Storms Rock Charleston On Hurricane's In

Area Injured; Damage To Area Extensive

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI) — Historic Charleston, S. C., was rocked early today by a fire in a refinery storage area. The fire is being brought under control, Charleston County Police Sgt. Johnny Smart said two hours after the blast.

New Storm Weakens Over Sea

MIAMI (UPI) — The storm today wrote off Hurricane Hannah to a threat to the Atlantic coast.

Forecasters said the big storm, peaking up winds of 125 mph an hour, was expected to veer a more westerly direction as it moved along the coast.

But the Miami Weather Bureau's center forecast was to "keep in close touch with the storm during the next few days" until the storm's intensity was definitely established.

The forecast added that the storm will remain off the U. S. Atlantic coast as it continues its "westward" movement.

Forecasters said the storm was moving toward the southwest at 10 miles per hour.

Forecasters said Hannah was showing signs of weakening as it moved into cooler waters.

"It reached maximum intensity Wednesday and will remain at that level for some time," forecasters said.

One mighty Grace, the spread deck and destruction through the Carolina and Georgia, battered by high winds today.

The deaths have been attributed to Grace's damage.

Traveling northeast 40 to 25 miles per hour, heavy rain was expected to lash into central New York, New Hampshire and Maine later today.

Virginia Community Lashed By Tornado

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI)—A tornado killed 16 persons in a nearby community Wednesday including nine members of one family.

Three other children of the family were still missing today when rescue workers and police resumed their search for more bodies. Eleven persons were injured. The tornado isolated the farming community of Ivy, six miles west of Charlottesville, for several hours. It cut a mile-long path of destruction two hours after smaller twister hit the community.

Three children were sucked into the funnel and hurled to the deaths as they walked from school bus toward their home seconds before it was destroyed. Two other children watched in horror from another home 100 feet away which was not damaged.

The two funnels knocked out electricity and telephone lines and felled trees which blocked all roads into the area.

The dead and injured lay helpless for two hours before police heard of the disaster. Rescue workers had to fight through a deluge which piled as much as four feet of water on highways, then found their way completely blocked a quarter-mile from the farm orchard where the homes were splintered.

The dead and injured were carried and tugged through a maze of fallen trees and power lines in a ghastly scene lighted only by the flashlights of exhausted workers. Rain poured down.

Ambulances were pushed by hand around fallen trees and over mired roads.

No one reached the scene until after dark.

The twister and another which struck nearby Greene County, Va. destroyed two churches and an uncounted number of homes and farm buildings and ruined farm crops.

The death and destruction was added to the toll of 11 killed by hurricane Gracie as it swept through the Carolinas causing millions of dollars damage. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Richmond, Va. said the two storms were not connected.

Writer Recalls Cruise Aboard New Nuclear Sub

EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer of this dispatch was one of 19 newsmen who took a trip to sea aboard the U. S. Skipjack, the world's fastest nuclear powered submarine.

By JAMES L. HILGALLEN
United Press International
NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI)—The scenery isn't much when you're riding under water in a submarine; but the experience is novel and interesting.

Take our 12-hour trip Wednesday on the atomic submarine Skipjack to a point in the Atlantic 70 miles south of Montauk Point.

A pea-soup morning fog hung over the harbor at New London when we boarded the submarine at 9 a. m. The ship looked dark and sinister with its blunt-nosed, bullet-shaped hull devoid of all superstructure.

This contour is what makes the Skipjack hydrodynamically superior to other submarines.

Cmdr. W. W. Behrens Jr. of Harrisburg, Pa., the skipper, welcomed us aboard. We shoved off to sea, and all hands went below into a maze of electronically-equipped machinery.

Three hours later we were out far enough at sea to submerge. They were going to demonstrate the ship's maneuverability.

The captain, on the bridge, instructed the officer of the deck to dive the ship. The diving farm sounded—two blasts. Down we went.

In three minutes we were below 400 feet. Then we started a maneuver.

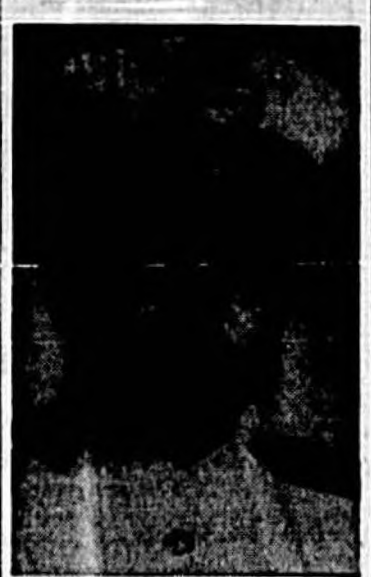

The ship turned at a sharp angle, rolled a bit, turned back at another angle, pitched and plunged, and had the newsmen and members of the crew hanging onto anything in sight. You had the sensation of riding on a roller-coaster at an amusement park.

It was a relief when the captain ordered a change to a new "steady depth" course. Everybody relaxed.

The trip ended at 9 p. m. Wednesday when the ship eased back to its dock at New London. We had traveled 215 miles on the 12-hour cruise.

I can still hear Cmdr. Behrens remarking: "We can fire more torpedoes faster than anyone else. We have the finest and best radar and sonar equipment. We have the speed. We can turn faster than any other submarine our size."

The death and destruction was added to the toll of 11 killed by hurricane Gracie as it swept through the Carolinas causing millions of dollars damage. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Richmond, Va. said the two storms were not connected.

Employment Office Is Useful Link

The Chamber of Commerce points out in its monthly magazine the advantages and advisability of local business using the services of the State Employment Service of Florida.

The Standard employment office registered more than 200 people eligible for employment from July 1 through Sept. 30. During the same time, the agency placed 360 persons in jobs.

The important thing, the chamber points out, is that these jobs were in all kinds of work fields, from unskilled labor to managerial positions.

The service offered businesses and the whole community by the employment office is not confined to registering applicants and placing them in jobs. Applicants are screened and tested for specific jobs to save the time and effort by the prospective employer. The office also gives vocational guidance and training.

The employment office invites inquiries of all kinds by businessmen, workers or those interested in vocational guidance or training.

Air Force Fails On Missile Try

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force has disclosed it tried unsuccessfully to intercept the Discoverer V satellite with a ballistic missile launched from a Super-53B jet bomber a week ago.

The missile failed to send back any radio information and the Air Force said "test objectives were not accomplished." It was launched over the Gulf Coast test range from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. Discoverer V was put into north-south orbit on Aug. 13 and has a minimum altitude of 120 miles and maximum of 450 miles. The Air Force did not say Tuesday how close it wanted to come to the satellite or whether the aim was to hit it.

The Air Force had disclosed previously that it concealed an attempt to put an air-launched ballistic missile across the path of the Explorer VI satellite.

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTTERA

WASHINGTON — The little man known to Nikita Khrushchev below and back, and the Communist's coyness troubles him.

The little man saw in person the peacock, state-pated politician of socialist status of the Soviet and he noted with annoyance the visitors air of confidence. In fact, it scared him. Not to the point of running, but to the point of thinking.

