose plans customarily bring them to church at the regular worship hour and it is hoped that all these in the new arrangement will be able to attend.

Chimes will be played for five minutes preceding the scheduled starting time, the preludes beginning at the appointed hour.

Super Market To Be Built

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night approved the rezoning of a blockwide area on the west side of French Ave. from 18th to 25th Sts. to commercial.

The move makes possible now the building of a super market by one of the national chains on a complete city block area on the northwest corner of French Ave. and 25th St. Plans call for the use of the entire area of Block 16.

It is understood that plans will go forward immediately for the shopping center.

In other action by the Board of City Commissioners, the use of the Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium for semi-pro baseball games this summer was approved.

Heated discussion followed the proposal to play 18 games in the stadium beginning Friday, April 13. However, the semi-pro team affiliated with the Lake-Orange League, received the full use of stadium, lights, and facilities in order to provide sports entertainment for the City. Red Hiers represented the Sanford team.

A plan for a proposed subdivision submitted by Peyton Realty Co. was turned down and disapproved by the Board of City Commissioners. The subdivision revealed that no development was considered for the area just off Seminole Boulevard in the north edge of the City and that only lots were to be sold.

However, the Board of Commissioners considered that approval of the plat would hold them responsible for the maintenance of the streets. A City ordinance requires that the streets be paved, provide gutters, and sewers on approval of the plat.

In an unanimous decision the operators of a trailer park on French Ave. were notified to vacate the dedicated park area at the end of the lease which occurs in October of this year. A proposal was made to lease the property south of the relocation of the trailer park. However, no decision was reached.

A letter of commendation, written by school bus drivers operating in Sanford, was read to the Board of Commissioners. The letter stated that the bus drivers are "pleased with the promotion of Arnold Williams to Captain" but asked that he continue to lead the buses.

The Board of Commissioners was notified that plans have now been completed for the proposed General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum to be located in Fort Mellon Park and that contractors are now looking them over prior to entering bids for its construction.

WORSHIP TONIGHT
A workshop meeting of the Sanford Theatre Guild will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Sanford City Hall auditorium.

SHS Band To Lead Parade To Stadium For Practice Game

The Seminole High School Band will lead a parade Sunday afternoon from the Mayfair Inn to the Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium where the first practice game of the season will be played by the Minneapolis Millers.

The game inaugurates the 1956 spring training season for the Millers here in Sanford.

The Minneapolis Millers is a New York Giants farm system team which annually trains in Sanford and uses the Memorial Baseball Stadium.

Final plans have not as yet been completed for the gigantic ceremony to lead off the Millers' spring training practice game series. However, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce baseball committee, coordinating the plans for the event, will have complete plans in readiness by tomorrow morning.

Mayor F. D. Scott has been invited to participate in the welcoming ceremony at Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium.

Civic officials will take part in the parade as well as many civic leaders and baseball enthusiasts.

The Minneapolis Millers' 1956 spring training schedule has been announced. A total of 18 games will be played with the initial tilt Sunday afternoon between the Minneapolis aggregation and the Rochester baseball club.

Ten of the 18 exhibition and spring training practice games will be played in Sanford. The games will offer Sanford baseball fans an opportunity to see many outstanding baseball players in action before the season actually gets underway.

An unusually large crowd is expected to see the Minneapolis Millers off to a good start on their 1956 spring training schedule. The starting time of the game and the time for the parade will be set in an announcement tomorrow which is to be made by the Chamber of Commerce officials.