The little man saw before him the object—the living symbol—of our $40-billion-a-year defense budget. We're spending those vast sums to improve this Kremlin base and his crowd—to impress him with the fear of our retaliatory military strength.

Yet the bouncing Bolshevik refuses to be impressed. And that's the source of the little man's uneasiness.

And along comes a voice and asks, "Why should he not be impressed and bow? Does he not hold the edge in rockets and missiles and subs and aces?"

Like the little man, I've tossed in my bed nights after personal meetings with the cocky erier of the Kremlin and heard him repeat, confidently, that he would, indeed, bury us. Certainly, we don't believe him. But it's frightening to think that he himself believes it.

Soviet subs brazenly slide against our peacocks. They've entered at least one of our Eastern bays and conceivably could have moved up the Potomac River. Yet our detection devices are, admittedly, antique.

The Comies have missile launching subs. We haven't. Their rockets can zero in on the moon. Russian planes continually invade domains which we guard. I have seen them with my own eyes moving along our radar scopes. High-flying Red planes have penetrated our DEW line, and what do we do about it? What can we do about it?

We are awed by this man Khrushchev, not simply because he's a much-publicized curiosity from "way off," but because he is the one man who may well represent the force of our destruction.

Yet what measures do we take to stem this Red march toward greater superiority? The headlines tell the story: "Labor Slowdown Threatened," "Americans Enjoy Greatest Year of Leisure Living in History," "Steel Strike Continues," "Thirty-Hour Week Is New Goal."

No wonder our little man is nervous. And what can he do about it? There should be an answer.

Why can't we put a firecracker under our backside and turn into human fireballs and close that precarious, spreading gap of military potential?

I suggest that every able-bodied man and woman in this country start a movement to donate 10 per cent of his and her energy to Uncle Sam. Ten percent for the defense movement, no questions asked, no W-2 forms, no income tax deductions, no extra drain on our Federal budget.

That 10 percent would improve our "hole card" in the international poker game. That 10 percent could tip our way the balance of future military power, the only language Khrushchev seems to understand.

That 10 per cent could save our hides.

Washington Calling

BY MARSHALL CHUBB

WASHINGTON — As the Russian torpedo flashed across the countryside there were practical men who thought of its effect not in terms of summit conferences and other high-level matters but on what it would mean in the election next year.

The Democrats at the working level read the signs as forecasting another "peace and prosperity" campaign by the Republicans. And the prospect fills them with something like dismay. Candidate Eisenhower's great coup in 1952 was to promise to go to Korea to try to find a way to end the war there. In '58 in the wake of the Geneva summit meeting he scored high on the theme of peace and prosperity.

This reporter encountered a highly successful officeholder in the course of the tour, a Democrat, who seemed to have no doubt about the way next year's campaign would shape up. Asked if peace would be an issue, he snarled:

"What's the matter with you fellows down there in Washington? Don't you know the Republicans have already got their literature out and it's all peace and prosperity."

A big question is whether this issue can do for another Republican — say Vice-President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller — what it did for Eisenhower, the hero who in the public's eye had won the war. A tentative answer is to be found in the polls, which have shown both the Vice-President and the governor of New York moving up when pitted against Democratic front runners.

An answer of sorts is to be seen, too, in the sampling of opinion taken by Dr. Gallup at the end of Khrushchev's tour and just before the Camp David talks began. Of those asked, 52 percent thought the tour had been a good thing and 29 percent were neutral or had no opinion. Surprisingly enough, only 19 percent thought it a bad thing.

Seen from the Republican viewpoint, the timing for next year is almost perfect. Reporting to the rally that welcomed him back, Premier Khrushchev told his people that the President would visit Russia in late May or June. Short of some grave alteration in the present scene, that visit will be a triumph. All the stops will be pulled.

In all this there is nothing in the least mysterious. If given a choice between the possibility of peaceful negotiation, which has now been opened up by Eisenhower, and continuation into an indefinite future of an arms race costing up to $5 billion a year with the chance of nuclear annihilation at the end, the American people will choose negotiation.

The weakness of the arguments against the Khrushchev visit and a relaxation of tensions is that they offered no alternative. Even if one privately believed in preventive war, with both sides armed with hydrogen bombs it is no longer a way out. The end of total war can only be total, or virtually total, destruction.

It was this that President Eisenhower in his own pragmatic way recognized. The decision to invite Khrushchev to America was certainly not an easy one. But the President took the decision and the visit went off, on the whole, better than anyone had any right to expect.

The skeptics and the cynics have said all along that the President's sole objective was to gain time until he should be out of the White House and his successor left to grapple with problems he was unable to solve. But even if they are proved right the timing still benefits the party in power in the executive branch. A Republican President took the risks and brought the Soviet leader to this country. That is the impressive fact which the opposition will find difficult to challenge.

Miss June Marguerite Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin Foster, and Dr. Kerwin Foster, son of Francis Leo Kerwin Sr. and the late Mrs. Kerwin all of St. Petersburg, were married Sept. 24 at 7 p. m. at the Clearview Methodist Church in St. Petersburg.

The Rev. Alva H. Brock, pastor officiated at the candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Thomas Kirk, organist presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss June Till, soloist who sang "Love Theme" and "At Dawning."

The church was decorated with baskets of white carnations, lilies of the valley, greenery and candle labra. Six windows were decorated with fern and white satin ribbons and family pews were marked with bows of ribbon.

Miss Travis Foster served her sister as maid of honor and other attendants were Mrs. James L. Rowland and Mrs. Charles L. Strubel. Best man was Philip W. Ranson and serving as ushers were James K. Rowland and Robert Lyon.

Miss Foster chose for her wedding a formal gown of Chantilly lace tulle over tissue taffeta. Her finger tip veil fell from a Queen's crown and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. The maid of honor wore an emerald green taffeta gown. The attendants wore mint green dresses and all carried bouquets of green tinted carnations. The bride's mother wore an orchid lace dress with matching shoes, hat and bag and a purple orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Cortez Way South, St. Petersburg. The refreshment table was overlaid with a cloth embroidered in golden shocks of wheat. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with pale yellow rose buds. Small sandwiches and lime punch was also served to the guests.

Mrs. Kerwin chose for her going away outfit a rust fallie taffeta suit with forest green accessories and wore a white carnation corsage. After a wedding trip to Nassau, Bahamas, at the British Colonial Hotel the couple will reside at 200 Laurel Ave., Sanford.

The bride is a graduate of St. Petersburg High School and the University of Florida, where she was a member of BAE, alumni Assn. and a three year member of the university choir.

Dr. Kerwin is a graduate of St. Paul's High School, St. Petersburg and a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, where he was editor of the school paper, '56 editor of the annual, a member of the Columbian Club and of the Florida Chiropractic Assn. He served two years in the U. S. Army and now has offices located at the Kerwin Chiropractic Clinic, 201 S. French Ave., Sanford.

Craig Vs. Wynn In Series Opener

CHICAGO (UPI)—It was burlly Earl Wynn for the Chicago White Sox against Roger (Kibby) Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers today in the World Series opener at Comiskey Park for the first time in 40 years.

The weak-hitting but fast-moving Wynn was 0 to 5 favorite in this opening game which gets under way at 7 p. m. e.s.t. in the ball park where the 1918 "Black Sox" threw the series to the Cincinnati Reds in a scandal which nearly ruined baseball.

Manager Al Lopez of the White Sox, who lost four straight World Series games to the Giants while managing the Cleveland Indians in 1920, used his ace—the 39-year-old Wynn—in an effort to get off on the right foot this time.

Wynn, coming back from a measure season in which he was feared to be reaching the end of the road, led the American League this year with 22 victories against 19 defeats. Craig's record with the Dodgers was 11-5, but that doesn't begin to tell his value to the team in their down-the-stretch struggle which was culminated by a 19-inning 6 to 5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in a pennant playoff Tuesday.

That delayed the start of the Series one day. But now they go at it in a best four out of seven game affair in which it is White Sox speed against the Dodgers' power pitching.

The Dodgers, worn and weary from the playoff which took them 3,000 miles in 48 hours—from Milwaukee to Los Angeles and back to Chicago—counted strangely enough on a man who said few of the headlines to shake the speed of the "go go" Sox.

They were banking, openly, on Johany Rosobers—the man whom fate ranked into the legendary shoes of Roy Campanella—to restrain these White Sox baserunners with his muscular right arm.

"John's arm is as quick and accurate as any catcher I've ever managed," sleepy-eyed Walt Alton, the Dodger manager, insisted in tribute to the quiet catcher whose home run won the first playoff game. "And that includes Campanella."

The White Sox accepted the challenge on Rosobers' arm. Luis Aparicio, who tied the White Sox record by stealing 56 bases this season, said:

"I'll go any chance I get."

Although Alton did not reveal who his starting pitcher will be for Friday's second game—after which the Series shifts to Los Angeles—all indications were that either National League strikeout king Don Drysdale or rookie Larry Sherry would get the call. They are only two of the Dodgers' fireballers.

After them, Alton also can choose among Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax or Stan Williams.

Interest in Chicago meanwhile was building to a fever pitch with scalpers asking $30 for grandstand seats and from $60 to $125 for box seats. Police, participating in an influx of 10,000 visitors—including the usual assortment of pickpockets—were on the alert and there were defiant howls from the small fry when the Chicago School Board announced it would not tolerate truancy even for a World Series.

Both clubs worked out Wednesday, the Dodgers making their first inspection of Comiskey Park in the afternoon even though they arrived by plane from Los Angeles at 5:24 a. m. Chicago time.

"We'll have plenty of time for rest later," Alton announced.

And there still was a lot of work and travel ahead for the battered National League champions. Because after Friday's second game, they fly back to Los Angeles for the third, fourth and if necessary, fifth game. If sixth and seventh games are necessary, there then will be a day off for travel back to Chicago.

A crowd of upwards of 45,000 was expected for the Chicago game, and, with 90,000 seats available in the Los Angeles Coliseum, it promised to be the richest series of all time. And for those who couldn't be on hand, NBC television was carrying the games nationally.

Robson Cops 1st In Bowling Loop

Robson Sporting Goods emerged victorious in the Sandspur Bowling League, Tuesday night, as they jumped into first place with a total of 10 wins, 5 losses.

In second slot this week, the Pig N' Whistle with 9-4, followed by Irving Fryor's Insurance 8-7, Wilson-Maier 7-8, Foodmart 7-8, and Roumillat & Anderson with 4-11.

On lanes one and two, it was Foodmart giving up two wins to the Pig, with good scores rolled by both teams. Pat Teslo of The Pig picked up the 3-9-10 and 4-5-8-10 splits to help team-mate Dot Teslo who had high series for their team. Lucille Harris was high for Foodmart, and ably helped by Grace Newton who with a turkey to her credit also picked up the 3-8-10 split.

Wilson-Maier Furniture gave up all three games to Robson's on the center lanes, putting the sportsmen in to the top spot. Shirley Simas led Robson's bowlers, making the 3-10 along the way, and rolling partner Pat Foster picked off the 3-9-10 split.

Wilson-Maier's Ruth Phillips rolled her first game of the year last night, having fully recovered from a recent operation, and sparked the team with her high series, and picked up of the 3-8-10 split.

Clemson, Tech Tilt To Spark SEC Play

ATLANTA (UPI)—The revenge-bent Clemson Tigers invaded unself-minded Georgia Tech before sell-out crowd of nearly 45,000 here Saturday in one of the future attractions on this week's college gridiron scene.

The seventh-ranked Tigers have not lost a regular season game since Tech beat them 13-0 here a mid-season last year. They bring with them a double-barreled attack in quarterbacks Harvey White and Lown Shingler who were hampered in the '58 game by injuries.

The 12th-ranked Jackets have their own passing threat in Fred Braselton, the Texas-bred quarter back who outdueled Don Meredith in Tech's 16-12 upset of Southern Methodist.

Tech is an underdog for the third straight week. But the Jackets appear to thrive in the role. Scouts rate Clemson stronger on its running game through the middle; Tech faster on the outside; Clemson tougher overhead on depth; the two teams about even on defense; and Tech way ahead in kicking with the Tigers having no match for the booming punts of Tech and Gerald Burch.

This will be one of the Southeast's busiest weekends with major teams from this area involved in 12 games. Only two of these count as Southeastern Conference outings—Mississippi State at Tennessee and Alabama at Vanderbilt.

Tennessee, fresh from that 3-0 victory that ended Auburn's string of 24 games without a loss, looms as a defensive giant. Vanderbilt, with all-conference halfback Tom Moore, is a likely winner at home despite an opening 21-6 loss to the Georgia Bulldogs.

Other Southeastern action finds unbeaten Georgia at unbeaten South Carolina; top-ranked Louisiana State meets Baylor, its third straight Southwestern Conference foe, at neutral Shreveport, La.; Auburn, on the rebound after that upset by Tennessee, figures to shakeout its frustration on pass-minded Hardin-Simmons.

The Florida Gators are solid favorites as host to Virginia; unscathed on Mississippi expects a weather against small-time Memphis State; Tulane is in danger of losing its third straight at host to unbeaten Wake Forest; and twice-beaten Kentucky visits unbeaten Detroit Friday night.

Among the independents: The Florida State Seminoles will be best to the improved Miami Hurricanes and Mississippi Southern the nation's No. 1 small college team, steps into the big time against Texas A and M at Mele, Ala.

Series A Tossup

CHICAGO (UPI)—The nation's sportswriters split right down the middle in their choice of the Chicago White Sox or Los Angeles Dodgers to win the World Series, a United Press International poll showed today.

The poll, a sampling taken of 50 writers, had 45 backing the Sox and 5 for the Dodgers.

Only one writer, however, Paul Horowitz of the Newark, N. J. Evening News, felt the Series would end in four games. Horowitz picked the Sox.

Most of the Dodgers' support came from, as expected, West Coast newsmen, though a large part also came from Easterners who said the Dodgers by any other name still looked like Brooklyn.

Midwesterners back the Sox heavily, though both Dodger and Sox supporters strongly insisted emotions had nothing to do with their choices which they protested were guided solely by "cold facts."

By far, the majority of those queried felt the Series would go five or six games. Six writers said it would go seven, with the six evenly divided between the Dodgers and Sox.

It was the Sox' first Series in 40 years and the first time in history a West Coast team was in the classic.

One writer who picked the Dodgers to win in six games qualified his choice by noting he had picked Los Angeles originally to wind up fifth.

In the actual breakdown, 18 writers picked Los Angeles to win in five games, 26 said it would take the Dodgers six and three said they would do it in seven. On the other side, Horowitz said the Sox would win in four, 17 writers said they would win in five, 27 others said they would win in six and three chose Chicago in seven.

Sanford Drops JV Tilt To Leesburg

An inexperienced Sanford junior varsity team bowed to Leesburg 7-0 at Leesburg Tuesday night.

Coaches Dick Silvers and Bud Layer said that in spite of the loss they were pleased with the team's performance. "The team is extremely inexperienced," Silvers said, "only two boys have played JV ball previously." "A lot of mistakes were made, but we feel that they can be corrected," he pointed out.

Starting offensively for the Sanford team were center, J. Phillips; guards, Gene Williams and Vic Welch; tackles, Mark Whitehead and Joe Welch; ends, James Jones and Anzeo Bennett; Backs, J. Twilliger, Butch Riser, Bobby Bowen and Bill Phagan.

The coaches cited Bowen as outstanding on offense and the defense and Jones and Bennett as outstanding linemen defensively.

Giardello Loses TV Bout To Tiger

CHICAGO (UPI)—The rematch already was arranged today for middleweights Joe Giardello and Dick Tiger, and both battlers vowed to do better in their next tangle on television.

Tiger, though he was the unanimous victor over Giardello, ranked fourth by Ring Magazine and sixth by the National Boxing Association, was unhappy because he failed to knock out his foe. Giardello, once the No. 1 contender and now beaten by Ring Magazine's 10th rated boxer, simply was unhappy because he didn't win.

"I want to fight him again," Giardello said. "But not in Chicago. That referee Walter Brightmore kept pushing me off, said I was holding, and he didn't pay any attention to what that guy was doing to me."

The number of motor vehicle accident fatalities in the United States is expected to rise from 37,000 in 1958 to about 39,000 in 1959, based on the toll for the first six months of '59 year.

Here Friday from Chevrolet . . .

Elegant Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan—one of 16 spanking new Chevrolets you can choose from.

THE SUPERLATIVE '60 CHEVY

This is the one that says '60 like no other car. From its clean-thrusting grille to its dapper rear deck, there's so much that's new and different about this superlative Chevrolet it stands out from the rest like a fresh-minted coin. And you'll be just as wide-eyed over what's inside—the relaxing roominess, tasteful trim, hushed elegance of its new Body by Fisher, all comfortably cradled by Full Coil springs at all four wheels. Yet, sumptuous as this new Chevy is, it's got all the thrifty virtues that make it unmistakably a Chevrolet—with new economy of operation, new dependability, new longer life. Here, then, we're confident both you and your budget will joyously agree, is the nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

Here's the car that introduces a whole new decade of design—with so much that's new and different the others can only hope to come close.

It's the superlative '60 Chevrolet—with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, new splendor in every clean-etched line.

Freshly shaped contours rake back from the unified new grille to the jaunty rear deck, fitted with craftsmanship you'd expect only on the most expensive makes. Inside, the solidly built new Body by Fisher surrounds you with finely tailored fabrics and spacious elegance. There's room to sprawl in, room to sit tall in—generously provided by Chevy's sofa-wide seats and extra margin of hat space. And there's even more leg room for the man in the middle—thanks to the way Chevrolet engineers have shaved down the transmission tunnel.

Out on the road, as Chevy's Full Coil ride will persuade you most gently, there's not a car near the price that comes close to the hushed comfort of this one. Adding to your sense of silence and solidity are thicker, newly designed rubber body mounts that do an even more efficient job of isolating road shock and noise.

Quiet, quick-responding power is provided by a choice of two standard engines—Chevy's famed Hi-Thrift 6 and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that gets up to 10% more miles out of a gallon of regular while delivering greater engine torque at normal speeds. There's also a choice of five other V8's and five transmissions, to assure the exact power combination to satisfy the itch in your driving foot. Chevy's accent on comfort and convenience even extends back to its easier-to-load luggage compartment. You'll also find a convenient new parking brake that automatically returns to normal height after application, a new clutch linkage that filters out engine impulses more effectively than ever and new two-toning motif available on all 16 fresh-minted models.

But, impressive as all this may look in print, there's really only one way to tell how near to perfection this superlative '60 Chevrolet actually comes . . . and that's to drop in on your dealer and drive one!

HOW MUCH LIFE INSURANCE IS ENOUGH?

Obviously, no single answer can apply to everyone. Your own life insurance requirements depend on how much income your family would need if they lost your support . . . how much immediate cash they would need to settle debts . . . and if you live, how much retirement income you want.

In figuring these out, you must consider your present scale of living, the mortgage on your home, funds needed to educate your children, income your wife would need after the children are grown and income from other sources including Social Security. When you have the answers to all of these, you can tell how much life insurance you need to make up the difference between money available and money required.

I'll be happy to give you exact figures based on your own needs and budget. And at the same time, I'll show you how New York Life's low premium Whole Life insurance can help protect your family now . . . or later on, can pay you a lifetime retirement income. Contact me soon.

Problems Of The Aged Being Studied By Senate

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you are 65 or older — and a typical elder — you are struggling to stay afloat financially, medically or socially. If you are 20 or 30 or 40-plus, problems facing the nation's 16 million elders may be affecting you indirectly — at home or on the job. If you live long enough, the problems will affect you directly.

The average age at death in the United States today is about 70. Experts say it should be 82 in the year 2000.

With further progress humans may live to 125 years during the next century, predicted Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging. The subcommittee, embarked on a comprehensive study of the problems of the aged, hopes to come up with proposals to make longevity something better than a problem-plagued fate.

In preparation for a grass roots tour of leading cities and local hearings, opening Oct. 13 in Boston, the subcommittee recently invited some of the best informed persons in the nation to testify about problems of the aged in four major areas — employment, housing, health and income.

First solutions suggested call for cooperative action by individuals, voluntary agencies, local state and federal government.

McNamara warned against "regulating older people to the sidelines—financially, medically and socially."

"If we continue to do this, the financial burden to this country of a growing number of institutions for the aged will be too fantastic to conceive," he said.

The statistical face of aging, drawn for the subcommittee, follows:

—The aged are increasing nearly 1,000 a day. By 1975, there will be 20 million aged.

—Three-fourths of all aged persons live with some family member. About 15 per cent of the aged live alone or with non-relatives. About three per cent live in institutions; another three per cent, in hotels or rooming houses.

—Total income of all the aged was about $25 billion last year. Some $4.7 billion was from social security; $1.7 billion from public assistance, and $2.2 billion from other governmental programs. About $1 billion came from private pension plans and an additional amount from individual insurance contracts.

—Most of the aged have low incomes. Last year, three-fifths of all persons age 65 and over had less than $1,000 in money income. Another one-fifth received $1,000 to $2,000. The other one-fifth had more than $2,000.

—Of the aged persons, only about one in five in December of last year had a paying job.

—Six out of every 10 were receiving social security payments last year. The average benefit for persons retiring in March, 1959, was $82, compared to an average of $72 for all aged persons on the rolls at that time. About half of all aged married couples receive less than $125 a month.

—Aged widows have the lowest incomes. Widows benefits awarded in March, 1959, averaged $61 a month under social security.

—Days of hospital care used by persons 65 and over are about two to two-and-a-half times as much as those used by persons under age 65.

Electric Chair Symbol Of Faith Now, Says Graham

WHEATON, Ill. (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham indicated Wednesday night that if Christ died in modern times the electric chair rather than the cross might be the symbol of the Christian faith.

Graham said death by crucifixion in Christ's time represented shame and ignominy and that when Jesus asked prospective disciples to "take up their cross" it would be like saying "take up your gas chamber or your electric chair" today.

"The cross was something you didn't talk about in polite company," Graham told an audience of 12,500 at a Wheaton College crusade.

He said the cross has now become sentimentalized and could be seen today "on every church, embossed on the front of Bibles and worn on a chain."

Graham said the world hated the cross because it throws "a spotlight on sin."

"There are some of you fellows and girls who have lust in your hearts. You don't want to talk about the cross because it makes you introspective," he said.

"If you are not willing to pay the price, don't come to Christ because He won't take you. It costs too much for you."

THOMAS P. WRIGHT is the manager of a new Jacksonville office of Tucker Wayne & Co., advertising agency, which handles some of the biggest accounts in the state. The company said it founded the Jacksonville office to facilitate services expected to expand with the state's growth, which Wayne pointed out as a "population growth four times the national average."

UN Team Visits Laos To Check Aggression

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—A Royal Laotian Air Force C-47 today flew a U. N. fact-finding team to northern Laos for an on-the-spot investigation into the government claims of aggression from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam.

UPI Correspondent Wendell Merick reported from Vientiane that Italy's Ludovico Barilletti and Argentina's Heriberto Ahrens were expected to spend at least two days in Sam Neua, the province Laos charged was invaded by Communist forces from North Viet Nam on Aug. 30.

The team will talk to local authorities and study whatever evidence is presented to substantiate the Laotian claims. U. N. subcommittee Chairman Eitichi Shibusawa of Japan will stay in Vientiane to continue discussion with government officials there.

Laotian Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya Wednesday issued a blanket invitation to the members of the United Nations to send observers to Laos to see for themselves that the Southeast Asian kingdom was not a U. S. military base as charged by the Communists.

Panya flew here from Vientiane to give the world organization a first-hand account of the Communist threat to his country through the incursions from North Viet Nam.

"American aid to Laos has peaceful aims," Panya said. "The United States is enabling Laos to promote its economy. The amount of U. S. aid and its purpose are common knowledge."

He acknowledged that part of the U. S. credits were used to establish a small defensive army for international security — "a threat to no one."

as different as night and day!

THE REVOLUTIONARY Corvair BY CHEVROLET

There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

Here's the car created to conquer a new field — Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair. The product of nine years of research and development, it's America's first truly compact car that retains the ride and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

The key to this small miracle: America's only rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

With the engine in the rear, the Corvair's floor is virtually flat, front and rear, so there's plenty of foot room for everybody. Combined with Corvair's unique body-frame construction by Fibber, this provides interior spaciousness comparable to many postwar conventional-sized cars.

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow. And with independent suspension at all 4 wheels—an advance comparable to the independent suspension of front wheels years ago—you get a poised, unruffled ride that rivals even the costliest cars.

There are all things no front-engine compact car can give you. And with them you get outstanding economy and practicality that would never have been possible if Chevrolet engineers had been content to make the Corvair merely a sawed-off version of a big car. Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2 1/4 feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to jockey through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assists). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 8 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular. And, because the engine's air cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup (even heat for passengers comes—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater). Wonderfully practical, yes. But you'll find the most practical thing of all about Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the about, sweet details.

America's only car with an airplane type horizontal engine!
America's only car with independent suspension at all 4 wheels!
America's only car with an air-cooled aluminum engine!

The engine's in the rear where it belongs in a compact car!

You have your choice of two Corvairs—this one's the standard model. See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer

- 1. REVOLUTIONARY TURBO-AIR 8
Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts. It's the world's first production 6 with the ultra-smooth, space-saving power of horizontally opposed (not vertical or V-stroke) pistons.
- 2. ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM
Wraps rear engine, transmission and differential into one compact unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.
- 3. STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE
Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive trim, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.
- 4. FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT
Works instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.
- 5. FLAT FLOOR
Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.
- 6. UNIBODY BODY BY FIBBER
Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.
- 7. UNDER-HOOD LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT
Trunk's up front (like an elephant's) where it's convenient for groceries, shopping bags, luggage.
- 8. 4-WHEEL INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION
There's no conventional axle—front or rear. Wheels, cushioned by coil springs, take bumps independently of each other, for smooth, road-hugging ride.
Optional at extra cost.*

Garry Moore Returns To Television Wars

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — That steady, ploddingly pleasant win- replacement for Andy Williams, the Garry Moore Show, returned to CBS-TV Tuesday night. While Moore isn't going to match the inventiveness and excitement generated by the Williams gang during the summer, it is obvious that Moore can catch anyone around when it comes to a knowing, professional, big league production. This was evident in the premiere, which I saw at a screening because of the show's conflict with Bing Crosby's special.

Garry's cohorts, Marion Lorne and Duward Kirby, had more to do than in past shows and were on target with their material. Special guests were Gertrude Berg, Vic Damone and Jane Powell, all of whom were entertaining in their special ways, but I was sorry that Miss Lorne and Miss Berg didn't have a tele-a-thon.

"A new feature on the show is 'Comed Camera,' where unsuspecting people are put through the wringer by Moore & Co. while a hidden camera records their behavior. Practical jokes will get laughs, of course, but there is a touch of anguish in the experience that is not funny. I prefer unadorned comedy.

A notable summit meeting occurred on ABC-TV Tuesday night as Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Peggy Lee and Louis Armstrong blended their talents in a show called "The Bing Crosby Show."

It was a ring-a-ding-dong-dandy hour.

All stood and performed their songs with overpowering style, feeling and happy tones. It was enjoyable and refreshing. Although an effort was made to give these entertainers an imaginative decor of glass knickknacks, the music was what made the show. If I had to pick set numbers, I'd choose Sinatra's "Willow Weep for Me," Armstrong's "Mack the Knife," all of Peggy's numbers, and the few numbers that Bing performed.

Of course, a meeting of Bing and Frank also serves to advise us of the latest "in" conversational devices. Unfortunately, their chit-chat Tuesday night produced no new feathes, only a scordid plug for a chain of health clubs and poorly-timed Slnatrasms about motel living. The lad does seem to be enjoying his bachelor status.

Max Shulman's new series, The Many Loves of Andy Hardy . . . ooops; I mean Doble Gillie, starring Dwayne Hickman, went through the usual saccharined teen-age nonsense in its CBS-TV debut Tuesday night. The highlight was selling on crime movies, in which a lawyer said, "Take that, you loathsome criminal types." If the rest of the show could rise even to this satirical level, it might be worthwhile. Unfortunately, the impression is that we're supposed to care about Doble and his tire-some love life. Must we? No, Virginia, it isn't true that Doble is based on Frank Sinatra.

The Channel Swim Person To Person, which returns to CBS-TV on Friday, Oct. 16 with visits to Jack Webb and Mae West, is moving its entire production staff from New York to Hollywood in order to visit more than one screen star a month, as it did under its old budget. NBC-TV's Jack Paar will be Jack Benny's guest star on Sunday, Nov. 29 over CBS-TV, George Bernard Shaw's "Misalliance," starring Robert Morley, and Kenneth Haigh, in CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 production for Thursday, Oct. 29.

Sheldon Reynolds will turn out the Desilu Playhouse's first foreign-based drama, "Thunder in the East" in Tangiers and Rome. Filming starts in November. NBC-TV's Bell Telephone special on Nov. 20 will star Vic Damone, Marge and Gower Champion, and will originate in Hollywood for the first time. Jane Powell and young Eddie Hodges join Jimmy Durante in NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase production, "Give My Regards to Broadway," on Dec. 6. Ronald Reagan will be Cliff Arquette's hobby lobby guest on ABC-TV Oct. 14.

Pisano Attended Underworld Dinner Before Slaying

NEW YORK (UPI) — Little Angie Pisano and Mrs. Janice Drake attended a dinner hour together of top underworld figures at a midtown Manhattan restaurant 45 minutes before they were slain, authorities disclosed today.

"It was close to being a little Apalachin," said a spokesman for Queens County District Attorney Frank D. O'Connor, comparing dinner at Marino's restaurant last Friday to the gang convention at Apalachin, N. Y., in 1957.

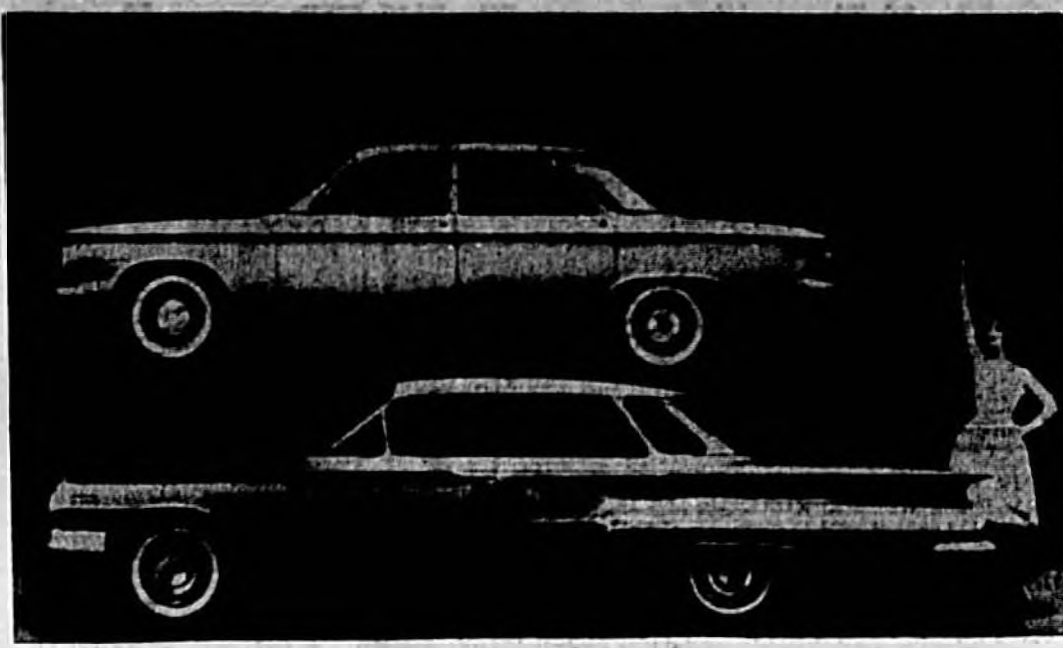

The spokesman said Pisano and his companion, Mrs. Drake, dined at the restaurant on Lexington Avenue with Anthony (Tony Bander) Strollo, reputed waterfront racketeer. At nearby tables were Vincent Mauro, reported Strollo aide, Anthony Mira, identified as a young underworld leader, and other known gangland personalities.

"It was damn near a conclave," the Queens official said. "It seems very doubtful they met by chance."

Assistant District Attorney Bernard M. Patton questioned Strollo and Mauro Wednesday at the Bergen County courthouse in Hackensack. Patton said Strollo was "cooperative to a degree" and had given a list of names of men who were in the restaurant.

"Strollo told us the conversation at the restaurant was just small talk, just passing the time of day," a spokesman for Patton said. "But he gave us some very good information and has set up another tack of our investigation."

The bodies of Pisano, 62, and Mrs. Drake, 32, were found shot to death in Pisano's new Cadillac on a residential street in Queens at 10:30 p. m. e.t. last Friday, shortly after Pisano had been called away from Marino's restaurant by a mysterious phone call.

DOUBLE BILLING is being given to the 1960 Chevrolet and its new small car companion, the Corvair. This uniquely arranged photo shows the comparative size of the Corvair to the conventional Chevrolet. The new models will be displayed tomorrow at Holler Motor Sales.

Trained Pigeons Were Unsuccessful Missile Guides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Now it can be told. The Navy tried for three years to train pigeons how to steer guided missiles but the effort failed.

The idea was to enclose a pigeon in a missile and have the bird play a partnership role with an elaborate electronics system.

A camera-like device was to be put in the nose of the missile. It would pick up a picture of the intended target which then would be shown on a screen inside the missile.

A spot would move across the screen whenever the target image got out of focus. The Navy's plan was to have the pigeons peck at the moving spot, thus putting controls to work which would bring the missile back on course.

The pigeons would be rewarded with corn.

Scientists at Harvard University and the Naval Research Laboratory found after many tests that under ideal conditions pigeons could be trained well enough to do the job.

But in combat, conditions seldom are ideal. So the Navy dropped the idea in 1951 without ever having flown a pigeon in a missile.

Top Florida Demos Meet On Smathers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A 33-member committee formed Wednesday to further the "favorite son" presidential candidacy of Sen. George Smathers will hold its organizational meeting Friday.

The committee, composed of some of the state's top Democrats, will have as its principal job a selection of delegates to run with Smathers in the presidential preferential primary next May.

Political observers here say the committee's formation indicates Smathers has decided to run in Florida. He had not yet publicly okayed the move to make him the state's favorite son candidate.

Former Congressman William C. Lanstaff of Miami is committee chairman.

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — City Building Inspector Clifford W. Adams ordered the newly-erected radio antenna atop the Mobile County Courthouse torn down unless someone could explain to him why no building permit was obtained for the antenna.

Raiford Brutality Under Investigation

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's former penal director Richard O. Culver heads the list of witnesses expected to testify next week at a federal investigation of alleged mistreatment of prisoners at Raiford Prison last summer.

The Justice Department in Washington notified state officials Wednesday a civil rights jury will meet in Jacksonville Oct. 5 to look into reports that unruly convicts were put in leg irons, subjected to tear gas and waterhosing, and fed bread and water diets.

Culver, who was in charge of the state prison system at the time, was exonerated of any part in mistreating convicts in previous hearings. But he was fired on other charges a few months later.

The Justice Department said his successor, Penal Director H. G. Cochran Jr., will be furnished a list of prison personnel to be called at next week's meeting. Handling the case for the government will be John Murphy of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division, who spent nearly two weeks in Florida gathering information.

Besides Culver, other witnesses expected to be called before the grand jury include two prison officials who were fired after a state legislative and Cabinet investigation of last summer's riots at Raiford.

James Dunn, who was captain of the guard, was believed to be employed now as a security officer at Cape Canaveral. And his lieutenant, Earl Chesser, has a home at Starke.

The Cabinet said these two were mostly to blame for "shameful mistreatment" of maximum security prisoners. Several guards were disciplined because they apparently helped carry out the brutality of Chesser's orders.

Chesser admitted devising a method of handcuffing prisoners to bars and said he left some there as long as 72 hours.

Testimony given at hearings held by the Legislature's prison committee also brought out reports of handcuffing, leg-ironing and bread and water diets.

There were contradictory reports prisoners were subjected to water hosing and tear gas. Another unconfirmed report was the convicts were forced to sit naked on a cement floor sprinkled with salt for hours at a time.

A recent poll showed that 70 per cent of all Austrians over the age of 18 play at least one musical instrument.

Unusual Will

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Wayne Morris wrote his own final will in which he asked that $300 be spent for booze and canapes instead of a funeral, so his friends wouldn't go away sober.

Morris, 45, died of a heart attack Sept. 14 while on a Navy warrier in San Francisco Bay. He was an ace in World War II.

"One hundred dollars shall be expended at the discretion of my closest surviving relatives for the purpose of buying booze and canapes for my friends," he wrote in his Aug. 16, 1955, will. "On second thought, make it $300, because I don't want my friends to go away sober or serious. This is to take the place of a funeral or memorial service."

Morris' will was filed for probate Wednesday. He left his entire estate to his widow, Patricia, except for $1, which was left to Bert De Wayne Morris III, his son by his first wife, Leonora (Bubbles) Schinasi Morris Hornblower, a New York tobacco heiress.

"My family is my first love," he wrote. "The U. S. Navy is second. If Pat and I go together, cremate us. Put us both (ashes) that is, in a jug—mix us up and dump us in the ocean."

Morris left his Colt revolver to the future husbands of his two daughters, Pat 15, and Melinda, 8, in these words:

"They are to go to Pat's husband and to Melinda's husband when they marry."

The will ended:

"You see, I couldn't take it with me."

Nikita's Promise May Be Pipedream
MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. Consular officials said today there has been "no developments whatsoever" in connection with the promise by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to a Lithuanian refugee couple to permit their children to join them in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Pauline Leonas stopped Khrushchev in a hotel lobby in Des Moines, Iowa, during the Premier's tour of the United States and told him they had been trying for years to get their daughter Regina, 20, and son, Thomas, 17, released from Lithuania.

"You'll get your children," Khrushchev promised and told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to take care of the matter.

The American Consular officials pointed out that Khrushchev and Gromyko spent only one day in Moscow after returning from the United States before going on to Peiping.

They noted also that such matters are usually a lengthy process and likely to take at least weeks, if not months.

Skindiver's Find
BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Young Patricia O'Connor dug up some history when she went skin-diving off Point Breeze south of Buffalo.

The 12-year-old boy spotted a rusted cannon in eight feet of water. With help from his mother and sister he dragged the 200-pound weapon to shore. Authorities believe the cannon dates back to the War of 1812.

U. S. Parks Busy This Past August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vacationing Americans paid a record-breaking total of 12,100,000 visits to national parks and other national park system areas in August.

The Interior Department said today that visitors poured into the parks at the rate of 390,224 a day. The previous record-high month was July when visits totalled 11,875,000.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the national park services said total visits for 1959 probably would top 62,000,000 to set another new record.

Ratio Of Doctors To Drop Sharply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service (PHS) says the ratio of doctors to the U. S. population will drop sharply by 1975 unless medical schools start graduating substantially more students.

The PHS estimated that there would be only 126 doctors per 100,000 persons by that year if the present trend continues. Based on the 100,000 figure, the ratio has ranged between 131 to 135 for the past 20 years.

In a publication released Wednesday, the service also warned that the ratio of dentists may decline even more sharply by 1975. That ratio was 62 per cent 10,000 persons in 1910, 57 in 1958 and is expected to decline to about 50.

The ratio of nurses, however, has increased nearly five-fold in the United States since 1910. This ratio, 258 in 1958, is expected to climb to 284 in 1970.

Where It All Goes

BOSTON (UPI) — New Englander Magazine, published by the New England Council, estimates that during a lifetime the average American family has an income of around $250,000 and spends:

- $58,000 for housing; $48,000 for food and drink; $30,000 for taxes; $20,000 for church, clubs and education; $24,000 for the family car; $14,000 for insurance; $12,000 for clothing; $12,000 for recreation; $6,000 for medical bills, and $12,000 for miscellaneous items.

Back-To-Work Move Fizzles Out On Docks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A back-to-work move by Brooklyn dock workers fizzled today, sending the Atlantic and Gulf coast strike into its second day with a tightening grip.

The Brooklyn longshoremen had been ordered back to work by Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, a vice president of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. in defiance of "stay out" orders from I.L.A. President William V. Bradley.

A few longshoremen reported for work at 8 a. m. but there was not enough manpower to form work gangs.

Anastasia had ordered his men, members of the only I.L.A. local with a sizeable treasury, to work in the face of a million-dollar damage suit threatened by the New York Shipping Assn. The association claimed the I.L.A. broke an agreement to extend its labor contract to Oct. 15.

Bradley had threatened to use pickets to keep Anastasia's men from working the Brooklyn piers, but no pickets were necessary.

Anastasia, toured the pier and passed the word at 8:35 a. m. for the men to go home.

"This is effective from Maine to Brownsville, Tex., including Brooklyn," Bradley said.

Coastal ports from Maine to Texas were thrilled by the strike with unworked cargo on ships and docks. Passengers struggled off and aboard liners with their own baggage.

Bradley called the Maine-to-Texas walkout of 85,000 longshoremen Thursday to bolster demands of Southern dockworkers in their negotiations for a new contract. The strike cancelled a 15-day contract extension for North Atlantic docks which Bradley had agreed to less than 24 hours before.

The I.L.A. claimed the strike was 100 per cent effective. It tied up approximately 200 vessels with cargoes worth 750 million dollars and inconvenienced passengers on several major luxury liners, including the American export liner Constitution which will depart Halifax, N. S. Saturday instead of New York.

Shipping industry sources said the strike would cost the nation's economy about 20 million dollars a day and cut off 50 per cent of foreign steel imports critically needed because of the steel strike.

American workers on strike or laid by strikers to more than one million.

Federal authorities in Washington were reported preparing legal papers for a Taft-Hartley Act injunction which would send the dockers back to work for an 80-day cooling off period. The move was requested Thursday by the New York Board of Trade in a telegram to President Eisenhower.

The back-to-work movement sparked by Anastasia, an international vice president of the I.L.A. and longtime contender for the presidency, apparently was designed to prevent legal action against his well-heeled local.

The pier boss called a meeting of his men Thursday night after the New York Shipping Association threatened to file "the largest and costliest damage suit ever" against the I.L.A. for breach of contract.

"A contract is a contract," Anastasia shouted. "I believe in living up to agreements."

DOCKMEN STRIKE — With the liner "Berlin" in the background, Mike Sunto (left) and Frank Deppolder, of the International Longshoremen's Association in New York, picketed in front of pier 88. Dockworkers from Maine to Texas went on strike and threatened a swift tieup of ocean shipping on the nation's Eastern and Southern seaboards. A last-minute truce for further negotiations evaporated and the I.L.A. called out its 100,000 members. (UPI Telephoto)

Outlook Dim For Steel Negotiations-McDonald

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said today he was "not hopeful" that White House-ordered negotiations could bring a swift end to the marathon steel strike.

As the union and 12 basic steel companies resumed deadlocked negotiations McDonald said "I am afraid I am not hopeful."

The industry bargainers refused to comment.

Both sides also refused to comment after emerging from the morning session which lasted about 90 minutes. They said they would meet again this afternoon.

"I believe the way is open for each side to at least rewrap their stands," the source said.

"Let's say there may have been a change of menu on that so-called bargaining table. Of course that's no guarantee either side will like it but at least it's a change."

A joint announcement at the hurriedly-called news conference that followed Thursday's recess said merely:

"We have been considering our problems... and will meet again tomorrow... We have no further comment and we do not wish to answer any questions."

The meeting was set for 10:30 a. m.

The cryptic announcement was made by chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper of United States Steel Corp. as USW President David J. McDonald stood nearby.

McDonald refused to say whether any progress had been made when the talks moved here for the first time since 50,000 Steelworkers began the nation's longest steel strike July 15.

The steel union president said Cooper's statement would be the "sole comment."

Underlying the negotiations was speculation that government intervention in the form of invoking the Taft-Hartley Act may be forthcoming if headway is not made toward a "negotiated settlement" by Oct. 8. That is the date President Eisenhower is scheduled to return to Washington from a West Coast vacation.

The President implied after meeting with both sides in the nation's capital last Wednesday that the federal government would act if the steel deadlock is not broken in renewed negotiations.

At Thursday's late afternoon press conference, McDonald and Cooper huddled briefly as newsmen and photographers filed into a room at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in the downtown section of Pittsburgh.

"Mr. Cooper, would you like to make the statement?" McDonald asked cordially. "We have a short statement that will be our sole comment."

Experts Taking Charge Of Blaze

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—Two experts in fighting oil fires today took charge of the battle against a gasoline fire that already has consumed nearly two million gallons.

The fire, triggered by an explosion of unknown origin early Thursday, injured 10 persons.

Fire fighters from Charleston, North Charleston and nearby military bases turned out to fight the flames now believed under control.

The ferocity of the blaze was reported considerably diminished and the threat to the more than 50 other storage tanks in the 192-acre terminal was believed relatively slight.

John A. Kirk and Dick Jeffrey arrived by plane Thursday night and today took charge of fire-fighting operations at Esso's refinery and bulk terminal three miles north of the city limits.

J. H. Brooks, director of sales for the local refinery, said both men were experts in fighting oil fires.

McCanna Names Peck Deputy

The newly appointed Seminole County tax assessor today named an Altamonte Springs man as his deputy assistant and indicated that he will use the Dowling Appraisal Company's figures as one guide in coming up with a 1959 assessment roll.

Richard McCanna, who was sworn in as tax assessor Wednesday afternoon, said also that he will inform the county commission of the need for an equalization meeting to be held "sometime this month."

McCanna reported this morning that John C. Peck, 41, of Altamonte Springs will act as a field deputy for assessor's office.

"Other than that, McCanna added, "no changes are contemplated by this office."

McCanna said he has held conferences with all the employees in the office and they all have indicated that they want to remain at their jobs.

Discussing the Dowling Company appraisal, McCanna said, "We hope to work as fast as possible to get the assessment rolls ready by December and I plan to use all information available in this office."

McCanna said "the county commission spent a great deal of money on the reappraisal and it should not be wasted."

He added that the Dowling figures contain a great deal of valuable information.

McCanna, appointed by Gov. LeRoy Collins Monday, thanked the county commission and other county officials for their support.

A native of Rhode Island, McCanna has been a real estate man in this area for 10 years and served as mayor of Maitland for three years. He lives with his family in so-th Seminole County.

Discussing the controversial assessment roll, McCanna stressed that his office plans to produce the most equitable roll possible to the interests of all people of Seminole County.

Hurricane Hannah Moves Away From Mainland

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Hannah, still packing 125 mile an hour winds, curved slowly away from the U. S. mainland today.

The big storm began veering toward the east during the night and the Weather Bureau said the North Atlantic coast appeared to be out of danger. But New England was advised to watch future advisories in case of a change in course.

At 5 a. m. today hurricane hunter planes located the center of the hurricane some 420 miles east-southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C., at Latitude 22.8 north, Longitude 68.5 west.

Hannah was moving toward the north-northeast at about 10 miles per hour. Forecasters said they expected the eighth tropical storm of the season would turn to a more northeasterly course during the afternoon.

The Weather Bureau said Hannah continues to show signs of weakening, although winds of 125 miles an hour still howled near the center.

"Further very gradual decrease in intensity is expected during Friday and Friday night," the advisory added.

Hurricane force winds extend 70 miles to the north and 45 miles to the south, with gales pushing out another 175 miles on the stronger northeast side of the storm.

Termite Damage Ruled Deduction

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Tax Court has agreed with a Florida taxpayer that termite damage to his home was, in fact, a casualty loss and thus a proper income tax deduction.

The decision upset an Internal Revenue Service ruling which had disallowed a $2,042 deduction claimed by E. G. Kilroe, of Winter Park four years ago.

Kilroe said this was the amount he spent repairing his home but the government insisted he owed an additional $465 in income taxes.

The court ruled that he could not be expected to prove exactly when the first termite began chewing on his house but that there was credible evidence that all the damage occurred during the 1955 taxable year.

Auto Walkouts Hit Additional Plants

DETROIT (UPI)—At least 8,500 more auto workers in various parts of the nation were laid off today, boosting the total kill by two strikes to almost 26,000.

The layoffs, caused by shortages resulting from the nationwide steel strike and a strike at a Key Chrysler Corp. stamping plant, were expected to swell to upwards of 54,700 early next week if the strikes continue.

Industry spokesmen said the layoffs have only minor effect on production of 1960 model cars so far, but they were expected to hurt attempts to provide enough new cars for public sale if they continued.

The layoffs came just as dealers across the country were showing the first shipments of 1960 models. The initial shipments will be held in the showrooms for display and additional stocks are needed before orders can be filled.
